Murderer gets 15 to 30 years

Christopher David Poremba of Westland has received a 15-30-year prison sentence for the second-degree murder of his roommate. Family members of the victim pleaded with the judge for a lengthy sentence.

A Detroit judge Wednesday sentenced Westland murderer Christopher David Poremba to prison for 15 to 30 years for the shooting death of roommate Eric Alexander Lucia, a longtime Redford Township resi-

Wayne County Circuit Judge

Michael Callahan announced his decision after tearful Lucia family members pleaded for a long sentence for Poremba, 29.

Lucia's sister, Luanne Mueller, described the emotional pain of trying to cope with her 27-year-old brother's death last Sept. 18.

"The laughs, the tears, the tickle fights, the long talks, the hugs and the dinners that I made for him - all more," Mueller told Callahan.

She also described how her children, Jayson, 8, and Diane, 10, miss their "uncle Ricky."

Diane often clings to a stuffed bunny that Lucia gave to her, knowing that she won't be receiving any more presents from him, Mueller said. Jayson cherishes a football igiven to him by Lucia, who had planned to coach his nephew's youth

"They want to know why this bad man killed their uncle," Mueller told Callahan.

For a school project, Jayson made

I know now is that there will be no a booklet that he titled, "In Memory, of Uncle Ricky."

"To say that my children are devastated would be an understatement," Mueller said. "They now awake from nightmares that this man (Poremba) will come after them."

Poremba, a Wayne Memorial High graduate and Ford Motor Co. apprentice, was sentenced 19 days after a jury convicted him of seconddegree murder.

Jurors rejected defense attorney Neil Fink's claims that Poremba was

Sassafras supporters circulate petitions

BY DARRELL CLEM

A citizens group fighting to stop the potential residential development of Sassafras Trails, a 64-acre nature area, seized an opportunity during last week's Westland Festival to circulate petitions for its

Friends of Sassafras Trails member Teresa Robbins said the group has now collected about 2,000 signatures urging the Wayne-Westland school board to protect Sassafras Trails, a heavily wooded area northeast of Palmer and Wildwood.

"We really pushed the issue at the festival,". Robbins said.

The school board is considering selling the land after receiving appraisals that indicate the property could bring in more than $1 million for the money-strapped district.

Board members are considering rejecting a lesser offer of $520,000 from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, which would buy the development rights and preserve Sassafras Trails.

On Friday, board member Patricia Brown said a decision may arise during a 7 p.m. school board meeting today (Monday), even though Sassafras Trails isn't listed on the formal agenda. "It's not on the agenda, but there's a chance that it could be added if we amend the agenda," she said.

In another development, the Observer has learned that school Superintendent Duane Moore and Westland Mayor Robert Thomas have met to discuss Sassafras Trails, a meeting that some Sast safras supporters viewed as hopeful!

Thomas has vowed that his administration won't pressure the under attack by Lucia when he shot the victim in the chest.

The killing occurred at Poremba's Westland home in the 32700 block of Parkwood. Witnesses said a dispute occurred when Poremba made derogatory remarks to a woman who came to his residence to visit Lucia and Lucia's friend, Richard Gofourth.

Poremba told the woman that Lucia and Gofourth were "trouble," Gofourth has testified.

Following a scuffle, Poremba have preferred a longer prison pulled a gun and shot Lucia to

Some school board members have said they support selling the property because it would not only bring in new revenue, but also would boost student enrollment from residential development.

The district receives about accepted by Sept. 30, Robbins. $5,600 a year in state aid for each pupil that attends Wayne-Westland schools.

The citizens group has said it hopes the district will eventually . use Sassafras Trails to teach students about science and the environment.

The school board last month deadlocked 3-3, with Brown absent, on the Sassafras Trails issue. But the board has since been revamped with newly elected members David Cox and Robin Moore assuming their posts on July 1.

Cox and Moore haven't made firm commitments either way on Sassafras Trails, saying they plan to study the issues before a new vote is taken.

"It's a real nice festival," Monica Bone said. "They have a lot of ticket stands, so we didn't have to wait in a long line. The parade was real nice, too."

Thousands of people attended last week's festivities, which were to culminate Saturday with the city's annual fireworks display.

Jennifer Bird of Ann Arbor brought her Garden City niece, 3-year-old Aundrea Roye, to the festival.

"I want to go on the merry-go-round," Aundrea said. Bird said she enjoyed playing games such as a basketball shoot.

"I liked it," she said of the festival. "There were a lot of things for kids to do."

Parade chairman Mike Spisak said this year's parade from Wildwood and Ford to the City Hall area lasted nearly two hours, twice as long as last year's.

"People were just delighted," he said. "I didn't hear one complaint."

Members of the U.S. Coast Guard flew overhead in helicopters, and some 90 units joined the parade, including the popular, national award-winning Coachmen Drum and Bugle Corps from Grand

Wording of tax proposal raises questions

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Former Westland City Councilman Thomas Brown is questioning the legality of an Aug. 6 public safety tax proposal aimed at strengthening the police and fire departments.

Brown is suggesting that even if voters approve the 1.5-mill, six-year tax plan, a possible lawsuit could block new revenues that city officials say would amount to $11.5 million.

"It would seem to me that it would be subject to challenge at this time," he said.

But City Attorney Angelo Plakas said he believes the ballot proposal - already revised once - is now properly worded.

The proposal was earlier amended because it failed to specify the number of years the tax would remain in effect.

New revenues would be used to implement a community policing program, provide paramedic training for all firefighters and renovate all four Westland fire

The owner of an $80,000 home would pay about $60 more a year in taxes, city officials have said.

The ballot proposal will ask voters' to approve a charter amendment raising the general operating millage ceiling from 8 mills to 9.5 mills.

CITY OF GARDEN CITY NOTICE OF ADOPTION

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that at its regular meeting of Monday, July 1, 1996, the City Council of the City of Garden City did adopt the following Ordinance ORDINANCE 96-006

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 161.222 CHAPTER 161, TITLE XV OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY HEREBY ORDAINS:

That Section 161.222(A) (1), 161.222(C) (9) (a) (b) (c), (10) (a) (b) of Chapter 161, Title XV of the Code of the City of Garden City be amended to read as follows.

Section 161.222 - SITE PLAN REVIEW PROCEDURES AND STANDARDS

Site Plan Required

Except as provided in the sub-Section 161 222 A (2), the development of any new use, the construction of any new structures, any change of an existing use of land or structure that impacts any requirement of these regulations, and all other building or development activities shall require site plan approval prior to construction and/or occupancy pursuant to this Article. For example, site plan review is required for any of the following activities, a Erection, moving, relocation, or conversion of a building or structure to create additional floor space other than a single family dwelling.

b Any development that would, if approved, provide for the establishment of more than one principal use on a parcel, such as, a single family site condominium or similar project where a single parcel is developed to include two (2) or more sites for detached single family dwellings. c. Development of non-single family residential uses in single family districts.

d. Any change in land use or change in the use of a structure that potentially affects compliance with the standards set forth within these regulations e. The development or construction of any accessory uses or structures, except for uses or structures that are accessory to a single family dwelling.

f. Any use or construction for which submission of a site plan is required by any provision of these Establishment of any regulated use.

SECTION 161.222 - SITE PLAN REVIEW PROCEDURES AND STANDARDS C. REVIEW AND ACTION

9. Modification to Approved Plan

A previously approved site plan may be subsequently modified, subject to the following a. Review of Minor Modifications

Minor modifications to an approved site plan may be reviewed and approved by the Zoning Administrator consistent with the minimum information requirements of 161 222 (C) (10), provided that the modifications'do not involve any one of the following items:

- a Special Land Use

- a Planned Development plan, or the continuation of a nonconforming use or structure.

Minor modifications that require a variance, Special Land Use, Planned Development, or continuation of a nonconforming use or structure shall be subject to review and approval by the 1 Minor Modification Defined

Minor modifications are changes that do not substantially affect the character or intensity of the use, vehicular or pedestrian circulation, drainage patterns, the demand for public services, or the vulnerability to hazards. Examples of minor modifications include:

- An addition to an existing building that does not increase or decrease the floor space by more the twenty-five percent (25%) or three thousand (3,000) square feet, whichever is less.

Re-occupancy of a building by a similar use permitted by these regulations.
 Changes to building height that do not add an additional floor.
 Additions or alterations to the landscape plan or landscape materials.

- Relocation or re-sizing utility supply lines or service connections.

- Relocation or screening of the trash receptacle.

- Alterations to the internal parking layout of an off-street lot in which the total available spaces is unchanged.

Construction of a new building or structure, adding or deleting parking spaces, constructing additional stories or the introduction of additional curb cuts onto a public road are example of modifications that are not considered minor.

 Determination of Minor Modification
 The Zoning Administrator shall determine if the proposed modifications are minor in accordance with the guidelines in this section. In order to make a determination, the Zoning Administration may solicit comments and recommendations from the City Attorney, City Planner, City Engineer, and Public Safety officials, as deemed necessary.

b Modifications Not Deemed Minor If the modifications are not deemed minor by the Zoning Administrator, then review and approval of the changes by the Planning Commission shall be required. Planning Commission review shall be required for all site plans that involve:

- a request for a variance - a Special Land Use

- a discretionary decision such as a Planned Development plan, or,

- the continuation of a nonconforming use or structure

City Council review and approval shall be required for modifications to a site plan that originally required City Council approval.

Resolution: 7-98-348 Adopted: July 1, 1996 RONALD D. SHOWALTER, City Clerk-Treasurer

During a July 1 council meeting, Brown objected to ballot language referring to a "special" election on Aug. 6.

The public safety proposal coincides with the Aug. 6 election primary, and Brown said the council shouldn't have approved language referring to a "special" city election.

After the meeting, Plakas said, "At this point I don't think it's a problem."

The following day, Plakas elaborated and said he believes the term "special" applies because the city has no other local elections.

The only other decisions facing voters have broader ramifications, such as the contest for the 18th District state House seat currently occupied by Eileen DeHart, D-Westland.

DeHart is unopposed, but Republicans Dennis LeMaitre and Michael Novak are vying for the GOP nomination.

"Really we are having a special election," Plakas said, referring to the public safety proposal.

The plan is aimed at starting seven community policing districts, in which each of seven new officers would be assigned to patrol a specific area of the city.

In the fire department, officials have said the millage would provide a full-fledged Advanced Life Support system, meaning that paramedics would respond to medical emergencies from all four fire stations.

Area lawmakers say yes to trial court reform

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

"Go slow," Democrats warned as legislative Republicans pushed for trial court reform. Republicans took the advice, taking two steps July 3 and paving the way for more massive steps in the fall.

The Legislature:

· Voted to abolish Detroit Recorder's Court effective Oct. 1, 1997, "grandfathering" its 29 judges as Wayne Circuit Court judges and requiring them to run countywide when seeking reelection.

For the first time in history, Michigan will have a uniform, statewide trial court system. Detroit no longer will be the only one of 271 Michigan cities with a separate criminal court. The law also blocks the Supreme Court from again shifting all suburban criminal cases to Detroit judges and juries.

 Established a uniform funding formula based on caseload. For a few outstate counties, it may be a windfall. Wayne County and Detroit are "held harmless," meaning they can't lose state aid through the end of fiscal 2001. Court employees' benefits also are protected.

Lawmakers must wait until a fall session beginning Sept. 10 to decide whether to:

 Establish a "family court" division of circuit court. It would involve transferring most of the powers of probate court and a few to district court.

• Place HJR S, a massive amendment to the judicial article of the Michigan Constitution. on the ballot. As drafted, it would establish a single "trial court," abolishing probate and district courts. Court borders would be county lines, but counties could have "election districts," meaning Detroit and the suburbs could be able to elect their "own" judges.

If adopted by voters, it will be the most massive change in state court history, surpassing the abolition of non-lawyer justices of the peace in the 1960s.

Engler prods

Gov. John Engler remained silent on the issue during the House-Smate conference committee's week of negotiations and the Legislature's two-day

Although legal reformers long sought the package of change, Engler precipitated it by (1) threatening to veto new judgeships in Oakland County, Farmington, the Northville-Plymouth-Canton area and Ypsilanti Township in 1994 and (2) actually vetoing more court funding this year until court reform took

"Reform," to supporters, means more ability to shift judges across jurisdictional and geographical boundaries. "A judge is a judge is a judge," in the words of House Judiciary Chair Michael Nye, R-Litchfield.

Key player: James Ryan, R-Redford, was a key member of the conference committee, guarding funding for the Wayne County courts and employees' status.

How they voted

Senate Republican stumbled when three of their 22 members missed the session - including Robert Geake of Northville. The bill failed on a 19-16 party-line vote with 20 needed for passage.

It was the second time Geake a 19-year senator with a nearlyperfect attendance record, missed a court reform vote. An aide said Geake had a church camp commitment July 2 but Canton. changed it to July 3 when the one-day session was called. Majority leader Dick Posthumus, R-Alto, extended the session a day. Geake's aide said the senator couldn't break the July 3 commitment.

A month earlier, when the Senate Judiciary Committee took a key vote to report the reform bill out of committee, Geake attended a safety conference and had to be replaced on the committee so the GOP could have a majority to report out the

On second try, the Senate passed the key bill won with a 23-12 vote as four Democrats crossed over: Chris Dingell of Trenton, Art Miller of Warren, Ken DeBeaussaert of Macomb County and Don Koivisto of Ironwood.

All other senators voted with their parties except the three absentees.

The House vote was 70 to 33 with six not voting. Voting yes were 51 Republicans and 19 Democrats. Voting no were 33 Democrats.

Observer Reps

Here is how local members OBSERVER:

Yes - Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, Jim Ryan, R-Redford, Deborah Whyman, R-

Ryan was a key member of the conference committee, guarding funding for the Wayne County courts and employees' status. Whyman was a lightening rod for black lawmakers' wrath for her championing of abolishing Recorder's Court.

Debate brief

Debate was relatively brief and was confined to party spokesmen because no amendments are allowed on a conference committee report.

Senate Judiciary Chair William VanRegenmorter, R-Hudsonville, said, "I fully expect the family court bills will be passed when we take them up in September.

"Recorder's Court is abolished. Its uniqueness isn't the issue. It's not as efficient as it could be. Wayne County (suburban) voters can't vote for Recorder's Court judges. The judges will hear cases countywide and run countywide.

"A constitutional amendment will be considered, but it's not part of any agreement."

VanRegenmorter credited Wayne County senators Chris Dingell, D-Trenton, Robert Geake, R-Northville, and Loren Bennett, R-Canton, with being "effective spokesmen for their constituents" on Wayne County court funding.

"There's not a lot of reform in this bill," said Dingell. "My role has been damage control. . . making it less odious."

Dingell said the bill sets up a 23-member commission to assess court cases on their difficulty with a goal of reallocating court resources.

In the House, Rep. Ted Wallace, D-Detroit, sounded like a suburbanite when he said twice the Supreme Court had been "wrong - no defense" in putting Detroit Recorder's Court in charge of all Wayne County criminal cases for nearly 10 years, adding, "But the Supreme Court has corrected that."

Rep. Michael Nye, R-Litchfield, House Judiciary chair who headed the conference committee, said, "Unification is a process that has been going on for a long time.

"When I started as a lawyer, we had justices of the peace. When they were abolished, some said, 'Migosh, we're losing control; this is a terrible thing'...

"We've had battles in the counties about who's in control (of court budgets). The judges are going to fight this, no matter what. We say to the judges, You can hire and fire,' but the counties will handle the money."

The "family court" bills are Senate Bills 1052, 1054 and 1055. The constitutional amendment to establish a single "trial court" is House Joint Resolution S. Refer to bill numbers when writing to your legislators, State Capitol, Lansing 48909.

Job fair planned July 12 for military vets

Detroit area military veterans who are looking for jobs will have a chance to meet with area employers who have openings to fill at a job fair July 12.

The fair, which is open to military veterans only, will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the U.S. Army Reserve Center, 300th Daly in Inkster.

'Hunchback' memorable

BY DAVID GOODMAN ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

From the wicked stepmother in "Snow White," to the heartrending deaths of loving parents in "Bambi" and "The Lion King," the folks at Disney have shown themselves well-prepared to risk. scaring younger members of the audience.

Each time, a few wonder if they've gone too far. Then people go see the film, and the finished animations are so full of lush imagery and memorable characters that they cast a spell upon

That's how it goes with "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," a charming, colorful version of Victor Hugo's gothic novel set in 15th century Paris.

Indeed, this ambitious fantasy makes a strong claim to be the best of Disney's animated features. It's a sophisticated tale with dazzling visual effects, a great score from eight-time Academy Award-winner Alan Menken, and a selfless hero.

This Quasimodo (voiced by Plymouth native Tom Hulce) is a sweet-spirited young man who spends his days talking to pigeons and friendly gargoyles and making figurines of the people he sees in the square below Notre Dame, the cathedral where he's consigned to live by the evil Judge Frollo (Anthony

He's a far cry from the fearome figure of earlier movies. Yes, this Quasimodo has abnorjal features _ bulging eye sockis, a bit of a staggering gait and of course, the hump _ but he's basically a regular guy who wants to see what it's like outside the stone walls.

When we take up with "Quasi" that's what they call him he has gotten egged on by his friends, three gargoyles. He bungee-jumps out of his impos-ing prison and joins the "Feast of Fools" celebration on the cobbled streets below.

At first, he's cheered by the raucous Parisians who crown him "King of Fools." But the crowd suddenly turns nasty. They tie Quasi down and begin to pelt him with fruit.

He is saved from these humiliations by Esmeralda (Demi Moore), a gypsy dancer whose people are hated by the dastardly Frollo.Quasimodo is smitten. HFrollo begins a campaign to papture the defiant girl, assisted by one of the king's guards, a handsome captain named Phoebus (Kevin Kline). But Phoebus quickly falls for Esmeralda, too. After threatening to reduce Paris to ashes in his quest, Froi-To finally nabs Esmeralda and sentences her to burn as a witch. So Quasimodo and Phoebus must join forces to pluck her from the fire.

To balance the slightly somber plot, directors Gary Trousdale and Kirk Wise ("Beauty and the Beast") weave in brilliant computer-generated images of medieval crowds and exquisitely detailed renderings of the famous cathedral.

Much of this comic relief omes from Quasi's gargoyle pals: Hugo (Jason Alexander) is wise-cracking old-vaudevillian, Victor (Charles Kimbrough) has he voice and reserve of a prim butler, and Laverne (Mary Wickes) is crotchety and feisty.

The movie has a major asset in Hulce, whose vibrant but innocent voice brings Quasi's person ality to life.

Comedy adverture: NBA superstar Shaquille O'Neal stars as a genie with an attitude in Touchstone Pictures' new live-action conwdy adventure "Kazaam." opening July 17 at metro Detroit movie theaters.

Commission denies golf cart contract

A contract to buy 140 new golf carts for the county-owned Warren Valley Golf Course didn't get enough votes for approval by the Wayne County Commission last week.

The $382,175 contract with Club Car Inc. of Livonia would have bought 140 new golf carts and included a five-year maintenance agreement for the carts for the Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights.

The plan would have replaced the 110 carts at the course, according to golf manager Ray Glenn. All of those carts are six years old and require spending $6,000 out of the golf course budget for maintenance, Glenn said.

"It's not cost efficient to continue using the carts we have." Glenn said.

Also, more carts are needed because on the nights leagues play the carts run out by 5:30 or 6 p.m., he said.

Cart rentals are also a "major revenue producer" as each cart generates $2,300 a year, he said.

COUNTY NEWS

The contract needed eight votes for approval, but failed on a 7-4 vote, when two commissioners were out of the room and two were absent.

Local commissioners Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, and Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township, voted no, while Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, voted fyes. Commissioner Michelle Plawecki, who represents Redford Township and part of Livonia, was absent.

Gypsy moths

Commissioners last_week approved a resolution in support of continued federal funding of the gypsy moth spraying pro-

"The problem is creating a panic situation among some home and woodland owners in Wayne County," according to the resolution sponsored by Commissioner Bruce Patterson, Michigan Department of Trans-R-Canton Township. Many other commissioners added their names as sponsors during the meeting.

Gypsy moths infest wooded areas and strip trees of their foliage. Treatment includes spraying a pesticide during the spring. Michigan State University through the Cooperative Extension program conducts a spraying program.

Gypsy moth spraying was conducted in May in Livonia and several other areas of the county, but residents in other parts of the county, such as Van Buren and Sumpter townships, have also reported a problem.

You can't be sued if you proyide true information during insurance fraud investigations under a new state law.

Public Act 229 of 1996 protects companies and employees who uncover insurance fraud from "the chilling effect lawsuits have had on anti-fraud efforts," said Dale Robertson, of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan. "Even when acting in good faith, we get sued," he said. Since 1980 the agency has recovered $44 million imately $81 million.

The act was sponsored by Rep. Committee.

Condo tax break

All condominium owners would pay property taxes at homeowner rates rather than commercial rates under a Housepassed bill waiting action this fall in the Senate.

Rep. Dan Gustafson, R-

Williamston, is sponsor and Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, cosponsor, of House Bill 5706, aimed at correcting what they call a glitch in the Proposal A reforms approved by voters in 1994. The package calls for taxing homes at 6 mills and business property at 24 mills.

Most condo owners pay the 6mill rate, but tenants who did not own stock were denied the tax break, Law said. "One word seems to be causing all the problems. This legislation changes and prevented the loss of approx- the wording from 'stockholder' to 'owner' and ensures that everyone gets the exemptions they're Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, vice- entitled to," said Law. HB 5706 chair of the House Insurance is in the Senate Finance Committee.

William B. Murphy, chief judge pro tem, were nominated by state attorney general Frank Kelley for reducing the appellate court's backlog from 5,000-plus cases and a three-year wait to less than 1,400 cases and a oneyear wait.

Voters in 1994 approved a constitutional amendment eliminating an automatic right of appeal for convicts who plead guilty. The court was expanded from 18 to 24 judges. Circuit judges were assigned to sit on all three-member appellate panels, expanding the number of working appellate judges to 36.

Kelley said he nominated Doctoroff and Murphy in a category called "Speeding the Process." The Foundation for Improvement of Justice is a private, nonprofit institution founded in 1985 to improve federal and state justice systems in the United States.

Designer's jewels are fancy and fun

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

I've always wondered, "How much jewelry is too much?'

I got the chance to put it to an expert recently, when internationally recognized jewelry designer Patricia Daunis met with shoppers at Orin Jewelers, Garden City and Northville.

Daunis said she studied people in order to create jewelry enhancing the wearer. She arrived wearing gold earrings, necklace, bracelet, lapel pin, a ring on each hand, and a 14K gold spider ($219) pinned on the cuff of one sleeve.

"If you're having fun, who cares how much jewelry you're wearing?" she laughed. "What drives me crazy is when women say, "All my jewelry is locked up in a vault."

Daunis, 44, is a three-time winner of the World Gold Council Awards, DeBeer's Diamonds Today Design Award and the Jewelers of America Jewel Award. She's been designing jewelry for 15 years.

According to Daunis, a Rhode Island School of Design graduate, a woman should choose jewelry based on her face shape, body type, hair style and personality. When consulting with a customer, Daunis asks what type of image her customer is trying to convey. Is she tall or short? What types of earrings has she worn in the past? What style of clothing does she wear? What colors, fabrics, does she prefer?

Before sitting down to design jewelry in her Maine studio, Daunis "tears pages from fashion magazines such as W and Vogue because clothes and jewelry must work together." On this occasion, Daunis wore a shawl-collared brown suit with a plain cocoa blouse without detail to provide a clean, unconflicting canvas for her acces-

"Jewelry should be part of your whole story. Good earrings call attention to your eyes and

A basic rule of thumb is a rounder face goes with a longer style earring, a longer face with a rounder earring. Short-haired women shouldn't wear drop style earrings while women with longer hair should," she advised.

"Concentrate on elements that make you special or beautiful and then accent them. Don't get sucked into trends," she continued. "Wear less jewelry if you dress in prints. Consider the weight of the jewelry. Avoid wearing large, bold jewelry unless you are tall or have strong features and utilize only one or two pieces at a

"That's the magic making. My designs are soft because metal is hard," she pointed out. "Good jewelry is site specific sculpture. Your ear is very three dimensional. The earring should relate to that part of the body without overwhelming it."

Daunis's new collection, carried by independent retailers from New York to California and Japan, features a woven pattern that goes back to her roofs. Originally, she planned to study architecture then switched to textile design. Rather than take a weaving class requiring tremendous amounts of patience, Daunis again changed directions this time to metalsmithing and sculpture. After receiving a bachelor of fine arts degree from one of the top art schools in the country, Daunis started her own wholesale/retail jewelry and holloware business in the basement of her home.

Fash Bash is the beacon of fall

Metro Detroit's first look at fall fashion is the annual benefit for the DIA, Hudson's Fash Bash at the Fox Theatre. Here's a preview of what's in store for the July 31

Also set to entertain are Francine Roche (performing emotional interpretations of French songs backed by violin, mandolin and accordion); Cynthia Johnson (performing her 1980 hit single "Funky Town"); Bob' Scoggin(one-man band); and The Hornheads (a five-piece a cappella jazz/funk horn group.)

The Minneapolis-based Ballet of the Dolls returns to present the fashions in seven scenes, complete with stage decoration, and this year, an interesting plot which could be titled "The Misadventures of Helen."

Fall fashion trends for the family are the focus of the production from black-tie apparel to sporting outdoor outfits. For the first time, items for the home will be incorporated into the show.

"The season's fashions get revved up by Simply Modern styles with an infusion of high-tech fabrics both stretch and synthetics are important. These versatile fabrics are found in everything from tailored suits to body-conscious styles," said Mariana Keros, Hudson's director of trends.

"Modern translates into minimalson's 27th Fash Bash to benefit the ist. Watch for leather pieces, zipper detailing, slim leg pants, boots, animal prints, peacoats, and for men,

Fun and new - that's Timbuktu

Safari looks: Exotic designs at Timbuktu are complimented by unique accessories for one-of-a-kind fashion presentation.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO STAFF WRITER

Timbuktu Station. The name conjures up thoughts of faraway-places. Images of adventures. Women in exoticlooking clothing.

And that's exactly what's in store at the newest fashion boutique in downtown Birmingham.

"We have a lot of teachers and health professionals who like to shop at Timbuktu Station," said Mary Lynne Zagers, manager of both Michigan locations, 238 East Front Street in Traverse City and as of July, 235 Pierce in Birmingham. "Maybe it's because they appreciate our motto, "Travel through life in comfortable

Zagers and company vice-president Sarah Seifert were in town recently to promote the Colorado-based retailer. Seifert's husband is CEO of the company which has two Colorado stores and two in Minnesota. The fashions are the exclusive creations of designer Cheryl Fleming whose collections according to Seifert, "dial into what matters."

"Cheryl doesn't watch high fashion, she watches what real people wear," Seifert explained. "And she's won a lot of converts to her clothing."

The collections are based on the travels of three fictitious characters; Tim; Buck and Tu, a dog who promotes earth-friendly, global issues through newsletters and store posters. When the trio travels to places like Belize,

New Zealand and the Greek Islands, the prints and colors of that collection reflect the spirit of those locales. (Ah, a built-in geography lesson, now we know why this store appeals to teachers!)

"We fill the casual business niche," said Zagers. "Our clothing is relaxed fit in three sizes - 1,2 or 3 (small, medium and large.) We show lots of layering.

"Right now the fabrics are linen and linen/rayon blends. We also carry accessories like belts and hats, and gift items like journals, candles and books."

Seifert said the inspiration for the three-year-old company came from "the old Banana Republic mystique."

"We're located almost exclusively in downtowns," she said. "We believe in the small town feeling because what we merchandise besides great clothing, is a fun, shopping experience. We had to be in downtown Birmingham, it's just so darn, cute! We've been waiting to open here for a long time."

Seifert said business has grown about 20 percent a month since the company was launched in 1993 with Buck's Big Shirt, a unisex item that "blew out of the

If business continues to grow, watch for two or three more stores in Michigan and Colorado.

Geri Buckstrand of Birmingham said she couldn't said. "I'm anxious to see their styles and prices."

RAMCO/GERSHENSON ON STOCK EXCHANGE

In a series of unique transactions, share-holders of publiclyheld mortgage Real Estate Investment Trust, (REIT) and RPS Realty Trust, approved the acquisition of Ramco-Gershenson, Inc. a privately-held shopping center development and management company, based in Southfield.

Ramco-Gershenson, with a portfolio of shopping center properties (including locally, Tel-Twelve Mall, Summit Place Mall, West Oaks I & II, Roseville Plaza, New Towne Plaza in Canton, Ferndale Plaza, Fraser Shopping Center, Clinton Valley Mall and Strip Center, and Lake Orion Plaza) transformed itself into an equity REIT with an established management team and combined assets valued at $280million. The transaction enabled both companies to accomplish different but complementary strategies.

Dennis Gershenson, 52, is the newly-named president and CEO of Ramco-Gershenson Properties Trust. He said, "Twenty-two of the Ramco properties have become part of a public company with access to public capital markets. The REIT will now be able to improve its opportunity for growth by expanding its development and acquisition capabili-

New dean of centers likes the team spirit Schoolcraft offers

During his 17 years working various jobs at General Motors, he went to school whenever he could fit it into his schedule to complete his degrees.

He knew he wanted to work in education, and it took years of work to reach his goals.

But as the newly appointed dean of College Centers at Schoolcraft College and with the expected completion of his doctorate in 1997, Jenkins is on his way to completing his plan.

He made the move into education when he went to work at Mott Community College where he most recently held the position of dean of continuing educa-

He is also looking at expanding course offerings in Plymouth, where Schoolcraft offers classes at Plymouth Salem High School.

The college also offers classes at the Summit on the Park in Canton Township, and Jenkins is looking at expanding offerings there to include more general education classes.

Radcliff's weekend college is growing and an expansion of that program looms in the

Any additions, however, will be gradual as he thinks Schoolcraft has a good handle on the people it serves.

In addition to course offering, Jenkins is also seeing through a renovation program at Radcliff. Work is being done now to improve the overall appearance of Radcliff - repairs are being made on the roof, and other building renovations are being completed.

It is estimated that three out of four adults have bacterial infection associated with gum disease due to a buildup of plaque. If the milky buildup of bacteria-laden plaque is not removed from the teeth each day with brushing, it produces toxins that cause bloody gums and bad breath. In time, the bacteria inplaque will pull the gums away from the teeth to form pockets that will fill with more plaque to cause trouble nearer the bone. ## Stockpile staples for no sweat meals

With the volume of cookbooks, press releases, newsletters and other food news that continually crosses my desk, one can get pretty bogged down just trying to locate the ingredients for "Lobster Cakes with a Three Pepper Relish and Papaya Mayonnaise."

I don't cook like that, never have; and while there are times when I might have to prepare something fancy, I do it with reluctance. During the summer, the last thing I want to do is shop for exotic ingredients, pull out my good cookware, and slave over a hot stove, timing everything to the "nth" degree. I want something light, something fresh, something fast. When the temperature is hovering around 90 degrees F. I only want to break a sweat making lemonade or something that can be chilled and eaten two days later. The recipe should include ingredients that I already have on hand either in the refrigerator or pantry. If this sounds like I'm asking for too much, it should also be somewhat healthy. Sounds like too tall a request? Hardly.

When unexpected guests drop by, or I feel like dining on the patio with one bowl and a hunk of bread, I always think of how easy it is to make hummus, tapenade or a simple plate of tomatoes, mozzarella slices, chopped basil, and a drizzle of olive oil.

Sensational staples

A drained can of chick peas from the pantry, a dollop of tahini (sesame seed paste) from the refrigerator and a splash of lemon juice all thrown into the food processor makes a meal that can be dipped with vegetables, spread on flour tortillas, served with crackers or tortilla chips. If there are some roasted red peppers or the remnants of another bean dish in the refrigerator, I might become more creative and combine the flavors and textures. I've made hummus with navy beans, black beans, pinto beans and a combination of those beans, all with great tasting results. Everyone has a can of beans on their shelves, right?

Whenever I shop at those trendy markets like the Merchant of Vino, Vic's, Papa Joe's or the Long Lake Market, I always pick up a jar of pitted black Calamatta olives. Again, tossed into a food processor with a handful of capers (buy the bigger jars; it's cheaper and they last forever) and a healthy splash of olive oil and you can feel like a guest in your own kitchen. With the emergence of Italian delis flourishing on all sides of metro Detroit I can hardly wait for the tomatoes to ripen in my garden. Soothsayers say that although everything is three weeks behind, the warm, wet spring should bring forth a bumper crop for backyard gardeners. I've already picked fresh basil and ground it up with pine nuts, imported Parmesan cheese, garlic and olive oil for a pesto that gave a plain box of pasta new meaning.

I always keep a standing supply of burpable containers and tight fitting jars filled with bulgur wheat, couscous, barley and other grains. Cold salads are tossed together in the time it takes the grains to soak, about 15 minutes, they are not only nutritious, but taste good too.

Last week I soaked some bulgur wheat and stirred in a jar of salsa, a handful of parsley from my garden, and some leftover mushrooms. I splashed them with a low-fat bottled Italian salad dressing, and by the time it took to heat a frozen pita in the oven to hot tenderness, the chilled salad was ready.

Baked potatoes

Whenever I bake potatoes, I always bake an extra half dozen or so and they end up in the vegetable crisper just waiting to be used. On days when I decide to grill, I brush an old metal pie tin with oil and fill it with shredded potatoes and a bit of finely chopped onion. This melange sits on the grill surface, next to the steak, fish or poultry and turns into a crispy side dish. Looking for something a bit more exotic? I always keep a jar of dried mushrooms handy and after soaking them in some hot water for 15 minutes they usually end up chopped into a burger, steak, or tossed with potatoes.

What's that you say? How about something for kids? who says frozen chicken tenders can't be grilled? Who says a raw potato can't be sliced with the skin on and grilled, all while being brushed with a low cal vinaigrette and then topped with a sprinkle of Parmesan or cheddar cheese? Ever roast broccoli, cauliflower or asparagus? Spray it with some broth or bouillon during cooking. Your kids will love it, and so will

Polanski wins title

Livonian Steve Polanski, who will be a sophomore this fall, carded a 75 to capture the Boys 14-15 age division at the Bel-Air Junior Golf Championship July 1 at the Pohl Cat in Mount Pleasant.

The event was part of the Power-Bilt Michigan Junior Tour.

In the Boys 16 and up age group, Dave Higham (Livonia Churchill) finished tied for fourth with a 75. Chris Kiehler (Churchill) finished tied for eighth with a 77.

Ace golfers

•Dru Girard, 11, of Livonia, carded a hole-inone on the 125-yard, No. 4 hole last week at Idyl Wyld. He used a 5-iron and shot 51 for nine holes in the Livonia Civitan Youth Golf League.

•In the same Civitan league, Lisa Lapenta, 16, of Livonia, aced the same No. 4 hole from 106 yards, using a 6-iron. Lapenta shot 49 for nine holes.

Titan golf outing

The Detroit Titans annual golf outing will be Monday, Aug. 26 at Fox Hills Golf Club in Plymouth. The event, which benefits the University of Detroit Mercy athletic department, starts with a continental breakfast at 7:30 a.m., followed by a shotgun start at 8:30 a.m. and a buffet lunch.

There will be prizes for first place, closest to the pin and longest drive, as well as door prizes and gifts for all participants.

Cost is $75 per person. For more information, call the UDM athletic department at (313) 993-

Collegiate bat notes

·Livonia Churchill graduate Mark Rutherford, who will be a senior pitcher/designated hitter this fall at Eastern Michigan University, has allowed just one earned run in 26's innings for the defending champion Sandusky (Ohio) Bay Stars in the Great Lakes Wooden Bat League.

Rutherford has struck out 26 and walked just four with a record of 1-1. He is batting .306 as a

 Eric Butler, a junior pitcher on Madonna University's baseball team, finished 14th in the final NAIA standings in earned run average. Butler's ERA was 1.78.

As a team, the Fighting Crusaders ranked ninth in the NAIA with a 3.29 ERA.

Dynamite roster

The Detroit Dynamite of the U.S. Inter-Regional Soccer League's Premier League (Northern Division) lists several players on its roster with Observerland ties including Dominic Vella (Livonia Churchill/University of Detroit Mercy), Jeff Thomas (Livonia Stevenson/UD Mercy) and Matt Quinter (Stevenson/UD Mercy).

The Dynamite play their home games at Rochester Adams High School.

Women's hoop tryouts

Madonna's women's basketball team has two remaining open tryout sessions scheduled for this month 8-10 p.m. Sunday, July 14 and 7-9 p.m. Sunday, July 21 at the Madonna Activities

Youth soccer champs

Finishing with an 8-0-2 record while outscoring their opponents 36-10, the Livonia Youth Soccer Club Rockets, an under-12 boys team, capped their spring season by winning the Great Lakes Soccer League's Michigan Division title.

The Rockets, coached by Kevin Maillard and Michael Mireles, also finished second in the Canton Indoor League and Warren Spring Soccer Tournament.

Crusader AAU 11th

The Crusader Junior Volleyball Club's 18-andunder squad took 11th out of 53 teams in the National AAU Tournament, June 21-25, in Des Moines, Iowa.

Crusader AAU, coached by Tim Beardon (Wayne State) and Jerry Abraham (Madonna University), reached the quarterfinal elimination round before losing to No. 1 seed and eventual champion Spikettes (from Chicago, Ill.), 16-14, in third game rally scoring.

Decision pulls back into race

Decision Consultants stayed in the hunt in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League race with a 4-2 victory over leader Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury as E.J. Roman delivered the game-winning double.

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Travel agents will have to wait awhile before booking the right Livonia Collegiate Baseball League party to Johnstown, Pa. for the All-American Amateur-Baseball Association tournament.

Decision Consultants, Inc., facing a must-win situation, kept their hopes alive by downing first-place Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury, 4-2, in a LCBL showdown Wednesday at Ford Field.

Hines Park remains in first place with a 17-2-1 record, while DCI crept closer to the league lead and a possible berth in next month's 20and-under national tourney at 15-4-

The two teams meet four more times, including a double-header beginning at noon Sunday at Ford Field followed by another twinbill beginning at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, July 21, also at Ford.

"We have four more games with them (Hines Park) and if we win the rest we can control our own destiny," DCI manager Mike George said. "This was really do-or-die for us and it was a great win because we had three starters (Greg Ryan, Ryan Kelley and Darrell Rocho) all out of the lineup."

Hines Park coach Gary Pierce, meanwhile, is trying to avoid a repeat of 1996 when Hines Park went on an early-season tear, only to hold off DCI by one game in the final regular season standings.

DCI then carried its late-season momentum into the playoffs, winning the trip to Johnstown.

"It was a big game for both of us, but the good thing is we're still two (games) up," Pierce said. "All we have to do is split with them (DCI), and of course worry about Caesars (the LCBL's third team)."

After two scoreless innings, Hines Park put two runs on the scoreboard in the top of the third inning.

Brothers Joe and Brian Kalczynski each walked and scored on Scott Barrett's two-run double.

Poised to put another run on the board, Hines Park's Steve Hornsberger was called out by the home plate umpire for tagging up too early from third.

The call incensed Pierce, who was eventually ejected for arguing the

"There's not really anything I can say about that," the Hines Park manager said. "We just didn't get the timely hit when we needed it."

DCI evened the count at 3-3 in the bottom of the inning when Joel Fabris and Eric Marcotte raced home on Chris DeShetler's two-run double.

DCI then chased Hines Park starter Mark Fleming in the sixth when Jason Rice doubled, Pete Quinn singled. Both runners scored on E.J. Roman's double.

"I thought Fleming pitched well, but he got the ball up and their eighth and ninth hitters got on a little too much," Pierce said.

Hines Park threatened in the bottom of the sixth, loading the bases, but reliever Luke Bonner, coming on for starter Joel Hillebrand with twoouts and a 1-0 count, retired Brian Kalczynski, who was a bit overanxious swinging at the first pitch, on an infield grounder for the final out.

Hillebrand worked the first 51/2 innings before tiring. He allowed three hits, six walks and fanned four. Bonner pitched to three batters, retiring two before giving way in the seventh to Mitch Jabczynski and Fabris, the latter gaining the save by getting the final out.

"That was a big out when Luke got Kalczynski," George said. "He (Kalczyński) is a great player and anytime you get him out it's a big bonus."

George wasn't hesitant about using his bullpen.

Bonner, who has been playing for Class A Birmingham Lynch and is now headed for the Ontario League, can make the potential trip to Johnstown with DCI because he made his four minimum required LCBL appearance.

"The nice thing now about having only three teams in the league is that you have more pitchers available," George said. "This worked out well for us."

O'Shea resigns from Churchill

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Citing increased responsibilties as women's soccer coach at Oakland University, Nick O'Shea submitted a letter of resignation as Livonia Churchill girls varsity coach Wednesday to new athletic director Marc Hage.

O'Shea, 36, leaves Churchill with an impressive 106-41-17 record in 10 seasons. He led the Chargers to a pair of runner-up finishes in the state Class A finals, 1987 and '88, his first two seasons. He won a total of two regionals, six districts and one Western Lakes Activities Association crown.

"It's really too difficult to both jobs in the spring," said O'Shea, who launched the OU's women's varsity program last fall. "It was cutting my spring season short. I was starting the day at Oakland, coming back over to Churchill in the afternoon, and then going back for evening practices at Oakland.

O'Shea also oversees the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association's Girls, Olympic Development selection process and is an ODP regional coach (ages 15-16), which encompasses 13 states. He also is heavily involved in running summer camps.

"My only regret about leaving Churchill is that I would have liked to have won a title," O'Shea said. "We were in the finals twice and I thought this year we had a chance. Two of our three losses this year were to the teams in the state finals."

Churchill finished 12-3 this season, winning both the Western Division and the WLAA's first-place crossover game against Lakes Division champion Plymouth Salem, but the season ended on a sour note in the Plymouth Canton district semifinals when the Lady Chargers were

"I'm going to miss him and he's done wonders for our program. He's been a source of inspiration for many players and his knowledge and level of play will be hard to duplicate. He's a good person and good coach."

At present, size could be a problem, but the backcourt shouldn't be if the newcomers Donahue has coming in are as good as hoped.

"At guard, we have five solid players," Donahue said. "We've improved at depth and at quality of players."

Helping attain that goal are guards Pete Males, a 1995 Garden City graduate, and Tykie Reeves, from Willow Run. They join forward the district final that season, but not high on. "He's an awfully good player," said Donahue of the 5-foot-9 Males. His work as a senior at Garden City would bear that out: Males averaged 16 points, eight assists, four steals and four rebounds a game, converting 50.2 percent of his floor shots, 46 percent of his three-pointers and 78.1 percent of his free throws.

The Cougars lost to eventual state quarterfinalist Wayne Memorial in son, a player Donahue is extremely Donahue hopes can supplement the offense. With Hoener and returnee Dwaun Warmack, both at point guard, and Stan Cavin, another returnee, at off-guard, SC should be set in the backcourt.

The frontcourt is another question, however, Rudy Hatfield, a 6-3 forward from Livonia Churchill; Bruce Goode, a 6-1 forward from Detroit Henry Ford; and Naron Burks, a 6-6 center/forward from River Rouge, return.

They'll be joined by the 6-6 Mel-

Still, something is missing from the Ocelot mix. "Our offense is geared to a guy who can score inside," said Donahue. At present, that list is limited to Burks.

"I'd like to sign a good-scoring post player," the SC coach said. "It's just a matter of finding him."

Donahue would also "like to play 10, 12 players every half. And we're almost at that point."

Red-hot Barons capture 6th straight

The South Farmington Barons homer. are a red-hot baseball team these days, due in large part to a pair of former Redford Catholic Central players.

The Connie Mack ballclub extended its winning streak to six games last week with Chris Karney (Northville) and Mike Daguanno (Farmington Hills) leading the way.

In a four-game span from Tuesday to Thursday, Karney collected 11 hits and 11 RBI. Three of Daguanno's six hits were home runs, and he also contributed 11 RBI.

Both recently graduated from CC and will continue playing next year at the University of Detroit.

On July 4, the Barons started the Firecracker Tournament in Warren with a pair of mercy victories to push their overall record to 12-2.

South Farmington needed only three innings to dispose of the Mount Clemens Reds, 18-2.

Karney went 2-for-3 and began the game with a 370-foot, leadoff

"It was like the game was over," Barons coach Dick Miller said. "The other team completely collapsed. They were just demor-

Daguanno also was 2-for-3 urday with the tournament conwith three RBI, and Shawn Wilson (Brother Rice) was 2-for-2, had two RBI and scored three runs. Ryan Rumberger (Plymouth Salem) also knocked in two runs.

Andrzejewski (Salem), who allowed just three hits -- one being a two-run homer - struck out six and walked none in the abbreviated game.

The Barons stayed unbeaten with a 15-6 defeat of the Pennzoil Indians in four innings later the same day.

Daguanno slugged two homers -- in the first inning in which South Farmington scored 10 runs. He went 3-for-3 with six RBI and scored twice.

Karney batted 4-for-4 with two doubles, a triple and three RBI. C.J. Ghannam (Farmington Harrison) and Rumberger also had three hits each. Ghannam and Karney scored four runs apiece. Waller pitched 31/2 innings to earn the victory. The Barons resumed play Sat-

Karney had a triple, a home run and three RBI. His two-run shot in the fifth accounted for the final score. He also scored three runs.

Daguanno gave the Barons an early lead with a two-run homer, and Todd Miller's bases-loaded double was the key hit in an eight-run fourth.

Garet Burch (Farmington/CC) went 3-for-3 with two RBI. Wilk had two hits (double/triple) and one RBI. Burch also scored two runs.

"At this time of year, it's who has the most energy left in their arms. (The Bulls) were just a little short of pitching. We've been able to spread it out pretty well, and our kids have a lot left."

On Wednesday, the Barons rallied to score four runs with two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning and defeat the Braves at Eastern Michigan University.

That made Karney the winning pitcher. He worked the last three innings, holding the Braves to two hits, two runs and one walk.

Anderson wasn't the losing pitcher, going just four innings and allowing two runs on five

In the seventh, South Farmington scored its first run on Ryan McGrath's (CC) single. The Barons stayed alive when Andrzejewski's fly ball was dropped in the outfield, allowing another run to score.

Karney, who was 3-for-4 with four RBI, followed with a tworun single to win the game for South Farmington.

David Viane (Farmington) Hills/CC) was 2-for-4 with one RBI, and Andrzejewski also hit a two-run triple earlier in the game.

Brent Wojtyniak (Livonia Stevenson) went 3-for-3 to pace the winners, while Ryan Broderick (Stevenson) and John Ross (Livonia Churchill) each collected two hits.

Kirk Damas (Livonia Clarenceville) got the start and the pitching win for LBC. He allowed just one hit before running into control problems in the fifth. Steve Anderson finished up.

USA Bulldogs triumph

The 12-and-under USA Bulldogs won the Oscoda Bronco Little League baseball tourney last month by defeating the host team, 10-8, in the championship final.

Ryan Wrobleski hurled a complete game, striking out eight and walking only two.

The Bulldogs overcame an 8-2 deficit with eight unanswered runs over the final two innings. USA scored five in the sixth as Eddie Conz delivered a pinch-hit RBI single followed by Leanne Long's RBI double.

Wrobleski was 2-for-3 with RBI, while McKee added two hits. In the semifinals, Conz pitched a one-hit, complete game, facing only three batters over the minimum in a rout of the Braves.

The Bulldogs collected 24 hits, led by McKee, who had four hits, including three doubles and three RBI; Eric Mancini, 4-for-5 with three RBI; Wrobleski and Andrew Miller, three hits, including a homer and five RBI each; Conz, three hits; and Long, two hits.

In the opening round, USA downed the White Sox, 10-1. as Sapalek had two hits and four RBI.

Other top hitters included Conz. two RBI: Miller and Long, two hits apiece.

Sapalek was the winning pitcher. He struck out four, walked three and hit one batter before giving way to Long, who worked the final two innings, fanning four.

Conz, the catcher, threw out three runners attempting to steal.

Other membes of the USA Bulldogs include Cliff Carlson, Billy Marsack, and Ryan McKee. The coaching staff consists of Jim Mancini, Gene Long and Doug Miller.

If the Adray Metro Baseball Association season ended today, the Michigan Lake Area Rams would be the league's qualifier for the All-American Amateur Baseball Association regional in Altoona, Pa.

Five of the eight AMBA teams are Class A affiliated with no age restrictions and are ineligible to play in the AAABA tournament. The remaining three are collegiate teams: The Rams, Adray Appliance and Sports Academy.

There is no post-season tournament in the Adray Metro, so whichever collegiate team finishes with the most points during the regular season gets an automatic berth to Altoona, Pa.

The top two teams from there advance to the AAABA national tournament in Johnstown, Pa., where the winner of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League traditionally goes.

The Rams, with a 9-7-1 record and 18 points, were the top collegiate team in the Adray Metro Baseball Association after Wednesday night's 5-3 loss to Jet Box, a Class A team, at Redford's Capitol Park.

"It looks good for us," said Rick Berryman, the Redford Union coach who doubles as the Rams' coach. "I'm very pleased. I put a team together that's working very well together. We win on pitching, defense and timely hitting. That's their goal - to get to a tournament and keep playing."

Berryman would favor an automatic berth to Johnstown, but he isn't complaining about having to qualify in Altoona

"That's fine, it's the rules," Berryman said. "When I was a player, I went to Altoona once, Johnstown twice."

Through Tuesday's game, Redford Union graduate Jason Mitchell (Eastern Michigan) had a 327 average and led the Rams with 16 RBI and five home runs hitting in either the cleanup or fifth spot in the order.

Deandre Cooper (Allen Park Cabrini/Southern Colorado) was hitting .414 and Miller (Detroit Cass Tech/Grambling), the third batter in the order, was at .455.

Miller led the team with 11 runs scored and Mitchell was second with 10.

Paul Goleniak poured in seven goals - four of them in the first period alone - and Scott Lock netted four more to lift the Wolves to a 13-5 victory at Plymouth Ice Arena.

Paul's brother Scott also got into the scoring act with two goals. Scott added six assists, while Paul got two.

Lock, however, outpointed them both by collecting 10 in the game. He had six assists to go with his four goals.

The only others to get points for the Wolves were Jason Wesley, two assists, and Brian Mayville, one. The Wolves led 5-0 after one period and 6.0 early in the second.

The Huskies got two goals and one assist from Ben Blackwood; a goal and an assist from Dominic Catanzarite; two assists apiece from Brent Lafond and goals from Dave West and Todd Maureen Schmidt and Herbie Gelman were in charge of the local scene. They are with the Bloomfield Hills advertising agency, Solomon Friedman Advertising, the local agency for the ad placement and promotion of MGM/United Artists.

Dyan Sarnecky of Keego Harbor is a member of the crew that is touring the country. The tour makes stops at all the major bowling markets with the final destination being Atlanta, where according to Dyan The Olympic Committee will get our thousands of signed petitions to include bowling as an Olympic sport.

"Kingpin" will be released on July 26. Bowlers and non-bowlers alike will find this a most entertaining film, very funny, and a good Hollywood exposure for the sport.

The spokesman for the group Drill Team from Thunderbird Lanes in Troy were one of the highlights of the Fourth of July Parade in downtown Clawson last Thursday.

Back by popular demand, they went through a routine of marching drill team maneuvers complete with their specially made bowling

The team is comprised of Jean Castile, Elva Adkins, Susan Valentine, Janet Spears, Dee Dee Kibler and Lory Van Troostenberghe.

They were marching to the recorded music of Another One Bites the Dust and Bowling USA which is a takeoff on surfing USA, recorded by local band The Polish Muslims.

The team members are all on the staff at Thunderbird Lanes, but have done this on a voluntary

The Western Wayne Youth Travel League will be holding its annual bowling clinic on Saturday-Sunday, Aug. 10-11 at Wayne Bowl on Michigan Ave.

The clinic, is free to youths and adults and runs from 9 a.m. to noon each day. They will have an organizational meeting on Sunday following the clinic, so anyone interested in this league may attend.

One of their members, Tony Vitale from Canton bowled with the pros at Taylor during the Greater Detroit Open. The proud parents, Cheryl and Nick Vitale: watched as Tony rolled games of 222-194 and 201. Combined with 135 pins in handicap, he took first place in his junior pro-am squad.

Comfort, convenience are hallmarks of Achieva

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures

There were only two things I don't like about the 1996 Oldsmobile Achieva: Its lack of power and the price — around $18,000, if nicely equipped.

So let's get that over with and get on with the nice parts of the car, because there are a lot of good things to say-about the Achieva.

The standard 2.4-lifer twin cam 4-cylinder engine just doesn't provide enough power for a car of this size. It's classified as a compact, but I would call this car a large compact. I was really surprised, as well, that the horsepower on this engine is 150. It just doesn't seem like there's that much horsepower to tool this thing around town. The Achieva's a bit noisy, too.

And the price: Base is $16,495. There's a fair list of standard equipment, but it's a bit steep for a small car with a 4cylinder engine.

Maybe if I had driven the higher and some lower.

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

automatic transmission or even the optional V6 engine with automatic 4speed transmission, I would've felt differently. Only next year's drive will tell.

Achieva does have some stiff competition, however. It includes the Honda Accord, Mazda 626, Toyota Camry and Mitsubishi Galant. Some of those are priced fort and room and very fuel efficient — 22 in the city and 32 on the highway.

the amount of headroom, legroom and hiproom was impressive. I'm tall person, so comfort is important to me. Driven was the SL sedan. The rear seats were really easy to get in and out of. And the rear doors swing out wide to provide access.

First introduced in 1992, the Achieva is available in three trim levels and can be ordered in a 2-door coupe or 4-door sedan. This year, the Achieva has been given a fresh look on the inside with dual air bags, an improved V6 and an enhanced traction system. Added to the standard equipment list are air conditioning and and a PASSlock theft deterrent system.

and intake manifold design to cut down on the noise. As with many General Motors vehicles, It really surprised me that the Achieva's engine is outfitted with platinum-tipped spark plugs that avoid misfire and don't have to be changed until they reach the 100,000-mile

Also adding to the low maintenance list is filled-for-life transmission fluid, long-life coolant and distributorless igni-

The interior has been changed from top to bottom -"floor mats to headliner," Oldsmobile officials say.

I love the new three-point, pillar-mounted safety belts. They're so comfortable to wear. No cutting on the neck, not hard to engage in the clip and just plain easy to get in and out of. I wish The 155-horsepower V6 pow- everyone would have three-point

The center console has two cupholders and an auxiliary power outlet - a lifesaver for anyone who has a cellular flip phone and uses the power cord on lengthy trips. The cupholders are even deep enough to hold the phone safely.

The power mirror and window switches are now located on the driver's door, making it a lot more convenient. Also added this year were adjustable lumbar support for the driver's seat and a leather-wrapped steering wheel and shifter.

Standard is an AM/FM stereo, but you can upgrade to a cassette, compact disc or cassette and CD.

Other improvements on the Achieva this year include a onekey system for the doors, ignition, deck lid and glove box.

The standard equipment list on the SL sedan isn't short: Antilock brakes, a security system, intermittent wipers, 4-speed automatic transmission, 15-inch steel belted radial blackwall tires, reclining front buckets with driver's 4-way adjustable and passenger's 2 way adjustable seats, rear cupholders, air conditioning, AM/FM cassette stereo with clock and rear window grid antenna, rear window defogger, courtesy lamps, illuminated entry and exit, power mirrors, remote fuel door and truck release, tinted windows and tilt steering wheel.

The bottom line: The Achieva measures up when it comes to comfort and convenience. Just wish it cost less.
