Observer plans Sunday paper

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers will move its Monday newspapers to Sunday publication to better meet the needs of suburban advertisers and readers.

The change will take place February 1997, vice president and general manager Steve Pope announced Tuesday.

"Our market analysis shows a Sunday environment is better for both advertisers and readers," said Pope. "It allows advertisers to capture the weekend market and offers readers our product when they have more free time in their day. Both readers and advertisers have been requesting this change over the past few years."

"The community character of the papers will not change, and we will continue to emphasize local news," Pope said. "It's our intention to build on our franchise as a dominant provider of local news in Oakland and Wayne counties.

"Our new Sunday publication will embrace all of the features of the Monday newspapers including high school sports coverage, Malls & Mainstreets and our colorful Taste section," said Pope.

The New Homes section which contains stories and pictures of new residential developments will move to Sunday, "That's the day families traditionally shop for a new home," Pope said.

Sunday's coverage also will include health and business and a new fine arts section. The Observer & Eccentric publishes 15 suburban newspapers with a combined circulation of 160,000. The papers had published on Thursday and Monday since 1974, when the Observer and Eccentric groups merged.

The move to Sunday will affect only the 12 editions now published on Monday and Thursday.

TODAY Seniors' center will expand improved services due to a dramatic expansion of the Friendship Center, on Newburgh near Marquette. The project comes as the city's senior ranks grow.

Westland's Friendship Center, a daily social hot spot for hundreds of senior citizens, will undergo a major expansion next year, government officials announced Tuesday

The $630,000 expansion, slated for completion next fall, will allow the center to host holiday parties and other large events without interrupting smaller senior programs, Friendship Center director Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek said.

The project will be boosted by a $530,000 federal loan that the city will repay over a five-year period starting in 1997. The city already has pledged $100,000 for the expanBuilt 11 years ago on Newburgh north of Marquette, the 12,568-square-foot building will be expanded 36 percent to 17,148 square feet.

"We're going to have a spectacular building here when the expansion is completed," Jay Gilbert, Westland's community and housing director, said Tuesday during a press conference at the Friendship Center.

The 4,580-square-foot addition will be built onto the front of the center. It will include a large multipurpose room that can be partitioned into as many as four smaller rooms, architect Scott Sherman

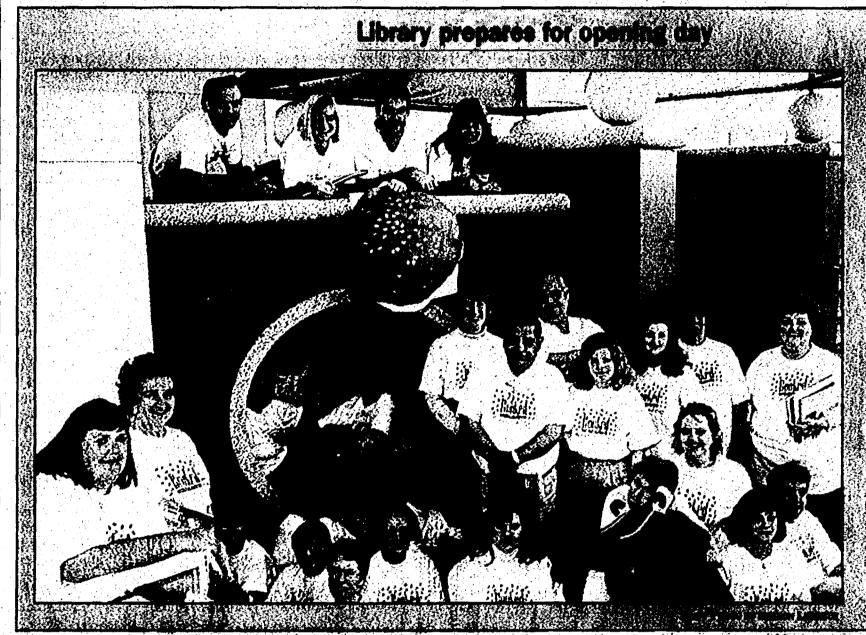

The expansion also will provide additional office space, more restrooms and an automatic entrance to ensure that the Friendship Center complies with the Americans With Disabilities Act, Sherman said.

He revealed drawings of the addition during the press conference.

Bids are expected to be sought in January or February, with construction slated to begin in the spring; Sherman said. The addition should be ready for use by next fall.

High-tech voting set for Tuesday

By Darrell Clem Staff Writer

Westland voters Tuesday will use an electronic voting system for the first time ever in a general election.

"It's really easy to use," City Clerk Diane Fritz said Monday morning, demonstrating the new system at Westland City Hall.

Voters will choose candidates and decide issues using a touch-sensitive electronic screen that will directly record votes. The new system replaces the old lever-pulling method.

One of only four Michigan cities to use the so-called Patriot system, Westland is the biggest in terms of population and voting precincts.

"A lot of communities are watching to see how this goes, because they are interested in it," Fritz said.

The city unveiled the $422,450 system in the Aug. 6 primary, when only 14 percent of Westland's 56,000 registered voters went to the polls. But the real test will come Tuesday, when voter turnout is expected to reach 65 percent. Poll workers have been trained to help voters who may have trouble with the new system.

"The workers love it," Fritz said. "They think it's really easy to use."

In total, 154 electronic voting screens will be placed among the city's 39 precincts, and Fritz expects few problems.

Because vote totals will be electronically recorded, election results are expected to be available sooner than they would have been with the old voting system.

"I'm hoping the results are going to come in faster than they did in the past," Fritz said.

However, the actual voting process at polls may see some slowdowns because of the sheer number of political races and ballot proposals facing voters, Fritz said.

The new system is designed to be user-friendly. Voters looking at the Wayne-Westland school district students have a chance to attend a local career-technical center and gain community college credits toward an associate degree.

The board of education Monday approved a "partners in education" agreement which will enable local high school students to take classes at the William D. Ford Career/Technical Center and gain credits toward an associate degree from Wayne County Community College.

School Superintendent Duane Moore told the school board Monday that the agreement "is a first step toward a hopefully fruitful partnership" with the college and added that it will "provide an excellent opportunity for our students."

The college's closest campus to the district is on Haggerty south of I-94 in Van Buren Township. The Ford Center, on Marquette between John Glenn High School and the school board offices, is much closer.

Westland's voters don't always vote along party lines

Editor's note: Michigan's electoral votes are up for grabs, giving the state a crucial role in this year's presidential election. To judge Bill Clinton's and Bob Dole's chances in the state, The Associated Press is talking to residents in five areas to find out how the election looks to them.

This installment, the last of the five-part series, focuses on Westland. Previous stories looked at Davison Township, Comstock Township, Sault Ste. Marie and Delhi Township.

By Patricia J. Mays ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

(AP) - When Nancy Paton heads to the polls to vote next week, she'll pull the lever with Bill Clinton's name on it - but only because she doesn't trust Republican challenger Bob Dole.

"I'm worried about somebody getting in there that's too conservative. Even though I don't really like Clinton, I'm worried about the environment, helping the poor," said Paton, formerly of Garden City, a single mother of six and full-time student at Wayne State University.

Paton, works part time at a porcelain shop at Westland Center, the city's largest taxpayer. She voted for Clinton in 1992 with almost as much hesitation then as now.

Her uncertainties are echoed by others in Westland, a community of about 85,000 whose days as a Democratic stronghold appear to be over. Political analysts believe that Westland, like Michigan, is one of the swing areas that could be key in this year's presidential race.

Western Wayne County is "the new Macomb County," in the view of Tom Shields, a consultant for Republican candidates with Marketing Resource Group in Lansing.

By that, Shields meant that the traditionally Democratic western Wayne voters now are becoming as difficult for experts to predict as those in Macomb, a largely blue-collar block that gained notoriety in the 1980s as stronghold for Reagan Democrats.

"They're just opposed to everybody," Shields said of western Wayne voters. "They are the most cynical voters."

Although the city council and mayor's offices are officially non-partisan, most of the occupants are Democrats. The two state representatives from the city are also Democrats.

But two years ago, Republican Gov. John Engler got 62 percent of Westland's vote, while Democratic challenger Howard Wolpe got 38 percent.

"Here's an area that is willing to vote for many Democrats on all areas of the ballot but at the top of the ticket, they have been known to change colors," said Ed Sarpolus, a Lansing-based pollster and political consultant.

"Westland should be a guaranteed lock for Clinton but it's one of those areas that could switch very quickly to Bob Dole," Sarpolus said.

The city is growing away from its blue-collar roots and developing into a mix of auto and industrial workers, professionals and managers.

Small strip malls and familyowned repair shops and restaurants are plentiful. Housing ranges from small, one-story brick homes to new, upscale housing divisions, condominiums and apartments.

"We have people from all walks of life," said Mayor Robert

Scott Neiheisel, an unemployed chef, was among the 45 percent of Westland residents who voted for Clinton in 1992. But this year, he said, he probably won't cast a vote for president.

Among other problems he has with Clinton, Neihelsel thinks the president is overly rosy about the economy. "I haven't seen a job, and I've been looking for three months," he said. But he added, "I don't like Dole at all. He's not a people person."

Pauline Mongrain, a retiree who recently moved to Westland, said she thinks Dole is "a little bit old for the job." But she said she will vote for Dole because she doesn't like Clinton's character. "Your choice is limited," she said.

In 1992, Westland voters gave 35 percent of their votes to then-President George Bush with Ross Perot getting 20 percent.

Schools have scheduled a press conference for today (Thursday) to discuss the agreement.

Purpose of the agreement is to provide high school students with a "link to post-secondary education and connect them to careers of their choice," according to an administration report to the board.

Under the agreement, to start next January, the two educational institutions plan a "seamless transition to post-secondary education through a viable partnership which will provide additional opportunities to Wayne-Westland students in proximity of their residence."

Starting in three months, the Ford Career/Technical Center will be a technical training site for designated WCCC classes.

Initially, the classes being proposed will be computer/aided drafting, electrical/electronics, culinary arts, heating/ventilation/air conditioning, automotive technology and office information systems.

Classes will be available on Tuesday and Thursday nights in the initial stage of the program, said the administration.

The Ford Center's administration will select the instructors for each identified course in conjunction with the college.

Curriculum and instruction will be within the structure of the existing WCCC program offerings.

At the same time, the college will restablish an aggressive marketing program (planned to start next month) to insure sufficient program enrollments."

The board and college expect to add more programs next fall.

The partnership means that local high school students can earn advanced placement credits toward a WCCC associate degree, said Greg Baracy, assistant superintendent/general administration, who was involved in drafting the agreement.

"It's a win/win situation," he Baracy said that transfers of credits for other community colleges weren't done before now.

Board trustee Debra Fowlkes said the new partnership will allow the district to "showcase the career center."

Moore earlier said that the Ford center's excellent reputation would attract more students who wouldn't have otherwise attended the center.

Friendship Center braces for a projected 45 percent increase in senior citizen services during the next 25 years, due to an aging city population, Kozorosky-Wiacek said.

The center's dues-paying membership has grown from 400 when it was built to 1,600 now. That number is expected to swell to 8,000 during the next decade, Kozorosky-Wiacek said.

Including non-members, the center already serves some 4,000 seniors a year in some capacity, ranging from Valentine's Day parties to free blood pressure screenings to card games. Kozorosky-Wiacek said she hopes eventually to place six computers in the Friendship Center in an effort to improve a pen pal program that links senior citizens with local students.

"I am very excited about what is happening here," she said.

that the city simply couldn't afford it.

But city officials received notice from U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers that a $530,000 loan would be available from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The city will repay the loan using Community Development Block Grant dollars.

HUD program manager Jeanette Harris hailed the Friendship Center as a model for senior citizen centers.

"It's wonderful to see the center thrive and see it grow," she said.

Mayor Thomas said the expansion has been "the dream of a lot of people." He commended the Westland City Council for supporting the plan. When the addition is built, Thomas said, "it's going to make everybody proud,"

Patchin parents question land sale

Two parents are still fighting the recentlyapproved sale of 12 acres behind Patchin Elementary School, south of Warren Road and east of Newburgh.

During the school board's citizens' comments Monday, two residents voiced concerns over different aspects of the sale, approved by the board Oct. 14.

One, Jack Stange, stressed that the board should have advertised. In the Patchin case, he said, there was no solicitation by the board to see if other developers were interested in the property.

At the same time, he added, the district "bent over backwards" to help the developer who bought the property.

Board President Patricia Brown defended the district's decision, pointing that after board voted on the agreement, a high water table was discovered on the site.

The developer, Dearborn Real Estate Co., then offered several changes, including having residential development near the school.

The developer, which will pay $302,000 for the land, also agreed to donate $10,000 to the district for playground equipment.

Another resident, Shari Clemente, told that the board and administration that she has support of city officials in opposing the sale and expected them to contact school officials. She also questioned why a suggested entrance to the planned condominium from the existing neighborhood to the east wasn't included in the final plan.

Superintendent Duane Moore answered that he only took back several suggestions to the developer and didn't infer that it would be done.

Clemente insisted that she wants to something in writing about the developer's plans.

Stange also commented that he feels that Realtors on the school board shouldn't be allowed to vote on real estate matters.

Although he didn't mention board member by name, his comment drew a defense of trustee David James by trustee David Cox.

Cox stressed when James' background as a Realtor was known when he ran for the seat in the spring of 1995.

James said that when he votes on a real estate matter, "I give it much thought and consideration," adding that he doesn't make any money on the sale or non-sale of land.

Patterson's a no-show on tax cut vote

By Ken Abramczyk Staff Writer

Three of four western Wayne County commissioners supported a 0.25 mill tax cut for county residents during a vote on Tuesday.

But the missing vote from the fourth commissioner — who was absent — was blamed by another commissioner for the board's failure to pass the cut.

Commissioners voted, 7-7, to reduce the county's general operational millage. Commissioners Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia; Michelle Plawecki, D-Redford Township, and Kay Beard, D-Westland supported the measure.

Bruce Patterson, R-Canton. was absent. Plawecki blamed Patterson for the motion's fail-

The vote was split evenly between the suburban and Detroit commissioners.

Joining the three western Wayne commissioners were Edward Boike, Susan Hubbard. William O'Neil and Andrew Richner.

Opposing it were Edna Bell, Robert Blackwell, Kenneth Cockrel, George Cushingberry, Bernard Parker, chairman "It's a perfect example of how he's never here when it matters.'

> Michelle Plawecki -commissioner

Ricardo Soloman and Jewel Ware.

The commissioners eventually approved appropriations for December and an apportionment report, 8-7, that set the millage at 7.929 mills for county residents for the winter tax bills. Beard joined the Detroit commissioners in supporting that move.

McCotter, who seconded the tax cut motion made by Boike, was disappointed it didn't pass. "I thought it was long overdue," McCotter said. "It would have offset the parks millage." The proposed cut would have saved the owner of a $100,000 home about $12.50 in annual county taxes. That amounted to about $7 million for the entire county, McCotter said.

Commissioner Plawecki ripped Patterson for missing the vote. "It's a perfect example of how he's never here when it matters," Plawecki said.

Plawecki said the motion was appropriate for this time of year because it was proposed during the county's budget hearings. The cut offsets the 0.25 parks mill, which is one reason why it was supported by the suburban commissioners, Plawecki said.

Plawecki called the motion a concerted bipartisan effort. "Everyone's pretty much disappointed," Plawecki said.

"I can't tell you the last time (a cut) has been done. It's frustrating. (Patterson) can complain about higher taxes, and here, he's nowhere to be found. Everyone else is here working on the budget and their campaigns, and he's nowhere to be found.

"The residents in Canton need to know that."

McCotter and Plawecki said the tax cut issue would not be revisited this year. "We can't," Plawecki said. "What we established is levy of Wayne County and it can't be revisited until next year's budget."

An aide to Patterson said he believed Patterson missed the meeting because he was out of town on vacation with his family this week. Patterson could not be reached for comment.

A colleague said Patterson was away on a hunting trip.

Commission chairman Soloman also was unavailable to comment on the vote.

Once it became apparent the tax cut was not going to pass, the board acted on the operational millage. Those mills were scheduled for action on the agen-

Beard backed the motion to set the millage rate because she believed it would be "irresponsible" not to support it once it was apparent the tax cut would not pass.

"That would be irresponsible not to vote for it because people are waiting for their tax bills so they can deduct it from this year's taxes," Beard said.

The commissioners approved a levy of 7.929 mills, which included the following: 6.7069 mills for operations, .9532 mills for the county jail, .0189 mills for the veterans trust fund, and .25 mills for Wayne County Parks.

Voters face proposals to amend charter

COUNTY BALLOT

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK STAFF WRITER

With all the attention focused on Tuesday's election with presidential and Congressional races. a stadium tax proposal, state referendums and local races, it may be easy for voters to overlook two ballot proposals to amend the Wayne County char-

Voters will decide whether to repeal charter rules spelling out the duties of an independent auditor and amend the charter to expand the auditor general's

The proposal gives the auditor general - rather than the chief executive officer — power to engage an independent external auditor to prepare an annual financial report. It also gives the auditor general power to audit operations and administration of county agencies to check the compliance with ordinances and regulations.

The second county proposal authorizes appointment of an independent commission counsel to defend the legal rights, powers and duties of the county commission. It also deletes the duties of the corporation counsel in section 4.312 to provide legal services to the commission.

Voters can expect to see additional information posted at the polls, including the following statement. It will not be on the ballot because it exceeds the 100-word limit for proposals.

The auditor general shall:

Make audits of the financial transactions of all county agencies at least once every two years, or as otherwise directed by the County Commission.

■ Make compliance audits of the past or current operations of any county agency, as requested by the Audit Committee of the Commission.

■ Make performance audits of agency operations if requested by the executive officer in charge thereof.

Make a full report to the county commission of each individual audit and file a copy with the CEO.

Ben Washburn, corporation counsel for Wayne County, doesn't want to sound self-serving when he discusses the second ballot proposal concerning corporation counsel. Washburn won't comment on it, but he can describe the quandary for legal

"The charter provides (corporation counsel) the power to represent all county agencies including county commission," Washburn said. "But the problem is it is a position appointed by the CEO (chief executive officor Edward McNamara)."

ELECTION

WAYNE COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT

On Tuesday, Nov. 5 Wayne County voters will select 12 out of 19 candidates to serve 6 year terms as Judges in Wayne County Circuit Court. The salary is $109,257. Circuit Judge John Gillis Jr., and 36th District judges Donald Coleman and Paula Georgette Humphries did not respond to questionnaire requests:

No answer given.

As a young attorney, I assisted a father to reconnect with his children over his ex-wife's objections after 10 years of not seeing them. We negotiated with the ex-wife and her lawyer. Father and children attend family counseling together. The children also became reacquainted with their grandparents and cousins.

Michael James Callahan Elected to open seat on circuit court in 1990. Six years on bench, used more than 2,500 jurors to verdict. Served on Michigan Court of Appeals three times. Assistant prosecuting attorney in St. Clair County 1979-81 and in Wayne County 1987-90. Ordained Catholic priest, 1969-91.

Judge James Ryan, formerly of Wayne County Circuit and Michigan Supreme Court, sits now on Federal Sixth Circuit. He has emphasized judicial training and epitomized integrity and hard work. He is clear in his decisions. Besides, I occupy his courtroom where his wisdom seems pervasive.

Defendants seek requests for lesser included offenses to receive leniency from a jury. In People v. Richard Balley, the Supreme Court upheld my refusal to given a lenient instruction in a murder case and reversed its own 1980 precedent which had thwarted prosecutors. My ruling is a victory for tough not lenient treatment of violent criminals.

William J. Giovan Wayne County Circuit judge for 21 years. Served on two other trial courts; Detroit Recorder's Court, in intervals between 1966 and 1972; and Common Pleas Court from 1973 to 1975.

Some of it is beneficial, such as placing all domestic relations matters under the jurisdiction of one court instead of allowing the possibility of conflicting orders between courts regarding child custody. Several other aspects of court reform legislation are being challenged in court as being violative of the state constitution and federal law.

The best method would be appointment of judges who later run for election on their record. Contested elections are expensive and the cost is ultimately paid by the public. This method preserves the right of the public to remove judges while avoiding the cost and distraction of a contested election when the public is satisfied with the judge.

Appeals was one of the finest judges this country has produced. He was a master of thought and language. He was an eloquent writer and speaker who, in one of his most memorable addresses, said: "Liberty lies in the hearts of men and women. When it dies there, no court no constitution can save it."

When I was supervising judge of the Wayne County citizens grand jury, I wrote an opinion supporting the right of the grand jury to subpoena films from a TV journalist who refused to comply. The opinion was challenged and upheld through the state and federal courts. The films were used to identify and convict the killers of a Michigan State trooper.

Pamela Rae Harwood Wayne County Circuit Judge. Served as a litigation or trial attorney for 10 years before becoming a trial court judge 11 years ago.

"Court reform" relates to many issues. I am concerned that the legislation creating a family court will result in most Circuit Court judges being unable to preside over domestic relations cases in spite of their years of experience and expertise.

I prefer that we elect our judges but I have some serious reservations about the way we do it. For example, it is too difficult for voters to learn about the candidates and to make informed choices. I am also concerned about the implications of judicial candidates raising money.

Jurists who work hard, treat people with respect and who are committed to the law, the profession and his or her personal integrity are worthy of our admiration

A Judge does not distinguish cases by importance because each one is special to the litigants involved.

Our court system is one of the best in the world and many try to emulate it. There is room for improvement but no need for an overhaul. The decisions relating to reform should be relegated to the courts and attorneys that utilize the system with legislature's approval.

While improvements may be needed, the current legislation has created much divisiveness and raises several constitutional and Headlee issues. The proposals of Justice Brickley, supported by the various Judges associations, would have been more productive. The funding provisions threaten the independence of the courts and the separation of powers doctrine.

While I have benefited from campaigning, meeting people and gaining new perspectives about the role of the courts, it is disheartening to know many are elected solely on name recognition or gender. 'Get priorities straight,' Pursell urges

BY VALERIE OLANDER STAFF WRITER

Punches — or punch lines were rolling in a pro/con discussion Monday at Canton Township Hall regarding Proposal S. Wayne County's tax proposition to build two new stadiums.

A roll of toilet paper was one of the props used by retired Congressman Carl Pursell, co-chair of Taxpayers Against Proposition S to get his point across.

Deputy County Executive Michael Duggan didn't bring any props, but took time to reminisce on Pursell's former voting record. Don't forget, he said, "the toilet paper guy" is the same one who voted to allocate $2.5 million in federal money for Detroit's Peo-

Monday forum was sponsored by the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

Duggan countered, saying the stadiums will have a positive effect on the city of Detroit and surrounding suburbs. It will create jobs where they are needed the most, he said. The unemployment rate in Detroit is in the double digits.

In addition to the two stadiums, developers have proposed to build a Little Italy next to Greektown, Magic Johnson has committed to a 20 Theater complex and a nearby residential development is in the works. Also, General Motors has announced plans to move into

Educators outline standards for state English curriculum

BY TIM RICHARD STAPP WRITER

Suppose you are Jay Gatsby. the mysterious Long Island millionaire in F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel "The Great Gatsby." You hear Martin Luther King's speech "I Have A Dream." How do you respond?

That's the kind of question a suburban high school student would face in an American literature course unit of 10 weeks on "The American Dream," said Dr. Charles Peters, a consultant for the Oakland Intermediate School District.

"It's more than writing a book report and regurgitating it, Peters told the State Board of Education. "They learn to synthesize material, not just regurgitate it - but get below the surface and grapple with ideas.

"The Call of the Wild is not. just a dog story. It's about survival and natural selection. 'Heart of Darkness' is not just a trip up the river but a moral dilemma. We ask such questions as, Is the American dream achievable? We get kids to think critically."

Peters led off an Oct. 24 presentation by educators on Benchmarks for the Model English Language Arts Content Standards for Curriculum, followed by speakers from Walled Lake, Birmingham, Southfield and Michigan State University.

Dreams change

The sum of efforts by 6,000 Michigan educators, the benchmarks are written in educationese: 12 content standards each for early elementary, late elementary, middle and high schools. In plain English, they are aimed at integrating the language arts of reading, writing, listening and speaking, as well as getting kids to compare characters in different stories with similar problems.

For example, said Peters, a student is assigned to interview persons from three different generations on the questions: What were your dreams? What obstacles did you encounter? What tools did you use to achieve

The students are asked to draw conclusions and make generalizations. They are asked to keep a dated journal and changed over time.

Their literary sources are classic and contemporary: Twain's "Huckleberry Finn," Steinbeck's "The Grapes of Wrath," Miller's "Death of a Salesman," Time magazine essays, newspaper articles, Franklin Delano Roosevelt's inaugural address, poetry of Maya Angelou.

Students in groups take a character - such as Daisy in "Gatsby" and Willy Loman in "Salesman" - and describe how the character would respond in various situations. "They begin to use the voice and to evaluate," Peters said.

'Phonological Zoo'

Dr. Linda Ayres, principal of Commerce Elementary School in Walled Lake, described how three puppets are used in a ninemonths sequence called the "Phonological Zoo." Funny Bunny teaches rhyming, Cameron the Camel teaches alliteration, and Sally Spider teaches sounds.

Youngsters learn through reading, listening, writing, singing, word games and danc-

"We are very sensitive to the opinions of parents and teachers. Our parent population is very supportive, 98.5 percent, of the academic work," she said.

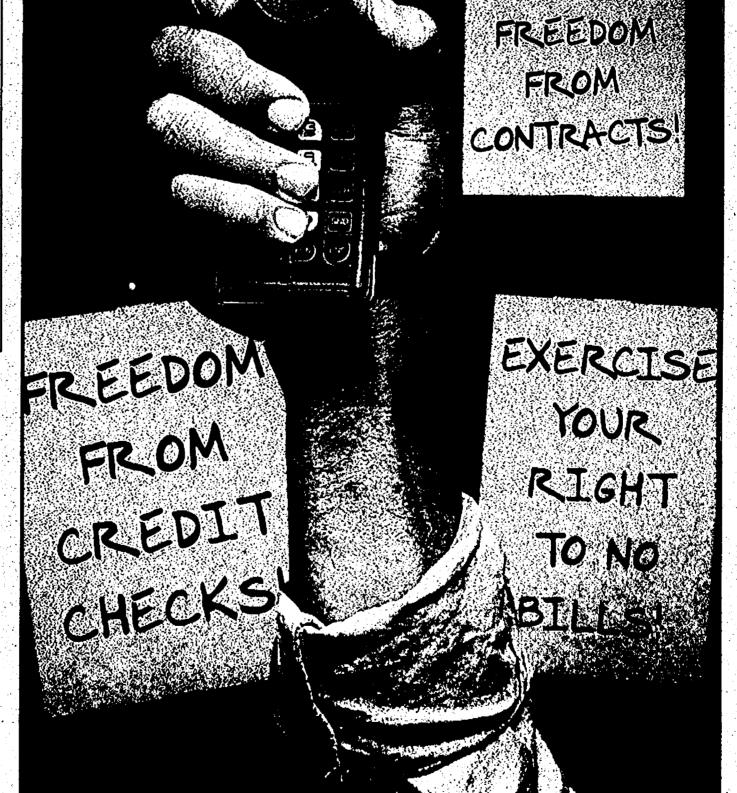

John Klemme, assistant principal of Birmingham Covington School, said the benchmarks define literacy. "We celebrate the power of language as the most important of human gifts. It explores issues of timeless importance - who are we and what can we become? How did our decisions affect others around us?" he said.

Karen Miller, president of the Southfield Board of Education, praised the benchmarks for "providing a framework for teachers to set standards that can be reached.

Writing should come as naturally for kids as brushing their ·teeth. I've watched both of my daughters become comfortable public speakers. They have no 'writer's block.' They learned sentence structure and grammar Pearson predicted the benchmarks would get "two diametrically opposed reactions. First, they're vague, Second, they are intrusive and create too many hoops to jump through.

"These standards are the right compromise between civic virtue and individual liberty. There are many routes schools can take. The standards are respectful of the rights of parents and teachers. Students should be able to use their skills outside the classroom.

"The standards are a roadmap. They leave schools some choice of routes. They are in the great-American spirit of local control."

There were criticisms. In a separate presentation, Dr. Bob Sweet of the National Right to Read Foundation in Washington, D.C., said, "I haven't heard anything about how you measure success."

Dr. Annette Weinshank of The Reading Clinic called the standards "a hope. It cannot possibly do what it says it wants to do." She suggested Michigan educators "produce a coherent statement on early elementary reading that starts where they're supposed to end up."

S'craft board to hear Yack before deciding DDA issue

By Ken Abramczyk STAFF WRITER

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees will wait to hear from Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack before deciding whether to withdraw from a downtown development authority in that township.

Trustees voted 4-2 Wednesday to delay any DDA decision until the board's November meeting.

Trustees Brian Broderick, Richard DeVries, Stephen Ragan and Patricia Breen supported the motion, while chairman Patricia Watson and trustee Carol Strom opposed it. Trustee John Walsh was absent.

The Canton DDA was created in 1984 for an 80-acre area along a strip on Ford Road from Morton Taylor to Sheldon. The DDA is a form of tax increment financing, which allows local governments to "capture" increases in property value to finance infrastructure improvements.

The DDA diverts assessment growth to the municipality that normally goes to the community college. It cannot capture school taxes for K-12 education.

By resolution, Schoolcraft's board can opt out of the DDA.

The Canton Township board agreed on Oct. 10 to expand the DDA boundaries to include 773 acres, stretching from the city of Westland to west of Canton Center Road.

Canton DDA $47,715 in 1997 that will not go to Schoolcraft. Estimates show that figure growing to $57,000 in five years. That figure is currently $14,990.

"We need to ask whether or not you want to continue to not have these taxes come to Schoolcraft," said Butch Raby, vice president of business services.

DDAs and Tax Increment Finance Authorities prevent Schoolcraft from collecting $109,414 in property taxes it normally would receive.

Ragan lobbied for the board to listen to Yack before making a decision. Ragan said the DDA will address "serious problems" along Ford Road. About $25 million in development will be addressed this year, Ragan said.

Breen said her biggest concern was the students. "We'll probably have to increase tuition to offset this," she said before she switched her vote. An earlier motion had been made not to enter the expanded DDA, which resulted in a 3-3 tie vote. In that case, chairman Watson's vote would have carried that motion.

Strom agreed that the roads should be improved, but not with money otherwise directed to students. "But the question is who should pay for that?" she asked. "Should the students and the college pay for that? I don't think they should."

Ragan reiterated that Yack said.

The expansion will give the wanted to address the board before it decided if it would opt out of the DDA. The motion then carried to wait for next month's Yack said he would work hard to convince the board about the DDA's need for Schoolcraft and how the community college and township feed off each other's prosperity.

"Communities like Canton have added a great deal to (the community college's) district, Yack said. "(Canton is) a lot like the goose that laid the golden egg. Otherwise, that goose that laid the golden egg will have a hard time laying the golden eggs."

The DDA will add turn lanes. and infrastructure improvements to draw residents to the area. Yack said the road improvements would ease traffic concerns. If residential assessed values continue to grow, the community college will continue to reap those benefits, Yack said.

Yack was concerned that Schoolcraft would consider opt-

"Canton was willing to give up nine mills of SEV, we're asking them for 1.8 mills," Yack said.

Canton officials hope to initiate the DDA by the year's end, so the DDA can capture in 1997 revenue for the projects that were completed this year, Yack

The council helps oversee the revitalization of the Rouge River with Wayne County. The project is financed through the federally-funded wet weather demon-

Rivers is best

Incumbent merits 2nd term

ncumbent Lynn Rivers is the best choice in the race for Congress in the 13th District.

The Observer recommends voters in Westland reward her solid performance over the last two years and return her to Congress on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

Throughout the campaign Rivers has articulated her views clearly, intelligently and honestly.

Her Republican opponent, Joe Fitzsimmons, although an intelligent and personable man, has been unable to clearly articulate a case for replacing Rivers. His campaign has relied heavily on rhetoric. He offers vague proposals and pat phrases to explain his stand on issues while Rivers provides clear, concise explanations which only serve to demonstrate her understanding of a wide range of complex issues.

The Fitzsimmons campaign also has gone to great lengths to mislead voters and misrepresent Rivers' stands on several issues including the balanced budget, education and her statements in Congress on partial birth abortion. Such tactics smack of dirty politics and are characteristic of a campaign that has no clear direction or purpose.

Rivers is conscientious and hard-working. She has a keen mind for the policy issues and unlike many candidates we have seen come and go over the years she — not her staff — formulates her position on issues.

Throughout her political life — as a school board member, state representative and member of Congress — she has been attentive to her constituents, whatever their political persuasion.

Rivers is also very accessible and visible.

She is tireless and appears committed to serving the public in a positive way. She conducts frequent town meetings, issues forums and community coffees where she comes to listen and inform — not campaign.

Rivers clearly understands the legislative process, knows how to analyze problems quickly and find possible solutions, and deal with her peers in a positive manner.

We believe her support of balancing the budget before cutting taxes, using tax dollars for programs that offer long-term benefits to society such as college student loans and spending cuts such as the welfare reform bill have been responsible and in the best interests of voters in western Wayne County.

Rivers also has advocated that Congress put its own house in order when it comes to spending cuts. She does not spend money like her Congressional colleagues.

In her second year in Congress, the National Taxpayers Union ranked her 427th out of 435 members of the U.S. House in spending to run her House office for staff salaries and benefits, district office operations and franked mail postage. She returned $244,000 of her budgeted allocation to the national Treasury last year. She spent 71 percent of her budget "allowance," the lowest of any member of Michigan's congressional delegation — Democrat or Republican.

Although we don't always agree with all of her views, Rivers' experience, integrity and intelligence make her a solid choice in the 13th District.

The 13th District has a lot of independent voters who want a substantive and ethical person representing them in Congress. That person is Lynn Rivers.

Perot is his choice

Any reasonably intelligent voter in this election year would have to agree with Ross Perot's assessment that: "It doesn't get any weirder than this."

Bill Clinton wants to sell us an over-budget bridge to the 21st century. Hillary Clinton tells us that "It takes a village to raise a child." I agree, but most of us live in large cities. And, Ross Perot wants to pick the skunk up by the tail.

Bob Dole, on his political death bed, looks down the dark tunnel of politics toward the bright light of history and shouts "It's your money."

Joe Fitzsimmons says he is qualified for Congress because he wasn't on welfare.

Meanwhile, the twin 800-pound gorillas of Medicaid/Medicare have gone wild and are tearing a huge hole in the federal budget. But, don't worry, we are told, that will all be fixed painlessly in the future by some independent commission.

None dare call this leadership! I think this year voting booths should be equipped with a new convenience for the electorate – barf bags!

On Nov. 5, I'll be voting for Ross Perot – because, seriously, it does not get any weirder than this.

DeHart best choice for House

Voters selecting an 18th District state representative face a win-win situation Tuesday in choosing between Democratic incumbent Eileen DeHart and Republican challenger Dennis LeMaitre. Both candidates have a grasp on the issues, and they have an admirable history of community involvement.

On balance, however, we believe that DeHart should be re-elected to a second two-year term in the 18th District, which includes most of Westland and the northeast corner of Canton Township. Experience and a proven track record are the key elements that tip the scales in DeHart's favor.

DeHart stepped into her position two years ago ready to work hard, and she has done just that. She had less to learn than many of her freshman colleagues because she had served for more than seven years as a legislative aide to her predecessor, former state Rep. Justine Barns. She already understood Lansing politics before she assumed office.

DeHart is a seasoned legislator who won't have to learn the inner workings of state gov-

In terms of bills passed, DeHart emerged as a leader among first-term legislators. Even though she is a proud Democrat, she is to be commended for her bipartisan efforts. She has supported numerous Republican measures, showing that she isn't afraid to step across party lines to vote on an issue.

"I've learned to vote on the issues, not, whose idea it was," DeHart said during an early-October candidates' forum sponsored by the Westland Chamber of Commerce.

On the homefront, DeHart has been highly accessible to her constituents. Rather than surrounding herself with Lansing politicians, she chooses to drive home virtually every evening to maintain closer ties to 18th District residents.

DeHart's 18th District seat is among the most hotly contested House races in the state, in part because many Republicans see her as vulnerable. Accordingly, her GOP opponents have launched a major offensive in hopes of ousting her from office.

Slick campaign ads have attacked her record on issues ranging from teacher retirement to crime. On the latter issue, the Republican Party has accused her of being soft on crime. Yet several local and state law enforcement organizations, such as the Westland Police Officers Association, feel strongly enough about her anti-crime views to offer their endorsement.

LeMaitre stands out in some areas. As a Westland small business owner, he clearly understands the challenges and needs facing small businesses, which are critically linked to job growth in the 18th District. LeMaitre has much to offer from a broader perspective, as well, and we hope that he remains politically involved. He has strong potential as a future legislator.

On Nov. 5, however, we believe that the best choice for 18th District voters is Eileen

In the 17th District race that includes the southeast section of Westland, state Rep. Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, should be returned to a second two-year term. He faces token opposition from GOP nominee Diane Dore.

Money no solution continue to be astounded at the ignorance and laziness of the American people, not in the area of making money, but in spending money for government services, such as public schools.

In my short life it didn't take long to see that the least efficient way to produce anything is through a monopolized industry. Yet many of us see the answer to all of our problems in government-managed programs. It used to be a mystery as to how an intelligent society such as Germany could possibly follow a leader like Hitler, but not any more, because we are not much better. Not that we have leaders as crazy as that, but we still follow our politicians blindly, and most of you fools will continue to let them increase laws and taxes at every turn, even though no one trusts politicians. All they have to do is say that the money will save the children, or the environment, or some other lie.

Stupid, stupid, stupid. How else could we have public schools that perform half as good as private, for two to four times the price? I thought that public education might deserve consideration. My daughter started kindergarten and the first day she was given a candy brochure and told to go out and peddle sympathy. Later that week at the school open house I was informed, by her teacher, that this year my little girl will learn nothing that she doesn't already know, and the principal indicated that this smart child will go through her elementary education being taught at the level of the slower children in the class (goals 2000). It is easy to see her getting bored, misbehaving, and then being labeled with a psychological disorder of the day. So why am I not enthusiastic at the prospect of paying for a decent education through state sales taxes, millage increases, and private school tuition?

There is no evidence that more funding equates to better education. The best education comes from involved families, but many parents would rather spend my money. How could you brain-dead citizens let state government take over school funding, and then let the local government double-dip through a millage increase? At the rate people are voting away both my money and freedom, I won't be worrying about such trivial problems as public education. The problem will most likely be which big brother program will be giving me permission to live.

Vote 'yes' on college tax issue

Wayne-Westland school district voters will have a money decision to make when they vote at the Tuesday, Nov. 5, election.

They will be asked, along with most of Wayne County, to vote on a 1-mill property tax renewal for another five years, starting in 1998. (People in the Schoolcraft College district, which includes Westland residents in the Livonia Public Schools, will not be voting on the tax renewal.)

The Observer initially was reluctant to urge voters to support the millage renewal, but recent actions by the college and the Wayne-Westland Board of Education made it clear that the educational and political environments are changing – for the better.

Because of that and other recent developments, the Observer recommends a yes vote on Tuesday's millage renewal.

The school district and college Monday agreed to a partnership which would allow local students to take classes at the Westland William D. Ford Career/Technical Center and receive credits toward a WCCC associate degree.

This clearly brings the college and its varied programs and services much closer to local families than its distant campus on Haggerty south of I-94 in Van Buren Township.

WCCC has apparently straighten out its problems and shed its reputation of mismanagement, the Observer urges voters to vote yes on the millage renewal on Tuesday's ballet.

OUR MISSION: "Because we publish community newspapers, we think about community journalism in a fundamentally different way than our bigger competition. Officials supported

As advocates of public education and members of the Wayne-Westland Board of Education, we are writing to let our constituents know who we believe will best represent the students of our school district.

Even though most voters are aware of problems that exist at the state level, awareness is only the first step. Making sure the individuals selected to represent us in the state House of Representatives are true advocates for children is the second step.

That's why we need someone who believes in education for all children and will fight to preserve it while trying to make it better. We believe the individuals best suited for this position are current Rep. Eileen DeHart, Rep. Thomas Kelly and newcomer Deborah Nesbit.

Kelly and DeHart have proven in their first terms as members of the state House that they are committed to making education a priority.

At the national level, there is no doubt that U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers is a true advocate of public education for all children. Rivers has served in the trenches of public education as president of the Ann Arbor school board, and a member of the state House of Representatives.

Unlike her challenger, Joe Fitzsimmons, who has never held elected office, and who has failed to vote in school elections, Rivers brings the kind of knowledge and experience to Congress to get the job done.

By forgetting to vote in school elections, Fitzsimmons has demonstrated his lack of interest in public education. That alone is proof that he is not concerned with providing America's children with the tools for success in the 21st century.

When asked what he was going to do for education, Fitzsimmons replied that he was going to place more technology in our classrooms by having parents and members of the community somehow raise the funding. This is absurd.

! If it is were that easy, we would have raised the millions of dollars necessary to provide the level of technology that is missing. Unlike Mr. Fitzsimmons, we are not all millionaires in western Wayne County.

In one recent newspaper column, he was described as someone who is "blue-collar friendly." Well, that may sound good on paper, but what does that really mean? Ask yourself, has he lived the experiences of the common American family? We need someone like us, who has shared the same everyday experiences we have all faced as working families, not someone who is familiar from a distance.

Lynn Rivers is from a working class family, and she understands the needs of public education. She's still one of us. Her husband, Joe, works for Ford Motor Company in a plant like so many parents in our community. If you believe in America's future and if you believe in providing the best opportunities for kids, then please send Lynn Rivers back to Washington for another term. Please protect public education in our community. It has improved in the past two years. Let's keep the momentum going for the kids of Wayne-Westland.

DeHart supported

Obviously, the presidential cam-paign dominates today's political landscape; however, it is imperative that when you vote on Nov. 5 for the state House of Representatives, you consider carefully the qualifications of the two candidates running in our 18th District.

We have taken the time to examine carefully the records and backgrounds of both candidates. We have, as a result of our analysis, concluded decisively, that Eileen DeHart ought to be returned to Lansing to finish the work she started in her first term. Our examination was in fact quite simple in that Eileen is the only candidate who has a public record to examine.

Eileen DeHart is, as it were, one of us. She's a mother and grandmother albeit a very young grandmother. She belongs to St. Bernardine's Parish, and is a former catechist there. The Michigan Right-To-Life organization recently congratulated her for her three pro-life votes in the last session of the Legislature.

POINTS OF VIEW

As one with legislative experience, she has been on the firing line and has acquitted herself with dignity and aplomb. She then boasts a record of accomplishment. We submit that it is one thing to talk a good game, but quite another to perform when the chips are down. As sad as it is to relate, there are no areas in Lansing where an inexperienced person can go for on-the-job training to learn his job.

Eileen worked as a legislative assistant to then-State Rep. Justine Barns for almost eight years before running herself for the office when Rep. Barns opted to retire. In that eight-year time period, Eileen learned how government operated in Lansing - of particular importance, she learned how government does not work. Eileen learned the subtleties and nuances of government. Only experience gives a person that advantage.

During her tenure with Rep. Barns, Eileen was appointed by Mayor Bob Thomas to sit on the city planning commission. She performed admirably as a planning commissioner before resigning to take her chair in Lansing.

Eileen, like yourself, takes the responsibilities of citizenship seriously. She votes in elections.

Eileen understands the issues. At a debate in Westland (Oct. 3 this year), Eileen's opponent tragically admitted that he had not studied the issues and thus could not answer a simple question concerning credit card charges. We find this entire scenario to be mind-boggling. A person who cannot bother to vote, a person who does not bother to examine the issues, a person who has exactly zero experience in legislative government has the audacity to ask citizens to elect him to the state Legislature.

We don't think you will be seduced by slick brochures, bothersome and erroneous telephone calls, or out and out distortion of the record. We feel you are much too smart to fall for such specious attacks.

a staff member for former Rep. Justine was shocked to learn from an Observer article (Oct. 7) that Dennis LeMaitre (Republican challenger to state Rep. Eileen DeHart) has only voted in one school election out of the past six years.

If his own children's educational system is not important enough for Mr. LeMaitre to vote, how can he claim to have a "commitment to education" that is "unquestionable"?

If Mr. LeMaitre failed to vote to protect his own children's best interests, how can we expect him to vote to protect Westland's best interests in Lansing?

Jack Slatton

Voter confused?

n the past few weeks, I have been I flooded by campaign literature for Dennis LeMaitre.

I am still at a loss as to what Mr. LeMaitre believes in.

While his awards are nice, I fail to see how he would be a "new kind of state representative."

There are a lot of important issues in this campaign, and Mr. LeMaitre's knowledge of them seems minimal, if existing at all.

Joyce Conley

Criticism knocked would like to comment on the outrageous statement in the Oct. 7 issue of the Observer, in which State Rep. Eileen DeHart is accused by her opponent of being "soft on crime."

The truth is that DeHart has been endorsed by numerous crime-fighting professionals and organizations because of her no-nonsense approach to crime.

Endorsements for Rep. DeHart include: Westland Police Chief Emery Price, Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano, Michigan Association of Police, Michigan Police Legislative Coalition, Police Officers Association of Michigan, Detroit Police Officers Association. Detroit Lieutenants and Sergeants Association and the Police Officers Labor Council.

Protect children

am a grandmother who is appalled at our judicial system that released a juvenile (11) rapist to be able to harass and attack the child (7) at school.

Where is common sense today? Where is protection of the innocent and victim? We have a sick society when children are committing adult crimes, but it calls for stricter parental supervision and re-examination of what our (grand) children are watching on TV and videos, even the

God has been taken out of our society and there is no respect for laws (civil or spiritual) towards our fellow man, or elderly woman.

Vulgar language is common practice now, and Karen Meier wrote in her column how she had to protect her children in public from it. Children are not safe anywhere, now, and they too, are becoming criminals.

We need to get our priorities right and provide our (grand) children with proper values of we have lost a generation we never dreamed could be so evil.

God help us and them!

Edna Venturine Westland

Fitzsimmons praised would like to express my support for congressional candidate Joe Fitzsimmons. He is running for the congressional seat in Michigan's 13th District. Unlike his challenger (U. S. Rep.) Lynn Rivers, Fitzsimmons emphasizes passing the balanced budget amendment and cutting income taxes to revitalize our economy.

Fitzsimmons believes in assisting students by protecting educational funding, making student loans more affordable and creating more opportunities for higher education.

Juliette Cox Ann Arbor

Money remains problem in political campaigns

s this year's political season comes down to the last few 20-second-spot-infested days, my own thinking keeps circling back to one thing: Money, the mother's milk of politics.

· I've never seen so much money spent on so many different races.

! It's the millions being poured into the U.S. Senate and congressional contests throughout Michigan, It's the hundreds of thousands of dollars being spent in Michigan on the various state and local ballot proposals. Nationally, best estimates are that something like $1 billion is being spent on the presidential race alone.

Numbers like that tend to bring out the cynic in me.

Frankly, I doubt that much money is being spent solely for idealism or in passionate conviction that paragraph 2(b) in the party platform is really worth it. Big money is going to be put up by smart people only if they see a big payoff quite clearly in the near future.

We certainly have succeeded in creating the ultimately efficient political system. Shorn of the inconvenience of political parties pulling ordinary people into loose coalitions, we have efected a politics in which wealthy interest groups - whether labor unions or trial lawyers, whether developers or conservationists - contend directly for the influence and wealth that arise as the result of governmental acts.

As evidence, consider this year's contests to fill the two posts on the Michigan Supreme

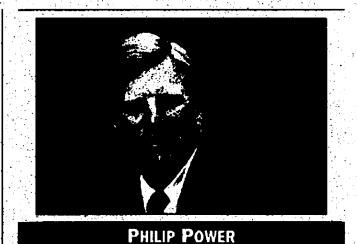

Time was, judicial campaigns rotated around a mixture of name ID (in these parts, Irish helps) and judicial philosophy (whatever that means) and juridical temperament. No longer. Four of the candidates for the court - all sane and sensible people - find themselves sadly positioned as pawns for conflicting interest groups. The Michigan Trial Lawyers Association has thrown its considerable muscle behind one of its own, Court of Appeals Judge William Murphy, a Democratic nominee. As of the most recent campaign finance report, Murphy had raised some $375,000 for this campaign. Of this, more than $100,000 came from donations from members of Southfield law firm, Sommers, Schwartz, and Schwartz.

This despite the naive-sounding advice on campaign fund raising put out by the State Bar of Michigan: "a (candidate) committee may accept unsolicited contributions ... provided that the contributions are not so large as to give an appearance of attempting to bias the candidate in the contributor's favor."

The Michigan Bankers Association ($10,000 per candidate), the Michigan Chamber of Commerce ($5,000 each) and a coalition of hospital groups ($10,000 each) are hardly in the business of tossing big checks around with no expectation of a benign outcome.

With all of this stuff going on, a cynic might suggest that our legal system could reach hitherto unimagined efficiency if each legal brief submitted to our judges also were to include an indication of how much special interest PACs and which lawyers and law firms contributed to their campaigns. Then at least the donors would be better able to correlate the provision of justice to the extent of campaign contributions.

Obviously, that's a low blow. I've known Justice Brickley and Appeals Judge Marilyn Jean Kelly (the other Democratic nominee) for years and respect enormously their thoughtfulness and integrity. Judge Murphy and Judge Gage, too, have fine reputations.

But their ability to convince ordinary people that the application of the law is impartial and fair is being sorely jeopardized by our political system that is increasingly - and sadly - infested with the taint of special interest money.

FAMILY ROOM

KAREN MEIER

Let me count our blessings

■he phoenix is already rising from the ashes - rising from The Letter you saw in the "Family Room" last week. You've been sharing your thoughts, you've been talking at the office, at home, with your moms, husbands and wives about The Letter. Good is coming of it. And I'll share your thoughts here in the "Family Room," like a forum, beginning next week.

But for today, I'll share my thoughts - on one particular passage in The Letter: "... all of us working moms really got upset at how you tried to present to the world what a great blessing having your last 'special needs' child was. One of the women in our group has raised a handicapped child, she has a special education background ... her response to your article on that topic was 'This lady is trying to convince herself that this is something special, she doesn't have a clue ... this will take its toll on the whole family.'

"This" is My Baby. He IS a great blessing. That is neither pretense nor exaggeration. It's the truth. And there's never been a need to be convinced or to convince anyone on that. He is, all my children are, blessings.

Our five blessings

Steven is the youngest of five children, the five children of mine who were granted birth and life. There were others who were not granted this, they were taken from us by way of four miscarriages and one ectopic pregnancy. I lost these children, I still grieve for them.

Steven, though, was granted life. And we rejoice! He was strong enough and spirited enough to make it through. In my experience, that's extraordinary, that's a blessing. And the fact that he was born with Down syndrome declares even more emphatically his strength and indomitable spirit. He made it to me and my husband and our other children in spite of it all. Steven's birth on the way to the hospital on that bitter cold winter midnight on a lonely country road makes his standing in the "blessing" category rock solid. There were no doctors around to assist. The passenger seat I was sitting in was bolt upright. My husband was driving as fast as the slippery roads would permit, when Steven emerged. It was six degrees below zero that night. Not a house, not a soul in sight. And when the van finally came to a stop on that cold, dark night. my baby was in the world and in my hands. God had put him there. And there is no one who can convince me otherwise. And when he wasn't breathing after he had been born, I wanted to scream and cry and shake my fist upwards, "It's not fair, God. Don't do this."

But, instead, it wasn't a fist I saw, it was a hand, my own, wiping the baby's nose off and my husband's hand wiping the baby's mouth out. And Steven coughed and then he cried. He was here. In the world. In our hands. Through it all.

He is a blessing. I will shout it from the top of the highest mountain for no one or for everyone to hear. It doesn't matter who hears, I know it. All five of my children are the greatest blessings I could ever know. That knowledge is in my heart and in my head. There was never a moment when this child's foundation was shaken, when his place on this earth or in this family was in question.

People have told us, "Steven is so lucky to have you as his family."

"No," I tell them. "We're the lucky ones." I don't know what we as a family or I as an individual have done in God's eyes to be granted such a tremendous, precious gift. I do know none of us is paying a toll.

Lots of work

He is work, to be sure. But all children are "work." He goes to school, with me and two of his brothers, each week. He had eye surgery about a month ago. Lots of doctor visits involved with that, lots of trips many miles up the road and bringing the other children along. He has significant hearing loss, the time involved in diagnosing that has been considerable. And what we will do in the future to help him overcome this obstacle will require more time. All of us are willing and happy and excited to do this for him.

That's how it has to be in a family. Because of Steven, our world has opened up, our hearts have opened up.

We've been following a program of nutritional therapy for Steven. We've met with the experts. We're spearheading a national organization to disseminate information about the therapy, This is not a "toll." This is life. And we celebrate it and we cherish it and we embrace it.

Life should never be a cheap proposition, where tolls are counted and blessings are not. If the road is wide enough, if the love encompasses all who travel there, there is no "toll." This fami-

The pumpkins are carved; the candy dishes filled with goodies. Hordes of Power Rangers, Dalmatians, fairy princesses and the usual ghoulies and ghosties are on the move.

It's Halloween, that one time of the year when it's fun to be scary and to be scared.

Halloween dates back 2,500 years to the Celts and their Druid priest who celebrated the "Lord of the Dead" on Oct. 31, the last day of their old Trick or treating comes from the English custom of the poor begging for "soul cakes" for a promise to pray for the dead, while the custom of carving a jack-o'-lantern comes from Irish and English lore. Jack, so the story goes, broke a promise with the devil and as a result had to roam the earth to Judgment Day, carrying only a lantern to light his way.

While some sources describe Halloween as a "children's holiday," the opposite is true. Today's Halloween celebration has become a $2.6 billion bonanza. It is now the second most hyped and celebrated season of the year.

"Halloween is no longer just a day, it's a season," said Dr. Michael Bernacchi, marketing professor at the University of Detroit Mercy. "It's uniquely configured by and for (baby) boomers for them to relive their childhood.

"Not only do they do it for the kids and the family to make it a fun celebration, they do it for themselves."

'Staying a kid'

That's the case at Ken and Chris Karaim's Westland home. Motors from barbecue rotisseries, windshield wipers and the like motorize the little front yard of horrors they create each

"There's nothing wrong with staying a kid," said Ken, who started creating the menagerie of monsters when he was 13. "I always had a blast as a kid and started doing this when Halloween started dying out."

That's when he used the rotisserie motor to power a severed arm that still turns in the graveyard. A motor also powers the legless executioner that drops the guillotine blade on the victim who spurts "blood." And the bones of deer, gophers and pigs help to add to the effect.

Every year the Karaims try to make two new attractions for their display. Chris is the official dummy stuffer while Ken comes up with the mechanical ideas and works out any obstacles to their operation.

This year their son, 6-year-old Cameron, got in the act, stuffing his first dummy, stashed under a bush at the edge of the graveyard.

"As soon as we start putting it out, the kids come by on their bikes to see what we're doing,"

On average, 100 kids visit their home on Halloween. For those too scared to venture near the door, the Karaims bring the treats to them.

"It's fun, lots of fun," he said. "It's a neat oncea-year thing to do, but a lot of people remember the tainted candy. I believe you don't ever do anything to hurt the kids."

Likewise, Ralph and Becky Collins transform their Redford home into a ghoulish display for the kids ... and themselves. They create a haunted house in the front yard, a graveyard beside the garage and hang a six-foot spider in the garage attic.

"We have more Halloween decorations in the attic than Christmas decorations," said Becky. "It's our favorite holiday, and we love to scare the kids."

More than 200 kids visit their house on Halloween, and many who advance to the rank of teen-ager return each year to see what the Collins family has done.

They started out simple with a few gravestones and dressing up for the trick or treaters. Most of their props are homemade, including the 9-foot-tall monster with mechanical arms. Lighting and sound effects add to the scare.

"I honestly think my husband and I both had a ball on Halloween and then it started getting a bad rap," she said. "I think need to see that Halloween can be fun."

Tis now a season

Bernacchi traces the rise of Halloween as a season - "Without it, October would be a humdrum month." - to the 1960s, when the "funloving" boomers left home with a do-your-ownthing attitude, fueled by TV's "The Munsters" and "The Addams Family."

But the defining moment, according to Bernacchi, was the airing of Charles Schulz's "It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown" in 1966. Boomers were blossoming and they were able to take a favorite holiday into adulthood.

But with the tainted candy scares of the '70s casting a pall on the celebration, Halloween moved inside with malls, churches and the like offering a secure environment.

"That made a large contribution to institutionalizing this holiday," Bernacchi said. "The key indication was the holiday was already there, but this was an acknowledgement, like the pope canonizing it.

"For merchants, it was too good to pass up. These days, the marketplace can no longer let themed events happen by chance, they have to orchestrate them and Halloween was a convenient goasena.

If that's the case, then Jean Gagnon fills Bernacchi's bill. She's been decorating her house for some 20 years. Her front yard features scaredom's favorite characters - Dracula, Frankenstein, Wolfman and the Mummy - not to mention an assortment of ghosts, skeletons and flying bats.

"I had six children and always did it," Gagnon said. "When they grew up, they wanted to know Sharon Morris learned to make lemonade out of lemons. She has turned her experience as a breast cancer survivor into a positive one by volunteering for and creating support groups.

For her efforts, the Westland resident will be honored with a YWCA of Western Wayne County's Women of Achievement Award at noon Friday, Nov. 1, at The Fairlane Club in Dearborn.

Morris, who admits she has the gift of gab, was at a loss for words when asked how she felt about winning the award.

"I can't express it; it's wonderful to be recognized like that," she said. The awards honor western Wayne County women in arts/communication, business/industry, government/law, professions and volunteer service and as a young woman.

Those joining Morris as award winners are Sharon Sims of Taylor, Agnes Joan Harrison of Inkster, Jennifer Granholm of Northville Township, Dr. Barbara J. Diamond and Jennifer Baron, a Dearborn Heights resident who has consistently been a leader in school clubs, sports, church and other community organizations.

Sims, owner of Sharon Sims Studio, works with Downriver schools to teach self-esteem by using art to focus on such social issues as substance abuse prevention, education and community pride.

An Inkster resident who has spent 17 years playing a major part in the upkeep of the YWCA, Granholm, as corporate counsel for Wayne Counport personnel on the county's legal Morris.

Diamond launched a program to infuse African-American literature into the reading program in alternative education classrooms at Meek Elementary School in her hometown of Inkster. The success of the pilot program earned her a federal grant to continue her efforts in Inkster and expand the effort into Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

Florine Mark, president and chief executive of the W.W. Group Inc., the largest franchise of Weight Watchers International, will be the keynote speaker at the fifth annual ceremony. Tickets are $25, $10 of which is tax-deductible, by calling the YWCA at (313) 561-4110.

Political correctness takes its toll on words we speak

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO STAFF WRITER

Within the next century language is going to change so dramatically that words like manhole, emancipated, book and overweight are going to be out of our vocabulary, mused writer Christopher Cerf at the Northville Town Hall series recently.

The "Sesame Street" lyricist and the author of "The Politically Correct Dictionary" joked with the audience about the number of strange - yet true words that have been "corrected" so as not to offend anyone.

"These words are not one that we made up; I have a source to prove every one of these things," Cerf said.

"Waitron," he said, has become the new catch phrase for someone who serves a customers' meal at a restaurant.

"'Waitron' has spread like wildflowers' it's even in the latest edition of Random House Webster's Dictionary," said Cerf. "That means that if Betsy Ross was alive today we would have to call her a 'Seamstron.'"

The politically correct term for criminals and thieves got the biggest laugh from the audience.

"Instead of saying that people were stealing or looting, we say that they were partaking in 'non-traditional shopping,' so anyone who's arrested for looting can feel better about themselves," Cerf said. "Pretty soon we'll be calling prisoners 'a client or guest of the correctional system.' We have a wonderful, wonderful tradition of getting people to stop taking responsibility for evil actions."

Another example of the goofiness, Cerf said, is the politically correct word for book - processed tree carcasses. And the "political correctness" trend has even spread to the set of "Sesame Street."

"One person came up to me and said, 'I have to take exception with what you people are doing. I would appreciate you not using the word 'American' on your show because America was named after an Italian explorer. think you should use the phrase Turtle Island," Cerf recalled.

She thought that by using the word "America" that "Sesame Street" was singling out Italians.

What she didn't take into consideration, he said, was that "Turtle Island" is a Cherokee term.

"Sobriety deprived" (drunk), "game management" (hunting), and "pulling non-human animal fibers over a person's eyes" (pulling the wool over your eyes), are also among his favorites.

Cerf is the son of Bennett Cerf. founder of Random House and the host of the "What's My Line" who happens to be among the first speakers at Northville Town Hall inaugural series 1961-1962. As the founding editor-in-chief of Children's Television Workshop's Products Group, Christopher Cerf played a pivotal role in the ongoing funding of the "Sesame Street" television show.

Before joining CTW, Cerf spent eight years at Random House, where, as senior editor, and edited books by such diverse authors as George Plimpton, Andy Warhol and Ray Bradbury.

For the past decade, Cerf has played a major role in the advancement of digital technology as a tool for educating young children. In conjunction with Jim Henson Productions, Inc., he helped create "Muppet Learning Keys," a computer keyboard for preschoolers and was hailed by "InfoWorld" Magazine as one of its "Products of the Year."

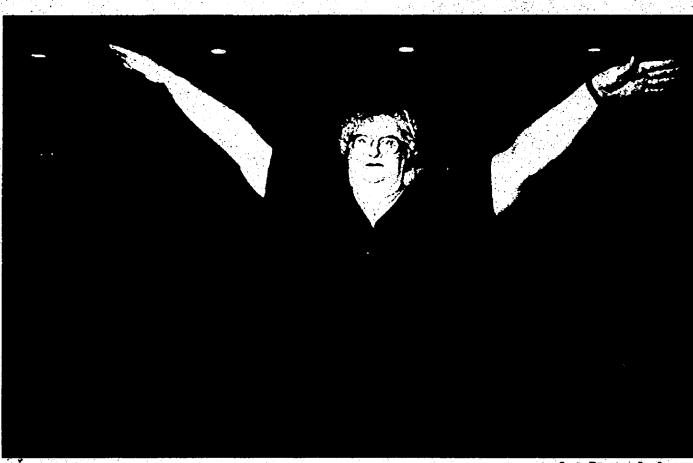

Cerf is best known as a humorist, however. Besides writing "The Official Politically Correct Dictionary," he helped launch "The National Lampoon" magazine in 1970. He is penning a new book about the thousands of quotes with blaring factual errors that he has collected.

His talk took a serious turn when he discussed the new show that he is writing, "Between the Lions." that is designed to teach reading.

It takes place in a library run by lions where patrons can go inside books and the characters come to life. Designed for children ages 4-7, "Between the Lions" will begin airing in 1998.

"We find that so many kids are not learning at home what they used to learn at home," he said. "We'd love kids to watch it a lot and get them up to the reading level where they should be.

"We also hope that parents whose literacy skills are lacking can learn something too."

"I started as a participant because I had an open incision and couldn't move my hand or my arm for five months," she said. "There was another facilitator. I guess I had such a good gift of gab or suggestions that the facilitator saw in me that she talked me into going to Pittsburgh, Pa."

Lorene Lewallen of Garden City heard about ENCORE through material she received after she had breast cancer surgery in 1988. She joined the group to regain use of her arm, so she could continue wallpapering, crocheting, and doing arts and crafts. Lewallen said she has been tremendously helped by Morris, the program, and fellow mastectomy patients.

"The hot tub, the swimming and the arm exercises we do in the water, all of that helps. I consider these gals my friends now," she said. "It's helpful to know that you're sitting across the table from somebody that's had that done to them years ago and look how good they're doing. It gives you incentive to do what they did to get in their shape.

"It's always helpful to know that someone else has gone through the whole process and survived it and is better off for ENCORE member Ruby Ulmer of Dearborn Heights said that Morris is a good source of information about breast cancer.

"She has all the information or she knows where to get it, if she doesn't know," Ulmer said. "She does a good part of the research that's necessary for questions we can't answer ourselves."

Morris meets with ENCORE members from 9-11:30 a.m. Thursdays at the Forum Health Spa, 34250 Ford Road at Wildwood in Westland. My Delivery. My Physician. My Hospital.

"St. Mary Hospital offered so many choices for me, my baby and my family."

When I first thought about where to have my baby, I was sure of a few things: I didn't want to be moved from room to room, I wanted my family to stay with me, and I wanted the back up of a full-service hospital. St. Mary Hospital's new Miracle of Life Maternity Center offered me the choices I was looking for.

My doctor told me about the new maternity center's private, single-room suites, designed to help me feel at home. I'll stay in the same room for labor, delivery, recovery and postpartum care – they're called LDRPs. My ber little girl can visit when it's convenient for me. I can even bave someone stay overnight in my room.

And, the bospital's new Marian Women's Center offers education like Infant Care and Safety classes and a Breastfeeding Program to help us make the adjustment to home life.

For my peace of mind there's 24-hour obstetrical coverage, and neonatology service is available if my baby needs it. State-of-the-art technology includes epidural anesthesia for comfort, and advanced fetal monitoring. All the while feeling very much at home.

Livonia

This large bold handwriting suggests a woman who wants to create a lasting impression on others. She demands room and seems to know how to get it.

She has a magnetic personality, combined with leadership qualities. She is also self-sufficient and relies on herself for what she wants to accomplish. She is determined to overcome obstacles and has many good ideas. She rarely misses a trick.

When starting in on a new activity she may be a tad cautious. However, when she sees it is working she gains confidence and moves forward with accuracy and determination.

Much of her world revolves around what is happening right now. Her main concern is with the demands of day-today living, sociability and herself. She enjoys activities that involve people and she is empathetic and intuitive about them.

She likes to do things on a grand scale. She is able to focus on the large picture of things, while still retaining a feeling for details.

She has the abundant energy it takes to handle her home, family and sundry activities which consume so much of her time. She wants immediate gratification of her desires and does not like to wait.

This is a woman who takes an objective view of situations. She thinks before she acts. There is an aura of control and poise about her. She is not one to share her personal life with many other people. In fact, she can be rather evasive, if pressured for answers.

Our writer is progressive and independent in her thinking. Seemingly, she has jettisoned some emotional baggage from the past. In the early years she did not perceive her parents united in their parenting. There are some things here she feels cannot change, so she she has decided to accept them. A little anxiety is noted. She seems to be very aware of time and uses hers wisely. She may equate time with money. A strong appreciation of what money can provide in creature comforts is hers.

She probably also enjoys sports or some form of physical activity for relaxation.

A lively imagination abounds in the handwriting. It often entices her down the path of new adventures. She is probably a

When she wrote this letter she appeared to be overextended with too many irons in the fire. She was probably finding it difficult to keep things sorted out and to honor her commitments in timely fashion.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1996

Curtain call: Stevenson's Gade Clark closes out his career Friday night.

Durable Clark winding down stellar career

One of the biggest chapters in Livonia Stevenson football history will be written Friday night when the 5-3 Spartans wrap up their season Friday at home against winless Livonia Churchill.

Tailback Gade Clark will play his 39th and final game as a Spartan. The 5-foot-8, 205-pound senior, who has started every game since his freshman year (1993), will take with him a slew of records that may be unparalled for years to

Here is a list of his offensive accomplishments:

•4,527 all-purpose yards. •689 touches of the ball.

•3,020 yards rushing on 592 attempts, averaging 5.1 yards per carry. (This season Clark is enjoying his most productive season of the four with 1,030 yards rushing and 12 touchdowns).

•30 catches for 388 yards. •40 touchdowns (38 rushing, one punt return and one pass reception).

•878 yards on 49 kickoff returns (17.9 per return).

"The other thing that is amazing is 39 straight varsity games (including three in the state playoffs)," Stevenson secondyear coach Tim Gabel said. "I can't imagine any player at Stevenson breaking that record."

As impressive as all his career statistics may be. Clark may be remembered for his quiet. humble demeanor which has gained him respect from coaches, teammates and fellow students.

"He's extremly polite, well-mannered, an easy-going, nice kid," Gabel said. "He's very reserved, not cocky at all. And I bet you couldn't get a kid at Stevenson to say a bad word about him."

Clark, who is black, is also a minority at a predominantly all-white upscale suburban school.

"Gade recently won "Mr. Spartan," which is homecoming king, it's a popularity contest," Gabel said. "The kids love him at Stevenson. Race has never been an issue."

Pronounced "Jade," Clark started in the Livonia Public Schools as a sixth-grader at Tyler Elementary. He was also president of the student council at Holmes Middle School.

"I was pretty much welcomed with open arms," Clark said. "Color was not a factor. I was accepted because I knew everybody. It's been pretty much a smooth ride."

Clark was physically equipped to compete at the varsity level as a ninth-grader. His dad, Danny, coached him in the Detroit Police Athletic League. Danny also played football at Mackenzie High School. His father played football in the service (Air Force) as well.

Jack Reardon, who was Stevenson's varsity coach for 30 years, had Clark his freshman and sophomore seasons.

"He (Clark) had an 18-year-old body back then," said Gabel, who at the time was a varsity assistant. "I remember Jack telling me the kid had a lot of coaching from his dad, and had a good sense of it (football). Every once in awhile he'll give input that's very lucid."

Clark was able to adapt "because I always played with older kids in little league."

"A lot of those guys on the varsity when I was a freshman I had played with before," he said. Clark gained 610 yards rushing as a freshman before dropping off to 447 as a sophomore (splitting time with Scott Goldman). He ran for 933 yards his junior year.

"I think I've improved my running skills as far as reading defenses, knowing where the holes are to get around, and how to use my strength to my ability," said Clark, who bench-presses 325

Clark now eyes Friday's finale with some sad-

It will probably be the last time he lines up along side senior fullback Ken Kulisz, his best friend, and backfield-mate since their days at Tyler School.

'All the seniors will probably be shedding tears," Clark said. "It's going to be emotional.

"But it's been a lot of fun. In four years I've met a lot of people and learned a lot." Clark would like to continue playing football in college, but isn't sure where he might end up. "It's been a long trip," he said. "People go through every year and now it's my turn I

It won't be the closing chapter on Stevenson football, but it will certainly be one of the most memorable.

Spartans drain Walled Lake, 7-0

Barrett predicts win in rematch

BOYS SOCCER

BY BILL PARKER STAFF WRITER

The Spartans wanted a rematch and that's exactly what they got.

Having dropped a 3-1 decision to Plymouth Canton in the Western Lakes Activities Association championship game, Livonia Stevenson's boys soccer team wanted nothing more than another shot at the Chiefs.

When Canton defeated Brighton, 2-1, Tuesday in the semifinals of the Class A regional tournament at Brighton, the Spartans (15-2-1) assured themselves of that rematch by thumping Walled Lake Central (9-10-3), 7-0, in the other semifinal.

Stevenson meets Canton in the regional final, 1 p.m. Saturday at: Sloan Field in Brighton.

It will be the third time the two WLAA rivals have met this year. Stevenson won the first meeting, 3-

But the Chiefs rebounded to win the second meeting and claim the WLAA crown.

"The team really wanted to get to the regional final. They really wanted to play Plymouth Canton again," said Stevenson coach Walt Barrett. "They weren't looking past Walled Lake Central, they just wanted to get another shot at Canton."

Barrett feels Stevenson will come out on top Saturday in the rubber

If there was any hope for a Central comeback it was quickly eliminated in the opening minute of the second half.

Bullock scored off a pass from senior midfielder Paul Tokarsky 18 seconds into the second half and junior forward Ryan Broderick made "We'll win," he said. "I think Sat- it 5-0 when he scored off a cross Ostalecki. Roy's second tally of the game gave Stevenson a 6-0 lead, and Bart Mays wrapped up the scoring a goal with 3:05 left in the game.

"With the conditions the way they were there was no telling what was going to be served up," said Barrett. "All season long Central has been playing great defense and I think all the mud really hurt them. They play a low-zone pressure defense and the defenders have to react. It's tough to react in this mud." Central and Stevenson met on Sept. 25 in WLAA play and the Spartans emerged with a 2-0 victory. Vikings coach Nate Hunter said his team had a shot at knocking off the state-ranked Spartans, but also felt the field conditions played a role in Central's loss.

"We had no footing whatsoever. The field was in horrible condition," Hunter said. "It was difficult to play as defensively as we needed to play against a team like Livonia Steven-

Chargers advance, 3-0

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK STAFF WRITER

Coach Chad Campau wrote a single word on the chalkboard at halftime of Livonia Churchill's regional soccer match against Trenton: Relax.

it was a message his Chargers took to heart Monday night, scoring three goals in the second half to get a 3-0 win over the Trojans and advance to Friday's regional finals.

We were too tense out there," Campau said after the Class A regional semifinal soccer at Ann Arbor Pioneer's Hollway Field.

Churchill had a wide margin in shots on goal in the match, 24-6, but Trenton's defense held the Chargers at bay. Meantime, the Trojans showed breakaway speed at forward.

The game was a little like handling an unexploded World War II bomb for Churchill _ dormant, but with a great potential for disaster.

"That was one of my greatest fears," Campau said. "That they would score and then play defense.

"I was afraid they would score on a corner kick or something, then pack it in (on defense). "But our defense stopped it.

They were playing kickball, but our defense stepped up and held them. Dave George at sweeper takes control of everything for The Chargers got a pair of goals home a long shot from the right side off a nice pass from junior Matt Buzewski in the middle. Trenton goalie Kevin Gallagher had frustrated Churchill throughout the first half, once making a terrific stop of a point-blank shot from just a few feet away. "There was a lot of chipping and getting guys hurt," Campau said. "We played tough."

Trenton had a tall team and used its height fairly well on midfield head shots. It was dangerous on breakaways.

Only one race stands in the way of a storybook season for the Livonia Stevenson girls cross country squad.

Stevenson made it 14-for-14 in meets this season by winning the Class A regional Saturday at Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The No. 1-ranked Spartans, behind junior Kelly Travis' first place finish, ran away with the title? with 43 points. Novi (76) and Plymouth Salem (141) also qualified for state finals, scheduled for 1 p.m. this Saturday at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

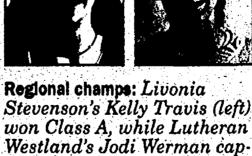

Travis, the defending regional champion, was one of four Spartans to crack the top 10. She is rounding into form after a slow start (by her standards) earlier this season. Travis posted a first-place time of 19 minutes, 11 seconds for 5,000 meters. See statistical summary on page C5.

"Kelly is getting healthy and it's a lot more fun for her now then when she was distressed with physical problems," Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said. "I knew it was coming and I expect her to be fine at the state meet."

"We had hoped to get two in the top five, two in the next five and then two in the next 10 and we'd be right there.

Holmberg expects Sterling Heights Stevenson to challenge his Lady Spartans for the title. Another contender is Traverse City.

finals _ all four classes _ will be held at the Brooklyn site.

"We'll be going up there Friday afternoon and look around at the infield," Holmberg said. "This week will be light, but fast workouts. Not a real tough week. We tapered off a little last week and it will be even less this week."

Two other area runners also qualified as individuals.

Westland John Glenn senior Marjorie Brooks was second overall in 19:29, while Livonia Churchill sophomore Ashley Fillion placed third in 19:34.

Churchill freshman Renee Kashawlic was just two places away from qualifying in 22nd (20:33).

Glenn playoff lock, others need wins, help

BY DAN O'MEARA STAFF WRITER

It's the final weekend of the high school football season for most Observerland teams.

But some will continue on in the playoffs, as long as things go right for them this weekend.

Westland John Glenn is the only team that's a lock for postseason play.

The undefeated Rockets are tied with Clarkston for the lead in Class AA-Region 3, and Glenn will have to beat arch-rival Wayne Memorial to gain the No.

Harrison in A-Region 3 also will qualify if they win.

Lutheran Westland needs not only a victory but a little help in Class C-Region 4.

Even if the Warriors beat winless Lutheran Northwest, they also need Armada (2-6) to beat Deckerville (7-1).

The only other team with a chance is Plymouth Salem in Class AA-Region 2. The Rocks are a longshot, but most teams in the region have two losses.

It's down to the wire for another contest, too. Brad Emons and Dan O'Meara remain tied in the grid-picks battle.

Both were 12-3 last week and have the same overall record, 98-

But there will be a winner; however, we won't know who it is until Sunday night. The outcome hinges on the Catholic League Prep Bowl.

Yours truly is taking Catholic Central in the rematch, while Emons has cast his vote in favor of Rice.

> FRIDAY'S GAMES (all times 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Bishop Borgess at Ecorse, 3:30 p.m.; The season ends where it began for these teams. Borgess has won only two of seven games this year, and one of those wins was a 48-0 romp over the Ecorse in the season opener. The Spartans have lost their last five to finish last in the Catholic Tri-Sectional Division. The Red Raiders (1-6) took their first win Saturday, 30-6 over Taylor Light and Life. PICK: Borgess wins

Garden City at Romulus, 7 p.m.: Both teams bring 1-7 records into this Mega Conference crossover game. Romulus had to battle the tougher Red Division teams and probably played the tougher schedule, but the Cougars also had it rough in the White Division against the likes of Dearborn, Trenton and Edsel Ford. PICK: The Eagles get their second Clarenceville at Flat Rock: The Trojans (4-4) can finish the season with a fourth straight victory. They won their third in a row when they knocked off Hamtramck, 40-27. It looks like Clarenceville might get its wish, too, . since the Rams have only a 1-8 record. Flat Rock has lost five straight since beating Allen Park Cabrini, 21-19. A 26-O loss to New Boston Huron last week was its lowest point differential. PICK: The Trojans take a winning streak into next season.

Churchill at Stevenson: The Spartans (5-3) won't be in the playoffs after two straight appearances, but they've had another fine year despite seeing a fourgame win streak end Saturday at Farmington Harrison. Gade Clark has rushed for 1,032 yards and is Stevenson's alltime leader with 3,020. The hard-luck Chargers (0-8) let a potential victory slip away Friday, North Farmington 14. PICKS: Two votes for Adlal.

Trenton at Franklin: Mega White champion Trenton (8-0) hopes to secure the No. 1 seed in Class A Region 3 with a victory over the Patriots. Trenton routed Redford Union 54-14 for its eighth win in a row. Franklin (5-3) ended Walled Lake Central's playoff hopes with a 17-7 victory and won't be an easy mark for the Trojans. PICK: Trenton wins a close one.

Wayne at John Glenn Nobody has any doubts about the Rockets (8-0), not after the way Glenn dominated Walled Lake Western, 24-0, to win its first Western Lakes championship since 1987. The Zebras (5-3), who snapped a three-game losing streak with a 26-8 win over Romulus, always get fired up to play Glenn and remain a worthy opponent. PICK: The Rockets charge into the Canton vs. Salem (CEP): The Rocks pulled off the upset last year, defeating the Chiefs 28-21. Canton finished 5-4 and Salem 3-6. The Chiefs (4-4) could be the spoiler this year since the Rocks (5-3) still have an outside chance at making the playoffs. Except for Brighton and Battle Creek Central, everyone else in AA-Region 2 has at least two losses. Regardless of what happens, Salem has done better than anyone expected at the start of the season. The Chiefs rolled over Farmington last week, 42-0, while the Rocks defeated Northville a second time, 28-14. PICK: Canton celebrates a win this year.

> SATURDAY'S GAMES (all times 1 p.m. unless noted)

Luth. N'West at Luth. Westland: The Warriors (7-1) are virtually assured of a victory against the winless Crusaders (0-8). But will that hurt Lutheran Westland's playoff chances since Lutheran Northwest is a Class D school and the Warriors get no bonus points for opponent victories? It will still be a close finish in CC-Region 4 between Lutheran Westland, Deckerville and Harper Woods for the third and fourth spots. The Warriors won their eighth in a row Friday, 24-7 over Lutheran East. PICK: It's no contest as the Warriors roll.

Howell at N. Farmington: The Raiders got South Lyon off the schedule and replaced it with another formidable. Kensington Valley Conference team. Howell (5-3) was .500 in the KVC with loses to Brighton, South Lyon and Novi. The Highlanders hammered Lakeland in their last game, 48-13. North Farmington (1-7) railied in the final minute to score two touchdowns and defeat Livonia Churchill for its first victory, 27-14.

(4-3) won't get a chance to defend its Class B state title. Unbeaten Class BB power Dowagiac whipped the Yellow Jackets, 52-0, knocking them out of playoff contention. Country Day might not have one of its better teams but remains a formidable foe, and the Hawks (7-1) need a win to qualify in Class A-Region 3. Harrison played well In its last two games and could be peaking at the right time. The Hawks have won five straight and need to make it six. PICK: Harrison will be in the playoffs next week.

Lakeland at Farmington: The Eagles are a little more Farmington's speed as opposed to the big AA schools (Glenn and Canton) it has tangled with in recent weeks. The Falcons (2-6) have beaten Lakeland (0-8) in the season finale the last two years and hope to make it three in a row. The Eagles have lost all of their games by no less than 20 points; the 13 they scored against Howell last week was their highest total of the season. PICK: Farmington goes out a winner again.

St. Agatha at Benedictine, 2 p.m.: The Aggies dropped to 0-8 after losing to Pontiac Notre Dame Prep, 24-12, and now face a supposedly tougher opponent from the Catholic League Tri-Sectional Division. The Ravens (3-5) have lost three straight and five of their last six, including a 20-6 loss to East Catholic. PICK: It's a winless season for St. Agatha.

Redford Union vs. Thurston, 3 p.m. at Pontiac Silverdome: Redford Union won this game last year to finish 3-6 while Thurston was 1-8. But indications are the Eagles have the upper hand this time. Thurston (5-3) is having a fine season and has won three straight, including a 27-26, overtime victory Saturday over Taylor Truman. The Panthers (0-8) have scored only 39 points this year, with roughly a third being scored Friday in a 54-14 loss to Trenton. PICK: The Eagles earn bragging rights.

SUNDAY'S GAME

Redford CC vs. Brother Rice, 7 p.m. at Pontiac Silverdome: It's a double rematch in the Prep Bowl to decide the Catholic League First Division champion. The same teams played in last year's championship, with CC winning 17-7. Secondly, it's a rematch of the Boys Bowl game in which Rice rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit to win in overtime, 21-14. The key questions; Can CC run the ball more effectively and stop Rice's passing attack? The Warriors (8-0) are assured of a spot in the Class A playoffs, but the Shamrocks O'Meara favors the Shamrocks.

CC gridders earn rematch with Rice

BY STEVE KOWALSKI STAFF WRITER

Thanks to Clarkston and Detroit King, Redford Catholic Central's chances of qualifying for the Class AA football playoffs improved before it took the field Saturday night.

The Shamrocks then took care of their end of the bargain, using a devastating defense to beat previously-undefeated Dearborn Divine Child, 23-6, before an overflow crowd at Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

It was the perfect way to end a weekend that started Friday night with Troy and Detroit Henry Ford, two teams ahead of CC in Class AA Region 3, losing to Clarkston and King, respectively.

The win sends the Shamrocks. 6-2 overall and 3-1 in the Central Division, into the Prep Bowl championship where they'll play Birmingham Brother Rice at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Pontiac Silverdome. A win would likely seal a berth in the state playoffs.

"I'm awful glad to get back in the league race and our players really made the best of it tonight," CC coach Tom Mach said. "We look forward to any rematch."

The victory had even more significance for CC nose guard Rich Deptula, who transferred from Divine Child in the middle of his sophomore year.

The Shamrocks sacked DC's mobile junior quarterback Andy Kisabeth five times and Deptula was in on three of them.

He had one solo sack and shared another with senior linebacker Milam Brooks, who also had a solo sack. Senior linebacker Joe Sgroi had one sack and Deptula, Brian Teefey and Nick Selasky combined on the other.

The Shamrocks enjoyed a 235-102 edge in total vardage and had 15 first downs to the Falcons' four.

"It's great playing against them _ I've been with them all my life and I wish them luck now. But this was for bragging rights tonight," Deptula said. "Everything's been handed to us, now we've got to take control of it. We've got the toughest team in the state. No one has more heart.

No one illustrates the Shamrocks' toughness better than defensive tackle Gino DiGiandomenico and defensive back Nick Mastroionni, who are playing with soft casts on their arms. DiGiandomenico has a fractured wrist and Mastroionni a fractured hand.

"It just weighs a little bit," DiGiandomenico said. "It comes:

in handy on tackles." Junior fullback Chris Dueweke scored on a 1-yard run and led the Shamrocks with 81 yards on 19 carries. Senior tailback Greg Alcala scored on a 4-yard run and finished with 70 yards in 14 attempts, showing remarkable balance on several of his runs.

Senior quarterback Greg Call was busy in the first half, carrying the ball 10 times on the option for 29 yards before settling for 35 in 13 attempts. He scored on a 1-yard run.

The other CC points came on a Answers Call: CC quarterback Greg Call (left) runs away 25-yard field goal by Aaron Rock. When Kisabeth wasn't sacked, he was hurried, completing five of 16 passes for 71 yards. It didn't take long for the CC defense to show its mettle.

The Shamrocks fumbled on their first play from scrimmage. and DC's Dan Deegan recovered at the CC 23 yard line.

The Falcons could gain only four yards in three running plays, however, and a 31 yard field goal attempt on fourth down was wide right.

The Shamrocks then took nearly nine minutes off the clock, driving 72 yards in 17 plays before Rock kicked a 25yard field goal for a 3-0 lead with 1:38 left in the first quarter.

CC raised its lead to 16-0 after scoring on drives of 46 and 38 yards to start the second half.

The Falcons recovered a CC fumble at their own 47 on the last play of the third quarter. Kisabeth directed a nine-play scoring drive that was capped by an 8-yard touchdown pass to Jim Ptasznik with 8:35 left in the game to cut the deficit to 16-6. Kisabeth completed a two-point conversion pass to Ptasznik, but it was disallowed because of offensive pass interference.

That kept the deficit at 10 points instead of eight.

The Shamrocks sealed the victory with a 54-yard scoring drive that ended with Call's 1-yard dive with 4:58 left. Brooks caught a 17-yard pass on third down to keep the drive alive.

Shamrocks knock off U-D Jesuit, 2-0

By Steve Kowalski Staff Writer

With all the water and mud that settled at midfield after a driving rain Tuesday afternoon, Detroit Catholic Central's boys soccer team wouldn't have wanted to start its attack there.

But that would have been the case even on a dry field.

University of Detroit-Jesuit seems to be most vulnerable on the wings, and the field conditions at Southgate Anderson just gave the Shamrocks another reason to avoid midfield.

"We just pushed (Mike) Martin outside," Orsucci said. "The way they play with three defenders flat in the back and double stoppers, I told my outside midfielders (Martin, Pat Griffin and Matt O'Neil) to play as wide as they can get because U-D is extremely strong in the middle."

Martin, a senior midfielder, scored both goals and junior goalkeeper Matt Kessler recorded his fifth shutout as the Shamrocks beat U-D, 2-0, in a Class A regional semifinal.

The Shamrocks, 12-6-2 overall, advance to the regional final to meet the winner of Wednesday's Birmingham Brother Rice-Grosse Pointe South game at 11 a.m. Saturday at Anderson.

U-D, which bowed out with a 15-3-1 record, defeated CC 1-0 in an earlier meeting back in August. .

Playing in such miserable conditions, Orsucci knew the first goal would be key.

The Shamrocks controlled play most of the first half and finally capitalized when Martin turned and blasted a left-footed shot from about 35 yards out past U-D goalkeeper Shawn Alexander with 13:22 left in the first half.

Martin earlier hit the post with a shot and led several rushes on the U-D net only to be turned away. His earlier misses led him attacking the U-D net.

"Their goalie kept sliding out toward me, so instead of dribbling up, I just decided to get him when he least expected it," Martin said. "The ground was wet and we were looking to hit the ball anywhere we could at him."

Kessler preserved the lead with a diving save off a free kick from about 15 yards out with 5:13 remaining in the half.

Martin added an insurance goal with 6:56 left, lofting a shot over the head of the U-D keeper, who must have been at least 40 yards out of his goal.

U-D had a couple nice chances off of re-starts in the second half, but most of the opportunities went wide of the net.

Injuries are a concern for Orsucci, who gave the Shamrocks Wednesday off to heal some aches. Their top marking back, senior defender Brian Lindsay, was only able to play about five minutes due to a leg injury suffered in Sat-to change his philosophy about urday's district final win over Dearborn.

Senior defender Mike Graff played another strong game in his place. Lindsay should be ready to play Saturday.

Adding to Orsucci's concern was the condition of Larry Schmid, who laid out of bounds next to the CC bench the last three minutes after limping off the field.

Schmid recovered in a hurry, however, when the final whistle sounded. He said the team is on a mission, first to beat another possible opponent from the Catholic League, then anyone who remains in the state tournament.

Warren DeLaSalle, a possible quarterfinal opponent, was upset by Troy, 2-0, in another regional semifinal Tuesday.

To think, the Shamrocks didn't even make the Catholic League playoffs.

"I don't even feel anything now. I'll go home, ice up and be back on Saturday," Schmid said. "Everything in the past doesn't mean squat, the states are ours."

ball ahead and hitting wingers with crossing passes.

"They came out and played that kick ball, and clearing it," Campau said. "Our guys played well in terms of catching up, playing the long ball."

Corey Berzac did a nice job of front, too. Late in the game he did good work passing and dribbling the ball backwards to eat up some time.

Bartoletti gave the Chargers breathing room at the 14:39 mark. Gallagher played his shot but it came back to Bartoletti, who dribbled to his left and left-footed it in from the right corner.

At 27:12, Pososki scored his second goal on a header off a kick from the right side by George Kithas.

Mike Skolnik got the shutout, and should give thanks to George for stopping a shot after the goalie came out too far to make a save on Scott Hill of Trenton.

Churchill plays Friday at 4:30 at Pioneer also. A possible opponent is the host team, whom the Chargers defeated, 3-2, earlier this season despite playing the second half a man short due to a Churchill player being red-carded.

Churchill team is able to go this far," Campau said. "It's the best a Churchill team has done, I believe, since the 1990 squad got to the state finals.

"I'm so excited that a

"There haven't been too many Churchill teams go to the regional finals."

Add one more. And with another victory, the quarterfinals beckon.

CC wins for Magni

The Redford Catholic Central boys cross country team won the Class A-Region 5 title Saturday at Royal Oak Kimball - its third regional crown in the last five. years.

The Shamrocks did so without the supervision of coach Tony Magni, whose mother Maria passed away Thursday after a long illness. Assistant coach Gene Grewe filled in for Magni.

The Shamrocks, wearing black patches on their sleeves in honor of the elder Magni, took first place with 60 points.

"We did it as respect to let him know we're thinking of him, said senior John Griffin, the Shamrocks' top runner. "His mother was really nice.'

Rochester Adams, which had the second and fourth top runners, finished second (68) and Birmingham Brother Rice finished third (104), winning a tiebreaker against Rochester.

It was the second time in the last three years Grewe took over for Magni at a regional. In 1993. with Magni at his niece's wedding, the Shamrocks won their first boys track regional in some 30 years.

Griffin led the Shamrocks with a third-place finish in a time of 16 minutes, 22 seconds. Senior Chris Laney was eighth (16:46).

Rounding out CC's roster were Anthony Wolfe, 14th (17:01); Dan Danic, 15th (17:02); Craig. Skalski, 20th (17:12); Joe Hubert, 23rd (17:18); and Ryan Schrieber, 24th (17:19).

The Shamrocks are aiming for a top-10 finish at Saturday's state meet, which begins at 2 p.m. at the Michigan International Speedway.

"We're still under one minute between the first and seventh man which is good," Magni said. "I knew Hubert and Schrieber weren't going to run that well cause they had a real hard run Tuesday (at the Operation Friendship Meet) just to make the varsity. Schrieber was second and Hubert third for us at Operation Friendship."

First place at the regional went to Rice's Ben Evans (16:10). Adams' Adam Cross was second (16:21) and teammate Ken Tracy was fourth (16:23).

It was a young field at the regional, as the four sophomores finishing among the top 10 run-

Magni said one of the keys to the Shamrocks' performance at the state meet is how close Griffin can stay to Evans, who could finish fairly high.

Pioneer regional meet

Four area runners have advanced to the state Class A meet by placing in the top 20 at the Ann Arbor Pioneer regional.

Among the qualifiers are Livonia Stevenson's Mike Felczak, 12th (17:01.1); Westland John Glenn's Joe Wojtowicz, 13th (17:02.4); Stevenson's Rob Block, the Western Lakes champion, 14th (17:03.0); and Livonia Franklin's Josh Burt, 16th (17:04.0.).

Ann Arbor Huron captured the team title with 89 points, while Ann Arbor Pioneer (106) and Jackson (143) took second and third, respectively. Walled Lake Western just missed going to the state meet with 144.

Jackson's Chris Dullock was the individual winner in 16:25.0.

Warriors qualify pair

Lutheran High Westland will be sending a pair of runners to the state Class C meet this Saturday in Brooklyn.

Andy Ebendick took fourth (17:53) and teammate Chris Latimer was seventh (17:55) at Saturday's Ann Arbor Pioneer regional.

Goodrich (85), Flat Rock (87) and Manchester (97) all qualified in the team competition. Riverview Gabriel Richard was fourth with 104, while Lutheran Westland was fifth with 112.

On Oct. 19, Lutheran Westland (6-1 duals) was runner-up in the Metro Conference meet. Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook took the team title with 22 points followed by the Warriors (61) and Grosse Pointe University-Liggett (77).

Latimer and Ebendick took All-Metro Conference honors by finishing second and fourth, respectively, with times of 17:41 and 17:56.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Traditionally, drivers have been urged to grip the steering wheels of their cars at the "ten" and "two" positions, with the numbers referring to the spots they occupy on the face of a clock. However, one look at today's steering wheels reveals that this hand positioning is no longer appropriate. Over the past 50 years or so, the average height of the driver's seat has dropped fifteen to nineteen inches, while the steering wheel has been lowered twelve to fourteen inches. The cutouts to either side of the hub of the steering wheel now indicate that the left hand should be positioned between 7 and 9 o'clock, while the right hand should be placed between 3 and 5. This lowered positioning is easier on the shoulders and helps reduce fatigue. The revised grip also keeps the hands away from the center of the wheel so they will not be thrust into the face by airbag deployment.

Fighting Crusaders lackluster, but triumph

Coaches in general are difficult to please, so it's understandable that Madonna University's Jerry Abraham was less than thrilled with his volleyball team's play Tuesdy at St. Mary's College (South Bend, Ind.).

Oh, the Lady Crusaders won. Don't they always (almost)? They handled host St. Mary's 15-9, 15-7, 13-15, 15-12, improving their record to 35-3.

"We played good enough to win, that's all," said Abraham.

Hard to please, considering his team was coming off one of its biggest tournament victories of the season. On Friday and Saturday at the Big Guns Classic at the College of St. Francis (Ill.), Madonna swept through three top-rated opponents while losing just one game.

The Crusaders beat St. Ambrose (Iowa) 15-6, 15-5, 15-8 Friday, then dispatched St.

VOLLEYBALL

Xavier (Ill.) 9-15, 15-8, 15-4, 15-10 and host St. Francis 15-8, 15-6, 15-9 on Saturday.

"We played our best volleyball of the season in defeating St. Ambrose, and College of St. Francis, who had beaten us earlier this season," said Abraham. "They were at home and they were on fire, and we beat them in three (games). "I don't think that's happened to them (this season) before." Julie Martin (Livonia Stevenson) and Kelly McCausland (Redford Union) each had 17 kills against St. Francis; McCausland finished with 59 in the three matches, while Martin totaled 57.

Martin added 17 blocks (six solo), while McCausland had 18 blocks (four solo) and 19 digs.

Other standouts for Madonna: Meg Paris, 125 assists to kills. 16 digs and six service aces; Karin Sisung, 21 kills, 31 digs and eight blocks; Heather Steinhelper, 21 kills and 26 digs; and Erin Comment, 35 digs.

"It was an outstanding team performance," Abraham added. "I felt our team really raised the level of its play. They played with total confidence and total control, both offensively and defensively."

Against St. Mary's, McCausland led with 19 kills and 11 digs, with Martin getting 16 kills and two solo blocks; Sisung, nine kills and seven digs; Comment, six kills and nine digs; and Steinhelper, five kills and nine digs, Paris totaled 38 assists.

Lady Ocelots place 2nd

Schoolcraft College traveled to Peoria, III. for the Illinois Central CC Invitational last weekend and posted a 3-2" record against some of the best NJCAA teams in the nation.

The Ocelots defeated 11th ranked Kankakee (III.) CC, 15-11, 8-15, 15-5 and the host team, 12-15, 15-12, 15-11 on Friday. Saturday's going was tougher: SC lost to Jefferson (Mo.), 15-5, 7-15, 15-8-7 and eventual champ Belleville (III.), 15 6, 15-7, before rebounding to beat John ... son County (Kan.), 8-15, 15-4, 15-6. Sarah Gregerson, whom coach Tom .:: Teeters said is "the most improved player, playing all the way around, includingors serving and hitting," led the comeback" against Johnson County with five kills in ... the third game.

On Tuesday, the Ocelots lost at Uni... versity of Windsor, 15-12, 15-3, 15-13, ... dropping their record to 24-11.

Gregorson and Jamie Clark (Livonia) Churchill) had six kills each, with Clark adding three service aces and Yvette Sixbey (Garden City) five kills. Michelle ... McRae collected 12 assists to kills.

Ocelots bounced in Region 12

Schoolcraft College, for the first time in more than a decade, won't be making the trip to the NJCAA Inter-regional men's soccer tourney next weekend (Nov. 9-10).

After beating Cuyahoga CC twice during the season (6-1 and 1-0), SC found the third time a charm for Cuyahoga, which capitalized on a defensive blunder to score the game-winner in the waning moments of Saturday's regional semifinal at SC.

The 3-2 win put Cuyahoga into Sunday's final against Lakeland

The official final score was 2-2, but Cuyahoga won on penalty kicks.

"We had a 10-minute breakdown in the first half," said SC coach Van Dimitriou, his team finishing with a 9-7-3 record. "We were up 1-0, and they scored two goals in that 10 minutes."

Kevin Fritz had put SC up 1-0, the assist from Matt Keller. After Cuyahoga went ahead, the Ocelots fought back and tied it before halftime, 2-2, on Garrett Maki's unassisted goal.

It remained that way until the final minutes when, after a goal by Fritz was disallowed because officials ruled he pushed a defender, Cuyahoga took control of play.

With the ball rolling free toward the SC goal, keeper Travis Miller (from Redford Catholic Central) called off the SC defenders and prepared to field the ball. But on a wet and treacherous field, the ball slipped through his fingers, and ended up in the net.

The 10-minute lapse in the first " half seemed to concern Dimitriou ... more than Miller's miscue.

"The same thing happened to us... against Macomb," he said. "We have a 10-minute breakdown, then we come together and play as well as any team we've had here."

*MADONNA 2, AQUINAS 0: After one of their more lackluster performances of the season Madonna University rebounded quite nice-

The win was the second-straight for the Crusaders over Aquinas _ after two years with none at all. They are 12-4 overall heading into the NAIA Great Lakes Independent Sectional Tournament.

The first half of Tuesday's match was ... scoreless, but 20 minutes into the second half Andy Makins (from Plymouth Salem) broke the deadlock, giving Madonna a 1-0 lead. Seamus Rustin iced the win for the Crusaders with an insurance goal 15 minutes ... later.

Breast Reconstruction Offers Excellent Results

By Satish C. Vyas, M.D.

More than 100,000 women in the United States undergo a mastectomy for breast cancer each year. The result is severe physical deformity often causing a broad range of psychosocial problems.

It is surprising to note that data from the National Cancer Institute reveals that less then 25 percent of women who undergo mastectomy are aware of the advances in breast reconstruction techniques.

With available modern reconstruction procedures, women do not have to suffer the disadvantages and disfigurement of the loss of the breast through breast cancer.

What techniques are available? Basically, there are four techniques available.

• First, the available muscle and skin can be expanded by implanting a special balloon (skin expander) which is gradually inflated with fluid over a period of several weeks. Later on, the expander is replaced by a saline implant.

· Second, if there is not enough tissue in the mastectomy area, muscle and skin can be transferred from the back and an implant inserted.

• Third, the surgeon can take excess skin and fat from the lower abdomen, tunnel them under the skin to the mastectomy area, and sculpt the shape of a breast with the tissue available. This technique has the added advantage of giving a tuniny tuck at the same time. Since no implant is used in this technique, the texture and feel of the breast is close to normal.

 Finally, very occasionally, if none of the other three options can be utilized for medical reasons, then a tissue from another part of the body, such as the buttock, can be used through a micro-surgical technique.

The final touches

With all of these procedures, after the breast wound is completely healed, the nipple projection can be made by using local skin. A tattoo with FDA-approved dye can be used to match the color of the nipple.

A consultation with a plastic surgeon should include a discussion. on the most appropriate technique for you, details about the operation, what realistically can be accomplished, and risk factors. Most of all you should discuss all your feelings candidly.

Dr. Vyas is section chief of Plastic Surgery at Oakwood Hospital and Medical Center - Dearborn and a clinical assistant professor at Wayne State University. He is also an artist and a sculptor.

MEDICAL BRIEFS

Research study

Henry Ford's Department of Hematology-Oncology is conducting a research study to test a new drug that may restore the effectiveness of chemotherapy for patients with multiple myeloma, a cancer of the bone marrow.

The study is designed to evaluate whether PSC 833 prevents or overcomes this resistance to chemotherapy treatment. To be eligible, patients must be 18 or older, have multiple myeloma which has progressed following treatment with at least two cycles with chemotherapy drugs Vincristine, Adriamycin and Decadron (known as the VAD regimen) and be physically able to tolerate additional treatment.

Call (313) 876-1856 for information about participating in the study.

Genetic link

Can genetic markers indicate which women will develop breast cancer? The American Cancer Society recently awarded researchers at Henry Ford Hospital $330,000 to support a three-year study to answer this question.

Researchers will study more than 5,000 women who were diagnosed with benign breast disease by Henry Ford Health System physicians between 1981 and 1991. They expect to find that 250 to 300 of these women went on to develop breast cancer.

"Our study is just the tip of the iceberg," said Maria Worsham, director of molecular pathology for Henry Ford. "Hopefully the information we obtain will be an important resource for learning about genetic indicators for other diseases."

Checking bone density

The Medical Fitness Center, located on Farmington Road in Livonia, how has the Hologic QDR-4500 Bone Densiometer for detecting osteoporosis.

This state-of-the-art machine produces an accurate report that will facilitate physicians in the treatment of this condition that is responsible for more than 50,000 deaths every year. It is important that women and others at risk are tested and that the disease is detected at an early stage. The testing takes approximately 10 minutes and requires a physicians prescription in order for insurance to pay for this procedure. Call Medical Fitness for information at (313) 425-5544.

Nail infection breakthrough

After years of research there is an answer for people bothered by fungal nail infections on their feet and hands.

The new medication for this condition is administered in a tablet form, and it has been used in Europe and Canada for the past five years and administered to more than 4 million patients. The results are encouraging with a success rate of more than 80 percent.

Until recently, the problem with antifungal agents prescribed for this problem have been the numerous side effects. The cross reactivity with other medications was considerable and the high incidence of side effects with previous medications made it difficult for physicians to prescribe these agents.

"Even if the medication was prescribed, the success rate was only 50 percent at best," says Dr. Steven Watson, a Canton Foot Specialist, who has treated Fungal Nail Infections for more than 14 years.

"The Fungal Nail Infection can cause other problems including thickening of the nails which can lead to severe pain of the foot," he said.

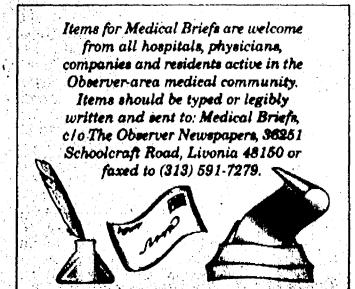

Pancreatic cancer therapy

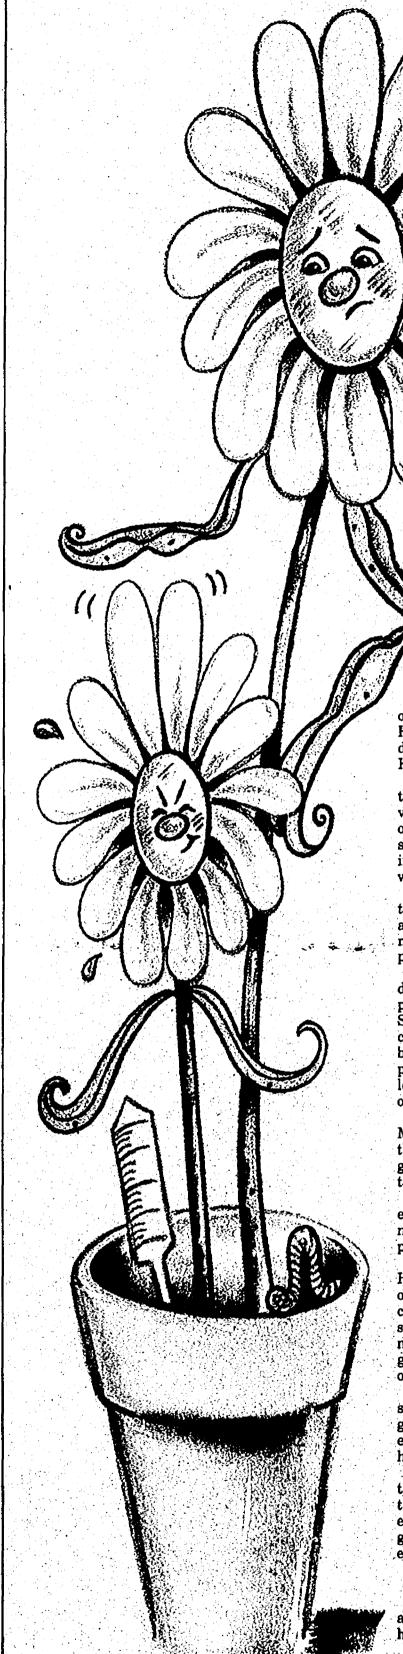

Patients suffering from pancreatic cancer can test an investigational treatment that has shown promise in early studies.

Researchers at Henry Ford Hospital are part of a worldwide clinical trial investigating the drug SMS 201-995. The drug is being tested for its effectiveness in treating inoperable, advanced pancreatic cancer.

Pancreatic cancer is the deadliest of all cancers. Among those with the type of cancer being treated in this trial, fewer than 10 percent would be expected to survive within a year of traditional therapy. Last year, 27,000 Americans died of pancreatic cancer. Nearly 24,000 new cases will be diagnosed this year.

To participate in the study, patients must be 18 or older and be diagnosed with inoperable stage II, stage III or stage IV cancer of the pancreas. For more information, call Dr. Ira Wollner, at Henry Ford Hospital's Division of Hematology-Oncology at (313) 876-1929 or the Research Office at (313) 876-1856.

If only fertilizer helped

For some children, growing up isn't easy

BY DIANE GALE . SPECIAL WRITER

Parents naturally compare their child's height with that of other kids. And if your child consistently comes up short, you've probably wondered what you can do to boost those numbers, including lifts in his shoes and spraying his hair

Serious possibilities, like growth hormones, are a consideration especially when parents worry their children will be overlooked, literally, at the dance, in sports or the business world. But doctors say to be cautious. "Growth hormones are at risk for being overused," according to Dr. Campbell Howard, chief of pediatric endocrinology and diabetes at Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, Mo.

"There are definite proven medical indications for its use and it should be prescribed very carefully by the pediatric endocrinologist or perhaps a few other specialists." Howard said. "We need to keep very strict standards in determining who would be best treated

Growth hormones aren't the only alternative. In some cases, a child's failure to grow adequately can be reversed by looking at nutrition, chronic illnesses and emotional

First, determine how tall the child is at the doctor's office where at every visit the nurse plots growth on a National Center for Health Statistics chart developed from a study of children in Colorado 30 years ago. The numbers show larger children in the 50 to 100 percentile range, smaller children in the lower end of the spectrum and some children off the chart.

Dr. David Rosen, University of Michigan Medical Center assistant professor, noted that genetics play an important role in growth and the charts don't account for patterns among different nationalities.

"In those cases, we try to reassure the parents there is no problem and that they should not imply to the child that growing at the 15. percentile is wrong," Rosen said.

Kimberly Frye, executive director of the Human Growth Foundation, said the agency often receives calls from parents asking for charts based on nationality. Unfortunately, she said, there's no such thing. Rosen also noted that charts don't account for changes in growth patterns since the figures were developed three decades ago.

"Kids are healthier and better nourished in some cases than previously and kids tend to grow faster," Rosen said. "Puberty has gotten earlier, because of better nutrition and

There's a growth spurt 1.5 years into puberty that lasts about six months and then it trails off gradually. If there's a physical or emotional problem, Rosen said, reversing the growth pattern must be done before puberty

Doctors say to avoid trying to figure out how tall the child will be as an adult, like multiplying the child's height at age 2 and adding two inches or averaging the parents'

"There's no real benefit to try to predict the final height by 2 years old," Rosen said. "You create too much concern and if expectations aren't met people are unhappy."

Dr. Kevin Deighton, of Providence Primary Care Physicians of Livonia, said he gets a lot of requests from parents with infants who want to know how tall their child will be.

"But most realize that there's more to life than their height," he added.

Doctors agree that while growth charts have flaws, they remain a valuable tool.

"The red flag should go up anytime a parent is concerned," Rosen said. "If a child is in the 75th percentile during the first year of life and then goes from 75 percent to 25 percent we try to figure out why he stopped growing."

One reason may be poor nutrition. Mom was right. Children must eat their fruits and vegetables. Carbohydrates are also important and fats and sugars should be avoided. If that can't be done, a vitamin supplement is recommended.

"I use height as a good indicator of how the child is developing," Deighton said. "If growth is being stunted, I look for organic causes."

Growth is also affected by chronic illnesses, like asthma, heart disease, infections, cystic fibrosis, kidney problems, Turner's syndrome, a chromosomal deficiency or a host of other conditions.

Lack of appropriate affection could be another reason the child isn't growing adequately. And in rare cases doctors find that the child doesn't have enough growth hor-

"That's unusual and most kids who aren't growing at their parents' satisfaction don't need growth hormones," Rosen said. "But lots of parents would like to give it to them any-

Children grow at different rates, too. Elaine Boria, a Livonia mother of three children, said that although her youngest son is at the bottom of the growth charts, he's progressively moving up the charts and appears to be growing at a normal rate.

"My older son was considered small," she said. "He was much smaller than the other kids and by the end of the fourth year he was every bit as tall. I'm guessing that may happen with my other son."

In other cases, when doctors suspect a problem they carefully monitor changes and if the child still isn't growing adequately, sometimes hospitalization is needed for further

"The main thing that we recommend is that after age 2 or 3 a normal child should grow approximately two inches per year or more," Howard said. "If a child isn't growing two inches or more a year, that can be an indicator to see a health care provider and particularly if the child's height is below the fifth percentile."

than 25 percent end up being seen by a pediatric endocrinologist. "There are a lot of normal children who are genetically small and we need to remember that," Howard said.

Out of 100 children with poor growth, fewer

Rosen stressed that society places too much emphasis on height.

"There certainly is heightism in our society." he said. "Height is unfortunately important. But, people who are 5 foot 1 are as successful as people who are 6 foot 1 and that is the message that parents should be giving their kids whether they are at 90th percentile level or at the 10th percentile level."

THURS, NOV. 21 SMOKEOUT BIRTHDAY

For the past 20 years, staff and volunteers of the American Cancer Society have helped millions of Americans quit smoking by proving to themselves that they can quit a day, and therefore, ultimately, they can quit a lifetime. In a new twist to an old problem, the American Cancer Society is now focusing its efforts on children and teen-agers, because most smokers start before they reach 18.

Therefore, a lot of effort is placed toward pre-teens in the week of the Great American Smokeout. The pre-teen promotion is an hilarious, upbeat program targeted at fifth-through eighth-graders using curriculum, fun goodies, gripping posters, and informative brochures and audiovisual materials to help kids learn about the dangers of tobacco to their health.

On Nov. 21, students participating in the program will "scream" out against smoking in the culmination of the program, the American Cancer Great American SmokeScream. The students will be encouraged to join their healthy, smoke-free lungs to a chorus of screams with their classmates. The American Cancer Society believes that if kids can get through school without smoking, they probably will never smoke as adults.

There's also an opportunity to learn about the dangers of tobacco use in an interactive way. The American Cancer Society's Internet Web site can be accessed through the American Cancer Society's home http://www.cancer.org. On the home page, users simply click on the Great American Smoke-Scream icon to find fun facts. games and contests, and celebrity insights on the dangers of

STORY BY CHRISTINA FUOCO

As a teen in Carle Place, N.Y., fledgling guitarist Steve Vai thought about the day he could play alongside his mentor/guitar teacher Joe Satriani. He never actually thought it would happen, but now, years later, he's joining his high school buddy and Eric Johnson on stage for the "G3 = Three Great Guitars" tour.

"I dreamed about it, but no, I never thought it would ever actually happen to this magnitude," Vai said with a laugh.

Satriani added that it feels natural for the two to play together on stage.

"It feels quite natural now I suppose because I started teaching Steve when I was 15," Satriani said of playing with Vai. "We've known each other for a very long time. We're closer as friends than we are as student and teacher. We went to the same high school and hung around with the same crowd."

"It started out as a student-teacher thing then I guess we just sort of turned into musical comrades. We have so many things in common like

The "G3" tour comes to The Palace of Auburn Hills tonight. The three men are considered to be the most influential rock instrumental guitarists of the past decade. Satriani, 39, has sold more than 7 million records and earned six Grammy Award nominations. Before his solo career took off in the mid-'80s, Satriani moved to the Bay Area of California and taught guitar to Larry LaLonde of Primus and

Kirk Hammett of Metallica. For his 45-minute set, Johnson will play tracks from his latest release "Venus Isle" (Capital), the the song "Cliffs of Dover" from that album. The song also earned the distinction of being the first instrumental track to break into the Top 5 on Billboard and Radio and Records rock radio charts and ranked No. 9 on Radio and Records' 1991 Year-End Chart.

The 36-year-old Vai made his professional career debut in 1980 as part of Frank Zappa's band. Since then he has worked with David Lee Roth, Whitesnake, and appeared as the devil's guitar player in the Walter Hill movie "Crossroads." In mid-September, he released his .Garden" which includes the four-part "Fire Garden Suite."

The show will feature 45-minute sets by each of the three guitarists, and culminates with a jam session which may include a visit from a hometown ax slinger. At previous shows, guests like Chris Duarte, Neal Schon of Journey, Kenny Wayne Shepherd and Gary Hoey have stepped

"We're hoping to draw from a lot of different areas of music - from rock and blues to a guy who permanently plays in vocal bands or instrumental groups," said Satriani who spent years trying to get this tour together.

"That's what we're into. We're the complete non-judgmental touring group. We like bringing people on that'll be like a square peg in a round hole. In essence, Steve Vai, Eric Johnson and myself, we don't really make the same kinds of records. Our guitars sound extremely different. 18-track Epic Records debut album "Fire It's not unusual for us to think about adding somebody like Yngwie Malmsteen, Ted Nugent, John McLaughlin, or Neal Schon. Most guitar players whether they're 18 or 58 have got a history of playing blues, rock 'n' roll, jazz, pop, whatever, but the same thing kind of runs through the veins - it's the guitar, the musicianship, and the love of music. EXHIBITION

Artist uses dots to connect nature, science

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN SPECIAL WRITER

Jim Isakson chooses to see the proverbial glass of water as half full instead of half empty. When his position as a graphic artist with an Auburn Hills' agency was eliminated earlier this year, Isakson viewed it as an opportunity to create fine art.

Since then the 31- year old Canton artist, who graduated from Center for Creative Studies with a BFA in illustration, has spent hundreds of hours producing the nine acrylic and gouache paintings on exhibit at the Clique Gallery in Royal Oak.

In the tradition of French Post-Impressionist Georges Seurat. Isakson paints hundreds of dots in an attempt to relay the beauty and mystery of nature and the universe. Landscapes and non-representational abstracts, dealing with subjects ranging from campfires to the cosmos, dominate the show. "It has to do with energy and basic physics, and manifesting particles of energy into a painting. The points represent the intense detail I want to project of whatever element I'm painting. Realism doesn't really present a challenge because there's an automatic end result. Pontillism tends to provoke more of an interest in the subject matter because the dot depicts energy just as the universe which is composed of an infinite number of tiny particles," said Isakson, an admirer of Seurat, Monet and van Gogh. "I hope the viewer will interact with the painting: up close to see how the dots are flowing, then back up to view the entire image."

Pontillism carefully and systematically organizes a series of dots into a pictorial order. However methodical this style appears, the inherent creativity produces a rhythmic movement overiding the discipline of the placement of dots in space. Using cylindrical forms and flowing lines, Isakson paints a perfectly manicured landscape entitled "Green River" after a similar location along the Manistee River in Northern Michigan. This work was juried into the The Art of the Garden exhibition held in March at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens in Ann Arbor.

"I start with a sketch, but sometimes I like to let the brush draw as well. I let the painting talk to me," said Isakson, who graduated from Plymouth Salem High School after studying art with Kris Darby and Dave Falzetti.

"Northfire" captures the color and movement of a roaring campfire on a canvas mimicing the shape of the subject. Look close to decipher the animals typical of the Northern Michigan woods: Amidst the roaring flames, lurk a howling coyote, moose and snake.

"Since I camp a lot I wanted to project the feeling of the fire illuminating up to the sky. The flames are symbolic of the animals found there. Before I start a painting, I paint a mental image in my head and let be the goal I want to achieve," Isakson said.

The fact that Isakson's paintings stimulate the imagination is the reason Elaine Redmond invited him to show at the gallery coowned with her daughter Eve. Both are photographers.

"With Jim's work you can see every mark he's made. It almost encapsulates time. While they're realistic, it opens up the imagination because he abstracts the form. It's a Rorschach test. There's no sharpness. It's all organic. The whole feeling is very flowing and comforting," said Elaine Redmond. "And the technique in itself is so amazing, the labor intensiveness of Surge: The Power of the Dot

Woodcut artist keeps Japanese tradition alive

Michael McCullough was The Redford studying for a marketing degree resident stayed at Eastern Michigan University though to earn when he realized the suit and tie business world wasn't for him. a BFA from EMU in 1993. By day, he carves bears, deer, zebra, school people, lighthouses, and LINDA ANN still life into blocks of birch plywood to create woodcuts. At night, he waits tables in an Italian restaurant in Southfield to pay the bills.

McCullough will bring twenty of his woodcut images to the Schoolcraft College Foundation Fall Craft Show Nov. 9-10 in Livonia. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $1.50 adults, 50 cents for children ages 5-12, under age 5 free.

"I decided to change to art, I liked the black and white of pen and ink, so I took four or five print making classes with Richard Fairfield," said McCullough, a graduate of. Churchill High School in Livonia.

"I like the printing aspect of the woodcut medium and to work with wood. Both my dad and grandfather taught industrial arts. I like the hardness of the image and the sharp lines that a hand-carved and individually rubbed woodcut produces."

Since March, the 31- year old artist has created a body of work, primarily printed in black and white. Limited to editions of approximately 100, the woodcuts range in price from $25 to $65.

"Everything's done in reverse so you have to work backwards. After I've finished carving, the image is inked and a piece of rice paper laid over it. I then use a wooden spoon to pressure the paper. I reink the surface two or three times before completed. It's not like a press where you can do one after another," said McCullough.

"I love the old Japanese wood blocks when they made everything to appear flat. The history of this medium is important to me. Theirs was done on rice paper, but it was a lot thinner. The flattening was so there was not a lot of depth," said

McCullough. "Since I didn't invent this, it's important to keep with the tradition of the style, but to use more Americanized style."

A Northern Michigan forest of trees is background for a lone whitetail deer in one of the woodcut images. Mischievous bear cubs climb the trees in another print. The trees form a vertical screen from which the animals seem to peer out.

Earl and Alice Spuck purchased one of McCullough's bear prints at the Old Village Craft Fair in Plymouth earlier this month. Once framed, they plan to hang it in the family room of their Canton home.

"They were fun bears. They had personality," said Earl Spuck when asked why he bought the print.

"It reminded us of our cabin in Canada or places we'd visited.' added Alice. "The scene makes us feel like we're there when we can't be there."

More than 150 artists and crafters will take part in the juried show at Schoolcraft College, now in its eighth year. Proceeds from admission and booth fees will go to the Schoolcraft College Foundation Scholarship Fund.

"We have two gymnasiums chock full of a variety of arts and

UKRAINIAN SHOW TO OPEN

An art exhibition commemorating the fifth anniversary of Ukraine's independence opens with a reception 1:30-4:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 3, at Biegas Gallery, 35 E, Grand River in Detroit.

Among the 65 Ukrainian, Canadian and American artists displaying their paintings, ceramics, photography, and batiks are Livonia Chamber of Commerce membership director Chrystyna Nykorak; Mychaijlo Cmytrenko, who painted the icons at Immaculate Conception Church in Hamtramck; Detroit photographer Dan Graschuck; mixed media artist, Alexander Tkachenko, and ceramist Wendy Walgate, a graduate of Cranbrook Academy of Arts in Bloomfield Hills.

In 1991, after more than 70 years of communist rule within the Societ Union, Ukraine declared its independence. This enabled artists to create work free of the former regime's decree that art should reflect communist ideology.

Hours are noon to 6 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, or by appointment. For more information call the gallery at (313) 961-0634.

Schoolcraft's 'All My Sons' masterful production

Schoolcraft College in Livonia presents Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, Nov. 1-2 (sold-out), and Nov. 8-9 in the Waterman Center on campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. Theater tick-$6.50. Call reservations/information: (313) 462-4409.

BY BOB WEIBEL SPECIAL WRITER

Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" is akin to viewing a rogue tidal wave. It begins innocently enough far from shore. Unseen forces propel it along. As you become aware of its potential, nothing can prepare you for the final power and fury of the waves surging and crashing over the rocks exposing deep, dark secrets of the sea.

Director Jim Hartman and his Schoolcraft College cast and crew do a masterful job of staging Miller's classic drama. Their final act of "All My Sons" builds tension and sustains suspense as few other shows in recent memory. Although it's a student production with performers of varying skills and experience, this pales in comparison to a very satisfying overall effect.

As with much of Miller's work, the play deals with an idealistic son and a guilty father.

The time is shortly after World War II. The boys have come home from the war, but not all is well in the Keller home. One son, Larry, has been killed (the mother refuses to believe he is dead). We learn that the father may have been involved in manufacturing faulty aircraft parts that led to pilot deaths. His partner is Brian Taylor does an excellent job as the middle-age father, Joe Keller. (Someone needs to improve his stomach padding, however. It's too obvious.) 'Swingers' picks up on cocktail culture

MONAGHAN

They enter the cocktail lounge in search of "digits," or telephone numbers, of any 'baby" worth their attention. Trent, the smoothest of the group, walks up to one and starts talking.

Strolling away, his back to her, number in hand, he rips the paper up for the benefit of his friends. Cold.

"As harsh as it is, as harsh as the dialogue sounds, I think it's brutally honest," says director Doug Liman, sipping a monster martini at Hamtramck's Motor Lounge. "These guys are real. That's how they talk about women."

Far from some misogynist fantasy, however, "Swingers" is an often hilarious, dead-on look at the mid-'90s phenomenon called the cocktail nation. Primarily found in New York and Los Angeles, these retro-twentysomethings order martinis and Manhattans, wear bowling shirts and perfectly creased pants, and use a lingo that's one part Dean Martin with a splash of Tarantino.

Since the movie opened earlier this month in New York and Los Angeles, it has already given hipsters a new vocabulary, in which the ultimate compliment is to call someone "money."

The low-budget movie, which opens tomorrow at the Birmingham Theatre, may be the best independent release of the year. It's also a nice coup for the Birmingham, which could do well by picking up on movies passed over by the sometimes stodgy Main Art Theatre.

Filmed primarily in the streets, apartments, and cocktail lounges of Los Angeles, "Swingers" charts the lives of five guys, all vying for a big break in television and movies. Wearing a big head at Disneyland wouldn't be so bad if you could play Mickey instead of Goofy.

They hang out at bars like the Derby and the Dresden Room, go to parties, and try to pick up women. At the latter Trent (Vince Vaughn) proves this new Rat Pack's guru. Tall and thin, like a handsomer version of Tim Robbins, he picks up the women with a magic bag of tricks that his friend Mike (Jon Favreau) just can't seem to get a handle

Mike is still in mourning, waiting for the past six months for a call from his ex-girlfriend back in New York. When he does score some "digits," he invariably screws it up. The guys say not to call her for two, maybe three days, but he calls her that night. In one take, without cuts, he leaves a series of messages on her answering machine that are both hilarious and pathetic.

"You have this phenomenon when you see it in front of an audience where people are both laughing and cringing," Liman says. "He's getting people to talk back to a movie screen all alone and that's a hell of a scene to pull off . . . Everywhere else in the film I threw in a million cinematic tricks."

Aside from the lead role, Favreau wrote the screenplay, coproduced, and was originally supposed to direct when he handed the reins over to friend Liman, who also served as director of photography.

The first-time director had been making short films since grade school. At 30, his goal was to make a movie that looked like a million, despite a budget of only $250,000. He did this by concentrating on the actors and shooting guerilla-style, without city permits, in natural light.

"I set out to do an actually poor job," he remembers. "I didn't want this film to be about the cinematography. We tried to avoid lighting whenever possible, and spent the whole time just coping with work and women troubles. shooting. We were shocked to see group that is sort of like it looking as good as it did." 'Treasure of Sierra Madre,' Trent takes Mike to Las Vegas, Liman laments. "They say that "Our songs are real melodious. There's a harmony and a melody to it that we just can't seem to escape," Wilson said.

Wilson and bassist/vocalist John Munson were half of Trip Shakespeare, the Minneapolis group that came out of the post-Replacements/Husker Du scene. Slichter had played drums and various other instruments in bands. It was his basement where Semisonic got its start.

"I had written a few sonys with Jake and had written some things with John actually in the couple of months that Trip Shakespeare was kind of fading away. John, Jake and I had played a few parties just playing covers in very late '92 and early

'93. We played 'Drift Away' by Dobie Gray and other '70s chestnuts that we were going shamelessly trod out," Wilson explained.

"It was super fun. We kind of started to realize that we were rocking in a good way. One thing led to another, and in Jake's basement studio in early '93 we were recording to just have fun."

Wilson added that since that time Semisonic's sound has changed.

"We got this sampler about a year after we started playing and it completely transformed the way we work in the studio. It made possible the landscape of backward guitar, beeps and fishlike bubbling sounds (on 'Great Divide')."

Semisonic and Stir perform Wednesday, Nov. 6, at the Blind Pig, 206-208 S. First St., Ann Arbor. Doors open at 9:30 p.m. for the 19 and older show. Tickets are $8 in advance. For more information, call (313) 996-8555.

Misc: Jennifer Finch, bass player for L7, has left the group. Finch has announced that she will return to college and has decided to forego the rigors of an extensive tour in support of the Los Angeles-based band's upcoming Reprise Records release "The Beauty Process - Triple Platinum." The album is being produced by Rob Cavallo (Green Day), Joe Barresi and L7 in Los Angeles. Set for release in early 1997, the album will include Finch's musical contributions prior to her departure.

Coming to town: The pop band Semisonic returns to the area to play the Blind Pig in Ann Arbor Wednesday, Nov. 6, in support of its debut album "Great Divide" (MCA). The trio - from left, John Munson, Dan Wilson and Jacob Slichter - performed at Pine Knob in August as part of "PlanetFest."

The jazz band T.J. Kirk believes in giving credit where credit is due. So in order to honor their influences, drummer Scott Amendola and guitarists Will Bernard, Charlie Hunter and John Scott created T.J. Kirk, which pays homage to Thelonious Monk (T), James Brown (J), and Rashaan Roland Kirk (Kirk).

"The band started out as a way to perform the works of those three composers and cross reference them with each other. Frequently, we're playing two or three compositions by those composers at the same time. It's a good way to bring attention to

Elegant: name of the game at Misty Duck

RENEE SKOGLUND STAFF WRITER

Owner David Khoury describes The Misty Duck's menu as "an eclectic blend of conceptual American cuisine."

Eclectic? Yes. The menu ranges from an assortment of sandwiches to sophisticated entrees. Conceptual? Yes again. Paring sauteed wild boar medallions with golden pears and rosemary cream may well be a concept new to American cuisine, at least in this area.

The Misty Duck, opened just a few months, bears no traces of the Big Boy Restaurant that once occupied the premises. Guests are surrounded by creamy gold tones and warm brown paneling. A honey-colored tiled fireplace divides the dining area and more casual bar area. There is no clutter in this restaurant, which has a soft Eurostyling, and the pheasants mounted on the walls add a nice, muted touch.

Ambience is delightful, but well-prepared food is even better. When asked to name a customer favorite, Khoury did not hesitate. Blackened BBQ Buffalo Burger. "They love it, absolutely love it. It has a very nice flavor to it. It gives you a tangy flavor. It's becoming a hit here."

Lunch prices average about $7.95 for an assortment of sandwiches and salads and from between $10.95 and $16.95 for pastas and seafood. Dinner entrees are priced between $15.95 and $26.95. Don't ask about dessert prices. Just order one, like the molded chocolate clam shell stuffed with mango mousse and garnished with raspberry sauce and chopped man-

Cindy Brautigan of Salem ordered tuna stead with capers on her first visit to The Misty Duck. "It was delightful, flaky and moist," she said. Her husband Mike, more adventurous, ordered the grilled duckling salad with forest mushroom.

"It was just gorgeous," said Brautigan, who added, "Everything presented at the table was beautiful. You ate it with your eyes as well as your mouth."

Brautigan also said the waitstaff was very helpful and didn't mind going back to the kitchen to ask questions.

Khoury loves customers like the Brautigan. It affirms his belief that The Misty Duck fills a restaurant niche with the Canton area that hasn't been filled before.

"Born out of the deep recesses of my mind came The Misty Duck Bistro, and I've been tickled pink ever since," he said.

Condos offer small town, downtown living

Bryan A. Timlin, who has enjoyed much success in downtown Birmingham with condominium development, expects good things from Townsend Place East and West in that community.

Both are apartment to condominium conversions within a couple blocks of each other and easy walking distance to shopping, parks and the library.

Prices start at $129,900 for a one-bedroom, single-bath unit of 700 square feet to $209,900 for a two bedroom and two bath of · 1,000 square feet.

A limited number of combination units with upwards of 1,600 square feet including two bedrooms and two baths are available starting at $329,000.

"The single biggest amenity is proximity to downtown Birmingham," Timlin said. "Number two, this is beautifully priced for downtown Birmingham."

Twenty-four units will be carved into each of the two buildings. Each is three stories high. Prices increase as you choose a higher level. Townsend Place West is almost sold out.

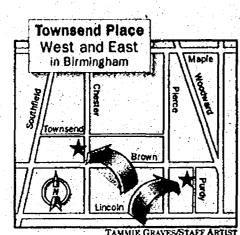

Rick Coury is the general contractor in charge of the renovations. "It's a structurally sound building ... a good, sound project to be involved with," he said. "Everything in the building has been upgraded for safety issues."

"This is a major, close to being a 100-percent renovation." Timlin said. "Everything is new from top to bottom. It's not decorating, but renovation."

All kitchens, bathrooms, windows and doorwalls will be new. Carpeting will be replaced, paint applied.

Tammy M. Pote, sales representative, comes in contact with and a bathroom with combinaali kinds of prospects.

"They absolutely love it," she said. "They like the design. What they're looking at when they look out the window is what it's about. They drive up and see gas

"Look out our windows," Timlin said. "You see trees, gardens, flowers."

All units will have either a patio or balcony. Balconies will have built-in flower boxes. Each building will have an exercise room, elevator and laundry facilities. Every owner will have at least one covered parking place.

All units will contain a new refrigerator, oven, microwave and dishwasher. Crown molding is standard.

"We're appealing to a new demographic here - baby boomers and baby boomers' children," Timlin said. "Our market tends to be singles. People are getting away from large places. Young people don't need it. Older people are selling.

"You know what people like about this - maintenance-free living," Timlin said. "They can park their car here and never get in it unless they're leaving the community."

The finished model at Townsend Place West, 900 square feet, features a living room/dining room, kitchen with under-counter lights, bedroom tion tub and shower. Base price is $169,900.

Brick is the primary exterior material with some wood siding.

Both Townsend Places are served by city water and sewers.

National home ownership is second highest ever

WASHINGTON (AP) - Figures released last week show more Americans own homes than ever before.

With just two weeks until election day, the Clinton administration reported that home ownership nationally has climbed to 65.6 percent of U.S. households.

President Clinton quickly sought to turn the national increase to his political advan-

"My administration has worked hard to help more Americans own their own homes," Clinton said in a statement citing the economy, lower interest rates and efforts to cut closing costs.

The national figure, for the third quarter of this year, is the highest quarterly rate in 15 years and the second highest on record, Housing Secretary Henry Cisneros told reporters.

"It's an excellent manifestation

The home ownership rate of 65.6 percent trails only the record 65.8 percent rate set in 1981, Cisneros said.

LET'S REMODEL

New design principles help everyone

Q: My wife has a bad back. We are looking to remodel our kitchen over the winter and would like to know what recommendation can be made to make her life more comfortable.

A: Consideration for people of different ages, sizes and mobilities are being referred to interior design circles as Universal Design. The objective today is to design space to meet the needs of anyone who is to be using the room. The first and best recommendation would be to select a remodeling contractor who specializes in universal design, for that individual would be sensitive to the strategies to accomplish these objectives and some of the products available to help do so. Specifically for persons who have chronic back pain, there are several specific details that can make working in the kitchen fun again. Bending at the waist is usually very uncomfortable for people with back problems. To prevent unnecessary bending, raise the dishwasher 12 inches off the floor. This makes it easier to load and unload while standing erect, and more convenient for anyone. Designing the lower (base) cabinets with additional drawers, rather than so many doors, will also cut down on bending. Where door bases are used, incoporation of storage aid devices such as roll-out baskets and dividers can be beneficial.

Also remember that leaning forward is uncomfortable, so generally speaking it is thought that only the first 15 inches to 18 inches of space at the front of a counter is best accessible. A good rule of thumb is to have three different countertop heights in good universal design. Some 30 inch high counters, some 36 inch high and some 42 inches off the floor is considered adequate for individuals of various ages and sizes to work at a countertop at a height comfortable to a given individual. For persons with back problems, select a sink that is no more than 6 inches deep, again to reduce unnessary leaning forward. Place faucets at the side of the sink rather than at the back. Choose appliances like cooktops with controls located at the front of the device. In general, controls should also have a logical placement that indicates which burner unit the control operates.

Other considerations in universal design might include accommodation for the fact that as people age, their eyesight deteriorates, especially under dimmer lighting conditions. Use plenty of lighting, and remember that good illumination requires are lighting, task lighting and accent lighting. Use a contrasting edge on countertops and in flooring in front of cabinetry to differentiate those spaces. Also, as people age, the strength of their grasp is decreased. This is especially true for items that are higher than shoulder height. Be sure that easy landing space is available next to ovens and refrigerators. With excellent design and advance planning, the kitchen can be a functional space for everyone as well as a place of beauty.

Garden books take your around the world

FIGLEY

"The Siberian Iris," Currier McEwen ($39.95, Timber Press), should be in every iris lover's book collection. The author, 93 years old, has devoted 40 years to growing and breeding these plants and shares his, and other experts', extensive knowledge.

Beginners as well as experienced growers will benefit from the vast information including history, detailed descriptions, culture, pests and diseases and characteristics of modern cultivars. Recipient of many awards, and the first hybridizer to induce tetraploidy in Japanese and Siberian iris, McEwen's love of these fascinating plants shines through. A list of places to see the plants throughout the world, judging and show information, as well as a list of his favorite plants, attest to the detailed information in this book.

I am very excited about "Nature Printing, with Herbs, Fruits and Flowers," Laura Donnelly Bethmann (Storey Publishing, $22.95). It is beautifully illustrated to show exactly how to accomplish the tasks necessary to create a desirable product.

Projects range from those for children to advanced techniques. Bethmann describes suitable papers and paints and helps the novice with all the steps from collecting specimens to various ways of printing. The ideas can be used on paper, fabric, walls, furniture - the possibilities are endless. This is the next best thing to having her right at your side.

"Water Gardening, Water Lilies and Lotuses," Perry Slocum and Peter Robinson, with Frances Perry (Timber Press, $59.95), is a complete book on this subject, beginning with the history of water gardens, followed by the "nittygritty" design and construction information and how to care for the garden, including fish and other life forms found there.

An encyclopedia of suitable plants follows with the plants segregated into suitable categories, i.e. submerged plants, bog plants, moisture-loving, etc. A portion of the book is devoted to water lilies and lotuses, which are such a large part of these gardens. The excellent color photographs alone will entice the reader to try this type of garden.

The line drawings ably illustrate the technical side of the plants and the gardens. The list of sources is extensive.

Passion for plants

Ken Druse has another winner with "The Collector's Garden" (Clarkson/Potter, $45). He visited many passionate plant collectors and relates their stories as they share how and why they are doing it.

We meet Harold Epstein in New York, who has an extensive collection of hardy plants from many parts of the world; the owners of Yucca Do Nursery in Texas, who specialize in more than 150 plants native to Mexico; and Geoffrey Charlesworth and Norman Singer, who grow 4,000 species of plants each year. "Probably the most important contributors of new plants to our gardens," Druse writes.

Then there is John Gwynne, whose garden is discovered after entering a hidden doorway, and the alpine landscape near Philadelphia, which features phlox. Druse also visited Marco Polo Stufano of Wave Hills, N.Y., and the fabulous gardens. I could go on and on. Druse's photographs and narrative make this an outstanding work, sure to be sought after for many years.

In "Growing Myself" (Dutton, $21.95), Judith Handelsman shares her "spiritual journey through gardening."

"Through thought, word and deed I communicated with my plants and they responded," the author says. "In their own silent way, they communicated back to me."

She has lived and gardened in many locations in many situations, some poignant, others humorous. Each chapter deals with not only how she cared for plants, but people as well, and thereby gained personal strengths. Perhaps her insights will help us do the History lesson

A most interesting book, "The White House Garden," William Seale ($9.95 hardcover, $7.50 soft), relates the history of this most famous garden. Its plan is based on a traditional 18th century American garden.

"Four significant periods mark the evolution of the White House grounds and the president's park over the past two centuries," Seale writes.

First farmland and wilderness in 1800, the grounds have evolved into beautiful parkland, enjoyed by many visitors. The photographs illustrate the many aspects of the gardens, from formal to more casual, buildings and trees.

To order, write: White House Historical Association, Box 96586, Washington, D.C. 20090-6586. Check or credit card. Postage and handling included in

APPLIANCE DOCTOR

Appliance cat finds a home with Pee Wee

This story begins way back almost nine years ago when my son Mark and I were living together in an apartment complex adjacent to a golf course. One day Mark observed a man deposit this black cat over the fence into the fairway of the 18th hole. He strolled over in his easy going manner and asked the man what he was doing and at the same time the cat climbed the fence and jumped into Mark's arms. He observed the cat had no claws and was also minus some private parts which caused him to again ask the man what his actions were leading to.

This stranger explained that he was moving away and couldn't take the cat with him, so he was dumping him unto the golf course. Mark, the second of three sons, has always loved nature to the greatest degree. This characteristic quality prompted him to politely explain to this man that the cat could not take care of itself in the wilds of nature without claws. He also informed him that unless he went across the street to the Kroger store and purchased a new kitty litter box and sand, plus some food, he was going to beat his brains in.

Naturally, the man complied rather quickly, and so began the life of Pee Wee with the Gagnon father and son family. The first night of sleep in the apartment was interrupted by a trip against the closet door in my bedroom. This little kitten has climbed onto my chest at three in the morning and when I awoke from a deep sleep to find these two big eyes staring at me from only a few inches away, it scared me to no small extreme. The noise caused Mark to awake in a hurry and I can still see him running down the stairs with the big 357 Magnum pointing in my direction.

Thank God he didn't kill me over this new found cat. Today Pee Wee lives with me and is a very happy cat. He weighs over 30 pounds and sleeps in a wicker basket beside my bed. He eats the best steak and seafood because I visit the finest restaurants. We have never has an argument since our first meeting. Pee Wee is lonely during the day which prompted the second part of this story.

Seven weeks ago, my youngest son,

Andrew, was in the back yard of our store removing an old part for a consumer from a washing machine. As he lifted the washer this little orange kitten no bigger than the palm of your hand made a crying sound. He brought the kitty into the store and we gave it some water which it was too weak to even touch. The mother cat was around the back vard with three other well developed kittens and wouldn't come near this abandoned one. In all of this excitement we decided to let Dr. Morrison have a look at him. Three days later we had a new kitten which was going to survive, had no fleas, no worms and also no home.

Can you guess where the kitty is now? I named him Kenmore after the washing machine we found him under. I took him home as a new friend to Pee Wee and I had his claws removed do as not to hurt the big cat when he's playing. Everything is going fine as home except that Pee Wee now has to sleep on the floor because Kenmore now sleeps in the wicker basket.

Back at the store the mother is still around while we have been taking care of the other three kittens which are living in the rear shed. Andrew has boxes with blankets and pans with kitty litter and an ample supply of Nine Lives cat food. He has named these three kittens, Norge, Philco and Hamilton. I am not taking these other kittens home. I repeat, I am not taking these other kittens home. Do you understand, Andrew?

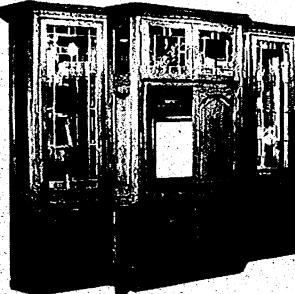

Joe Gagnon, the Appliance Doctor, will answer your questions about maintaining and repairing large appliances.

STUDENTS HAVE FUN LEARNING ABOUT BULBS

STORIES BY MARTY FIGLEY . SPECIAL WRITER

he 30 students in Debbie Gaj's seventh grade class at Frost Middle School in Livonia had quite a busy time and a learning experience which started last fall and lasted into the summer.

They are among 43,000 students throughout the United States who planted bulbs and had fun doing it.

Gaj said she read about the National Gardening Association's program in a newsletter for educators.

The one-of-a-kind grant bulb program, Kids Growing with Dutch Bulbs, was generously supported by three organizations, the Mailorder Gardening Association, Columbia, MD, the International Flower Bulb Center and the Dutch Bulb Exporters Association, both of Holland. Two hundred schools in 44 of the 50 states each received Dutch flower bulbs last fall and Frost Middle School was one of only two selected in Michigan;

The executive director, Camille Chioni of the MGA, wrote, The 200 grant recipients were selected based on their applications which demonstrated clear educational goals and a commitment to helping children gain hands-on experience with the many joys and wonders of gardening. The National Gardening Association, Burlington, VT, administers the selection process of the grant program."

Before the bulbs arrived, Gaj's students studied about bulb plants and, in anticipation of the arrival of 250 bulbs from the sponsors and another 250 from the Michigan Bulb Co., Grand Rapids, each student drew a plan (to scale) of the proposed bulb planting site.

Gaj said the students were very excited by the program.

"They really enjoyed it. For many they had never planted bulbs before and they enjoyed working outside," she said.

The students voted for the best design, which must have been quite a big decision. Josh Thompson then took his winning design and made a full-scale drawing. Pictures of the blooming plants were tacked along the edges of the drawing. Last October (they recalled it was cold) the students prepared a raised area about 20 by 14 feet that had pine trees growing in it, but not much else. One boy said, "It was covered with little pine cones."

Tulips, daffodils, narcissus, grape hyacinths, crocus and puschkinia were carefully placed in the ground and covered with wood chips. The kids had fun riding in a wheelbarrow along with the chips as they were carted from a holding area to the garden.

This past spring saw the results of their hard work, so they decided to plant a butterfly garden in the court-yard area, which is surrounded on all sides by the classrooms. This garden is two years old and the area was mostly grass before the gardens were constructed.

Gaj said of the school garden, "It gets better every year – now the perennials are starting to mature."

The butterfly garden has three sections; the middle one is centered with a bird bath and two gardens on either side are triangle in shape. The side gardens are edged with the students' rock collection. A cement walk connects them all and two large benches are nearby for rest and relaxation.

Home Quarters donated thousands of seeds for this enterprising project, and the students had fun deciding just what to use in this garden. Some seeds were started indoors while others were sown directly into the ground.

When I visited at the end of May the new little plants were peeking through the earth and will make a handsome garden as they grow. Marigolds, cosmos, four o'clocks, snapdragons, daisies, forget-me-nots and chives are just some of the flowers in the garden. At the end of our visit, three students were getting ready to plant seedlings.

In July and August some of the students met with Gaj for lunch and to weed and care for their own special garden. Several students said, "I'd like to do this again."

Gaj said the bulb project was for only a year but she would like to find sponsors for other similar gardening projects.

In addition to the plants, the class used the National Gardening Association's GrowLab and ideas from their newsletter "Growing Ideas" for other class projects.

Another project that came out of this gardening experience is called "Feeder Watch," through Cornell University Laboratory of Ornithology. The students made feeders and bird houses and hung them around the perimeter of the courtyard. Every two weeks they recorded which birds they had seen and the time they had visited.

This is truly a success story and Gaj and her students are to be congratulated.

These programs are enthusiastically endorsed by educators; pint-sized quality tools are now available for children. All the kids need is someone to get them interested, a little bit of guidance and a sense of adventure and fun.

HOME ELECTRONICS

Put a little woof into your home protection

JENSEN

Is that barking dog real or is it electronic? If you bought it from a Sharper Image store, it's electronic.

The electronic dog is really a motion detector that senses movement up to 20 feet away. The detector is housed in a box 10 inches high, six inches wide and six inches deep. This box of dogs can be battery powered, or you can plug the detector into the wall.

When the detector senses movement, it sounds an alert. The alert starts out as a barking dog, but, as someone gets closer to the detector, it switches the sound of its alert to a snarling dog.

The detector's official name is the Radar Watchdog and Intrusion Alarm. Because it can sense movement through walls, it is well suited for keeping possible intruders outside your home. Just be sure to keep it out of

But the motion detector works well to keep visitors from straying into areas around the home where they would be unsafe, such as a steep stair, or alerting you that a small child is somewhere he shouldn't be.

The detector is not just a barking dog. It can give out one of three alert sounds: a barking/snarling dog, a group of barking/snarling dogs, or a siren.

The detector has few controls. One knob is off/on/volume to control the sound of the barking or siren. Another knob controls the sensitivity of the device. Because the detector puts out radio-frequency emissions, it could interfere with nearby stereos or other similar electronic devices. To reduce or eliminate any such interference, you should change the direction the detector faces, the location of the device or reduce the sensitivity.

Another control allows you to select whether you want the alarm to come in the form of the barking of one dog, the barking of several dogs or an alarm things off to their friends, there is a demonstration switch that allows you to make the box bark on command. More practically, it gives you a quick indication that the detector is working.

The manufacturer says plastic and fiberglass do not affect range at all. Solid metal shortens the range drastically. Objects such as brick or curtains affect the range to a lesser or greater degree.

The manufacturer recommends you place the detector three to five feet from the floor for maximum range and sensitivity. The detector is most sensitive in the direction you point it. But it will sense movement 360 degrees, although not as well as it will sense movement for 100 degrees in the direction you point it.

"It's been a terrific seller," said Jan Godwin of Sharper Image in Troy. "It is the second or third generation of a device we have had for several years."

One advantage of the barking motion detector, especially for those who leave an empty house all day is that there is no dog to feed or pet or groom or clean up after. The downside is that there is no dog to pet or play with.

Some of the sites touted by the company as good places for the detector include offices (you have dogs in your office?), homes (this sounds more reasonable), apartments (especially if animals are allowed), dormitories (you have dogs in your dorm room?), warehouses, storage spaces, factories, weekend cottages, garages, recreational vehicles, boats, etc.

The barking detector might scare someone off temporarily, but not for the long term. But that's really what you want if you are interested in this type of device. You can't keep someone out of your house if he is determined to break

If you need major security, there are companies that specialize in such security - for a lot more money.

The barking Radar Watchdog and Intrusion Alarm is $130 and comes with a one-year warranty. It is available at local stores and through the

FOCUS ON PHOTOGRAPHY

Planting an idea: A Cycad plant provided an excellent example of a pattern shot for Monte Nagler's camera. This photograph was made at the University of Michigan's Botanical Gardens.

Design your photos with patterns of life

Photographs don't always need a central subject. Because patterns are encountered so often in our daily lives, they can play an important part in our photography. Pattern can make order out of chaos and lend rhythm and harmony to seemmeaningless ingly design.

You, as a photographer, have the exciting opportunity to draw attention to the frequently unnoticed wealth of detail in the world of pattern around

Perhaps the best way to see pattern is to use a viewing mask previously

Use your viewing mask to isolate patterns from distracting surroundings. Its function in helping you compose your shots will surprise you. You'll find yourself zeroing in on meaningful subjects you never knew were there.

Around your home, look closely for patterns in brickwork or shadows on the steps. A row of books or design in the floor tile will offer picture possibilities. Details in the grille of your car will make interesting photographs, too. How about a trip to the supermarket?

A keen, photographer's eye will notice the arrangements of fruits and vegetables in the bins or cans and bottles on Modern architecture (as well as old) offers a multitude of pattern possibilities. Through your photographer's vision, look closely at newly constructed (and under construction) buildings for infinite opportunities to capture patterns on film. A closeup of old steps and railings makes an exciting pattern

Be sure to look for the multitude of patterns in nature. Look carefully at a scattering of leaves, bark on a tree or patterns in the sand. Move in close on an individual leaf to capture the intimate and delicate patterns of nature.

Remember, the aim of creative photography is to make a visual interpretation of an experience, not just to record an image.

Try to convey through your photographs something that excites and interests you, something you wish to share. With pattern shots, you can do just that.

Tips for a more secure home.

- Don't answer telephone survey questions such as "Do you" have a color TV, stereo, etc." A burglar may be on the other end of the line trying to find out if it's worthwhile to break in to your home.
- ✓ Don't let newspapers and mail pile up while you are out of town.
- ✓ A phone call to our police or sheriff department notifying them of the dates when you will be out of town is always a good idea. They often will make a point of checking your home while you're away.
- ✓ Install and use dead bolt locks and "pin" your easily accessible windows.
- ✓ If you have an alarm system, let the burglar know it by displaying the window decals.

INVITING IDEAS

Your 'Big Night' can be savory feast

MOSSOK JOHNSTON

Mouthwatering and delicious is the new movie "Big Night" co-written, and co-directed by Stanley Tucci, who also co-stars in the film. A food movie this is – you want to leave your popcorn behind and run to the nearest Italian restaurant – looking for finely prepared risotto, basil adorned vegetables and timpano.

While "Big Night" is still at local theaters, it would make for a great gettogether – paired with Italian cuisine, a group of good friends, and a bottle or two of red wine. In planning this Italian feast evening, pick up enough tickets ahead of time for your guests to see the movie, and have prepared a delicious Italian dinner to enhance the experience.

If the thought of cooking Italian cuisine intimidates you, relax – not all dishes are as complex as the elaborate stuffed pasta dish, timpano, served in the movie. Anna Ivaldi, owner and cateress extraordinaire of Il Piatto D'oro (The Golden Plate) has recipes to share. Her culinary repertoire includes things like; Cupola Di Prosciutto (ham and cream mousse), Nidi Di Polenta Con Funghi (cornmeal nests filled with mushrooms in a light red sauce), Crespelle Imbottite (light dough filled with ricotta, mozzarella cheese and herbs in fresh tomato sauce), Risotto Alla Milanese (Arborio rice cooked in chicken broth or meat broth, and seasoned with saffron and Parmesan cheese), and last but not least, her Lasagne - either Al Forno, or Con Verdure - homemade pasta with layers - Al Forno with ragu' and besciamelle sauce topped with Parmesan cheese or Con Verdure with sauté of spinach, mushrooms, and broccoli florets, fresh tomato sauce and topped with Parmesan cheese.

Italian born Anna Ivaldi, originally from Genoa, is a self-taught cook, influenced by her mother and older sister. Coming from the North, Anna talks about the differences between the flavors in Northern and Southern Italy—"the North uses butter and cream, to retain heat where it is cold, and there are more cows." She continues the discussion, "there is just a hint of garlic and not in all dishes—Southern Italians use more garlic and more tomato." Always soft spoken and articulate in her heavily Italian accented—English, she displays passion about all she does; her art (paintings and drawings on every wall of her home), her knitting, her cooking classes, her teaching of Italian, or her ongoing catering business.

Anna has graciously shared some of her recipes with me – if you would like to entertain and not take the time to cook – have Anna prepare it – you can reach her at:

MELANZANE MARINATE MARINATED EGGPLANTS (FOR 6 OR 8)

*Eggplants slices, fried marinated in olive oil, wine vinegar, basil, garlic, salt and pepper, and then served cold. Better if marinated for a day.

2 large eggplants coarse salt 1 cup fresh basil leaves 1 clove garlic (peeled)
Salt and ground black pepper
1/2 cup red wine vinegar vegetable oil for deep frying

Slice the eggplants vertically into 1/2 inch slices; do not peel. Place the slices on a large plate, sprinkle liberally with coarse salt and let stand for 1 hour with a weight on top. Tear the basil leaves and place in a small bowl. Chop the garlic and add to the basil. Mix very well with a wooden spoon. Rinse and dry the eggplant slices with paper towels and deep fry them in a large quantity of vegetable oil until golden all over. Do not drain the oil with the paper towel. Put down a layer of undrained eggplant, cover with basil and garlic, then sprinkle with salt and pepper. Repeat until all the slices are in the serving dish. Pour in the vinegar, let cool and then place in refrigerator covered with aluminum foil. After 1 hour gently turn the slices over. Return to the refrigerator still covered for at least 3 hours more.

Cook's Note: The marinated eggplant can be preserved through the entire winter by covering it with olive oil in a jar

VERMICELLI ALLA SIRACUSANA

Vermicelli with pepper, tomatoes and eggplant (for 4)

- 1 large cubed eggplant coarse salt
- 1 or 2 yellow peppers
- 1 clove garlic (peeled)
- 2 anchovies finely chopped
- 4 to 5 tomatoes peeled and chopped salt and pepper
- 8 black olives chopped
- 1 tablespoon capers squeezed & chopped small bunch basil (chopped)

14 ounces vermicelli

Caciocavallo or Parmesan cheese

Sprinkle the eggplant with coarse salt and let the juice run for 1 hour, then rinse and dry them. Roast the peppers by turning them under the broiler and remove skin, then cut into strips. In a large pan, fry the eggplant in oil. Add the garlic and when the aroma rises, the anchovies and then the tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper, and simmer about 15 minutes or until the eggplant is tender. Add the olives, capers, basil, and the pepper strips and cook a minute longer. In a separate pot, boil the vermicelli in plenty of boiling salted water until al dente (firm, but tender). Drain and serve with the sauce. Sprinkle with grated cheese.

One of my favorite Risotto Recipes comes from the book Italian Cooking in the Grand Tradition by Jo Bettoja and Anna Maria Cornetto published by the Dial Press, 1982.

NOTE: The entire process of cooking this risotto takes approximately 45 minutes and requires full attention allow enough time to prepare it properly. Arborio rice is a necessity - it can be found at Italian markets, specialty food shops and upscale groceries. Bone marrow can be obtained from your local

RISOTTO, MILAN STYLE

(to serve 6)

- 6 tablespoons unsalted butter
- 1 1/2 ounces (45g) bone marrow finely chopped
- 1/2 medium onion, minced
- 1 pound (450g) Arborio rice
- 3/4 cup dry white wine
- 1/2-1 teaspoon saffron threads
- About 5 cups simmering beef or chicken broth
- 6 tablespoons freshly grated Parmesan cheese, plus additional cheese for serving

Freshly ground black peoper

- 1. Melt 4 tablespoons of the butter with the marrow in a saucepan large enough to cook the rice, making sure the marrow dissolves. Add the onion and sauté gently until soft and transparent, about 5 minutes. Add the rice and stir until every grain is coated and shiny, about 3 or 4 minutes. Add the wine and keep stirring until it evaporates.
- 2. Dissolve the saffron in 2 tablespoons of the hot broth and set aside.
- 3. Add the remaining hot broth to the rice, 1/2 cup at a time stirring constantly, waiting until the broth is absorbed before adding more. The risotto should always be moist. After about 15 minutes, taste the rice. It should be al dente. Add the saffron, stir, and cook for 3 minutes, adding broth as necessary and stirring constantly.
- 4. Remove from the heat when still moist and stir in the remaining 2 tablespoons butter and the 6 tablespoons Parmesan. Cover tightly and allow the risotto to set for 3 minutes. Turn out onto a heated serving dish and serve with freshly ground black pepper and more Parmesan as needed.

Authors Note: The risotto should be, as we say in Italy, al onda, or wavy. It should be served slightly moist, not dry.

> To apply the Schweitzer formula, you multiply the market value of your current house by the index number of the destination city where you want to relocate, then divide that number by the index number of the city where you currently live.

> According to the formula, a house in Livonia with a market value of $175,000 would cost approximately $135,700 in Southfield, $166,100 in Canton, $182,100 in Rochester Hills and $321,400 in Birmingham.

A house with a market value of $250,000 in West Bloomfield would cost about $222,200 in Troy, $226,900 in Livonia, $238,400 in Farmington Hills and $243,100 in Plymouth.

Keep in mind that the formula serves only as a guidepost. Your exact house may not be available in other communities. Also, mathematical averages can't be used to extrapolate a specific result.

Comparable market sales in a welldefined area affected by supply and demand, current interest rates and consumer confidence in the economy determine specific selling prices.

Matt Woicik, marketing coordinator for Coldwell Banker Schweitzer, updated the formula this year.

"Some of the values for some of the towns were more than you would think," he said.

Forty-six communities around the state were surveyed.

The target house contained 2,200 square feet, four bedrooms, 2-1/2 baths, a family room or equivalent and a two-car garage.

The five highest-cost communities were Birmingham, with an average sales price of $354,750, the Grosse Pointes, $237,930, Northville. $229,608, Brighton, $227,000, and Ann Arbor, $220,100.

The five lowest-cost communities were Detroit, with an average sales price of $92,500, Jackson, $135,725, Midland, $138,700, Eastpointe, $154,000, and Allen Park, $156,666.

The average sales price of the target house in several O&E communities showed sizable leaps when compared to a survey two years ago, Coldwell Banker Schweitzer's computer search indicated.

The average price in Birmingham rose to $354,760 from $245,000, but only four sales of the target house were recorded during the survey period this year.

West Bloomfield increased to $212,827 from $179,580, Plymouth to $207,673 from $170,300, Farmington Hills to $202,468 from $174,921, Rochester Hills to $201,948 from $170,500 and Livonia to $193,908 from $163,900.

A variety of factors make houses in one community more in demand than another.

"I think it boils down to schools, perception of the school system, parks and amenities offered to people who live there," Schweitzer said.

"Taxes, maybe," Wojcik said.

"Traffic, too, is another thing," said Tracey Ewert, marketing manager for Coldwell Banker Schweitzer.

Selling strategies other than where to advertise remain basically the same, Schweitzer said. You sell a lifestyle and community assets along with a house.

"In Warren, you might say you're close to the tech center as opposed to Birmingham, where you're close to shopping," Ewert said.

Smaller satellite dishes could be banned, too

Q. With the advent of the new small size in satellite dishes. does our community association still have the right to ban satellite dishes, which are specifically prohibited in the documents.

A. More than likely it does. Generally, the prohibitions on satellite antennas does not address the issue of size but merely the "evil" of satellite antennas.

Before an association can move forward in the age of technology, it must amend its documents to provide that the smaller and certainly less objectionable satellite antennas are permitted. Failure to address the issue of the size of the satellite antenna leaves the homeowners association with no alternative but to enforce the satellite antenna provisions based upon certain cases reported at the most recent Community Associations Institute Law Seminar, which this author attended in San Diego, Calif.

situation, the court may not impose its view on what may be reasonable, contrary to the agreement of the parties, or contrary to exercise of good faith by the association."

Q. I have a medium-sized business with approximately 55 employees on a regular or part-time basis. We are involved in the home construction business.

Does the Family Leave Act apply to us?

A. Yes. The act applies to employers with 50 or more employees, including part-time employees and temporaries. The act provides that employees must have worked for the employer for at least a year and for at least 1,250 hours during the year. They must also be at a work site where the employer employs at least 50 people within a 75-mile radius.

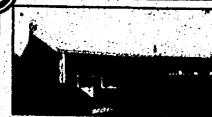

The leave can be taken because of the employee's own illness, if it makes them unable to work, the illness of a child, spouse or parent, if the employee is needed to provide them with care of psychological support, the birth or adoption of a child or a faster Courts have reasoned that the fact that an exterior care placement and up to 12 weeks a year can be taken in leave.

of absences covered by the act. Employees can also file a complaint with the Labor Department, which will investigate the case and attempt to resolve it, possibly by filing suit on the employee's behalf. If the Labor Department files suit; the employee's right to sue is terminated. Employees can recover lost wages and benefits for actual mone. tary losses (such as the cost of providing care) up to the equivalent of 12 weeks wages. They also can. recover double damages (unless the employer acted in good faith and had reasonable grounds for believing it was not committing a violation) and attorney fees.

MORTGAGE SHOPPING

The mortgage 1-810-=347-3630. timeline:

In this segment of my column, I look back and compare mortgage interest rates and mortgage trends over the last 25 years. Do you know in what year since 1984 the oneyear adjustable rate hand the highest first year start rate: 1984, 1987 or 1989?

What do you think the rate was: 8.75 percent, 10.25 percent or 12.25 percent? In keeping with our election year rate quiz, which election year since 1972 has had the highest increase in mortgage interest rates the following year: the 1976, 1980 or 1984 election. Answers in next week's

To buy an existing home:

Many lenders require the amount of homeowners insurance coverage to be at least equal to the amount of your mortgage, which is not necessarily the same as the estimated replacement cost for your dwelling. Which is the correct amount of insurance? In find the answer, I talked to Mark Diederich, an agent for Nationwide Insurance in Novi. He said the correct amount of coverage "should be at least the amount of replacement cost." He went on to say, "Even though lenders tell you they want coverage of at least the amount of the mortgage, a recent law signed by the governor prohibits lenders from requiring the amount of a homeowners policy for more than the replacement cost of the mortgaged building. This has come into play much more often in recent years, with more and more homebuyers making a downpayment of just 5 percent or 10 percent. This makes insurance coverage for the mortgage amount higher than what is really required, causing needless higher annual premiums.

Diederich also points out that "Since this law was just singed in November 1995, some people may not even be aware that their current policy's coverage amount is perhaps more than they really need." If you, have any questions about homeowners insurance, you can call Diederich at his Nationwide insurance office at

To buy a new house:

For buyers in this category, making the decision on whether to obtain a long-term rate lock commitment from a lender can be very difficult. what makes this decision especially difficult is that homebuyers must make a guess as to what interest rates are going to do in the next three to nine months, or whenever their construction will be complete. The decision is both important and hard to make because lenders normally require an extra upfront fee to lock in an interest rate for a time period longer than the traditional 45- or 60-day free lock-in period. The rate lock fee can be as much as 1.5 percent of the loan

Using a $200,000 mortgage as an example, the fee would be $3,000. So, in making this decision, you have to weigh the upfront cost against the possibility that rates will increase by the time your home is completed. In an election year, it can even be harder to predict. Depending on what your crystal ball says, you make the call. Personally, I like to point out to my clients that they can always float the rate and simply watch for warning signs (while their house is being built) that something significant is happening with rates. Then, if they desire, they can lock in the rate at that time or possibly avoid the extra lock-in cost altogether. This can save an extra cost that may be unneces-

To refinance your current

If you believe that rates are going up in the next year, refinance now if you have an adjustable rate mortgage (ARM) and go to a fixed rate. If you believe rates are staying the same or coming down next year, refinance to a zero-cost one-year ARM with no prepayment penalty. This is especially a good move if you are on an ARM that is about to adjust upward. You may believe rates will be stable or dropping and join the growing ranks who refinance each year to another one-year, zero-point and zero-closing-cost ARM (with no prepayment penalty). Mortgage Timeline Answers from last week:

In October 1993, the 30-year fixed rate was at a 25-year low; it bottomed out at 6.83 percent. Before this time, the previous 24-year low was in April 1972 with a 30-year fixed rate of 7.29 percent. Compare this to today's rate of 8/0 percent and you can see that we are still very close to some of the all-time 25-year

After both presidential elections in 1988 and 1992, interest rates went down. In November 1988, the 30-year fixed rate was at 10.27 percent, falling slightly to the high 9 percent range by mid-1989. In November 1992, the 30-year fixed rate was at 8.31 percent, falling all the way to the 25-year low of 6.83 percent in October 1993.

A side note to my column of two weeks ago: I stated then that the highest 30-year fixed rate in the last 25 years had reached 18.45 percent in October 1981, making the payment on a $100,000 mortgage $1,543.85. I thought it would be interesting to point out that the annual income needed to qualify for that mortgage in 1981 would have been approximately $66,000. Comparing this to today's 8 percent rate and payment of $733.76, the income needed to qualify would be just about half at $34,000. Compounding this is the fact that it was much more difficult for people to earn $6,000 in

Use fall maintenance checklist

The cool breezes of autumn may bring relief from the summer heat, but for home owners they also bring a reminder that it's time to start fixing, cleaning, and preparing for winter weather. If certain tasks are left undone, say the home inspectors from the American Society of Home Inspectors (ASHI), then a home becomes increasingly vulnerable to air, moisture, and water penetration, which may eventually cause structural problems. Whether done by the home owner or a professional service contractor, preventive maintenance will help prolong the efficiency and lifespan of a home's many components.

How to prevent winter ice dams Last year, homeowners from the attic - to today's energy standards -If you plan to build a house or re-Great Lakes to New England and minimizes heat escaping through the roof an existing home, there is another protective step you can take in throughout the Mid-Atlantic States experienced leaks caused by the heavy snowfall and ice build-up making the winter prosperous perhaps only for contractors. The aftermath of the Winter of '96 has everyone wondering what the Winter of '97 will bring weatherwise. If you experienced a problem last formation of icicles on the base of causing ice dams. your roof, otherwise known as ice dams, there are several areas you can check to protect your dwelling

First, what are ice dams? Ice dams are formed when heat from the inside of a home escapes into the attic and through the roof decking. Snow then melts on the upper roof and runs down toward the eaves as water. When it reaches the cold eaves and gutters, however, it refreezes and ice builds up. The result is water backing up under the roof shingles where it can soak through the roof decking and into the attic causing damage to ceilings and walls.

Luckily, there are steps that can be taken to avoid ice dams.

Check your attic

First, check the insulation in your attic and, secondly, check your venticeiling - greatly reducing the possibility of snow melting and refreezing at the base of your roof. And then, since it is impossible to keep all heat from escaping into your attic, the heat lost can be drawn up and out of the home if you have adequate ventilation. This prevents the underside of the roof deck from becoming heated, year with build-ups of ice and the causing snow to melt and refreeze

The CertainTeed Home Institute suggests having a professional insulation contractor look at your home this fall. To find a contractor, ask friends and neighbors, look in the Yellow Pages or call the local contractors association. A contractor will determine how much insulation you currently have in your home and what you may need to bring it up to today's energy standards. Look for quality insulation materials like Insul Safe III® Blown-In Fiber Glass Insulation, which is thermally-efficient, noncombustible and noncorrosive for the life of a home. In addition, it won't settle with age. A contractor can also determine if you have enough ventilation and make sure everything is working properly.

Yesterday's elegance gave a look of elegance and beauty to many turn-of-the-century homes and buildings, is now staging a nationwide comeback.

Victorian style trim, for both exterior and interior use, is once again adorning porches, outlining roofs, accenting hallways and supporting mantels. Lacy fret-work and intricate carvings, based upon 19th century designs, are even being used as wall or panel or cabinet door decoration.

Products readily available include doors, mantels, gable treatments, corbels, brackets,
