Two girls seriously injured in car-bike accident

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A 43-year-old Canton woman drove through a red light Thursday evening and struck two girls crossing a Westland intersection on a bike, police confirmed Friday.

The driver could be ticketed or charged as early as this week for the rush-hour accident that left a fifth-grader and her 11th-grade cousin in stable but serious condition, authorities said.

The girls were crossing Cherry Hill at Carlson, just south of John Glenn High School property, when they were struck by a 2000 Pontiac Grand Am traveling west on Cherry Hill around 5:50 p.m., police Officer Jack McIntosh said.

The driver, whose vision was possibly impaired by bright sunlight, told police she didn't see the girls.

"There was a bright sun to the west, just above the horizon, and it could have been a contributing factor," McIntosh said. "She didn't see the girls. She assumed the light was green."

Alcohol was not a factor in the accident. The younger girl, a fifth-grader at nearby Madison Elementary School, was flown to Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. The older girl was taken to Oakwood Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

The 11th-grader was sitting on the bike seat and the fifth-grader was standing on the front-wheel foot pegs of a 20-inch, BMX-type bike, McIntosh said. Neither girl was wearing a helmet.

A large crowd of people gathered near the scene of the accident.

Sheldon Brown, who lives just south of the Cherry Hill-Carlson intersection, said drivers often speed along Cherry Hill, a major east-west thoroughfare in Westland. He suggested that a pedestrian bridge over the road might be a good idea.

"We have an elementary here and a high school here," he said. "Wouldn't it make sense to have a walkover? There's a lot of kids who live around here."

Tracy Hutson of Romulus travels the area most days to pick up children who go to Ms. Peggy's, a Livonia fitness and dance center.

"It all happened really fast," Hutson said. "I hope this is a wakeup call. They (drivers) just go too fast along here."

McIntosh confirmed that police have had complaints about drivers running red lights at Cherry Hill and Carlson. However, he said officers watching the area have found such incidents "rare" — much rarer than at some of Westland's busier intersections.

One resident commented that he has seen Westland police frequently writing speeding tickets in the area.

In other developments, school officials arranged for crisis intervention teams for any students who might need help at Madison and ALDI Foods store manager Greg Mulford unloads items for sale when the grocery chain opens its Westland store Thursday.

New store on the block

ALDI brings its more-for-less philosophy to Westland

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

It's been some 20 years since residents in the Wayne Road-Cherry Hill area have had a major grocery store in their neighborhood, but that's about to change Thursday when ALDI Foods opens its new store at Bayview and Wayne Road.

"We're excited, it's going to be a great development," said David Kapusansky, real estate director, about choosing Westland for its new store. "We've been looking for years to find a site where we could be the major anchor and we found it."

The new store sits on the north end of a new retail development on what had been the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA property. Joining the standalone grocery store is a strip mall that will have National Coney Island as one of its tenants. ALDI has been on the grocery scene since 1976, offering a "low-cost, high-quality, conveniently sized grocery." It got its start in Iowa and now has 850 stores around the United States. The Westland store expands ALDI's presence in western Wayne County, joining stores in Garden City, Dearborn Heights and Redford.

The philosophy behind the grocery chain is more for less. Shoppers will find a limited assortment of the most popular items in the most popular size — roughly 1,000 of the most frequently purchased grocery and household items.

"We offer the highest quality product at the lowest price available," said J.T. Branneman, ALDI director of operations. "We have a few name brands which are special purchases, but most of our products are the private label only sold at ALDI."

ALDI also streamlines operations.

History group makes last donation

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Westland historic-preservation group that disbanded in June has made its final donation — money that will be used to support a one-room school and an 1800s-era house.

The former group, Friends of the Westland Historical Museum, called it quits amid a deepening rift with the Westland Historical Commission.

City leaders have lauded both groups, saying the two sides shared a love for Westland's history but had differences over how to preserve it.

As part of its legacy, the Friends group has donated its last $8,097.32 to two projects.

Of that amount, $6,168.97 will be used to maintain the one-room

Perrinsville Schoolhouse, a familiar building on Warren Road west of Merriman. The remaining $1,928.35 will be designated to replace the exterior dry-rot boards of the 1837 Rowe House, a Greek Revival-style house at the Westland Historic Village Park on Wayne Road between Marquette and Cherry Hill.

Friends President Jim Franklin on Monday turned over the donations to Mayor William Wild, who, along with city leaders such as city council President Charles Pickering, commended the group for its 19 years of service to Westland.

Over the years, the Friends organization raised and donated money for numerous buildings, including the Perrinsville Schoolhouse, the Rowe House, the 1800s-era Octagon House and the Westland Historical Museum, said longtime member Ruth Dale.

The Friends formed in May 1988 and disbanded in June 2007. The group and the historical commission had most recently differed over the naming of the Westland Historic Village Park.

While most historical commissioners supported the name, some Friends members had said the site couldn't be considered a village because it lacked an on-site schoolhouse and a church, among other buildings.

Earlier, the two sides differed over the sale of two acres of land on museum property. A commission majority supported the sale, but Dale and others opposed it.

Supermoms introduced on MichiganMoms.com

It isn't easy being a mom.

It takes a virtual village to raise a child, and that's what MichiganMoms.com is all about. The online community is a place where moms can go to get advice, support and perspective from other moms throughout metro Detroit and across the state.

Last month, the Observer & Eccentric put out a call for local mothers to step up as Supermoms and agree to post their expert advice to MichiganMoms.com on a regular basis. The response was overwhelming.

We got hundreds of phone calls and e-mails from potential Supermoms, all hungry for just the kind of community MichiganMoms.com provides.

It was difficult to choose, every applicant had unique talents and expertise all her own. In fact, there were so many great moms, we plan to rotate Supermoms throughout the year. For now, we settled on five Supermoms representing diverse cities and situations. They will start posting regularly today.

Here are the O&E Supermoms:

■ Judy Davids of Royal Oak is a working mom with two boys, ages 12 and 14. Davids is guitarist in the mom rock band The Mydols, plays in an over 40 soccer league and serves on the PTSA. 2 charged in robbery of armored car

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A robbery of an armored car driver in Westland led to criminal charges Friday against two men.

The incident happened around 3:15 p.m. Wednesday outside the Sav-a-Lot store at Ann Arbor Trail and Merriman, police Lt. Daniel Karrick said.

Two men attacked the driver as he came out of the store with a bag of money, and a struggle ensued as one of the men tried unsuccessfully to wrestle the employee's gun from him, Karrick said.

The victim managed to hold onto one assailant as the other fled with the money, only to be captured by police within minutes in a nearby residential neighborhood, the lieutenant said.

No shots were fired, and no one was seriously hurt, Karrick said, commending the armored car employee and police for quickly apprehending the two suspects.

On Friday, Westland 18th

District Magistrate Donald Vandersloot arraigned Christian Hall, 18, of Sterling Heights on charges of unarmed robbery and attempted larceny of a firearm. He arraigned Jerrel Tittman, 19, on a charge of unarmed robbery.

Hall was accused of trying to wrestle the gun from the armored car worker and being held until authorities arrived, police Sgt. Steve Borisch said. Tittman is accused of fleeing only to be captured near the scene, Borisch said.

Vandersloot entered not-guilty pleas for the men and ordered them back in court Nov. 1 for a preliminary hearing that will determine whether they should stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court. Both men were jailed Friday in lieu of $100,000 cash bonds.

If convicted, they could face penalties ranging up to 15 years in prison.

Case delayed for 2 charged in forgery

The women charged with providing Secretary of State documentation to people with fake identification will wait until Oct. 23 for a preliminary hearing in Livonia's 16th District Court.

Janice Bess, 43, of Westland and Cheryl Simpson, 42, of Detroit, face charges of forgery, use of a computer to commit a crime, two counts of identity theft and two counts of false certification — the impermissible use of personal information.

Bess worked at the Secretary of State's branch office at Farmington Road at Six Mile in Livonia, where investigators say the scam was centered.

"We believe that, for a price, Ms. Simpson would identify customers and Ms. Bess would produce these items, using the name and personal information of an unwitting person already in the Secretary of State computer system," Wayne County Sheriff Warren Evans said in a release.

Investigators and prosecutors say Bess was issuing valid state license plates, vehicle titles and registration — even Michigan drivers' licenses — to people using fake identities. She was arrested at her job on Oct. 1 after she issued a new license plate and vehicle registration to the undercover deputy, who was using an assumed name and produced no identification.

At the same time, officers executed a search warrant at Detroit home of Simpson, who had introduced the undercover officer to Bess.

According to investigators, Simpson also told an undercover deputy that Bess could provide the officer with a "whole new identity," complete with a state driver's license, with her photo and someone else's name, address and driver's license number taken from Secretary of State computer records.

"It is incredible in a post Sept. 11 world that a government employee would provide anyone with picture identification under a false name," Evans said. "The potential for homeland security issues here is significant."

"I never cease to be amazed that some people will risk a good job and their entire career to turn a fast illegal buck," said Wayne County Prosecutor Kym L. Worthy. "As we know, people will do this when times are good and when they are bad; greed is the motivation. Now these defendants may go from dispensing licenses plates to making them in prison."

Evans and Worthy said the investigation began when a deputy noticed a fraudulent paper temporary license plate taped inside the back window of a vehicle the officer had pulled over. The driver of the vehicle provided investigators with the name of the person who had sold them the pink 15-day "temp tag."

"From that point the investigation continued to escalate, as each person our investigators contacted gave us information on someone else," Evans said. "The seller of the temporary tags gave us someone who was selling fake auto insurance policies, who then gave us someone else. Eventually, one of the suspects told us about Ms. Simpson, who claimed to 'have someone inside the Secretary of State's Office,' referring to Ms. Bess."

Warren added that the undercover deputy was able to make contact with Simpson and both went to the SOS Livonia branch, where Bess produced a license plate and vehicle registration with renewal tabs under an assumed name that Bess knew to be false.

Five individuals, including Bess and Simpson, have been arrested, and deputies and prosecutors are continuing their investigation.

Evans and Worthy said that once the Secretary of State's Office was notified of the investigation, it cooperated fully, assisting along the way.

"The Department of State operates with the highest degree of integrity and professionalism," Secretary of State Terri Lynn Land said. "We take our mission — and the trust that comes with it — very seriously. We have no tolerance for any violation of that trust. While these types of allegations involving a department employee are few and far between, we're continually vigilant through our internal auditing and investigative procedures. I applaud the professionalism of the Sheriff Evans and his office in this matter."

Federal grant will help fight underage drinking

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A new federal grant will help police in Westland, Garden City and Wayne combat underage drinking.

The $30,750 grant, funneled to local communities by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning, will pay costs for special investigations aimed at party stores and other places that may sell alcohol to underage drinkers.

The money will pay overtime costs for plain-clothes police officers and supervisors who also will increase alcohol enforcement efforts at events such as football games, rowdy parties, proms and other places where youngsters may congregate and drink, said Westland Police Chief James Ridener.

At times, police officers may use underage decoys to help them bust retailers involved in illegal alcohol sales, Ridener said.

The $30,750 grant will be divided among Westland, Garden City and Wayne. The money will be used through next September.

It's the second year Westland has received federal dollars to enforce laws against underage drinking. It's part of a program called Safe Communities: Underage Drinking Enforcement.

Westland will administer the grant.

"We are serious about keeping alcohol out of the possession of minors," Westland Mayor William Wild said in a prepared statement. "This grant will further enable our police department to help prevent youth behavior that could lead to dire consequences."

According to the mayor's office, the last grant for Westland resulted in 75 enforcement efforts in which officers went into places that sell alcohol. Officers also handed out 14 citations for minors in possession of alcohol, and they ticketed 16 adults for furnishing alcohol to minors. Police also broke up 12 parties involving alcohol.

While the new store will be a full-service grocery with fresh produce, meat, baked goods, frozen, canned and dry goods and dairy products, all of the products will be prepackaged at the warehouse. Items arrive at the store ready to be displayed. The system helps cut expenses and requires seven to nine employees, Branneman said.

Shoppers also participate in the savings. They're able to bring their own bags and boxes. Shopping carts are available for a 25-cent deposit, which is refunded when the cart is returned. The system cuts down on the labor of collecting carts left in the parking lot, a savings that's passed on to customers.

According to Branneman, the end result is savings that are better than national brand, store brand and even club prices. The chain offers a double guarantee that every item is produced to the highest standards.

"We did an advertisement a few months ago comparing ALDI to Farmer Jack; our cost was half that of Farmer Jack," he said.

"The ALDI experience is truly an alternative to the maze of aisles and long lines at other grocery stores," said Dan Sefton, vice president of the Webberville division. "We do everything possible to help customers with their bottom line while still maintaining top-of-the-line quality. Our prices are even lower than wholesale clubs, and our sizes are much more convenient."

The store also will offer a changing assortment of seasonal products — special purchases from furniture and clothing to electronics and appliances up to decorations and toys at Christmas.

Company officials see Westland as a good fit for ALDI.

"It's an all-American city, a fantastic community," Kapusansky said. "Westland is healthy, it's stable, it offers all kinds of things for families to do. We're glad to be there right among the roof tops."

Redford clerk calls WCCC mailer illegal

BY MATT JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

A Redford official is challenging Wayne County Community College over a mailer about the school's tax proposal, which Westland voters in the Wayne-Westland school district will help decide.

Township Clerk Garth Christie on Oct. 11 filed a state complaint against WCCC Chancellor Curtis Ivery and the WCCC Board of Trustees, alleging the school used public money to promote its 1.5-mill property tax renewal plan.

"I looked at it and I was shocked," Christie said Tuesday of the brochure. "It's using public money to campaign for a ballot proposal, and I believe that's illegal."

Christie's complaint, filed with the Michigan Secretary of State Terri Lynn Land's office, also questions recent television commercials about the college.

"You have to look at the timing of all this expenditure," Christie said.

A college spokeswoman said the mailer is informational in nature and doesn't tell people how to vote on the tax plan.

The ballot question asks voters to renew a tax of 1.5 mills ($1 for every $1,000 of a property's taxable value) for 10 years. The renewal wouldn't take effect until 2011, after the current tax expires.

The tax plan is the only thing on the ballot in Redford Township in the Tuesday, Nov. 6, election.

Christie said he's received calls of support from people who've heard about his complaint. Redford's Board of Trustees on Oct. 9 approved a resolution condemning the timing of the tax renewal proposal.

WCCC spokeswoman Tina Bassett said the mailer is legal. "We do have a public obligation to provide information so that people can make up their own minds," said Bassett. "It does not tell people how to vote."

The back of the brochure

Bassett said about 50,000 brochures were mailed, targeted to areas in the WCCC district in which there are high proportions of WCCC students or people who may have attended events at the school.

includes 12 tidbits of information about the school, and the millage, under the heading: "Top 12 Reasons Why We Should Support Wayne County Community College District."

"We check with our attorneys before we put anything out, and if this were a problem we would've known about it," said Bassett.

Bassett said about 50,000 brochures were mailed, targeted to areas in the WCCC district in which there are high proportions of WCCC students or people who may have attended events at the school. She said she could not pinpoint the cost of mailing the piece, as it was mailed with other WCCC literature.

The WCCC district includes Redford — except for the part of the township in the Clarenceville School District — and a portion of Westland and Canton Township.

Secretary of State spokeswoman Kelly Chesney said the department's Legal and Regulatory Services Administration will ultimately decide whether a violation of campaign finance law has been committed.

District's security proposal on hold

A proposal to add security cameras and new locks to Livonia Public Schools elementary and central office buildings was removed from Monday's school board agenda due to "several questions that several board members still had," said board President Lynda Scheel.

The district received a $200,000 bid from a company to install cameras and electronic door locks with magnetic key cards.

The board's building and site committee will continue discussing security upgrades and bring the issue back to the board, said Trustee Greg Oke, who leads the committee.

Meeting topics set

The school board will hear a presentation of the district's audit at the Monday, Oct. 22, committee of the whole meeting at 6:30 p.m.

On Oct. 29, the fifth Monday of the month, the school board won't meet. However, residents can attend an informal community conversation about the district's budget, finances and audit. Twenty-five people can sign up to talk with three board members from 6:30-8 p.m. This time, additional audience members are allowed to watch the interaction, which will take place in the board meeting room. The community conversation will not be televised or taped. To register, call (734) 744-2510. The next regular board meeting is 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 5. Agendas are posted online at www.livonia.k12.mi.us.

PTA gift improves recess

Let the slide races begin.

Two new freestanding, side-by-side slides on Hoover Elementary's playground are part of a $34,500 gift from the school's PTA.

The PTA also purchased a "recess pack" for each classroom that features 19 pieces of equipment including jump ropes and sidewalk chalk. Hoover Principal Andrea Oquist said student council members helped shape the decision. "There were no free-standing slides on the playground. That was something that many of the boys and girls wanted to see."

IRA provision allows charity contributions with tax break

Dear Rick: I read something where you can give money from your IRA to a charity without having to pay taxes and at the same time deduct the amount as a charitable contribution. Is this possible?

Last year under the Pension Protection Act of 2006 there was a provision that allows certain individuals to transfer money from their IRAs to a charity and avoid paying taxes on the distribution from the IRA. However, in those situations you cannot also claim the amount as a charitable deduction.

In order to qualify for this favorable treatment, you have to be age 70½ or older. In addition, the maximum amount you can transfer in any one year is $100,000. The law that authorizes these transfers only allowed this for 2006 and 2007. At this point in time, it is hard to say if the law will be extended. The key to this transaction is you have to make sure your money is transferred into the charity before Dec. 31.

Money Matters

A charitable IRA transfer offers a number of benefits. First, the contribution counts as part of your required minimum distribution and it is not included in your adjustable gross income. Since it is not included in your AGI it could help reduce the tax on Social Security benefits and may help with other income cutoffs that certain tax breaks require.

I believe a charitable IRA transfer makes sense for people who are charitable in nature and who do not deduct their contributions. Many people take standard deductions and are unable to deduct charitable contributions. Using the charitable IRA transfer allows you to still take the standard deduction and exclude the IRA distribution from your income.

Individuals in high tax brackets who cannot deduct their charitable contributions also benefit from this method.

Charitable IRA transfers must be completed before the end of the year and there are paperwork requirements. If you are interested make sure you do it as soon as possible. Dear Rick: My mother recently passed away and I know that she had a life insurance policy. The problem is I can't locate the policy. Do you have any ideas?

My condolences on the loss of your mother. Unfortunately, there is no national registry of life insurance policies. However, there are some other things you can do.

Look through your mother's old financial records. Whether it is tax returns or canceled checks, there may be some clues as to the insurance company. For example, if your mother was still making premium payments, there should be a canceled check.

If your mother has used a CPA, attorney or a financial adviser, contact them. They may be able to provide you some information.

In addition, I would check who was your mother's homeowner and automobile insurance agent. That individual may also be able to help.

If you have no luck after doing all this, contact the State Insurance Commissioner in Lansing.

For as long as I have been in the financial world, there has always been one constant and that is that upon death, families have difficulties locating assets. Not only does this cost the family money but also causes frustration.

That's why I recommend completing a document locator, a listing of assets, where they are located and where legal documents are kept.

Yo Ho Ho, it's a pirate's world at the Westland library

Dec. 4 heralds the release on DVD of Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End - the final movie in a trilogy that has broken box office records. But the success of the franchise is only the latest proof that people are fascinated by piracy.

Recent books such as Empire of Blue Water: Captain Morgan's Great Pirate Army, the epic battle for the Americas, and the catastrophe that ended the bloody outlaw's reign, or The Sack of Panama: Captain Morgan and the Battle of the Caribbean (call numbers 972.904 Tal and 972.87 Ear, respectively) are only the most recent examples of corsairs in literature. In fiction, of course, there are boatloads of pirates - from the classic Treasure Island by Robert Louis Stevenson (J FIC Ste), to the more recent Peter and the Starcatchers by Dave Barry (J FIC Bar). There are even books about pirates in the future, such as the Planet Pirates series by Anne McCaffrey and Jody Lynn Nye. We've even got pirate music, like Rogue's Galley (CD Vocal Rog) (watch it, though, the language on this one is pretty spicy ...)

In the wider world, there's national "Talk Like a Pirate Day" - celebrated on Sept. 19 this year (see the Web site at <http://www.talklikeapirate.com>), there's bands that recreate sea songs and chantages and other piratey music (like The Seadogs - at <http://www.seadogs.org/>), there's entire groups who recreate pirate life professionally on the Renaissance Faire circuit (The Cardiff Rose, <http://www.cardiffrose.com/>) or just for fun (the Pirates of Rogues Cove, <http://www.roguescove.org/>). You can even tour the oldest warship still in commission in the U.S. Navy, which chased privateers (<http://www.usconstitution.navy.mil/index.htm>).

So ... Avast ye! Weigh anchor and sail into your library afor we keelhaul ye errrrr. Please come into the library at your earliest convenience, and peruse our fine materials on

Church eyes parking expansion Leader praises Westland Rotary

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

When Temple Baptist Church moved to Plymouth Township and became NorthRidge Church, church and township officials signed a Property Usage/Consent Judgment that limited the church to a certain amount of growth.

Now, NorthRidge Church representatives are asking Federal Court Judge Denise Page Hood to throw it out. After hearing lawyers argue their cases at a hearing last week, Hood offered - and the parties accepted - a court-supported mediation session designed to resolve the issues. That meeting is set for Nov. 8.

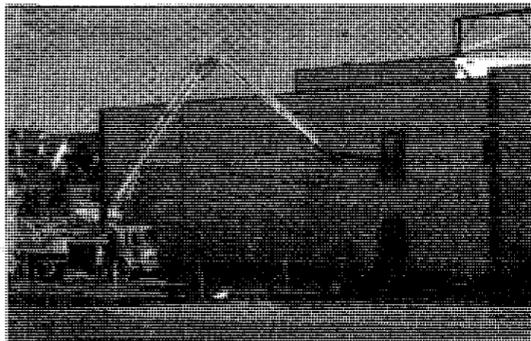

NorthRidge officials declined to comment on the hearing, but did release a statement.

"Representatives of NorthRidge Church and Plymouth Township appeared in Federal Court before the Honorable Denise Page Hood on October 10, 2007 to address issues arising out of a 1995 Property/Usage Consent Judgment," the statement read. "At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Hood offered a Court-supported mediation session between the parties as a method to resolve outstanding issues. NorthRidge Church warmly accepted the meeting. Out of respect for the judicial process, NorthRidge Church will report the outcome upon the conclusion of the meeting."

While NorthRidge officials declined to discuss the particulars of their request until after the hearing, township officials said the issue - aside from continued growth of the church itself - is parking.

While no official request has been made by the church, NorthRidge representatives have made it clear in informal discussions with the township what they'd like to do.

"If the consent judgment is thrown out, it is their full intent to expand the capacity of the church, to expand the parking on the existing developed site and to extend that parking to an adjacent parcel to the south which they have purchased," said James Anulewicz, Plymouth Township's Director of Municipal Services. "There's never been any formal submission for such expansion, but they've had informal meetings with me on two different occasions."

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

NorthRidge Church officials just completed an expansion last year.

The consent judgement, signed by both parties in 1995 when the former Temple Baptist Church relocated to Plymouth Township, allows just over 1,100 parking spaces. The church, located on some 55 acres at North Territorial and Ridge, recently opened an 85,000-square-foot addition. The church, which has more than 14,000 members and averages some 9,000 worshippers for weekend services, currently shuttles attendees from the Johnson Controls Parking lot.

Another issue is whether the consent judgement covers the 25 acres the church has purchased to the south. In previous interviews, senior pastor Brad Powell has said he doesn't think so; township officials disagree.

"The consent agreement limits the number of parking spaces," township supervisor Richard Reaume said. "The (township) board's position is they would like NorthRidge to honor the consent agreement."

So would residents, who are concerned about traffic problems significantly increased parking would cause in the neighborhood.

"I think everyone's well aware of the growth at NorthRidge and the success (Powell) has had in rebuilding," said Paul Bortel, a Plymouth Township resident who lives in Plymouth Commons. "What we haven't heard specifically is his plan to accommodate the residents who are living in the immediate area and who would be greatly affected by the additional traffic burden in the area. We would certainly welcome an accommodation in that area, and we haven't heard any."

The guest of honor at the Thursday, Oct. 18, Westland Rotary meeting had words of encouragement.

"I am just so proud of everything that was shared with me," said Jennifer Jones, district governor for District 6400, during the annual governor's visit. "I hope that each one of you feels a real sense of pride."

Jones, a member of the Windsor Roseland Club who has a television production company, cited the Westland Rotary's backpack project. That effort provides backpacks and school supplies to students at Lincoln and Jefferson-Barns elementaries in the Wayne-Westland district.

She talked about how giving is better than receiving. Jones was on a trip to Chicago and bought a "gratitude journal." The clerk wrapped it carefully and beautifully, so he'd be the first entry of what she had to be grateful for.

"It was a really wonderful moment," Jones said.

She and her husband traveled to Haiti to work at a medical clinic; her husband's a family doctor. Children ran to see who was arriving in their Haitian village.

Most children had distended stomachs from malnutrition but still playing with joy. "They had no idea what they didn't have," she recalled.

The medical clinic was set up, and two young men who experienced pain were simply hungry. "It motivates us to action," Jones said of such moments. "How can you walk away from something like that?"

Eighteen months later, the village is about to get a school thanks to Rotary along with a food program.

She discussed the current Rotary theme of "Rotary Shares."

"I love those words," Jones said of projects focused on clean water, health/hunger and literacy efforts.

She mentioned the district conference next spring in Niagara Falls, Canada, along with a World Peace Summit planned for April 2008. The latter will feature well-known speakers and a peace concert.

"We're busy, busy people and there's so much on our plate," Jones said, pleased that district Rotary membership is up a bit.

She's welcomed 48 new members since July 1. "We are going in the right direction," Jones said.

She presented Westland Rotary President Lou Toarmina, a Westland resident, with an inukshuk, a stone figure built to resemble a human. The word is Inuit for "in the image of man."

ACHING MUSCLES

At times, you know why your muscles ache. If you spent a day raking leaves, a half hour shoveling snow or an afternoon walking an outdoor fair and festival, you are not surprised that you ache all over the next morning.

The aches that concern a doctor are the types that last for days to weeks, involve muscles above and below the waist, and last through the day and even become worse at night when you are otherwise resting.

If you experience such muscle aching, you may be surprised by the questions your doctor asks. First, he wants to make a distinction, if possible, between muscles that ache and are stiff, muscles that pain, or muscles that are weak. Separate muscle conditions are responsible for these different responses. For example, it is rare that conditions that cause aching muscles also cause muscle weakness.

Second, he will inquire exactly which muscles are involved. In certain muscle problems, the aching is present in the shoulders and thighs. In other muscle conditions the aching is more wide spread and symmetrical, i.e., present equally on the right and left side of the body.

Third, he will want to know if the intensity of the pain varies during the day, and if so, when during the day or night the discomfort is least, and when the worst.

With this information and the results of a small number of laboratory tests, your doctor can decide whether to treat your muscle aching with a medication or if the therapy is to stop a medication you now take.

Get inspired to make a difference on simple new holiday

Who wouldn't want to feel the satisfaction of actually making a difference in someone else's life or in their community?

On the other hand, many of us need a little kick-start to get that altruistic spirit going sometimes.

That's the point of Make A Difference Day, which will be this coming Saturday, Oct. 27.

Started 17 years ago, this is one of those created holidays but with a great purpose. It's sponsored by USA WEEKEND Magazine and its carrier newspapers, in partnership with the Points of Light & Hands On Network and supported by Newman's Own Foundation, which provides donations to charities.

Make A Difference Day is a day set aside to help others. Simple as that. No special colors, fancy badges or funny hats required, just a desire to go out and, well, make a difference.

There are some groups planning organized events in recognition of the idea of making a difference. "Dear Soldier" is just one of those local efforts planned to send letters and care packages or gifts to military personnel overseas as hosted by Schoolcraft College at both its main Livonia campus's VisTaTech center on Oct. 22 and its Radcliff Campus in Garden City on Oct. 23. Packing days are Oct. 25-26. For details, e-mail lstantont@schoolcraft.edu.

Another way to make a difference is to use Oct. 27 as the day to pledge your support. For instance, Wayne County Commissioner Philip Cavanagh is looking for volunteers to help needy senior citizens in Redford Township, Garden City and Dearborn Heights rake their leaves or clean up their yards on Nov. 3. (It's a week later to let more of the leaves fall.) Call Celeste Lehman at (313) 224-0930 to sign up.

For more specific ideas, visit www.usaweekend.com and look for the Make A Difference Day icon at the top of the page. From that page, you can search for organized projects by ZIP code; get inspired by reading about what other difference-makers have done; or load in some details about how or whom you'd like to help and use a computerized "idea generator" to figure out what to do.

Making a positive impact on the world is something we should all aspire to — whether it's through some organized effort or something more subtle. Using this created holiday to get started seems like a great idea.

Using children as pawns

There has been much politicizing and misinformation of the SCHIP program that needs to be addressed.

First, the SCHIP program was created by the Republican Congress in 1997 to subsidize children's health insurance for families with an income of $41,000 a year for a family of four, too high to qualify for Medicaid.

President Bush has agreed to continue the program, and increase the budget for the program by 20 percent. However, for political reasons, the Democrats in Congress have pushed through a bill for the program with a $35 billion increase over the next five years instead of the $5 billion that the president requested.

The Democrat bill would raise the qualifying income from $41,000 to $82,000 for a family of four and covers children to 25 years of age.

Worse yet, in order to hide the true cost, their bill in 2011 would abruptly cut spending by 65 percent below current spending levels which means that the 2012 Congress would have to pass additional spending or kick kids off the rolls.

If you are a smoker, you are going to pay for this increase in spending for the program with another 61 cents a pack.

SCHIP is a good program, for it helps the truly needy, and to extend the program with President Bush's more modest 20 percent increase is not cold-hearted.

They are sending the president a bill to cover children of more financially able families long after they are in the workforce. They know he will have to veto it, and then attack him and everyone who votes against it with misinformation. That is cold hearted and plays politics using poor children as pawns for political gain.

In Michigan, almost 72 percent of the SCHIP money is going to childless adults according to the state's own report to the center for Medicare and Medicaid services making Michigan number one in the country. Thank you Governor Granholm.

Needy families making $82,000 a year, children up to 25 years of age, smokers paying more, childless adults taking money's from "poor kids"? Yes the era of Big Government is back, and bigger than ever.

Praising Granholm

I'm one of the many Michigan citizens who is thankful for Gov. Granholm's effort and dedication that appears to be necessary for the "common good."

Since too many legislators have a different agenda, it has been a difficult struggle.

Her courage and perseverance is appreciated and the people who care feel that the world is a better place because she is in it.

'Culture of life?'

President Bush's veto and 9th District Congressman Joe Knollenberg's vote against a bipartisan effort to reauthorize the State Children's Health Insurance Program show just how far hard-core Republicans will go to prove a point.

Those who oppose the $35 billion bill say it will lead parents to drop private insurance and belly up to the government trough for health care coverage. They say Democrats are using poor children to push an agenda for national health care. In his veto message, Bush said the bill would provide government-funded health insurance to families making $83,000 a year, and he doesn't think that's poor.

He's right — that's not poor. More's the pity. Because even at that income level, profit-driven insurance companies have put adequate health coverage out of reach for millions of American families. The rising cost of health insurance has led many employers to either require high employee premium contributions, or to offer no health insurance at all. According to a study by the nonpartisan Urban Institute, the total number of uninsured children has risen by 12 percent over the past two years, but the number of children in families living at 200 to 400 percent of the poverty rate has increased by double that rate.

More importantly, it appears Mr. Bush doesn't understand the requirements he added to SCHIP, which force new families to wait without insurance for a year before submitting an application and require states to enroll 95 percent of the lowest income children before anyone else.

The bipartisan compromise dropped childless adults from the program, freeing up funds for another two million children. The additional tax on cigarettes was expected to keep thousands of kids from smoking. But our congressman doesn't support it. According to Joe Knollenberg's blog, he wants to just continue the program "as is" — until after the 2008 elections.

Of course. President Bush's proposal would result in an estimated $7 billion shortfall in SCHIP funding over the next five years. And now, all children covered under SCHIP are without health insurance — because SCHIP funding authorization ran out three days before he vetoed the bill.

But that's not a problem, according to our president. Here's what he told an audience in Cleveland this past July: "People have access to health care in America. After all, you just go to an emergency room."

And this is his "culture of life?"

Sink SCHIP

The SCHIP program was created in 1997 by a Republican Congress in order to provide supplementary health insurance for poor children. The Democrats are now trying to push for a major expansion of this program purely for ideological reasons. They are attempting to achieve their goal of socialized medicine.

In a recent article by Robert Novak in the Washington Post of Sept. 27, he points out that under the Democrat proposal private health insurance would be replaced by government health insurance for most workers. The expansion of this program would cover families with income up to $82,000 a year. States could also extend the aid to childless adults. The term "children" under the bill would mean anyone under 21. The expanded SCHIP program would become a giant entitlement program for the middle class and, like other entitlement programs, you can bet the costs of it would rise dramatically.

In one of their weekly radio addresses the Democrats used a 12-year-old boy to talk about how he and his family had benefited from the SCHIP program. His name was Graeme Frost and he berated President Bush for not expanding SCHIP. Unfortunately for the Democrats, bloggers starting checking into the Frost family. What they found was quite interesting. The Frosts live in a 3,000-square-foot house in the Butchers Hill historic district of Baltimore. The children attend a private school that costs $20,000 a year for each child. The family purchased a building for $160,000 in 1999 and their house mortgage appears to be worth $200,000. Yet this family cannot find affordable health insurance?

Rep. Joe Knollenberg was right in voting against this expansion of SCHIP. He has done an outstanding job for his constituents and that is why he continues to get re-elected.

Glenn wins shootout against Wayne, 49-38

Wild, crazy, wacky. That's the only way to describe Westland John Glenn's season-ending 49-38 football win Friday night at Wayne Memorial, a game which featured nearly 1,000 yards in total offense.

Glenn, which ended a three-game losing skid against the rival Zebras, finishes the year at 5-4 overall. The Rockets now lead the series, dating back to the 1972 season, 28-8. "We stressed all week that this type of game will create memories that will last a lifetime," Glenn coach Todd DeLuca said. "All week we talked about having guys step up and play the best games of their career."

"We stopped them a couple more times than they stopped us, and that was the difference I guess."

It was by far the highest scoring game of the 36-year series between the two Wayne-Westland public schools.

Glenn led 28-18 at half-time, but it didn't start out well for the Rockets, who fumbled the opening kickoff and Wayne responded with a 10-yard D.J. Freeman TD run.

The Wayne senior quarterback was 9-of-17 passing for 109 yards. He also rushed 21 times for another 121. Junior Anthony Baskin added 81 yards on 13 carries.

Glenn's leading rushers were two seniors - quarterback Keshawn Martin (17-for-191) and running back C.J. Woodford (27-for-187).

Martin scored on TD runs of 4, 1 and 45 yards. He also hit Woodford on a 19-yard scoring pass. Woodford also contributed a 50-yard TD run, while Pat Jensen had a 2-yard scoring run followed by Martin's two-point pass to Josh Jackson just before intermission.

Glenn's Dazz Bragg contributed on a 5-yard TD run to cap a 12-play, 54-yard drive with 7:04 remaining in the game after Wayne closed the gap to 35-32 on D.J. Freeman's 68-yard scoring pass to brother Alan with 1:26 to go in the

Clasgens saluted

Olivet College running back Pat Clasgens (Livonia Stevenson) was named Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association Offensive Player of the Week after rushing for 204 yards on 23 carries in the Comets' 24-9 football win Oct. 13 over Albion College.

Clasgens averaged 8.9 yards per carry as Olivet improved to 3-3 overall and 3-0 in the MIAA.

Brooks inductee

Ferris State University three-time (1993-95) All-America football performer Mike Brooks (Livonia Churchill) was inducted recently into the Bulldog Hall of Fame.

The 5-foot-11, 200-pound linebacker is FSU's all-time leading tackler with 351 solo stops and 316 assists. He helped the Bulldogs to a 42-6 overall record in his four seasons and an NCAA Division II national semifinal playoff berth in 1995.

He is currently a middle school teacher for the Walled Lake Schools along with his wife Shannon. They have two children (Gavin and Bailey) and reside in Livonia.

Hulett homers

Lake Superior State University's Erin Hulett (Canton/Livonia Ladywood) belted a go-ahead three-run homer and scored the winning run in the 10th inning for a 10-9 Soo Lakers victory in an exhibition women's softball game Oct. 13 at Oakland Community College.

Hole-in-one club

Stephen Garchar, 69, of Livonia, used a 5-iron to ace the 150-yard, No. 2 hole last month at Fox Hills' Strategic Golf Course in Plymouth. Garchar shot a nine-hole round of 30.

Patriots blank Churchill, 7-0, harbor playoff hopes

PREP FOOTBALL

Livonia Franklin's defense pitched a shutout Friday night at the expense of play-off-bound Livonia Churchill.

The Patriots, who earned a hard-fought 7-0 victory, yielded only 135 yards in total offense. They ended their football regular season at 5-4, winning five of its final six games after an 0-3 start.

And with the triumph, the Patriots kept their glimmering playoff hopes alive as an at-large team with a 66.930 point average, second to only Taylor Truman's 68.00 among the state's 5-4 Class A teams. A total of 256 teams make the postseason field divided into eight divisions of 32 teams each.

Churchill, which garnered its third playoff berth in school history a week earlier, finishes 7-2 overall and awaits a yet to be named opponent on the MHSAA's Selection Sunday Show (to be aired on FoxSportsNet Detroit at 6:30 p.m.).

After Churchill fumbled away a scoring opportunity on the Franklin 6-yard line with 5:12 left in the first quarter (recovered by linebacker Austin Mesler), the Patriots put the game's only score on the board with 2:20 left in the first half when senior wide receiver Israel Woolfork - using all of his 6-foot-4 frame - grabbed a 36-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jesse Carpenter.

Churchill committed an uncharacteristic four turnovers in the game as Franklin picked off three passes, two by Connor Leidal. The other pick-off was by Woolfork (tipped by Mesler) to stymie a Churchill drive at the Patriots' 13 with 2:59 to go in the third period.

The game was pretty much a defensive stalemate as the Chargers could must only two net yards in the final period. Churchill's top rusher was Matt Kowalis (13-for-50), while Carpenter had 119 of Franklin's 190 total offense.

Churchill's Rachel McFarlane, shown in a meet earlier this season, won the Western Lakes title Friday at Willow Metropark in New Boston.

Life in the McFarlane

Senior 1st as Chargers repeat in Western Lakes

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Livonia Churchill's Rachel McFarlane is hitting her stride at a critical part of the girls cross country season.

The senior All-Stater led the way Friday afternoon at wind-whipped Willow Metropark in New Boston as the Chargers repeated as Western Lakes Activities Association champion with a team total of 50 points.

McFarlane covered the challenging 5,000-meter course in a season-best 18 minutes, 38 seconds to finish ahead of Livonia Stevenson's Courtney Calka, who was the only other among 82 competitors to crack the 19-minute barrier in 18:48.

Plymouth, meanwhile, earned its best WLAA finish in its brief school history by edging Northville for second place, 80-82. It was the first time ever Plymouth had finished ahead of its WLAA-Western Division foe. Canton was also in the mix, scoring 94 to place fourth in the 12-school field.

McFarlane, who succeeds graduated teammate Megan Macerati as WLAA champion, clocked a season best 18:42 in the second Lakes Division Jamboree eight days earlier, five seconds behind Calka.

"It was phenomenal to see Rachel win because she works hard in practice and she's been coming on," said Tatro, who guided Churchill to a runner-up finish in last year's Division I state meet. "I knew she pop a good one soon. The weather conditions did not let it interfere with her race strategy. She knew what she wanted to do and her game plan worked to a 'T.' I'm very proud of her."

McFarlane had concerns prior to the race as wind gusts reached 35 MPH.

"During the warmup I was a little worried," McFarlane said. "I just wanted to tuck in behind Courtney, see how the race goes and see how fast she was after the first mile. We were together going until the second hill. I knew had to keep pushing. Most of the time the wind was behind us, especially on the downhill. I could hear people saying I was 10 meters ahead, then 50, but I knew she always has a massive kick so I had to be in front of her. I didn't think I would be a season P.R. (personal best) for me in this weather, but I did."

Churchill, capturing its fifth WLAA crown under Tatro since 2000, also received strong finishes from sophomores Sara Kroll (sixth) and Amanda Southwell (eighth); and juniors Alyssa Mira (13th) and Hannah Otto (22nd).

"I knew Amanda (Southwell) would pop a good one sooner or later," the Churchill coach said. "She's a gutsy little runner. The conditions were windy, but the girls were not concerned. With our junior and senior leadership, they came out and did not let it affect them. I thought Sara (Kroll), Alyssa (Mira), Hannah (Otto) all ran gutsy races today despite the weather conditions."

The Chargers, meanwhile, appear to be in good position to repeat this Saturday as regional champion at Schoolcraft College.

Plymouth also will be gunning for its first-ever state team berth.

The Wildcats were led by sophomore Kelly Hahn, who took fifth in 19:23. Juniors Molly Slavens and Beth Heldmeyer were 11th and 14th, respectively. Laura Ahearn added a 24th, while Julie Forster took 26th.

"We just have a bunch of fast girls who work hard," Plymouth coach Mary Kerwin said. "You can be the best coach of the world, but you have to have the horses. I'm proud of all of them. They put in a supreme effort today and we hope to keep it rolling into next week."

"Molly (Slavens) had a stress fracture and missed the first five weeks. We brought her back slowly and today she runs 19:42. We had three in the 19s and two others in the 20s, so you can't complain."

Canton's top finisher, meanwhile, was junior Sarah Thomas in ninth.

Northville 1st in WLAA meet; Churchill places 4th

"Don't look back. Something might be gaining on you."
-Satchel Paige

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

Salem cross country runner Kevin deBear took Satchel's advice to heart Friday afternoon during the Western Lakes Activities Association conference meet at Willow Metropark in New Boston. The senior charged to an early lead and kept his eyes on the trail ahead on the way to capturing the individual title with a time of 16:18.

deBear broke the tape three seconds ahead of runner-up Kyle Roche of Walled Lake Central.

Northville won the team championship with 55 points after placing three runners in the top 10. Canton was second with 75 points, just ahead of the Rocks (90).

"I never look back when I'm running because it slows me down," said deBear, who placed 13th in last year's WLAA race. "There were a lot of leaves and dirt kicking off my shoes, so I thought some of the guys were closing in on me, but I just kept going."

deBear credited his and the Rocks' fine performance to the team's off-season work regimen.
"We trained harder than ever this summer," he said. "We'd have 20 guys show up for the workouts every week-day from Monday to Friday." The Mustangs took the top spot thanks to the stellar efforts of Jonathan Zurek, Erik Peterson and Nicholas Kolbow, who placed fourth, fifth and eighth, respectively.

All the runners were hampered at times by a strong, gusting wind that came out of the northwest at 25 to 35 miles per hour.

"When you're running into the wind like that, you just have to think positive thoughts and keep going," deBear said.

A pair of juniors - Duncan Spitz and Kyle Clinton - sparked Canton's runner-up finish. Spitz was third in 16:34 while Clinton wasn't far behind, crossing in seventh place in 16:42.

Senior Derek Hoerman provided some much-needed depth to the Chiefs' effort with a 16th place showing in 17 minutes flat.
The top five places were filled out by Livonia Churchill, which racked up 93 points and Walled Lake Western, which finished with 131.

"I figured going in we be somewhere between first and fourth," said Churchill coach John McGreevy. "It would have been difficult to finish first, but I thought we had a shot."

"I was a little disappointed because I felt we could have run better as a group. We had a couple nice individual performances, but as a team, we didn't step up like we needed to."

McGreevy said there were no major surprises at the top of the standings.

"Northville's been tough all year, so that wasn't unexpected," he said. "Canton seems to be peaking at the right time. Salem is probably a little disappointed like we are."

8-0) clinched at least a share of the WLAA-Lakes Division title Wednesday with a three-game triumph - 25-22, 25-11, 25-14 - over visiting Westland John Glenn (8-17-4, 3-5).

Kyndra Abron led the way with 15 kills and three digs, while Kristen Nalez added eight kills.

Lindsey Graciak paced the defense with 15 digs, while Jordan Kerr went 24-for-24 serving with 100 percent serve receive and 10 digs.

Kat Krupsky finished with three kills, two assists, six digs and serve-receive at 100 percent.

Setter Kristy DeClercq and Kayla Johnston combined for 31 assists, five digs and two kills, while Jessica Stroud had three kills and three blocks.

Junior middle hitter Brittany Holbrook paced Glenn with 18 kills and 11 digs, while senior libero Kirstin Kirk had 23 digs. Defensive specialist Lauren Baker and Aranda Phare added 20 and 16 digs, respectively.

"Our goal was to touch every ball that Churchill put over the net," Glenn coach Julian Wargo said. "We were able to keep up with Churchill in the first match, but we were not able to match their size and speed. Our attacker could not get any open hits against Churchill's big blockers."

Warriors secure Metro crown; Churchill sews up Lakes side

Lutheran High Westland clinched at least a share of the Metro Conference girls volleyball title Thursday with a 25-14, 25-18, 25-14 triumph at home over Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest.

The Warriors, ranked No. 4 in Division 4, improved to 24-2-5 overall and 7-0 in the Metro.

Second-place Northwest falls to 14-11-3 overall and 5-2 in the conference.

The Warriors' top attacker, 6-foot-2 junior Becca Refenes, was limited to front-row play because of a bruised shoulder. She still finished with 10 kills, two blocks and three digs.

Katey Ramthun added 10 kills, 13 digs and served 11 points, while Allyson Yankee finished with seven kills and nine digs.

Setters Julie Jongmsa and Lauren Gieschen combined for 23 assist-to-kills, while Abi Gieschen and 15 digs.

"It was a good team effort, a big win and our girls rallied around her," Lutheran Westland coach Kevin Wade said of Refenes.

team defense the last few weeks outside of not stopping the guy (Keshawn Martin of Westland John Glenn) last week," Franklin coach Chris Kelbert said. "We knew we had to stop number eight (Kowalis). He's been their guy. If we could limit him, we thought we'd do pretty well and get them into (passing) situations that they're not normally comfortable with."

Churchill coach John Filiatraut credited the Patriots' defense as well.

"They had a nice game plan and they were up for every challenge," he said. "They have a good scheme and good players, which makes it tough. It seemed the whole game was in our end. Their punter (Carpenter) was a game changer. He buried us. Tonight was a field position game and he made the field longer for us."

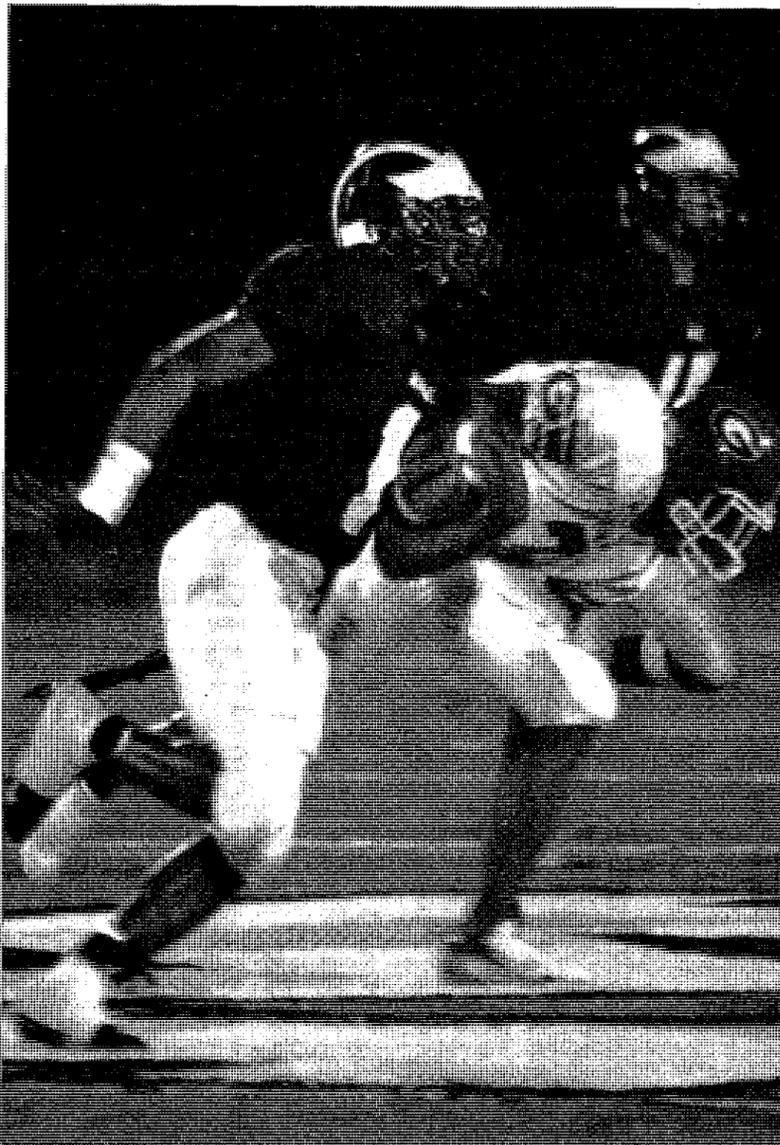

Other than the Woolfork TD, the Chargers limited Franklin's offensive attack a majority of the night.

"Franklin also has great athletes offensively and I thought our defense played great," Filiatraut said. "I'm proud of them. The (first-quarter) fumble on the goal line was a killer. We fumbled the exchange. Last week against Canton (a 20-7 win) we had no turnovers and only one penalty. There were some huge field shifting because of the penalties, especially a couple of (pass) interference calls."

Churchill, however, is locked into a playoff spot, while the Patriots will have to wait-and-see once all the statewide scores are posted following Saturday's games.

"It's tough to lose, especially against Franklin, and because it's a rival game, too," Filiatraut said. "But I told our guys that next week it's one-and-out. We've got to be ready and there's a lot of season left."

third period. Wayne's other scores came on a Baskin 2-yard run and D.J. Freeman's 22-yard pass to C.J. Johnson with 2:02 remaining in the game to complete the scoring.

Wayne (4-5) racked up 499 total yards to Glenn's 428. Glenn had the edge in first downs, 16-15.

"Every time we thought we had the game under control, D.J. Freeman would make a play," DeLuca said. "He and Keshawn going back-and-forth was fun to watch. Our offensive line did a tremendous job and I thought Zack Bozigian (a senior) on the defensive line played the game of his life."

Stevenson caps 1st undefeated season since '76 with 14-0 win

Playoff-bound Livonia Stevenson completed its first undefeated regular football season since 1976 with a 14-0 win Friday night at Brighton.

Sophomore Austin White, who rushed for a team-high 168 yards on 22 carries, scored on a pair of 1-yard touchdown runs, the first coming with 7:26 to go in the second quarter and the second with 4:50 to play in the third period. Jonny Myshock added both extra points.

Spartans senior quarterback Mitchell White, scrambling on a run in an attempt to make a first down, was injured during the first offensive series and did not return. He was replaced by junior Jacob Gudeman, who finished out the game hitting 3-of-7 passes for 47 yards.

Stevenson, which lost fumbles inside the Brighton 10 twice, had 347 total yards, including 297 on the ground as Junior Wade Stahl added 98 yards in 11 carries. The Spartans had a total of 19 first downs.

Brighton was limited to 87 total yards and five first downs. Senior quarterback Devin Hochberg was 10-of-19 for 71 yards. He was picked off once by Myles White in the final period.

Stevenson's defense was anchored by Pat York, John Saaman, Wyatt Stahl, Chris Golonka, Trent Judis and Matt Broome.

"We had some uncharacteristic penalties and turnovers," Stevenson coach Tim Gabel said. "But overall I thought both lines played well."

C'ville game postponed

Livonia Clarenceville's Metro Conference season finale Friday night at home against Clawson was delayed until 1 p.m. Saturday because of a power outage in the area.

BOYS SOCCER

Spartans pass another test

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

In a set of brackets one coach jokingly referred to as "The District of Death" because of its abundance of state-ranked soccer teams, Livonia Stevenson is not only surviving, it's thriving.

The defending Division 1 state runner-up Spartans outlasted Salem in Wednesday night's District No. 7 semifinal game, 2-0, at Northville to advance to Saturday's final against the host Mustangs. The championship tilt is set to kick off at noon.

Stevenson (18-1) defeated the Rocks (7-6-10) for the third time this season — but just barely.

Following nearly 50 minutes of even-even action, Stevenson's Adrian Fylyonenko settled a pass from Nate Sergison just inside the 18-yard box and ripped home an ice-breaking goal with 30:24 left in the contest. Moments prior to Fylyonenko's net-finder, the Rocks had applied some serious pressure at the other end, but were turned back by the Spartans' bend-but-don't-break defense.

Almost four minutes after Fylyonenko's goal, Stevenson's David Simor turned a deep give-away by a Salem defender into another goal to make it 2-0.

Stevenson coach Lars Richters credited his team's second-half revival to an attitude adjustment more than a strategic one.

"I felt Salem thoroughly outplayed us in the first half," said Richters. "At halftime, I felt we needed more of an energy jolt than we did strategic adjustments. Before the game, we spoke about the importance of giving extra effort and being focused on each play, and we didn't do any of those in the first half."

A few moments after his team's disheartening season-ending loss, Salem coach Ed McCarthy was upbeat about his team's performance.

"I could not have been more happy with how we played the first 50 minutes," McCarthy said. "We knew to beat Stevenson we'd have to play our best game of the year, and for 50 minutes we did that."

"We made two mistakes on defense and Stevenson did a terrific job, a perfect job, a championship job of finishing them and making us pay for it. Up to that point, I thought we defended well, did a great job of creating chances and we probably deserved more than the 0-0 tie."

Both keepers — Stevenson's Conner Burton and Salem's Sasa Miskovic — turned in spectacular efforts.

Burton's finest moments came in the four-minute span before Fylyonenko's goal when he turned away two Salem opportunities from the door step.

Miskovic's best save came with 9:53 left in the first half when he elevated to tip away a hard, bending rocket off the foot of Stevenson's Brian Klemczak.

Richters said his team still has its work cut out for it.

"This is certainly one of the toughest Districts in the state, if not the toughest. If you can survive going through Canton, Salem and Northville, you know you've done something well."

Crusaders takes care of Saints, get ready for postseason play

BY TIM SMITH

Continuing to gain steady footing after a recent two-match skid, Madonna University's women's volleyball team played to near perfection in Tuesday's 3-0 triumph over visiting Siena Heights.

Madonna got better with each game of the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference contest, winning by scores of 30-23, 30-20 and 30-16 to improve to 22-7 overall and 10-2 in the conference — at least temporarily good for a share of first.

The Saints, meanwhile, dropped to 10-17 and 2-8.

"Everything we do is predicated on passing," Crusaders coach Jerry Abraham said. "Today we passed, and when we pass we play well, we can run our offense."

Abraham's team is 3-0 (and 9-0 in games) since the back-to-back defeats Oct. 5 against University of Michigan-Dearborn and Oct. 9 at Cornerstone.

"It's been a good little run here since we had that little slip-up, but teams go through that in a season," Abraham said. "What we do from this point is actually the most-important thing." MU will compete at this weekend's Indiana Wesleyan Tri-match, and the Crusaders then will host Davenport 7 p.m. Tuesday on Senior Night, when both Amy Szymanski and Jacqui Gatt will be honored.

"We have a tough tournament at Indiana Wesleyan, more challenges for us," Abraham said. "But we're preparing for playoffs and they're right around the corner."

Against Siena Heights, the clinching game featured contributions from both of the seniors, defensive specialist Szymanski (Redford/Livonia Ladywood) and libero Gatt (Livonia Churchill).

Szymanski rattled off four service points in a row, including an ace, to expand MU's lead to 18-8; Gatt got the game started with a three-point run from the stripe.

But according to Abraham, both of the seniors again were rock-solid defensively.

"They really are the nucleus of our team and we rely on them day-in and day-out," Abraham said.

"They are both four-year starters, they are both kids that are very experienced and when they play well we play well, it's as simple as that."

Gatt and Szymanski had 10 and eight defensive digs, respectively. But the leader in that category, with 11, was sophomore defensive specialist and Livonia Churchill product Brynn Kerr, also cited for strong play by the coach.

Sparking the offense with 18 kills was junior outside hitter Lubovj Tihomirova while sophomore outside hitter Mary McGinnis had 17.

Setting up the offense with 41 assists was sophomore Inta Grinvalds. "What we try to tell her (Grinvalds) is to set it antenna-to-antenna and tonight she did."

Abraham said the way McGinnis and junior outside hitter Whitney Fuelling are now hitting the ball, it is freeing up room for Tihomirova.

"We had a lot of balance," he added. "And when we have that balance it frees hitters up. When you free Lubovj up, she's tough to stop."

For Siena Heights, top contributors included sophomore outside hitter Jessica Brown (nine kills), senior defensive specialist Betsy Schroeder (10 digs) and sophomore setter Melissa Hall (29 assists).

Franklin bogs down Tractors to reach district soccer final

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

It's been over a decade — 1995 to be exact — the last time Livonia Franklin reached a district boys soccer final.

The Patriots, despite a 5-14-1 overall record, earned their shot Wednesday night with a 3-1 Division 1 semifinal win over 14-2-1 Dearborn Fordson, the Mega Conference's Blue Division champion.

In the other semifinal, host Grosse Pointe ousted Westland John Glenn, 7-0, ending the Rockets' season at 4-15-1.

On Friday, Franklin will take on the host Blue Devils (13-8-1) for the championship. Game time is 6 p.m.

The winner advances Tuesday to regional semifinals at Livonia Stevenson to take on the Saline district champion in the first game of a double-header. (Game time is 5:30 p.m.)

Franklin's season of hard knocks in the tough Western Lakes Activities Association has paid off so far during state tournament action. The Patriots opened district play Monday with a 4-2 win over Garden City, another Mega member.

"We're excited, just happy to be in the finals," Franklin sixth-year coach Vic Rodopoulos said. "We know (Grosse Pointe) South has a strong forward with a quick-touch attack. It's going to be a good game."

After Fordson cut the deficit to 2-1 with a penalty kick midway through the second half, Franklin's Zain Qureshi scored unassisted off another rebound with only 12:06 remaining to seal the victory.

"We crashed the net and were able to score goals off rebounds," Rodopoulos said. "That's something we haven't done all season."

Steve Trapp and Travis Matthey anchored Franklin's defense in the back, while goalkeepers Jordan McKindles (first half) and Brad Mangune (second half) combined for the victory.

Glenn, meanwhile, couldn't overcome a 3-0 halftime deficit against South.

"We just didn't have it tonight, we came up short," Glenn first-year coach Reavis Olive said. "South was fast, well-disciplined and well-coached. They're an excellent team."

Grandparenting requires grace

With all that I have written in these columns in the last several years I have never shared any thoughts on grandparenting. Until it began to take on a personal meaning.

Grandparenting is just around the corner. I will join an increasing number of adults who, ready or not, are entering this next phase of life.

Grandparenting today is perhaps even more complex than in previous generations.

Grandparents in the community will be right there for the child. Stepparents create new numbers of older persons who have a bond with the new baby or young children. Many grandparents live at a distance from their grandchild or grandchildren; they have the challenge of being involved less frequently with their newest family members.

When one looks at family systems one can view the influences, traditions, behaviors, patterns, religious or spiritual values which are passed down through the family. And grandchildren will receive those realities. Grandchildren grow up as the next generation of the family. What part they play in that and how they receive their heritage has as much to do with their grandparents as their parents.

A recent Supreme Court decision affirmed the rights of parents over grandparents so that grandparents cannot interfere with the raising of the grandchildren so long as the child is adequately cared for. The saddest situation is when the grandchild or grandchildren somehow find themselves as pawns in a battle either between feuding parents, where the grandparents get dragged in, or in a dispute between parents and their parents over time and influence which the grandparents seek with their grandchildren. In all of this the wisdom of spiritual and religious teaching may be lost. Such teachings often provide, if nothing else, time tested and proven guidelines for this very special and wonderful relationship.

Anne Morse summarizes several religious traditions and their views toward grandparents for us. In Judaism respect for elders is taught. Jewish parents are expected to teach respect for the grandparents. But in cases of conflict it is their responsibility to raise the children in accordance with their faith. That responsibility supersedes the rights of grandparents.

Christianity understands that grandparents play an important part in the raising of grandchildren. Christian parents have a duty to have their children benefit from the experience and wisdom of the elders. Grace is to be mediated in relationship disputes such that as much as possible, in conflicts of all kinds — even faith differences, the relationship between grandparents and their grandchildren should continue.

In Islam it is assumed that grandchildren and their grandparents have a relationship independent from the parents. Only in cases of harm to the grandchildren would that be changed. In Buddhism a less direct idea is that grandparents can be considered teachers for their grandchildren.

The point to be raised is that grandparents, too, have an important role to play in the care of the next generation. It is affirmed by history. But it requires care, grace, and even creativity to adapt it for each generation. Enjoy this next stage in life. Some of us will see our grandchildren only occasionally. Others of us are involved day to day in many ways. All of us have much to give these special people, as well as much to learn from them.

New cancer center offers treatment close to home

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

The opening of the Our Lady of Hope Cancer Center at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia has made the dream of centralized cancer care a reality — without driving long distances.

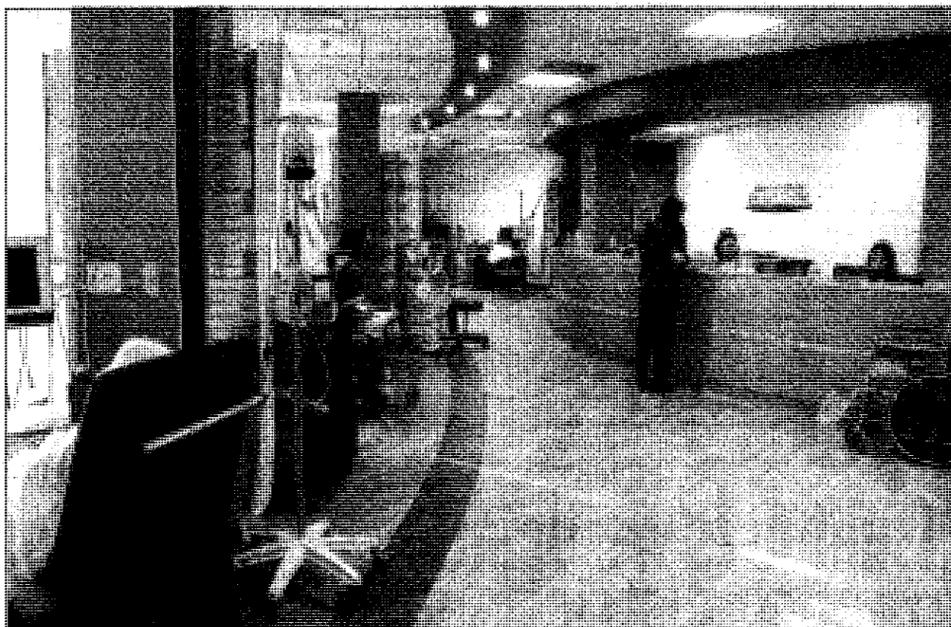

On Sept. 24, the community hospital opened the doors to the 16,000-square-foot facility which cost $14 million to build.

Our Lady of Hope Cancer Center brings physicians to the patients instead of vice versa in a model program for breast and lung cancers. But that's just the beginning. In addition to offering advanced diagnostics and treatments including the precision of Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy and the Hearts of Livonia Infusion Center for chemotherapy and blood transfusion, the center is participating in clinical research trials for the first time. The accomplishment debunks the notion that a community hospital is unable to provide the newest therapies available at major cancer centers.

"Whatever we were hoping and desiring came true," said Dr. Harmesh Naik, medical director of the hospital's oncology program. "The first presentation was with a hand drawn version of the center. From the time in 2001 when we received approval from the (American College of Surgeons) Cancer Commission we had a very systematic approach. Ten years ago people in our own communities didn't recognize we had a cancer treatment program here. The new structure remains faithful to needs of patients and provides as many services as possible once they enter the south entrance."

A 2,700-square-foot cancer center originally opened in the hospital in 2002, but lacked space for services such as the Image Recovery Center which provides complementary therapies such as medical massage, counseling, wigs, corrective makeup, and prostheses.

Reason for hope

The infusion center in the new Our Lady of Hope Cancer Center at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia.

Cancer patient Sanford Schaap talks about the new cancer center at St. Mary Mercy Hospital with Dr. Harmesh Naik.

WORKING TOGETHER

"We did not just transfer all of the old center to here," said Naik. "We've started new initiatives. There's a conference room where every Friday physicians in multiple disciplines meet for consultations. We've received calls from other hospitals to learn about what St. Mary's is doing with the new multidisciplinary programs for lung and breast cancers."

Joanne Kovie is the nurse navigator for the Multidisciplinary Lung Clinic. She coordinates the weekly case meetings uniting physicians of all disciplines.

"It's one stop for patients to have all these great minds in the room," said Kovie of Westland. Kovie is a registered nurse who is oncology- and chemotherapy-certified. "Ahead of time doctors give me cases to present or discuss. Afterwards I coordinate their care. I arrange for all treatments. My job is to take away the burden of setting up the appointments and ease their running around so patients can get their treatment quicker."

"They don't seem to get lost in the system. They have me to turn to. I've received a lot of positive feedback. We have a lot of elderly patients. Sometimes rides are issues. I coordinate anything from transportation to a clinical date."

Sanford Schaap is one of the patients celebrating the new cancer center and the innovative programming. The 60-year-old Northville man was president and CEO of Computer Troubleshooters in Livonia when diagnosed in January 2006 with kidney cancer which spread to his bones. Schaap comes to the center once a week for one hour for chemotherapy.

Previously Schaap participated in motorcycle rides for charity with the Farmington Hills Gold Wing Road Riders. He's no longer able to ride because of the risk of injuring his bones.

WORDS OF PRAISE

"The new cancer center is very beautiful, functional, much more kind to the patient," said Schaap. "As far as physical comfort (in the infusion center), you have a nice chair with a good view. You're not in a small room where you're a good distance from where you came in, and Dr. Naik is right next door rather than in another building."

Naik is fond of saying that the new center brings doctors to patients instead of patients to doctors.

"We have a procedure room for physicians with privileges at St. Mary so they can see patients on site. The whole concept is different in that everything is in one place, and because we are small we can move the patients through more quickly from diagnosis through treatment," said Naik. Learn to uncover your family history at upcoming seminars

GENEALOGY SEMINARS

Sue Cromwell never knew her great-great grandfather's brother invented the intubation tubes used on patients at the New York Foundling's Hospital until she began digging up the family tree. But it was no mystery to the medical community. The discovery was even mentioned in an episode of the television series Dr. Quinn Medicine Woman.

Most people have no idea of the history they'll uncover when researching their relatives. Two upcoming genealogy seminars relay the latest methods of investigating ancestors - Become a Genealogy Detective Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Livonia Civic Center Library, and Snooze You Looze 3 Saturday, Nov. 10, at the Farmington Community Library. Attend one or both sessions. The first seminar is presented by the Livonia Civic Center Library and the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society, the second by the Farmington Genealogical Society in cooperation with the Farmington Community Library.

The Livonia seminar's guest speaker is Pamela Boyer Porter who'll cover topics ranging from computerizing your records to searching for clues.

Become a Genealogy Detective: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Livonia Civic Center Library, 32777 Five Mile, Livonia. Cost is $35 plus $7 for lunch. Deadline for reservations is Oct. 27. Call (248) 477-5846.

Snooze You Looze 3: 2-10 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 10, Farmington Community Library, 32737 W. 12 Mile, Farmington Hills. Byron Bailey's 2-5 p.m. presentation is free. The following mostaccioli dinner and presentations cost $20 paid in advance. Deadline for payment is Nov. 3. Cost at the door is $25 and does not include dinner. Call (248) 477-5846.

Boyer Porter is co-author of Online Roots: How to Discover Your Family's History and Heritage with the Power of the Internet, and Research in Missouri.

"She'll have information for every level of genealogy experience," said Sue Cromwell, seminar chairman and a Farmington Hills resident. "One session is about maps. Families migrated from one place to another. The session Using a Personal Computer helps attendees with word programs to be able to create their family history with photos. Getting to Know You is about sending away for military records. There's a lot of information in those records, immigration record clues to where they were from. Also important are artifacts you have, antiques, the tating my grandmother showed me how to do. You put stories to that. My grandfather's chest he made in Pennsylvania. You put flesh on bone to tell a story."

Cromwell first took an interest in genealogy in 1978 while leading a Girl Scout troop.

"A Civil War teacher from North Farmington High came and told the girls what to ask," said Cromwell. "I got hooked. It was for a Family Heritage Badge. They learned not just where and when but what it was like to grow up then, what conveniences they had. Probably 7 of 10 families had ancestors in the Civil War if they lived here at that time."

In addition to the sessions, attendees will be able to purchase genealogy T-shirts, books, and charts from vendors.

"The seminars give us a chance to bring in prominent or national speakers versus monthly meetings where we have local speakers," said Cromwell. "The Western Wayne County group meets the third evening of every month and begins with an early bird session at 6:30 p.m., the regular meeting at 7:30."

Snooze You Looze 3 earned its name from the first year it was held because of the late hours.

"We had to wait till after the library closed on Saturday and went from about 3 p.m. to 1 a.m.," said Cromwell. "We called it Snooze You Looze because if you're not going to stay awake and attend you're going to lose out on our information. Don't be afraid to come even if you're a beginner. People from both societies are willing to help you get started."

The seminar opens with a 2-5 p.m. presentation by Byron Bailey, a member of the Farmington Genealogical Society and is free. Bailey gives a hands-on demonstration of different databases including Genealogybank.com. The rest of evening, including dinner, costs $20. Ceil Jensen, a certified genealogical records specialist, offers information on search engines and books to find your family, and Stephen Morse's Ellis Island Search Engine.

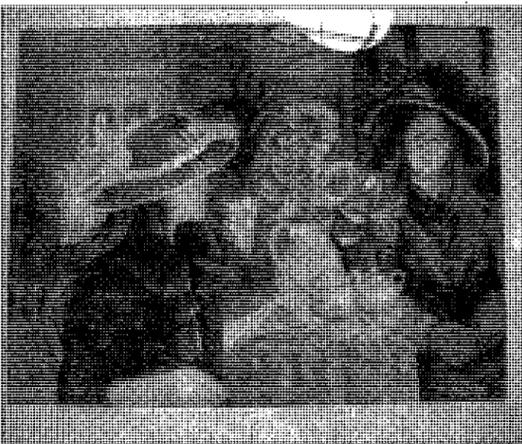

"Ceil will talk about Castle Garden, an immigration port before Ellis Island was built. Then from 8:30 to 10 everybody can go downstairs to the computers to start to look for things we talked about. There will be people there to help them if needed."

"The rule of thumb is you start with yourself and work backwards, birth certificate, marriage certificate, then find parents birth and marriage certificates, death certificates if it applies. Sometimes information is on baptismal certificates that isn't on other certificates. You look at aunts and uncles of each generation, birth, marriage, death, cemetery records, land records, immigration, military and then look for previous generations. You always want to have a source as to where you found something not just Aunt Nellie told me. Verify all information with a document or some sort of a source."

The Farmington Genealogical Society meets the third Tuesday of every month at the downtown Farmington Library, 23500 Liberty. Pre-meeting starts at 5:45 p.m., regular meeting at 7 p.m. For information on either genealogical group, call Cromwell at (248) 477-5846.

Debate to raise awareness about ovarian cancer survivors' experiences

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

OVARIAN CANCER SURVIVORS

Carolyn Benivegna never thought her bloated abdomen and severe constipation could be caused by ovarian cancer. Then in 1998 the former Southfield resident was diagnosed with the deadly disease. "I had a hysterectomy and didn't have any ovaries," said Carolyn Benivegna. "I went to a gastroenterologist and was misdiagnosed repeatedly. They kept telling me I had irritable bowel syndrome. Eventually they did a CAT scan that showed fluid in my abdomen. They drained it and there were cancer cells in it. Every female is at risk for ovarian cancer. One year old babies are getting this. No matter your age or ethnic background you are at risk because you're female."

Benivegna went through surgery and chemotherapy treatments, and was in remission for five years until the cancer returned in 2005 and again in 2007.

"The chances are it will keep coming back until it kills me. I just finished chemo treatment number 10," said Benivegna whose worked continuously to raise awareness about the disease.

On Saturday, Oct. 27, she and another ovarian cancer survivor, Sandi Pniauskas, debate the points of early detection, survival rates, awareness, and access to care for ovarian cancer patients. While there is no charge to attend, participants are asked to pre-register. "We're doing this to raise awareness, to stir the pot, create some controversy. We want to expedite the process for more and better research, more and better education," said Benivegna. "The second debate is in Canada a week later. We're trying to show this is not a disease that respects borders. This is an international problem. Two oncology nurses will be at the debate in case they have to answer a technological question. This is from a survivor standpoint. We've already been invited to other states to do this debate next year."

When: 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 27
Where: In the St. Clair Room at the Sheraton Detroit/Novi Hotel, 21111 Haggerty
Details: To register, send e-mail to sandipn@sympatico.ca. A second debate is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Metropolitan Hotel in Toronto. For information about either debate, visit <http://ovarian-cancerdebate.blogspot.com>.

Benivegna considers herself an ovarian cancer activist. She founded the Ovarian Cancer Alliance of Florida-Gulf Coast to increase awareness of the disease. She rode a bike 868 miles across Kansas in 8 days to raise money for ovarian cancer research, and at age 65 is currently involved with a survivors teaching students program initiated to educate medical students about their experiences. The program is in more than 50 medical schools nationwide including Wayne State and Michigan State.

"It's so when women come into their office they won't be told you're menopausal or have irritable bowel," said Benivegna. "If found in early stage it's 90-percent curable. Unfortunately over 80 percent are found at late stage. The survival rate goes down dramatically. For late stage at five years, 20 percent are still alive. You can go from stage one to stage three in a couple of months. If you don't like what you're hearing get a second opinion, see a gynecological oncologist. If you do have ovarian cancer or gynecologic cancer insist on a consultation with a gynecological oncologist before any surgery is done. Women need to take control of their health care."

an open house without their dog. There's a lot of paperwork involved. They can download forms off of the Web site and even fill them out before they come, but a veterinarian must sign it before they walk in with their dog to make sure the animals are up to date on their vaccinations and passed a fecal exam (for parasites)."

In order to become a registered therapy dog, the four-footed animal and their owner must pass an exam. Once the paperwork is completed, a Dr. Paws tester must record their observations of the pet therapy team as they make three visits to Botsford, St. Mary or Kingswood Hospital in Ferndale. Dogs must be on a 4-foot leash or shorter, and at least 1 year old. Although Seraceno has bred golden retrievers for many years, therapy dogs need not be pure bred and need not complete a course for pet therapy.

"We're watching how you and your dog do, if the dog obeys basic obedience commands. Dogs should not be pulling you into the hospital," said Seraceno. "A good therapy dog is not a timid dog and one that gets along with other dogs. I've been around dogs 30 years. If a dog is timid they shouldn't give up. Socialize them by walking around downtown Farmington if it doesn't work the first time. I had a beagle one time that I tested that howled anytime it set paw in the hospital, the owner and dog went through an obedience course and came back to pass the test."

Seraceno says she can tell from first meeting the dog whether or not the animal would do well at therapy work. For those dogs who go on to become registered, a $25 membership fee for Therapy Dogs Inc. provides the owner with liability insurance. Dr. Paws, an affiliate of Therapy Dogs Inc., then places the team.

"Last night I visited a 6-year-old in pediatrics at Botsford Hospital. The mom asked if he wanted a visit from a furry, four-footed person. He was so excited the mom said he forgot what he's here for," said Seraceno. "I can't explain the satisfaction you get from doing this. You know that you're helping that person."

Seraceno's sons, Kevin Lapinski, 14, and Christopher Lapinski, 12, have been accompanying Seraceno on visits since both were in strollers.

"Pet therapy opened the door up to volunteering for these kids," said Seraceno, whose husband Joe Lapinski is a volunteer for Make-a-Wish. Joe designed the Dr. Paws logo for the nonprofit's T-shirts for handlers and bandanas for dogs.

"Young people can do this but they have to be age 16 and over with their parents permission. We do different things, parades, a day camp for autistic children. For autistic kids it helps them focus. Dementia patients might not remember anything else but a dog they had in childhood. For the dog owners the benefits include lowering blood pressure and reducing stress. We don't get paid for it. It's a lot of work but it gives satisfaction."

with the medical record system I have instant access to reports. I'm connected to CAT scans. My time to care for the patients is preserved. I just saw a patient on the fourth floor being discharged. I'll see them in one week. All I have to do is transfer the medical records to myself instead of going to pick them up. Medical records can be printed out immediately."

One of the online benefit for patients is the Cancer Resource Education area where patients and their families are able to access cancer literature including the latest clinical trials on the Internet.

"The cancer center is a major step forward," said Naik. "Clinical trials provide access to experimental drugs. We also started radio ablation treatment using radio waves to kill cancer cells instead of surgery. Surgery is harsh on certain patients. Radio ablation requires only an overnight stay or even as an outpatient."

It's not radiation. A needle is inserted and blasted with radio waves to destroy the tumor."

Families fighting flu

Father encourages parents to vaccinate their children

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

Alana Yaksich had a slight fever but was running around playing with her brothers when their parents left for the evening. By the time they returned her fever had risen to 106 degrees. Within less than 24 hours of arriving at the emergency room, the 5-year-old West Bloomfield girl was dead from flu-related complications.

Influenza kills and the Yaksich family is doing everything they can to make sure another child doesn't die from the virus. On Tuesday, Oct. 30, they've asked the Visiting Nurse Association of Southeast Michigan to vaccinate all ages at a clinic in the Bloomfield Schools' Doyle Center in Bloomfield Hills. The family received their shots at the VNA's Boo the Flu immunization clinic last Sunday at St. George Greek Orthodox Church in Bloomfield Hills. The Yaksichs started holding an annual clinic at the church after Alana died in February 2003. In the summer of 2005 they increased their efforts to raise awareness about the importance of vaccinations by helping to establish Families Fighting Flu (www.families-fightingflu.org). The nonprofit organization is comprised of families and pediatricians whose children have died or suffered complications from the flu.

BETTER TO BE SAFE

"We're asking people to come out," said Zachary Yaksich Sr. who in the last couple of weeks has distributed fliers and posters with his daughter's photograph and story to Bloomfield schools to encourage vaccination. "One day we would like to see the children come to the schools and get their shots. People are so busy most don't take the time to go to the doctor. Everybody should get vaccinated from the flu, anybody 6 months or older. We encourage them to get vaccinated and eliminate anymore pediatric deaths. We had no idea that the flu could kill until it happened to our families.

"And don't be shy or apprehensive to take your child to the doctor. The flu is a very dangerous respiratory disease. If they're sick, have a fever. It's better to be safe than sorry."

The VNA of Southeast Michigan never vaccinated children under age 14 until Zachary Yaksich convinced them to offer flu shots to ages 6 months and up. The federal government's Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices has re-emphasized the recommendation that children ages 6 months to 8 years receive two doses if not vaccinated previously.

"Small children especially through three years have a high hospitalization rate leading to complications from the flu," said Kay Renny, manager of VNA community programs. "The No. 1 way to prevent the flu is to get your vaccination, but to prevent spread of viruses wash your hands adequately with soap, generate a lather, sing the happy birthday song twice, and cough or sneeze into your elbow not into your hand. Around the house disinfect hot spots like door handles, phones. You don't have to be a fanatic and sterilize the house but Zachary Yaksich, Sr. receives a flu shot as son Zachary, Jr. looks on. The Yaksich family took part in the Boo the Flu vaccination clinic at St. George Greek Orthodox Church in Bloomfield Hills.

Alana Yaksich was 5 years old when she died from flu-related complications in February 2003.

everybody's touching the door, the phone, remote, computer keyboard." Renny, a registered nurse, says the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is predicting more than 35,000 people will die this year from the flu during the season that runs from October through February although sometimes into March. Symptoms can include a fever, headache (sudden onset that can be severe), muscle aches, extreme exhaustion, a dry cough, sore throat, and nasal congestion.

"It's the sudden onset that distinguishes the flu from some of the other viral diseases," said Renny of Rochester. "It affects your lungs. Stomach flu is not the same thing. The shot is to protect you from influenza, the lung disease."

GETTING MESSAGE OUT

Dr. Sandro Cinti always encourages his patients to get their flu shot but fears not as many of the general public will this year.

"I always worry with a flu season that was not bad last year they won't get vaccinated," said Cinti, an infectious disease expert and assistant professor at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Mohammed Arsiwala and the staff at the Livonia Urgent Care have already given about 600 flu shots during clinics that run 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The vaccinations are available at all eight locations of Michigan Urgent Care including Canton. While Arsiwala, a health care worker in a high risk category, has received a flu shot, his 9- and 12-year old children have not.

"They have the ability to wash their hands (unlike younger children). Unvaccinated children get some kind of immunity with growth," said Arsiwala. "The target groups for vaccination include people at high risk, all persons more than age 50, all women who will be pregnant during the flu season, people with asthma, cardiovascular, hypertension, renal disease, hepatic, hematological or metabolic disorder including diabetes, all those with immuno suppression caused by medication or HIV, cognitive dysfunction, spinal cord injuries, seizure disorder or pulmonary disorder that can compromise respiratory function, also residents of nursing homes, and people who live with people at high risk."

Weight training important as we age

Robert from Romulus e-mails saying he is 70 years old and wonders how important it is for him to lift weights at his age?

Peter's Principles

Peter Nielsen

Robert, that is a great question. The answer is that it is critical to build up your muscle mass. It will help you fight off disease and prevent falls. It is so important the American College of Sports Medicine and the American Heart Association is updating its physical activity guidelines. They recommend adults 65 and older strength train 2 to 3 times a week. When strength training they advise adults perform 8 to 12 reps for each part of the body. Unless you work your muscles, you lose about 5 to 7 pounds of muscle tissue each decade. Strength training can add to bone density and potentially prevent osteoporosis.

Melissa from Sylvan Lake e-mails concerned about her 6-year-old watching television. She keeps hearing all these stories about it being bad, just how bad is it?

A new study found young children who watch a lot of television face an increased risk of attention problems. Researchers studied more than 1,000 children from ages 5 to 15. They found those who watched more than two hours of television a day had a 40 percent increase in attention problems. Experts believe the rapid changes on television may over stimulate the developing brain of a young child, so slower paced mundane tasks such as school work seem boring. Your best bet still is to limit the amount of television.

The celebrity models were having as much fun as the audience at the Redford Suburban League's 34th annual Fall Festival of Fashion Show on Wednesday at Burton Manor in Livonia. This year's proceeds went to the Burger School for Students with Autism in Garden City so it was all for a good cause. About 450 tickets were sold, according to Cynthia Jamieson, a Redford resident who's served as show chairwoman for at least 17 years.

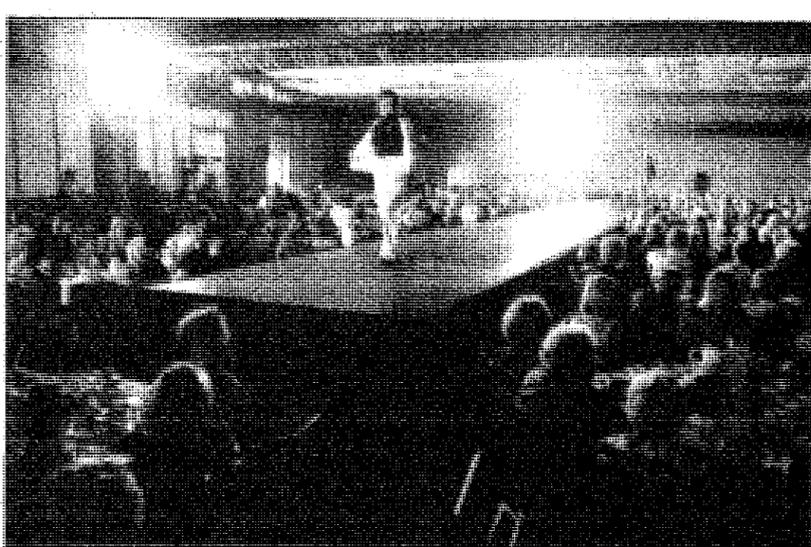

"I thought it was great," said Cynthia Jamieson who went home to collapse after the show. "All the feedback we had is that it was a wonderful show. The clothes from Dress Barn were awesome and the Men's Wearhouse did their usual amazing job. The way the models hammed it up on the runway, the audience just eats that up. Burger School models strutting their stuff were Stan Bialach, Jim Boogren, Todd Sukuda, and Joe Valdivia. Representing the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers were Linda Ann Chomin, health and community life reporter, and Wendy Von Buskirk, Pink fashion editor. Bialach added a musical note to the show by playing his trumpet as he moved down the runway. Glenda Lewis of WXYZ TV-7 and Rich Fisher were co-hosts of the show. "We meet a week from Monday to discuss the show and how to get the ball rolling for next year," said Jamieson. "The Redford Suburban League's Ways and Means Committee did a terrific job of putting the show on. There's over 20 women on the committee and everyone did their job wonderfully. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. The models always tell us they like to come because our show is the only event that is a mixture of all the stations. They get to chat with people they wouldn't usually see because they're working."
