lated illegal campaign fliers have been made by veteran Westland politician Thomas Brown. The Nov. 4 general election will pit Thomas against Kenneth Mehl.

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFT WRITER

Longtime Westland politician Thomas Brown has accused Mayor Robert Thomas of circulating illegal campaign fliers containing misleading statements about his accomplishments. Brown, a former Westland mayor, council member and state representative; criticized election primary fliers for omitting a disclaimer attributing them to Thomas' re-election committee. Brown, 80, also raised allegations with the Observer that Thomas, in his fliers; tried to win voter support with "innuendos, possible half-truths and maybe outright lies."

Brown launched the offensive against Thomas during an interview Monday. His attack came two months port for mayoral hopeful Kenneth Mehl, a former 12-year Westland City, Council member.

Squaring off

Mehl, 50, and Thomas, 47, will square off in the Nov. 4 general election for a four-year term. Mehl, in his second mayoral bid, is hoping to thwart Thomas' quest for an unprecedented third term.

Brown questioned why Thomas and his staff - pictured and billed in the fliers as the "Thomas Team" - lacked the "political savvy" to include disclaimers.

"Why should these fliers be circulated without a disclaimer, in clear violation of the law?" Brown asked.

HomeTown

Thomas conceded that Brown was "correct" about the disclaimer omission, which the mayor attributed to oversight or a print shop error.

"We apologize," Thomas said Monday afternoon. "It should have been on there."

Beyond that, Thomas dismissed all allegations that Brown raised about statements contained in the fliers. "The only guy that's lying is Tom Brown," the mayor said.

Enrollment climb pleases school administrators

By DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Wayne-Westland schools' fall enrollment has surpassed earlier predictions by 332 students - a boost officials attributed to pupils commuting from other districts and to new families moving here

As of Monday, enrollment had reached 14,977 students in kindergarten through 12th grade, compared

White's earlier statements had helped Inkster police secure charges of first-degree murder and attempted murder against Patillo, but he changed his story altogether on Wednesday, Paisley said.

The latest development prompted Inkster District Judge Sylvia James to dismiss charges against Patillo and allow him to walk free. The hearing had been scheduled to determine whether the suspect should stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

However, James dismissed the charges without prejudice, meaning that police could reinstate the same charges against Patillo if they find other witnesses willing to testify, Paisley said.

Contacted Tuesday at his home on Bertram, the boy's father, Bruce Armstrong, said he was "angry" about the incident, but he referred questions to attorney, Eisenberg.

The injured boy is a seventh-grader at Emerson Middle School.

"He was riding his bike when the sidewalk just dropped off," Eisenberg said. "He put his brake on and then he put his feet down to try to stop, but he didn't have time. He just went over the top.

"He didn't have any warning," the attorney said. "There were no barricades, no rope or anything, and I believe the construction company was negligent for having a sidewalk in that condition.' Unable to stop his bike, Christopher Armstrong plunged over the sidewalk's edge and became airborne over the handlebars, landing on a street below and breaking his left arm, according to police reports.

A nearby resident who heard the boy screaming went to assist him and then notified his family.

Armstrong was taken to Garden City Hospital's emergency room. The boy had two pins placed in his arm, which also is wrapped in a soft cast from his shoulder to his hand.

Police reports noted that barricades were placed in the area after Armstrong's accident occurred. Eisenberg also said the site of the sidewalk dropoff has since been filled in and made safer.

Visitors learners

ome 70 Taiwanese students learned a great deal last Friday during a visit to the William D. Ford Career/Technical Center. One of the first things the visitors were surprised to learn is that the center in Westland has no connection to the Ford Motor Co.

The students are participating in exchange programs at Madonna University and represent a variety of fields. They started by learning about construction technology, specifically American home construction methods.

"They had a hard time believing Americans could actually live in these houses," said Rick Hamrick, assistant principal at the center. The visitors found it hard to imagine that Americans had the land and money for such homes.

The visitors were told that last year's student-built home went for just under $160,000, a figure that surprised them.

"Last year's group of 15 were just so impressed with the house," Hamrick said of the initial group to visit. After seeing the construction site, this year's visitors, accompanied by Madonna University faculty member Kathleen Herschelmann, were bused back to the center. They were met by 14 student leaders who served as guides.

The Taiwanese were mostly in their 20s on up through their 40s, Hamrick said. "Very astute. They had some very good questions."

Their English skills varied; some were fluent. The group had an interpreter.

A smaller group of Chinese will visit the center later in October. They are not affiliated with a university, Hamrick said, and are in a cultural exchange program.

The local students also benefit from having such visitors, he agreed. The young people were treated with a great deal of respect by the Taiwanese.

Thomas said he plans to slightly revise the fliers, add disclaimers and use them again in his general election campaign.

Specifically, Brown accused Thomas of misleading voters by stating in his literature that the $12 million Westland public library was "paid for with cash."

Brown noted that the city used Tax Increment Finance Authority revenues - collected from taxes in a special TIFA district to help pay for the library.

"It's not cash that he found somewhere," Brown said. "It's TIFA money that was collected in taxes."

"That's still cash," Thomas responded. "The library is paid for. We don't owe any debt on it."

Misleading?

Brown accused Thomas of misleading voters last year by saying his administration needed a 1.5-mill public safety tax to pay for an Advanced Life Support (ALS) medical rescue program and a community police program.

Voters rejected the tax hike, but city officials proceeded with public safety improvements that Thomas touted in his campaign fliers.

Mayor Robert Thomas

payers voted it down," Brown said.

Thomas said he told residents all along that he would push ahead with medical rescue and community policing programs, although a tax defeat meant scaling back plans and avoiding new hires. He said ALS vehicles respond from only two of the city's fire stations, rather than all four.

"We were committed to these programs with or without the millage," Thomas said.

Brown criticized Thomas for taking credit for a senior citizen "He found the money after tax- Friendship Center expansion without acknowledging the federal government's role of providing money for the project, slated for completion in November.

Brown said if Thomas continues to complain about a lack of federal funding for governmental mandates, then he should give credit when money comes through for a local project.

"He doesn't say 'thank you' to Washington, D.C., for that money," Brown said.

Thomas responded that federal officials didn't allocate money directly for the Friendship Center expansion. Rather, he said, city officials chose to use a por- budget surplus.

tion of federal Community Development Block Grant dollars to support the project.

"The federal government had nothing to do with us deciding to expand the Friendship Center," Thomas said.

Local officials chose to delay other plans, such as a new phase of the Norwayne area water main project, to pay for the Friendship Center expansion, the mayor said.

Lastly, Brown said Thomas' fliers misled voters by claiming eight consecutive years of balanced budgets that helped make Westland a leader in fiscal management. Brown said Thomas has depended on a $4 million fund balance that he inherited as mayor.

"That's money that should have been refunded to taxpayers or used to reduce taxes or improve services," Brown said.

Thomas has repeatedly pointed to an independent, national study by an Austin, Texas, firm that named Westland a highperforming and financially sound city government. Thomas said he has managed to improve city services and still maintain a

Bands bring out their best

Invitational was a rousing success for the marching bands involved and the spectators.

"We compete basically to improve our musical prowess," said Scott Cramer, director of instrumental music at John Glenn High School in Westland. Wayne Memorial's band also competed.

Sixteen high schools were represented at Saturday's competition at Glenn. The schools participate in Michigan Competing Band Association competitions.

The Glenn band has a total of 113 students in ninth through 12th grades. Saturday, the students presented music from the symphonic suite "The Planets" by Gustav. Holst, a British composer who lived from 1874 to 1934)

"Glenn performed in exhibition, but did receive a score" of 60.42, Cramer said, "which is a fairly good score for this early in the season. Our whole mission is to improve our performance."

MCBA competition is divided into four flights, according to school size. In Saturday's competition, Clawson High School placed first in the fourth flight.

he 12th Annual John Glenn In the third flight, Farmington Harrison was first, Redford Thurston second and Royal Oak Dondero third.

In the second flight, White Lake Lakeland was first, Livonia Franklin second and Ferndale third. In the first flight, West Bloomfield was first, Wayne Memorial second and Taylor TNT third.

"If we had performed for the actual competition, we would have taken first place. We decided to exhibit instead," Cramer said.

The students at Glenn have . been practicing since Aug. 9, first at band camp and then at school. The students have two competitions left, one Oct. 11 at Trenton and one Oct. 18 at Plymouth-Canton - Educational Park.

. A school's two highest scores are averaged and the top 10 high school bands are selected from each flight for state championship finals. Those will be held Oct. 25 at the Pontiac Silverdome.

"Last year, we took fourth place in flight 1," he said.

The public is welcome to attend marching band competitions, he added.

Congresswoman's Town Hall meeting has a financial focus

BY LEONARD POGER STAFF WRITER

Money was most on the minds of area residents Saturday.

The reason is that money issues in different forms-were the topics that dominated U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers' periodic Town Hall meeting held in Garden City's Maplewood Community Center.

Rivers' 13th Congressional district includes Westland.

The topics centered on the current campaign finance reform debate, a proposed salary raise for U.S. House members and fortwo parties.

Library relocation

County facility may move to Westland

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK STAFF WRITER

>Wayne County commissioners may act today to purchase a building and relocate the county's Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.'

Currently located at 33030 Van Born in Wayne, the library would be moved to 30555 Michigan Avenue in Westland.

Wayne County has offered to purchase the building from Public Service Credit Union in Detroit for $300,000. The proposal was sent to the county the commission's Committee on Health and Human Services.

The library's relocation allows for easier access because it will be served by public transportation on Michigan Avenue. "(The current location) is not accessible by public transportation," Klemens said. "It will put us in a much better position."

The relocation will give the library its own building for the first time. "It's important for the library to have an identity of its librarian. "I think it's important

STATE CAPITOL CAPSULES

No right to sue

A charter school may not sue the body that revoked its charter, Attorney General Frank Kelley has ruled.

"The Legislature has provided, ip clear and unambiguous language, that an authorizing body's decision to revoke a public school academy contract is not subject to judicial review under state law," Kelley said in an opinion requested by state Rep. Kirk Profit, D-Ypsilanti.

A charter school is a public school which has received a charter from a university, community college, intermediate district or local school district. "Public schools have no power to challenge their creator regarding the term of their existence," the attorney general said. Nor can the chartering agency be held liable for damages, he added.

Equal pay bills The National Organization for Women, American Association of University Women and two female legislators spent a day promoting bills to require public and private employers to pay women the same as men for the same work.

"The wage gap between men and women in our state is larger than it was five years ago," said Sen. Alma Wheeler Smith, D-Salem, "and the Michigan gap is worse than the wage gap in other states."

Supporters distributed sugar cookies with a large "bite" missing, indicating their belief women are paid 71 percent as much as men.

Smithisaid she will introduce equal pay bills in the Senate. In the House, Rep. Lynne Martinez, D-Lansing, has sponsored House Bills 4257 and 4257. They require that wages be based on objective factors such as education, skills, responsibility and working conditions.

Legislators

🖬 Sen. Bob Geake, R-Northville, was appointed to the Michigan Sentencing Commission by Senate majority leader Dick Posthumus. The panel develops sentencing guidelines for judges that are to be uniformly applied across the state.

Rep. Gerald H. Law, R-Plymouth; is sponsor of a bill to require insurance companies to cover scalp hair prostheses, a treatment for a disease that causes loss of hair on the scalp. Bill to ban riding in back of pickups faces tough test

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

A bill to ban people from riding in the beds of pickup trucks was watered down by the House. passed 67-37 and sent to an uncertain fate in the Senate.

It was too much water for Rep. Frank Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, who complained about amendments to allow persons 16 and older, hunters and workers to ride.

"There is one immutable law we cannot change. Death is death. From 1994 to 1996, we suffered 19 deaths in pickups," said Fitzgerald, a safety-conscious lawmaker ambitious to become attorney general. But he voted yes.

It was just right for Rep. Andrew Raczkowski, R-Farmington Hills. "We made it a bill for kids. There were valid exceptions," said the anti-regulation freshman lawmaker.

Sponsor of the amendment to exempt persons 16 and older was Rep. Eileen DeHart, D-Westland. Challenged during debate by members over the cutoff age, DeHart said, "If a police, officer has a question about whether someone is 16 or 15, he does what he does in any other case. He pulls them over."

She added that victims tend to be the very young. "This amendment is good for hunters."

Moments later, the House unanimously approved still another amendment: people on search and rescue missions.

The bill, by Rep. Deborah Cherry, D-Burton, was introduced Feb. 11 and languished in the House Transportation Committee until a late July accident in rural Jackson County claimed 11 lives, eight of them children. riding in the bed of a pickup truck.

The committee leaped into action and reported out the bill Sept. 23, the first day of the fall session.

If adopted, it would apply $100 fines to violating drivers but not passengers,

Rep. David Gubow, D-Huntington Woods, called the effort "a baby step forward. A pickup is not designed for passengers, and an auto is. But the auto law requires seat belts, and there are no seat belts in the cargo bed of a pickup," he said. Gubow voted yes anyway.

Rep. Don Gilmer, R-Augusta, an apple grower in rural Kalamazoo County, called the law. unnecessary. "Why are we attempting to outlaw stupidity? Last summer's tragedy involved 1) an unlicensed driver who 2) fan a stop sign and 3) had children under 4 who were not belted in the cab. She 5) took all the back roads (to avoid traffic).

"Migrant workers don't have money for nice vans and station wagons," said Gilmer.

"It's not a matter of stupidity," replied sponsor Cherry, arguing that many people don't realize the danger of riding in the back of a pickup.

Rep. Rose Bogardus, D-Davison, agreed. "I walked my district and knocked on several hundred doors, especially those with pickups parked there. There was unanimous support for this bill," she said.

On the floor as a guest during debate was former Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, who guided a similar bill through the House in 1992, only to see it die in the Senate when farm-belt lawmakers fought it.

Here is how area lawmakers voted:

YES - Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, Bob Brown, D-Dearborn Heights, Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, Tom Kelly, D-Wayne, Deborah Whyman, R-Canton.

NO - Gerald Law, R-Plymouth.

S'craft chemistry students will get new equipment

Schoolcraft College will be getting a new piece of equipment to help students study molecules.

Trustees approved purchase of an infrared spectrophotometer system from Perkin-Elmer Corp. of Norwalk, Conn. for $22,017.

Maureen Foley, associate pro-'fessor of chemistry at Schooleraft, said the spectrophotometer applies infrared radiation to molecules. The molecular bonds and energy from these bonds are analyzed by students, using plots, Foley said.

Faculty researched manufacturers and determined Perkin-Elmer to be the best unit for Schoolcraft. Schoolcraft officials said the University of Michigan has 13 of these units in place, with heavy usage.

Land sales spark county development

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK STAFF WRITER

Eight land sale contracts approved by Wayne County commissioners recently opens the door to start development at the site of former county buildings between Five and Six Mile roads, Beck Road and Hines Drive in Northville Township.

One contract with a Bloomfield Hills developer was approved, .8-6. Opponents believed the contractor supposedly would not contract with Wayne County and minority firms.

Commissioners first approved an $18.4 million purchase agreement with Toll Brothers Limited Partnership for 605.54 acres. With 302 acres buildable for single-family residential homes, the property sold for $61,000 an acre to a partnership of Tool Brothers, of Huntington Valley, Penn.; Biltmore Properties, of Troy; Wineman Investments, of Southfield; and Don Davis, of First Independence Bank in Detroit.

Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, whose district includes Northville Township, said officials from the county's Economic Development Corporation did a "tremendous job" negotiating the land sales.

"In the end the township is happy with the agreements and the county is happy," McCotter said.

Commissioner Bruce Patterson, R-Canton, asked Dewitt Henry, assistant county executive and director of Wayne County's Jobs and Economic Devolopment Department, whether the county completed studies of comparable properties to derive property values at the Northville sites. "On every one of these, we did market yalues on every category of zoning." Henry said. "We arrived at a base price and these are base amounts based on market analyses."

Each bid exceeded a "threshold amount" set by the county. Henry said.

Patterson asked whether the county had control over land sales should the partnership choose to sell the lots or oversaw the quality of homes. Henry responded that the builders could sell lots, but added that they had much cash involved in their purchase offer and wanted to get started with development.

Northville Township also maintained control over building codes and regulation, and the overall quality of homes that would be built, Henry said. The Toll contract was approved 13-1, with Patterson dissenting. Commissioner George Cushingberry, D-Detroit, was absent.

But the contract that received the most discussion was the Robertson Brothers contract; which was the largest offer the county received. The Bloomfield Hills-based company offered

County commissioners OK petting farm for park

By Ken Abramczyk STAFF WRITER

County commissioners have approved $250,000 of parks money to expand a petting farm at Heritage Park in Taylor.

The one-acre farm is owned and operated by the Taylor Parks and Recreation Department. The farm will be expanded to 5 acres and open year-round after commissioners approved the county's allocation on Sept. 18. Taylor will receive a Department of Natural Resources grant of $238,000 toward the project. -

Taylor applied for the DNR grant and county match once Wayne County voters approved Proposal P, the countywide parks millage in August 1996.

Commissioner Robert Blackwell, D-Detroit, said he believed the petting farm was a city of Taylor project, not a Wayne County project. He objected to the petting farm expenditure.

"It just doesn't seem right that when we have people in dire need, we have a petting farm," Blackwell said.

Commissioner William O'Neil, D-Allen Park, whose district is alorie. "This petting farm will be a Wayne County petting farm," O'Neil said. "There will be stu-dents from Ecorse, River Rouge and Northville."

Commission Chairman Ricardo Solomon, D-Detroit, reminded commissioners that the commission's auditor general would be examining the parks millage funds.

"I would be extremely disappointed to-find out that the funds are supporting something else," Solomon said.

The item was approved by commissioners.

Hurley Coleman, director of Wayne County parks, could not be reached for comment on the expenditure.

Here are a few tips to help you avoid the unpleasant consequences of burst pipes:

DISCONNECT garden hoses from outdoor faucets,

SHUT OFF and drain water supply to outdoor faucets. (Be aware this will deactivate your fire protection sprinkler system.)

INSULATE pipes in your crawl space and attic.

WRAP approved heat tape around vulnerable pipes.

LEAVE cabinet doors open beneath sink to let in warm air if pipes aren't insulated.

LEAVE the heat set no lower than 55 degrees Fahrenheit/12 degrees Celsius to discourage pipe freezing when you're away. Ask a neighbor to check you house daily.

The state needed to approve the path behind a hill where it will surround the hill. "You can go in one of two directions on Middlebelt hill," Coleman said.

Hines Park extends from the border of Dearborn and Dearborn Heights near Ford Road near the middle branch of the Rouge River, and lies adjacent to or near the communities of Detroit, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township Redford Township and Westland.

The path will not be funded by the 1 mill levied for parks, which was approved by county voters last year. Instead the project will be financed with $336,000 in federal funds and $84,000 from the county.

The federal money was dis tributed through a grant in the Intermodel Surface Transportation Enhancement Act extension between Wayne County and the state Department of Transportation.

commissioners County approved that financial arrangement on Jan. 23.

Last year the path was extend ed from Haggerty to Ann Arbor Trail.

Reservation system may harm tourism, campers tell lawmakers

By TIM/RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Michigan may be losing tourist dollars to other states because of the failure of a privately-operated state park campground reservation system, say campers and lawmakers.

"Trying to call - you just don't get through. You get put on hold," said Glenn Wagner, a 30year camping veteran. Wagner, of Shaftsburg, told the House Conservation Committee Sept.

"We've done extensive camping in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Their parks are as well maintained as ours, but they have no reservations. Most of theirs are first come, first served.

"I'm not going to fool around trying to get in (to Michigan parks)," Wagner said

"I visited four state parks." said freshman Rep. Bob Brown, D-Dearborn Heights, a committee member. "Talking to 20, campers, I heard 25 percent found some problem with the reservations. The system 'went down.' There were overbookings. The operators need a better knowledge of the parks.'

"I started (in the Legislature) 15 years ago," said Rep. James (Mick) Middaugh, R-Paw Paw, Republican vice chair of the committee. "When I go to church, I didn't hear bitching before, but I hear it now."

"It's easy for campers from other states to go to Wisconsin, Canada, Minnesota," said committee chair Tom Alley, D-West Branch.

Targets of their ire are the state Department of Natural Resources and a contractor called Consolidated Market Response (CMR), Inc., of Charleston, Ill.

In general, state park campgrounds have hot showers, running water, paved roads, electricity, developed beaches and playgrounds - hence DNR's reservation system. Campers with children flock to them, hence the need for a reservation system.

In contrast, state forest campgrounds are primitive with pumps, pit toilets and a lower. degree of weed control. Most aren't in the reservation system.

Under the state parks reservation system, a person planning a camping trip calls 1-800-44-PARKS and tells the operator which park he wants for which dates. If there's a vacancy, the operator should be able to guar- . antee the caller a spot (but not a specific site). The caller is immediately billed on his credit card for the price of the camping ($12 to $14 a night) and a $5 reservation fee.

The problems, as reported to Alley's committee:

The computer crashes, and reservations aren't faxed to the park.

The park manager holds back (say) 10 spaces for late arrivals, but the reservation company books them anyway.n The park is full, and the contractor makes the camper's reservation at another park - without telling the camper.

Some 15,000 campers now use the reservation system, and somewhere between 75 and 82 percent are satisfied, depending on who's talking. Some campers already are making reservations for 1998 in August and September of this year.

There's another method, which DNR previously used but discarded: Campers could place a long-distance call directly to the campground of choice. "Is it possible to go back to the old sys. tem?" asked Rep. Patricia Birkholz, R-Saugatuck.

"No. We do not have the staff," replied Rodney Slater, chief of DNR's parks and recreation division. When people called individual parks, staff had to be diverted from other jobs, and phones couldn't always be answered during office hours.

"I share (campers') concerns about computers," said Birkholz. "We're 'taken' by computer people who promise us the world and give us nothing."

*Christopher J. Raymond, of Computer Related Technologies & Associates Inc., of Traverse City, said his company would be willing to bid on the job if it were re-opened. CRT does work for Ameritech, among other firms, he said.

Alley said his hearing was deigned as "legislative oversight. ... to make the bureaucratic establishment lose sleep at 'night." No legislation is proposed.

Alley directed his ire at Slater and "a whitewash and departmental coverup of incredible bungling" rather than at the CMR, the Illinois firm with two years left in its three-year contract.

He blistered the Natural Resource Commission, a governor-appointed body which oversees DNR policy, for failing to request camper comment on the reservation system at its recent meeting.

Levin pledges fight for more federal road money

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER .

U.S. Sen. Carl Levin wants to pry more federal road money out of the U.S. Congress this year after a tough, bipartisan battle.

"As long as I've been there, Michigan has been in the lower 40s (of the 50 states) as to the money we get back," said Levin, in his 19th year as a Democratic lawmaker. "When I got there, it was 72 cents on the dollar (returned to Michigan). Now it's up to 85 cents.

"It's not a partisan battle," he told an audience of 100 at the Sept. 28 breakfast of Temple Israel in West Bloomfield Township. "What happened was that 40 years ago, when the interstate freeways were being built, 30 states got together and cooked up these formulas that benefitted 30 states, the socalled donee states. They get more than they give.

"You can imagine how difficult it is for 20 states to change the formula written by 30 states. The majority rules - except in the U.S. Senate, where it takes 60 votes because of the filibuster rule. So every time the highway bill comes up for reauthorization, those of us who are on the short end filibuster (speak for hours on end to hold up proceedings).

We'll do better this year. It's a huge issue - I can't tell you how big. It's called the ISTEA (Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act). The states on the short end are going to fight for a fairer stake," he said, predicting an alliance with the western states against northeastern states.

"Rhode Island and Connecticut get $1.30 back (for every $1 of federal road taxes paid). The battle will begin in the next few weeks," he said, predicting Michigan would pick up an unspecified amount.

Gov. John Engler this year has set a goal of gaining $200 million more in federal aid as part of his $570 million road improvement package. The federal government sends about $1 billion back to Michigan's Department of Transportation.

To some extent, Michigan is destined to be a donor state because its retirees move west and south (taking Social Security checks), the south's weather is more conducive to basic training (defense), and poverty programs are targeted to low-income states (south).

That's not all bad, Levin said, because "California took some huge hits when defense reductions were made."

Later he said he has a "good' working relationship with Republican L. Brooks Patterson, the Oakland County executive, particularly on the roads issue. 'He was in my office Friday,' Levin said.

Levin, 63, a former two-term Detroit city council member, is the state's highest ranking Democratic officeholder.

In an interview, he said he willremain neutral on the 1998 gubernatorial primary, which is shaking out as a contest between . attorney Larry Owen of East

And Levin said he hasn't made up his mind about the coming 2000 presidential nomination contest between Vice President Albert Gore and House minority leader Richard Gephardt.

Audience and press questions covered all points.

Q. What should the federal role be in testing of students? A. "I think it's useful to have voluntary tests for everybody to see how they measure up. The president's test is voluntary; no school district or state is obligated to take it."

The Clinton, administration's plan is to test fourth-grade English and eighth-grade math. The House rejected the plan, 295-125.

Q. What progress are you making getting federal judges confirmed who don't agree with Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, chair of the Judiciary Committee?

A. "Very slight. This is going to be a major issue where Democrats will try to force the consideration of these judges on the floor. If they (Republicans) want to vote against them, that's one thing, but to refuse a hearing –.

"It's going to affect some Michigan judges. We've got three openings (in federal district courts). We have a circuit court of appeals judge - Helene White," a judge on the state Court of Appeals. "We've been

Q. How can you run a cam paign if you have less money through the McCain-Feingold campaign finance reform bill (being debated this week by the U.S. Senate)?

A. "The campaigns will be less long, less nasty, less attack^{*}ads on TV, if everybody plays by the same rules.

"The TV ads aren't battles of ideas. They're battles of images and attacks."

Levin said the money he and Republican challenger Ronna Romney spent in 1996 was regulated money, subject to $1,000 contribution limits. Had his race been closer, Michigan might have seen nasty "attack" ads, paid for by unregulated ("soft money") contributions to the parties, which don't say "Vote for" for "Re-elect" but merely attack the opposition's character.

Levin repeatedly attacked TV

Teacher remembered for dedication, caring

Family members, friends and former schools. colleagues are mourning the death of Adele R. Morrow, a retired Livonia Public Schools teacher who was remembered as caring and dedicated to her profession.

Mrs. Morrow, 66, died Tuesday, Sept. 23, after a several-month illness. A former Livonia resident, she and husband R. Lee Morrow, a longtime Livonia Planning Commission member, had moved to White Lake Township late last year.

"I really can't say enough about Adele. I really feel that she was an exemplary teacher," said Betty Tatigian, a science teacher who taught with her friend at Stevenson, Churchill and Franklin high

"She was just an extremely upbeat and vibrant person who I'm sure generated tremendous enthusiasm for the children she worked with," said Jack Engebretson, a family friend.

Mrs. Morrow taught English at the junior high and high school levels, said John Rennels, the district's assistant superintendent for personnel. She started teaching in Livonia in 1969 and retired in 1994, Rennels said.

"She was a warm and caring teacher, worked hard with the students, (and)' was especially good with students who needed remedial help," Rennels said.

Tatigian said Mrs. Morrow was unfailingly polite and set a good example for students.

"Today, in the type of setting that you teach in, you need to have very, very good role models," she said.

Betty Tatigian's daughter, Beth Tatigian Giecek, was one of Mrs. Morrow's students at Stevenson and later, after majoring in English, taught alongside her at Franklin.

"She's one of the reasons I did then go take more English classes," Giecek said. "She was a terrific example to me when I was student teaching."

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Carolyn Wales and Jelane Ciranna; one son, Robert; four grandchildren; a sister, Avonne Vandernoot; and her mother, Mattie Read.

Crash kills woman, 49

BY MATT JACHMAN AND LEONARD POGER STAFF WRITERS

A Livonia woman who taught school in Garden City for nearly 27 years was killed Sunday evening in an accident police say was caused by a drunken driver.

Janet M. Clifton, 49, was pronounced dead at St. Mary Hospital, where she had been taken after her car was broadsided at Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Road.

Police and witnesses say the car was hit on the driver's side by another car whose driver made no attempt to stop for a red light.

The other driver, Joseph Andrew Wegrecki, was arraigned Tuesday on a charge of causing a death while driving ninder the influence. A test put Wegrecki's blood-alcohol level at :24, three times the level at which drivers are considered impaired, said Officer John Gibbs of the Livonia Police Department's traffic bureau.

Wegrecki, 41, of Detroit stood mote to the charge, and 16th District Court Judge Robert Brzezinski entered a not-guilty plea for him. Brzezinski set bond at: $20,000, and Wegrecki rêmained in police custody Tues-Hay.

He is due back in district court Tuesday, Oct. 14, for a preliminary hearing. If convicted of the felony, he could be sentenced to up to 15 years in prison.

The crash occurred shortly after 8 p.m. Clifton, alone in a 1993 Buick, was heading east on Ann Arbor Trail and was in the Intersection when Wegrecki, driying southwest on Ann Arbor Road in a 1979 Ford, ran a red light and drove into the Buick, said Sgt. Wesley McKee, traffic bureau supervisor. Clifton was using a safety belt.

Wegrecki suffered minor injuries, and was treated at St. Mary Hospital and then Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, McKee said. He had reportedly been at a company picnic. Lara Al-Ghishan of Westland, who teached Clifton first, said the victim had been thrown to the passenger side of the Buick and was bleeding heavily.

Al-Ghishan said she is haunt-Ed by what she saw Sunday.

Academics Glenn students garner kudos ttention this weekend will be focused on homecoming at John Glenn High School, with the Rockets taking on the Salem Rocks Saturday. Such school spirit is to be commended, but there's another group at Glenn also worthy of recognition.

A16(W)

Those students, just over 80 in all, were recently honored with an Academic Wall of Fame for maintaining at least a 4.0 grade point average. The wall, to be updated annually, was the focus of attention during a program in mid-September at the Westland school.

"This is indeed a special evening at John Glenn High School," principal Neil Thomas told those attending. He talked about students coming back to the building in 20 years or so to reminisce about academic achievements,

Many more good things will follow.'

> Neil Thomas -John Glenn principal much as former high school athletes do.

Hard work, dedication and duty can accomplish much, said Thomas, encouraging the students to set high goals. "Many more good things will follow."

The Observer has in recent years honored outstanding high school seniors through its Academic All-Stars program. The Glenn effort, in which the wall for ninth- through 12thgraders will be recognized, is also deserving of words of praise.

Help bring the missing home om Teran's family was well-represented at the Sept. 19 POW-MIA ceremony near Westland City Hall. The Westland man disappeared in 1970 in South Vietnam, and his parents and other family members have spent the passing years wondering what became of him. "I'm afraid that I'm going to die and I'm not going to hear a thing," his mother, Anna, said.

There are some 2,100 Americans missing in action and unaccounted for from the Vietnam era, according to Chuck Moberg, president of Chapter 387 Westland Vietnam Veterans of America. The Vietnam Veterans and other organizations for veterans have worked to bring about an accounting of what happened to those service personnel. :

"We press for public education," said Moberg. "We're trying to educate the younger generation. These people cannot be forgotten."

A mother's pain cannot be forgotten, nor can a father's. The Terans, and the many other families like them throughout the U.S., deserve to know what happened. Veterans' groups cannot work alone in shedding light on this disgraceful situation. Do what you can, perhaps writing a letter to a legislator to express your concern.

Spreading hatred

read with disbelief the hatred perpetuated by Peter James Narsisian of Westland, the former Clerk of the so-called Bible Court. It seems Mr. Narsisian is continuing his quest to make certain individuals within our community feel they are smaller or are of less value than others - specifically those who are gay.

As most of the city and country is now aware, Mr. Narsisian attacked me personally last spring when he stated in an official decree, "That electing Patricia Brown would be the same as having an alcoholic driving a school bus or a pedophile in a day care."

The hypocrisy of his statements is reflected Foreigners started demanding gold for their U.S. dollars. Remember, the U.S. was still on the gold standard then. Gold was leaving the U.S. in startling amounts. Rising interest rates might help, but that would only cause a troublesome recession.

So the U.S. went off the gold standard. Gold immediately soared to $800 per ounce. Then something quite unexpected happened.

Oil, the black gold of the industrialized world, also began to soar in price. Oil and gold eur Michigan legislators, including Debo-Frah Whyman, R-Canton, are leading a campaign to challenge race-based admissions at the University of Michigan.

All policies and programs at the university are subject to public debate and periodic change.

New university president Lee Bollinger has and he would like to widen the "concept of gresity," and that the provost is currently reviewing those policies. But using criteria other than just high school grade-point averthe or test scores is a time-honored and in portant process for creating diversity on compus. Most competitive universities look period the grade point.

Other criteria used by the university in pidition to race have been called into quesing though clearly race is at the bottom of trese concerns.

A complaint has been raised about preferfinces given to graduates of certain private Schools. It is disingenuously argued that this Jediscrimination for the wealthy, a charge Enaranteed to win over the rest of us. But it is prious that these graduates are given a ade boost because the curricula at their schools are more difficult. In addition many of these private schools have a large scholarship enrollment, so they are not all "rich kids." But whom are we kidding here? The real objections are to the incremental boost giver African American, Hispanic and Native American students.

Let us assume, for arguments sake, that those who are making this complaint are real-Concerned about fair play and equal treatment. The University of Michigan is a compettive university. The admission policies evaluate students within a narrow range of achievement on test scores and high school grade point. But within that range, the university also takes into account other factors.

This has long been the policy of leading universities. These other factors include extracurricular activities, involvement in community programs and athletic achievement.

But race is the stumbling block. A recent court decision in Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Texas banned the use of race in admissions. Michigan is not under the jurisdiction of the Fifth Circuit and the ruling is in conflict with earlier Supreme Court decisions allowing race as a factor in admissions.

But the decision and a recent law approved by voters in California against affirmative action suggest that feelings in the white com-' munity run strongly against such programs.

 But in addition to allowing more minority students to obtain a college degree and move into the middle class, admitting more minority students also creates a more diverse and stimulating academic environment for all students. It provides the challenge of confronting those who are from different backgrounds.

In his inaugural, address, Bollinger made reference to one of Michigan's most illustrious graduates, playwright Arthur Miller. Miller came from a poor, working-class Jewish family. He did not meet the strict academic requirements but was allowed in as a probationary student. His success in an intellectual pursuit speaks for itself and speaks well for the policy of evaluating students on a variety of criteria.

The time unfortunately has not yet come when race and the effects of racism shouldn't be one of those factors evaluated.

in his most recent letter in which he states that he doesn't want to see any homosexuals hurt and that it is wrong to hurt anyone. Doesn't he realize that his statements made about me, which are extremely degrading not to mention defamatory, are hurtful? Unfortunately, he will only learn this when my attorney files a lawsuit against Mr. Narsisian and all of the other members of the former Bible Court.

I normally would turn the other cheek and ignore people like Mr. Narsisian. But, the real danger here is that he is obviously unaware just how much harm he can do to people by hiding behind a typewriter. I find it interesting that he would only give interviews to reporters over the phone, and refused to be available to Channel 7 when they asked to do a television interview. Quit hiding, Mr. Narsisian. The world will see your face when we appear in a real court together. I won't allow you to hurt anyone, especially children, ever agaih.

A little history

Many older people have a hard time with the idea that the stock market is the best place to invest money.

Yet, to the younger generation the stock market has been a magic money machine that just keeps going and going. Who's right?

Historically, for the first 82 years of this century, the stock market was a lousy place to invest long-term. If you had invested all of your money in the Dow stocks at the 1929 peak, and had held your investments until the 1974 decline, adjusted for inflation, you would have had a zero real capital gain on your money. Zero! No real gain in 45 years!

OK. What changed to bring us to the present situation? In 1968, Lyndon Johnson was seemed to be economic Siamese twins! Of course, the public was told that there was a "dead dinosaur" shortage to help explain the astonishingly quick rise in oil prices. The last thing the leadership needed, at this point, was to have the public questioning the value of their currency!

While gold affected just the financial economy, high oil prices affected the real economy. : Inflation soared!

To stop the inflation, interest rates rose again and again, eventually reaching an astounding 20 percent! But global investors had to be converted into "dollar believers" no matter what!. Twenty percent interest rates were the sugar surrounding the "gold-less dollar" pill.

Finally, around 1982, the crisis abated. The U.S. dollar was again on top of the global heap, and this time without the "barbarous relic" of the gold standard. Of course, U.S. industry had paid a horrible price in the loss of global competitiveness, which necessitated the "downsizing" of the 1980s and 1990s. But the global system of money and trade had been saved.

If the "low inflation" U.S. dollar caused the current bull market, then the dollar will probably end it. If trouble comes, it will come in the currency and bond markets first. These two markets are, in effect, one and the same.

If, for example, the Japanese were to decide to attack the U.S. dollar instead of defending it, things could deteriorate very quickly. Japanese interest rates are really the keystone in the current global bull market. They should be watched carefully.

Eventually, Asian problems will likely end the 1990s bull market. Then maybe the oldtimers won't look so stupid after all.

POINTS OF VIEW

Take tough-love approach to schools

hen at the last meeting of the State Board of Education my colleague Marianne McGuire asked: "Just how bad do these charter schools have to get before we close them down?" my jaw almost hit the floor.

Never since the state board was constitutionally reauthorized in 1963 has it closed a single school, despite the fact that some of our public schools today graduate less than 40 percent of their students.

Now, Democrats on the board are gravely concerned about the "accountability" of charter schools many of which are just beginning their second vear of operation. This is brazen political chicanery.

There are 105 charter schools in Michigan, enrolling 20,000 students or just over one percent of the 1.7 million school children in the state. The schools are independent public schools that are open to all, chosen by families rather than filled by involuntary assignment, and accountable to public authorities, as well as parents, for pupil performance.

In late July, the Michigan Supreme Court declared that "charter schools are public schools." In a 5-1 opinion, the Supreme Court upheld the state's original charter school law passed in 1993. The decision reversed the Court of Appeals, which upheld a 1994 Ingham Circuit Court ruling declaring the original law unconstitutional. After the original law was challenged in court, the Legislature enacted a new law which would permit the charter schools to operate until the matter was resolved in court. Now, @ there is no question that charter schools are here to stay.

Despite a lot of make-nice talk, the vast majority of the educational. establishment would like to see charter schools go away.

At the first state board meeting following the Supreme Court decision, the establishment wing of the board wanted to concoct a fresh set of regulations and oversight measures designed to put charter schools in a box. Board President Kathleen Straus was quoted as saying "We have to get more assertive in exercising our authority."

The Michigan Education Association; with its point of view well-represented on the current board, began its own little campaign to discredit the charters.

The State Board of Education has constitutional responsibility for leadership and general supervision for all schools in the state. I firmly believe that charter schools should be held accountable for their performance, as well as for their adherence to the laws that govern them.,

Charter school students are — and should be --- required to take the Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) tests.

Of course, the real accountability is through choice. Not one child is required to attend a charter-school. No teacher can be "assigned" to work there.

While Mrs. McGuire may be a little trigger-happy when it comes to charter schools, she is right about one thing: the state Department of Education, under the leadership of the state board, should take a tough-love approach to chronically under performing schools. Schools that show patterns of academic failure should be sanctioned appropriately, such as the governor advocated with his School Accountability Act.

The board's approach has always been to send in white-jacketed education consultants to run professional development seminars and hold staff moral meetings.

We need a different strategy and, to that extent, I'm delighted that Mrs. McGuire is ready to get serious. At the same time, we need to be scrupulous about the standards we set and how we impose them. This is serious business affecting very real children.

No child should be held hostage in a failed school. At the same time, no school should be held hostage in order to perpetuate the strength of the teachers union or, for that matter, the State Board of Education.

Sharon Wise is a member of the Michigan State Board of Education.

Close bad schools despite parents' agendas

ov. John Engler, in his state of the state address, proposed a takeover of "failing" public schools because:

"These are the proficiency scores for one district. The subject, reading: 193 took the test, 18 passed. Math: 197 took the test, 8 passed. Writing: 186 took the test, 7 passed. . . Wemust change the system."

• Early in September, the MEAP scores for science and writing in grades 5 and 8 came out. Some charter schools were good, but a hefty majority looked awfully bad. Advocates of charter schools should have been embarrassed.

I asked Engler's closest legislative and longtime personal pal, Senate Majority Leader Dick Posthumus, about those low charter school scores during a Channel 7 "Spotlight" program broadcast Sept. 28. Should we think about closing down many of the worst ones?

Posthumus' reasoning was curious. He wouldn't talk about their terrible test scores. In his book, charter schools are OK because:

"We brought charter schools into being for a couple of reasons. One is we needed to provide parents with an option. When their local public school wasn't doing the job, we needed to provide another public school alternative, public charters: And in fact that's been the case. Over 50 percent of the kids going to charter schools are minorities. That means we're meeting the needs of parents who felt that their local school wasn't safe for the child or wasn't providing the academic needs. If that parent decides it isn't doing the job, they'll take their kids out. In fact, we had one charter school close down because parents decided it wasn't doing the job." · Posthumus used the code word "parents," a pronoun or possessive adjective eight times. He repeated it like a mantra, to chase away the evil spirits of bad test scores.

In his world, public schools are bad if their standardized test scores are bad, but charter schools are wonderful because the parents, parents, parents , want them.

It's a "heads-charter-schools-win ents with a different agenda. If the parents don't mind lousy test scores, well, that's all right.

Charter schools are "public" just in the sense that they get tax money and are chartered mostly by public universities. Many are reconstituted private schools. Some are under sectarian influence.

Since my column on the low charter school scores three weeks ago, a Detroit paper developed its own story coming to much the same conclusion, and broadcasters statewide picked it up.

Charter school advocates came up with a lot of alibis.

Posthumus, as quoted, said half the kids in them are "minorities," with all that implies. Then why did Detroit, Southfield and Lansing public schools do so much better than the charter schools in their areas? Others protested that charter schools hadn't been open long when the tests were taken, though some . have been open a couple of years. But even those open a short time should. have had at least comparable scores to the public schools whence the kids came, not lower ones.

Again I point out that about one-" fourth of the charter schools had higher scores than their surrounding public school districts, Congratulations. Now we need educational researchers to find out whether those kids actually improved their academic work because of the charter school, or whether the charter school managed to "cream" top students from the public schools. Then the researchers should determine why the good ones. are good and spread the word about. their techniques.

The state needs to close down the 🗧 bad ones, whether a flock of "parents" with a hidden agenda likes it or not_{i} . Tim Richard reports on the local implications of regional events.

Let's stop bickering school reform working or some years now, the movement to reform schools has gained broad support from the sane center of the Michigan political spectrum.

From moderate conservatives like Gov. John Engler to relative liberals like Kathleen Straus, the new chair of the State Board of Education, most agree that a sensible agenda to improve school performance includes:

Determining standards for what kids ought to learn, benchmarked against other schools around the world.

Developing tests to measure what kids in fact do learn.

Making the results of these tests publicly known, school district by district, building by building, so parents can know how their schools are doing when compared with others.

Building some slack into the system to allow public funds to be spent on unconventional "charter" schools.

But developments, both nationally and here in Michigan, are threatening to pull the reform coalition apart. A bad outcome could set school reform back for decades.

Although testing as a spur to school improvement was a feature of the Republican Party during the Bush administration, GOP leaders in both the Senate and House are now fiercely opposed to developing a national system of testing on the grounds that it does away with what is quaintly called "local control." They are being joined by Democratic liberals who are worried about what happens to kids, mostly minority from inner city school districts, who don't do well in the tests.

President Clinton didn't help things when he agreed that testing could be voluntary and that states or districts that didn't meet national standards would be held harmless from penalties. In other words, we've got this national program to improve schools, but you don't have to go along with it; and even if you do well in it, there's nothing in it for you.

In Michigan, trouble started emerging last year when some parents in suburban communities started taking advantage of a loophole in the state law that allowed them to pull their ideological bickering. kids out of the Michigan High School Proficien-Phil Power is chairman of the company that cy Test. worse, "not yet novice" if they did badly.

State legislators pricked up their ears and started issuing press releases and holding hearings. The religious right wing, always a potent force in Michigan politics, started grumbling that standardized curricula and statewide testing infringed on "parents' rights."

Of course, when you get to complicated things like educational tests, the devil is in the details. And a House Education subcommittee is dutifully struggling its way through amending the law on testing.

Quite rightly, members want to junk the unpopular ratings - "proficient," "novice" and "not yet novice" - in favor of numerical scores that would appear on a student's official transcript but not on the diploma. And, again rightly, they want to make the test shorter and to give it during the senior year. They also want the state Department of Education to "provide more specific feedback to students, parents and the schools to be used in improving the students' performance." That's fine, too.

What the subcommittee should do is keep working to improve the details of Michigan's testing program and avoid getting sucked into the partisan quarreling that is captivating Washington these days over national tests.

So far, we've done a wonderful job in Michigan in keeping the school reform coalition together. The markedly improved scores in the latest round of MEAP'tests show conclusively that school reform is working. Now that we're making real progress, let's not get sucked into nearly $1.9 million for 26 acres for senior residential housing.

Chairman Ricardo Solomon, D-Detroit, commended the EDC for their work in obtaining the offers, but said he could not "in good conscience" support the land sale to Robertson.

• "One of the things we try to do in Wayne County is try to base our decisions on who is participating in local diversity where we can," Solomon said.

"I believe there should be local participation that is Wayne County-based, diversity-based and this contract does not have it."

· Commissioner Bernard Parker, D-Detroit, moved to refer the item to the commission's Committee for Economic Development, but Commissioner Robert Blackwell, D-Detroit, who chairs that committee, said the item had already been discussed. That motion was rejected.

/ Blackwell said he had concerns, but committee discussions had indicated there would be diversity in subcontracts. Earlier he said the sales would bring money to the county and the committee had "extensive" dialogue with the developers.

That sale was approved, 8-6, with Blackwell, McCotter, Patterson, and Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, who also represents Redford Township and part of Livonia; Edward Boike, D-Taylor; William O'Neil, D-Allen Park; and Susan Hubbard, D-Dearborn, supporting the action. Opposed were Solomon, Parker, Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, who also represents Garden City; and Detroit commissioners Edna Bell, Ken Cockrel and Jewel Ware, who are all Democrats.

Beard said she opposed it because the commission had "no real assurance there would be Wayne County people" involved with the site's development.

Humor vs. teen years

JACQUE MARTIN-DOWNS

hree friends were standing around one morning talking about kids, when one of them made the most poignant statement about teenagers. She said that if we knew at the time that they would come out as nice adults, we might not stress out so much as we are walking them through "teenagehood."

As I thought about her statement, I thought to myself, "And if I knew that was the case, I'd probably have a lot more humor during that trying time."

When my son was 15, he once asked me why I seemed so angry all of the time. I remember thinking, "Because you are difficult, and I'm tired of this constant fight." I didn't voice my frustration outloud, but when the rubber meets the road, bringing kids through adolescence is tiring and worrisome.

We are forever worrying about their welfare, their self-esteem, selfrespect, grades, friends, curfews and a plethora of other things. If I could offer just a snippet of advice to all of you who are going through or coming into the adolescent stage with your kids, I would say, "Lighten up ... watch their every move, and don't take it personally."

Part of a teen's job description is to disassociate from his parents. This includes scamming you, getting away with as much as possible, breaking away from having an up-close-andpersonal relationship with you and, believe it or not, beginning to view you as flawed.

Hard work pays off with TV spot

She was known as Bonnie Knaus when she graduated from Plymouth Canton High School, but as Bonnie Kaye, she's making a name for herself doing "Inside Fitness" for "CBS News Saturday Morning."

"Living dynamo" are two words that have been used to describe former Canton resident Bonnie Kaye.

It was her aggressive work ethic that pushed her from an independent TV reporter/producer of health and fitness segments, called "Inside Fitness," to a regular contributor on "CBS News Saturday Morning."

"It was a wonderful culmination of a dream of several years," Kaye said. "I've been trying to get on a network show for several years. When I started the whole 'Inside Fitness' series, the whole plan was to get it on as many stations thereby catching the attention of the network."

Kaye's next scheduled appearance is \rangle Saturday, Oct. 4, during which she will talk about kids' fitness. "CBS' News Saturday Morning" that airs at 9 a.m. on WWJ-Channel 62.

"I'm big on kids' fitness, seeing that 50 percent of the children ages 5-12 are considered to be obese in this country," she said. "That's a scary statistic. One in three are already exhibiting factors for heart disease for children ages 5-12."

Kaye grew up throughout the Detroit area, attending Dunckel Elementary School (now a middle school) in Farmington Hills and graduating in 1981 from Plymouth Canton High School, where she was the first violinist and captain of the debate team.

"Right from the get-go she's always"

New contributor: Former Cantdn_resident Bonnie Kaye has been added to the "CBS News Saturday Morning" lineup as a regular contributor on health and fitness. The show airs at 9 a.m. Saturdays on 👍 CBS.

Looking for flaws

If you want to read a hilarious book on the topic, pick up "Get Out of My Life, But First Could You Drive Me and Cheryl to the Mall?" by Anthony E. Wolf. In this refreshing paperback, Dr. Wolf talks about why it is important for teens to see us as not perfect.

He says, "Teenagers know that they themselves have flaws - lots of them - and they also know that they're expected to go out shortly into the adult world and survive. The natural thing to do is look for evidence that adults are human and flawed as well. If, instead, most adults are seen as perfect, or nearly so, the adolescent · will doubt his or her own ability to make it once they become an adult."

You may be saying to yourself, "But I don't have to tolerate them making fun of me and acting like I don't exist, because I deserve more respect than that."

Dr. Wolf combats your insecurity with, "What they ideally want to see, especially in their parents, is adult who are flawed but who are not thrown by their own flaws, and hence are still worthy of respect. Adults who act as if they know everything are hard for teenagers to stomach."

This is where the humor takes over. When Junior is busy telling you to walk three paces behind him because he doesn't want to be seen with you, use your own brand of humor to not take it personally: "No problem, Junior. I probably shouldn't be seen with you either. You know, I've got my reputation to maintain."

Double talk, half truths

Parent educators talk about how kids attempt to pull the wool over their parents' eyes with their double talk and half truths. Ryan's parents caught him in a lie after they called over to his friend's house where they thought he had gone after school, only to learn that he had left there and gone to a girlfriend's house.

When later confronted, Ryan's excise went, "Mom said it was OK with her if I went over to Robert's after school, so I figured if it was OK to go there then you wouldn't mind if I went over to Sarah's."

The parents' comeback, said in a light, easy manner might be, "Nice try, Ryan, but mom said specifically that you were only to go to Robert's." "Oh, I didn't understand," retorts

Fitness came into her life in high school. The owner of Dynamic Marketing Specialists in Milford, Knaus introduced his daughter to the fitness industry while he was working on a television commercial for the former Lady Spa Club in Southfield.

Thrilled with the prospect of getting paid to work out, Kaye took on a job as a fitness instructor at the club.

"I absolutely fell in love with the fitness industry," she said. "I love to dance. I love to play sports and being a fitness instructor really worked for me. I never stopped teaching."

After high school, Kaye went on to Kalamazoo College where she pursued a double major in theater and psychology. She was hired as a recreational therapist intern working with emotionally disturbed children in California.

He swaps football for footlights of Hasty Pudding Theatricals

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

When Adam Borchert headed for college, he expected to play football. That was the case for $1 \frac{1}{2}$ years, but he's taken on a different assignment, one where, he says, he has "ended up facilitating men in drag."

A senior at Harvard University, Borchert has traded in his football pads for the footlights as coproducer of the 150th annual installment of the Hasty Pudding Theatrical.

The all-male revue is the oldest continuous running theatrical production in the United States and third in the world. It's known for its traditional trademark of a kick line and the selection of the Man and Woman of the Year.

"Essentially, it's a musical comedy that spoofs current trends and is filled with puns and gags," said the Livonia resident. "Last year was 'Me and my Galaxy' with references to 'Star Trek,' 'Star Wars' and 'Independence Day.'

Borchert was introduced to Hasty Pudding by his roommate during his sophomore year, shortly after he dropped football because of "philosophical differences with the coaching staff."

His first year he worked as the business assistant, doing "the undesirable work the higher ups didn't like or have time to do" - selling tickets, ysh-show and landed the job of ticket manager, handling mailings to alumni and past show goers, seating and selling tickets. With two productions under his belt, Borchert decided to interview for and snagged one of the two producer jobs for 1998 production.

"I knew what it was about and knew other people in the company and thought I'd give it a try," said Borchert about Hasty Pudding. "It was something far from what I expected and I didn't envision it as being as much fun as it has been for me."

"I knew when he went to Harvard he would be an active student," added his father Paul. "So I knew when he dropped football he'd find something to fill his time."

A new experience.

Theater wasn't something Borchert was involved in while at Detroit Catholic Central High School. A National Merit Scholarship finalist, he was a member of the school's state championship football team' in 1992 and All-State in football and soccer.

"I wasn't involved in theater at CC, although I did some skits for pep rallies," he said. "Those didn't even foreshadow what I've gotten into, trust me."

As a co-producer of the production, Borchert is responsible for the finances, hiring the few professionals that work with the troupe, selecting the > Kaye also works as a sports reporter for CBS Radio Sports where her assignments included covering the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta and Super Bowl XXXI in New Orleans, Next, Kaye will have a primary role in the coverage of the 1998 Winter Olympics in Nagano, Japan.

Living in Denver, Colo., Kaye is a competitive duathlete (running, biking and more running) and works out two hours a day. She also teaches aerobics as a guest instructor at Rancho La Puerta, a fitness resort in Tecate, México. Kaye's biggest assignment next year will be her to her marriage photographer/editor in June.

She cites her father as her major inspiration.

"Seeing my father own his own business and operate it his way ... he is a very hard working entrepreneur perhaps incited me on some level that I could definitely do it, too," she said. "Instead of going from station to station and job to job, I could develop my own segment and find a way to make it work.

"I did everything imaginable in my power to work all the angles possible in the last two years to get to this point. I'm really rather shocked that it worked out the way that I planned."

Kaye is thrilled working with "top-notch network people" and CBS is just as excited to have her. ,

"She is a living dynamo; she's one of those people that if they could be used to produce energy she could light up a small town." said Hal Gessner, executive producer of "CBS News Saturday Morning."

Janet and Bill Dempster met Chinese babies through an international adoption agency.

The Dempsters left their home in Livonia with almost two suitcases filled with baby formula, Baby love: Janet Dempster of Livonia carries a photograph of her new baby, Kayla Marie, whom she and husband Bill adopted through an international agendiapers, clothes, medicines and the people we met, we found toys. In China, they received baby without even a diaper.

The process of adopting a child can be complicated, lengthy and expensive, even for couples who don't have to go to China.

To help people considering adoption, Schoolcraft College will present an Adoption Exploration Workshop 6-10 p.m. Monday, Oct. 20.

Participants will learn how to begin the process, the time involved, and what to expect from domestic, international, private and open adoptions and explore adopting infants, older or special needs children.

International adoption expert Linda-Yellin, herself an adoptee, will lead the workshop and a panel discussion. Dempster attended the Schoolcraft seminar last year, and said she not only learned the basics, but exchanged telephone numbers with other families.

"This seminar was helpful in getting information and learning about our options," said Dempster, a library technician at Schoolcraft College. "Through other sources of information."

She has wanted a baby all her life, and after trying fertility drugs, she and Bill decided to adopt. They wanted a girl and chose China because they knew there were healthy girls available there.

The pair has gone through physical examinations, fingerprinting, a home study and certification and notarization of birth and financial records.

They also took a course in conversational Chinese at Schoolcraft to learn the fundamentals of the language and Chinese culture. Since July 24, they carried Kayla's picture in their wallets. Now their dream is reality.

"The 20-hour plane ride was my labor pains," said Dempster. "We went on an adventure. We got her on the fourth day, but we were still be interviewing and doing paperwork. We knew nothing about her background. This was truly a leap of faith."

The Dempsters named their 10-month-old daughter baby Kayla Marie, but are keeping her Chinese name, Rong, as a third name.

"The explosion of colors and all the toys people have given us is so new to her," Dempster said. "We even have a dog."

She has joined a local support group for adoptive parents and one on the Internet. She also has been reading books and newsletters on adoption.

"I guess I'll have to start reading books on parenthood now," she said.

The Schoolcraft workshop will be in Room 200 of the McDowell Center. There will be more than 15 adoption agencies or parent groups present to provide resources and contacts.

The cost is $17 per person. For registration information, call (313) 462-4448. Schoolcraft College is at 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia.

Mothers hold garage sale

The Plymouth-Canton Mothers of Multiples group is having its annual fall garage sale from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 11, at the Masonic Temple, 37137 Palmer Road, Westland.

For more information about the group, call Cheryl Bidlingmaier at (313) 728-7639.

Diamonds sparkle for 2nd year at Hollywood Nights

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

People who remember dancing to such hits as "Little Darlin' and "The Stroll" in the 1950s will have a chance to do it again when The Diamonds take to the stage at the fifth annual Hollywood Nights Thursday, Oct. 16, at Laurel Manor.

Headlining with Johnny Trudell and his Band again this vear, the nationally known recording artists are back by popular demand, according to Sheri Fletcher, director of fund raising for the hospital.

Following the fourth installment of Hollywood Nights, organizers did a random survey of an equal number of VIP and general ticket holders, and nine out of 10 wanted The Diamonds back, Fletcher said.

"Last year was such a spontaneous evening," she added. "When The Diamonds performed, people got up and danced, so we're encouraging that this year with a little dance area."

The group will be expanding their routine, adding some Elvis impersonations and a few things they have not done before, Fletcher said.

Emceeing the optional black tie evening will be Gene Taylor, television talk show host, standup comedian and writer/producer of The Dick Purtain Show in

Lila Lazarus

Detroit. .Taylor will open the show with a special song and dance number before turning the stage over to Trudell's band, well-known for its Big Band sound.

The benefit starts at 5:30 p.m. and "includes a sit-down dinner. entertainment and 8:30 p.m. raffle drawing, handled by WDIV-TV Channel 4 health reporter Lila Lazarus.

The $10 tickets include first, second and third prizes of a twoyear lease or cash equivalent of a 1998 Cadillac Sedan DeVille, 1998 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo and 1998 Mercury Villager respectively.

Other prizes are an overseas trip for two (seven days/six nights) to Rome, trip for two to Las Vegas (four days/three night) and trip for two to Walt Disney World (four days/three nights). All three prizes include roundtrip airfare and accommodations.

And rounding out the list are four $1,000 U.S. Savings Bonds or the cash equivalent.

"The raffle is the most exciting part of the night," said Fletcher who admitted she wouldn't mind winning' the trip to Rome. "Everyone waits to see who won the Cadillac (lease). Last year was neat because someone (Joyce Anspach, coordinator of the hospital's CME office) who works at the hospital won."

The raffle tickets go on sale this weekend at selected merchants in the community and winners need not be present for the drawing, Fletcher said.

The brainchild of Carol Cassie, Hollywood Nights has turned into a highly anticipated, highly successful community event, providing money for state-of-the-art equipment, medical services and programs throughout the hospital, including the Miracle of Life Maternity Center.

"When Carol Cassie first came to the hospital with her idea and her dynamic personality, we knew this could be something wonderful," Fletcher said. "That it continues to grow is a tribute to the community. They have breathed life into and created an enthusiasm for Hollywood Nights that keeps it going."

In recognition of the community support for the hospital, the St. Mary Foundation plans to have a wall in the south lobby to recognize donors of at least $2,500 who have made a significant difference in the hospital. Many of those who will be recognized are sponsors of Hollywood Nights, according to Fletcher.

Helping to make the 1997 installment of Hollywood Nights a success are Market Street Florist in Laurel Park and French's Florist at Five Mile and Farmington which are providing the flowers and TruGreen, which is providing the stage plants.

The production is being handled by Gail & Rice Productions in Southfield and kudos have been extended to Mr. and Mrs. David Brandon who donated the props that are being used again this year, Fletcher said

Seating for the evening is limited to between 750-800 people to make for a less crowded atmosphere. VIP tickets are $95 each and include an opportunity to meet The Diamonds at an afterglow reception. General admission is $45 per person.

A limited number of tickets

The Diamonds

are still available and can be ordered by calling the St. Mary Hospital Hollywood Nights Hotline at (313) 655-2907.

"When you are a community hospital, the challenge and goal are to meet the needs of the community and Hollywood Nights helps the hospital meet that goal." Fletcher said. "With the community's support, we have met our financial goal every year and we expect to do it again this year."

Novelist Peretti visits Ward Church

Described as "America's hottest Christian novelist,' Frank Peretti will be the guest speaker at Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church in Livonia later this month.

The author of such books as "This Present Darkness" and "The Oath," Peretti will speak at 7 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 19, at the church, 17000 Farmington Road. His lecture is free of charge.

With more than 6.8 million books in print, Peretti is nothing short of a publishing phenomenon. His latest novel, "The Oath (1995)," has sold more than 500,000 copies within the first six months of release.

"The Oath" debuted on the Bookstore Journal fiction best seller list 12 weeks prior to release due to presales campaign and has been on that and the Publishers Weekly best seller lists every month since August 1995. It also has been awarded the 1995 Gold Medallion Award for best fiction.

With more than 700,000 copies of "The Oath" in print, its success has solidified his standing as the premier Christian novelist. His next adult novel will be released in 1998 through Word Publishing.

Peretti is a natural storyteller who, as a youngster in Seattle, regularly gathered the neighborhood children for animated storytelling sessions.

After graduating from high school, he began playing the banjo with a local blue grass group, After he_married in 1972, he moved from touring with a pop band to launching a modest Christian music ministry.

He also spent time studying English, screen writing and film at the University of California-Los Angeles and then assisted his father in pastoring a small Assembly of God Church.

In 1983, he gave up his pastoring position and began taking on construction jobs to make ends meet. While working at a local ski factory, he began writing "This Present Darkness," the book that catapulted him into the public eye.

After numerous rejections from publishers and a slow sales start, word-of-mouth enthusiasm finally lifter "This Present Darkness" onto a wave of interest in spiritual welfare. The book has appeared on the Bookstore Journal's best seller list every month for more than eight years.

His two spiritual warfare novels, "This Present Darkness (1988)" and "Piercing the Darkness (1989)," have captivated readers, together selling more, than 3.5 million copies. In addition, he has written a series of books for children called "The Cooper Kids Adventure Series."

Peretti and his wife Barbara Jean live in the western United States. In spite of his sudden fame, he still lives a simple, well-rounded life that includes carpentry, banjo making, sculge ing, bicycling and hiking. He. also is an avid pilot.

Madonna spikers upset

SCENE

Siena Heights College got 41 assists and 21 digs from setter Krista Purvis to pull out a 15-9, 4-15, 15-5, 7-15, 15-8 Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference volleyball victory Tuesday over host Madonna University.

The win gives Siena Heights a 19-8 overall record. It was the Saints' first conference win in four starts.

Madonna falls to 13-6 and 3-1. It was the Crusaders' first defeat since joining the WHAC.

Heather Hazzard added 11 kills and 16 digs for the winners, who pulled off the surprising win. Karen Reeves and Jenny Kunkle combined for five solo blocks and two assistblocks.

Senior Erin Gregoire was Madonna's top attacker with 15 kills. Erin Cunningham and Nicole Scharrer added 12 each.

Setter Deanne Helsom collected 48 assists and Jennifer Russell had 12 digs, but the Lady Crusaders only hit at a .121 clip.

Collegiate notes

 Lincoln Memorial University (Tenn.) outside hitter Jaime McGovern of Livonia, a 6-foot-1 senior, has been named Gulf South Conference East Division Volleyball Player of the Week after leading the Lady Railsplitters to a 6-1 record last week.

McGovern, who graduated from Redford Thurston, also earned MVP honors at the LMU Invitational after recording a hitting percentage of .331, including 84 kills, 18 digs and four solo blocks in 20 matches. In LMU's 3-0 tourney final win over Cumberland (Ky.) College, McGovern had 19 kills and hit at a .469 clip. She ranks fourth in the Gulf South in kills with 3.89 per game.

Ready - and steady. That's the formula Ian Harris of Walled Lake used to capture top honors at the annual Observer & Eccentric/Whispering Willows Golf Tournament, held last weekend at Whispering Willows.

A solid golfer whose often threatened, but never won, the O&E title, Harris — who tied for third in '95 but didn't play last year — found his putting touch, and a bit of everything else in rolling to an easy victory.

On a perfect weather weekend for golf, Harris posted a solid two-over par 72 on Saturday. Which, it must be noted, was no better than the thirdbest score of the day.

Alex McLuckie of Livonia shot an even-par 70 to go into the final round of the championship flight Sunday with the lead.

And know what? That wasn't even the best round of the first day. Lowscore honors went to Rick Wheeler of Livonia, who had a 68 - while playing in first flight.

"I felt like that priest playing in the thunderstorm in the movie 'Caddyshack.' Everything I was hitting was going in," Wheeler said of Saturday's round.

Unfortunately, it didn't last; on Sun-day Wheeler "three-putted six greens," he said. "I hate to follow-up a 68 with an 83. But I'll just try to forget about (Sunday) and remember (Saturday)."

The memory won't be too bitter -Wheeler still won the first flight with a two-round total of 151.

Harris had no such laments. He followed his solid first round Saturday with an even better one Sunday: a 69.

"It was a funny round today," he said of his final round. "I hit the ball better yesterday, but I couldn't buy a putt.

"Today, I hit kind of squirrely shots but I made some putts."

COLLEGE FOOTBALL Calhoun becomes go-to guy

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Nobody is going to question Bruce Calhoun's durability or ability anymore. Particularly after last Saturday's performance against Wayne State.

The 6-foot-1, 220pound senior tailback from Wayne Memorial High rushed for a career-high 218 yards in 24 carries and three touchdowns in leading unbeaten Grand Valley State, ranked in the top 10 nationally in NCAA Division II, to its fourth consecutive football vic-Bruce Calhoun tory, a 45-30 win against Top tallback the host Tartars.

Averaging 9.1 yards per carry, including a 55-yard TD run, Calhoun was named Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference Offensive Player of the Week for the second time this season.

He has already surpassed last year's total of 411 yards when he was limited to spot duty behind two-time 1,000-yard (plus) rusher Darnell Jamison.

In four games this season, Calhoun has already racked up 619 yards. Not bad considering he suffered a dislocated ankle in the final game of the 1993 season and had six screws and a plate inserted.

"In the NFL, defensive backs can usually can bring down most running backs in a one-on-one situation, but in our conference you can't tackle him as a defensive back," Grand Valley head coach Brian Kelly said of his new-found standout. "Bruce is the kind of guy who gets better when the defenses begin to tire. He's proven you can give him 30 carries a game."

.•Chris Arsenault, a 1996 graduate and football starter from Livonia Stevenson, is captain of the 'Central Michigan University cheerleading squad.

Arsenault, a second-year member of the CMU cheerleading squad, is a sophomore finance major.

•Nicole Tobin (Livonia Stevenson), a freshman forward for Siena Heights College, was named Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference Player of the Week in women's soccer after scoring four goals and three assists as the Saints defeated Tri-State (Ind.), 5-1, and Cornerstone, 5-2.

Tobin also had two goals and two assists Tuesday as Siena Heights (6-3 overall) defeated Aquinas, 7-2.

Youth soccer champs

Posting a 4-0 record, the 1983 Michigan Hawks recently captured the Blue & Orange Fall Cup in Champaign, Ill.

The Hawks downed the Milwaukee (Wis.) Kickers, Quad City (Iowa) Strikers, Team Tulsa (Okla.) and Busch Soccer Club of St. Louis, Mo.

Members of the Hawks include: Katie Beaudoin, Cheryl Fox, Lindsay Gusick and Christina Lewis, all of Livonia; Lacey Catarino, Westland; Amanda Lentz, Plymouth; Natalie Shaheen, Birmingham; Bri Ranney, West Bloomfield; Jackie Gatt, -Rochester; Emily Carbott, Northville; Abbey Shepherd, Milford; Nicole Greger and Natalie Galas, Sterling Heights; Erin Carlson, Lisa Grubb and Emily Wiegand, Portage.

Soccer runner-up

The Livonia YMCA Meteors, a under-13 Little Caesars Premier League team, recently finished second in the Capital Area Classic Tournament in Lansing, falling the TPSA Attack of Troy in the finals, 2-0.

The Meteors, coached by Eustace Lewis and Sam Williams, won all their first-round games by shutout in the Premier Division.

Members of the Meteors include: Danielle Dougherty, Sarah Leary, Danielle Lewis, Sara McCammon, Courtney McLean, Stacie Perkins, Laura Shishkovsky and Jacqueline Williams, all of Livonia; Emily LaRouche, Westland; Lindsey Stiver, Canton; Lisa Checcobeli, Crystal Corte, Angie Schmitt, Nina Schmitt and Keri Timar, Novi; Brynn Wozniak, Brighton.

"I hit the ball under a picnic bench," Harris said of his tee shot, "and we didn't know if we could move it without penalty."

Sue Solomon, filling in as Harris' caddy for the tournament, raced back to the clubhouse to get tournament director Paul Worley to make a ruling.

Worley allowed the move, and Harris hit a wedge shot "right through a tree to within 10 feet of the cup, and I made my putt for birdie.

"That really got me going." He never did let up, following a frontnine 34 with a back-nine 35. And that followed Saturday's back-to-back ninehole totals of 36.

Talk about consistency — a tworound total of one-over par 141.

The result was a rather easy victory. McLuckie, who was runner-up in both 1994 and '95 (after winning in '93), faded with an 81 on Sunday for a 151 total. Karl Nagy and Roger Trevisan, both of Livonia fired identical rounds of 73-74/147 to tie for second in championship flight.

In the playoff, Trevisan and Nagy both birdied the par-five first hole. They skipped to No. 18 for the second playoff hole, where Trevisan nailed a 15-foot birdie putt to claim second prize in championship flight.

was worth a $200 golf gift certificate to Harris. Trevisan earned a $160 certificate, while Nagy won low net for a $120 certificate.

In first flight, Wheeler's win was worth a $160 certificate. Andy Kurncz, also of Livonia, was second ($120), and Bob Viviano of Plymouth earned low net honors ($100).

Second flight was won by Alan Teeter of West Bloomfield ($140), with Buzzy Holzer of West Bloomfield second ($100) and Danny Winegarden of Livonia getting low net ($95).

Ron Retzlaff of Southfield was the winner in third flight ($75). Michael The victory in championship flight McComb of Redford won low net ($45).

Blazers stop Marlins' hex

BY NEAL ZIPSER STAFF WRITER

It's been five years since Livonia Ladywood has beaten Farmington Hills Mercy in girls basketball.

And by Tuesday's result, you'd think getting a chance to beat the struggling Marlins has been on the mind of the Blazers all season.

"Actually, it was all the girls talked about at out team camp in July," Ladywood coach Andrea Gorski admitted after her team routed Mercy 61-43 in front of a raucous Ladywood crowd.

"This is the biggest game of the year for us," said junior guard Erin Hayden, who scored a season-high 18 points. "It also means a lot to us beating them convincingly. Now we're thinking about October 17 (the next time the teams face each other), and they'll go down again."

Ladywood, which won its fifth straight game, improved to 6-3 overall and a perfect 3-0 in the Catholic League. The Marlins are headed in the other direction, dropping to 4-4 overall and 0-3 in the league.

After Hayden, the Blazers had balanced scoring. Freshman Melissa Harakas recorded nine points, six assists and three steals, while seniors Sarah Poglits and Jenny LaChapelle chipped in with eight points each.

The Marlins received 12 points from junior guard Jessie Brennan before she fouled out in the fourth quarter. Sophomore guards Susie Roble and Nuverre Naami added 10 points apiece.

Mercy looked good early, jumping out to a 7-0 lead and later an 11-2 lead as Ladywood missed its first six shots against the Mercy zone.

"We look to go inside to Sarah early but they did a good job double-teaming her," Gorski said. "I thought we were tense and a little nervous because the girls were so up for this game."

The Blazers quickly took control, scoring six of the final eight points in the first quarter and then dominating the second quarter 23.5. The Marlins had problems with the Ladywood full-court press and committed nine of their 27 turnovers in the second quarter.

"No one remembers who starts, they only remember who finishes," Mercy coach Dave Collins said. "We turned the ball over against their press and they fed off it, getting into a rhythm and getting some easy baskets."

"I thought our full-court press gave them some problems and that turned the game around," Gorski added. "We wanted to force the tempo while they wanted to slow it down some. We also shot great in the second half and moved the

After missing their first seven three-point tries, the Blazers nailed four of six in the second quarter — two by Hayden.

"Erin didn't panic early and that's the difference with her this year from last year," Gorski said. "Their press didn't hurt us because she attacked it and showed good leadership

Calhoun's style has not changed since his days at Wayne Memorial where he led the Zebras to a season-ending convincing win over rival Westland John Glenn and a berth in the 1992 state Class AA playoffs.

"I'm a power runner," Calhoun said. "I'm a tough-nosed runner who goes straight ahead and makes the defensive person pay.

"But I owe my success to the offensive line, our quarterbacks and receivers: I owe everything to them."

Kelly, now in his seventh year with the Lakers, recruited Calhoun out of high school.

"In retrospect, I'm not that bright," Kelly said. "Maybe he should have been playing a lot sooner, but with the Jamison situation he had to wait his turn. He was a kid we knew was capable being a good back.

"He's a physical specimen. He's a hard worker and exceptionally strong. But he's the consummate team player. He never bitched and he's being rewarded now.'

Calhoun, who waited patiently as a back-up tailback and special teams playes admitted it was tough being in the shadows.

"I wish I hadn't gotten hurt, I missed spring ball (in 1994)," Calhoun recalls. "He (Jamison) was a good back and he got the job.

"But when I did get in, I thought I did a pretty good job. But in the back of my mind I just wanted a chance. I always thought I could play."

Calhoun now looks at things a little differently being the featured back. He has become a marked man in the MIFC.

"Backing up is a totally different job," he said. "The pressure is not on you, but you still take pride in getting the job

"But now the pressure is on you and not someone else. And you want to bè that person."

Calhoun, playing before his parents, Faye and Terry Edwards, along with friends and relatives, was The Man on Saturday.

"You could tell it was a special day for him," Kelly said. "Bruce's leadership is more by example more than vocal. But you could see a glimmer in his eye when the Wayne State game rolled around."

Calhoun, who spent the summer in Allendale working for Pepsi, yearns to return home. He will graduate in December with a degree in marketing.

"It depends on the job opportunity, but I'd like to go back to the east side of the state," he said. "I'm used to the city. I miss the people and my friends.

"Here a school (Allendale) is more a country like atmosphere. But it's been a great experience. I've kearned a lot on

Unbeaten ranks shrink to 3

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Let's throw some numbers out as we reach the halfway mark of the high school football season.

Only three Observerland teams remain unbeaten — Farmington Hills Harrison, Westland John Glenn and Redford Catholic Central — all 4-0.

And all three appear to be ripe for post-season action once again this year.

Meanwhile, teams still looking for their first wins of 1997 - Plymouth Canton, Redford Union and Garden City.

Will the winning and losing trends of these six teams continue?

It appears Redford CC will encounter its biggest test to date when it tackles rival Birmingham Brother Rice in the 32nd Boys Bowl.

It also appears Garden City and RU each have excellent chances to break into the winner's circle. But for Plymouth Canton, which takes on No. 1ranked Harrison in Class A, the Chiefs may have to wait another week.

As for four-week tally for your friend prognosticators, each enjoyed excellent weeks, going 13-1 apiece.

Dan O'Meara still maintains his four-game lead with a 51-9 cumulative record. Yours truly is 47-13.

Here is a look at this weekend's action.

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Redford Union (0-4, 0-3) at D.H. Crestwood (1-3, 1-1), 7 p.m.: The RU Panthers lost a heartbreaker last week when rival Redford Thurston rallied in the second half from 20 points down to win 27-26. With Mike Macek and Matt Rigley, RU could be ready to reverse its losing ways against Crestwood, which lost last week to Highland Park, 26-7. PICKS: Crestwood wins this Mega-Blue thriller. Red. Thurston (3-1) at Willow Run (0-4), 7 p.m.: The Eagles, a member of the Mega-Blue, relied on the heroics of Nick Dedeluk to beat RU last week. Willow Run, a newcomer to the Mega-Gold, got pounded last week by River Rouge, 42-0. PICKS: Willow Run really misses Dan Henry as head coach, Thurston rolls.

Trenton (0-4, 0-3) at Garden City (0-4, 0-2): Something has to give in this Mega-White Division matchup between two winless teams. GC is coming off a 49-7 pounding by Lincoln Park. Trenton, a Class A playoff qualifier only a year ago, fell last week to Dearborn Edsel Ford, 35-3. PICKS: Trenton keeps Garden City winless.

W.L. Western (3-1, 1-1) at Llv. Churchill (1-3, 0-2): The schedule suddenly becomes mighty difficult for Churchil, which has lost three straight since a season-opening win over RU. The Chargers must face WLAA-Western Division heavyweights Walled Lake Western and Farmington Hills Harrison on successive weeks. What an uphill challenge. PICKS: Western, the defending Class AA champion, rebounds from its loss to Harrison.

Franklin (2-2, 1-1) at Northville (2-2, 2-0): The Mustangs are tied for first place in the WLAA's Western Division with Harrison after posting wins over Churchill and Canton. Franklin rebounded from its 51-8 drubbing two weeks ago to Harrison by blanking Churchill, 13-0, as sophomore quarterback Eric Crouse stepped in for the injured Brian Facione and hit eight of 11 passes. The Patriots, however, have not played well over the years against the Mustangs. PICKS: Northville enjoys its cider and donuts. Emons says, but O'Meara feels Patriotic.

Ply. Salem (2-2, 1-1) at Westland John Glenn (4-0, 2-0): The last time Salem beat Glenn? Try 1991, the year running back Leon Hister led the Rocks to the playoffs. Salem can't be taken lightly after handing North Farmington its first loss of the year. 21-14. Glenn, however, has a balanced offensive attack led by quarterback Justin Berent and tailback Reggie Spearmon. PICKS: Glenn beats Salem for the sixth straight year.

F.H. Harrison (4-0, 2-0) at Ply. Canton (0-4, 0-2): Does Canton get a purple heart for playing one of the Western, Now they have No. 1 Harrison, which boasts a tremendous defensive and offensive line coached by longtime John Herrington assistant Bob Sutter. PICKS: Harrison has its way all night.

Wayne (1-3, 1-2) at Dbn. Edsel Ford (3-1, 2-1): Edsel's only loss came against unbeaten and stateranked Allen Park. The T-Birds rely on quarterback Justin Machak, who threw three TD passes last week and rushed for 115 yards in a 35-3 rout of winless Trenton. This is an interesting matchup, however, because Wayne, which earned its first win last week against Southgate, has definitely played the tougher schedule. It's Mega-Red vs. Mega-White. PICKS: Emons has a hunch that if Wayne can hang with state-ranked Dearborn Fordson, it can certainly beat Edsel. O'Meara believes Edsel Ford has a better idea.

Bishop Borgess (3-1, 1-0) vs. Riverview Gabriel Richard (2-2, 1-0) at the Downriver Community Center: Borgess, behind the running of Kevin Jordan and Walter Malone, squeaked by Detroit East Catholic in its Tri-Sectional opener, 22-20. But Riverview Gabriel Richard, expected to contend with Southgate Aquinas for the divisional title, also won its Tri-Sectional opener, 30-8, against Allen Park Cabrini. PICKS: Richard stays in the division lead.

SATURDAY'S GAMES (all 1 p.m. unless noted)

Clarenceville (1-3, 1-3) at Lutheran Westland (2-2, 1-2): Bragging rights in Observerland are at stake between these two Metro Conference foes. Lutheran Westland has won two being split into separate divisions straight, but must find a way to contain Clarenceville's outstanding back Walter Ragiand. "If you don't tackle him with two or three guys, he'll just churn it out and drag you along," Lutheran Westland coach Gary Kamin said of Ragland. Both teams, however, are battling injuries. The Warriors lost two-way starter Mike Baltz to a knee injury in the win over Dearborn St. Alphonsus, Clarenceville is also missing some key lineman after last week's 47-20 loss to Metro leader Harper Woods. PICKS: Clarenceville ing one tie), but CC has won 11 of finds a way to win.

Liv. Stevenson (1-3, 0-2) at Farm-than 88 yards total offense to beat the Falcons, who are coming off a 28-7 defeat to Walled Lake Central, PICKS: The Spartans earn their first Lakes Division triumph.

N. Farmington (3-1, 1-1) at W.L. Central (3-1, 2-0): This matchup should determine who might challenge John Glenn for the WLAA's Lakes Division title. Central is coming off a 28-7 win over Farmington, while North suffered its first loss of the year against Salem, 21-14. The Vikings have a lot of size and experience, while North counters with running back Kirk Moundros. PICKS: Central stays in the divisional title hunt.

St. Agatha (2-2, 1-0) vs. Royal Oak Shrine (3-1, 0-1), 7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Field: The Aggies took advantage of Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard turnovers to post an 18-0 victory last week in the Catholic League C-Section opener. Shrine, coached by former Aggie head coach John Goodard, lost its divisional opener and first game of the year last week when Pontiac Notre Dame Prep scored a TD with 1:03 left for a 24-17 victory. Watch out for the Aggies' Wesley Shaw, while Shrine counters with Kevin Goodcourage. PICKS: Sincenearby Newburgh Lake is being drained, Goodard can go back home and take a victory dip in his jacuzzi.

SUNDAY'S GAME

Redford Catholic Central (4-0) vs. Birm. Brother Rice (3-1), 2 p.m. at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium: Despite this season in the Catholic League Central, these two schools are steeped in one of the state's most notable rivalries. Rice, whose only loss to Toledo St. Francis, may have gotten a boost when it turned back Detroit DePorres last week, 14-0. The Warriors must win to keep their playoff hopes alive in Class AA-Region III. Ironically, CC, also a member of Class AA-Region III, can gain some valuable bonus points with a win. Rice leads this Boys Bowl series, 16-14 (includthe last 14 meetings since 1986. Rice, however, has won two of the

Archer paces Warriors to 14-0 football triumph

Lutheran High Westland won its second straight football game Saturday, but not without some agony.

The Warriors blanked visiting Dearborn St. Alphonsus in a non-leaguer, 14-0, to square their record at 2-2, but lost starting linebacker and offensive guard Mike Baltz to a third-quarter knee injury.

Baltz underwent orthoscopic surgery to 'repair a cartilage tear on Tuesday.

"That really puts us at a loss," Lutheran Westland first-year head coach Gary Kamin said.

The Warriors' defense was outstanding, limiting the Arrows to 117 total yards. Lutheran Westland's defense also overcame three lost fumbles.

Outside linebacker Scott Archer and cornerback Ryan Moser each registered 10 tackles, while nose guard and tackle Kyle DiFatta had seven. Archer also recovered a fumble.

Archer, a 5-foot-8, 172-pound junior, was also an offensive standout, figuring in all 14 Lutheran Westland points.

He hauled in a 29-yard scoring pass from junior quarterback Gordie Engle in the second quarter for a 6-0 lead. (The extra point was no good.)

Archer then scored on a 4-yard run in the third period and added the two-point conversion.

The Warriors had 199 yards total offense with Jake Hatten rushing for 98 of those yards in 22 carries.

St. Alphonsus also lost a key player in the second quarter when running back Shaun Page, who had rushed for 68 yards in 15 carries, went down with a knee injury.

•HARPER WOODS 47, CLARENCEVILLE 20: Metro Conference co-leader Harper Woods remained unbeaten as Lee Dor chak rushed for 152 yards in 23 carries and two touchdowns. The Pioneers, who improved to 4-0 overall and 4-0 in the conference, also got 81 yards in 13 carries from Frank Hess. One of his touchdowns was a 70-yard kickoff return.

"Harper Woods is very good team, they have the whole package," Clarenceville coach Chuck Donaldson said. "They should win the league. They have the best line I've ever seen in this league."

Walter Ragland, a junior who rushed for 108 yards in 12 carries, scored two TDs for Clarenceville on runs of 49 and 8 yards.

The Trojans had 246 total yards, Quarterback Craig Rose was five of 11 for 104 yards with one interception.

Justin Villanueva contributed a 76-yard kickoff return in the first half as the Trojans trailed 27-6.

Defensively, linebacker Tim Atkins was on on 14 tackles. while Villanueva and Josh Fritch contributed nine and eight. respectively.

Fritch, however, went down with a thumb injury in the second quarter and never returned.

"We've lost three players and we're kind of weak on the line right now." said Donaldson, whose team is 1-3 overall and 1-3 in the Metro.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS BASKETBALL

Chargers zapped

Farmington Harrison jumped to an early lead Tuesday and maintained it Tuesday for a 55-43 girls basketball victory over host Livonia Churchill.

Senior Amy Roble scored 22 points to lead all scorers for the Hawks, who are 3-1 in the Western Lakes and 7-3 overall.

Harrison led 20-8 at the end of the first quarter, 30-20 at halftime and 44-33 after three periods.

The Chargers got within three in the third, but the Hawks reasserted themselves with an 8-1 run.

Lauren Ruprecht scored 14 points and Kersten Conklin 12 for Churchill, 1-2 and 5-3.

.DePORRES 60, WAYNE 58: Senior guard Carmen Woolfolk poured in a game-high 30 points Tuesday to lead Detroit St. Martin DePorres (5-1 overall) to the non-league win over visiting Wayne Memorial (1-5.overall).

Tene Miller added 18 points for Eagles, who missed three free throws in the final 12 seconds clinging to a twopoint lead.

Junior forwards Beth Molitor and Tanya Crawford each scored 17 points over Livonia Clarenceville (3-6, 1-5).

Eyeing the title

Crusaders blank Aquinas to continue winning ways in WHAC

One more step . Madonna University's soccer team took another step toward a title in its first-ever season of Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference competition with its 2-0 blanking of Aquinas College Saturday in Grand Rapids. The Fighting Crusaders scored twice in the closing minutes of the first half to clinch the victory. Christian Emert (from Walled Lake Central) got the first goal, the assist going to Brock Becker, with eight minutes left in the opening half.

Jason Hazinski (Redford Thurston) made it 2-0 in the last minute of the half, unassisted. (Livonia Mark Zathey Ohurchill) was in goal for

ROUNDUP

Madonna for the shutout. He made seven saves, while Aquinas keeper Nolan Gerber made 12 saves.

The Crusaders are 5-3 overall, 5-0 in the WHAC. The Saints fell to 3-4 overall, 1-4 in the WHAC.

Ocelots tie EMU Eagles

The most powerful weapon in Eastern Michigan University's arsenal is a familiar one to those at Schoolcraft College.

After all, Mo Hijazi - who had scored eight of the Eagles' 11 goals going into their match last Saturday — played at SC for two years before switching to EMU. He had been shutout just Lady Ocelots slip once this season by one of the Eagle opponents — until facing SC.

Saturday's blanking was complete, by both teams. The match ended in a scoreless tie, although both sides did put goals in the net that were called back.

"I feel good about our kids, and they feel good about themselves," said SC coach Van Dimitriou. "We allowed him one shot on goal, and it was a header."

The Ocelots' record went to 6-4-2 overall.

"The thing that made this game a good one for us was, we found a lineup that worked,' said Dimitriou.

The Lady Ocelots struck first in their match at College of DuPage (Glen Ellyn, Ill.) last Saturday. But they couldn't make it stick.

DuPage tied it at 1-all before halftime, then pulled away in the second half for a 3-1 victory.

"Our team played with enormous heart," said SC coach Bill. Tolstead. "Our errors provided opportunities for DuPage to score.

"But it was a well-played game. We created offensive opportunities for ourselves, we just couldn't clear the ball from our own end."

It didn't help that SC was without both of its keepers, which resulted in Lisa Tolstedt filling in in goal.

The Ocelots took a 1-0 lead in the opening half when Julie Majewski (Canton) converted a pass from Lisa DeShano (Livonia Franklin) and Kelly Melnyk.

The defeat left SC with a 1-7-1 record.

PREP SOCCER ROUNDUP

Wins have been hard to come by this season for the Westland Huron Valley boys soccer team.

Huron Valley wins

But on Tuesday, the Hawks could savor the moment as they won their first Michigan Independent Athletic Conference match of the season at Southfield Franklin Road Christian, 2-1.

Chris Peters' header off a cross from Jeremy Zahn in the 77th minute broke a 1-1 deadlock and proved to be the game winner as the Hawks improved to 1-5 in the MIAC and 2-10-1 overall.

Zahn scored with 16:15 left in the first half, but the Warriors answered a minute later.

Goalkeeper Jared Ridenour made six saves for Huron Valley. The Hawks launched 20 shots.

On Monday, host Canton Agape Christian and Westland Huron Valley battled to a 1-1 draw at Heritage Park.

Ken Evans scored for Agape at the 62-minute mark, but Tom Husby answered two minutes later for the Hawks, who outshot Agape, 13-4 and racked up eight corner kicks.

"We just couldn't find the back of the net," Huron Valley coach Matt Henzi said.

+LUTHERAN WESTLAND O. CRANBROOK O: In a Metro Conference encounter Tuesday, host Lutheran High Westland stayed in the title chase by playing Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook to a scoreless deadlock.

The Warriors, who play a key Metro match today at Grosse Pointe Woods University Liggett, are now 10-2-2 overall and 4-0-2 in the conference.

Cranbrook is 3-2-2 in the Metro.

Goalkeeper Andrew Gliesman, who drew strong support from his defense and midfield, had to make only one save in posting the shutout.

•LUTHERAN NORTHWEST 11, CLARENCEVILLE 3: Adam King scored twice and Brian Pankow scored on a penalty kick, but it wasn't enough Tuesday as Livonia Clarenceville (0-8 overall) fell to host Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest in a Metro Conference match.

Clarenceville trailed only 5-2, in the second half when King was ejected with a red card.

On Sept. 26, host Clarenceville was beaten by Macomb Lutheran North, 13-0.

•CHURCHILL 7, JOHN GLENN 1: George Kithas and Rob Bartoletti each tallied a pair of goals Monday, leading host Livonia Churchill (8-1-3 overall) to the Western Lakes Activities Association crossover victory over Westland John Glenn (5-7-1 overall).

Other goal scorers for the Charges, who led 4-0 at halftime, included Shaun Murray, Mike Kolvunen and back-up goalkeeper Steve Kleczynski.

David George contributed two assists.

Jeff Shelby scored Glenn's lone goal.

•STEVENSON 5, W.L. CENTRAL 0: Sophomore strikers Nick Soper and Nick Ziobron each scored twice Monday, propelling Livonia Stevenson (6-2-3, 2-0-1) to the WLAA-Lakes Division triumph over Walled Lake Central.

Senior midfielder Ryan Broderick also scored for the Spartans, who led 3-0 at intermission and outshot the Vikings, 40-3.

•FRANKLIN 4, HARRISON 0: Ryan Krecht scored five minutes into the match on a scramble in front of the goal, proving to be the game-winner Monday as Livonia Franklin (6-7-1, 2-2) blanked host Farmington Hills Harrison in a WLAA-Western Division encounter.

The Patriots added three more second-half goals within a 12-minute span --- Ross Bohler on a cross from Adam Shanks; Shanks from Scott Tuggle; and Dave Moldovan (unassisted).

Matt Cleslak and Jeremy Bruckner split time in goal to preserve the shutout with defensive help from Bill Fischer.

•CARLSON 2, WAYNE 1: A first-half penalty kick goal proved to be the difference Monday as host Gibraitar Carlson gained the Mega Conference-Blue Division win over Wayne Memorial (3-4-2, 2-2-2).

Mike Proich's goal from Ken Oestreich with 15:52 remaining in the match pulled Wayne to within one, but the Zebras couldn't score the equalizer.

State-ranked Spartans 5-0

Livonia Stevenson won nine of 11 events Tuesday to earn its fifth straight girls swim victory of the season against Plymouth Canton, 114-72, in a meet held at Livonia Churchill.

Adrienne Turri led Stevenson by posting a state cut in the 200yard individual medley with a time of 2:18,13.

Turri also teamed up with Marti McKenzie, Jessica Makowski and Becky Noechel to win the 200 freestyle relay in 1:44.34.

Individual double winners for the Spartans included Julie Kern in the 50- and 100 freestyles with times of 26.34 and 55.56, respectively; and Becky Noechel in the 200- and 500 freestyles with clockings of 2:04.04 and 5:37.07.

Stevenson's other individual first was recorded by diver Laurel Dolin with a season-best 254.00 points.

The foursome of Lindsay Dolin, Jordyn Godfroid, Meghan Moceri and Jill Gaudet captured the 200 medley relay in 2:00.77. The Spartans' quartet of Kern, Meghan Lesnau, Moceri and Noechel also took the 400 freestyle relay in 3:52.73.

Canton won two events: Sue Fanning in the 100 breaststroke (1:18.6) and Michelle Nilson in the 100 backstroke (1:10.2).

Freestyle winner: Julie Kern (front) of Stevenson adjusts her goggles after winning the 50-yard . freestyle in 26.34 in a 114-72 dual meet Tuesday win over Plymouth Canton. Teri Hanson of Canton is in the background.

BUT THESE AREN'T THE ONES THEY HAD IN MIND.

Imagine you're 16. You should be having the time of your life. But instead, you're having a baby. Your friends avoid you. Your family disowned you. And suddenly you have no place to turn. But, you're not alone. Thousands of teens just like you give birth every year.

The future does not always hold great promise for a teenage mother with a child. But with your help, they can at least have hope. The United Way supports 16 United Way agencies in the tri-county area that offer programs that provide young mothers and fathers with pre-natal care, counseling, education and employment referrals.

Last year, you helped fund these agencies with $2.1 million. And even though the number of births have declined recently, we still need your help. With every dollar vou donate, your gift not only helps teens in crisis, but thousands of other people who rely on the United Way.

> Pregnancy can certainly have an affect on a 16-year-old's future. But then, so can you.

Give Help. Give Hope. Give Now.

BY KEELY WYGONIK

Dave Florek graduated from Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, and now has a steady gig appearing as a refinery worker named Vic on the hit TV sitcom "Grace Under Fire."

"He visited the campus this summer to teach a television acting class, and to star in 'Lincoln Park Zoo,' a play written by another alumnus, Richard Strand," said Ken Stevens, EMU's managing director of theater for the past 25 years. Florek and Strand are the names that come to mind when Stevens is asked about the careers of past graduates, but his mind is focused on getting ready for EMU's 121st season, which opens Thursday, Oct. 9. "Our primary mission is educational," said Stevens. "Over a period of four to five years we want to make sure our students experience a wide range of theater styles, and periods. We also try to provide the campus, and wider community with the opportunity to see a wide range of theater, and make it appealing to them." This fall, audiences will get to experience American and Russian theater. and see the vast differences between them. "The Good Doctor," by Neil Simon, a collection of funny vignettes adapted from the short stories of Anton Chekhov, opens the season Thursday, Oct. 9. "Then we're doing 'The Cherry Orchard,' a comedy/drama by Anton Chekhov," said Stevens. "The Cherry Orchard," looks at the ironic life of Madame Ranevskaya and her middle-class family as they bemoan the loss of their home and beloved orchard. Director Professor James Gousseff is retiring in December. Gousseff has won the EMU Artistic Recognition Award, and authored two books of original pantomime scripts during his 34 years at EMU. As professor emeritus he will continue his service on the board of the Riverside Arts Center, and involvement with other area theater groups, which began last year when he played the role of Polonius in Ann Arbor Civic Theatre's production of "Hamlet."

BY HUGH GALLAGHER STAFF WRITER

athleen Crosby has a clear recollection of precisely when she wanted to become a costume designer. It was during an Avon Players production of "The King and I."

"I was in the first grade and my brother and I got trapped under Anna's hoop skirts. From then on, I wanted to do costumes," said Crosby.

Now she is pursuing her dream as a graduate student at Wayne State University where she has been busy preparing costumes for the Hilberry Theatre's first play of the season, Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not for Burning."

Wayne State operates two student theaters. The Hilberry is the graduate school's repertory theater. The Bonstelle is an undergraduate theater.

"Hilberry is the only true graduate repertory company in the country," said Heather Ginn, a student in theater

Circus 'Greatest Life on Earth' for performers

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAFF WRITER

You don't have to run away to be a part of the circus anymore. Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey - "The Greatest Show On Earth," at Joe Louis Arena through Oct. 5 invites you to participate in their Three Ring Adventure.

An hour before show time, the arena floor will be open, and you can mingle with the performers, and even walk on a tight rope. "Bring your camera, all of us will be there in costume, and we'll give autographs too," said Todd Zimmerman of Temperance, Mich. (near Monroe) who joined the show in 1996

Inside the ring, Zimmerman's a clown, but outside he's serious - "I dreamed about it forever. The odds are slim to none. Only 30 of 3,000 people who audi-

But even after you go through clown college, there's no guarantee you'll be chosen to tour with the show. The number of Clown College students who are offered apprenticeships with the show varies from year to year.

It's not an easy life, the circus, performers tour 11-and-a-half months out of the year, presenting over 500 shows. But there's no place Zimmerman would rather be.

"It's magical," he said. "The circus has always held us in awe. We're doing what people dream about doing. We fly - on the trapeze, and get to travel. Not everyone can just pick up and go. As clowns we are able to touch people, and for a few moments, make them forget their problems with our frivolity. I've always wanted to be a part of that.'

management with the Hilberry Company.

Ginn followed her husband John Franklin Ginn from Georgia to Wayne State where he auditioned and was accepted into the Master of Fine Arts program.

Ginn said production accounts for about 85 percent of a student's time. The Hilberry presents seven plays during the school year, with 2-4 presented in-fepertory, (The Bonstelle produces five plays, including one musical.)

"We do focus on learn by doing. That's how we learn something, Ginn said.

In her case, she is responsible for handling publicity and advertising for the productions. In her husband's case, it was a chance to get lots of stage time.

"When he started checking on universities, he made a list of where he could get the most onstage training," Ginn said.

She said WSU has a "fabulous reputation" and they care for their students with insurance programs and stipends.

Crosby, a graduate of Rochester High School and Eastern Michigan, also enjoys the hands-on approach. She said she's been sewing since she was 5 years old and loves combining her love for theater with her love for sewing.

The upcoming production offered special challenges.

"The Lady's Not For Burning" is a verse drama set in the middle ages. A world-weary soldier comes to a small town and announces he's committed murder and wants to be hanged. A young woman is accused of witchcraft and doesn't want to be burned at the stake. They present their cases to the mayor. Around these two, the people of the town carry on their own complicated relations.

Crosby said the play's director, James Thomas, wanted a fairy tale look, not a strictly 1400s period look.

"I decided on a color palette," she said. "The set uses warm colors, lots of wood. I decided to do the costumes in reds, navies, powder blues. It's really a European thing that I wanted to do.

"It's like watching a fairy tale unfold."

Crosby said this fairy tale look is especially true in the princess costume she designed for the character of Alizon, played by Sara Wolf of Rochester Hills.

Wolf auditioned for the Hilberry in March.

"They liked me and said I could stay," she said.

The character she plays comes out of a convent to get married but falls in love with someone else. She said the play is both a love story and a life story.

"The language is especially challenging," she said. "You have to understand what you're saying and what it is your character wants.'

Wolf joked that she got into theater when she realized she wasn't any good at math and didn't want to join the ski team either.

"I felt comfortable doing it," she said. "I get stage fright, but this is what I love doing."

Wolf said she has her near future planned out.

"Ideally, my three year plan, I want to go to London and, then, even if I'm an out-of-work actor at least I'll be in a cool place."

Matt Troyer's ambitions are westward to Chicago or Los Angeles when he finishes his final two years at WSU.

Troyer, of Ferndale, plays

Richard, the object of Alizon's affections in "Lady."

His desire to be an actor also 'blossomed as a child.

"I did the forgetful Easter Rabbit in first grade and did a show every year after that," he said.

He has more recently played Mercutio in "Romeo and Juliet." Jerry in Albee's "Zoo Story," and Brick in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." He has also performed in local film productions.

Publicists, costume designers, actors, lighting technicians, directors and set designers are all getting their experience under fire at Wayne State's two theaters, where they are realizing their childhood theater dreams.

the 20 minutes before show time when the clowns warm-up the audience is his favorite time. "We get to create, and put out our own stuff," he said. This year the clowns are presenting a classic clown act in Act I. "We do a clown car wash, it's a soap gag," he said. "Then we do the clown car where there's a chase, and we try to stuff a lot of clowns into one car."

Later in the show they do something different, ringmaster Dinny McGuire tells the story of "Rapunzel," and the clowns try to foil his attempt in their own clown way.

"Anytime the audience laughs it pumps us up," said Zimmerman.

McGuire said doing the routine, which includes some current event stuff, is "way toomuch fun for any adult to have."

McGuire is to the circus what the pipe organ was to silent movies. He sets the tone, helping create tension before death-defying acts, and builds the excitement for main attractions such as Airiana the Human Arrow.

He has a background in music, rama and theater, and joined the show in 1982. McGuire introduced audiences to the living unicorn, and the first quadruple somersault ever performed on the flying trapeze by Miguel Vazquez, July 10, 1982 in Tucson, Ariz.

"I'm the number one fan leading people through the circus adventure," he said. McGuire does enjoy a walk on the wild side, he plays the tuba, and spent two years in Australia with Silver's Grand magic Circus, where he met and married his wife Emily, currently a dancer with Ringling Bros., but didn't think there was a place for him in the circus until the 1970s when he saw the singing ringmaster.

"That's a job I wanted," he said. "But what were the chances? Then I got a call from a friend who was a dancer in the show who said, 'Dinny, your job is opening up.' I auditioned, and got it."

He's toured all over the country, and you get the feeling talking to him that he's having the time of his life.

"The same thing that makes the USA great makes this show great," he said. "We take our talent from all over the world. The very finest want to perform here. We have the hardest working people, we're the like the melting pot of the world circus. That's what keeps us viable, the quality of the show." There are special effects aplenty, but no video trickery. "Everything is real," said McGuire. "Audiences are a little tired of seeing things that aren't real." Part of what makes Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey great is the build up, and hype of what is to come.

This year they're promoting "Airiana the Human Arrow." "It's a PT Act (after PT Barnum) in the finest tradition," said McGuire. It's at the end of the show. There's a 10 minute build up, and a 12 foot giant pulls her in on her 15 foot cross bow. There's a tiger on an elephant's back. Airia flies across the arena."

This year's show McGuire said is one of the best he's seen. "It's fast paced with top notch acts, culminating in this fantastic aerial shot."

For him, the chance to be tour guide, getting people in the right mood to watch the three-ring spectacular taking place before their eyes is rewarding.

"I'm a big fan trying to share the experience with everyone else."

When the jugglers make their entrance, look for Gena Shvartzman in ring one. She's only 14, and is making her debut with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey. She began juggling when she was only six. A fourth-generation circus performer, she was born in Chechyna. Her parents performed in circuses all over Russia before moving to the United States as political refugees in 1991. She learned juggling from her father, Eugene, and was tutored by her mother Viktoriya the ageold art of contortion. Viktoriya traveled to the U.S. in 1979 as a member of the Russian Gymnastics Team, she also performed as a trapeze artist, acrobat and ballerina in Russian circuses.

Gena is having fun doing her solo juggling act. She twirls a baton, bounces a ball on her head, and juggles eight balls.

"I grew up with the circus," she said. "It's really fun, it's great."

She juggles performing with school, which attends while traveling with the circus. Trinity House explores gap between rich and poor Livonia's Trinity House Theatre opened its 1997.98 season with J.B. Priestley's suspenseful drama, "An Inspector Calls." The show runs Fridays and Saturdays through Oct. 18, with an 8 p.m. curtain (4 p.m. Sundays Oct. 5 and 12). Trinity House is on the northwest corner of I-275 and Six Mile in Livonia, in a remodeled white frame church. $8. (313) 464-6302.

BY SUE SUCHYTA SPECIAL WRITER

Directed by Laura Gumina, "An Inspector Calls" takes place during the waning days of the Victorian era, when the sheltered fortress of the privileged elite began to crumble amid the rising tide of unrest among the poor masses. The story sharply illuminated the contrast between the pampered, sheltered world of the rich and the suffering of the poor working class.

rors this theme, as pieces of the elegant dining room wall "crumble" and are removed between scenes, revealing the stark, gritty ugliness of the industrial revolution's underbelly - the dark factory sweat shops the rich tried to ignore.

The Birling family is celebrating the engagement of their daughter when there's a knock at the door, and a visitor arrives who will change their lives. A suicide, seemingly unrelated to the family, has occurred. The inspector, however, seems determined to ferret out the confession of anyone who may have contributed to her death. As he chips away at their defenses, the characters' sins are laid raw, and a very human tragedy unfolds.

Bob Ketterer is wonderful as Inspector Goole. He rivets his onand off-stage audience with his relentless and dogged pursuit of the truth. Ketterer's acting is Even the set ingeniously mir- mesmerizing, heightening the suspense and capturing the audience with his wonderful performance.

> Anessa Thompson is outstanding as Sheila Birling, the daughter celebrating her engagement. Unlike her parents, who are too busy making excuses, Sheila is deeply moved by the tragedy. Thompson's emotional, impassioned delivery is superb. Sheila becomes the conscience for the family, trying to jolt the others out of their self-protective complacency. Her engagement becomes more of an emotional and moral coming-of-age.

> Guy Snyder, as Mr. Birling, performed well but kept slipping into an Irish brogue, a definite inconsistency for an upper-class Edwardian. Kathy Kitzmann performed well when the story centered on her but needs to maintain that level of intensity throughout the show. Michael Keleman, as Eric Birling, performed well for a newcomer to the stage. After an unremarkable performance in the first act, Scot Martin did well as Gerald Croft, Sheila's fiance. Heather Dean rounded out the cast as the servant Edna.

The costumes, especially Sheila's gown, were stunning and enhanced the characterizations immensely. The symbolism of the crumbling set was remarkable and thought provoking, as were the pre-show slides showing the stark contrast between rich and poor in turn-of-the-century England.

Priestley's vision of community accountability and collective responsibility is a theme that is often echoed on a global basis today. The poor and the sweat shops are still with us, and "An Inspector Calls" serves as a poignant reminder of our common humanity.

Rolling Stones concert tickets go on sale Saturday

Tickets for the The Rolling Stones show with special guest Third Eye Blind at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 2, will go on sale at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 4, at the Silverdome box office and all Ticketmaster outlets.

Tickets are $39.50 and $60 and are limited to 12 per person. The random number policy will be used for ticket sales on the first day.

Approximately a 1/2 hour to one hour before tickets go on sale. random numbers will be issued at the designated entrance. Once all the numbers have been issued, the line order will be announced and the line will be formed. Overnight camping is not allowed.

A number does not guarantee the holder a ticket, only a place in line. Any number that is bought, sold or altered in any way will not be honored.

Only one number per person will be issued. Numbers will not be given to young children unable to wait in line unsupervised.

Once the line is formed, individuals without numbers will line up and be sold tickets after those with numbers.

For more information, call (248) 645-6666.

Hopkins and Baldwin go to extremes in 'The Edge' seemed crous at first. Anthony Hopkins battling bears in the Alaskan wilderness? Married to model Macpherson? In a script written by the king of JOHN clipped dialogue,

Elle

David Mamet?

The

MONAGHAN

Thankfully, "The Edge" turns into a morethan-satisfying adventure outing. Directed by New Zealand's Lee Tamahori ("Once Were Warriors") it finds equal parts beauty and danger as Hopkins and co-star Alec Baldwin crash-land in the middle of nowhere.

After swimming out of their drowned plane, equipped only with a handful of matches and some flares, their first priority is to survive the northern exposure. Soon they discover that their real challenge will be the idea roaming Kodiak bear that wants ludito have them for supper.

> Hopkins' Charles is a billionaire with a fashion model wife and a heavy reader. For him the adventure puts to the test the million little facts that he has at his fingertips. "All theory," he admits earlier. "Nothing I could ever put into practice."

A cross between Richie Rich and Ewell Gibbons, he can create compasses from paper clips and fishing tackle from watch chains. After a search plane has swept over and missed them, he tries to buoy his partner's morale with, the observation, "did you know you can create fire from a block of ice?"

"The Edge" is often hilarious, far funnier than the audience I saw it with gave credit for. Then, in a wicked twist, Mamet ("Glengarry Glen Ross") introduces the notion that "the broad and the boodle" might give Baldwin's Bob the impetus to bump Charles off.

Bob, you see, doesn't hide his attraction for the rich man's wife. He's a self-centered fashion photographer, handsome, the kind of guy whose previous ideaof rugged was probably driving a 4-wheel-drive Blazer to work in the city.

There's another member of the party, a young photographer's assistant (L.Q. Jones), but, like the expendable crew members in an old "Star Trek" episode, you know he's first to come face to face with the man-eating bear.

From there, Bob and Charles surround themselves with a ring of fire. With no way to leave the protection of the circle for food or even more firewood, they realize that if they are ever going to make it home, they will have to take on the animal themselves. But Mamet and Tamahori have more in mind than just a conventional action movie climax. They successfully bring the moral tale to a close as the two men square off against each other.

Drama: Anthony Hopkins and Alec Baldwin fight off a Kodiak bear in a scene from "The Edge."

Here's where "The Edge" is a different animal. Even during their most outlandish acts and sacrifices, Hopkins and Baldwin stay completely, delightfully in your calls and comments. To character.

"The Pillow Book" (Britain-1996). Friday-Sunday, Oct. 3-5 (call for showtimes). The tale of a young Japanese woman grows obsessed with the notion of painting on the human body as a source of erotic perfection. The latest from Peter Greenaway, the enigmatic director of "Prospero's Books" and "The Cook, The Thief...," promises to be equally challenging and visually stunning.

"Gabbeh" (Iran -1996). 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 6. An intricately woven carpet tells stories through its vivid patterns and images in this Iranian import. Main Art Theatre 118 N. Main Street at 11 Mile, Royal Oak. Films play through at least Thursday, unless noted otherwise. Call (248) 542-0180 for information. ($6.50; $4 students, seniors and matinee: $3 twilight) "Shall We Dance?" (Japan -1997). A Japanese businessman breaks free of the monotony of life when he spontaneously decides to take a ballroom dancing class.

1997). One of the year's most delightful films is about a group of unemployed steel workers who decide to try their hand at male stripping. The only problem: Their non-Chippendales physiques.

have to invent the wheel, we can look for some real surprises. Can we expand the definition of art? For instance, is the circus theater? I think so. It's an ephemeral experience created by the dynamic between the performers and the audience." Jimmy nodded.

Mark continued, "We'd like to bring viewers other surprises, too. Last season, we showcased a lot of alternative music – from East Indian musical storytelling by Padma Lall, to techno by DJ-T1000. Maybe now it's time to focus on alternative musicians perhaps musical performances from people our audience may associate with other forms of media." Jimmy continued to nod.

"Meanwhile, we'll still continue to bring you the best in the arts and performance - the big, the little, the avant garde, the mainstream." Jimmy nodded off.

Tonight's season premiere perfectly exemplifies these ambitions. We have a guest from the visiting Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's circus, 15year-old juggler extraordinaire Gèna Shvartsman (featured in today's Entertainment section). The amazing showmanship she can affect - while performing seemingly impossible feats of physical dexterity - strongly supports Mark's argument of circus-as-art.

We'll also look at "high" art from "low" angle: we'll see Verdi's "Aida" playing at the Detroit Opera House – a show that boasts breathtaking sets, epic grandeur and an acclaimed international cast – from the point of view of the opera's unsung heroes: the supernumeraries (opera parlance for "extras"). These regular people (a police officer, a chemist and oth-

Our own Nkenge Zola will interview Backstage Pass art correspondent and Cranbrook curator of eduction David Rau about the work of celebrated Swiss artist Roman Signer, whose exhibition runs at Cranbrook through Oct. 26. Signer's work often includes splats and explosions, so Zola will press David to explain why it's "art."

He explained it to me this way, "Well, one definition of art is that it puts new ideas in people's heads. I think Roman Signer's art - unlike traditional paintings or sculpture - does just that. Although he considers himself a sculptor, Signer's art takes the form of an action, an event, a spectacle. The event is limited in its duration by time and space, expanding the traditional definition of sculpture. His work utilizes simple things - cables, buckets, rugs - the ordinary that, through his somewhat playful approach to art, he makes extraordinary.

Visitors are able to marvel at the everyday through his art and find enjoyment watching the mind of the artist at work," Great. So what are we actually. going to see? "What Backstage Pass videotaped was the action event, which was limited to that space and that time. That was the sculptural moment. Now what's left is the documentation. What we're displaying is the record of that Cranbrook-specific action event, as well as others staged in Europe. Conventional art? I think not!"

Finally, we'll have new music from Dar Williams, a nationally touring recording artist who has a large and loyal following here' in Detroit. That's all on tonight. on Backstage Pass' season pre-looks at old segments has faded like an exfoliated sunburn. Time to proceed with the aloe of a new season, complete with exciting artists, new venues, undiscovered events and extended metaphors related to UV radiation.

Actually, we probably won't touch on spectral analyses of our sun very often, but the remainder of the list is probably pretty accurate. Of course, the best way to predict the season's content would be to ask the show's producers. So I did.

Now, I've given a lot of ink to our show's hosts in this column, and recently I've previewed the upcoming season in Metro Detroit's various art scenes. Well, now's the time to preview our own season-to-be. Our crack team of Backstage Pass series producers, Mark Nathanson and Jimmy Rhoades, purport to be integral in getting the show to air. They're behind-the-scenes guys, so viewers at home often fail to appreciate the stress involved in allowing voice mail to accumulate and misplacing faxes.

Seriously, they have a great deal to do with the look of the show, and have big plans for the second season. Mark gave me an overview. "We established the andience, We've got that song 'Banana Puddin.' ' If we can, we like to talk people into bringing pans of banana pudding. Then, communion style, we'll feed the audience," Huff said.

The main course of the night will be fried chicken.

"We have a song 'Eight Piece Box.' Every night we get a big bucket of fried chicken and we pick people out of the audience who get to do the slow twistin' dance and eat some fried chicken."

Southern Culture on the Skids comes to St. Andrew's Hall to promote its latest album "Plastic Seat Sweat," released on DGC Records on Tuesday, Sept. 23. The album serves up healthy portions of tales about shotgun weddings in "Shotgun," crazy tow truck drivers in "40 Miles to Vegas," bulldozers in the mornin' in the country/rockabilly-driven "Earthmover," and "Banana Puddin' " best served a "day old and bold ... with the skin on top" with vanilla wafers.

In recording the album, South-

Mary Huff, ern Culture on the Skids I got turned on to rockabilly. returned to the formula that pushed its last album, 1995's "Dirt Track Date" (DGC), past the 200,000 mark.

"We used the same place, Reflection Sound Studios, which is about three hours away from where we live, in Charlotte (N.C.). A lot of gospel bands record there. R.E.M. did 'Murmur' and 'Reckoning' there. There's some good stuff coming out of there that other people would know about."

Southern Culture on the Skids also recalled engineer Mark Williams.

"We set up in the same spots, in the same sweet spots. The only thing that we did differently was that they ran the tape speed lower like they did in the '70s. like how they did Fleetwood Mac. It gave us a real lush sound like on the older '70s stuff," said Huff, 30, who joined the band at age 19.

Slipping and sliding from rockabilly, to country, to Jerry Lee Lewis-inspired rock, "Plastic Seat Sweat" collects as many influences as items on a loaded baked potato.

"It's weird, every member of the band has different influences. I go through different phases every year. I was a classical musician, which is what I thought I was going to be up until I was 17 or 18 years old. I listened to a lot of punk rock and new wave in high school. Then about my second year in college,

That was a whole new thing for me."

After indulging in "psychedelic bands from England," Huff "got turned on to Southern Culture on the Skids, which also includes vocalist/guitarist Rick Miller and drummer Dave Hartman. They had that total Cramps thing down. We listen to everything now - a lot of country and bluegrass. The drummer, he listens to a lot of Al Green, soul and R&B. The lead singer and guitar player he listens to a lot of instrumental music – almost elevator music."

As if food isn't enough to persuade someone to go out, Huff explained that Southern Culture · on the Skids' music "comes off a lot better live than they do on record."

"Actually, this record sounds pretty representative of what the songs should sound like. But live, you get to see Rick wear his electric pink polyester pants and do high leg kicks."

Southern Culture on the Skids and The Exotics perform Thursday, Oct. 2, at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit. Doors open at 8 p.m. for the 18 and older show. Tickets are $10. For more information, call (313) 961. MELT.

• It was a virtual who's who of the Detroit entertainment scene at the David Bowie concert Sunday, Sept. 21, at the State Theatre in Detroit. Producer Mike Clark, the knob-turner on ICP's controversial album "The Great Milenko;" current and former members of the Charm Farm Dennis White, Steve Zuccaro, and Tommy Onyx: former WHYT exec Rick Gillette: WRIF morning personality Drew Lane; and Solomon Friedman Advertising's Ken Droz were among the 2,000plus fans who took in Bowie's two-hour show.

Bathed in blue light, Bowie concentrated primarily on his latest album, the industrial-driven "Earthling" (Virgin). Thanks to Reeves Gabrels' pummeling guitars, Bowie's latest single "I'm Afraid of Americans" was among the highlights of the show.

Bowie, who once vowed to stay away from his hits, tapped into his older material including "Fashion," "Jean Genie," "Under Pressure," and of course, "Panic in Detroit."

STREET SCENE

February was as much as a surprise to him as it was to Live's fans.

"I called and said we wanted to come down to the show and say hf, said Love Spit Love's guitarist Richard Fortus. "I didn't actually speak to anybody in the band, just the management, and they said 'Yeah, yeah, of course."

"We got there and there's a guy waiting outside for us saying 'Oh come on, right this way. You're (Butler) late. You're on in three songs.' We didn't know what he was talking about until he told us that Richard was supposed to sing 'Love My Way' with Live."

"Love My Way" was one of the top hits for Butler's former band The Psychedelic Furs.

Love Spit Love - which also includes drummer Frank Ferrer and bassist Chris Wilson - was in town mixing its latest album "Trysome Eatone" (Maverick) with producer/ mixer Ben Grosse at his Pearl Sound Studios in Canton. Grosse, who has worked with Filter, the Red Hot Chili Peppers and the Violent Femmes, has since moved his studio to the west coast.

"He's great," Fortus said. What happened was we did three demos for Maverick. We had Ben do those at the request of our manager. Ben had worked with Rollins and Filter who our manager handles as well. We liked what he had done."

The band was so happy with the songs "Long Long Time," "Believe," and "Fall on Tears" that it decided to work with Grosse. The mid-tempo pop song "Long Long Time" is the album's first single. If it were up to Fortus, he would have chosen "Believe" which takes twinkling guitars and wraps them around Butler's trademark raspy vocals. However, he said, "Sweet Thing" or the industrial-flavored "More Than Money" are his favorite songs on the album.

" 'More Than Money' is the most adventurous. I was sort of surprised that Richard went along with it," Fortus said with a laugh. " 'Sweet Thing' was just cool because of the way it happened. It all happened in the studio. Those songs are always the best. We laid down the basic track for that song. There were no vocals on it. I laid it down with the band and the other guys didn't hear it until it was finished."

"I like it when things fall together in the studio. You can never recapture the excitement of the first time you play a song and it comes together. The first time you play it it's magical and it never happens again. That's how a lot of the great (Rolling) Stones records were done. They were just created in the studio and they were rolling the tage the whole time."

When fans hear the name Love Spit Love, most seem to associate the band with Butler and the Psychedelic Furs. Fortus explained that prior to this album even the band's focus was on Butler. He describes this been playing together for awhile. On the first album, we used Richard's brother Tim. He's written some songs with Richard before I had come into the scene. Tim played on the record. It was a little bit scattered it didn't seem like a band as much," said Fortus who met Butler while his band Pale Divine was touring with the Psychedelic Furs.

"On this album, there's no question about it. The band was there. Richard and I had written all the songs."

Love Spit Love will return to Detroit on Thursday, Oct. 9, to perform at St. Andrew's Hall. The show will concentrate on Love Spit Love's material but in a recent interview with Billboard magazine Butler hinted that there may be a few surprises.

"We may do some Furs songs on the tour. We didn't on the first tour because we didn't want people to think they were going to get their favorite hits from the Psychedelic Furs, but having established Love Spit Love as a band, I think it's safe to try a couple of Psychedelic Furs songs if I feel like it." 🛶

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 9, Love Spit Love show at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit, are available in advance at Ticketmaster. For more information, call (313) 961-MELT or (248) 645-6666.

DINING Mr. Muster caters to customer needs

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAFF WRITER

After working in other people's restaurants and hotels, John Muster did what a lot of people talk about - he opened his own business.

"Six years ago there was nothing but pizza places," in this area, said Muster explaining why he chose to open Mr. Muster's Chicken & Ribs, which was recently renamed Mr. Muster's Carryout & Catering. "We thought there was a niche for chicken and ribs in this neighborhood."

When he started, the business was 100 percent carryout. But when things got a little slow, Muster started making calls, slowly building a catering business through word of mouth.

Today, 70 percent of his business is catering, and the rest is carryout. He still makes the baby back ribs and broasted chicken, which regulars crave, salads, and sandwiches, but he's also catering to customer demands for more.

"We have a lot of very regular, loyal customers split between lunch and dinner," he said. "We've added more salads to the menu, and sandwiches made with a variety of bread. Our torpedo is a big seller."

Muster has over 20 years experience in this business, and never advertised his catering service, it just kind of happened.

He's worked as a bus boy, short order cook, bartender, waiter, and restaurant manager. His first job was working in a restaurant as a bus boy, and he liked it immediately.

In the early 1980s, after graduating from Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn, he started working in hotels serving as food and beverage manager at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn, and general manager of the Marriott Courtyard. He opened the Marriotts on Laurel Park Drive, in Southfield, and Warren, before deciding to open his own business.

"We make everything here," he said. "It's all fresh and presented well."

The restaurant business is his life, he reads industry periodicals, and tries to read all the new cookbooks, always looking for an idea he can use. "I try to modify menus to the tastes of my customers," he said.

His, new carryout menu introduced this week offers more specialty salads such as the Bowtie Pasta Salad, Wild Rice Salad, and Greek Rotini Pasta Salad. Lany's Chicken Caesar, Mandarin Chicken, Greek, and Julienne with turkey, ham, and Provolone cheese are other choices.

Muster was serving roll-up sandwiches long before Wendy's and KFC. The new menu offers customers more bread choices including sundried tomato or spinach lavash, and deli rye. Create your own sandwich or try one of Muster's creations -Greek Salad, Chicken Caesar, or Cobb Roll-up.

Hot sandwich choices include the ever popular Meatball Torpedo - four large meatballs, Mozzarella cheese, and tomato sauce wrapped in pizza dough baked and topped with Parmesan Cheese, Cordon Bleu Torpedo, grilled chicken breast, and single quarter pound burger.

Also new to the menu are selections to make ordering lunch for the office a little easier. These items, include box lunches, small (serves 8-10) and large (serves 12-15) salads - Mixed Green, Chicken Caesar, Greek or Anti Pasto Salad with appropriate dressing and serving spoons, Specialty Salads ($3.95 per pound, three pound minimum), Lavash Roll-up Sandwich Tray choose from a selection of roll-up sandwiches made on white, wheat, sundried, or spinach lavash ($2.50 per person, 10 person minimum), and Mini Croissant Sandwich Tray - mini croissants filled with your choices of tarragon chicken salad, bay shrimp salad or house-made tuna, ($3 per person, 10 person minimum). Call a day ahead for orders of 24 people or more.

AWARD-WINNERS

Annually, the Wine Spectator adds new restaurants to its awards program in two categories Award of Excellence and Best of Award of Excellence. Awards reflect a restaurant's savvy wine buying, wine list depth and harmony of wines with menu choices. NEW NAME, FOOD STYLE

Matt Prentice will change the name and food style of Trattoria Bruschetta in Hotel Baronette on Novi Road in Novi to No. VI Chophouse and Lobster.

While the greater metropolitan area has a number of fine chophouses, No. VI will be the only steak house in Michigan offering all prime beef, yeal and lamb on the menu. It will also be the first to open a lobster bar.

Trattoria will close Wednesday, Nov. 5 and reopen with a Ron Rea designed new look on Sunday, Nov. 16. If you want to be among the first, reservations are being accepted for opening night at (248) 305-5210. Why No. VI? That was the stage coach stop now run together as the city name Novi.
