Norwayne to get full-time officer

One of Westland's busiest crime areas will soon be assigned an exclusive police officer as the city unveils a "community policing program." Residents and educators are welcoming the plan.

BY DARRELL CLEM

Westland's Norwayne neighborhood, where some residents are fearful of gang violence, drug trafficking and other problems, will be assigned its own police officer.

Mayor Robert Thomas has confirmed that his administration will launch the "community police program" on Thursday, Feb. 1, one day after he officially unveils it during a press conference at the Norwaynebased Dorsey Center.

One full-time police officer will be assigned exclusively to the Norwayne area, bounded by Palmer Road to the north, Merriman to the east, Glen-

"I think it's a great idea," Norwayne resident Dixie McNa said. "I think it's one of the best things that he (Thomas) has come out with for the youth. I hope it works."

McNa, who lives on Bendon Court. is among several Norwayne residents who have pleaded with city leaders to address crime problems in their neighborhood. McNa said she will volunteer to help the police officer in any way she can.

Car thief 'stuck' by stick

BY DARRELL CLEM

A man who tried to steal an unoccupied car idling at a gas pump encountered one problem. He couldn't operate a manual transmission.

But that didn't stop him from a miserable attempt to drive off with a 1983 Ford Mustang from a Mobil gas station at Merriman and Cherry Hill, Westland police Sgt. Scott Hall.

A police account of the Jan. 9 inci-

He got inside the car and was starting to drive off when the owner, 30, ran out and grabbed onto the driverside door.

Westland District Judge C. Charles Bokos granted a request from a defense attorney to postpone Thomas hearing for one week, giving the attorney more time to study the case.

Parents, children say goodbye to Dorothy Murphy

BY LEONARD POGER

Dorothy Murphy received hundreds of hugs Wednesday afternoon, symbolic of the love and attention she devoted to thousands of parents and at-risk children for nearly 13 years.

The longtime Westland resident and community activist was the subject of the hugs and accompanying praise at a retirement reception held by Youth Living Centers, the private, non profit organization which provides a variety of programs and services for at-risk children and their parents.

Murphy, 57, was the agency's division director. In the past 13 years, she served in a variety of positions, working as head of recruitment and special projects for the past several years.

Before joining YLC, Murphy served in several positions with the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA, starting in 1971 as a secretary and later as office manager/ program coordinator, program director, and executive director, leaving in early 1979.

At the YLC's reception for Murphy, hundreds of people jammed the organization's headquarters in the Middlebelt-Cherry Hill area of Inkster, near the Garden City and Westland boundanes

The organization bought the building, a vacant elementary school, from the Wayne-Westland school district nearly 10 years ago and received a grant and private donations to renovate the structure at 30000 Hively.

At the reception, Murphy was praised by Gene Hudson, YLC's deputy director, as someone who will be missed not only for the big things she did but "also for the mainly daily things she did to provide excellence," such as hugging a foster parent in pain.

Ouida Cash, the agency's executive director, praised Murphy for serving in nearly every organizational post, "promoting quality in all programs.

"She was the glue that held everything together," Cash said.

In between congratulatory hugs, Murphy took a few minutes to chat about her career with YLC and her immediate plans for herwelf and her husband, James.

Soon, following recovery from her surgery last week, the Murphys will "wind our way down to North Carolina," where a daughter, Michele, teaches sixth grade.

Later, they plan to travel to Florida and Alaska before returning home to "garden, read, garden and volunteer - I want to PLAY!"

She admitted that the element of the job she will miss the least is the long hours - "the job is never done.

"The people" will be what she will miss the most, Murphy said.

She joined YLC in April 1983 as director of the supervised independent living program, later being promoted to director of administrative services, division director of that area and then eventually director of recruitment and special projects.

Outside the office, Murphy served as a co-chair of the Wayne. Westland school district's successful 1979 millage campaign, served on the city of Westland's planning commission and was honored as a Westland Jaycees' outstanding citizen in 1977.

Computers enhance classes at middle schools

By Marie Chestney Stapp Writer

(Second in a series)

Without computer groundwork being laid in elementary schools, Livonia Public Schools' middle school students would have a hard time using Dabbler.

Dabbler, a computer software program that teaches art, is one of numerous packages inching their way into Livonia Public Schools' four middle schools now that each school's three computer labs are up and running.

The software adds dimensions to, but does not supplant, such traditional classes as math, art and social studies.

Seventh-grade students in Judy Boyll's art class at Riley Middle School recently ended a 10-week computer lab class in which they used Dabbler. At the end of the 10 weeks, the students wound up with a vibrant colored picture.

In his picture, Brian Mecham looked out of a helicopter to capture a sandy desert next to a stream.

In fact, Steve Goward and Greg Firman, working together, said it only took them about an hour when the class began to figure out how to use Dabbler. On this day, both seventh-graders were busy creating another picture, a ragged volcano flowing into a forest.

Boyll came across Dabbler accidentally. It came with a high recommendation from one of her students, who is now in high school.

"I didn't want something so complicated it would overwhelm the students," Boyll said. "This is easy for the students to get into. It also gives students the ability to change something and start over. They have freedom; they're not tied into one picture."

Riley has only 15 sets of the Dabbler software, so students now work two to a computer. The Riley PTA plans to buy another 15 sets so a class can work independently, Boyll said.

With the mouse, students pick colors, choose what they will draw with, and can erase to start anew. Drawing implement choices include: Crayons, chalk, spray can, pencil, water color, pen point, marker, oil, or Obenour and Jamie Shooks moved their mouse to draw two trees. "You don't have to be a good artist to do this," Brandon said. "It makes us like art more."

Legal complication blocks Barns from DDA board

By Darrell Clem

Westland Mayor Robert Thomas has withdrawn his nomination of Councilwoman Justine Barns for the city's first Downtown Development Authority board of directors, citing a legal complication. Thomas made his decision public on Thursday and said he regrets that Barns, a veteran legislator with a wealth of knowledge, won't be serving on the board.

The nine-member board will be involved in efforts to revitalize and redovelop commercial frontage along Ford Road and Wayne Road.

Thomas reached his decision nfter Keith Madden, assistant city attornoy, reviewed a state attorney general's opinion that the appointment, the mayor retiring from a 12-year stint in Westland, on the DDA board. Not only does the council have a supervisory role over the DDA board, but the council votes to confirm appointment of the DDA board members.

Barns won't have to be pulled from the DDA board; the council isn't expected to vote to confirm the nominees until February.

Thomas said Barns "was extremely gracious and nice about

CWW will spearhead drive to protect shared revenue

By Brth Sundria Jachman Staff Writer

Members of the Conference of Western Wayne have decided to get the ball rolling for a constitutional amendment to protect their state shared revenue.

The CWW, which represents 18 western Wayne County communities, plans to draft language for a petition. This action comes after a joint resolution approved in July with the members of the Downriver Community Conference calling on the Michigan Municipal League to spearhead the effort failed to produce any results, frustrating CWW members.

At a Jan. 12 CWW meeting, Marsha Bianconi, assistant director of the CWW, gave an update on two bills, introduced by Rep. Harold Voorhees of Grandville, that would change the distribution of state-shared revenue.

"All of these bills you see are really just jockeying us around, said Westland Mayor Robert Thomas, "If the MML is not going to get off the dime and do it, maybe we need to spearhead it. I know it's a huge task."

The Downriver conference shares that point of view, said Canton Township Supervisor Thomas Yack, chairman of the

The MML's finance and taxation committee has made getting an amendment a number-one priority, according to Sue Hall, a member of the MML committee, who attended the CWW meeting.

There is not enough statewide support among legislators to get an amendment, Hall sald. "They look at their budget first. We're the ones that lose," she said.

Daniel P. Gilmartin, executive director of the Conference of Western Wayne, questioned the MML's inaction, saying the group is supposed to work for the local communities.

In July, officials of the CWW and DCC had a joint meeting sparked by concerns that the formulas for figuring how much money each municipality receives from the state were being changed and revenue was dropping. The changes and shortfalls have made it difficult to plan local budgets, officials say.

Hall asked if members of the CWW are willing to work for an amendment.

'We're willing to do the petition drive," Thomas said, adding the CWW has asked the league for months to spearhead a petition drive. "You would think we'd.

have some language and a game plan for getting those signatures,'

"We have represented here some of the fastest growing townships in the United States," Yack

Hall offered to take some petition language to the league. "I agree with everything you've said," she said.

Wayne Mayor Kenneth Warfield said officials ought to ask for a true budget picture by having an outside audit. He said outside audits had stopped with the passage of Proposal A.

That is not true. There is an audit every year," said Rep. Deborah Whyman, who was sitting in the audience.

Steven Aynes, city manager of Garden City, said he had worked in New York state and faced a two-year time period where his city lost half of its revenue sharing. "My concern is that it seems like we're heading in that same direction," he said.

Kay Beard, vice chair of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, also attended the meeting. She offered to take petition language with her to the meeting of the Michigan Association of Counties on Peb. 12-13.

Council reappoints 3 department heads, city attorney

By DARRELL CLEM STATE WRITER

Three city department heads and the city attorney won sweeping approval Tuesday as the Westland City Council voted unanimously to reappoint them to their positions.

City Clerk Diane Fritz, City Atforney Angelo Plakas, Planning Director Tod Kilroy, and Parks and Recreation Director Charles Skene drew praise from council members and Mayor Robert

Fritz, a 26-year city employee who has been city clerk since June 1978, received accolades for a Westland City Council election recount that upheld her precinct results, vote for vote.

Former Councilman Kenneth Mehl, in an unsuccessful comeback bid, challenged the Nov. 7 results.

On Tuesday, Councilman

Charles "Tray" Griffin commended Fritz's department for having "total integrity."

In a lighter moment, Councilman Richard LeBlanc, who narrowly beat Mehl for a two-year council term, said that he, perhaps more than anyone else, could appreciate Fritz's accurate vote totals.

Plakas has been city attorney for 35 years, succeeding his former law partner C. Charles Bokos, now a Westland 18th District Court judge. The firm has performed work for the city since 1976.

The city's law firm has had "a winning streak for many years," the mayor said Tuesday.

Griffin praised Plakas for rescuing a $1.3 million state grant for Westland's public library, being built on Central City Parkway between Ford Road and Warren. The state approved the grant and then tried to renege on it.

Kilroy, Westland planning director since December, 1993, consistently comes to council meetings prepared to explain even the most minute details about proand other issues.

"I think he's done an exceptional job," Councilman Glenn Anderson said Tuesday.

posed developments, land uses

Skene, parks and recreation director since February 1993, was once at odds with Mayor Thomas, but it appears the two have resolved their differences. Thomas recommended Skene's reappointment.

Councilwoman Scott praised Skene's job and said his commitment to the city's WinterFest has helped to make it a success. The second annual event kicks off Friday night, Feb. 2, and will continue Saturday and Sunday.

3 ordered to stand trial in robbery

By DARRELL CLEM

Three suspects in a Westland 7 Eleven store robbery have been ordered to stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Matthew Eric Buckley, 23, of Belleville, John James Lademan, 29, of Westland, and William Sinclair Merfert, 24, also of Westland, face trial after appearing Thursday before 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos.

The trio is suspected in a Dec.

17 robbers at the 7 Eleven at 172 S. Hix. Buckley is accused of a holdup inside the store while Lademan and Merfert allegedly waited in a getaway car.

No shots were fired.

In court Thursday, Buckley and Merfert voluntarily waived their preliminary hearings, prompting Bokos to bind them over for trial in Recorder's Court.

By contrast, Lademan decided to proceed with his hearing, but was still ordered to stand trial following testimony from a 7-Eleven clerk and Westland police Sgt. Scott Fetner.

All three defendants face trial for armed robbery, felonies punishable by up to life in prison.

In addition, Buckley faces trial for a felony firearms charge, amid allegations that he went into the 7-Eleven and actually carried out the holdup.

Bokos continued a $100,000 cash bond that had been earlier set for each suspect. The three will be arraigned in Recorder's Court Feb. 1.

Buckley, Merfert and Lademan also face trial for a robbery that occurred just before midnight Dec. 17 at Mammoth Video in Livonia, near Six Mile and Inkster.

Buckley is also under a $100,000 bond for the Livonia charge, while Lademan and Merfert are being held on $75,000 bonds for the video store robbery.

McCotter eyes term limits for county

BY BETH SUNDRIA JACHMAN STAFF WHITER

Wayne County Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, said Friday he plans to sponsor a proposal to put term limits for county commissioners and the county executive on the November ballot.

On Thursday, Joseph Turinsky of Wayno County Citizens for Term Limits asked the Wayne County Commission to put the isaue before the voters.

"Give us, the people, a chance to vote on this," he said.

"Our turnout for elections is poor. There has to be a reason for this," he said. Term limits will increase voter interest, he said.

"We feel that people that are elected after a while become tired of the job and become unreaponsive," he said.

"We need you to listen and act," he said. Term limits open doors for all people and "it's fresh air," he said. The office of president of the United States has a term limit, he pointed out.

"I would support term limits for the county executive and county commissioners," McCotter said Friday.

He said he would favor limiting the county executive to two terms and county commissioners to four terms -- equaling eight years of service in each office, as the executive's term is for four years and the commissioners' terms are for two years.

Theoretically, I have problems with them (term limits), but it's the will of the people," McCotter said.

He said it would probably be easier to get the commission to agree to a term limit for the county executive's job than for the commission, but that that wouldn't be fair. "I would like to give it to both because that would be fair," he said.

It would have to be a ballot proposal, and it's too early now, he said. "I think it would have to go on the November ballot," he said. Commission Vice Chair Kay Beard, who opposes term limits, said she's not sure the commission has the power to put the issue on the ballot.

"Term limits are in the hands of the voters every time we go to vote," she said.

"My fear is that we'll wind up with government by bureaucrata

... I don't think that's healthy." Commissioner Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, says that although there are valid points on both sides, she opposes term limits. "I think the voters need to take responsibility," she

O&E obtains DNR info in FOI request

The "mystery candidate" for director of Michigan's Department of Natural Resources is K.L. Cool, 49, currently director of North Dakota's Fish and Game Department.

The Michigan Natural Resources Commission, meeting Jan. 11 in Novi, declined to reveal the name of the fourth candidate whom it planned to interview Jan. 23. This newspaper filed a Freedom of Information Act request insisting the "mystery candidate" be identified because the NRC had voted on him.

Cool has headed North Dakota's department since 1992. From 1989-92 he was director of Montana's Department of Fish, Wildlife and Parks; 1985-89, regional director of Ducks Unlimited in South Dakota and Wyoming, and 1973-85, rising through the ranks of South Dakota's Fish & Parks Department.

Kool earned two degrees in science at South Dakota State University, Brookings.

Other candidates are Tracey Mehan, director of the Great Lakes office in Michigan's Department of Environmental Quality; Rodney Stokes, chief of the MDNR real estate division; and Michael Carrier, deputy director of parks and recreation in Iowa.

Kool requested anonymity under the Open Meetings Act until he became a finalist. That act requires the NRC to conduct interviews in public. They will be conducted in the Stevens T. Mason Building in Lansing.

At the same meeting, the NRC rejected, on a 3-3 tie vote, the application of Kerry Kammer, former Democratic state senator from Oakland County (1975-82), unsuccessful candidate for the gubernatorial nomination ('82), member of the NRC during Gov. James Blanchard's administration and winner of the 1977 "conservation legislature of the year" from the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

GRINDING TO A HALT

While everyone grinds his or her teeth at night occasionally, it is estimated that 20 percent of the population grinds its teeth to the point of causing tooth damage. Bruxism (tooth grinding) is responsible for tooth-clenching pressures of 250 pounds per square inch, which is ten times more.

than the force exerted during normal chewing. To make matters worse, nocturnal tooth-grinding. impacts the teeth at unnatural angles. As a result, front teeth can be worn down significantly, and other teeth can crack, chip, or fracture. Local commissioners split on change in county advertising

A proposed change in an ordinance would allow the Wayne County Commission to do its advertising in papers other than The Detroit News and Detroit Free Press.

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners on Thursday gave approval to an amendment deleting the word "daily" from an ordinance, in effect since 1983, which sets the rules on where the County Commission can place its legal advertisements. The commission has a $4,000 annual advertising budget, according to the commisalon clerk.

The amendment was approved 11-3 with one commissioner absent. Local commissioners split on the vote, with commissioner Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, and Vice Chair Kay Beard, D. Westland, voting in favor and commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, and Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, voting against.

The action came after a resolution approved Dec. 21 by the commission, which came out on the copies of The Detroit News or Deside of the members of the unions striking against the downtown dailles.

That resolution called for pulling advertising from the newspapers and instructed the chief executive officer to take steps to renegotiate contracts with concessionaires to assure that no

Tighten arson law says local prosecutor

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WHITER

Declaring the killer of a firefighter deserved more than five. years in prison, a local prosecutor is asking the Legislature to tighten the legal definition of "arson."

Karen Woodside, the Northville resident who prosecuted the case for Wayne County, persuaded the House Judiciary Committee to move out Senate passed bills defining arson as burning of property - not just a dwelling house.

"There are only several cases each year statewide that would warrant application of the law," Woodside said in remarks prepared for delivery Jan. 17. "But sadly, the notable cases involve firelighters fighting fires."

The panel reported them out unanimously, and they will be before the full House next week.

Woodside retold the story of Juma Reeves, Ronald Williams and Auneray Barber, who allegedly "dragged papers, debris, tires, old mattresses into the unoccupied house, piled them up, and then brought in an accelerant to douse the piles, resulting in an enormous fire."

The fire spread. Two doors away, the roof of another unoccupied house collapsed and killed Detroit firefighter Roland Walters, The Wayne County prosecutor wanted to charge felony murder.

The Michigan Supreme Court, in its first case in 1995, ruled that arson was defined by the common law - "hurning of another's house or dwelling house or sppurtenances" -- and had the charges reduced. The high court said the Legislature, not the court, should define arson,

When it came time for trial, two of the defendants who had been released on bond were gone, said Woodside, adding that they couldn't have posted bond if charged with felony murder. Defendant Reeves got five years; Williams is due to get 10 years on Jan. 20; and Williams is still at large.

"It is incredible that the life of n firefighter was only worth five years, now 10 years, less goodtime credits," she said.

Woodside said the statute should be simplified to "unlawful burning of any kind" as the underlying felony in a murder case.

The prosecutor would still have discretion, she said, citing the case of a man who was not charged when he accidentally set fire to his house and killed several of his children while trying to thaw frozen water pipes. "lie certainly did not have the intent for second degree murder that was required and was not charged," she sald.

"A fire in this building (the State Capitol), a school, church, shopping mail or convention center could endanger numerous lives, Campers, boats, trailers all should be protected," Woodaide said.

Refer to Senate Bills 511 and 865 when writing to your state representative, State Capitol, Lanning 48909.

Most stitching is done by machine, though some is done by hand. The glove is then dampened, tailored on a heated metal model hand, and buffed.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Vintage root veggies are never out of style culinary injustice has taken place. The produce aisles of our supermarkets and specialty food markets have relegated potatoes, carrots, onions and white mushrooms to discreet corners while allowing Belgian endive, purple potatoes and packaged fresh herb blends to take their once-cherished place.

Trendy root vegetables like daikon can be seen along with plain old radishes. Onlons are available in many varieties _ yellow, white, red, green, purple, pearl, pickled and pureed.

I can remember being sent to the market to buy potatoes without questioning whether they were Michigan, Idaho, Yukon gold, or Pillsbury.

Imprisoned by their stodgy images, plain old dependables languish in vegetable bins while everyone talks about chic new ways of preparing the latest imports.

The fact that the "old-fashioned" vegetables are easily grown, available year-round, and readily stored _ in a word, sturdy _ made them standard fare in early American cooking. Unfortunately, this has caused these basic vegetables to be relegated to the domain of home cooking, while the new and exotic gain favor with trendsetting restaurant chefs.

But a curious change is afoot: professional chefs are beginning to rediscover that vintage vegetables can be used in imaginative ways.

Mashed potatoes have resurfaced as the ultimate comfort food and are now served with roasted garlic, peato and even their skins. Whole onions are being roasted, batter-fried and cooked to bring out their natural sweetness, which is perfect for roast chicken, beef, pork or duck.

Carrots, once the bane of children everywhere. are cooked into a fricassee, thin cut and fried like potatoes, or angle cut to adorn platters of hummus. Even potatoes, both standard fare and trendy new, are now being stripped of their tinfoil jackets and baked in rock salt a la Jimmy Schmidt. What has impressed me most about this movement is that you don't have to be a professional chef to get the same great tastes at home. No new special gadget is needed.

Roasted gems

I recently brought my dented 9-by-12-inch cake pan up from the fruit cellar and tossed some scrubbed, but not peeled, carrots, quartered yellow onions, a few cracked ribs of celery: in with a little olive oil that had been infused with some rosemary sprigs left over from my garden. After about 30 minutes of roasting, uncovered, in a 350 degree F. oven, I added a handful of plain white mushrooms, gave the mixture another toss and finished cooking it for another 30 minutes. It was sweet, succulent, tender and everyone in the Janes Gang had seconds, something that doesn't always happen.

Flavor boosters

Last week while visiting friends in Rochester, I had lunch at one of the tonier places in town and enjoyed a cream of celery soup enhanced with a hefty portion of Stilton (bleu) cheese. The celery soup was clavated to new heights with a little crumbled cheese.

I love being on the cutting edge; last year, I entertained the Rochester Newcomers club with an elegant appetizer of caramelized onions, walnuts and blev cheese served atop warmed foccacia. Who would have thought that fried onions could be so elegant?

I was invited to dinner at a friend's home in Birmingham; he constantly raved about his recipe for mentloof. It was good mentloof, but the mashed potatoes were the hit of the party. They were mashed with their jackets and a helty handful of pre-rosated garlic cloves, then topped with peats. My taste buds went ballistic. But again, I remind you that these were nothing more than plain old white potatoes, elevated to new sensations.

By using vintage vegetables in more imaginative ways, you can still benefit from the hardiness that endeared them to earlier generations of cooks. And if nothing more, you can still satisfy the taste of today's diner.

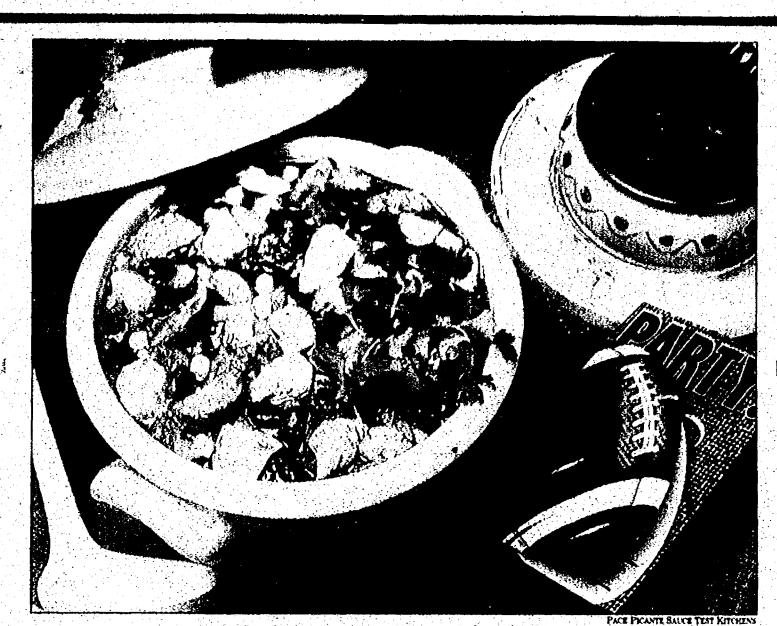

You know the importance of eating vegetables. Your mother told you to eat them.

Super Bowl party

ou'll score big with football Mark Elsholz of Berkley, a fans if you plan a "Grab and Go" menu for Super Bowl Sunday, Jan. 28. TVs in metro Detroit will be tuned to NBC - WDIV Channel 4 for the 3:30 p.m. pregame program. Game coverage of the contest between the Dallas Cowboys and Pittsburgh Steelers begins at 6 p.m. "The game is long, there are children around, and people like to get up and walk around," said Diane M. Meakin of Livonia who is planning a party for about 15 family members and close friends.

Her "Super Bowl Beans" a hearty combination of hamburger, bacon, seasonings, and beans gets rave reviews. "I like it better than plain baked beans," she said. "It's thicker than chili, and you can serve it in cups with fresh bread and rolls, or as a side dish.

Meakin has her "Grab and Go" party strategy all mapped out. "I'll have food in different rooms," she said. "I tried it on New Year's Eve, and it worked out good. People walked around, and socialized more." ·She plans to put pretzels with mustard dip and other munchles in the family room where the TV will be turned to the big game. Her "Super Bowl Beans," dips with vegetables; a fruit tray and other finger foods will be in the dining room where guests can help themselves. Coffee and dessert will be set up in the Meakin, who is married, and has an 8-year-old son, said she's not really a big football fan, but figures that since the guys would get together anyway on Super Bowl Sunday, it's a good opportunity to get everyone together, "Otherwise the ladies and kids would just be home."

chef at Norman's Eton Street Station in Birmingham, served lots of finger foods at his Super Bowl Party last year.

'i set up a kitchen buffet so people could munch when they felt like it, and had a small TV by the food so when they were eating they didn't miss a play in the game.

Elsholz recommends dusting off your Crock-Pot and fondue pot. "Make chili or meatballs." You can let them simmer all day in the pot and guests can help themselves." Serve an assortment of meats, vegetables and fruits for dunking in a fondue pot. Focus on foods that are simple to serve, eat and clean up. Everybody loves chili. Chick n' Sausage SuperChili, a recipe from the Pace Picante Sauce Test Kitchens, combines quickcooking boneless chicken breasts with fully-cooked smoked sausage. Team the chili with corn bread, tortillas or other favorite bread for a winning combination. Chili can be prepared a day or two in advance, and is one of those foods that improves with

Buy a whole boneless pork loin. Place roast in a shallow pan in a 350 degree F. oven. Rosst for an hour and 15 minutes or until the internal temperature (measured with a meat thermometer) reaches 155 degrees F. Remove from the oven and let set 10 minutes (temperature will rise about five degrees upon resting). Once cool, chop, slice or shred the ment for burritos or sandwiches.

You can also cut the roast into cubes to use in a favorite soup, stew or chili recipe.

"Roasting is so easy," said Anne Roberts, a home economist and director of marketing and education for the Michigan Pork ! • See recipes inside.

Producers Association. "It's an effortless way to cook, and since you'll be using the roast in different ways, you can cook it the day before. Because pork marries well with so many flavors. it's a perfect addition to a minestrone, onion soup, lentil soup or chili." Make a sandwich buffet with an assortment of cold cuts. cheeses, condiments, rolls and breads. Let guests assemble their own sandwiches. Boost the flavor of condiments.

"Add freshly snipped dill to mayonnaise, suggests Elsholz. "Mix stone ground mustard with regular mustard, add Cajun spice to Ranch salad dressing."

Handle foods with care. Keep hot foods hot, and cold foods

"Get a kiddie pool and fill it with ice. Put the food in containers and set it on top of the ice to keep cold. You could also put beverages in the pool," said Elsholz. It makes a nice presentation."

Be sure to include dishes made with low-fat ingredients.

*We love snacking today as much as ever," said Roberts, But many parties now include more healthful dishes and foods."

Set out bowls of low-fat baked versions of your favorite chips and crackers. Cut up veggies and serve with salsa and dip. In addition to the standard celery, carrols, green pepper and radishes, try cherry tomatoes, yellow, red and purple bell peppers, and even green beans, which are crispy and crunchy.

Include low-fat or no-fat anncking items - dried fruit, such as apricots and figs, and pretzels make a sweet-and-salty counterpoint.

Party tips

Super Bowl Sunday can send the host or hostess into a fumble. Here are some strategies. to make the party fun for you.

• The Lucky Leader - Have one of your quests serve as 'team captain* for arriving guests to free you for last-minute, pregame kitchen duties

. Heddle at Home - Assign seating sections for opposing learns. As fans arrive, learns can assemble and form their own cheering sections. Let guests who are there for the food and fun pick a team to root for out of a hat. Award gag prizes for the goofiest or loudest cheering section.

• Ne Party Feels - Protect your players' laps by using big cloth napkins. Try 18 inch squares that can be tucked into shirt collars for a "bib" effect. This will offer more security when eating soups or sloppy sandwiches, allowing total concentration on the

• The Perfect Equipment - Wrap the silverware in napkins so guests can grab it all in one play. Create a menu that: requires only a fork or a spoon.

. The First Quarter Spack - Plan on feeding folks almost immediately after they arrive. Make: snacks available during all four quarters, and save the main dish for halftime. Serve bre-sized portions.

• Avoid the Rush - Stimulate traffic flow, keeping time-outs to a minimum by dividing the food into serving stations, in different rooms or at different tables. Put the appetizers in one place, the soups and sandyiches in another.

• Keep it Simple - One great dish like a knockout stew or chill with basic "sides" (like bread and relishes) gives the chel plenty of time to cheer:

. lee it Beire - Fill a large plastic tub (or your bathtub) with ice and cold drinks, saving refrigerator space and allowing easy access for guests.

. Mrs A Home Team - Put the kids to work on the sidelines to help restock cold drinks and replenish snacks

Childhood rivals meet as adults in 'Big Bully'

Rick Moranis and Tom Arnold star as anetime schoolyard rivals who meet again as adults to discover nothing has changed in "Big Bully" opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters.

Davey Leary was the kind of kid who was always getting picked on, chased after, beat up and cut down. Rosco Bigger - known to every cowering schoolyard victim as "Fang" -- was the kind of kid who always picked on, chased after, beat up and cut down kids just like Davey.

Now, David Leary (Moranis) is a novelist, returning to teach a semester of creative writing at his former school. Thinking the change of pace would be good for his own rebellious son. Ben (Blake Bashoff), David returns home with high hopes of being welcomed as the local-boy-madegood.

He's embraced by the small community, reuniting with his old gang and even rekindling his onetime crush on Victoria (Julianne Phillips), now the school's sex education teacher.

But when his son is caught bullying a sensitive kid, Kirby (Cody McMains), David is called into principal Kokeler's (Don Knotts) office to meet with the boys and Kirby's father - a quiet, henpecked, deferential shop teacher (Tom Arnold). After the meeting, as the two dads walk back to their classrooms, David starts to realize with a growing dread that this shop teacher is the dreaded "Fang." And so it begins again. The two grown men abandon all reason and maturity - not to mention a fair amount of dignity - as they regress into an escalating comic battle of greased floors, glued props, see-saw fights and Although marriage to a nagging wife and being father to a growing brood have subdued Fang into a mere shadow of his former formidable self, he quickly rediscovers his vouthful, gleeful thuggishness when his old victim, David Leary, returns to town.

Clarenceville spanks Warriors

Livonia Clarenceville is off to a 2-0 start in the Metro Conference after downing rival Lutheran High Westland, 65-55. Jason Merritt's dunk with 16 seconds left capped the win.

The host Trojans came out spark. ling in the second half en route to a 65.55 victory over the Warriors.

Playing with reckless abandon and loads of enthusiasm, Clarenceville improved to 5.3 overall and 2.0 in the Metro. It was also the Trojans' first victory over Lutheran Westland since the 93-94 season.

"We use that diamond press now and then when we think we're quicker at the guards," said Clarenceville. coach Rick Larson, whose team forced the Warriora into 27 turnovers. "It was in our game plan, but we didn't want to go with it from the

"We wanted to see how we'd do first in a man-to-man defense.'

Lutheran Westland led 27-25 at intermission, but the Trojans came out for the final 16 minutes in a different frame of mind.

They outscored the Warriors 19-12 in the third period to take a 44-39 advantage, and led by as many 11 mldway through the fourth quarter on a basket by Jason Merritt.

But Lutheran Westland would not quit, going on an 11-0 run capped by Kevin Wade's three-pointer to make it 52-all with 3:38 remaining.

Ironically, a diamond press used by the Warriors proved to be the key as the Trojans turned the ball over five times in succession.

Clarenceville then regrouped and outscored the Warriors 13-3 down the stretch, including nine of 12 from the free-throw line.

1st-place Chargers whip Franklin, 6-1

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK

That's no mirage up there in first place in the Suburban High School Hockey League standings. It's Livonia Churchill.

"Our goal at the start of the season was to win the league and be ranked in the state," Churchill coach Jeff. Hatley said Priday night after his Chargers briskly disposed of Livonia Franklin, 6-1.

Churchill is now 7-1 in the SHSHL, a game and one-half up on traditional power Livonia Stevenson, and the outcome knocked Franklin down to a 5.3.1 record. The Chargers are 11-3 overall while the Patriota dropped to 7-3-2.

"We don't feel like we're carrying around any weight by this," Hatley said. "We don't feel any sense of presnure, because of the atandings and because we're ranked in the state.

"It's a position that we expected to be in all along."

Freshman Bd Rossetto's hat trick --- he nearly had a true hat trick in one shift - plus a goal and three assists by Dave Higham paced Church-Ill to its victory.

HOCKEY The Chargers jumped out to a 3.0 lead after one period and scored three more unanswered goals after the Patriots responded with their lone tally, off the stick of Kevin Bernard. "They were definitely the better team in this game," coach Terry dobbitt of Pranklin said. "But I believe my team can play better than it showed. We've had a bad three games

Franklin opened the game tentatively on defense and paid for it 1:56 into the game when Rossetto banged a rebound past starting goalie Brendon Frazier, who was pulled in favor of junior Tom Taylor after Churchill's third goal.

Kyle Dawley ripped a power play goal in from the left faceoff circle at 7:01 and Anton Sutovsky went behind the net to acore from Prazier's right side at 7:59.

Bernard scored on a breakaway for Franklin 38 seconds into the second period but 3:05 later the margin was restored when Higham swiped a feeble clearing attempt from in front of Taylor and stabbed it home.

Rosetto scored 38 seconds into the third period, banging home the rebound of a Higham shot, and at 1:14 got his third goal by tipping a Brandon Martola shot. He could have completed a three-goal shift moments later but Taylor stuffed him on a point-blank shot.

"I had too many boys that came in who wouldn't give their all," Jobbitt said. "They were running around. We had a very good second period, but we let down again in the third. We had some real dumb penalties in the third.'

Churchill, meanwhile, keeps humming along.

"We got off to a good start," Hatley said. "We're starting to jell. We feel that no matter how you forecheck, we have the answer.

"I wouldn't read anything into the final score. Franklin has played real well the last three months. The puck just bounced our way."

FRANKLIN S, ANDOYER S: Chris Mason's goal with only 29 seconds left gave Livonia Pranklin (7-2-2, 8-2-1) the SHSHL tie with North Division leader Bloomfield Hills Andover (10-2-1, 4-2-1) in a game Wednesday at

The Patriota rallied after being down 3-0 early in the second period.

Kevin Bernard and Jeff Berger assisted on Mason's goal, his second of the night. The Patriots pulled goalie Brendon Frazier for Mason finished with two goals and one as-

Bd Kruschka and Bernard each had a one goal and two assists. Brad Thornhill tallied the other Franklin goal. Tony Sala also had an assist.

Dave Tigay led Andover with two goals and two assists.

"We had a horrendous first period," said Franklin coach Terry Jobbitt, whose team was outshot 9-4. "We played Livonia Franklin hockey in the second and third periods, but it was too late, unfortunately. You've got to win all three periods, just not two: Franklin outshot the Cranes, 29-25. Tom Taylor started in goal for the Patriote before being relieved by Frazier.

Geoff Cutay, Kyle Dawley and Anton Sutoveky each scored twice for the winners. Brandon Martola and Gary Kraus also added goals for the Chargers.

Sutovsky, Dave Higham and Mike Boote each collected two assists, while Martola, Kraus, Chris Kiehler each contributed one. Churchill led 3.0 after two periods and scored five times in the final period.

Merritt, a springy 6-foot-2 junior forward, put an exclamation point on the victory with a breakaway dunk with only 16 seconds remaining.

Merritt led the Trojans with 17 points and 12 rebounds. Scott Barnhard, a 6-1 senior forward, chipped in with 16 points.

Both players took turns blocking out Lutheran Westland's top inside scoring threat, Joe Pruchnik, who finished with 15 points. But the 6.4 junfor forward snared only eight rebounds, which was well below his average.

"We told our kids that every rebound Pruchnik gets over 10. they're going to do a single suicide (sprint) drill in practice." Larson said. "Merritt and Scott had some kind of personal thing going because Pruchnik is a very capable player. If you don't know his strengths, he'll est you alive.

"We had to do two things don't allow the ball on the block, and don't allow him secund shots."

There were other standouts for Clarenceville as well.

Freshman point guard Albert Djeslsevic, who displays ballhandling and shooting skills well beyond his years, chipped in with 10 points, while senior off guard Joe Hernandez contributed nine.

"Albert has a good mind; he's learning on the job," Larson said. "He plays with a lot of enthusiasm and he loves the gaine. Albert wants the ball. He wants to be a point guard. "He made the switch with Joe a couple of games back because Joe does a better job of scoring without the ball.

Ryan Donaldson, a senior transfer from Livonia Stevenson, led Lutheran Westland in scoring with 16 points. He and Pruchnik were the only players to score in double figures.

The loss leaves Lutheran Westland at 4-4 overall and 1-2 in the Metro.

"We panicked against that diamond press, for a better lack of a word," Lutheran Westland coach Scott Wiemer said. "We didn't execute our press offense correctly. Then they just got frustrated.

"Give Clarenceville credit. They did a job on us."

Unselfish Churchill corrals Mustangs

Livonia Churchill had lost five of its last six boys basketball games, but Friday the Chargers came up with a winning effort, surprising host Northville, 64-60.

Churchill is now 3.6 overall and 1-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Northville falls to 7.2 and 1-2.

It was the Western Division opener for both teams.

Junior guard Shawn Woloszyn topped Churchill with a teamhigh 23 points.

Jay Van Wagner, a 6-foot-7 senior center, contributed 12 points, 14 rebounds and four blocks. Dwight Andrews chipped in with 11 points.

Mark Sander led Northville and all scorers with 24. Ben Szostek, the Mustangs' top scorer who had been averaging 30 points per game, was held to 15 by Churchill defender Matt Hughes.

The Chargers also played unselfishly as Woloszyn had six assists, while Andrews and Allen Polanski each added five.

"This is the best effort we've had all year," Churchill coach Tom Lang said. "We moved the ball really well. We got all the loose balls, about eight to 10, and we scrapped defensively."

Churchill hit 18 of 30 free throws, including nine of 12 down the stretch. Northville was 11 of Erick Giovannini was Stavenson's leading scorer with 14 points. Ed Samulanski and Matt Quinter chipped in with 11 and 10, respectively, for the Spartans, now 1-2 in the WLAA.

The Rockets blitzed the Raiders to up their record to 5-3 overall and 3-0 in the Western Lakes. The Raiders are 2-7 overall, 1-2 in the WLAA.

It was the Lakes Division opener for both teams.

Albert Jones scored 26 points, pulled down nine rebounds and had four assists, while Brad Wilde added 14 points. John Albrecht, De'Korey Albright and John Becher scored 10 spiece, while Dave Jarrett had nine points and nine rebounds.

"But it's so dark in their (Raiders') gym, the power might as well be out. You need a flashlight to play in there.

Matt Derocher and Justin Snow each tallied nine for the victorious Hawks, now 3-6 overall and 1-2 in the Western Lakes. Brian Lewis added eight.

Kevin Bigs had eight for the Patriots, who trailed 34-18 after three quarters. "We didn't come out and play with a lot of intensity when you score only 18 points in three quarters," said Franklin coach Larry Jackson, whose team is 1-7 and 0-3. "I'm not sure we were ready to compete tonight."

week apart. The league bowls at Cloverlanes in Livonia on Monday night. A week earlier, as reported in this column, it was Karen Hagan with an 806. Last week, Aleta Sill banged out an 815 set on games of 270-279-268. Barller this season, Cheryl Daniels registered an 810 series to set the early pace. If some of these names sound familiar, it's because Sill and Daniels have both been seen on national television with the Ladies Pro Bowlers Tour.

The two bowlers rank among the all-time "Greats." As a matter of fact, many of the league members have competed on the pro tour.

Bowling fans and enthusiasts who would like to see the best group of women bowlers anywhere can come down Mondays. Action begins at 8:30

Last week was a week for high scoring elsewhere. In the Mistele's Mens Senior Classic League at Mayflower Lanes, one team outdistanced everyone as the four-man squad hit a whopping score of 1,000. The 1,000 came in the third game of the set. Paul Temple (256), Frank Verbanac (267), Charles Lawrence (234) and Hank Werksma (243) combined for 33 strikes and six spares with the only three open frames the result of splits.

The Senior Classic bowls at 10 a.m. on Wednesdays at Mayflower Lanes in Redford.

In all the years that the GDBA has kept records, the Detroit area's highest men's series were Ken Wyatt's 874 in 1990 and Dale Strike's 873 in 1985.

Last week, it was Charles Pederloo-Jr. of Carleton who took over the number three spot with 868 on 4 block of 279-300-289 at Parkway Lanes. It was his fourth 800 series and seventh perfect game.

Pederico, who works at the Chrysler Engine Plant, shot 33 out of a possible 36 strikes and only a stubborn 10pin in the very last frame kept him from the top spot. The 868 set brought his average up to 220,

1996 Range Rover 4.0 climbs ladder to success

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures

The 1996 Range Rover 4.0 SE is an expensive piece of automotive equipment:

To be exact: $55,000.

But it's really, really, really, really nice. And roomy. And comfy. And it's a lot of fun to drive. Especially if you like off-roading.

This thing could scale Mt. Everest, I'd bet. It might fare as well as the Hummer ... who knows?

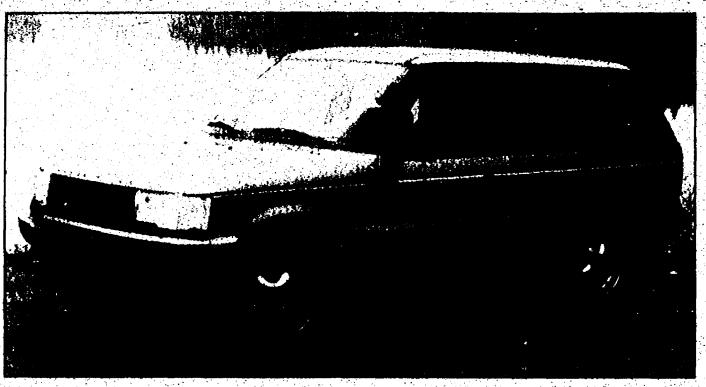

The 4.0 SE could be considered an expensive European sedan on stilts. The comfort level is superb, with plush seating and a suspension you would probably only expect in an expensive BMW or Mercedes-Benz.

Even though it looks like a truck, this high end sport utility drives like a fine sedan.

The Range Rover folks incorporated an electronic air suspension system with air springs, shock absorbers and height sensors at each wheel. It traverses every surface as if you're driving on a freshly paved

It's really high off the ground, but that's the nature of this beast.

There aren't any mountains to it a little easier to get out of speak of here in southeastern

Michigan, but colleagues have told me they've made this Range Rover 4.0 climb over the steepest of hills and obstacles without the slightest problem.

That's what was so impressive about this deluxe SUV. No matter that you're high off the ground - a whopping 8.5 inches - the vehicle still absorbs every bump to ensure you get a smooth ride.

Introduced in March of last year, the Range Rover 4.0 is all new this year and is the flagship of the Land Royer line of premium 4-wheel-drive vehicles. Land Rover, by the way, is a fully owned subsidiary of BMW. All Land Rovers are manufactured in Solihull, England.

On the outside, the Range Rover 4.0 is a smart mix of aluminum and steel. Styling is distinct. Of course it is - all Land Rovers are.

The first Range Rover was introduced to American roads in 1970, but all of them have a familiar look. It's interesting to note that Land Rover spent more than $500 million on the redesign of the Range Rover - and changed it for the good.

The 1996 Range Rover 4.0 has permanent 4-wheel-drive. There's also something really different - an "H shift" lever. That means there are two selections on the transmission. shifter — low range and high range.

Rather than pushing buttons or shifting a smaller lever, the low and When it's time to get out, the high range are accessed by moving

The 4-speed automatic transmis-

What about the wheels? Well, the 16-inch tires have spoked alloy rims.

This Range Rover comes with 4. wheel disc brakes and 4-channel allterrain anti-lock brakes with Land Rover's own electronic traction con-

The heating and cooling controls can be individually adjusted by the driver and passenger, allowing individual needs to be met. Rear seats are a little higher than the driver the front.

Mileage is 13 mph in the city, 17 on the highway. Top speed is 116 mph and its towing capacity is 6,500

Also available on the Range Rover is a 4.6-liter 225 horsepower V-8 engine that was redesigned to improve gas flow for increased performance.

The 1996 Range Rover 4.0 has all the appointments you'd thirst for in a luxury automobile.

Take a deep breath and try these on for size: Leather seats all around, dual air baga, an adjustable tilt steering wheel, an automatic dimming rearview mirror, air conditioning, child locks on the rear doors, double folding 60/40 rear seats, electrically adjustable heated door mirrors, adjustable heated front seats with power headrests and lumbar supports, front and rear fog lights, heated front windshield and rear windows, height-adjustable front and rear seat belts, ignition-off delay for the truck's windows and sunroof, fuel-injected aluminum alloy V-8 a trip computer and message center, engine is rated at 190 horsepower, a key activated "all-close" feature, keyless entry, a security system, headlamps with power washer and wipers, tilt and slide glass sunroof and sunshade, micro-pollen filtration, programmable defrost and ice warning, 120-watt AM/FM cassette with weather band and a full-size spare under the cargo area.

Whew! That's a lot. There is only one option: Rubber floor mata - and that'll cost you about $200.

It's an expensive vehicle, this Range Rover. That's for sure. But buyers will get the most rugged luxury sport utility on the market. If you're in the mood for some fun, check this one out.
