Bomb shakes local athlete, shatters 'spirit' of Olympics

BY BRAD EMONS AND TEDD SCHNEIDER

The pipe bomb that rocked the heart of Atlanta early Saturday morning at Olympic Centennial Park certainly hit close to home for the mother of gold medalist Sheila Taormina.

Moya Taormina of Livonia, whose daughter won a gold medal in the women's 4 X 200-meter freestyle relay Thursday night, spent much of Friday afternoon with the rest of her family in the nearby AT & T Global Family Village Center where the blast later occurred.

"Security was tight before the bombing, it was just tremendous any time you went into any building or the swimming venue," Moya Taormina said. "You had your purse emptied and you went through a metal detector.

"But there's no way you can have the same type of security in such a large public place. It was a delightful, happy and exuberant atmosphere down there that was kind of shattered, no pun intended, and it's a shame."

The entire Taormina family, including Sheila, spent Friday night at a hotel in Smyrna, about 20 miles outside Atlanta.

"Sheila's initial reaction was, 'I want to go home with you,' but yesterday (Sunday) she was perfectly calm," Moya said. "She and her roommates are discussing whether they're going to stay for the closing ceremonies.'

Julie Phill, wife of Sheila's longtime Clarenceville Swim Club coach Greg Phill, said security was more than adequate.

"I actually thought it was overly secure and felt extremely safe," she said. "There were (police) officers on every corner, The problem with the park is that it was open to everybody. It's like going to Cedar Point, you just can't have security people evervwhere '

Chuck Cogliandro doesn't think the Olympics or life in Atlanta for that matter - will ever be the

Despite the resolve that surfaced in the first hours after the early Saturday bombing at Centennial Olympic Park, the former Redford resident said the blast managed to shatter the spirit that people associated with the Games and his adopted hometown have been building on for years.

"It's still very crowded and everyone is trying to move on, not to let this ruin everything," he said in a telephone interview Saturday evening. "But I don't know. That's a lot to ask.'

"I think what was happening in that park was where the true spirit of the Games really came through, more than any one event or other place. I don't see how we can get that back."

The pipe bomb that killed one woman and injured more than 100 exploded at 1:25 a.m. while a crowd estimated at 10,000 enjoyed a late-night concert or otherwise milled about the park, a 21acre plaza built as a gathering place especially for the Olympics.

Cogliandro described the mood Saturday as an odd mix of resignation and intensity. "It's pretty sad but at the same time kind of intense, if you can imagine that," he said.

The decision to continue the Games was endorsed by everyone he talked to Saturday, Cogliandro said. "People are very adamant about not being intimidated by this kind of violence."

Centennial Park will reopen Tuesday with tighter security, officials said Sunday.

Cogliandro, who is 33 and moved to Atlanta in January 1992, had made several visits to the park during the week.

He lives in the Castlebery section of downtown, an artist community similar to New York's SoHo district. It's about a 10-minute walk from his loft to the park, he said.

A musician and drum maker, Cogliandro had taken part in the Opening Ceremonies July 19 as part of a group call THE (Thurman-Hamer-Ellington) Percussion Choir.

Cogliandro and other drummers were scheduled to perform in a memorial program for the bombing victims Sunday night.

Police, parks to draw few voters

A public safety millage proposal is expected to attract 20 to 25 percent of the city's registered voters for the Aug. 6 primary

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

City officials are predicting that 20 to 25 percent of registered Westland voters will cast ballots in the Tuesday, Aug. 6 primary election, when key decisions will be made about a local public safety_tax increase, a county parks millage and a host of legislative races.

City Clerk Diane Fritz is projecting a 20 percent turnout among Westland's 54,319 voters.

"I think the turnout will be light," she said. "For an August primary, that's not unusual."

Deputy Mayor George Gillies remains slightly more optimistic, predicting a 25 percent turnout. He noted that police officers and firefighters are campaigning heavily for a 1.5-mill public safety tax that would usher in community policing and paramedic programs.

"It's a very important issue," Gillies said. "Many, many of the police officers and firefighters are going door to door to talk to the citizens of Westland to explain the pro-

"Now it's up to the voters."

The 1.5-mill, six-year public safety tax would be levied beginning next July 1, raising an estimated $11.5 million. Voters are being asked to approve a charter amendment raising city's general operating millage ceiling from 8 mills to 9.5 mills.

A homeowner with an $80,000 house would pay about $60 more a

The community policing program is aimed at placing seven more officers on city streets; each would be assigned to a specific geographic district amid hopes of improving relations with the residential and business sectors.

Livonian Sheila Taormina entered her first and only Olympics with the expectation of having fun.

But little did the 5-foot-3, 118pound dynamo know, following her third leg on Team USA's victorious women's 4 X 200-meter freestyle relay, that July 25, 1996 would turn out to be a date she'll never forget.

Taormina tucked a gold medal underneath her bed Thursday night in the Olympic Village in Atlanta after a whirlwind day which saw her earn a spot for the evening finals after clocking the fastest 200 split (2:00.57) during the mid-morning prelims.

The Stevenson High and University of Georgia product then teamed up with Trina Jackson, Cristina Teuscher and anchor Jenny Thompson to set an Olympic and American record with a combined time of 7:59.87. Germany, led by world record holder Franziska van Almsick, was second (8:01.55), followed by Australia (8:05.47), a distant third.

Taormina becomes the first gold medalist from Observerland since Farmington's Rex Cawley captured the 400-meter hurdles at the 1964 Games in Tokyo.

Residents on Wildwood between Ford and Cherry Hill want neighbors, as well as those who live south of Cherry Hill, to let the police department's traffic bureau know that they support the moves to curb an ongoing speeding problem in their neighborhood.

Churchill grad goes to Paralympics

For Shawn Donaldson, a 1992 graduate of Churchill High School, the Olympics start when. the Atlanta games end.

As one of the top six goal ball players in the U.S., Donaldson and his five teammates will represent the U.S. in mid-August in the Paralympic Games in Atlanta immediately after the Olympics.

In the Paralympics, physically challenged athletes from around the world compete for the gold, silver and bronze medals.

They stay in the same Olympic Village which housed the Olympic athletes, and play to bring home the gold.

Since birth, Donaldson has been visually impaired. What he sees is limited to blurry images. Yet he plans a fast-paced game in which a ball flies at him, sometimes at 40 m.p.h., and he must keep it from getting behind his teammates to score a goal.

"Para-athletes are comparable with world athletes," Donaldson said. "They just play with a physical disability, and the sport is adapted to that disability. If I get too close to a wall, a coach taps me with a stick."

Donaldson, a senior at Westorn Michigan University, recently went through a rigorous selec-the WMU Wrecking Crew. Since then, he has traveled throughout the world, competing against other teams in tournaments and championship games. He just returned from England, where he played in an international goal ball tournament. "The sport is bigger in Europe. They're very serious about it and have better teams."

In goal ball, three-member teams compete against each other on a long rectangular court. Each team has a center and two wing players. The ball, as big as a basketball, is equipped with bells so that players can tell where it is. The ball must be kept low, touching the ground, so that it makes noise. The game is played in silence, so players can follow the ball and hear each other. "People are quiet, until someone scores."

Players wear blindfolds, so that a player with better eyesight doesn't have the upper hand. Because of the blindfold, players with normal eyesight also can play the game.

The Paralympics run from Aug. 15-25. Donaldson's first game takes play Aug. 17 against the team from Hungary.

Donaldson's team has six players, three to play and three in reserve.

Before Olympic play begins. his team will scrimmage against the team from Austria.

In his school years in Livonia, Donaldson attended programs for the visually impaired at Cleveland Elementary, Frost Middle and Churchill.

His parents are Sue and Jim Smart of Norwich Street. His mother and sister Amy, a senior at Stevenson High, plan to attend the games next month in Atlanta to cheer him on.

At Western, Donaldson, 22, is majoring in history. He plans to attend graduate school, possibly to enter a program to teach rehabilitation techniques to visually impaired persons. If Donaldson has a sports hero, it would be his WMU coach, Paul Ponehillia, who is blind. Ponchillia recently helped carry the Olympic Torch when it came through Detroit. Besides goal ball, other Para-lympic sports include wrestling, weight-lifting, cycling and judo. Donaldson has a Brown Belt in Karate.

The games are sometimes confused with the Special Olympics, where athletes can have both physical and mental disabilities and where top athletic ability is not a prerequisite to participate.

By the time the Paralympics begin, most of the hoopla surrounding the Olympic games will have run its course.

But to Donaldson, it doesn't matter that many sports fans will already be on the way home. "It doesn't matter if a lot of people don't show up. Our goal is to get a medal."

The paramedic program, or Advanced Life Support system, as it is called, would beef up medical training for Westland firefighters and allow for the renovation of the city's four fire stations.

With both Jackson and Teuscher, the top 200 freestyle individual finishers already penciled in for their one-two finish at the Olympic Trials, and by adding four-time gold medalist Thompson to the mix, Taormina awaited word between sessions from U.S. Women's Coach Richard Quick.

"Their decision wasn't going to affect me one way or the other," Sheila said. "It was just going to be icing on the cake because just being at the Olympics was so much fun. I was just going to put a smile on my face, and if I got in, that was going to be an extra bonus."

Loose and all smiles during the prelims, Taormina felt a little more pressure during the finals. "There was more nervousness inside, especially when I looked over at those German girls. They were all tall and looked gigantic. They were so big and intimidating. I knew they would be a tough relay to go against,'

Taormina, also facing the pressure of winning America's fourth straight swim relay of the Atlanta Games, worried somewhat about letting her team down. "I didn't want to be the one reason why we got the silver," she admitted.

After van Almsick staked the Germans to an early lead. Teuscher reeled in Kerstin Anke during the second leg and pulled even for Taormina's Thompson then brought the gold home, outkicking Dagmar Hase to give the U.S. a comfortable win.

And although it was their first time together, this U.S. 800 freestyle relay foursome had come together perfectly.

"They had to go with the four hottest kids on that day and I knew Sheila could do it," Phill said.

Taormina is now officially retired, but will take in the rest of the games, perhaps some water polo, track and field, and weight lifting before participating in the Closing Ceremonies.

Then it's another visit with the Clintons at the White House.

"When I go home it may be hectic for a day, but life goes on," said Taormina, who plans to return to her full-time job at Northern Engraving Corp. in September (where bosses Aurel Mailheh and Phillip Gelatt gave her a leave of absence). "I don't think a lot is going to change.

"I'm sure there will be a party with my teammates. I just hope to share my experience now with others. I'd love to coach, but only as an assistant. I'll let Greg make all the decisions."

Taormina, however, ever the typical world-class competitor, summed up her historic day. "I wouldn't say it was my best day, but my performance on that day is probably as good as it gets, considering I've been having problems with my back and my shoulder," she said. "I'm wearing out, so it's time to get out.'

For winning the gold, Taormina is eligible to receive prize money from both the U.S. Olympic Committee and USA Swimming.

"It will help pay off some of my debts after taking off a year," she said. "Some days were embarrassing when I only had three dollars in my checkbook. I was kind of hurting financially."

But despite the hardships and rigorous training, Taormina's final day as world-class swimmer was worth the price of gold.

Juarez, Dashairya face off in Republican primary

Carol A. Juarez of Garden City and Bhagwan Dashairya of Westland are facing off in the Aug. 6 Republican primary.

Both seek the chance to go up against incumbent Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Westland, who serves as vice chair of the commission.

Priorities

"Economic development is my top priority," Dashairya said. "I believe in economic development. That's the only way to address the future," he said.

He would do an economic survey of all of Wayne County and then try to find the areas that need immediate attention, he

"I believe in private funding of everything," he said.

Residents have the perception that county government is something that collects taxes and doesn't get much done, Dáshairya said.

"Roads are one of the first things I'd like to concentrate on,"

He would like to take a hard look at the budget. "I would go through it as a business man rather than as a politician," he

As in business, he thinks every county project should go through a thorough review.

Juarez sees a lack of communication between communities. She is also concerned about programs for juveniles in trouble.

"I want to bring together people at a table and talk about what is going on," she said.

Juarez said she would try to garner support among other commissioners to make sure the county executive is held accountable for the budget. "If I think something is wrong I will not vote for its passage," she said.

She also sees a need for basic services. Because of the ages of the communities in District 12 (Westland, Garden City and Inkster) "our infrastructure is falling apart," Juarez said.

Bhagwan Dashalrya

Parks millage

Juarez opposes the parks millage. "Our county taxes are so much higher than our neighboring communities. Why do we need another tax to support parks?" she said.

Dashairya is also opposed to the parks millage. "I'm not in favor of any millage. My thing is no new taxes," he said.

"We're not getting what we're

paying for right now," he said.

Qualifications

Juarez, 49, is a self-employed consultant. She does volunteer work with the United Way of Michigan, where she is a board member and on the Children At Risk committee and Strategic Planning committee. She has been a resident of Garden City for 22 years.

"Since I believe in term limits I would not be in the job for more than six years," Juarez said.

"I'm not looking at this for a career, I'm doing this because I really truly believe I can make a difference," she said. "I have the ability to work with others no matter what party."

"I plan on making an appearance in council meetings. I plan to keep my cities informed,' Juarez said.

"I just want people to know I don't have all the answers. I need input from the citizens that live here," she said.

She calls Beard a good commissioner, but she questions what Beard has done for the district in the past six years. "We need a change, I want to be that change agent," she said.

Dashairya owns the Paradise Motel in Westland, and Fast Engineering Corp., a consulting firm. He works as customer sales and service representative at AAA.

Dashairya says he has a basic philosophy difference with Beard, who he says is a tax and spend Democrat.

He cites his time in community involvement among his qualifications. "I spend a lot of time in community involvement and that will help on the county commission," he said.

Wayne County has many ethnic groups, but only white and black commissioners, said Dashairya, who is a native of India. "I would bring another group. I would represent that diversity," he said. Dashairya serves on the boards of directors of Economic Development Corp. in Westland, the Tax Increment Finance Authority in Westland and the Downtown Development Authority of Westland. He also serves on the advisory committee of the Building Improvement Team of the Wayne-Westland School District, the John Glenn High School Booster Club, Any Town-USA, Children Helping Children. State board delays decision on character education

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

"Character education" _ a stark necessity in a nation where kids run wild? or a slippery slope to church-run public schools?

The State Board of Education will take a one-month breather before deciding Aug. 21 whether 40 urge local school boards to implement character and citizenship development.

"We're not promising a panacea," said Bob Smith, a Livonia Kiwanis member working with the Character Education Institute of San Antonio, Texas, on offering a character curriculum. "The overwhelming consensus is that values should be taught.

"These lessons should be taught in the home. But whether we like it or not, teachers are becoming surrogate parents," Smith told the State Board at its July 24 meeting.

"Without guidelines, this resolution falls short," objected Wendy Wagenheim, Birmingham mother and lobbyist for the American Civil Liberties Union. Before you implement, assure there is a distinction between secular and religious values.

"Religious values should be transmitted in the home, church, synagogue or mosque. Without guidelines, this resolution, in its present form, opens the door to potential intrusion of religious Karen Holmes, a Livonia PTA member representing the statewide PTA association, was worried that local school district committees might be stacked in favor of one religion. As drafted, the State Board resolution encourages local districts to form "collaborative partnerships among parents, educators, business, religious and other commu-

"Include all religions, not just one," said Holmes. "We also need to make sure that they are not the majority of the committee but that it is balanced."

Outside the board meeting, board president Clark Durant, R-Grosse Pointe, took the opposite approach, saying the Bible and the story of Moses could be used to teach values. And if the ACLU doesn't like it, Durant said, "well, let them sue."

John Duerr, a Warren father of three, warned the resolution will open "a Pandora's box" and that "special interests are drooling" at the prospect of getting into character education. "And are you seriously considering making business a partner with parents?" he asked.

State Board member Barbara Roberts Mason, D-Lansing, noted the resolution says schools should "reinforce parental valnity representatives" to select—ues," suggesting the opposite: "Parents should reinforce what is taught in schools. I would hate for schools to reinforce a Militia parents' values."

Board member Dorothy Beardmore, R-Rochester, agreed. "There are, unfortunately for the schools, some children who are raising themselves."

Kiwanian Smith, a former advertising man, volunteered his support of a curriculum designed by teachers in Character Education Institute. It lists a dozen values, including honor, honesty, truthfulness, generosity, kindness, justice and respect for oth-

Dr. Young Jay Mulkey, president of the institute, said it uses the tools of teaching critical thinking skills and building selfesteem, teaching elementary kids to exercise self-discipline under peer pressure.

Christie Enstrom, principal of Kalamazoo's Northeast Elementary, warmly praised the program's results in that tough neighborhood. "We don't have fights any more," she said. Good behavior is reinforced through sending postcards of praise to the parents.

Detroit educator Yvonne Roberts said Character Education Institute's program "worked a change in the culture of the schools." About 15 of the 42 buildings under her wing have used the curriculum.

Beardmore noted the State Board would confine itself to recommending character education without endorsing a particular curriculum.

A memo by Art Ellis, superintendent of public instruction, defines character education as "the process of educating our children and young people about the common attitudes, beliefs and behaviors that parents and communities agree are important for their role as responsible

Educational literature, Ellis said, most often identifies these values: respect, responsibility, caring, trustworthiness, justice and fairness, and civic virtue and citizenship."

The State Board of Education meets at 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays, usually the third of the month, on the fourth floor of the John A. Hannah Building, on Allegan Street two blocks west of the Capitol, Lansing. Public comment is heard at the beginning of each meeting. The Associated Press contributed to this story.

"I'M HAPPIER KNOWING THAT MOM IS IN GOOD HANDS. SHE'S JUST HAPPIER, PERIOD."

Active days. Discussion groups where every voice is important. Gardening where friendships bloom as well as flowers. And daily routines where people are secure knowing that trained, caring staff is nearby to offer assistance if necessary

That's life at Springhouse, an assisted living facility for those who need extra help in their day-to-day routine, with things like dressing, bathing, and taking medications, but still want to enjoy life to its fullest. We customize care for our residents, giving them only the services they need or request. This helps them remain as independent as possible.

Friendship is one of the hallmarks of the Springhouse experience. In fact, it's never been easier for some of our residents as they are free to join each other for activities like walking and lectures. But residents can be on their own, too, setting their own routines. If they want to enjoy a quiet meal in their own apartment, they can. In short, residents make the choices that let them maintain control of their own lives.

We've designed Springhouse to be a safe and secure environment, with licensed health care professionals, staff and personal care assistants just seconds away—24 hours a day. So while residents are leading secure, active lives, their loved ones enjoy the peace of mind that comes from such special care—and Manor HealthCare's 35 year tradition of excellence in health care.

Ann Arbor throws jazzy soiree for premiere of 'Kansas City'

The "Kansas City" benefit begins with music at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 4 at the Michigan Theatre, 603 E. Liberty (near, State) in downtown Ann Arbor. Both the $25 and $12.50 tickets can be purchased at the Michigan Theatre (313) 668-TIME, Schoolkids Records (right near the theater) and at all Ticketmaster locations (810) 645-6666. Robert Altman made the movie "Kansas City" as a tribute to the town where he spent his formative years in the 1930s. In a tribute of another kind, he has allowed the film to enjoy its. Great Lakes premiere in Ann Arbor, where he spent some of his most productive years in the 1980s. When moviegoers enter the Michigan Theatre this Sunday evening, they will be greeted by actors dressed in Prohibition-era clothing. A half-hour jazz concert will precede the film, along with a special appearance by jazz great James Carter, who appears prominently in the film.All proceeds from the benefit (the only chance to see the film before its August 16 opening) go to the University of Michigan's Program in Film and Video Studies and the Michigan Theatre.

"Kansas City" is both a nostalgic and dramatic look at the MisWin tickets to movie premiere

Inside, the 1930s jazz club atmosphere will continue with live jazz, Pan-tropical appetizers and cocktails, giving patrons a chance to mingle with celebrity guests.

Hey Club was in full swing. "I used to go to those clubs from the time I was 15 on," he said during a recent interview in New

"I probably heard Hawkins and all of these guys playing but I didn't know their names then." Altman spent quality time in Ann Arbor in the 1980s, where he worked with the theater department and even produced a film there, 1984s "Secret Honor," a one-man monologue about the final days in office of President Richard Nixon.

information. The Detroit Film Theatre has often paid tribute to the ground breaking French films of the early 1960s, collectively known as the "French New Wave." So it's not surprising that it should kick off their new season with a rediscovered footnote from the period called "Purple Noon." Playing Aug. 2-4, the movie stars Alain Delon as an amoral American recruited by a wealthy businessman to retrieve the man's playboy son. Directed by Rene Clement, the movie was penned by Patricia Highsmith, author of "Strangers on a Train."

Launching the Monday night series on Aug. 5 are a pair of American B-films considered favorites of director Martin Scorsese: "Murder By Contract" (1958) and "5 Against the House"

Board 'cuts' scores on proficiency test

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

A sample of test scores shows less than half of Michigan students are earning "proficient" marks in math and reading and less than one-third in science and writing.

"These data are preliminary," said Art Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction. "We will have no data on schools and buildings before Labor Day. Don't call your superintendent. Don't call us. We have work to do."

Otherwise there was little discussion July 24 as the State Board of Education gave 7.0

approval to "cut scores" students would have to reach to earn state-endorsed diplomas.

Students will need a cut store 31 percent.

Students could still receive local diplomas but without state endorsements.

of 39 in math, achieved by only 48 percent; 40.5 in science. achieved by 31 percent; 29 in reading, achieved by 41 percent; and 11.5 in writing, achieved by were based on samples of students who took the tests.

Some 102,000 students took the tests March 4-22. The new proficiency tests replace the Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests for students about to graduate.

The new math test, previewed in this newspaper more than a year ago, stresses multiple-step problem solving rather than single computations.

The reading test asks students to compare the behavior of characters in different stories rather than a single story.

Some highlights of the sam-

• Boys tested higher in math and reading by 6-11 points; girls higher in reading and writing by 4-12 points.

The scores released July 24 badly: 13 percent were proficient in math versus 48 percent for all students; 6 percent in science versus 31 percent for all.

Whites and Asians scores weren't segregated.

The State Board acted under the new School Code, which requires it to establish the level of proficiency students must meet to earn state-endorsed diplomas in each content area.

A lower level, called "novice," is also set. Students earning novice scores don't receive stateendorsed diplomas.

School district data will be available about Sept. 3; • African Americans fared statewide data, about Sept. 16.

Aldo's shoes is worth the trip

BY EVIE HORTON SPECIAL WRITER

There is a newcomer in town putting the spirit back into our soles...the soles of our feet, that is.

What makes this shoe company (in the U.S. market for just under a year,) so exciting is twofold. First, they design and produce hundreds of fashion forward shoes that fit as superbly as they look.

Secondly, prices begin at a $29.99 with the majority remaining well below $99. This combination is just great business savvy in a market saturated with cheap, poorly made shoes.

Who is this stranger who has put customer service above all else? It is a company called "Aldo." I asked a customer what appeals to her about her Aldo experience and she replied, "the fun of hunting down my personal style of shoes and the sales staff's patience!"

At every leading fashion footwear house, you'll find an Aldo representative checking out the latest shoe designs for customers. They put all the best designer trends together under high standards of production, which upon inspection is quality other companies lack at prices in the

Having been in business for over 20 years in Canada. Aldo is aware of today's busy woman's wants and needs. Their aim is to "make sure every customer is completely satisfied."

The hardest part of shopping in this "shoe mecca" will be narrowing your choices. I found myself falling head-over-heels for at least four pairs: two strappy sandals, one square-toed pump, a snappy platform wedge mule, and an adorable revamped Mary Jane.

Men needn't fear they have been neglected. Aldo has also set men's shoe styling on its feet. Shoes are specifically designed for the "young" and the "young at heart."

Bags and boots

Just when you thought shoes were enough, Aldo adds the spark of fine leather handbags to compliment their footwear. An added bonus, the majority of shoes are made in Italy!

So catch your breath, proceed to their locations in Fairlane Town Center, Dearborn; Lakeside in Sterling Heights, Twelve Oaks in Novi, and Briarwood in Ann Arbor. Another location is opening Aug. 16 at the Somerset Collection, North, in Remember, Aldo has continued to evolve because they keep up with and often set the trends. So what's up for fall?

Watch for the buckle and zipper on shoes and handbags. The square toe, animal print leathers and chunk heel provide new interest, and shiny surfaces are everywhere to complement the new high tech fabrics in coats, jackets and evening-

So shoe aficionados, unite! for you now have Aldo tantalizing your shoe taste-buds.

Who would have thought your foot and pocketbook could feel so good at the same time!

Aldo Attitudé: Above and below are samples of the styling behind every pair of shoes, and all handbags at Aldo, the store that makes fashion fun.

Retailers braced for mall opening

The impact of the new Somerset Collection North shopping mall on its nearby retail neighbors remains to be seen, but savvy old timers are not standing idly by waiting to find out.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO STAFF WRITER

"Competition is good for everyone," is the politically correct response to inquiries about how the new shopping center in Troy will affect business everywhere else.

But while professing to welcome the new folks at the Somerset Collection North in Troy, competing malls, mainstreets and department stores are taking a hard look at the playing field and donning their battle gear.

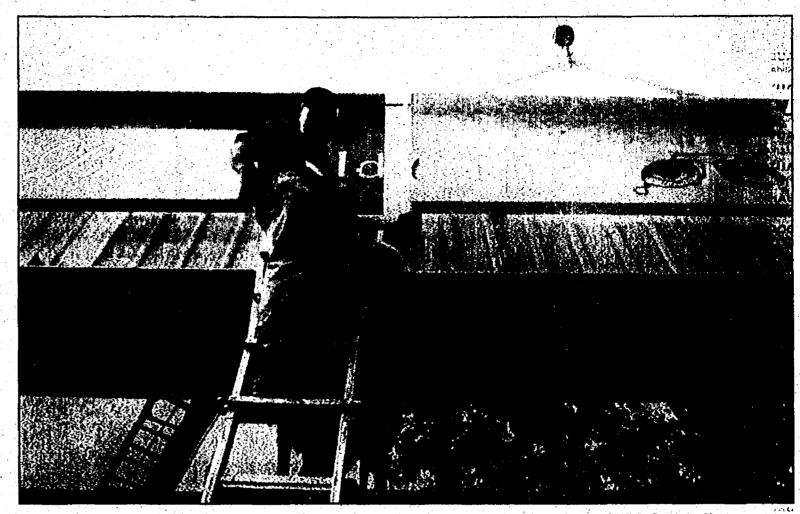

Birmingham is busy sprucing up storefronts, remodeling dated shops, redesigning the master plan and seeking out newcomers. A watchful eye is on tenants migrating from the town to Somerset North: Bailey, Banks & Biddle, Banana Republic, Victoria's Secret, Structure, The Limited, The Gap, Roots and Polo/Ralph Lauren.

Many of these shops are divisions of The Limited, based in Columbus, Ohio. A spokeswoman explained the "Somerset North is such an incredible new facility that we couldn't pass up the opportunity. However, that center's viability will not affect our decision regarding keeping stores in other markets. We evaluate each store's profits per square foot and the decision to close or keep that store is based on performance. Your area market is so incredible it should be able to support multiple locations."

Twelve Oaks of Novi, long seen as a Somerset competitor, will complete a summer-long $10-million renovation on Aug. 14 with a careful eye on the "exclusive" tenants opening an "east-side" address at Somerset North: Franklin Mint, Guess?, H2O Plus, Right Start, Speedo, World Bead.

"When you bring in a new retailer like Nordstrom and create a new center around it, I expect shoppers will flock to check it out and the initial impact will pull from what exists in the market already," said Miles McFee, mall manager. "But after a few months, shoppers will return to what is familiar and convenient. At Twelve Oaks, we're making sure they'll find what they want here."

Oakland Mall in Troy is spending thousands of dollars on two new signs, an illuminated, electronic landmark visible from I-75 freeway and another at 14 Mile and John R. in Troy. The center has a new advertising slogan that counters Somerset's toney image with, "At The Oakland Mall, shop as you are."

Upscale plazas like Bloomfield at Maple and Telegraph, The Boardwalk at Orchard Lake and Maple. are evaluating their market niche and fighting the giants with unique merchandise assortments and knowthe customer-by-name personal ser-

"I have concern for the independent retailers across the country. with power houses like Nordstrom, Kohl's, Sports Authority and Walmart expanding, expanding, expanding," said Greg Zevo second generation owner of Greg's Shoes in the Orchard Mall, West Bloomfield.

"Where do they think all the customers are coming from? How big do they need to be?

"These guys carry such clout they can cut deals, move inventory between stores, get all sorts of perks from manufacturers. It's very tough for independents to compete.'

But Zevo said his strengths include expert personal service, a neighborhood location, and specialty shoe designs.

Battle stations!

Sherman Becker, partner at Roz & Sherm, an upscale fashion boutique and shoe salon in Bloomfield Plaza, agreed.

"When the big guys come to town they make offers to your best employees and study the lines you carry. We've spent years trying to understand our customers, what they need, what they want. That's our strength. Our location is important, too.

"It makes me laugh to read all the hype about service lately. We've been serving our shoppers all along. The customer is queen. That's why we'll continue to succeed in this business."

As a shopper bonus, Roz & Sherm flights with charge purchases.

In downtown Birmingham, Dr. Ronald Hernesko and his wife Flora. are hanging a new $10,000 sign on their 245 W. Maple Road storefront, and a colorful canopy is on the way. They want people to know "the old; Birmingham is back."

"We're putting money into our business on this end of town," Flora said. "The store's interior will be completely remodeled soon, too. Bloomfield Optical wants to serve families from 7-70. Our eyeglass: frames will be unique, our service superior."

Birmingham's Jacobson's stores have all been remodeled and updated. A concierge desk will be added in ; August to the valet service off the! Bates Street entrance.

"The concierge will make dinner. reservations for customers at any restaurant in town or order theater; tickets, arrange for a personal shopper, sign out a stroller. We'll even have wet wipes and diapers available," laughed Pam Rock, promotions director.

"It's all part of our plan to make; our stores more convenient and shopper-friendly for today's timeis giving airline credit on Northwest strapped customer."

News of special events for shoppers is included in this calendar. Send promotion information to: Mall & Mainstreets, c/oBirmingham Eccentric, 805 East Maple, 48009; or fax (810) 644-1314. The deadline is Wednesday at 5 p.m. for publication on Monday.

GOLD INLAYS Once the decay in a small-to-mediumsized cavity is removed from the chewing surface of a tooth, silver amalgam (a mixture of mercury, silver, tin, copper, and zinc) is usually the material of choice to fill the hole left by the drill. For larger cavities, however, the removal of the decay may not leave enough footh structure to support a filling. If so, a filling made outside the tooth (known as an inlay) may be necessary. Most inlays are fabricated of gold in a process that begins with the dentist making a wax impression of the cavity. After a temporary filling is set in place, the wax impression is sent to a dental and puts the gold inlay in place. Once the necessary adjustments are made to ensure a perfect fit, the gold inlay is cemented into place, the bite tested with articulating paper, and the surface polished.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Readers seek really cool recipes

emember back in January when we were barricaded in our homes, the furnace was running non-stop, and all we could think about was how good a pot of hot soup would taste? I guess that's one of the reasons why I'll never leave Michigan; I love the seasons and really enjoy the foods they bring.

Your calls to my voice mail have once again confirmed that you want to get out of a hot kitchen and are looking for cool, healthful ways to enjoy the bounty of summer.

■ Bev Janacks of Garden City called requesting a recipe for a light, cool soup she could serve some friends coming to town for a college reunion. This recipe, dubbed Pappa al Pomodoro, is a classic summer soup made with fresh basil and vine-ripened tomatoes. The neat thing about this soup is once you begin adding the bread, it's difficult to tell what it is; a soup, casserole or cool light salad. Try it, you won't be disappointed.

SUMMER BASIL AND TOMATO BREAD SOUP

- 12 1-inch thick slices of French or Italian
- baguette, preferably day-old
- 5 cup extra virgin olive oil 8 vine-ripened tomatoes, peeled, seeded and
- chopped
- 2 cups chicken broth or stock
- About 40 basil leaves, shredded or chopped fine
- 2 teaspoons sugar (optional)

2 tablespoors balsamic vinegar

Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

If the bread is still fresh and still soft, toast it on both sides under the broiler. Cut the bread slices in half into semi-circles. In a mixing bowl, toss the bread in half the olive oil. Combine the bread, tomatoes and broth in a 4-quart pot. Stir in the remainder of the ingredients. Season with salt and pepper and allow to sit in the refrigerator for at least 1-2 hours, then ladle into chilled bowls. Serves 6.

Recipe from: "Splendid Soups" by James Peterson, (Bantam Books, copyright 1993).

- Mildred McCormack of Southfield called about a recent story on grilling and wanted to know where she could buy some "lump" charcoal. Your best bet is to locate a specialty store that sells and services barbecues and grills. I like Town & Country Hardware in Garden City.
- Sheila of Rochester Hills wanted to know how long eggs keep in the refrigerator. My home economist experts recommend never keeping eggs beyond the expiration date clearly marked on each carton.
- Who would have thought that a month ago, when I mentioned momma's green bean casserole, that I would get about a half dozen calls from readers who had no idea what I was talking about. The recipe is the epitome of comfort food, and I wouldn't consider it a Janes Gang family function without the gold Corning casserole filled to the rim.

ORIGINAL GREEN BEAN CASSEROLE

- 2 cans (16 ounces each) green beans, drained 34 cup milk
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- & teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 can (2.8 ounces) French Fried Onions

Combine beans, milk, soup, pepper and h can of French Fried Onions. Pour into a lightly greased 1% quart casserole. Bake, uncovered at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Top with remaining onions, and continue baking 10 minutes longer. Serves 6.

Frank Lomongolo of Rochester is raving about his crop of fresh basil. He's looking for great recipes. Well Frank, this recipe is great tossed with pasta, spread on bread, or served with grilled poultry or fish. It's a classic.

BASIL PESTO

- 1% cups fresh basil leaves
- 2 cloves garlic 4 cup pine nuts
- % cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese 7 cup olive oil

In a blender or food processor, chop the basil, garlic and pine nuts. Add Parmesan cheese and with the motor running, slowly drizzle the olive oil in a slow stream. Scrape down sides of bowl, cover

Potato Possibilities: Zesty Greek Style Potato Salad and Better-Than-Pizza Potatoes are delicious ways to add zip to summertime menus.

The Practical Potato Primer

- One medium potato averages 120 calories; Og fat; Og cholesterol; 5mg sodium; 27g carbohydrates; 3g protein; and 680mg potassium.
- Brown potatoes are best for baking; rounded or long whites are preferred for boiling and baking and the small red ones are ideal for boiling or roasting. "New" potatoes - the small ones that are dug early before the skins have set - are best boiled or steamed.
- Select loose potatoes that are well-formed, smooth, firm, with eyes and no discoloration, cracks, bruises or soft spots. Avoid "green" potatoes. They have been exposed to light and have a bitter taste.
- Do not wash your potato before storing. Potatoes can be safely stored in a dry, dark place for three months at 45 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit.
- Do not store potatoes in the refrigerator. Below 40 degrees, potato starch turns to sugar, making the potato too sweet. Too cold storage also darkens potatoes during cooking.
- You don't have to peel your potatoes. Just scrub clean with a brush under water.

here's no doubt - America's favorite vegetable is the potato. In fact, the average American eats about 124 pounds of potatoes each year. We include potatoes in one of every three meals we eat.

From side dishes, to snacks, to center-stage entrees, potatoes populate our diet. And "diet" is the operative word here, because the 'taters are a dieter's dream.

The scoop on the spud is this: They're virtually free of fat, sodium and cholesterol, only about 120 calories each, and packed with potassium and vitamin C. When baked, broiled, boiled, roasted or even grilled, potatoes can still be low in fat and calories, but high in flavor and energy.

"Use Idaho potatoes for baking, and small new California and so-called Red Bliss potatoes for potato salad," suggests Irena Chalmers in "The Great Food Almanac — A Feast of Facts from A to Z", (Collins Publishers San Francisco, 1994). "Cook new potatoes unpeeled and start them in cold salted water."

Every season is potato season, they're available yearround. Summertime barbecues and picnics wouldn't be complete without potato salad, but does the old "standby recipe" need some pizzazz? Greek Style Potato Salad has the zippy taste of feta cheese and lemon juice.

GREEK STYLE POTATO SALAD

1-5 to 2 pounds potatoes, washed

% cup crumbled feta cheese thoroughly rinsed and drained 1 medium onion, peeled, cut in half, then thinly sliced

½ cup fresh parsley, coarsely chopped

- 1/2 teaspoon Salt-Free Mrs. Dash Extra Spicy Seasoning 3 teaspoon Salt-Free Mrs. Dash Garlic and Herb Seasoning
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- ½ cup lemon juice 2 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 tablespoon vinegar

Boil potatoes until firm but tender. Do not overcook (takes about 15 to 20 minutes). Cool by placing hot pot of potatoes in sink and gently running cold water over potatoes. Drain thoroughly. Cut potatoes into 1/2-inch cubes. Place in a large bowl with the rest of the ingredients and toss lightly, mixing well. Serves 8. (Per Serving: 150 calories, 5g fat, 85mg sodium, 23g carbohydrates, 5mg cholesterol, 3g protein).

A potato can be a main dish! Better-Than-Pizza Potatoes are Italian-flavored twice-baked potatoes. When accompanied by a healthy, fresh green salad, you'll enjoy a low-cal "pizza experience," guilt-free.

BETTER-THAN-PIZZA POTATOES

- 4 medium potatoes, about 6 ounces each, baked 4 teaspoon Molly McButter Natural Butter Flavor Sprinkles
- ¼ teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
- 4 cup red and green bell peppers, chopped
- ½ cup canned diced tomatoes, drained
- 4 tablespoon shredded low-fat mozzarella cheese Mrs. Dash Extra Spicy Seasoning, to taste

Slice open tops of baked potatoes. Scoop potato from shells into bowl; add Molly McButter and mix well. Add oregano, red and green bell peppers and diced tomatoes; mix well. Spoon into potato shells. Sprinkle with cheese. Top with diced tomatoes. Bake in a 350°F. oven 10 minutes or until potatoes are heated through and cheese is melted. Shake on Mrs. Da.h Extra Spicy Seasoning, to taste. Makes 4 servings. (Per Serving: 160 calories, 1g fat, 270mg sodium, 34g carbohydrates, Omg cholesterol, 4g protein). Recipes courtesy of Alberto Culver Company.

Potatoes are also delicious grilled. Kelly McCune, author of "Vegetables on the Grill," (HarperPerennial, 1992), says "potatoes will cook quickly if sliced into rounds or cut into chunks and skewed on metal skewers (the metal conducts heat and cooks the potatoes on the inside."

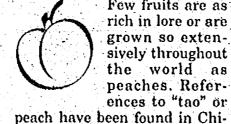

Her recommendations for potatoes on the grill are white, red, Yukon Golds, new potatoes and yellowfins. "These all have a dense texture and buttery flavor and don't dry out as easily as the russets. Look for firm potatoes without blemishes, sprouts, or green spots."

To grill potatoes: Wash the potatoes thoroughly, but do not peel. Slice into rounds or ovals, quarter, halve or cube them. Brush with oil and grill over medium-hot coals for 15 to 20 minutes, depending on size. Potatoes should be tender and browned.

Peaches are ancient history and still news

BY CHRISTINE VENEMA

Few fruits are as rich in lore or are grown so extensively throughout the world as peaches. References to "tao" or nese writings of the 5th century B.C. Not only did the Chinese cultivate the peach, but they believed it was a symbol of long life and immorality. Taken west along the caravan routes to Asia Minor, the peach flourished in the gardens of Persia, where it became know as the "Persian Apple." Later the peach spread to Europe and on to the New World via century.

Yellow-flesh peaches are a fair source of vitamin A. When ripe, they also provide a fair amount of vitamin C, A half cup of sliced raw yellow-fleshed peaches will provide more than 20 percent of the vitamin A you need in a day. But the amount of vitamin A in the white variety is negligible.

There is no set of easy rules for use in selecting peaches. Do not let the pretty blush on the peach fool you. The blush makes peaches look attractive but is no sure sign of ripeness or sweetness; instead notice the background color, It should be a creamy yellowish color. Avoid hard peaches with green background color; they are immature, lack flavor and will the first Spanish explorers. never ripen properly. Medley of melons refreshing

The refreshing juiciness, brilliant color and sweet flavor of melons make them a summer favorite. Melons are low in calories and the red and orange varieties, such as cantaloupe and watermelon, are rich sources of vitamin C and beta-carotene antioxidants which have been linked to lower cancer risk. Nutritious, easy to prepare, and a natural addition to any meal, melons represent what's best about summer eating.

To take the mystery out of selecting the best melons, always look for fruit with good color and avoid any that are misshapen or bruised. Melons develop optimum flavor and juiciness when kept at room temperature and are ready to be eaten when the rind gives slightly at the stem. Once ripe, there are a number of simple, delicious ways you can incorporate summer melons into every aspect of your daily diet.

Start the day with a healthy slice of melon for breakfast, as a refreshing alternative to juice. Make a refreshing hot-weather snack by pureeing watermelon chunks, then freezing the juice into "pops." Fresh melon chunks and lean ham make an excellent luncheon entree. Dessert is a guiltless treat when you combine cubed cantaloupe and mixed berries with plain non-fat

Don't forget to bring melons to your summer cookout. Gently toss cubes of cantaloupe and honeydew in a mixture of orange marmalade, lemon juice, lowsodium soy sauce and fresh grated ginger. Skewer the fruits and cook, covered with a grill lid, over hot coals for two to three minutes on each side. Remove the fruit to a bowl, cover and chill until ready to serve.

Melon's sweetness provides the perfect counterpoint to any fiery dish in a salsa made by combining one cup each of cubed honeydew, cantaloupe and watermelon with a seeded and finely chopped jalapeno pepper, two tablespoons of fresh lime juice and a quarter cup chopped fresh basil. Mix well, cover and chill for at least three hours and you have a moist, tangy topping for plain, grilled fish.

The natural shape of melons make them creative, edible vessels for serving summer salads, light desserts and even cool drinks. Wash and cut a small melon in half and remove the seeds, replacing them with a scoop of low-fat cottage cheese, non-fat frozen yogurt or sherbet, chicken salad or fresh fruit salad. Make your watermelon an eye-catching punch bowl by cutting it in half lengthwise and removing the pulp with a melon ball cutter. Turn the melon shell over and drain. To serve, fill the melon with your favorite iced fruit punch and garnish with melon balls.

Strawberry soup in Melon Bowls serves up fresh fruit flavor in a nutritious serving dish. Serve this delicately-flavored soup as a refreshing appetizer, a light soup course, or dessert.

STRAWBERRY SOUP IN MELON Bowls

- 2 pints fresh strawberries, washed and hulled
- 1 cup orange juice
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon 2 tablespoons plus 2 tea spoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice 2 cantaloupes
- 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch
- Dash of ground cloves
- 1 cup skim milk

Puree the strawberries with the orange juice in a blender or food processor and pour into a 4-quart saucepan. Remove a few spoonfuls of the puree to a small cup and stir in the cornstarch until well blended. Return the mixture to the saucepan, and add the cinnamon and cloves. Stirring frequently, heat the puree over a medium heat until the mixture comes to a boil. Cook for one minute and remove from the heat, stirring in the lemon juice and sugar. When the mixture has cooled, pour the milk into a large bowl and gradually add the strawberry mixture to it, stirring constantly. The soup should be covered and chilled for 3 hours.Cut the cantaloupes into halves, scoop out the seeds and turn them upside down to drain. To serve, fill each melon half with chilled soup.

• The Gleason Family of Plymouth just returned from the Cherry Festival in Traverse City and brought home one of the first batches of sour cherries (they're running late this year because of the cool spring) and were hoping I could provide a cherry pie recipe.

From momma's recipe box: FRESH CHERRY PIE

- 2 rounds prepared pie dough (unbaked)
- 4 cups fresh sour cherries. pitted
- 2 2/3 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
- 1 1/3 cups sugar
- 2 drops almond flavoring or Kirsch
- 2 tablespoons butter

Line a 9-inch pie pan with one round of prepared dough. Set aside. Wash, drain and pit the cherries and place them in a medium bowl. Add tapioca, sugar and flavoring and toss gently to coat. Allow to stand for 15 minute.

Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. Pour fruit mixture into the prepared pie shell and dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Cover pie with another crust or lattice. Bake for 10 minutes at 450 degrees F., then reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue baking for 40 minutes, or until golden grown. Makes one 9-

• Lorna DeSwist of Farmington Hills called requesting a recipe she enjoyed while visiting family and friends in Florida. She claims it was nothing more than a parsley dressing poured over fresh sliced tomatoes. This took some searching, but I stumbled upon this dressing and tried it over fresh tomatoes. Wow!

PARSLEY DRESSING FOR FRESH TOMATOES

2 cups fresh parsley 1/2 cup chopped chives

- 1 cup sweet pickles, drained
- 2 cloves gartic
- Salt and pepper to taste 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1/2 cup red wine vinegar
- 1/4 cup tarragon vinegar

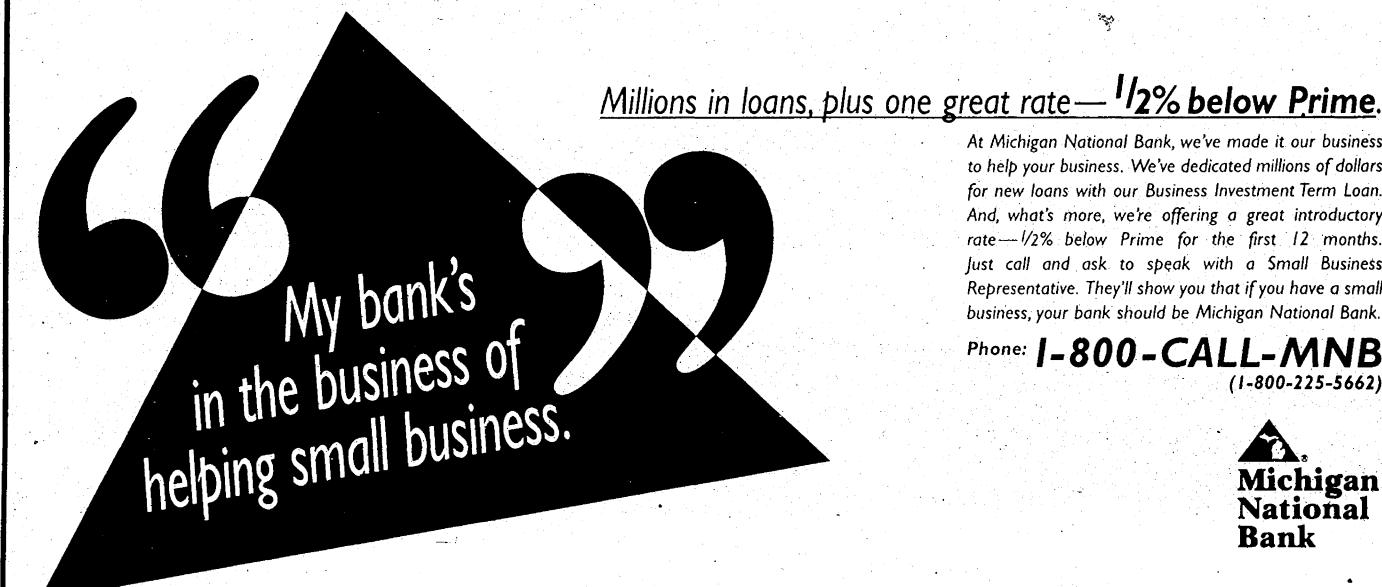

In a food processor, combine parsley, chives, pickles and garlic and process until finely chopped. Stir in oil, vinegars and toss well to mix. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Can be made three days ahead. Serve over a platter of chilled, sliced tomatoes. Makes about 4 cups dressing. Can be kept, refrigerator for up to 2 weeks in the refrigerator.

· Speaking of a cool, healthful way to enjoy the summer, I was really impressed with the new fruit "gelees" by Yoku Moku available for purchase in the Epicure Shop of Neiman Marcus in Troy. Each of these fat-free desserts contains fewer than 90 calories. The price, $27 for eight single servings, might seem a bit ludicrous; however, I couldn't imagine a lighter, healthier indulgence on a sultry summer's eve.

At Michigan National Bank, we've made it our business to help your business. We've dedicated millions of dollars for new loans with our Business Investment Term Loan. And, what's more, we're offering a great introductory rate—1/2% below Prime for the first 12 months. Just call and ask to speak with a Small Business Representative. They'll show you that if you have a small business, your bank should be Michigan National Bank.

Phone: I-800-CALL-MNB (1-800-225-5662)

The discounted introductory variable rate of 7.75% APR is based on The Wall Street Journal prime rate minus 1/2% which was 8.25% on April 1, 1996. Your APR may rise or fall if the prime rate changes. After that, the negotiated rate will apply Offer available for new investment only and excludes small business lines of credit, construction loans, SBA loans and/or refinances of existing Michigan National Bank loans. Loan requires a 1/2% commitment fee plus any applicable third-party cost (such as recording fee, appraisal fees, title search fee). This term loan is a minimum of 60 months. The minimum is $50,000 and the maximum is $500,000. Offer valid May I through September 30, 1996. Member FDIC LENDER Loan must close by October 31, 1996

Sheila worth weight in gold

When it comes to covering community journalism, unlike the big city dailies, those defining moments come with less frequency.

So what happened Thursday night, albeit via television and not witnessed live in person, was a rarity that ranks right at the top in my nearly 19 years on this local sports beat.

Sheila Taormina's gold medal swim, the third leg on the women's 4 X 200-meter freestyle relay squad, is something we should all soak up and let sink in.

The significance of making an Olympic team certainly rivals, or even surpasses achieving a spot

short of remarkable. The last Olympic medalist from these parts was Rex Crawley of Farmington, a gold medalist in the 400-meter hurdles in Tokyo, Japan. Taormina, following a sixth-place finish at the Olympic Trials in the 200-meter freestyle relay, squeezed her way onto the 20-member women's squad content to play the role of stand-in, swimming a preliminary leg to save the arms and legs of the first-teamers so they would be fresh for

Surprise turn of events

The 27-year-old, however, attacked her morning swim if she had something more to prove. And although the U.S. was comfortably out in front and already qualified for the finals, barring a catastrophe, Taormina cruised through the water with the best split among the the four swimmers vying for essentially one relay berth.

"Actually I swim better when I'm in my own race," Taormina said. "I just have to focus on how I trained, even if I'm all alone. It's basically stroke and tempo."

Exciting to watch? You bet.

But I wondered all afternoon, even calling the swimming venue's media center, waiting to find out if Taormina indeed was among the final four

After a massage and lunch, the Livonian had received the good news from coach Richard Quick by mid-afternoon.

The bright lights had suddenly gotten much warmer with an entire nation being introduced to this perky, well-liked and gracious swimmer.

And once her name was called by NBC's Dan Hicks as she paraded on the deck with her three teammates, reality hit home that this was more than destiny calling in our eyes.

Calm before storm

I didn't feel like just another reporter. This story was hitting too close to home. But also I had a sense of confidence that this was going to be a special night for all of us.

She followed her dream even when it appeared she was knocked out. There were financial constraints, shuffling back and forth from area pools, while juggling her athletic career with a job. Everyone I've ever talked to, from her teachers, to her coaches, friends, foes and teammates, never said a discouraging word about her.

She gained unending support from her club, but returned the favor by remaining in her community. She'll never forget the people who embraced her.

Busy schedule awaits

Taormina told me Friday she believes her life will return to normal in a day or two after she returns home on Aug. 7.

Sheila, however, may be in for a big surprise and underestimate the many lives she touched by her gold medal performance.

A lot of people out on the streets of Livonia are talking about her effort and I'm sure it's something they won't soon forget.

On Aug. 10 they're planning a reception at Burton Hollow, the club down the street from her home where she first learned how to swim. The city is planning a series of proclamations, and I'm sure she'll be honored by the Livonia Public Schools.

Taormina was not only a good athlete, but an outstanding student as well.

Personally, it would be nice to see all the businesses in Livonia pay homage to this rare occurrence with a congratulation messages all over

Livonia Travel herds Buffalo

Livonia Travel won its first two games in the National Amateur Baseball Federation Mickey Mantle regional for 15-16 vear-olds.

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Livonia Travel appears to be ahead of schedule in the Mickey Mantle-age (15-16) division of the National Amateur Baseball Federa-

Coach Bill Rabe's team, comprised of all 15-year-olds, got off to a 2-0 start in the NABF regional at Plymouth Salem.

On Friday, Livonia Travel overcame 12 walks from three different pitchers, but turned three double plays to beat one of the tourney favorites, Buffalo, N.Y., 12-4.

Livonia Travel opened doubleelimination play Thursday with a 12-8 triumph over Tennessee Sausage of Utica.

"I think our pitchers had six walks in one inning, but it equalled out because their guys walked a few, too," said Rabe, whose team advanced to Saturday's winner's bracket with a 38-9 overall record. "Defense has been the earmark of our success this year. We didn't make any errors (in the Buffalo

"We're hitting around .370 as a team, but the most impressive thing is that we're playing all 15-year-old team. Most of the clubs we-play are older."

Livonia struck for five runs in the second inning against Buffalo, taking advantage of walks, coupled with a two-run single from Mark Mink and an RBI single by catcher Chris Woodruff, who went 3-3 on the day.

Buffalo, however, got four back in the fourth, all charged to right-hander Dale Hayes of Westland John Glenn. Hayes worked 31/2 innings before giving way to another righthander, Charly Avery, a pick-up from the South Farmington Blues.

The right-hander preserved precarious one-run lead by forcing a double-play.

In the bottom of the fifth, Rabe got a double play and ended the inning by picking off Buffalo runner Eddie Przylicki at third.

He got another DP in the sixth when Bob Malek made an over-theshoulder grab in right field and doubled off another Buffalo player.

Meanwhile, Livonia Travel added five more in the fifth.

Matt Fisher doubled and Rabe singled to open the inning. Avery then reached base safely on a fielders choice, loading the bases. Cory Cook followed with an RBI single and Woodruff walked, forcing home a run. Malek and Casey Rogowski also added RBI singles during the surge. Nick Falvo also brought home another run when he walked with the bases loaded.

In the top of the seventh, Livonia Travel added two insurance runs.

Rogowski singled, Fisher walked and Rabe singled to load the bases.

Avery's sacrifice fly brought home one run, while Fisher scampered home on a passed ball. In Thursday's win, Rabe belted a two-run homer in the third inning, while Rogowski went 3-for-4. Falvo, Fisher and Woodruff each added two hits. Both Fisher, a hardhitting first baseman, and Falvo, a shortstop, also had two hits apiece. Both pickups from the South Farmington Blues as well. Cook, who worked the first 5% innings before giving way to Justin Draughn, got the victory. "We don't have anybody dominating who is going to throw an 85. MPH fastball by you," Rabe said. "But that's why we drafted two other pitchers, Jeff Trzos (of North Farmington) and Kevin Thomas (Redford Catholic Central) in case we get out of the regional."

Complete regional results will appear in Thursday's Observer.

The Diamonds dropped a doubleheader Thursday night to the Livonia Knights, 14-9 and 13-4. The second of the two games at Livonia Churchill was halted by darkness in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Kathy Collins pitched both games for the Diamonds, who dropped to 10-8 with the twin losses, and doubled in two runs in the first game.

She struck out nine, walked three and gave up five hits in the opener then walked seven, allowed six hits and fanned five in the second.

The Knights held the Diamonds to just two hits, by Diana Gustky and Kristy Reinhardt, in the second game. Adrienne Doyle won it for Livonia, going the first four with Raegan Tisher finishing up. Doyle walked three and fanned one.

Jessica Schulte had a two-run double in the third and Lisa Shaw a three-run double for the Knights in the fifth inning of the second game.

Dawn Perttula went 2-for-3, Tisher 2-for-2 and Stephanie Nelson 2for-3 with three RBI for the Knights in the first game.

Gustky had a single and a double in the first game for the Diamonds while Kristin Timpner also had two hits. Heather Gibson doubled home a pair of runs.

The Diamonds only had nine players for each game.

The Knights, 11-7, pitched Doyle five innings to the first game. She allowed five hits, walked four and struck out four.

•LASERS 9-3, HORNETS 3-2: That was the way it was for the Farmington Hills Hornets, who dropped a pair Tuesday to the Livonia Lasers (15-5).

The Lasers took advantage of wildness to score five runs in the first inning of the first game, then held off the Hornets in the second after building up a 3-0 lead.

Leslie Schrock surrendered just five hits for the Hornets in the opener and struck out five. But she took the loss as 10 walks proved too much to overcome.

Winning pitcher Lori Jendrusik struck out eight, walked six and allowed three hits, in addition to going 2-for-2 with a walk at the

The Hornets scored in the second on a triple by Jennifer Emmett plus a fielder's choice groundout by Errin Stegich. They added a run in the fifth on a walk plus an error and tallied again in the sixth when Jennifer Trefilek reached on an error and was singled home by Becky Vosler.

A walk and an outfield error opened the gates for the Lasers in the first. Andrea Kmet, Jessica Sabbadin and Margaret Schultz had RBI hits.

Jackie Ziem got the big hit in the third for Livonia, a single that followed a hit batter and a walk. She moved up on a groundout and scored on Kmet's single...

Sabbadin singled in the first inning of the second game but a pair of dropped third strikes, one with the bases loaded, gave Livonia a run. Losing pitcher Ali Ault fanned five batters in the first. The Lasers added two more in the fourth.

Walks plus an error by Farmington following a sacrifice fly by Kelly Young set things up for a Kmet hit that drove in the second run Farmington Hills got its two in the fourth

Mike Adray inducted

The late Michael Adray, longtime supporter of sandlot baseball in the metro area, will be inducted into the All-American Amateur Baseball Association Hall of Fame. Thursday, Aug. 8 in Johnstown, Pa.

Adray was a longtime sponsor who was involved with three Detroit-area leagues in the AAABA baseball program.

Adray-sponsored baseball leagues produced such Major League stars as Steve Garvey, Orel Hershiser, Pat Sheridan, Jim Abbott, Bob Welch and Frank Tanana.

Also known for his youth programs, which continue today through his family business of Adray Appliance, Photo & Sound in Dearborn, Adray sponsored more than 1,000 little league teams through the parks and recreation program of Allen Park, Dearborn, Inkster, Livonia, Detroit and Royal Oak.

Twenty-Six Class A through E baseball teams also benefit from Adray sponsorship.

The Adray Community hockey program also sponsors more than 50 teams in 28 communities. Other Adray youth programs include basketball, wrestling, volleyball and soccer.

This season, the Adray Metro Baseball Association began with teams from Windsor, Wyandotte, Troy and Birmingham, affiliated with both the AAABA and Class A leagues.

Rutherford excels

With an earned run average of 2.95, Mark Rutherford, a former All-Observer player from Livonia Churchill and senior right-hander at Eastern Michigan University, ranks in the top six in the Great Lakes Collegiate Wooden Bat League.

Playing for the Sandusky (Ohio) Bay Stars, Rutherford has a 3.3 record with 50 strikeouts in 48 innings

ACCOUNT REPRESENTATIVE

A new twist on a successful concept!

If you love variety and are not looking for a steady diet of 8 hour days, this is an opportunity worth exploring. At Market Day, we create revenue for schools by providing restaurant quality food and meat products through fundraising sales...and it's people like you who are responsible for our success. As Account Representative, you must have the flexibility to work closely with participating organizations to make their Market Day events successful. Other responsibilities include planning and coordinating sales events; cash handling and bookkeeping for your assigned accounts. Some days you may work on Market Day events for 4-5 hours while other days you will be free to pursue other interests. Volunteer/service experience or teaching background a plus... If you're looking for a different kind of job that provides the altruistic rewards of community involvement and the financial rewards of working with a thriving organization, call us at 1,800,831

• The movie Kingpin opened this past weekend at theaters everywhere.

It's mostly about bowling, although some of the best sequences are away from the · lanes.

A majority of the film was made in Pittsburgh, mainly because it's remains the only city which still boasts enough tackylooking alleys to resemble the 1970s, even the 50s.

It culminates at the new National Bowling Stadium in Reno. It's a hilarious movie, so 'don't miss it. (See the movie review elsewhere in this edition.)

Stars drop Rams in Adray

The Michigan Lake Area Rams collegiate baseball team was able to control its own destiny in the Adray Metro Baseball Association despite Wednesday's 11-5 loss to the Windsor Stars, a Class A team, The loss dropped the Rams to 12-14-1 in the AMBA, good for 25 points. They were one point ahead of Adray Appliance, which was 11--14. If the Rams beat Adray on Sunday in their regular season finale, they earned a trip to Altoona, Pa. for the All-American Amateur Baseball Association regional.

Details of that game will appear in Thursday's edition of the Observer.

Jake Lawson (Farmington Hills Harrison/Oakland University) was the losing pitcher against the Stars, allowing eight runs (only four earned) in 4% innings. Travis Arbogast and Dave Susalla (Red ford Catholic Central/University of Detroit-Mercy) were the reliev-

Mazda's MPV gets a well-executed makeover

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures"

Mazda calls its 1996 MPV a "sport utility van." What happened to the multi-purpose vehicle tag?

Although the MPV has a lot of versatility, I wouldn't go so far as to say it's a sport utility. It still looks like a minivan.

With that said, the new makeover of the MPV was done with perfection and it really stands out as a new type of minivan, With-its fourth hinged door that swings out - rather than slides — I can see how Mazda can position it as a hybrid between a conventional minivan and the truck-based sport utes on the road today.

What Mazda hopes to create with this new MPV is a new segment in the automotive market. It takes all the attributes of the minivan and sport utes and combines it into the new MPV.

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

has been redesigned up front to provide a much more aggressive look. The new grille and larger bumper allows the MPV to have a much sportier look to it.

Mazda also lengthened the MPV by almost 8 inches (enlarging the crush zone), but its width remains the same. Overall height has been increased nearly an inch because of a redesigned suspension.

does it have four hinged doors, but also it has four windows that have a powerdown feature. That means you can cool down the interior really fast by opening the four windows. On most minivans, you can only roll down the two front windows.

On this inside, you'll find everything flows around the driver and passengers. The dash and instrument panel are almost one piece. The speedometer and tachometer have increased in size to provide better legibility.

Also on the instrument panel, the automatic transmission indicator, other gauges and warning lamps are all located up front and right there in the instrument cluster. In the center instru-On the outside, the MPV One thing I love about this ment panel, the heating and MPV is the fact that not only cooling system, stereo, cup holders and storage compartment are all within easy reach. Even the glove box on the passenger's side has been enlarged.

> There are bigger pockets on all four doors. Passenger assist grips are positioned above three of the doors and are handy for grandma or grandpa to use. Or even a mom or dad who's sore after a quick game of basketball with the kids.

> Here's where the versatility comes in: Interior seating can accommodate five, seven or eight passengers. There's a walk-though area that allows passengers to move from front and rear seats. Also available are captain's chairs for the second-row passen-of cupholders as well. In the eight-passenger version the second row seat is a bench seat with an armrest in the center. It can be flipped forward and used as a table with four cupholders.

The MPV is still powered by the same 3.0-liter V6 from the previous model. The engine's maximum output it 155 horsepower. That's adequate for carting the kiddies around town, but I'd like to see a little more power. If you've got a heavy load, it seems to complain a bit. A 4speed automatic transmission is standard equipment.

There are two drivetrains to choose from: The rearwheel-drive and the 4WD version. The rear-wheel-drive allows better towing capacity, compared to the front-wheeldrive minivans on the market. A load leveling package, standard on the ES and an option on the LX, allows the 2-wheel-drive model to tow up to 4,300 pounds. The 4WD model can tow 4,000 pounds. The package includes automatic load leveling, transmission oil cooler, larger cooling er to remove and has plenty fan and full-size spare tire. The fan and tire are standard on the 4WD models.

> The 4WD version, which was tested, had a center differential that responded quickly to various road and weather conditions with no less than a touch of a button. It gives you a little more traction on wet or snowy roads.

> Also: Dual airbags and anti-lock brakes are standard on the MPV.

The MPV is a versatile minivan. Mazda must be doing something right since the MPV now has a higher owner loyalty than the Dodge Caravan.

1996 Mazda MPV

Vehicle class: Minivan. Engine: 3.0-liter SOHC 18valve V6.

Mileage: 15 city/22 highway. Where built: Japan. Base price: $21,465.
