Many Westland children could have felt deserted by Santa Claus, had it not been for the efforts of people like Jeff Pochron.

Toys were delivered to low-income children during the weekend, courtesy of money raised by volunteers for the Westland Goodfellows organiza-

Capt. Mark Welsh of the Westland Salvation Army Corp said the organization is still behind last year's pace in raising money, but is closing the gap before next Sunday.

The goal for this year is $90,000.

The only mall locations that the Salvation Army can place its volunteer-manned kettles this year are at separate Hudson's and J. C. Penney doors.

Besides Hudson's and Penney, other red kettle locations are: all Farmer Jack and Kroger supermarkets, Kmart, Target, Service Merchandise, Randazzo's Fruit Market, Northside Hardware. F&M Discount, and First of America Bank-Wayne.

Money raised by the Salvation Army's local corps provides yearround emergency food and shelter. Some 1,851 local persons are expected to receive help this year, Welsh said.

The owner of a typical $85,000 house would pay about $255 next summer, rather than having the bill split between summer and winter payments, Brand has said.

School officials are seeking the change to have a smoother cash flow. Earlier-paid taxes would ease a situation that forces the district to borrow money in advance of state aid payments, Brand said.

The plan would save the district about $900,000 a year in interest payments, she said.

School board members commended the plan.

EAP scores show increase in Livonia schools

BY MARIE CHESTNEY STAFF WRITER

Seventh graders in the Livonia school district's middle schools boosted their test scores in the first round of this year's tests given by the Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP).

Fourth graders in 13 elementaries scored higher on both the reading and math test.

Fourth graders in 19 elementary schools scored higher than last year on at least one of the two tests.

Fourth graders in nine elementaries scored lower on at least one of the two tests.

And fourth graders in three elementaries. Hayes in Westland, Marshall and Tyler, saw their scores drop on both tests.

The Livonia district includes the northern section of Westland. When Superintendent Ken Watson last year made improving the district's MEAP scores a top priority, both educators and students felt the heat to do better.

Happy with results

This year, Watson is happy with the higher scores.

"I'm very pleased with the continuous improvement and I'm proud of the staff," he said. "They worked very hard to provide the quality educational experience that would let students do as well as possible. It's been the priority of our entire professional staff."

Parents and guardians of students who took the test will soon get a two-page explanation of the tests and how they are scored.

This year's MEAP tests have been split between fourth and seventh graders who took the math and reading tests in October, and fifth, eighth and 11th graders who will take the new science and writing tests in March.

Four elementaries — Cooperat-Whittier in Westland, Garfield, Roosevelt and Taylor -- saw a drop in this year's reading score.

Two elementaries - Randolph. and Webster - saw a decline in they reach 10th grade. The lowest the math score. However. Webster's was a drop from 1994's MEAP test - 39.5 percent score of a perfect 100 to 1995's came on the math test taken by score of 93.2, which is still the 10th graders. second highest score earned by any school on the math test. Only Taylor did better, with a 93.6.

Reading next target

On the reading test, even though students scored higher this year, nine schools scored below the 50 percentile. They are Adams (39.7), Cooper (25.6), Hayes (49.2), Johnson (42.1), Marshall (47.2), McKinley (45.6), Nankin Mills (45.5), Randolph (48.3), and Washington (44.1).

"We did not expect to see dramatic improvement in reading scores," Watson said. "We'll do propriate materials."

Emerson, 50.4 percent.

To boost math skills, the district last year spent $87,000 to buy new math and pre-algebra books for seventh and eighth graders.

The books focus on those skills stressed on the math MEAP. These include geometry, probability, statistics, problem-solving and math concepts.

The books also are designed to give students the skills they will need on the math MEAP when score on the district's 1994-95

Look for trends

A good way to approach the chart is to look at the progress each school has made over the last four years. Dips happen, and that's mostly because the student population changes each school year, Watson said.

"You can't look at just a onetwo year period, you must look at a longer range," Watson said. "In any given year, we have different levels of ability because we have different kids. Some years may be better than others.'

Take, for example, the three further in-service here, to find ap- schools where both scores dropped this year. On the reading Students fared much better on test, Hayes seventh graders

On the math test, the 68.9 the 50 percentile. The lowest earned by the seventh graders score on this test came from puts them in the same company as Adams (69.0), Cass (71.4), Grant (68.8), Johnson (68.4), and Tyler (68.4).

Even with their drop in score, Hayes seventh graders did better on the math test than seventh graders at Cleveland (58.1), Coolidge (63.3), Cooper (51.3), and Marshall (63.9).

Watson's theory of "different kids in different years" certainly shines through in Marshall's scores. For three years, Marshall seventh graders climbed progressively higher, scoring some of the reading and math scores took a big drop in 1995.

As part of overall reform, DeHart encouraged the new Family Independence Agency to take every appropriate step to prevent innocent children from being punished by the law's tough sanctions against irresponsible welfare recipients.

State House trips up Engler's education agenda

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Two right-wing education bills stalled last week as the state House of Representatives tripped up Gov. John Engler's agenda. The developments:

Chairman William Bryant, R-Grosse Pointe, canceled a meeting of the House Education Committee that was scheduled to report out House Bill 639 on "schools of choice." "I'm pretty sure he didn't have the votes," said committee member Tom Kelly, D-Wayne.

The House barely approved a watered-down version of the Senate's revised School Code on a 57-44 vote early Wednesday after a 14-hour session. Significantly, six of the House's most conservative Republicans - including Alan Cropsey of DeWitt and Deborah Whyman of Canton — joined 36 Democrats in voting no.

Supporting the measure, SB 679, were 47 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

Nine members missed the session - notably Penny Crissman. R-Rochester, Crissman had sponsored a number of moderating amendments in committee until Engler interrupted the Dec. 5 session by calling GOP members into his office for a tongue-lashing. Crissman reportedly took the brunt of Engler's ire.

Here is how area members known as "charter schools" voted: - Republicans Lyn Bankes of Redford, Gerald Law of Plymouth and James Ryan of Redford.

NO - Republican Deborah Whyman of Canton, Democrats Eileen DeHart of Wayne and Tom Kelly of Wayne.

The Senate the next day concurred in the House amendments on a 27-10 vote. All Republicans voted yes except Robert Geake of Northville who had started a trip to Israel. The 10 nay votes were cast by Democrats, including George Z. Hart of Dearborn.

Opponents of PSAs - also view with alarm the number of private and parochial schools that are getting charter status and state aid despite the Michigan Constitution's ban. Opponents also view weak curriculum standards as a favor to private and parochial schools.

Here - subject to change without notice - is what happened on major issues in the House version of SB 679:

1. Charter school authorities -Limited. In a blow to Engler, the House removed charter-issuing authority from the State Board of Education after mid-1997 and from a handful of districts without high schools. That was an outright blow to Noah Webster Academy, the fundamentalist school chartered by a K-8 school district in Ionia County whose headmaster is the brother of Rep. Alan Cropsey.

2. Charter school caps - In. Engler and the Senate wanted to remove the present cap of 75. The House lifted the cap to 85 this year but doesn't remove it entirely until the year 2000. Community colleges may issue charters only within their district boundaries.

An amendment by Rep. James Agee, D-Muskegon, to clap an even tighter lid on university-issued charters fell two votes short, 54-49, despite help from Bankes of Redford. Nevertheless, it was a slap at Central Michigan University, the biggest issuer of charters.

3. "Parents' rights" - Sharply modified. The House removed permission for parents to videotape and audiotape classroom sessions and to be present during exams. The Senate version was seen as an open invitation to harass teachers and provide fodder for evangelicals' television shows.

4. Mandatory core curriculum - Out. After putting a mandatory core curriculum back into the code, the House dealt a blow to moderate Republicans and Democrats by sticking with the Senate standard - a "model" curricu-

5. Moment of silence - In. Afil ter hot debate, the House approved an amendment allowing a moment of silence at the begin, ning of the school day. Sponsor, was freshman Michael Green, a Thumb-area Republican.

"This is nothing more than a, sop to the far right wing of the Republican Party," said Rep. Maxine Berman, D. Southfield. "SB. 679 requires a moment of silence, which in fact will become a prayer in name which minority religions are forced to hear. The bill removes the core curricula - the. only real expectation we've ever

Hospice patients, families to visit LightFest

Wayne County LightFest is a

Angela Hospice is a program that care for adults and children who suffer from incurable illness. The patients who will visit Light-Fest range in age from 3 to 82.

"I'm looking forward to it as a trip outside and also to see the Christmas decorations," said Father Richard Weber, 69, a patient at Angela Hospice.

. Weber, who suffers from a progressive heart problem, was chaplain at the Dominican Monastery in Farmington Hills before coming to the hospice in Livonia in October.

note, Sister Giovanni said. "It's a really nice gesture on Wayne County's part as well as the limousine service," she said.

"We are in the business of creating special memories for people. We are proud to be a part of this special program," said Wayne County Parks Director Hurley Coleman in a press release.

Teeth that are stained, poorlyshaped, or crooked may be covered with porcelain veneers to eliminate those problems. Fabricated in a lab from impressions of the patient's teeth, porcelain veneers are thin shells of porcelain laminate material that are applied directly to tooth surfaces. Not only is the procedure relatively short, but is also a good deal less invasive than those involved with caps and crowns. Instead of grinding the tooth to a stump in order that it may accept a cap or crown, veneers only require some filing of the existing tooth ton allow the veneered tooth to retain its original profile.

Porcelain veneers provide beauty and strength virtually equaling that of your original tooth structure. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, our primary goal is to restore teeth to their normal form, beauty, and proper function. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we provide compassionate dentistry with the latest technology available. Smile! We care about you. The Wayne County Sheriff's Department sought the assistance of forensic experts and is now seeking the assistance of the public.

Forensic experts have come up with a facial reproduction from the skull of an adult male whose remains were found in September on the bank of the Rouge River near the intersection of Hines Drive and Middlebelt in Westland.

The skeletal remains "appear to represent an adult male, probably between 40-60 years of age at death, who was either black or of mixed ancestry and who had a living stature of 5 foot 21/2 inches to 5 feet 61/2 inches," according to a summary of a report by Dr. Norman Sauer, a forensic pathologist from Michigan State Uni-

Sauer analyzed the bone fragments, and Amy Michaud, a crime lab specialist with the Michigan State Police, constructed a clay bust.

The skeleton displays several old, healed injuries. A number of years before death, the lower jaw and skull were fractured; the upper and lower front teeth were lost; four of the middle left ribs were fractured; the right shoulder bones were fractured and fused; and the anterior left hip was fractured. All of which may represent a single incident, like an auto accident, according to Sauer's report.

A small piece of lead was imbedded in the rear of the left hip bone, indicating that the person survived a gunshot, also many years before his death, according to the report.

The person probably died between six months and five years ago, and the remains may have entered the Rouge River at a point upstream Hines Park, according to the report.

A green T-shirt size 42-44 large was found with the remains.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Warm someone's heart this holiday season

crooge learned a lesson about the joy of giving after his hideous night of Christmases past, present, and future.

As a cook and writer I am particularly sensitive to the ceremonial and celebratory aspects of feasts. They are meant for sharing and giving. In recent Christmas seasons, as my harried friends and I bemoaned the perils of shopping, the lack of time, and being on the brink of bankruptcy, I questioned not just the commercialization of all our holidays, but rather the loss of generosity and celebration.

We have friends whose mission it is during the month of December to find, at all costs, the biggest and best holiday gifts for everyone from the postman to the relatives. I suggest food or the thought of donating time and it's like getting the feeling that a Grinch has perched himself on my sullen brow.

Share your time

"What? No party?" is the standard response. Quietly I remember Sister Renella, my seventh grade Dominican Nun/teacher whose favorite line from December 8 through Three Kings Day was "Remember the reason for the season." Beyond the canned goods that our children are encouraged to bring to school, we too can donate food or, better yet, cook at one of the numerous hospices, churches, soup kitchens and centers Parents along with their children might consider making food for giving not only to friends but, more importantly, also to those from whom we expect nothing in return, the needy and lonely. Teens can help with the planning, preparation, and serving of meals. Holidays are times to think about friends and acquaintances who may be on their own and ask them to share in our feasts. There used to be a time when no stranger in a church was allowed to leave without a family to join. Today, we may be leery of strangers, but we can ask friends or clergy for names of people who might benefit from an invitation.

But enough of the bandwagon, you undoubtedly catch my drift. In the Janes Gang home, the preparation of food has established traditions and helped create a glow of satisfaction that lasts much longer than the gimme-toys.

We'll pop corn and string it to festoon the front bushes for our feathered friends holiday treat. By the time my little ones could stand, they participated in making gingerbread families and

The younger they were, the more stripped down to shorts and T-shirts, as kids are easier to wash than clothes. I can remember helping the kids move their shapes to the baking sheet while they helped themselves to raisins, nuts, sprinkles, M&M's and licorice. Sometimes a recognizable gingerbread man or house appeared; often the designs were wild and woolly fantasies. The wonderful spicy smell filled the air while sounds of Bing Crosby crooned "White Christmas" and sweet tastes were enjoyed while licking fingers covered with Royal Icing. Of course, as the kids get older, their dough figures and houses become neater, the rooms less messy, but the feelings remain the same. No time and talent in the gingerbread field of dreams, you say?

Christmas past

I can remember one Christmas growing up in Wyandotte when momma, on a blustery Sunday after church, brought down a bag of empty shoe boxes from the upstairs attic. We were instructed to wrap them in cheap colorful tissue while she baked, and baked, and baked. We licked the bowls, ate raw dough and inhaled powdered sugar. When the afternoon had ended, we jumped into the old Ford Fairlane and delivered the sweet treats to fire stations all around Wyandotte. It was just a mom and her kids saying thanks to people who provide a life-or-death service and who might be alone during the holidays.

Making, giving, welcoming, and sharing are all words that go well with food and with the holidays, harking back to Christmases past, when food was scarce in winter and feasts were celebrations. May your holiday table be as meaningful as those of Christmas past. Happy Holidays to all, and to all, a good night.

Crown your table festive roast

The Observer

rowning a festive Christmas table with a big succulent roast, browned to perfection. Guests will "oooh" and "ahhh' and raise their glasses in a toast to the cook's efforts.

Indeed, Christmas dinner can be a grand occasion, but its preparation should leave plenty of time for celebrating with family and friends. That's why the smart Christmas cook serves a roast.

Roasting is easy, even for beginning cooks. Perhaps the most classic choice is a beef rib roast. But there are other options as well.

"It's beautiful to look at. It's all together and the chops have these little chef hats on them. The meat just falls off the bone," said Shirley Broccardo of Livonia about her beautiful crown roast of lamb.

"I've made it for Christmas dinner and it's excellent. It's excellent because you marinate it the night before. You only have to bake it."

Broccardo, who owns Unique Accessories Boutique

Royal feast: Crown your holiday table with classic beef roast with roasted root vegetables.

othing is more stunning than | in Plymouth, likes her dinner | roast cooked with garlic, parties elegant but simple. onions, tomato juice and especially for the busy holiday season. She carefully orchestrates her menu for taste and eye appeal.

"I serve the lamb with rice pilaf, a Caesar salad and broccoli or string beans. For an appetizer, I serve goat cheese and roasted garlic on hard Italian bread. It's so good," she said.

. Broccardo always orders more meat than she needs. "If I'm having 10 people, I usually order meat for 12." For a larger Christmas dinner party, she'll serve roast turkey along with the lamb. However, she said the lamb always takes the spotlight. "The crown roast is special. It just looks like Christmas,"

Laura Standhardt of Birmingham cannot imagine haying Christmas dinner anywhere else but at her mother's. She knows her mother, Norma Marson of Livonia, will have prepared a baked ham, a stuffed capon and pastichiatta, an Italian-style beef wine. The roast is cooked the night before, then sliced and reheated in its own juices.

"When my mother brings out the pastichiatta on a buffet table, people go nuts. That's the first thing they want," said Standhardt.

Marson said pasticiatta has a long history in her family. In addition to making it for Christmas dinners and her grandchildren's graduation parties, she has made it for family bocci tournaments.

"My uncle would call and say they were having a bocci tournament, and people would say "Is Norma bringing the pasticiatta?" " Besides refilling 14 glasses with his own homemade wine, Marson's husband, Chet, contributes a special talent to the Christmas dinner: roasting the chestnuts. He recalled the Christmas dinners of his boyhood in Sault Ste. Marie, Canada. "Of course, we always topped it off with roasted chestnuts after dinner. The English would go into the brandy room, and we Italians would stay in the kitchen with all the smells and have chestnuts."

about two and a half hours

I still remember the beef roasts my Aunt Virginia used to make on Christmas day when I was a little girl. Her snug brick house on Camden Street in Detroit was our family's "dinner stop" before bringing the day to a close at my paternal grandparent's.

Her roasting pan must have been magic because it turned an ordinary pot roast into a fork-tender culinary masterpiece. To this day she claims she did nothing special.

This Christmas, let us all gather around the table and raise our glasses high in a toast to the cook who produced the roast. Let us bow our heads and give thanks for good food, good family and friends, and all of life's blessings.

Wine is a perfect last-minute gift

Buying a Christmas gift of wine is easy. No crowded malls. You can even let your fingers do the shopping at the last minute without leaving home. Need a hostess gift? Buy a bottle of wine.

Do you have someone on your gift list who likes off-beat, hard-to-find wines? A membership in the California Wine Club may be the perfect gift solution. It's a quality company. Each month, the recipient of a gift will be sent two bottles of wine from a premium, small California winery. Generally, the wine is not available in our market. The brand may be, but the particular hottling is too small for national distribution and is best sold through a medium such as CWC. Current examples of wines in this category and available at discount to club members are two delightful sparklers from Anderson Valley: 1990 Handley Blanc de Blancs and 1990 Handley Brut.

The price for a direct-to consumer gift from CWC is $30 per month and you can send as many months as you choose. A connoisseur's series is also available and the price varies depending on the wines selected. Two-day service, volume discounts and deferred payments are offered. Call the 24hour toll-free line (800) 777-4443 or Fax (800) 700-1599. Charges to Visa, Master Card or American Express are accepted.

Wine enthusiasts like to read. The best new wine book to cross our desk this year is "Oz Clarke's Wine Atlas," (Little, Brown and Co., NY, $60). Whether a person is planning a visit to one of the world's great wine regions or is only armchair traveling, the panoramic maps and photographic inclusions are breathtaking. Essentials of the various wine regions are covered in easy-flowing text.

For those interested in matching California wines with food there's Chef John Ash's "From the Earth to the Table," Flavorful gift: Passion fruit juice and cognac blend Alize makes an unusual gift and a unique aperitif for a special dinner.

(Dutton, 1995, $29.95). Ash is Fetzer Vineyards Culinary Director. This is not a coffee table book, but one that will get much use in the kitchen.

The popularity of specialty fruit drinks combined with the appeal of cognac comes alive in the versatile chilled French aperitif Alize (Al-ce-zay'), about, $17. Alize is also a unique after-dinner sipper or it can double as a brunch cocktail. The cognac-based drink blended with passion fruit juices makes an unusual gift that pairs handsomely with Latin-American cuisine. We asked local wine merchants to take the hassle out of decisions with their last minute suggestions. Armando De Capite, owner of the Bottle & Basket wine shops in Birmingham recommended the 1994 Louis Latour Pouilly-Fuisse $19. "It's our favorite White Burgundy," he said. He described the 1991 Clos du Bois Maristone $20 as "classic Bordeaux taste at a reasonable California price."

From the Merchant of Vino Cellar Collection, Marc Jonna chose the 1993 Robert Talbott Chardonnay from Monterey, California $35 because "it's one of California's most significant sought-after chardonnays." SHOPPING CENTERED

LINDA BACHRACK

Boas and beads for holiday style hose budget allows for a brand new headto-toe ensemble this time of year? Sure, there's the office party and the neighbor's open house and the New Year's Eve gala... But the shopping list is filled with names other than your own and there really isn't time to try on cocktail dresses anyway.

The easy and affordable solution to this dilemma is accessorize, accessorize, accessorize. Make them notice your jewelry, your hat or your feather boa — all fashion statements in their own right.

Accessorizing hit home last week when my daughter informed me that her black velvet dress is "just too plain" to wear to the dance on Saturday. Although the dress (from It's the Ritz in Birmingham) is stunning in its simplicity, I agreed to look for a few complimentary accourrements.

Fun with flare

I must admit that the black velvet shawl lined in silver satin ($38 at Hudson's) and the delicate crystal and pearl teardrop necklace ($16 at The Icing in the Somerset Collection, Troy, Twelve Oaks, Novi; Lakeside, Sterling Heights and Fairlane, Dearborn) make her dress that much more special. Her final quest is a pair of long, black velvet gloves.

Feather boas are a dramatic option for holiday nights, and I saw them in pink, red, white and black at Faith Couture in Royal Oak ($28). This trendy shop also displayed jeweled collars, satin gloves and glitter makeup. Monica Pepper, manager of Gantos in Fairlane Town Center, Dearborn, takes her outfit from worka-day to wow with some artful accessories, including strappy gold slingbacks ($72 from Gantos) and a beaded evening bag ($70), multi-strand gold necklace ($24), gold fringe earrings ($14) and gold 'explosion" bracelet ($20) all from The Icing. Even a double-breasted business suit can take on an elegant holiday look. Replace your no-nonsense turtleneck sweater with a holly berry scarf ($24 from Casual Corner) and add a frosted Christmas tree pin ($8.50 from Corey's Jewel Box). Now kick off those pumps and go for the silver evening sandals. Voila!

Let's talk one of a kind jewelry to accent your special occasion outfit. Jacobson's suggests the Lagos Caviar Collection in sterling silver with 18k gold, pearls and onyx ($175-$1,000) or David Yurman's rhodolite cable 'X' pin ($495). For the young or youngat-heart, choose Stacey Moore's hip circle pendants from The Print Gallery in Southfield. Each sterling silver pendant features a symbol representing a quality or value such as Courage, Power and Stability ($25). They're hot in celebrity circles.

Also, don't miss the silver hand-motif jewelry of Eric Marlow at the Clique Gallery, Royal Oak or the ornate Southwest Native American-inspired jewelry at Mesa Arts in Franklin.

For the finishing touch — a hat and gloves. Consider Patricia Underwood's beaver felt, leopard hat from Neiman Marcus and a pair of "movie star" gloves by Daniel Storto in cashmere, suede or satin stretch from Tender in Birmingham ($35-$125).

Linda Bachrack is a Birmingham resident. She welcomes merchandise ideas to share with readers. Call her at (313) 953-2047, mailbox 1889; or fax information to (810) 644-1314.

Smaller retailers learn to fight back

■ Independent retailers are discovering "safety in numbers" as they seek out trade and professional associations as resources in the battle against the volume giants for shoppers and sales.

By Susan DeMaggio

Alicia and Ken Heimann of Gramercy Park Jewelers in Rochester Hills joined the Independent Jewelers Organization to link up with 900 other jewelers to gain more fire power.

The Melvin Family of Melvin's Hardware Do-It Center in Walled Lake is proud to say they're card carrying members of the Hardware Wholesales Inc.

And Jerry Mills of Mills Pharmacy in Birmingham said his membership in the National Association of Retail Druggists is a lifeline.

Independent retailers across the nation are enlisting in, or establishing espirt de corps to buy merchandise, insurance and credit card processing at a group rate; share the latest management techniques; swap sales and marketing ideas; and learn the up-to-date advances in human resources, finance, inventory control, and store design and display.

Belly Basics: Maternity wardrobe in a box

By Linda Ann Chomin Staff Writer

Big but beautiful. That's how the founders of the Pregnancy Survival Kit think women should look during pregnancy.

And mothers-to-be agree. Sales from Belly Basics - the maternity wardrobe in a box, grossed $2 million the first year.

Growing up in West Bloomfield, Jody Kozlow Gardner knew she wanted to own a business one day. But never did the Groves High School graduate imagine by age 31, her dream would come true.

With partner Cherie Serota, also 31, Kozlow Gardner experienced a retail void and then rushed to fill it. The partners make hip fashions to wear during pregnancy and customers are beating a path to their door.

It all began over morning coffee ber 1994, and carries a woman while Kozlow Gardner and Serota worked in the marketing department of Henri Bendel in New York City. They came up with the idea for a Pregnancy Survival Kit while listening to women complain about how hard it was to find clothes to wear during the months they were preg-

Then their own pregnancies confirmed the plight.

"We thought, why not make pregnancy easier for women by providing an entire wardrobe in a box?" Kozlow Gardner said. "The Pregnancy Survival Kit is a fashion idea whose time has come. Four pieces of clothing in basic black (tunic, skirt, leggings and dress) mix and match with pieces already in a woman's closet."

The $150 kit, debuted in Septem-through the nine months of pregnancy, and the first awkward weight shifting months beyond.

"We sort of road tested the pieces on me when I was pregnant with my daughter," said Kozlow Gardner.

She credited her studies in creative writing, film and business at the University of Michigan with helping her market the idea to retailers. Her experience as senior merchandising editor and copywriter for Seventeen Magazine, plus positions as creative production manager for a worldwide retail consulting firm and marketing manager at Bendel's, ensured suc-

Three thousand units a month are born in their New York City: manufacturing plant.

"We sort of bounced ideas off people in the industry. Michael Gould, Bloomingdale's chairman liked the idea so much he prepaid half the orders so we'd be able to produce them. The last time he did that was for Ralph Lauren," boasted Kozlow Gardner.

The women each invested $25,000 to start the business. However, their strategy for growth is a step at a time. Last spring, they introduced the kit in short sleeves, plus an additional Two Tops in a Box. For the fall, Belly Basics is offering a soft and sensual velvet dress perfect for celebrating the holidays. The dress comes in black, hunter and wine with black hosiery.

Letting your personal style shine through is what the kit is all about. Team Belly Basics four pieces with blazers, denim shirts, anything in your wardrobe then accessorize with a scarf or pin.

"Or mix the pieces with your husband's clothes, or an oversized shirt," Kozlow Gardner said. "Each cotton lycra piece has room to grow. Unlike other maternity clothes, the waistband is 4-inches wide for comfort while the baby grows. The kit sells in prepregnancy sizes. If you wear a 6, you'd buy a small. It'll carry you through the entire pregnancy."

The Pregnancy Survival Kit is available at Kiddlywinks on Maple in Birmingham, OZ in MeadowBrook Village Mall in Rochester Hills, and Roz & Sherm in the Bloomfield Plaza.

Retail Realities: Chocolatier

Fine chocolate buyers want the skinny on Joseph Schmidt, so here it is!

Yes, there is a real person behind the product name. He is of Austrian descent and known for his artistry with chocolate. Joseph Schmidt Confections was established in San Francisco in 1983. He originated the eggshaped truffle which has been widely copied.

Schmidt prefers to use Belgian chocolate in his products because of the method used to process cocoa beans - no alkali is used, so there is no burning sensation in the throat when the chocolate is swallowed.

The more quickly the chocolate melts on the tongue, the higher the cocoa butter content in the chocolate. Europeans prefer to make hollow rather than solid chocolate novelties because they are considered more delicate to eat. Solids are considered 'crude."

of the 25-year-old Independent Jewelers Organization based in Westport, CT. which is experiencing record membership, "Independents offer first-name service, support local organizations, carry merchandise especially targeted to their customers (rather than the mass market) and create most of the area's jobs." Yet, Roberts pointed out, fierce competition from volume retailers is wiping out many mom and pop shops, larger single stores, and local chains as well.

"The independent retailers in all industries, whether jewelry, hardware, or books, face similar pressures. National and regional chains, department stores, category killer retailers, discount houses, catalogs, on-line and television shopping are taking market share in huge gulps. In the 1950s, hometown jewelers sold 90 percent of all jewelry. Now they sell only 30 to 35-percent. Other industries are doing worse."

But it doesn't have to be this way, according to Roberts, and ironically, retailers are beginning to see a return to Main Street from page 4B m'in addition to nostalgla, there are real benefits when hometown merchants and consumers rediscover each other.' Bill Roberts

"In addition to nostalgia, there are real benefits when hometown merchants and consumers rediscover each other," he said.

Jean Redmond, a downtown Plymouth shopper, couldn't agree more.

"I'm not a mall person," she said, making some gift selections at the Sideways shop. "Oh, I know you can't always get everything you need downtown anymore, but you can get service and someone to answer your questions - that's almost impossible in those big warehouse stores."

Jo Melvin said customers shop in their store because of the staff's product knowledge and their dedicated customer service. She said the family-run business can operate along with the home superstores because they, too, can offer low prices, thanks to increased buying power through association with other hardware dealers.

"Our organization, based in Ft. Wayne, Ind., is owner-owned,"

she said. "We're seeing our membership and number of ... warehouses grow by leaps and bounds. We enjoy industry-related information programs, electronic ordering systems, and increased buying power."

Pharmacist Jerry Mills said the annual seminars and legislative voice that professional associations provide their members is also very important to doing business in today's complicated soci-

"When General Motors changed their insurance company a couple of years back, I called my pharmacists' association in Virginia and they wrote a supportive letter to my legislator. When you have to go up against an issue, it's assuring to have someone on your side."

Trade association fees are low _ $100.$300 a year in most cases. But members agree the returns enough information and buying clout to challenge the big guys is worth it.

Romantic comedy: Emma Thompson stars as Elinor Dashwood and Hugh Grant as Edward Ferrars, Elinor's elusive suitor, in Columbia Pictures' romantic and satiric comedy "Sense and Sensibility,"

This amazingly entertaining movie is the second Austen film in as many months. It joins the equally fine "Persuasion" in an exclusive run at the Main Art Theatre.

It opens with the death of a family patriarch, obliged by law to leave all his money to his eldest son. Provide for the women, he whispers on his death bed, referring to the stepmother and three stepsisters who have been given a relatively scant monthly allow-

Even before the opening credits have finished, the son and his nagging wife have justified keeping the money entirely for them-

COMING ATTRACTIONS

OPENING WEDNESDAY, Dec. 20

"NIXON"

OPENING FRIDAY, DEC. 22

Based on the novel by Alan Paton. The story of the reconciliation of two men, who have each lost a son to the violence of South Africa - one black, the other white. Stars James Earl Jones, Richard Harris.

"Dracula: Dead and Loving It" Leslie Nielson stars as the Count, he's dead and he's loving it, but he's also in for some ego-puncturing problems and surprises that were never encountered by Bela Lugosi or Gary Oldman. 'GRUMPIER OLD MEN'

These two loveable old cumudgeons are back with more verbal abuse and practical jokes for each other, Stars Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Ann Margret, Sophla Loren, Kévin Pollack and Daryl Hannah.

"WAITING TO EXHALE"

Four women, all friends, are walting. Waiting for their careers to take off, for the weight to be lost, ... for the divorce to come through, for the kids to grow up. But most of all, waiting for the men who will finally sweep them off their feet and take their breath away. Stars Whitney Houston, Angela Bassett.

'BALTO'

"HTARG NEGGUS"

Action adventure sat around the Stanley Cup Finals in which an elite group of terrorists try to make: it a game no one will forget.

themselves accepting the generosity of a country cousin, who offers them a cottage on his estate. Now every available man is sized up as a potential suitor for the two marrying-age daughters, Marianne

(Kate Winsett) and Elinor

(Thompson). The first finds a beau in the handsome, seemingly perfect Willoughby (Greg Wise). The elder Miss Dashwood has her sights set on the unassuming Ferrars (Hugh Grant), a gentleman who wants a far simpler life than that envisioned by his demanding family.

Elinor is the first in a long line of intelligent, sensible Austen women ("Sense and Sensibility" was her first published work) who learn plenty about human nature through the course of the story. Those who appear the most noble often turn scummy while the quiet or seemingly arrogant get a chance to show their truly heroic

Figuring out where it will all end up makes for one of the best experiences at the movies this year. Thank Thompson and director Ang Lee ("The Wedding Banquet"), who, without the crutch of voice-over narration, have taken Austen's interior monologues and conveyed them

We can share the pain of the women's loyal family friend (Alan Rickman) who watches Marianne's affections shift from himself to the dashing young Willoughby. As Elinor's beloved Edward, Hugh Grant speaks volumes behind his trademark stammer and high starched col-

For her part, Thompson concentrates on subtlety and again we learn more about Elinor from what she doesn't say than from what she does. Austen revels in uncomfortable situations and twists of fate where Elinor is constantly reminded that the love of her life will never be hers.

With talk of the Oscars already brewing, "Sense and Sensibility" should soon leave the confines of the Royal Oak art house. Like "A Room With a View" a decade ago, it's one of those rare literary films that translates so effortlessly and intelligently to the local multi-

'Bride II' has charm but is too predictable

BY PATRICIA BIBBY

There's something mildly ironic about the ad campaign for "Father of the Bride Part II" that says to "expect the unexpected." Because if you've seen just the film's trailer, there's not much that will come as a surprise.

That doesn't mean this sequel to the original "Father of the Bride" is without charm. Despite its grinding predictability, there are some genuinely endearing moments, thanks primarily to the comic brilliance of Steve Martin.

In fact, if it weren't for Martin and his deft touch as a physical comedian, there would be little to recommend here. But with his trademark mobile face and nimble form, he imbues this film with a bit of magic.

Based on the 1951 film "Father's Little Dividend," starring Spencer Tracy in Martin's role, the plot's been updated with a twist aimed squarely at aging baby boomers.

Martin plays George Banks, a contented father who has his house paid off and his daughter married. He's got a beautiful wife, Nina (Diane Keaton), a woman he seems to love more every day. His son Matty (Kieran Culkin) is stably entering adolescence, no small feat.

So now George is relishing the onset of his golden years, gleefully anticipating his hard-earned freedom and all that it entails: selling the house, buying a condo, traveling and buying a Harley.

Of course, that is not meant to

First, daughter Annie (Kimberly Williams) announces that she's pregnant. George narrows his eyes at son-in-law, Bryan (George Newbern), muttering, "first that runt steals my daughter, then he makes a grandpa out of me.'

But that's just the beginning of George's ordeal. Before you can say, "kitchen scene seduction while the kids are out," wife Nina has her own big news to break

In fact, if it weren't for Martin and his deft touch as a physical comedian, there would be little to recommend here. But with his trademark mobile face and nimble form, he imbues this film with a bit of magic.

Pushing 50, Nina's pregnant with their third child, making for some of the best comic exchanges. Imagine the ridiculous possibilities of having a child younger than his niece or nephew.

Because this is Hollywood and that means aiming at offending the fewest people possible there's never a discussion of options for Nina's unplanned pregnancy. If there's a scarlet letter "A" in a screenwriter's lexicon, it stands for abortion. So with the abortion issue safely skirted here, the Banks wrestle predictably with the implications of Nina's pregnancy.

In fact, this movie has such a warm, glowing Capra-esque feel about it that it never occurs to you that this dueling motherdaughter pregnancy could really pass for a campy talk-show topic: "Mother Stole Daughter's Thunder by Getting Pregnant!"

Martin Short reprises his role of Franck Eggelhoffer, the maniacally unintelligible decorator-party planner. B.D. Wong is also along as his ever-squinting sidekick. Howard Weinstein.

Mixed in to the madcap of the two pregnancies are two subplots that add little and potentially distract a lot. One concerns the sale of the family home to a foreign investor who carries around a wad of $1,000 bills.

The other subplot comes about three quarters of the way through and very nearly deflates the light, frothy feel of the film. As Nina and Annie enter the hospital (they go in to labor simultaneously - of course), Nina experiences a mysterious problem that threatens the unborn child.

There's a great deal of forced hand-wringing and suddenly this nicely paced effort with plenty of bounce begins to slow to dreadful duliness. There's never any question as to the outcome of the artificial crisis, it becomes something to simply endure before we can get the perfunctory warm-fuzzy

REVIEW

Most of the original filmmakers from "Father of the Bride" returned to make this sequel. Charles Shyer directed and cowrote the screenplay along with Nancy Meyers, who also served as producer. The Touchstone Pictures release is distributed by Buena Vista Pictures and rated

Double trouble: Steve Martin plays a father- and grandfather-to-be in "Father of the Bride II."

Duffield, Oestrike named

estland John Glenn athletic director Gerald Szukaitis has announced the hiring of two new coaches for the spring sea-

Todd Duffield. 31, will take over as head baseball coach. He replaces Norm Hoenes, who retired last June after 29 seasons.

Duffield, the Rockets' JV coach, has been an assistant in the program the past nine years. He is a graduate of Glenn and is employed outside the district in computer automated design.

"Todd not only played at John Glenn, but the fact that he helped Norm all those years in a very respectable program makes me confident he can continue the tradition," Szukaitis said.

Nancy Oestrike, daughter of former Eastern Michigan University baseball coach Ron Oestrike, is the new Glenn softball coach, replacing Karen Olack who held the job for one year.

Oestrike, 34, a former EMU player, is a firstyear employee in the Wayne-Westland Schools. She teaches math at Glenn and is the junior varsity volleyball coach.

"Nancy brings a lot of experience to the table, not only as a player, but as a coach," Szukaitis said. "She comes highly recommended by Peggy Curtis (Belleville's coach), and of course, her father, Ron, has a very impressive background as a coach."

Chargers zap Spartans, 75-65

Shawn Woloszyn scored a game-high 24 points to lift Livonia Churchill past Livonia Stevenson in a non-league game. It will be another inter-district battle Tuesday when Churchill travels to Livonia Franklin.

BY BRAD EMONS

There's something different in the air when it comes to Livonia Churchill boys basketball. One thing is for certain, the 1995-96 Chargers have enough ammunition to be at least entertaining.

They unleashed a high-powered, high-energy offensive attack Friday in disposing of city rival Stevenson, 75-

Churchill rebounded nicely from a 46.40 loss Tuesday at home to Milford where they blew a 24-7 advan-

Shawn Woloszyn, an acrobatic 6foot-2 junior guard with a variety of spin dribble moves, orchestrated the win against visiting Stevenson with a game-high 24 points.

Allen Polanski added 12 points, while Kevin Renaud came off the bench to score 10, including eight in the second quarter when Churchill outscored the Spartans, 24-13, as they sprinted out to a commanding 43-22 halftime advantage.

Chris Majors and Matt Hughes each contributed eight as the Chargers improved to 2-1 overall.

"This feels good because it's the first time we've won two games before Christmas," said Churchill coach Tom Lang, who definitely has his most talented club in five years. "It's a fun group to work with and they work well together. If we play like we did tonight, we'll be in a lot of ballgames and have a chance to win."

The Chargers exploded in the first quarter, pushing chead 19-9.

They continued their assault in the second period.

A pair of gorgeous bounce-passes by Woloszyn — leading to baskets by Derrick Wynn and Hughes - put Churchill up 41-19 just before intermission.

"Shawn's a very good ballplayer,"

Lang said. "He's only a junior. I have to get on him because he makes a lot of mistakes and he's got a lot of 'hot dog' in him,

"But with his quickness he can create. He can go both inside and off the dribble from the perimeter. And he's hard-nosed when he has to be."

In a fast-paced, high-wire game, Stevenson outgunned Churchill in three-pointers, 8-7, but the Spartans were off the mark most of the evening.

Stevenson cut a 21-point thirdquarter deficit to nine early in the fourth quarter, but couldn't get any closer.

Senior forward Matt Quinter, who led the fourth-quarter run, finished with a team-high 22 points. Senior center Jim Balow added 17 and senior point-guard Jim Grewe added 12 (all on threes), but despite 41 second-half points, Stevenson made only 16 of 53 shots from the floor during the final 16 minutes.

Stevenson's top gun from outside, Erick Giovannini, was limited to six points.

"Matt Hughes, and the kids who subbed in for him, really shut down their best scorer," Lang said. "Maybe their boy (Giovannini) just had an off night, but I was pleased that we always had a hand in his face."

Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre, whose Spartans fell to 0.2 overall, said his team was out of sync.

"I was disappointed with a couple of things," McIntyre said. "We didn't stay within our own offensive game plan. We missed a lot of 'dinkers' and outside shots.

"They shot extremely well, which means we had a lot of holes defensively. We just floundered on defense.

"And we didn't pick things up readily as far as the aggressiveness or the combativeness of the game. There were a lot of bodies flying all over. It was very hard to get any type of rhythm.

Churchill stopped Stevenson's final period surge on baskets by Woloszyn and Majors.

"We have a lot of kids who can shoot the ball," Lang said. "I really can't pull back the reins. We have at least three kids who can shoot the three (pointer), and we haven't had a lot of big scorers at this school."

But things appear different this season for the Chargers. So expect some more fireworks.

Glenn wins 1st; Warriors edged

Westland John Glenn won its first boys basketball first game of the season Friday by jumping off to a 16-7 first-quarter advantage and holding off Livonia Franklin the rest of the way, 62-51.

Junior forward David Jarrett collected 13 of his game-high 21 points in the second half for the Rockets (1-2 overall), while junior center Jon Becher hauled down 16 rebound in addition to scoring 14 points.

Senior forward Albert Jones contributed 10 points for the Rockets, who shot 45 free throws to just 17 for Franklin, winless in three tries, got 15 points from Matt Bauman plus a career-best 11 from junior pointguard Craig Duprey. Bauman also grabbed 13 rebounds, but was one of three Patriots to foul out in the game. "It was the first time we were really.

competitive for a whole game, Franklin coach Larry Jackson said. "We're coming along. It's a little slower than we would have liked, but we're getting there." Tim Miller collected seven rebounds for the Patriots, as did Paul Terek in a reserve role. Mike Klisz snared eight rebounds. WAYNE 89, ROMULUS 71: Rodney Hurst scored 28 points Friday to pace powerful Wayne Memorial to its romp over previously unbeaten Romulus. Lorenzo Guesa scored 19, Richard Johnson 16 and Roland Patterson 12 as visiting Wayne won for the second straight time after a season-starting overtime loss to Plymouth Canton. Romulus had its three-game winning streak stopped. We shot very well," coach Chuck Henry said. "We built a really commanding lead after three quarters (73.45), largely on our hotshooting performance. We hit 10 threes."

Cliff Stewart scored 24 points for Romulus. Brandon Deyampert added 16 and Sean Dick 12. REDFORD CC 87, POWERS 59: Redford

Eric Spillers led Powers (0-2 overall), with 13 points, CC led 21-14 after one quarter and 43-23 at halftime.

INTER-CITY 55, LUTH. WESTLAND 52: On Frie day, Lutheran High Westland took host Allen Park Inter-City Baptist, the state's No. 7-ranked team in Class D, to the wire before falling in a non-leaguer. Lutheran Westland, which couldn't convert a game-tying three-point attempt at the huzzer, falls to 1-2 overall. Inter-City is 4-0 overall.

"It was a good effort at their place," Lutheran Westland coach Scott Wiemer said. 'We played excellent defense in the second half. They had been averaging over 70 points center, led the victorious Chargers with 11 points. Mike Ziesmer, a 6-8 senior, added 10. Top scorer Joel Compton, who had been averaging over 20 points per game, was held to one point. Senior guard Sam Patterson led Lutheran Westland with 12 points, while senior center

Lutheran Westland shot 16 of 44 from the field and 19:33 from the free throw line compared with Inter-City's 23 of 55 from the floor and nine of 18 from the stripe. TAYLOR BAPTIST 71, CLARENCEVILLE 61: It was more of a free-throw shooting contest than a hasketball game Friday as both teams split 73 foul shots. Livonia Clarenceville shot 36 of them but only made 19 in going down to defeat for the third time in four outings. Baptist Park is 1-Jason Mérritt scored 22 points, hauled down 18 rebounds and blocked three shots for Clarenceville, Scott Barnhard had 14 points and six rebounds and Joe Hernandez added 11 points and three assists. Baptist Park held a 36-33 halftime lead but Clarenceville pulled out to a 41-40 lead

"We couldn't make a shot in the fourth quarter," coach Rick Larson said. "We made unly five of 14 free throws in the last quarter. "We came out flat. I told our kids, we'd been working so hard in practice that if Baptist Park had watched us they would have been nervous. But we came out flat." Ryan Bettinger scored 21 points and Mark

Watkins added 20 for the winners. HURON VALLEY 48, D.H. FAIRLANE 45: Often times in basketball it isn't how many points you score that are important, it's when you Case in point: center Josh Hoepner of Westland Huron Valley Lutheran. He got just two points Friday night - but they came with four seconds to play to turn a one-point margin into a 48-45 lead. Then, to cement it, he blocked a three-point attempt on defense to solidify his team's first victory of the season.

Scott Ohlsson led Huron Valley Lutheran (1-2) with 20 points while kAdam Fencil scored 13 for Fairlane Christian (0-2).

"We hung in there," coach Tod Bartholo mew said. "We di 'n't play particularly well, but when it got tight at the end we pulled together and did what we had to do to win the ball game. That's a good sign.

Westland was up, 15-11 after one period but trailed, 27-26, at the half. The score was tied at 37 after three periods.

Franklin, Churchill victorious; Stevenson ambushed

Livonia Franklin's Ed Krushcka and Greg Job each collected hat tricks Thursday, leading the Patriots to an impressive 8-3 Suburban High School Hockey League victory over host Birmingham. The win lifts Franklin's overall record to 4-1-1 and 2-1 in the SHSHL. Franklin, which also got goals from Jeff Berger and Chris Mason, scored a pair of first-period power-plays to lead 4-1. The Patriots added three unanawered goals in the second period before coasting home. "We played a great game against a very good team," Franklin coach Terry Jobbitt said. "Our systems looked very good throughout most of the game. Our back-checking and control in our zone is ranked Trojans in a non-leaguer. The Spartans trailed only 3-2 at 4:31 of the final period on McNellance's short-handed goal before the unbeaten Tro-Jana (6-0 overall) acored four unanawered goals, including

Record setters earn recognition on All-Area basketball first team

By BRAD EMONS AND STEVE KOWALSKI STAFF WRITERS

Plymouth Salem certainly went toe-to-toe with some of the state's heavyweights in girls basketball this season.

The Rocks suffered two close setbacks in the season-ending Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs, but regrouped in the state tournament to win the tough Northville district before being ousted in the regional final by Birmingham Marian.

Salem's 17-7 season included one of the state's roughest schedules.

The Rocks' losses were far from embarrassing. To the contrary, they went up against state Class A champion Flint Northern, a respectable 46-40 loss; Class A runner-up Walled Lake Central. state quarterfinalist Ann Arbor Pioneer, and don't forget two other solid league rivals, Plymouth Canton and Northville.

For his efforts, coach Fred Thomann has been selected Observerland Coach of the Year. The former Michigan State captain has guided the Lady Rocks to an impressive 247-77 record in 13 seasons, including three Final Four berths and two final eight spots.

"We played in some great games this year and we made a nice tourney run," Thomann said.
"The other thing that was gratifying was watching the growth of our underclassmen. It was nice to see how they developed and stepped up to the next level of competition."

The future appears bright for the Rocks, who return three starters for 1996.

"We'll be a tall, rangy, athletic and quick team next year," Thomann said.

Introducing the 1995 All-Area Girls Basketball team:

Maxann Reese, senior guard, Redford Bishop Borgess: The Michigan State University signee set career records at Borgess for points (1,583), field goals (655), field goals attempted (1,386), three-point field goals (150), three-point field goals attempted (359) and games played (106).

Michigan's Miss Basketball averaged 14.5 points, 6.3 rebounds, 4.5 assists and 4.2 steals per game as a senior numbers that are remarkably similar to her career averages.

Reese averaged 14.9 points, 5.8 rebounds, 4.3 assists and 4.1 steals throughout a career marked by consisten-

"She loves basketball more than anything and her love for the game has been a great example for her teammates," coach Dave Mann said. "It was always hard to talk with her about setting goals because she was already at the gym.'

Adriane Bryant, senior guard, Redford Bishop Borgess: The University of Toledo signee was the settling force of the Spartans, caring more about setting up her teammates for baskets than herself. She leaves with career records for free throws made (224) and attempted (362) and assists (543).

Bryant averaged 8.1 points per game as a senior, one below her career mark. She averaged 6.1 assists and 4.6 steals per game as a senior. "She has always been in charge, of herself, and our team, starting at the point for four years and serving as co-captain (with LaZandra White) for two," Mann said. "She always took responsibility for losses, even when they weren't her fault. She would step forward and challenge herself and her teammates in team meet-

The Spartans were 94-12 during the four years they were led by Bryant and

"For four years, they made me real smart," Mann said.

Sarah Warnke, senior center, Plymouth Canton: The three-year varsity starter led the Chiefs with 15.4 points and 8.1 rebounds per game. She shot 48 percent from the field (114-238) and 67 percent at the free throw line (95-141). Her free throw shooting improved dramatically as she made only 50 percent of her attempts (62-123) during her junior year.

The Chiefs won 80 percent of their

"She was always going full tilt, the girl we counted on to carry us through with speed, quickness, jumping and scoring ability. She didn't play AAU ball because she plays soccer, but she is an example of when you work hard and dedicate yourself to improving. She is probably the first girl I've coached that has a 'legitimate pull-

Tracy Rynklewicz, senior guard, Livonia Franklin: The senior guard had the best scoring average in Observerland, finishing at 21.8 points per game. She averaged 5.1 rebounds per game and led the Patriots with 4.4 steals per game.

Rynkiewicz, who was a third-team selection a year ago, finished with 457 points this season and 1,318 for her career (second only to Western Kentucky's Dawn Wamer).

She was an All-Western Division pick in the Western Lakes Activities Association. 'Tracy is an excellent basketball play-

Santa can satisfy your holiday gift-giving ideas

HARRISON

Dear Santa. All I want for Christmas is a new bowling ball.

And, Oh yes, a new pair of shoes. By the way, did you see that you can now get western cowboy bowling boots as advertised in the December/ January issue of "Bowling Magazine" or your own personal ball spinner from Applied Technologies so you can custom condition your own equipment at home?

Another new item is a limited edition ABC Centennial lithograph available from the American Bowling Congress. You can now get your personal checks in smart designs for the bowling enthusiast or a Boeing 747 T-Shirt with bowling lanes on it.

Another good gift is the videotape "20 Minutes To Success In Bowling" from Winners Unlimited. These are all advertised in the same magazine and are some fresh ideas for holiday gift giving.

The local pro shops carry "Squeaky Clean" for keeping your bowling balls in top condition, and also have the new Ralph Marlin Bowling Ties, "Just Balls: - Bowling," which is the perfect gift for the male bowler on your list. I sure like those cowboy boots for bowling, Maybe, Dear Santa...

The Plumbing & Heating Firm of Louis Levine and Sons of Southfield held a bowling party for the holidays at Northwest Lanes in Farmington Hills. Northwest is very good at running bowling parties for commercial firms, groups or kids. The highlights of the party according to Dan Levine were the top prize of a full-size bowling pin made of chocolate, and the three different ways they ran the three games, the final one being "Bowling Bingo" in which bingo cards were dealt out to the participants and the score in any frame would be used to fill the squares to reach a bingo.

In this game, after the player reaches past 100, the first digit is dropped, so a 127 would count as 27 on the bingo card. This is probably an idea that could be expanded upon for adding a new jackpot twist to regular league play. According to Levine, it takes a little time to play, so it should not necessarily be done in the last game.

Shamrock tankers win

Redford Catholic Central's boys swimming team defeated East Lansing, 97.5 to 85.5, Tuesday in a non-league dual meet hosted by East Lansing.

The Shamrocks had seven winning times, including two each from Nick Sosnowski and Brian Green.

Sosnowski won the 100 yard butterfly in 58.73 seconds and the 100 backstroke in 57.80. Green took first in the 200 freestyle (1:51.06) and 100 freestyle (51.08). Other individual winners included J.P. Merchant, 500 freestyle (51.08) and Paul Connolly, breaststroke (1:07.36). The 200 medley relay team of Kevin Reinke, Connolly, Sosnowski and Matt Baran also earned first place (1:48.81).

Oakland turns back Lady Crusader cagers, 82-61

Stepping up the ladder is a learning experience.

That's what Madonna University's women's basketball team had to remember after seeing its winning streak interrupted (the Lady Crusaders had won four of their previous five games) at Oakland University Wednesday, losing 82-61 to the perennial NCAA Division II power.

The Lady Pioneers, who improved to 9.1, did a solid job blanketing Madonna's offensive threats. Dawn Pelc, Stacy Lamphere and Katle Cushman combined to make 10-of-42 floor shots (23.8 percent), including 3-of-16 from three-point range (18.7 percent).

Lamphere, a senior forward who transferred from Oakland, had a decent game against her former team, leading Madonna with 15 points (4-of-12 from the field). She had just four rebounds, but collected two assists and blocked five shots.

The Crusaders' (7-6) only other double-figure scorer was Angle Negri, who didn't miss a shot, making 3-of-3 from the field and going 4-for-4 from the line. She also led Madonna with eight rebounds.

Oakland, whose nine-point halftime lead (39-30) was never less than eight in the second half, got 16 points and 13 rebounds from Kristen Francis, 21 points and 11 boards from Heather Bateman, 15 points from Tamika Bates and 12 points from Jamie Pewinski.

The Lady Pioneers, who were 31-of-68 from the floor (45.6 percent), outrebounded Madonna 51-

SCHOOLCRAFT 75, K'ZOO VALLEY 58:

The final score might be a bit deceptive. Schoolcraft College's women's team had no problem disposing of visiting Kalamazoo Valley CC Wednesday, despite missing 22 layups.

But that was one of the only negatives, The Lady Ocelots (7-4) led 38-27 at the half and kept pulling away, thanks to an effective full-court pressure

That, combined with some strong rebounding, triggered the Ocelota' fast break, something that had been in hibernation.

Julie Schmidt's 18 points and eight rebounds topped SC. Christine Edwards had 17 points and Becky Billicki had 16. Sheila Coulter had eight points and eight boards, and Amy Pietila finished with six points and five assists.

Chris Hulben's 12 points paced KVCC. Amy Gray added 10.

K'zoo's Fortier enjoys new challenge submerged somewhat, but there nonetheless.

It's still there,

The fire burns. You can see it in the eyes under that concerned, furrowed brow. The same intensity, the same determination

Michelle Fortier displayed every time she stepped onto the basketball court, first at Plymouth Canton and later at Western Michigan University.

Fortier was good, don't doubt that: But it was the intensity. that need to succeed, that elevated her above the rest.

It's really what made her an NCAA Division I player. Which proved to be something she didn't truly appreciate.

Not that Fortier couldn't compete at that level. She started at point guard for WMU all four of her years there, leaving with the third-best career total in assists, sixth-best in steals. She was the Broncos' MVP as a junior and the team captain her junior and senior years.

College's women's team. Fortier took the job after serving as an assistant to Jim Hess (who recruited her to WMU when he was head coach there) for just one year.

She's a month into her second season as a head coach. And it hasn't been a cakewalk.

Anyone who thought Fortier, who as Hess' assistant helped the Hornets break the .500 plateau for the first time in this decade (they were 13-12), would be a miracle worker and conform the team into an instant success, was wrong.

Four starters from that 13-12 team were gone when Fortier took over. "I started off the year with high expectations," she said of her first season as coach. "It was a learning experience, for both me and them (the players)."

The Hornets were just 2-23 overall last year, 1-11 in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Learning, indeed.

Don't automatically shuffle Fortier into a deck of disenchantment, however. It's not her style, to begin with.

"I have to be (optimistic)," she said. "I learned that last year."

But there was something else, something deeper, beyond any damage a won/loss record could inflict. Fortier rediscovered the joy of the game.

It wasn't as if she had really All of which led her to her curlost it. During her years at WMU, rent position: coach of Kalamzoo however, it seemed few of her teammates shared her view of now to play. She began to believe her ... we have to capitalize on our reasons for playing were not necessarily the popular ones.

The attitude at Kalamazoo College was more in line with her own. "I can see the differences between (Divisions) I and III," she said. "At this level, the work ethic is there every day.

"They play because they love the game. When I came to Kalamazoo College, it brought the love back to the game for me."

There are no athletic scholarships allowed in NCAA Division III. That hurts recruiting, sure; factor into the equation Kalamazoo's lofty scholastic standards and its position as the most expensive school in the state, and the difficulties grow.

Fortier knows all this. But what she sees on the court reaffirms her belief that the corner can be turned.

Even down the stretch of Friday's 16-point loss to Tiffin (Ohio) University in the first round of the Madonna Classic. her team hustled and dived after loose balls and did its best to crash the boards.

"They play to the end, they work their butts off," she said.

Dreams Can Come True

MONDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1995

This holiday season, WJR is teaming up with Make-A-Wish* Foundation of Michigan and several very generous businesses to grant ten special children their most-desired wish. Their imagination is the limit... whatever means the most to that child, we will do whatever it takes to make that dream come true.

Make-A-Wish° of Michigan has been touching the lives of severely ill, local children for over ten years. In that time, over 1,000 dreams have been fulfilled. Some of those children are still with us today... many are not...but all were able to enjoy their favorite wish, thanks to the dedication and generosity of Make-A-Wish° and it's many volunteers.

You can help us put a little magic into the lives of some very deserving youngsters. While doing your holiday shopping during the upcoming weeks, be sure to visit the businesses listed below. The money you spend will help ten local children receive their wish, making it a memorable holiday season for everyone involved.

The holidays can be especially difficult when a child is suffering. We here at WJR hope and pray that having a wish granted will give these children the extra emotional boost they need to fight their illness and hopefully overcome it. Please help us make these dreams come true.

Fun-to-drive Geo Tracker a good choice for college kids

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures

Finally, someone was using their head over at Warren's General Motors Tech Center.

Ever since its introduction as a "special purpose vehicle" in 1989, the Geo Tracker has only been available as a 2-door model. Its sister-car, the Suzuki Sidekick, was available in both 2- and 4-door models.

Both the Sidekick and Tracker are built by CAMI Automotive Inc. in Ingersoll, Ontario, Canada, through a joint venture between GM and Suzuki Motor Co. Ltd. Suzuki has long enjoyed exclusive sales of the 4-door model and I figured it would never give that up.

That's all changed. For 1996, the Geo Tracker hardtop enjoys two more doors, a lot more headroom and hiproom (3 inches) and more than 12 more cubic feet of cargo room. All that translates into a lot more comfort in the new Geo Tracker.

The 2-door model is still available, but with the 4-door Tracker, it's a larger compact sport utility (does that make sense?) than ever before. Anyone planning to utilize that back seat is much better off with the 4-

And you know what? Even with four doors, the Tracker doesn't lose any of its cute look. Or its sportiness. Or its 4x4 capabilities.

ROAD TEST By 、

Anne Fracassa

And it's even a little bit fun to drive ... if you can get past the clunky, uncomfortable, nearly impossible to shift 5-speed manual transmission. I've known how to shift for about 20 years now - most of the cars I evaluate are 5-speeds - and this transmission seemed to get hung up in third for some reason.

As the week progressed, I learned to slam it into the third gear to get it in, but that's no way to drive a vehicle. And it wasn't just me - a few other evaluators noticed its hard-toshift trans.

Me? Even though you'll experience a loss of real control with an automatic, I'd opt for it - just for aggravation's sake.

One more observation for the wish list. It needs a much better suspension package.

You could argue that because it's got nearly 8 inches ground clearance and is, essentially, marketed toward people who want 4x4 capabilities, it's really a rougher-than-normal ride.

But those were the only disappointments in the Tracker.

Because it's high off the ground, you've got great visibility. Oh - visibility is better in the '96 because there's a lot more glass. It's almost like a greenhouse. It's got a wider stance, too, for better stability.

And when was the last time you got into any vehicle that you could realistically wear a cowboy hat in? The Tracker actually has that much headroom. Honest - I put on my own cowboy hat and it fit with not so

Evaluated was the Lsi Hardtop model, which has a 97.6-inch wheelbase, nearly a foot longer than the 2door model. And the Tracker has a vty rear-door locks, center console much wider stance that translates into a more solid, stable vehicle.

change in the new Tracker, it does have a revised fascia, grille and hood design. Instrumentation design has also been changed to accommodate heat, then you should waste standard dual airbags.

Also new is the addition of an optional convenience package that includes power windows, door locks and mirrors. Also available as options are electronic speed control and stereo speakers mounted on top of the instrument panel.

The standard 1.6-liter 16-valve SOHC 4-cylinder aluminum-block engine provides 95 horsepower. It's adequate for a small vehicle, but don't expect to win any drag races it yourself with the aid of an down Woodward.

1,500 pounds when equipped with the optional tow package and can be mated to three configurations: A 5speed manual, 3-speed automatic or a brand new 4-speed automatic transmission.

Other standard features include daytime running lamps, child securiwith dual cupholders and storage space for CDs and other personal stuff, reclining front bucket seats, rear folding bench seat and cloth

Consider the Tracker perfect for a college kid or as a second "fun" vehicle for the family.
