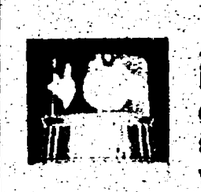
Car crash victim recovering



A Westland man is recovering in an Ann Arbor hospital, after being pinned under a car that crashed into a storefront where he was waiting to see a tax specialist. His mother credits rescue workers with saving her son.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Robert Paciocco, a 1983 John Glenn High School graduate known for his wrestling team abilities, used to easily pry himself out of constraining situations.

On Thursday morning, however, Paciocco was pinned for nearly 30 minutes under a car that came crashing through a Westland storefront — his jaw broken, one lung deflated, his teeth knocked out, his head bleeding — until he could be rescued.

"He has done remarkably well," his mother, Shirley Paciocco, said Friday afternoon as her 31-year-old son was in surgery for a broken jaw.

"I'm sure he will be OK," she said, in a surgical waiting room at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor. "He's a very strong man. He doesn't have any injuries that would threaten his life."

Paciocco, who works at an Ann Arbor printing shop, had gone to seek help with his taxes and was inside the H&R Block-affiliated business when a 1983 Oldsmobile Cutlass crashed through the front of the building at the northeast corner of Warren and Venoy. The car then plowed through a wall of a Bo Rics hair salon.

Paciocco, a Westland resident, was waiting to see a tax specialist at 10 a.m. when 23-year-old Jason Price lost control of his car while driving into a strip mall parking lot, police officer Steve Frazer said.

Amid shattering glass, Paciocco was pinned down until the Livonia Fire Department arrived with high-pressure, rubber, inflatable air bags that lifted the car off of him.

As the car was raised, rescue workers also put wooden blocks under the

Dancers open WinterFest with a '50s beat

Winter fun: Winners of the 1950s dance best dressed contest were fire chief Michael Reddy and Barbara Beadnell at Friday's sock hop, the opening event of the second annual Westland WinterFest. After the pair did the "stroll", Carolyn and Bill Verla enjoyed a slow dance. Some 100 persons attended the sock hop, held in the Hellenic Cultural Center. It included a Hula Hoop contest, won by newly-appointed Livonia school board member Dianne Nay, along with other fun competitions. For more on the weekend event, turn to Page 3A.

City's future projected for officials

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Picture two scenarios for Westland's future.

In one, high-rise buildings line Ford and Wayne roads. Massive traffic jams cause a citywide gridlock. There are more restaurants, more retail centers, more parking lots, more apartment buildings and more people who, because of eroding nature areas, can't find a local escape from the hustle-bustle.

In another outlook, once-deteriorating houses along major roads are transformed into trendy shops. Quaint streetlights line Wayne and Ford roads. Some commercial areas are covered by temperature-controlled walkways that keep shoppers warm in winter, cool in summer.

In this second scenario, Westland also has a major medical complex, an 18-hole golf course, protected nature areas, a thriving recycling program, and a public transportation system envied by neighboring communities.

Both visions emerged Wednesday night at Westland City Hall as about 60 residents and city leaders took turns voicing their predictions during a public "strategic visioning session" led by hired consultant Al Bogdan of McKenna Associates Inc.

Bogdan injected some fun into what was a serious attempt to learn what Westland residents want their city to become in the next century. City leaders plan to consider the ideas in revising the city's master plan, last updated in the early 1980s.

Norwayne police officer starts new beat

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Westland police officer Steve Borisch, assigned exclusively to the Norwayne neighborhood as the city tests a community policing program, began his new role last week by meeting residents and visiting schools.

He has set aside any preconceived notions of how his job should be performed.

"I want to find out what the people want," Borisch said. "I want to talk to the people and find out what the problems are."

Mayor Robert Thomas and city police officials launched the community policing program Wednesday afternoon at the Dorsey Center, where Borisch has an office. The center is in the heart of the Norwayne area bounded by Palmer Road, Merriman, Glenwood and Wildwood.

The pilot program comes in the wake of complaints from Norwayne residents who are fearful of gang activity, fights involving weapons, drug trafficking and other problems in their neighborhoods.

On Wednesday, Thomas cited the gang problem as one reason for launching the community policing program in Norwayne, though he said many youths are merely gang member wanna-bes.

PLACES & FACES

Students honored

Westland college students were honored for their academic achievements by being listed on the dean's list for their respective schools. They are Keith Roberts, an art major at Edgewood College in Madison, Wis.; Rachael Venning, a student at Grand Valley State University, near Grand Rapids; and Jennifer Purdon, who attends the University of Oklahoma. In each case, the students had a 3.5 or higher grade point average.

DARE graduation

On another level, six Hamilton Elementary School fifth-graders were picked as finalists in the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) essay contest. The six wrote essays on the theme "What DARE Means to Me" and read them at the school's Jan. 18 graduation ceremony. They also received medals for their accomplishments. The six are Joel Belanger, Scott Destrampe, Nicole Quinn, Andrew O'Connor, John McDonell and Rachel Wright.

The top two winners, John and Joel, also received DARE jackets from the PTA chapter. All graduates won a DARE pin and certificate of recognition.

There were 14 parent volunteers who worked behind the scenes to put on the ceremony, aided by DARE Officer Tim Kennedy.

School Superintendent Duane Moore is scheduled to address the PTA's next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 13.

Music of the night

Franklin Middle School music students will see the newly-released film, "Mr. Holland's Opus," a movie about a high school music teacher, at the Showcase Cinema in Westland Tuesday night. Franklin's band director Nancy Kubin said that all music families in the school district are invited to the movie, which will start at 7 p.m. Kubin said the movie promotes the value of a well-rounded education for children, including music and arts education.

Ice sculptors

Teammates Chris Sokolowski of Westland and Robert Pasquantonio of Walled Lake competed in the recent National Ice Carving Championships, held at Zehnder's Snowfest in Frankenmuth.

New beat: Assigned community police officers are Steve Borisch (right), who has started his work in the Norwayne neighborhood, and Matthew Bobby, who will start his new task later. In the background is a back of a retail building on Venoy near Dorsey which has been spray-painted with gang graffiti.

"The gang wanna-be problem is a lot bigger than the actual gang problem," he said.

Police Chief Emery Price said Borisch will work with community leaders, churches, schools and Norwayne residents to identify neighborhood problems and to seek solutions.

"We think that it will work," he said of the program.

The Thomas administration wants to implement a citywide community policing program by the summer of 1997. The city would be divided into seven districts, with an officer assigned to each area.

However, meeting that goal will likely hinge on whether voters will approve a 1.5-mill tax increase. The Westland City Council is considering a ballot proposal for the Aug. 6 primary.

Regardless, Thomas said he hopes to place a second police officer, Matthew Bobby, on the Norwayne "beat" during the summer.

Bobby said Wednesday that he would like to see a Norwayne committee formed to assist officers in identifying problems. He also suggested starting a community newsletter.

In warmer weather, Borisch and Bobby plan to patrol Norwayne not only in cars, but also on foot and on bicycles.

"I think they're going to make some inroads," Thomas said. "I think we'll see some benefits from that."

Some residents have welcomed the plan. Bendon Court resident Dixie McNa, among the Norwayne residents who asked for beefed-up police protection, has called the project "a great idea."

Art works used as rehabilitation

BY LEONARD POGER
STAFF WRITER

Louise Bego was seriously injured in a 1973 auto accident which claimed the life of a dean at then-Madonna College.

A passenger in the car, Bego, then 36, suffered a closed head injury in the crash which claimed the life of the college's dean of student affairs.

As part of her recovery, the Birmingham resident who lived in Westland for 24 years, turned to art in order to deal with the rage and depression she continues to experience.

But art is more than just a hobby or diversion for Bego.

Used primarily to help her rehabilitation, Bego's works have been displayed in numerous juried exhibitions for the past eight years and more recently she had her creations in the Very Special Arts Gallery in Washington, D.C., dedicated to display the works of professional arts with disabilities.

In the past month, Bego has registered another major art accomplishment.

She created an illustration for the cover of a new book, "Human Exceptionality," written for special education professionals throughout the country.

The book cover was commissioned last June and just recently published.

The book covers mental retardation, emotional behavior disorders, learning disabilities, mild and severe multiple disabilities, autism, hearing loss, vision loss and physical and health disabilities.

The cover design was taken from a 30-inch-by-30-inch acrylic which is on display at the Veryt Special Arts Gallery.

The book cover tells of Bego's background and her struggle with mental and emotional health problems.

"In her rehabilitation, she turned to art as a lifeline of hope," according to the book's jacket. "Her many paintings in acrylic draw upon stormy emotions and have been juried in many local and national competitions."

Bego suffered through many bouts of mental and emotional depression before the extent of her injury was fully understood, she said.

In the first few years after the accident, Bego suffered memory loss, unexplained outbursts of anger and a personality change that reflected a damaged brain. She lost almost all her friends and family.

"Nobody understood. I didn't know what was happening," she said.

In the process of trying to recover from the closed head injury, Bego found that art offered a lifeline of hope.

She turns to canvas and acrylics in her work, putting forth in broad strokes her myriad stormy emotions of depression, fear and rage.

"Art has been great for me because I feel at peace when I paint," she said. "I can express how I feel on canvas and I use strong colors for expression."

In 1987, she was juried in her first statewide competition with an abstract expressionist painting called "That's Life."

In 1990, the work placed fourth in the Michigan Artist's Competition.

Since 1983, Bego has studied through instructors Leslie Masters, Lester Johnson, Gaily Mally-Mack and Lorraine Chambers-McCarty at the Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association. She is also a member of the Paint Creek Center for the Arts, Rochester.

Her first juried art work was displayed eight years in the Michigan Fine Arts Competition, held at the BBAA. Since then, Bego has had nearly 30 works, mainly abstract acrylics.

Reflecting on her earlier years, Bego recalled that she was taking classes at then-Madonna College in Livonia, playing golf and investing in stocks.

"I was getting along with my family and friends," she said. "Now my family is broken up. I hardly ever get invited anywhere and have very few friends."

But her art accomplishments have given her self-confidence, Bego stressed.

"I feel worthy as a person. Thanks to my psychologist, Dr. Phyllis Yates, she deserves credit for all the encouragement and support she gave me in painting and in my career."

Her philosophy is that "art for me has been the most satisfying part of my life. After having suffered brain damage from a serious car accident, my work has led me to feel a real sense of accomplishment and greater self-esteem."

Bego lives in an apartment in the Maple-Coolidge neighborhood of Birmingham.

Artist fondly recalls living in Westland

Louise Bego, who uses art as part of her rehabilitation from a closed-head injury, has fond memories of growing up in Westland.

She lived in the township and city from 1955 to 1977, graduating from Wayne High School in 1956.

Her father owned the landmark Sait's Retaurant, just south of the Wayne Ford Civic League, before he sold it in the 1970s, after 22½ years serving local diners.

Married to Frank Dalip at the time, Louise worked in the restaurant and lived over the restaurant.

After several subsequent ownership changes, the building is now known as Beaver Creek.

Bego, now 58, recalls that longtime public official Bill Faust was a good friend of her family.

"Bill was a big part of my life as I was growing up," she recalled. "My parents were very strict. Faust knew this and he was like my big brother."

When Bego and her sister quit school, Faust convinced them to return.

Through her father's restaurant, she had contacts with Faust and other public officials, such as Charles McIlhargey and Gene McKinney.

Faust was on the Nankin Township Board and later served 28 years in the state Senate before retiring when his term expired 13 months ago. Faust died a short time later.

McIlhargey was on the Westland City Council in 1966, while McKinney was managing editor of the Westland Eagle and later a Westland city councilman and three-term mayor.

Festival patrons brave weather

The weather for the second annual Westland WinterFest was slightly "warmer" over the weekend than the past year.

The temperatures hovered near the zero level for most of the weekend with the wind chill index plunging to 20 below — but that better than last year's 31 below figure.

But the weather didn't stop local families from taking part in the many fun activities, of which most were held in the Civic Center area.

Some 75 people — dressed in arctic weather clothing and face masks — took part in the 5-mile fun run.

Throughout the weekend, there were food booths sponsored by various civic and service groups, and dinners hosted by the Westland firefighters, Mayor Robert Thomas and the Westland Cultural Society.

There was exhibition figure skating and hockey league scrimmages at the Westland Sports Arena, free laser shows at Bailey Center and musical entertainment.

Culinary arts students also were involved, creating ice sculptures from blocks of ice.

The Westland Chamber of Commerce sponsored a WinterFest bowling tournament while the police department's Drug Abuse Resistance Education officers held their annual free-throw shooting contest.

The winter fun opened Friday night with a 1950s-theme sock hop at the Hellenic Cultural Center.

Rounding out the weekend were carriage and sleigh rides, free laser show and music by the John Glenn High School band and Neil Diamond music by David James.

Charges are reduced in nude photos case

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A former Westland man, accused of taking nude photographs of his 14-year-old niece, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge after the girl changed her story, a police sergeant said.

Michael Dobby, 31, will serve five years probation after pleading guilty to attempted child sexually abusive activity, Sgt. Terry Donohue said.

Dobby's plea came last Monday, the day he was to stand trial on two counts of child sexually abusive activity, rather than an attempted charge.

The latest development followed testimony during a hearing late last year in which the 14-year-old girl reversed earlier allegations that Dobby took nude photographs of her and made a videotape of her, Donohue said.

Despite the girl's decision to recant her original story, prosecutors refused to dismiss the case because of evidence that they said linked Dobby to the crime, Donohue said.

The activity allegedly occurred at Dobby's former residence at Westland Woods Apartments on Wildwood north of Ford. He was accused of photographing and videotaping the girl during a several-month period that ended in April, 1995.

Police seized the photographs and videotape during an April 27 drug raid at Dobby's apartment. He was arrested on marijuana charges and spent several months in jail, police said.

Dobby was charged in the sex case after he was released from jail on the drug charges.

Dobby, described at the time of his arrest as an unemployed laborer, could have faced 20 years in prison, if he had been convicted as originally charged. He also could have been fined up to $20,000.

The niece knew at times that she was being photographed, police have said, but her knowledge was deemed irrelevant because of a state law that makes such acts a felony.

fect on our community," Mayor Robert Thomas said.

Planning Director Tod Kilroy said leaders want to maintain strong neighborhoods, revitalize aging areas, improve traffic patterns and provide close-to-home job opportunities for Westland residents.

The new master plan, which comes as Westland celebrates its 30th year as a city, will be used to guide the Westland Planning Commission, the Westland City Council and other decision-making bodies, Kilroy said.

As residents spoke, Bogdan had two assistants stand in front of the audience and list the predictions on an easel. Later, each participant selected five key issues that they considered most important.

The results will be released during a follow-up meeting scheduled for Feb. 29.

Council-watcher Dorothy Smith said she wants the city to halt development and to protect the environment.

"We breathe cement," she said.

Resident Jack Smiley agreed and said he fears that natural areas will be eroded to the point that nature trails could disappear and children won't see wildlife.

Some residents had leisure activities in mind. David Moranty, for example, said he hopes for an 18-hole golf course.

Councilwoman Sharon Scott said the city will need a medical complex with a trauma unit because the population is aging.

At one point, resident Gene Suchy chimed in: "I'm a realist. I want to see how we're going to pay for all this."

Later in the meeting, participants saw a slide show of commercial architecture, industrial areas, residential neighborhoods, streets and commercial signs. They were asked to score the scenes, in terms of appeal, on a 5-point scale, with 1 indicating a "very poor" score and 5 meaning an "excellent" score.

That exercise, too, will give city officials some insight into the residents' preferences.

Although Wednesday's session focused on the future, officials also handed out fact sheets showing changes in Westland from 1980 to 1990. Following are highlights released in December by SEMCOG (Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments):

- The number of Westland households increased 14 percent.
- The number of people age 65 or older increased 51 percent, while those in the 15-19 age group decreased 34 percent. Those in the 5-14 age group decreased 25 percent.
- The median value of owner-occupied housing rose from $45,000 to $63,400.
- The median family income increased from $25,153 to $34,995.

The materials also included predictions such as the following:

- Westland's population, which was 84,724 in 1990, is expected to increase to 90,796 by the year 2020.
- The number of households with children is expected to decrease 25 percent by 2020.
- Employment is expected to increase 24 percent by 2020, with manufacturing and service jobs leading the way.

Shirley Paciocco commended the combined rescue efforts of the Livonia Fire Department (Rescue One), the Westland Police Department and the Westland Fire Department.

"We're truly appreciative," she said. "They did a great job."

The injured man was flown by helicopter to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and later transferred to the University of Michigan Hospital, where he was listed in fair condition Friday.

No one else was seriously injured, although six people were in the tax office at the time.

Price had been having problems with his car stalling, and he had tapped the accelerator when it apparently got stuck, Westland police officer Cathy Gilliam said. Price drove over an entrance curb before crashing into the strip mall.

Price was cited for careless driving and having no proof of insurance, Gilliam said Friday, but he won't face any felony charges.

"There was nothing deliberate to what happened," she said, and there was no contributing factor such as alcohol.

In fact, a Bo Rics employee reported seeing Price struggle for control of the car, Gilliam said. Price was moving no faster than 30 mph when the accident occurred, she said.

"He just lost control," she said.

Paciocco seemed more worried about his family than himself following the accident, his mother said. Paciocco has a 5-year-old son, Jase, with his wife Robbin.

On Thursday afternoon, EJH Construction Co. of Redford was installing a temporary storefront for the tax office. A temporary inside wall also was being erected between that office and Bo Rics.

"Taxes will be going on as usual Saturday," Mike Sartorius of EJH Co. said Friday. He didn't yet have an estimate of damages.

Lawmaker says insurance bill will benefit suburbanites

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

State lawmakers are cutting the knot that ties suburban auto and home insurance rates to Detroit's rates.

"It will be positive" for suburbanites, said Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth. "Low-risk areas have subsidized high-risk areas," said Law, who was sponsor of House Bill 5177.

"Communities close to Detroit will see a significant increase in rates — double-digit," warned Sen. Gary Peters, D-Bloomfield Township, an opponent. "This is not Detroit versus of the rest of the state."

The bill passed the Senate 29-8 on Jan. 31, with all Republicans and half the Democrats saying yes.

Here's how area senators voted:

YES — Loren Bennett, R-Canton; Robert Geake, R-Northville.

NO — George Hart, D-Dearborn.

The bill was sent back to the House for concurrence in a minor amendment. Gov. John Engler is expected to sign it cheerfully. It will take effect immediately, though Law cautioned it may be several years before customers see the effects of experienced-based rating and more companies competing for business.

"This will bring in more competition," said Sen. Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham, in floor debate. "On balance, people's rates will go down in low-risk areas and up in high-risk areas. In the last 10 years, 100 companies have quit writing (insurance) business in our state."

Bouchard denounced "random governmental circles totally unrelated to risk" in setting insurance rates, calling for an end of that kind of regulation.

Democrat Peters tossed the argument right back at Republicans. "You say, 'get out of the way.' If we want to get government out of the way, we shouldn't require (auto) insurance," Peters said.

Democrat Virgil Smith of Detroit said insurance rates go up despite loss experience. "We've seen a 30 percent drop in auto theft in Detroit. Where's the cost cut? Where's the beef? It's in the pockets of insurance executives in their yachts on Lake St. Clair," said Smith.

The battle goes back 17 years to 1979, when the Legislature passed the Essential Insurance Act requiring all motorists to be insured. In what Law called "social engineering by insurance," the new law required links between Detroit and suburban rates.

HB 5711 will eliminate requirements that:

- Rates in neighboring territories differ by no more than 10 percent. This provision tied suburban rates to Detroit's.
- A company's lowest rates can-not be more than 45 percent of the highest rates.
- An insurer have no more than 20 territorial rates.

The latter two restrictions had the effect of dividing Michigan into two markets — metro Detroit, dominated by Allstate, State Farm and AAA Michigan. A handful of other companies dominate the rest of the state.

"The total number of companies writing business in Michigan dropped from 220 to 125," said Law. "Neighboring states like Ohio and Indiana have 300 or 400. This should be a very competitive business."

In 1986 the Legislature did away with linking territorial rates, but provided that the law "sunset" (expire) April 1, 1992.

At that time, the old rating territories came back.

Democrats charged that a study of 1986-89 rates showed rates didn't fall. "Not one senator on this floor saw reduced costs when we removed the territories," charged Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit.

Law replied in an interview: "They used only one year's rates. The study was flawed. It was politically motivated. You need a trend for five to 10 years to judge. You won't see dramatic changes right away."

Sen. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit, charged the bill will give an incentive "to people to leave the most important part of the state. It's unfortunate for the people who are trapped and can't afford to move."

HB 5711 was supported by the state Insurance Bureau, Allstate, State Farm Mutual and the Michigan Insurance Federation.

It was opposed by Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer and Advocacy Organization for Patients and Providers.

Hospital opens new care unit

In an effort to provide more streamlined health care to hospitalized patients, St. Mary Hospital has established a Progressive Care Unit under the direction of Mary Beth Kerstein, R.N.

In the unit, patients are able to remain in the same room throughout their care. The unit opened in October on the third floor of the main hospital.

The unit includes 59 beds with more than half the beds having patient monitors. Nurses began receiving training in July in such areas as critical care nursing, pace makers, IV-drip medications, ventilators, and ST segment monitoring.

Kerstein, a native of Woodhaven now living in Livonia, was clinical nurse manager for the Progressive Care Unit and Intermediate Intensive Care Unit at Bon Secours Hospital before joining St. Mary Hospital.

Her background includes serving as a staff nurse on a medical/cardiac telemetry unit, critical care nursing, and critical care education.

She earned a bachelor of science degree in nursing from Grand View College in Des Moines, Iowa, and a master of science in nursing administration from Madonna University, Livonia.

She also is a certified Advanced Cardiac Life Support instructor.

Pet store 'shoppers' pass million mark

More than one million dogs, cats and other pets have visited Pet Supplies Plus stores in the last year, according to figures just released from a 12-month internal traffic survey conducted by the chain.

This is the first time in the history of Pet Supplies Plus that the number of four-legged visitors exceeded the one million mark.

The largest pet products retailer east of the Mississippi, Pet Supplies Plus gained notoriety within its industry for inviting animals to "shop with your owners."

Although the overwhelming majority of pets who visit the company's stores are dogs, Pet Supplies Plus also draws cats, birds and more exotic pets such as constrictors, monkeys and iguanas visit its stores with their human companions.

Founded in 1988 as a single pet shop, Pet Supplies Plus now has 120 stores in 15 states. The typical Pet Supplies Plus store stocks more than 10,000 different pet products ranging from dog and cat food to hamster potties, doggie breath mints and pot-bellied pig chow.

Law might save horse racing

Gov. John Engler signed House Bill 4526 on Jan. 10, thus enacting the Horse Racing Law of 1995 which some claim will help save Michigan's $1.2 billion parimutuel horse racing industry.

"I am very pleased to have signed this significant legislation which permits the most revolutionary changes in Michigan horse racing since the sport began," Engler said. "The Horse Racing Law of 1995 gives the sport hope for the future.

"I trust the racing industry will take full advantage of the tools this act provides for Michigan horse racing and its significant agricultural support sector to prosper, grow and to maximize its contributions to the state."

The legislation was developed in a two-year cooperative effort by the Michigan horse racing industry, which has created more than 42,000 jobs throughout the state, and takes immediate effect.

The major elements of the Horse Racing Law of 1995:

- Authorize year-round operation of Michigan's eight licensed tracks with live and/or simulcast racing programs.
- Preserve and encourage live horse racing at current levels for both the number of racing days and the races per day.
- Authorize maximum simulcasting (televising and wagering on racing programs at other tracks within and outside the state) capability at Michigan's tracks to supplement live programs and offer simulcast programs on days when live racing is not conducted.
- Support continuation of live racing by the elimination of the tax on wagering on live racing, thus increasing funding for operations and purses.
- Authorize commingling of parimutuel pools at Michigan tracks to offer their fans programs and opportunities already available in most other racing jurisdictions.
- Provide funding for agriculture, county fair and racing industry development programs through a tax on simulcast wagering.

"This is an historic development in Michigan's horse racing industry which will help bring it successfully into the 21st century and enable it to compete effectively in the increasingly competitive environment in which it finds itself," said State Racing Commissioner Nelson Westrin.

Michigan Department of Agriculture Director Gordon Guyer hailed the governor's bill signing as a victory for Michigan agriculture, saying, "Coordination and cooperation among various segments of the racing industry were essential to passage of this legislation. Continued coordination will provide a sound basis for expansion of the industry as a whole for years to come.

"Race farm operations currently provide over 37,000 jobs in Michigan, with another 6,000 jobs created by track-related employment — an important part of agriculture's $37.5 billion contributions to the state's economy each year. This legislation will positively impact not only the racing industry, but other agribusiness interests as well."

The Office of Racing Commissioner has already been working with tracks and horsemen's organizations to effect rapid implementation of the act. "We're already well on our way toward Michigan tracks, horsemen and fans being able to enjoy the benefits of this new law, and we plan on our tracks being fully on line as quickly as possible while meeting all the requirements of the new law," said Westrin.

Commission OKs county land sale

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

An agreement to sell 80 more acres of county land in Northville Township to Optical Imaging Systems received the Wayne County Board of Commissioners' blessing Thursday.

In an 11-2 vote the commission approved the sale of the property for $800,000. Local commissioners Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, and Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, voted in favor. Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, voted against.

In a deal that Dewitt J. Henry, director of the county's department of jobs and economic development, described as having a lot of advantages for the county, OIS agrees to buy the property with a set of conditions attached, such as paying the delinquent taxes the county owes to Northville Township for the property.

The property is next to the current OIS facility, built on 30 acres of land bought from the county in 1993, at Beck and Five Mile roads. OIS manufactures flat panel displays that are used in military and commercial jet aircraft.

Calling it "corporate welfare," Patterson said he objected to the agreement because he fears OIS can "just land speculate." The company could go ahead and make a decision to pay current market value to the county and then turn around and sell the land to someone else for more money, he said.

OIS is getting the land for less than the appraised value of $46,667 an acre, under condition that the company certify the investment of at least $300 million and employment of at least 500 full-time equivalent employees within eight years, and must begin construction within five years.

If OIS doesn't meet the conditions, it will be obligated to pay the difference between the purchase price and the appraised price adjusted for inflation, or sell the land back to the county for the purchase price. The payment of $160,000 for the delinquent taxes owed on that part of the property being sold to OIS is nonrefundable, according to the agreement.

The county owes $1.2 million on the more than 900 acres it owns at that site, Henry told the commission's Committee of the Whole Tuesday.

Taxes are owed on the land because a ruling by the Michigan Tax Tribunal went against the county about six months ago, according to Tim Johnson, director of the marketing and communications division of the county's Jobs and Economic Development Department. The county had appealed a ruling that government-owned property not being used for public purposes can be taxed, he said.

The $800,000 from the land sale will be put into an account and used to pay the delinquent taxes on the rest of the property, Henry said. The county faces a tax sale on the property if the taxes aren't paid by May.

"We think it's very significant for Wayne County," Johnson said of the proposal before it was approved by the commission.

OIS built a $100 million facility on the property bought in 1993, which will produce 40,000 displays a year and employ 300 people when in full production.

Patterson proposal targets ethics

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, says he'll propose a package of legislation to his fellow commissioners targeting fund-raising, ethics and control of the county's legal staff.

He also is joining with Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who has drafted legislation calling for county term limits to be placed before Wayne County voters in November.

That action came after Joseph Turinsky, of Wayne County Citizens for Term Limits, went before the commission Jan. 18 asking them to put term limits on the ballot.

McCotter's plan calls for limiting the county executive, clerk, sheriff, prosecuting attorney and register of deeds to two full four-year terms and limiting the county commissioners to four full two-year terms.

Patterson is taking that further and proposing other reforms as well.

Fund-raising reforms would involve limiting the percentage of funds those seeking county offices can accept from non-constituents, Patterson said.

If county elected officials have accepted money from county vendors, when they vote or act a certain way on issues and contracts, it gives voters reason to be skeptical, Patterson said.

"I think voters get turned off by seeing things like that," he said.

SHOPPING CENTERED

LINDA BACHRACK

Let's break for a lo-cal mall snack

It is extremely difficult to walk through a mall without stopping for a snack in the food court. They're like magnets, those food courts, prominently placed within the store mix so that you have to pass their enticing counters.

And the smells that waft through the stores! Who can resist a Cinnabon, a warm Mrs. Fields cookie, or a bag of those roasted almonds?

Unfortunately, the typical mall fare can be devastating to your waistline. An occasional stop at Godiva Chocolatier or Mr. Bulky is OK, but what do the malls offer in terms of nutritious snacks? You might be surprised by the numerous choices.

At Lakeside in Sterling Heights the newest taste sensation is the Surf City Squeeze and once you try the blended fruit smoothie, you'll wish this franchise was right in your own neighborhood. The Smoothies, Chillers and Lemonades are made from fresh ingredients and can be turned into "power drinks" with the addition of protein powder, bee pollen, wheatgrass and a variety of amino acids.

The Power Energy Squeeze guarantees to revive you and keep you shopping for hours. It contains the amino acids ATP and Creatine that control energy levels. Says the menu, "When you get a lot of them together (ATP and Creatine), they race around inside your body's cells hooting and whistling like some kind of college party gone awry. Yahoo!" Hey, I'll take one of those.

Other Surf City Squeeze Smoothies claim to strip fats, rev up your fuel system, nourish your brain, rejuvenate your skin, even stimulate your libido. Choose from names like Bee Stinger, Power Pump amd Marathon. Or, for just plain old satisfaction, order the strawberry/banana Smoothie, straight up with no metabolic additives. It's icy cold, creamy and good for you.

"The best," said John McKnight of Sterling Heights as he savored his Island Bear. The pineapple/banana/orange concoction had a dash of lecithin to increase brain function and promote energy. "I need all the help I can get," he added, "and this is much better than a Coke and fries, and just as filling."

Another new mall addition is the Sourdough Bread Factory at Summit Place mall in Waterford. Just step up to the carryout counter for a loaf of fresh bread, a scone, muffin or roll. They're all nutritious and delicious and you can pinch that warm loaf between purchases. Hey, no butter, so it's a healthy snack.

At La Cuisine Jardin in the Somerset Collection, Troy, snack on a small container of fruit or wild rice salad, a cup of soup or a great turkey roll-up sandwich.

Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn has the Popcorn Store where you can opt for the air-popped variety, hold the caramel and the butter. Or try a Hot Sam pretzel with no salt, a fat-free yogurt cone at Bresler's Ice Cream, or a fat-free Muffin Man muffin.

If frozen yogurt is your all-time favorite junk food alternative, I recommend my two favorites: Stucchi's mint chocolate chip at Twelve Oaks in Novi and the frest fruit yogurt sundae at Hudson's Yogurt Express, only 90 calories per serving.

Next time you're at the mall, send the kids to Pizza Hut while you relax and rejuvenate with an energizing Smoothie and a warm chunk of the "staff of life."

Malls say receipts-for-schools is a hit

Shoppers and students have embraced The Be True To Your School receipts campaign at three area malls. It looks like 3,100 schools will split a $250,000 prize.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Lakeside, Twelve Oaks and Fairlane Town Center remind shoppers that there are just two months left to have their purchases credited towards learning materials for their favorite school.

The seven-month "Be True To Your School" program ends March 31. Shoppers stop at strategically placed schoolhouse booths throughout the centers where mall staff credits their purchase receipts to a running tab for the school of their choice.

The schools can use the credits to buy videos, videodiscs, computer software, books and other reference materials of their choice.

"Nearly 3,100 Michigan schools are logged into the program," said Ava Demonja, Fairlane's marketing director. "Credits to schools since the program began total more than $200,000." The centers hope to reach $250,000 and she believes the goal will be surpassed.

Credits to the schools during the recent holiday season totaled over $160,000 according to Elaine Kah, Twelve Oaks marketing director.

"We had a great holiday, and people were very conscientious about crediting their purchases to their schools," she said. "The schools are going to be really pleased when they see how much the holidays boosted their credits."

Receipts can be credited for anything from suits to suitcases and computers to cappuccino. Any Michigan public or private school, grades K-12, is eligible.

The program began August 21 and mall insiders say it may be repeated in the fall due to all the support from area schools as well as shoppers. PTAs have touted the program in their monthly newsletters and principals eagerly await the credits to supplement learning materials.

All receipts must be dated August 21, 1995 through March 31, 1996, but customers who are pressed for time may pick up special "Be True To Your School" receipt holders at the schoolhouse booths. They can use them to save their sales slips and turn them in at a more convenient time before March 31.

Schools receive a monthly tally of their credits. When the program closes, each school will use its credits to order directly from some of the country's largest and best-respected school/library suppliers, including National Geographic, PBS Video and Follett Library.

The soon-to-be-married pair met four years ago when they were exhibiting in an Ohio show. Comparing notes as dealers frequently do, they realized collectors were constantly looking for retired figurines like the pups Royal Doulton fashioned after championship canines. Recognizing an untapped market, they opened their shop 2½ years ago.

Since then, they've seen consistent growth with customers from as far away as Grand Rapids, Lansing, Jackson, Ohio and Indiana seeking everything from old Hummels to the 100-year-old Irish Setter by Royal Doulton. Advertisements in collectors magazines regularly bring inquiries from Africa, Germany and England.

"During the years we dealt in antiques, we noticed a special interest in out-of-production or retired Lladro and Royal Doulton pieces," said Richardson. "People were looking for figurines that their grandmothers' had. Once a collectible is retired, there's no way to really find it at the retail shops. The Laurel and Hardy by Kevin Francis, is an example, less than 400 were made worldwide.

Figurines traditionally spotlight whimsical personalities like the Pendelfin Rabbits from England. Most lines are made from bone china or ceramic except for ANRI collectibles which are hand-carved wood. Buying trends change from year to year, as does the market price of the collectible merchandise.

Hummels were first made in Germany in 1935. The mark on the bottom determines the value. Over the years, the mark has been changed six times making old mark Hummels the most valuable. However, the oldest figurines are not necessarily the most sought after by collectors. That's what keeps the retired figurine business so exciting.

"Our customers are primarily collectors looking to fill out their collection. Right now, Dept. 56 is the hottest collectible in the country along with Precious Moments," said Richardson, "but it's constantly changing. And even though the Disney Classics date from the 1920s on up, it's those from 1950 to the 1990s that are increasing in popularity."

Possible Dreams Santas featured in the Saturday Evening Post Cover Collection depict the works of Norman Rockwell and J.C. Leyendecker. All of the pieces (regardless of the company that manufactured them) began on the drawing board.

"There's nothing finer than a piece designed by an artist. Possible Dreams comes out with 20 new styles every year. They even have a club to join," said Murray who resided in Farmington Hills for 21 years.

In a back corner of the shop, a variety of ceramic and pottery antiques from 1840 to the 1930s, plus a collection of art glass, fills several showcases. Treasures include handpainted Dalton Burslem (more than 150 years old) Series Ware by Royal Doulton (dating from 1905) and Gouda pottery from Holland (1885-1925). There's something for every taste.

If you broke a cherished piece of china during the holidays, or fail to find that special Royal Copenhagen plate, the exchange's computerized search service locates out-of-production figurines and occasionally, china patterns. If not, the owners of the Retired Figurine Exchange will keep an eye out for it at the 25 antique shows they will exhibit in this year. Costs are determined by market price.

The Retired Figurine Exchange, with prices ranging from a few dollars to several hundred dollars, is located at 7922 Cooley Lake Road in Waterford. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. For more information, call (810) 360-4155.

Patterson

He said it will be a "balancing act" to find the percentage limit his fellow commissioners will accept.

On ethics he sees the need to revamp the ethics review board. The county has an ethics review board "made up of insiders." "Why should that be?" he said.

Patterson said he wants to develop a code of ethics that would have some teeth, appoint a citizens group that would act as an ethics review board and have sanctions that can be imposed for violations.

The commission has adopted a code of ethics, but Patterson said it's "more satin finish than substance."

"Ethics is an important issue," he said.

The issue of the use of the legal staff is one that has interested him for two years, he said.

The county's legal staff, called corporation counsel, answers to the county executive, while still providing counsel to the commission, Patterson said.

Host families needed

High school students from around the world need American families to host them. The students will arrive in late August to attend school for the 1996-97 school year.

Each student has been screened and speaks English. They have their own spending money and medical insurance. The teenagers need a host family to provide them with a bed, meals, love and guidance.

The students have a variety of interests and talents (such a football, soccer, tennis, piano, and dance). Volunteer host families can select a student with interests and personality that will fit best into their families.

Students and host families form ties that often lead to lifelong friendships. Host families can have teenagers of their own, but that is not necessary.

CHEF LARRY JANES

It's hard to fight the clean plate syndrome

I never realized why I loved Hershey Kisses so much until a few years ago. It was right after Easter, and during and a spontaneous visit to my folks in Wyandotte, I found myself unwrapping three kisses at a time. Momma noticed this and recalled "we enticed you to take your first steps with those."

Aha! Helplessly programmed as a baby, I patted the extra pounds on my hips and teased "so, this is all your fault." Well-intentioned parents often install in their children, and loved ones, habits that can last a lifetime. Sometimes for better or for worse.

In my case, the most effective was the clean plate treatment. Many of us "survivors of wonderfully neurotic parents" (of which I am proud to be) vividly can recall being admonished to eat every morsel on our plates. The main reason was that there were other children in the world not so fortunate. Of course, our parents had noble purposes. It was indeed to make us grateful for what we had to eat. Now coming from a family of five, we weren't considered "picky" eaters. If we didn't eat, we soon found that there was nary a leftover to be had, and when the kitchen was closed, that was it.

Momma's idea of the four basic food groups was meat, potatoes, bread and corn. Fresh vegetables were something eaten off a relish tray. The clean plate pressure ultimately affected lifelong eating habits.

Childhood patterns

When we were children, our parents decided how much food to put on our plates and that was the amount that had to be eaten. So in adulthood, it can be difficult for us to choose exactly what is enough. I've met people who claim "when I was little, I faithfully ate everything left on my plate; now I eat everything left on my kids' plate." I once felt compelled to finish off a leftover third of a chocolate cake "because it was there." It wasn't even on my plate, but I reasoned that it was better for me to have it than worry about the cavities, zits or obesity that might overcome my kid. No wonder I became plump; the only way left to grow was sideways.

The clean plate syndrome haunts in even subtler ways. If dinner nowadays isn't totally consumed, I stuff the refrigerator with dabs of leftovers, probably, of course, to avoid feeling guilty about "wasting." Only after the leftovers grown green fur can I throw them out to the compost pile with a clear conscience. I can't stand for food to go unwanted in restaurants. My healthy eating club leader exhorts us to "leave food on the plate and simply push it away." I still ask the waiter to wrap uneaten portions to be taken home so they'll keep the other leftovers in the fridge company.

Maybe there's one positive effect of the clean plate syndrome in adulthood. While I still feel obligated to finish the last few bites of food, I also mail checks to various centers working to relieve local and international hunger. In a world where some people have too much and others so little, this action makes sense to me. I guess it could be a lot worse. Memories of being coerced with food linger.

Sweet memories

Don't you remember "if you don't clean your plate there will be no dessert?" My favorite of course, was always Tuesday night novena at church when the catch phrase "be good in church and we'll go to Affholter's Dairy for blue moon cones." No wonder I was an altar boy and even considered joining the clergy! I thought blue moon ice cream cones were commonplace after church on Tuesday nights. So why don't I, a sensible grown up deposit all this unneeded guilt and food in the garbage instead of my mouth or the refrigerator? The updated, new me recoils. "That would be wasting food! Guilt!" Besides, there's no escaping it. Although you can turn the clean plate syndrome in a constructive direction, it never really goes away. When my stomach is full, the refrigerator stocked and the pantry brimming, I feel safe and comforted.

The food I'm creating now is far more healthy and much lower in fat. Even though I try not to imitate my parents, I firmly believe that I have overcome the inherent need to feel "complete" when the plates and platters are licked clean.

NEW COOKBOOK HAS HISTORICAL FLAVOR

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

You could say there's a lot of soul in African-American cookery. But it has nothing to do with chitterlings, hog maws, greens, and black-eyed peas.

Howard Paige of Southfield dispels a lot of myths about what you might think African-American cookery is in his recently published cookbook, "African American Family Cookery."

"If we are to enhance the public image of African-American cookery, we must recognize the narrow image of food preparations that the abstract term 'soul food' invokes in most people's mind," explains Paige. "We must keep in mind that the term 'soul food' is a new description born from the black nationalistic struggles of the late 1960s and early 1970s.

"It's birth never considered the history of African-American cookery."

To find the soul in African American cookery, Paige spent seven years researching what he calls a "new review in African-American cookery."

"All I'm reporting is what history has revealed," said Paige, a medical technologist at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. "My main purpose is to expand the concept of African-American cookery beyond the narrow concept of 'soul food.'"

"African American Family Cookery," is Paige's second book. His first, "Aspects of African-American Cookery," was published in 1986.

True to the title, "African American Family Cookery," is designed to be used by families. The book, which is subtitled "Healthy Eating, Low Fat, Low Sugar, Low Salt," contains over 50 pictures drawn by Paige, and lots of illustrations including the Food Guide Pyramid, and information on how to read food labels. There are numerous suggestions for eating for Heart Healthy Health and two weeks of suggested menus.

"This book was written for children and also for families to get together to prepare food. This creates memories," said Paige who is a board member of the Central Wayne Division of the American Heart Association. "I wanted to make food preparation easy for a father and son to do together."

He also shows readers how they can cut down on fat. His recipes are nutritionally analyzed, low in fat, sugar and salt.

Many of the recipes, such as Fried Catfish-Oven Fried, Banana Cake, Sally Washington's Red Rice are diagrammed to explain step-by-step how to assemble and prepare the ingredients.

Readers will learn that African-American cookery has roots in Africa, but also throughout the United States encompassing a wide variety of foods. "Although African-Americans wielded a great

Wine Selections

Fume blanc is another name for sauvignon blanc. At one time, the difference in names supposedly reflected a difference in style. For the most part, today, that is not true. By either name, it's great wine to accompany crab, shrimp or prawns, scallops, oysters and mussels.

- 1994 Hogue Cellars Fume Blanc $7.50
- 1994 Pedroncelli Fume Blanc $7.50
- 1994 Bivi Sauvignon Blanc $9.50
- 1994 Dry Creek Vineyard Reserve Fume Blanc $14.50

Dynamite reds for lamb dishes, hearty soups, savory stews and winter comfort foods.

- 1993 Bonterra Cabernet Sauvignon $12. This is Fetzer Vineyards organically grown wine. Soft, well-managed tannins make it appealing for immediate drinking.
- 1993 Clos Pegase Cabernet Sauvignon $30
- 1992 Conn Creek Cabernet Sauvignon $18
- 1992 Conn Creek Anthology $50 – very Bordeaux-like. Good now, but will improve with at least five years cellaring.
- 1992 Hess Collection Cabernet Sauvignon $16.50. The first allocation of this wine literally blew out wine shop doors. Don't miss the second shipping of this fabulous wine.

Chateau DeBaun wines play a new tune

Celebrating its 10th anniversary this year, Chateau De Baun has been there, seen it, done it! If you've been interested in wines for some time, you may remember that at the get go this winery attempted to put the symphony grape variety on the California wine map. The orchestration played on one note, sparkling symphony, dry symphony and on through dessert symphony, all given a music-related proprietary name.

The lyrics never caught on, but owners Ken and Grace De Baun did. They were enchanted with symphony, but came to realize that their estate vineyards in the Russian River Valley could tantalize your palate better with chardonnay and pinot noir, wines that do sing their way into your heart. They've kept some acreage of symphony, are growing merlot and are trying their hand at nebbiolo, an Italian varietal.

Symphony is a muscat hybrid doveloped by University of California at Davis viticultural school. Stelle ($11) produced by Chateau De Baun is a versatile crowd pleaser made from symphony. It's one of its best renditions. In a uniquely shaped bottle, it has slight spritz, a touch of sweetness and can double as an aperitif wine with fruit and cheese or as a light dessert wine on its own. It's good palate mood music.

We're very attracted to the chardonnay and pinot noir from Chateau De Baun. These are grape varieties with a Burgundy heritage. If one traces the ancestry of the family name De Baun to its French roots, the translation is "from Beaune," the city at the heart of Burgundy. In fact, Ken De Baun traces his family history back to the 17th century in Burgundy. With chardonnay and pinot noir Chateau De Baun has found the right focus, a new orchestration and the concert production is very well priced.

The Russian River appellation is an ideal region for growing both chardonnay and pinot noir. At $11, the 1994 Estate Chardonnay comes across like a much higher-priced wine. Fragrant French oak, which is about 20 percent new, is showcased in the aroma and on the palate. Tropical fruit characters abound and the wine has superior fruit, oak and acid balance with a lengthy finish.

The 1993 Chateau De Baun Creekside Vineyard Chardonnay $20 is a step above, not only in price, but in quality. It's a no holds barred, 100 percent barrel-fermented, reserve-style wine that is a selection of 20 special barrels from a 130-barrel lot. The wine is big and rich without being over-oaked. The complex fruit profile shows through. It has limited availability at the retail level, but you might find it at some of our area's finest restaurants.

The 1993 Chateau De Baun Pinot Noir $11 also has restricted availability. But we've seen it stocked at the Red Wagon in Rochester,

Cookbook from Front

African-Americans wielded a great deal of power in the kitchens of many prominent homes in the south, they lived and cooked also throughout the north, east, and west, and also in the south as Creole and Cajun cooks and chefs," explains Paige.

By meeting cooks throughout history, readers get a flavor for what is called African-American cookery. Paige introduces "The Big House Cook," "The Field-hand Cook," and a variety of dishes prepared on plantations such as Fresh Corn Spoon Bread from Eleanore Ott's "Plantation Cookery of Old Louisiana," and "Hoe Cake," or Johnny cake, which was prepared by slaves in the field on plantations where they were not allowed to leave the field where they worked.

Paige also introduces the African-American train cook, trail cooks, chefs, hotel owners, restaurateurs, inventors, cookbook authors like Robert Roberts a free African-American who wrote "The House Servant's Directory," in 1827, and Thomas S. Bivins who wrote "The Southern Cookbook" in 1912.

A chapter of recipes is dedicated to special people including George Thomas Downing who owned the Sea Grit Hotel 1819-1903, George Washington Carver, "well noted for his outstanding research with peanuts from which he developed 300 products — many of which were used as food," and Lloyd Augustus Hall "an outstanding scientist and pioneer in the food chemistry industry."

As you thumb through the pages and meet the cooks Paige introduces, you'll learn that African-American Cookery is a lot of things. It's Sally Washington's Sweet Potato Pie, Baking Powder Biscuits, Banana Cake, Fried Chicken, Orange Pralline Toast, Fried Fruit Pies, Chuck Wagon Bean Soup, Apple Sauce Cake, Shrimp Creole Gumbo, Jambalaya, and "The Tallahassee Hush Puppy."

You can meet Paige this month at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn. He is participating in the museum's observance of February as Black History Month. Special weekend activities are planned at the museum through Feb. 25. Paige will be discussing the traditions of African-American cooking and preparing such classics as peanut soup, almond rice, smothered okra, bean salad, fried apple pies, and chicken Creole gumbo. His books will be available for purchase at the museum.

"African American Family Cookery" will also be available for purchase at a cooking demonstration at Southfield Public Library on Feb. 20.

Wine from Front

Northville Gourmet and on the wine list at Sebastian's in Troy. Cherry fruit abounds in a wine with the scents of rose petals and a finesseful, elegant finish. Tim Shippey, the winery's director of marketing and sales promised that the 1994 bottling will be available in wider distribution this spring. Watch for it. The barrel sample we tasted showed great promise. It will be priced at $12, but it's still a steal.

■ Gallo-Sonoma Single Vineyard Series has some impressive, just-released wines. "We've showcased Sonoma County as an excellent place to grow our grapes, but we firmly believe in the distinct differences among our Sonoma properties," Gallo's Carmen Castorina said. Can you taste the difference?

Try: Gallo-Sonoma 1994 Stefani Vineyard Chardonnay, Dry Creek Valley, $16 along side 1994 Laguna Ranch Vineyard Chardonnay, Russian River Valley, $16 and you'll understand Castorina's remark.

Also available in the series are 1993 Merlot (a three vineyard blend), $14, 1993 Frei Ranch Zinfandel, $13 and 1992 Frei Ranch Cabernet Sauvignon, $17. These are serious wines, that are flavorful and rich.

Visit Dori Sanders at her farm

Dori Sanders takes you to her farm on Route 321 in York County, South Carolina in "Dori Sanders' Country Cooking: Recipes and Stories from the Family Farm Stand," (Algonquin Books of Chapel Hill, 1995, $18.95).

Her book is part biography, part cookbook. Chapter by chapter, Sanders tells about her life — harking back to the time when she was the second-to-youngest of 10 children growing up on one of the oldest African-American owned farms in South Carolina.

The author of best-selling novels "Clover," and "Her Own Place," Sanders, and her family's roadside produce stand have been featured in such magazines as "Time," "Essence," and "People," and on CNN and CBS Sunday Morning.

In "Coutnry Cooking" Sanders includes a chapter about sweet potato planting, harvesting and oak-wood curing with recipes for sweet potatoes. Health-conscious cooks will learn her secrets for substituting fresh fruits and vegetables to add sweetness and moisture. Recipes include a chocolate zucchini cake.

Here are some recipes to try:

CHOCOLATE ZUCCHINI CAKE

- 4 ounces unsweetened chocolate
- 4 large eggs
- 3 cups sugar
- 1½ cups vegetable oil
- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 cups grated fresh zucchini
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 3 tablespoons confectioner's sugar (optional)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In a medium saucepan, over low heat, melt the chocolate, stirring frequently to avoid burning. Set aside to cool.

In a large bowl, beat the eggs until thick and light colored. Add the sugar, oil, and cool, melted chocolate and mix to combine.

In another large bowl, combine the flour, baking powder, salt and baking soda and mix well. Add to the wet ingredients in two batches, mixing well after each addition. Stir in the zucchini and pecans.

Pour the batter into a greased and floured tube pan and bake in the preheated oven for about 1 hour and 20 minutes or until the cake springs back with lightly touched and a knife inserted in the cake comes out clean. Cool cake in the pan on a wire rack for 10 minutes, then loosen edges and turn out on a rack to cool completely. Sprinkle top with confectioners' sugar, if desired, and serve. Serves 10-12.

SOUTHERN-STYLE CHICKEN AND DUMPLINGS

- 1 whole 4-pound chicken, cleaned and lightly rubbed with salt
- 2 onions, roughly chopped
- 2 stalks celery, roughly chopped
- 1 small sweet potato (you can substitute a carrot)
- 1 clove garlic, peeled
- 2 teaspoons ground white pepper
- 1 bay leaf

For the dumplings:

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ⅔ cup milk

In a large saucepan or stock pot, combine the whole chicken, 3 quarts water, and the onions, celery, sweet potato, garlic, salt, pepper, and pay leaf. Cover and and bring to a boil over medium-high heat. Reduce heat to low and simmer for about 2 hours or until chicken is very tender.

Remove chicken and drain well, setting stock aside.

When chicken is cook enough to handle, remove the skin and discard. Remove the meat from the bones, discard the bones, and set the meat aside.

Strain the stock and add water if necessary to make 3 quarts.

For the dumplings, sift together in a large bowl the flour, salt, and baking powder. Stir in the milk until just blended. Turn the dough out onto a floured surface and knead until firm. Cover and allow to stand at room temperature for 30 minutes.

Roll the dough out to a thickness of about ⅛-inch and cut into 1-inch by 3-inch strips. Allow to sit, uncovered for about 45 minutes so that when cooked they do not puff but stay flat like noodles.

Bring the strained stock to a boil over high heat. Add the dumplings a few at a time, bringing the stock back to a boil after each addition. Reduce heat to low, cover the pot, and simmer for 15 minutes. Stir in the chicken meat and serve. Serves 6-8.

Microwave cooks veggies quick

Microwave ovens are a great invention for cooks in a hurry, but they're a boon to health conscious chefs because they cook food rapidly with little or no added fat.

Microwaves are particularly good for preparing vegetables as very little water is used so fewer nutrients are lost in the cooking process. And the microwave cooks vegetables to a tender state without destroying their natural texture -- whether cooked whole, diced, sliced or julienne. It brings out the subtle aromas of the vegetables and retains their full, natural flavors.

Many vegetables will microcook in just two tablespoons of water, if covered and stirred at least once -- about halfway through the cooking time. Timing is critical. Here are some guidelines, in minutes, for cooking one cup (two servings) of some favorite vegetables (on high or full power setting).

Asparagus, cuts or spears, 3½ to 4; green or wax beans, cuts, 4 to 4½; onions, small whole, 2½ to 3; broccoli, cuts or spears, 3½ to 4; Brussels sprouts, 4 to 5 minutes.

Cauliflower florets, 3½ to 4; whole kernel corn, 2 to 2½; lima beans, 3½ to 4½; green peas, 1½ to 3; sliced carrots, 4 to 4½ minutes.

Harvest vegetable curry, a recipe from the American Institute for Cancer Research, is a colorful, flavorful main course vegetable dish you can make in your microwave and serve over hot couscous, bulgur or brown rice.

HARVEST VEGETABLE CURRY

2 carrots, sliced
2 cups peeled cubed squash
1 small yellow zucchini, cut in wedges
1 cup cooked garbanzo beans
2 cups broccoli florets
1 red onion, cut in wedges
1 sweet red pepper, cut in strips
1 tablespoon olive oil or vegetable oil
1 tablespoon curry powder
2 tablespoon minced ginger root
1 teaspoon cumin
3 cloves garlic, minced
½ teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes (optional)
½ cup chicken or vegetable stock or water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
3 cups hot cooked brown rice or couscous or bulgur
3 teaspoons chopped fresh coriander or parsley

Microwave the carrots, squash and zucchini together in a covered bowl on high for 6 minutes. Add the garbanzo beans and microwave for another minute. Microwave the broccoli, onion and sweet pepper together in a covered bowl on high for four minutes or until they are tender crisp.

Meanwhile, in a small saucepan, heat the oil over a medium heat and add the curry powder, ginger root, cumin, garlic and hot pepper flakes (if using). Cook for two minutes, stirring often. Add the stock and lemon juice and simmer, uncovered, for two minutes. Toss the vegetables with the sauce and serve over the hot rice, bulgur or couscous. Sprinkle with coriander or parsley.

Each of the six servings contains 263 calories and 4 grams of fat.

'Made over' vegetable side dishes low in fat not flavor

See Chef Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on front.

Here are some foods that I used to eat growing up that have been "made over" to a little lighter style. Don't feel guilty about leaving any on your plate!

SOUTH OF THE BORDER CORN

2 teaspoons margarine, melted
1 teaspoon minced fresh cilantro or parsley
½ teaspoon ground cumin
½ teaspoon sweet Hungarian paprika
Dash salt
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
3 cups of frozen corn kernels

Combine all ingredients in a non stick saucepan. Cover with a lid and heat over medium heat, stirring once for 5 minutes. Serves 6.

Each ½ cup serving is 75 calories. (2 gr. protein, 2 gr. fat, & 15.5 gr. carbohydrates, 0 cholesterol.

SWEET PEA SALAD

1½ cups cooked rice (cooked without salt or fat)
¾ cup frozen green peas, thawed
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup (1 ounce) shredded cheddar cheese
¼ cup reduced calorie mayonnaise
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

Combine all ingredients in a medium bowl and stir well to mix. Serves 6.

About 115 calories each serving. 3.3 gr. protein, 4.3 gr. fat, 15 gr. carbohydrates, 8 mg. cholesterol.

SNOW CAPPED BROCCOLI

1 (10 ounce) package frozen broccoli
1 egg white
½ teaspoon garlic powder
Pinch salt
2 tablespoons reduced calorie mayonnaise
1 teaspoon grated Parmesan or Romano cheese

Cook frozen broccoli according to package directions, omitting salt. Divide broccoli evenly among 4 individual baking dishes or custard cups. Beat egg white, garlic powder and pinch of salt at high speed with an electric mixer until stiff peaks form; fold in mayonnaise. Spoon egg white mixture evenly over the broccoli, spread all over the tops of the broccoli. Sprinkle evenly with cheese.

Bake at 400 degrees F. for 8 minutes or until lightly browned. Serves 4.

Each serving is about 45 calories per serving. 3 gr. protein, 2.5 gr. fat, 4 gr. carbohydrates, 4 mg. cholesterol.

Travolta stars in thriller

RICHARD FOREMAN/TWENTIETH CENTURY FOX

Thriller: John Travolta (left) as Vic Deakins and Christian Slater as Riley Hale are top Stealth bomber pilots — and close friends who are about to become engaged in a race against time and each other to recover a lost nuclear weapon in "Broken Arrow."

In a nondescript boxing ring, two fighters square off. Suddenly fists in boxing gloves rush at each other — and us — with explosive force in "Broken Arrow" opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters.

The intensity of the combatant's blows belies the fact that they are friends engaging in a spirited round of fisticuffs. Vic Deakins (John Travolta), the older and more experienced of the two is definitely in control, giving his young friend Riley Hale (Christian Slater) an impressive, if painful, boxing lesson.

In addition to having a mentor/protege relationship in the ring, Deakins and Hale are colleagues — crack military pilots who are about to be handed a choice assignment to fly the top secret B-3 Stealth bomber on a test run. Their cargo: two nuclear warheads.

Although anything but routine, the mission should go without incident. But a shocking treachery is about to put millions of lives at risk — as the timer on an incredible nuclear extortion plot ticks toward ground zero.

In an instant, the once close friends become engaged in an explosive battle against time and each other with the fate of a major American city at stake. In the air and on the ground, in planes, on tops of trains, and clinging to careening Humvees, theirs is a no-holds-barred race to recover a lost nuclear weapon — a broken arrow.

Breaking new ground in the full-throttle action-adventure field, director John Woo joins forces with John Travolta and Chris Slater to bring "Broken Arrow" to the screen.

Travolta's role as renegade pilot Vic Deakins represents a first for him — the chance to play a truly villainous figure.

"I think that audiences will have fun with the film and with Deakins," says the actor of his pilot-nuclear extortionist role. "They've never seen me be this kind of character. In 'Pulp Fiction,' I played a misguided bad guy; but Vic Deakins is definitely more in the tradition of real evil."

Deakins' colleague, and the first one to feel the consequences of his betrayal, is Riley Hale, portrayed by Christian Slater. With millions of lives hanging in the balance, the heroic young pilot must find new strength within himself to make a stand against his former mentor.

"Broken Arrow" also stars Samantha Mathis as Park Ranger Terry Carmichael, who teams with Hale to combat Deakins and his gang. "She gets involved in her worst nightmare" — the possible destruction of the pristine desert she patrols by nuclear terrorists. "It's everything that she's ever fought against," said Mathis.

Figuring prominently in Carmichael's predicament is 'Kelly,' played by football legend Howie Long. Making his motion picture debut as the physically foreboding military officer, Long took on the role during a hiatus from his duties as key analyst on "Fox NFL Sunday."

The film's cast is rounded out by Delroy Lindo, Frank Whaley, and Bob Gunton. Key roles are also taken by Kurtwood Smith, Vondie Curtis Hall, and Jack Thompson.

"I don't know what's scarier," says a character in "Broken Arrow." "The fact that there are missing nuclear weapons, or that it happens so often that there's actually a term for it."

The phrase "broken arrow" is

military parlance for a lost nuclear device. "There have been several," explains Christopher Godsick, executive producer. "For instance, in 1989, a nuclear submarine — with two warheads above — sank 300 miles off the coast of Norway, and was never recovered by the Navy. Also, nuclear missiles were never retrieved from a B-1 bomber that crashed in the Mediterranean. So our story is not as far-fetched as you might think."

Such real-life incidents provided the inspiration for screenwriter Graham Yost, who came across the unusual term from a source who informed him of yet another situation — a bomber and its nuclear cargo were lost in the Sea of Japan for several years before they could be retrieved. The possibilities of additional recent incidents were also hinted at.

The story presented some intriguing questions: could an active nuclear weapon ever be pilfered from this country's arsenal? If so, how? and more important, by whom?

While such timely and serious issues are always present, Yost's primary goal, was to give audiences an incredible ride.

Friends face the big '30' in comedy, drama

PREVIEW

Set in the small fictional town of Knight's Ridge, Mass. during a snowy winter, "Beautiful Girls," a Ted Demme film, opening at metro Detroit movie theaters Friday, depicts a group of lifelong buddies who hand out, drink and struggle to connect with the women who affect their decisions, dreams and desires. Weaving in and out of their everyday lives, "Beautiful Girls" explores the manners in which men perceive and wrestle with their feelings about women.

At Stanley "Stinky" Womack's (Pruitt Taylor Vince) bar and Gina Barrisano's (Rosie O'Donnell) beauty salon, the men and women of Knight's Ridge grapple with the joy and frustration of turning 30.

"These people are real," said Demme. "I mean Scott (Rosenberg) wrote really great characters. I'm hoping that audiences are going to either realize that they're one of the guys or girls or that they know one of the guys or girls."

Tommy "Birdman" Rowland (Matt Dillon) and Kev (Max Perlich), his sidekick, plow snow for a living. A former campus stud, Tommy peaked in high school. As an adult, he continues to harbor feelings for his ex-girlfriend Darian Smalls (Lauren Holly), who married well and returns to town with her yuppie husband and young daughter. Tommy's attraction to Darian complicates his relationship with current lover Sharon Cassidy (Mira Sorvino).

Paul Kirkwood (Michael Rapaport) lives with Birdman and also plows snow. Inexorably drawn to supermodels and the "ideal" woman, he refuses to commit to Jan (Martha Plimpton), his girlfriend of seven years. Consequently, Jan begins dating a 40-year-old butcher, who serves only to feed Paul's overwhelming bravado.

Michael "Mo" Morris (Noah Emmerich), the lone married man of the group enjoys a normal family life with his high school sweetheart and two kids. He looks forward to the arrival of Willie Conway (Timothy Hutton), who returns to town for a high school reunion.

Traveling from New York where he works the piano bar circuit, Willie is at a crossroads in his life. Although he lives with sharp attorney Tracy Stover (Annabeth Gish), Willie cannot commit to the relationship. And the self-imposed pressure to accept a sales job and settle down motivates him to come home.

In Knight's Ridge, he meets Marty (Uma Thurman), Stinky's cousin from Chicago and Marty (Natalie Portman), a 13-year-old "heartbreaker-in-training." Both of these smart, funny and genuine women compel Willie to reassess the the value of his life and relationship with Tracy.

"Beautiful Girls" is a Miramax Film Corp. release.

Dentistry in the 90s

LIKE PARENT, LIKE CHILD?

A recent North Carolina State University study helps dispel the notion that children become anxious dental patients as a response to their parents' own anxiety. Now, parents can relax, say researchers. Observation of 45 3-year-olds undergoing dental treatment and interviews with both the children and their parents reveals that stressed parents only respond to the kids' anxiety, they do not create it. Thus, parents can relax and allow the dental team to create a trusting and relaxing office atmosphere which helps ensure that children will get through their appointments without too much fuss. As added proof, researchers found that children of parents who saw a relaxing informational video about dentistry before their dental visits responded to treatment much as children of parents who did not see the stress-relieving video. This shows that a child's personality plays a bigger role than parental attitude when it comes to office visits.

During February, "National Children's Dental Health Month," we would like to increase dental awareness and stress the importance of regular dental health care. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we're currently accepting new patients. Please call 478-2110 to schedule a convenient appointment. We stress preventive health care for the entire family. CC regains Observerland crown

■ Redford Catholic Central won the Fifth-Annual Observerland Wrestling Tournament, ending Livonia Stevenson's two-year reign.

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Redford Catholic Central is the king of area wrestling teams again after winning the Fifth Annual Observerland Tournament.

The Shamrocks racked up 250 points Saturday to dethrone two-time defending champion Livonia Stevenson, the runner-up with 192.

Plymouth Salem was third (162), host Garden City fourth (149) and Farmington fifth (138).

It was the second title for the Shamrocks, who also won in 1993. CC sent six wrestlers to the finals and produced five winners.

"We came out pinning in the first two rounds," CC coach Mike Rodriguez said. "We had some disappointments along the way, but we made up for it with some falls in the finals."

A pair of seniors — CC heavyweight John Spolsky and Farmington's 112-pound Matt Michalski — became three-time champions.

Spolsky, the most valuable wrestler in the upper weights, wasn't overly impressed by his achievement.

"It's only been around five years," he said. "I didn't even think of that. It's just another tournament. These things run together sometimes."

Spolsky had one of three CC pins in the finals, stopping Garden City's George Palmer in the first period.

"I swung him down and got around him," he said. "I think I caught him leaning into me. I worked on his arm and he went over. Things just happened for me."

Michalski, who won at 100 pounds last year, also repeated with a fall, pinning CC's Mike Zelenock midway in the third period.

Spolsky and Michalski were among 10 top seeds who held their place and won titles.

The others were CC's Dave O'Hara (103) and Dave Gardner (135), Stevenson's Dave Falzon (125) and Nick Petryk (140), Livonia Churchill's Chris Seder (160) and Eugene Barbu (189), Westland John Glenn's Tim Reeves (171) and Garden City's Aaron Smitt (215).

Smitt won a 7-0 decision in the final but received the award for most pins (three) in the shortest amount of time (5:22).

Reeves might be the next three-time winner. He is the second members of his family to win an Observerland title, following in older brother Mike's footsteps.

"It would be kinda nice to make a run at his two state championships, too," Reeves said.

CC senior Dario Ianni (119) became a two-time champion, having won at 106 last year, and Wayne Memorial junior Rich Watson (130) was named the most valuable wrestler in the lower weights.

Both were No. 2 seeds and beat the top seeds in the finals. Both had a goal to avenge early-season losses in those bouts.

After three straight pins, Ianni defeated Salem's Eric Coburn 3-1 in overtime, and Watson, who lost 3-0 to Dan Christenson of Stevenson in the first tournament of the season, won the rematch 7-5.

"It didn't matter if I saw (Coburn) in the finals; I just wanted to beat him," Ianni said. "He's improved a lot this year, too. I just wanted to go out and wrestle well."

Garden City's Jim Stewart (145) and CC's Dave Garcia (152) overcame low seeds to win. Stewart advanced to the finals when No. 1 Tye Golden of Glenn withdrew from the semis because of illness, and he defeated fifth-seed Tom Keeling of Plymouth Canton for the title.

Stevenson caught a bad break when Mike Allison was disqualified in the 171 semifinals for allegedly biting the thumb of Salem's Teono Wilson.

Allison was in position to pin when Wilson, reaching to push Allison's head away, got his thumb stuck in Allison's mouth.

The Spartans lost at least 13 points when Allison was DQed and would have been in first place going into the finals if he had continued.

As it turned out, it had no bearing on the final outcome. Any additional points Allison would have provided wouldn't have enabled Stevenson to catch CC.

"They were still 40 points better," Stevenson coach Don Berg said of the Shamrocks. "Their kids wrestled well and scored better. We didn't beat any of them head up.

"To score 192 points with 12 wrestlers, I think is pretty decent. I'm disappointed we're not three-time champs, but after losing nine kids from last year and finishing second here I have plenty to be smiling about."

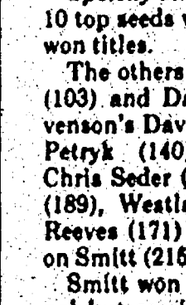
Henry reaches 300 milestone in win

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK
STAFF WRITER

Coach Charles Henry knew back in seventh grade where he was going. He just couldn't guess how far.



Henry

Junior Lorenzo Guess scored 22 points Friday night to ease highly regarded Wayne Memorial past Romulus, 66-61, and hand Henry his 300th victory coaching a boys high school basketball team.

"I told my guys that all that means is you've been around long enough," Henry said, "and had good players. I've been fortunate at Wayne to have had some pretty good players.

"It's a blessing to have good players."

For some, yes, but for others, a curse. Because you're expected to do something with them — and not everybody can.

Henry has good players again this year. But he's also done well with material not so blessed, which is why he's at 300 with such state luminaries as Lofton Greene, Paul Cook, Sam and Lefty Franz and Bernie Holowicki, among others.

He's coached at Wayne the past 19 seasons, as well as spending five at Dearborn Divine Child and a season at Walled Lake Western. He's spent his entire coaching career at Wayne.

He might be back in the 200s, though, were it not for the presence of Lorenzo Guess, a tremendous athlete with the court presence only the greats possess.

The most impressive facet of Guess's game, though, is what he does when he doesn't have the ball.

Item: Clifford Stewart scored 32 points for Romulus — yet Guess almost completely shut him down.

Stewart rained in an assortment of short shots from the paint in the first quarter, scoring 11 of the 14 points Romulus recorded in taking a 14-13 lead.

At the end of the period, Henry made an adjustment. Guess what?

More precisely: Guess who? Lorenzo Guess was assigned Stewart to guard and he denied him the ball, blocked what few shots he did get off and held Romulus' leading scorer to two second-quarter points as the Zebras took a 33-27 halftime lead.

Stewart scored six points in the third period, which ended with Wayne holding a 46-39 lead, but four came in transition. Stewart had a 13-point final period but Guess was assigned someone else after getting his fourth foul with 4:11 to play. Stewart had 11 points after that.

"If you need him to guard a point guard, he guards a point guard," Henry said. "If you need him to guard a post player, he guards a post player. That's athleticism. He's the best athlete I've ever coached."

Wayne built its lead to 55-41 with 4:28 to play and 57-45 with 3:29 left before nearly frittering it away. Two Guess layups off screens or give-and-go plays cemented the decision in the

Rocket power

Jarrett fuels John Glenn victory

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

■ BASKETBALL

Westland John Glenn's David Jarrett pulled out his slingshot Friday to slay Walled Lake Central in battle of Western Lake Activities Association giants.

The 6-foot-3 junior forward scored a game-high 24 points, added 13 rebounds and had six steals, to put the Rockets all alone in first place in the WLAA. Glenn, which has won eight of its last nine, is now 9-3 overall and 7-0 in the Western Lakes.

Central, meanwhile, now has an uphill climb for the league's top seed. The Vikings fall to 11-3 overall and 5-2 in the WLAA.

Glenn can put itself in the driver's seat with a win Tuesday at home against Plymouth Canton (12-1, 6-1).

"There are still some good teams on our schedule," cautioned Glenn coach Mike Schuette. "We put ourselves in good position in our division (the Lakes), but then we have the playoffs."

Jarrett was in playoff form.

His only real mistakes of the night came on a pair of missed dunks, but a total of four isn't bad.

Senior guard Albert Jones also played bigger than his 6-1 frame, chipping in with 19 points, including two slams.

But Jarrett's play was Goliath-like.

He was also the safety valve, flashing to the middle of the floor to receive passes from Jones and John Albrecht, as the Rockets were able to continually shred Central's vaunted full-court trapping press.

"I knew this was a big game and this game would get us ready for the rest of the season," Jarrett said. "We're a good running team and things just opened up. We played hard tonight.

"Their guards trapped better in the second half, but our guys are good dribblers and they just dumped the ball off to me in the middle."

Jarrett didn't back off from his aggressive defensive play despite missing two slams.

"Coach Schuette told me don't dunk for the crowd, just play my game," he said.

Despite nine first-quarter turnovers, Central held an 18-14 lead, but Glenn began to take control in the second period, going on a 21-11 run to take a 35-29 advantage at intermission.

"I felt we had to do some things in the first half, but we didn't get them accomplished," Central coach Steve Emert said. "We turned the ball over after rebounds and out-letted the ball too quickly."

Although the Vikings outscored Glenn three out of four periods, they never could gain the lead in the second half.

The Rockets were up five after three quarters, 49-45, and could never get closer than the final margin.

John Becher, Glenn's 6-foot-5 center, who finished with nine points, made three of four free throws to keep Central at bay in the final period. A dunk by Jones with 1:42 left put Glenn up by nine and any chance of a Central comeback was thwarted by an intentional foul with just under a minute to go.

"It's a tough loss," Emert said. "We had opportunities to win the ballgame. I thought our kids played through a lot of adversity. They played hard."

Three Central players scored in double figures — Kevin Lynch (23), Jason Whalen (14) and Todd Negoshian (10).

Glenn played virtually error-free over the final three quarters. The Rockets had just 14 turnovers to Central's 18.

"We probably had a lot of turnovers early in the game," Schuette said. "This year Central is quicker than they've been in the past. They play a 2-2-1 trap. They allow the ball to be entered and then they come at you. Tonight it just happened for us. It's what you work on in practice and just hope it happens."

Besides the contributions from Jarrett, Jones and Becher, the Rockets got eight points off the bench from Anthony Greco. De'Korey Albright also made his presence known with six rebounds, four points and three blocks.

"And I thought John Albrecht had a great game," Schuette said. "He did a great job against their point guard (Negoshian), forcing him to go to his left. John doesn't have to score to have a great game."

The Rockets made 28 of 63 shots from the floor (44.4 percent), while Central was 24 of 53 (45.2). Both teams were eight of 13 from the line.

"We took some shots we didn't want to take," Emert said. "I think we're as quick as Glenn. They they have great athletes."

One athlete in particular was Jarrett, who made several acrobatic plays.

"David's had a couple of games where he's stepped up," Schuette said.

Kiehler sparks Churchill; Spartans rip Andover, 8-1

Livonia Churchill continued its stranglehold on first place in the Suburban High School Hockey League with a 5-3 victory Thursday over host Birmingham United at the Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Ice Arena.

Churchill, which moved into the No. 9 spot in the state Class A rankings, is 14-3 overall and 9-1 in the SHSHL.

Chris Kiehler's unassisted breakaway goal with 3:16 left sealed the victory for the Chargers. He finished the night with a hat trick.

"Our (eight) penalty killers did a nice job," Churchill coach Jeff Hatley said. "We kept our composure when things heated up and it helped us win the game."

Churchill led 2-0 after one period.

Kiehler opened the scoring from Matt Wysocki and Ed Rossetto.

Mike Boote added the second goal from Anton Sutovsky and Kyle Dawley.

Rossetto made it 3-0 in the second period from Higham and Kiehler, but Birmingham's Zack Kadro scored with 22 seconds left to cut the deficit to 3-1 entering the third.

Just 45 seconds into the third, Kiehler gave Churchill a three-goal cushion again from Higham and Wysocki, but Juan Trevino and Mike Patton added goals for United to make it a one-goal game before Kiehler iced it with his third of the night.

On Wednesday, Wysocki scored just seven seconds into the game as Churchill buried Bloomfield Hills Lahser at Livonia's Edgar Arena, 17-1.

Churchill, which outshot the Barons 56-18, scored five times in the opening period and 10 in the second.

Hatley praised his "Pink Line," led by Brian Haverkate, Geoff Cutsy and Matt Grant. Defenseman Kevin Samelko also stood out, along with goaltender Mark Felker, who collected three assists.

■ STEVENSON 8, ANDOVER 1: Kyle McNeilance pumped in four goals and added one assist Friday, leading Livonia Stevenson to a convincing SHSHL win over North Division champion Bloomfield Hills Andover at Edgar Arena.

Stevenson is now 9-2 in the league and 12-7 overall.

"Andover is a good team, but we were determined not to lose," Stevenson coach Mike Harris said. "It was a good team effort.

"We can control our own destiny if we win the next two (against crosstown rivals Livonia Franklin and Churchill)."

Andy Domzalski, Ted Marolla, Brian Calka and Nick McCormack also tallied goals for the Spartans, who were outshot the Barons, 28-26.

Brad Zapalowski and Mike Schmidt each collected a pair of assists, while Domzalski and Calka contributed one apiece.

Stevenson led 5-1 after one period and 6-1 after 30 minutes.

Ron Tackett was in goal during the first two periods for the Spartans, while Jordan McCormack finished up in the third.

On Wednesday, Stevenson turned back host Royal Oak, 4-2, as Calka tallied the game-winner at 12:35 of the third period, an unassisted effort to break a 2-all deadlock. McCormack's empty-netter from McNeilance with 39 seconds to play iced the victory for the Spartans, now 8-2 in the SHSHL and 11-7 overall.

It was 1-1 after one period — Kevin Ayers scored for Royal Oak at 12:39, but McNeilance answered 22 seconds later (from McCormack).

Scott Fuelling's goal at 3:11 gave Royal Oak a 2-1 advantage, but Schmidt tied it at 2-2 on an assist from Domzalski.

It was a real nail-biter and fortunately we got good goaltending from Jordan McCormack," Harris said. "Royal Oak is a big, young, fast team."

■ FRANKLIN 2, DEXTER 2: Livonia Franklin (8-3-4 overall) and the visiting Dreadnaughts battled to a draw in a non-leaguer Wednesday at Edgar Arena.

Greg Job's goal from Kevin Bernard at 7:34 of the final period gave the Patriots the tie.

Ed Kruschka tallied Franklin's first goal from Job and Bernard at 12:00 of the first period.

Chris Marr and Craig Gardner scored goals for Dexter.

Franklin outshot the Dreadnaughts, 29-23, as Phil Brady and Tom Taylor split time in the Franklin nets, each allowing one goal.

■ REDFORD CC 4, WYANDOTTE 3: Redford Catholic Central rallied from a 2-0 deficit in the second period Wednesday and beat host Wyandotte Roosevelt in a Michigan Metro High School League game.

Scott Huffman scored a first-period goal and teammate Steve Mauritho scored in the second period to stake Roosevelt to a two-goal lead.

The Shamrocks, 9-2-2 overall, and 8-1-1 in the Metro, didn't get on the scoreboard until 14:22 of the second period when senior forward Mark Wollschlager scored on an assist from Tony Spezia.

CC tied the score at 2-2 with a goal by Matt Van Heest, assisted by Nick Lewarne, at 3:27 of the third period and took the lead for good when senior Matt Giordano scored unassisted at 6:24.

Wollschlager's second goal of the night from Murphy on a power play at 9:25 of the third period gave the Shamrocks some insurance.

CC needed it because Roosevelt wasn't through, scoring at 13:04 on a power play goal by Bob Farrell.

Paul Mickel assisted on all three goals for the Bears.

"It was kind of an ugly game and not a well-disciplined game, not in terms of penalties, in terms of playing hockey," CC coach Gordie St. John said.

CC outshot the Bears, 20-15. The Shamrocks' goaltender was Rickey Marnon.

Stevenson, Trojans prevail

By now, everyone believes Plymouth Salem basketball coach Bob Brodie and his pre-season predictions regarding his team's dire straits.

"I said it would be rough from the start," Brodie said after his team absorbed a 52-47 setback, courtesy of visiting Livonia Stevenson. "Right now, it's looking bleak, but there's a lot of games to go yet. We'll see what unfolds."

Salem has always been among the contenders for the WLAA title, until this year. The loss to Stevenson was the Rocks' fifth in a row, all in WLAA play; they are 5-8 overall, 2-5 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

For the Spartans, who are now 6-6 overall and 3-4 in the WLAA, it was their second-straight strong performance following two controversial losses, both tied to the suspension of Jim Balow.

The final score indicated a close contest. It wasn't; the Spartans jumped all over Salem from the start, rolling to a 16-2 lead after one quarter behind six points apiece from Matt Quinter and Erick Giovannini. Quinter finished with 16, Giovannini with 13.

The Rocks did not seriously threaten until the fourth quarter, and then they never drew closer than the final margin. Andres Lopez topped Salem with 15 points; Ryan Andrzejewski had 12.

"We haven't been shooting the ball very well," said Brodie. They certainly didn't against Stevenson, making just 3-of-23 three-pointers (13 percent) and 6-of-11 free throws (55 percent).

■ CLARENCEVILLE 67, LIGGETT 62: A strong third quarter helped Livonia Clarenceville end a three-game losing skid Friday at Grosse Pointe University-Liggett.

The victory evened the Trojans' record at 6-6 overall, 3-3 in the Metro Conference. University Liggett fell to 3-9 overall, 2-5 in the Metro.

Four Trojans reached double figures in scoring: Joe Hernandez (14), Donahue Fulton (13, with six boards and three steals), Jason Merritt (12, with 16 rebounds) and Scott Barnhard (11). Joel Parrott topped the Knights with 19 points, including five three pointers.

■ ROUNDUP

Clarenceville trailed 27-23 at the half, but went to a smothering press in the third quarter that resulted in a 27-10 surge. Fulton had 11 points in the period.

"We put on a diamond press in the third quarter and they couldn't handle it," Trojan coach Rick Larson said. "We just came off three disappointing losses — it feels good to get back on the winning track."

University-Liggett rallied in the final quarter, closing to 65-62 with 1:15 left, but free single throws by Barnhard and Hernandez kept the Trojans in control.

■ DeLASALLE 58, REDFORD CC 52: Redford Catholic Central dropped out of first place in the Catholic League's Central Division for the first time this season after Friday's 58-52 loss at Warren DeLaSalle.

The Pilots broke open a 40-40 deadlock after three quarters by outscoring the Shamrocks 18-12 in the final quarter. DeLaSalle converted 10-of-14 free throws in the quarter (12-of-16 for the game).

CC dropped to 11-2 overall and 6-2 in the Catholic League — one game behind Redford Bishop Borgess. It was DeLaSalle's first win in the league this season after seven losses. The Pilots improved to 4-10 overall.

"(Not winning a league game) is what scared me about DeLaSalle," CC coach Rick Coratti said. "They're much better than their record.

"They played aggressive defense on us and controlled the tempo of the game. Their possessions lasted between 30 to 40 seconds. It's back to the drawing board."

Senior guard Chris Misiak led all scorers with 20 points (three triples). Marc McDonald added 14 points. Eric Gilbo and Richard Turk chipped in with six apiece.

Mark Kempa's 12 points paced the Pilots. Vince Thomas and Mike Jolet added 13 and 10 points, respectively.

■ W.L. WESTERN 63, CHURCHILL 56: Host Walled Lake Western took the early lead and made it stand up Friday against Livonia Churchill, thanks to some excellent free throw shooting.

Western led 22-7 after one quarter and 45-31 going into the final quarter, but those foul shots . . .

"They just wouldn't miss their free throws," said Churchill coach Tom Lang, his team now 4-9 overall and 2-5 in the WLAA. "That was the difference, because we actually outscored them from the field."

The Warriors got 23 points from Mike Massey, 11 from Dave Kaznecki and 10 from Mike Whiting. Churchill was led by Kevin Renaud with 13, Shawn Woloszyn with 12 and Allen Polanski with 10.

Western made 23-of-25 free throws; the Chargers were 8-of-14.

■ NORTHVILLE 48, FRANKLIN 45: The Mustangs collected their third straight league win, but it didn't come easily Friday at Livonia Franklin.

The Patriots (2-10 overall, 1-6 in the WLAA) had two shots at the game's end to tie it, but failed to convert. They never led in the second half.

Matt Bauman turned in a strong game with 24 points and eight blocked shots. But no one else added much offensively; next highest scorer was Mike Klisz with six.

Mark Sander had 25 for Northville (9-4 overall, 4-3 in the league); Mark Szostek netted 14.

Franklin trailed 12-4 after one quarter and 23-20 at the half. The deficit grew to 41-33 after three quarters.

"We came out and went after it tonight," said Franklin coach Larry Jackson. "We rewarded with everything but the win."

■ HAMTRAMCK 78, LUTH. WESTLAND 43: Don Dzon scored 19 points and Dennis Foster 18 as the host Cosmos outscored the Warriors, 48-14, in the middle two periods.

"In the second quarter we didn't execute our offense and in the third their press got to us," Lutheran High Westland coach Scott Wiemer said. "We made too many turnovers. They played a good pressure defense and we wilted."

It also hurt making just 4-of-18 free throws. Joe Pruchnik scored 17 points and had eight rebounds for Lutheran Westland, now 6-6 overall and 3-3 in the Metro Conference.

Hamtramck leads the Metro with a 7-0 record contained in a 9-3 season.

■ FRANKLIN ROAD 69, HURON VALLEY 42: Michigan Independent Athletic Conference leader Southfield Franklin Road Christian, 3-0 in the league and 7-6 overall, had an 18-6 third quarter advantage and went 27-15 in the fourth to doom Westland Huron Valley Lutheran's comeback hopes.

Scott Ohlsson scored 20 points and Jeremy Zahn added 13 for Huron Valley, 6-8 overall and 3-3 in the league.

Graylon Prophet scored 15 points and Brad Leach 11 for the home team.

final two minutes.

Rodney Hurst and Jameel Wooden scored 13 apiece to back Guess, who also had five assists and three steals. Sophomore Brandon DeYampert scored 13 for the Eagles, who were watched by former Romulus star Terry Mills.

Wayne is now 12-2 overall and 7-0 in the Mega Red while Romulus slipped to 7-6, 2-5 in the conference.

Henry knew as a seventh-grader in the Riverview school system what he wanted to do with his life. His English teacher assigned him a paper on just that subject.

"I wrote I wanted to be a high school basketball coach and a physical education teacher," he said. "That's just what I am ... and I love it very much."

Henry's associates at Riverview haven't done badly, either. Lloyd Carr is now head football coach at Michigan while Bill McCartney ("Who stood up at my wedding") had a decent career at the high school and collegiate levels.

His high school coach, Pat Ankney, was also a big influence as well as Jim Schulte, head coach at Divine Child while Henry was JV coach.

Is Henry having the same kind of influence on his subjects? Another decade should tell, but a good guess is that he is.

Henry Ford upends SC

■ COLLEGES

Glen Donahue continues to believe.

The veteran coach, in his first year at Schoolcraft College, should recognize quality when he sees it. And while he doesn't put his Ocelot basketball team in the same group as Mott CC or Owens Tech, he does believe they are a good team.

It's just that they fail to show it for an entire game.

Wednesday's encounter at Henry Ford CC was another example of what a few bad minutes can cost a team in a season full of them for SC. The Ocelots jumped on top at the start, leading 36-20 with 7:43 left in the first half. And when the Hawks mounted a rally, SC weathered it; Henry Ford CC still trailed 46-33 at the half.

But two bad second-half streaks ruined the Ocelots. They went scoreless for the first 4:41 of the second half, then had just one basket in the final 4:28 — all of which added up to another defeat, this one by a 76-70 margin.

It was SC's 14th in 20 games this season. The Ocelots are 1-7 in the MCCAA's Eastern Conference. Henry Ford CC improved to 4-5 in the conference, 9-8 overall.

"We get to the point where we start to think we can win one, and we start playing not to lose," said Donahue. "And we make just enough mistakes . . . We haven't figured out how to win.

"We're not going to give up. We have enough talent that we can play with anyone."

SC's quick start was led by Dave Pavlak, who nailed four first-half three-pointers and scored 14 points. What Pavlak missed, Rudy Hatfield (from Livonia Churchill) cleaned up; Hatfield scored 13 points in the game, eight in the first half, and grabbed 10 rebounds, six of them offensive.

Jason Maschke (Livonia Franklin) also chipped in with nine first-half points. A nine-point Hawk run kept the game close in the opening half, but SC was still in control, 46-33.

Despite his team's strong opening half, Donahue hardly appeared assured of victory prior to the second-half tip-off. He was right; behind seven points from Matt Paupore (Plymouth Canton), the Hawks ran off 13 consecutive points to tie it at 46-all with 15:52 remaining.

SC did not surrender, but neither team gained much of an advantage the rest of the way — the gap was never more than five until Henry Ford CC scored nine in a row in a span of 4:40 that made it 72-65 with 15 seconds remaining.

Paupore's 23 points paced the Hawks. Dan McKian (Plymouth Salem) had 16 and eight rebounds.

Pavlak had 19, Maschke 15 and Tim Burns 10 for SC.

■ SPRING ARBOR 89, MADONNA 84: The Fighting Crusaders ran out of gas in the second half Thursday and lost at Spring Arbor.

The defeat left Madonna with a 6-19 record.

Christian Emert contributed one of his best games, leading Madonna with 25 points on 10-of-13 floor shooting, including 4-of-6 on three-pointers. He also had seven assists and three steals.

Jeff Kennedy totaled 18 points, with 10 rebounds and seven assists; Dan Perttula (Redford Thurston) had 14 points, seven boards and three steals; and both Mike Maryanski and Mike Miller scored 11 points, Miller getting eight boards and Maryanski seven. Miller also had five assists, while Maryanski blocked three shots.

For Spring Arbor, former Schoolcraft player Todd McNeil had a team-high 24 points.

The Crusaders led 40-33 at the half, but were done in by turnovers (24 to the Cougars' 15) and free throws. Madonna was 5-of-11 (45.5 percent) at the line; Spring Arbor was 27-of-36 (75 percent).

Lady Ocelots take 1st

What more could a coach ask for?

Well, perfection is nice. But for now, the performance of Schoolcraft College's women's basketball team is good enough for coach Ed Kavanaugh.

The Lady Ocelots put together a strong second half to pull away from Henry Ford CC, 73-54 Wednesday at Henry Ford. The victory gave SC a 15-6 overall record and a 5-2 mark in the MCCAA's Eastern Conference — and, for the moment, first place. Henry Ford CC is 5-3 in the conference.

Julie Schmidt and Sheilah Coulter led the Ocelots with 17 points apiece, Schmidt grabbing 13 rebounds. Becky Billicki added 12 points. The Lady Hawks got 14 points from JoAnn McComb and 10 from Erica Anderson (from Plymouth Canton).

The game turned completely around in the second half. Tied at 29-all, SC outscored Henry Ford CC 18-7 in the first 8¼ minutes and 44-25 in the second half to win going away.

"They really didn't know what to do on offense," said Kavanaugh. "We just made up our mind to play (in the second half), that's all."

Which summarizes what the Ocelots have done in their last five conference games — all wins — after starting 1-2. "At the beginning of the season, we came out 1-2 (one of the losses to Henry Ford CC) in the league," said Kavanaugh. "We could have quit right there, but we didn't."

The Ocelots host Delta CC, another title contender, in another key conference match at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Blazer victory costly

Livonia Ladywood's 15-4, 15-11 girls volleyball victory on Thursday against host Birmingham Marian didn't come without a cost.

The Blazers played half of the first game and the entire second game without junior starter Kristen Dause, who had to be helped off the court after suffering a serious injury to her right knee.

The prospects of her returning this season didn't look good, coach Tom Teeters said Thursday night.

"She took off on her left foot, landed on her left foot, planted her right, tried to pivot and her right foot never moved," Ladywood coach Tom Teeters said. "The fear is her sister and brother have gone through that same problem. It seems to run in the family."

Ladywood is 24-5 overall and 4-0 in the Catholic League Central Division.

Despite the loss of Dause, the Blazers remain on track for a fifth-straight Central Division title.

Senior Erin LeSage led the Blazers with eight kills and two aces. Senior Stacey Judd had six kills, while junior Nicole Vondracek added two kills and four aces and senior Shannon Swish contributed two aces.

Chargers win again

Livonia Churchill improved to 15-3 overall and 4-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association with a 15-9, 15-13, 13-15, 15-12 triumph Wednesday at Farmington.

Kelly Ashworth paced the victorious Chargers with 18 kills. Lori Leszczynski added six.

Tina Naif had 19 digs, while Jenelle Mazaris served 11 points.

Churchill coach Mike Hughes also praised the play of setter Kerri Verardi.

■ VOLLEYBALL

Stevenson falters

On Wednesday, host Northville came away with a 13-15, 15-5, 15-8, 15-3 WLAA victory over Livonia Stevenson.

The loss drops the Spartans to 9-9-7 overall and 2-4 in the Western Lakes.

Patriots defeated

Earlier in the week, Livonia Franklin lost at Farmington Hills Harrison, 17-15, 15-3, 15-11 despite 12 assists, three ace serves and nine digs from setter Randi Wolfe.

In the University of Michigan-Dearborn Tournament (Jan. 27), Franklin reached the elimination round after finishing second in pool play.

Senior captain Melissa Wolvin led the Patriots with 26 points, seven aces, 31 digs, five solo blocks and 7 assist-blocks.

Amanda Ricotta added 17 service receptions to go along with 23 digs and four kills. Janell Fisher chipped in with four kills, 10 assists and 11 digs.

Huron Valley falls

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran is still searching for its first victory in five years.

On Thursday, the host Hawks lost to Southfield Franklin Road Christian, 15-9, 15-11.

Senior Michelle Ruth and freshman Stephanie Graves each recorded two kills for Huron Valley, now 0-3 on the year.

Senior Nikki Kightlinger went seven-for-seven serving, including two aces. Becky Haddad went eight-for-10, including three aces.

Pumped-up Bonneville SE builds on excitement

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

Here's a full-size sedan that acts more like a high-end sporty two-seater. The kind that flies around corners with the ease, agility and purposefulness of a broken-field runner bolting for a touchdown.

The 1996 Pontiac Bonneville has all that grace and speed and even more muscle than you'd expect. Pontiac Division has always marketed its products as fun-to-drive performance-driven import fighters. That mission hasn't been forgotten in this year's Bonneville SE.

One of my husband's fondest memories as a child is that of his father returning home in his brand new Bonneville, a bright red 1964 model. I'm told he glided into his driveway in this huge convertible at the end of a long day at work wearing not much more than his sunglasses and a smile. He loved his glistening Bonneville so much that his wife was forbidden to drive it.

Although that wouldn't happen today, I can see why a guy would thirst for a car like that. Especially one as boldly styled and as beautiful as the 1996 Bonneville. From its tough-looking front fascia to the striking rear deck and spoiler, the car just oozes power and prowess.

Thanks to the addition of an optional new supercharged 3800 Series II V-6 engine, the power realized is a whopping 240 horsepower — 15 more horses than last year's engine. This car moves when you want it to — at a light, at a stop, during heavy cornering and when you need to get on that freeway fast. It handles the Autobahn speeds of I-696 in Detroit's northern suburbs quite well, thank you very much.

The standard powerplant of the supercharged 3800 is a normally aspirated version that produces 205 horsepower. With that engine you'll see fuel economy never before seen on Bonneville: 19 mpg in the city and 30 mpg on the highway. Opt for the supercharged version. It'll give you more bang for your buck.

There's a new exterior on the Bonneville, although it's not so drastic that it looks totally different. Pontiac knows it shouldn't fix something that's not broken, so it just updated the car this year to improve its look.

Enhancements for 1996 include new front and rear fascias, grilles, headlamps, front fenders, bodyside moldings, rocker moldings, a new deck lid and deck lid spoiler and new taillamps. Daytime running lights and Twilight Sentinel are standard equipment on all Bonnevilles.

There are four models in the Bonneville lineup: The SE, SSE, SLE and SSEi. The SE and SSE are the standard models for Bonneville. The SLE and SSEi are special model packages this year.

The Sport Luxury Edition package adds leather bucket seats, leather-wrapped steering wheel, cobra-head shifter, floor console, rear deck lid spoiler, power antenna, 16-inch 5-spoke silver wheels, 16-inch touring tires, illuminated visor vanity mirrors, a console with rear air-conditioning vents, overhead console with power outlets and a trunk convenience net. Also available on SLE is the supercharged engine.

The SSEi Supercharger package adds driver-select shift controls, SSEi floor mats, uplevel instrument cluster with boost gauge, SSEi badging, 16-inch performance tires and the 240-horsepower engine.

With a base price of just over $21,500, the Bonneville comes equipped with a ton of standard equipment, including a 4-speed electronically controlled automatic transmission, front wheel drive, power rack-and-pinion steering, an independent front and rear suspension, battery rundown protection, driver and passenger airbags, 4-wheel anti-lock brakes, a PASS-Key theft deterrent system, 15-inch bolt-on wheel covers, fog lamps, dual sport mirrors, a rear-window defogger, air conditioning, power windows with express down, power automatic door locks, AM/FM stereo, cruise control and flash-to-pass and rally gauges with tachometer.

Whew! That's a lot of standard equipment. The SE sedan tested for 300 miles in suburban Detroit had even more neat features that make it more of a competitor in the luxury segment than in the large sedan segment: A trunk security net, illuminated entry, AM/FM cassette, deck lid release, power mirrors, a six-way power seat, lighted vanity mirrors, air conditioning, remote keyless entry, power antenna and rear deck spoiler.

All told, it pumped up the price to a hair over $27,500. Not bad at all, considering the Bonneville's competition includes the Mazda Millenia, Eagle Vision, Lexus ES 300 and Mitsubishi Diamante, among others.

The Bonneville SSE also has a newfangled variable effort steering system called MAGNASTEER — code named for Magnetic Assist Steering. Developed by Delphi Saginaw Steering Systems, the system uses magnetism to vary steering effort.

Here's how it works: At low speeds, the steering effort is low to increase maneuverability. As your speed increases, steering effort becomes stiffer for improved road stability. This system, according to Pontiac, has one of the widest steering-effort ranges of any speed-sensitive power-assist power steering system around.

Sounds simple. It is. And it works to give you better control and handling characteristics.

One feature I really liked on the Bonneville is the way you can personalize your car for your individual tastes and likes. For example, the programmable keyless-entry system can be personalized with programmable door locks, delayed locking and perimeter lighting settings to match your preferences before getting out of the car.

The best part of the feature is that two different drivers can set their own personal settings. That means if a spouse drives the car, he or she can have his or her own settings.

The programmable door-lock system allows you to choose the way your car locks in three ways:

* It locks all doors when the transmission is shifted out of park, then unlocks all doors when shifted back to park.
* Or it locks all doors when shifting out of park, but doesn't unlock them when shifting back to park.
* Or it turns the feature off.

I like the first option best because there's less to fight with.

The 1996 Pontiac Bonneville is a wonderful addition to your own vehicle lineup — be it for just the two of you or the whole family. It offers smart styling, spirited performance ... and good value.

TO OUR VALUED CUSTOMERS...
The true value of our price selling to our customers is measured both by low prices and high customer satisfaction. For this program to have maximum value to our customers, our prices must constantly be at the low end of the market. We continuously monitor pricing in this area in order to stay a step ahead of our competition.
We want you to feel comfortable with not having to negotiate, but we also want you to feel good about the price you paid. It is exactly for that reason why we have instituted our 30 Day Price Protection Policy.
We would like to be your source for all your automotive needs and services and will continue to work very hard to keep your business. Thank you for choosing to shop at Gordon Chevrolet-Geo.
