Field lights slated for school

Some residents who live near Franklin High School aren't happy about it, but the Livonia Board of Education is proceeding with plans to install lights to bring in bigger crowds to sports events.

BY MARIE CHESTNEY

Residents living near Franklin High School may have a brighter neighborhood, following a recent discussion by the Livonia Board of Education about installing lights so the school can play its football and soccer games at night,

While sympathetic to the objections of nearby residents, school board members have said the lights are needed to bring in the Fridaynight crowds that will generate money for athletic programs and to boost school spirit.

There is no specific timetable but it's possible that lights may be installed in time for next fall's football season at the school, which is on

Joy east of Merriman.

Franklin is the only one of three Livonia high schools without a welllit athletic field, forcing teams to play most of their home games on Saturday afternoon.

The Livonia district includes the northern section of Westland.

Bid action tonight

The trustees are expected tonight (Monday) to approve soliciting bids on the lighting system, expected to cost about $103,000. The project itself will be scheduled for approval at a later date, once the actual cost is determined.

Approval is expected, despite objections of 35 of the 38 residents whose houses back up to the athletic field. Two Perrin Street residents spoke against the lights last week in a committee meeting of the board.

"Winning records draw crowds, not lights," said Lawrence Regan. "There is no up side to this, only a down side."

Fred Hofmann ticked off a litany of problems the lights and Friday night games will bring to the neighborhood: loitering, littering, trespassing, extra traffic, and noisy

Westland district judge to pursue another term

Westland District Judge C Charles Bokos will launch his reelection campaign May 13 with a $100-a-ticket fund-raiser at the city's senior citizen Friendship Cen-

Whether Bokos will be challenged in his bid for a six-year term remained a mystery last week.

One potential challenger, Westland City Council President Sandra Cicirelli, said she expects to decide early this week whether she will seek the post.

"I haven't decided yet," she said Thursday.

Cicirelli challenged Bokos in November, 1994, when Bokos was elected to fill the remaining two years of an unexpired six-year term.

Bokos won the seat after being appointed by Gov. John Engler in 1992 to replace retired Judge Thomas Smith.

Cicirelli lost the 1994 race by a slim, 1,173-vote margin. Bokos garnered 10,342 votes to Cicirelli's

The election marked Cicirelli's first defeat for public office. She has been the top vote-getter in both of her council races.

Judicial candidates face a May 14 filing deadline.

Both Bokos and Cicirelli have gained more public visibility since the last election - Bokos as an incumbent judge sitting on the bench and Cicirelli as council president chairing meetings that are shown on local cable.

Bids sought on renovation of two pools

By Marie Chestney STAFF WRITER

The Livonia Board of Education refused to close the door last week on spending money to update the swimming pools at Franklin High School, which serves the northeast section of Westland, and Stevenson High.

The trustees April 29 sidestepped an administrative proposal to shunt all swim meets to Churchill High, which serves the northwestern corner of Westland.

Instead, trustees decided to check out the cost of renovating the two pools after one parent, an industrial general contractor, said he could do the job for $300,000, a figure nowhere near the $900,000 cost quoted by administrators.

The gap between the two estimates is so wide, the trustees said they need more concrete figures before deciding what to do next.

"Are we looking at accurate figures?" asked board president James Watters. "We must get the absolute best possible price."

The Stevenson and Franklin pools fail to meet state depth requirements.

Superintendent Ken Watson said engineering specifications on renovating the two pools will be prepared and bids sought. "It will cost money to prepare the specifications. If the cost is too high, we will come back to the board" for more direction. Trustee Pat Tancill said she won't support spending money on engineering specifications if 'we can't afford to have the job done."

Joe Aristeo, a school board candidate, owner of Aristeo Construction Co., and father to champion Stevenson swimmer Anne Aristeo, estimated it will cost $110,000 to renovate the Stevenson pool and $190,000 to renovate the Franklin pool.

"I will bid those projects," said Aristeo, owner of a company rated the 15th largest general contractor in Michigan. "That's called putting your money where your mouth is."

Pools at both Stevenson and Franklin fail to meet state depth requirements as well as competition requirements set by the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA).

To meet state requirements, depths must be increased from 3 1/2 to 7 feet.

Until recently, both the boys' and girls' swim teams at Franklin and Stevenson have held home meets at Churchill or the Bentley Center.

In late 1995, competitive diving at Bentley ceased because that pool, too, did not meet diving guidelines set by the state.

The Churchill High pool, on Newburgh north of Joy, is the only pool in the district which meets the state's diving depth regulations.

To resolve the dilemma, Dave Watson, director of operations, gave the trustees four options:

•Continue to hold all swim and diving meets at Churchill, with practices being held in the swimmers' own high school pool. Superintendent Watson gave a lukewarm recommendation to this option, saying it was the least costly one.

•Install 18-inch starting blocks at both Franklin and Stevenson instead of the 30-inch blocks required by the MHSAA. This option requires a special insurance rider and raises liability con-

Renovate both pools to meet state regulations.

• Move the diving board at Bentley, a former high school, from its current location to the side of the pool along the north wall. It's estimated this option will cost $45,000. It would allow Stevenson to hold swim meets at Bentley and Franklin to hold meets at Churchill.

However, due to threats to cut state aid for adult education, the future of the Bentley Center is in doubt. The district does not want to sink money into a building that might one day close.

If the district decides to renovate both pools, then it must be determined if money from the 1mill repair fund can be used to pay the bill, Watters said.

"When we asked for this 1-mill sinking fund, we didn't say the swimming pools would be upgraded with it," said Superintendent Watson.

"Instructionally speaking, there is nothing wrong with the pools at Franklin and Stevenson. If something is wrong, then there's no problem using that money. But to deepen the pools just for athletic competition?"

If the 1-mill money is used, what repairs will go undone in fixing up the district's aging buildings? asked trustee Dan Lessard. "The pools don't meet guidelines, but they're not in need of repair."

The dilemma came to a head in the last few months, with the closing of the Bentley pool to competitive swimming.

Before that, the district had two pools for divers: Now, it only has one.

Logistical and transportation problems are immense as swimmers, coaches and family members travel to swim meets and work around the schedules of the three high school swim teams.

Members of the swim community who back Aristeo's proposal Monday gave the board petitions with 700 signatures.

"Our infrastructure needs to be addressed now, or our swimming program will erode," Aristeo said,

U. S. Olympian Sheila Taormina, a Stevensonand University of Georgia graduate, also urged trustees to spruce up the sagging swimming pro-

Taormina, who recently earned a spot as a member of the 26-member U.S. Olympic women's swim team, said failure to resolve the dilemma will have a "grave" affect on district student swimmers in the years to come.

Board president James Watters cautioned that, once the lights are up, activity must be closely monitored by both school administrators and residents to make sure conditions don't deteriorate.

Franklin's field is small compared to the athletic fields at Stevenson and Churchill high schools. Its bleachers are just 10 feet from the property line, which backs up to residents' houses. Unlike the other two high schools, there is little buffer between residents and the field.

Dave Watson, director of operations, suggested ways to ease some of the residents' concerns:

· Control light spilling off the field with glare light shields. • Point loudspeakers so that they face east, not west, where most of the residents live. Landscape along the west fence line to screen out noise.

Gate receipts are much higher at Stevenson and Churchill, which have Friday night football games, said Bob Biga, spokesman for the Franklin Marching Band, which practices on the field.

The issue has created a financial inequity between the three high schools which must be addressed, said trustee Frank Kokenakes.

According to J. Stephen Smith, assistant superintendent for secondary education, Franklin revenues fall far short of revenues gained at Stevenson and Churchill. Right now, he said, Franklin shortfalls are being made up by the Franklin Booster Club. "We cannot continue to expect the Franklin Booster Club to provide for basic needs of: the department," Smith added.

Students have Washington visions

BY LEONARD POGER EDITOR

Fourth-graders from Jefferson-Barns Elementary School are in a "capital" mood.

The two classes, students of Vicki Sorensen and Shelby Szukaitis, are planning to visit Washington D.C., in two weeks, thanks to plenty of financial help from unexpected sources. The trip is scheduled for Tuesday, May 21.

So far, cash donations of $1,450 have been received. The total cost of the trip will be $7,200, Sorensen said.

Westland Mayor Robert Thomas is even making the trip, as well as donating toward its cost. After the students return home, the mayor will host a pizza party for the youngsters.

City Councilwoman Justine Barns, for whom the school was renamed last year, was also planning to make the trip with the students, but a recent injury canceled her plans. But she did arranged for a tour of the White House and Capitol through the office of U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers, D-Ann Arbor.

Sorensen praised the donors not only for their financial support but also their continuing support.

She said the donations are being used for partial scholarships for students, specialized Jefferson-Barns T-shirts for those making the trip, transportation to the airport, educational materials to be used throughout the trip and the balance of the school year, and processing photos taken on the trip.

Students also raised some of the money through bake sales, T-shirt sales, raffle, pop and candy sales and a Tupperware fund-raiser.

In addition to Thomas and Barns, cash donations were made by: Jill Runkle, Deputy Mayor George Gillies, principal Susan Dorenkamp, former elementary school principal Sig Diegtrich of Corporate Travel who will be the tour guide, Westland Firefighters' Public Awareness Committee, Westland Police Officers' Association, Westland Police Lieutenants-Sergeants Association, Friendship Center seniors, senior resources director Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, Westland recreation department scholarship, Jefferson-Barns PTA, Wayne-Westland Federal Credit Union, and school staff mem-

The performances were critiqued by trained evaluators.

Based on the third problem, the top 20 percent of Michigan teams from grade divisions 4-6, 7-9. 10-12 were invited to state finals.

Solutions were evaluated on clearly established criteria.

McCotter vows to fight for land cleanup

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN STAFF WRITER

Standing on a site he called symbolic of the relationship between Wayne County and the community, Thaddeus G. McCotter announced his re-election bid for the county commission Thursday. .

""I announce my candidacy here, on the site of the abandoned Wayne County Child Dévelopment Center, because I believe no other site better represents the past, present and future relationship between our community and county government," McCotter, R-Livonia, said. The site is in on countyowned property in Northville Township at Sheldon and Five Mile roads.

has epitomized the county's inattentiveness to our community," McCotter said in a prepared statement as he stood next to a pile of rubble, formerly the child development center.

But progress is being made with the start of the center's demolition which began in March, he said.

About $1 million has been appropriated for the Northville Township property, some of which will be used to "finally remove this scar from the face of our community," he said.

"Cleanup of this property is my number one priority," he said. "Until this is done I will not believe I have done what I set out do to."

■ Thaddeus G. McCotter announced his bid for a second term for county commission on the site of the abandoned Wayne County Child Development Cen-tressed communities in Wayne County.

McCotter said he has a fundamental disagreement with that. The money in the fund "should be used here first."

He is also upset by county money that could have been used in Northville Township being used to fund the construction of the Inkster Valley Golf Course in Inkster and Westland.

McCotter, one of three Republicans on a mostly Democratic County Commission, said a proposal to expand the runway at Willow Run Airport and create a tradeport is also an example of money wasted. No study has supported a tradeport as something that would create jobs, McCotter said.

McCotter, who is seeking his third term in the 10th District, said the county commission is different since he has been in office, McCotter said. After he was elected he worked with other commissioners to change the way the commission does business, he said. "I think the commission is a different place. It is much more open," he said.

The commission cut $900,000 from its budget and eliminated 30 positions. County government. is where the commission can have the greatest influence "because that is where we work,"

Senate OKs bills to guard legal fishing

'The individuals against legal fishing in Michigan purposely harass anglers . . . ruining the legitimate enjoyment of a great American pastime.'

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Michigan to PETA: Don't harass anglers.

The state Senate has given unanimous approval to four bills sponsored by Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, making it a misdemeanor to interfere with the fishing of two million resident license holders and one-third million out-of-state tourists.

Target: PETA, for People for Ethical Treatment of Animals.

"The individuals against legal fishing in Michigan purposely harass anglers by speeding by in boats, throwing rocks in the water near fishing lines, scaring away the fish and ruining the legitimate enjoyment of a great American pastime," said Geake as the bills went to the House.

No one spoke against the bills May 1 as they passed on 36-0 votes. Co-sponsors included Sens. Loren Bennett, R-Canton, and Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion.

Geake and Art Dittmar, the Farmington Hills resident who is president of Michigan United Conservation Clubs, hope for action by summer.

"PETA has shown their true colors and exposed the core of their agenda _ to stop all consumptive use of animals, period," said Richard L. Jameson, new executive director of the 120,000member MUCC.

"For many years, anglers have subsidized the management of our state's aquatic resources through the purchase of fishing licenses," Jameson said. "Fishing is as American as apple pie. . . tailor-made for kids and fami-

Licenses, likely to go up 20 percent in price next year, cover the entire $18 million fisheries budget of the state Department of Natural Resources, Geake said. With it, DNR releases 47 million fish of 25 species into state waters.

Geake called the measure

"preemptive" since PETA has announced but not begun a campaign to bother anglers. Here is how the bills, if enacted, would

• Senate Bill 963 protects recreational fishermen in a manner similar to the "hunter harassment law" of 1992. • SB 964 says a first offense of harassment is punishable by up to 93 days in jail and a fine of at least $500 and up to $1,000. Second offense is punishable by up to a year in jail, a fine of at least

$1,000 and up to $2,500. • SB 965 strengthens the "hunter harassment" law by providing for similar penalties as SB 964 • SB 966 gives protection to commercial fishermen. Maximum penalty for a first offense would be $5,000; minimum, $500. Second offense would be a year in jail, a minimum fine of $1,000 and a maximum of $10,000.

Tiffany tastes: Traditional gifts for Mom might include a pearl necklace, crystal vase, and fragrance.

Careful thoughts on Mother's gifts

By Linda Ann Chomin STAFF WRITER

According to American Express, Mother's Day is the second biggest shopping holiday next to Christmas. This year, consumers are expected to spend $9.5 billion on presents for mother.

She always taught you to spend your money wisely, so when selecting a gift for her on May 12, make it personal and long-lasting.

At the Livonia Mall, I came across hundreds of gift giving ideas. Narrow down what's right for her by creating a gift profile.

Is their a sport, hobby, or activity she loves? Does she collect things? Is she partial to country music or romance novels? Here's some suggestions for gifts to delight moms of all ages:

Nature lovers: A fly-through terra cotta bird feeder ($20) or cedar blue bird house ($14) from Sears, will provide endless hours of enjoyment especially at this time of year when birds are tending

For a peach of a gal a one-size-fits-all T-shirt featuring your choice of fruit or flower, packed in a wooden quart-size box ($20) by Plant the Earth from Mervyn's.

Grandmothers: A variety of frames ($6-16) from Hallmark will capture loved ones' expressions. While you're there, choose a card with the proper sentiment for everyone from great-grandmothers to mothers-to be ($1.65-$6). There's even cards from the pet dog and cat!

Gourmets: While many mothers say they dislike cooking, it's not the cooking they mind but having to do it as a daily chore. So take the drudgery out of the kitchen with specialized equipment for ethnic, gourmet or exotic fare.

Lechters Housewares offers everything from woks ($15-30) to Atlas pasta makers ($40). There's a four-piece set of hand painted windowsill pots ($13) for herbs. All you need to add is the seed Samica Drain said lots of women collect Lechters'refrigerator magnets. "We have people come in and buy $20 to $30 worth," she said. Assistant manager Darby Hayes smiled when she recalled one woman's photograph of her refrigerator covered from top to bottom with magnets.

(My favorite was an apple that reads "Mom's busy take a number.") Book worms: B. Dalton Booksellers has lots of quick and healthy cookbooks like "Good Food Fast" ($25) so Mom can whip up dinner and spend the rest of the evening concentrating on "Ultimate Golf Techniques" ($35).

Party girls: If mom likes to get out of the house, consider giving her gift certificates to her favorite restaurants, or make a date with her for a movie, play, concert, shopping, or a meal you prepare. Why not take her to someplace she used to take you, like the zoo?

Art Lovers: T-shirts featuring the works of Van Gogh, Picasso, Salvador Dali and Edvard Munch (The Scream) are available at Images of Art, ($18.) If she's a collector of figurines, The Country Peddler carries Lladro and Precious Moments, to name but a few. Wind chimes ($6-$40) are also a great idea for spring, according to the sales staff.

Glamour gals: Pamper Mom with the latest in skin care with Exuviance by NeoStrata ($18-28) available only at Crowley's and dermatologist offices. With any purchase of $17.50, receive a free kit filled with samples from this new line.

According to salesperson Nancy Rogalski, "created by two dermatologists, Exuviance renews your skin because it contains 8-percent alphahydroxyacid." While you're at the beauty counter check out the myriad of free gifts with purchases, including Elizabeth Taylor's new Black Pearls fragrance ($37.50). With any $30 purchase from the department, receive a free straw handbag.

Mom might also appreciate a gift certificate for a manicure from Wonder Nails.

Free spirits: De-stress mom with a relaxation pillow ($18) by Nature's Spa, available at Crowley's. Heat or freeze the atomatherapy sachet filled with lavender, then place it inside a pocket on the buckwheat hull-filled pillow. Breathe deeply and feel the world melt away.

If she spends a lot of time on the go and you apend a lot of time worrying about her, get mom a Motorola, AT&T or Panasonic celiular phone

Channel 56 stores entertain your brain

Public television hopes to capitalize on its reputation for highbrow entertainment with a chain of stores selling educational merchandise in the nation's major markets. Three are ready to open in Michigan.

The bond between the retail and entertainment industries just got stronger with the debut of three Channel 56 WTVS Stores of Knowledge in the Detroit-area.

The first store recently opened at Briarwood Mall in Ann Arbor, the next is set for Somerset Collection North in Troy on Aug. 16, and a thirdwill open at Lakeside in Sterling Heights in the spring of 1997.

The 56 WTVS Store of Knowledge at Briarwood is hosting a grand opening celebration, Saturday, May 11, from noon to 3 p.m. Guests include characters from the popular children's PBS show "The Puzzle Place," KiKi, Leon, Nuzzle and Sizzle.

The stores are filled with more than 7,000 products designed to educate, entertain and spark inquisitive minds of all ages. Included in the line up are games, puzzles, videos, computer software, hobby kits, and a special section dedicated exclusively to 56 WVS programming.

Merchandise spans a range of subjects including history, home improvement, nature, the arts, foreign language and self-improvement.

"Channel 56 does not put up any cash or any of its contributors' money for the opening or operation of the stores," said Dan Alpert, senior vice president and station manager of WTVS. "This is an opportunity to put some of our considerable energy into helping build a business that can develop new revenue for the future of Channel 56, while strengthening viewership and involvement today."

Channel 56 WTVS Store of Knowledge joins the forces of three members of the Southern California community: KCET, the flagship public television station for Southern and Central California; Lakeshore Learning Materials, a leader in the education industry for 35 years; and the venture capital firm Riordan, Lewis and Ha-

"The store reminds me of a combination Learning Store, World of Science, and Natural Wonders," said one shopper. "Only there is much more to choose from. Most public television programs are on tape at the store."

Expect other Stores of Knowledge at Novi, Flint and Toledo.

"I've worn suspenders most of my life and the clips coming off my pants drove me crazy," said the business owner-turned-inventor. "About 10 years ago I began fussing around with the clips developing prototypes that would work better. I came up with a suspender clip that has a center pin that works like a needle inside, locking it onto a waistband without cutting or damaging the pant fabric. The couple spent years perfecting their product which was becoming a happy obsession.

with a wide grin. "We don't want' to convince people to wear suspenders. But we want to bring back the people that gave up on

For the past year, Judee has devoted herself to HoldUp Suspenders, promoting the product "directly to the end users," and even establishing The Suspender Wearers Association of America to "promote and encourage admiration of suspender wearing." A newsletter, " is in development."
A pair of HoldUp Suspenders is $29.95, plus $4.95 for postage and handling. They are available in nine colors and patterns, a Y- or X-shaped back design, and customized by gold or silver non-slip clips. The suspender is made from a high quality woven polyester elastic, with the company logo "HoldUp" gently embossed in the solid black, navy or burgundy suspenders "to serve as a conversation piece," Sal said.

In the first four months of business 200 suspenders have been sold, none returned, and several clients have ordered a second pair. Testimonial letters are trickling in, including a letter of appreciation from comedian Jonathan Winters which sits on a file cabinel to inspire the Hermans.

"Winters said he loved the suspenders we sent, and suggested we make some in red, white and blue," Judee laughed. "But he's talking about novelty suspenders and that is really a different market. We're dealing with a very serious product, top of the line for quality."

One skeptical wife of a suspender aficionado wrote the Herman's: "My husband is test driving these and so far he likes them very much. He sits at a desk most of the day and said his suspenders are surely more comfortable than a belt with a buckle that pokes you in the overhang."

The Hermans urge suspender wearers to look for their mail order ads in men's magazines, freestanding airport posters, and on the Internet through the Observer & Eccentric's OnLine service.

"Then, go ask your favorite retailers if they carry the HoldUpbrand yet," Judee said.

Bills aim to grant townships control of oil, gas drilling

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Three suburban legislators are battling a force hundreds of millions of years old as they seek to give townships the power to control oil and gas drilling.

The lawmakers are state Reps. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, Willis Bullard Jr., R.Milford, and Susan Munsell, R-Howell. They are teamed with Rep. Bill Bobier, R-Manistee County, and linked by an ancient layer of rock called the Antrim Shale.

"Their four bills are a major unnecessary burden," said Martin Lagina, chair of the Michigan Oil and Gas Association. "They sound OK, but they're unwork-

"We drill in 61 counties. There are literally hundreds of townships _ several dozen under a single (oil or gas) field. We don't see a level of expertise at the local level. The state (Geological

"Everything they try to address is in the new rules," Lagina told the House Local Government Committee May 1 in Lansing.

DEQ will hold a pair of hearings on its proposed rules Thursday, May 9, at Hidden Valley Resort, 696 E. Main (M-32), Gay-

A gas boom

The problem is that people build dream homes on land they bought in idyllic woods and hills. But they don't own the property totally. In the Great Depression of the 1930s, the state picked up millions of acres for unpaid taxes, resold the surface rights but kept the mineral rights.

Along come oil and gas drillers who set up shop in township Divison of the Department of areas zoned residential, People ship. There is no local zoning Environmental Quality) under- say their pumps are ugly and make noise.

Cities may confine wells to industrial zones. Townships may not. Rather than incorporate as home-rule cities, townships are demanding power to zone and control oil and gas drilling. That's where the Law, Bullard, Munsell and Bobier bills come Bobier made the case to the House panel: "You can't deal with environmental problems without dealing with land use problems. We are blessed in Michigan with a great source of energy, clean, low-pressure. It comes in trends rather than at an isolated source.

"We now have natural gas production coming where surface owners get no royalty. The state owns the minerals, but the surface owners don't get anything.

"There's a problem of steward-authority. It's like having a freight train in your backyard. We have an industry come in a rural, residential zone. I am amazed the industry has not gotten with its people to police themselves. Committee Chair Robert Brackenridge, R-St. Joseph, held off action on the representatives' zoning bills to see if DEQ's new rules _ on the drawing boards since 1987 can resolve the problems.

Roger Whitener of DEQ's Geological Division said the rules cover setbacks from public and private water supplies, three layers of public notices to residents and noise controls for compressors.

Whitener said local units could exercise control with truck traffic rules, "Our authority ends at the property line," he told Brackenridge.

The Antrim Shale

To understand the Antrim Shale, think of Michigan's lowerpeninsula as a set of cook's mixing bowls. The newer, smaller bowls are in the center of the peninsula. The older, larger bowls are on the outside.

Look at the palm of your right hand and visualize it as a map of Michigan. The Antrim shale is the bedrock on the tip of your little finger, the knuckles of your first three fingers, and the thick muscle of your palm. That's why Bobier, Law, Bullard and Munsell have gas and oil drillers in their districts.

So does Rep. Beverly Bodem. R-Alpena. Her bill would give a property assessment break to owners who lack the mineral rights under their homes.

Professors Dorr and Eschleman, in their Geology of Michigan, tell how the Antrim shale was formed: "In the Late Devonian, vast quantities of black mud were swept into the Michigan Basin from the east as a result of uplift in the Appalachian Region. These muds formed the Antrim Shale... The black muds, rich in organic matter, indicate deposition on a oxygenated sea floor where decay was slow. . . The Antrim Shale. . is a sedimentary deposit that accumulated during a span of time that included parts of two geologic periods." The mixing bowls analogy also explains why limestone is found at both Alpena and Dundee and salt underlies Manistee and Detroit.

Awrey named to-state policy commission

Betty Jean Awrey of Plymouth Township has been appointed by Gov. John Engler to the State Transportation Commission.

The commission establishes policy for the Department of Transportation, its programs and facilities and other public works of the state. The six members of the commission are appointed with the advice and consent of the Senate. The term expires Dec. 21, 1998.

Awrey, vice president of public relations and government affairs for Awrey Bakeries Inc. of Livonia, said she hasn't yet met with state officials to learn of her new responsibilities. "I'm anxious to find out" about the appointment, she said.

Awrey said she has been following the road funding negotiations this spring between the Michigan Department of Transportation and the Southeast Michigan Council of Govern-

"I was complimented that he called me," Awrey said of Engler's phone call.

But this isn't the first time she's been appointed to a state post. She has served on the Grand Valley State Board of Control and the Michigan State Parks Foundation, she said.

She is also active locally. She is president of the Livonia Symphony Orchestra, past president of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce and past vice president of the Boy Scouts of America Executive Board. She is a member of the board of directors for the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, the Metropolitan Detroit Convention Bureau, the Schoolcraft College Foundation (past president) and the Boys and Girls Clubs of Southeastern Michigan. She received the Woman of the Year" award from Boy Town of Italy in 1990.

Awrey is appointed as an independent to replace Irving Rubin of Detroit.

Let's rap about homemade tamales

I belong to the Julia Child School of Cooking, and believe to a degree, that butter, cream and lard are not taboo. They should not be banished from the kitchen because of their seemingly unhealthy aftereffects.

But sometimes it's fun to toss nutrition to the wind, and treat yourself to something decadent that tastes oh so good. It is with that notion that I finally learned how to make great tamales.

My favorite place to buy tamales is Tamaleria Nuevo Leon, 2669 W. Vernor, Detroit (313) 962-8066. Called Leon's for short, you can buy a dozen homemade tamales there for $6. I like to eat them on the ride home while sipping a diet

Ingredients

Tamales are a Mexican tradition, and may consist of almost anything that is wrapped in a leaf and steamed. However, the primary ingredient is usually masa, a dough made from dried corn that has been boiled briefly with lime, hulled, and then coarsely ground. Made with fresh corn on the cob, corn tamales can be a vegetarian delight. Add some taco-seasoning laced cooked ground or chopped beef and you can make them at home for half of what they cost at Leon's with all the taste.

Of course, in order to make a batch, you might be lucky enough to find dried corn husks and masa at an upscale grocer, but why not visit Detroit's very own true Mexican grocery store, La Colamena Honey Bee Market, 2443 Bagley (at 17th Street), (313) 237-0295. If you've never been there, it's worth the trip, then stop at Zochomililco for lunch or dinner. Leon's is just a few blocks away.

When summer is upon us, and fresh corn husks are available, they are unbeatable, but dried corn husks, (which are more consistent in size) are almost as good and really can't be beat.

Worth the work

Rick Bayless, chef/owner of the Frontera Grill and Topalobambo in Chicago (widely regarded as one of the best Mexican restaurants in the U.S.) said making tamales is a fair amount of work.

"In Mexico, people make them only on special occasions," explained Bayless. Fortunately, the prepared dough and finished tamales have a tendency to keep very well. After having made them in a class with Diana Kennedy, the maven of Mexican cookbooks, I found that they are no more difficult to make than a cake from scratch. I would however, suggest that the recipe be doubled because why make only 12 when you can get the family involved and make them for a special occasion, gourmet appetizer or just for the Tamales have many regional variations. So varied are their shapes, wrappings, ingredients, taste and textures that a homemade tamale is nothing short of a gastronomic delight. The word tamal covers a lot more than one would

Fresh from the steamer

In fact, the word tamal refers to anything wrapped and cooked in a corn husk. Tamales can be filled with ground beef, shredded pork, chile peppers, beans, bananas and just about everything in between. Once prepared and steamed, they can be refrigerated for up to 3 days or frozen for up to 3 months. The best way to enjoy a tamale is right from the steamer, but they can be easily reheated in a microwave oven.

It's always fun to watch uninitiated guests try to eat a tamale. If you've never enjoyed one, you unwrap the filling from the wrapper and eat it with your fingers.

A word of advice though, compliments of Diana Kennedy's "The Art of Mexican Cooking" (copyright 1989, Bantam Books, $24.95).

"There are no substitutions for masa, lard, corn husks, authentic chile peppers and the best, freshest spices," writes Kennedy in her book. "It is the combination of all those speciality ingredients that gives a homemade tamale a special quality and a pure Mexican flavor."

The recipes look a tad complicated, but can be made relatively easily, once you feel comfortable with the wrapping technique. Bon Appetite!

"The key is to make cooking enjoyable with easy-to-prepare recipes that don't require a lot of parental supervision. That way, children gain cooking know-how and a sense of accomplishment."

Cooking is also a great way to teach children about nutrition, weights and measures, and stove top safety, adds Waite.

FROM ITALY'S PIEDMONT

Barbera is a 'people's wine'

BY ELEANOR & RAY HEALD

Challenged only by Sangiovese from Italy's Tuscany region in red wine versatility, barbera, from Italy's Piedmont, offers palate excitement. With mouth-filling fruit with spicy flavors, barbera connects well with highly seasoned dishes. The Piedmontese refer to it as a "people's wine" because it does not require long aging for full enjoyment. The Piedmont region needs such a wine because its two dominant wines barbaresco and barolo require long cellaring time for maximum enjoyment. In any vintage, barbera accounts for more than 50 percent of the region's red wine.

Because barbera has caught up in the wave of Italian varietals enjoying production popularity in California, interest in its Italian heritage has escalated. By California standards, some producers, such as Louis Martini, are old hands at making barbera, but newcomers have added it to their growing portfolio of Italian varietals.

Barbera from Italy's Piedmont is bottled in a | mont. In youth, its purple color stains the glass.

broad spectrum of styles from young and fruity, Aromas are typically those of red fruits. Flavors almost like the region's Dolcetto, to dark, intense, extracted versions with heady aromas. Many wines, particularly those labeled Barbera d'Alba, originate from minute family vineyard holdings dating back 100 to 200 years. One also finds Barbera d'Asti from the Asti area. Differences among wines from the two regions stem from variances among soil type and microclimates, but cellar aging practices are also a contributing factor. Not all Italian barbera is oak aged.

Following its Italian heritage to America, it can be said that California has an equally broad range of styles for barbera, but as a general rule, all California barbera has seen some barrel aging, even if it's older, more neutral cooperage. Like Piedmontese, some California wineries are making barbera for early drinkability.

Italian Barberas you should know:

• Batasiolo Barbera d'Alba is produced from one of the oldest vineyards in the Pied mirror aromas and the wine finishes mellow.

• Luigi Coppo e figli produces two wines of differing style. Camp du Rouss Barbera d'Asti is bright red-garnet in the glass with berry and violet aromas. Flavors are intense, but the wine finishes smooth. The other Coppo wine, Pomorosso Barbera d'Asti, comes across lighter in the mouth, but has a surprising aftertaste. • Angelo Gaja Sitory is a blend from three ... estate vineyards reflecting their soil and microclimate. It is a gutsy, flavorful wine from start to finish.

• Pio Cesare Barbera d'Alba is made from estate fruit averaging 70 years old and from vineyards managed by the winery.

• Prunotto Pian Romualdo and the Fiulot. Barbera d'Alba make great counterpoints. Compared in the same vintage, Pian Romualdo is a wine needing some cellar aging while Fiulot has immediate approachability.

Wrap up some tasty homemade tamales

See related Taste Buds column on Taste front. FRESH CORN TAMALES

2 large fresh ears sweet corn 2 cups (1 pound) masa (avail-

- able at Mexican grocery) 2 ounces (2 tablespoons) unsalted butter, cut into cubes
- 1/4 cup lard, cut into cubes
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt 15 teaspoons baking powder
- 12 dried corn husks

Place dried corn husks in boiling water to cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Remove from water. drain and set aside.

Slice kernels off corn cobs and place corn in a food processor and process until a coarse puree is made. Add remaining ingredients (except husks) and pulse several times to mix, then process until mixture is very smooth, about 1 minute. Measure 1 inch of water in a large saucepan.

Set a collapsible vegetable steamer into a saucepan. Line steamer and pan sides with corn husks. With the tapered end of the husk facing you, place a scant4 cup of the filling dough onto the husk. Fold husks to seal in dough. Tie with kitchen twine, green onion skins or a corn husk soaked and cut into strips. As tamales are made, stand them in the prepared steamer. Cover and steam, checking water level frequently until tamale filling comes away from the husk, about 1-14 hours.

Makes 12 tamales. Serves 4 as a light appetizer.

Recipe and special tips from July/August 1994 issue of "Cook's Illustrated Magazine." RED CHILE PORK

- Filling: 1½ pound pork loin
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 cups water
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon all purpose flour 1/2 cup ground dried mild
- Mexican chile (available at Mexican grocery) 3/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon dried oregano dough:

- 6 cups masa
- 1% cups vegetable oil 5 cups water, or more as
- needed 2 teaspoons salt
- 24 dried corn husks, steamed for 10 minutes

To prepare the filling, place the pork loin and the onion in a medium baking dish and cover with 2 cups water. Bake for 1% hours at 350 degrees or until meat is totally cooked and pulls apart easily. Remove pork from the broth. Set the meat aside to cool and refrigerate the broth. Shred pork fine. Strain stock and remove fat from the surface. If the stock does not measure 2 cups, add enough water to make 2 cups.

In a heavy skillet, warm the vegetable oil over medium heat and add the garlic and the pork. Sprinkle flour over the mixture and stir constantly as the flour begins to brown. Add the chile, reserved pork stock, salt and oregano. Continue cooking over medium heat for 20-25 minutes, or until most of the liquid has evaporated. Watch carefully at end of cooking time as mixture will burn

In a deep bowl or baking dish, soak the corn husks in boiling water. Separate the husks as needed. Keep covered with water until ready to use. To prepare the dough, measure the masa into a large mixing bowl. Add the oil, water and salt and mix with a heavy spoon or your hand until smooth. When well blended, the masa should have the consistency of moistened cookie dough. Add more water if needed. To assemble the tamales, use equal amounts of masa and filling. To make 24, use 2 tablespoons each. Hold the corn husk flat in one hand, smooth side up.

Spread the dough over the husk in the center. Add filling and smooth, then fold the tamale or roll it and tie with kitchen twine if necessary to secure. Repeat the procedure until all the filling and masa are used. Place the tamales in a steamer or on a rack set over 1 inch of boiling water. Cover the pot and cook over simmering water for 1 - 1% hours or until masa is firm and no longer sticks to husk. Unwrap one tamale and if dough is still sticky and doughy, rewrap and continue steaming for a few more minutes. Makes 24 widest variety of fresh salad fixings, there couldn't be a better month than May. Spring produce is abundant, while the earliest of the summer crop is beginning to find its way to the produce shelves. Is it any surprise that May is National Salad Month?

It's time to take full advantage of one of the healthiest dishes ever devised - a true multinutrient source far better than any supplement. Along with vitamins, minerals and fiber. fruits, vegetables and grains also contain a host of food components such as phytochemicals that scientists are finding offer all sorts of health benefits, including reduced risk of cancer.

If all winter long you've faced a bowl of iceberg, Bibb, or Romaine lettuce, celebrate May with some new salad greens. Arugula is a pungent peppery

When it comes to finding the Balsamic vinegar dressing. Belgian endive can add a smooth, firm texture to salads, and its slight bitterness complements sweet and sour flavors from other vegetables and fruits.

Chinese cabbage is similar to Romaine, but its long, crisp leaves are more densely packed. With a juicy, crisp, fresh taste, it stands up to heavier dressings (low-fat, of course). Strong tasting greens, including curly endive, dandelion greens and watercress, are best when mixed with other, milder greens. On the other hand, very mild tasting greens like lamb's lettuce can get lost in a salad with too many stronger-flavored greens.

Radicchio, a type of chicory, is enhanced by a freshly made garlic and mustard vinaigrette. Spinach adds lots of nutrients and its own unique taste to a salad. Rockets, Rocks deadlock for crown

By STEVE KOWALSKI

Plymouth Salem coach Geoff Baker expects the pole vault to hurt his team's chances at the Observerland Boys Track Relays, but not an earring.

Salem lost a possible 10 points on Saturday at Livonia Churchill when one of the Rocks was disqualified in the distance medley relay for wearing an earring.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association forbids athletes from wearing jewelry during competition.

It ended up costing the Rocks sole possession of first place as defending. champion Westland John Glenn was able to share the title with Salem at 74 points. It was the first co-championship since 1973 when Livonia Stevenson and Churchill shared the crown.

There also was a tie for third place between Farmington Hills Harrison and Detroit Catholic Central, who had 64 points apiece.

The Rocks won the 6,400, 3,200, 1,600 and shuttle hurdle relays and seemed to be a shoo-in to do the same in the sprint medley.

Baker noticed the earring from his perch at the top of the bleachers, where he cheers on his runners, and tried to alert his runner to no avail.

The news must have been as painful as an ear piercing for Baker, who already watches the Rocks give up points in the pole vault because Salem and Canton don't have the

"I was standing behind the PA (public address system) yelling my butt off but the PA was on and he couldn't hear me," Baker said. "It'll never happen again. I expect to win all the distance events. Our team could have collapsed, but they came back with a ton of heart."

It showed even in the last event as Salem's 1,600 relay team of Jared Biniecki, Scott Loewe, Scott Kingslein and Jason Barylski edged CC for first place with a time of Biniecki figured in two other winning relays and also won the open 1,600 in a time of 4:25.8.

Salem's Scott Pengelly, Andy Briggs, Charlie Schmidt and Biniecki won the 6,400 in 19:16.6; the 3,200 relay team of Briggs, Ian Searcy, Loewe and Pengelly won the 3,200 in 18:18.0 and the shuttle hurdle relay of Don Johnson, Ron Hawley, Dave Hester and Mike Disher came in first in 1:03.9.

Glenn already had 74 points heading into the final event and needed only to secure sixth place for one point and the overall championship. The Rockets were shut out however, placing seventh in the 1,600 relay.

It was the only disappointment for coach Jess Shough, whose high jump and distance medley relays earned first place.

Glenn's Jason Baker cleared 6feet, 2-inches to lead the high jump relay that included Mike Phillips and Tim Moore, while Jim Koch, Charles Lawrence, Chris Gillen and Joe Wojtowicz finished the distance medley in a winning time of 11:20.

CC's hopes were hindered considerably by the absence of all-state distance runner Joe Leo, who hasn't competed yet this spring because of a knee injury.

Coach Tony Magni also was questionable for the meet because of a hospital visit earlier in the week. Magni passed a kidney stone on Friday and was there to motivate the Shamrocks, who garnered only one first place, in the shot put where Jeff Monnette, Brian Douglas and Dan Dominguez threw a combined 140-feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Magni was feeling well enough to joke about the results.

"I was in the hospital Thursday night and I told the coaches 'Win one for the Gipper,' " Magni said. "They didn't listen to me. I feel better. My wife said I could go to the meet and I said 'Thank you.'"

New Observerland Relays records were set by Livonia Franklin junior standout Paul Terek and Southfield-Lathrup's Everett Edgar.

Terek, Franklin's Jack of All Trades, clearing a personal-best 15feet, 1 inch in the pole vault to break the previous mark of 14-8, set by Redford Union's Tom Babits in 1978. Franklin also won the discus relay. Edgar leaped 23-feet, 4 inches in the long jump, shattering the previous record of 21-11 set by Redford Bishop Borgess' Paul Bialowicz in

Harrison also won the long jump

Jason Granger anchored the Hawks' winning 400 relay team that included Battle, Chris Knox and Johnson and finished in 44.9. Granger also won the open 100 in 11.0, , edging Wayne Memorial's Richard Buford, who finished in

"I came out of the blocks slow and that guy from Wayne has got a lot of juice," Granger said. "The gun went off real quick and it surprised me."

Buford laughed at the suggestion that his long shorts gave him some

"I told coach (Floyd Carter), "Are we going to play basketball in thse shorts? Buford said. "I pulled them on the first day and they went below my knees.'

Huge heave: Sophomore Matt Lawson hurls the discus 149 feet, 6 inches to lead Franklin's first-place relay team.

Lady Crusaders cruise in Great Lakes tourney

SPORTS EDITOR

The bottom of the seventh inning lay moments away, and Ann Dieselberg found something on the back of assistant coach Debbie Eisele she hoped was an omen - a lady bug.

She allowed the insect to crawl onto her finger, showed it to Eisele, then carefully put it back where she had found it.

Good luck, she hoped. Her Mount St. Joseph's softball team (from Cincinnati) needed it against Madonna University.

They didn't get any, however. The Lions' biggest obstacle from the start of this NAIA Great Lakes Sectional Tournament had been Lady Crusaders' pitching ace Shanna Streng. It didn't change in the seventh; Streng did give up an infield single, but it was of no consequence.

Madonna had its win, by a 3-1 count. And its second-straight Sec-

The win advances the Crusaders to the NAIA Regional hosted by the College of St. Francis in Joliet, Ill., Wednesday through Friday.

"The difference was that Shanna had control of the strike zone," said Madonna coach Jerry Abraham, who takes his team (now 28-15) to the regional tournament for the thirdconsecutive year. "When she's on, she's tough, because she doesn't walk anyone. She's a real gamer."

What makes Streng so tough isn't her power. Her ability to change speeds is what gives opposing hitters such grief.

The St. Joseph's team certainly felt it. Nine hits: That's what the Lions managed off of her - in two Streng scattered five singles with no walks in subduing St. Joseph's 5-0 in Thursday's first game; in Friday's championship match - necessitated by the Lions' 5.4 win in Thursday's second game - Streng surrendered four hits and again did not walk a batter.

Franklin names cage coach

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Dan Robinson is slightly ahead of schedule when it comes to the coaching profession. Last week, the 29-year-old Robinson was named varsity boys basketball coach at Livonia Franklin High to succeed Larry Jackson, the latter whom resigned after three seasons.

Robinson was an assistant under Jackson last season. "My goal was to become a head coach somewhere by the time I was 30 and I'm pleased by that," Robinson said. "WIth this program I want to keep the expectations as high as possible. You have to develop some pride and I believe there will be something good come of it."

Robinson was among five candidates interviewed for the job by Franklin athletic director Dan Freeman and assistant principal Jim Komula.

"Dan (Robinson) has a good, strong knowledge of the game as far as Xs-and-Os and strategy," Freeman said. "I was impressed with both sides of the coin. And I was also impressed with his ability to deal with young people.

"I'm excited about the things he can bring to the program and I felt we couldn't go wrong with a guy like Dan."

Under Jackson, Franklin finished 21-41 overall and made the Western Lakes playoffs once. Franklin was 5-15 last season.

"I want our kids to play hard and I think we've done that in the past," Robinson said. "I like the fact that our kids never quit last

"I also want us to play smarter and utilize our strengths. We have to know when to run and know when to back it out.

"And I want it to be fun. That's the attitude I'll bring to practice

Next season Robinson returns 6-foot-8 center Matt Bauman, a second-team A 1-Observer pick who averaged 15 points per game. "I plan on meeting with the players next week and I make some announcement about what we're going to be doing this summer and what I expect of them," Robinson said. "And we'll run some type of camp for the young kids as well."

Robinson is a native of Alpena. He earned a degree from Southeastern College in Lakeland, Fla., where he played guard. He made National Christian College Athletic Association All-American honors his seniör year.

Robinson has coached a several different schools in the Detroit area including Clawson, Troy Athens, Royal Oak Dondero and Farmington (where he served as the Falcons' JV girls coach under John Verdura the past three years).

He also spent four years teaching in the Detroit Public Schools before moving to Emerson Middle School in Livonia where he is an eighth-grade science instructor.

"Being in this district for only one year, I can't be more pleased with getting this opportunity," said Robinson, who said he expects JV coach John Santi and freshman coach Chad Campau to remain on the staff next year.

Central stops Stevenson, 12-8; Chargers get 1st win of season

Walled Lake Central took flight Friday, scoring a 12-8 Lakes Division baseball victory over Livonia Stevenson.

Clean-up hitter Rob Wing homered, doubled and knocked in four runs, while teammate Steve Henkel added a three-run triple to spark a five-run fifth inning, as visiting Central improved to 7-8 overall and 3-1 on the Lakes side of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Shamrock's managed only one hit against U-D pitcher T.J. South in losing the nightcap, 3-0.

The split left the Shamrocks with an 8-7 overall record, 3-7 in the Catholic League Central Division. They needed to at least split Saturday's double-header against Birmingham Brother Rice to keep alive their playoff hopes in the Central Division.

Marty Wilk earned the pitching victory in Game 1 to move his record to 2-0. He scattered five hits with seven strikeouts and five walks in five innings of work. Both of the runs he allowed were unearned.

Chris Karney pitched the last two innnings, allowing an unearned run white striking out three and walking one.

Kaye's three-run homer in the fourth erased a 2-0 deficit and gave the Shamrocks the leadto stay. He added an RBI single in the fifth. Karney was also 2-for-3 with an RBI and Garet Burch was 2-4 with two RBI. The Shamrocks committed five errors in losing the second game.

U-D scored two insurance runs with two outs in the seventh inning against CC starting and losing pitcher Jay Malack.

Malack deserved better, allowing six hits with nine strikeouts and one walks. The Shamrocks wasted a scoring opportunity in the second inning when they failed to score after loading the bases with no outs after a single by Burch, a hit batter and error.

South struck out two batters and got another to pop out to end the threat.

Churchill ace perfect in victory

With one out in the seventh inning Wednesday, an innocent grounder was hit to Livonla Churchill's Tina Naif. The second baseman bobbled the ball twice before gunning out the North Farmington batter at first.

The play proved to be the biggest scare Alicia December had as the senior right hander pitched a perfect game in the Chargers' 4-0 softball victory at North.

With winds swirling, December was able to stay in control and get the defense she needed for her first career perfect game and no hitter. It was Churchill's first no-hitter since Karen Jose's no-hitter in 1994.

December, who struck out three, helped herself with six assists.

With the win, Churchill remained perfect in Western Lakes Activities Association action.

The Chargers would score all the runs they would need in the third when Jessie Jenkins singled home Jenny Clulow. who had led - off the inning with a single.

The Chargers improved to 5-0 in the Western Division and 12-2 overall Friday with a 13-7 victory at Farmington Hills Harrison. The difference proved to be a seven-run outburst by Churchill in the December (12-2) wasn't perfect, but did pick up the win. She allowed nine hits, walked two and fanned two. Churchill's defense had a badday behind December, committing eight errors.

Ari Ault suffered the loss for the Hawks (3-5 overall, 2-5 in the WLAA). Ault also had two hits and three RBI.

•FRANKLIN 4-1, CANTON 2-13: Sophomore Lort Jendrusik hurled a three hitter in the opener Friday as host Livonia Franklin split a doubleheader with Plymouth Canton.

In the opener, lendrusik allowed two runs in the first, but shut the Chiefs out for the next six innings. She also shined at the plate with two hits, including a two-run double in the fourth that tied the game.

Jennie Pushies went 2 for 2 with one RBI for the Patriots (7-7 overall, 4-5 in the WLAA).

The nightcap was a different story as the Chiefs won in a five-inning mercy. Freshman Gretchen Hudson limited Franklin to Just two hits, as she struck out two without allowing a walk.

Hudson and Tara Biro each went 2-for-3 for Canton, which collected 13 hits.

Patriot breaks discus mark

An 18-year-old record fell Thursday in the discus as Livonia Franklin's Matt Lawson had a toss measured at 161 feet, 1 inch.

The 6-foot-6, 265-pound sophomore broke the mark of 156-6 held since 1978 by Don Boka, who is now an assistant boys track coach at Livonia Stevenson.

Franklin, however, did not fare as well in the team scoring, falling to host Walled Lake Western in a dual meet, 83-54.

The loss drops the Patriots to 1-3 overall and 1-2 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. Other Franklin individual winners included Jay Myrand in the shot put, 46-7 1/4, and Aaron Haddard in the pole vault, 9-0. The Patriot foursome of Jason Wolfe, Kevin Biga, Jeff Hayball and Tom Taylor combined for a first in the 3,200-meter relay (8:53.1).

Volvo 850 a safe bet for durability

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures

Volvo has always been known for safety and durability.

My cousin Sue bought one just before her first born arrived. The kid turns 15 this year and her Volvo is still going strong. What's more, she's walked away from a couple of serious crashes.

So confident is this company about its safety record that all new Volvos come with an "Accidental Loss of Life" insurance policy. The policy is paid for by Volvo and contributes $250,000 to the estate of any occupant of any 1996 Volvo who loses his or her life in the car as the result of an accident.

Last year, Volvo further enhanced its standing in the automotive safety world by offering the first front-seat side-impact airbags on the 850 line. This year, the airbags are standard equipment on all models. More on that later,

Tested was the Volvo 850. It's outfitted with a powerful normally aspirated in-line 5-cylinder with double overhead camshafts and two valves per cylinder that provides 168 horsepower. The normally aspirated models are available with a 5-speed manual or automatic transmission, but the turbo

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

model is equipped with an automatic transmission only.

The automatic transmission is unique in that it offers the driver three driving choices: Economy, sport and winter/wet. In the winter/wet mode, the first and second gears are locked out to help the car get rolling on slippery road surfaces. Available equipment includes a traction-control system.

As always, this Volvo has a comfortable, steady ride. It's provided by a MacPherson-strut suspension system with antiroll bar and a rear Delta-link suspension system. The rear system uses separate coil springs and shock absorbers on alloy lower control arms connected to separate short links. Available on the wagon model are self-leveling shock absorbers.

All models are equipped with 4wheel antilock brakes and powerassisted rack-and-pinion steering. turning circle of just 33.5 feet.

Pricing on the 850 models start at $26,125. The high-end turbo model, fully equipped, can cost $38,335. But even with the $26,000 model, you'll see a lot of standard equipment such as air conditioning, 15-inch all-season tires mounted on steel wheels, an 8-way power adjustable driver's seat, 6-speaker 80-watt stereo with CD-compatible AM/FM cassette, power windows, mirrors and door locks, dual controls for heating and cooling and 60/40 rear seats.

All 850 wagons are equipped with an integrated child booster cushion that helps kids to be properly positioned in the center rear seat. There's even a 3-point seat belt. It's an option on the sedans.

The rear deck of the wagon provides nearly 37.1 cubic feet of space. With the rear seats folded down, that cargo room increases to 67 cubic feet.

Back to the side-impact As large as this wagon is, it's got a airbags. Volvo designed these airbags a lot differently than other manufacturers have. Other carmakers have introduced doormounted side airbags.

Volvo has a seat-based side airbag that is always in position to protect the driver or passenger, regardless of where the seat is located on its tracks. This system is also mechanically triggered and doesn't require a complicated computerized sensor to detect a crash.

The side bag measures just 1 foot x 5 inches and deploys in between 4 and 6 milliseconds. Total elapsed time from first impact sensing to bag inflation is less than 12 milliseconds, according to documents from Volvo.

This is how it works: When the sensor detects an impact of sufficient force, the sensor triggers the side airbag system, automatically setting off a pyrotechnic charge that activates the gas generators in the seat back. Expanding gasses inflate the bag, splitting the seam in the edge of the seat

The bottom line is this — the side airbags are designed to absorb energy from a side impact and channel it away from frontseat occupants. The system actually transfers the energy from the crash to the other side of the car and into the floorpan.

The side airbags are designed to reduce head and chest injuries by keeping occupants from slamming into the door, B-pillar or window. The surprising thing is that more than 30 percent of all crashes are side impacts. Front airbags do not deploy in a side impact, which is where the most serious injuries occur.

Volvo again sets a standard for safety with the side airbag. Look for more automakers to jump on this bandwagon. Consider the 850 a strong car, a safe car and a good value.

1996 Volvo 850
