Mother accused of dumping newborn in garage

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

A 27-year-old Westland woman delivered her own baby at home, put it in a garbage bag, walked to the garage as she bled and placed the newborn boy on the floor to die, according to police.

Miraculously, the baby lived. The plot unfolded like a heartbreaking movie of the week, like a tragic incident that happens somewhere far away — not here, not in this quiet neighborhood on the city's northwest side.

Sadly, authorities say, it did happen here, on an otherwise typical spring day near Joy and Hix

Wednesday afternoon, the child's mother,

Valeeka Noelle Gartrell, was in the Wayne County Jail on charges of assault with intent to murder and first-degree child abuse. Her bond: $100,000

She could face life in prison, or lesser penalties, if convicted. Westland 18th District Court Magistrate Donald Vandersloot entered a notguilty plea for the mother as she awaits a May 3 hearing that will determine whether she should

It wasn't a secret that Gartrell, who also has a 3year-old daughter, was pregnant, police Sgt. Chris Benson said. She lived with her mother and stepfather, and they knew.

"Everyone knew she was pregnant and due to deliver at the end of April," Benson said.

"Everyone was good with that."

Police believe that Gartrell delivered her baby about 11 a.m. Monday, put it in a garbage bag, tied it up and placed in on the garage floor. Two hours later, she woke her mother, who works nights and was sleeping.

"She comes in, wakes her mother and says she's bleeding," Benson said.

Her parents took her to St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia, fearing that Gartrell may be having complications from her pregnancy, Benson

"The staff checks her out, only to find that she is no longer carrying the baby and she has recently delivered," the detective said.

While Gartrell's mother remained at the hospital, her stepfather and another relative returned to the home to search for the baby.

"They hear crying and find the child in the garage in a garbage bag, on a floor by a wall," Benson said.

Authorities had no real theories why this mother would be accused of such a crime.

"I can't even imagine," Benson said. "The family was all completely shocked. She never gave an indication she didn't want the baby or that she wanted to terminate the pregnancy."

Gartrell is accused of making conflicting statements to police — none of them reliable, Benson

Preschool celebrates 33 years of readying tots for kindergarten

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

A giraffe, a monkey, clowns and dancing princesses smiled and paraded around the room.

Superman and Spider-Man even showed up for this circus, performed by costumed children who attend Westland Free Methodist Church's preschool.

Parents clicked their cameras, and sitting in the audience last week was Carol Ferguson, who founded the preschool 33 years ago with Gertrude Ostrander. "It's wonderful," Ferguson said, when asked to describe how it felt to return to the preschool, on Venoy south of Avondale. Children ages 3 and 4 walked across a low-rise balance beam, maneuvered up a wooden incline, jumped onto a mat, rolled and tumbled, and lifted Styrofoam barbells — anything for applause. The circus marked just one special preschool activity this year for preschoolers who come from Westland, Garden City, Livonia and Canton. Other events included a pajama party, a teddy bear picnic, a Christmas celebration and a graduation ceremony for those moving on to kindergarten. 'We also have academic and developmental activities to help them prepare for kindergarten," preschool director Sherry Tenorio said.

The preschool had just four students when Ferguson and Ostrander started it in fall 1974. Enrollment gradually increased and now is typically 50-60 children.

"We saw a need because so many mothers had to go back to work," Ferguson said.

The state-licensed preschool became an integral part of Westland Free Methodist Church, although families don't have to be church members to enroll their children. "It has been a blessing to so many families in the church and the community," the Rev. Randy Bennett said. Brianna Jefferson, 4, said she likes attending the preschool. "I like to play, and I like to learn about animals," she

Before last week's circus started, Tenorio pulled Fergnson to the front of the room, where she was given a bouquet of flowers and told that she will be welcomed in heaven.

Ferguson beamed as she returned to her seat in the audience, proud to have

The Westland Free Methodist Preschool is accepting youngsters for the 2007-08 school year. Parents are invited to an open house and family fun night from 6:30-8 p.m. Monday, April 30.

Activities will include tours, snacks, a video titled Moe & the Big Exit, Western-themed photos, and bouncing balls for each child.

Classes for 4-year-old pupils are from 9:15-11:30 a.m. and 12:30-2:45 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays. Sessions for 3-year-olds are from 9:15-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Optional Friday classes are offered from 9:15-11:30 a.m.

Enrollment fees are $40 before June 1 and $50 after that. Tuition is $810 a year, or nine payments of $90 each. Friday class tuition is $40 a month starting in October.

Team petitions board to keep longtime coach

STAFF WRITER

Wayne-Westland School Superintendent Greg Baracy stopped short of promising John Glenn High School cheerleaders that their coach would be returned to her position, but did tell the squad that his administration "will work with you to try and make it happen."

Baracy's comments came as cheerleaders and their parents tearfully pleaded to revoke a decision to terminate Cheryl DeLuca who has been the high school's cheerleading coach for 21 years.

"We're proud to have Cheryl DeLuca as coach and to see this happen to her is an atrocity to her," said Kim Heath, president of Booster Club. "None of these girls want to see this happen." DeLuca is a full-time elementary media specialist clerk who coached students after her normal work schedule. According to Baracy, a provision in the federal Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 requires employees receive overtime pay for hours worked in excess of 40 hours a work week. Up until now, DeLuca has worked as a coach under a contract rider.

LEGAL ISSUE

Baracy said the district became aware of the provision last fall as the result of litigation. In light of the court case, keeping DeLuca on and paying her overtime was something the district couldn't

Franklin players perform 'Charlie Brown' GC man faces

Snoopy daydreams atop his dog house. Linus can't give up his blue blanket. Lucy punches him — hard sometimes. Charlie Brown is still working up the nerve to talk to the Little Red-Haired Girl, and everybody gets Valentine's cards but him.

Franklin Players put on the fun musical You're a Good Man Charlie Brown, Friday and Saturday at Franklin High School. The show made its off-Broadway premier in 1967.

Four of six roles were double cast, Linus and Snoopy being the exceptions.

Alex Quint was perfect for the role of Linus, said director Marilee Olsen. "I have the same personality as Linus," Quint said. "Linus is very philosophical." It didn't take much prodding to find out what happened to his security blanket. "My parents gave my sister my blanket," he said. Alex was 5. Emily was 2. He said she still has it. "She claims it was

"Suppertime." "It's kind of upbeat. I get to dance however I want," said James, a sophomore who took gymnastics as a child. "It gives me a chance to make people in the audience laugh." Charlie Brown is played by Justin Jaroh and David Roy. Jaroh, a wrestler, only tried out after an injury sidelined him. He had one line in Guys and Dolls last year. Roy, a sophomore, is acting in his first production.

The original Patty - described as "more girlie" than Peppermint Patty, who came later is played by Meagan Buchler and Amanda Thomas. Patty wants to be everybody's friend, but spouts off "random" lines, the girls said.

trial in purse snatching case

STAFF WRITER

A Garden City man who has had a suspended driver's license for 20 years has been ordered to stand trial for stealing a woman's purse outside a Westland grocery store and leading police on a high-speed

Charles Casey McDonald, 38, was merely a teenager when he started having repeated run-ins with police that led to him losing his driving privileges.

Now, he could face the biggest trouble of his life, including a possible 10-year prison term.

McDonald was ordered to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court after he gave up his right to a preliminary hearing last Thursday in front of Westland District Judge C. Charles Bokos.

He is charged in an incident that police say started around 8:10 p.m. Saturday, April 7, outside the Farmer Jack store on the southwest corner of Cherry Hill and Merriman, said Westland Police Officer Patrick Corby.

A 26-year-old woman told police she was putting her child in her car when a man jumped out of his minivan, grabbed her purse out of a grocery cart and drove off.

The victim trailed the 2000 Plymouth Voyager long enough to obtain critical information that she passed on to police.

Another Westland officer, David Dinsmore, saw the minivan near Henry Ruff and Avondale and began a pursuit that lasted 14 minutes. The chase ended when the suspect hit a tree at Cherry Hill and Harrison in Garden City, Corby has said.

McDonald is accused of reaching speeds of 50 miles per hour in residential areas and 90plus miles per hour along main roads as he fled officers from Westland, Garden City, Inkster and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

McDonald was treated for minor injuries and ultimately charged with larceny from a person, fleeing and eluding, resisting and obstructing police officers, and driving with a suspended license, Corby has said.

During an April 10 arraignment, Bokos entered a not-guilty plea for McDonald and set a $100,000 cash bond. The defendant's decision to waive his hearing last Thursday meant that he was automatically bound over for trial in the higher court.

McDonald has had a suspended license since 1987, according to Corby. Prior convictions include multiple times of driving without a license, domestic violence and driving drunk.

'Music men' share skills outside of school

STAFF WRITER

They're two familiar faces around Westland and Garden City - Scott Cramer, the band director at John Glenn High School, and Diran Kochyan, band director at Garden City Middle and High schools.

You'll see them directing their respective bands and orchestras on the field and at concerts in the two communities.

But you can also find the two men together on stage when the Novi Concert Band performs. Cramer is the group's director, while Kochyan is the assistant director and plays first clarinet.

"We get along really well," said Kochyan, who kept asking Cramer if he was interested in directing after the band's longtime director retired more than a year ago. "Scott fits in well with the band."

According to Kochyan, Cramer was one of five-six candidates who were invited to rehearse a selection with the band. The number of candidates was cut to three and they were invited to direct selections at the band's Christmas concert. After the concert, the band members voted on who they wanted as director.

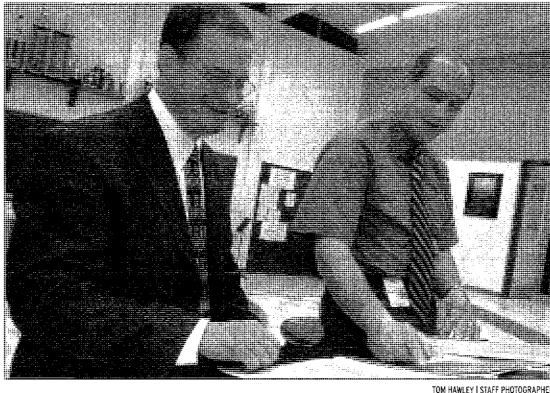

"I remember Diran called and said, "I got bad news, you got the job," Cramer said.

Kochyan is the veteran of the band. He's been a member for 13 years. In addition to playing an instrument, he also filled in as director until Cramer took over.

Cramer is the newcomer, signing on last fall as director, but he's known about the band 11-12

"We're trying to get a repertoire so we don't play the same 12 songs. We don't want repeats because we have people who follow us around."

While Kochyan leaves the directing to Cramer, he's more than willing to step up and fill in when there's a scheduling conflict or an illness. Having Kochyan there to take over helps avoid canceling rehearsals, Cramer

"I became ill before the December concert and he stepped up," said Cramer.

Project 180 reaches out to WW parents

What started as a project to help parents and children living in the Jefferson-Barns and Lincoln Elementary attendance areas has "taken on a life of its own."

That's the opinion of its originator, Wayne-Westland school board President Frederick Weaver who three years ago introduced the school community to Project 180.

"It started as a board project to reach parents and has become an interschool process to reach parents," he said. "And we're getting more and more parents."

The latest installment of Project 180 will take place from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. April 28, at Franklin Middle School, 33555 Annapolis south of Venoy in Wayne. It's free of charge and offers sessions covering a variety of topics of interest to parents with children in elementary through high school.

Parents can sign up for three informational sessions. Topics like keeping kids safe on the Internet, grandparents raising their grandchildren, working with children diagnosed with Charles' April in Paris and music by Duke Ellington, Glenn Miller, ADD/ADHD and funding a child's college education will be among the sessions available for parents to attend.

There are also sessions on bullying, positive discipline strategies, working with a talented and gifted child, developing fun and healthy eating habits, special education, and two sessions for parents of children entering middle school and high school. Facing having the "talk" with a child, parents can get some pointers in a session dubbed "The Birds and the Bees: How to Talk to My Child."

This year's Project 180 also will offer activities for the kids and food as well as prizes and free child care for children ages 5-10.

The event is being sponsored by the school district's Family Resource Center and parent liaisons in collaboration with the Wayne-Westland school board.

Held in October 2004, the original Project 180 was designed to help parents in the Norwayne area stay put, find work and keep children in the classroom. It included food and activities for the children, and several employers were there with employment applications. Wings of Compassion also passed out 30pound boxes of food to the families present. Call the Family Resource Center at (734) 419-2709.

Detroit man injured in Hines Drive crash

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

A head-on collision early Tuesday in Westland ended with a Detroit man being airlifted to University of Michigan Hospital and a Livonia man being ticketed for driving drunk.

The accident happened just before 3:30 a.m. Tuesday on Hines Drive a half-mile west of Merriman, police Officer Jack "McIntosh said.

In an unexpected twist, a police investigation found that it wasn't the drunken driver who acaused the crash.

A 27-year-old Detroit man in a 1989 Toyota was driving east on a partially curved area of Hines Drive when he crossed the center line, McIntosh said. His car crashed into a 2005 Ford Explorer being driven west by a 40-year-old Livonia man.

Although the Livonia man was driving drunk, McIntosh said, "he wasn't at fault" in the accident. As of Wednesday morning, police hadn't determined why the Detroit man crossed the center line, although authorities said he wasn't driving drunk. He will, however, face a court appearance for careless driving and being behind the wheel without having a driver's license and insurance.

The Detroit man sustained injuries including blunt trauma to the chest, and he was flown by medical helicopter to U-M Hospital.

Authorities initially believed the Detroit driver's injuries to be more serious than they actually were, and he was listed in good condition Wednesday at the hospital, McIntosh said.

It wasn't the first time the Livonia man has faced an alcohol-related driving offense, although McIntosh said the last time was about 10 years ago.

Hazardous waste dropoff set

It's time to do some spring cleaning and take advantage of a chance to safely dispose of unwanted hazardous household products.

The annual household hazardous waste drop-off program sponsored by the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority will be held 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at Garden City's City Park, located at Cherry Hill and Merriman. Use the Merriman entrance for the drop-off program.

This is the third year the event has been held at City Park – in 2006 a record 924 vehicles were Expanding the program from prior years, for the first time CWCSA will be accepting electronic waste, including computer monitors, CPUs, keyboards, mouse devices, printers, copiers, fax machines and cell phones.

This collection is free and limited to residents of the five CWCSA member communities -Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Inkster, Wayne, and Westland.

"As far as we know, she had a natural birth," he said.

The newborn boy was still at St. Mary Mercy Hospital on Wednesday afternoon.

"The baby is in good condition," said Julie Sproul, vice president of marketing and public relations. "We're very staff for doing "an extraordinary job" in helping the baby and the

The baby and Gartrell's 3year-old daughter will be referred to the state's Child Protective Services, Benson said. The newborn is expected to be released from the hospital Thursday. Gartrell had arrived at the hospital about 1:45 p.m. Monday. Her family members and the hospital later contacted the police in separate phone calls, Benson said.

Gartrell had no record of regular prenatal care, Benson said, although she had been seen previously by a doctor. She had no known history of mental illness, Benson said.

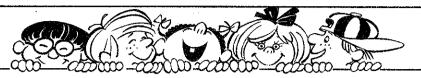

Gartrell has told police that the same man was the father of both her children, "but he wasn't involved in their lives," Benson

As tragic as the circumstances, both Benson and Sproul said the mother could have avoided criminal charges had she simply turned her baby over to caring hands.

Under a so-called Safe Haven law, Gartrell could have taken the child to a hospital, a fire department or a police station, Benson said.

Sproul confirmed that Gartrell or any family member could have brought the baby to St. Mary Hospital and turned it over to any employee "without fear of reprisal."

According to Spann, the role of the school board in public education is to watch, observe, guard, protect, be mentally alert and be in charge."

The board must have a plan of action that will watch over the Michigan framework of the Michigan Department of Education," he stated in response to the Observer's questions. "The board should believe that efforts to set clean, common, state and/or community based academic standards for students in a given school district or state are necessary to improve student performance. It should be the view of each board member at a certain point in the schooling of our children to be proficient in specific academic areas."

Gov. Jennifer Granholm is asking school districts to find ways to share services and save money, and, according to Spann, that's good.

He stated that school districts within a region could use the same buildings and teachers, shared and shared alike, and the same funds.

"The school board should review the curriculum in other regions to see if there can be four weeks there and four weeks back in their home school," he stated. "There must be accountability and funding review of these regions."

When asked about the state's new high school curriculum, Spann stated that the "big question is that after high school, what can our students do, if they don't go to college?

"Our children must have more than just a curriculum, what about a job?" he stated. "What skills do our children have when they complete high school? It is our responsibility to seek new approaches to help our children after high school. We must have programs that will help the child in 10th-12th grades to have a career in business and technology which will be the foundation for the management support component and the accounting/finance support component." When asked what one thing she would change about public education, if she could, Spann preparing students for life after high school.

"The world in which our children will be working as they exit high school is an exceedingly different world than the one for which we are presently preparing them," he stated. "The society which our children will walk into holds different characteristics from the Big Three and industrial society for which existing education programs are designed."

Spann stated that the immediate future represents a challenge for educators.

"We will have the opportunity to build on the historic strength already inherent in our education programs and demonstrate that we are on the leading edge of educational reform," he stated.

"It was something we weren't aware of until it was brought to our attention," he said. "We would be negligent to keep on doing this, but we will meet and talk about a possible resolution. There could be a sliver of opportunity here."

DeLuca told the school board that losing the coaching position is like "cutting my right arm off."

"These girls are my girls, I've taught them teamwork, commitment and dedication, I have set enormous standards for them," she said. "As a result, this is one of the top GPA athletic groups at the high school."

She added that many options have been discussed and pressed the board for a one-year reprieve to find a solution.

"After 21 years, can I get a Band-Aid for a year to get a resolution?" she asked. "If in that time I don't get a resolution, I'll walk away. Give us a year to make it work."

ROLE MODEL

Many of those speaking in support of DeLuca were members of her team who talked about the changes she has made in their lives. Many said they first met her as members of the Westland Youth Athletic Associations' Comets cheerleadng team. She's done much more than coach me, she has affected my life," one teen said. "I've known her for eight years and she's been a strong role model. I don't believe you can find another person who will dedicate the time like coach DeLuca."

Another team member told the board that DeLuca is the backbone, spirit and driving force behind the team."

"If you take her away, you take away the dream for us as a team and as a family," she said.

Parents also joined their daughters at the podium, pointing out the positive influence DeLuca has had on the girls and urging school officials to keep DeLuca.

"If you let her slip away, you'll loose the most dedicated coach at John Glenn," one parent said. "We have 52 girls ready to go elsewhere."

"You have a tremendous opportunity to give coach DeLuca her job back and continue a great program," another parent said. "I'm asking you to do what you can to correct a disastrous situation, I'm begging for the future of the John Glenn Rockets to allow coach DeLuca to stay."

Baracy and members of the school board urged DeLuca's supporters to contact their congressman to change the federal

"This is an opportunity for all of you, you have a lot more power than we do," Baracy said. "It's not my law and I'm not going to break it, but I'll work to change it."

"Even if we come up with a solution for next year, there is still a problem with the law," added board Vice President Terrance McClain. "We don't have the power to make the changes in the law, you do."

recently gave a talk at the Home & Garden Show in Novi and was approached by a woman who was getting ready to retire and was concerned that she did not have enough assets. She was concerned because she did not have a million dollars and she was told that's what she needed to retire. I asked her who told her she needed a million a dollars and she said that's what she has heard. I have heard people say many times they need a million dollars to retire, however, I can never track down the source. I prefer to focus on whether you can afford to retire. As far as I am concerned, everyone needs to look at their situation individually so they can make an informed decision whether they can afford to retire and whether they are saving enough for retirement.

I have always stressed that retirement is a new concept in the history of mankind. It is not something that past generations had to worry about. Go back a mere 100 years and life expectancy was in the midfifties. Today, many of us are going to live more than 30 years in retirement and we will enjoy an active lifestyle.

Another change is when people first started thinking about retirement 50 to 60 years ago, it was assumed once you retire you can live on a fixed or a shrinking income. That's not the case today. In today's world, to have sufficient amounts of money to retire, you must have enough to have a rising income throughout your lifetime.

How do you figure out how much you should have to retire?

You need to look at what it costs to live a month. If you've never calculated that number, now is the time to do so. Look at your take-home pay and use that as a guide. For example, if your take-home pay is $5,000 and from that money you are only saving $500 a month, you know that your living expenses are approximately $4,500 a month. From that number, you can make adjustments for retirement. As an example, if there is someone you are supporting (such as your children) that you will not be supporting in retirement, you can back off some of those expenses. In addition, if you no longer have a house payment, you can factor that into the equation. On the other hand, don't forget to factor in travel or other things in retirement that will increase your expenses.

Once you determine what it costs to live a month, back out what you will receive from Social Security and any pension. On a year-by-year basis on our birthdays, we receive a benefits estimate from Social Security. The number is fairly accurate.

Once you subtract out from living expenses, pension and Social Security, you are left with a monthly shortfall. To determine how much you need to cover that shortfall, multiply that number by 12 (for the yearly shortfall) and then multiply that number by 20 to 25. The number you calculate is the amount of investments that you will need to be able to retire and to have a rising income throughout your lifetime.

For example, if it costs you $5,000 a month to live and you receive $1,000 from Social Security and you have no pension, your shortfall is $4,000 a

OUR VIEWS

Vote for Monit, Pitsenbarger

On Tuesday, May 8, residents in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools will go to the polls to fill two fouryear terms on the Board of Education.

The past few years, voter participation has been poor at best, partly due to the lack of candidates. This year is different, incumbents Martha Pitsenbarger and Skip Monit are facing Brian Mulligan Bhagwan Dhashairya and T. Cortez Spann Jr. in their bid for new four-year terms.

We believe candidates should have a strong understanding of the workings of and the issues facing the school district. The two candidates that do are Martha Pitsenbarger and Skip Monit.

Collectively, they have some 20 years of experience serving on the board. They've held a variety of board positions and served on many of its standing committees.

Monit came to the board after helping win voter approval in 1998 of a $108 million bond issue that brought the district's schools into the 21st century. As a board member, he has served as school board president, vice president and treasurer.

Pitsenbarger is completing her 12th year on the board, having joined in the early days of Proposal A when the district found itself short on cash. She, too, has served as board president, but her most familiar role is that of board secretary.

There's no mistaking who they are there to represent the students. As members of the board, they have made the decisions that put the students and their education first. As a result, the district has tightened the belt on spending and preserved the educational program.

They have a strong working knowledge of the school district and the role of the school board and make the difficult decisions needed to keep the district moving for-That said, we urge voters to re-elect Martha Pitsenbarger and Skip Monit to the Wayne-Westland school board. Their experience and understanding of school finance are needed at this very difficult time.

We also urge voters to cast their vote either by absentee ballot or by going to the polls Tuesday, May 8. Every vote matters to these candidates.

3 get our vote for LPS board

The candidates for three open seats on the Livonia Public Schools Board of Education all agree it's best not to reverse the Legacy Initiative. And, while the process behind how that plan was created, shared and approved is certainly a major factor in this year's election, voters should look beyond that issue and view this year's candidates as individuals.

With that in mind, we're endorsing incumbent Lynda Scheel and Steve Futrell for the two four-year seats and Patrice Mang for the one-year seat.

It must be said, we saw positives in all the candidates. However, we believe these three candidates will give the district the best chance to move forward and address some of the trust and communications concerns of the past year and a half.

Scheel has grown in her four years on the board and, especially now in her role as board president, has shown a good understanding that the district's shortcomings in transparency and communication helped bring this district to such divisiveness. Under her leadership, the board has implemented the Community Conversations, tried to improve and clarify public comment situations during board meetings, and pushed to get more information online and out to the community.

Futrell has a track record as being a reasonable, effective spokesman for the disaffected folks in LPS. The school board needs that voice. He's has shown a willingness to work with, not just attack, those in the leadership roles of the district. We support his commitment to bring even more public interaction to board meetings, ask pertinent questions, and urge more follow-up on students who leave the district.

Of the two educators running for the one-year seat, Mang shares a clear understanding of where the district is and what it needs. Yes, she was also a leader in the anti-Legacy group, but she is committed to trying to find ways to better the plan that's in place and bring some of the lost students back to the district.

We urge residents of Livonia Public Schools to get out to the polls on May 8 and to vote for Lynda Scheel, Steve Futrell and Patrice Mang.

Love dominates hate

Monday, April 16, 2007, was marked with tragedy influenced by hate. Thirty-two innocent people were killed by a crazed student. A student who apparently hated people of all races and religions. Ironically, April 16, 2007, was Holocaust Remembrance Day. Again, a day remembering the millions of innocent people who were murdered as a result of hate.

On April 18, 2007, I was at a strip mall located on the northeast corner of Middlebelt and Ford. When I approached the driveway near Hollywood Video, I noticed a large bumper sticker posted on a traffic stop sign. It said, "Stop U.S. Funds to

When I saw these words adorn a public traffic sign, I was hurt. Maybe I was thinking of the macabre event that occurred at Virginia Tech during the week. Perhaps I was recalling the news story I heard on the students whose lives were spared at Virginia Tech because of the heroic effort of Professor Livio Librescu. He blocked the door with his body so the gunman would be detained and the students could flee. He was kiiled.

Professor Librescu was a Holocaust survivor and from Israel. Perhaps it was because that when I visit my Uncle Jack, I see the tattooed numbers on his arm. Those numbers that were a constant reminder that he endured 11 concentration camps and lost his entire family during the Holocaust. There is no exact way to measure hate. Hate varies from bumper stickers to bullets, Hate offers no boundaries on race, gender, financial status or religion. Yet, despite the hurt that I felt from that bumper sticker, I believe that love dominates hate in this world.

Disgusted by administration

I recently re-read both articles written by the Citizens for Livonia's Future that were published in the Observer. I felt compelled to read the articles again since I was so disgusted with the salaries, benefits, bonuses, and pay outs to top-level employees in the school district. I am and have been a taxpayer and parent of the schools in the district for over 30 years, and this type of mismanagement is disgusting.

For years the school board and superintendent have been pleading broke and nearing bankruptcy, but to only turn around and award the privileged few with huge raises and advancements, or to hire a person who are friends and family is in total contradiction to what they have been telling the citizens. And above all to do this at the same time they have lying to the unions and citizens makes it a shame and totally unethical. Planning to disrupt the entire LPS communities of Livonia and Westland with the Legacy Initiative while hiding big payouts and perks should be illegal.

I was also riveted to the data they gathered on the real cost of the Legacy Initiative, and the loss of money due to the student losses. These student losses are directly attributed to the Legacy Initiative and that cannot be denied.

I also found all of the information on a Web site that contains all of the Freedom of Information Act requested documents to read anytime. Go to www.citizensforlivoniasfuture.com/foia-page.html and read the facts for yourself. It helped me to decide to vote for Eileen McDonnell, Patrice Mang, and Steve Futrell on May 8.

Road millage makes sense

I am writing to urge all of the citizens of Wayne to vote yes on Proposal 1 in the May special election. Our home to most of us is one of the most significant investments that we have; we need to protect our investment by insuring its value. Having roads in good condition helps to keep the property values stable.

For those residents of Wayne who are not property owners most likely our biggest financial expenditure is our vehicle. The price of new or used vehicles continues to increase, so it still makes sense to protect that investment by making sure that the streets we drive on are in the best condition possible. Please vote yes on Proposal 1.

Road tax is for everyone

Our roads are dying. You can see it everywhere in the city of Wayne. And if they aren't dying now, they soon will be. We have the opportunity to turn this around. If we don't, we all will suffer.

If your street is in bad shape, it will be replaced. Your street may be fine, but what about the city streets on which you travel that are not in good shape? You may be faced with car repairs. Without your yes vote on the road millage, the condition of our roads can only decline.

Our roads are bad enough, but have you walked the sidewalks in our neighborhoods lately? If you have, you must have noticed how many pads are in bad shape. Or maybe you have tripped on those that have been pushed up by tree roots. With your yes vote on the road millage, all these bad sidewalk pads will be replaced.

You say your street and your sidewalk is in good shape, so why should you support this millage? Consider that this millage will continue for 25 years. The likelihood of your street or sidewalk needing replacement in that time is great. Your yes vote on this road millage will assure the integrity of our roads and sidewalks for many years to come. Join with me and vote yes on Proposal 1, it will save our roads and sidewalks.

Don't ignore the problem

On May 8, 2007, the electorate in the City of Wayne will have the opportunity to take a proactive approach on the issue of the maintenance and repair of our city's streets and sidewalks. I believe this initiative to be the most cost-effective method of financing the specific, detailed plan put together by the city.

With more than 30 years experience in the road maintenance field, I can assure you that this will cost far less than ignoring the ongoing maintenance problems, until the only solution is full scale repaying or replacement. I urge the voters to pass Proposal 1.

Here is a summary of what the Legacy has brought our community.

- Seven fewer neighborhood schools.
- Costs around $8 million.

■ 3.700 additional students on buses this

- More than 600 students left our district, mostly due to the Legacy. ■ Millions of state revenue lost with those
- students leaving. ■ Extra transitions to several new
- schools. Overcrowded elementary and middle
- schools. ■ Biggest decline in membership the
- PTA has seen in years. ■ Increased bullying and fighting.
- Division within our community because of the Legacy.
- More parking lots need expansion this summer due to overcrowded

Alzheimer's support

As Gov. Granholm encourages us to look at the big picture in her recent talks about the state's budget crisis, one should note that she backs up these words with her actions. In her recent executive order, for example, she spared the Healthy Michigan Fund and, specifically the Alzheimer's Information Network, from budget cuts.

This is a small expenditure that has huge long-term savings, as this money provides community-based programs for families with Alzheimer's disease which have economic as well as humane value. Seventy percent of people with Alzheimer's live at home, rather than in Medicaid-supported facilities, and these programs are in large part responsible for this. The monetary value of services provided by family caregivers is estimated nationally to be $257 billion and provides huge savings in publicly funded health care costs.

The state Senate, unfortunately, has rejected this executive order and has put at risk one of Michigan's most vulnerable pop-now what that strange sound you are hearing in the background is? The vibration from increasingly frantic talks going on in Lansing about Michigan's financial future.

New ideas and fresh thinking needed to solve state's crisis

After what seems like months of talking at each other, Speaker of the House Andy Dillon, D-Redford, and Senate Majority Leader Mike Bishop, R-Rochester, have agreed to talk to each other.

Specifically, they'll be meeting daily to hash out what to do about the estimated $1 billion shortfall in this year's general fund budget and the $377 million deficit in the School Aid Fund. Gov. Jennifer Granholm and her budget director, Bob Emerson, will be at the table as well. They've got a tough row to hoe. The deficit numbers are very large. The economy is still slumping and tax revenues are consistently falling below projections. Partisan differences are wide. And time is running out — the fiscal year ends Sept. 30. That's a fastapproaching fact that will greatly intensify the impact of any cuts.

Crunch time is clearly here. The natural political instinct will be to try to fix the deficit gaps with chewing gum and bailing wire. After all, that's what lawmakers have done every year for the past five years. Sooner or later, however, tough choices and out-of-the-box thinking will have to replace accounting gimmicks. What follows are some common-sense ideas. I'm sure there is a lot not to like in the list, but somebody has to start thinking about the unthinkable. Starting right now: ■ Cut prison spending — Our prison system costs around $2 billion a year, employs around one-third of state government's work force and warehouses 51,000-plus inmates. If we incarcerated felons at the average rate of our neighboring states, we'd save $500 million a year. Granholm has proposed releasing very sick prisoners and those who have served their minimum sentences and are awaiting parole. She thinks that would save around $100 million.

The "lock 'em up and throw away the key" theory of sentencing isn't working, and has to be fixed. How about allowing earlier parole for inmates who demonstrate good behavior and get a GED while in prison? How about discharging folks who are in the slam for dealing drugs (a non-violent crime) and putting them on electronic tethers?

How about completely changing the way we treat non-violent crimes, period? Theft or burglary is bad, but does it make sense to spend $30,000 a year to imprison somebody who steals goods worth $2,000? Make 'em pay restitution with jail time that will be thrown back at them if they commit any future viola-

Incidentally, drug courts appear to be working to keep drug abusers out of prison by prescribing treatment, sanctions like tethers and employment services. What about doing the same thing for the estimated 15 percent of the prison population that is mental-

■ Take a hard look at school costs — Michigan spends more than $13 billion a year on K-12 schools. The School Aid Fund faces a deficit of nearly $400 million. Cutting the per-pupil school aid formula this late in the school year is a prospect that terrifies most school people, but this may be the only step that works for this fiscal year.

In the longer run, however, we might consider rethinking the structure of the way we manage our schools. Do we, for example, really need one principal per elementary school?

Principals are important, no doubt, but much of what they do is routine: setting policy, overseeing personnel, reviewing performance, attending meetings. Elementary schools are small and much of their administrative functions could be performed more

And many of the business tasks that each district does on its own could be consolidated in the intermediate school districts, where better technology and management could produce serious savings.

And while we're at it, let's take a look at the busing tail that all too often wags the school dog. Many school schedules are determined by the timing and deployment of bus fleets.

But many cities already have bus systems which are paralleled by school buses. Do we really need

■ Look very hard at health care costs — Medical costs for school employees are high and getting higher every year. Last week, Michigan AFL-CIO President Mark Gaffney and the American Federation of Teachers' David Hecker joined Bishop to advance an interesting idea.

The three of them proposed that all schools, universities and local government units join health insurance pools that could select providers by open bidding. If that worked, advocates say it could save as much as 8 percent in health care costs.

The Michigan Education Special Services Association (MESSA) is a subsidiary of the Michigan Education Association teachers union, which provides health care coverage for around half the school districts in Michigan. MESSA says this idea is nonsense and points to its flexibility in providing reduced-cost health care plans for many school districts. Maybe so, but every dollar that goes to medical care doesn't go to educating our kids. It's time for a

There are lots of out-of-the-box ideas out there. Some are good; some are just silly. But the best of them deserve a not flinty eye, but open-minded consideration. This much we know: We're not going to solve our financial crisis by more of the same old, same old.

Better practices needed

It was recently announced that Gov. Granholm's husband is now heading up a state "best practice" effort for business. But it is not business that most needs "best practice" help — it is Michigan's hundreds of local school districts, especially concerning the billions of state dollars which state government gives them, with no accountability in return.

The state absolutely must gain some control over those billions, for the good of the entire state.

Some combination of state mandates, strong recommendations or funding reductions for penalties could be used, but urgent action needs to be taken by the state - there is simply too much at stake here. Local control sounds great, but poor local management can no longer be tolerated. We all now fund all local school districts under Proposal A.

With six out of every seven local dollars routinely going to wages and benefits, the union contracts present an obvious starting point. Please consider, Rochester schools recently signed a new three-year contract with their MEA teachers union. This one contract brings them total new spending of $30 million, with spending increase of over $1,000 per student in the third year. All while the same school district decries the state Senate's proposed $34 cut per student - a ratio of 30 to 1. And this is only one of Rochester's seven unions. Other districts. by the way, limit contract increases to state funding increases - obviously, best prac-

How many other districts such as Rochester continue to pay their local union president ... for doing nothing for them only being the union president? Obviously, not a "best practice" for the kids or taxpay-

Putting all state employees, including schools, on the same health plan would reportedly save the state over $450 million annually - in a time of state financial crisis, another obvious "best practice" whose time has clearly come.

Eliminating the "prevailing wage" restriction on local districts is reported to save $150 million annually - what school district would be against this changing of

Privatization and consolidation of services should be optimized where gains are Many businesses and residents have already voted with their feet in Michigan and left this nation's worst business job climate. Business understands. This state would clearly be better served by applying the "best practice" approach as above.

Surely the few items above could be greatly expanded, with the state working in concert with its many school districts.

In favor of a flat tax

Jimmy Carter got it right in 1976 when he said, "Our income tax system is a disgrace to the human race." The big issue in tax season is not whether you owe or get a refund; it is that our 67,204 indecipherable pages of tax code are out of control.

While Joe Taxpayer sits at the kitchen table sweating over deductions, specialinterest groups are enjoying loopholes, earmarks and political favors at our expense.

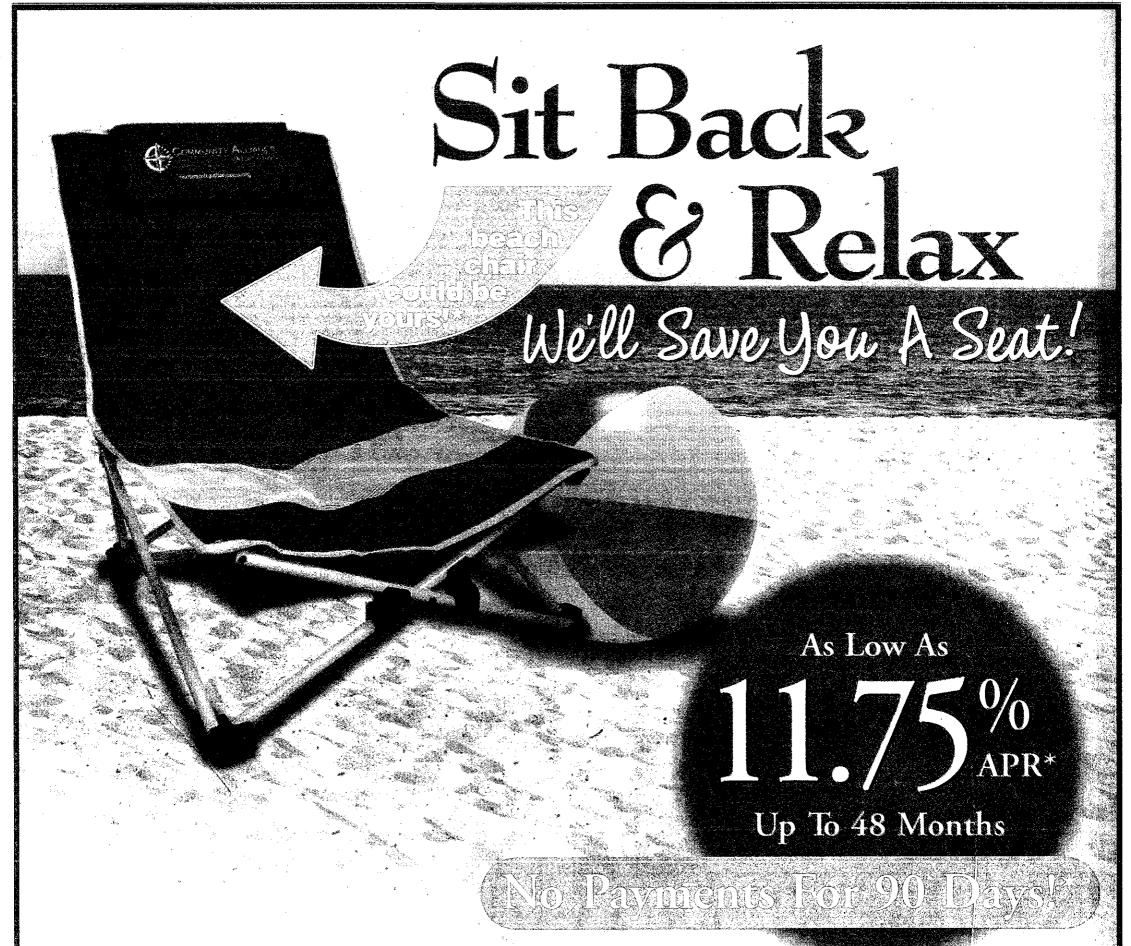

Tax day is a good time to call on our elected representatives to scrap the current system and replace it with something that works. This will only change when citizens organize as well as special interests have, and let our legislators know that we expect a simple, fair, and flat tax code that respects us.

With a flat tax we could save billions of man-hours and hundreds of billions of dollars in costs by simplifying our code. With no more loopholes, itemizing or worrying about the AMT, we could file our taxes in minutes. A flat tax would allow a personal deduction for everyone so families could take care of themselves before paying the government.

As the presidential primary season heats up, I would like to know if the candidates stand with the lobbyists or the taxpayers.

Michigan Humane Society hosts pet adoptions at Detroit Zoo

The Michigan Humane Society and the Detroit Zoo will host the 15th annual Spring "Meet Your Best Friend at the Zoo," the largest off-site companion animal adoption event in the country, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, May 5 and May 6, at the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak. There is no charge for admission to the adoption event or for parking.

Hundreds of adoptable dogs, cats, puppies and kittens will be available for immediate adoption both days, Because puppies are often in high demand, "puppy passes" will be given each morning to the first 25 adoption event guests who are looking specifically to adopt a puppy. Those with puppy passes will be allowed to enter the adoption tents at 9:45 a.m., with the remainder of guests allowed to enter at 10 a.m. Preventing a "puppy rush" during general admittance to the event will ensure that all adopters – and the adoptable animals – will have a wonderful experience. A "get acquainted" area will be available to give guests an opportunity to spend time with an animal before adopting.

The participating organizations, in addition to the Michigan Humane Society, include: Animal Rescue Connection, Animal Shelter of Crawford County, Animal Welfare Society, Battle Creek Animal Shelter, Detroit Animal Control, Faerie Tales Cat/Maine Coon Rescue, Feline Friends, Golden Retriever Rescue of Michigan, Greater Hillsdale Humane Society, Home Fur-Ever, K-9 Strav Rescue, Kitty Haven Rescue, Last Chance for Animals, Metro Area Animal Adoption Association, Michigan Greyhound Connection, MidMichigan Cat Rescue, Midwest Schipperke Rescue, Oakland County Animal Care Center, Precious Pets Adoption League, REGAP, Roscommon County Animal Shelter, Sanilac County Humane Society, Southern Star MinPin Rescue, and WAG Animal Rescue.

Last year, the spring Meet Your Best Friend at the Zoo spring event found homes for 698 animals.

Adoption fees and policies are set by each participating group. Adopters must present a driver's license or state ID card. All dogs and cats will have received a medical check-up and ageappropriate vaccinations. For health and safety reasons, please leave current companion animals at home,

DTE, IKEA team up on GreenCurrents promotion

How would you like to help improve the environment, and get a free IKEA gift card at the same time? Then head over to the IKEA store in Canton this Friday and Saturday and sign up for DTE Energy's new GreenCurrents renewable energy program.

GreenCurrents is a new voluntary program that gives DTE Energy's 2.2 million electric customers the option of choosing renewable energy created from the wind, sun, water, biomass and other environmentally friendly sources.

"Every customer who signs up for GreenCurrents will cause clean, renewable energy to be generated on their behalf," said Trevor Lauer, vice president of marketing for DTE Energy. "For just a few dollars a month, customers can help improve the environment, support the development of renewable energy projects in Michigan and help us meet the electricity demands of the state without sacrificing the needs of future generations."

This Friday and Saturday, in celebration of Arbor Day, we're offering customers who sign up for GreenCurrents at our display at IKEA a $10 gift card good for any purchase in the

Under the GreenCurrents program, DTE Energy electric customers can select a renewable energy option that best fits their budget For $2.50 a month, residential customers can purchase a block of 100 kilowatt-hours of renewable energy, which represents about 15-20 percent of a typical home's monthly electric usage. Customers can also choose to match 100 percent of their home's electricity consumption with renewable resources for an additional cost of two cents per kilowatt-hour -- or about $10 to $15 per month for a typical household.

Business customers can purchase a 1,000 kilowatt hour block of green energy for $20 a month - or match all of their electricity usage with renewable power for an additional cost of two cents per kilowatt

"Currently, renewable energy facilities are more costly to build, operate and maintain than conventional sources of electricity," Lauer said. "But as customers step forward and embrace renewable energy, demand will grow, more alternative energy facilities will be brought on line and costs should begin to come down.

"We are very happy and excited to be offering the GreenCurrents program, and we look forward to partnering with our customers to create a cleaner, healthier environment for tomorrow."

Look for the DTE Energy display at IKEA Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. IKEA is at 41640 Ford Road in Canton, just west of I-275.

Additional information on the GreenCurrents program is available at www.GreenCurrents.com, or by calling (866) 207-6955.

Churchill runaway

Livonia Public Schools meet dominated by Charger girls

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Unlike a year ago, there was little drama surrounding the winner of the Public Schools of Livonia Invitational girls track meet held Tuesday at Franklin.

Churchill ran away with the title, repeating as champion by scoring 148 points. Stevenson held off the host Patriots for second, 61-56, while Clarenceville came up empty on the final tally sheet.

The Chargers were dominating to say the least, capturing 12 of 17 events, including all four relay

"We had a good day all the way around," Churchill coach Keith McDonald said. "We scored in every area and there were only two events where we were outscored. Everybody excelled all the way

Sprinter Mandi Coppola swept the 100- and 200-meter dashes for Churchill in 13.61 and 27.82. She also anchored the Chargers' firstplace 400 and 800 relay teams with times of 52.6 and 1:52.03, respectively.

Another standout was Tauri Rothermel, who won the 300 hurdles in 47.63, just missing the school record of 47.0 held by Rebecca Fedrigo. She also was a member of the first place 400 and 1,600 (4:18.27) relay teams.

Distance runner Rachel

Franklin senior Robyn Whalen was runner-up to Churchill's Kyndra Abron in the shot-put with a throw of 37 feet, 11.5 inches. Whalen won the discus with a toss of 121-1.5.

McFarlane, a junior, took the 800 (2:26.85) and 3,200 (12:06.0) runs. Another junior, Kyndra Abron, threw a personal best 40 feet, 0.5 inches in the shot put and also captured the high jump (5-1). Margarita Lazarevska added a win in the 100 hurdles (16.99). "All of our throwers P.R.'ed in the shot put, and both Kristin Zgorecki

New campaign puts Demolition in the spotlight

STAFF WRITER

Detroit Demolition quarterback Kim Grodus admits she can't get the final game of the 2006 football season out of her head.

That's when a women's football dynasty came to a momentary halt.

"I've had trouble sleeping at night," she said. "But you just deal with it and move on. We just have to take teams on one by one. We won't be satisfied until we win the championship."

The Demolition, whose new home this season is Livonia Stevenson High School, were derailed in the Independent Women's Football League Championship game last summer in Long Beach, Calif., by the Atlanta Xplosion, 21-14, snapping a 52-game winning streak dating back to the team's days in the NWFA.

The "Drive for Five" starts at 7 p.m. Saturday at Stevenson when the Demolition take on the Detriot Predators in a Midwest Division game. Other regular-season home games will be at 7 p.m. Saturday, June 9, vs. the Iowa Crush; and 7 p.m. Saturday, June 16, vs. the Kansas City Storm.

"Having a core group is always helpful, but we have 20 to 30 solid rookies," said Grodus, who hails from St. Clair Shores and works in sales by day

Stevenson holds on for title; C'ville's Stewart stars

The margin was razor-thin again in determining the winner of Tuesday's Livonia City boys track meet at Stevenson.

The host Spartans held off Churchill for the second straight year, 100-97, after winning last year's crown by five points, 101-96, while snapping a nineyear reign by the Chargers.

Franklin finished a distant third with 40 points, while Clarenceville placed fourth with 23 points, 18 coming from senior sprinter John Stewart who swept the 100-, 200- and 400-meter dashes.

It was a big day for the White twins, Myles and Mitchell, who figured in a total of seven first-place finishes for swept the 800 and 1,600 events in 2:03.5 and 4:29.72, respectively.

Mitchell won the high jump by clearing 6 feet, 2 inches. He was also member of the first-place 400 relay with Steve Eideh, Dave Simor and brother Austin White, a freshman, who combined for a time of 44.22.

The key to the victory, however, may have been Eideh's runner-up clocking of 22.95 in the 200.

"It's only the second time he's run it and it came in the second heat," Stevenson coach Scott Shaw said. "He's only a sophomore and he's been training hard."

Stevenson also got a boost from junior Matt Broome, who was runner-up to Franklin's Mike Wood in both the shot put and discus.

"Those were Matt's best throws in both events," Shaw said. "And Simor going 20-5 on his last long jump attempt moved him up to second.

"The long jump was a big event for us because we took first, second and fifth and outscored (Churchill)-11-0. We also trailed in the team scoring going into the 800 and we outscored them 11-5 to recoup some points.

"We held on to the title." he added. "It's one of the closest city meets we've

But the Chargers' most impressive first was logged by the quartet of Andrew LaBerge, Jacob McDonald, Billy Gutowski and David St. Amant in the 1,600 relay (3:24.61).

Stevenson's quartet of Rzepka, Cragel, Sergison and Derek Buskey was clocked in a respectable 3:27.06.

Churchill coach Rick Austin was pleased with the performances by each of the four teams under ideal conditions. "It was a fantastic meet by all the schools," he said. "Stewart had a fantastic day, along with the White brothers and Rzepka. We also had some huge performances from Peterman, Verellen, (Brandon) Grysko and Robertson.

"We dropped the baton in two of our sprint relays and that figured prominently, but we had a good meet for the most part. We're young and we'll learn from the experience."

Stewart was Clarenceville's shining light as he won the 100 (11.13), 200 (22.59) and 400 (49.44), the latter event when he held off Division 1 state placer St. Amant of Churchill.

Stewart's time in the 400 also broke the school record of 50.5 held since 1977 by Bill Peterson.

"It was one of his best performances," Clarenceville coach Dean Bergeron said of the senior sprinter. "His 200 tied his best time. It's very encouraging. I think he can go (21 seconds in the 200) when he's pushed."

Canton junior pitcher Erik Wright came so close to a five-inning no-hitter Monday afternoon that he could touch it.

Wayne Memorial's Jon Bryant led off the fifth with a high chopping ground ball that glanced off Wright's mitt and beyond the reach of the Chiefs' infielders. The infield single proved to be the only hit for the Zebras in Canton's 11-1 mercy rule-shortened victory.

Wright improved to 4-0 and reduced his earned run average to 1.33 by striking out nine while issuing five walks. Wayne scored its only run in the fourth when it loaded the bases on free passes before scoring on a groundout.

The win improved
Canton's record to 7-5-1 overall and 2-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division.

Wayne slipped to 4-5 overall and 1-1 in the division.

"I thought Canton played well," said Wayne coach Frank Garcia. "They hit the ball well and they didn't make many mistakes. Their pitcher threw well, too. We only got one hit, and that one wasn't hit very hard."

The Chiefs' bats were smoking from the get-go as they scored as least one run in every inning. Their biggest frames were the first and fourth when they scored three and five, respectively.

Senior outfielder Kyle Gring continued to frustrate opposing pitchers as he homered and drove in three runs for Canton, Gring's two-

The Chiefs tacked on three more runs in the inning on senior catcher Blaine Paden's two-run triple and a sacrifice fly off the bat of Wright.

Junior second baseman Mike Madias scored the Chiefs' 11th run when he singled, went to second on passed ball and scored on a Zebra error.

Dan Stoney and Ben Vaughn ripped doubles for Canton. Brad Barath reached all three times he batted with two walks and a basehit. Barath also scored two runs.

Cavanaugh started on the mound for the Zebras. He had to leave with two outs in the third after suffering an injury.

Eric Robertson and John Smoes finished out the game for Wayne, which played without two suspended play-

Liz Tokarsky paced the Stevenson defense in the first half before sitting out the second half due to an injury. Kayla Kimble and Amber Sharp anchored the backline in the second half.

"We didn't give up any real shots all game besides some free kicks," Pinta said. "Jamie Chandler and Molly McConnell really worked hard for us in the midfield. Molly was our biggest offensive threat tonight.

Weekend sweep eludes Crusaders in WHAC

BY TIM SMITH STAFF WRITER

It could have been a great weekend.

But Madonna University softball coach Al White and his Crusaders still had a good one. sweeping Siena Heights on Saturday and then splitting a pair on Sunday with Aquinas, their top rival in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference.

If not for a couple untimely bad breaks late in the second game Sunday, the Crusaders (25-12, 10-4) could be atop the WHAC standings with the regular season winding down.

But the visiting Saints (22-15, 12-4) held on for a 4-3 victory thanks to a bizarre double play in the sixth (MU had runners on first and second with no outs) and an unsuccessful attempt by freshman Samantha Bell to score from third on a pitch that bounced several feet away from the Aquinas catcher. Bell was tagged out sliding into home, for the final out.

In the opener before a big Senior Day crowd at MU's University Field, the Crusaders earned a 5-2 victory.

"At that time it wasn't the right play because we had a lot of confidence in (Mary Kate) Setta coming up there," said White about Bell's attempt to score. "She'd been hitting the ball hard all day. But we tell them (runners) to be aggressive at all times, and we tell them if they're on third base to get a good read.

"If it rolls more than four feet from the catcher, you're gone. (But) she didn't get a good enough jump."

The Crusaders nearly caught Aguinas in the sixth, when

White then conferred with the next batter, freshman second baseman Brittney Scero (Canton), about bunting Johnston and Richardson up a base. Instead, the bunt was trapped by Fleser, who threw to third to retire Johnston. The return to throw nailed Richardson at second.

"Like I told her when I called the time out, 'See the ball, hit the ball, just don't flinch," White explained. "But she jabbed at it and it went right back to the pitcher. You can't blame my runners because they didn't know if she caught it or not."

The entire game was a headshaker for White.

Madonna outhit Aquinas 11-6 in the game (three by junior third baseman Christina Finch), taking a 1-0 lead in the third on an RBI single by sophomore catcher Alison Grant (2for-4). Aquinas then went up 2-1 in the top of the fourth, with the help of four MU errors. The Crusaders bounded back with two in the bottom half, sparked by run-scoring hits by Johnston (2-for-3) and Aquinas then went ahead for good in the fifth, when senior McCall Kleinfelt singled and sophomore Jacki Plough homered off MU senior reliever Shannon Noder.

Richardson (1-for-2).

"We're good, but we're young," said White with a smile, emphasizing that the difficult defeat will be a good learning experience for his team.

Sunday's opener was a case of Aquinas probably giving it away — much like the Crusaders did in the second game.

With the score tied 2-2 in the bottom of the sixth, the Crusaders had runners on second and third with two outs without the benefit of a hit. The potential third out of the frame, a foul pop up by Johnston, was dropped by the Aquinas catcher.

Johnston immediately made the Saints pay with an RBI single to center, and another run came home on a subsequent throwing error.

Scero had two of Madonna's five hits against Fleser, who gave up one earned run in six innings.

Picking up the win was Noder, who threw a complete game, fanning seven and giving up seven hits.

Madonna will play conference doubleheaders Thursday at Cornerstone, Friday at Concordia and Sunday at Indiana Tech. Saturday against visiting Siena Heights, Grant's two-run homer in the first inning of the opener propelled the Crusaders to a 5-1 victory. Madonna kept things rolling in the nightcap, 9-3.

Noder notched the win in Game 1, supported by two-hit games from Grant and Sidor. The only blemish on her pitching line was a second-inning homer by freshman Jessica Singletary. Junior Liz Ballinger was the winning pitcher in the second game, with Noder coming on with one out in the fifth to finish up.

Weekend ends in stalemate for Madonna

It was two up and two down last weekend for Madonna University's baseball team.

But the highlight of the back-to-back Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference doubleheaders with Aquinas was Crusaders' head coach Greg Haeger collecting the 300th victory of his MU coaching career.

On Sunday at Aquinas, the Saints (21-21, 6-10 WHAC) won the opener 9-7 but the Crusaders (24-16, 11-9 WHAC) rolled over Aquinas with a 19-4 decision in seven innings to claim the nightcap.

In Game 2, four Crusaders hit homers, including senior right fielder Tony Luttman (Farmington) who hit his sixth of the season.

With a 7-2 lead after two innings, the Crusaders put up eight more runs in the third inning, capped off by a threerun homer off the bat of Orchard Lake St. Mary's alum Garrett Ignasiak.

Madonna picked up two more runs in the fourth inning as senior shortstop Kyle Fedorka swatted a two-run home run, giving MU a 17-2 advantage.

Gary Rule, a sophomore infielder, homered in the sixth to cap the MU scoring.

Josh Regits cruised during the contest with the large cushion. Regits worked six innings and allowed just three hits and two runs, while striking out 10 in the win.

Luttman and Ryan Morrow each recorded four hits in the nightcap. Morrow also scored five of MU's 19 runs and stole a base in the win.

Overall, the Crusaders pounded out 22 hits in Game

In the first game of the day, the Crusaders jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the third inning after VanAllen hit a two-run homer.

Madonna increased their lead to three runs in the fourth inning after Manny Alvarado (Southfield) tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly by senior infielder Matt Humenay's (Westland/Livonia Churchill) sacrifice fly.

In the bottom of the fourth inning, Aquinas finally got on the board with four runs off Madonna starter Eric Wendling.

After Madonna picked up the tying run in the top of the fifth inning, Wendling was chased from the contest after surrendering three more Saints runs in the fifth.

The Crusaders scored a pair of in the sixth inning as pinch hitter Dan Miller (Walled Lake Central) delivered a two-RBI double to cut the score to one run (7-6).

In the bottom of the sixth inning the Saints added two insurance runs off MU reliever Mike Hand (North Farmington).

MU picked up a run in the seventh as Zach Flavin hit a solo home run, but Aquinas was able to stop the Madonna threat and hold on for the 9-7

Wendling was saddled with the loss for the Crusaders after working five innings and giving up eight runs on eight hits with four walks and four strikeouts.

Haeger's 300th win

The host Saints were able to come back in game two and defeat Madonna 14-4 in seven innings to earn the split in the nightcap and putting an end to the Crusaders six-game win streak.

MU pushed across four runs in the fourth inning to take a 4-1 lead.

The Crusaders would add two more runs in the top of the sixth inning as Ignasiak hit a two-run homer.

Mike Orehek (Livonia) picked up the win on the mound for Madonna, pitching six innings and scattering six hits while allowing just the one run in the second inning.

Madonna picked up a total of seven hits in the opener, led by VanAllen's 2-for-2 perform-

In Game 2, Aquinas won 14-4 in a shortened contest due to the 10-run rule.

Boyer's HR gives MU win over Northwood

Greg Haeger won his 300th career game at Madonna

University last Saturday. But the veteran baseball coach's 302nd victory Tuesday perhaps wasn't one of the prettiest ones - the Crusaders rallied late to win 11-10 over Northwood University.

Trailing 9-6 entering the bottom of the eighth inning, an RBI triple off the left-center fence by senior third baseman Gary VanAllen jump-started a big rally that was capped off by a mammoth three-run homer to right by sophomore outfielder Scott Boyer.

"I don't know if it was a hard one (victory)," Haeger said. "But these non-conference days we get a lot of kids in. Our pitching wasn't fantastic early but the bats came through at the end and got us a win.

"It never felt like we were out of reach in this game. We've been swinging the bats very well recently."

Of course, although Madonna reliever Mike Hand (North Farmington) picked up COLLEGE BASEBALL

his fourth save he couldn't get through the ninth unscathed.

The pesky Timberwolves who outhit the Crusaders 16-10 - cut the lead to 11-10 and had two runners on with two outs when Hand fanned pinch hitter Justin Ford to end the nonconference game at Ilitch Ballpark in Livonia.

"He (Hand) throws strikes and that's the key to pitching," Haeger said, "whether you're closing a game or starting a Earning the win with two innings of scoreless relief was senior pitcher Mike Orehek (Livonia).

"My approach at the plate was, I've seen curveballs all day long, and that's what I got," said Boyer, who was hitless until lofting his no-doubter far over the fence. "The first pitch (from Brock Williams) was a curveball and it was a strike, and I figured he'd throw me another one and he did."

Haeger said Boyer "crushed it, he got all of it. ... It was a huge situation late in the game for a young kid to step up and get a job done for the team, I'm proud of him."

Madonna, now 25-16, raced out to a 3-0 lead in the first on a towering three-run homer to left by junior catcher Garrett Ignasiak (3-for-5, one run, four RBI).

But an indication that the game wasn't going to be an easy one for MU took place in the third, when Northwood (14-23) cut the margin to 3-2 against Crusaders' sophomore starter Ryan Brodowsky (Farmington).

After an RBI-single by Ignasiak opened up a 4-2 lead in the bottom of the third, the Timberwolves scored again in the fourth.

The Crusaders, however, tacked on two in the fifth on a double down the left-field line by freshman outfielder Rikco Rhoades (2-for-5, two RBI).

That only led to Northwood's five-run surge in the sixth, a rally featuring four singles, three walks and a go-ahead double to right by junior Ben Shock to put the Timberwolves

Trailing 9-6 in the eighth, the Crusaders started to bounce back on a leadoff walk by senior shortstop Kyle Fedorka and the up-the-gap three-bagger by VanAllen (2for-4, three runs).

"Gary over the last week and a half or so is hitting .450 and has been our best player on the field," Haeger said. "We expect that every time he gets up to the plate that he'll get something done. I'll take the triple, but I just want him on base.'

A ground-out plated VanAllen and Ignasiak followed with a single. Drawing a walk was senior pinch hitter Tony Luttman (Farmington) and that brought up Boyer for the difference-maker.

According to Boyer, the clutch homer against a NCAA Division 2 team was something that he won't soon forget.

"It's an NCAA Division 2 team and we're good enough to compete with people like that, and I don't think people know that around the state," said Boyer, "It makes me feel great about myself to come out there and do what I did."

Tournament savvy: Blazers prove worth

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Livonia Ladywood's golf team doesn't seemed to be fazed by forecasts from the Weather Channel.

On Monday, Ladywood played the Championship Course at Oak Pointe in 30 MPH howling winds to place third in the Brighton Invitational as Traverse City West edged Dexter for the team title, 346-347.

The Blazers took third with 350 as Andrea Warzyniec led the way with a second-place finish with an 81 followed by teammates Erica Mazur, 89; Kelly Thomas and Angela Jamrog, 90 each; and Rachael Fuller, 107.

Dexter's Kaitlin Davis took medalist honors with a 78.

"There were some challenging pin placements," Ladywood coach Kellianne Nagy said. "It was very tough out there today with the wind. It was swirling and constantly changing directions. I'll tell you, the wind sure takes a lot out of you. But everyone played well and I'm very happy with our start thus far. This past week we got to see some of the top teams in the state."

On Saturday, Ladywood finished runner-up to Rochester in the 24-school Grosse Ile Invitational hosted by Riverview Highlands - under ideal conditions.

Rochester took the title by five strokes with a 335, while Ladvwood beat out Birmingham Groves for third in a fifth-player tiebreaker with a 340.

Warzyniec led Ladywood with an 81 followed by Thomas (82), Jamrog (85), Erica Mazur (91) and Fuller (103).

"None from our team made all-tournament, but everyone played well," Nagy said. "We are a well-rounded and wellbalanced team that doesn't rely on one person to carry them. We're kind of like the Pistons a few years ago when they won it all. No superstars, but a team of young ladies with a lot of talent, dedication and heart."

Livonia Churchill's Shannon Warner was medalist with an impressive 3-under 69 as the Chargers took 11th with a 357.

The Blazers, sixth last year in the Division II state tourney, opened their season April 16 by winning the East Lansing Ladies Invitational hosted by Walnut Hills Country Club, a previous LPGA Tour stop.

The Blazers had a total of 351 in 39-degree temperatures and 30 MPH winds at tee-off.

Warzyniec's 83 was good enough for second place overall. Thomas also finished in the top 10 with an 87, while Jamrog tied for 10th with a 90.

Mazur added an 11th with a 91. "It was a great overall team effort, everyone contributed," Nagy said. "The weather was absolutely horrible. The wind never let up and I think it only got to 45 (degrees), but never felt more than 20.

"The course was wet and played long, but was in great shape and the girls really enjoyed playing Walnut Hills."

Franklin begins search for two open cage posts

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

On the heels of seeking a new boys hockey coach, Livonia Franklin High will also have two more winter coaching vacancies for the 2007-08 season.

Positions have opened up for both a varsity girls and varsity boys basketball coach.

Franklin athletic director Ron Hammye received resignations last week from Mary Kay Whalen and Russ Keberly, who coached the girls and boys teams, respectively. Whalen, a former Patriots

All-Stater who played at Michigan State and the University of Detroit, leaves after six seasons with an overall record of 47-81. She guided the Patriot girls to a 15-7 record in fall of 2006. Whalen's daughter Robyn, a 6-foot-1 center who earned second-team All-Observer honors, will be graduating this June.

"I got her resignation through an e-mail - she said it was partly due to the change of seasons, her work and it was family related," Hammye said.

Keberly, who also played at Franklin, finished 30-55 overall in his four years.

His best season was 2004-05 when Franklin finished 13-8. He also led the Patriots to a 12-10 record in 2005-06. Last year Franklin dipped to 2-19.

"I wanted to put more emphasis on the family," said Keberly, who just celebrated the birth of his second child (Logan Russell) on April 17. The demands of a varsity job interfere with being an effective parent and teacher."

Keberly spent a total of 11 years coaching basketball at Franklin including three seasons as the JV coach under John Santi. He also served as a freshman girls coach for four seasons.

"I really enjoyed the Franklin community - the parents were supportive, it was truly a privilege to work with the families and the players," said Keberly, who teaches language arts, speech and drama at Holmes Middle School. "My wife (Janell) has been good about supporting my coaching. It's been a tremendous sacrifice on her part, but now the time is best to be with my family."

Hammye also is taking applications for a new varsity hockey coach after 57-yearold Terry Jobbitt retired with a 292-257-56 mark.

with Bareman Dairy. "They don't have any football experience, except for one. But we have some great athletes and great attitudes.'

The Demolition have been staging spirited practices at Detroit Redford High in preparation for Saturday's season opener.

Area players include defensive linemen Lateefa Moore, Heather Harvey and Jennifer Hefner, along with center Alecia Sweeny.

"The intensity has been strong," Grodus said. "We're practicing with a chip on our shoulder. We taking it that we're just one of the pack." The goal is ultimately to Western Conference championship (July 28). The national championship for the IWFL - consisting of 32 teams across North America, all the way from Montreal to southern California, as well as from Oregon to Florida — is Saturday, Aug. 11.

Grodus, involved sports all her life, played softball at Western Michigan University. She is a jock at heart dating back to her days at Sterling Heights High School, where she also was a member of the basketball and volleyballl teams. During the off-season, she plays ice hockey.

Grodus also is excited about naming of a new offensive coordinator, Andre Harlin, who returns to call plays for offense, multiple sets, it's a pro-style attack," Grodus said. We want to run the ball efficiently to set up the pass. We'll use three backs, or empty the backfield with four wideouts. We run a ton of traps. There's a lot of trickery involved."

"We run a very sophisticated

The Demolition will be coached again by Tony Blakenship, who has a 56-2 overall record in five seasons, including four national championships.

The former University of Michigan defensive back, who also coaches in the Detroit Public School League (Murray-Wright High), plans to put the top gridders 11 on the field, according to Grodus.

"I think there's a new mindset," the Demolition quarterback said. "Some of the players will be going both ways. Whoever is the pest is going to play."

The Demolition are also under new ownership as R&R Sports Entertainment takes over. The team will be run by Jeff and Kevin Rose of J.R. Charter Service, a motor coach limosine service company based in Novi.

Mitch Rosen, owner of Liberty Total Comfort Systems, a heating and cooling company in Redford, will continue as a limited partner after being the sole owner the past four seasons.

The Demolition's roster consists of 55 players along with 25 staff members.

The Demolition, formerly known as the Detroit Danger, have also formed a broadcast partnership and sponsorship with Bright House Networks. All home games will be taped and available on Local on Demand.

For more information about the Demolition, including tickets, visit www.detdemolition.com or call (248) 474-9176.

He was flown in for a visit with the Atlanta Falcons, met personally with Jacksonville Jaguars head coach Jack Del Rio at the combine and was worked out individually by the New York Jets.

But Shaw has no inkling what round he'll go or where he might end up.

"What I learned is that you never know what's going on," said Shaw, who had a total of 44 tackles and seven sacks his senior year en route to honorable mention All-Big Ten honors. "It's a big chess match and how teams want to keep things a secret. You just have to take things as they come. The process is wild."

And so are the questions during the team interviews.

"They ask a million things," Shaw said. "They asked me if I've ever smoked anything and how many girlfriends I have, a lot of personal stuff."

Shaw is confident he signed with the right agent. Smith represents Ike Taylor of the Steelers, along with guard Edwin Mulitalo, a recent Lions signee, and former Michigan fullback B.J. Askew of the Jets.

"I like Scott, he did everything he said," Shaw said. "He's helped me and he's been great. He's a good guy and what he's done has been above and beyond. He's a lawyer and he's been doing it a while."

Discovers New, Cheaper Cure for Wet Basements

Dan Renehan used to jackhammer basement floors, and haul out chunks of concrete and install new drain systems in homes to solve the problem of wet basement walls. But then. Renehan, the owner of Hydromist Waterproofing and a former finish carpenter, made a

He found that wet walls in foundations are usually caused by "settling" - the slow movement of the dirt outside of the home that over time slides into place. The dirt can clog the exits of a home's drain system, resulting in the seepage of water into the house.

"I discovered that when a home settles, moving earth, clay and debris often block the four points where water is intended to exit," says Renehan. "When it rains, an alreadyexisting problem is just exacerbated by the downpour. The water has no place to go," he

"So, drawing on my experience building homes, I figured out a way to locate the exit points for water in the basement. Then, I hydro flush the system," says Renehan. "The result is a cleaner, quicker, cheaper way for the homeowner to enjoy a dry basement again." he said. Either of two methods is employed in the Hydromist solution to wet basement walls.

"Depending on the situation, we either dig a hole outside the house and flush the system, or we tap four small holes into the basement floor and flush it from the inside," says Renehan.

"When all is said and done, you can hardly tell that anyone has drilled into the floor," he

Renehan is troubled by the standard solution to wet basement walls provided by most waterproofing companies

"They just want to sell the homeowner a second drain tile system," says Renehan. "They jackhammer your floor, install new pipes and pump, and dirty up your house when they haul concrete out to a dump truck. Nine times out of ten, it's needless effort and expense," he Renehan says that his patented method for curing wet basement walls also includes the installation of an access point so that a home's drainage system can be flushed repeatedly in the future.

"One more thing," says Renehan, "When you call Hydromist to do the job, you get me, not some salesman that only wants to sell you an interior drain system. I do the work. And I stand behind it."

For a free estimate, contact Dan Renehan at 248-634-0215. For additional information visit the Hydromist Web site: hydromist.biz.
