Police: Embezzlement, fraud up

Violent crimes such as rape and felonious assault are down considerably. However, fraud and embezzlement are up. The upswing in fraud crimes could be the result of a booming economy.

BY RENÉE SKOGLUND STAFF WRITER

The news is both good and bad when it comes to crime in Westland.

Lt. Marc Stobbe of the Westland Police Department said violent crimes such as rape and felonious assault are down considerably. However, fraud and embezzlement are up.

Stobbe associates the upswing in fraud crimes to a booming economy. Everybody needs workers, from party stores and gas stations to large retail stores and the industrial parks. But all too often these businesses fail to do adequate, if any, background checks,

"Now they're hiring just about anybody who comes in."

Stobbe cited some of the creative fraudulent methods used by employees:

Reporting back to temporary agencies that they've completed an assignment when they never showed up for work.

Making sales without putting money in the register.

Ringing up $5 when the purchase, usually made by a friend, was $150.

■ Using false identification to get employment.

Staging a fake armed robbery with a friend.

"We put in hundreds of man-hours in it (investigating the robbery), then we find out it's fake," said Stobbe.

Manpower of Detroit, whose Dearborn office supplies workers for many companies in Westland, spends two to three hours interviewing and testing their job applicants.

Manpower's system of checks and balances prevents a lot of "fudging" of time cards, according to Jeanne Heller Bourget, Manpower's executive vice president. But it does happen. "Sometimes it's embezzlement of a few hours or a few days. Very seldom can we

Excavation unearths slice of Westland history

BY BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN

Students and volunteers are digging in for a little slice of Westland's history.

An archaeological dig is taking place weekends on the site of the Westland Historical Museum, Wayne Road south of Marquette.

"Finding the site was total serendipity," said Jane Baxter, a Ph.D. candidate at the University of Michigan and organizer of the

She had begun her search for a site by using an 1860 plat map. In looking at 45 sites in the metro area she found only three that were left unpaved. As she drove down Wayne Road to look at another site, she found the museum site, which is a 19th century farmhouse site. It hadn't made the map because it is dated after 1860,

She stopped that day to ask for permission to dig there. Westland City Council approved the plan in July.

The digs, which began last weekend, are Saturdays and Sundays weather permitting until about Nov. 15.

On Saturdays, Baxter leads students from Wayne State as part of an archaeological field study class in digging on the site. On Sundays, she instructs volunteers in

"I really love working with volunteers and students," she said.

Last Sunday Joseph Jeffries of Redford and his son and grandson were volunteer excavators along with Daryl Bailey of the Westland Historical Commission.

Jeffries used to live in an old farmhouse near Venoy and Ford in Garden City, so the Westland dig sparked his interest, he said. He also knew his grandson would be

Teens charged in carjacking waive hearing

BY RENÉE SKOGLUND STAFF WRITER

Two Detroit teens charged with a Sept. 13 carjacking that left a 24-yearold Westland woman beaten and bloodied waived their preliminary hearing in Westland 18th District Court.

At right, Dou-

Alexander Amill, 19, and James Guth, 17, will be arraigned at 9 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 8, in Wayne County Circuit Court on felony charges of car-

District Court Judge Gail McKnight refused requests by Amill's and Guth's attorneys to lower their $100,000 cash bonds based on the violence of the crime, the strength of the charge, and the fact that "the incentive to return is very low."

The carjacking occurred at about 3:48 a,m. as the victim was unloading groceries in the parking lot outside of her apartment in The Landings.

Outside of court after the hearings, Sgt. Michael Gould of Westland Police Department, the investigating officer, said a teen approached the woman from the front and asked her for directions while another teen came up behind her and initiated the physical Westland paramedics treated the woman on the scene. She later went to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia for additional treatment for contusions on her face, elbow and both knees.

The woman is a cancer patient undergoing chemotherapy, Gould said.

After Westland police put out an inter-city bulletin, Livonia police arrested Amill and Guth on Merriman

Several members of Amill's family were in court as Amill's attorney, Barry Resnick, told McKnight that his client was an excellent student who has never been in trouble, goes to church and was to start working with his father. Resnick also said the family has lived in Michigan for 25 years.

McKnight said reports indicated Amill was not employed before Sept. 13 and that it was Amil's family, not he,

A 65-year-old Westland man won $100,000 when he matched all five numbers - 6, 19, 30, 31 and 39 in the Michigan Lotto Cash 5 drawing on Sept. 21. The winner, who chose to remain anonymous, said he has been a regular Michigan Lottery player since 1972. The largest prize he had ever collected prior to this Cash 5 prize was $2,604 in the Daily 4 Game.

"I was watching TV with my wife when we saw the numbers flash across the bottom of the screen," he said. "When I saw the numbers I said 'Oh my God, I won!' As a general rule, Manpower doesn't place its workers in places where they handle cash. "If anything goes wrong, the person who is there on a temporary basis is the first one to be blamed," she said.

Some of Manpower's clients. like banks, require background checking. However, the job-seeker must sign a consent form for both credit and criminal background checks. "If they (companies) just took a little more time and were a little more picky, they'd save themselves a lot of anguish," Heller Bourget said.

Linda Brenner and Kevin Dwyer own Starr Systems Services Inc., an employment screening service located in Plymouth Township. They are a nationwide organization that assists companies develop drug testing programs, as well as effective employee background checking policies. Their clients include Value City, Little Caesar's and Manpower of Detroit.

Brenner said most large companies have drug testing policies and some, like banks, do thorough background checks. She said this is not always the case with small companies. "I've talked to some companies who say, 'If I do a drug test or a background test I won't be able to hire anybody."

On-site, drug-testing kits are available with five-minute results. Background checks take three to five days, Brenner said.

Linda Shapona, executive director of the Westland Chamber of Commerce, hasn't heard talk of fraud or embezzlement among chamber membership, but she has heard other complaints.

"They say they just can't find anyone. Most people are employed who want to be employed." She also said businesses operate in a litigious society. "When you interview you can hardly ask them anything because of employment laws."

Shapona said it's a job-seekers market today. It's no longer true that a good resume lists employments of a year or more. "The loyalty just isn't there."

School board OKs teacher contract

By BETH SUNDRLA JACHMAN STAFF WRITER

Wayne-Westland school board members unanimously approved a new contract this week for members of the district's teachers union.

The two-year pact includes raises of 2.75 percent for this school year and 2.5 percent for next school year for members of the Wayne-Westland Education Association, according to Dan Slee, assistant superintendent for employee services for Wayne-Westland schools. The union approved the contract with a vote of 609-141.

The salary increases will cost the district an extra $1.6 million a year, according to Patricia Brand, assistant superintendent for business.

The new salary ranges are: $29.090 for a bachelor's degree and no experience to $52,095 for a bachelor's degree and 11 years experience; $32,158 for a master's degree at the bottom of the scale to $61,008 for a master's and 12 years; $34,245 for a double master's or specialist at bottom of the scale to $65,006 for a double master's and 12 years; $37,304 for a doctorate at the bottom of the scale to $75,064 for a doctorate and 12 years of experience.

The district has nearly 850 teachers and more than half of them are at the top of the scale, Slee said.

In Wayne-Westland, 263 teachers have bachelor's degrees. 474 have master's degrees, 89 have double master's or specialist degrees and 17 have doctorates. Slee said.

The beginning salaries are still last when compared to area districts of similar size, he said.

Under the new contract, teachers will also pay more for their health care, with an increase from $2 to $5 for prescription copays and an increase in annual deductibles from $50 for single and $100 for families to $100 for single and $200 for families, Slee

Teachers have also agreed to two extra half-days of instruction for the next two school years, he said.

Also, all elementary schools also have half-hour lunch periods as opposed to an hour, allowing all elementary schools to complete their day by 3:30 p.m.

Other changes in the contract include new teacher evaluation procedures. Slee said this will allow for teaching improvements.

School board trustees approved the contract, 7-0.

"I think it's a fair contract," school board trustee Mathew McCusker said. He also thanked Slee and the bargaining team for negotiating the contract.

School board vice president Robin Moore and trustee Ed Turner both congratulated the bargaining teams.

"I think it was a win-win situation," school board trustee Teresa Robbins said.

"I really am glad we did reach an agreement," school board secretary Martha Pitsenbarger

"We appreciate everything that's been done on both sides,' school board President David Cox said. "This is a team effort all the way," Slee said. "A lot of work is done behind the scenes," he said of the bargaining which officially began in May.

Students count as Livonia schools complete 'D-Day'

BY MARIE CHESTNEY STAFF WRITER

With "D-Day" over, Livonia Public Schools is now more than halfway toward knowing how much it will get in financial aid next year from the state for each of its estimated 17,890 students enrolled.

"D-Day" was Wednesday in Livonia when the head of every student in the district was counted.

School administrators aren't quite sure why the state calls it "D-Day" ("There's no rhyme or reason," said Paul Derwick, the district's director of human resources, and the man in charge of crunching the student-count numbers).

It use to be called the "fourth-Friday count" when the count was taken on the last Friday in September.

"They changed it to a Wednesday because they think absenteeism is less on a Wednesday than a Friday," Derwick said.

For the no-shows on "D-Day," the state allows extra time to log them in. So the actual figure doesn't have to be in the state's hands until Oct. 23.

From now until Oct. 23, Derwick and secretary Sue Higgins will spend their days turning the head count numbers into what the state calls "full-time equivalents." An FTE is 1,047 hours spent by a student in school.

Next year, Livonia schools will get the bulk of its income from the state for each FTE student

This year, the amount of money the district gets from the state for each FTE student enrolled is $7,067.

"When they say, 'kids count,' they mean that in more than one way," Derwick said.

The district's unofficial student count tally shows 17,894 students enrolled districtwide. That's 9,386 elementary students; 2,937 middle school students; and 5,571 high school students.

By Oct. 23, Derwick and Higgins will break those numbers down into FTE's for those students who don't spend their entire school day in one school building or in one school program.

"Not every student is an FTE," Derwick said. "Some come parttime, and you have to compute this and factor it in. Some kids are home schooled, some on a reduced schedule, some go through special education. We have to fractionalize the time a child spends in general education versus special education, or at the career center, or on a coop job. Our final count will always be less because we have to break them down. We have to document all this. It's a horrendous job. Every minute of our time will be spent on this."

Counting heads and turning the numbers into FTEs is serious business for every school district.

"This is how we receive our money from the state," Derwick said. "That's why it is important to make sure everyone is counted. If they're not counted, we don't get the money."

The worse-case scenario for the district in this area is to have a student move into the district a day after the FTE count is sent to the state. The district would not get reimbursed for that student, until the next FTE count is done.

Livonia schools look at shuffle to solve overcrowding woes

By Marie Chestney Staff Writer

By January, Livonia Public Schools' officials should have a plan to deal with bulging school enrollment in southwest Livonia.

In two of the three recommendations now being considered by an 11-member committee, the district would reopen Lowell in Westland, a former school building owned by Livonia schools but leased to Plymouth-Canton schools. The lease expires in July 2000

The Livonia school district also serves students in northern Westland.

One option would affect every elementary school in the Livonia district, since it could mean moving sixth graders into the middle schools.

The committee's three main options all involve extra costs to the district, and those costs would be a part of the 1999-2000 school budget.

Each option also would come with side effects, including child care and transportation changes, and even changes to the DARE program.

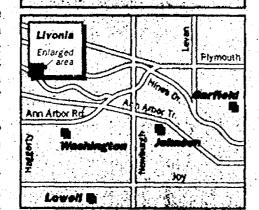

Therefore, the Livonia Board of Education should decide the best way to ease overcrowding by February, prior to the start of budget deliberations, said Superintendent Ken Watson.

"The driving force here is the enrollment in the southwest part of the city," Watson said. "Two elementaries are at capacity and area, Washington, 9449 Hix, is not overcrowded, but could end up closed if Lowell is reopened, Watson said.

In coming up with its recommendation, the committee will

A third elementary in the

In coming up with its recommendation, the committee will use long-range enrollment projections compiled by Terry Davidson, a former district employee, consultant and expert in statistical analysis.

From now until January, the committee will review the following three main options to ease overcrowding:

Move the sixth graders from all the district's elementaries to the middle schools.

To ease the impact this option would have on the four middle schools, Lowell would reopen as the district's fifth middle school in the fall of

The move would open up more space in all 22 elementaries, and lead to further cuts in class size, Watson said.

It also would affect current middle school boundaries, Watson said. Most students in the southwest part of the district now are bused to Frost Middle School.

■ Convert Lowell into an elementary school handling more than 500 students.

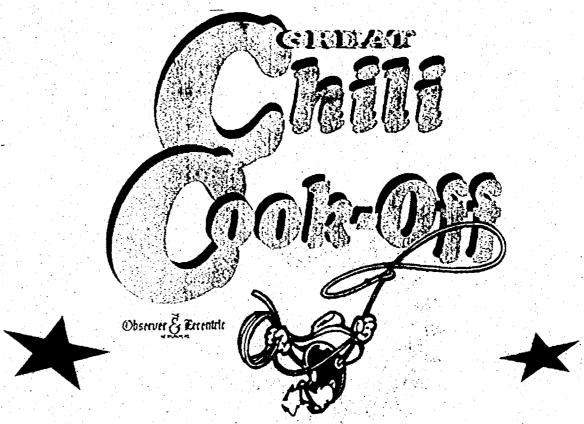

If that happens in the fall of 2000, grade six would stay in all the elementaries.

It also means Washington, with its smaller number of students, would be closed, Watson said.

Add rooms onto Johnson and Garfield. If that happens, additions would be complete by fall 2000.

Additionally, Lowell would not reopen in the foreseeable future. The committee, chaired by Randy Liepa, assistant superintendent for business, is composed of school administrators, principals and PTA representatives.

Summer work helps smooth start

A few weeks into the new school year, Livonia Public Schools recently took a look back over the summer to see what employees did to make the start of school smooth.

The results of nearly three months of work is contained in the district's six-page, 1998-99 School Opening Report compiled by administrator Paul Derwick.

To get the district's 34 buildings fully staffed, the district hired 139 employees, including 107 teachers.

Other work over the summer included:

TOO MUCH LIP

For the most part, children who lick or pull their lips experience few, if any, dental effects. Their chapped lips can easily be remedied with an application of lip moisturizer. Those who suck or bite their lips, however, may make their existing malocclusions (bad bites) worse if the habit is undertaken with sufficient intensity, frequency, and duration. Typically, children with lip habits insert their lower lips under and behind their upper incisors. This exerts pressure on the upper and lower front teeth that results in overjet. This type of malocclusion features upper front teeth that protrude excessively in front of the lower ones. Once the habit is broken, treatment with braces can remedy the malocclusion.

One of the questions a patient will ask is: How long does treatment usually last? Every case is unique, so there's no hard and fast rule. Some conditions can be corrected easily. Others, such as cases in which teeth need to be pulled and gaps closed, can take slightly longer. A good rule of thumb for most cases is 18 to 24 months. "This isn't something that comes about in a short amount of time," said Stephen Shivinsky spokesman for Mercy Health Systems. "It has taken some time for everyone to get comfortable with the relationship."

Shivinsky went on to say the arrangement is still in the planning stages and will take some time before all the necessary elements of the union are settled.

"We hope over time Mercy Health Services will be able to improve St. Mary Hospital's quality and level of service through our experience and insight," said Shivinsky.

Regional, state officials blast new EPA air-quality rules

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Regional and state officials were quick to blister the federal Environmental Protection Agency for "draconian" new rules aimed at reducing Midwest smog that drifts to the East Coast.

"It will mean an 8-10 percent increase in utility bills," said Russ Harding, director of the state Department of Environmental Quality. "You'll have to put a chemical plant at the end of every power plant. We'll have rolling brownouts."

Harding spoke Sept. 25 to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments meeting in Botsford Inn, Farmington Hills.

"Greatly disappointed" was the reaction of SEMCOG air quality specialist Chuck Hersey, who called EPA's new rules "seriously out of balance with the actual problem."

Hersey said the region could consider "legal action to force EPA to address issues raised by SEMCOG, Michigan and other states."

Hersey added, "Our research shows that Michigan's emissions contribute no more than 1-5 percent of the east's ozone problem. Yet EPA demands a 30 percent emission reduction from Michigan motorists, businesses and utilities - far more than our fair share."

EPA administrator Carol M. Browner on Sept. 24 issued new rules aimed at drastically reducing emission of smog-producing chemicals by 2003. Michigan must cut its nitrogen oxide (NOX) emission by 30 percent.

The impact will be felt most by electric power plants, which must reduce NOX by 85 percent. Also affected will be vehicle emissions and factories.

Harding said that last summer "six states offered a 65 percent reduction. Our offer was rejected by Carol Browner."

Browner was quoted in Washington as saying the Michigan proposal would be ineffective.

"It will be difficult to get the Michigan Legislature to reinstate inspection and maintenance areas again," Harding predicted.

He referred to the major battle in Lansing in the early 1980s over an emissions inspection program for the tri-county area. For several years, motorists were required to have annual $10 emissions inspections in order to obtain vehicle licenses.

Resistance in Michigan got even stiffer when EPA suggested the I&M program be extended to the Grand Rapids-Holland-Muskegon area. The Lake Michigan shoreline communities insisted their smog was generated by southwest winds out of Chicago, not their own motorists.

"Michigan has been an attainment state. We reduced emissions 75 percent in 10 years," said Harding.

The rules affect 22 states, including Ohio (36 percent overall), Indiana (36), Wisconsin (27) and Illinois (32).

EPA was praised, however, by New Jersey Gov. Christine Todd Whitman. "EPA's decision will prevent a major cause of air pollution from every reaching our state. This federal action, combined with our own hard work, promises cleaner air for New Jersey residents.

But DEQ's Harding said it will work an extra hardship on Michigan. He cited a Fanus Group report to Gov. John Engler that identified 1) governmental regulation and 2) the cost of electricity as major impediments to retaining business.

Tax cut deadlock

Lawmakers can't agree on plan

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Democrats and Republicans continue to be deadlocked in the state House of Representatives over how to cut the personal income tax.

Currently, the tax rate is 4.4 percent with a $2,800 per-person exemption. Republicans want an across-the-board rate cut to 3.8 percent over five years. Democrats want selective hikes in exemptions.

"It's constitutionally flawed," objected Rep. Andrew Raczkowski, R-Farmington Hills, as Democrats on Sept. 23 passed, 56-45, their House Bill 5978. The Democratic bill would offer taxpayers a choice of calculations, if it ever became law. The taxpayer could choose between 1) the GOP's lower rate and 2) the Democrats' personal exemption of $5,000 with no rate reduction. Rep. Nancy Cassis, R-Novi, found another flaw in the Democrats' plan: It is tie-barred to a constitutional amendment, meaning that voters would have to approve the amendment in November of 2000 to get the tax cut. "It's a little early for Halloween. Is this (Democrats' bill) a trick or treat?" said the freshman lawmaker.

Cassis said the proposed constitutional amendment, called HJR BB, amounts to a $500 million increase in state spending because it guarantees a new level of revenue sharing and school aid. Meanwhile, the Democrats' tax cut would amount to just $100 million. "This is a spending bill in the guise of a tax cut," she said.

Democrats, such as Tax Policy Committee chair Kirk Profit of Ypsilanti, argued that "our plan gives more relief, sooner, and with more flexibility. It's not a spending increase. All we do is constitutionally earmark money for schools."

Profit said the Legislature could put the question on the ballot in a special election anytime and need not wait for November 2000.

Added Eileen DeHart, D-Westland: "In 1993 Proposal A made a commitment that schools would be protected." She twitted Republicans with "Promises made, promises broken," a parody on Gov. John Engler's campaign slogan.

Despite getting a majority of House votes, however, the Democrats' plan can go nowhere. First, it's dead on arrival in the Republican-controlled Senate. Second, it's dead unless the Legislature puts HJR BB on the ballot, and that takes a twothirds vote of each chamber. Democrats are unable to get a two-thirds vote in the House, which they control, and haven't tried to bring it to a vote.

Meanwhile, the Republican tax cut bill made it to the calendar but so far isn't scheduled for a vote. Cassis on Sept. 17 won a vote to discharge her measure, House Bill 4710, from Profit's committee "after it lingered their for 507 days." The vote was

But Democratic leaders made no effort to bring the Cassis bill to a floor vote. Her bill would cut the income tax rate from 4.4 to 3.9 percent.

Democrats say Cassis' bill "favors those who earn more

Area motorists get some road relief, more I-275 construction planned

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK STAFF WRITER

Finally.

Western Wayne County commuters got a much-needed reprieve late last week when northbound I-275 reopened to traffic between Telegraph in Monroe County and I-94 in Wayne County.

The northbound lanes were closed so the southbound traffic could cross over southbound lanes, part of a $40 million reconstruction project. Northbound commuters had been detoured onto Telegraph to I-94 since July 6 while construction crews resurfaced the free-

Next year the construction returns for I-275 between Five Mile and I-696 in Oakland County and its 190,000 during the resurfacing of the commuters. Commuters can expect lane and exit closures as construction is completed over the next two years.

> "There's not an easy way to do it, but we will try to keep any inconvenience to a minimum," Pannecouk said.

"It will be a tough thing to go through."

Resurfacing and repairing the 31 miles of I-275 is expected to cost $165 million.

Wings memorabilia scores $250 for local Special Olympics

BY RENÉE SKOGLUND STAFF WRITER

It's a mystery.

Who gave DuMouchelle Gallery in Detroit a framed copy of a Sunday, March 21, 1943, Detroit News headline that read "Wings will win Stanley if all goes well" signed by Detroit Red Wings players Sid Abel and Carl Liscombe?

Don't know. And DuMouchelle is keeping mum on the auction item that recently benefited the Wayne-Westland Special Olympics by $250. "We can't give out information on our consignors," said a gallery spokeswoman, "It's confidential." Surely the donor wasn't some fan whose loyalty to the Wings has faded over the past 55 years. Most likely it was fan with a huge and generous puck-shaped

Less of a mystery to the collective memory of the Observer staff is who Sid Abel and Carl Liscombe were. Abel was a famed center, a member of the much feared "The Production Line" in the late '40s and early '50s. Carl Liscombe was a defenseman.

Rolling along

Bowl-a-thon to benefit Salvation Army

Bowling enthusiasts who want to have fun while helping The Salvation Army of Westland may want to sign up for a Saturday, Oct. 10 event.

A third annual bowl-a-thon is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at Westland Bowl, 5940 Wayne Road.

Bowlers are asked to raise pledges to help The Salvation Army pay for a wide array of programs and services for some of the community's less-fortunate residents.

The organization has had to turn to alternative methods of raising money since corporate policies have booted volunteers from many facilities where they used to seek donations from shoppers.

Bowlers face a minimum $50 pledge, although organizers hope each bowler will be able to raise $100.

The bowl-a-thon is a team event. To reserve a spot, call Westland Bowl at (734) 722-7570. Pledge forms are available.

The competition is billed as a "mixed doubles, nine-pin, no tap." Radio personalities Dr. Don and Linda Lee from Young Country, WYCD-99.5 FM, are scheduled to serve as emcees. Dr. Don's stint is set for 1:30 to 3 p.m. and Lee's from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Participants are asked to collect all of their pledges prior to the Oct. 10 bowl-a-thon and bring the pledge sheet plus the money to Westland Bowl.

Pledges serve as entry fees to the event. Pizza and soft drinks will be provided.

"You don't have to be a pro," organizers note in a flier announcing the event. "It's all for good fun and a good cause."

Prizes also will be awarded, including two round-trip tickets to Las Vegas; overnight getaways at hotels such as the Embassy, Fairfield, Hilton and Marriott; Red Wings hockey tickets, and gift certificates to Circuit City, Red Robin restaurant, Belanger Tire, Montana's restaurant and Applebee's restaurant, among other give-

RECI 1996 NEC TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS

RULE 1. CIRCUIT INTERCONNECTION.

210-11. Circuit interconnection. Neutral and ungrounded circuit conductors for two, three, or four-wire circuits shall originate at the same outlet or panel. Neutral and/or ungrounded conductors for circuits, shall not be tapped or spliced from different locations in the wiring system.

RULE 2. SERVICE ENTRANCE CONDUCTOR SETS Section 230-40 is amended to read as follows:

Section 210-11 is added as follows:

230-40. Number of Service-Entrance Conductor Sets.

Each service drop or lateral shall supply only one set of service-entrance

Exception No. 1: Buildings with more than one occupancy shall be permitted to have one set of service-entrance conductors run to each occupancy or to a

Exception No. 2: Where two to six service disconnecting means in separate enclosures are grouped at one location and supply separate loads from one service drop or lateral, one set of service entrance conductors shall be permitted to supply each or several such service equipment enclosures.

Exception No. 3: Deleted

RULE 3. GROUPING OF DISCONNECTS. Section 230-72(a) is amended to read as follows:

230-72. Grouping of Disconnects.

(a) General. The two to six disconnects as permitted in Section 230-71 shall be grouped. Each disconnect shall be marked to indicate the load served. Exception No. 1: One of the two to six service disconnecting means permitted in Section 230-71, where used only for a water pump also intended to provide fire protection, shall be permitted to be located remote from the other

Exception No. 2: A service disconnect(s) for separately metered outdoor electric space conditioning equipment for one and two-family dwellings, shall be permitted to be located immediately adjacent to the outdoor meter cabinet. A permanent plaque or directory shall be installed at each service disconnect location denoting all other services, feeders, and branch circuits supplying that building or structure and the area served by each. The feeder or branch circuit permitted by this exception shall not enter or pass through the structure or building served.

RULE 4. OUTSIDE FEEDER TAPS Section 240-21(m) is amended to read as follows:

(m) Outside Feeder Taps. Outside conductors shall be permitted to be tapped to a feeder or to be connected at the transformer secondary, without overcurrent protection at the tap or connection, where all the following conditions are met:

(1) The conductors are suitably protected from physical damage. (2) The conductors terminate at up to (6) six circuit breakers or (6) six sets of fuses, that will limit the load to no more than 125% of the ampacity of the conductors. The calculated load shall not exceed the allowable ampacity of the conductors.

(3) The tap conductors are installed outdoors, except at the point of termination.

(4) The overcurrent device for the conductors is an integral part of a disconnecting means or shall be located immediately adjacent thereto. (5) The disconnecting means for the conductors are installed at a readily accessible location either outside of a building or structure, or inside nearest the point of entrance of the conductors.

RULE 5. RACEWAYS AS GROUNDING MEANS. Section 250-91(b) is amended to read as follows:

260-91, Material.

(b) Types of Equipment Grounding Conductors. The equipment grounding conductor run with or enclosing the circuit conductors shall be one or more of a combination of the following: (1) a copper or other corrosion-resistant conductor. This conductor shall be solid or stranded; insulated, covered, or bare; and in the form of a wire or a busbar of any shape; (2) rigid metal conduit; (3) intermediate metal conduit; (4) electrical metallic tubing; (5) armor of Type AC cable; (6) the copper sheath of mineral-insulated, metal-sheathed cable; (7) the metallic. sheath or the combined metallic sheath and grounding conductors of Type MC cable; (8) cable trays as permitted in Sections 318-3(c) and 318-7; (9) cablebus framework as permitted in Section 365-2(a); (10) other electrically continuous metal raceways listed for grounding.

Section 350-14 is amended to read as follows:

350-14. Grounding. Flexible metal conduit shall not be permitted as a grounding means. Where an equipment bonding jumper is required around flexible metal conduit, it shall be installed in accordance with Section 250-79.

Section 351-9 is amended to read as follows:

Liquidtight flexible metal conduit shall not be permitted as a grounding means. Where an equipment bonding jumper is required around liquidtight flexible metal conduit, it shall be installed in accordance with Section 250-79.

RULE 6. TYPE NM AND NMC CABLES; USES NOT PERMITTED Section 336-5 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Types NM, NMC, and NMS. Types NM, NMC, and NMS cables shall not

(6). In hoistways

(4). In motion picture studios (5). In storage battery rooms

(8). In any hazardous (classified) location, except as permitted by Sections 501-4(b), Exception:, 502-4(b) Exception:, 504-20. RULE 7. SPACE HEATING EQUIPMENT (OTHER THAN ELECTRIC

Section 422-21(c) is added as follows:

(7). Embedded in poured cement, concrete, or aggregate

422-21(c). Space heating equipment other than electric heat. A readily accessible disconnect switch shall be mounted on the exterior of the heating equipment or on a surface adjacent to the heating equipment.

CIRCUITS IN ANESTHETIZING LOCATIONS. Section 517-61(a) is amended to read as follows:

517-61. Wiring and Equipment.

(a) Within Anesthetizing Locations.

(1) Except as permitted in Section 517-60, each power circuit within, or partially within, an anesthetizing location as referred to in Section 517-60 shall be isolated from any distribution system by the use of an isolated power system. Exception: An area in a health care facility which does not use flammable inhalation anesthetics and is dedicated to brief, superficial procedures carried out under inhalation anesthesia or analgesia, such as dental operatories, clinics and outpatient facilities.

RULE 9. FIRE ALARM SUPERVISION Section 760-16 is added as follows:.

Supervision. All fire-protective circuits shall be electrically or electronically supervised so that any malfunction of the system such as an electrical open, a ground fault or any short circuit fault on the main power supply, signaling line, or alarm initiating devices, will indicate a visual and audible signal at the alarm panel when proper nlarm operation would be prevented.

Exception: Interconnecting circuits of household fire-warning equipment that are wholly within a dwelling unit.

Dearborn mayor co-hosts 'Friendraiser' for Power and Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village President Steve Hamp are co-hosting a "friendraiser" for Phil Power, Democratic candidate for reelection to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

The event will take place at 5:30 p.m. Monday in the Henry Ford Centennial Library on Michigan Avenue between Greenfield and the Southfield Freeway.

Power is known for his support for U-M regional campuses such as U-M Dearborn.

"The U-M is literally owned by the people of Michigan," Power said. "This means it has an important mission in serving all the people of our state. The branch campus at Dearborn is Dearborn Mayor Mike Guido particularly important in this regard, because it plays such an important role for non-traditional and cooperative students in southeastern Michigan and works so closely with area businesses."

Power was elected in 1990 to the board of regents, winning more than one million votes statewide. He is now the senior regent of the board. Power is a U-M alumnus and successful businessman and newspaper publisher, whose newspapers include the Observer & Eccentric

"I don't think it's exaggerating to say that my reelection is important to the continued bipartisan progress of public higher education in Michigan," Power said. "That's why I'm pleased to be earning support from Democrats, independents and Republicans - including former Republican Gov. William G. Milliken and his wife, Helen - because service to the U-M should go beyond political partisanship."

The event - specifically not a fund-raiser but a "friendraiser" - is free and will involve no solicitation for campaign contributions. Power plans on speaking briefly about the University of Michigan in general and the role of the Dearborn campus in particular. He will answer ques-

CHEERS FOR BEER

CHEF JOSEPH STYKE

Be a sport, treat fans to pretzels, hot mustard

ell, here it is the end of September already. Football is in full swing, the Red Wings are winding down training camp, and it's time for that time honored weekend tradition of sports, beer and eating way too much.

There are a few things in life that go together as well as fresh soft pretzels and mustard - the Red Wings and Lord Stanley's Cub, the Detroit Lions and breaking your heart (I. wrote this on Sept. 17).

About 15 years ago, a friend's grandmother, Frau Blücher, gave me her soft pretzel recipe so she would not have to make them for us all the time. Now, whenever I get a chance to go to Gustav's house to watch a game, I whip up a batch of these puppies, along with a mustard. He has to supply the beer. The best beer to match soft pretzels and mustard are the malty German lagers such as the Oktoberfest of Spaten and Paulaner, Ayinger Maibock and Fest Märzen. From the U.S. August Schells Maibock and Shmaltzs Alt.

Mustard

The mustard is just a basic whole grain mustard that will be very hot. Feel free to add just about anything you want to flavor it - herbs, fruit, spices - go for it. If you leave it out 7 to 10 days the heat will mellow out some, but if you want the hot to stay, put the mustard right into the fridge. If you don't want it so hot from the start, use 1/4 cup light mustard seeds and 1 tablespoon of the dark mustard

I put my mustard in those little 8 ounce Ball jelly jars because the recipe makes just under 1 cup. Mustard seeds can be purchased at Rafal Spice Co. 2521 Russell St. in the Eastern Market area of Detroit. If you have never been there before, do yourself a favor and go. You start smelling spices 10 feet from the door, and they have every herb and spice you can possible think of. Where else can you go to buy frankincense and myrrh? Ya gotta love it.

HOT WHOLE GRAIN MUSTARD

- 1/8 cup light mustard seeds
- 1/8 cup dark mustard seeds 2 tablespoons dry mustard powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup water
- 1 tablespoon, plus 2 teaspoons white wine vinegar

Grind the mustard seeds in a spice mill or a coffee grinder. If you don't have a spice mill or coffee grinder, use your blender or food processor, but add the mustard powder to increase the vol-

omen find their place restaurant kitchens

LEWTON . SPECIAL WRITER

"A woman's place is in the kitchen." This sentence, once a blanket statement for a woman's role, has come full circle to include a professional career outside the home. As in most professions, the culinary field has come a long way in admitting women into what was once a mainly male profession. Women chefs are cooking up a storm and loving it.

In 1971, Random House Dictionary defined a chef as "esp. male head cook." National Restaurant Association statistics reveal that in 1992, 128,000 women owned food and beverage establishments with an annual combined income of over $27 billion. The association also reported in 1994 that 65 percent of all food service workers in the U.S. were female (although less than 10 percent hold the rank of executive

When I attended culinary school some 10 years ago, the presence of female students measured approximately 25 percent.

Chef Kevin Gawronski, a friend, and dean of the Schoolcraft College Culinary Arts Department in Livonia, reports the tide has turned. Today, about half of the students enrolled in the program are women.

Our sisterhood of sorts seems to be skyrocketing. Local eateries are brimming with fabulous female talent. As we head into the new millennium, it would seem a women's place is in our finest hotels, clubs, bistros and restaurant kitchens.

Let me introduce you to a few of our local wonderful women chefs:

■ Chef Sharon Juergens - Sous Chef

Streetside Seafood, Birmingham I met Sharon a few years ago when she was a culinary student at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. They say people are drawn to energy, and that is how I first took notice of Sharon. She reminds me of a simmering pot that is ready and willing to boil. Sharon happened onto the culinary profession by way of waitressing. When she was in her late teens, her sisters told her waitressing was the fastest way to make good money. She soon noticed the people in back of the restaurant were having more fun. Sharon picked up a pair of kitchen tongs, and a chef was born. She fell in love with cooking, and enjoys the gratification of creating something, seeing it served, and appreciated by customers. She likes the quick pace and high energy of the kitchen, and is driven by her passion of food. Her background includes sous chef at Diamond Jim Brady's in Novi where she praises Mary Brady as her mentor, and Emily's in Northville.

■ Lorraine Platman - Chef/owner Sweet Lorraine's, Southfield, Madison Heights and Ann Arbor *

I had the privilege to work with Lorraine about five years ago on a woman's charfty cookbook and fund-raiser. She struck me then, and still does, as an exciting innovator and culinarian. You have to be doing something right to be in the restaurant business for 16 years. Lorraine's menus are always cutting edge, encompassing unique flavors, spices and combinations. After emigrating to the United States from Essex, England, she studied art in college - watercolors and drawing. She managed an art gallery, and moonlighted as a caterer and wholesale baker. Lorraine soon discovered the plate would be her palate and food the medium to express her passion. She put down her paintbrush, and picked up a knife. In 1982 she opened Sweet Lorraine's Deli. Sweet Lorraine's in Southfield, and Ann Arbor followed. She's been turning out fine art strong for 16 years, now with her partner and husband, Gary. Lorraine enjoys experimenting with vegetarian cookery as she finds it a challenge.

Mary is chef and co-owner of Diamond Jim Brady's with her husband, Tom. This Irish family tradition has taken on many new colors with Chef Mary at the helm.

Mary is my oldest friend in the culinary profession. We met at Schoolcraft College, and have been partners in crime ever since. Her bistro food evokes enthusiasm as well as feelings of well being from her patrons. She recently enjoyed redecorating Diamond Jim's, following in the path of French bistros. Denise Caurdy -Executive Chef, Travis Point Country Club, Ann Arbor

Chef Denise, a longtime friend, gives a whole new definition to the word "energy." Her passion for cooking, and love of food is equaled by her love of teaching, sharing and learning. Her position allows a lot of diversity.

"One day I could be dashing over the lush green surroundings to a poolside luau and the next day be preparing elegant food for a wedding being held in one of the lavish ballrooms," she said

Denise is militant about using only the freshest, most seasonal products in her planning. She enjoys the personal interaction of menu planning with club members for upcoming events.

Denise is a graduate of the Oakland Community College Culinary Arts program in Farmington Hills, and has held Executive Chef positions at Sheraton Oaks, Novi; Gratzi and Palio in Ann Arbor.

"It's really pretty simple if you stop to think about it," she said. It all boils down to just good

"He's been bugging me big time to compete," said Marilyn. "Jason's been on the renegade trail," said Ray. That's chilitalk for competing in cookoffs that aren't I.C.S. sanctioned. No beans about it, competition chili isn't like the stuff you make at home. I.C.S. rules don't allow beans or other fillers, judges are told, "chili is chili, it's not stew, and it's not soup."

Marilyn's brother Frank Klancnik interested her and Ray in cooking competition chili. At first they all got together as a family and concentrated on showmanship.

Then, one year, Frank suggested that Marilyn compete to up the odds of their family winning. Marilyn cooked her first bowl of competition chili in 1990. Ray followed in 1993 and Jason's been cooking in Renegade chili cookoffs since 1996.

"She and the rest of the chili cooks talked me into it," said Ray explaining how he got started. "Jason dropped over one day and said he wanted to make a pot of chili. We gave him some spices, and he won "As the years have gone by, the Wayne County Fair Cookoff."

Success breeds more success, and there's nothing like winning to make you want to keep competing, but that's not the whole story.

"It's fun," said Ray. "We've met so many nice people, and we have a ball. All the proceeds go for charity, that's what we're here for."

Ray and Marilyn are in Chicago this weekend for the Northern Illinois Chili Cookoff, Ray's second from last chance to qualify for the World. They've competed in 14 cookoffs this year.

What started out as a family activity, has become something more. They've made new friends from all over the country. "We have a group of a dozen couples," said Marilyn. "We look forward to getting to see them, and we make a weekend out of it."

Some of the most rewarding times were the times when she cooked with her brother, Frank. we've gotten more competitive." she said. "It's fun, but in a different way. We're not rookies anymore.'

Ray said his chili is milder than Marilyn's. She agrees, and says her chili is hotter than his,

"We have a basic recipe and modify it for every cookoff." said Marilyn. "We try to cook what we think the judges will

and a little sweeter.

Last year was also a banner year for Ray and Marilyn. They both cooked at the World. "We made it to the preliminary and final table," said Marilyn. "Our containers were right next to each other on the final table. We were in the top 25 of 125 cooks. That was pretty amazing, and we got the same amount of points too."

Annette not only knows how to host chili cookoffs, she's won a few herself. So has her husband Ken. The Horns will be among the judges at the World Championship Chili Cook-off on Oct. 10 in Las Vegas.

Knead dough for about 10 minutes, then place in a greased bowl covered in a warm draft-free place for 50 minutes, or until doubled in size. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface, and punch down. Cut off a piece of dough, about the size of a small plum, and roll it out into a rope until it's 16 inches long, and a little thicker than a pencil.

Now take the rope, and make a big U with the open end facing away from you. Cross the ends and bring the ends back toward you. Press the ends into the bottom of the U.

■ The classic wine for shellfish is a crisp white wine with good acidity from either France or Italy.

SEAFOOD STEW

- 12 clams
- 40 clean mussels
- 2 tablespoons chopped shal-
- 2 tablespoons chopped garlic 4 chopped anchovies
- 4 heaping cups of peeled and
- seeded tomatoes 3 cups dry white wine
- 1 tablespoon chili flakes 2 tablespoons chopped Italian
- parsley 2 tablespoons chopped fresh
- oregano 1 tablespoon chopped fresh
- thyme 1/2 cup butter
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 roasted red pepper, diced
- Salt and pepper to taste

In a large pot over low heat sweat the shallots, garlic and anchovies in olive oil. Add the mussels, clams, fresh herbs, chili flakes and wine. Cover the pot and steam over medium heat until shellfish open. Uncover and add tomatoes and roasted red pepper. Blend in the butter and simmer for 2 to 4 minutes. Season to taste and serve immediately. Serves 4.

Wine notes: The classic wine for shellfish is a crisp white wine with good acidity from either France or Italy. This dish possesses strong seasonings such as anchovies, garlic and fresh herbs, which calls for a wine with sufficient body.

My first choice would be an Arneis from Italy. Arneis is fresh and lively enough for seafood, and the acidity is there to give it power. Bruno Giacosa makes an example of Arneis.

My second choice, almost tied for first, would be Viognier from the Rhone Valley in the south of France. The appellation is Condrieu. Guigal makes a classic example of Viognier that is floral and herbaceous with incredible length in the 3 finish.

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 egg 3 tablespoons sweet melted
- butter
- 1/2 cup yogurt
- 1 cup pumpkin puree
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Mix dry ingredients together in a small bowl. Beat egg with, milk.

In a large bowl, add melted

Brushing after meals is certainly a good idea; however, while food debris plays a contributing role in creating tooth decay, plaque is the real villain. This sticky bacterial film coats teeth and generates destructive acids, particularly when the bacteria are digesting food particles, the main goal of brushing, therefore, is to prevent plaque buildup which, in turn, will prevent food from increasing acid production. Because it takes 16 to 24 hours for significant accumulations of plaque to build up on teeth, careful brushing twice daily, and flossing once a day, will effectively keep plaque under control, the best

Hand-to-hand combat

BY KIMBERLY A. MORTSON

What 20-second task could save you, a child or total stranger from a food-borne illness, diarrhea, cold or worst - a life-threatening sickness?

Washing your hands. And not just a single swipe under a faucet of cool running water but the proper disinfecting technique that takes a few extra seconds yet could spare you, or those you come in contact with, from becoming seriously ill.

important means in preventing the spread of infection," reports the U.S. Centers for Disease Control (CDC).

The most unpleasant of statistics notes that we carry germs and bacteria on our hands and under our fingernails from raw meat, fish and poultry, handling garbage, body fluids, pets and cuts/wounds. Not surprising, it's those germs that are then passed on from person to person via handshakes, sneezes, money, door handles, telephone receivers, computer keyboards and a whole host of other carriers.

Dirty little secret

In 1996, the Wirthlin Worldwide international research firm conducted a "Hand washing Observational and Telephone Survey" for the Bayer Corp. Pharmaceutical Division. Among their findings:

■ 94 percent of respondents (1,004 adults) claimed they always wash up after using the restroom. The observational study however, viewed 6,333 adults in public restrooms and found just 68 percent in fact did so.

Few said they washed their hands after petting an animal (84 percent), coughing/sneezing (33 percent) or handling money (22 percent). Percentage food. ■ Use of instant hand sanitizers (that don't require the user to rinse with water) resulted in a significant increase in bacterial numbers on hands in contrast to plain hand soaps, antimicrobial soaps and E2-rated hand soaps.

Washing your hands should be second nature, particularly if

"Hand washing is the single most you're involved with the food service industry. The source of food-borne illnesses often originate when workers responsible for preparing, cooking or serving food haven't taken the proper sanitary precautions before, during or after handling food.

> The use of disposable gloves, similar to those worn by staff at your local deli, can help to decrease the transmission of germs as long as they are worn properly and discarded after each use.

> The CDC recommends washing hands regularly and following these simple steps to ensure cleanliness comes with every handshake:

> Wet your hands with warm water: use soap; rub your hands briskly together to loosen any dirt and germs. Take 20 seconds or more to do a thorough job. Pay special attention to your fingernails, where germs can hide.

> Rinse your hands under clean warm water. Dry your hands on a paper towel or with an air dryer (see sketch).

Teaching our young

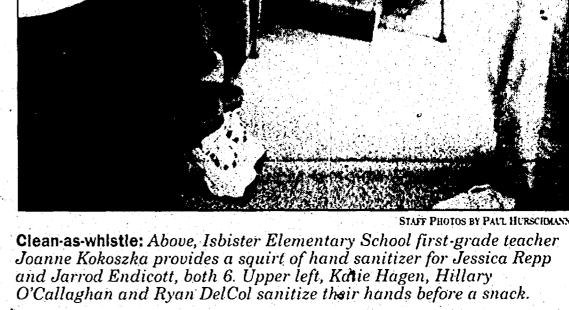

A study of 305 Detroit school children by the same research firm found that students who washed their hands four times a day had 24 percent fewer sick days due to respiratory illness and 51 percent fewer days lost because of stomach ailments.

The students' sick days for a 37-day period were compared to eight other classrooms that did not have scheduled hand washing. "Although the hand washing reduced sick days, it had no effect on the doctor, prescription or over-the-counter drug use or parents' loss of time at work," as reported by Reuters New Media, 1996.

Good habits

According to Isbister Elementary School first-grade teacher Joanne Kokoszka, she has instituted a regular routine of hand washing and sanitizing before lunch, after recess and after a sneeze in an effort to avoid the spread of germs.

"Germs run rampant in a classroom," said Kokoszka asks the parents of her

The Plymouth teacher said soap dispensers can be found in each classroom and she encourages her students to develop good hygiene habits at an early age by teaching them the importance of clean hands.

"We also sanitize the tables at the end of the day because of the number of activities we do from morning to afternoon," added Kokoszka.

Wayne-Westland Community Schools Health Director Ron Barrett said hand washing is critical.

"It's essential in preventing the spread of germs and disease," said Barrett. "Children need to know how to for germ prevention to be effective."

Barrett makes available to parents a brochure on hand washing at Stottlemyer Early Childhood Development Center in Westland where he is principal. The leaflet outlines a concerted effort nationwide called "Operation Clean Hands," an objective initiated in the Healthy People 2000 goals and supported by Bayer Corp. - Pharmaceutical Division.

Other issues addressed include why it's important to wash your hands, when is it necessary and what the proper techniques are to ensure your hands are truly clean.

Tips to be bee free during fall activities

This is the time of year when fruits ripen, the earth brings forth its abundance, and hornets and yellow jackets are at their most abuildant and annoying.

Roger Sutherland, director of the Schoolcraft College Beekeeper's Chapter of the Southeastern Michigan Beekeeper's Association, warns that it's easy to confuse these pesky "bees" with honey bees, which rarely cause problems around homes or picnic areas.

"Hornets and yellow jackets actually seek out areas near people in search of food for their young." Sutherland said. "Honey bees seek sweet liquids; not other types of food. They are golden brown and fuzzy, while hornets and yellow jack ets are not fuzzy; but shiny black and yellow." If a hornet or yellow jacket lands on you, Sutherland says, don't panic.

"They are not looking for a fight, just lunch. Brush them off slowly and gently. Swatting, waving or bouncing only aggravates them. Slow, gentle movements are not threatening. Foraging insects are not protecting a nest and tend not to be aggressive.'

Sutherland suggested these additional tips:

- Wear smooth tan or white
- clothing. Avoid excessive hair spray, perfume, cologne or sun tan
- lotion. ■ Don't rely on insect repellents since they are not effec- tive on any of these insects. Keep sweets like candy, cakes or cookies covered
- when outside. ■ Keep glasses or bottles of
- beer, pop or juices to a minimum.

If you've enjoyed and outdoor picnic remember to dispose of any empty containers, wrapper and fruit peelings. If you keep the trash receptacle covered, that will be one more step in keeping the bees and hornets free from your area.

- Before choosing a picnic site, scout the area briefly for any obvious nets.
- Ask nearby picnickers if they are having insect problems.
- Always double check glass or bottle containers before drinking from it.
- Prepare foods, especially, grilled meats in a timely manner, and don't leave that last hot dog on the grill.
- Clean up plates, dishes and glasses when finished and keep covered.
- Use common sense, keep your picnic area tidy and keep your eyes open.

St. Joseph's opens treatment center for non-healing wounds

The Wound Care Center at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has opened in the Reichert Health Building to offer comprehensive, interdisciplinary therapy for treating chronic non-healing wounds. Nearly five million Americans suffer with chronic open sores as a result of diabetes, pressure ulcers or circulatory problems.

Patients at the center are evaluated to determine any underlying condition, such as diabetes, that might inhibit the natural healing process. After the assessment, an individualized treatment program is planned that addresses the multiple factors which influence wound healing, including nutrition, pressure relief and care of the wound at home.

"Our average patient is about 65 years old and has suffered from a chronic wound for approximately nine months," explained Wound Care Center Director Molly Rikas. "The center helps patients recover from their often-debilitating wounds and reduces the need for hospitalization or intensive outpatient care. Our healing rate is very high,"

The center is part of a nationwide network of wound care centers operated by Curative Health Services of Hauppauge, New York. under a contractual agreement, staff at the Wound Care Center will be employed by Curative, with St. Joe's handling support services.

Richard Beil, M.D., on St. Joe's medical staff, serves as medical director for the Wound Care Center.

Internet meets many needs

eal Berry was homelived in tent under a couple of freeway overpasses near San Rafael, Calif. And he'd probably still be living there had not someone abandoned an old car not far from his campsite, which brought the Highway Patrol on a routine check. When the two officers looked around, they spotted Berry's tent.

And when they went to investigate that, they found Berry. The tent was furnished with a ratty old mattress and a couple of boxes containing some wellworn clothes. And over in the corner they found 13 heavy-duty batteries stolen from a California Transportation Department work site nearby.

They arrested Berry on theft and possession of stolen property charges and were stunned to find that this was no typical homeless person they were dealing with. Berry, who had a clean police record, chose to live that way ... with his state-of-the-art laptop computer, a high-speed modem, and a cellular telephone. The batteries, each weighing 50 pounds, powered the cellular telephone and computer ... which, in turn, kept Berry connected to the Internet.

Living by choice

Polite, shy and obviously intelligent, Berry said it was his choice to live that way. "People don't understand why I chose to live on the streets, but I don't understand why they're willing to pay $500 a month for a place to live. After all, a house is a glorified cardboard box."

Berry said in a jailhouse interview with the Associated Press that he had all he needed in his $50 tent and that the Internet was helping prepare him for the ty of having "Cyberfunerals." solid future. He earned enough doing odd jobs and temporary labor to pay for the cellular phone and the access charges to the 'Net.

"With me, instead of watching TV six hours a day, I'm on-line talking to real live people."

And he learned enough, he said, to carve out a career as a computer network specialist, something he planned to actively start pursing in Oregon just as soon as his legal difficulties in San Rafael were straightened

I tell the story of Neal Berry at all my computer and Internet seminars (the next one Oct. 31, call (248) 423-2721 to reserve a spot) to illustrate how the Internet has become a way of life for many. And while Berry's story is far from typical. I am amazed every day by some of the ways people are using the Net.

For example, here's some stories from my e-mail:

■ Two brothers, 17 and 15, wrote to tell me that they are attending school - in their Orlando, Fla. home - on their computer. The school they attend is 3,000 miles away, in California (http://www.laurelsprings.com/), and the teenagers have never set foot inside it.

The brothers told me they spend about four hours a day hooked up to the Laurel Springs High School on the family PC, communicating with their teachers via e-mail and doing their research for class projects on the Internet.

A Madison, Wis. man emailed me to tell me that he was watching a series of pictures sent over the Web of a funeral (http://www.skc.com). Every 30 seconds a new picture appeared of the funeral service, and other mourners were exchanging messages of condolences.

The images are from the off-Broadway play "Grandma Sylvia's Funeral" and are being sent to demonstrate the feasibili- http://www.pcmike.com

"If everyone lived in the same town the way it used to be, they would all be together and then have dinner and cry," explains Jack Martin, whose Simplex Knowledge Co. is experimenting with the concept.

"This way, they get to be connected with their family and friends again and still have their lives." ■ A middle-aged man in Texas told me how he was tracing his family roots from Germany by searching data banks of immigration statistics and 100-yearold marriage, birth and death certificates, online, through genealogical sites on the Web. So far, he's gone back four generations and thinks he is the descendant of the Germanic equivalent of royalty.

Two best friends in a tiny little town in North Dakota shared with me how they did work, for extra credit in their eighth-grade science class, by looking at pictures being sent back from space and sending email to orbiting astronauts on Space Shuttle flights (http:// www. shuttle.nasa.gov).

A man who recently lost his middle-management job at a big Chicago consulting firm sent me a thank-you note to say how he had found a new job, online (http://www.careerpath.com).

And in Alaska, with the sun still visible in the sky at midnight - a high school English teacher told me how he unwinds each night before going to sleep by logging on to the New York Times where he reads the latest theater news (http://www. nytimes.com).

Mike Wendland covers the Internet for NBC-TV Newschannel stations across the country. His "PC Talk." radio show airs Saturday and Sunday afternoons on Detroit's WXYT-AM 1270. He is the author of a series of Internet books. You can reach him through his Web site at a) Why is he so happy? I never liked asking for permission. b) I still don't.

c) Is there a healthcare company out there that'll let me see a specialist -without asking for permission?

At HAP, we've partnered with Henry Ford Medical Centers to create a breakthrough new program called SelfDirect. SelfDirect gives people the freedom to refer themselves to most specialists. So, when you need to see a specialist, you can. It's as simple as that. SelfDirect is an idea that's the first of its kind in Michigan. Orchestra celebrates with song and food he 11th annual "Sunday, Songs & Symphony" promises to top last year's fall fund-raiser for the Livonia Symphony Orchestra. Cochairs Sister Francilene and Ken Kelsey are pulling out all the stops. They moved the event to a new location, and are holding a special raffle in addition to offering the customary performances by the orchestra, tasty samplings from area restaurants, bakeries and businesses, and dozens of items in a silent auction Sunday, Oct. 4.

The spacious mall will provide plenty of room for the estimated 1,000 guests to wander past tables of Maryland crab cakes, chocolate mousse, halibut bisque, breads, cookies, tortes, pastries, and other delights too numerous to mention.

"It's the social, musical event of the season," said Kelsey. "If someone's not sure if they'll like symphonic music this gives them a chance to hear the orchestra. The price of the ticket pays for their food and it's a chance to try different foods."

Sister Francilene VanDeVyver stresses this a fun evening and the orchestra program reflects that by featuring selections from "Phantom of the Opera," "My Fair Lady," and alltime favorites such as "I Could Have Danced All Night." Joining the orchestra will be vocalist Darlene McMullen.

"It's a really delightful event to share with fam-

Cheryl Whyte Conlin calls herself a "work in progress."

Abandoned at age four by her father, Conlin lived as a prisoner of fears until music and painting helped her overcome the demons inside her.

A rock guitarist since she was 19, Conlin traded in her guitar for brushes and paints two years ago. Armed with an upbeat attitude, Conlin's ready to show the world her darkest, deepest secrets in "The Emotions Collection," a one-woman show at the Wyland Gallery in Birmingham. She's exhibiting surreal paintings, drawings and painted furniture, including a coffee table featuring an underwater fish scene.

Dressed in black, rock regana, Conlin, a lifelong resident of Redford Township, moves from painting to painting explaining the concepts behind them. There headless bodies on a beach, dark figures bound by emotions. "All the ones with the dark background are me," said Con-

lin. "I've gone through bouts of depression throughout my life. I decided to change my life."

Until a few years ago, Conlin played lead guitar and sang in Damzel. Now 35, Conlin has set aside her guitar to paint, although she still does studio work, and readily admits music's influence on her art. Music seemed a natural career choice for Conlin since she grew up listening to her mother Sophie Whyte sing and play country music in a band. Released in 1993, the rock group's last CD "Castle Walls" (on Premier Records) deals with a "World of Broken Dreams" among other subjects.

Sunshine and wisdom: These tables were painted by Cheryl Whyte Conlin.

"You have to be able to feel the music," said Conlin. "You have to be able to feel to paint. Music taught me how to feel emotions. I always suppressed my emotions." Conlin felt abandoned by her mother as well as her father in those early years. The time Sophie had to devote to her daughter was limited because of rehearsing and performing. Conlin's finally come to terms with the loss of love she felt and appreciates one of the most valuable gifts from her mother.

"My mom supported me in my music and painting," said Conlin. "She always told me I could do whatever I wanted to do if I put my mind to it."

Untrained as a painter, Conlindrew photo realistic portraits of rock musicians, animals and landscape for 10 years before volunteering to paint sets for a production of "Wizard of Oz" at a high school in Royal Oak. From painting sets, Con-

Old Village spotlights fine crafts

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

When most people hear the word crafts they think of cute knickknacks, but not Diane Quinn. She had the time-honored arts of glass blowing, spinning wool, jewelry making, scrimshaw, and quilting in mind when she founded the Old Village Craft Fair in 1996.

The fair is the exact opposite of the expansive Art in the Park, Quinn produces in July in Plymouth. Instead of fighting their way from booth to booth, shoppers enjoy a relaxed ambiance while strolling down Liberty Street where in the 1800s village shops housed a collection of groceries, dry goods and general merchandise. Quinn thinks visitors love fall

"It's a fun time of year to come and start your holiday shopping," said Quinn, "and the Old Village show is a completely different atmosphere, more intimate. You can get to the artists booths and actually watch them practicing their crafts, and there'll be continuous dulcimer music by Charlene Berry."

If you see Bonnie Schlosser spinning wool on her "gossip" wheel stop by and say hello. Schlosser spins the wool, dyes it then knits or handweaves scarves, hats and vests. She used to raise the sheep and goats for the wool when living on a farm in Fenton. The 8- to 12 - pounds of wool sheared from one sheep yields three to six adult-size sweaters. The labor involved in crafting a single item is almost immeasurable, but Schlosser's sense of humor keeps her spin-

"After I moved to town, I couldn't pass them off as little dogs," said Schlosser, "so now, I purchase my wool from Michigan farmers."

Schlosser explains that the wool sheared from sheep is 7- to 8-inches long. Commercial processing reduces the length to as short as one-inch. Washing, bleaching and dyeing fur-

Artists stitch up imaginary worlds

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER

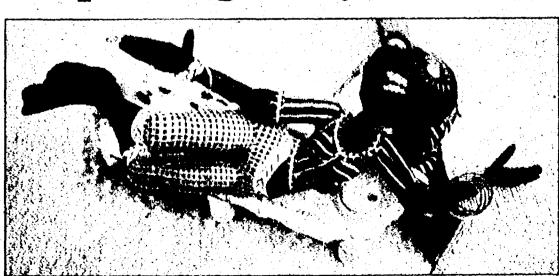

One day in the midst of hand engraving magnesium plates to emboss quilt designs on greeting cards, Diane Lewis thought why not use the same process to create dolls' faces.

Fabricating ideas is nothing new for Lewis. She's made a career of coming up with concepts for novelties such as: recycled fruit cake ornaments, Critter Capsules and Money To Burn, fireplace starters in the shape of a roll of $100 bills.

After years of baking fruit cake in dog food cans before encasing the sweet treat in Lucite, Lewis thought enough is enough. She's traded in the novelties to make art dolls.

"April in May," Lewis's white fabric art doll, is one of more than two dozen on display along with fiber art by Saundra Weed of Westland in a show sponsored by the Livonia Arts Commis- out of it. cards and experimenting with intricate patterns that Lewis realized a stronger material was necessary to maintain detail. Cloth was the logical choice. Next; came the doll faces.

"Once I recognized the possibilities I knew I wanted to create a three dimensional face with all the features in fabric," said Lewis. "While many dolls have felt faces, none existed in muslin."

That first monochromatic doll served as a springboard for several others now on exhibit in Putnam Companies' "Faces of the World" tour. Another was Quilters Only" fabric.

to have these fund-raisers," said Livonia Symphony president Robert Bennett.

LSO violinist Kathy Zuchniewicz is looking forward to bidding on the art objects, music lessons, sports memorabilia, Red Wings items and home decorative accessories in the silent auc-

"The variety of food, the silent auction, it's so much fun," said Zuchniewicz, a Novi resident. "I enjoy it because I've learned of different restaurants and found some new favorites."

More importantly, Zuchniewicz added, the event supports the orchestra. And if you like what you hear, you can purchase season tickets at the fundraiser for $75, quite a bargain when tickets cost $15 each for the six concerts.

"Musicians and music are expensive," Zuchniewicz said. "I don't think people realize how much it costs for a concert. The facilities and operating the light and sound systems is expensive."

Conductor Volodymyr Schesiuk is inviting the community to come meet the orchestra and enjoy the evening. He's excited about the new season featuring young piano prodigy Joshua Cullen and a Good Friday concert at St. Genevieve Church in Livonia. Additionally, during each concert the orchestra will perform a piece of romantic American music thanks to sponsors Christopher and Laura Tew.

"We can statistically see our audience is growing," said Schesiuk of Garden City. "We hope the fund-raiser can bring more people to our concerts. I try to promote the orchestra name wherever I can."

If you can't attend "Sunday, Songs & Symphony" you can still support the orchestra by purchasing raffle tickets. Only 900 tickets will be sold for the special auction with a $1,000 first prize, and two airline tickets to anywhere in the continental U.S. as second prize. The odds of winning are good and tickets are a bargain at $10 each or three for touch an emotional chord in the viewer. From the Bosnian Muslim refugee in babushka by Carol Stygles (Jackson, Mich.) in "Dusya's Story" to "The Relaxing Grandpa" complete with fingernails and porcelain teeth by Wacharee of Calif., the dolls evoke a smile, tear or cause for thought.

"You say cloth doll and no two are alike," said Lewis, a Livonia resident.

"The term cloth doll is misleading because these are sculptures," said Saundra Weed. "For anybody who likes fiber this is a wonderful show. Anybody who loves quilts, anybody who loves dolls, will love this show."

Originally begun as a fabric challenge by a fabric company more than 10 years ago, the exhibition illustrates the versatility of cloth. The show opened at the International Quilts Market and Festival last October in Houston. It's next stop is the We Folk of Cloth Conference in Maryland.

Since the shows are a year in the making, curator Kathleen Bricker chooses artists, not dolls, for the exhibit based on individual styles and techniques. Bricker uses the same criteria as when she owned the Backdoor Gallery of art dolls in Farmington. She strives for a variety of styles from traditional to cutting edge. Next year's show is now sitting on her dining room table waiting to be shipped to Houston.

"When someone says dolls everyone thinks of Barbie and Raggedy Ann," said Bricker. "But when people walk in to see the show they're amazed to see the creativity. These are women who love to play with fabric. Rather than paint, they want to do something that has dimension and form, and some take an inner journey to do that."

Bricker chose Lewis's doll because artists rarely create in an all white theme.

"The fact that she's chosen to do a monochromatic doll that doesn't look flat is amazing,' said Bricker. "It's a very effective piece. The color can hide everything. But when you're working in all white you can't hide the flaws."

Dressing up

Saundra Weed's colorful wall hangings, including landscapes, and wearable art offers an alternative to the dolls and in some instances a backdrop.

Weed turns vintage fabrics and laces into mountain ranges and floral still life. For many years, Weed owned and operated a wedding gown design shop in Dearborn. A few years ago, she decided to close the shop but still remodels and redesigns wedding gowns. The lace she's collected from vintage gowns now is incorporated into many of the wall hangings and wearable art.

A painting instructor at Schoolcraft College, Weed switched to fabric as a medium after arthritis left her unable to carry the heavy framed works back and forth to exhibits. As a result, she teaches fabric collage at Schoolcraft College and Quilt Works in Plymouth in addition to stitching up murals, clothing and fabric paintings for competitions. Her work is currently in "Gourmet Quilt" and "Extreme Quilts" exhibits at the Greater Flint Arts Council. The "Gourmet Quilt" travels to the American Stitches Sewing Expo Oct. 2-4 at the Novi Expo Cen-

"You have to find another way to create," said Weed. "That's what being an artist is all about. You encounter a problem and find a way to resolve it."

Not to be missed is Weed's brightly colored "Birds of Paradise" and her whimsical "If Fishes Were Wishes."

Adds Weed, "this quilt would lin switched to covering furniture with the designs of animal fur. The painted furniture is available at Andy Sharkey Gallery in Royal Oak, Atrium Gallery, Northville, Hip House next to Gallery FunctionArt, Pontiac, Artloft, Birmingham, and Village Picture Framing and Art Gallery, Dearborn.

From the furniture, Conlin evolved to paint self portraits where she relays her emotions in surrealistic style. The works were shown in June at a Whitney Garden Party sponsored by C-Pop Gallery.

"I was going through a tough time personally," said Conlin. "In the 'Tormented Soul,' where the flames are shooting from the side of her head, the soul is trying to escape the body."

The painting was the first of the self portraits after Conlin read "The Artists Way." The book led to Conlin's decision to focus on painting. But after drawing from photographs for 10 years, Conlin found her creativity blocked.

"I could never come up with ideas, In 'Blocked,' I'm trying to relay how I couldn't think of my, on men for their existence. In the attitude and self image. "I" incorown ideas. I was paralyzed with painting, the woman is so depenfear. I was afraid of everything."

"Introvert and its Demons" and "Facing the Fear" reveal her pain as do the heads scattered on the beach of "Buried Emotions." The surreal scene is a portrait about a dysfunctional family.

"There's all this beauty in the world and they don't see it," said Conlin. "The father is red because he's angry. The mother's green because she's envious of the man."

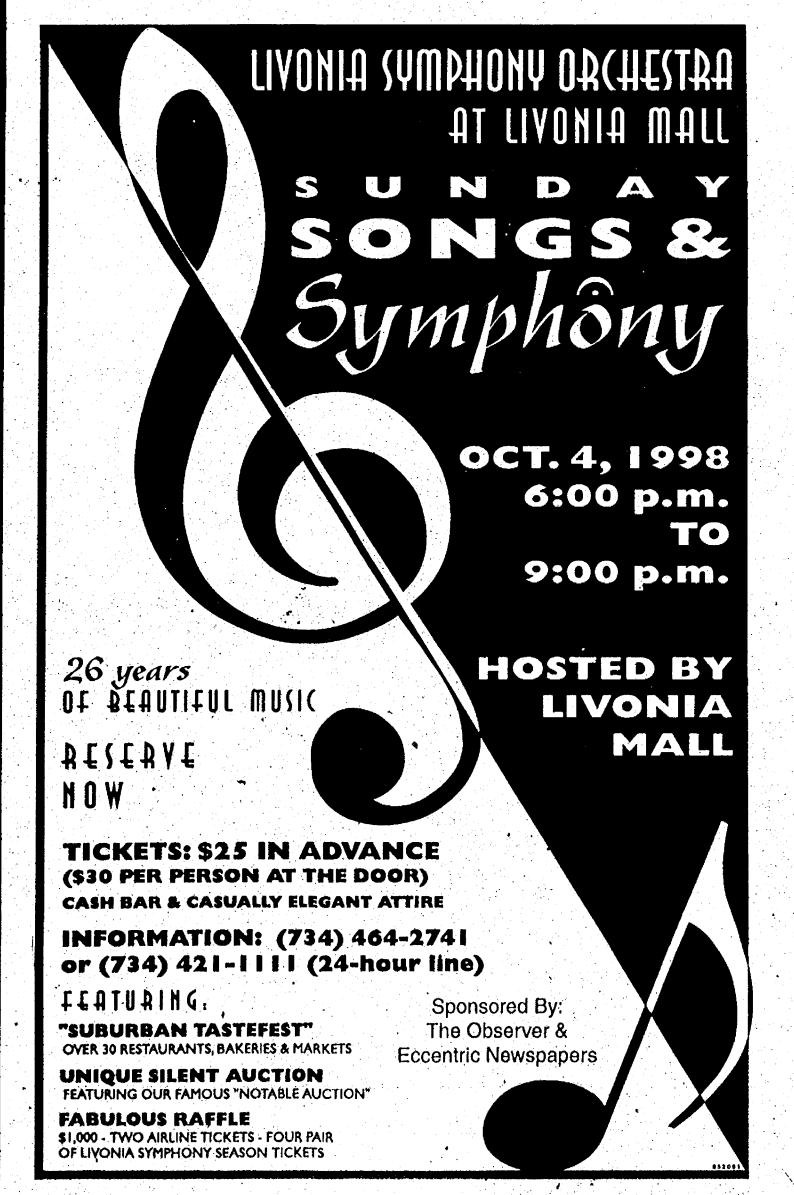

In "Emotional Dependence," a woman hangs suspended from a man's rib. It's Conlin's way of chastising women who depend dent on the man that she's physically ripped the bone from his body.

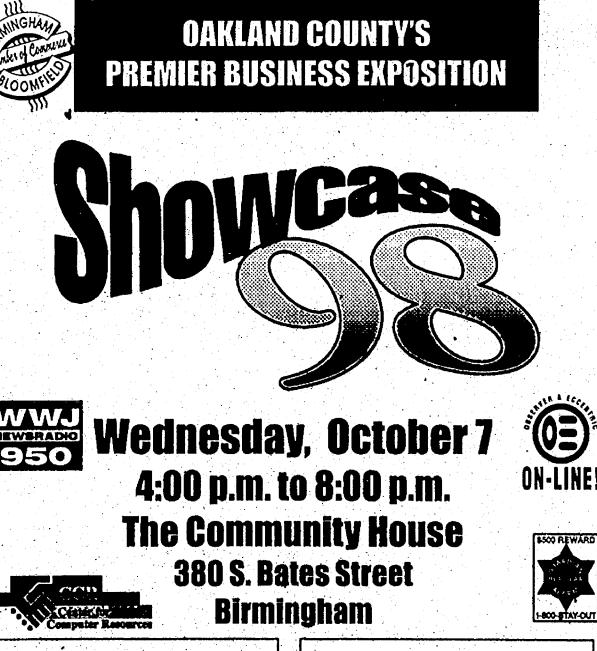

"Cheryl's work is strikingly unique," said Robert Krajenke, Wyland Gallery director, "She takes realistic drawing and expands on that with a surreal element."

A new day

Conlin's in a hurry to discover her self. She's completed 10 of the paintings in the show since June. "Energy," a more recent work featuring spheres of bright colors emitting from Conlin suggests she's acquiring a positive porates the mountains she wants to climb. One of the newest paintings, "Ridin' the Wave," is about being on top of the world.

That's where Conlin is now and hopes to stay.

'Chicago' gets stripped down to emphasize dance, music

"Chicago - The Musical" continues at Detroit's Fisher Theatre, 8 p.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays, 7:30 p.m. Sundays and 2 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 11. Tickets are $62 to $35. Call (248)645-6666.

"Come on babe, I know a whoopee spot Where the gin is cold and the piano's hot

And all that jazz!" Kander and Ebb

BY HUGH GALLAGHER STAFF WRITER

"Chicago - The Musical" is a bitterly cynical and highly entertaining concoction.

"Chicago" is a stripped down musical revue that spotlights music, dance and performance in the raw, framed around a musical comedy plot that is almost irrelevant. Director Walter Bobbie, who originally revived the Bob Fosse. Kander-Ebb musical as a concert piece for New York's Encores series, has created a production in stark black and gold. Though the story of two murderesses and their lawyer takes place in the 1920s, the set is 1998 backstage with an on-stage ersatz jazz band, ladders and simple chairs. The women are dressed in sexy black lingerie meant to display lots of leg and the men, mostly, in vests and tight dance pants.

The songs are introduced and staged as vaudeville routines. John Kander's music borrows from the variety of musical styles in the 1920s from Dixieland to tangos to crooning to Jeanette MacDonald trilling. The Fred Ebb lyrics are about as deep-down nasty as recent news reports. The Ann Reinking choreography, in the style of her mentor Fosse, is energetic, sinuous and sensual.

This touring production at the Fisher has the talent.

At the top of the list is Stephanie Pope as Velma Kelly. Pope is a long-limbed dancer with a contortionist's flexibility. She is an insinuating singer, equal parts cynical and sexy. Her facial expressions are as fluid as her dance steps. She sets the attitude with her oh-so naughty "All That Jazz."

Belle Calaway is less successful as the more comic and pitiful Roxie Hart. The part was custom made for Gwen Verdon, whose style is hard for others to avoid. Calaway does a fine version of "Roxie" but seems to hurry through some of her other numbers and is less sure footed than Alan Thicke, often referred to as "the TV actor," is actually a former. He plays slickster lawyer, con man and charmer Billy Flynn, complete with the frozen-faced mock sincerity of a TV newsman. Whether crooning the sappy "All I Care About" or playing ventriloquist for Roxie in the rapid-fire "We Both Reached for the Gun," he commands the attention of the audience and oozes oiliness.

But the surprising show stopper is Michael Tucci's rendition of the Bert Williams' style "Mister Cellophane," complete with white gloves and soft shoe footwork. Tucci makes a wonderful schlemiel.

Carol Woods as Mama the Matron struts her stuff with authority and, thankfully, doesn't oversell the part. R. Bean is a sweet Mary Sunshine, who warbles like Jeanette MacDonald through a wicked send-up of Rodgers and Hammerstein at their shlockiest.

But in a Bob Fosse show, it's pretty good musical comedy per- the chorus that provides the punch, and here the "boys and girls" work up a good sweat through Reinking's imaginative dance numbers and such Kander vocal routines as "Cell Block Tango."

Of course, the recent news out of Washington helps give new meaning to Fred Ebb's lyrics. drawing howls of recognition from the audience.

The more things change, the more they ... and all that jazz!

Exciting, unique. Electrifying. Colorful. Energizing. Non-stop entertainment. Ear-splitting, yes. Funky, definitely.

These are just a handful of the words you could use to accurately describe "Bring in 'Da Noise. Bring in 'Da Funk," now playing at the Masonic Temple Theatre. The one-of-a-kind revue paints mostly through hard-driving, pulse-pounding, heart-throbbing tap dance - a history of African-Americans, from the earliest days of slavery to contemporary

Here is a lonely prisoner shackled in the dark hold of a slave ship. Here are plantation slaves expressing the rhythms of drums have been lawfully taken from them. Here is ragtime. Here is Hollywood. Here are the Chicago and Harlem. Here is a rousing combo of 1987 gospel and "hip hop rant."

Lucky for us, da beat goes on. And on. (The musical is, in fact, subtitled, "A Tap/Rap Discourse on the Staying Power of the

We are treated to a special and absolutely delicious proof of this, for example, in a number dubbed "Industrialization," in which dancers acting as workers in a terrible, nightmarish Chicago factory somehow metamorphose into rhythmic cogs in a giant mechanism. The routine, choreographed by the Tony Awardwinning Savion Glover (who, with director George Wolfe, conceived the idea for "Noise/ Funk") and executed as it is by the terrifically talented crew, neither sounds or looks pleasant in the least, but it is absolutely breathtaking.

Another highly memorable spot comes along early in the production when a very young dancer (Dominique Kelly is 16) steals our hearts and then their souls through dance, after breaks them with "The Lynching lyrics by Reg E. Gaines, and Blues."

Along with the rest of the highly gifted company (Vincent Bingham, Dennis Dove, Thomas Silcott, Martin King and Christopher Scott), the spicy vocal tones (and attitude) of the voluptuous Vickilyn Reynolds add real spark to the production, as do the incredible rhythmic talents of drummers David Peter Chapman and Dennis Dove, who specializes in pots, pans, lids, buckets, washtubs and whatever will provide the appropriate punch and jazzy pizzazz.

Scenic design (Riccardo Hernandez), lighting design (Jules Fisher and Peggy Eisenhauer), sound (Jon Weston) and costumes (Paul Tazewell), though usually not elaborate, reflect the extra-special care and inventiveness that's gone in to this firstrate production.

ther coarsens the wool. Schlosser, who primarily uses Merino wool because of the finer diameter, would not even consider a commercially produced yarn for "A lot of people will say I can't wear wool but they've only worn commercial wool," said Schlosser. "After overprocessing it and chopping it into one-inch lengths, of course, it's going to itch when it comes in contact with the skin. I use what I would like to have next to my body.'

Schlosser estimates there are no more than 70 hand spinners in Michigan. That's why she believes it's important to educate people about the craft. She demonstrates at local shows including Art in the Park in Plymouth; Art on the Avenue, Dearborn and Northville's Art Under the Sun to acquaint the public with the dying art. She also takes her Australian-made gossip-style wheel to classrooms and historical societies.

"Back then people used to have spinning bees like quilting bees," said Schlosser. "You had to do garments for the entire family so it took a lot of spinning. Women would get together to spin and gossip. I want children to see the process and the different fibers that can be spun, and to know our clothing doesn't just grow on ning contest. When Arachnae spun a finer yarn than Athena, the Goddess of Wisdom, Athena turned her into a spider and sentenced her to spin forever. To further punish Arachnae, Athena deemed her cob webs would always be swept away.

"Spinning's not a difficult art," said Schlosser. "It just takes a lot of practice."

After 18 years of spinning, Schlosser is able to spin so precisely as to imitate commercially produced yarn but prefers to create texture instead. She limits the color by only spinning one- to one- and a half pounds of a blend, making the garments oneof-a-kind.

"You won't see the variety of color and texture in a commercial that you can get in a handspun," said Schlosser. "The rainbow is my limit. Plus you can make it rhythmic and it is so much softer."

Schlosser also dyes most of the fibers preferring to use chemical instead of natural dyes because they're colorfast.

"Using a hand carder that looks like a dog comb, I blend the fibers together. A lot of the yarns are very unique because I'll never make it again."

A member of the Black Sheep Weavers and the Michigan Weavers Guild in Farmington Hills, Schlosser misses the sheep and goats that she used to raise in Fenton, especially one large ram who loved to give hugs.

"They have such personality," said Schlosser.

Perfectly platinum: A platinum and diamond ring from Modern Art Jewelers.

Just ask the Jewelry Lady

The Jewelry Lady is an expert on all aspects of fine jewelry - diamonds and fine gems, colored gemstones, gold, silver, platinum, fashion trends, suitability, insurance, care and cleaning, birthstones, anniversary gems, history, legend, lore and more. Whereas Jewelry Woman may be more politically correct, the Jewelry Lady, a devout feminist, prefers the title because "Jewelry Woman" sounds like someone you hire out to scrub your diamonds after garden-

The Jewelry Lady gained her wealth of knowledge by growing up in a family of jewelers, working the counter, cleaning customers' rings, designing remounts, buying from vendors and continuing on to a more formal education through correspondence courses with the Gemological Institute of America and the American Gem Society. She keeps her ring finger on the pulse of what is happening in the world, jewelry-wise. She shares her wisdom, expertise and opinions with you in this guest

Dear Jewelry Lady (J.L.),

I am a 5-foot-10-inch woman and I've been told that I shouldn't wear stud earrings because they make me look too tall. Is this true? Basketball Jean, Southfield.

Dear Basketball,

What you really need is assertiveness training - not a jewelry adviser. Take a good look in the mirror. I've never met a woman who didn't look richer, smarter, sexier and downright happier in a pair of diamond studs.

That said, there are official guidelines to help the uncertain among us choose and wear the appropriate accessories. And your fashion critic was right. Apparently, tall women are told to wear long, dangling earrings, as they are the only creatures on earth fortunate enough to look great in them. Just how great these dangles will look depends, of course, on the length of your neck, your hair, and the shape of the earring itself. As spokeswoman for the short people, the Jewelry Lady encourages you to enjoy your height - and the official right to wear long earrings. But if you have diamond studs on your mind, from one diamond-lover to another, the only proper advice is go for it!

Dear J.L., I've noticed lately that all the fashion magazines show engagement rings in platinum. Is this a must-have for brides of the '90s? Curious about White in West Bloomfield:

Dear Curious,

This is a classic case of what goes around comes around. Time was. before WWII, platinum was all the rage in fashion circles. But because of the war, platinum was banned for all uses other than defense, and it didn't pick up steam again until the '90s, when the Platinum Guild International put on a media/publicity blitz to be admired. The Jewelry Lady is old enough to have a mother who wears her original white gold, diamond-set wedding band. So a simple platinum engagement ring looks a lot like her mother's Oldsmobile, if you catch her

However, designers have gotten creative with this new challenge and there are a lot of white on white designs (as in diamonds on platinum) that look new, fresh and cutting-edge, Some have even tempted the Jewelry Lady herself. Platinum is also heavier than gold and 95 percent pure, as opposed to the 75 percent purity of 18-karat gold.

Unlike silver, platinum doesn't dream of tarnishing and it wears much better than gold. The official edict, therefore, is that the bride of the '90s should wear whatever type of engagement ring she likes - platinum, gold or a combination of the two. Just be sure to bring your credit card, the platinum one.

The Jewelry Lady awaits your questions and comments. Contact her by fax at (248) 542-4012.

Where to find the one-of-a-kind

Do you believe in magic?

ix a lot of imagination with a little bit of magic and what do you get? Imajica, of course - a fanciful treasure chest of a shop in Pleasant Ridge, filled with Christmas spirit, collectible toys, porcelain boxes and fairy tale tea sets. In fact, it's the stuff that childhood dreams are made Marcia Kopman opened her playful store when her garage became so filled with finds, she could no longer park the car inside. She and partner Janet Kurvlo set up shop in Ferndale for two years, then moved into expanded space, just up the street on Woodward, a couple of weeks ago. "We're housed in a space that was originally a gas station and later a golf store. There are holes in the ceiling from errant golf balls."

Though it's difficult to uncover all of the shop's surprises in one visit, a quick stroll through the space immediately reveals a Christmas tree-filled holiday room. The tree branches sparkle with blown-glass ornaments, while display shelves overflow with chubby Noel Santas dressed for their everyday lives as police officers, fire fighters, doctors, carpenters, anglers, even surfers.

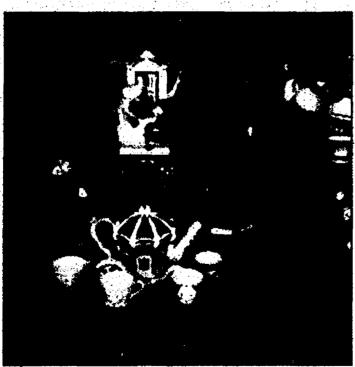

In the store's main room, antique dressers and tables hold lamps topped with Kopman's silk flower shades; wind-up toys (some from the former U.S.S.R.); nursery rhyme teapots; an old magic set; replicas of actual diners and restaurants (Remember when Howard Johnson was an ice-cream shop?); and lots of miniature cars. "We're on Woodward, we have to have cars," says Kopman. Also find cabinets filled with all kinds of jewelry.

The two friends often haunt flea markets and local dealers on Sundays and during the summer months. Otherwise, they attend the major toy and gift shows and buy only those things that tickle their fancies.

Remember those little pressed metal animalshaped clacker toys and the wooden push-up figurines that appear to dance? They're here - at Imaji-

Portrait of an artist: Makeup artist Gil Cagne brings his new European product lines to Florence at Laurel Park Place in Livonia.

Beauty and skincare basics - Italian-style

n Italy, Gil Cagne is the leading man of makeup artistry. He's embellished the faces of beauties Sofia Loren, Audrey Hepburn, Brigitte Bardot. Elizabeth Taylor, Grace Kelly, Diana Ross and Liza Minnelli. For years, major cosmetics companies have requested that he create exclusive lines for them, and international fashion magazines and photographers have offered him collaborations.

Recently, Cagne decided to launch his own cosmetics line with the Jean Klebert label, a premier Italian cosmetics company. The new makeup and skin care products are available for the first time in the United States at Florence in Livonia.

Lucky for owners Jim Batterson and Tom Drummy, former Jacobson's execs, they were acquainted with Ann Arbor massage therapist Christina Hibbs and relied on her energy and expertise to help open the exclusive Laurel Park Place skincare center. Hibbs jumped in with both feet, sponge painting an interior wall to look like stone, and traveling to Italy to watch chemists stirring vats of spa mud and to get personal makeup application technique instruction from Cagne.

Hibbs knows the product lines and easily converses in silk proteins, hydration, vitamins and hydroxy acids. She believes that every customer should make informed decisions about their skincare regimen. "You buy instruction and technique when you buy a product," she says. You also buy comprehensive skincare analysis.

The Klebert product lines are extensive and specific to skin type. Hibbs highlighted a few of the key products, including Iridium for eve care, Dr. Schon for hand and foot care, and Club delle Terme treatments with Porretta Spa Mud, an ancient Italian restorative. Following Italian tradition, each end use product has its own name.

The star of the makeup line is sericin, a special silk protein that gives foundations, eye shadows and lipstick a rich texture that locks in moisture, "like a second skin," says Hibbs. The staff at Florence is trained in makeup application and offer complimentary makeovers. Hibbs also continues to ply her trade, giving facial, neck and shoulder, and hand and foot massages. The "quickie" massages are $10-$20, a dollar a minute.

As Hibbs ends her knowledgeable repartee about skin care, she kneads the back and shoulders of a lunch-hour massage client. "Wow," says Keith Figurski of Canton, as he groggily stumbles from the peaceful oasis that is Florence, "I'll be back every..."

SLEIGHT OF HAND

Ten million illegibly addressed envelopes end up in the deadletter office each year. Doctors' scribbling causes problems for nurses, pharmacists and patients. Handwriting education is in a sad state, and the admonition to PLEASE PRINT on most forms testifies to our lack. of confidence in handwriting leg-

While some people blame the computer for the demise of handwriting, calligraphic instructor William A. Bostick is working to revive and preserve writing as an art. He has recently published the second edition of his third calligraphy manual. Back to the Second Basic R -'Ritin' is a manual for adults and children to learn the handwriting of the Italian Renaissance. It includes a ball point pen and the Sheaffer calligraphy fountain pen.

It teaches the hand of such Renaissance greats as Michelangelo, Leonardo da Vinci and Raphael. To order, send $10.95 ($8.76 for calligraphers) to La Stampa Calligrafica, Box 209, Franklin, MI 48025 or call (248) 646-5176.

SPIRIT OF GIVING

Grants from Hudson's totaling $560,000 in the areas of social action and the arts have been awarded to 30 metro-Detroit non-profit organizations. The three focus areas for Hudson's community giving program include: child abuse prevention, youth self-sufficiency and education through the arts. Grantmaking decisions were made by a committee of store employees. The largest community giving committee award went to Christians United in Business Endeavors for youth career and entrepreneurial programs, Arts and cultural leadership grants totaled $260,000.

COUTURE BENEFITS KIDS

Orchards Children's Services, a private, non-profit child welfare agency that services foster children in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, raised over $10,000 from the Neiman Marcus Fall '98 Couture Collection Fashion Show on Sept. 18. Proceeds from the event will help underwrite the purchase of toys and clothing for Orchards upcoming Toy Drive.

Which is the correct view of origins-evolution or creation? Is organic evolution a "fact" of science? Is creation a credible alternative? What is the creationists' response to the alleged evidences for evolution? What are the scientific evidences supporting creation? Does God exist? Is His existence provable? Is the Bible inspired by God?

You are cordially invited to attend a seminar dealing with these and other important issues. The speaker is Dr. Bert Thompson, former professor, College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University. All sessions are free: no collections of any kind will be made. In addition, handout materials accompanying each lecture will be made available free-of-charge to those in attendance. Most sessions are followed by an open "question and answer" session.

No-so racy 'Mattress' is now fine for families

Stagecrafters presents "Once Upon A Mattress," music by Mary Rodgers, lyrics by Marshall Barer and book by Jay Thompson, Dean Fuller and Marshall Bare through Sunday, Oct. 11 at the historic Baldwin Theatre, 415 S. Lafayette Ave. in downtown Royal Oak. Tickets $12 to $14, reserved. Call (248) 541-6430. Performances 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday, Oct. 2-3, Friday-Saturday, Oct. 9-10, 2 p.m. Sundays, Sept. 20, Oct. 4 and Oct. 11, and 7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 27. By Jon Katz SPECIAL WRITER

Once upon a time - 1959, actually - some wicked Broadway types took a perfectly fine fairy tale - "The Princess and the Pea" - and made a musical out of it. And for that, they were banished from the Great White Way of Carol Burnett, "Once Upon a to mails and schools. Mattress" was a hip, adult treatment of the children's story. Hip, at least, for the Eisenhower era.

Created specially for the widemouthed and loose-limbed antics As the season opener, we can recommend 'Mattress' with a rating of PGC-12: For parents and grandparents accompanied by children under 12. Buy some extra tickets for the kids, folks; you'll enjoy it better together.

Time has not been kind to "Once Upon a Mattress." Today, it is silly and cornball in a way that does not engender nostalgic warmth in grownups like, say, The Three Stooges do. The demographics served best by the show - young children - are not the group's regulars. Stagecrafters might therefore have been wiser to relegate it to a youth theatre

This is not to say stay away. As its season opener, we can recommend "Mattress" with a rating of PGC-12: For parents and grandparents accompanied by children under 12. Buy some extra tickets for the kids, folks: you'll enjoy it better together.

You already know the story: Princess Winnifred ("call me Fred") comes to the kingdom to hopefully win the hand of Prince Dauntless the Drab. To do that, production, or to take an excerpt she must pass a test administered by his domineering, motormouth mother. Because, as we're told by the strolling minstrel. "A princess is a delicate thing," a bed of 20 mattresses is prepared for her, with a pea placed at the bottom. If she feels the pea, then a true princess she must be.

Winnifred has many qualities, but delicate doesn't seem to be one of them. She can't enter a castle through the front door like everyone else; she's gotta swim the moat and climb the wall ... and belt out her opening number, "I'm Shy." Right, like a Scud missile.

As Fred, Anne Conlon is a king's ransom of fun. She mugs and pratfalls and is understandably irresistible. And she can sing, too. Her bluesy "Happily Ever After" recalls songstresses of nightclub days of yore like Nancy Wilson and Peggy Lee. Her moments off the stage are moments she's missed.

Karl Miller is a drab Dauntless, indeed, and very much a mommy's boy, which is inconvenient when mommy's more than just queen of the house. His over-the-top expressions, however, span the spectrum from bewildered to confused, and wear thin quickly. Maureen Cook's Endora-like Queen Aggravain can spit out more words in one breath than humanly possible. This makes up for her husband, kindly king Sextimus the Silent (Fred Shulak), who's been struck mute by an evil spell. That doesn't stop him from scampering after the ladies of the court, however. prompting the queen to ask, "What's the point of being a ruler if one doesn't behave the way a ruler should?" The line prompted a broad chuckle from the audience, considering its appropriateness today.

Kelly Janney and Vincent DeRita provide the sub-plot as star-crossed lovers. They make a lovely pair, but does each song have to end the same way? And while we're picking, do the 20 chorus members have to be blocked in either a v-shape or a semi-circle? And does John Montgomery Miller have to use a Nazi accent for his Wizard? It's especially uncomfortable with a line like "Her papers seem to be in order."

Again, "Once Upon A Mattress" seems a questionable choice for the main stage, but a house filled with less cynical and more forgiving youngsters might make it all end happily ever

VIDEO REVIEW

'Oscar and Lucinda' lacks romance, feeling

BY LEANNE ROGERS STAFF WRITER

During the Victorian era gambling, in whichever of its many forms, was a vice that drew censure from good society. It was an interest in that vice that leads to a bond between the title characters of "Oscar and Lucinda," a 1997 film based on Peter Carey's novel.

The film follows their respective childhoods, Oscar growing up with his severely religious father in England and Lucinda on a family home in rural Aus-his father's home and religion, eventually becoming an Anglican minister. It's while Oscar is at the university that he is introduced to gambling and finds he's rather successful at it.

Played by Ralph Fiennes as an

Oscar finds his love of gambling at odds with his religious life and on the flip of a coin decides to head off for mission work in Australia. He talks of religious faith as the ultimate gamble - an idea that should have been explored a lot more.

Lucinda, played by Cate Blanchett, meanwhile has come into a large sum of money when the family's land is sold under conditions of her father's will. She eventually buys a glassworks and meets Oscar while returning from a business trip in England.

Oscar and Lucinda develop a close relationship that is cemented by their love of gambling and hindered by some misunderstandings. Their ultimate wager is over the transportation of a glass church to a rural Australian community.

Directed by Gillian Armstrong, who has been responsible for wonderful films such as "My Brilliant Career" and "Little Women," this film is a disappointment. The characters aren't particularly well-developed and the plot has no flow. The pace is plodding and flat.

It seems like it takes a lot of film before the main characters actually meet. When they do meet, it's not that big of a deal. Even the moving of a completely glass church up a remote river (shades of "Fitzcarraldo" with the boat being hauled over a jungle mountain) isn't really a big deal.

Fiennes, Blanchett and the rest of the cast are fine but really limited in what they can develop. The film lacks romance and feeling.

Section 101.1. These regulations shall be known as the Plumbing Code of the City of Garden City hereinaster referred to as "this Code."

Section 106.5.2 Fee Schedule. The amount of the permit fees for any and all plumbing work performed shall be passed by resolution of the City of Garden City and posted at the City of Garden Building Department.

Section 106.5.3. Fee Refunds. The code official shall authorize the refunding of fees as follows:

1. The full amount of any fee paid hereunder that was erroneously paid or collected.

2. 75 percent of the permit fee paid when no work has been done under a permit issued in accordance with this code.

The code official shall not authorize the refunding of any fee paid except upon written application filed by the original permitted not later than 180 days after the date of the payment.

Section 108.4 Violation, penalties. Any person who shall violate a provision of this code or shall fail to comply with any of the requirements thereof or who shall erect, install, alter or repair plumbing work in violation of the approved construction document or directive of the code official, or of a permit or certificate issued under the provision of this code, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $500.00 or by imprisonment not exceeding 30 days, or both such fine and imprisonment. Each day that a violation continues after due notice has been served shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 108.5. Stop work orders. Upon notice from the code official, work on any plumbing system that is being done contrary to the provisions of this code or in a dangerous or unsafe manner shall immediately cease. Such notice shall be in writing and shall be given to the owner of the property, or to the owner's agent, or to the person doing the work. The notice shall state the conditions under which work is authorized to resume. Where an emergency exists, the code official shall not be required to give a written notice prior to stopping the work. Any person who shall continue any work in or about the structure after having been served with a stop work order, except such work as that person shall be liable to a fine of not less than $100.00 dollars or more than $500.00 dollars.

Section 305.6.1 Sewer depth. Building sewers that connect to private sewage disposal systems shall be a minimum of 18 inches (mm) below finished grade at the point of septic tank connection. Building sewers shall be a minimum of 50 inches below grade.

Section 904.1 Roof extension. All open vent pipes that extend through a roof shall be terminated at least 12 inches above the roof, except that where a roof is to be used for any purpose other than weather protection, the vent extensions shall be run at least 7 feet (2134 mm) above the roof.

Chapter 14. Referenced standards. The Codes referenced in the "Referenced Standards" set forth in Chapter 14 shall mean the 1996 BOCA National Building Code, and The 1996 International Mechanical Code.

The fees for permits, licenses, examination and inspections shall be passed by resolution of the City of Garden City and posted at the City of Garden City Building Department.

That Ordinance No. 93-006, codified at Chapter 157, Title XV, Section(s) 157.01 through 157.02 of the City of Garden City and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herowith are hereby repealed. Except as herein modified, the said Code shall remain in full force and effect. SAVINGS CLAUSE. The City of Garden City hereby declares that any section, paragraph,

How to make the most of the Great White Way

BY CINDI COOK SPECIAL WRITER

Planning a great evening at the theater would make even the most seasoned chorus girl swoon. The Great White Way is experiencing a boom it hasn't seen in years, with 20 broadway shows now listed and 11 soon to appear. Shows like "Cats" and "The Phantom of the Opera' (each with runs of over a decade) continue to play to sold out houses and lines continue to form nightly outside of "Les Miserables."

So how do you get to Broadway?? It will take more than a plane ticket, or a song in your heart. Since Times Square can be daunting for even the most native of New Yorkers, let alone those from out of town, auditioning all your options will give you a star-studded evening.

Just the ticket

Only Lady Luck or the Leading Lady can land tickets to some shows. Tele-charge and Ticketmaster, those blessed creations of theater producers, are the most convenient methods of purchase. Friendly operators are there 24 hours a day, every day, to take orders (credit cards only) for the shows they handle. Performances are Tuesday through Sunday evenings, with matinees on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays (Monday being "dark"), The hitch: nominal service and handling charges ranging from $4.25 to $9 are added to ticket

Tele-charge (212-239-6200/ 800-432-7250 or 800-223-7565; HYPERLINK http:// www. telecharge. com www. telecharge. com) handles 20 Broadway and 34 Off-Broadway shows. Tickets are mailed if placed within 10 days of the performance, held otherwise. Ticketmaster (212-307-4550/7171; www.ticketmaster.com) oversees ticket ordering for 11 Broadway shows and eight Off-Broadway shows. Unfortunately, there are no refunds or exchanges.

Other routes are The Broadway Line, an automated phone on purchasing, show dates and times, and TKTS, the booth in Duffy Square, just north of Times Square, and at 2 World Trade Center (212-768-1818 for information on both). TKTS offers shows at a discounted price for that day's or evening's performance only-often at half off. Sorry, only cash and travelers checks accepted and theyire are not open Sunday.

The best shows

New York Theater is at its pinnacle right now. In a recent The New York Times "On Stage and Off," columnist Rick Lyman states, "There are 38 Broadway theaters and every one is booked. Solid." The choices, it seems, are bigger than the last casting call for "A Chorus Line." There are revivals "The Sound of prices which can range from $55 Music," "Cabaret," and soon to $80.

"Annie Get Your Gun"; there are plays about old New York "Ragtime" and new New York "Rent." There are plays about animals "The Lion King" and something beyond animal "Beauty and the Beast"; there are plays from movies "Footloose." There is pure dance: "Fosse" and pure song, "Smokey Joe's Cafe"; there are felines "Cats" and phantoms "The Phantom of the Opera"; British imports "Art" and down and dirty American originals "Bring in Da Noise, Bring in Da Funk." Too many to mention and more on the way. Look for reviews in The New York Times, service with detailed information The New Yorker, and Playbill magazines.

Dinner for two or more

Steps from the stage door lie a myriad of restaurants. Chez Josephine, named for ex-pat cabaret lovely Josephine Baker at 414 West 42nd Street (212-594-1925) dishes up diverse French Bistro fare.

Fill your pasta bowl and your stomach at Carmine's, 200 West 44th Street (212-221-3800). Extremely popular since its opening six years ago, Carmine's traditional family-style fare (read: lots of food on big plates) are more suitable for groups, but one or two dishes will satisfy you, your dinner companion and your doggie bags.

To see Gotham in all its glory, try The View, atop the Marriott Marquis (1535 Broadway, 212-704-8900). This restaurant is not for the easily queasy; as you dine, it rotates (slowly). Keep looking out the window, though; you might be able to see Maple Avenue if you look closely

If nothing but a New York steakhouse will do, there are plenty. One of the best is Gallagher's, on West 52 Street, just off Broadway (212-245-5336). You know you're in business when a freezer full of meat stares you in the face upon entry. The portions aren't skimpy nor the prices. Slabs of filet mignon and swordfish, creamed spinach, and footballsize baked potatoes with all the trimmings make it worth every

Wherever you go, inform your waiter of your showtime, especially if the establishment is in the theater district. Busiest dining times are 6-8 p.m. Do not

One spot exudes cabaret more than any other: the Algonquin Hotel (59 West 44th Street, 212-840-6800). The hallowed halls have been privy to the biggest names in show biz John and Ethel Barrymore, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. (who spent his honeymoon there), and Dorothy Parker, George S. Kaufmann, famed members of the legendary Algonquin Round Table. Catch Andrea Marcovicci and the like in the cozy Oak Room.

Cafe Carlyle in the Carlyle Hotel (35 East 76th Street. entrance on Madison between 76th and 77th Streets, 212-744-1600) is an exquisite spot. Legend Bo'by Short holds court for two long seasons, with Karen Akers, Dixie Carter and Julie Wilson also gracing the stage. Budget conscious travelers beware: there is a $35 cover charge just for stepping inside.

It was no surprise that my mother, theater maven and veteran of 30 years of Birmingham community theater, brought to my attention probably the most comprehensive guide to New York theater: Applause: New York's Guide to the Performing Arts. This slim volume lists it all. It opens with a map of the theater district and lists music, theater, dance, opera, jazz and cabaret, childrenis events, environmental and performance art, festivals and seasonal events, and free events. One almost need look no further, it is that

If you're interested in seating only, the folks at Tele-charge offer Stubs, a 5-by-7 publication that provides seating charts for all Broadway theaters, Off-Broadway theaters. The cost is $9.95 (plus shipping and handling and applicable sales tax), but you need not order tickets to purchase it. Stubs is also available in most major bookstores. Tele-charge also offers free pamphlets with details on the shows they service.

Time Out New York is another super source, with an all-inclusive entertainment guide and I mean all theater, restaurants, cabaret, symphony you name it, it's in there (they are also on line at HYPERLINK http://citysearch-nyc.iconnet.net/timeoutny2/ http://citysearch-nyc.iconnet.net/timeoutny2/). The everintrepid New York magazine (located at HYPERLINK http://www.newyorkmag.com www.newyorkmag.com) also contains tons of information

Country Day feels tremor, Stevenson's ends hex, 7-1

BOYS SOCCER

Friday's outcome measured more than 5.2 on the Richters Scale, as Livonia Stevenson scored a 7-1 non-league boys soccer win at Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day.

Junior Tom Eller capped a big week by scoring three goals and adding two assists as the Spartans beat the Yellow Jackets for the first time in 10 years.

However, in one of the great ironies, the two perennial state powers had played to ties in nine straight seasons.

"At the beginning of the year we ask our guys to list some goals for themselves and this was one of the first goals mentioned," said first-year coach Lars Richters, whose team is 9-1 overall. "The guys feel pretty special because of the accomplishment. And because of the ties for so long, this is something they'll remember later on."

It was 0-0 after the first 10 minutes as goalkeeper Joe Suchara made a couple to key saves to keep Country Day (8-3-1 overall) off the board.

The Spartans then scored five consecutive goals for a 5-0 halftime lead.

Jeff Budd added two goals, while Sergio Mainella and Martin Kennedy contributed one apiece. Assists went to Mike White, Nick Ziobron, Tony Maldonado and Mike Thomas.

For the three-game week, Eller had eight goals and two assists.

· LUTHERAN WESTLAND 3, HAMTRAMCK 0: Lutheran High Westland exploded for three secondhalf goals Thursday to turn back the visiting Cosmos in a Metro Conference match.

Senior co-captain Ryan Ollinger, a midfielder, scored at 7:15 and 33 minutes of the second half. Freshman forward Justin Combs added a goal at 35 minutes from sophomore midfielder Brad Nollar. Goalkeeper Andy Gliesman made seven saves, including a key save late in the match, to earn the

Clarenceville's bid shattered, 35-6

What was supposed to be a battle for first-place in the Metro Conference Friday turned out to be an ambush.

Host Harper Woods showed ambitious Livonia Clarenceville why it's state-ranked in Class C with a 35-6 romp.

With the win the Pioneers improved to 4-0 overall and stayed atop the conference with a 3-0 mark. Clarenceville slipped to 3-1 overall and 2-1 in the games this season, Cooper has aver-Metro.

Harper Woods plays at Hamtramck next week and hosts Macomb Lutheran limited the Trojans to 224 yards of North the following week — the other two undefeated teams in the Metro.

The Trojans had to play in front of a packed Harper Woods crowd - on hand to watch the annual night game played under rented lights.

And the Pioneers continued to play well at home, where they have won 15 of their last 18 games.

PREP FOOTBALL

"This is an extremely good Harper Woods team and you can see why they are ranked so high," Clarenceville coach Chuck Donaldson said.

The Pioneers racked up 447 yards of total offense, led by senior Aaron Cooper. The explosive tailback gained 175 yards on 21 carries and scored on runs of 10, eight and 66 yards. In four aged 200 yards a game.

Cooper also led a tough defense that offense, intercepting two John Wallace

The Pioneers held senior Walter Ragland in check. Ragland gained 77 yards on 16 carries before leaving the game in the third quarter with leg

"I didn't think it would be this easy," admitted Harper Woods coach John Moher. "We were tremendously worried about Ragland, as well as Wallace, who has a cannon for an arm.

"It was a chess match in the first half and then we began to run the ball well and find some of their weak spots."

The Pioneers opened the scoring on the second play of the second quarter when Cooper broke several tackles on a 10-yard scoring jaunt.

Harper Woods then mounted an impressive 13-play, 89-yard drive capped by a 30-yard pass from Shaun Wise to Ryan Sullivan.

Clarenceville scored its only touchdown with eight seconds left before the half on a 15-yard pass from Wallace to sophomore Scott Wion. The same combination hooked up for a 45-yard completion earlier in the drive.

"We were worried about the momentum shifting so we talked about going back out there, scoring on the first drive and then stinging them on defense," Moher said.

Harper Woods, which had excellent field position the entire game, started the second half at midfield. Nine plays later, Cooper made it 20-6 with an 8yard run.

Ocelots fend off DuPage

COLLEGE SOCCER

BY C.J. RISAK SPORTS WRITER

Ninety minutes of regulation play couldn't decide it. Neither could 15 minutes of sudden-death overtime. It took five minutes of a second suddendeath OT before one defense would crack.

Unfortunately, it was Schoolcraft College's.

The Ocelots played visiting College of DuPage (outside Chicago) to a virtual standstill for the entire match — until that second OT. That's when David Wlodarczyk pounced on a loose ball in front of the SC net and struck a shot that got under a diving Eric O'Neil (from Livonia Stevenson), rolling into the left corner of the goal to give DuPage its 1-0 victory. The win left DuPage, the secondranked team in the NJCAA, undefeated at 8-0. SC slipped to 9-2.

"We had our chances, they had their chances," said Occlot coach Van Dimitriou. "I don't like to lose, but there was no disgrace in this. I thought the boys played well. I thought they handled themselves well."

SC did a lot of things right, including adjusting to a new lineup Dimitriou had put in for the first time. What the Ocelots could not do was put one in the net, although they had some good

But, then again, so did DuPage.

Both teams missed two open-net scoring opportunities in the first half. The Occlots had the upper hand early, but toward the end of the opening half DuPage was asserting itself. Indeed, in the final two minutes of the half, O'Neil had to first make a leaping save following a corner kick, then swallowed up an attempted crossing pass to an

The best of the chances in the second half belonged to DuPage, for the most part. SC did put the ball into the DuPage end of the field on several occasions, but the Ocelots' corner kicks and restarts were defended well. None of them produced a dangerous scoring

The heat and the intensity of the play gave the game a war-of-attrition appearance: Whichever side ran out of gas and snapped would lose.

In the first OT, it appeared that team would be DuPage. SC was on the attack throughout that 15-minute period. Wayne, Spartans earn division wins Terry Turner passed for two touchdowns and Cameron Mingo scored a pair of touchdowns Friday to lead Wayne Memorial to a 32-6 Mega-Red Division football victory Friday over visiting Southgate.

The Zebras, who have won two straight after losing at Dearborn Fordson, are 3-1 overall and 2-1 in the Red.

Wayne scored twice in the second quarter to lead 14-0 at halftime after Turner passed 14 yards to Willie Perryman and Mingo ran 3 yards for a TD. Perryman also kicked both extra points.

In the third quarter, Turner connected with Jamaul Simmons for a 48-yard touchdown pass. The Zebras added two scores in the fourth quarter on short runs by Mingo (5 yards) and Brandon Crawford (8 yards), Turner was 3-of-8 passing for 82 yards, and he rushed four times for 36 yards. Kwame Hampton carried two times for 49 yards, and Mingo had 23 yards on six attempts.

The Zebras had 228 rushing yards and 310 in total offense.

Southgate quarterback Gene Szweda completed 10 of 21 passes for 95 yards, but the Titans (0-4, 0-3) had a minus-29 yards on the ground.

Hampton also had two interceptions; Turner and Chris Williams had one each.

*STEVENSON 42, NORTH FARMINGTON 22: The tipoff to what kind of game it was going to be Friday night came when the Chargers and Raiders started things off with back-to-back kickoff returns for touchdowns.

Stevenson won with a total of 359 yards and 35 unanswered points to erase an early 14-7 deficit. The Spartans had 11 first downs to the Raiders'

The win improves Stevenson to 2-2 overall, 1-1 in the WLAA heading into Friday's major test at Westland John Glenn.

North, which had 241 total yards, including 176 through the air, fell to 1-3 overall, 0-2 in the WLAA. Mike McClain returned the opening kickoff 85 yards and the first of Dan West's six extra points made the score 7-0 for Stevenson. Before the Spartans' crowd could return to their seats, North's

North finished the scoring in the last two minutes of the fourth quarter as Penta completed a 73-yard pass to Lafer and threw a two-point conversion pass to Tim Puir.

Penta completed 12 of 19 passes for 176 yards but the Raiders were limited to 65 yards rushing in 23 attempts.

Junior running back Waleed Haddad led Stevenson with 67 yards rushing in seven attempts. Jason Allen added 55 yards in 12 carries and Sorge 43 yards in seven carries. VanBelle completed five of seven passes for 117

*It was a shaky start with the kickoff returns and the big pass but the kids kind of picked up the tempo," Gabel said. "Our defense wasn't really very good but the offense executed better than the week before. Hopefully we can put it all together soon."

•HARRISON 41, FRANKLIN 6: Farmington Hills Harrison turned up for its showdown this Saturday with Walled Lake Western by crunching its fourth straight victim of the 1998 football season.

The Hawks racked up 384 yards in total offense, passing.

but allowed their first touchdown of the season Friday in a 41-6 victory at Livonia Franklin.

Harrison improved to 4-0 overall and 2-0 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. Franklin is winless in four starts. The Hawks scored three times in the opening quarter - Dave Pesci on a 3-yard scoring pass to Blake Boesky; Pesci again on a 36-yard TD pass to Mike Hoad; and Kevin Woods on a 50-yard run. Joe Ghannam converted all three extra points.

Pesci toss his third TD pass of the night in the second quarter, a 29-yard pass to Ricky Bryant. Pecsi was seven of 14 for 155 yards, while Franklin QB Joe Rugglero hit 14 of 36 passes for 107 yards. Bryant then returned the second-half kickoff 87 vards for a score and Matt Reed capped the Harrison scoring with a 42-yard run in the third quarter. Reed led all rushers with 127 yards in eight carries, while Woods addd 59 on seven attempts. "I was impressed with Harrison's execution and aggressiveness," Franklin coach Rick Lee said. We moved the chains some tonight (13 first downs). It was our best effort of the year." Franklin's Jeff Job, who rushed for 95 yards in 17 carries, scored the first points of the season against Harrison with a 6-yard TD run in the final ouarter. There was only one turnover on the game when

Franklin's Vic Matta recovered a Harrison fumble. •NORTHVILLE 21, CHURCHILL 0: The host Mustangs did all the scoring in the first half Friday and evened their record at 2.2.

Dan Scappaticci had a 6-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, and Ben Keetle caught touchdown passes covering 11 and 37 yards from Rob Reel in the second quarter. Dan Rohrhoff kicked both extra

Both teams are 1-1 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

In the second quarter, Livonia Churchill (1-3) was stopped inside the Northville 15-yard line on fourth down and less than a yard.

The Chargers had 51 yards rushing and 64 passing. Ryan Cousino ran seven times for 32 yards; John Bennett completed five of 24 passes, and Ryan Kearney caught three passes for 41 yards.

Brandon Garlacz led the Churchill defense with Scappaticci rushed 27 times for 85 yards, and Churchill pulls off surprise vs. North

Churchill popped North Farmington, 39-28, Thursday night to square both schools' Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball record at 1-1.

The Chargers used an 11-5 second quarter to take a 17-10 halftime lead and a 14-9 fourth quarter to send the visitors home with

"We played a real good defensive game," coach Dave Balog of Churchill said. "All our kids went in and played well.

"Our kids were patient on their shots."

Churchill sank all but one of its seven fourth-quarter to ice the game, with junior guard Karen Kramer going 4-for-4 near the end of the contest.

Guard Kersten Conklin led all scorers with 14 points. Lauren Ruprecht scored nine and had nine rebounds. Stacey Supanich contributed eight points for Churchill (5-2).

Katie Vihtelic scored 13 points to lead North Farmington (3-4) and sophomore Samantha McComb scored 12. Vihtelic. McComb and Brittany Vihtelic each had eight rebounds.

 McComb bombed in three triples and Katie Gaffey chipped in with 11 rebounds.

"They outplayed us," said Raiders' coach Linda Perkins, whose team was fresh off a victory over Plymouth Canton.. "We weren't executing, weren't getting the job done."

North Farmington missed 7-of-10 free back host Livonia Ladywood (3-5, 0-2) in a Catholic League Central Division encounter.

The Blazers went cold in the second half, hitting only 18 percent of their field goal attempts.

"We had good looks at the basket and we missed some layups," Ladywood coach Andrea Gorski said,"

Tiffany Simon scored 11 of her team high 15 point in the second half for the victorious Spartans. Amber Tyler and DeShawne Hoskins chipped in with 12 and

Erin Hayden led Ladywood with a game-high 17 points, 13 coming in the opening half. She hit three triples, but was limited to four free throws over the final 16 minutes. Michelle Harakas added eight points and seven rebounds

• CANTON 47, JOHN GLENN 32: The Canton program is where Joel Lloyd wants John Glenn to be in the near future. It's getting there.

The Rockets (4-4, 1-2) hung with the Chiefs for a half Thursday before succumbing to Canton's experience and firepower. Last season Canton easily handled John Glenn.

"I thought we played an extremely good defensive first half," Lloyd said. "In the third quarter, well, Canton is just extremely discplined on offense. They just worked the ball on us.

Canton (5-3, 1-1) got off to a 10-6 lead but John Glenn played the Chiefs to a 10-10 second quarter and trailed, 20-16, at intermission. Canton came out with a 13-5 third quarter to put some distance between itself and John Glenn Freshman guard Stephanie Crews led all scorers with 13 points for John Glenn and her junior sister Samantha had nine. Sophomore forward Anne Morrell scored 12 points for Canton with senior Janell Tweitmeyer also netting •BELLEVILLE 45, WAYNE 29: Foul trouble and foul shots killed the Zebras' chances. Tanya Crawford had a big game for Wayne Memorial with 17 points, 18 rebounds and five blocked shots but she missed 10 free throws.

Wayne, shooting less than 40 percent from the line all season, only made 6-of-25 foul shots Thursday and missed 14 out of 16 in the second half, Ryann Kilgore and Robyn Golden paced the Tigers with 12 points apiece. Belleville is now 7-0 overall and 2-0 In the Michigan Mega Conference Red Division. Wayne dropped to 2-5 overall and 1-1 in the Mega •SALEM 71, FRANKLIN 15: The visiting Rocks were not very kind to the host Patriots.

Plymouth Salem roared out to an 18-5 lead and shut Livonia Franklin out in the third quarter Thursday while scoring 16 points.

The game went into running time (limited clock stoppages) at 5 1/2 minutes of the third period. Center Christine Phillips and junior guard Tiffany Grubaugh led Salem (6-0, 2-0) with 18 points aplece. Freshman Kelly Jaskot scored 10, Dawn Allen eight and Jenna Van Wagoner seven.

Tera Morrill paced Franklin (1-4, 0-2) with seven •LUTHERAN WESTLAND 36, LUTH. NORTHWEST 34; A game that could have gone either way swung to Lutheran High Westland.

The Warriors led by nine in the third quarter but trailed by three, 32-29, with 1:32 to play. However Lutheran Westland put in seven unanswered points to win its fourth Metro Conference game without a loss. Anna Schwecke scored seven points and had 10 rebounds for Lutheran Westland (5-2), Krissy Rose, Bekah Hoffmeier and Chris Hilden six each Thursday

Megan Mahler, a junior guard, scored 14 to lead host Lutheran Northwest (2-5, 1-4).

Melissa Van Gorden, another junior guard, had 12. Lutheran Westland won despite making just half its 14 free throws. Lutheran Northwest made 13-of-18. CLARENCEVILLE WINS BY FORFEIT: Livoina Clarenceville (1-3) finally got its first victory of the season — and the Trojans did it without scoring a point. Ecorse failed to show Thursday night and Livonia Clarenceville coach Jamie Clark got her first win.

Harrison girls suffocate Spartans, 51-27

To date, the foundation and its co-operators have spent millions of dollars and volunteered thousands of hours of time to restore and improve habitat.

Many of the projects have taken place right here in southeastern Michigan.

Some of the local projects the MWHF has contributed to include the bottom draw on Paint Creek at Lake Orion; the Backyard Wildlife Demonstration Area at the Detroit Zoo: restoration of the Drayton Plains fish rearing ponds; fish habitat improvements on the Rouge River in Southfield;

Boat Show reminder.

If you've contemplated purchasing a boat in recent months make a point to stop by Boat Show USA, which runs through today at Metro Beach Metropark in Mount Clemens.

This huge show features over 1,000 boats ranging in size from rowboats and inflatables to 70-foot yachts and sailboats. Some of the bigger boats are docked right in the water on Lake St. Clair.

Along with the large variety of boats the show also features 150 exhibitors with displays of sails, rigging, electronics, boating clothing, marine insurance,

And it's all at one location so you don't have to drive all over the countryside to compare prices and amenities. The show runs noon-8 p.m. with admission $7 for adults and $1 for children (12 and under).

Metro Beach is located on Lake St. Clair at the end of Metropolitan Parkway (16 Mile Road).

Monarch butterfly count down in Michigan

Last year my kids and I had a great time near Oscoda tagging monarch butterflies in late August. We traveled north again this year in hopes of again tagging several. No such luck. In fact, before we traveled north I was not encouraged. All summer long I had not seen one monarch butterfly. On the butterfly count held

July in Farmington Hills, we did not see a monarch. Several people on the count had not seen any or just one or two up to that Why is it that some years

there are good numbers of Monarch butterflie by mid-July have moved up into the northeastern states after successive generations progressed north from the mountains of Mexico. Near the end of August those category.

adults emerging will travel back to the mountains of Mexico. Some of those individuals will move through Michigan on their way south. These are the individuals I was hoping to tag as part of a monarch butterfly research program sponsored through the University of Kansas.

It will be interesting to see if other monarch taggers had difficulty finding monarch this year,

I learned that the low numbers in southeastern Michigan are not due to the earlier forest fires in the mountain of Mexico. Those fires started after the monarchs left their wintering sites and were on their way north.

Fortunately the fires did not affect the trees in the forest where they congregate by the millions. The fires stopped short of the wintering site, but the adjacent forest that burned may buffer the wintering site from cold temperatures. Only time will tell if there was an impact. After our attempts at tagging in Oscoda, we tried along the Lake Erie coast near Lake Erie Metropark. We caught a couple monarchs, but even the naturalists at the nature center said they had not with last year. I would be interested to know if you have seen monarchs this summer?

seen many this year compared

Please remember that monarch and viceroy butterflies look very similar.

Monarchs are bigger than viceroys, flap slower and do not have a black line on the hind wing that parallels the rear edge of the hind wing.

This was a good year for viceroys according to the butterfly count.

High School circuit provides competition

Oh, for those good old days of high school competition.

Whether it was football, swimming or track, itwas a thrill and an honor to earn a letter for high school athletics. And now it appears that the sport of bowling is well on its way to becoming an organized varsity sport in some state high schools. Some schools have had a certain amount of organized bowling going on, but now there is a wellcoordinated program being put into place. Many bowling conferences have been formed throughout the state, and the wheels have been set in motion. The 1998-99 schedule looks like this:

■ Oct. 31-Nov. 1: Bowlathon fund-raisers for high school teams. Nov. 1-21: Tryouts.

■ Dec. 7: Starting week of competition. ■ Dec. 21-28: Christmas holiday

Feb. 22: Last week of competi-

vacation.

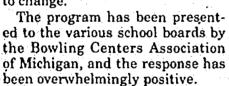

March 6: District playoffs. ■ March 13: Regional playoffs:

■ March 27: State finals. Note: Due to first-year adjust-

How does high school bowling benefit students? They are given the choice of a non-contact sport that does not require great physical prowess. Handicapped students can also be accommodated.

Many of the high school students attracted to the program would not otherwise benefit from the positive experiences of high school sports competition.

It is an opportunity for more youth to experience team and individual competition.

Local ladies take stage

The Ladies Pro Bowlers are on their fall tour, with the local contingent of Aleta Sill, Marianne DiRupo, Cheryl Daniels and Lisa Bishop. If you can stay up late, you can catch these taped events on ESPN cable TV. This week's event at Lancaster, Ohio, aired Sept. 25. The fourth round of qualifying at this time shows Sill holding onto fourth place in her drive to hit the million-dollar mark in total winnings this year. DiRupo took home the first-place trophy a week ago.
