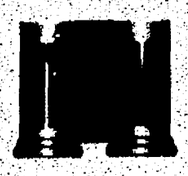
Mayor promotes safety tax



Mayor Robert Thomas is urging voters to support a proposed Aug. 6 ballot proposal which, if approved, would provide for community policing and improved medical services.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Mayor Robert Thomas, in his seventh annual State of the City address, made a strong pitch Wednesday for Westland voters to support a tax increase for improved fire and police services.

Thomas' administration is pushing for a 1.5-mill tax increase to implement a community police program and to boost city firefighter skills to "paramedic" status.

"It will make Westland a place where people want to move to. It will make Westland the place to be," Thomas told nearly 500 people during his mayoral address at the Hellenic Cultural Center.

"It will make Westland a leader of all the suburban communities," he said.

The mayor's plan, termed Project 2000, would cost the owner of an $80,000 house about $60 more a year in property taxes.

Putting the cost in perspective, Thomas said a Westland homeowner would pay about 16 cents a day to pay for Project 2000. For effect, he placed a dime, a nickel and a penny on the podium during his address.

The large audience, which exceeded expectations, gave Thomas an enthusiastic response as he touted his administration's accomplishments and promoted his Project 2000 vision.

"I just love my job," Thomas told the crowd. Now in his seventh year in office, he is Westland's longest-serving mayor.

In introducing Thomas, Deputy Mayor George Gillies commended him for his "irrefutable integrity."

The 1.5-mill tax plan appears to have the support of most Westland City Council members, who could vote as early as May to place the proposal on the Aug. 6 primary election ballot.

Video spending disputed

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

A "waste of money" is what Livonia Board of Education trustee Ken Timmons has called the purchase of computerized video equipment for the school district's community education education.

In a unanimous vote last week, the school board, which serves the northern section of Westland, bowed to Timmons' dissent and agreed to discuss further in committee the spending of $36,865 for the video equipment. The equipment will speed the editing of school-produced videos which are shown during school board meetings and on channel 16, the district's school cable channel.

The purchase, recommended by Jay Young, community services director, was scheduled to be discussed and possibly approved.

If it had come up for a vote, Timmons said he had a prepared statement he would have read opposing the purchase. "That's $36,000 being spent on public relations. The kids will not be able to use this piece of equipment. We spend a lot on PR. I would rather spend this on student programs."

Young had hoped for speedy approval of the equipment purchase so that Mary Pat Benoit, the district's video coordinator, could learn how to use it this school year.

The system will let Benoit insert changes into a video without having to reedit the entire video.

"Now, if there are changes the video has to be reedited," Young said. "This was recommended to cut down the amount of time needed to edit video. It's a new way to do it. Yes, we can produce a video now. But it takes hours and hours of editing time for every minute of video we get. Her time can be much better served. I wouldn't want to add

Motorist rebuffed in plea change bid

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Garden City man who killed a Westland jogger while driving drunk in Hines Park has lost his bid to withdraw a guilty plea to second-degree murder.

Paul Raymond Sadler, serving 10 to 20 years in prison for killing 24-year-old Caryn Casaz last Sept. 13, has hired a new attorney, Mark Kriger, in his latest move to beat a murder charge.

Kriger argued Friday in Wayne County Circuit Court that Sadler, 43, didn't know that he had hit Casaz and that he shouldn't have pleaded guilty to second-degree murder.

Kriger argued that Sadler should be allowed to stand trial on the charge, but Judge Michael Talbot denied the request. When asked if he will appeal Friday's ruling, Kriger said, "without question."

Sadler didn't appear in court with his attorney on Friday, but his latest maneuver upset Casaz's family members, who sat in the front row of Talbot's courtroom.

"It's not only frustrating, it's devastating," Mary Casaz, the victim's mother, said. "It's not over yet."

The hearing also drew some of Sadler's supporters, including his wife, Patricia, principal of Hosanna Tabor parochial school in Redford Township.

Talbot on Feb. 23 sentenced Sadler to 10 to 20 years for second-degree murder, five to 15 years for driving drunk/causing a death, and two to five years for leaving the Hines Drive scene where Casaz was killed.

Kriger said in court that Sadler shouldn't have pleaded guilty to any

She has been active in the Friendship Center for 20 years, was a member of the Senior Advisory Council in the late 1970s, and a Happy Westlanders' Club for 15 years, serving as president and vice-president.

A member of the Willow Creek Senior Club for 20 years, she has three children, 14 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

PLACES & FACES

Tim Dyer honored

Timothy J. Dyer, former Wayne-Westland school district superintendent and principal, was recently honored by Eastern Michigan University's College of Education. He was cited as a person who has made a significant impact in their respective college.

The honors were presented during the university's "Coming Home '96" festivities.

While in the Wayne-Westland district, Dyer was a John Glenn High School social studies teacher, Wayne Memorial High School assistant principal, the first principal at Stevenson Junior High, and superintendent. Currently, he is executive director of the National Association of Secondary School Principals, based in Reston, Va.

YMCA to honor two

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA will honor two people at its April 25 Invest in Youth recognition dinner. To be recognized for their support of the Y will be Jack Demmer, owner of a Ford dealership on Michigan Ave. and Newburgh, and Mack Mayfield, retired city of Westland public services supervisor.

The dinner will also honor those who have donated to the Y's Invest in Youth program. The dinner will be in the Hawthorne Valley banquet hall. For tickets, contact the Y office, 721-7044. Tickets are $25.

charge higher than driving drunk/causing a death. He questioned whether there was a factual basis for the murder charge.

Kriger pointed to statements by Sadler in which the defendant said he "blacked out" at the wheel of his car and didn't realize he had hit Casaz when he veered several feet off of the road.

Sadler continued driving but was followed home by a Livonia man who gave authorities Sadler's address.

In rejecting Kriger's request Friday, Talbot noted that Sadler, in pleading guilty, admitted that he "should have known that (he) hit someone because of the size" of the object that his car struck.

Talbot also recalled Sadler saying that "his heart was racing" after the incident.

"There's no reason to panic if you haven't struck someone," Talbot said.

Assistant Wayne County prosecutor Carolyn Breen said that Sadler's blood alcohol level was .21, more than twice the legal limit, and that he also had cocaine in his bloodstream.

Both Talbot and Breen stressed that Sadler increased his likelihood of facing murder charges when he left the scene.

"Not only did he leave the scene," Mary Casaz said, "but he drove home and hid his car in the garage."

Talbot said Sadler should have realized that he hit someone when Casaz's body shattered the windshield of his car.

But Kriger said he believes that Sadler "ought to have the right to proceed to trial if he so chooses."

In an attempt to bolster his position, Kriger referred to a 1993 drunken-driving fatality in Pontiac in which a district judge refused to bind over the defendant on a second-degree murder charge.

Prosecutors sought an amended charge that was approved in circuit court; but they lost an appeals court ruling that rejected the murder charge.

Regardless, Talbot noted Friday that the Pontiac case differed from Sadler's in several ways:

- The 1993 defendant hit a motorist, not a jogger.
- The Pontiac man stopped at the scene, unlike Sadler.
- In the prior case, the defendant admitted to witnesses at the scene that the accident was his fault.

another person to the staff to improve efficiency."

Timmons said he believes the district's video system has enough state-of-the-art equipment for a school district.

"We have a lot of stuff other districts don't have. We won't need to spend this money to take movies of kids to show on TV; it's a waste of money," said Timmons, who said the money could be better spent on hiring a teacher.

Administrators pegged the cost of a beginning teacher at $45,000 yearly, including benefits.

Young disagreed with Timmons' view that the district's video system is state-of-the-art. "State-of-the-art is the latest, most recent equipment to do a function. We have standard equipment that has not basically changed for years. Our intent is to be more current."

Computer helps improve eating habits

Students from St. Michael Catholic School in Livonia are using a computer program to analyze their eating habits and balance their individual eating styles.

The "You are what you eat" program is one of nearly 100 health related programs funded this year for students by SelectCare and Kmart.

Third-, fifth- and sixth-graders at St. Michael's are participating in the program. The students hope to use the computer program "Select Students _ Fit for the Future " to improve their health and possibly win a prize.

SelectCare and Kmart also asked students to help devise a program that would encourage students to eat healthier.

The program devised by St. Michael students will be evaluated by the two companies. Representatives from the top three student teams from each grade level will be invited to present their program to judges on May 18.

The school has students from Westland and Garden City.

improve the quality of life in Westland," Thomas said Wednesday.

Project 2000 would cost an estimated $11.5 million, and the tax increase would be levied for six years.

The 102-member Westland Police Department would add seven new officers, and each would be assigned exclusively to one of seven city districts. The aim is to have the officers become familiar to neighborhood residents.

An additional police lieutenant, sergeant and secretary also would be hired.

The 79-member Westland Fire Department would hire six more firefighters, a captain and a secretary. Moreover, all four fire stations would upgraded with an Advanced Life Support (ALS) program, resulting in 24-hour paramedic services.

Paramedics are better trained to save lives than emergency medical technicians who now respond to calls.

An ALS program "really does mean the difference between life and death for a lot of people," Thomas said.

Early on during Wednesday's ceremony, a video _ shown on a large screen in front of the audience _ touted some of the accomplishments of Thomas' administration, while the mayor spoke personally about others.

Among the highlights:

• A curbside leaf pickup program is now in its second year.

• A mayoral-appointed task force on drugs and alcohol has shown results, he said. Members "have really made an impact with some of the kids in our city."

• The city's Youth Assistance Program, which provides mentors for troubled youngsters, has also produced results, Thomas said.

• A pilot community police program has been implemented in the south-end neighborhood known as Norwayne, to address gang problems and other neighborhood concerns.

• Westland's 33,500-square-foot library is to open in November.

• A subscription curbside recycling program is coming this spring.

• City officials have launched a Downtown Development Authority. The plan is aimed at using specific tax revenues to spruce up commercial areas along the entire stretch of Ford Road in Westland, and along Wayne Road from Ford south to Glenwood.

Parents and educator garner kudos for their efforts

In an emotional ceremony Wednesday, Patricia Roberts, Cheryl Yudt and Jerry Young shared a spotlight that shines on few people.

Superior mom: Westland Mother of the Year Cheryl Yudt speaks after winning the honor.

So special are these three people, that they received standing ovations from nearly 500 people who came to see them honored during the city of Westland's Salute to Excellence awards at the Hellenic Cultural Center.

Roberts, a teacher of 29 years at Schweitzer Elementary School, won the honor of being named Westland Teacher of the Year.

Yudt, a Westland resident of 21 years, was named Westland Mother of the Year.

And Young, a city resident of 33 years, stood out as Westland Father of the Year.

Nominated in essays written by the young people in their lives, Roberts, Yudt and Young rose above many nominees to be chosen winners by a seven-member committee headed by Deputy Mayor George Gillies.

The second annual awards ceremony followed Mayor Robert Thomas' State of the City address. The live presentation was complemented with city-made videos capturing the winners in their usual surroundings.

Roberts, who said she has "never been blessed" with children of her own, said the students in her fifth-grade classroom help to compensate.

"My needs are met with these children," she said. "They become my family."

Many of Roberts' current and former students and colleagues came to honor her Wednesday. She was nominated by parents James and Abbie Scott, their children, Erin and Kyle, and student Jeffrey Drys.

Roberts' love for her students goes beyond the classroom. She attends funerals of her pupils' parents, lets youngsters confide their problems to her, and even meets Erin Scott for an occasional dinner.

Abbie Scott said her daughter gains much inspiration from those dinners. In fact, Eric Scott now wants to be a teacher.

Roberts' former principal, Karen Obsniuk, said Roberts works hard to foster a family atmosphere in her classroom.

Yudt was nominated as Mother of the Year by her daughter, Stacey, a John Glenn High School senior. Yudt said Wednesday was "a night I'll never forget."

She and husband Richard also have two sons, Kevin, a Marshall Middle School student, and Ryan, a Hamilton Elementary pupil.

Yudt was described as a mother who finds time to work on computers with Kevin; serve as chaperone for Stacey's school trips; make popcorn for Ryan and his friends; go camping with friends; give up vacations to attend band camp; and maintain her job as Concordia College's assistant director of admissions, among numerous other activities.

Stacey said Yudt is like a second mother to her friends.

Being a mother does have its mishaps, like the time she suffered a broken jaw while playing catch with her son, Yudt said.

Young, nominated for Father of the Year by son Carl, a Stevenson Middle School student, was described as always putting the needs of his family members above his own. He is an auto body repair worker at Don Massey Cadillac in Plymouth.

Young's wife, Louise, said her husband took full responsibility for the family when she was suffering an illness.

Young also has a daughter Jerri Lynn, a stepdaughter Melissa and a stepson Fredrick.

Wayne-Westland school board member Mathew McCusker was honored recently at a board meeting for becoming a "master board member," one of only 21 people in the state to achieve the honor.

McCusker received the honor after completing 400 hours of education through the Michigan Association of School Boards.

McCusker, 59, has been a Wayne-Westland board member since 1982, with the exception of a two-year stint when he suffered an election defeat.

"He has probably been the most dedicated board member that this board has ever seen," board vice president Patricia Brown said Monday night.

Walkers prepare to help boost babies' health

The March of Dimes is asking metro Detroiters to hit the road for healthier babies and walk for someone they love during WalkAmerica '96!

WalkAmerica is the country's oldest, largest and most successful walking event, and this year it takes place on Saturday and Sunday, April 27-28. The 20-kilometer walk benefits the March of Dimes Campaign for Healthier Babies.

"Every year, a quarter of a million babies are born too small, too soon. And Detroit has one of the highest infant mortality rates in the country," said Sam McGoun, March of Dimes chapter chairman. "WalkAmerica gives people and companies in this area a tremendous opportunity to help the March of Dimes ensure that babies are born healthy, free from birth defects and illnesses. Your steps could mean a lifesaving treatment or cure."

WalkAmerica is the March of Dimes' largest fund raising event, taking place in more then 1,500 communities nationwide and involving more than one million walkers. There were over 15,000 metro Detroit walkers in 1995, raising $1.3 million for healthier babies. In 1996, the March of Dimes is expecting 17,000 walkers raising $1.5 million.

Over the past 26 years, WalkAmerica volunteers have raised more than $800 million, helping the March of Dimes achieve major milestones towards improving the health of mothers and babies, including: development of a nationwide system of neonatal intensive care units (NICU); early research in the development of surfactant therapy to treat respiratory distress syndrome; a nationwide campaign informing the American public of folic acid's role in preventing birth defects; and community-based programs that provide access to prenatal care for all women.

There are 14 communities in southeast Michigan hosting walk sites on WalkAmerica Weekend: Saturday, April 29 -- in Brighton, Monroe, and Owosso and Sunday, April 30 -- in Algonac, Ann Arbor, Auburn Hills, Detroit, Farmington Hills, Flint, Lapeer, Metro Beach Metropark, Port Huron, Troy and Wyandotte.

Each route is 20 kilometers (about 12 miles) and walkers are asked to secure pledges for each kilometer they walk. Every route has checkpoints offering entertainment, refreshments, snacks and first-aid.

There are Victory Vans available along the routes for people wishing to walk only part of the 20-kilometer route.

WalkAmerica participants can walk as individuals or as part of a team. TeamWalk was created especially for businesses, unions and other organizations who want to walk together as a team to support WalkAmerica.

Through TeamWalk companies take part in a high-visibility promotion that brings employees together with friends and families, to walk for someone they love, and show their concern for the health of babies.

Funds raised through the March of Dimes WalkAmerica help support over 50 percent of the Campaign for Healthier Babies in southeast Michigan.

■ There are Victory Vans available along the routes for people wishing to walk only part of the route.

The mission of the March of Dimes is to improve the health of babies by preventing birth defects and infant mortality through community services, research and education.

Dogs are at risk for heartworm

As spring arrives, The Pet Practice clinic in Livonia wants to warn dog owners about the seasonal danger of heart worm, a potentially fatal canine disease, and how to prevent it.

The return of warm weather brings mosquitoes, the carrier of heartworm.

The bite of one mosquito carrying the parasite from another dog can infect your pet. Once infected, the parasite eventually gets into the dog's bloodstream and travels to the heart, lungs, and other vital organs.

"There are no early symptoms of heartworm," said Kim Genova, DVM and Michigan area vice-president of The Pet Practice. "The first visible signs of an infected dog are an intolerance to exercise and an overall lack of energy. After nine to 12 months, poor circulation and coughing will start. If left untreated, vital organs may stop functioning and the dog could die."

Genova stressed that preventing the disease is easier, more effective and less expensive than post-diagnosis treatment. Dogs can be protected from heartworm through annual testing and either daily or monthly medication.

All 52 million dogs in the U.S. are at risk, but those in the South and along the Atlantic coast are especially susceptible due to the warm, wet climate that attracts mosquitoes year round.

Additionally, dogs living near lakes, ponds and marshes are at a higher risk of transmitting heartworm as a result of the increased number of mosquitoes in those areas.

Positive measures should begin one month prior to mosquito season and continue until one month after. Only a veterinarian can determine the appropriate medications and dosage for a pet.

In Livonia, The Pet Practice is at 18790 Middlebelt, 1 1/2 blocks south of Seven Mile.

Legislator in spotlight

State Rep. Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, whose district includes Garden City and a section of Westland, was the only Democrat to help Gov. John Engler launch "Project Zero" Thursday, a program designed to put welfare recipients to work.

Kelly noted his notoriety when it was his turn to speak at a business persons' group last week in Canton Township.

"I must commend the governor for sharing again a visit to our area," he said. "Last week it was in Wayne. This week here in Canton. I must say though, governor, my friends are getting a bit nervous. Three times in two weeks and I have my picture taken with the governor (and) I show up on television (with the governor). But I will let them rest easy because if they look at the dias they'll find that the governor and my colleagues are on the left side."

CITY OF GARDEN CITY
ORDINANCE #96-004

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING A CABLE COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM FRANCHISE AGREEMENT TO AMERITECH NEW MEDIA ENTERPRISES, INC.

WHEREAS, Ameritech New Media Enterprises, Inc. ("Ameritech") wishes to provide cable service in City and has requested a cable franchise in order to do same, and

WHEREAS, the City is authorized to grant one or more non-exclusive franchises for the provision of cable services within City by means of a cable system, and

WHEREAS, the City has reviewed Ameritech's request and has considered the terms and conditions of City's current cable franchise dated July 26, 1983 with MacLean Hunter Cable TV, Inc. ("Comcast"), the existing cable franchise fees, the development of new services, the state of technology, the attached franchise and other factors such as the fact that as a matter of federal law there is no effective competition for Comcast which is for practical purposes, a monopoly, and

WHEREAS, the attached franchise with Ameritech contains certain modifications of City Code provisions that would otherwise apply to a cable franchisee, and

WHEREAS, the City has determined that it has been demonstrated that the increase in competition in cable services resulting from granting a cable franchise to Ameritech is an exceptional and extraordinary circumstance warranting such modifications and that such modifications will not be detrimental to the public health, safety and welfare, and such modifications will not impair the intent and purposes of Chapter 123 of the City Code, and

WHEREAS, the City has determined that granting of the attached franchise to Ameritech on the terms set forth therein is in the public interest of the City and its residents and will encourage competition and assist in meeting the cable related needs of the community

Section 3. Amendment of Section 123.03.

Section 123.03 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.03 DURATION OF FRANCHISE; RENEWAL.

(A) The duration of the rights, privileges and authorizations hereby granted shall be no more than 15 years from the date the franchise is awarded. Renewal procedures shall be as set forth in Title VI of the Communications Act of 1934, as from time to time in effect, and other applicable State or Federal Law. In the absence of such laws the franchise may be renewed by the City upon application of the Grantee pursuant to the procedure established in division B. below and in accordance with the then applicable law.

B. Renewal procedures.

1) At least 15 months prior to the expiration of the franchise, Grantee shall inform the City in writing of its intent to seek renewal of the franchise and thereupon file with the City a proposal for renewal.

2) After giving public notice, the City shall proceed to determine whether the Grantee has satisfactorily performed its obligations under the franchise. To determine satisfactory performance, the City shall consider technical developments and performance of the system, programming, other services offered, cost of services, and any other particular requirements set in the chapter. Also, the City shall consider the Grantee's proposal, and its annual reports made to the City and the FCC; industry performance on a national basis shall also be considered. Provision shall be made for public comment.

3) A four month period shall be provided to determine the Grantee's eligibility for renewal.

4) The City shall then prepare within two months any amendments to this chapter that it believes necessary.

5) If, based upon Grantee's performance during this franchise term, the Grantee's new proposal, and report thereon, and the public hearings, the Council finds a renewal of the franchise with Grantee is in the public interest, Council may enter into a renewal of the franchise with Grantee under such terms and conditions as are appropriate and for an additional term not to exceed 15 years.

6) In the event the Grantee is determined by the City to have performed unsatisfactorily, new applicants may be sought and evaluated and a franchise award may be made by the City.

(A) Within 18 months from the date of award of a franchise, Grantee must make cable television service available to every dwelling unit within the City.

B. Any delay beyond the terms of this timetable, unless specifically approved by the Council, will be considered a violation of this chapter for which the provisions of either § 123.21 or 123.22 shall apply, as determined by the Council.

C. With respect to requests for connection requiring an aerial drop line in excess of 150 feet, the Grantee must extend and make its Cable Cable Services to such residents at a connection charge not to exceed the actual installation costs incurred by the Grantee for the distance exceeding 150 feet.

Section 6. Amendment of Section 123.06.

Section 123.06 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.06 CONSTRUCTION AND TECHNICAL STANDARDS.

(A) Grantee shall construct, install, operate and maintain its Cable Communications System in a manner consistent with all applicable laws, ordinances, construction standards, governmental requirements, FCC technical standards, and with all detailed standards enumerated by Grantee as part of its application (if any), which standards are incorporated by reference herein. In addition, Grantee shall provide the City, upon request, with a written report of the results of Grantee's annual proof of performance tests or other tests conducted pursuant to FCC standards and requirements.

(B) Construction, installation and maintenance of the Cable Communications System shall be performed in an orderly and workmanlike manner. All cables and wires shall be installed, where possible, parallel with electric and telephone lines. Multiple cable configurations shall be arranged in parallel and bundled with due respect for engineering considerations.

(C) Grantee shall at all times comply with:

(1) National Electrical Safety Code of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers;

(2) National Electrical Code of the National Fire Protection Association;

(3) Bell System Code of Pole Line Construction;

(4) Applicable FCC or other federal, state and local regulations;

(5) The Charter and ordinances of the City including provisions regulating public utility franchises.

(D) Grantee's Cable Communications System shall be located, erected, and maintained so that none of its facilities shall endanger or interfere with the lives of persons or property, or interfere with any improvements the City may deem proper to make, or unnecessarily hinder or obstruct the free use of streets, alleys, easements, or public property.

(E) The following shall apply to Grantee's testing and compliance with the FCC regulations relating to cable television technical standards currently set forth in 47 Code of Federal Regulations Part 76 subpart K:

1) Grantee shall provide City with a report of its testing for compliance with such regulations upon request.

2) Grantee shall establish the following procedure for resolving complaints from Subscribers about the quality of the television signal delivered to them. All complaints shall go initially to a person designated by Grantee. All matters not resolved by such person shall at Grantee's or the Subscriber's option be referred to the City for it to resolve. All matters not resolved by the City may be referred to the FCC for it to resolve. Grantee shall annually notify all Subscribers of the procedure.

Section 7. Amendment of Section 123.07.

Section 123.07 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.07 TRANSFERS AND ASSIGNMENTS.

(A) A franchise shall not be assigned or transferred, either in whole or in part, or leased, sublet or mortgaged in any manner, nor shall title thereto, either legal or equitable or any right, interest or property therein, pass to or vest in any person without the prior written consent of the City. The proposed assignee or transferee must show financial responsibility as determined by the City and must agree to comply with all provisions of the franchise. The City shall not unreasonably withhold its consent to a proposed transfer or assignment. The City may charge the assignee or transferee a reasonable fee to assure the franchise remains consistent with the original franchise fee and to cover all reasonable costs incurred in assuring itself that the assignee or transferee is so qualified to administer the cable system as the original Grantee. The City may by a franchise provide for special and additional procedures for transfers or assignments to affiliates of a Grantee.

(B) The Grantee shall promptly notify the City of any actual or proposed change in, or transfer of, or acquisition by any other party of, control of the Grantee. The word "control" as used herein is not limited to major stockholders but includes actual working control in whatever manner exercised. Every change in, transfer of, or acquisition of control without the prior consent of the City, which will not unreasonably be withheld, may cause such alterations to control without such consent shall render this franchise subject to revocation. For the purpose of determining whether it shall consent to such change, transfer, or acquisition of control, the City may require into the qualifications of the prospective controlling party, and the Grantee shall assist in any such inquiry, and such party shall assume all reasonable costs incurred by the City so in doing.

(C) The consent of approval of the Council to any transfer or assignment of the franchise shall not constitute a waiver or release of the rights of the City in and to the streets, and any transfer or assignment shall by its terms, be expressly subordinate to the terms and conditions of this franchise.

(D) In the absence of extraordinary circumstances, the City will not approve any transfer or assignment of the franchise or change in control prior to substantial completion of construction of a proposed System.

(E) The Council reserves the right, consistent with Federal law, to review the purchase price of any transfer or assignment of the cable system. Any assignee to this franchise expressly agrees that any negotiated cable value which the Council (acting upon professional advice) deems unreasonable will not be considered in the rate base for any subsequent request for rate increases.

(F) In no event shall a transfer of ownership or control be approved without the successor in interest becoming a signatory to the franchise agreement.

Section 8. Amendment of Section 123.08.

Section 123.08 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.08 SUBSCRIBER SERVICE RATES.

A Grantee shall comply with any applicable cable television rate regulation ordinances.

Section 9. Amendment of Section 123.09.

Section 123.09 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.09 PAYMENT OF FRANCHISE FEE.

(A) For the reason that the streets to be used by the Grantee in the operation of its Cable Communications System within the boundaries of the City are valuable public properties acquired and maintained by the City at great expense to its taxpayers, and that the grant to the Grantee of the right to use the said streets is a valuable property right without which the Grantee would be required to invest substantial capital in right of way costs and acquisitions, and because the City will incur costs in regulating and administering the franchise, and at the option of the Council, the City may make available a portion of the franchise fee to further the development of public and community uses of cable TV, a Grantee shall pay to the City an amount equal to 5% of Grantee's annual Gross Revenues.

(B) City may by Franchise Agreement increase the effective percentage rate or rates applicable to a particular Grantee.

(C) The franchise fee and any other cost or penalties assessed shall be payable quarterly to the City Treasurer, in accordance with the Grantee's fiscal year. The Grantee shall file a complete and accurate verified statement of all Gross Revenues during the period for which said quarterly payment is made, and said payment shall be made to the City not later than 30 days after the expiration of each quarter.

(D) The City shall have the right to inspect and audit the Grantee's records to recompute any amounts determined to be payable under this chapter, provided, however, that such audit shall take place within 36 months following the close of each of the Grantee's fiscal years. Any additional amount due to the City as a result of the audit shall be paid within 30 days following written notice to the Grantee by the City (which notice shall include a copy of the audit report), unless contested by Grantee within such 30 days.

(E) In the event that any franchise fee payment or recomputed amount, cost, or penalty, is not made on or before the applicable dates heretofore specified, interest shall be charged daily from such date at the annual rate of either 12% or the current prime interest rate, whichever is greater.

Section 10. Amendment of Section 123.10.

Section 123.10 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.10 REQUIRED SERVICES AND FACILITIES.

(A) The Cable Television System shall have at least 30 channels available for immediate use.

(B) Such System shall maintain a plant having the technical capacity for return, or two way communications.

(C) Subject to subsection (E) a Grantee shall maintain the following for the length of the franchise:

(1) At least one specially designated, noncommercial public access channel available on a first come, nondiscriminatory basis at no cost to users;

(2) At least one specially designated channel for use by local educational authorities at no cost to users;

(3) At least one specially designated channel for local governments use at no cost to users;

(4) At least one specially designated channel for leased access use; provided, however, these uses may be combined on one or more channels until such time as additional channels become necessary; and

(5) At least one specifically designated channel available to senior citizens' programming.

(D) Subject to subsection (E) a Grantee shall have available within the City equipment for local production and presentation of cablecast programs other than automated services and shall permit its use for the production and presentation of public access programs.

(E) City may by Franchise Agreement modify the requirements of subsection (C) and/or (D) for a particular Grantee. However, at minimum such a Grantee shall provide and maintain for the length of the Franchise Agreement at no cost to the City or Users at least three channels, available 24 hours per day, whose use the City will allocate among some or all of the following types of users, as the City from time to time determines best meets the cable related needs of the City and its residents:

1) Public access usage;

2) Usage by local public K-12 schools;

3) Usage by the City;

4) Usage by the Garden City Osteopathic Hospital; and

5) Usage by and for senior citizens.

In addition, a Grantee shall maintain for the length of the Franchise Agreement one educational channel for use by Schoolcraft Community College, Garden City Campus 24 hours per day, at no cost to that User, unless all the need for such an educational channel is removed by such Grantee otherwise providing (by leased access or otherwise) such User a channel on the Cable Communications System.

F. 1) A Grantee shall comply with applicable Federal rules relating to Emergency Alert Systems. 2) In the absence of such rules a Grantee shall incorporate into its cable television system the capacity which will permit the City, in times of emergency, to override, by remote control, the audio of all channels simultaneously. The Grantee shall designate a channel which will be used for emergency broadcasts of both audio and video. The Grantee shall cooperate with the City in the use and operation of the emergency alert override system.

G. The Grantee may be required to interconnect its system with other broadband communications facilities. Such interconnection shall be made within the time limit established by the City which time limit shall be extended as necessary to obtain needed cooperation of third parties. The interconnection shall, at the City's discretion, be accomplished according to the method and technical standards determined by the City and generally accepted as industry practices. "Broadband communications facility" as used herein, means any network of cable, optical, electronic or electronic equipment, including cable television systems, used for the purpose of transmitting telecommunications signals but shall only include landline networks providing multichannel video programming generally considered comparable to programming provided by television broadcast stations.

H. The Grantee shall provide such additional services and facilities as are contained in its application, if any, or Franchise Agreement, which is incorporated by reference herein.

I. It is mutually agreed upon and understood that as the "state of the art" develops to allow additional channels, services, and other improvements to the system, including two-way capability, such developments may be incorporated into the system by the Grantee.

J. Grantee shall make available suitable channel capacity for leased access by third parties unaffiliated with Grantee to the extent from time to time required by federal law and regulations. Grantee shall have the sole responsibility for all operating aspects and for the fixing of rates and conditions for leased access use.

B. In case of disturbance of any street or paved area the Grantee shall, at its own cost and expense and in a manner reasonably approved by the City, replace and restore such street or paved area in as good a condition as before the work involving such disturbance was done.

C. If at any time during the period of a franchise the City shall lawfully elect to alter or change the grade of any street, the Grantee, upon reasonable notice by the City, shall remove, relay, and relocate its poles, wires, cables, underground conduits, manholes, and other fixtures at its own expense.

D. Any poles or other fixtures placed in or adjacent to any street by the Grantee shall be placed in such manner as to comply with all requirements of the City.

E. The Grantee shall, at the request of any person, holding a moving permit issued by the City, temporarily raise or lower its wires to permit the moving of buildings. The expense of such temporary removal, raising or lowering of wires shall be paid by the person requesting the same, and the Grantee shall have the authority to require such payment in advance. The Grantee shall be given not less than 72 hours' notice to arrange for such temporary wire changes.

F. The Grantee may trim trees or other vegetation owned by the City or encroaching upon the public right of way to prevent their branches or leaves from touching or otherwise interfering with its wires, cables or other structures. All trimming or pruning shall be at the sole cost of the Grantee.

G. In all sections of the City where the cables, wires, or other like facilities of public utilities are placed underground, the Grantee shall place its cables, wires, or other like facilities underground.

H. At the expiration of the term for which the franchise is granted, and absent its renewal, or upon its termination and cancellation, as provided for herein, the City shall have the right to require the Grantee to remove at its own expense all portions of the Cable Television System within the City.

I. In using any easements, Grantee shall ensure:

(a) That the safety, functioning and appearance of the property and convenience and the safety of other persons not be adversely affected by the installation or construction of facilities necessary for the Cable Television System.

(b) That the costs of the installation, construction, operation, or removal of such facilities be borne by Grantee or a Subscriber, or a combination of both; and

(c) That the owner of property be justly compensated by Grantee for any damages caused by the installation, construction, operation or removal of such facilities by Grantee.

Section 12. Amendment of Section 123.12.

Section 123.12 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.12 INDEMNIFICATION, INSURANCE.

(A) It shall be expressly understood and agreed by and between the City and any Grantee hereunder that the Grantee shall save the City and its agents and employees harmless from and against all claims, damages, losses, and expenses, including attorney's fees, sustained by the City on account of any suit, judgment, execution, claim, or demand whatsoever arising out of but not limited to, copyright infringements and all other damages arising out of the installation, operation, or maintenance of the Cable System authorized herein, whether or not any act or omission complained of is authorized, allowed, or prohibited by this subchapter and any franchise granted hereunder.

(B) The Grantee shall maintain and by its acceptance of the franchise specifically agrees that it will maintain throughout the terms of the franchise, liability insurance insuring the City and the Grantee in the minimum amounts of $5,000,000.

(C) The insurance policy obtained by the Grantee in compliance with this section must be approved by the City Attorney and such insurance policy, along with written evidence of payment of required premiums, shall be filed and maintained with the City Clerk during the term of the franchise. The Grantee shall immediately advise the City Attorney of any litigation that may develop that would affect this insurance.

D. Neither the provisions of this section nor any damages recovered by the City thereunder, shall be construed to or limit the liability of the Grantee under any franchise issued hereunder or for damages.

E. All insurance policies maintained pursuant to this Cable Ordinance shall contain the following endorsement:

"It is hereby understood and agreed that this insurance policy may not be canceled by the surety nor the intention not to renew be stated by the surety until 60 days after receipt by the City, by registered mail, of written notice of such intention to cancel or not to renew."

F. The preceding are minimum requirements and the insurance and indemnity terms of a Franchise Agreement with a Grantee shall control to the extent they are stricter or more detailed than the preceding.

Section 123.13 of the City Code is amended to read in its entirety as follows:

§ 123.13 LETTER OF CREDIT.

(A) In accordance with the timing set forth in Section 123.25 (B), the Grantee shall deposit with the City a letter from a financial institution in the amount of $50,000. The form and content of such letter of credit shall be reasonably approved by the City Attorney. The letter of credit shall be used to ensure the faithful performance by the Grantee of all provisions of this franchise, and compliance with all orders, permits, and directions of any agency, commission, board, department, division, or office of the City having jurisdiction over the acts or defaults under this franchise, and the payment by the Grantee of any claims, liens, and taxes due the City which arise by reason of the construction, operation, or maintenance of the system.

(B) The letter of credit shall be maintained at $50,000 during the entire term of this franchise even if amounts have to be withdrawn pursuant to divisions (A) or (C) of this section.

Upon such request for payment, the City shall notify the Grantee of the amount and date thereof.

(D) The rights reserved to the City with respect to the letter credit are in addition to all other rights of the City, whether reserved by this franchise or authorized by law, and no action, proceeding or exercise of a right with respect to such letter of credit shall affect any other right the City may have.

(E) The letter of credit shall contain the following endorsement:

(2) The bond shall provide, but not be limited to, the following condition: There shall be recoverable by the City, jointly and severally from the principal and surety, any and all damages, loss, or costs suffered by the City resulting from the failure of the Grantee to satisfactorily complete and fully activate the Cable Television System throughout the franchise area pursuant to the terms and conditions of this chapter.

Such report shall be delivered to the Council no later than 14 days after the Council formally notifies the Grantee and shall include the following information. (G) Said tests and analyses shall be supervised by a professional engineer not on the permanent staff of the company. The costs of these tests shall be paid for by the Grantee but the engineer shall be acting under the direction of the City. A substantial breach by Grantee shall include, but shall not be limited to the following:

(1) Violation of any material provision of the franchise or any material rule, order, regulations, or determination of the City made pursuant to the franchise.

(2) Attempt to evade any material provision of the franchise or practice any fraud or deceit upon the City or its Subscribers.

(3) Failure to begin or complete the System construction or System extension as provided under the franchise.

(6) Misrepresentation of material fact in the application for or negotiations of the franchise.

(B) The foregoing shall not constitute a major breach if the violation occurs but it is without fault of the Grantee or occurs as a result of circumstances beyond its control. Grantee shall not be excused by mere economic hardship nor by misfeasance or malfeasance of its directors, officers, or employees.

(C) The City may make a written demand that the Grantee comply with any such provision, rule, order, or determination under or pursuant to this franchise. If the violation by the Grantee continues for a period of 30 days following such written demand without written proof that the corrective action has been taken or is being actively and expeditiously pursued, the issue of termination of the franchise shall be brought before the Council. At least 20 days prior to the date of such a Council meeting, a written notice of intent to request such termination and the time and place of the meeting shall be served upon the Grantee. Airport limo firm's contract extended

BY BETH SUNDELA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

It's Metro Cars at Metro Airport for another five years.

A five-year contract extension was approved Thursday by the Wayne County Commission for Metro Cars Inc. of Detroit, which provides a luxury sedan taxi service at the airport. The contract extension was criticized as a sweetheart deal by one commissioner and defended as the normal way of doing business by others.

The $495,000 contract was approved 9-6, with local commissioners Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, and Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, voting yes and Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, and Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, voting no.

Downriver Commissioner William O'Neil challenged commissioners to reject the contract calling it the "acid test" for commissioners and a "fundamental issue of public trust."

That raised the ire of other commissioners. "We have absolutely nothing to hide," commission Chairman Ricardo Solomon said.

In response to O'Neil saying the contract shocked his conscience and that commissioners will be held accountable, McCotter said many things shock his conscience, but that this was making the best of a bad situation.

"I will be held accountable for this vote as I am for every vote," said McCotter, who also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township. "My response today is that a symbolic vote will cost the county more money."

Patterson said in a written statement that he opposed the contract because it created "the appearance of an insider arrangement and an unjustified monopoly."

"In a word, we need competition," he wrote.

Beard said she opposed the contract because of its length." I would have been willing to go with a two-year (contract)," she said. Metro Cars, which won the contract five years ago, has the contract until Dec. 31, 2000 and has an option for renewal for another five years beyond that.

A renewal would again have to come before the commission, Airport General Counsel Robert Murphy said. He defended Metro Cars saying "By all accounts they have done a wonderful job at the airport."

In response to several commissioners saying standards need to be adopted for awarding contracts, Wilbourne A. Kelley III, assistant county executive for airports and major county construction, told them "all of our concessions are awarded by the standards established by this commission."

When the contract first went out for bids, three proposals were submitted and three companies were interviewed, Kelley said. The contract was awarded to Metro Cars and is monitored on a monthly basis, Kelley said, adding the company has made a substantial investment at the airport and it's not unusual for the company to expect a contract extension.

Contract reviewed

O'Neil said a review conducted by the commission's audit committee in July 1995, which he chairs, found repeated violations and late payments during the five-year contract with Metro Cars, which ended Dec. 31,1995.

None of the review's findings have been disputed, O'Neil said, but that was disputed by other commissioners and the auditor general who said the review was not an audit and only showed one side of the story. Auditor General Ramona Henderson Pearson said she didn't approve the review and said it wasn't an audit, it was more like an inquiry.

Plawecki, who also represents Redford Township and part of Livonia and chairs the Committee on Roads, Airports and Public Services, said she has been looking at the Metro Cars contract for several months. If an audit had been done it would have explained or disputed many of the findings of O'Neil's review, she said.

In doing the review no one ever talked to anyone from Metro Cars or looked at their books and that violates all governmental standards, Plawecki said.

O'Neil said he has heard from several companies that wish to bid on the contract and would be willing to pay the county more money and be willing to make those payments in advance. In the current contract, Metro Cars agrees to pay Wayne County a $99,000 concession fee and $2,200 for each luxury sedan operated at the airport in excess of 45 vehicles.

Mike Wysocki, president of MPG Transport, owners of a Checker Cab Company headquartered in Livonia, urged the commission to put the contract out for bids.

"We take hundreds of people back and forth to the airport every day," Wysocki said. "We're not asking you to be disloyal or disrespectful to Metro Cars; 10 years without a competitive bid is an extremely long period of time for any contractor to hold a monopoly," he said.

"Members of the transportation industry who opposed us either did not have the foresight to bid five years ago and take the risk that we did, or failed to outbid us," Cullan F. Meathe, president and chief executive officer of Metro Cars, said in a written statement after the vote.

"We welcome competition on any level," he wrote, adding Metro Cars serves airports nationwide and is the standard for the ground transportation industry.

Review disputed

Plawecki said she agrees with a comment made by McCotter that it's not the county's place to attempt to bring in more money with the contract. "That cost will be passed on to the traveling public," she said.

She gave examples of ways the review O'Neil cited would have been disputed, if a true audit had been completed.

Many of the payments shown as late in the review O'Neil cited, were because Metro Cars was waiting for invoices from the county, she said. On another occasion the county's books showed a check as late, when the check had been sitting on a county worker's desk undeposited, Plawecki said. On still another point of the review that Metro Cars tried to add cars to its fleet without paying the extra fee required in the contract with the county, Metro Cars had completed the paper work, but the information hadn't been turned over in a timely fashion from the airport to the county, she said.

"If this review demonstrated anything, it showed us the need to have more control and have auditors out there — our own auditors," she said.

Dentistry in the 90s

by Herbert M. Gardner, D.D.S. & Martha P. Zinderman, R.N., D.D.S.

SEALING OUT DECAY

Aside from brushing and flossing their teeth twice each day and seeing the dentist regularly, dental sealants may be the most effective means that children have for preventing tooth decay. Sealants are thin plastic coatings that the dentist applies to the chewing surfaces of the back teeth, where two-thirds of all cavities form. This area is vulnerable because pits and fissures in the molars trap food and provide protected breeding grounds for bacteria. By applying sealants, the dentist can effectively block out bacteria 100 percent successfully. Sealants typically last five to ten years before the teeth need to be recoated. Unfortunately, only 7.6 percent of school-age children have sealants. Even if sealants are not covered by insurance, they are a good investment because each is still less expensive than filling a cavity. And, sealants go a long way in assuring that children go cavity-free.

If you think your child is a candidate for sealants, call us a LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES. Rely on us to answer all your questions about dental procedures. Knowledge gives small pet shops edge over others

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

When it comes to buying food, basted raw hide rolls, and toys for my 6-month old Irish Wolfhound puppy, I shop at pet supply stores employing knowledgeable staff. Shamrock's health is my top priority.

And even though the superstores tout lower prices, I've found them to be in within a few pennies of the independents. (Langs canned puppy food at Specialty Pet Supplies in Plymouth is actually 4 cents cheaper than the superstore in Canton!) Of course, comparison shopping is always advised if that's your primary concern.

In a time when independents are struggling to survive the advent of superstores, this endangered species is staying in business by serving up knowledge with the kibbles.

"We're doing what we have always done — putting the customer first. We're on a first name basis with most customers. They get to know me and my staff as family. We grieve with them when they lose their pets, and we're happy for them when they get a new puppy," said Terri Bennett, owner of Specialty Pet Supplies.

It's definitely loyalty, that keeps customers coming back. Bennett opened her store in 1979. A few years ago, she opened a second location in Farmington but found she was unable to give quality time to both stores. So she closed Farmington after a year. Now, you can find her along with her dogs Luke, Greta and Bubbles greeting customers in Plymouth with a smile and a sniff most everyday of the week. Customers like knowing that.

Last Christmas, one customer who moved to London, England, was back in town. He stopped in to load up on supplies for his pets. That's loyalty.

"We're here sharing knowledge. We're addressing the diet needs of dogs from senior to obese pets. Talk about an information highway! We're an encyclopedia of knowledge knowing what supplement or shampoo will eliminate skin problems," said Bennett, adding there are other reasons to shop the independents, like special programs they offer consumers.

Specialty Pet Supplies' Very Important Pet Program (VIPP) gives customers discounts while helping animals in trouble. For an annual fee of $15, members receive 10 percent off regularly-priced merchandise and 5 percent off regularly-priced food. Half of the fee goes to the Michigan Anti-Cruelty Society.

Pet Association With Service (PAWS), is an organization of independent retailers formed to compete with the superstores. PAWS consists of independent pet store owners banding together for greater buying and advertising clout. It was founded two years ago by Kelly Watkins, who owns a 45-year-old pet supply distributorship in Auburn Hills.

The only criteria for becoming a PAWS member is that you must sell Excel dog food. More than 80 dealers in Michigan and Ohio now belong to the Harrison Township-based PAWS, according to director Edie Dolinar.

"It levels the playing field. We contact the manufacturers to enable the independents to buy in bulk dry goods, toys, cages, shampoo and ferret items," Dolinar explained. "We need to buy better and advertise. Most independents can't run an ad because of the cost. As a member of PAWS they can advertise as a group in quarterly brochures for a cost under $100. We encourage members to subscribe to the trade journals to keep informed and maintain clean, brightly-lit stores."

Gina Napier, owner of Napier's Kernel Shop in Birmingham concedes that somewhere down the road the 42-year-old business will have to join PAWS to remain competitive. She attributes her family-owned store's success to the service provided throughout more than four decades.

Chap's Feed Store has become a landmark at Five Mile and Middlebelt in Livonia after 45 years of catering to people's pets. Owner Greg Eardley attributes his success to personal customer attention and membership in PAWS.

"It's our familiarity with the customers and their animals that brings them back to us," he said. "They can get answers here. We check prices to remain competitive. People have the misconception the superstores are cheaper. But, a lot of them have loss leader items. Consumers are saying only on a few advertised items."

Flexibility also plays an important role in business strategy. Once, Chap's primarily sold horse feed. And although it's still available at Chap's, merchandise for dogs, cats and birds, fills most of the shelves.

Karen Dearden, owner of Tails & Scales in Rochester, agrees with Eardley, convinced that independents can remain in business against the odds. Dearden puts in 72 hours a week at the shop she owns with husband Ken. Most of their staff has remained with them for years.

"It's not a corporate line or just a business," she said. "Independents are generally pet people. They open pet stores because they love animals. When people have questions, they often call me before they call the vet to see if I can add some insight.

"At first, the dawn of the pet superstores scared a lot of us independents," she continued. "But, the co-op's buying programs allow us to compete with their pricing. We must get rid of shopper's conceptions that superstores are cheaper. With PAWS, our profit margins are the same as theirs."

Back in Plymouth, Bennett says the law of nature "survival of the fittest," applies to business as well.

Jacobson's remodels Birmingham store

Here's Jacobson's plan for the future: be fresh, bright, interesting, and full of merchandise tailored to each of its Metro Detroit stores. It all begins with a renovation of the downtown Birmingham store.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Sometime in the next three weeks, Jacobson's very traditional Birmingham store begins a metamorphosis to transform into a contemporary retail emporium by August.

Explaining the changes ahead for the women's apparel store at Maple and Bates, Thomas Drummy, vice-president of the metro stores, said the remodel will reflect "the new way customers like to shop" with wider aisles, brighter lighting, and comprehensive merchandise displays.

Several departments will be switched, showcases will be reconfigured, some interior walls will disappear, and lighting will be improved. The designs will come from Jacobson's Jackson-based store planning staff, headed by Linda Bramlage.

"We need to make it easier for our customers to find what they need and move comfortably through the store," he said. "It's a challenge because we're dealing with a building that was opened in 1950. We must work within existing structures, load-bearing walls, etc."

To coincide with the renovation, a buying triad was established at the store to insure that incoming merchandise is a perfect fit for the Birmingham market. The task force includes buyers from ready-to-wear, accessories, and home decor.

"There are nuances in each of our metro markets — Livonia, Grosse Pointe, Rochester Hills, Dearborn — that our buyers need to recognize and address," Drummy said. "For instance, Birmingham shoppers want cutting edge, the latest trend merchandise. We are interpreting and fine-tuning our merchandise purchases for each store, not just reordering quantities."

Initial plans for the "new" Birmingham store include:

- A complete "refreshening" of the lower level Che Bella shop.
- Moving Cosmetics on the first level to where the Hosiery, Lingerie and Sleepwear departments are currently.
- Revising assortments and displays in Handbags so items are more accessible and exclusive collections are given greater prominence.
- Working with Chanel to set a "stage" at the store entrance in Accessories.
- On the second level, relocating Signature Collections around the corner to "open up" the area around the escalator.
- Flip-flopping ready-to-wear and sportswear.
- Improving back wall merchandise presentations to assure that fashion stories can be told in a glance.
- Moving Petites and Missy near the beauty salon.
- Keeping Shoes and Jewlery in the same spots on the main floor, but improving merchandise presentations.

According to Jacobson's spokeswoman Janice Hayes, the Birmingham store does big business in Chanel, Escada, and Ron Leal's bridge line so these boutiques need to be better defined.

"We're going back to basics because that's what we've done best all these years," she announced. "Other retailers are bragging about the services they offer shoppers and at Jacobson's we think, 'Why, we've always done that! We've always provided that!' So maybe it's time to take a higher profile instead of being the strong, silent partner, the best kept secret."

Hayes said Jacobson's sales associates come in early and stay late to suit a customer. They frequently take garments to homes, offices and organization meetings. They hand-deliver merchandise out to a car when a rushed customer calls in an order. Gift purchases over $50 are delivered free of charge. There is complimentary gift wrapping. There is free valet parking in Birmingham. There is a hosiery connection for customers who fax orders.

Community organizations that benefit from Jacobson's promotions include Children's Hospital, the Salvation Army, Variety the Children's Charity, the Livonia Symphony, the Police-Athletic League, Race for the Cure, the Afro-American Museum of History, and soon, Jacobson's will salute the unsung heroes of the U.S. Open with a hospitality tent for all volunteers, providing foot massages, Evian water, and a place to rest.

Last year the Livonia store at Laurel Park Place was remodeled. In 1990, the Grosse Pointe store got a ne[illegible]

Refocus on home shops

Even though Jacobson's Store for the Home was remodeled after the company got out of the furniture business two years ago, department improvements continue at the Birmingham store.

■ 'Our home decor sales are strong, expecially anything made of iron!'

Janice Hayes
Jacobson's spokesperson

Last week, Dave Richards of Birmingham was hired to manage the building. Previously, he was general manager at Saks Fifth Avenue in Troy, for 19 years.

A stop-and-sip coffee sample station was opened with exclusive coffees and coffee gift ideas nearby.

"Our home decor sales are strong," said spokeswoman Janice Hayes, "expecially anything made of iron!"

Hayes said corporate discussions are under way to come up with new product lines and surprises for shoppers. For example, Jacobson's will soon carry Designers Guild paper items, inspired by Tricia Guild, a leader of the company established in London in 1970 to create fabrics and wall coverings.Guild is a founding force behind the new attitude in home decorating. Her design books have won devotees across the globe. This except from "Country Colors" with Nonie Niesowand, sums up the movement:

Tricia Guild

"Every so often, and evolving slowly over a decade or so, there is a change in direction in interior design so pronounced it becomes a lifestyle. This is one of those times. Modern decorating can be described as a state of mind, a cherishing of place and time, and a return to simplicity.

Think Natural. Loosen Up. Pare Down. Color In. Live Well. The result is a retreat from the pressures of the outside world, a haven of calm and tranquility in which life can be enjoyed to the full."

Posh papers: Jacobson's will carry Designers Guild napkins and wrapping papers to get the trendiest merchandise to its customers.

Retailers are invited to submit news of upcoming events for Added Attractions. The deadline is the Wednesday before publication on Monday. Send facts to: Malls & Mainstreets, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, 48009.

Remodel

Store in Birmingham and The Children's Shop were remodeled.

In 1994, Jacobson's marked its 125th anniversary as an upscale, specialty department store. Jacobson's is regarded as a leader in each retail community it joins. The renovation of the Birmingham store is significant as the town's business district reviews plans for its future and prepares for the August opening of Somerset North in nearby Troy.

"I think people will be pleased with what we we're doing to the Birmingham store," Hayes said. "Birmingham always has, and should continue to, packaged itself as a destination. The shops have distinction. The restaurants and galleries are one-of-a-kind. Our store will compliment that mix with merchandise that is upscale, new and different."

Franny Award

Business bravo: Barbara Milinko of Lathrup Village holds an award from the International Franchise Association for the success of her Women's Health Boutique on Southfield Road, opened in 1994. She sells pre/post surgery items and apparel.

Retail realities: what sells

Apparel sales may be no-go but accessory sales are soaring.

According to industry reports, 1995 sales of fine jewelry, designer handbags and other "pricey toys" were up 10 percent over 1994 to $21.2 billion. Experts say the relatively low prices, fresh designs and materials, plus the fact that few markdowns are taken, made these items attractive to retailers and customers alike.

Their latest work is the recently published, "Stokes Field Guide To Birds," a photographic field guide to all birds in North America. Wild Birds Unlimited, located at 29405 W. 12 Mile, just west of Middlebelt Road in the Rainbow Center, is part of the original and largest franchise system of backyard birdfeeding and nature specialty stores with over 300 locations throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Sheriff's department to keep electronic monitoring

They call it "house arrest."

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department has established a new program which assists courts in handling those who straddle the line between doing time in jail and staying out in the community.

The Sheriff's Department has decided to maintain the "Electronic Monitoring Unit," which was instituted in the fall of 1995 to help relieve jail overcrowding, as a permanent approach to chronic overpopulation.

Judges have the option to sentence an individual to the Wayne County Jail, Hamtramck Division, for any number of days, then follow up the remainder of the sentence on electronic monitoring.

The targeted inmate population includes cases involving stalking and domestic violence and crimes such as operating a vehicle under the influence of liquor.

In addition to placing defendants on a tether, officers from the sheriff's department place a Breathalyzer into the home of the person found guilty of an O.U.I.L. offense and randomly test that person five, six or seven times a day to make sure that the person is not drinking per the order of the court.

Another focus of the program includes cases involving stalking and domestic violence. If a judge orders a person to be placed into the domestic violence monitoring program, the victim has a monitor placed into the home, and if the person that has been ordered to stay away goes within range of the home, the system automatically dials up the local police dispatch and sheriff's department, both of which will respond to the location.

■ 'The domestic violence tether program is a very effective device to deter, detect and defuse otherwise harmful, and even fatal situations.'

Judge Daniel P. Ryan
—17th District Court

In Redford Township, the 17th District Court Judges Daniel P. Ryan and Karen Khalil have been using this program with great success.

"The domestic violence tether program is a very effective device to deter, detect and defuse otherwise harmful, and even fatal situations," Ryan said. The domestic violence tether is useful to protect the victim from threats, intimidation and violence between the arraignment and pretrial, Ryan said.

"In drunk driving cases, the combined tether and Breathalyzer are an effective alternative to jail while ensuring compliance with the court orders and that the defendant remains free of alcohol," Ryan said.

"This program has multiple benefits. It allows the jail to keep offenders that need to be in jail, in jail.

"It saves the community money — by eliminating jail costs, such as medical and housing — and, the defendant pays to participate in the program," Sheriff Robert Ficano said.

Eggplant can be as good as it looks

I once read that when it comes to food, few subjects polarize people as readily as a discussion of the eggplant. That's true, for despite its subtle flavor, its beauty of form and startling color, no vegetable evokes such emotional reaction. There can be utter rejection on one side, and delight, even rapture on the other, but whatever side you sit on, here are some basics that will help you incorporate something new into your weekly culinary repertoire.

Only one cookbook author that I know has ever denounced the eggplant. "If only the eggplant was as good as it looks, what a gastronomic treat it would be!" says she. But once on a culinary trip to the West Coast, I found myself shopping the farmers markets with Alice of Alice's Restaurant as our guide, and I'll always remember her immortal words – "a perfectly beautiful, purple thing. I buy eggplants just to look at, not just to cook."

Many supermarkets don't know how to handle these royal gifts from the earth. Unlike markets in Europe, Asia and South America, where they are proudly displayed in colorful arrangements, our produce departments stock eggplants like overgrown footballs. They are often left to spoil in tight plastic wrappings which obscure the vegetable, hindering selection.

Selection tips

Recently, I watched a produce clerk at one of those trendy up scale produce markets try to stick price labels on the glossy eggplant surface. They all fell off, and eventually, he gave up. The shine is factory applied, much like a new car finish, and I recall Alice saying "rub two together; if they squeak, buy them, they're very fresh."

The freshest eggplants have a natural sheen, almost reflective, and the shiniest exterior does nothing except make them shelf stable a little while longer. If you must purchase an eggplant from a supermarket, and plan on cooking it "au naturel," scrub the surface gently to remove the waxy coating.

Eggplants can be as petite as a plum to more than honeydew-sized; antique ivory to lightly striped violet and creamy to almost raven purple. In countries where meat is less emphasized, eggplant is a star performer, adding bulk and a fleshy texture to dishes that contain little or no animal fat. In addition, its subtle flavor and melting consistency provide a bare minimum of calories.

It is important to select eggplants that are relatively heavy for their size. Remember that the heavier the eggplant is in relation to its size, the less absorbent it will be and the lower proportion of bitter seeds it will have – thus eliminating the need to salt.

Salting

There is a notion that still persists that an eggplant must have the juice pressed from it before it is used. Old cookbooks caution "slice, salt and press to extract the bitter juice" and sometimes, this step takes an hour or more and in my personal opinion, is totally unnecessary. The purpose of salting and soaking in brine was to draw off the bitterness and food professionals now agree that good fresh eggplants simply don't need this added step and cooks certainly can utilize the time saved. To salt or not to salt? who to believe? The "Joy of Cooking" says yes, Julia Child says no; you be the judge.

Regarding peeling before cooking, as a fan of M.F.K. Fisher, in her book "The Art of Eating"(Vintage Publishers, 1976) Fisher states emphatically "All of them, whether tender or hard, thick skinned or thin, die when they are peeled...even as you and I." Needless to say, I never peel.

Eggplant – perhaps if we had adopted the lilting name aubergine from the French, this compliant vegetable, so versatile for stuffing, frying, marinating, grilling and dipping would attract more favorable notice. Like a banana, once an eggplant is cut open, it must be acidulated to prevent discoloring. You can acidulate by dipping in lemon juice or simply placing a few drops of lemon juice on a dinner plate and adding water. Mix and dip, its that easy.

Anywhere you look, eggplant shows up in international cuisine but it was the Italians who placed the eggplant on a pedestal in the kitchen. I can taste it now, classic Eggplant Parmesan. It is true that no one food can legitimately claim superiority over another, but perhaps because of the prestige company it keeps in our gardens among the cabbages, beets, squash and turnips, the eggplant has been overlooked by Americans just a bit too long.

Save time with Speed-Scratch cooking

Getting a healthful, great-tasting meal on the table in a hurry used to be a challenge, but not anymore. Enter speed-scratch cooking, the newest way to save time without sacrificing taste or nutrition.

Speed-scratch cooking really is very simple. Convenience products pair up with "scratch" ingredients that cook quickly and are nutrition-smart.

Handy convenience products can be found in every aisle of the supermarket and at specialty food stores. In addition to familiar standbys like prepared spaghetti sauce and pizza sauce, canned beans, bottled salad dressings and frozen vegetables, there are fresh salsa, recipe-ready canned tomatoes with Italian and Mexican flavors, combination herb and spice blends, ready-to-use salad greens and other produce items, flavored rice mixes, instant couscous and instant rice to name just a few. And, many products offer reduced fat and/or reduced sodium counterparts.

Among the scratch ingredients designed for quick cooking are boneless chicken breasts, fish fillets, ground turkey and lean tender cuts of meat such as pork tenderloin and beef sirloin.

"The secret of speed-scratch cooking is to start with simple or already prepared ingredients," said Marianne B. Manderfield of Gordon Food Service Marketplace. "Using partially cooked meats, pre-cut fruits and vegetables allows you to produce recipes that used to take hours in a fraction of the time. Buying pre-cut produce allows you to quickly make salads and vegetable-rich entrees without cutting, chopping or dicing."

And don't overlook quick cooking methods such as microwaving, stir-frying, and broiling. Other time saving tips include: buying combination ingredients like shredded cheese for tacos and Mexican-style stewed tomatoes; using quick-cooking grains such as angle hair pasta, orzo and couscous; spraying pans with no-stick cooking spray to trim calories and shorten cleanup; and cooking enough chicken, fish or meat for a second meal.

Be smart at the mart

BY PEGGY MARTINELLI-EVERTS
SPECIAL WRITER

I love grocery stores. I love the bright colors, the smells from the bakery and the authority of selecting food for my whole family. Even on vacation, I love to find the old corner grocery store in a small town to check out what's on their shelves.

But for many, grocery shopping is confusing, overwhelming and full of temptations that can blow your diet and your budget. To help you stay on track, here are my tips for nutritious, healthy, budget-minded grocery shopping.

BEFORE YOU LEAVE

- Keep a pad and pencil tacked onto your refrigerator. Then, when you run out of a food item, jot it down to keep a running list. This is especially helpful for condiments, sauces and things you use frequently, but may forget about when you're shopping for the "center-of-the-plate" items.
- Go through your cupboards and refrigerator. Note any food items that are getting low and add these to your list.
- Check for coupons in the newspaper. Use coupons with sense. Getting a few pennies off an overpriced item isn't a bargain. Before you buy, check the store brand price.
- Think ahead about the meals you'll eat at home. Choose the main course and determine all of the accompaniments. Shop with the meal in mind.
- Think about planning meals using smaller servings of meat, poultry and fish. Rely more on the nutritious, (and economical) foods like potatoes, rice, beans and pasta to fill in the meal.
- Be sure to eat before you shop. Also, allow enough time so that you don't feel rushed or stressed. If possible, shop at "off" hours to avoid crowds.

THE SUPERMARKET SLEUTH

- When you get to the store, check the in-store circular to see if their sale items fit in your list.
- Use unit pricing when available. Remember, the largest size isn't always the best buy.
- Most grocery stores are laid out so the fresh items are around the perimeter. All the cans, boxes and dry goods take up the rows in between. You can actually zip around the outer edge and buy just about everything you need.
- Always check the dates on perishable items like eggs, cheese and milk.
- Eggs are an excellent source of inexpensive, high-quality protein. Remember, if the larger eggs are seven cents or more per dozen than the next smaller size, the smaller size is probably a better buy.
- Consider cost and quality of the finished product in deciding whether to buy convenience foods. How much you enjoy cooking and how much time you have for it will also influence your choice. For example, I would much rather make my own tuna noodle casserole than buy a mix. However, I'd rather purchase frozen burritos than make them from scratch.

NUTRITION NIBBLES

- Read food labels. The typical grocery store has over 20,000 items. By reading food labels you can be sure that you are getting the best nutritional buy. The Nutrition Facts on food labels are specially designed to allow comparisons between like foods.
- The food that we eat should look appealing and taste good, too. Be careful of substituting a fat free product that is full of chemicals and fillers and doesn't resemble the product it was designed to replace. If you want to limit your fat intake, it may be better to choose something naturally lower in fat instead of commercially fat reduced.
- Read the ingredient list. There are some foods that should never come home with you. These are the foods that are loaded with fat, sugar or salt (or all three) but have very little in the way of vitamins and minerals. Many snack foods fall into this category. Often times, the longer the ingredient list and the more highly processed the food is, the less total nutrients it contains.
- Choose snacks carefully. Look for items with whole grains, oats, figs, raisins and other wholesome ingredients.
- Remember the word "loin" when shopping for red meat. Sirloin, tenderloin and ground sirloin are usually lower in fat than other cuts.
- Whenever possible, buy fresh (in season) or frozen vegetables rather than canned. Not only are they better tasting, they are usually lower in salt. Try to limit frozen vegetables with added cream sauces and gravies – these too, add salt and fat.
- Many ready-to-eat cereals contain a lot of sodium. Some granola or "natural" cereals are high in calories from fat and sugar. Compare the Nutrition Facts labels.
- Crackers can contain quite a bit of fat and salt. Some of the better choices include rice cakes, matzo, melba toast, Zwieback and graham crackers.
- Watch out for sugary products. These are usually placed at child's eye level.
- For the lowest fat cheese, select cheese with no more than three to five grams of fat per ounce.
- When shopping for frozen dinners, look for meals that supply not more than 30 percent of calories from fat.

WHEN YOU GET HOME

- Remember FIFO – first in, first out. Rotate your foods and use the older items first.
- Store dried peas, nuts, beans and flour in tightly covered containers.
- Allow unripe fruit to ripen at room temperature – then refrigerate. Except bananas which should always be stored at room temperature.
- Keep root vegetables like potatoes and onions cool and dry.

Shrimp dish Greek classic

It was a study of the long-lived peasants of the Greek island of Crete that launched interest in what health benefits Mediterranean foods offer — and led to the now-popular Mediterranean Diet. The region's lower rates of cancer and heart disease seemed to result in part from cooking with olive oil and seasoning with lemon juice, instead of using saturated fat. And Greek cuisine's abundance of fresh fruits, vegetables, hearty breads, fish and yogurt provide a wealth of nutritional benefits as well.

With its central location on the Mediterranean coast, Greek cooking combines both western European and Middle Eastern influences. From the east come pasta and tomatoes; from the east, yogurt, rice and coffee. The country's own geography, however, defines many of its culinary developments.

Surrounded on three sides by oceans, the Greeks have used fish as an important food source. The rocky, mountainous areas are hospitable for sheep and goats, which produce both meat and dairy products like tangy feta cheese. Olive trees grow throughout the country and honey is found in all parts of Greece — contributing two more essentials to the Greek culinary repertoire.

For a traditional Greek salad, toss together two thinly sliced red onions, four sliced ripe tomatoes, two thinly sliced green peppers, two peeled and thinly sliced cucumbers, and a cup of crumbled feta cheese. Add three tablespoons red wine vinegar and two tablespoons of olive oil and toss again; then add ½ teaspoon oregano and salt and freshly ground pepper to taste.

Yogurt is central to many dishes, such as the appetizer tzatziki, made by finely chopping one peeled cucumber, one garlic clove, three scallions, and one teaspoon fresh dill, and mixing with a teaspoon of olive oil, one-half teaspoon white vinegar and one cup plain, nonfat yogurt. Cover, chill and serve on a salad or as a dip with bread and raw vegetables.

Shrimp with Tomatoes and Feta Cheese, a recipe from the American Institute for Cancer Research, is a healthy Greek classic.

What's in Peggy's grocery cart

What's in Peggy Martinelli-Everts's shopping basket? "Here are some items I include on a healthy shopping list, and keep on hand for menu flexibility," said Everts, a registered dietitian at HDS Services in Farmington Hills.

Canadian bacon, canned chicken (in water), canned tuna (in water), chicken breasts, turkey (breast/whole), eggs/egg substitute, low-fat luncheon meats.

Fresh fruit, frozen berries, frozen vegetables & fruit, frozen 100 percent juice.

Low-fat cheese, low-fat or nonfat yogurt, low-fat or skim milk.

Graham crackers, hot/cold cereal, English muffins, pasta (spaghetti, macaroni, noodles), pita bread, popcorn, rice (brown, white, instant), rice cakes, whole grain bread.

Garlic/condiments, assorted canned beans, refried beans, evaporated skim milk, non-stick cooking spray, olive oil/canola oil, peanut butter, reduced fat salad dressing, mayonnaise.

Prepare for power outage

"Spring storm season often brings unplanned power outages, along with the danger of food borne illnesses from mishandled food supplies," said Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Michigan State University Extension Service.

If you have ever had to clean up the mess from a freezer full of spoiled food, then you might wish you had done some homework ahead of time to have prevented such a disaster.

Planning can really help. Here are some tips.

• Keep your freezer packed or mound foods together like an igloo to help them insulate one another. Fill empty containers with water and freeze when freezer is not full.

• Group the meat and poultry products in your freezer together on one shelf or better yet on a tray so that in case of power failure the juices will not run down into the rest of the freezer and spoil them.

Wrap meat and poultry especially well in extra freezer bags to avoid leaks in case of a power outage. (It is sometimes impossible to remove the odor of spoiled meat juices once they get into the freezer's insulation).

• Keep ice cream in plastic bags.

• Have a plan in mind ahead of time for a power outage — learn whose freezer you can borrow in case of a power failure.

• Keep freezer door closed — a full freezer will keep food safe for about two days, half full will keep food about 1 day.

For other help in case of a power failure, call the Food and nutrition hotline (810) 858-0904 in Oakland county or (313) 494-3013 in Wayne County.

To draw attention to both film preservation and the richness of American film making, the national Film Registry was created in 1988 by the Library of Congress. Each year the Registry adds 25 culturally, historically, or aesthetically significant films to its collection, and the tour, drawn from Registry films, give audiences a chance to enjoy great films of the past and generates grass-roots interest in film preservation. The tour began in October, 1995 and Detroit is the eighth stop, with the goal of reaching at least one city in each state.

The series closes April 22 with the director's cut of Orson Welles' "Touch of Evil." Welles also stars, along with Charlton Heston, Janet Leigh, Akim Tamiroff, Dennis Weaver and Marlene Dietrich.

Churchill takes early showdown

Livonia Churchill won an early season girls soccer showdown Wednesday, as the Chargers downed host Plymouth Salem, 2-1.

Churchill, playing its season opener, tallied back-to-back goals after a scoreless first half.

Senior Marie Spaccarotella notched her 67th of her career on an assist from Andrea Galindo. Freshman Kirsten Conklin added the second goal from Lizz Szkrybalo before Salem's Mari Hoff made it a one-goal deficit later in the half.

"We weren't really expected to go undefeated," said Salem coach Doug Landefeld, whose team is 2-1 overall. "Churchill has a good team. They have good players. We played well enough to win - period. But they played good enough to win, too.

"I think Churchill out-worked us. that's definitely something we have to work on. It's not the end of the world. We're not losing at the wrong time.

"But to beat that quality of team, you've got to match their intensity, as well as anything else. That's something we have to do."

•STEVENSON 3, HARRISON 0: Allison Campbell, Angie Pandoff and Anne Pedrigo scored goals Wednesday, leading Livonia Stevenson (2-0 overall) past Farmington Hills Harrison (0-2-1) in a Western Lakes Activities Association crossover.

Goalkeeper Jenny Barker made a pair of saves in posting the shutout.

"We possessed the ball the whole game, but Sara Kloosterman made some big saves and that made a huge difference," Stevenson coach Jim Kimble said of the Harrison goalie. "She played exceptionally well and she deserves all the credit."

•FRANKLIN 3, W.L. WESTERN 0: On Wednesday, Livonia Franklin gained its first girls victory for coach Dave Hebestreit by downing visiting Walled Lake Western in a WLAA Western Division encounter.

Junior Kristin Dougherty scored what proved to be the game-winner, just 10 minutes into the match from Meghan Broderick. Sophmore Emily Kracht, on a one-on-one rush, added the Patriots' second goal at the 32-minute mark and senior midfielder Lisa DeShano capped the scoring on a penalty kick at the 61-minute mark.

Freshman goalkeeper Tiffanie Hembrough posted the shutout. Other standouts included Anne Hokett and Cassandra Gray.

Franklin, which lost its opener March 30 to Farmington Hills Mercy (4-2), is 1-1 overall.

•NORTHVILLE 9, JOHN GLENN 1: Senior Jennifer Tapper's goal off a corner kick averted the shutout Wednesday for Westland John Glenn (0-3-1 overall) against the host Mustangs.

Earlier in the week, Nicki Farrar's hat trick went in vain as the Rockets lost to visiting Walled Lake Western, 4-3.

The Rockets rallied from a 3-0 deficit on assists from Kristin Krohn (freshman), Katie Hover (freshman) and Tapper.

•LADYWOOD 1, MERCY 1: Livonia Ladywood tied it early in the second half after Betsy Gignac tallied a first-half goal Wednesday for host Farmington Hills Mercy.

Both teams are 2-1-1 overall and 0-1-1 in the Catholic League's Central Division.

Each team recorded six shots on goal.

3 players repeat as All-Observer cagers

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Dan Young is only 28 years-old, but he has already achieved a great deal in the basketball coaching profession.

In his two years as varsity coach of the Chiefs, Young has compiled an impressive 41-7 record, including a sterling 22-2 record this season.

Under the guidance of Young, the fundamentally-sound Chiefs swept all three basketball titles in the Western Lakes Activities Association (Western Division, WLAA top seed and WLAA playoff champs). His team also captured the Class A district at Novi before falling to No. 1-ranked Detroit Pershing in the regional.

Young's 1995-96 Chiefs scored some impressive victories this season, including a season-opening overtime victory over Wayne Memorial.

"Our philosophy is defense, rebounding and playing as a team," said Young, who has been named Observerland Coach of the Year.

Young, who led the Chiefs to a 19-6 record in 1994-95, including WLAA and district crowns, is a Canton graduate.

He spent two years as an assistant at Western Michigan University under head coach Bob Donewald. In 1991-92, the Broncos went 21-9 and made the NIT. In 1992-93, WMU finished 17-12 and second overall in the Mid-American Conference.

His first varsity high school coaching stint came during the 1993-94 season when he lead Brighton to a 13-6 record and a Kensington Valley Conference co-championship.

Not only are Young's efforts recognized, but also the performers on the court.

This year's All-Area team consists of three repeat players on the first-team - Lorenzo Guess, Ron Hunter and Albert Jones.

Lorenzo Guess, junior guard, Wayne Memorial: One of the state's premier players, the 6-3 point guard marked his third varsity season by leading the Zebras to a 23-3 record and spot in the state Class A semifinals.

He averaged a team-high 17.4 points, 6.0 rebounds and 4.2 assists per game. He made 165 of 331 field goal attempts (49.8 percent) and 33 of 94 three-point tries (35.1 percent). He made 7.18 percent of his free throws (71.8).

He also surpassed the 1,000 point mark this year.

"He's our heart-and-soul, our leader," Wayne coach Chuck Henry said. "For three years he's been our leading scorer and rebounder.

"He's a very selfless player, intent on getting the ball to the open man for an easier shot. He's a warrior ondefenee and his practice and game performance is the same."

Guess was also a first-team All-Observer selection last fall in football. He is a three-year starter at quarterback for the Zebras.

Guess also excels on the academic side, ranking 24th in his class with a 3.8 grade-point average.

Ron Hunter, senior guard, Plymouth Canton: Hunter is a repeat selection to the All-Observer first team. He averaged 18 points per game with a career-high 30 against Detroit Pershing in the Class A regional semifinal loss at Southfield Lathrup.

The 6-4 Hunter averaged eight rebounds per game and made a school-record 58 percent of his field-goal attempts. He was equally adept at driving to the basket or shooting from three-point range, making a team-best 37 percent from beyond the arc (22 of 60).

His coach, Dan Young, said Hunter likely will walk on as a football player at Michigan State University. Hunter was first team All-Observer choice last fall as a receiver in football.

"Ron had an outstanding season," Young said. "Not only did he lead us in scoring and rebounding, but he made significant improvements in his defense. He always played big in the big games."

Albert Jones, senior guard, Westland Glenn: The 6-1 Jones ranks third all-time on the Glenn scoring list with 985 points (behind Darin Armstrong and Steve Hawley).

He averaged 20 points per game, including a game-high 33 in his final outing against Wayne in the district.

Jones, a three-year varsity starter, is also Glenn's all-time leader in assists and steals.

"He was a real competitor and team leader for three y ars," Glenn coach Mike Schuette said. "H s hustle is going to be missed.

"He was most effective when the ball was in his hands and he was tough to cover one-on-one. He could dish or shoot when penetrating to the hoop."

Schuette said that Wayne State has shown interest in Jones.

Chris Misiak, senior guard, Redford Catholic Central: Before considering what Misiak did, it's important to know what he didn't do: Commit turnovers.

Misiak had only 25 miscues in 24 games, which is even more remarkable when considering he is a point guard. Misiak also was a threat to score, averaging 12.5 points per game while making 48 percent of his field goal attempts, including 40 percent from three-point range (53-134). Misiak, headed to Wayne State University on a full-ride basketball scholarship, had a high game of 23 points.

"Chris made us hard to press and he could score," CC coach Rick Coratti said. "He is a real-good all-around athlete, one of the best I've coached."

Marc McDonald, junior guard, Redford Catholic Central: McDonald put on some dazzling shooting displays, usually in big games. Four times he surpassed 30 points, including 39 in the Shamrocks' loss to Detroit Cooley in the Class A regional final at Dearborn. He had 29 in CC's Catholic League championship victory over Orchard Lake St. Mary's.

McDonald made a school-record 85 three-point shots, converting 44 percent of his attempts, and averaged 20.6 points per game. He shot 49 percent from the field (including two-point attempts) and 78 percent from the free throw line.

"He's definitely a scorer, but he's becoming more of a complete player. His ballhandling and defense have improved," Coratti said. "(Former Catholic Central all-staters) Greg (Wendt) and Mac (John McIntyre) could shoot it, but Marc is right there."

Jerome Ross, senior guard, Redford Bishop Borgess: Ross averaged 16.5 points and five assists per game for the Spartans, who were Catholic League Central Division co-champions. A two-year starter, Ross also was assigned to guard the opponents' top scoring guard.

The Associated Press first-team Class C all-state player has a 3.8 grade point average.

"Jerome is an outstanding young man, a hard worker," Borgess coach Roosevelt Barnes said. "I thought he was the best two-way guard in the Catholic League. I think he's going to make somebody a real good collegiate player. He's an outstanding student-athlete and an intelligent basketball player."

Jameel Wooden, senior guard, Wayne Memorial: Nobody in the area could be more explosive than the 6-1 Wooden, who averaged 13 points and made 46.5 percent of his shots from three-point land (57 of 132).

"Jameel epitomizes the streaky shooter," Henry said. "When he's in rhythm, he's better than anyone I've ever had."

Wooden played his best games down the stretch, including a game-high 24 points against Southfield-Lathrup in the Class A semifinals and a team-high 20 in a 78-65 quarterfinal win against Lansing Everett.

"He's got incredible range," Henry said. "He's very athletic and has very good offensive skills."

Wooden, who can also leap with the best, is being recruited by several junior colleges including Kalamazoo Valley, St. Clair and Henry Ford.

It was on that wide-open, tempt-me-to-speed strip of I-696 between Telegraph and Orchard Lake roads that he caught me.

The royal blue Michigan State trooper's cruiser filled up the entire rearview mirror of the 1996 Cadillac DeVille. I looked down at the digital speedometer. I was cruising along at 84 miles per hour.

That's it. I'm caught. Man, it sure didn't feel like I was zipping along at 84. I took my foot off the gas. Slowed it down to 80, then 75, then 70, then 65.

All the while, he's on my bumper, still filling up that rearview mirror.

Pull me over, I'm thinking. This is excruciating! I know he caught me. Just pull me over and give me the ticket I deserve.

I'm down to 60 mph now, and he's still behind me. I pull into the middle lane. He pulls along side of me. I see him lift the microphone to his lips. Here it comes ...

"Take it down to 55 -- now!" he yells.

I comply. Quickly.

He's still alongside. I'm down to 53, now. "Slow it down. I'll be back to check up on you."

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

And he speeds away.

I set the cruise control for 53, just for good measure. Then I thank my God I didn't get that ticket, which would've been more than $100, I bet.

And now it feels like I'm crawling along.

The Northstar system almost got me in trouble again.

For 1996, the DeVille, which is Cadillac's best-selling model, gets a 75 percent boost in horsepower over the previous DeVille power plant. Cadillac calls the 275-horse 4.6-liter 32-valve Northstar V8 "raw performance and sophisticated touring."

I guess I just quantified that statement. I truly didn't realize I was almost at 85 mph. The engine's so quiet, so refined, so smooth that I never realized how fast I was going.

Zero-to-60 time is 8 seconds. It's EPA'd at 16 mpg in the city, 25 mpg on the highway.

Rounding out the rest of the Northstar system is a transaxle that's capable of handling higher combinations of torque and speed than any other mass-produced front-wheel-drive passenger car transaxle in the world.

One real plus -- Cadillac was first with it -- is that the Northstar has a lot of features that allow it to operate 100,000 miles without a tuneup. Like 100,000-mile engine coolant, 100,000-mile transmission fluid, platinum-tipped extended life spark plugs, direct fire electronic ignition system and a chain cam drive with 100,000-mile durability.

The DeVille is also outfitted with traction control and road-sensing suspension, which provides a better ride, quicker stops and improved control all the way around.

It also has new dual wall stainless steel exhaust manifolds with a single tailpipe. And that's quiet as well.

Make no mistake, the DeVille is a very large car. Not as large as the Fleetwood, but pretty close. That means there's plenty of room inside. In fact, I bet you could wear a cowboy hat in the car and never touch the headliner.

And comfortable. Sit in the cockpit and melt into the leather seats. Everything on the DeVille is in sync with the driver -- which makes driving effortless. It responds to the driver in virtually any driving condition.

Other changes for 1996 include an electronic cruise control that improves performance on steep inclines or when heavily loaded, a new entertainment system, new steering wheel controls and personalization features.

Those personalization features are available as an option and include four automatic door lock modes, battery guard (puts the battery in storage mode as soon as the ignition is turned off), memory seat selection on six-way adjustable seats, remote keyless entry (with lock, unlock, trunk open and fuel door open buttons), stereo controls mounted on the steering wheels, daytime running lamps and a new wheel design.

The DeVille is a perfect car for a mom who has carpool responsibilities, a business person who carts clients around or just the average person who likes to have the comfort, safety and touring capabilities that only the DeVille can provide.

Oh -- back to the state trooper. Almost 15 minutes later, still traveling at 53 mph, he's on my bumper again. He had come out of nowhere. He pulled alongside and flashed a smile. Then he sped away.

Must've been random acts of kindness day for him.

1996 Cadillac DeVille
Vehicle class: Luxury sedan.
Engine: 4.6-liter 32-valve Northstar V8.
Mileage: 16 city / 25 highway.
Where built: Hamtramck, Mich.
As tested: About $38,000.

Things You Auto KNOW!

True or False?

The most common cause of vehicle fires is an overheating radiator.

False! Bad wiring due to faulty insulation or an incorrect fuse in the line are more common causes of car fires. Others are fuel leaks and an overheated catalytic converter.

The latter, an emissions control device in the exhaust system, can get so hot it can ignite dry grass under a parked car.

Note: a converter usually overheats due to an engine malfunction, such as a misfiring spark plug.
