Low turnout seen for GOP primary

The Westland city clerk is predicting a low turnout for the March 19 Republican presidential primary. Democrats also are expecting a slow day for the Democratic Party caucus scheduled for March 16.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A low voter turnout is expected March 19 for the Republican presidential preference primary, Westland City Clerk Diane Fritz said.

She predicted that no more than 10 to 15 percent of the city's 53,890 registered voters will cast ballots in the GOP race.

"The interest just isn't there," Fritz said.

Bob Hall, Westland Republican Party president, said he couldn't predict which candidate will be favored by Westland voters. Candidates on the GOP ballot are Bob Dole, Patrick Buchanan, Steve Forbes, Robert Dornan, Phil Gramm, Alan Keys, Richard Lugar, Maurice Taylor and Lamar Alexander, though some of them have dropped out of the race.

"I'm sure there will be some excitement" among Republican voters, Hall said, but he added that he hasn't had much feedback from Westland voters in terms of their preferred candidate.

Voters don't have to declare their party preference to cast ballots in the Republican primary, scheduled from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. March 19.

Few Democrats are expected to participate March 16 in the closed Democratic Party caucus, but those wishing to vote will have an opportunity, said Paul Krarup, Westland Democratic Club treasurer.

Democrats may go to the Rowe House on Marquette, east of Newburgh, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. March 16. Voters have to complete a sign-in sheet that includes a statement confirming that they are Democrats.

The only Democratic nominee is President Bill Clinton, but voters also may choose a write-in candidate or vote "uncommitted."

There's magic brewing on Middlebelt

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

It's no illusion — that's a new magic shop on Middlebelt.

At the Magic Shoppe on Middlebelt, partners Norman Kashat and Don Oesterwind, Jr. offer magic supplies ranging from trick cards to a box used for cutting someone in half.

"This is for people who have magic as a hobby and professionals; also for the little magician who wants to get in and get going," said Kashat, a Westland resident.

Both experienced magicians, Kashat and Oesterwind performed illusions for customers at the store's recent grand opening. But don't expect to be let in on all the tricks of the trade.

"We've all taken an oath not to reveal secrets. It wouldn't be entertaining if we told how it works," said Kashat. "I remember the first time an illusion was explained to me. I couldn't believe I was fooled."

While working at his parents' dry cleaning business in Florida, Kashat was a silent partner in a magic shop and performed as a magician.

Specializing in close-up magic, Kashat performed at bars and lounges, often entertaining people as they waited for their tables.

"I had cards, coins and different little props. In close-up magic, you work without being on stage," he said. "I would mix talking and jokes here and there."

Working for the Johans Wild agency, Kashat was doing 10-11 magic shows a month at birthday parties and company functions.

"David Copperfield is great for little kids who want to be fooled," said Kashat. "Adults like to be entertained."

Oesterwind, who grew up in Westland and now lives in Canton, works full-time as a substance abuse counselor for Lighthouse in Plymouth.

"I've known Don since I was 10 years old. When I came back from Florida, I met up with Don again. I had known him before," said

Man will face trial in assault of woman

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Detroit man has been ordered to stand trial on felony sex charges involving a mentally impaired woman who was staying at a Westland respite center.

David Harvey McGee, 45, was a temporary care worker when he was accused of sexually molesting the 28-year-old woman at the Rose Kennedy Respite Center, a temporary housing facility for developmentally disabled people.

The facility is located behind Wayne-Westland school administration offices on Marquette, east of Newburgh. It is one of two respite centers run by Family & Neighborhood Services, a 79-year-old non-profit organization that provides many services for families and individuals in need.

"This is the first incident of this kind at our respite centers," FNS president Leon Berger said Friday.

He called the isolated incident "terribly unfortunate."

The respite center provides 24-hour care for adults and children with developmental disabilities, in order to help families and guardians in times of stress, emergency or vacation.

McGee had been hired on a temporary basis through an outside agency when the Feb. 20 incident allegedly occurred. The accusations involve oral sex, Westland police Sgt. Michael Terry said.

Following a preliminary hearing Thursday in Westland's 18th District Court, McGee was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct.

District Judge C. Charles Bokor ordered McGee to stand trial after hearing testimony from the victim and two respite center employees. If convicted, McGee could face a maximum sentence of life in prison.

He remains jailed in lieu of a $100,000 cash bond.

The felony sex allegations surfaced

People with pets sought

The Pet-a-Pet Club, which takes pets into nursing homes, schools and medical facilities to spread cheer, is in need of volunteers. People with well-behaved pets, primarily dogs, are needed to visit Hope Nursing Home in Westland, Oakwood Hospital psychiatric unit in Westland, and Roosevelt McGraw Elementary School in Wayne. No special training for pets is required, but animals should be friendly, well-behaved, and must have current vaccination records. Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer may call Ruth Curry (536-0410) or Joann Groene (464-8844).

Kashat. "He had gotten to be an expert and was doing shows."

Besides his performing, Kashat said that Oesterwind has been collecting magic equipment for 17 years — amassing a collection valued at $20,000.

When the partners decided to open the store, they got some help finding a location from a fellow magician who happens to be a local Realtor.

"About 90 percent of the magicians live in this area. There are a few in Detroit and Royal Oak but most live on the west side," said

Kashat. "We will be the closest shop to them."

The partners hope to expand to the adjoining storefront to open a magic school and eventually a magic nightclub.

"We don't want the art of magic to die. That's why we'll have the school," said Kashat. "I know quite a few tricks but there are always new ones. It's basically practice."

The Magic Shoppe is open seven days a week. Hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon-4 p.m. Sunday.

Trial from page 1A

Feb. 20 when the molested woman was found alone in a room where employees had seen McGee entering and leaving, Terry said.

The victim appears to be coping with the incident without any major problems, Berger said. However, she will be offered services such as counseling, he said.

The 16-bed respite center has its own staff but uses temporary workers to fill in when employees are sick, on vacation, or have a burdensome workload, Berger said. Staff members are extensively screened, including a background check by Michigan State Police, he said. The temporary agency used by FNS also has a commendable track record at providing good workers, he said.

Terry cautioned that the incident shouldn't put the respite center in a negative light.

"There was no wrongdoing by any of the (regular) staff," he said. "This is strictly an allegation against one person."

Church offers shelter and food

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Westland church is providing overnight shelter and a soup kitchen for needy people who are cold, tired and hungry.

"We've got a lot of people who come to us for food every day," said Ruby Beneteau, director of the Westland Full Gospel Temple's Lighthouse Home Mission on Palmer Road, between Venoy and Wildwood.

Hours for the Lighthouse Home Mission's "warming center" and soup kitchen are 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. Monday through Saturday.

Twelve to 14 hungry families visit the church on a typical day to receive hot soup, coffee, hot chocolate, tea, cakes and doughnuts, Beneteau said.

Several homeless people each week also take refuge from the cold for a night. The next day, Beneteau and other church volun-unteers help them find more permanent shelter.

Volunteers even help the needy find such services as medical care, Beneteau said. And the church works with employment agencies to assist people with finding work.

The warming center and soup kitchen opened in early January. The new program has added to services already provided by the church, such as giving clothing, canned foods and furniture to families down on their luck.

The church relies on donations,

Nakad, part-owner of the restaurant on Wayne Road south of Cherry Hill.

Some people needing a warm place to stay have been brought to the Lighthouse Home Mission by Inkster and Westland police officers, Beneteau said.

The overnight shelter will likely close during warmer months, she said, but the soup kitchen will remain open. (Any changes in hours will be announced later.)

Even with the closing of the overnight shelter, church volunteers will continue to help those in need find a place to stay, Beneteau said.

Probation due in fatal car chase

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Two Inkster women, charged in a high-speed car chase that killed another Inkster woman in Westland, are expected to be placed on probation Thursday after pleading guilty to reduced charges, a police officer said.

Nicole Gibson and Wendy Smith, accused in the Sept. 19 death of 22-year-old Crystal Deyampert, accepted a plea agreement on Feb. 21, the same day their trial was scheduled to begin in Wayne County Circuit Court, Westland police officer James Dexter said.

Authorities charged Gibson and Smith with pursuing Deyampert during a three-mile, 80 mph chase that ended when Deyampert slammed into a tractor-trailer at Inkster Road and Van Born.

Deyampert was thrown from her 1995 Toyota Camry. Her friend and passenger, Sharon Edwards, suffered injuries but survived the crash. The truck driver wasn't hurt.

Gibson, 21, and Smith, 23, had originally been charged with vehicular manslaughter and fleeing the scene. Gibson was driving the car pursuing Deyampert, but police have said that Smith encouraged the chase.

near Cherry Hill.

The defendants could have faced a maximum of 15 years if they had been convicted as charged.

On Feb. 21, however, Gibson pleaded no contest to reduced charges of negligent homicide and leaving the scene, Dexter said. Under a plea agreement, Gibson is expected to be placed on probation for two years when she is sentenced Thursday by Circuit Judge John H. Gillis.

Smith pleaded no contest to a reduced charge of aggravated assault, and she is expected to be placed on probation for one year, Dexter said.

Ira Deyampert, Crystal's sister, said family members accept the outcome because of fears that the defendants would be found guilty of nothing during a trial.

Ira Deyampert said that her sister's passenger couldn't remember some details of the chase and that authorities had a difficult time building a strong case, particularly against Smith.

"I was afraid they were going to get off," she said. "We're leaving it in God's hands now. God will take care of whatever else needs to be taken care of."

Crystal Deyampert, a minister's daughter, left behind a daughter of her own, Diamond, who is now 4 years old.

Crystal's family is raising the child.

"We're raising her little girl," Ira Deyampert said. "She's being brought up in the church. She knows her mother is in heaven, but we went through a period where she cried and wanted her mama back."

Ira Deyampert said she, too, misses Crystal, but added, "I will see her in heaven."

St. Dunstan School crowns science fair winners

Action project: Charlie Collier displays his "Action City" collection of figures in the St. Dunstan School hobby and art show.

St. Dunstan Catholic School, which has students from Garden City, Westland and neighboring cities, honored its top science students after holding its annual science fair and hobby/art fair.

The combined fairs, coordinated by teacher Kathy Kennedy, had more than 100 exhibits.

In the science event, coordinated by science teachers Kathy Smith and Sandra Riess, 56 students took part.

First-place honors for her bridges project went to Cassandra Ahland, an eighth-grader.

Ian Collier, a seventh-grader, won a second-place ribbon and certificate for his experience showing that there is more bacteria in a dog's mouth than a human's. He used his sister and a family pet for the experiment.

Sarah Marzec, a fifth-grader, had her project on the testing of vitamins capture a third-place ribbon. She concluded that pineapple juice had the most vitamin C of tested foods while carrot juice had the least.

Class winners, in order, are:
Eighth grade — John Zahodne, Steve Landreville and Sam Herick.

Seventh grade — Sarah Beers, Katie Zahodne and Joe Pianowski.

Sixth grade — Laura Lasker, Andrew Starnes and Gerald Fuller.

Fifth grade — Nicole Gossiaux, Kenneth Saban and Michael Greenwade.

Sister Mariella, school principal, said in a letter to parents that the two science teachers "have proved again that there is a little Madame Curie in them, judging from the results of our science fair."

Among the hobby and art exhibits were a 411-piece Ferris wheel made by Rodney Rutkowski; Amy Garrow, who put together a collection of dozens of key chains; Janay Chatmon, who created a collection of celebrity and animal figures; Charles Collier, who put together his own "Action City," populated with numerous action figures; and partners Terisha Gill and Terry Curtis, who painted colorful Ukrainian Easter eggs.

Vitamin project: St. Dunstan fifth-grader Sarah Marzec shows off her ribbon for her vitamin testing project which won third-place honors in the school's annual science fair. The science fair was combined with a hobby/art fair and had more than 100 exhibits.

Science winner: Cassandra Ahland shows off one of the bridges she made for the science fair entry awarded first-place honors.

Bacteria project: Ian Collier won second-place science fair honors for his project testing which tested whether humans or dogs have the most bacteria in their mouths.

SYNOPSIS OF MINUTES BOARD OF EDUCATION Livonia Public Schools 15125 Farmington Road February 19, 1996

The following is a summary, in synopsis form, of the Board of Education's regular meeting of February 19, 1996... President Watters convened the meeting at 7:00 p.m. in the Board Room, 15125 Farmington Road, Livonia... Golden Apple Award: The Board presented a Golden Apple Award to Donna Cash, secretary at the Northwest Western Wayne County Skill Center... Consent Agenda: Motion by Lessard and Tancill that the following consent agenda items be approved as recommended by the superintendent...

Man pleads guilty to a reduced charge

He could have received a 15-year prison term if he had been convicted of an original charge of involuntary manslaughter. MacMillan died after being shot in the head while playing with three friends, all 14, at Hatmaker's residence in the 36000 block of Palmer Road, Westland police Sgt. Terry Donohue has said... Hatmaker is the legal guardian of one of the boys, but not the one who pulled the trigger. The 14-year-old boy who fired the .38-caliber Smith & Wesson was playfully trying to distract MacMillan from a Nintendo game when the shooting occurred at 3:28 p.m. Nov. 19, Donohue has said.

MacMillan died about 11 hours later at the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor. Hatmaker was charged because he didn't have the gun placed out of reach of the boys. He was watching a football game while the teenagers were playing in another room at the time of the shooting, Donohue said. The boys apparently believed the revolver was inoperative. Before MacMillan was shot, at least two of the boys had pulled the trigger without the gun discharging, Donohue said. MacMillan, an Adams Middle School eighth-grader, had been visiting friends in his former neighborhood near Stevenson Middle School when he was shot. Police confiscated the gun. Hatmaker has remained free on a $10,000 personal bond awaiting the outcome of his case.

Marshmallow mayhem: A blizzard of 20,000 marshmallows will fill the sky at 11 a.m. on April 5 in Hines Park.

County parks ready for year of fun

From the Great Marshmallow Drop to Wayne County LightFest, the Wayne County Park System has events planned for park visitors in 1996.

New events this year include the Wayne County Parks Fishing Derby, Nursery School Olympics, and Jazz on the River.

Annual events like the Italian/Polish Festival, Mud Day, Somewhere in Time and the Halloween Festival are also scheduled. The year-round Walk Michigan program will resume in April.

The 1996 Wayne County LightFest will provide a finale to Wayne County Parks' special events. New displays have been added to the Midwest's longest drive-through holiday light show.

Events on tap

■ April 5, Marshmallow Drop, 11 a.m. at the Middle Rouge Parkway-Nankin Mills Area in Westland. A blizzard of 20,000 marshmallows will fill the sky as they tumble from the Easter Bunny's helicopter on Good Friday. Children will pick them up and redeem for a prize-filled egg. It's sponsored by Wayne County Parks. Rain date is Saturday, April 6. Call (313) 261-1990.

■ April-December, Walk Michigan, a fitness program organized to promote good health and to highlight recreation areas in Michigan. At each Walk Michigan event, participants can enter a drawing, for a trip for two to Mackinac Island and the Governor's Annual Labor Day Bridge Walk. It's sponsored by Wayne County Parks and Michigan Recreation and Park Association. For information call (313) 261-1990.

■ May 4 to Sept. 28, Saturday In The Park, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Saturdays, on Hines Drive. Six miles of Hines Drive will be closed to traffic every Saturday for the public of all ages to run, walk, skate, or cycle. Hines Drive will be closed from the Warrendale Picnic Area (west of Outer Drive) to the Nankin Mills Area (Ann Arbor Trail). Parking is usually available at Warrendale, Merriman Hollow, and Nankin Mills picnic areas. For information call (313) 261-1990.

Fishing derby

■ May 18, Fishing derby, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Waterford Bend Area, Hines Drive. All kids ages 12 and under are welcome to have some fishing fun and win some prizes. The Rouge River will be stocked with 10-12 inch rainbow trout. A casting contest will also take place. All anglers need to bring their own equipment and bait. This event is cosponsored by the Night lights: Wayne County LightFest will light up Hines Park with a four-mile long holiday light display Nov. 22 to Jan. 1.

SEMCOG, state headed for road funding showdown

BY TIM RICHARD
8111 WHITMAN

Regional planners and the Michigan Department of Transportation are heading for a March 21 showdown over how to split a shrinking bundle of federal and state fuel taxes in the next three years.

The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, the regional planning agency, decided 29-9 it would acquiesce to the state's eating the lion's share of money this year in return for giving local roads a better break in 1997-98.

"It's not a win-win situation. It's lose-lose," said Brent Blair, managing director of the Oakland County Road Commission, which has rattled the state cage for more road funds.

"I feel like I'm getting screwed, but I have to vote yes," said Nancy Dingley, R-Wixom, an Oakland County commissioner and executive committee member of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. Her ribaldry brought laughs of agreement from nearly 40 other SEMCOG delegates and staffers at a March 7 executive committee meeting.

"I voted 'no' because the resolution restrains us to a one-year guarantee of funding," said a key state official, Louis Lambert, a planner with MDOT who serves on SEMCOG's executive committee.

State wins in '96

Michael Duggan, deputy Wayne County executive from Livonia, won SEMCOG's "reluctant" approval of what he called a "compromise" resolution. Most delegates from Detroit, suburban Wayne County, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw counties supported it. Opposed were MDOT's Lambert along with Macomb and St. Clair counties.

The heart of SEMCOG's resolution:

■ For nearly two decades, federal road aid has been split 75-25 between state and local agencies. MDOT, under Gov. John Engler, this year is seeking a bigger chunk of the money for four major projects: rebuilding Davison Freeway in Detroit, extending the Haggerty Connector north of 12 Mile in Oakland County, widening a section of I-96 between ■ SEMCOG in January was sent back to the drawing board after 1) federal road aid was cut and 2) state legislators and Gov. Engler failed to agree on a $350 million increase in fuel taxes over three years. The entire TIP had to be pared from $2.1 billion to $1.8 billion.

Brighton and Howell in Livingston County, and upgrading a chunk of M-59 in Macomb County.

■ This year, the first in a three-year plan, the state could keep 86 percent, the state 14.

■ But in 1997 and '98, local roads would get their customary 25 percent. MDOT's Lambert objected that it would hamstring the state in those two years.

"There would be one condition," added Duggan. "Local roads would get any savings from state projects. The state could not substitute projects or spend all its share if bids came in low."

The effect was for SEMCOG to amend the dollar amounts of its three-year TIP (Traffic Improvement Plan). SEMCOG, whose delegates are local elected officials, will meet again March 21 to prioritize projects.

Engler blistered

Although MDOT spokesperson Robin Pannecouck said SEMCOG's March 7 action "jeopardized" the 1996 entire construction program, the matter is still pending until March 21, or 10 days before the deadline for submitting TIP to federal officials.

"A TIP isn't just numbers. We have to put projects behind Duggan's numbers," said SEMCOG chair Joan Bauer, supervisor of Oakland Township.

SEMCOG in January was sent back to the drawing board after 1) federal road aid was cut and 2) state legislators and Gov. Engler failed to agree on a $350 million increase in fuel taxes over three years. The entire TIP had to be pared from $2.1 billion to $1.8 billion.

Many SEMCOG delegates were infuriated at Engler's unilateral action to commandeer the federal money and his refusal to negotiate a compromise with SEMCOG. Some wanted to disapprove a new TIP, cancelling the entire 1996 construction program for everyone.

Majority sentiment, as Duggan represented it, is to keep looking for a deal, no matter how painful.

"It's our best bet," agreed John Grubba, deputy Oakland County executive and a Millford resident.

"Government and politics are the art of the possible," said SEMCOG executive director John Amberger, of Livonia.

The OCRC's Blair called even the Duggan compromise a "Sophie's Choice" — a reference to the novel in which a mother must decide which of her children won't survive.

'Hold your nose'

"Hold your nose and vote yes," advised Steve Brock, assistant city manager from Farmington Hills, during the public comment portion of the meeting.

John Grace, an attorney from Rochester Hills who practices in Farmington Hills, praised Michigan's congressional delegation for getting US-DOT to remind the Engler administration that it must deal with SEMCOG, which is a federally-designated "metro-politan planning organization" as well as a creature of the state.

Grace singled out U.S. Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, for praise. Kildee faces an election challenge this year from former MDOT director Patrick Nowak, a Republican from Waterford.

Novi City Manager Ed Kriewall said his growth city is "extremely disappointed at how the Legislature and governor have dodged a much-needed gas tax increase," helping to precipitate the showdown.

"What You Ought to Know About Living Trusts"

(What you don't know could cost your family thousands of dollars!)

If you own a home...or you have assets worth at least $100,000...you owe it to yourself—and your family—to get the facts on living trusts. If you think you're protected with a simple Will...think again... A Will guarantees that your estate will go through probate, which means that your family may not be able to take possession of your estate for many months, or even years!

Plus, if your estate is over $600,000, your family may owe estate taxes which could amount to 37-55% of the value of your estate. This means that your family may have to sell some assets just to pay the estate taxes!

A living trust avoids all this by avoiding probate and minimizing estate taxes. Plus, a living trust will protect your estate if you become incapacitated during your lifetime by avoiding a conservatorship. This means your estate will be managed as you see fit, not as a court-appointed guardian sees fit.

To find out more about the benefits of living trusts, attend one of these free seminars...

8.50%

Current APR. Not Just an Introductory Offer.

Huntington Bank's Prime For Life equity line of credit offers you one of the lowest interest rates in the country. Prime plus 0% for the life of the line. It's the rate you may have thought was reserved for large commercial customers. But now it's available to you in an equity credit line that has no closing costs. We've also made it easy to apply. Just call Huntington Direct at 1-800-642-INFO. Then you can stop shopping around for a low interest rate. Because this is it.

To apply by phone call 1-800-642-INFO

"Prime" means the "Bank Prime Loan" rate published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in its statistical release H-15 (1/1/91) entitled "Selected Interest Rates." Use of the word "Prime" does not indicate that the rate is the best or the lowest rate offered by any lender. There is a $60 annual fee. The APR may vary each month, but will never be higher than 18%. There may be a charge for cancellation of your account within the first 3 years. Insurance must be carried on the real property securing the account. All accounts are subject to credit approval and an acceptable property appraisal and title search. ### GETTING STRAIGHT TO THE POINT

Gum disease is a bacterial infection that arises from the sticky substance known as plaque that forms on the teeth each day. If not removed on a daily basis, plaque may harden into a substance known as tartar (or calculus). The bacteria in plaque and tartar produce toxins that inflame the gums to cause bleeding, an early indication of the disease known as gingivitis. At this point, the disease can be stopped and even reversed with professional treatment. To this end, the FDA recently approved a new site-specific antibiotic therapy for gum disease. It entails placement of a thread saturated with a slow-release antibiotic into the pocket around the teeth. It is left in place for 10 days, during which time it delivers an antibiotic about 100 times stronger than would be possible in pill form, and without side effects. Without treatment of any kind, gingivitis may progress to a point where supporting bone is lost and teeth loosen or fall out. It is always exciting to find out about new techniques and what they can do for you. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we believe you owe it to yourself to take preventive measures to maintain and enhance the look of your teeth and gums. This column on dental care is prepared as a public service to help our readers better understand today's modern dental care. We feature "twilight sleep" for painless dentistry. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road. Please call 478-2110 to schedule a convenient appointment. 5pm are our business hours: Mon., Tues., Thurs. & Fri. 8-5, Wed. 12-9 p.m.

STORE MANAGER NAMED

Dave Richards is the new manager at Jacobson's Store For the Home at Willets and Woodward in downtown Birmingham. The Mens Store and The Children's Shop is also located in the building. Richards formerly managed Saks Fifth Avenue at the Somerset Collection, Troy from 1985-1994.

In other Jacobson's news, the company's 27th store opened March 7 in Leawood, Kansas.

CANCER SOCIETY LOCK UP

The 11th annual Great American Lock Up to benefit the American Cancer Society takes place Tuesday, March 19 through Friday March 22 at 16 jail sites around town (most are malls.) To arrange an "arrest" for a good cause, call 1-800-543-JAIL. The cost is $25, the jailbird must raise "bail" by phoning friends for cancer pledges.

PARENTING FAIR

Representatives from 80 family service agencies staff booths at Summit Place mall in Waterford, Friday, March 15 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. as part of Oakland Family Services Parenting Resource Fair. Madness from page 10A

Ins: The Grand Cafe Coffee House, The Basketball Court, Something Wood, The Nail Source and Shoe Carnival. Outs: Cargo Express, Carousel Kids. But despite the upheavals, downtown Farmington retains the small town flavor that appeals to shoppers who don't like the traffic and fast pace of the nearby Twelve Oaks Mall, West Oaks I and II and Novi Town Center.

Highlights of the Moonlight Madness Sale include: sidewalk bargains, a giveaway of 150 Civic Theater passes, a chance to register for a $300 drawing set for April 20, chances to win $700 in Mad Money redeemable at any of the participating stores or services, free hot chocolate and coffee. Ask the Experts booths from 6-9 p.m. in the Village Mall and at the Civic Theater Lobby for the chance to meet and grill local civic, health, design and business leaders.

Farmington's Downtown Development Authority has also been active in promoting the business district. Director Judy Downey organized a summer Farmer's Market which runs Saturdays through October, as well as summer and winter fairs and carnivals.

lines priced moderate to couture, the store also has a cosmetic department and a full-service spa featuring herbal body wraps, manicures and aromatic facials. There is no beauty salon. A small Gift Gallery has crystal pieces, tableware, and ceramics.

There will be three restaurants within the store — a London-style pub, a Sandwich Cafe, and The Garden Court featuring American cuisine. Coffee is available for 25-cents a cup in the restaurants, refills are free.

It takes three Nordstrom stores to sustain a Rack shop — that's a Nordstrom outlet. If the Somerset North store does well, there are plans to add five more Michigan locations.

The company's sales in 1995 were $4.1 billion, up from $3.9 billion in 1994.

On Wednesday, Aug. 14 from 7-10 p.m., Nordstrom will host an evening of buffet dining, dancing to the music of the Peter DuChin orchestra, and a designer fashion extravaganza at the new store to raise $250,000 for projects of the Junior League of Birmingham, the Junior League of Detroit, and The Metropolitan Detroit Chapters of The Links, Inc.

The charities have designated the following programs as fund recipients: The Children's Home of Detroit's Institute for Trauma and Loss in Children; The Museum of African American History; and Families Involved Together.

There are seats for 2,500 guests at the gala, tickets are $100 per person. For ticket information call (810) 646-2115.

the salesperson said absolutely nothing, not even "thank you." When confronted later about her lack of enthusiasm, the salesperson responded that a thank you was printed on the sales receipt.

A verbal greeting, eye contact, a smile, and attentive body language indicate to a customer that his business is important to the retailer, Wold emphasized.

"I advise retailers to spend more time communicating with their staff so associates feel a part of the organization," she said. "Hold weekly staff meetings and appoint one of the staff members charge of the agenda."

Shoes at Northland said he holds quarterly staff meetings, but after hearing Wold, he plans to begin monthly meetings with a staff member at the helm.

At the Pretzel Peddler in Westland, owner Mary Tombrella said weekly meetings are already part of the routine. That could be one reason this family owned business has grown to 11 locations over 25 years.

"Yes, you must make employees feel like part of the business," she said. "You have to spread this energy and enthusiasm because your employees are a mirror of the company. We hire a lot of college kids and we instruct them about the way to treat a customer."

Creating an exciting retail environment is another must for the modern retailer, according to Wold. She cited the Nike Town Store in Chicago on Michigan Avenue as the ultimate merchandiser with basketball hoops and portable cash registers in the store. Once she stood across the street from Nike Town taking an informal survey. She noted that 85 percent of the customers leaving the store were carrying packages.

This bit of information lit a fire in Deron Washington of The Tie Box at Northland. He couldn't wait to get back to his store.

"Wold inspired me to think about the creativity of your store, to make sure it's inviting so it makes shoppers want to buy something," he said. "It's all about having more enthusiasm with the customers and motivating the whole staff. It's almost the year 2000, so you've got to change."

Wold's message was positive reinforcement for Judi Colorite of the Modern Woman, formerly Woman's World, at Westland Shopping Center.

"At Modern Woman customer service has always been number one," she said. "I'm going back and find out my staff's strengths so I can put them to better use."

Madonna hosts Chaim Potok

Madonna University in Livonia, as part of its National Endowment for the Humanities Colloquium Series, will present author Chaim Potok on Monday, March 25.

Potok, as writer in residence, will give a public reading on his book, "My Name is Asher Lev" (1972). A brief question and answer period will follow. Potok will also participate in a book signing in the Madonna University Exhibit Gallery after the presentation.

Partially funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) and Madonna University benefactors, the Irving Nusbbaum family, the event will take place in Kresge Hall on the Madonna campus at 7:30 p.m. It is open to the public, free of charge.

A native of New York City, Potok received a bachelor's degree summa cum laude in English literature from Yeshiva University, a master's degree and rabbinic ordination from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America and a Ph.D in philosophy from the University of Pennsylvania. He is married, has three children and lives in a suburb of Philadelphia.

Among the author's eight novels are: "The Chosen" (1967); "The Promise" (1969); "In the Beginning" (1975); "The Book of Lights" (1981); "Davita's Harp" (1985); "The Gift of Asher Lev" (1990); and "I Am the Clay" (1992). He is also the author of "Wanderings: Chaim Potok's History of the Jews" (1978) and numerous plays, short stories and commentary.

In 1993, his first children's book, "The Tree of Here," was published followed by "The Sky of Now" in the fall of 1995.

Preservice and in-service teachers will have the opportunity to meet with Potok from 10-11 a.m. on Tuesday, March 26, to learn approaches to teaching "My Name is Asher Lev."

Exec names new press secretary

June West, formerly of SMART, has been appointed press secretary for Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara and the departments under his jurisdiction.

West was marketing director at SMART (Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation) for three years before joining the Wayne County executive's staff.

While at SMART, she developed the media campaign which resulted in approval of the first local property tax to fund regional public transit in Southeastern Michigan.

A Detroit resident, West earned a bachelor's degree in management from Oakland University. She has worked for Brogan & Partners, Ross Roy Advertising, McCann Erickson, and she was the owner of the Westworks Marketing & Advertising Services.

"I'm looking forward to working with County Executive McNamara and using my skills to make the public aware of the many ways the county is working to improve the lives of Wayne County citizens," West said.

The transit system received national attention for its SMART/WJLB Jobline, Job Express Service, Get A Job — Get A Ride, and Money Back Guarantee programs, under her leadership.

West takes over responsibility for media relations from Irma Clark, who was promoted to director of Human Relations for Wayne County.

TASTE

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Irish eyes smile on traditional dishes

Have you heard the one about the only thing an Irish cook has in the Kitchen? "Luck?"

Contrary to popular belief, Irish cooks know a little more than how to make boiled potatoes, steaming platters of cabbage, and stew.

I grew up in Wyandotte, and all the Irish attended St. Patrick's Church, including the McNamaras (no relation to our Wayne County executive) who lived about five doors down from us on Sycamore Street. I went to school with Karen McNamara, whose younger brother Dave was part of the Sycamore Street version of "Our Gang." He was the only kid on the block with hair the color of carrots and enough freckles to go around for everyone on the block.

I remember the McNamaras because on March 17, the entire block got caught up in the traditional Irish St. Patrick's Day celebration. Wearing something green was generally accepted, even if your name didn't start with "Mc."

The Cozy Corner (the local watering hole around the corner) served green beer and Momma cooked a corned beef and cabbage in her upright (barrel shaped) roaster.

Locally, interested cooks can learn quite a bit from a cookbook published by the Detroit Chapter of the Irish American Cultural Institute. The cookbook contains "Irish Country House Breakfast and Pub Grub" recipes, which reflect the theme of the group's fifth annual Irish Cooking School held at Botsford Inn on March 2. Call (810) 540-6687 for information on how to get your copy.

Another stop that should be on every Irish lover's list is The Irish Baker, Jack Derrig, 5472 Schaefer (Between Michigan Avenue and Ford Road) in Dearborn, (313) 684-2444. If you shop at upscale markets around town, you've undoubtedly seen The Irish Baker's famed shortbread in bakery sections. If you haven't tried it, it's to die for. This unbelievably little store, in addition to supplying Irish baked goods, is a great place to find gifts imported from the Emerald Isle.

Ireland is not known as a cooking school destination, but if you're looking for an authentic Irish cooking school, I'm hearing nothing but accolades from the folks who have taken courses at Darina Allen's Ballymaloe Cookery School in Shangarry, County Cork, Ireland. Her skills as a teacher, her wonderful manner, and the layout of the school rivals the best French culinary academies. Accommodations at Allen's in-law's Ballymaloe House are nothing short of dazzling. You can phone them at 353 (21) 064-6785 or fax them at 353 (21) 064-6909 for more information.

No visit to Ireland is complete without a stop. You don't have to sign up for months or weeks at a time either - if a visit to Ireland is in your future, check it out!

Of course, I can remember jumping into the old family Fairlane Ford and heading on down to Ronnie's Meats at the Eastern Market in Detroit for the best corned beef. Many folks think that the entire Eastern Market burned down last fall when in fact, it was only the Gratiot Central Market which housed meat dealers, some restaurants, and a local fish market.

Well, good news for the folks who remember Ronnie's - they have reopened, and are once again selling the best corned beef money can buy. Tom Bedway and the folks at Ronnie's want you to know they are still alive and doing business about a mile north of their old site at 1445 Kirby (313) 874-5799. Ronnie's is three blocks north of Warren Road off of Russel Street (next to Thorn Apple Valley) and is open for business Monday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Remember what the locals say - "everyone has a little bit of Irish blood in them," and if you can't make corned beef and cabbage, try something with an Irish twist like Irish Soda Bread, shortbread, braised cabbage or smoked salmon.

Celebrate National Nutrition Month

Food is not the enemy. Make peace with your refrigerator.

Eat less, exercise more to lose weight

BY PEGGY EVERTS • SPECIAL WRITER

So often people ask me how to lose weight. I used to tell them about calories and the body's ability to use fuel. Now I give a simple answer - to lose weight, eat less, exercise more.

Many people are not satisfied with that explanation. They want complicated diets or specific foods. They want a prescription for losing a certain amount of weight. They want calorie tables and meal plans. Just like when they pick a certain pain reliever for a headache, or laundry soap to remove a stain. People want a method to lose weight, and they want it to work quickly. Unfortunately, it didn't take them two weeks to put 30 extra pounds on, and it won't take two weeks for it to come off.

So the advice to eat less and exercise more is simple, but important. It involves more than just counting fat grams and getting on the scale. In some regard, losing weight starts with making some changes within.

March is National Nutrition Month, and a good time for putting some healthful habits into practice. Here are some of my suggestions for healthy lifestyle changes.

■ Get back to enjoying food. Someone once said "eating is one of life's greatest pleasures." Food is not the enemy. Make peace with your refrigerator.

■ Go for moderation in eating and life. Beware of any diet that requires you to eat only certain foods or to make major changes in your lifestyle. Accept the fact that you need to make some sensible changes, and that you must get some physical exercise.

■ Learn the facts about good nutrition. Don't act impulsively, but search for answers. Read to improve your knowledge and beware of "sensational" claims.

■ Get some physical activity every day. This can be a challenge especially here in the Motor City area in the winter. As a start, add movement to your day. Do some stretches in the shower, stand up straight and tall and stretch your arms above your head. Vacuum with gusto. Be the one to "run" the garbage to the curb. Sit on the floor and stretch out while you're playing with your kids. Park far from the door and use the opportunity to add steps to your day. And, of course, always take the stairs, not the elevator. Then, when you're ready, 30 minutes of exercise on most (preferably all) days of the week. Start slowly, building as your strength and fitness improve.

■ Don't sit down. Staying upright is one key to a long life. Find activities that you can enjoy with others. A business associate of mine started square dancing and finds it to be both physically and mentally challenging. Her husband enjoys this exercise far more than riding a stationary bike so now they dance twice a week. Recently they tried ballroom dancing lessons and are enjoying that as well. Check out your Parks and Recreation department, they offer all kinds of activities that will keep you on your feet.

■ Follow the recommendations on the Food Guide Pyramid. The Food Guide

Pyramid visually shows you how to create a good diet. The foundation is grains, followed by fruits and vegetables, then smaller servings of meats and dairy, and fats and sweets only for added calories.

This way of eating is actually quite different from how most of us are accustomed to eating. In the U.S. meat takes center-of-the plate, vegetables are sometimes given only as garnish and desserts are high in sugar, fat and calories. Try to make grains and vegetables the highlight of your meal with "meat on the side." Build fruits and dairy products into desserts, and never add extra fats or sugars to foods. Eat this way as often as possible.

■ Don't gain as you age. Adding pounds, a few each year, puts us at risk for heart disease, high blood pressure, stroke, diabetes, certain types of cancer, and other illnesses. While it is not necessary to be as skinny as a model, we must pay attention to our body weight and not continue to gain weight throughout adulthood.

So the the advice to eat less and exercise more starts with a few simple changes applied to every meal, every day. Eat well - live well

Lamb stew, soda bread Irish favorites

See Chef Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on front.

TRADITIONAL IRISH STEW

- 2 pounds stewing lamb, cut into cubes
- 2 large onions, chopped coarse
- 2 pounds potatoes, scrubbed and peeled
- 2 tablespoons parsley, chopped
- Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
- 1 1/2 cups water

Wash the lamb in cold water and pat dry. Prepare the onions and potatoes. Cut potatoes and onions into 1/2-inch dice. Layer the meat and the potatoes into a medium heavy Dutch oven. Season well with salt and pepper and parsley.

Pour the water over all. Seal the pan with foil or a tight fitting lid and bake in a preheated 325 degree F oven for 2 1/2 to 3 hours. Serves 4.

Recipe compliments of The Detroit Chapter of the Irish American Cultural Institute

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 6 tablespoons (3/4 stick) butter
- 2 cups grated cheddar cheese
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups buttermilk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease a 1 1/2 quart, 3-inch deep round baking dish. In a separate bowl, combine flour, baking powder, salt and baking soda. Cut in butter until it resembles coarse meal. Stir in grated cheese.

Beat eggs in a medium bowl, reserving 1 tablespoon to brush on as a glaze. Blend buttermilk into beaten eggs. Stir into flour mixture; dough will be sticky. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead until well blended, about 2-3 minutes. Shape into a round and fit into prepared dish. Cut a deep cross in the center of the dough. Brush with reserved egg. Bake until a tester inserted in the center comes out clean, about 75 minutes. Cool in pan on a rack for 15 minutes. Invert onto rack and continue cooling. Makes 1 loaf.

How to cook Corned Beef from "The Joy of Cooking" (by Roam-bauer/Becker, Bobbs Merrill Publishers, copyright 1931-1975).

Wash corned beef brisket under running water to remove any surface brine. Cover with enough boiling water to cover and simmer (uncovered), allowing about 1 hour of cooking per pound or until a fork can penetrate the center. Always slice corned beef very thin and diagonally across the grain. A classic accompaniment to corned beef is cabbage wedges, simmered with the beef during the last 15 minutes of cooking time.

Dietitians share recipes

OATMEAL SPICE COOKIES

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 6 tablespoons margarine
- 1 tablespoon vanilla
- 1 cup flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 cups oatmeal
- 1 cup raisins

In large bowl, with mixer at high speed, beat margarine and sugars until creamy. Add egg and vanilla. Beat until fluffy, about 2 minutes. In medium bowl, combine flour, cinnamon, baking soda and nutmeg. Stir in margarine mixture until well blended. Stir in oatmeal and raisins. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls 2 inches apart on lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350 degree F oven for 10-12 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 4 dozen.

Each cookie: 70 calories, 2 grams fat, 26 percent calories from fat. Recipe from Alicia Taub, Clinical Dietitian, Garden City Hospital.

ORANGE ROUGHY WITH DILLED VEGETABLES

- 2 orange roughy fish filets (approximately 8 ounces each)
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice

- 1 teaspoon dried dill weed
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 small (5 ounces) zucchini, cut lengthwise in half and then crosswise into 1/4-inch slices
- 3 plum tomatoes, each cut crosswise in half and then into quarters (approximately 1 cup)
- 1/2 small yellow, red or green bell pepper, cut into thin strips
- 1 green onion, cut diagonally into slices
- Salt (optional)

Cut fish filets to make 4 equal serving-size portions. In 8-inch square microwave-safe baking dish, arrange fish in spoke-fashion with one portion fish in each corner, fold thinner ends under to make even thickness. In medium bowl, combine oil, lemon juice, dill and pepper. Add vegetables, tossing to coat. Arrange vegetables evenly over fish. Cover with microwave-safe plastic wrap; lifting one edge of plastic to vent.

Microwave on HIGH 7-8 minutes or until fish flakes and vegetables are tender; rotating dish halfway through cooking. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Season with salt if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Each serving: 126 calories, 18 g protein, 4 g carbohydrate, 4 g fat, 0.8 mg iron, 78 mg sodium, 23 mg cholesterol. Recipe from National Livestock and Meat Board, recommended by Mary Heiser, registered dietitian Garden City Hospital.

Angel hair pasta heavenly

See related story on Taste front. Recipe from Peggy Everts, registered dietitian, HDS Services.

CHERUBS ON ANGEL HAIR

- 2 ounces dry angel hair pasta
- 12 ounces ground turkey breast
- 4 egg whites
- 8 tablespoons seasoned bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon, plus 1 teaspoon olive oil
- 2 teaspoons basil, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic, minced
- 2 scallions, minced
- 1/2 teaspoon olive oil

Sauce: 2 cups tomatoes, chopped (3-4 medium) 1/2 teaspoon fresh garlic, minced.

- 2 teaspoons basil
- 2 teaspoons olive oil
- 1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar

Mix turkey with egg whites, bread crumbs, olive oil, garlic, onions and basil. Roll into small balls. Saute with 1/2 teaspoon of olive oil in non-stick pan until golden. Meanwhile, cook pasta as directed. For the sauce, cook together tomatoes, garlic, onions and basil until flavors marry (2-3 minutes). Just before finished, add vinegar to sauce. To serve, divide pasta on four plates, add meatballs, cover with sauce.

Pros shed light on 'weighty' issues

See related story on Taste front.

BY KEELY WYGONIK, STAFF WRITER

"There's so much intense guilt around food issues — you need to deal with them," said Gale Cox, a registered dietitian and Health Program's Coordinator for Botsford Hospital's Health Development Network. "Eat when you're hungry. Then you can make a smart choice. Try to keep yourself from being very hungry so you've got control."

Cox, and other dietitians at local community hospitals, are helping people win the fight against flab one day at a time with a variety of programs. "You have to adapt diets to meet your needs, and stop beating yourself up. Your ability to make good choices correlates with how hungry you are. If you don't eat breakfast and have a late lunch you'll be overly hungry, and your ability to make good choices is zero," said Cox. "Eat an apple or have a glass of milk to keep you in a safe zone."

Julie Carrigan, Chief Clinical Dietitian at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia agrees. "People think the more you eat, the less likely you are to lose weight. This isn't true. One of the most important things to do is to eat breakfast in the morning. Your metabolism stays at sleeping rate until you eat, then it increases. You burn more calories when your metabolism gets out of the sleeping rate. To lose weight most effectively you should eat regularly."

Throughout March, dietitians at St. Mary Hospital will explore "Nutrition through the Life Cycle." A dietitian will be the cafeteria 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. one day each week to answer questions. Weekly hand-outs, which are available in the cafeteria, explore themes such as nutrition for men (March 11), women (March 18), and senior citizens (March 25).

At Garden City Hospital Alicia Taub registered dietitian and Clinical Dietetics Manager is planning a Quick and Easy Low-fat Class that will be offered in April. Her advice to anyone trying to shed pounds is to avoid anything fried and to minimize your use of added fats — salad dressing, gravy, mayonnaise, margarine, and oil.

"Reflect upon what you're doing," said Mary Heiser, also a registered dietitian at Garden City Hospital, and Diabetes Educator. "Be aware of added fat and sodium in your diet." To cut fat she recommends using non-stick pans, and non-stick aprons instead of oil. Take the skin off chicken, and trim the fat off meat before you cook it. "But be careful not to add fat when you cook the meat. Try broiling or baking instead of frying. Saute meats with chicken broth, wine, water, lemon juice or low-sodium soy sauce."

COLLEGIATE NOTES

Army celebrated its best hockey season since 1983-84 with a 24-9-1 record as Cadet sophomore goaltender Daryl Chamberlain (Livonia Stevenson) set numerous records.

He finished the year with a 23-9-1 record, including a .907 save percentage, third-best single season, and a 2.3 goals-against average, fourth all-time.

Chamberlain also established new single-season Academy marks for appearances (33), minutes played (1,829:52), victories (23) and shutouts (nine). His 686 saves were the eighth most ever recorded by an Army goaltender.

He is already the career record holder for shutouts (11) and is 10th on the Cadets' career victory list (28).

Livonian Paul Schloss (Redford Catholic Central), a sophomore left-winger at the University of Alabama-Huntsville, met four-time defending Division II national champion Bemidji State (Minn.) on Friday in the NCAA final four. Schloss scored six goals and added four assists in 22 games.

He is a transfer from the University of Michigan-Dearborn where he scored 100 points in 42 games. Schloss was named to the All-Central Collegiate Club Hockey League second-team and was a third-team All-America. He played in 35 games for the Michigan Nationals Junior A squad (1992-93) along with the Vail (Colo.) Avalanch Junior Open (1993-94).

SPARTAN AQUATIC PLACES

Michelle Aristeo and Elizabeth led the Spartan Aquatic Club at the 12-and-under state swimming championships, March 1-3, in Rockford.

In the Girls 10 and under, Aristeo finished second in the 100 backstroke and 100 butterfly; fourth, 50 backstroke; fifth, 200 individual medley; seventh, 50 butterfly; 10th, 100 IM.

Also in the Girls 10, Cambridge took third in the 100 backstroke; seventh, 100 IM; eighth, 200 IM, 200 freestyle, 100 butterfly and 50 butterfly; 14th, 100 breaststroke. Aristeo, Cambridge, Julie Waddell and Katy Sondergaard finished third in the 200 medley and sixth in the 200 freestyle relay.

Sondergaard added a sixth in the 100 backstroke, ninth in the 200 IM and 16th in the 100 IM. Waddell finished 11th in the 50 breaststroke and 15th in the 100 breaststroke.

Other Spartan finishers included:

Boys 10 — Kevin Sanker — 12th, 200 IM; 15th, 50 and 100 butterfly; Jack Tyler — third, 100 butterfly; sixth, 100 backstroke; ninth, 50 butterfly; 11th, 200 IM; and 14th, 200 freestyle.

Girls 11-12 — Andrea Yocum — third, 100 breaststroke; 10th, 100 IM; 11th, 200 IM.

Other competing members included Robert Cambridge, Erin Cook, Krysta Lynch, Lauren Farris, Adrienne Mitchell, Deirdre Schwirng and Emily Sondergaard.

SPRING HOOP LEAGUE

Final team registration is on for the Livonia Family YMCA spring adult men's basketball league, which begins March 24. The entry deadline is Tuesday, March 12. Team fees are $200.

The six-week league (plus playoffs) will be Sunday afternoons and evenings.

For more information, call Ron Scott at (313) 261-2161, Ext. 318.

SPRING HITTING CAMP

The Sports Academy, 22515 Heslip, Novi, will hold a spring break baseball/softball hitting camp, directed by Henry Ford Community College baseball assistant coach Lee Bjerke, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday through Thursday, April 8-11.

The camp is open to boys and girls ages 6-14. The cost is $55 per person (limited to the first 50 registrants).

The camp features T-shirt, whiffle ball, home run derby, films, pitching and hitting drills, base running, snack bar, video games and batting cages (all speeds).

Lady Trojans fall in Class C finals

BY NEAL ZIPPER STAFF WRITER

The young Livonia Clarenceville volleyball got a taste of what it's like to have a regional championship within their grasp.

Unfortunately, learning what it's like to have a regional title will have to wait another year.

After beating Almont in the semifinals, the Trojans lost to Burton Atherton in the Class C regional final at Almont, 15-7, 15-4.

For the state-ranked Wolverines (32-10-2), it was their fifth consecutive regional crown. They will play Friday in the state quarterfinals at Vicksburg.

The Trojans (31-9-2), whose season ends after winning a district championship and the Metro Conference tournament title, have nothing to be ashamed of, according to coach Alisha Love.

"We're just babies," she said. "We have no seniors and only two starters who have played three years. Now that they have a dose of what it feels like to get this far, they can work on getting past regionals and to the state finals."

The Trojans jumped out to a quick 3-0 lead against the Wolverines, but Atherton's front line proved to be too much. In particular, senior Christi Stevens took over as Atherton scored eight straight points.

Clarenceville closed the deficit to 9-6 behind two Jackie Kilbilko aces, but couldn't get any closer. The Trojans also led 2-1 in the second game, before Atherton pulled away.

Stevens recorded 13 kills in the two games. Her sister, Deborah, served four aces and added three kills.

"We hung tough with them and served well," Love said. "But experience is a big factor and that's something they had."

In the day's opening match, Clarenceville shook off a slow start to sweep Almont 15-10, 15-13. After trailing 6-2, the Trojans recovered and won the first game by scoring eight of the game's final nine points.

"They were only leaving one blocker and sending the rest back to play defense," Love said. "Once we figured out what they were doing, we adjusted and did much better."

Clarenceville trailed 13-11 in the second game, but rallied behind kills from Amy Jones and Michelle Berry.

Jones, a junior outside-hitter, had nine kills in 33 attempts against the Raiders (19-14-4). Freshman Danielle Sledz recorded six kills in 26 attempts and served two aces.

Berry added five kills in nine attempts and Kilbilko played a strong defensive game with 22 digs. Junior Nicole Riedl sparked the offense with 16 assist kills in 47 sets.

"This team doesn't have a lot of talent yet, but it has great attitude," Love said. "Nicole did a heck of a job stepping up and being a team leader. Danielle, Jackie and Amy also did a great job and stepped up for us. And Michelle will be dynamite next year."

Love was also pleased with the play of Kristen Jaber, Agnieszka Palarz and Christie DeHaan who played strong in supporting roles.

Ansara's Big Boys fare well

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

Low Ansara must be quite proud right now because his team has done it again.

This time they broke the Michigan bowling record high score for a team three-game series with a pinfall of 3,762 in the Les Stanford Hall of Fame Classic League at Thunder-bowl in Allen Park.

Ansara's Big Boy/ Parkway Lanes is comprised of Dan Utman, a resident of Troy, who led the way with games of 258-260-279 and a 797 series; Dan Hanson of Rochester Hills with a 720 total and 300 game; Rick Goyeau with games of 237-234-277 and 748 set; Kevin Keys with a 226-268-267/761; and Tom Reaume who rolled games of 234-289-213/736.

The team score in the second game was an incredible 1,351 to break the city team record (old record was 1,328 bowled by the James Stroh's Beer team in 1971). The old record for Michigan was 3,741.

Strangely enough the 3,762 was achieved despite eight open frames along the way. The high series score presently ranks as tops in the nation for this year. The 133 strikes is the second highest all-time. The record is 138 set by Herman Undertakers in 1937.

George Prybyla must also be very proud of these bowlers as he is the proprietor of Thunderbowl. It is always a thrill to have a record-setting performance in your own house.

Hats off to WJR's Michael Barr, who for the second consecutive year bowled 24 straight hours for the benefit of the Barbara Karmanos Institute — formerly known as the Michigan Cancer Foundation. All five of Roger Robinson's Friendly Fun Centers took part in the fundraiser to "Strike Out Cancer."

Barr, a high average bowler, also bowls in the Les Stanford Chevrolet All-Star Classic. He and those who came to bowl rolled 287 games during the 24-hour period. More than $50,000 was generated for the Barbara Karmanos Cancer Institute, thanks to Barr and all of those generous bowlers who helped support this most worthy cause.

Observant senior bowlers fared pretty well in the latest NSBA tournament at Bonanza Lanes. Jerry Holt of Detroit won the $1,200 top prize. Ed Malinowski of Livonia finished sixth and Ron Caster of Westland came in seventh to each win $250. Bud Bogoyev of Farmington Hills was 12th, Ray Kreuter of Westland 13th, John Staricha of Livonia 18th, Calvin Perkins of Westland 20th, Bill Funke of Livonia 21st, Roy Biggs of Canton 23rd and Gary Reghi of Rochester Hills 27th.

For more information on NSBA tournaments, call (810) 628-8886 or (810) 358-3740.

Luxurious Olds LSS is ideal for hauling people

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

The 1996 Oldsmobile LSS remains the only vehicle General Motors sells that is outfitted with the neat Guidestar system.

I really thought the Guidestar would catch on as the coolest option to hit the upper crust of GM vehicles, especially since the system only costs around $1,600. It's still really neat, and although it's not always accurate, it's still perfect for someone like real-estate sales people who need road map information at their fingertips.

That aside, the LSS is still a premium automobile with enough comfort and room for the largest of families or anyone who needs to haul a lot of people around. With the demise of the super-large cars at GM, the LSS may become the next vehicle of choice for taxicab drivers.

Although the standard engine on the LSS is the 3800 Series 3.8-liter, tested was the optional supercharged 3800 Series 3.8-liter engine with sequential fuel injection mated to a 4-speed electronically con-

Chapman struts, coil springs and anti-roll bar in the rear. No mistaking the luxury-type ride here.

The Oldsmobile LSS is definitely positioned to meet the needs and expectations of anyone who wants to purchase a full-size import vehicle. The value is certainly there, given its long list of standard equipment.

Anne Fracassa is senior editor of Avanti NewsFeatures.

1996 Oldsmobile LSS
Vehicle class: Full-sized luxury sedan.
Power: 3800 Series II 3.8-liter V6.
Mileage: 19 city / 30 highway.
Where built: Lake Orion, MI.
As tested: $27,622.

ROAD TEST
By

trol automatic transmission that packs a whopping 240 horses under the hood.

It's a strong power plant that gets you where you need to go with a minimum of effort and is as quiet as a lamb when getting you there. This thing performs like a strong V8, providing instant response in passing or acceleration from a standstill.

Although Oldsmobile touts this full-size front-wheel-drive sedan as a close kin to the Aurora, the LSS is tamer in looks. Conservative is what you could call it. The LSS is much closer in looks to the Ninety Eight, with some refinements.

Detailing all around has been freshened for 1996. Added fog lamps and 16-inch wheels help distinguish it from the Ninety Eight. There's also the fact that the LSS comes fully equipped -- there are only five options to choose from. They include the supercharged engine, cloth trim, a CD player, an engine block heater (for the cold climates) and a power-operated sunroof.

That's it.

The standard list is extensive for a vehicle that has a base price of $26,000 -- dual airbags, anti-lock brakes, a security system, intermittent wipers, child security locks, 4-wheel independent suspension, twilight sentinel, 16-inch aluminum wheels and blackwall tires, dual 8-way power adjustable bucket seats, an electrochromatic mirror with compass, front and rear floor mats, an AM/FM cassette stereo, dual zone air conditioning, cruise control, fog lamps, illuminated entry and exit, power door locks, power outside mirrors, a power trunk lid release, power windows with automatic down, a rear window defogger, tilt steering wheel, speed-variable power steering, leather seating, traction control, touring suspension and a trunk cargo net.

Also new for 1996 is the trunk pass-through feature for extra-long items, programmable door locks, daytime running lamps and an improved exterior design.

This five-passenger sedan has plenty of headroom, hip-room and legroom, even for the tallest person. Rear seating is comfortable and it's easy to get in and out of. The cargo area could hold at least a month's worth of groceries or take five people's worth of luggage to the airport with little problem.

Ride and handling are taken care of with independent MacPherson struts, coil springs and an anti-roll bar in the front and independent

True or False?
