

Fire erupts

Fire raged early this morning at Woodcrest Villa Apartments on Wayne Road between Joy and Warren, destroying or damaging a dozen units.

There were no reports of serious injuries.

Fire officials weren't available for comment this morning, but Westland police indicated that a burning candle may have started the blaze.

The fire raged into the morning after it was reported at 11:50 p.m. Wednesday inside a second-story apartment.

A 48-year-old tenant of the apartment had been visiting a downstairs neighbor when the fire erupted, and she became "hysterical" after learning that her residence was ablaze, a police report indicated.

Officers saw "a large quantity of smoke" coming from the upper-floor apartments when they arrived on the scene, and the tenant initially feared that her sister might be in the apartment, a police report said.

The tenant told police that she had been burning several candles before the fire started, but she said she thought she had put them out before she visited her neighbor.

No other details were available this morning.

Prosecutor finds no wrongdoing

No Open Meetings Act violation was committed by a Westland City Council foursome, the county prosecutor's office said.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's Office has cleared four Westland City Council members of accusations they violated the state Open Meetings Act in the firing of Clerk Patricia Gibbons.

"I'm glad the truth has finally come out," said Councilwoman Sharon Scott, targeted for recall for her role in ousting 52-year-old Gibbons.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Frank Bernacki issued his two-page opinion Monday, saying his office "will not be taking any action" against Scott and colleagues Charles "Trav" Griffin, David Cox and David James.

In a separate opinion, Westland City Attorney Angelo Plakas ruled Tuesday that Griffin didn't abuse his authority as council president or break any laws when he went to Gibbons' office on Jan. 14, took her keys and placed her on paid leave until she was officially out-

Mayor recall target?

Mayor Robert Thomas, under fire for the way he handled scandals involving two of his city department heads, will be targeted for recall, a Westland woman said Monday.

Thomas, in his 11th year as mayor, will be named in proposed recall language that mayoral critic Brenda Gracin had said would be filed Friday with the Wayne County Elections Commission.

Battle plans had changed Wednesday, though, and Gracin said recall organizers would try to oust four Westland City Council members before targeting the mayor.

She announced the latest tactic after learning that Thomas, if recalled first, would be replaced as mayor by council President Charles "Trav" Griffin — a

Wayne Memorial band needs your help

Band uniforms at Wayne Memorial High School have seen better days, and band supporters aim to replace them with something new and improved.

The band has about 80 members, 65 of whom play instruments, the rest in the flag corps, said Lorne "Skip" Monit, Wayne-Westland school board treasurer. He's co-chair of the uniform committee with Dave Congdon, Band Boosters president.

"Our uniforms just looked so aged," Monit said. "In judges' and students' minds during competition, the Zebra band didn't look its best."

Late last fall, organizers decided to do something. Three companies are providing mockups of uniforms, and committee members want something of good quality that will last.

"We feel a real responsibility, almost a legacy," Monit said. "We want to do it right." They're looking to purchase 150 uniforms designed to last a good 20 years.

Current uniforms have had problems with seats giving way and seams ripping. "My understanding is we bought them used," he said of the old uniforms, which are approximately 15 years old.

Contributions may be sent to Uniform Fund, 4267 Eastlawn, Wayne MI 48184. Checks should be made payable to W.M.H.S.I.M.D., and receipts will be provided for tax purposes.

Additional information is available from Andrew Wendt, band director, at (734) 595-2272, (734) 728-5908 or (734) 728-6737.

Band Boosters, interested parents, students and Wendt started meeting before Christmas to discuss design and fund-raising. The first deposit will be needed this month to guarantee uniforms for the fall marching season, Monit said.

The white overlay will have navy trim and WM on the back. The pants and top will be navy. They're uniforms the entire music department can use, Monit said. The uniforms will be stored on rolling racks and carefully cared for so they last a long

For years, it's been their time to make doughnuts

BY DARRELL CLEM

After selling doughnuts for 27 years, Dolores Micallef still can't pick her favorite flavor. "The problem is, I love them all. They're like my children," Micallef, 65, said, smiling.

Her 71-year-old husband, John, seemed more decisive. "I like the chocolate honey dip," he said.

Then he waffled. "I like the French cruller, too."

The Micallefs will just have to leave such mouth-watering decisions to customers at their Dunkin' Donuts franchise on the southwest corner of Ford and Wildwood roads in Westland.

The Micallefs, who have one of the two longest-running Dunkin' Donuts franchises in Michigan, will help the national chain celebrate its 50th anniversary today by letting customers vote in National Donut Election Day.

A dozen doughnuts — now $4.39 — sold for 99 cents when the Micallefs started their franchise in 1973.

It was the same year seven Watergate defendants faced guilty pleas or convictions. "The Sting" won the Best Picture Oscar; North Vietnam released hundreds of U.S. prisoners and the last U.S. troops pulled out; Stevie Wonder captured the Best Album Grammy for "Innervisions."

Even then, auto salesman Ken Compton visited the Micallefs when he took coffee breaks from Red Holman, a dealership just west on Ford Road.

"They're the best," Compton said of the couple.

John Micallef said Red Holman employees "buy enough coffee to fill a lake."

The Micallefs, residents of Plymouth, rolled their eyes and sighed when asked how many doughnuts they've sold in 27 years.

"I'd say over 5 million," John Micallef said.

In all, the Micallefs sell some 75 different food products, alone. Their menu has evolved to include "munchkins," muffins, bagels, croissants, breakfast sandwiches, flavored coffees like French vanilla and black raspberry, and specialty drinks like Dunkacino — the Dunkin' Donuts version of cappuccino.

The Micallefs also have added frozen drinks — strawberry, orange mango and chocolate "coolattas."

Their best-selling items include glazed, glazed and more glazed doughnuts — whether they're chocolate, honey-dipped or just the old-fashioned kind, John Micallef said.

"Anything that has chocolate is very popular," Dolores Micallef said.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., John Micallef was raised in Malta and France and learned to speak four languages before he came to Michigan.

Irish roots go deep for them

BY DIANE GALE ANDREASSI
SPECIAL WRITER

Norah Fix will tell you that it's the luck of the Irish that the road has risen to meet her and the wind has been at her back.

"We were strong not only in culture, but also our religion," she said. "We were Irish Catholic and you were supposed to behave yourself. It was like you were expected to be better than anyone else."

She refers to herself as "100 percent Irish" in a time that "it's rare to be 100 percent of anything anymore."

Her mother, Margaret Farrell, was born in Detroit and her father was born in Boston, while his parents were visiting the United States. When "wee" John Joseph O'Callaghan was about 2, his family returned to Cork, Ireland, but he kept his American citizenship.

About 18 years later he returned to the United States, married, raised his seven children and operated his own electrical contracting business, O'Callaghan Electric. He also served as fire chief when Garden City had a volunteer department.

"He always had shamrocks on his cards," Fix said. "He never drank and never smoked. He took the pledge in Ireland and now they're pushing that more and more."

Ready to celebrate

Today, at 92, O'Callaghan is a resident at Westland Convalescent Center, but his age won't keep him quiet during the biggest day of the year on any Irishman's calendar. His daughter has the day planned.

She'll begin with Mass at Holy Trinity Church in Detroit.

"We'll take my dad to the pubs, even though he doesn't drink," she said. "He likes to listen to the Irish music. We have people who love to go with us. There's a crowded place and no fights, but everyone is so happy."

Her life has been saturated in the Irish culture. Growing up in Garden City, Fix took Irish dancing lessons from a teacher and learned Gaelic, the Irish language, from her mother.

"I can still remember the dancing," she said. "And, I used to know my prayers in Gaelic."

Fix and her siblings would watch as their father played Irish football, or soccer, and practiced hurling, another traditional Irish sport.

"One of the biggest things we have to thank our parents for is that they loved each other," she said. "When you learn that as children it carries over to adult life."

There was a love for their mother country and for this country. They were tickled to come to America.

A family reunion is planned in Garden City during July when the patriarch will see many of his 25 grandchildren and 40 great-grandchildren.

Family ties: John Joseph O'Callaghan will celebrate St. Patrick's Day with pride this March 17, as will daughter Norah Fix. He is a resident of Westland Convalescent Center.

Continues a tradition

Today, Fix continues to make the traditional Irish soda bread and is a member of the Ladies Ancient Order of Hibernians in the Rose Kennedy division of Detroit. The legacy lives on with the next generation. Her daughter, Patti, took Irish dancing lessons and her red-headed son, Timothy, works at the Tommy O'Halloran's Tipperary Pub in Detroit.

She's quick to note that the "g" in O'Callaghan is silent, "but we aren't."

She explained that while she never kissed the Blarney Stone, she did inherit a gift for talking. So, landing a job as patient representative at Garden City Hospital couldn't have been more fitting.

Even though her husband,

Greg, was of French and German descent, she said, he loved St. Patrick's Day. They named their children all Irish names - Michael, Patti and Timothy. The last one, however, Greg insisted have a German name, Kurt. Norah laughed as she explained that Kurt looks the most Irish.

"Ireland is known for being the land of saints and scholars and there should be less emphasis on the drinking," she said. "If we (members of the Hibernians) see an offensive greeting card, like putting the Irish down, we'll write that card company."

"Anyone who has a heritage should be proud of it and celebrate it."

And so as the Irish proverb says, "May the road continue to rise to meet you and the wind be always at your back."

Business fights library vandals

When someone had slashed furniture in the Faust Reading Room of the Westland library last summer, the owner of Mobile Custom Trim Shop in Garden City came forward and offered his help.

The owner said he loves the library and doesn't like to think of someone committing such vandalism. In February, with the replacement upholstery obtained, Mobile Custom Trim Shop picked up the damaged pieces of furniture, replaced the portions that had been slashed and delivered furniture back to the library.

"We're very lucky to have had a business owner donate his time so generously," said Sandra Wilson, library director. The library paid for the fabric and the business donated time and labor, saving the library more than $1,600.

As a result of the repeated vandalism, the City of Westland Tax Increment Finance Authority approved funds for the installation of security cameras in the library. Installation will be done soon.

Mobile Custom Trim Shop specializes in custom upholstery for autos and furniture. It is located at Ford and Merriman in Garden City.

Donations a boon

The Westland library received many donations in 1999.

"Libraries are always faced with funding challenges," said Sandra Wilson, library director. "We are grateful to those individuals and organizations who have supported the library through their generous donations."

These include: Justine Barns, $2,600; Allan Leonard, $1,500; Michigan Humanities Council, two grants for $250 each; Scott Barns, $500; and David and Nancy Taylor, $100.

"These monetary donations are used for the purchase of collection materials for circulation," said Wilson. "This helps us to expand our collection and provide a wide diversity in materials."

In addition to financial contributions, the library has also received numerous in-kind gifts: Toarmina's Pizza, pizza for Summer Reading Program; Friends of the Westland Library, three bicycles and helmets for Summer Reading Program; portable stereo system for program; plants for Children's Garden; program sponsorships: Waldenbooks, book assortment; Franklin, Churchill and Lutheran Westland high schools, yearbooks; Amy O'Beirne, children's puppets; Lingfang Zeng, magazine subscription; Detroit Institute of Arts Research Library, art books.

Pooch, taken for a ride, gets back home

A dognapping had a happy ending this week when dog and owner were reunited.

On Monday afternoon, a Highland man reported his 1995 Dodge Ram stolen from the Ram's Horn on Middlebelt in Westland. He told Westland police his green truck with various tools inside had been stolen - as had the dog, a German shorthair.

The keys had been left in the ignition and the dog inside with the windows down, he told police.

Livonia police found the truck, dog and tools in that city Monday afternoon. The vehicle wasn't damaged.

scenario recall supporters want to avoid.

Gracia's threat to recall Thomas came Monday during a fiery Westland City Council meeting that was adjourned abruptly after residents engaged in shouting matches that elected officials couldn't quash.

More than 100 people jammed a second-story meeting room, and scores more crowded a hallway, a stairway and a first-floor area where they listened to the heated session on speakers.

Thomas and his administration came under fire amid accusations he failed to take appropriate disciplinary actions against two department heads:

- Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, senior citizen resources director, who is on an unpaid, two-week suspension after she and two of her employees were caught gambling during work hours at a Detroit casino. They drove a city van.
- Keith Madden, personnel director, who is recovering from a heart attack after he confessed to using a Westland woman's name and sending out an e-mail trying to thwart a Feb. 23 protest outside City Hall. He hasn't been disciplined at all.

'Cannot control'

"The mayor cannot control his own appointees," resident Arthur Donohue said Monday, adding that he hasn't seen such dishonesty "since the Nixon White House."

Facing a threatened recall, Thomas is placed in company with Griffin and council members David Cox, David James and Sharon Scott - whom angry citizens want to force from office amid allegations they unfairly fired Clerk Patricia Gibbons in January.

"I don't know how I feel about it at this point," Thomas said Tuesday of the recall threat. "I've always trusted the voters in our town to make the right decisions ... I obviously hope that people wouldn't sign on to the recall and wouldn't vote to recall me. I don't think it's warranted."

Thomas defended his discipline against Kozorosky-Wiacek, saying the "public humiliation and embarrassment" she suffered was "worse punishment than the time off." She is losing $2,754 in pay.

Thomas has said he will fire the senior director if she is again caught gambling during work hours.

Thomas said his decision not to reprimand Madden "was a tough one."

"I had no idea what he was doing," Thomas said of Madden's actions. "It was dumb, and it was stupid, and I don't condone it ... But, I don't think it warrants me giving him time off at this time."

Thomas said he still could change his mind.

"I certainly have asked him to never do anything like that again," he said.

The latest scandals have fueled mixed emotions among residents, with some voicing support for Kozorosky-Wiacek and Madden and others demanding their dismissal.

Addressing city leaders Monday, resident Ann Ahoe questioned which director will next fall victim to scandal.

"At the time, Mr. Mayor, we are heading downhill faster than a snowball in hell," she said.

Resident Ann Pape called for a code of ethics for directors, whom she said should be held to high standards of behavior.

Receiving end

Resident Georgia Becker said she received one of Madden's misleading e-mails. "If I wanted him to have my e-mail address, I'd have given it to him."

Recall supporter Christine Millisor said the mayor's refusal to reprimand Madden "shows me that Mayor Thomas approves of deceit."

Senior Cecilia Elbanowski said she has known Kozorosky-Wiacek for 17 years, "and I know she would never intentionally hurt the city."

But former senior Friendship Center employee Sue Bailey called the director's actions "a despicable abuse of power and taxpayer money." Bailey also said gambling outings are nothing new for Kozorosky-Wiacek.

"Her actions have virtually taken money out of the pockets of each and every taxpayer and citizen of the city of Westland," Bailey said.

Steve Skowronski, who teaches a senior citizen computer class, labeled Kozorosky-Wiacek "the best thing that ever happened to the Friendship Center."

Charlene Oliver accused the senior director of "time-card forgery and manipulation" and said, "We the citizens of this community should demand her firing."

Resident Judith Marentette blasted Thomas for the turmoil in his administration.

"You weren't doing your job because the buck stopped with you," she said.

Resident Chuck Papineau said Kozorosky-Wiacek won't be fired because she helps deliver the senior citizen vote to Thomas and his political allies.

"She's the best absentee (ballot) facilitator that you've got," Papineau said.

Liability issues

Resident Cheryl Graunstadt said the city could have faced a lawsuit if the van driven to the casino had been in an accident.

Graunstadt chided Kozorosky-Wiacek for "a pattern of abuse" and Madden for "poor judgment and extremely unethical behavior."

Fire Chief Mark Neal, who has been vocal in an anti-recall effort, turned toward audience members Monday after they heckled him and said, "What a wild bunch of animals."

Some residents called it unfair that Kozorosky-Wiacek and Madden received leniency while Gibbons was ousted as clerk for reasons such as grammatical errors in letters.

Thomas said the council handled the Gibbons issue while he dealt with directors as he saw fit.

Councilman Richard LeBlanc said Tuesday he won't support a recall against the mayor and four council members. He said voters should register their anger during city elections in 2001.

Even so, he said he won't try to pressure citizens to halt their efforts because they have a right to try to recall their elected leaders.

ed four days later.

"I have said from the onset of this situation that the facts would vindicate me, and they have done so," Griffin said.

Bernacki issued his opinion after watching two videotapes of council meetings and reviewing documents supplied by council members Glenn Anderson and Richard LeBlanc, who filed a formal complaint against their four colleagues.

"It is the opinion of this office that no violation of the Michigan Open Meetings Act has occurred in relation to the appointment of the clerk for the city of Westland," Bernacki wrote.

No evidence

"No evidence has been set forth where or when any alleged (secret) meeting took place at which a quorum of city council was present and decided to vote against the appointment of Ms. Gibbons," Bernacki found.

Bernacki said it appears that all seven council members had decided how they would vote on Gibbons' reappointment prior to the Jan. 18 meeting. Anderson, LeBlanc and Cicirelli supported Gibbons.

Moreover, Bernacki found that even if one of the four accused had polled others prior to the session, such "informal canvassing" wouldn't amount to an Open Meetings Act violation. He ruled that "allegations, assumptions and conjecture" about their actions "are insufficient" to warrant prosecution.

"I said all along that no (illegal) meeting ever took place," Griffin said.

Recall organizers who refuse to believe that the council four acted appropriately have vowed to continue their efforts. Griffin said that "this city doesn't deserve to be destroyed in this manner by people who are absolute zealots about destruction."

Anderson and LeBlanc said many citizens still believe that inappropriate actions occurred by the council four.

"I believe it was our duty as elected officials and on behalf of all residents to question whether (the law) had been violated ...," LeBlanc said.

LeBlanc also said Bernacki's opinion that canvassing of votes is appropriate points to "a major and fundamental flaw with the Open Meetings Act."

Political motivation?

Scott charged that accusations against her were politically motivated "to ruin my reputation and set me up for a recall" as she considers a bid for the 18th District state House seat. She and Anderson are potential candidates.

"I would like to see an end to all the politically motivated bickering and behind-the-scenes plotting," she said. "I would like to see our council work together for a better future for our city. Our citizens deserve that."

Cox said he was "obviously very pleased" by the prosecutor's decision.

"I am also heartened that the office of the prosecutor would not allow itself to be used as a political tool and was therefore compelled to add that the allegation itself was based solely upon assumptions and conjecture, in other words, politics," he said in a prepared statement.

"The decisions by my colleagues Mr. Anderson and Mr. LeBlanc to make these allegations without even doing me the courtesy of talking with me saddens me deeply," Cox said. "My family and I are owed a sincere and complete apology by both accusers as well as a return of the resources it took to defend this shameful and groundless assault on my character."

Anderson maintained that "it is clear what took place" and added later, "I will continue to do what I feel is right for this city, including challenging those who run roughshod over our citizens and employees, and I will not allow political attacks by Mr. Cox to deter me from doing so. Everyone should remember that these four members of the council put themselves in this predicament, and trying to blame others for the fallout won't work because the citizens of this community know what happened."

James said he expected to be exonerated, but he added that allegations against him have hurt him personally and professionally as a builder. He said he is considering a civil lawsuit against LeBlanc and Anderson for what he said "is almost malicious prosecution."

City attorney

Plakas, meanwhile, ruled that Griffin's actions in placing Gibbons on leave didn't violate any laws, the city charter or council policies.

Cicirelli, who asked Plakas for the opinion, said, "I'm very disappointed with it, and I strongly disagree with it."

Plakas compared Griffin's decision to place Gibbons on leave to the city's longtime practice of giving council presidents the authority to "unilaterally set the actual salary of the city clerk" within a certain pay range.

"That is not factually accurate," Cicirelli, former president, said. She said council members discussed clerk salaries during her tenure. "I did not act unilaterally."

Plakas wrote: "The city council has repeatedly and consistently interpreted the city charter as authorizing the council president to exercise the discretion and authority to oversee activities of the city clerk."

Plakas did suggest, however, that Griffin should have informed all council members of his actions. Anderson, LeBlanc and Cicirelli said Griffin never told them of his plans.

In a two-page statement, Griffin said, "If a council president can authorize a raise for the clerk without a resolution of city council, the president should be able to place her on a paid leave for four days."

Griffin said he placed Gibbons on leave because he wanted to spare her the public embarrassment of not being reappointed during the Jan. 18 meeting.

Griffin, a Michigan Education Association retiree, said, "I spent my professional career as a union representative and union contract negotiator. For anyone to even imply that I would not be sensitive to the ramifications of a situation like this is incredible to me. My effort was to protect this employee. That was my sole motivation in the actions I took."

Griffin said he suspected Gibbons wouldn't have the votes she needed for reappointment after reading a summary of seven evaluations by council members.

"I wasn't going to have this 23-year employee of the city sit at the meeting and be humiliated and embarrassed if she was not confirmed - that would have been totally unprofessional," Griffin said.

Gibbons has said the way she was treated made her feel like "a criminal."

Griffin accused "political activists" of fueling a storm of public protest over Gibbons' dismissal because they were unhappy with the 1999 council election, won by Griffin, Cox, James and Anderson.

"I've been in public service for more than 30 years, and I've seen a great many political shenanigans," he said, "but to embarrass a city employee and use her this way is truly despicable. These people have no regard for the reputation of our city or any respect for the employees we have here, let alone the voters."

Cicirelli, meanwhile, said it's possible a second opinion should be sought in the wake of Plakas' ruling.

"I think the possibility is there that somebody would ask for an independent opinion from someone removed from the city," she said.

where he met his wife and started their Dunkin' Donuts franchise.

"I didn't think I'd be in it this long, but I thought I'd last a good 15 years," he said.

Their 32-year-old son, David, has been baking for the Micallefs for 17 years. He's also the assistant manager and may one day continue the business on his own.

Their other child, daughter Renee, "is a Sony executive on the road," John Micallef said.

The Micallefs still work as many as 60 hours a week - sometimes even more if other employees have emergencies and need time off.

Employee Lily Hudson, 39, started working for the couple as a teenager. She then married, had children and moved away to Alaska before returning to Michigan - and to her old job.

"I'm here forever," Hudson, a 12-year employee, said Monday. "She's like part of the family," Dolores Micallef said.

The Micallefs have gained national recognition for their tenure in the doughnut business. Only one other Michigan franchise owner was honored when the couple recently went to the Boston, Mass., area to receive an award for owning a Dunkin' Donuts franchise for 25 years or longer.

The Micallefs do a little more traveling than they did when they started their franchise, visiting places like Australia. But they have no plans to leave the doughnut business.

"We love it," Dolores Micallef said.

To celebrate Dunkin' Donuts' 50th year, customers can buy one doughnut for 5 cents on Mondays during March. Today at noon, the Micallefs also were planning to join a national celebration allowing customers to vote for their favorite doughnut. Some lucky U.S. resident will win $50,000 and free doughnuts for life. The fun is to include free samples of food, coloring sheets for children and costumed characters from John Glenn High School's drama club.

New seat belt law's tougher

Click it or ticket. Michigan's new seat belt law making not wearing a seat belt a primary offense goes into effect tomorrow.

Previously, police could only issue seat belt citations if the driver had been stopped for another infraction. Tickets for not wearing a seat belt carry a $50 fine.

The law also allows officers to stop vehicles if children aren't properly restrained. The current state law requires that all children under 4 ride in car seats and kids 4-15 wear seat belts no matter where they ride in the car.

Furthermore, it is the purpose of this article to comply with the City's responsibility to effectively eliminate all illicit discharges, including the elimination of all on-site sewage disposal systems, as described in National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System General Permit No. M1G610000 and mandated by Certificate of Coverage No. M1G610001, and to effect compliance with the provisions of the Public Health Code, Public Act No. 368 of 1978, as amended, being Sections 333.1101 et seq. of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

(b) The objectives of this article are:

- To protect the environment, protect and enhance the quality of the City's, County's and State's surface and ground water resources, and to avert adverse impact upon the public health, safety and welfare by abating sources of water contamination.
- To safeguard the City's, County's and State's water resources against pollution or contamination, to prevent damage to property and injury to plant and animal life, and to preserve the public's enjoyment of the City's recreational facilities.
- To eliminate non-point source pollution through the elimination of on-site sewage disposal systems which are traditional contributors to both point and non-point source pollution.
- To minimize the water quality problems that originate from failed on-site sewage disposal systems, and to reduce the premature failure of those systems by requiring that all such structures lying or existing within the boundaries of the City of Westland, in and from which sanitary sewage originates or passes, be connected to the City's public sanitary sewer system, whether existing and available for connection to at the present time or in the future.

Section 102-301. Mandatory connection to the City's public sanitary sewer system.

(a) Connection to the public sanitary sewer system for any and all existing on-site sewage disposal systems is mandatory.

(b) Any and all structures in and from which sanitary sewage originates or passes, which lie or exist within the boundaries of the City of Westland, shall be connected to the City's public sanitary sewer system, so long as a public sanitary sewer system is functional and available for connection to by property owners.

(1) The City's public sanitary sewer system shall be deemed functional and available for connection to after it has been inspected by the Wayne County Department of Environmental Quality (hereinafter referred to as "WCDEQ") and the City receives notice of the WCDEQ's approval of the system.

(c) After the City receives notice from the WCDEQ of its approval of the public sanitary sewer system, those property owners owning properties which are adjacent to the system, and who are not connected to the system, shall be sent written Notice by the Department of Public Service advising them that a public sanitary sewer system exists and has been declared functional and available for connection to.

(1) Said Notice shall be sent via certified/guaranteed mail to the mailing address of any property which is not currently connected to the public sewer system and/or to the mailing address of the last known owner of the property as recorded with the Wayne County Register of Deeds.

(e) It shall be unlawful for a person or firm to connect, permit the connection of, or authorize the connection of any service line to the City's public sanitary sewer system, including but not limited to the main or lateral, without first obtaining a sanitary sewer connection permit from the Department of Public Service, and a plumbing permit from the Building Department.

Section 102-302. Mandatory disconnection of on-site sewage disposal systems.

(a) Once connection to the public sewer system has occurred, and the connection is operable and passes the inspection by the Department of Public Service and/or the Building Department, the owner of property upon or under which an on-site sewage disposal system exists, shall undertake and complete the following within seven (7) days of passing inspection:

- Completely drain, remove and/or discharge, at a local, state or federally approved facility, the entire contents of the on-site sewage disposal system;

- After the contents of the sewage system have been drained, removal and/or discarded, the tank or housing of the system shall be washed. The base must then be crushed or broken in a manner which will provide and allow for pass through drainage, and then completely filled with sand or other similar granular and absorbing material.

Section 102-303. Permits required to connect to the public sanitary sewer system.

(b) The purchase or transfer of any land and/or structure in the City of Westland, which does not currently have an operable connection to the public sanitary sewer system subsequent to the enactment of this ordinance, shall not be permitted if a public sanitary sewer system exists to which the property owner can connect, unless the owner or transferor connects to the public sanitary sewer system, and said connection is approved by the Department of Public Service and/or the Building Department prior to the time of the sale or transfer.

Section 102-304. Failing on-site sewage disposal systems.

(a) If it is determined or becomes known that an existing on-site sewage disposal system is failing, and there exists an available and functional public sanitary sewer system to which connection by the property owner can be made, the owner of the structure in or from which the sanitary sewage originates shall be put on Notice by the City of Westland of his or her system's failure.

(b) The Department of Public Services shall provide written Notice to those addresses which it determines or knows have existing and failing on-site sewage disposal systems.

(1) Said Notice shall be sent via certified/guaranteed mail to the mailing address of the property upon or beneath which the failing on-site sewage disposal system exists and/or to the mailing address of the last known owner of the property as recorded with the Wayne County Register of Deeds.

Section 102-305. Connections to neighboring municipalities' public sanitary sewer systems.

If a structure located in the City of Westland is connected to a public sanitary sewer system located in a neighboring municipality, whether said connection existed prior to or subsequent to the enactment of this Ordinance, said property owner shall be required to disconnect from the other municipality's system and connect to the City of Westland's public sanitary sewer system so long as a sanitary sewer system is available for the property owner to connect to. Said connection shall follow those procedures as outlined in Section 102-301, et seq. of this Chapter.

Section 102-306. Failure to connect to the public sanitary sewer system.

(a) Failure to connect to the public sanitary sewer system for non-failing on-site sewage disposal systems.

Said Second Notice may be made by way of first class or certified mail to the owner of the property or by posting said Second Notice at or upon the property.

(1) Said Second Notice shall give the approximate location of the public sanitary sewer system to which the property owner must connect, and shall advise the owner of the requirements and enforcement provisions under state law and of this Ordinance.

(2) If the property owner fails to connect to the public sanitary sewer system within ninety (90) days of the date of mailing or posting of the Second Notice, the City may bring an action for a mandatory injunction or order, in a Court of competent jurisdiction, to abate the hazard or nuisance and to compel the property owner to connect to the available public sanitary sewer system immediately. Furthermore, the Department of Public Service may join any number of owners of properties upon or below which on-site sewage disposal systems lie or exist, within the boundaries of the City of Westland, in the action, to compel said property owners to connect to an available public sewer system immediately.

(b) Failure to connect to the public sanitary sewer system for failing on-site sewage disposal systems.

(1) If the structure in or from which sanitary sewage originates is not connected to an available and functional public sewer system within the six (6) month period described above in section 102-304, the Department of Public Service shall serve a Second Notice upon the property owner of the existence of the functional and available public sanitary sewer system and advising the property owner that he or she has failed to comply with the requirements of this Ordinance within the time prescribed, and that he or she shall connect to the system immediately upon receipt of the Second Notice. Said Second Notice may be made by way of first class or certified mail to the owner of the property or by posting said Second Notice at or upon the property.

Any and all fees associated with said inspection and the issuance of the Inspection Form shall be charged against the property owner and paid, in full, by him or her before commencement of the inspection.

(d) If the property owner fails to disconnect immediately, as required in Paragraph (a), the Mayor shall order the Water and Sewer Division to disconnect the illegal service line to the public sanitary sewer system.

(e) The Water and Sewer Division shall take all steps necessary to disconnect the illegal service line from the public sanitary sewer system, and shall keep or cause to be kept an accurate record of all expenses associated with the disconnection. A report of the work done and all expenses incurred in disconnecting an illegal service line from the public sewer system shall be submitted to the city council.

(f) The City Council shall, pursuant to section 42-73, determine what amount or part of each expense incurred in disconnecting an illegal service line from the public sanitary sewer system shall be charged against the property owner. Section 2. That all other provisions of Chapter 102 of the Westland City Code shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 3. Severability. The various parts, sections and clauses of the Ordinance are hereby declared severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 4. Repeal. All other Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistency, hereby repealed.

Section 5. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

Section 6. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall become effective upon publication as required by law.

Conference promotes action on anti-sprawl measures

BY MIKE MALOTT
HOMETOWN NEWS SERVICE
mmalott@homecomm.net

Efforts to address urban sprawl in Michigan — a topic that has been on the lips of area residents and planners for as much as 20 years — need to get under way by this June, according to David Skjaerlund, executive director of the Rural Development Council of Michigan.

That's because one piece of it, a major piece, needs to go on the ballot this fall in the form of a Constitutional amendment. Skjaerlund was referring to Gov. John Engler's proposal to change the way farm land is taxed. Engler has proposed that property taxes be applied to farm land based strictly on its use as agricultural land, rather than on market value as it is assessed today.

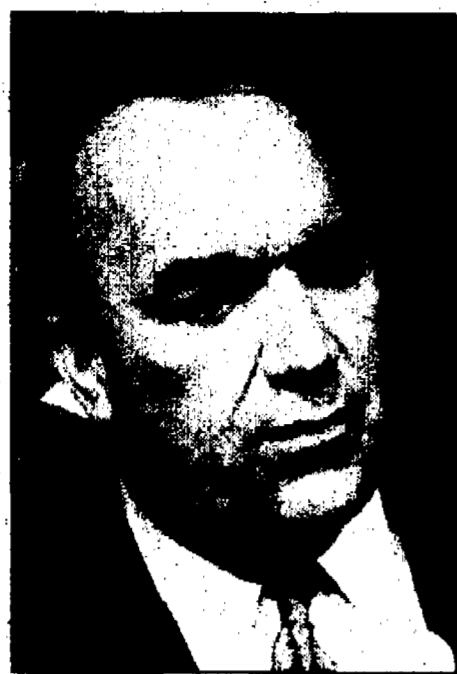

The purpose is to take the financial pressure off farmers, who are sometimes forced because of high property taxation to sell to developers. Those developers buy it up for new homes. It is part of the process that fuels sprawl.

Many other urban sprawl initiatives are in the works, like encouraging "smart growth" alternatives in local communities, passing legislation allowing for the sale of "development rights" on working farms, spurring regional cooperative planning and redirecting growth back toward central cities, but many of those proposals can be enacted without need of rewriting the state Constitution.

And many can be adopted by local communities themselves.

Sprawl conference

That was the idea behind The Ultimate Land Use Conference Feb. 28 and 29 at the Kellogg Conference Center in East Lansing. Skjaerlund explained. Over

Gov. John Engler

Michigan United Conservation Clubs and the Economic Development Association.

Speakers at the conference emphasized farmland preservation, because as Dr. Tom Daniels of the University at Albany, State University of New York, pointed out, government not only has to take financial pressure off agriculture, it needs to make family farming a profitable enterprise if it expects to farmers to stay on and work their lands. Daniel explained to the conference how New York's program allowing for the purchase of development rights works.

Engler plan

Under the program proposed by Engler, development rights could be purchased from working farms. The farmers would retain the title but could only use the land for agricultural purposes.

Purchases of development rights might be made by local governments, for the purpose of preserving that farmland. But Engler has also proposed that those rights could also be purchased by others, who would be able to move those development rights to another location and be allowed to develop it to an intensity beyond what would otherwise be acceptable in the law.

"Receiving zones" might include so-called "brownfields" in central cities, but under the governor's proposal, development rights would have to be used in areas that already have the infrastructure available to support such development.

Peter Katz, president of Urban Advantage, a design firm that is a proponent of "New Urbanism," talked about that style of development.

Typical subdivision development involves large lots, placing homes on lots ranging in size from one to 10 acres. That style of development just contributes to sprawl, he said, because it is consumptive of land that no longer can support agriculture. While it does preserve greenspace, he said, it is not public greenspace.

"We have greenspace, but we don't know what it's there for," he said.

Katz further argued that the traffic congestion suburbs experience is not the result of inadequate size on major roads, it is the result of the way subdivisions are typically laid out.

"In subdivisions, all roads lead to dead ends," he said. By contrast, the grid pattern of older city residential streets helps improve the traffic flow in those towns.

Katz advocates designing subdivisions based on the model of small American towns prior to World War II. They feature mixed uses including different housing types, small retail stores at the center of the community and lots of walkways.

The problem with most New Urbanism designs being used today is that they are too large, Katz said. If these neighborhoods are more than a quarter mile across, residents will just get in the car to drive to where they are going. Planners tend to put too much retail at the center. These designs are intended for small shops.

West Bloomfield Planning Director Tom Bird was present at the conference and gave the sessions generally positive reviews. But he had some frustrations too. One item presenters failed to give was a set of criteria by which planners can judge the quality of a New Urbanism development.

"They all come in and insist their plan is so good," he said. "Their interest is making money, but they tell you your interest is the same as theirs. It isn't."

Railroad man: Tim Clark with some of the club's train display, which is still under construction.

All aboard!

Interest builds as show chugs into town

Plans for the Trainorama Extra 2000 are right on track.

Scheduled for Sunday, March 12, at the University of Michigan Field House in Dearborn, between 100 and 150 dealers will be on hand to show and sell scale model railroad equipment, antiques and collectibles. The show runs 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"There is something in it for everyone," said Tim Clark, member of the Redford Model Railroad Club, one of five sponsoring agents for the Trainorama Extra 2000. He expects a crowd of anywhere between 600 and 1,500 people.

"Generally, that is what we get," he said. "We think it's a fairly good show if we get 1,000 people."

People who do not know a lot about model railroads or railroad clubs are also encouraged to attend. Club members hope to intrigue them with five modular layouts and running trains.

"The smallest modular layout will be 2 1/2 feet by 12 feet and the biggest one will be 25 feet by 70 feet," he said. "Each layout will have a different scale and a different theme."

People who do not know a lot about model railroads or railroad clubs are also encouraged to attend. Club members hope to intrigue them with five modular layouts and running trains.

According to Clark, these shows attract a variety of people, "from small kids to the elderly, from factory people to attorneys."

"People do come in from out of state for this event," Clark continued, "but traditionally, people only come from as far away as Lansing, Toledo, Ohio, or Flint."

Aside from offering wares, Clark said there will be quite a few people there just promoting the hobby. There will also be manned booths set up so that people who have questions can find answers. Membership literature will also be available.

Clark has been a member of the Redford Model Railroad Club since 1996. Two factors influenced his decision to join.

An automotive racing hobbyist, his dad's health began to deteriorate in the 1990s. His dad was no longer able to make the races so he began looking at alternative hobbies in order to keep him active. The same Christmas, his son "expressed an interest in a train to go around the Christmas tree."

Before he knew it, he traded in his racing gloves for a conductor's cap.

"The nice thing about this hobby is that not everyone has a lot of money to spend," but people can purchase their items over a few years or can make them themselves.

"Some people may spend months, some spend years putting their modulars together," said Clark, who himself continues to build a modular layout in his basement.

Once assembled, Clark's layout will span his 1,900-square-foot basement. Already, his 9-year-old son is playing with the trains.

"He spends hours down there putting the (train) cars together."

He looks forward to the day when he and his son can work on the modular layout together.

Admission to the Trainorama Extra 2000 is $4 per person. Children under 12 are free with a paid adult admission.

The U-M Field House is at 4901 Evergreen Road, across the street from Fairlane Center. People who need more information should call Steve Johnson at (313) 565-1027.

New law allows foreclosure after 2 years of tax delinquency

BY KURT KURAN
STAFF WRITER

With the enactment of a new state law, property owners will have much less time to pay delinquent taxes before losing their property to Wayne County.

Public Act 123 of 1999 gives the county treasury department the power to foreclose on a property after a tax has gone unpaid for only two years. Formerly, the law allowed up to five years for owners to pay delinquent taxes.

An unpaid tax becomes delinquent after a local city or township forwards it to the county treasurer for collection on March 1 of the year after it was due, at which time the property will be put in a state of forfeiture.

From that time a property owner will have exactly one year before the property is foreclosed and put up for public auction. The previous owners will receive no compensation from the sale.

Considering over 80,000 properties become delinquent each year in Wayne County alone, the new law may catch some people by surprise.

"This is a very complex issue," said Wayne County Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz. "I have grave concerns that the good people of Wayne County are not fully aware of the full parameters of this law."

The law provides incentive for investors and developers to bid on properties when they are auctioned, because it allows for a clear title of the property in a quicker period of time, a fact the county welcomes.

"Public Act 123 gives us the necessary tools to get delinquent properties back onto the tax roll in a shorter period of time," Wojtowicz said. "This is not only important to the county, but also to local cities and townships, which rely on the taxes to pay for public services such as education."

Property owners who can't come up with all of the money to pay their taxes will have a few options before foreclosure, such as setting up a partial payment plan with the treasury office.

The law also allows for an appeals process, in which a judge will review a case to make sure a tax was not erroneously or illegally applied. The appeal will also provide a delinquent owner the opportunity to show a case of existing hardship.

"In my experience, most judges are very sensitive to an appeal, as long as a person can show they will make serious efforts to pay what was agreed upon," Wojtowicz said.

Individuals with financial need can also contact the Family Independence Agency, a state agency formerly known as Social Services. The agency will provide one-time emergency assistance grants to pay for all or part of a delinquent tax to eligible applicants.

"We have to make sure the grant would solve the problem on a long-term basis," said Gene Hashley, a spokesman for the FIA's Wayne County office. "If there is no way an applicant can handle the responsibility down the road, we have to look at other options, such as an alternative living arrangement."

Once a property has been foreclosed by the county, the former owners will have no recourse to get it back.

"That is the enormity of this issue," said Wojtowicz, noting properties with delinquent 1999 taxes will be foreclosed on March 1, 2002.

Wojtowicz said people concerned about friends or family members who are unaware of and may be affected by the new law should contact the treasurer's office.

In 1964, Hugh Bowman was living in his native St. Vincent and the Grenadines in the Caribbean. Future wife Ronaele came to work in a Peace Corps-type program operated by the Catholic church.

"That's how I met my husband," said Ronaele Bowman, now director of Westland Youth Assistance.

The Livonia couple will return to the Caribbean soon, traveling March 29 to April 5 to Haiti as part of an interdenominational church effort. "I think this is a great opportunity to give back," she said.

The group of churches includes their own, St. Gerard Catholic in Detroit, along with St. David's Episcopal in Southfield, St. Blaise Catholic in Sterling Heights and St. Leo Catholic in Detroit.

About 30 people will go. Hugh Bowman, a design engineer for Ford Motor Co., will work in construction, including electrical, plumbing and maybe masonry "or building some benches, pews," he said.

"I know there's going to be a lot of work to do," he said. "We saw pictures of the church." St.

Jerome Church in Haiti needs a lot of work, he said.

Ronaele Bowman will work with children in the school and orphanage. She'll take pictures of children who have been sponsored by U.S. families.

"We won't be together the entire time," she said. Her work will be partly in Port-au-Prince, the capital, while he will be out in the country. They've been back to the Caribbean since the 1964 meeting, but haven't been to Haiti.

Ronaele Bowman had some school French, "but it's a long time ago. We will have interpreters." Interpreters and body language will allow them to communicate, she said.

This is the third time the local group has gone, but the first time for such a large group. The effort started with a couple where the wife, a pediatrician, is from Haiti. Ties have grown between churches and the two countries.

Haiti is predominantly Catholic. "Most people practice some voodoo," she said. "It's part of the culture."

Haiti is the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere with high unemployment. Its government is in conflict and ineffective, she said, with no money to provide basic services.

They're a little concerned for their safety, and have been told not to go out at night and to stay with the group.

The Bowmans - parents of two grown sons, one at Schoolcraft College and the other at Eastern Michigan University - are paying their own way, about $1,000 each. "I just am in awe of the generosity of the people," she said. "People have been wonderful."

Donations, ranging from school supplies to money for medical supplies, have poured in. It started with the Martin Luther King Jr. Day celebration this January in Livonia.

"This year, our project was to get things for Haiti," he said. "We got a lot of things."

Their dedicated group is mostly middle-aged. For a time, it seemed as if the Haiti trip was far off for the Bowmans.

"Now it's getting really close," she said. They're considering similar long-term work after they retire.

Essays garner plaudits

Three students from St. John Lutheran School in Westland have been named local winners in the 31st annual America & Me Essay Contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance.

The three students, who earned the first-, second- and third-place awards for their school, are Jeff Laubernds, first, Abby Pitt, second, and David Kitson, third. All three received award certificates for their achievement. As the school's first-place winner, Laubernds' name will also be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school.

Also honored as a first-place winner in the competition was Emily Bloom of Westland, a student at Plymouth Christian Academy in Canton. Bloom's name will also be engraved on a plaque for permanent display at her school.

The first-place essays now advance to the state-level competition, from which the top 10 essays in Michigan will be selected. The top 10 statewide winners, who will be announced in April, will receive plaques, cash and U.S. savings bonds valued from $500 to $1,000.

In addition, the top 10 essayists will be honored at a banquet in Lansing, meet with Michigan's top governmental leaders and be the featured guests at a Lansing Lugnuts minor league baseball game dedicated in their honor.

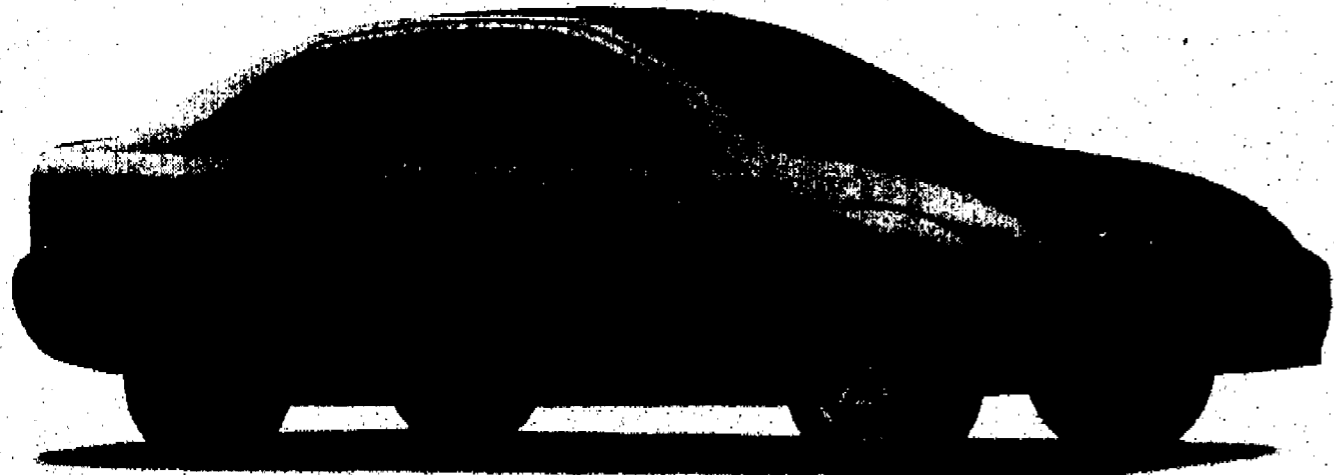

A team of finalist judges that includes a top Michigan government official and the sponsoring teachers of last year's top two statewide winners will determine the ranking of the top 10 statewide winners this year.

Several thousand eighth-grade students from nearly 500 Michigan schools participated in the 1999-2000 America & Me Essay Contest, which was conducted with the help of Farm Bureau Insurance agents across the state. The topic for this school year was "My American Hero for the 21st Century."

Bankes insists she's no fan of a proposed arts tax

By RICHARD PEARL
Special Writer
rpearl@ea.comsec.com.net

'I wouldn't want to take this resolution back to my community.'

Commissioner Lyn Bankes
R-Livonia

Wayne County Commissioner Lyn Bankes said she doesn't care about a recent proposal from the ways and means committee for a regional fine arts tax.

"I don't care if it ever gets passed," said Bankes, R-Livonia, seeking to clarify her position on the proposal in the wake of a minor uproar at the March 2 commission board meeting.

In fact, she said, if the issue never comes to a public vote, that'll be OK, too. "Fine, let it die. Let it go away," she said.

The mini-blowup occurred after a resolution was introduced to the commission by its ways and means committee, proposing that a half-mill tax levy be placed on an Aug. 8 special election ballot.

Commissioners voted to send the resolution back to committee after Iona Varga, D-Detroit, said it was introduced in error.

The levy, 50 cents per $1,000 of taxable valuation, would run from 2000 to 2009 and would be "for the exclusive purpose of distribution to a Metropolitan Regional Arts Council."

The council would be "established and equitably supported and appointed" by the counties of Wayne and Oakland and by the city of Detroit, according to the resolution.

Its purpose would be "to improve and sustain regional fine arts and cultural institutions." The millage would raise an estimated $13.6 million in 2000.

Ben Washburn, commission counsel, said county commissioners must approve by May 18 any proposal for the Aug. 8 ballot.

Bankes, a member of the ways and means committee, was identified on the March 2 agenda as introducing the resolution, although it was being sponsored by Ways and Means Chairman George Cushingberry Jr. and Varga.

Commissioner Robert Blackwell, a Detroit Democrat, immediately sided Bankes with "you are a brave commissioner."

Then he called half-seriously for "research" to see "if there's ever been any Republican on the commission" who asked for a tax increase.

"I'm not for this" proposal, Blackwell grumbled. "I've got enough culture."

Bankes responded with, "I wouldn't want to take this resolution back to my community" of Livonia.

Commission Chairman Ricardo Solomon, D-Detroit, said the fine arts resolution was "a good thing but I don't know if it's a good time" for it, what with both the county jail and parks millages up for renewal in August.

Bankes said what caused the problem with the commissioners was her previous experience as a state representative working on the original bill, which permitted establishing a regional arts council and an arts millage.

That made her able to answer some questions from fellow commissioners about funding distribution and so "people (commissioners) had a misunderstanding of how she stood on the issue."

"Because I understood the arts tax, they were assuming that I support the arts tax," she said.

Besides, said Bankes, there were "three or four motions on the floor at the same time," causing more confusion.

But "I had nothing to do with the writing" of the resolution, Bankes declared.

The item was one of four from ways and means voted on by commissioners Thursday.

Approved was a four-year, nearly $2-million contract between the county and the state department of corrections for the arrest of parole/probation violators.

They referred the other two resolutions - one by Bankes involving the recently restored Guardian Building, the other by Cushingberry regarding natural gas deregulation - to the committee of the whole for further study.

Bankes said she is trying through the Guardian resolution, to get the county to urge DTE Energy Inc. to assure the building's future, calling it "such an important icon of Detroit's history and heritage."

It was restored by MichCon before that company merged with Detroit Edison to form DTE Energy.

McCotter cosponsors bill to preserve Great Lakes

State Sen. Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, has cosponsored legislation introduced by Sen. Ken Sikkema, R-Grandville, that will protect the Great Lakes from non-native aquatic species.

"As a conservationist, I'm committed to protecting and promoting our state's most treasured natural resource: the Great Lakes," said McCotter.

The legislation would require all ballast water taken from outside the Great Lakes to be sterilized before a ship can enter Michigan's Great Lakes; prohibit the discharge of ballast into the Great Lakes without a permit from the Department of Environmental Quality; and direct the DEQ to establish an inspection program.

"With this legislation we are finally saying, once and for all, that the introduction of any more non-native species that damage the Great Lakes in unacceptable," said Sen. Sikkema.

Violators of the law would be subject to penalties identical to those found in the Clean Water Act including fines of up to $25,000 per day and criminal penalties for willful violations.

"The sea lamprey and the zebra mussel are examples of 'imported' parasites that plague our native species and threaten the Great Lakes' ecology," said McCotter. "Sen. Sikkema is an expert on environmental issues and I look forward to working with him to keep our waters clean."

The Senate Committee on Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs will hold public hearings across Michigan regarding this legislation. No meetings are planned in the metro Detroit area. A meeting is planned 6-8 p.m. Monday, April 6, at Monroe City Hall Council Chambers, 120 E. First St., Monroe.

Nursing homes receive state grants

BY KURT KUBAN
STAFF WRITER

Nursing homes throughout Wayne County are reaping the benefits of a new state grant program designed to help them face the challenges of an aging population.

In its first year of implementation, the Nursing Home Quality Incentive Grant Program has allowed state lawmakers to disperse $8.5 million to nursing care facilities throughout the state. Of the more than 340 nursing homes to receive grants, 59 are located in the county.

"These grants are excellent resources for improvement - adding new staff, expanding facilities and making it a top priority to provide the best long-term health care solutions we can," said Gerald Law, state representative from Plymouth and chair of the House Health Policy Committee.

The grant program, which is administered through the Michigan Department of Consumer and Industry Services (MDCIS), is funded through a combination of federal and state money. Successful applicants had to meet certain criteria set by the MDCIS, based on need and past efficiency.

Although the state budget allowed for similar expenditures in the past, the process often became bogged down by a barrage of appeals made by applicants denied funding through the previous program because of a record of poor performance.

With the new program, the appeals process has been eliminated, meaning there is less of a roadblock in dispersing the money after it has been awarded.

"We have put a lot of effort into this program. Our goal is to get the money into the hands of those facilities that are helping people," said Maura Campbell, a spokesperson for MDCIS. "I want to stress that this is not an entitlement program. It is a grant program."

"Nursing homes are a challenging area, because they house some of the most vulnerable citizens in society. It's not easy, but we're optimistic a lot of good programs are going to come of these grants."

Officials at local nursing care facilities are excited about receiving the grants.

"This is a good program," said Tom Rau, owner of Four Chaplain's Nursing Care Center in Westland, which was awarded $23,088. "It is allowing us to do a combination of things that we wouldn't otherwise be able to do."

For instance, Rau said his facility has begun to implement various enhancements, such as a "homestyle" dining room, in which residents will be served their meals at a place setting with tablecloths and nicer silverware.

In addition, Rau is going to start providing Companion Radio, a national service that broadcasts "old-fashioned" programming.

Rau said both programs are designed to make his residents "feel more at home," which he believes will give them a better outlook on life and ultimately keep them healthier.

MDCIS classifies such programs as Edenization Projects, which are meant to improve the quality of life of residents.

However, the majority of grant winners, including Marywood Nursing Care Center ($18,928) and Marycrest Manor ($11,440), both of Livonia, have used their awards for Innovative Projects, which includes staff development.

By providing better pay and a more stable working environment, nursing home officials believe they will be able to secure more competent and qualified staffs, which is one of the most pressing problems facing the nursing home industry.

A fact that state lawmakers had in mind when they devised the Nursing Home Quality Incentive Grant Program.

"Taking care of our elderly population is a righteous and growing concern," said Law. "With a large baby boomer population retiring soon, we have to be prepared now and get ahead of the game."

Democrat caucus proceeds, as Bradley plans to pull out

BY MIKE MALOTT
HOMETOWN NEWS SERVICE
mmalott@homecomm.net

By the time Michigan Democrats vote in caucuses Saturday, March 11, the presidential primary race may be over.

Bill Bradley staffers said Wednesday morning, in the wake of the results from voting Tuesday in primary contests in 16 states, they anticipate his withdrawal from the race Thursday morning.

Word inside the Michigan Bradley campaign Wednesday was that the candidate would take the day to phone staffers, donors and supporters to thank them for their efforts before making an announcement of his decision Thursday.

Vice President Al Gore was the big winner in Super Tuesday balloting, when primaries were held in 11 states and caucuses were held in another five.

Some 1,312 delegates were at stake Tuesday. Although victories in all 16 states still leaves Gore with less than the number of delegates needed to lock up the nomination, Bradley managed to win only about 200 of them, putting Gore well out in front, staffers said.

Michigan caucuses will go ahead, state party Communications Director Dennis Denno said Wednesday morning.

"They're still on, although this will affect turnout obviously," he said. "It is still a good time for Democrats to get together and meet candidates and staff, and to meet fellow Democrats."

Bradley's name will still appear on ballots, since they've been printed, so he'll still get some votes. Some 21,000 Democrats pulled absentee ballots, and many of those have already been turned back in. So that candidate gets even more votes there.

But campaign staffers also believe Bradley supporters will now throw their support behind Gore.

"Unlike the Republicans, where there has been a holy war, Bradley supporters don't have a visceral reaction to Gore. We just like Bradley a little better," said one member of the Bradley team.

This was the first time Democrats used a vote-by-mail system as a part of its presidential primary caucus. Those who did not vote by mail can still cast their ballots in person at caucus sites around the state.

To vote in person this Saturday, Democrats will gather in local meeting halls across the state for old style, Iowa-type caucus sessions. Beginning at 11 a.m., the party will hold meetings asking members to vote by raising their hands. An old-fashioned round the room count will tally the results. The caucuses are expected to take no more than two hours, according to party officials.

Voters don't have to be registered members of the Democratic Party to participate, they must only be willing to declare themselves to be Democrats, according to State Party Chairman Mark Brewer.

Democrats must go to the caucus meeting for the area in which they live. Registration will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The reason Democrats are using the caucus system is to eliminate "crossover" voting, where members of one party vote in the other's primary to "cause mischief," Brewer explained. Crossover played a significant role in the outcome of the GOP's open primary in Michigan.

When the balloting is finished Saturday, delegates to the Democratic National Convention will be apportioned on a percentage basis from the local congressional districts according to the results. The delegates will be allocated later, on May 6 for the districts and on May 20 for the state as a whole.

All told, the state will send 157 delegates, 22 alternates, and 18 convention committee members off to the national convention in Los Angeles this August where they will cast the final votes for who is to be selected as the party's nominee to run for president in November.

Because so many votes have already been cast in Michigan by absentee ballot, Michigan will probably be the last state in which Bradley picks up delegates.

Caucus sessions will be held in the following locations:

36251 SCHOOLCRAFT, LIVONIA, MICHIGAN 48150

THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 2000

Do the right thing City officials should behave

It does make you think.

On the one hand, there's former City Clerk Patricia Gibbons, ousted in mid-January by a four-member majority of the Westland City Council. She was an at-will employee and could have been let go by the council, although the foursome's methods have certainly stirred people to action, particularly on the pro-Gibbons side.

Then there's Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, longtime senior director for the city. As many now know, her gambling on work time was exposed. She received a two-week suspension without pay, the two subordinates who accompanied her to the Detroit casino one-week suspensions.

Next on the list is Keith Madden, Westland's personnel director. Late last week, it was revealed that Madden wrote a mystery e-mail, claiming to be recall supporter Brenda Gracin and indicating that a planned protest rally was canceled - when in fact it had not been. Madden received no disciplinary action, with Mayor Robert Thomas saying he acted on his own time and had a right to voice his views on the recall effort.

The contrast is stark between Gibbons and the others. Gibbons had received generally positive job evaluations and her abrupt departure appears to be more politically motivated than anything else. The mayor moved quickly to discipline Kozorosky-Wiacek and her supporters, which is commendable, but her punishment seems light compared to what Gibbons received.

Many will say Kozorosky-Wiacek's punishment was light simply because she has influence on the city's seniors, who turn out in record numbers to vote in elections. Still, the loss of income and prestige she will bear because of the gambling is noteworthy. The mayor has said he will fire Kozorosky-Wiacek if she gambles again on work time, and he should keep that promise if she is foolish enough to return to the casinos.

Madden's actions are a bit more problematic, but there's no question his behavior was highly unethical and warranted some kind of discipline. He pretended to be a recall supporter to get information on Gracin's e-mail, then turned around and used it against his political foes. That's not the way a well-paid city department head should behave, to say the least.

Ethics and integrity count for a great deal in government at all levels, including the local one. City leaders need to behave in ways that engender confidence in their ability to lead.

Alcohol measure too drastic

It may look like a solid idea, but when examined, the state Legislature's proposal to block the sale of alcohol over the Internet to minors just doesn't hold water.

First, the sale of alcohol to minors is already illegal here.

Second, there is absolutely no evidence that youngsters are getting alcohol through the Internet now.

And when done in the manner put forward by Rep. Nancy Cassis, R-Novi, through House Bill 4752, the legislation would impose a restraint on trade for the small business operations that make up the fine winemaking industry, including Michigan's two dozen wineries.

Most importantly, HB 4752 would significantly limit choices for consumers - that's you, dear reader.

Wine lovers statewide need to set down their stemware and pick up pens to write lawmakers in opposition to HB 4752.

Vintners and connoisseurs claim the concerns raised about minors gaining access to alcohol over the Internet are really a "smoke-screen," that the real purpose is to preserve the monopoly wholesalers now have on the distribution of spirits here in Michigan. The state's "three-tier" system requires that all alcohol be distributed through wholesalers. E-commerce bypasses them, threatening that monopoly.

Cassis and the Michigan Beer and Wine Wholesalers Association deny it, as you'd expect, but their protestations are unconvincing given the lack of evidence that youths are buying alcohol over the Internet.

Congressional hearings last March on related legislation at the federal level failed to produce evidence. Cassis can't point to any. Nor can the wholesalers.

Even Michigan's Liquor Control Commission, responsible for enforcing the liquor laws here, can't point to a single known case of a juvenile ordering beer, wine or booze over the World Wide Web, other than in a "sting" operation.

When Attorney General Jennifer Granholm conducted a series of stings recently - which she used to arm-wrestle United Parcel Service into agreeing to stop deliveries of alcoholic beverages from out of state - it appears to have worked only because the youngsters themselves weren't going to get in trouble. Acting as decoys on behalf of law enforcement, those teens were protected from prosecution as they submitted their orders for alcohol.

It's different in the real world. Youngsters have good reason to avoid using the Internet to obtain booze. Any youth attempting to order it by wire would create a paper trail, not the least of which is an itemized credit card bill that any parent who is paying any attention at all is likely to catch.

Regardless of this lack of evidence, the state is headed toward cutting off Michigan consumers - including those who are of legal drinking age - from an estimated 1,900 to 1,950 wine producers across the country. It is estimated that wholesalers can reasonably distribute product from only 50 or 100 of the country's 2,000 wineries. Without Internet sales or delivery services like UPS, there will be little possibility they can get their products to their Michigan customers.

That is indeed a serious restraint on trade, a substantial limitation on consumer choice.

HB 4752 was approved by the House of Representatives without opposition, but it now awaits action in the Economic Development Committee in the Senate.

Wine lovers can explain their objections to the bill by writing to committee members Sen. Bill Schuette, R-Midland, Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, David Jaye, R-Washington Township, Burton Leland, D-Detroit, and Gary Peters, D-Bloomfield Township, at Michigan State Senate, P.O. Box 30038, Lansing, MI 48909-7536.

Recent meeting

On Feb. 17, your paper printed a letter to the editor written by longtime community activist Mrs. Reasther Everett, concerning the unfortunate closing of the Southeast Westland Community Center over 20 years ago. In her letter, Mrs. Everett claimed that I, and then Mayor "Trav" Griffin, visited her to advise her of the center's closing for lack of funding.

In fact, at the time the center closed, I didn't yet know "Trav" Griffin. I wasn't a resident of Westland, I didn't know where the Southeast Westland Community Center was and I had never met Mrs. Reasther Everett.

The first time I formally met Mrs. Reasther Everett was this past summer while she was helping Glenn Anderson with his re-election campaign to the city council.

Council concerns

At the last council meeting (long after I left), during council comments, David Cox went on and on ... so I thought I would address a few of them.

First, Mr. Cox said that Marian Greenfield was the person who in 1982 led the recall of four school board members, and then he went on about a recall effort at Bill Faust and Justine Barns not saying ... but giving the impression Mrs. Greenfield runs all the recalls in Westland.

Mr. Cox, I know the two women who ran the school board recall ... and let me tell you, neither one was Mrs. Greenfield.

I've tried to understand your logic "and it's not easy" and not knowing if Mrs. Greenfield ever signed a recall (or) how many ...

Second, while addressing Mr. Anderson, you let it slip that Sharon Scott was running for state rep ... let me remind everyone that last year I wrote two letters, one saying that for voting to put David Cox back on the council ... Justine Barns would be appointed to the zoning or planning boards (it was the planning commission) and for the last-minute mud tossing by Andy Spisak there must be something in it for Andy (it was the planning commission). I also told people that for her vote to put David Cox back on the council Sharon Scott was told they would back her for state rep.

Mr. Cox, you got off your script when you said Sharon Scott was running for state rep ... I hope Charlie Griffin and Bob Thomas don't take you behind the woodshed and spank you.

Third, Mr. Cox went on about city workers using city vehicles ... and that they were worth it to get the best people ... at one point, he addressed Sylvia Wiacek, which was echoed by Charlie Griffin in praises of her service to the city ... when the camera went on Sylvia she looked as if someone had been yelling at her.

It wasn't until I watched Channel 2's news Monday evening that I found out what happened earlier that day ... Hey, boys, is Sylvia an at-will employee ... if so, when are you going to take her keys?

Mr. Cox, at the end of the council meeting you throw a lot of crap without saying anything ... "but" if you listen, you will hear the truth ... you just don't have to listen for it ... I hope Charlie and Bob don't muzzle you ... because if we take the time we will hear the truth!

Director overpaid

I was just reading the article about the director of Senior Resources Department, Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek. The mayor said she was suspended for two weeks at a pay cost of $2,754. Do you realize how much money an hour that I'm paying her in tax dollars? That's over $34 per hour! Along with all the other benefits she gets for working for the city. This is one director that is definitely overpaid. If she was a DPW worker I would say OK to the pay, but not her job. In that time I'm paying her over $34/hr. she has the time to go to Detroit. She definitely has too much time on her hands which then means that that department is overstaffed. No wonder my tax dollars are so high. Before the city starts asking for more money I think they should look at how they are spending what they already have. Maybe we just need a whole new change in our city government. Unbelievable.

Questions for Cox

Mr. (David) Cox, you stated at the Feb. 7 council meeting that, "It became pretty apparent to you earlier in the week that Ms. Gibbons did not have the votes for reappointment." There are seven council members, you are one person. One from seven still equals six. That would make six the majority, not one. The only way you could possibly know there would be three other votes joining yours would be by previous discussions with the other three council members.

You also stated at the last council meeting that you wish someone could tell you a better method to handle the non-reappointment of the city clerk position. Perhaps tabling the reappointment for a study session to discuss with all seven council members would have been the wiser way to go, thus avoiding any question of violating the Open Meetings Act.

Mr. Cox, is it your intention to nominate Robin Moore, president of the Wayne-Westland school board, to either one of these positions?

Fire chief speaks

I am writing this letter to you because of my extreme disappointment in your newspaper and more importantly, the editor for the Westland Observer, Julie Brown.

In an editorial written in the Feb. 24 edition of the Westland Observer, Ms. Brown suggests that, as the chief of the Westland Fire Department, I should not be actively involved in opposing the current recall effort which is under way in our city. She implies that by speaking on these issues, I am compromising my position as chief, and possibly neglecting my duty to serve the people of Westland.

As a bastion of free speech, the printed news in general and the Observer specifically should be on the opposite side of the argument presented by Ms. Brown. All my spoken or written comments have been on my own time. I do not wear my uniform or present myself as the fire chief when I speak, or when I carry a sign. In fact, believe it or not, when it comes to speaking I am fully capable of expressing myself with no resulting loss of productivity or service to my community.

I speak because I do fully understand the harmful effects created by a raucous group of dissidents and the ramifications of their actions. I know that the political in-fighting and encouragement given by the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers to the radicals attending the meetings will very soon begin to effect the services our city provides.

If a councilman can work for an automobile company, yet speak at a meeting, then so can I. If a businessman can operate his own business, yet speak at a meeting, then so can I. If a group of citizens can take the time away from their busy lives to speak at a meeting, then so can I.

I am a resident and taxpayer in the city of Westland. I expect to be granted the same access to free speech rights as any other person at a public meeting. I would also expect that your newspaper would at least recognize this basic concept, and at the same time look a little closer at the people you are supporting through your "less-than-fair" reporting.

I note that in your newspaper's mission statement you state that you regard yourselves "... as both accurate journalists and as caring citizens of the communities where we work." Although this single series of apparently one-sided articles, and this one unusual editorial, do not negate this mission statement, it certainly does call into question the long-term mission of your newspaper.

Is it really fair for Darrell Clem of the Westland Observer to sit in our council meetings and listen to hours and hours of the same few "recall supporters" screaming obscenities, shouting down anyone who holds a differing opinion and disrupting order, and then not report that side of the story? Because I do not fully understand the business of producing a newspaper, I cannot determine if reporters are allowed to write in a seemingly slanted style without editorial oversight. I can say, however, that because I am familiar with the most of the key players on both sides of this issue, I find it disheartening to see the unfounded accusations of the recall supporters reported so thoroughly while potential counterpoint is ignored.

So far, I have spoken only once at a council meeting. I have also written 12 e-mail messages to Brenda Gracin (the recall organizer) in response to 14 e-mails sent by her, four e-mails sent by Chuck Papineau, and two sent by Chris Millisor (all recall organizers).

Although I speak candidly about the topics presented by the recall group, I do not berate, abuse, or deny their right to speak. I expect the same from everyone who wishes to express themselves on this issue, including the Observer & Eccentric Newspaper editor.

If you read this letter, then I thank you for the time you took to do that.

Discipline Madden

I feel the lack of action Mayor Madden is unacceptably. I have tried to stay neutral through all this city clerk fiasco, but this is too much. Keith Madden is a department head with the city of Westland, and thereby, what he does reflects the city, whether it is on the job, or after hours. For him not to be at least reprimanded in some way sends a message that what he did is OK.

The mayor says, "I think he (Madden) has a constitutional right to protest the protesters." By stealing another person's name and lying to the citizens of Westland??? If this mayor thinks this is a constitutional right, then he has lost not only my vote, but also my respect.

Apology insufficient

It is with great concern that I am writing this letter to you (Mayor Robert Thomas) in regards to the recently discovered, very disturbing news of your senior director, Sylvia Kosorowsky-Wisocki, that I, along with other Westland residents watched on TV2 news and read about in the Thursday edition of the Westland Observer.

The part that bothers me most is your comment in the Observer that read: "If she did it again I'd terminate her, and I think she knows that." WHY in heaven's name would you let her have that chance? Her behavior, as well as the two other employees, should NOT be tolerated. What they did was wrong and they knew it. They not only knew it, they DID NOT care. By the time they were caught, they had already done it MANY times and at OUR, the taxpayers', expense.

As far as I am concerned, a two-week suspension without pay is simply a slap on the wrist and nothing more, especially with an annual salary of $71,625. There has been more damage done here than you, Mr. Mayor, are admitting. Sylvia not only embarrassed her staff and all the others she mentioned in the Observer, she disgraced our whole community. I cannot get over her boldness. Maybe after 23 years of being a city employee, she felt she could do no wrong or that she could just do as she pleased. Maybe she should just seek other employment, or if her age really is 65 as stated in the Observer, just gracefully retire. After all the wonderful work she has done for the seniors, maybe it's time for her to become one, then she could spend all her time in a casino spending the hefty pension she is sure to get.

We need more than her "tearful apology," which means nothing to me. The Channel 2 report showed her time card on which she was on "OUR" time, and that does mean something to me. We now know about this time. What about the other trips? Was she or was she not on "OUR" time all the other times she made her casino trips, and what about the other employees that went with her? I feel a complete audit of that department not only SHOULD be done, but also MUST be done.

You had no problem, at least from what I remember reading, in firing a Mr. Charles Skene some time ago. In light of the out and out wrongdoing Sylvia and her cohorts are not only accused of doing, but what we actually SAW them doing, thanks to TV2 and which she even admits to. I cannot understand why they three of them should not be fired. Just how long would this have gone on, had the three not "gone on" TV?

Should we believe those "three" have "unblemished records" just because that may be your feeling? We all got to watch the maintenance employee, Mike Sigworth, lie through his teeth when the reporter questioned their behavior. Could that possibly have been his first lie? I really doubt it. In regards to Sylvia and her comment to the reporter ... NO CAMERAS? ... Sorry? TOO LATE!!

The person or persons who tipped TV2 to check this all out should be given an award and the utmost respect. Without whomever it was, the whole fiasco would still be going on.

After all the horror stories of things going on in this community that I've read about recently in the Observer, I can no longer believe the motto "Westland, A great place to be." It may have been at one time, but sorry to say after 23 years of living here, I truly am looking forward to the day I can say "Westland ... A great place to be AWAY from."

School vouchers controversial

Well, well. Here we go again. The proposal to legalize a voucher system for students in "failing" public schools is almost certainly headed for a vote in November.

Kids First! Yes!, the outfit sponsoring the constitutional amendment to end the ban on spending public funds for private and parochial schools, has submitted more than enough petition signatures - 302,000 required, 463,000 turned in - to the state Elections Commission to put the measure on the ballot.

It wasn't cheap to get all those signatures. The December filing submitted to the Election Commission shows payments totaling $307,487.48 to National Petition Management of Southfield. At least some of the petition circulators were paid rather than volunteer.

The most controversial aspect of the proposal would create and fund vouchers - called "Opportunity Scholarships" - for kids in "failing" school districts to use at private or religious schools. The vouchers, if approved, would be worth about $2,700 (approximately one-half the current state per-pupil funding grant), which could be cashed at private or religious schools. A failing district is one which has a "four-year graduation rate of less than two-thirds," according to the proposal.

Thirty Michigan school districts have graduation rates under 66 percent, including Detroit and Inkster.

The proposed amendment would also allow any other school district in the state to set up a voucher system if a majority of local residents vote to do so.

What this means is that the constitutional "failing school" limitation on spending public money for private schools can be overturned by a local vote.

The historic politics of the proposal are unhelpful to supporters. "Parochialism" has appeared on the Michigan statewide ballot twice, losing badly both times.

The purest occasion was in 1970, when a constitutional amendment designed specifically to prohibit public tax dollars going to private and parochial schools passed, 56 percent to 44 percent. The idea reappeared on the ballot in 1978, packaged this time with a property tax cut and known as the "Tisch Amendment." It went down, 3-1.

Although this is 22 years later, when the deterioration of urban schools has reached crisis proportions and education ranks tops on the list of voter concerns, the Kids First! Yes! proposal so far is getting support from less than 60 percent of those polled, far below the 65-70 percent approval that conventional wisdom says is necessary going into a campaign to amend the constitution.

PHILIP POWER

Moreover, getting the measure on the ballot has already precipitated a serious split in the Michigan GOP. Gov. John Engler has repeatedly and vigorously argued it's bad politics, for fear of hurting Sen. Spencer Abraham's chances against challenger Rep. Debbie Stabenow. Biggest backer is Dick DeVos, the AmWay billionaire from Grand Rapids, who says he'll raise $5 million to support it and whose wife, Betsy, just resigned as Michigan GOP state chair.

The best argument for the voucher program is simple. Most parents will do anything in their power to get good education for their kids. But poor parents who live in inner cities with cruddy public schools can't afford private or parochial ones, which are usually much better. And when even the most passionate believers in school reform can't promise urban schools will improve quickly, what's wrong with giving vouchers to poor folks to use to help their kids while things are getting better?

The best argument against vouchers is that they would essentially suck money out of the public school system. Using vouchers as a way of fixing the public schools, the argument goes, is like the assertion made during the war in Vietnam that we could save the village only by destroying it.

In this regard, the case of the Inkster school district is instructive. Over the years, the district got so bad that enough parents pulled their kids out and sent them to private and charter schools that the district simply didn't have enough enrollment - and the state per-pupil foundation grant that goes with it - to sustain a financially viable district.

Mask auction helps put a face on homelessness

Forget TV images you've seen of dirtily clad men hanging around a homeless shelter. The Coalition on Temporary Shelter's brown brick building on Peterboro in Detroit's Cass Corridor is a place filled with hope, love and cleanly dressed men, women and children on their way to a new life.

Founded 16 years ago as a 40-bed shelter in St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Corktown, COTS helps the homeless by providing 300 meals a day and 51,000 emergency shelter nights a year. But COTS isn't just a shelter. Last year COTS, after assessing residents' employability and helping them obtain training and education, filled more than 5,000 jobs with homeless people.

That's why COTS MASKORAIDE auction Saturday, March 18 is so important. This year celebrities such as Jeff Bridges, Rosie O'Donnell, Martha Reeves and Detroit Red Wings Darrin McCarty, and artists Elbert Weber of Livonia and Curtis Bailey, Birmingham, have painted masks in hopes of changing the face of homelessness in Detroit. including Plymouth Christian Academy, painted smaller lapel pin masks for the event.

John Murphy, a Redford ceramist and instructor at Schoolcraft College in Livonia, is one of more than 170 artists, athletes and celebrities creating masks as vibrant and imaginative as the makers. Several months ago when COTS sent Murphy the mask to paint, he decided to turn it into a work of art. Using the mask as a mold, the internationally exhibited artist created three porcelain clay masks then painted them with his traditional black and white striped and checked treatments. He calls them "Targets of Hardship."

"I wanted to help the cause - the homeless," said Murphy, who frequently donates his work to Empty Bowls fundraisers around town. "It's what I always like to say, you have to give it away to keep it."

Chairperson Beth McKeown is hoping to raise more than $125,000 to fund programs such as Day Care for parents who need to receive training before becoming independent. A clothing store, stocked with donations of used pants, shirts, dresses and suits, helps residents put their best foot forward while looking for a job.

"If you're getting your life together you can stay with us two years," said McKeown. "We're giving a hand-up, not a hand-out."

For those unable to live on their own either because of advanced age or mental and physical challenges, COTS provides long-term residency. Homelessness can happen to any one. Every day fires, the loss of a job, divorce, and illness force people into a life on the streets.

"COTS is very communal," said McKeown, "everyone helping each other out."

And that's what COTS is all about.

Some of the masks will be on display through Thursday, March 16 at the Andy Sharkey Gallery and Carol Grant Decorative Arts, 510 S. Washington, Royal Oak. Call (248) 546-6770 for information.

Irish stage show performer has roots in Redford

When actor Brian Mallen talks, a slight lilt in his voice gives away his years of informal performances in the pubs of Ireland and a hint of New York snarl reveals years in the Manhattan theater circuit.

Twenty years ago he met a school teacher, Frank McCourt, now known far beyond the doorways of those smoky pubs as the author of the Pulitzer Prize winning memoir "Angela's Ashes," along with McCourt's fun-loving brother Malachy, fellow actor, bar owner and author of "A Monk Swimming."

"Tis Mallen's association with the elder McCourt that is bringing him back home.

The Redford native stars in McCourt's stage show, "The Irish ... And How They Got That Way," a song-and-dance stage performance celebrating the Irish in America, playing through Sunday, March 12 at Music Hall in Detroit.

"It's great. I'm looking forward to it," said Mallen, of performing the show in his hometown. The 1970 graduate of St. Mary's of Redford said he expects many cousins and his mother, who resides in Livonia, to attend.

Speaking from his hotel in Seattle, Mallen said the show is "first and foremost entertainment. It's got heart and soul and razzmatazz. It's a celebration of the Irish experience in America, really."

In "Irish," six actors joke, dance and sing their way through snippets of Irish history ranging from the potato famine to the assassination of the John F. Kennedy, the nation's first Irish-Catholic president.

"It makes fun with the stereotypes and how they came to be and it's really irreverent," said Mallen.

When: continues through Sunday, March 12, performances 7:30 p.m. Thursday; 8 p.m. Friday; 5 p.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday; and 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday.
Where: Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts, 350 Madison Ave., Detroit

Unlike McCourt's melancholy "Angela's Ashes," "Irish" contains 30 songs and is mostly upbeat, said Mallen.

"[MCCourt] tells about a family leaving Ireland during the famine and it gets fairly serious treatment. One-fourth of the Irish population was lost, so it's sort of the holocaust of the Irish," said Mallen.

As the grandson of Irish immigrants who fled Ireland during the famine, Mallen said those scenes recalled familiar territory.

The show's reception has been favorable, particularly in San Francisco, where Mallen said it attracted a diverse audience which included, "Asians and blacks and all types of people who aren't from this particular tribe."

Mallen says the personal, irreverent nature of Irish storytelling is what continues to perpetuate interest in Irish culture. With "Angela's Ashes," a subsequent memoir and a third one written by McCourt's younger brother, there has evolved a sort of "MCCourt cult," says Mallen.

"When [MCCourt] started writing it he never thought it was going to go anywhere," said

Mallen. "The first three chapters used to run in a pub newsletter."

Mallen says that the "MCCourt cult" is part of the second of two recent waves of interest in Irish film and culture.

"It started with 'My Left Foot.' Irish works have sort of a stark, realistic quality. For a while it was a lot of fake accents and stereotypes but since then, they've gotten hit with the real thing and I think in a way people feel that's more engaging," said Mallen.

The public's renewed interest in the "real thing" hasn't hurt Mallen's opportunities for roles any.

He is preparing to reprise his role as General Hancock in "Gods and Generals," the prequel to the film "Gettysburg," co-starring Jeff Daniels, which begins shooting this summer.

He has toured the United States and Europe with his award winning one man show, "Secrets of the Celtic Heart," directed by actress/director Ellen Burstyn. He has also served as the artistic arts director at New York's Irish Arts Center.

True to the irreverent nature of Irish entertainment, Mallen occasionally retreats to his home in Ireland, to the comfortable stage in the pubs of Galloway, to perform his comedy piece "Beside the Pint," based on "crazy pub humor."

His favorite Irish pub in the Detroit area? Cowleys' Old Village Inn in downtown Farmington. "They have some great Irish bands that play there," he said.

While he's in town, Mallen said he plans to visit with his family and as a former member of Detroit's Gaelic League, says he may take in Detroit's St. Patrick's Day parade on March 12, on his way out of town.

With St. Paddy's Day 'round the corner, the timing for Mallen's journey back home couldn't be better.

Blackthorn's repertoire includes ancient aires and melodies, Irish jigs and reels, traditional folk songs and music from contemporary Irish song-writers.

The four members play a dozen instruments including accordion, cittern, bodhran (Irish frame drum), penny whistle and flute. Belfast native Richard McMullen formed the group in 1986. The other members are Fred Klein and Dennis Green.

During the concerts McMullen tells jokes, and stories about Ireland, he also talks about the songs the group plays, and encourages people to sing along.

Singing and performing is a joyful thing for McMullen and other members of the group.

'We hope a good time is had by one and all and we're thrilled and flattered that people support us. As long as people come see us, we will play.'

Gary McMullen

Musician and member of Blackthorn

Inspired by the Kingston Trio, McMullen begged his parents to buy him a banjo when he was 12. He's been playing for over 35 years, and also plays guitar. "I've always played folk music," he said. "I even had a bluegrass band, and was frequently playing Irish tunes. It's just been a passion of mine."

Often requested songs include "The Reel and The Flickering Light," and "The Black Velvet Band."

Blackthorn works to keep their music fresh. They exchange tapes and e-mail lyrics to one another. But because everyone's so busy, they do an awful lot of rehearsing on-stage, and sometimes in some unusual places.

"We worked on an a cappella song on the golf course," said McMullen. "By the end of the 18th hole we had it. We pride ourselves on our harmony."

After hearing Blackthorn play,

McMullen and the other band members hope you'll walk away with a song in your heart, and know a little more about Irish culture and music.

"We hope a good time is had by one and all and we're thrilled and flattered that people support us," said McMullen. "As long as people come see us, we will play."

Family festival

Fifteen years ago, Mick Gavin of Redford called some of his Irish musician friends, and asked them if they would play at an Irish Fest on St. Patrick's Day.

Gavin, the father of three boys, and an accomplished local fiddler, wanted to offer families an alternative to the pub scene. The Redford resident has been playing the fiddle most of his life and brought his sons up to love Irish music too.

Sean, 13, the youngest, plays in a group that recently won second place in an under age 18 musical group competition in Ireland.

You can hear Sean and Groupai Ceol play at the festival. In addition to Gavin, group members include Colleen Burke, Jeremy Kittle and Colleen Shanks, and Tyler Duncan.

All Ireland champion dancer Pat Quinn, who is a member of the "Riverdance" dance troupe, will perform with dancers from the O'Hare School of Dance. Also appearing will be the Kitty Heinzman Ceilidh Dancers.

Duncan, who won first place for uilleann (or elbow) pipe solo at the All Ireland Fleadh Ceo (the Irish music equivalent of the Olympics) last summer will also be performing. Duncan is the first American under 15 to win the coveted Leo Rowsome Cup.

Award-winning piper: Tyler Duncan, who won first place for uilleann pipe solo in Ireland, will be playing at the 15th annual St. Patrick's Day Irish Fest.

He's returning home to Ann Arbor from Dublin where he spent the last nine months studying Irish music and attending school.

Gavin will also be playing at the festival, along with his son, Michael, 21 who plays fiddle and guitar, and other well known local entertainers including Terrence McKinney, Charlie Wilkie, Dawn Hudek, and Ed McGlinchy.

"There will be Highland pipers, musicians, singers and dancers," said Gavin. "There's plenty of room, and a dance floor. It's a great gig. I enjoy it, people love it, and are really looking forward to it."

There will be a cash bar, corned beef and cabbage dinners, pizza and other snacks will be available for purchase.

Warm comedy a sign of a good year for SRO

BY SUSAN TAUBER
STAFF WRITER
STAUBER@OE.HOMECOMM.NET

Here are a few theater trivia questions: What play won the Tony Award for Best Play in 1954? "The Teahouse of the August Moon."

Next: Who wrote the script for this outstanding comedy, which was made into a famous movie in 1956 starring Marlon Brando? Answer: John Patrick.

OK, name another play by John Patrick?

Stumped? The answer is "A Bad Year for Tomatoes."

And if you aren't familiar with the play, Standing Room Only Productions is offering everyone a chance to see another of Patrick's warm comedies also filled with personable, zany characters.

The title, "A Bad Year for Tomatoes," tends to make one question what kind of play it is.

"It's a comedy that will make people feel happy and pleased to be alive," said director Genevieve Terry of Farmington Hills. "Adults and kids will get a big kick out of it because of the funny characters."

The story is about an actress who wants to get away from her hectic life. She leases a house in the small town of Beaver Haven, to write her memoirs, according to William Mandt, SRO productions executive producer. The plot revolves around the actress, her agent, pretend sister, funny neighbors and the town sheriff. The name of the play stems from conversations about tomato growing.

The play takes place in the year 1969, which, Terry said, allows Barbara Amman of Livonia a chance to use crazy clothes for costumes. Set designer Maggie Gilkes of Farmington Hills created a tiny haven in Vermont look with an old wood cabin, complete with cedar shingles and other authentic touches.

But the biggest challenges to preparing the production for opening night were finding a beaver and instilling a New England accent in the actors.

"We had the hardest time finding a stuffed beaver for a prop," said Terry. "Luckily, my daughter, Patricia knew someone who lived in Brighton who had one we could borrow."

Alice Durbin is the dialect coach to this group of community theater performers. Ves Spindler probably has the easiest time with his accent, according to Terry. His lines consist mostly of one-word retort, stereotypical of a small town New Englander.

Not so for Linda Pelliccioni of Northville, who has the lead role of Myra. She's on stage for 56 pages of the 58-page script, said her husband, Larry Pelliccioni. He plays her wise-guy agent, Tom.

"A Bad Year for Tomatoes" is the sixth community theater production the Pelliccioni's have been in together.

"This play is really fun for us," Larry Pelliccioni said. "We've added some dialogue to the part when I attempt to seduce her. It's more fun for us since we're married."

In fact, community theater is what brought this theatrical couple together.

"We were both cast in a play at Ridgedale Players in Troy together in 1991 and we were married in 1992," he said.

"I have had the good fortune to have married my leading lady and that's just as true today as it was eight years ago."

Linda said she enjoys working with her husband on stage. "It's actually very comforting to have him up there with me," she said.

Working behind the scenes are producer and stage manager Joan Boufford of Southfield and assistant director Martha Tabacco of Farmington Hills. Ben Chunov and Mark Liljgren are responsible for lights and sound.

Ron DeMaagd handles props. Gilkes also handles the playbill.

"A Bad Year for Tomatoes" opens SRO Productions' 2000 season. The season includes "You Should Be So Lucky," opening May 12; "Agnes of God," opening July 28 and "The Last Night of Ballyhoo," which is set to open Oct. 13.

Talented 'Night Watch' cast will keep you in suspense

The Players Guild of Dearborn presents "Night Watch" weekends through Saturday, March 18. Performances 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday, March 10-11; 17-18; and 2:30 p.m. Sunday, March 12. The theater is on Madison St. near the southwest corner of Monroe and Outer Drive in Dearborn. For tickets or more information, call (313) 561-TKTS. BY SUE SUCHYTA SPECIAL WRITER

The Players Guild of Dearborn's production of Lucille Fletcher's suspenseful drama "Night Watch" is a well-acted, quick-paced and captivating production.

Under the experienced hand of director Patricia LaFramboise the talented cast has captured the traits of each character and realistically blended them into the storyline.

"Night Watch" is the story of Elaine Wheeler, a wealthy heiress plagued by insomnia, who tries in vain to convince her husband and the police that she has witnessed not one, but two dead bodies in the building across from her apartment. As a parade of intriguing characters pass through her life, the motives of the different characters suggest many possible reasons for murder and a cover-up. As Elaine continues to insist she's witnessed foul play, her husband and best friend plan to have her committed to conveniently pave the way for their ongoing affair. Will the police believe Elaine, or will someone get away with multiple murder?

Joyce McGookey is a fascinating contradiction as Elaine Wheeler, portraying both the frustrated intensity of a woman clinging to her sanity while at the same time exuding a sensual energy. Lance Abke of Plymouth, who portrays Elaine's husband John, seems stiff at first but warms to the role when his anger, impatience and frustration are stirred.

Alicia Ryan as Blanche,

Elaine's best friend and John's mistress, delivers a warm, exuberant performance.

Kirk Haas' Lt. Walker is an effective mix of sarcastic wit and determined but overworked professional. He wastes no words in his blunt but on target delivery.

In contrast, his underling, Officer Vanelli, played by Marl Ripper, overplays the humor and accent in his limited role almost to the point of mugging.

Janice Meissner's Helga would be a lot more fun without the studiously delivered German accent predicated by the script, but the nosy and self-serving housekeeper does inject some humor into the mix. Jennie Ashley, as Dr. Tracey Lake, needs more authority in her voice to pull off the illusion of an esteemed psychiatrist — she comes across as more of a sympathetic friend than a confident professional.

Rich Bulleri has fun with the role of Curtis Appleby, the colorful and nosy neighbor. Jason Thomas, as Sam Hoke, the local deli owner, makes a brief but explosive appearance when Elaine's contribution to the crime rumor mill hurts his business even more than his horrible potato salad.

David Reynolds and Gordon Mosby's set is sumptuous and detailed. It sets the tone for characters' affluence. The detailed woodwork is not just painted on. The faux marble is elegant and a natural part of the room, and the profusion of artwork is tastefully arranged.

The lighting crew had fun with some offstage lighting effects from Elaine's window. They need to consider darkening the upstage foyer, though, to distinguish the passage of time between scenes.

Director LaFramboise's attention to detail is also reflected in the costumes, right down to weather appropriate coats and elegant accessories.

The cast and crew of "Night Watch" add another strong show to the Guild's season, and will keep you in suspense until the play's final and delightful plot twist.

'The Next Best Thing' for Madonna may not be movies

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
STAFF WRITER
scasola@oe.homecomm.net

When pop star Madonna told the world she was having a child, with then-boyfriend Carlos Leon, it sent shock waves rippling from the media to households everywhere. She's never seemed to lead a conventional life, so her much-talked-about pregnancy simply became the next chapter in the ever-changing image of an American icon.

As the mother of 3-year-old Lourdes, Rochester Hills' most famous native, has now thrust herself into an unconventional sort of parenthood on screen. Art imitates life in Paramount Pictures "The Next Best Thing," in which Madonna stars opposite Rupert Everett. Madonna's character, Abby, finds herself out of love but wanting to have a child. The drama unfolds when, after an unexpected and unintended night with her best friend Robert — who happens to be gay — Abby discovers she's pregnant. Though the situation initially seems far from ideal, they agree to raise their son, Sam (played by newcomer Malcolm Stumpf) together.

Directed by John Schlesinger, the drama opens with juxtaposed scenes of Abby instructing her serene yoga class and Robert working in sweltering heat to create a magnificent garden for an aging fashion designer named Ashby and his life partner. From the first shot, Schlesinger welcomes viewers into a dewy, gold-toned day in southern California. Abby's profession as a yoga instructor signifies spirituality, while Robert's work as a gardener rather obviously suggests fertility.

The peaceful weaving of these shots is disrupted when Abby returns home to find her boyfriend, Kevin (Michael Vartan), packing his belongings and leaving her for good. Kevin delivers the predictable "It's not you, it's me" speech. Abby runs to Robert for comfort. As expected, he rescues her from her sadness — by humiliating Kevin and stirring quite a few martinis.

In a barrage of contrived moments, the film shows how these two friends come to spend one hazy, drunken New Year's Eve together as more than friends. Complete with the necessary fireworks. It's enough to have the audience rolling their eyes and grunting in shared disappointment. While Everett and Madonna's close friendship translates on screen, it doesn't develop into passion or urge the audience into pulling for the characters to come together. The plot uses an almost sitcom strategy, but Robert and Abby are no Ross and Rachel.

The film's title has multiple meanings: from choosing the next-best type of family, to finding the next, and the best love, to resolving the pain and anguish that results, the best way they can.

Threaded amid this story, the film deals with homosexuality as it is ignored or ridiculed by others, in a way that suggests just how unusual the circumstances surrounding Abby and Robert's family will become. The film finally takes a turn when Abby meets and falls in love with Ben (Benjamin Bratt), a businessman from New York. The relationship tears Robert and Sam apart, questioning with the true definition of a father and the underlying meaning of family.

Where the acting in "The Next Best Thing" falls short, director of photography Elliot Davis more than compensates with creative imagery and suggestive shots. Davis represents a feeling of entrapment when Robert sits in the horizontally lined shadows of his bedroom with the blinds drawn.

RON BARTZDORF

Little surprises: Rupert Everett and Madonna star in "The Next Best Thing," a drama about one unconventional family. The film is already in area theaters.

Ruth Myers costuming creates a convincing yoga instructor with Abby's free-flowing Indian-inspired wardrobe. She defines Ben by his razor-sharp suits. Every detail makes sense: from Abby's pink-hued vintage evening gown to the black-and-white designer gown she slips into at the Ashby mansion.

While the film isn't the finest work for these revered stars and filmmakers, it does raise some interesting issues. Is a family defined by blood relation? Can it be held together with love, against the odds?

It's all a matter of seeking out "The Next Best Thing."

Trio 'Rev'ed up for debut

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
STAFF WRITER
scasola@oe.homecomm.net

Stepping slowly down the concrete steps and past the sound-absorbing curtain into the basement studio where Rev has begun hatching its own sound, a chill fills the air. It's not so much the location — an unassuming little house in Ferndale — as it is the feeling of something that's just beginning.

On the verge

Much like the Detroit music scene itself, Rev is a band on the verge, still gripping onto past successes while brimming in energy and ambition for the future. Drummer Charlie Grover, a former Waterford resident, rises fresh from the ashes of Sponge and shows he's back where he belongs behind his drum set. Vocalist and guitarist Todd Price, who bears some resemblance to Green Day's Billy Joe, straps on a Les Paul and steps over to a microphone. With his black hair pointed up in all directions, it doesn't seem to matter that there isn't a crowd in his basement. He's still set to play. Dolunt and longtime friend Mike Price — former members of Detroit's Plain — were just as ready for a change as Grover was when the trio first formed in late November, 1999.

With four clicks of the drumsticks, Rev starts its engines.

Somehow the sound is so much bigger than the four walls holding it in. Detroit audiences will hear it resonate when Rev makes its metro area debut, opening for California's modern rockers, Lit, March 15 at Detroit's St. Andrews Hall. Lit may be best-known for their first radio hit "My Own Worst Enemy." "It's a great first show," said Price. "So far it's the best thing that's happened to us."

Grover said Sponge played a few shows with Lit. The gig resulted from that connection and a mutual friend. The drummer has no qualms about using his past success to give Rev a head start toward the future.

While who you know is important in the music business, it's truly songs like "Girls Don't Talk to Me," with its signature guitar-driven arrangements and addictive melodies that will catapult Rev into the public eye.

Just beginning

Still in its infancy, the band's got a host of material and continues to write, rehearse and collaborate. "We were all on the same page," said Grover, with a smile. "Everyone knew what we wanted to accomplish." Rev is a totally collaborative project. The band mates not only live together, they bounce ideas off of each other and rehearse regularly. They name influences as diverse as The Beatles and The Rolling Stones, to Social Distortion and Incubus.

Price, lead vocalist and guitarist, writes most of the lyrics because, he said, they "have to come, I think, from a central point of view. You have to write about what you know."

What they know for sure is the band needs to secure management and begin showcasing later this year. Rev also intends to release a CD, when the time comes. "There won't be any filler," said Dolunt with conviction. "We want an album you can listen to straight through."

There's a positive vibe reverberating through the house and beyond. "I have a good feeling about this project," said Grover. "I think the music will stand for itself."

See Rev debut with Lit, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 15, St. Andrews Hall, Detroit. All ages $15. (248) 645-6666 or www.ticketmaster.com.

Coping with fame, Britney Spears style

Britney Spears

The bedroom walls of teenage girls and boys are a testament to the teen idols of today. Just one peek into the sacred space of a teenager today would likely reveal the sweet smiles of Britney Spears. Christina Aguilera, The Backstreet Boys and N'Sync. It's all part of the teen idol cycle. For Spears, whose sold-out show at The Palace spurred a second-coming in July, living up to that teen status hasn't really affected her personal life. In a telephone interview, the young star said she's trying to keep her success in check. "I can't go home as often as I would like to," she said. "But other than that, you know, my friends they come out on the road with me and when I go home...it hasn't really affected it that much." With the success of hits like "(Baby) One More Time" and "Drive Me Crazy" Spears catapulted into the spotlight quickly and became a household name. While she admits her music is mostly digested by high schoolers, she hopes to reach an older audience with the next album. "Well, I think that my material off the second album is a little bit more mature and by doing that I think I'll capture a little bit of the older audience as well as keep the younger audience, too." Another difference? She wrote a song — an autobiographical song — on the album titled "Dear Diary." "It's just a personal song and talks about a guy who she's interested in this guy and she comes in every night and she writes about him." But about him at a price for this teenage picture of perfection. "At times it's a bit overwhelming, but I think I surround myself with really cool people that keep me humble and that I've been with for a really long time. I think that keeps me sane." Spears admitted celebrity life isn't what she expected. "There's a lot of hard work involved that I didn't see and I didn't realize. But I mean, there's ups and downs too, you know. But to sum it all up, I love what I do, you know, performing is like I guess when I'm happiest. It's a lot of fun. But no, it isn't what I thought it would be." Aside from the constant touring, being bombarded by young fans, and having her face plastered in magazines and on MTV, Spears is just your average 18-year-old. She idolizes Madonna and Janet Jackson, doesn't have a candidate preference for the upcoming elections, and her New Year's Resolution was to eat healthier. Of course, not every teenager has a doll made in her image. Not every teenager has to try to follow up the success of selling 17 million copies of a song worldwide. Spears had some advice for Britney wannabe's everywhere: "God's given them a talent. I think they should use it and express it and show the world."

Lucky fans will see the sold-out Britney Spears shows, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 14, The Palace of Auburn Hills, or 7:30 p.m. Sunday, July 9, Pine Knob Music Theatre, Independence Township. Try for tickets one more time, 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 10, Pine Knob Music Theatre, Independence Township. $25 lawn/$40 pavilion. Eight ticket limit per person. Call (248) 645-6666. You'll have a 'Grand' time at homey cafe

BY MARY QUINLEY
SPECIAL WRITER

On a recent Thursday evening, Ellen and Gary Brockway of Livonia decided to meet some friends for dinner at The Grand Cafe.

"It was great!" said Ellen Brockway, a first-time patron at the downtown Farmington eatery. "The restaurant felt very homey and relaxed. I also like the fact that there is no smoking."

The Grand Cafe serves a pot-pourri of menu choices. Patrons can order gourmet specials — a South Pacific chicken pasta, a sweet and sour chicken over rice, or shawarma and hummus with pita.

How does exotic Hawaiian chicken, a salmon club, or magnificent eggplant (served on a bun) sound? Create-your-own pizza, a cucumber with raspberry vinaigrette and goat cheese sandwich, and, a selection of soups and salads are options.

Brockway ordered the raspberry chicken. She also had a garden salad with raspberry vinaigrette dressing that she described as "delicious." Her husband, Gary, ordered a Reuben sandwich.

"The garnishes, which were like a side dish, complimented the meal," she said. "There were oranges, kiwi, pomegranate and grapes."

Desserts were big and decadent, commented Brockway. "I had the Black Forest cake. My husband had the carrot cake. He finished it with a little help from his friends."

Lance Kawas has owned the eatery since April, 1997.

"I found a place to write my screenplays," said the Dearborn resident.

So, who's in the kitchen while he's writing?

"I've been doing the cooking," said Kawas. "I have (also) trained three other people. My mamma taught me. She was a good cook."

Ellen Brockway

Customer

When he purchased the restaurant, "the business wasn't doing good," said the 30-year-old. "I had to do a lot of changing to gourmet food with a coffeehouse theme. I added couches."

He also started some "theme" evenings.

For a fee, on Tuesdays, customers can converse one-on-one with a psychic, and, on Wednesdays, a lawyer is available for consultation.

Fridays and Saturdays, said Kawas, feature various entertainment from local artists. Every second and last Sunday of the month is poetry night. "Professionals and amateurs are welcome."

How does he describe the menu?

A blend of Los Angeles flavor with some French influence, he said. "We're always coming up with new recipes. Whatever is unique and different. (For instance), customers can order any type of vegetable sandwich from asparagus to artichoke to portobello."

When you order a sandwich, ask for a sample of The Grand Mayo, a spicy herbal mayo. "We don't use regular mayonnaise," said Kawas.

Pricing is an important key to success, commented Kawas.

"(Customers can get) a gourmet portobello sandwich for $6.50. I've priced it right for the people around here to accommodate their wallets."

Frequent patron Diane Pettis agrees.

"I usually go for coffee after the show," said the Redford resident. "It's not pricey or expensive."

Pettis also enjoys the salads. "What impressed me was the freshness of the curly endive and arugula."

She recommends the Saturday night folk singing.

JUST A THOUGHT

MARGO DEWEY

A million moms, dads can make a difference

You could say the shooting death of a 6-year-old girl in Mt. Morris Township is a tragedy, but it goes beyond that. It's just plain sick!

We have had too many deaths of children as a result of a lack of gun control. Maybe that's why the May 14, 2000 "Million Mom March" in Washington D.C. makes a lot of sense. If a million moms (and dads) could influence Congress to make some crucial changes regarding gun control, then maybe our children will be safe while trying to get an education.

Who would have thought 10 years ago that children could be gunned down by other children? It seems each decade brings a new battle for youths to fight. First it was smoking in the 1980s, then drugs and alcohol in the 1990s and now semi-automatic weapons in the new millennium.

It's a bit frightening to think what could be next. We need to put a stop to all of this. We need to stop blaming everyone else and start taking responsibility for our own children. The boy who allegedly shot his classmate to death lived in crackhouse where he ended up as a result of his father going to jail and his mother being evicted from their home.

The father most recently appeared on television stating he didn't understand why his son did what he did because he should have more common sense. Well how could this young boy know anything different when he obviously had no role models? He must have been influenced by his environment. It happens every day.

Children thirst for direction from the time they are born. They follow a parent's every move. They imitate us even when we think they aren't watching. So, it's vital that we show them how to respect life and other human beings. No child should ever hold a weapon in his/her hands.

If Congress agrees to the endorsements of the Million Mom March including licensing all handgun owners to be licensed, limiting the purchase of handguns to one per month and conducting extensive background checks on any individual who wants to purchase a weapon, then maybe our children will have a chance.

We could have metal detectors set up at every kindergarten, middle school and high school to ensure the safety of our children, but that's not going to solve the problem. We could blame teachers, the movie industry, the television industry, the media and everyone else for our mistakes that we pass on to our children, but that's not going to solve the problem.

Parents are just going to have to take responsibility for raising their own children in order for this war against the innocent to end.

Think about this. What if Congress built a prison for parents whose children have committed a crime such as the one in Mt. Morris Township? The sentencing would require the parents to stay behind bars with their children for at least 10 years. The only way the parents could receive parole is if they prove to a judge and jury that they know what is most important in life-raising a child.

How many parents would end up in that special prison? How many would make parole?

That's just a thought!

One million moms marching, motivating, making a difference.

That's the objective of a grass roots effort by a mom to inspire one million mothers, grandmothers, stepmothers, godmothers, future mothers and honorary mothers to march on Washington with the goal of prompting Congress to improve current gun control legislation.

New Jersey organizer Donna Dees-Thomases is hoping the "Million Mom March" - slated for none other than Mother's Day, May 14 - will draw attention to the need for what she calls a "common sense gun policy."

Dees-Thomases says she was appalled by the images she saw on television in August 1999 as young children were being led away from their California day care as an armed shooter roamed freely.

"One week later, I applied for a permit to march on the Mall in Washington, D.C., nine months later. As a mother, I know what can be created in this amount of time," stated Dees-Thomases.

With just two months left until the event media attention and committed marchers have swollen to vast proportions thanks to such notable sponsors as the National Parent/Teacher Association, Oxygen.com, Guess and Northwest Airlines.

"This initiative has been a true labor of love by a silent group out there," said Barb Case, the metropolitan-Detroit MMM co-coordinator and Plymouth resident. "I've been most impressed with the progress made, initially by one mom from her basement, into a powerful movement that's only months away from coming to fruition."

Case, the mother of four children ranging in age from 10 to 21, says the tragic shootings at Jonesboro, Columbine and Granada Hills are senseless examples of the unnecessary violence that cries out for better gun regulation.

"The Million Mom March isn't about prohibiting gun sales or gun ownership, because I believe there are lawful uses for a gun like a rifle for hunting. But I do believe there is an immediate need for gun control legislation and that licensing is a necessity."

A few good MOMS

MOMS

PARENTS MOBILIZE FOR GUN LEGISLATION

The current Michigan State Firearms Law states that owners of handguns, rifles and shotguns are not required to be licensed.

"In order to drive a car or cut someone's hair you need to be licensed. That's for the public's protection. Why is it that we don't insist that gun owners do the same?" added Case.

One of the most amazing aspects of the pre-march coordination has been the ability to spread the word and recruit active participants via the Internet. The Million Mom March has a succinct yet informative Web site for anyone interested in the event and the issues being furthered by marchers (see related story).

It has been the consensus of those involved, from marchers like Case to MMM state of Michigan coordinator Spring Venema, that the gun violence epidemic isn't someone else's problem and that in order to effect change it has to start with just one mom, or one dad or individual who cares.

"This has to be done in a bi-partisan fashion for the safety and well being of our children. If Congress isn't going to be responsive on Mother's Day then they'll see our response on election day," said Case. "But I don't see that most responsible gun owners would object to licensing."

While the actual May 14 march in Washington may not be the way everyone wishes to have their voice heard, Case said there are numerous other ways people can contribute such as contacting their legislators, distributing postcards, taking the issue to their churches, service organizations and mom groups or participating in a local version of the national walk on the same day.

"Write, call or e-mail your opinion about gun legislation whether you contact your local state representative or the president of the United States so that it remains in the forefront of their minds and they take action," said Case. "We can't let senseless acts of gun violence happen any more."

Case is working collaboratively with co-coordinator Lori Mizzi-Spillane of Troy, a logistics manager for the United States Army. Mizzi-Spillane says nobody should be naive enough to believe this event is the ultimate solution.

"This is just one thing we can do to make change," said Mizzi-Spillane, the mother of two young children. "It's not an attempt to take away someone's second amendment rights... it's a way to insure that no other children have to lose their life or be afraid to go to school because of gun violence."

The Troy mother said two buses have been secured through a partnership with Greyhound to take marchers to Washington, D.C., the weekend of May 12-14. Mizzi-Spillane estimates 2,000 people from the metro-Detroit area are committed to participating and she's expecting more from other parts of the state.

"I'm ecstatic about the response. It's all good and a step in the right direction," said Mizzi-Spillane.

Northwest Airlines and ProAir are also offering discounted fares if you identify yourself as a participant in the Million Mom March. "Anyone can participate, whether you're a mom, future mom or what we call an 'honorary mom,' such as grandparents or aunts and uncles."

Participants are being sought to join the march. For more information call (888) 989-MOMS or visit the Web site at www.millionmomsmarch.com

MILLION MOM MARCH
MOTHERS' DAY 2000

We, as mothers, endorse the following ...

Sensible "cooling off" periods and background checks

We believe that it is only common sense that sensible "cooling off" periods and extensive background checks be required of an individual who wants to purchase from any person or place weapons intended only for killing or injuring humans.

License handgun owners and register all handguns

We call on Congress to require all handgun owners to be licensed; in addition, handgun owners must register their weapons with the proper authorities. These simple actions make sense.

Safety locks on all handguns

Guns, like every other consumer product sold in America, have to meet minimum safety standards. Gun manufacturers should have to design guns with locks built in, and with other common-sense devices like loaded-chamber indicators and child-proofing.

Limit purchases to one handgun per month

We believe that it is only common sense to end straw purchase transactions where an individual who may legally purchase a firearm is hired to purchase firearms for gun traffickers. These guns are sold on the illegal market and eventually wind up on our nation's streets, killing our kids.

No-nonsense enforcement of gun laws

We call on all officers of the law to assume a no-nonsense approach in enforcing existing gun laws and to join us in our mutual crusade for stronger legislation.

Enlistment of help from corporate America

We call on all child-friendly, nonviolent stores, companies, and corporations to sponsor us in these pursuits by advertising our message that guns, in the wrong hands, is simply unacceptable. We call on the like-minded to work with community law enforcement agencies to offer swaps of meaningful goods and services for guns. And that the guns be destroyed by the proper authorities. In turn, we, the mothers, will patronize all child-friendly, nonviolent sponsors who join us in this mission.

Recruitment

Our aim is to recruit, from all walks of life, mothers, grandmothers, step mothers, godmothers, foster mothers, future mothers, and all others willing to be "honorary mothers" in this crusade. Our goal is to educate and mobilize the mothers of America to this cause. Our commitment as voting citizens is to realize our goals by Mothers' Day, 2000.

Help raise funds for breast cancer research

The 9th Annual Komen Race for the Cure, Michigan's largest walk/run, will be held Saturday, April 15 at the Detroit Zoo. Presented locally by Detroit's Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute, the race is a 5K women's run and 1 mile fun walk.

"The Race for the Cure is an opportunity for Michigan to salute those who are working to find a cure for breast cancer, to honor those who have survived and to remember those who have passed away from this disease," said Michigan First Lady and race Honorary Chair Michelle Engler. "As a mother of three daughters, I believe in this event because I want a cure to be found in my children's lifetime."

Sponsored nationally by JCPenney, American Airlines, Ford Motor Company, Johnson & Johnson, the National Football League, New Balance, Yoplait and locally by Computware Corp. and Sprint PCS, the race is expected to raise over $500,000 for breast cancer education and research. The Detroit race is one of more than 100 Komen Race for the Cure events and ranks among the top 10 in the country for the number of participants.

Several new features have been added to the 2000 Race for the Cure, including:

— WNIC FM and JCPenney will host Race Packet Pick up April 10 through April 13. Race participants can pick up their race numbers, T-shirts and race day information at area JCPenney stores during that time.

The Q95.5 Race Expo is an all-day health and race information open house to be held Friday, April 14 at Somerset Inn on Big Beaver in Troy. The expo is the last chance to register for the race.

Focus on women, issues in March

Women have a lot to do, and a little gratitude seems appropriate. For this reason, Henry Ford Community College will host several activities to honor women during the month of March, which has been designated as Women's Recognition Month.

Women's Recognition Week first took place at HFCC during the week of March 3, 1975. The program was started in order to bring attention to the special problems and unsung achievements of women. The period was proclaimed Women's History Month in March 1996. Following the national consensus that women's contributions deserve more acknowledgment, HFCC's Focus on Women Program extended the week into the full month of March.

Events will be held in Room L-14 of HFCC's Liberal Arts Building, located at 5101 Evergreen Road in Dearborn and are free and open to the public, unless otherwise noted. The schedule of events is as follows.

Special Limited Time Offer

- Companion Crypts Starting at $3,500, Pre-Need
- Pre-planning Discounts of $500 on Mausoleum Crypts
- Interest-Free Financing to 60 Months
- Low Down Payments

Once exclusively for the wealthy and famous, today the advantages of above-ground burial are well within the reach of all families. And for a limited time, the distinction and convenience of mausoleum entombment are even more affordable.

Mausoleum burial has long been favored because it is clean, dry and ventilated, and affords year-round visitation, regardless of the weather.

The cost compares favorably with in-ground burial, because it eliminates lots, vaults, monuments or memorials.

Just completed, our Chapel Mausoleum addition features a crypt wall of a Michigan scene in cast bronze, plus skylights, beautiful stained glass and the finest marble and granite.

To find out more about the benefits of mausoleum entombment at Glen Eden, visit us, call 248-477-4480 or send in the coupon BUT ACT NOW. Because, while the prestige, dignity and serenity of mausoleum entombment will last for generations, these savings won't.

Put best foot forward for a good cause

The Make-A-Wish Foundation® of Michigan recently announced their first "Walk for Wishes" fund-raiser scheduled for Saturday, March 25 at Hines Park.
Walk for Wishes is a 5K (3.1 mile) fun walk for families of all ages. The Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan grants the wishes and dreams of children, between the ages of 2 1/2 and 17, with terminal or life threatening illnesses. According to organizers, all pledges for walkers will benefit the foundation who granted 274 wishes in Michigan last year.
"Walk for Wishes is much more than a fund-raising effort. It is a community wide program to celebrate the difference that caring people can make in the lives of children who suffer from life-threatening illnesses and their families.

It is a chance for donors to meet wish families, for wish families to meet volunteers, for everyone who helps share the power of a wish to be together."
The Walk for Wishes 5K fun walk will take place Saturday, March 25 at Hines Park/Nankin Mills Pavilion (located on Hines Drive between Farmington and Merriman Roads). Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the walk, 9 a.m.
Walk for Wishes details include:
■ The walk is about three miles long. The entire route is paved and handicapped accessible. No running please.
■ Anyone can participate without cost. We do ask you to complete the registration form so that we can know of your interest in our organization.
■ Teams of walkers are encouraged. Join with co-work ers, family members, and neighbors to form a team and share the fun.

■ Refreshments will be available at the end of the walk. You may want to bring a canteen or water bottle with you.
■ Walk for Wishes will take place snow or shine — so bring an umbrella in case of inclement weather.
Because the average value of a wish is $5,000 and the Make-A-Wish Foundation does no telephone soliciting, fund-raising events like the walk help contribute significantly to the organizations ability to grant so many wishes annually.
If you are interested in making a donation or participating call (517) 347-2282 or (800) 622-WISH. There is no registration fee to participate. A $50 pledge earns a long sleeve T-shirt.

Children can be taught good behavior during worship services

PASTOR POWELL

Children will behave. While I understand their concern, I know that young people only learn to behave by repeated visits to such a service. It doesn't mean you should leave the children. There are some ways you can prepare them. Bringing kids to a house of worship doesn't have to be a chore for parent or child.

■ Don't expect total silence from your child (especially if it's their first time or if they are under the age of 5). Before you enter the sanctuary, remind them that we should all be quiet while in worship. Practice whispering before service begins. If there are parts to the service that will be read from a book, show them what will be read (even if they can't read yet, it'll be a teaching moment and may hold their attention). During prayer, if they have a hard time being quiet, try softly whispering or humming to them as you pray.

■ Set a good example for your kids. If you chat all the way through service, your child will likely do so as well.

■ Be prepared. Tell your child what might happen at the service. Teach your child what to do when they pray (e.g. fold hands, close eyes, be silent and listen, depending upon your faith tradition). Sing songs and pray prayers at home that might be sung at worship. Bring quiet toys, soft books, or coloring books and crayons to the service. Bring a small snack for your child if necessary (it's better than having to struggle with a hungry toddler).

■ Use nursery or childcare as a tool. Don't automatically check your child in at the nursery door. Keep your child with you in worship as long as possible, so that you can encourage good behavior in a service. If your child gets extremely distracting or squirmy, take them to the nursery. Let their behavior be your guide, but don't give up too soon.

■ Don't worry about "appearances". Everyone knows that children have their moments and their moods. If you get lots of stares, either ignore them, or find another place to worship that is more conducive to normal child movement and noise. Forget your own childhood, what you may or may not have been allowed to do.

Our generation are of a different generation with different needs, respond to them as individuals. Children learn by doing, and most worship services are based on hearing. We can enjoy our worship, experience with our children, if we properly prepare ourselves. I am convinced that God has a heart for children, and we should too.

Pastor Carla Thompson Powell has served Timothy Lutheran Church since September of 1996. She lives in Livonia with her husband and son. You can reach her at tclivonia@netzero.com

Bueter's offers fly fishing classes, trips for novice and experienced

Bueter's Outdoors, a Northville store specializing in fly fishing, has announced a new travel incentive program. The program is designed to allow companies to boost sales, reward outstanding performance and building loyalty among customers by providing complete fly fishing getaway packages at remarkably affordable prices. Bueter's representatives will handle all the details, allowing the clients' customers or employees to relax and enjoy some of the finest fishing destinations in the U.S. One example of a program is a four day trip to Colorado with a wide range of fishing opportunities. After flying to Denver and being transported to Buena Vista, guests will spend a day floating the unspoiled Arkansas River for wild brown trout. The next day finds them at 13,000 feet, well above the tree line, float tube fishing high mountain lakes for beautiful cutthroat trout. The last day allows them to explore some of the many headwater streams in the area on foot, or return to favorite sports from previous days. Bueter's takes care of every detail, including lodging at B & B's, professional guides, unbelievable shore lunch, appropriate fishing licenses, and knowledgeable hosts to provide tips and tactics based on years of experience. Bueter's also offers beginner to executive fly fishing equipment packages starting at only $250. The packages all include a quality fly rod, matching reel, appropriate line, waders and equipment. For those new to fly fishing or needing a refresher, complete fly fishing classes are also offered. John Bueter, proprietor of Bueter's Outdoors, believes that the travel incentive program will be a great way for companies to reward outstanding employees or customers. "Our travel incentive program is a gift that will last a lifetime. More and more people are finding fly fishing to be a passion. Customers and employees will long remember the experience, and will always remember the people that made it possible." Bueter's Outdoors is located at 120 East Main Street in downtown Northville. Along with providing a full line of fly fishing and fly tying equipment, they have been offering Adventure Series™ fishing excursions for the past five years. They can be reached by phone at (248) 349-3877 or e-mail at bueters@aol.com. Visit their Web site at www.bueter-outdoors.com

Dead Sea Scrolls exhibit

The Dead Sea Scrolls, scriptures of a community that disappeared two millennia ago, will again come to life in an exhibit of replicas from the manuscripts and artifacts of an ancient Israeli civilization.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Westland presents a Dead Sea Scroll Exhibit, free to the public, March 9-11. The scrolls were discovered in 1947 by a Bedouin shepherd boy who was out searching for his strays along the northwestern shore of the Dead Sea. During that search, he cast a stone into a cave and heard something shatter.

Intrigued by the sound, he returned later with a companion and discovered a cache of large clay jars — some fully intact — which held the promise of a treasure from some bygone age.

The shepherds' discovery revealed a massive collection of ancient biblical and non-biblical scrolls. Those manuscripts were named for the community in which they were found, the Qumran collection, or Dead Sea Scrolls.

The church, at 7575 Hix Road in Westland. The exhibit is open 6-9 p.m. Thursday, March 9; Friday, March 10 6-9 p.m.; and 12-8 p.m. Saturday, March 11. Call (734) 459-4580 for more information.

CC stops Chargers, 4-2

State champions win quarterfinal

After winning the Division I hockey title in 1999, some might think Redford Catholic Central might not be as hungry this year.

Don't sell that meal to the Shamrocks.

CC clamped down on defense in the third period and skated past Livonia Churchill in quarterfinal play on Wednesday night at Redford Ice Arena, 4-2, to earn their third trip to the semifinals in four years.

"We knew we had a lot of returnees from last year and when we started working out in June, our goal was to get back to Flint and the finals," said CC junior forward Jim Spiewak, who scored two goals on the night. "We worked hard to get back there — and we're in the semifinals at least."

The Shamrocks (24-2) will play Troy — a 2-1 winner over Waterford Mott — at 8:30 p.m. Friday night in the Division I semifinal at Flint's IMA Arena.

But as far as Churchill (16-10-2) was concerned, this was for the state championship.

"This was the state final right here — I'll say that to anyone," said Chargers' coach Jeff Hatley. "We would have had to beat Trenton (in the regional final) and CC to get to Flint and they were the top two teams in the state."

And after Chargers' junior forward Rory Cesarz slammed a pass past Shamrocks goalie Ben Dunne with 4:28 left in the second period to cut CC's lead to 3-2, it looked like Churchill might just have a shot at the real state title.

Instead, CC took the wind out of Churchill's sails by playing solid defense and not giving the Chargers many, if any, strong scoring chances down the stretch.

"We clamped up (the defense) after that," said CC coach Gordie St. John. "We had an awful lot of pressure in the third period and they had a hard time sustaining offensive momentum in the third. Their game was to push the puck up and hope for a couple of break-aways. It made sense."

CC provided a lot of offensive pressure too, and were it not for Churchill junior goalie Ryan McBroom, it could have been a repeat of the regional, where the Shamrocks outscored its three foes, 29-4. McBroom made 21 saves in the game — to nine for Dunne — and stopped a key first-period flurry where CC could have taken command of the score and the flow.

"For him to come back after not playing for four weeks and beat Trenton and have this kind of game says a lot," said Hatley. "There's not two tougher teams to stop."

But the Shamrocks' version of patient defense managed to clinch the win. They kept the play deep enough in the final minutes to keep McBroom in net, when Churchill tried to pull him for an extra attacker.

He finally managed to get to the bench with 43 seconds left but, seconds later, CC's Brandon Kaleniecki cleared the puck out of the zone. Spiewak and senior forward Dave Moss slipped out on a 2-on-1 and Spiewak's backhander into the empty net with 28 seconds iced the game.

"We didn't panic. We just kept calm and kept plugging away," said Spiewak. "The defense clamped down."

CC led 2-0 after the first period, despite McBroom's efforts.

Senior defenseman Ryan Yost flipped a rebound over McBroom's shoulder with 9:23 gone in the stanza to open the scoring, while Joe Moreau and Mike Ratigan had the assists. Spiewak then made it 2-0 with 2:58 to play when he flicked a rebound past McBroom before he could react to the initial shot, with Yost and Moss earning the assists.

Churchill bounced back just into the second period. Senior forward Tom Sherman stripped the puck from CC attacker at his own blue line, outraced everyone for the breakaway, then deked Dunne once and slipped the puck into the net to cut the lead to 2-1.

The Shamrocks regained their two-goal cushion at the 7:39 mark of the period. Yost's hard shot from the point missed its mark and went behind the net, but the carom came right to senior forward Brian Williams, whose backhand shot found the target. Joe Hillebrand picked up the other assist on the goal.

Churchill again pulled within one with 4:28 left in the period on Cesarz's goal, with Tom Sherman and Ryan McDonell getting the assists, but could get no closer under CC's defense.

"We needed a game like this," said St. John. "We needed a tough, tough challenge to get back into the trenches."

And step back up to the dinner table.

Borgess' 2nd-half run tops Trojans

Clareceville ends campaign at 14-8

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK

For 16 minutes, coach Charles Albright thought he was having flashbacks to Halloween.

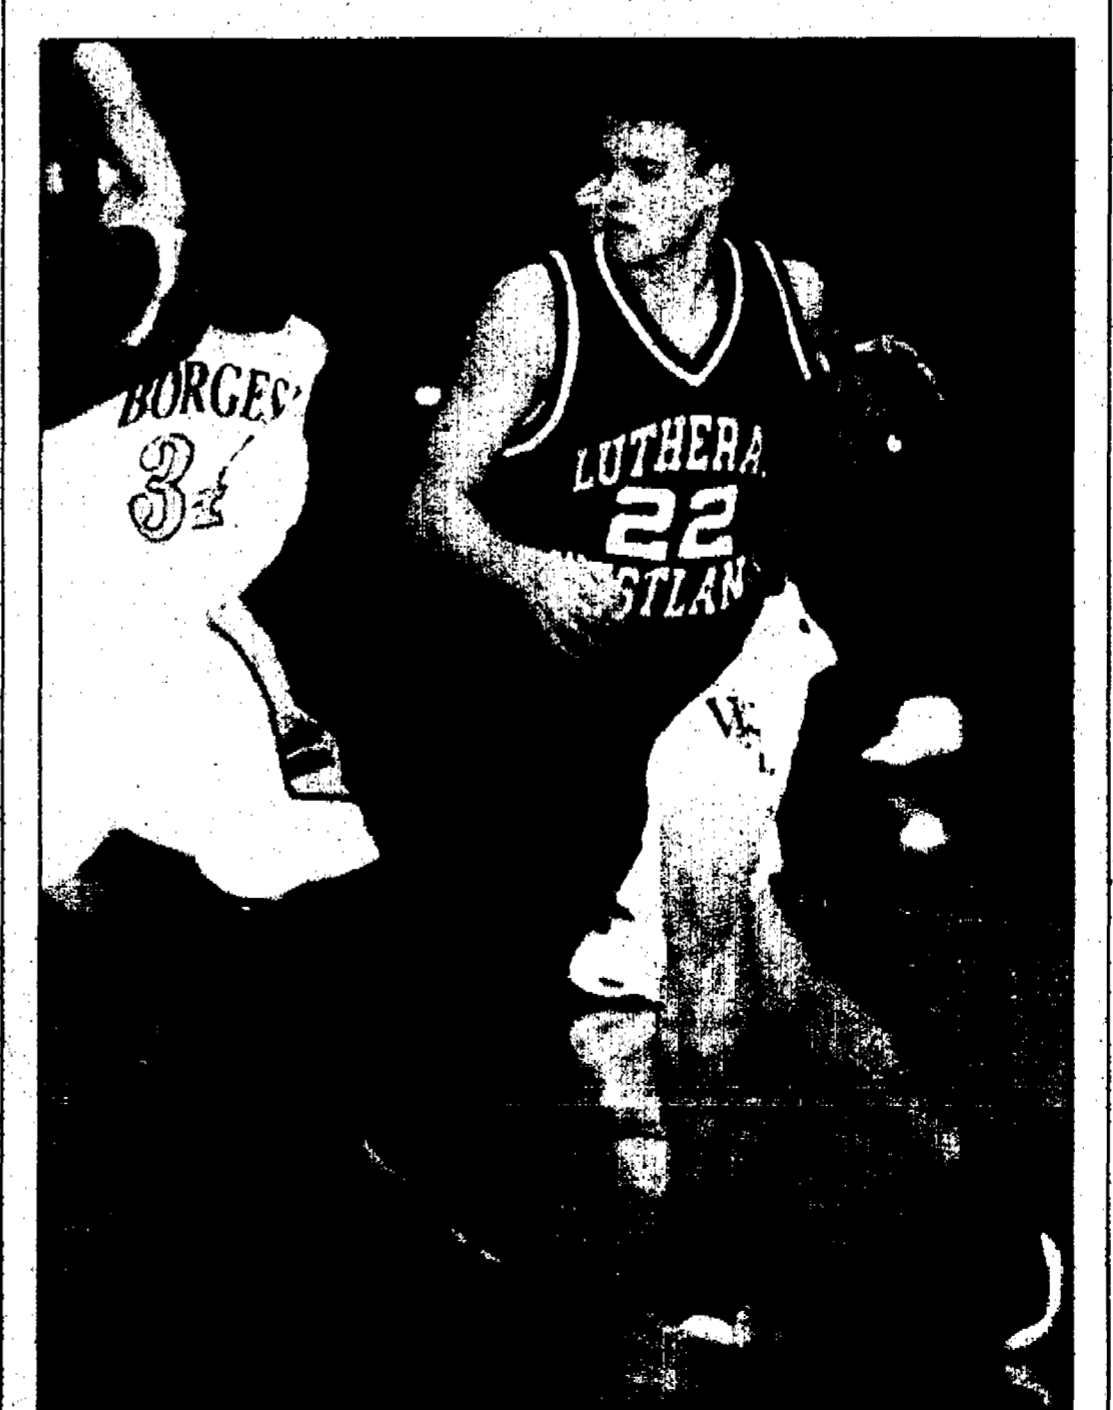

Underdog Livonia Clareceville threw a scare into Albright's Redford Bishop Borgess team for a half Wednesday night before finding out in the final 16 minutes what it was like to have the stake driven into its heart.

The Trojans actually led the Spartans at halftime, 22-21, as Albright wondered if Trick or Treat time came around twice a year, not just in late October.

But the masquerade party was over when Borgess put up a 21-4 third quarter and rolled on to a 63-39 victory that put them in their own Class C District 75 championship game at 7 p.m. Friday against Detroit Benedictine, a 57-35 winner over Academy of Detroit of Ferndale in the other semifinal.

"I was just talking with my coaches," Albright said, "and we were saying that it might have been a good thing

PREP HOCKEY Shocker

Late Churchill goal by Smith upsets Trenton in regional, 2-1

BY BRAD EMONS
SPORTS WRITER
bemons@oc.homecomm.net

Livonia Churchill hockey coach Jeff Hatley felt he just won the Masters.

The only thing missing was a green jacket following Saturday's 2-1 upset victory over Trenton before an estimated 1,100 fans in the Division I regional championship game at Dearborn's Killpatrick Arena.

The Chargers, who improved to 16-9-2 overall, pulled off the stunner against the No. 2-ranked Trojans behind Sean Smith's two goals, including the game-winner with just 4:05 remaining in the final period on assists from Rory Cesarz and Adam Krug.

"The puck was deflected, the rebound came back to me and I had a clear shot," said Smith, a junior. "It was very exciting, very intense."

"Trenton is a great team, solid all the way around. They can put the puck in the net. They hit and they're very fast."

But Churchill, despite just 13 shots on goal, was up to the task against Trenton, sporting a 24-2 record and winners of eight state championships since 1976.

"We've never been much of a league team, our main focus has always been on the majors," said Hatley, who guided the Chargers to their first regional title since 1986. "We use a lot of golf analogies. I told our guys the Masters is the tourney of the year and our goal was to be there on the final day in the final group."

The game's low score can be attributed to Churchill making it a defensive struggle.

In a 5-2 Jan. 29 loss at Trenton, Churchill held the Trojans to 14 shots. This time the Chargers limited Trenton to 18.

"There's a big commitment to defense on this team and I'm proud of every guy tonight," Hatley said.

Hatley was particularly elated for junior netminder Ryan McBroom, who was playing his first game since Feb. 4.

McBroom had to sit out an additional regional two games after Churchill forfeited its final four regular season contests following a post-game incident with rival Livonia Stevenson.

"What a pressure situation to be in," Hatley said. "His first game back is the regional final. All the other players had a couple of games in, but for Ryan to come in and play the way he did... give him credit."

"I'm happy for him because he took a lot of criticism from the Stevenson game."

Unfortunately, McBroom's luck seems to be nothing but bad for the 1999-2000 campaign.

He spent the first half of the season sitting out with a pulled groin. Then came the additional two-game suspension.

And in the wild celebration following the win over Trenton, McBroom got his skate caught underneath him in the post-game pileup with his teammates along the boards and had to be carted off to the lockerroom with a hyperextended knee, missing the post-game awards ceremony.

After being checked out by a trainer, McBroom later was walking on his own and was expected to play in Wednesday's quarterfinal against No. 1-ranked and defending state champion Redford Catholic Central.

In the opening period, the Chargers took only three shots on Trenton goaltender Tony Dryer, but Smith's backhander from Jason Turri and Mike Andes made it 1-0 with 11:11 to go in the opening period.

Trenton applied the pressure in the second period, outshooting Churchill 9-4 as Mark DeSana beat McBroom from inside 10 feet

Blazers runner-up to South

No doubt about it, the Livonia Ladywood girls hockey team showed some improvement in its second season of play.

A year ago, the Blazers posted a 1-15-3 record for coach Ron Predmesky.

This year, Ladywood again lost its last game of the season — but the defeat was by a 3-2 score to Grosse Pointe South in Saturday's state playoff title game at City Center Ice Arena.

Seven schools in the state have girls hockey teams.

That made the Blazers 18-3 in their second season. The Lady Blue Devils were 19-1, the lone loss coming to Ladywood to snap a 62-game winning streak.

Sarah Fox, leading scorer for the Lady Blue Devils, notched the game-winning goal on a penalty shot.

Machrina Fallon, assisted by Andrea Schimmel, and Katie O'Dea, assisted by Andrea Siwicki, scored both of Ladywood's goals to give the Blazers a 2-0 lead in the first period.

Fallon was selected the tournament MVP for Ladywood.

Ladywood defeated Harper Woods Regina, 8-0, in its tournament opener and knocked off Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook-Kingswood, 7-2, to reach the finals.

O'Dea, who scored 59 goals this season, was named the state's Miss Hockey.

Siwicki joined her on the All-State first team.

Blazers' goalie Megan Shefferly was named second-team All-State, while the honorable mention category included Jacque Lupinacci, Schimmel, Fallon and Jana Beumel.

The team awards were: MVP—O'Dea; Scholar/Athlete—Schimmel; Defense—Shefferly; Hustle—Fallon; Most Improved—Lauren Sanford.

The Blazers were coached by Predmesky plus assistants Carolyn Pensom and Mark Curtin. Brenda Blackmer was the trainer and Debbie Shefferly the team manager.

Whalers batter Kingston for 15th straight win

It was the open-door policy Tuesday night at Plymouth's Compuware Arena.

The penalty box door, that is. In a game marred by 45 penalties — 25 against the visiting Kingston Frontenacs — the Plymouth Whalers erupted for six first-period goals and steamrolled Kingston, 9-2.

The win was the Whalers' 15th-straight and pulled them to within a point of the top spot in the Ontario Hockey League, held by the Ottawa '67s. Plymouth is 41-17-4, with 87 points — first in the OHL's West Division. Ottawa is 42-18-3, with 88 points.

The loss dropped Kingston to 35-21-5 (77 points). Stephen Weiss, Jamie Lalonde and Kris Vernarsky each scored two goals in the game, with Weiss and Vernarsky adding one assist each.

Shaun Fisher added a goal and three assists, Tomas Kurka had a goal and an assist, Eric Gooldy had a goal, Jared Newman and Justin Williams each had three assists, and Damian Suram had two assists.

Catholic Central trims Stevenson in regional Defending state hockey champion Redford Catholic Central completed an impressive Division I regional sweep Saturday night with a 7-2 triumph over Livonia Stevenson at Redford Ice Arena.

Seven different players scored goals for the Shamrocks, who improved to 23-2 overall.

In three regional wins, CC outscored its opponents 29-4, including two mercy-rule victories.

Stevenson, which had to forfeit its final five regular season games because of a post-game incident Feb. 4 with rival Livonia Churchill, finished the season at 13-6-2 overall.

CC led 2-1 after one period and 5-1 after two periods. The Shamrocks had a wide advantage in shots on goal, 52-16.

"They played a respectable game and Stevenson should be commended," CC coach Gordie St. John said. "To do as well as they did after spending nearly a month off is difficult."

"Give credit to their coach Mike Harris. They played a clean, super game and I appreciate that. He was a real gentleman about the whole situation."

Fifteen penalties were whistled, eight against CC and seven against Stevenson.

Junior Jared Ross led the Shamrocks with one goal and two assists. Jim Spiewak and Mike Ratigan each added a goal and assist. Ryan Yost, Rick Buttery, Joe Moreau and Jason MacDonald added goals for CC.

Dave Moss and Brian Williams each collected two assists, while Andrew Eggert, Jeff Davis, John Perkovich and goaltender Ben Dunne contributed two apiece.

Bobby Zagata scored a short-handed goal for Stevenson at 9:35 of the opening period from Matt Calus for a 1-0 lead, but CC countered with goals at 12:14 and 14:43 to take a 2-1 advantage.

"It was beneficial to get off to a fast start and we had an outstanding first period," Harris said. "We kind of had an unconventional game plan. We kept a guy high in the neutral zone."

"We were fortunate to capitalize on the short-handed goal. To score the first goal in their building kept us energized. It was a big emotional lift for us."

"We were pretty excited to be in the game because CC has had a track record of eliminating opponents in the second period."

CC then scored a short-handed, even-strength and power-play goal in the second period to take a commanding four-goal lead.

With 1:28 left in the second period, Stevenson's starting netminder Kevin Marlowe received a concussion in a collision after taking an elbow to the head with 1:28 remaining in the second period. Marlowe did not return for the final period and was replaced by sophomore Rob Griusius.

CC's Moreau, a senior, received a four-minute penalty for charging.

"The truth of the matter is that you never want to argue with a call, but maybe he (Moreau) got knocked into the goalie and couldn't avoid it," St. John said. "We certainly don't make it a practice of running goalies."

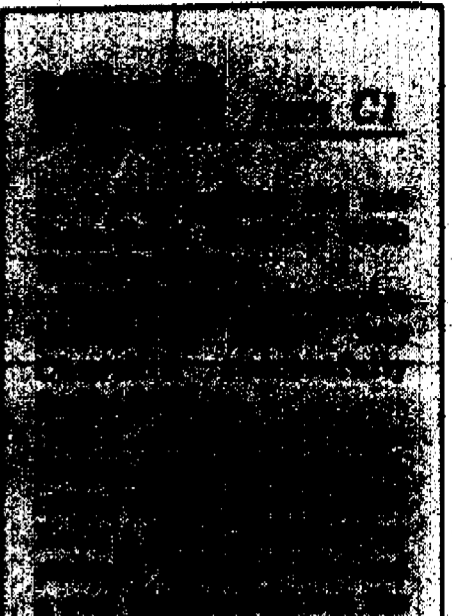

CC scored two more insurance goals in the final period, while Stevenson's Sal Perri added a goal for the Spartans from Mark Nebus at the 4:50 mark.

"We at least got to the third period," Harris said. "Rob (Griusius) performed as well as he could under the circumstances. They (CC) kept the pressure up and they're an outstanding team. They have no weak links. They just come at you with one wave after another."

Harris said he has no regrets about the way season ended.

"They finished with class and dignity," Harris said. "They should be proud of their performance even though we had a short amount of time to play after the (five-game) suspension."

"We played with a lot of heart and discipline even though we had a short amount of time to play after (the five-game) suspension. They prepared as well they could."

"Triston had all the momentum in the second period," Hayley said. "They carried the play, but we had a chance."

Triston's Mike Turner, who has guided the Tristons to five state titles in his two stints as varsity coach, said Churchill "shut everything down."

"They had a couple of weeks to get ready for one hockey game," he said. "They prepared for one team. They were saving it for us."

"The time we got something going offensive and they'd let the puck. They did it a lot of it in the second period, but their goaltender also played an excellent game."

Hayley, a former Triston goaltender, said his team learned a lot during its nearly month-long suspension.

"When all the stuff was going down and they were thinking about something the season, instead of looking ahead, our motto was 'live for today,'" the Churchill coach said. "Our guys didn't bitch or complain. They did their community service stuff and they're better players and citizens for it. They practiced and worked hard, and it paid off."

Krug, the junior who played through a bruised shoulder in the final period, called it "one of the best victories," in his hockey life.

"We won the state championship as Squirts, but here it's with your friends," he said. "It's a great feeling. It was exciting."

"It would be a good thing if we completely lost it around now and win the whole thing."

In golf terminology, that would be like winning the Grand Slam.

Madonna softball team off to 5-4 start

Madonna University women's softball coach Al White had hoped to survive a 13-game Florida trip with a close-to-break-even record. Through Tuesday, the Crusaders were right on course. Playing all their games in Fort Myers, their 2-1 victory over Dowling College (N.Y.) Tuesday improved their spring-trip record to 5-4.

Jenny Tenyer, one of White's promising freshmen pitchers, earned her first collegiate win with a four-hit, no-walk performance. In her four mound appearances thus far, Tenyer has not allowed an earned run three times.

Madonna scored twice in the bottom of the sixth to get the win on a two-run, two-out double by Vicki Malkowski.

The win was the Crusaders' third-straight. Earlier Tuesday, they beat Curry College (Milton, MA) 5-2 thanks to Stacie Wilson's 3-for-3, two RBI plate performance that included a two-run single in Madonna's four-run second that also included RBI hits by Meghan Quinn and Angela Litwin (Plymouth Canton).

Jennifer Staup, another freshman, evened her record at 2-2 by allowing two runs on six hits but no walks.

Madonna's streak began with a 4-1 victory over Mount St. Clare College (Clinton, Iowa) on Monday.

Earlier, Katie McFadden handcuffed the Crusaders with a two-hitter to lead Robert Morris College (Pa.) to a 4-1 victory.

Emily Cunningham's third-inning double scored Litwin with the only Madonna run. Tenyer took the loss, tossing a five-hitter and allowing four unearned runs with no walks and 10 strikeouts. The Crusaders committed six errors in the game.

On Sunday against Holy Family College (Pa.), four more errors proved costly in Madonna's 5-2 loss. Staup took the loss, surrendering five runs (one earned) on seven hits and a walk in 3 1/2 innings. The Crusaders had just three hits, with Jenny Krugel getting the only RBI on a first-inning groundout.

Earlier Sunday, Madonna battled back from a 4-1 deficit with three runs in the fifth and another in the seventh to nip St. Thomas University (Miami, Fla.) 5-4. Keys got the game-winning hit, a one-out single that scored Malkowski, who opened the inning with a double.

Malkowski had three hits in the game, scoring twice, and Quinn had two with an RBI. Staup got the pitching win in relief of starter Tanya Liske; Staup walked two in 1 1/2 scoreless innings.

The Crusaders' first game Sunday was a 2-1 loss to the University of Findlay (Ohio), in which Tenyer absorbed the defeat with a two-run, four-hit, one-walk performance. Kristy McDonald (Redford Thurston) and Litwin each had two hits to lead a nine-hit Madonna attack. The season-opener for the Crusaders was against Johnson and Wales University (RI) on Saturday, a game they dominated in winning 17-5 in a five-inning mercy.

McDonald had three hits, including a home run, and four RBI; Malkowski had three hits, four runs scored and two RBI; Cunningham had two hits and two RBI; Pam Konwinski had two hits and an RBI; Keys had two hits; and Krugel had a hit and two RBI.

Liske surrendered five runs (two earned) on seven hits and a walk, striking out seven, to pick up the win.

That same day, Madonna battled Saginaw Valley State evenly before giving up two runs in the bottom of the fifth in a 2-1 loss. Staup took the loss, giving up two unearned runs on six hits and a walk. Malkowski had two of Madonna's four hits.

MU baseball team captures 3

Madonna University has the start of its baseball season squared away.

The Crusaders split their season-opening doubleheader Friday, defeating Columbia Union (Md.) 12-2, in the first game but falling, 5-2, to Virginia-Wise in the second.

Madonna then took two of its next three. It avenged its loss to Virginia-Wise, taking a 10-3 decision on March 4.

On March 5, Madonna lost a 7-6 game to Susquehanna (Pa.) University before bouncing back to take a 3-2 win from Pittsburgh-Johnstown.

Nick Newman pitched a six-hitter for the Crusaders against Columbia Union. Third baseman Nick Dedeluk smacked a solo home run for Madonna to trigger a six-run fourth inning that broke a scoreless tie.

A bases-loaded error let in one run, left fielder Jason Brooks doubled home a pair, DH Lance Siegwald laid down a bunt single to drive in the fifth run of the inning and a passed ball let in the sixth.

Dedeluk triggered a three-run fifth with a double to left. First basemen Eric Lightle followed with an RBI double, catcher Dave Kwaitkowski doubled Lightle home and scored on a flyout and groundout.

The Crusaders added three in the seventh, two on a single by center fielder Bob Hamp and one on Chris Woodruff's sacrifice fly.

In the loss to Virginia-Wise, Madonna mustered just five hits. Mitch Jabczynski went 5 1/2 innings and took the loss, allowing eight hits. He walked two and struck out eight.

Derick Wolfe had an RBI double for MU.

STATE TOURNAMENT DISTRICT BOYS BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

CC bounced by Jays

BY PAUL BEAUDRY STAFF WRITER pbeaudry@oe.homecomm.net

Remember that Greek myth of the man condemned to push a stone up a hill, only to have it roll all the way back down once he got it near the top?

Catholic Central's basketball team could relate to that Monday night. Time and time again, the Shamrocks came close to Southfield. Time and time again, the Blue Jays pulled away.

It was an uphill battle to cut the lead to within one, CC coach Rick Coratti said. "We got it there once, but could never get over the hump. If we could have gotten the lead, we'd have gotten the tempo we wanted."

Instead, Southfield (16-5) dictated the tempo by playing a slowdown game to work the ball inside. In the first half, it didn't work as the Blue Jays failed to capitalize on opportunities.

"We had gone to a bigger kid in the first half when we got the ball inside, but he didn't get (the shots) off," Southfield coach Ben Kelso said. "In the second half, we (still went inside) but went about it in a different way. We were patient and packed it in."

Despite Lige scoring all 15 of his points in the second half, CC managed to stay close.

And when the Shamrocks' Matt Lorida nailed a triple with 1:42 left to cut the score to 44-43, it looked like CC might get over the hump.

However, that's when the rock started rolling back down the hill as the Blue Jays ended the game on a 12-1 run to end the Shamrocks' season.

"They were able to play their style; they wanted a game in the 40s, we wanted a game in the '60s or '70s," said Coratti. "We never could get the upper hand."

The best example of this was in the second quarter. When the period began, Southfield held an 11-9 lead.

When it ended, it held a 14-12 lead — the result of three long, but empty, possessions where the Blue Jays sandwiched two turnovers around a missed shot.

Southfield continued to work the ball inside in the third quarter and it paid off, as Lige opened with the first seven points, giving the Blue Jays a 21-12 lead. But CC fought back, using a pair of buckets by Lorida and a triple by Ryan Celeskey to cut it to 23-19.

For the next nine minutes, CC would pull close, Southfield would pull away and the cycle would repeat as the Blue Jays held a 40-32 lead with 4:49 left. Celeskey and Rob Sparks helped CC trim the lead to 42-40 with 2:14 left and it seemed like the Shamrocks could get over the hump. But Darnel Nichols bumped the Blue Jays' lead to 44-40 with an inside basket.

Lorida hit his 3-pointer to pull within one, but CC could get no closer.

"They got back in it when they started shooting 3's," Kelso said. "CC started forcing the tempo and they did a good job of taking us out of what we wanted to do."

Celeskey and Lorida had 12 and 11 points, respectively, for CC, while Greg Crenshaw had 16 to lead Southfield. Lige added 15 and Desmond Martin 10.

Saving play: Clarenceville's Joe Keough (right) keeps the ball inbound against Henry Ford Academy.

Clarenceville made nine turnovers in the first quarter and only got off seven shots in eight minutes of play (vs. 16 for Borgess) — got trailed only 12-16 after the first eight minutes.

The Trojans were battered by the Spartans full-court pressure but even they did get the ball up court they were fearless and relentless in attacking the basket. All five baskets were layups or put-backs.

"Everything that we did worked," Coach Bill Dyer of Clarenceville said. "But we missed a lot of shots in the second half and that hurt us."

"Free throws hurt us, too. I think we beat ourselves. From the final score, some people are not going to understand that, but that's the way I feel."

Clarenceville started the second half with a back-door inbound play that produced a layup — but it was nullified because of a correct traveling call.

"I think that kind of took the wind out of our sails," Dyer said.

Borgess went down and made two free throws to take the lead and never gave it up again. It's press produced four turnovers on Clarenceville's next five possessions and a 30-22 lead.

"We know what they were going to run," Dyer said. "And we can play some defense. We made it pretty scary for a while."

Corvy McKendry did a nice job defensively on Donald Didlake but the senior Bishop Borgess guard, who led all scorers with 19 points, responded extremely well by not forcing his shots. In the second half he was especially effective passing to teammates for easy layups.

"Donald is starting to let the game come to him," Albright said. "That's what he was doing in the second half."

The Bishop Borgess defense produced 14 turnovers in the second half, during which it went 42-17.

"Our kids are starting to understand that's what's going to take us over the hump," Albright said. "We have really been concentrating on defense. They realize it's going to create offense for us."

Senior Khalil Mims scored 10 points for Bishop Borgess while senior Kendrick Jones had eight. A total of 11 Spartans scored in the game.

Junior center Scott Wion scored 10 to lead Clarenceville. Seniors Joe Keough and Rick Burack each had eight.

Glenn, Wayne pounded in Romulus semifinals

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER bemonsoe@oe.homecomm.net

It was a forgettable night for the Westland John Glenn and Wayne Memorial boys basketball teams.

In the semifinals of the Class A district at Romulus, Glenn was hammered by Belleville, 76-33, while Wayne took a 73-36 lashing from the host Eagles.

Both games ended with a running clock in the final quarter as 40-point mercy rule was invoked.

Glenn bowed out at 4-16 overall, while Wayne finishes at 9-12.

Meanwhile, Belleville (16-5) will face the Eagles (20-2) for the fourth time this season, 7 p.m. Friday at Romulus (which leads the series 2-1).

Glenn, which fell behind 17-7 after one quarter and 37-17 at halftime, could not match Belleville's speed, rebounding and outside shooting.

"I don't want to berate another program any time, but they (Glenn) have had a down year," Belleville coach Rod Fisher said. "We felt we turned the pressure up, we had a chance to win."

"We also knew they had some real young players at guard and we were able to take them out of the game."

Glenn's only senior, 6-foot-8 Yaku Moton, finished with team-high 10 points.

"We tried to front him with some good weak-side help," Fisher said. "And for the most part we were successful."

The Rockets shot just 11 of 40 from the field (27.5 percent) and made 22 turnovers (to Belleville's 13).

Kevin Harrison, a smooth shooting 6-2 guard, led Belleville with 16 points. Will Lilly and Jason Szmansky added 11 and nine, respectively.

"They have a nice package," Glenn coach Mike Schuette said. "Their outside shooting is especially good and we also had to worry about Harrison penetrating to the basket."

"I watched them Monday night (vs. Garden City) and they didn't hit those shots. Tonight they hit those."

Glenn, rated a preseason top 25 team by one Detroit major daily newspaper, never got off the ground this year despite an early season victory over state-ranked Adrian.

Schuette quashed rumors about his imminent departure.

"I'm not thinking that and I don't know how that got started," he said. "A lot of people may want to see a change because of our record. I hope not."

There isn't any coach you'll find who hasn't been in this situation. I will not weigh my decision because of my record one bit.

"I do have a ninth-grader who plays at (Bloomfield Hills) Cranbrook and I also have a seventh-grader there, too, who plays. I only have six years left with the both of them and if anything weighs in my life, it's spending the right amount of time with them."

Despite the dismal season, Schuette was upbeat about his team.

"Some chose to leave, but nobody quit," he said. "These guys showed a lot of character."

In the first game, Romulus was hitting on all cylinders led by 6-4 guard Kevin Thomas, who poured in a game-high 20 points.

Byron Cole, a 6-3 senior guard, and Christopher Garwood, a 6-8 senior center, each added 11.

The Eagles jumped out to a 19-4 first-period advantage and led 42-16 at intermission against their fellow Mega Conference Red Division opponent.

"The first game we had here (Dec. 17) we had a good game, a real head-knocker (62-55)," Romulus coach Guy DelGuidice said. "I didn't expect this. We played pretty intense from the start and we played hard."

"Kevin (Thomas) got off to a good start, which helped. And we were going to go inside with Chris (Garwood) because of his size and take advantage of that."

"And once they clamped down on Chris, Byron and K.T. were able to size it up from the outside."

Wayne, just 12 of 45 from the floor (26.6 percent), got a team-high eight points from 5-10 senior Jermaine Garner.

It was also the final games for seniors Shane Nowak (six points) and Justin Goins.

Novi rallies past Churchill in overtime

Hang sliding: Huron Valley Lutheran's Rene Arnel takes the ball to the hoop against Jackson Christian.

Novi's Wildcats scratched and clawed its way back from a 13-point fourth-quarter deficit Tuesday to beat Livonia Churchill in overtime, 56-54, in the first-round of the Class A district boys basketball tournament.

Point-guard Brandon Davis led the 24-11 final period run by hitting three 3-pointers and a field goal. His basket with just two seconds left in regulation made it 49-41.

Davis, who finished with 16 points, also hit the game-winning jumper in OT with just three seconds remaining for the host Wildcats (11-10 overall).

"Even though we were outsize, we had an excellent opportunity to win the game," said Churchill coach Rick Austin, whose team bowed out at 10-11 overall. "It was a disappointing loss for us, but our hats off to Novi."

Dan Nawrot, a senior forward, led Novi with 19 points. Chad Nadolni added 15.

"Novi it some big shots in the fourth quarter," Austin said. "They worked the ball around and played the inside-outside game."

"Both teams played their hearts out."

Senior forward John Bennett led Churchill with 18 points. Randall Boboige added 14, while Avery Jessup and Brad Bescoe contributed eight each.

Churchill was 15 of 21 from the free throw line, while Novi was four of 11. The Wildcats made a total of eight 3-pointers, while Churchill had five.

•HENRY FORD 57, STEVENSON 39: Detroit Henry Ford (15-6) advanced to Friday's Class A district championship game at Redford Union with a semifinal victory Wednesday over Livonia Stevenson (5-15).

The Trojans jumped out to a 37-16 halftime lead and cruised home.

Four Henry Ford players scored in double figures — Morris Hall (17), Dion Sherrell (15), Damon Dowdell (11) and Joe Taylor (10).

Stevenson got 10 points from Harland Beverly and seven each from Keshay McChristian and Chris Severson.

Southfield edged Detroit Public School League runner-up Redford in the other semifinal, 37-35.

•MORNING 55, FRANKLIN 50: There wasn't a whole lot the Patriots could do.

Romulus, one of the top Class A teams in the area, if not the state, bottled to a 20-6 first quarter lead Monday night and rolled over Livonia Franklin in a district tournament opener.

"We played hard," coach Dan Robinson said after his Patriots ended a 5-16 season. "We didn't give up. Mike Behlitz played a very, very good game. He's been our leader in many ways this year. He's a good individual. He gives us everything he has on the court."

Junior Joe Ruggiero led Franklin with 15 points and Derek Schema added

1ST-ROUND GAMES

13. Kevin Thomas scored 24 to lead Romulus, going 6-for-6 from three-point range, and Byron Cole scored 20. Sophomore Mike Christopher scored 10 points in the fourth quarter.

"I knew we would be improved this year," Robinson said. "The question was by how much."

"I don't think we improved as much as I would have liked. We beat some people we shouldn't have, and we lost to some we should have beaten."

"That's frustrating."

The Eagles (19-2) frustrated the Patriots at every turn Monday. They doubled them up at halftime, 48-24, and increased the margin to 69-35 after three quarters.

•CLARENCEVILLE 51, HENRY FORD ACADEMY 58: Senior forward Rick Burack scored 24 points Monday, propelling Livonia Clarenceville (14-7) to the first-round Class C district triumph over Dearborn Henry Ford Academy in a game played at Redford Bishop Borgess.

Clarenceville jumped out to a 45-23 halftime lead and coasted home to victory.

Three other Trojans scored in doubles figures — Scott Wion (14), Joe Keough (14) and Scott Carr (11).

Junior guard Joe Williams had 11 for Henry Ford Academy.

Clarenceville made 33 of 49 free throws, while Henry Ford Academy hit five of 18.

•BORGESS 55, LUTHERAN WESTLAND 48: Senior guard Donald Didlake hit six 3-pointers en route to a game-high 21 points as host Redford Bishop Borgess (10-11) eliminated Lutheran High Westland (11-9) in a first-round Class C district game.

Borgess led 41-26 at halftime and broke it wide open with a 33-12 third-quarter run.

Khalil Mims, a senior guard, added 20 points for the victorious Spartans. Kendrick Jones, a senior forward, added 12.

Senior guard Charlie Hoelt had 14 for the Warriors.

•JACKSON CHRISTIAN 52, HURON VALLEY 32: Sparked by the strong inside play of senior forwards Jeremiah Downer and Justin Westers, Jackson Christian upended Westland Huron Valley Lutheran in a Class D district game Tuesday at Plymouth Christian Academy.

Downer pumped in 15 points and Westers added 10 for Jackson Christian (7-14), which will meet PCA in tonight's district final. (Game time is 7:30.) PCA downed Canton Agape Christian, 62-49, in the other district semifinal match-up.

Jackson Christian immediately took advantage of its huge height advantage and raced to a 19-7 lead after one quarter and led 24-13 at the half.

Rene Arnel led the Hawks (2-18) with 14 points. Steve McDonald and Alan Kleinke contributed five points each.

ORDINANCE NO. 99-020

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY PROVIDING THAT THE CODE OF ORDINANCES FOR THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY, SECTION 135.06, CHAPTER 135, TITLE XIII, BE AMENDED PROHIBITING PERSONS LESS THAN 21 YEARS OF AGE FROM TRANSPORTING OR POSSESSING ALCOHOLIC LIQUOR IN VEHICLES, EXCEPTIONS, VIOLATIONS, APPLICATION, PRIOR CONVICTIONS, RESTRICTED LICENSE, SURRENDER OF LICENSES, NOTIFICATION OF PARENTS.

THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY HEREBY ORDAINS:
THAT SECTION 135.06, CHAPTER 135, TITLE XIII, OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES FOR THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY IS HEREBY AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Section 135.06. Persons less than 21 years of age, prohibition against transportation of alcoholic liquor in vehicles, exceptions; violations; application; prior convictions; restricted license; surrendered licenses; notification of parents.

Section 1. A person less than 21 years of age shall not knowingly transport or possess alcoholic liquor in a motor vehicle as an operator or occupant unless the person is employed by a licensee under the Michigan liquor control code of 1998, 1998 PA 58, MCL 436.1101 to 436.2303, a common carrier designated by the liquor control commission under the Michigan control code of 1998, 1998 PA 58, MCL 436.1101 to 436.2303, the liquor control commission, or an agent of the liquor control commission and is transporting or having the alcoholic liquor in a motor vehicle under the person's control during regular working hours and in the course of the person's employment. This section does not prevent a person less than 21 years of age from knowingly transporting alcoholic liquor in a motor vehicle if a person at least 21 years of age is present inside the motor vehicle. A person who violates this subsection is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable as provided for in the Code of Ordinances at section 1-11. As part of the sentence, the person may be ordered to perform community service and undergo substance abuse screening and assessment at his or her own expense as described in section 703(1) of the Michigan liquor control code of 1998, 1998 PA 58, MCL 435.1703.

Section 2. Within 30 days after the conviction for a violation of subsection (1) by the operator of a motor vehicle, which conviction has become final, the arresting law enforcement officer or the officer's supervisor may make a complaint before the court from which the warrant was issued. The complaint shall be under oath and shall describe the motor vehicle in which alcoholic liquor was possessed or transported by the operator, who is less than 21 years of age, in committing the violation and requesting that the motor vehicle be impounded as provided in this Ordinance. Upon the filing of the complaint, the court shall issue to the owner of the motor vehicle an order to show cause why the motor vehicle should not be impounded. The order to show cause shall fix a date and time for a hearing, which shall not be less than 10 days after the issuance of the order. The order shall be served by delivering a true copy to the owner not less than 3 full days before the date of hearing or, if the owner cannot be located, by sending a true copy by certified mail to the last known address of the owner. If the owner is a nonresident of the state, service may be made upon the secretary of state as provided in section 257.403 of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

Section 3. If the court determines upon the hearing of the order to show cause, from competent and relevant evidence, that at the time of the commission of the violation the motor vehicle was being driven by the person less than 21 years of age with the express or implied consent or knowledge of the owner in violation of subsection (1), and that the use of the motor vehicle is not needed by the owner in the direct pursuit of the owner's employment or the actual operation of the owner's business, the court may authorize the impounding of the vehicle for a period of not less than 15 days or more than 30 days. The court's order authorizing the impounding of the vehicle shall authorize a law enforcement officer to take possession without other process of the motor vehicle wherever located and to store the vehicle in a public or private garage at the expense and risk of the owner of the vehicle. The owner of the vehicle may appeal the order to the circuit court and the provisions governing the taking of appeals from judgments for damages apply to the appeal. This Ordinance does not prevent a bona fide rentholder from exercising rights under a lien.

Section 4. A person who knowingly transfers title to a motor vehicle for the purpose of avoiding this section is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, a fine of not more than $500.00, or both.

Section 5. A law enforcement agency, upon determining that a person less than 18 years of age allegedly violated this Ordinance, shall notify the parent or parents, custodian or guardian of the person as to the nature of the violation if the name of a parent, guardian or custodian is reasonable ascertainable by the law enforcement agency. The notice required by this subsection shall be made not later than 48 hours after the law enforcement agency determines that the person who allegedly violated this section is less than 18 years of age and may be made in person, by telephone, or first-class mail.

Section 6. As used in this Ordinance, "alcoholic liquor" means any spirituous, vinous, malt, or fermented liquor, liquids and compounds, whether or not medicated, proprietary, patented, and by whatever name called containing 1/2 of 1% or more of alcohol by volume which are fit for use for beverage purposes as defined and classified by the Liquor Control Commission according to alcohol content as belonging to 1 of the varieties defined the Michigan liquor control code of 1998, 1998 PA 58, MCL 436.1101 et. seq.
