Brown reflects on 34-year career

Thomas Brown, a political leader for 34 years, has been described as "Mr. Westland." Losing a bid for a new city council term last week, Brown said "it's time I enjoyed myself."

BY DARRELL CLEM

After the curtain fell on Thomas Brown's 34-year political career last Tuesday, he came to terms with his Westland City Council election loss with thoughts of Spencer Tracy's performance as a defeated politician in the 1958 film, "The Last Hurrah."

Tracy played an aging politician running one last time for office, only to suffer defeat in an honorable career.

"As he went along, he served dillgently," Brown, 78, said Friday. "But, at the end of the line, he is walking down a street, going home. It's a sad movie."

Although he was disappointed by his first election defeat in 14 years and his only loss ever in a city council race - Westland's elder statesman has accepted his fate with dignity, class.

On election night, when he placed seventh among eight candidates vying for four seats, Brown voiced certainty that the newly revamped council will unite for the betterment of Westland.

And he had particularly kind words for Westland residents, saying they have given the city a strong sense of community through their volunteer

On Friday, Brown said he won't run for public office again.

"It's time that I enjoyed myself," he said, adding that he and his wife, Dee, will spend more time traveling and visiting family members.

'There's a time when you have to face things and move on," Brown said.

Even so, he didn't rule out volunteering his time to help the city in some capacity other than elected office. Already, he has been deeply involved in historical preservation ef-

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara along with LightFest sponsors and county commissioners will pull the switch tonight to turn on the lights for LightFest. The holiday display will be open nightly 7-10 p.m. (except Dec. 25) until Jan. 1 in Hines Park. Traffic will enter Hines Drive at Merriman Road in Westland and proceed east, exiting at Warren Avenue, just east of Telegraph in Dearborn Heights. The public is welcome to drive through tonight, however, because of space restrictions, the afterglow from 7:15-9 p.m. tonight at Warren Valley is by invitation only. Food concessions, a gift shop and photos with Santa will be available at the Warrendale picnic area at the exit after tonight. The cost is $5 per car.

School musical's fate up in the 'Hair'

BY MARIE CHESTNEY STAFF WRITER

After watching a dress rehearsal of 'Hair" early this week, Churchill High School Principal Rodney Hosman will decide the musical's fate.

Will it open, as revised, Thursday? Or are still more changes needed to tone the controversial Broadway play down for its first-ever showing in the Livonia School District, which serves the northern section of Westland?

This year's Creative and Performing Arts production of the musical "Hair" has been as controversial in the district as it was when first presented nationwide.

Bowing to the dictates of the district and parents, the play that opens this Thursday at Churchill for a three day run is a far cry from the here, they would say we were not true original musical.

But one resident, Caryle Schober, still questions administrators' wisdom in letting students perform the highly controversial musical (see accompanying story). Gone, of course, is the nudity. But gone also is the foul language and glorification of drugs that permeated a musical that put the spotlight on the counterculture and protests of the

"It's been appropriately edited and changed to make it an appropriate production," Hosman said. "The original play was shock theater, with the hope of getting a reaction from the audience.

"If the writers of the musical were to their ideas. But things and times have changed. We had to make it appropriate for a high school setting.'

CAPA director Steven Kosinski, who spent 10 years in New York working as an actor, backs presenting the play, as edited. He believes changes made to the original have not diluted its historical message - how events global and nationwide fed into each other and created the disillusionment among young people captured in "Hair."

"We edit films for TV; we're just doing the same thing. We've edited it to be seen by kids under 18. I believe my integrity as an artist and as an educator has been preserved." Concerns over CAPA's production went all the way to Superintendent Ken Watson and the Board of Education.

Watson spelled out the guidelines CAPA would have to follow if it wanted to present the musical.

"We're not in the censorship business, but we do have district issues. involved here," Watson said. "They: have to live up to the guidelines we gave them. It's not censorship; it's just telling them what they are responsible for doing. Our expectations are that they will live up to the guide. lines. They can either censor themselves, or they can't perform."

Watson said the musical must adhere to the three guidelines:

"Westland will always need a Tom Brown," Councilwomanelect/retired state Rep. Justine Barns said Tuesday.

Before he became Westland's first mayor in 1966, Brown served as a former Nankin Township trustee, treasurer and supervisor.

Tom Brown

He represented the city from 1970 through 1983 as a state representative, and he will wrap up nearly 11 years on the Westland City Council when his term expires Dec. 31.

"You do what you can," Brown said Friday.

He did a lot. But he said his greatest accomplishment came as Nankin Township treasurer, when he worked with then-township Supervisor William Faust and Clerk Bill Engle to fight Livonia's attempt, supported by some north Westland residents, to annex seven square miles of the township.

That had to be the greatest accomplishment in my lifetime," Brown said.

The area threatened by annexation in the early '60s included Westland Center, for which the city was later named.

Victorious in their efforts, Brown, Faust and Engle paved the way for Westland to become a city in 1966.

'It was a big job," Brown re-

In 1987, Brown received Westland's First Citizen community service award sponsored by the Westland Chamber of Commerce and the Westland Observer. He became only the second person to receive the honor.

"This man has had an impact on the community that has not been seen in a long time," Frank Moore, the man who nominated Brown, said at the time.

Brown lost two mayoral elections, in 1969 to Gene McKinney and in 1981 to Charles Pickering. But last Tuesday marked his first city council defeat. He will leave having served as council president for two years.

When chosen by his colleagues for the leadership post, he pledged that the council and the administration of Mayor Robert Thomas could seek common ground.

Although Brown and Thomas clashed on some occasions, the mayor said in the final days of the 1995 council campaign that relations between the council and his administration had improved dramatically during the last two

2 men to be tried in gas station holdup

BY DARRELL CLEM

Two Detroit men have been ordered to stand trial in a Westland gas station holdup that erupted into gunfire on Oct. 18. No one was injured.

Gorlando Gardner, 30, and Cornelius Gardner, 34, were ordered to stand trial after they were identified in court Thursday by a witness who accused them of robbing the Union 76 station on Warren Road east of Middlebelt. One shot was fired during the robbery that occurred shortly before noon on Oct. 18.

In the Westland case, Gorlando Gardner faces trial on charges of armed robbery, felony firearms possession and being a habitual offender.

Judge Gail McKnight ordered the Gardners (no known relation) to stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court following testimony that emerged during a preliminary hearing in Westland 18th

District Court. They were implicated in the Union 76 robbery by a manager who was working at the time. They also were earlier identified in a suspect line-up at the Westland Police Department, Sgt.

Scott Fetner said. Two robbers escaped with $1,500 in cash and cigarettes during the holdup. The suspects were captured later in Oak Park, Westland police have said.

The Gardners also have been ordered to stand trial in an unarmed robbery that occurred Oct. 18 at a Garden City convenience store in the 29300 block of Warren Road.

In the Westland case, Gorlando Gardner faces trial on charges of armed robbery, felony firearms possession and being a habitual offender.

Cornelius Gardner faces trial on charges of armed robbery and being a habitual offender. Gorlando Gardner remains jailed in lieu of a $250,000 cash bond in Garden City and a $75,000 cash bond in Westland. Cornelius Gardner is jalled in Heu of a $250,000 cash bond in Garden City and a $50,000 cash bond in Westland.

In Garden City District Court on Oct. 30, Gorlando Gardner was ordered to stand trial on charges of unarmed robbery, fleeing police and being a third-degree habitual offender, At that time, Cornelius Gardner was bound over for trial on charges of unarmed robbery and being a fourth-degree habitual offender.

Habitual offender charges can lead to longer sentences upon conviction,

For example, songs of the drug culture will be juxtaposed against slides of famous artists killed by drugs, including Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix.

Placards, slide projections, newspaper clippings and headlines as well as the program notes will all give opposite points of view. CAPA even plans a talk session after the musical ends so that all points of view can be discussed.

'It's an excellent educational opportunity for our students," said Hosman, who grew up in the '60s during the counterculture movement. "Now there's more of a historical slant."

Adapting the musical to teenagers, Kosinski admitted, has been a"real challenge."

"I hope the audience gets an understanding of what is taking place, the struggle for identity, the struggle between generations, the lack of communication," Hosman said.

"We realize there is a risk to doing this. But we're willing to stretch the kids and let them take the risk."

m This year's Creative and Performing Arts production of the musical 'Hair' has been as controversial in the district as it was when first presented nationwide.

Getting drafted: When the controversial musical, "Hair," opens at 8 p.m. Thursday at Churchill High, Rob McDonald (left), Danny Ratke and Natalie Ross play young men and women who lived and loved — and got drafted — during the tumultuous 1960s and '70s. # Critic is outspoken over school's choice of 'Hair' weekend's production of "Hair" at Churchill High and has brought her concerns about the controversial play to the Livonia Board of Education, which represents the northern section of Westland.

Many scenes or songs she. mentions have been "sanitized" or deleted in Churchill's production. In her own words, here are the reasons for her opposition:

"My children grew up in the Livonia schools. I am a musician and have worked in Livonia schools playing for choirs and for musicals. I now play in two other school districts.

"I believe in public education. It's hard to believe that with the climate in the state of Michigan regarding education, and especially public education, such poor judgment as to what is appropriate for high school students to study is allowed to take place.

"This is a musical that glorifies use of illegal drugs, loose uct of the '60s and '70s. This is morals regarding sex, burning all Livonia needs to add fuel to boys for sex, etc. It has astro- ing. nauts killing people, nuns killing people.

"The music is bad rock. Of all the songs, only two are unobjectional and one of them takes place during a nude scene. There is a scene that is a drug trip. A girl gets pregnant by a drug addict. He beats her up when he finds out she's pregnant. The song 'Hashish' names many illicit drugs. One song names every term ever used to designate a black person.

"There was a blacks vs. whites fight the other day at Churchill. I can't wait to see what the kind of reaction to that song will be.

"Young sisters and brothers, parents and grandparents come to these performances. If you cut out all the truly objectionable parts of this musical, you would have nothing left. It was a prod-

Schoolcraft focuses on different type of student

By Leonard Poger-Staff Writer

Schoolcraft College wants to make sure that more students like Lisa Hoffman know about its varied educational opportunities. To ensure that the message gets out to the right group of people, Schoolcraft is planning a "Thinking About College?" information program from 7-9 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 13, in Radeliff Center's room 320, on Radeliff, south of Ford and east of Wildwood on the Garden City-Westland boundary.

Hoffman, a 33-year-old single mother of four young children from Westland, started her first college classes last year at Schoolcraft after being a homemaker and then returning to work before being laid off.

She said that within 48 hours of first visit to the college, college representatives not only answered all of her questions but also many others that she should have been asking. "I met with a counselor who quickly asked how I'm doing, as well about my children, employment and my dreams," said Hoffman.

"The college told me of the "Chips" program (designed for displaced homemakers), saw that I met the qualifications and signed me up. Two weeks later, I was in the program."

"Chips" is the college's abbreviation of the "from chocolate chips to micro chips" program which offers pre-vocational services for displaced homemakers.

When Hoffman made her first contact with Schoolcraft after becoming a single parent and realized "that it is nearly impossible to find a job without a college education.'

To make sure other local residents in the same or similar circumstances as Hoffman, Schoolcraft officials are sponsoring Wednesday's program to offer information on such topics as financial aid, how to get started and how to juggle other responsibilities and find study time.

Other questions the college officials will touch on are "can I afford college?" and "am I tool

Persons attending the program, sponsored in part by the Zonta Club of Northwest Wayne County, will also learn of the college's services relating to admissions, financial aid, Women's Resource Center, counseling, learning assistance center and the career planning and placement department.

Nancy Swanborg, the women's resource center director, said the 'Chips" program works with 50 to 60 persons throughout a school year with 18 of those being in Schoolcraft classes.

She said Hoffman is an example of a "satisfied customer" who has a positive experience which leads to more interest.

Swanborg added that Wednesday's program is aimed at remove the mystery about what it takes to get into college, such as issues involving financial aid and job placement.

In reflecting on her experiences before and after entering college, Hoffman said she found out about the "Chips" program last year from a friend who was in the program.

In the process of a divorce, Hoffman said "I was on my own and had to find answers" to the issues of education and employ-

Hoffman, a 1980 graduate of Baptist Park High School in Taylor, worked for seven years before losing her job.

After enrollment at Schoolcraft, Hoffman started in a beginning math class, designed for persons who have been out of school for a while. She then took classes in biology -- "my favorite" -- algebra and English.

Early shopper: Lisa Hoffman checks out the stock at Radcliff Center's "boutique" of used clothing which students can buy for job interviews or in the work place.

Her short-term goal is to become a registered nurse with a bachelor's degree in nursing with the long-term goal set on being a certified RN.

"Since high school, I always wanted to be a nurse," Hoffman recalled. "I previously worked in a nursing home as a nurse's assistant and a ward clerk."

Hoffman said there many obstacles for single parents and parents generally who want to enroll dren's schooling.

" 'Chips' defined the obstacles and how to get around them," she said. Before that time, I allowed obstacles to stop me before even starting.

Hoffman stressed another benefit from the college experience.

She said she has observed an improvement in her own chil-

"You can't talk or preach college (to your children) you've done it yourself," Hoffman said.

At home, she does her own homework at the table along with her children, who range in age from nine to 12.

"Now, my children are talking about college and careers, even specific schools, such as University of Michigan, Harvard, UCLA and Schoolcraft.

"That was missing before I went to Schoolcraft.

'Karate for Kids" is held two afternoons a week in Garden City by the International Alliance of Manial Arts.

The instructional sessions are 4:30-5:30 p.m. and 5:30-6:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in the Immaculate Conception Knights of Columbus Hall, on Ford east of Merriman, Garden City.

IAMA spokeswoman Susan Wyrybkowski said that the children's sessions are $3 each and are taught by certified red and black belt instructors.

The organization also holds 10week introductory courses for $3 a class, plus a $10 registration fee. For persons who sign up for the entire $54 course, two free lessons will be given.

After the first 10-week course,

Free turkey dinners offered for the needy

A restaurant owner will offer free turkey or ham Thanksgiving dinners to needy persons on Wednesday, Nov. 22.

Terry Trajkovski, in his fifth year as owner of Alexander's, on the corner of Warren Road and Middlebelt, said the free holiday dinners are "for people in need."

The dinners will be available from 4-8 p.m. that day.

Traikovkski told the Observer he had thought of the free dinners before and with "everything falling into place now, I decided to 'let's do it.' '

Why the free holiday meals? "Out of kindness," he said:

Beard named to national school-to-work council

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN

Kay Beard is headed to Washington, D.C., twice a year.

Beard, vice chair of the Wayne County Commission, has been appointed to the National Advisory Council for School-to-Work Opportunities.

The council is being established to advise the Departments of Labor and Education on the School-to-Work Opportunities Act of 1994.

Robert B. Reich, secretary of labor, and Richard W. Riley, secretary of education, announced the appointment.

"I'm excited about it. It dovetails so well into other things I've been doing," said Beard, D-Westland, who also represents Garden

Beard has served three years as chair of the National Association of Counties' Employment Steering Committee. She also serves as chair of the Job Training Subcommittee of the Employment Steering Committee.

Beard is also a board member of the recently formed Out-Wayne County School-to-Work Partnership. Last month she was appointed chair of the Labor and Manpower Committee for the Michigan Association of Coun-

As part of the appointment, Beard will go to Washington, D.C., twice a year, starting in January 1996. There will also be teleconferences, she said.

The goal of the School-to-Work Act is to create learning systems throughout the country to help all students master the academic and technical skills they need. The advisory council membership includes individuals involved in local School-to-Work initiatives. About 40 individuals representing educators, employers, community groups, students, state and local officials, labor and the public will serve on the council:

She plans to bring information about what's going on locally and statewide with her to Washington, "I want to be up to speed about what's going on in the whole state,'

"I'm hoping I can be a good conduit," she said of her plans to take Michigan's concerns to Washington and come back with information on what other states are doing.

"It's important that all the players work together," she said. "We've got to have a better trained workforce.'

Times have changed from the days when a person could do well in high school and expect to get a good-paying factory job, Beard said. Now factory jobs often require computer skills.

Changes in technology occur almost daily, Beard said, "It's an exciting time," she said. "People have to understand the need for lifelong training," she "We are very excited about the opportunities to create new learning structures that provide pathways for all students to be successful in our dynamic economy," a letter to Beard from Reich and Beard said.

Kay Beard

Riley said.

"As we rapidly approach the 21st century, the School-to-Work Act will help create learning systems in every state and every community in this country to help all students master the academic and technical skills they need. These new systems bring together parents and other leaders from business, labor, communities and schools to implement the three core components of Schoolto-Work - school-based learning, work-based learning and connecting activities," the letter said.

'It's an exciting concept. I'm delighted I was asked to be on it,"

Ladies Pro Bowlers Tour stops in Wayne County

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STATE WRITER

Aleta Sill may have won the $12,000 prize in the the Lady Ebonite Classic Thursday, but the big news locally is that the Ladies Pro Bowlers Tour made a stop in western Wayne County.

Eighty-two bowlers, including 117 amateurs, competed Monday through Thursday last week for $75,000 in prize money at the Super Bowl on Ford Road in Canton Township.

By 8 p.m. Thursday, Sill had beaten longtime rival Tish Johnson 233-225 for the title. The event was cablecast later that night on ESPN.

Sill, a Dearborn-based lefthander, has now tied Patty Costello for the most career tournament titles. The 32-year-old bowling dynamo has 21 career 300 games and is the all-time LPBT wage-earner with nearly $700,000 in winnings since 1980.

The Satellite Bowl was razed to accommodate a Home Depot last year, so Voight moved the tour stop to the Super Bowl, which he purchased in 1992.

Currently, the LPBT bowlers compete in 22 tournaments each year, but just one in Michigan.

Vickerman averages more than 180 per game. Asked if good bowlers are born, or made, she said "both." However, chance plays a part as well. "Bowling is a lot of luck," she said.

Asked why bowler Jeanne Naccarato had eight balls with her, Vickerman explained that bowlers use different kinds of balls to compensate for varying lane conditions.

Tour officials configure lanes differently for each tournament, she said, mostly by varying the amount and placement of oil on the horizontal surface.

Vickerman herself owns 15 bowling balls, which nearly matches the number of shoes she

For example, Sill earned $126,000 in 1994, tops on the tour.

Anne Marie Duggan won $124,000. No other bowler earned more than $100,000 in 1994, but 16 earned at least $40,000.

In a typical tournament, only the top 32 competitors earn prize money. In last week's event, Sill won $12,000, Johnson won $6,700, third-place winner Kathy Zielke won $4,000, fourth-place winner

Wendy Macpherson won $3,200, and fifth-place winner Carolyn Dorin won $2,800. The 32nd prize

Many of the bowlers supplement their winnings with jobs, Gessler said. Some manage bowling centers, others work in proshops, and many give lessons.

To be accepted on the tour, a bowler must average 180 or more for at least 66 games in one league for two consecutive seasons.

The bowlers appreciate the area, Gessler said, because nearly everything they need or want is within a few mlies. "When you're out on the road as much as we are, that's what you look for," he

Friend of court package moves in Senate

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Nearly two years ago, Sen. Robert Geake was listening to stormy public testimony from hundreds of people complaining about Friend of the Court operations in most Michigan countles.

Recently the state Senate, without a word of debate, gave unanimous approval to the first 25 of 40 reform bills that the Northville Township Republican guided through committees to crack down on deadbeat parents and make life fairer for non-custodial parents.

"Michigan joins the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act on collecting child and spousal support," Geake said in his thirdfloor office behind the Senate chamber in the Capitol after the session."We took a giant step toward helping the stability of Michigan children and families."

That bill sets up tribunals to: forward support proceedings to other states and to serve as a responding tribunal for proceedings started in other states. In extreme cases, a governor could extradite deadbeats who failed to provide support.

The bills go to the House. where routine approval is likely. . If enacted, most of the bills would become law in mid-1996.

Sen. Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham, was sponsor of one part of the package - to require Friend of the Court to tell credit agencies about non-payments of two or more months that reached $1,000.

"Sometimes a person is short at the end of the month and has three bills to pay - phone, credit card and child support. He'll pay the phone and credit card because if he doesn't it will affect his credit rating," said Bouchard, "Now, his non-payment of support also can affect his credit rating."

Geake said one bill allows a custodial parent to sue for back support for as long as 10 years af-would allow recovery when the Senate Fiscal Agency said there is non-custodial parent's economic circumstances have changed.

"There is a requirement that when a judge issues a bench warrant to require a parent to pay, the parent will have to pay court costs, too," Geake said.

No less than a dozen bills had to be passed to change "visita-tion" to "parenting time" in support, family counseling, probate, divorce, social welfare, penal, adoption and other laws.

"They mean the same thing." Geake said, "but non-custodial parents didn't want to be stigmatized as 'visitors,' "

The most politically controverisal bill in Geake's package is still in the Family Law Committee, That would shift Friend of the Court from the jurisdiction of circuit courts to general county government. Geake says the office would get better supervision and funding. Circuit judges, however, oppose any reduction of their powers. And many county officials aren't eager to take over Friend of the Court.

Two bills will make it a felony to falsely charge child sexual abuse, physical abuse, emotional abuse or neglect of a child - currently a misdemeanor. Punishments would be up to two years in prison and a fine of $2,000.

Such abuses are often charged ter a child reached age 18. That in nasty divorce cases, but the no data on how many prison sentences might result. It guessed the cost to the Department of Corrections at $50,000 to $65,000 annually on the basis of five sentences of one-year duration.

Two bills were needed - one to change the penal code, the other the child protection act.

Other bills would: Specify that Friend of the Court has 14 days to disburse support payments, or pay interest, and to guard against gender blas, Currently FOC has 30 days to process support payments. The Senate Fiscal Agency said 10 percent of 713,000 cases aren't disbursed in a timely manner.

Make it a felony to conceal income if judicially required in the calculation of child support pay-

Allow a court to place deadbeat parents who had been found in contempt for non-payment on electronic tethers, confining them to home or the county jail except during working hours. The Senate Fiscal Agency said electronic tethers currently cost $6.50 a day which is charged to the partici-

Among other sponsors of the bills were Sens. Loren Bennett. R-Canton, David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield, Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, and George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn.

he spotlight was on food and fashions with some 1,200 people filling Jacobson's Laurel Park Place store Nov. 5 for the eighth annual "Light Up a Life" benefit for Angela Hospice.

Hosted by Jacobson's and sponsored by the Italian American Club of Livonia and Jacobson's, the popular pre-holiday event raised $70,000 for Angela Hospice's "My Nest Is Best" pediatric bereavement program which reaches out to children who have experienced a loss through death, whether it is a loss of a sibling, parent, grandparent, friend or family member.

"It was spectacular," said an elated Carolyn DiComo. The atmosphere was superb. It was like one big family coming together for a reunion." Strong supporters of Angela Hospice, this is the second year the Italian-American Club selected the pediatric program as beneficiary of the fund raiser.

"As a result of what we raised last year, Angela Hospice was able to start a pediatric program and with what we raised this year they are able to extend the pediatric program even further," DiComo said.

This is the fifth year Jacoboson's has hosted the benefit which has grown steadily in popularity.

The evening provided participants with a tantalizing "walking tour" of 27 restaurants in from throughout western Wayne and southern Oakland counties which set up stations throughout the store's two floors.

A new addition to the benefit was a VIP reception with the "Light Up a Life" celebrity models that raised some $10,000. Another $15,000 was raised through advertising in the "Light Up a Life" program.

"We were only going to sell 150 tickets for the VIP reception and needless to say, we didn't stop at 150, we sold 200," DiComo said."I put the goal (for the benefit) at $50,000, hoped for $60,000 and got $70,000. Isn't that great?"

The VIP crowd dined on roast beef on buns, served by Mountain Jack's, and rubbed elbows with WDIV Channel 4 weather reporter Paul Gross, a veteran "Light" Up a Life" "trend setter;" Tiger broadcasters Frank Beckman and Lary*ok* Sorenson, WXYZ-TV reporters Cheryl Chodun, Dan Springer and Don Shane, former Detroit Tigers Milt Wilcox and Rick Leach, WJR radio personality Jimmy Launce and WKDB-Channel 50 anchorman David Scott.

Helping to set the mood at the reception was the Livonia Franklin High School Jazz Band which also snaked its way through the store upstairs and downstairs throughout the evening to get people in the

Also providing musical interludes was Dave Bevington, keyboardist and a minister in Livonia. Honorary chairs for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Awrey, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Flynn and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McNanmara.

The club is taking a breather before beginning work on the ninth installment of "Light Up a Life." Many of the restaurants, the celebrity models and Jacobson's have already signed on for next year.

"Jacobson's has invited us back for next year, so I guess they haven't grown tired of us yet," DiComo said. "And just about all of the restaurants have told us to remember them for next year.

"With their in-kind services this was a more than $100,000 evening."

Angela Hospice Home Care was founded in 1985 by Sister Mary Giovanni under the sponsorship of the Pelecian Sisters of the Presentation Province in Livonia. It is dedicated to meeting the needs of terminally illpeople living in western Wayne, southern Oakland and eastern Washtenaw counties with the help of health care professionals and trained volunteers.

Just a little: Artist Chuck Borshanian sketched Donna Klassa of Livonia, while John and Maryanne Massman of Livonia sampled treats from Jacobson's restaurant, and "model" Audrey DiComo swung her purse on the runway.

Hunt down recipes, tips for preparing wild game

h, the thrill of the hunt. For centuries, man hunted all the animals we now eat before he domesticated them. Our tastes for the exotic continue to increase.

With proper connections, the game hunter who ventures into the north woods and emerges with nothing more than a hangover can visit any number of butcher shops and procure anything from fillets of white tail deer to mallard breasts, alligator, venison sausage, ostrich, and even loin of lion.

Unfortunately, it's usually a spouse or significant other who are left with the responsibility of preparing the wild game so that it tastes like it just came from Julia Child's oven. More often than not, it's the camp (or home) cook who shoulders the blame of the "it's too gamey tasting," comments that usually follow a wild game din-

If your hunter places the blame for bad-tasting wild game on your shoulders, be sure you hand 'em this article. The flavor of any freshly hunted game depends partly on how it was handled in the woods or field.

Venerable metro area chef Milos Cihelka, who has a four-part video series on the proper dressing, preparing, cooking and storing of wild game, says, "improper field dressing and the transport of wild game can ruin it."

Furthermore, "the animal needs to age and drain properly before butchering, claims Chielka, who was lucky enough to be leaving for the north woods tomorrow.

Fortunately, in addition to Cihelka's video series (available at all Kitchen Glamor stores for $19.95) there is a rather aged, but still widely olly Diroff loves to go home to Wausau, Wis., for the holidays. She looks forward to "the big get together with all my relatives." This year, her Michigan-based family is grateful she's staying in Livonia.

Thanksgiving at home: Claudia Larson (Holly Hunter) and her mother Adele, (Anne Bancroft) share Thanksgiving dinner in "Home for the Holidays."

Holly is planning a traditional Thanksgiving Day feast, which includes a tasty sausage stuffing recipe handed down from her grandmother. Holly, who lives in Livonia, doesn't like her enjoy making the stuffing and turkey. I love the smell of turkey."

Holly enjoys her Thanksgiving gatherings.

Yet, some families experience major stress during this time of year, as seen in Paramount Pictures' recently released comedy "Home for the Holidays."

Readers recently shared some of their funny holiday memories in exchange for tickets to a preview screening of the movie, which opened Friday, Nov. 3 at metro Detroit movie theaters.

The movie stars Holly Hunter as a single mother who returns home to spend Thanksgiving with her family, even if she can't get her 15. year-old daughter to follow.

Diane Vidovic of Canton saw the movie and remarked, "there were a lot of things that I could relate to - like brothers and sisters fighting. I'm sure (most) people can relate to the movie. Everyone has an aunt or someone eccen-

Vidovic recalls her family's "silliest after Thanksgiving dinner time."

Her sister-in-law made Jell-O Jigglers for the kids. They lay untouched on the table until "my brother picked up (an orange) one .... (using his tongue) with a Jell-O Jiggler." Everyone tried to "If my mom is here, it's more fun to cook, I outdo the other person, says Vidovic, as "grandmas right down to the youngest child" were laughing hysterically.

She cautions readers: this (behavior) takes . See recipes inside.

some tolerance of poor table manners.

Vidovic remembers Thanksgiving dinners "around the television set with the football game as he focus."

She and her husband have succeeded in shifting the focus from football to the celebration." Sometimes her dinner is served after the game, but the TV is off while her family (including three teenage sons and other relatives) enjoy the turkey and trimmings.

Vidovic feels that: "the key to enjoying the holidays is to keep a one-on-one relationship throughout the year."

Like Holly Diroff, Vidovic prepares a stuffing that was used by two prior generations. The combination of shredded cabbage, carrots, celery, onions and cooked rice is a favorite with her family and it helps "baste the turkey."

So - why not invite the family over for Thanksgiving dinner? Go see "Home for the Holidays," which is directed by Jodie Foster and also stars Robert Downey, Jr., Anne Bancroft, and Charles Durning.

There's even a "Home for the Holidays Cookbook," (hardcover, $14.95) that includes 75kitchen tested holiday recipes - many of them from the film.

If you have to explain to your spouse that the $600 you spent for four days at deer camp was well spent, you can walk through the door with just about any specialty venison cut from Michigan farmraised white tail deer.

Farm-raised game

Barb Francis, who along with husband Don owns and operates Butcher Boy Game Meats in Warren, says that they can sell you everything from a $4.95 per pound leg of venison to a $7.95 boneless roast of white tall deer. Butcher Boy is metro Detroit largest supplier of exotic game. It's all farmraised and USDA certified. The Francis' told me that there are more than 300 farms that raise venison for retail sales, and hopefully, that fact helps reduce poaching. Butcher Boy Meats is at 13869 Herbert in Warren, and the Francis' can be reached at (810) 779-0600.

Another major league player in the retail wild game market is Polarica Game Inc., who mail order out of San Francisco and New York City. In addition to exotic wild game such as elk, antelope, wild boar, pheasant, kangaroo and rattlesnake, Polarica also is a major handler of fresh wild and cultivated mushrooms, truffles, exotic fruit, edible blossoms and miniature vegetables. You can call them at (800) GAME-4US to request a product and price list.

Helpful books

Of course, my idea of hunting is going to a store where there are volumes of books with everything I need to know about preparing wild game. I hunt for cookbooks that include proper cutting techniques, aging qualities and preparation details.

Gone are the days when all that was necessary was to fry up two pounds of onlone in enough grease to warrant chest pains, Nowadays, savvy hunters know that tougher cuts, especially from the legs of the deer, need to be completely removed of all fat (tallow) and slow roasted, preferably with a continual brush of a marinade for optimum results. Leaner, more tender roasts and tenderloins can be baked with a little bacon or salt pork to assist in keeping the meat juicy.

Leaner game birds like pheasant, duck, partridge or wild turkey can be larded the old-fashioned way, wrapped in a little bacon or simply grilled. An allaround basic informational book entitled "The Home Book of Smoke Cooking Meat Fish and Game" by Jack Sleight and Ray Hull, (copyright 1971, Stackpole Books, $12.95) offers suggestions on home smoking techniques that can be done anywhere from inside a household oven to the largest. smokehouse. Just about all of the books I checked out include recipes for jerky, sausage, marinade and cooking techniques.

And remember, hunters, just as important as the first field dressing, if you need to take your trophy to a game processor, you get what you pay for. Inexperienced processors will give you 25 percent more burger instead of good cuts because in the processing, little care or effort is made to use the proper cutting techniques.

Ask an experienced hunter for references. The longer the meat "hangs" and is allowed to cure incold, dry temperatures, the better the game will taste. Good luck.

Dorothy's basket hid lots of goodies

In the classic tale of 'The Wizard of Oz" Dorothy headed for the Emerald City in an awful hurry. She gathered up her trusty terrier, grabbed her wooden basket and off she went on the tail of a tornado. But for over 50 years, audiences have been wondering what was in Dorothy's basket.

Could she have left Kansas without packing a parcel of food to sustain herself, and Toto too?

Today, Dorothy has embarked on a new journey, skating down the Yellow Brick Road, alongside the Scarecrow, the Tin Woodsman and the Cowardly Lion in Producer Kenneth Feld's, "The Wizard of Oz on Ice," coming to Joe Louis Arena, Detroit, Nov. 15-19. Call (313) 396-7600 for show times and ticket information or Ticketmaster (810) 645-6666.

Once again, the young woman from Kansas has her trusty basket in tow. Perhaps this time, Dorothy, planning ahead, consulted award-winning cookbook author Sheila Lukins and cooked up a mouth-watering medley of edibles.

Here are some of her favorites:

A.D.D. and Learning Problems

Linked to Vision

Livonia - For the past three years, Dr. John Jacobi, optometrist, and his visual therapy staff have helped hundreds of patients overcome their vision-related learning difficulties. Why look to vision for relief? Vision is our number one tool for gathering information. 80% of learning takes place through the visual system. Dr. Jacobi stresses that having 20/20 eyesight does not guarantee 20/20 vision. Vision is the ability to maintain focus long enough to read without strain, and it enables a child to keep the letters from being "double". It involves his ability to recall what he has seen, which assists him in learning to spell. Reading, handwriting, and Eric working with Dr. Jacobi and his vision therapist.

In addition, vision is strongly linked to concentration. Symptoms of visual deficiencies and Attention Deficit Disorder are very similar, "My concern is that a child with A.D.D. may have undiagnosed vision problems," says Dr. Jacobi. There could be a serious, yet treatable vision deficiency that is being overlooked."

The first step is a thorough testing of sight, eye movements, visual concentration, visual memory, coordination, and letter reversals. Juli Ygeal, visjon therapist, explains, "This simple testing can change a child's entire future. I've met so many concerned parents, who are desperately searching for answers. It's wonderful to be able to give such hope to these children."

"Identifying the problem is just the beginning," notes Dr. Jacobi. "The real hope lies in the fact that in most cases, it is correctable. These students have potential to make gains a great

LINDA BACHRACK

New resale shop has designer tags

ub shoulders with Calvin, Ralph, Donna K, Giorgio, Gianni and Oscar. The fashion world's most coveted labels are all gathered under one roof, looking stunning amid the marble and glass at Designer Replay, Troy's elegant new resale boutique.

From the best closets in town, Liz Purther and

Amy Cohen selected couture fashions and accessories for a resale shop that reflects the duo's obvious flair for style. The location, in the lobby of the City Center Building on Big Beaver Road, is accessible, yet discreet. The decor is decidedly upscale and the presentation rivals the chicest fashion salons. It's a fantasy come true for those who long for "Lagerfeld"

"Designer Replay is a place where professional, sophisticated women can shop and save money, without the negatives normally associated with ordinary resale shops," says Purther. "Every item is a timeless treasure.

Prudent pricing

Prices on the one-of-a-kind, clean and pressed designer merchandise range from $10 for a Calvin Klein bodysuit (with tags still attached) to $2,000 for a gently-worn Chanel original.

Purther comes by her eye for fashion naturally. Her mother is Hattie Whitehead, Detroit's legendary couture retailer. Purther began working in her mom's internationally recognized boutique at age 14. After graduating from Boston University, she spent a year in Bloomingdale's training program in New York. She has worked at Barney's and Neiman Marcus, all the while honing her business and fashion merchandising skills.

Cohen is an interior designer with expertise in residential and commercial design. She feels the boutique is the perfect avenue to redirect her creative talents.

It was Whitehead who actually coaxed the young women into starting their own resale business. "Mother came to us three days before my wedding last summer and told us her idea for this business," Purther said. Hattie convinced them that professional women would buy a previouslyowned Armani suit, for example, because the retail prices are so unbelievably expensive today.

The women immediately set up a network of consignors from whom to acquire top-of-the-line fashions. That part was easy, considering their mothers know most of the area's best dressed society mavens. Merchandise is gleaned from a crosssection of ages and sizes.

Gift ideas

Purther and Cohen cuiled through their welledited collection for some examples of holiday gift ideas. The following is a taste of what's in-store-Long for a Judith Lieber handbag? They snagged a black satin beauty encrusted with Austrian crystals, originally $1,500, now $250. A Kieselstein-Cord crocodile belt with sterling silver buckle was $2,000; it can yours for $475.

Wouldn't your mother love some Chanel pearls? They're $200, originally $900. Earnings to match? The selection is $40-$100. Find a Bottega Veneta woven leather clutch ($100), a Maxima crocodile bag ($400) or a Gucci leopard bag ($275). A Prada cashmere sweater is a mere $75. Stunning outfits include a Karl Lagerfeld wool and velvet suit ($450) and a Carolyn Rochm grey flannel pantsuit

Santa Claus arrives with fun for all

You better not pout! Santa Claus is coming to town this weekend and area malls are decking the halls with million dollar holiday displays. It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, everywhere you go . . .

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO

One summer afternoon Northland Center's marketing director Linda Brown sat down with public relations agent Susan Haddad to dream up a spectacular holiday promotion for the mall's 40th winter.

When Santa arrives at Northland in Southfield on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m. he will be greeted by four skylights situated atop the mall, five 40-foot shooting stars, white-winged horses in the Land of Pegasus, a North Star Postal Station furnished with gold star-shaped tables where visitors can compose Letters to Santa, and a 16-foot high snow globe animated by falling snow.

But the most intriguing feature of the exhibit, "Journey to the North-Star," is a coloring book quest which takes every child who participates on a search through the center for the Brightest Star. The story, created by Brown and Haddad, features the mall's signature Boy and The Bear on the starry moral quest. The characters come from the famous Marshall Fredericks sculpture dedicated at the mall when it opened in 1955.

"At the end of the story, we have The Boy discovering that he is the brightest star. Likewise each child will affix a magic, mirror sticker to the back page that reveals he or she is the Brightest Star. The message is: You must believe in yourself and see the beauty within you!"

The mall changed hands last year creating the capital necessary to fund a major renovation throughout the center and pay for the half-million dollar holiday display created especially for Northland by The Becker Co. of Baltimore.

This all ties in with our advertising campaign — Northland: Yours First and Always," Brown explained. We have a new look, a new feel, and we're positioned for the 21st century.'

Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi brings back its award-winning Crystal Forest exhibit which debuted last year near a musical laser-light show, 136 life-size animals created by Ann Arbor artist Ira Imbras-Jansen make up a peaceful kingdom under a thousand twinkling white lights.

Santa appears at the mall's Lord & Taylor Court, Monday, Nov. 20, at 7 p.m. arriving in an ornate carriage. The Novi High School band and students from Sheryl's School of Dance will lead him to his woodland cottage in the center court Crystal Forest.

Children can send their gift lists to Santa via The North Polestal Service where letters are whisked off with a flurry of fight and sound. Hollyberry, Queen of the Woods, and her companion sprite Nimble will stroll the mall telling stories and greeting young shoppers.

At Oakland Mall the Troy Athens Marching Band welcomes Santa in his horse-drawn sleigh to center court, Thursday, Nov. 16, at 6:30 p.m. Clowns and elves greet shoppers along the way. On Nov, 18 and 19, Sesame Street stars Linda and Celina host sing-alongs, interactive dancing and sign language fun at 10 a.m. noon, 2 and 4 p.m. (From noon to 3 p.m. there will be a Signing Santa for all deaf children.)

The Westland Shopping Center welcomes Santa Claus on Saturday Nov. 18 at 11 a.m. arriving by horse and carriage outside entrance 6, near J.C. Penney, Westley Holiday Bear and the John Glenn High School Marching Band will lead Santa to Center Court. The Children's Theatre of Michigan will introduce Santa aiter a special performance.

Kids who join the Santa Holiday Bear Club by Dec. 6 will be invited to a special breakfast with Santa and Holiday Bear.

Summit Place in Waterford features the "Broadway Singing Reindeer" who will pull Santa in his sleigh to center court, Saturday, Nov. 18, at noon, serenaded by the Mott Marching Band and holiday characters. A playland for children will be open Nov. 18-Dec. 24 with daily activities for tots like magic shows, puppets, story times and holiday crafts.

The mall also plays host to the annual Hudson's fairy tale exhibit. This year The Wizard of Oz is told through 21 animated vignettes. 400,000 visitors are expected to tour the display before it closes Dec. 31. The exhibit is located in the southwest corridor next to Hudson's.

The Livonia Mall presents its 13th Annual city/mall parade from Six Mile north down Middlebelt to Seven Mile, on Saturday, Nov. 18 at 9 a.m. There will be floats, clowns, animals, fire engines, marching bands, and of course the Man in the Red Flannel Suit. Free hot chocolate for all, afterward in the mall. The mall's extensive exhibits feature vignettes of holidays gone by.

A Victorian-style horse drawn sleigh brings Santa Claus to Laurel Park Place on Sunday, Nov. 19 at 1 p.m. at the Six Mile entrance between Max & Erma's and D. Dennison's. The Living Christmas Card carolers welcome the season with french horns, flutes and holiday songs. Treats for children in attendance. Through Dec. 3, shoppers can win tickets to see The Nutcracker with The Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the Fox Theater, by entering a draw-

Look alikes: Alyssa Callaway (Ashley Olsen) and Amanda Lemmon (Mary-Kate Olsen) in Rysher Entertainment's romantic comedy, "It Takes Two," released by Warner

Olsons play matchmakers in comedy 'It Takes Two'

"It Takes Two." a romantic comedy starring Kirstie Alley, Steve Guttenberg and Ashley and Mary-Kate Olson, opens Nov. 17

at metro Detroit movie theaters. "It Takes Two" follows the lives of a warm-hearted and beautiful social worker and a handsome, wealthy and charming widower, each of whom is responsible for a 9-year-old girl.

For Diane Barrows (Alley), the girl is a feisty orphan named Amanda (Mary-Kate Olsen). For Roger Callaway (Guttenberg), the girl is his well-bred daughter, Alyssa (Ashley Olsen).

When the Callaways spend the summer in their mansion across the lake from Diane, Amanda and the rest of the kids at Camp Callaway, it becomes inevitable that the girls should meet. When they do, they discover that they look exactly alike - and they immediately begin plotting a switch of identities to bring the respective adults in their lives together. They believe Diane and Roger will find true love once they meet, and the girls will finally have the family they always dreamed of.

Roger thinks Alyssa needs a mother, and the ambitious (and Kensington (Jane Sibbert) has decided she'd be perfect for the job. So Roger, Alyssa and Clarice are spending the summer togeth-

Across the lake from the Callaway mansion, Diane, Amanda and the rest of the group from the East Side Children's Center are spending the summer at fun-filled Camp Callaway.

Hoping that a twist of nature can help bring them the parents they've longed for, the girls switch identities and begin working behind the scenes, to orchestrate a meeting between Roger and Diane

- before Clarice drags Roger down the aisle and before some adoptive family separates Diane and Amanda.

When Roger and Diane do get together, the sparks immediately begin to fly, but the outraged Clarice isn't willing to give up that easily. While the lovestruck couple ponder the delightful feelings that seem to be drawing them together, Clarice moves her wedding date up - to the very

Can two little girls turn the plans of a group of grown-ups into comic chaos in less than 24 hours? Should Diane and Roger even consider risking their entire lives on their secret wish for that "Real Thing" feeling?

Well, if two heads are better than one, just imagine what two identical girls can do to help true love work it's magic - especially when the magic is aimed at a couple who already believe in its power.

"I guess you could say this movie reminds us that love occurs when you're not really looking for it," said producer James Orr who with Jim Cruikshank co-wrote, "Three Men and and a Baby" and "Sister Act 2: Back in the Habit." They also produced "Father of the Bride.'

"We wanted this story to be funny and something people could enjoy with their whole families," said Cruikshank.

Recounts Alley about her character, "Diane is a hard-working girl from Manhattan, not highly paid, but dedicated to her job and kids. She's in a period of her life where she's sad and single and wants to adopt Amanda, but she doesn't make enough money and she isn't part of a traditional family. So she's in a bit of a predicament. But she's an honest person. That's what sparks Roger's inter-

Ace' loses animal magnetism in sequel

'Ace Ventura: When Nature Calla" is the eventual result of superstardom. Charmless, forced, and only occasionally funny, it succeeds at only one thing: making the original "Ace" look almost brainy in comparison.

It was only last year that Carrey went from "In Living Color" ensemble player to one of the nation's hottest box office draws. Not nearly as bad as the critics said, "Ace Ventura: Pet Detective" was an intentionally dopey device for Carey's obvious talents at mimickry, bad taste, and crazy facial expressions.

Since then, Carrey has turned into a primary energy source with high profile roles in "The Mask,"
"Batman Forever," and "Dumband Dumber." His toothy goofball with the trademark "Allrighty then" has been the most distinct comic personality since Pee Wee Herman, and infinitely more pop-

So where does the new "Ace" movie go so wrong? Probably with Carrey's much publicized ego. Creative differences with the original director led to installment of Steve Oedekerk, the film's writer and a longtime Carrey friend.

The resulting story, such as it is, finds Ace traveling to Africa to locate a missing white bat, the sacred symbol of the Wachati tribe. If it is not returned by a certain time and date, the Wachatis will hold their peighbors responsible and start a major tribal war. All too predictably, Simon Callow's stuffy Brit is the actual batnapper. He will control the lucrative bat dropping industry if the tribes wipe each other out.

Since Carrey's mega-salary accounts for most of the reported $44 million budget, the producers use him in virtually every frame. Oedekerk's direction is so flat and uninspired that even diehard fans will overdose on the actor's million-dollar "metamorpho-face."

Granted, there are funny bits in the movie, like the parody from "Cliffhanger" where the mounlocales and wide screen should hold some surprises, but they

With this latest venture, Carrey's comedy goes from dumb to dumber.

'Copycat' has some interesting moments

BY DAVID GOODMAN

"It's a sick world, isn't it?" the serial killer says to his victim in 'Copycat." And if you see this movie, you'll probably agree.

This suspense thriller about two women who track an ingenious murderer has some interesting moments, but ultimately is done in by its tired, overused for-

As the movie makes clear in its opening scene, serial killers tend to be intelligent and methodical as they go about their hideous business all the while keeping up an innocent exterior. The idea that such people can and do walk among us without suspicion gets your spine tingling right there.

It's surely not Sigourney Weaver's fault that "Copycat" is not as compelling as it should be and leaves you feeling stale. She turns in her usual top-notch acting job playing Helen Hudson, a forensic psychiatrist who has specialized in the psychology of serial killers and who has made quite a. bundle (judging from her sumptuous San Francisco apartment) from book royalties and lecture

It's fitting she has such a great spartment, because now she can't leave it. At one of her lectures, she was stalked by crazed, slobbering psychopath Daryll Lee Cullum (Harry Connick Jr.), who, in a truly creepy scene, traps Helen in a bathroom stall, hangs her up like a piece of meat and almost kills her.

Although Cullum is caught and safely imprisoned, the near-death experience has left Helen totally agoraphobic, unable even to go outside to pick up the newspaper near her apartment door without having a panic attack.

When several young San Francisco women are murdered, however, her dormant tracking instincts start to tingle. So she teams up with perky, no-nonsense police detective M.J. Monahan (Holly Hunter) and her goodlooking young deputy, Ruben Goetz (Dermot Mulroney), who enlist her in the chase.

Thiller: Sigourney Weaver (left) portrays criminal psychologist Helen Hudson, and Holly Hunter is police detective M.J. Monahan, in Warner Bros.' suspense-thriller 'Copycat."

Instead of one measly murderer, the movie gets to draw on the ghoulish legacy of famous U.S. serial killers like Ted Bundy and Jeffrey Dahmer by creating a character who studies, imitates and pays homage to the "great" killers of the past.

Director Jon Amiel ("Sommersby") works with wonderful ingredients: two likable actresses in the lead roles, the dramatic vistas of San Francisco and a clever idea from scriptwriters Ann Biderman and David Madsen.

As the movie unfolds, we quickly sense that by becoming an expert on serial killing, Helen has unwittingly made herself into a perfect audience. Only someone like her — an expert, a maven will appreciate the references, the little touches of a killer like this copycat.

The problem is that, as usual, Hollywood is trying to have it both ways. The formulaic movie teeters on the border of exploitation with one too many a shot of a ravaged co-ed in her underwear. And there's one lingering image that's so disturbing, you know a movie called "Copycat" is going to bring it around a second time.

Putting a couple of smart, tough women in key roles doesn't fully inoculate the movie against charges of pandering.

American movies and television shows seem to be practically overflowing at the moment with images of sadistic killers and their victims. How about giving us a break for a few weeks?

Bold predictions to make your day

t's time for the mayor of Carmel to give his state of the girls basketball address. It's tournament time, so go ahead, Clint Emons, Eastwood, they're all the same when it comes to handicapping the field.

Eastwood, make my day.

Who are these leading ladies? No more Sondra Locke, that's for sure.

Remember, moms and dads, this is all makebelieve. You know, movie stuff, straight out of Hollywood.

So head to your nearest video store and compare your selections with mine.

Here's The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly. (Records are through Friday.)

THE ENFORCER

Redford Bishop Borgess (17-2): The Spartans, who boast the best backcourt in the state in Maxann Reese and Adriane Bryant, should be well on their way to a third straight Class C state championship. They've also gone against the best in Class A (Flint Northern and Detroit King) and Class B (Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day), so they're battle tested.

MAGNUM FORCE

Plymouth Canton (18-4): Coach Bob Blohm loves to get his team ready come state tournament time. The big stumbling blocks are Northville and rival Plymouth Salem (which is more than likely awaiting in the Novi district final). Oak Park, a team with gaudy offensive stats, poses a problem in the Berkley regional.

SUDDEN IMPACT

Plymouth Salem (14-6): Don't count the Rocks out, especially if they get past Canton in the Novi district. Coach Fred Thomann has a young team that still may be a year away, but look out if they get on a roll. I like their chances...

PINK CADILLAC

Garden City (14-6): This is a solid team, particularly with senior forward Christie Giover in the lineup. Guard Jamle Faber is also a player to watch. If the Cougars get out of their own district, the road could lead them to the Ann Arbor Huron, regional final.

HIGH PLAINS DRIFTER

Wayne Memorial (14-6): The Zebras are vastly improved from a year ago with the emergence of junior point guard Yolanda Holt, who was a member of Borgess' state Class C championship team in 1993. Coach Chuck Henry will have one whale of a boys basketball team this year, but his girls could make some noise at the GC district.

ANY WHICH WAY YOU CAN

North Farmington (12-8): The Raiders have been competitive for the most part, but have had to bite the bullet against the elite teams in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Carrie May is a sharpshooter, however. Farmington Hills Harrison (12-8): Like North, coach Pete Mantyla could get his team out of the Bloomfield Hills Lahser district if they catch fire. The Hawks are not as good as a year ago, but something tells me they have a shot to get into the

TWO MULES FOR SISTER SARA

Farmington Hills Morcy (5-14): The Marlins couldn't reel in a Catholic League playoff spot this season, a real rarity for this program. But don't fret, Mercy fans, because the Lahser district title is a very achievable goal.

Livenia Ladywood (3-14): Ditto for the Blazers, who missed the Catholic League playoffs for the first time in years. Ladywood is a long shot to get out of the Novi district; make that 500-to-1 bet.

PLAY MISTY FOR ME.

Livonia Stevenson (9-11): The Spartans won last year's weak district at Southfield and should do the same again this year. But things should come to screeching halt in the regional semifinals at Dearborn when Detroit Murray-Wright comes Livenia Franklin (9-11): The Patriots open district play tonight against Wayne in an interesting matchup. Senior guard Tracy Rynkiewicz is a scorer, while Kellie Main is an inside force. Franklin is capable of advancing to the GC district final, but that's where it all ends.

THE GAUNTLET

Lutheran High Westland (17-2): After losing several key players to graduation off last year's Metro Conference championehip team, which finished 19-3, coach Ron Gentz had his new crew contending again right until the final game this year. But it looks like a terrible rerun as the Warriors will meet Borgess in the district final.

WHERE EAGLES DARE

Redford Thurston (16-3): The Mega Conference Blue Division champs, led by Heather Wolfriell and a cast of role players, face very tough Class B district field, even at home. No. 1-ranked Country Day and Renaissance of the Detroit Public School League are both state contenders.

HEARTBREAK REDGE

Farmhatten ($-12): Hats off to John Verdura to getting his Falcone into the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs. The Falcone have a tough teak ahead, however, because rival North Farmington stands in the way in tonight's

Alcala lifts Shamrocks, 21-14

Redford Catholic Central advanced in the Class AA football playoffs with a 21-14 comeback victory over defending champion Troy in the regional final.

BY STEVE KOWALSKI

Redford Catholic Central used the wind and Greg Alcala to its advantage Saturday afternoon in the Class AA football regional final at Pontiac Wisner Stadium.

The Shamrocks scored two touchdowns, including one by their forgotten junior tailback Alcala, with the wind at their backs in the fourth quarter to rally for a 21-14 victory over Troy.

Alcala, who started the season as CC's No. 1 tailback, played only limited time as Kevin Quay's backup the last several games.

He gave the Shamrocks a 7-0 lead with an 80-yard run for a TD with 2:37 left in the first quarter, His 63yard run in the fourth quarter tied the score 14-14 and the Shamrocks went ahead to stay with John Spolsky's seven-yard run with 3:40 remaining.

Rain and snow, a strong wind and cold temperatures made conditions miserable, but not for Alcala.

"I always seem to have big games in the mud." Alcala said. "I kind of had a feeling all week I'd get some action."

The 11-0 Shamrocks advance to the state semifinal to meet Sterling Heights Stevenson, a 46-0 winner over Detroit Martin Luther King. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Mt. Clemens Chippewa Valley High School.

Alcala finished with 175 yards on 15 carries, meaning he had only 32 yards on 13 carries when he didn't cross the end zone.

"We didn't know anything about 20 (Alcala)," Troy coach Gary Griffith sald. "You can't allow a team to score on 80 yard runs, I don't care who that team is. Especially, you can't give a team like CC plays like that and ex-

Defending-champion Troy trailed 7-0 at halftime and elected to kick off to start the second half with the wind at its back. The Colts stopped the Shamrocks on three plays and took over at CC's 42 following a 16-yard punt by Eron Kosmowski.

Quarterback Kyle Rance picked up a first down with a 12-yard run and three plays later hit Drew Patrick with a 26-yard TD pass to make the score 7-7 with 7:03 left in the third

"Greg's really been running hard in practice the last few weeks." CC coach Tom Mach said. "We got out of a tight 'T' offense a bit and Greg's a good open field runner. He ran like a champ today. That's a great team we Troy failed to pick up a first down on its next possession and the Shamrocks took over at the Colts' 35 following a short punt.

It took CC seven plays to score on Spolsky's seven yard run around right end for the go-ahead points with 3:40 remaining. Spolsky finished with 75 yards on 24 carries, sharing the limelight with Alcala, who goes by the nickname "Chewey" after the Star

'We all understand our roles and we take turns, if it's not 'Chewey,' then it's Kevin," Spolsky said. "That's a well-disciplined team and the game went back and forth, but I kind of feel it's our destiny to go all

Borgess smacks King in city final

BY BRAD EMONS

Wheatles may be the Breakfast of Champions, but what works best for Redford Bishop Borgess guard Adriane Bryant is Blueberry Belgian Waffles.

The 5-foot-4 dynamo proved to be a mighty mite in the Operation-Friendship girls basketball final Saturday at the University of Detroit's Calihan Hall.

The senior point-guard scored game-high 23 points as the Catholic League representatives rolled to a shocking 66-41 win over previously unbeaten and Detroit Public School League champion King.

"I felt pretty good," said Bryant, who destroyed King with her superior quickness, not to mention six of nine shooting from the floor and 10 of 11 free throws. "If you play scared against King you're not going to win. You can't be intimidated by the wine (Tiffany and Stanh Weems),

"I'm used to taking the ball to the big players. And I was happy my shot was 'on.'"

Borgess, two time defending state Class C champions, finishes the regular season at 18-2 overall.

The impressive win also atones for losses earlier in the year to No. 1-ranked and defending state Class A champion Flint Northern and Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day, rated No. 1 in Class B.

"It was one of our goals at the beginning of the year," Borgess coach Dave Mann said. "We felt we had to schedule those teams to stake a claim as one of the best in the state. Maybe we can't make that claim, but we can still say we're one of the

And Mann knows Bryant, who recently signed with the University of Toledo, is one of the best backcourt

"She just killed them and had a great game shooting the ball," the Borgess coach said. "They (King) were not having success with their big kids, so they went to a smaller lineup. But they couldn't catch ing moves of Bryant and Miss Basketball candidate Maxann Reese, were more than equal to the task as the Spartans jumped out to a 20-9 first-quarter lead.

Borgens actively attacked the glass, out-rebounding the Crusaders, 40-32.

Candice Finley, a 6-foot junior, also answered the call with 19 points and 13 rebounds.

"Their big people did a fantantic job of rebounding," said King coach William Winfield, whose team alipped to 17-1 overall. "We wanted to dictate the ballgame and make them shoot from outside. Plus, we wanted to pound the ball inside." Bryant had plenty of help as Reese, the multi-talented 5-8 senior guard, finished with 10 points, including a pair of triples. LaZandra White, a 5-5 senior guard, contributed nine.

"The question we had to answer going in was Bryant." Winfield said. "She did an outstanding job. She controlled the tempo of the game. And once we got behind, we had to come out and play man-to-man (defense). And once we did that, we had to dance to their music.'

Down 33-19 at intermission, the Crusaders could never get things going in the second half as Borgess, going on a 16-5 run thanks to eight straight points from Bryant, increased its lead to 49-24 after three quarters. Any hope of a King comeback was destroyed by a dismal eight of 26 performance from the free throw line-(30.7 percent). The Weems sisters combined for only 18 points on seven of 16 shooting.

State runner-up Spartans earn 5 places

By Dan O'Meara STAFF WRITER

Livonia Stevenson was the No. 2 girls cross country team in the state and clearly the No. 1 in Observerland this year.

Not surprisingly and deservedly so, the Spartans account for half of the 10 positions on the 1995 All-Area team.

Farmington's Anne Grimaldi and Kate Adams made the All-Area squad again while helping to make the Falcons No. 5 in Class A and No. 2 in Observerland.

Along with Stojcevski, Plymouth Salem's Leah Retherford and Lutheran Westland's Jodi Werman moved up to the first team after earning second-team honors a year ago.

Salem's Kristie Giddings completes the '95 All-Area squad.

Leah Retherford, senior, Salem: Retherford had a good season finale, placing 16th with a personal best of 19:51 in the Class A individual race. She also was ninth in the regional (20:03) and fourth in the WLAA (20:01),

The four-year letter winner was named the most valuable runner on the Salem team and medaled in every invitational.

'Day after day she has worked extremely hard in practice to get faster and it has paid off."

Laura Pilon, senior, Stevenson: Pilon was another key player in the Stevenson success story, taking 28th place (20:01) in the state and 10th in the regional. She also finished seventh in the league, fifth at Center Line and sixth at Gabriel Richard. Her best time was 19:36.

"Laura was a four-year letter winner who improved every year," coach Paul Holmberg said. "She was outstanding in her senior year and capped it with a great race at the state finals.

Jeannette Stojcevski, senior, Stevenson: A good team is only as strong as its fifth runner, and the Spartans had a good one in Stojcevski.

She was 35th in the state meet (20:09), eighth in the regional, fifth in the league meet and Schoolcraft Invitational and fourth at Center Line. Her best time was 19:33; at Cass Benton, it was 20:04.

"Jeannette came out for cross country last year to get ready for track, where she's a hurdler," coach Paul Holmberg said. "She has developed into an outstanding cross country runner. She works hard every day to make herself a better runner.'

Anne Grimaldi, senior, Farmington: Grimaldi, the ione senior among the top seven Farmington runners, was consistently first or second for the Falcons.

She placed 37th at state (20:10), 15th in the regional (20:13), eighth in the Western Lakes (20:25), 14th in Oakland County (20:30), 10th at the Jackson Invitational (20:02) and second in the city.

IN THE LINE OF FIRE

Westland John Glenn (4-14): The Rockets could meet district favorite Garden City in a second-round matchup. By the second quarter, firstyear coach Andy Denison may be circling the wagons.

HANG 'EM HIGH

Livenia Churchill (1-19): Junior center Jessie Jenkins has enjoyed a fine season, but the Chargers' only win this season came against Livonia Clarenceville. The Chargers face the Canton-Northville winner on Thursday in another WLAA rerun.

COORAN'S BLUFF

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (14-6): The Hawks were competitive in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference this season, but how well they will fare in the Class D Taylor Baptist Park district is anybody's guess.

THE UNFORGIVEN

Livonia Clarenceville (1-18): I will never say a bad thing again about the Clarenceville football field. It certainly sults the needs of a Class C school. But let's face it, the Borgess draw isn't suitable to the Trolans' needs.

Huron Valley cagers set school mark

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran improved to a schoolrecord 14-6 Friday as senior forward Michelle Ruth scored 15 points to lead the host Hawks past Plymouth Christian Academy in a girls basketball game at Marshall Middle School, 46-40.

Senior Nikki Kightlinger added seven points for Huron Valley, which avenged an overtime loss to PCA earlier in the year.

Jenny Sutherland scored 10 points and blocked four shots in a losing cause for the Eagles (9-11). ADYWOOD 56, ST, MARY 42: Erin LeSage scored 16 points and Kathy Dankert added 13 Wednesday, leading Livonia Ladywood (3-14) to a non-league victory at Monroe St. Mary's. LUTHERAN WESTLAND TE, BOSICHAUD 65: Stephanie Davis and Jenny Blaine came off the bench to provide the spark Thursday, pacing Lutheran Westland to a 78-66 non-league win over Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

"Our starters were pretty flat from Tuesday night," Warriors coach Ron Gentz said, alluding to Lutheran Westland's loss to Macomb Lutheran North in the Metro Conference tit e game. "Our subs came in to wake us up. Once we got loosened up, or whatever, we did pretty

State qualifiers lead dream team

BY STEVE KOWALSKI STAFF WRITER

nstead of a reward, the Class A boys golf state meet must have felt like a punishment for the teams and individuals who qualified

Cold, wind and rain greeted the players Oct. 20 and 21 at Forest Akers Golf Course in East Lansing. Redford Catholic Central, Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Salem qualified from Kiehler lem qualified from Observerland and the Shamrocks persevered the best with a fourthplace finish.

But whatever took place at the state meet, the players knew what they accomplished in the previous two months wouldn't be washed away from their coach's minds in one weekend.

CC and Churchill were led by strong senior classes and have three representatives each on the All-Observer first team.

The Shamrocks won the Catholic League championship after going 10-0 through the dual meet season. CC placed second in the Class A regional at the Pontiac Country Club.

Churchill won the Pinckney Invitational and was later crowned the Western Lakes Activities Association and Class A regional champion. Salem handed the Chargers their only dual-meet defeat during the regular season and placed third in the same regional at Oak Pointe Golf Course.

The following is a profile of each golfer on the first team:

Chris Klehler, senior, Livonia Churchill: The four-year letter winner was co-medalist at the Class A regional with teammate Gary Kraus, scoring 74 at Oak Pointe Golf Course. He was medalist at the WLAA meet with a round of 76 at Links of Pinewood.

He had a 37.35 average with a low of 34 and four scores of 35. He tied for ninth at the Brighton Invitational with His only struggle came at the state meet, recording 83 on the first day at Forest Akers Golf Course in East Lansing.

"Chris had a dream season," coach Kirk Osler said. "He was a determined competitor at every event he played in and it showed in his results."

Dave Higham, senior, Livonia

Churchill: Higham finished 13th at the state meet with a two-day total of 156 (75-81). He finished with a 79 at the regional and was tied for second at the WLAA meet with 78.

He recorded 75 to tie for fifth at the Pinckney Invitational. He led the Chargers with 74 at the Brighton Invitational and finished with a 38.14 average for nine holes.

"Dave has a great deal of talent in regards to ball striking ability," Osler said. "He's probably the most talented golfer we've seen at Churchill since Dean Kobane (who starred at the University of Michigan)."

Gary Kraus, Junior, Livoia Church-

Ill: Kraus rebounded from an 88 at the WLAA meet by tying Kiehler for medalist honors at the regional with 74. He also had a 79 at the state meet, which was four strokes off qualifying for a second day.

Kraus started the year strong, taking

Kraus started the year strong, taking medalist honors at the Pinckney Invitational with a score of 73. He also helped the Chargers take fourth place at the Brighton Invitational with a score of 76 at Oak Pointe.

Kraus finished with a 38.84 average.

"Gary showed great potential as a team leader and ability to shoot low numbers," Osler said. "I'm looking forward to his return next year."

Chris Mislak, senior, Redford Catholic Central: The four-year letter winner was medalist at the Catholic League Meet with a round of 74 at Riverview Highlands. His most impressive round came early in the year at the East Lansing Invitational, where he was medalist with 71 at Forest Akers Golf Course.

Misiak, who had a 77.5 average for tournaments, took sixth at the Class A regional with 76 at Pontiac Country Club. He had a 38.6 average for nine holes. He had 83 at the state meet.

"Chris has been a steady, three-year player for me," coach Phil Heyer said. "He's a good all-around athlete and strong iron player."

Brian Karabelski, senior, Redford Catholic Central: Karabelski came on strong near the end of the season, leading the Shamrocks to fourth in the team standings at the Class A state meet with a second-place total of 149 (72-77).

His 72 gave him first place after the first round.

He had a 39.9 nine-hole average and played his strongest at the 18-hole tour-

He finished seventh at the Class A regional with 77, tied for ninth at the Brighton Invitational with 76, and 13th in the Catholic League meet with 79 at Riverview Highlands.

"He was a little down going into the last stretch of the season and he got it all together at the end," Heyer said.

His lowest nine-hole total was 34 and he had two 35s. He shot 71 in the firstround of the East Lansing Fall Classic, and 85 at the Class A meet.

"He had a stretch there for five duals in a row he was one over par or better," Salem coach Rick Wilson said. "I think we'll miss a guy who was that consistent. The thing about Mike is he didn't make many mistakes out there. He didn't allow himself to have a real bad hole to blow him out of the round. He is a good putter, drove the ball and managed the course well."

E EMU INDUCTS CROSBY

Livonian Bob Crosby was among five inductees enshrined into the Eastern Michigan University Athletic Hall of Fame on Saturday during a special luncheon at the Ballroom of McKenny Union.

Crosby, a 1973 alumnus, was a four-year standout swimmer for EMU who earned All-America honors six times in both the NAIA and NCAA-College Division ranks.

He helped EMU to two
NAIA and one NCAA-College Division national title. In 1969-70, he anchored the suctional champion 800-yard freestyle relay team and was a member of the second-place 400 freestyle relay squad.

He was an NCAA-College Division 100 freestyle champion in 1973 and swam on the national champion 400 freestyle relay squad that same year.

As a senior, Crosby swam on the Mid-American Conference champion 800 freestyle relay teams (1972-73).

Crosby was instrumental in helping the Hurons to a 39-8 dual-meet record in his four seasons. He was also co-captain for the 1971-72 team.

He is currently a teacher and varsity swim coach at West Bloomfield High School, as well as pool director and swim coach at Western Golf and Country Club.

COLLEGIATE NOTES

M Alma College offensive lineman Jim Townsend (Livonia Stevenson) earned All-Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association honorable mention honors from the coaches.

Townsend, who started the final seven games, helped the Scots to a 6-3 overall record.

West Point goaltender

Daryl Chamberlain (Stevenson) started off the 1995-96 hockey season by registering 58 saves in 62 shots (.935) as the Cadets heat RPI, 6-4, and tied Union, 0-0 (his third career shutout).

The University of Detroit Mercy men's soccer team finished 13.6-2 after losing 5-2 in overtime recently to Butler in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference finals:

UDM's Dominic Vella (Livonia Churchill), who registered a goal in the loss, was voted Tournament MVP. The junior forward carned all-tourney honors along with junior defender Jeff Thomas (Stevenson).

Junior goalkeeper Kal Kaliszowski (Churchill) and Thomas were each voted second-team All-MCC.

M LADY OCELOTS 2-1

In the Big Eight Classic women's basketball finals (Nov. 5) at Durham (Oshawa, Ontario) College, John Abbott of Montreal, Quebec defeated Schoolcraft College, 103-100, in triple overtime.

Yvonne Malewski (Redford Thurston) led Schoolcraft (2-1 overall) with 26 points, while Christine Edwards and Becky Bilicki (Livonia Ladywood) each contributed 20. Jenny Markham (Redford Union) added 10.

Kelly Schumacher and Kristina Sanford tallied 24 and 23, respectively, for John Abbott.

Dodge Grand Caravan changes for the better

By Anne Fracassa Avanti News Features

OK. OK.

I caught a lot of static from all of you out there when I said the Honda Odyssey was the very best minivan on the market.

Well, at the time I drove it.

It was the only minivan that drove like a car, was as easy or easier - to get into than a car and had the magical fourth door on the driver's side.

I now stand corrected. The Odyssey now ties for first place with the 1996 Dodge Grand Caravan.

It's been more than a decade since Chrysler changed the way America drove when it introduced the minivan. And for 12 years, it had the ugliest, hardest to get into, uncomfortablest (is that a word?) minivans on the market.

Oh, sure, it made minor revisions and changes here

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

than the Voyager and Caravan.

Let's throw all that out the window.

The new Dodge and Chrysler minivans have changed — and how they have changed. They haven't leapfrogged the competition, but they sure jumped ahead of the domestic offerings, that's

I mean, they're even kinda there's a lot more glass (even though there's been a 30 percent increase), but there's better visibility all around than. before. I don't see any blind

The front fascia looks friendly. The Grand Caravan is also higher and rounder than before, which translates into better front and rear head-

There are a lot of Caravans interior. to choose from, including a short-wheelbase, long-wheelbase, entry level, mid-level and sporty versions. There are four choices in engines as well: 2.4liter 16-valve 4-cylinder, 3.0liter V-6, 3.3-liter V-6 and 3.8liter V-6.

The 2.4-liter engine is mated to either a 3- or 4-speed automatic transaxle; the 3.0liter has a 3-speed automatic and the 3.3-liter and 3.8-liter engines have 4-speed automat3.3-liter sequential multi-port fuel injected V-6 that put out 158 horsepower. It was adequate for around-town driving. The 3.8-liter gives you 166 horsepower, which may be a little better for any towing you may have to do.

Fuel economy isn't too shabby: 18 in the city, 23 on thehighway.

What I liked best was the Instrumentation is laid out well - logically, in fact. Everything is within easy reach, including the heating and cooling and the stereo.

There are pockets galore in this thing, from map pockets to coin holders to juice box hold-

Unfortunately, most "instrumentation" is done with warning lamps. Analog instrumentation is used only for the speedometer, odometer, trip the SE and LE trim levels. (I still would like to see more automakers use oil pressure gauges once in a while.)

Handling during city and highway driving was much better with the new Grand Caravan. It's quieter, too, and now has a car-like ride. It no longer feels like a truck.

The list of standard features on the Grand Caravan LE is long: Air, dual air bag (standard on all Caravans), front and rear door side beams, 4wheel anti-lock brakes, eight cupholders, a rear defroster, power door locks, side window demister, tinted glass, intermittent wipers, windshield wiper de-icer and rear speeddelayed wiper.

By the way, all you smokers out there have to specifically ask for a "smoker's convenience package" that includes the lighter and ash receiver inserts. More and more automakers are doing away with those things, and Chrysler's no exception.

Oh, there's one thing Chrysler could do to top the Honda Odyssey. Put automatic sliding doors on the Grand Caravan.

Now THAT would make it perfect.

The Grand Caravan is a pleasant surprise. How bout that - now there are two minivans worth their weight out there.

1996 Dodge Grand Caravan LE Vehicle class: Specialpurpose minivan. Power: 3.3-liter V-6 engine. Mileage: 18 city / 23 high way. Base price: $19,595. Where built: Fenton, MO.

How Many Fluids?

(CCC)-How many fluids can be checked on a typical car? Four? Six? Ten? If you guessed ten, you're right. They're found in the 1. Engine

2. Transmission

3. Braking System

4. Battery 5. Windshield Washers

6. Power Steering
7. Cooling System (Antifreeze)
8. CV Joints/Rear Axle

9. Gas Tank 10. Air Conditioner

All of the above require periodic checking and "topping off," except the OV joints (which should be checked for leakage) and some batteries. Which ones require changing? The engine oil, antifreeze, transmission fluid and brake fluid.

How many require filter replacement? Generally, three: the engine oil, transmission fluid and fuel. Late model cars are more susceptible to trouble due to contaminated fuel and brake fluid, says the Car Care Council. The tiny orifices in fuel injection and braking systems require that the fluids passing through them be absolutely clean. For the long life and dependability of your vehicle, check fluids regularly, says the Council.
