Dad wants to tell about 'the real Alex'

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Standing in front of his two-story home on Westland's north side, a somber Pete Letkemann rejected the way his 18-year-old son, Alex, has been portrayed as a vicious criminal involved in the stabbing, beheading and burning of former Westland resident Daniel G. Sorensen.

"We are chomping at the bit to get the word out about the real Alex — not this pretend Alex they're talking about," Letkemann said.

The family's desire to tell their story has been hampered by attorneys who have advised them against talking while the case is unfolding against their son and another defendant, 17-year-old Jean Pierre Orlewicz of Plymouth Township.

"Ask anybody who knows Alex and they will tell you that he's not like this," Pete Letkemann said.

With that, he walked into his house as an autumn breeze blew gently along this quiet, well-kept street where residents are stunned that Alex Letkemann is charged with first-degree premeditated murder, felony murder and mutilation of a corpse.

A neighbor who only wanted her first name, Emma, used said she can't believe the same boy who played hockey in the street and who did odd jobs for elderly

Charges in beheading death stun neighbors

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

Emotions among residents in the Plymouth Township neighborhood of accused killer Jean Pierre Orlewicz were still running the gamut among shock, fear and protectiveness days after the 17-year-old Canton High School senior was arrested in connection with the brutal murder of a 26-year-old River Rouge man.

Neighbors watched Friday as several police cars, at least some unmarked, surrounded the family's Beacon Hill home. One neighbor, who frequently steps outside to smoke because his wife is ill, said he thought at first the family was "having a party."

It soon proved to be something far more serious.

"This was the shock of shocks," said the neighbor, who asked not to be identified. "This is the type of neighborhood where people don't come out much at night ... I'm not saying I knew (Jean Pierre Orlewicz) very well, but he always drove slowly because of kids, and he'd help his mom in the yard."

Victim's father: 'There was a lot of love'

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

Danny Sorensen came from a very large family, despite the fact he was an only child.

That's because Sorensen, killed last week in a brutal attack police say was perpetrated by two teenagers from Plymouth Township and Westland, respectively, used the same distinction to define family and friends.

That's why, according to his dad, some 200 members of Danny's "family" were on hand to pay their respects at his funeral Tuesday.

"Danny was a funny person," said James Sorensen, 51, a retail manager who lives in Westland with his wife, Kim. "He loves his friends; he'd do anything for them. The definition of friend and family was interchangeable for him. He had a lot of people who loved him."

The elder Sorensen was frank about his son. For instance, he had a record for a sexual offense when he was 18 that was initially portrayed in the media as part of the reason for his death but has since been "cleared up," according to Jim Sorensen.

The case occurred in Illinois when Danny was 18, and actually constituted a consensual relationship between him and a girl who turned out to be 14 at the time. The term "sexual predator" appeared in headlines and newscasts in the days following his death, but Jim Sorensen thinks all of that has been cleared up now.

"When this first came out, (the media) made a big issue of Danny being on the sexual offender registry, but I think they've clarified that," the elder Sorensen said Tuesday. "You heard people say, 'He was a sexual predator, he got what he deserved.' Well, that's just ignorance. By and large, we're very pleased with how (Danny) has been portrayed. He had some struggles, but he was a good kid."

As a youngster, James Sorensen said, Danny was "precocious." There was the time, when Jim was a college student in Utah and his young family lived in college-owned housing, when Danny would be playing in the complex's yard and would disappear.

Jim would frantically walk the grounds, calling his son's name, only to discover him in the home of another child.

Glenn students round up food for Salvation Army

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Salvation Army desperately seeking bell-ringers. See story on A2

They're lightweight and portable.

They're also sold in boxes of 12, and when the top prize in a food drive is determined by the number of items donated, it's no wonder, Ramen noodles are a popular item in the John Glenn High School Student Council's annual food drive.

"We've got lots and lots of noodles," said council vice president Miesha Johnson, placing packages of the noodles on a stack that was taller than she is. "They're not heavy and they're easy to carry."

Of course, there's lots of canned fruit, vegetables, beans and soup to round out the donations that are headed for the Salvation Army Wayne-Westland Corps.

The food drive actually is a competition among second-hour classes at the high school. Students spent last week bringing in donations. Student Council members collected and counted on Monday for pickup by the Salvation Army on Tuesday.

The counting is important because the class that brings in the most food wins a pizza or sub party. Second place is a doughnut and bagel party, while the third-place class gets candy bars, said Skye Jones, Student Council president.

On Monday afternoon, it looked as though John Retzer's class would win with more than 3,000 items turned in.

"He gives out extra credits," said Jones. "He gives out .5 credit for noodles and 1.5 for canned goods. His classes are hard — they're AP — classes and those kids need the help."

Jones expects the final count will be between 5,000 and 6,000 items and possibly enough to bet Wayne Memorial

High School which also is staging a food drive. The two high schools are competing for the bragging rights of collecting the most food.

When the two schools last did it in 2005, it was Wayne Memorial that won, although Jones and Johnson hint that the contest may have been rigged.

"They started a week earlier than we did," said Jones. "They schedule theirs after they heard when ours was. We got 3,000 last time, and they said they got 6,000."

Jones and Johnson are excited about the students' response this year. Normally, the Student Council promotes the collection during announcements, but were delayed in getting the word out until Nov. 2 because of testing.

"We're not allowed to make announcements when they're taking tests, they don't want us to disturb them," Jones said.

This food drive is just one of monthly community service projects done by the Student Council. The council does a blood drive in March and holds jar wars to help raise funds to donate to Friends of EB.

"During Christmas we plan to adopt two children," said Johnson.

"We do plan to go to a local elementary school and throw a Christmas party," added Jones. "We'll make cookies and do face painting. We try to do at least one project a month, the party is our December project."

Ten to 15 Student Council members helped collect the food Monday afternoon. Jones was grateful classrooms with large amounts of food like Amanda Laidlaw's class with 1,193 items counted for them.

Westland woman found incompetent to stand trial in child abuse case

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Westland woman accused of tucking her newborn baby in a trash bag and putting him in her parents' garage has been found incompetent — for now — to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court, officials confirmed Monday.

Forensic experts have declared 27-year-old Valeeka Gartrell incompetent because she doesn't understand court proceedings against her and can't assist in her own defense, Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Maria Miller said.

Gartrell is charged with attempted murder and first-degree child abuse amid allegations she put her baby in a trash bag after she gave birth on the morning of April 23 at her parents' house, near Joy and Hix roads on Westland's northwest side.

Relying on forensic experts, Circuit Judge Jeanne Stempien has adjourned Gartrell's trial until she is determined competent — if ever — to stand trial.

Gartrell will be re-evaluated periodically to determine whether she is competent, Miller said.

Gartrell in June had waived her right to a preliminary hearing, prompting Westland 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos to order her to stand trial. If the case goes to trial and ends in a conviction, Gartrell could face penalties ranging up to life in prison.

During the summer, now-retired Judge Gail McKnight had reduced Gartrell's bond from $100,000 cash to $50,000/10 percent after one of Gartrell's cousins offered to watch over her and give her a place to stay while the case is pending. The defendant was released after her family posted $5,000.

Police have said that Gartrell's infant son and her 3-year-old daughter were in the care of their grandparents.

Authorities have said Gartrell woke her mother April 23 and told her that she was bleeding. Her parents, who knew she was pregnant, took her to St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia, where doctors told them the baby already had been born, police Sgt. Chris Benson has said.

Relatives returned to the Gartrell house and heard cries coming from the garage. They found the newborn alive in a garbage bag, Benson said.

Salvation Army needs bell-ringers

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Facing a larger outcry for help and a projected $55,000 budget shortfall by Christmas, the Westland-based Salvation Army this year desperately needs bell-ringers for its red kettle campaign, officials said.

"We have very few (bellringers) compared to what we need," said Sandy Kollinger, volunteer coordinator for the Salvation Army's Wayne-Westland Corps.

With the red kettle campaign starting Friday, Kollinger still needs volunteer bell-ringers to work two-hour shifts at 13 sites, mostly in Westland at places such as Kroger stores and Westland Shopping Center.

To help, call (734) 722-3660 or go online to www.ringbell.org, where a listing of kettle locations and time slots can be found.

A volunteer can typically raise enough money in two hours to provide meals for 50 or more children, Salvation Army officials say.

Even before the holiday season, the Wayne-Westland Corps already had been besieged by requests for help from more than 2,000 additional people compared to this time last year.

"I do believe it is because of the economy," Salvation Army Capt. Matt O'Neil said. "I believe that with the loss of jobs and some of the bigger factories closing, more people are relying on the Salvation Army and other nonprofit or assistance type of agencies."

The problem is only expected to worsen as Christmas approaches.

From Friday through Christmas Eve, bell-ringers are needed to help 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Kollinger said. The money will help the Salvation Army during the holiday season and through the next year.

Local businesses also will be helping to boost revenues for the Salvation Army, said Westland Chamber of Commerce President Lori Fodale. Restaurants, grocery stores and banks will be involved by putting out red kettles on specific days.

Billed as the Red Kettle Challenge, restaurants that participate will compete to raise the most money on Nov. 30, followed by banks on Dec. 21 and grocery stores on Dec. 22, Fodale said. A listing of businesses joining the effort will be announced soon, she said.

Weekly night out aims to strengthen families

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

With parents busy with work and youngsters occupied with school and activities, it can be hard for families to spend quality time together.

The Garden City Family Resource Center is offering weekly family nights, including dinner, through the Strengthening Families Program. It's open to parents and children 6-11 years old. Participants must be residents of western Wayne County.

"Parents and children will come together for dinner each week. There will be a lot of fun things. It is great to get out and bond with the kids and learn some new stuff," said Monica Fulton, Garden City Family Resource Center director.

Funded by a $50,000 state grant, the Strengthening Families Program is aimed at helping families avoid substance abuse and delinquency problems as youngsters move into the teenage years. The program also addresses individual issues, such as reducing home life stress and helping a child control their anger.

"Maybe communications is not so great in the family, the parents are busy. This stops that pattern," Fulton said. "The parents and kids can learn about each other and get the kids grounded so they can go out in the world knowing what's right."

The program is also designed to improve family relationships, parenting skills and the youngster's social and life skills.

About 10 families have already signed up for the free program, which will begin Jan. 22. A second session will be scheduled in the summer.

"At this point we aren't turning anyone away. We could handle 20-25 families. All they have to do is call and make an appointment with the coordinator. It's all free," Fulton said.

The Strengthening Families Program is what is called an evidence-based program, Fulton said, which has had proven success in other communities nationwide.

That track record, plus Garden City's history of community-to-youth support programs, was a plus when the very competitive grants were awarded, she said. Garden City has had a Youth Assistance Program since the early 1980s and the program was expanded to the Family Resource Center.

For more information or to register for the program, call (734) 793-1860.

CHARGES

"I was amazed," said the neighbor, who has lived in the neighborhood 28 years. "But kids today ... who knows?"

Orlewicz and 18-year-old Alexander Letkemann of Westland face a preliminary hearing Monday in 35th District Court in Plymouth. Each is charged with one count of first-degree premeditated murder, one count of felony murder and one count of mutilation of a corpse in the death of Daniel G. Sorensen, a former Westland resident.

The pair was arraigned Monday in 34th District Court in Romulus.

Police allege Orlewicz and Letkemann, a former Livonia Churchill High School student, lured Sorensen into the garage of the Holly Street home of Orlewicz's grandfather in Canton Township, stabbed him to death, burned his hands and feet with a blow torch to prevent identification and sawed off his head.

Police said the pair then took Sorensen's body to a field in Northville Township, doused it with gasoline and set it ablaze. The head, police said, was dumped in the Rouge River and turned up in Hines Park near the Dearborn Heights-Detroit line.

On Monday, Wayne County Prosecutor Kym Worthy said at a press conference the killing was done "simply for the thrill of it."

"All of us up here have seen every crime imaginable, and all of us are puzzled why someone would kill just for the thrill of it," she said. "It's bone-chilling."

According to Worthy, Sorensen owed "small amounts" of money to at least one of the suspects, but money "did not appear" to be part of the motive. Nor, Worthy made sure to point out, did Sorensen's previous record as a criminal sexual offender, which had received play in the media since the discovery of his body Thursday morning.

According to Worthy, the crime was planned out well in advance. She said the garage floor had been covered and cleaning materials were on hand to clean up after the crime.

"The crime scene was prepared, and they had made plans how to clean up and dispose of the body," Worthy said. "This was a well thought out, planned-out crime. It was very methodical."

On Tuesday night, gawkers were driving by the Holly Street home where the murder was committed. Police have increased their presence in the area.

A resident who's lived on the street for 27 years and did not want to be identified finds it hard to believe that the suspects gave no thought to being caught.

"The street is a busy one because it is the main thoroughfare in the subdivision. People regularly walk their dogs while skateboarders work on their jumps on the sidewalks. Anyone could have come upon the scene," said the longtime resident.

Worthy said they have "at least one statement," from one of the suspects, though she declined to answer whether the statement amounted to a confession. She also said there were at least three other "persons of interest" who have been identified, and that information came from at least one of them.

The fact one of her neighbors was involved in the killing was a sobering thought for one Beacon Hill woman.

"I'm sure (Orlewicz) could see some of our back yards, where our children play," said the woman, who asked not to be identified. "I think we're relieved he didn't say, 'Let's go get one of those easy targets.'" residents could be involved in the murder of Sorensen, whose burned body was found last Thursday in Northville Township. Authorities later found Sorensen's head in Hines Park in Dearborn Heights, and have accused the teens of nothing short of a "thrill kill."

"Alex seemed like a nice kid," Emma said, standing on her porch. "He helped an elderly couple down the street. He would cut their grass, and he would shovel snow."

"He's not like those Columbine kids," she said, referring to the 1999 school shooting rampage in Colorado. "He's not like that. This is a good family. This is really sad news for all of our neighborhood."

Across the street, a neighbor who identified herself only as Lynne voiced similar shock about allegations against Alex Letkemann.

"I'm just very surprised," she said. "As Alex got older, he wanted to move out of the house, like most teenagers do. But he ended up staying at home."

Referring to the Letkemann family, Lynne said, "You would think them to be the typical suburban family. The parents are very nice people."

Livonia school officials said Alex Letkemann dropped out of Churchill High School in April 2006 but later earned his diploma through the adult education program.

According to Westland police and district court officials, the teenager had some minor legal problems earlier this year that pale in comparison to the new allegations against him.

He was cited for a misdemeanor retail fraud charge in March amid allegations he and a friend stole cough syrup from the CVS store at Warren and Venoy, police Lt. Daniel Karrick confirmed.

That ticket was later dismissed, according to Westland 18th District Court Administrator David Wiacek.

Alex Letkemann also was charged with driving a 1992 Pontiac Bonneville into a fence and leaving the car at the scene April 8 at Spring Valley and Fountain, on the city's north side, Karrick said.

Letkemann pleaded guilty in September to failing to report the accident — reduced from a more serious charge of leaving the scene of an accident involving property damage, Wiacek said.

The teenager also admitted responsibility for a civil infraction of driving without using due care and caution, Wiacek said.

Letkemann received two points on his driving record. He also paid fines of $500, Wiacek said.

"I'd tell him, 'You have to tell us when you're going somewhere,' and he'd say, 'But I made another friend,'" Jim remembered, smiling at the thought. "He was precocious. If his mom and I were going out, he wouldn't be clinging to us, crying. He'd be pushing us out the door, because he knew he was going to have fun with the baby-sitter."

As a young man and into adulthood, Jim Sorensen said, Danny continued to make friends easily, and he was fiercely loyal to them. He would often go down his list of friends, looking for someone "to hang with," Jim said.

"He'd call someone and say, 'Dude, wanna hang out? Oh, you gotta work? OK,' and then it would be on to the next number," Jim Sorensen remembered. "It would be like speed-dialing until he found someone he could hang out with."

David Priede of Livonia met Danny Sorensen nearly two years ago, through mutual friends. It wasn't long, Priede said Tuesday, before they had become friends themselves.

"He was one of the nicest people I've ever met," Priede said. "If you were broke down on the side of the road, he was the guy who was going to stop and help you, whether he knew you or not."

Not much information has been released by law enforcement authorities about how Sorensen knew his alleged killers. Police say Jean Pierre Orlewicz, 17, of Plymouth Township and 18-year-old Alexander Letkemann of Westland lured Sorensen, a 26-year-old from River Rouge, to the Canton home of Orlewicz's grandfather, where they attacked, dismembered and burned him.

James Sorensen said he'd never heard of Letkemann — "It's my understanding he'd only met him recently," he said — and said he'd "heard (Orlewicz's) name bandied about." Sorensen said he had no idea why Danny went to meet them the night he died.

And on Tuesday, he simply wanted to remember his son.

"His nickname was Bear, and that's what he was like, like a big, lovable teddy bear," Jim Sorensen said. "There were a lot of people (at Tuesday's funeral), friends of Danny's who we'd never met, who came up to us and told us what a great guy he was."

"There was a lot of love."

Pets cry 'fowl' at Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is the start of the holiday feeding fest – for both people and pets. However, Petland says animal lovers in Westland and Garden City need to be aware of how dangerous it can be for Fido or Fluffy to pack on a few pounds.

"At Petland, we stress to our customers the importance of providing their pets a healthy, balanced and nutritious diet, especially during the holiday season," said Donna Kurdziel, owner of the Petland store in the Westland Crossing Shopping Center, in Westland.

Obesity in pets is becoming a real concern. Not only does it shorten pets' lives, it also dramatically increases health risks. Diabetes, heart disease and joint ailments are among the obesity-related concerns for pets.

Data released by Veterinary Pet Insurance of Brea, Calif., indicates that in 2006, 7 percent of all medical claims were related to pet obesity. The company reports 25-40 percent of pets in America, compared to up to 60 percent of American adults, are overweight with obesity being defined as 10-15 percent more than ideal body weight for their specific breed.

"Our pampered pets have become couch potatoes who receive little exercise and are being fed foods that often lack true nutritional value," said Kurdziel. "At Petland, we counsel pet owners to avoid table scraps, to offer nutritional pet foods in monitored portions, and to get out and exercise a bit with their best friends."

Petland partners with a number of makers of high-quality pet foods, including Hill's Pet Nutrition – Science Diet, IAMS and Nutro.

"Nutro Pet Products has several obesity prevention foods for dogs, and while Nutro's daily dietary offerings aren't strict like the popular Atkins Diet, their weight management foods contain fewer calories and fat while offering optimum protein," said Kurdziel.

For cats, Hill's offers a low-carbohydrate, high-protein prescription diet, to manage metabolism and diabetes, as well as a low-calorie, high-fiber formula.

"Pets have different nutritional needs at different stages of their lives. Obesity can come into play at anytime. At Petland, we're trained to help match their pets' nutritional needs with their lifestyles and activity levels," said Kurdziel, adding that ignoring obesity and proper nutrition can cut years off their companion's life.

In addition to monitoring a pet's diet, Petland recommends owners get in shape themselves by enjoying the human-animal bond and exercising with their pets.

"Both people and pets need to exercise for good health. A walk after work several times a week will do both parties good," said Kurdziel.

Learning to walk or run with a pet can be a challenge. However, Petland pet counselors are able to link pet owners with a number of useful aids – special collars, leads and collapsible water bowls. Petland pet counselors also can offer a number of health tips.

Petland offers these tips for pet owners who want to improve their pet's health by losing weight:

- Use interactive, pet-safe toys to interact with your pet.
- Give love, not food, to your overweight pet. Petting and grooming are both good ways to give your pet a little extra attention.
- Feed your overweight pet away from your other pets to curb stealing of food from another pet's bowl. It's also a good idea to keep your overweight pet out of the kitchen when the family is having dinner, ending your pet's compulsion to beg for table scraps.

Your pet's digestive system is not receptive to rich "people foods." In addition, sudden diet changes can easily lead to an upset stomach with vomiting and diarrhea. Greasy and fatty leftovers can overwhelm the pancreas and lead to a serious condition called pancreatitis, which may require lengthy hospitalization.

■ Talk to a pet professional to determine the right food and the right daily portion for your pet.

The Petland store in Westland is part of Petland, Inc., a franchise operation with more than 200 full service, retail pet centers across the United States, Canada, Chile, Japan and South Africa.

The Farmington Hills Fire Department conducted a "live burn" demonstration of what can happen when a partially thawed turkey is placed in a turkey fryer.

Turkey fryers can be a fire menace

BY LT. DENNY HUGHES
FARMINGTON HILLS FIRE DEPARTMENT

Are you one of the growing numbers of people now using a turkey fryer to cook your bird for the Thanksgiving holiday? The trend has been very popular in the southern United States for many years thanks to celebrity chefs such as Martha Stewart and Emeril Lagasse. While many people rave about the taste and time saved in the kitchen, fire officials and Underwriters Laboratories (U.L.) are very concerned that some backyard chefs may be sacrificing safety for good taste.

Underwriters Laboratories, one of the nation's leading independent testing companies, has decided not to certify any turkey fryers with their coveted and trusted U.L. mark. With an increase in fires related to turkey fryer use, and based on U.L. test findings, turkey fryers just may not be worth the risks involved in using them.

There are many reasons a deep fryer can be dangerous. As mentioned above, the trend is popular in the south, but here in Michigan and other northern states, the weather is very unpredictable on Thanksgiving Day. It can be raining or snowing, tempting many people to bring their fryer to an indoor area, such as the garage. This has the potential to create a huge disaster at your home. A fryer of this type should never be used indoors!

Consider these other safety issues as well:

- Many units easily tip over, spilling hot oil onto the burner and create a large fire.

- If the pot is overfilled with oil, the oil may spill over when the turkey is lowered into the pot. Oil will hit the flames on the burner and engulf the room with fire.

- Partially frozen turkeys contain water. Water and hot oil don't mix, so if you lower a partially frozen turkey into a fryer, expect an extensive fire.

- These fryers have no thermostat controls, so the units have a tendency to overheat the oil to the point of combustion.

- The side of the pot, lid, and handles get extremely hot, posing severe burn hazards.

If these safety issues still aren't enough to make you rethink using a deep fryer, here are some tips to reduce the possibility of disaster at your home:

- Never use a turkey fryer on a wooden deck or inside a garage or home.
- Place the fryer a safe distance away from any building.
- Rain and snow will create a problem with the hot oil, so reconsider using the fryer if precipitation is in the forecast.

- Fryers should be used on a firm, flat surface to prevent them from tipping over.

- Once the pot is filled with oil and the burner is turned on, you should never leave the fryer unattended for any length of time.

- Keep pets inside and keep children at a safe distance.

- Use well-insulated pot holders or oven mitts and wear safety glasses to guard against oil splatters.

- Turkeys must be thoroughly thawed and also be very careful of injecting marinades into your bird. The extra liquid may cause the oil to spill over, starting a fire. The National Turkey Federation recommends refrigerator thawing, allowing 24 hours for every five pounds of bird.

- Keep a portable fire extinguisher nearby. Never use a water type extinguisher to extinguish a grease or oil fire.

- If your fryer does catch fire and you are unable to extinguish it, dial 911 immediately!

Also remember that the oil inside the pot will remain hot for hours after your turkey has been removed. Don't bring it indoors and again, keep children and pets away from the pot. Have a very safe and Happy Thanksgiving!

Minister, Air Force vet announces run for Congress

BY HUGH GALLAGHER
STAFF WRITER

Thomas Spencer, 55, a Methodist minister and veteran of 20 years in the U.S. Air Force, is seeking the Democratic nomination in the 11th Congressional District to challenge incumbent Republican Thaddeus McCotter.

"I'm dissatisfied with the direction the country is going," Spencer said Tuesday. "And, I have a son about to go on his third tour in Iraq."

The Waterford Township resident is a newcomer to elective politics. He served in the Air Force from 1972 to Germany.

Spencer

Spencer became a United Methodist pastor in 1993. He has served congregations in Tawas City, Rose City and the Thomas and Lakeville churches near Oxford. He will resign that position on Dec. 31.

He has an associate's degree from Alpena Community College and is working toward a bachelor's degree at Saginaw Valley State University.

Spencer's wife, Kim, is also a Methodist minister. His son, Scott, is married and a sergeant in U.S. Army. His daughter, Tami, is married and lives in Livonia. Spencer has two grandchildren.

"The state of the economy is not well served by spending billions and billions of dollars in Iraq, in a quagmire," Spencer said.

He said McCotter voted against taking care of kids while continuing to support the war. McCotter voted against the expansion of the State Children's Health Insurance Plan.

"What we are spending in one day in Iraq could care for 250,000 kids a year," he said.

Spencer said McCotter is in "lockstep" with the president.

"We've lived in Waterford Township for a year and a half. I've written to him and his answers have been lame at best," Spencer said. "He sent our a flier that said 'I've said no to taxes and I continue to say no to taxes' but if there's a tax break for the rich, he supports it."

Spencer said he was encouraged by his wife and others to make the run and he said his background in the military and as a pastor will serve him well.

"In both cases I've had to use leadership and managerial skills," he said. "I've had to work on coming up with budgets and I've dealt with people who don't agree with me."

He said he and his son have disagreed on the war.

"When he went the first time, he was very gung ho," Spencer said. "But after the second time, he came back after serving in the north in the Kurdish region, he said there has to be a diplomatic solution to this."

He said his lack of government experience shouldn't be a hindrance.

"Everybody starts out with no experience the first time they run for office," he said.

Spencer said his is a grassroots campaign. He said on Sunday he spoke with U.S. Rep. John Conyers, D-Detroit, who offered him encouragement.

McCotter is serving his third term as the representative of the 11th District. He was first elected in 2002 after serving in the state Senate and on the Wayne County Commission.

Spencer is the first announced candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Medicare D Prescription plan requires careful research

Beginning Nov. 15, open enrollment begins for the Medicare D Prescription Drug Program. This begins an important enrollment period for anyone who is over 65 years of age. Although this program got off to a rocky start and is far from perfect, it has been successful in allowing seniors to reduce their costs for prescription drugs.

Like most things in our society, nothing is easy and that is the case with Medicare D. There are many different plans available and there is no one plan fits all. The key is to select the plan that best suits your situation.

What makes Medicare D even more confusing is that husband and wife, depending upon their situation, may have two different plans. In many situations, not everyone needs

Money Matters
Rick Bloom

Program.

There are several factors to consider when picking your plan. The first is cost. Although, in many situations the premium is not the most important issue, it is something everyone should weigh. After all, if you can't afford the premium payments there is no reason to obtain the policy.

Another issue is co-pays and deductibles. Even though it would make sense to have these standardized, they are not. Before you sign up, be aware of the additional costs involved through co-pays and deductibles.

In Medicare D, not all plans cover all drugs. It is important to know the prescription drugs you are presently taking and whether they are covered. For individuals who are taking multiple drugs, concentrate on the medications that cost the most money. After all, by selecting a prescription drug plan that covers your most expensive drugs, it will likely save you the most amount of money.

Another issue is the convenience factor. How do you get your medications? Not all pharmacies and other outlets for prescription drugs participate with all drug plans. Select the plan that offers convenient options for you. In addition, Michigan snowbirds who spend half the year in a warmer climate need to make sure they select a plan that allows them to buy medications in a convenient location when out of state.

Selecting a Medicare D Plan is difficult, however, there are resources available. Medicare has an excellent Web site, www.medicare.gov, that helps you select the right plan for yourself. There is also a toll-free number to call to help select the right plan for you, (800) 803-7174. Many people are under the false impression that once you are in a Medicare D Plan you're in it for good. That is not the case. During open enrollment, individuals who have been in a program can switch plans. Many companies next year are increasing their premiums — significantly — and they also are changing coverage. In fact, some are planning to drop coverage for certain types of medications.

Remember when shopping around for coverage and doing research, make sure to treat husband and wife separately.

There is only one constant in the world and that is change. Whether it's changes in investments, estate planning or health care, we need to embrace change and accept it so that we can make the best decisions for our own individual situation.

OUR VIEWS

Astronaut's visit inspires students

A small school put western Wayne County on NASA's map when they decided to make and send cards to astronaut Sunita Williams, during her 6 1/2-month stay aboard the International Space Station.

They did it with the enthusiasm of school children, which showed when Williams and her flight director Bob Dempsey visited St. Damian School earlier this month.

It's not that often a celebrity visits the area, let alone a real-life astronaut and her flight director. That's a first — one that didn't go unnoticed by state and city officials who joined students in welcoming Williams and in giving her gifts to remember her visit to Michigan.

While Williams brought copies of her mission patches for the students, but we believe she and Dempsey brought much more to the students. The excitement of going into space, the thrill of living and working on the space station, working with space by staying on the ground came through loud and clear in everything they said and did.

Their visit was more than a piece of history. It was an inspiration for the students, who hung on their every word. How many students left the school gymnasium with their own dream of one day becoming an astronaut? How many young girls looked at Williams and imagined themselves standing in her place?

They may only know Mercury astronaut Alan Shepherd, the first American in space, and Sally Ride, the first American woman in space, as names in a textbook. But they know Williams as a living, breathing astronaut who took the time to talk to them and show them what it's like to live in space.

What she didn't tell them is that she holds three records for female space travelers — the longest spaceflight (195 days), number of space walks (four) and total time spent on space walks (29 hours, 17 minutes).

We can't say enough about the visit by Williams and Dempsey and what they brought to the children. How we explore our universe is about to change, as NASA transitions from the space station to a return to the moon and on to Mars. Who knows, one of those students they inspired may be among those future space explorers.

Early interest critical to affecting election

You've heard it before — every vote counts. It bears repeating after some very close races this month. Notably, two races — one for city commission, the other city council — tied in Macomb County.

What readers may not hear, however, is the importance of getting involved in the electoral process early. From the looks of the presidential race, which has been heating up more than a year before the election, the word "early" has taken on new meaning — and urgency.

Primaries not only are an expression of who voters like, they're also a vote on the policies and promises of each candidate. The drive to move up primaries in the election calendar is designed to have a greater impact on those candidates and issues.

So if you have a burning issue, get involved. The primaries are a great way for voters to bring home national politics to the local level.

Primaries not only are an expression of who voters like, they're also a vote on the policies and promises of each candidate. The drive to move up primaries in the election calendar is designed to have a greater impact on those candidates and issues. So if you have a burning issue, get involved. The primaries are a great way for voters to bring home national politics to the local level.

Another way to have an impact on national policy issues is to pay attention to the congressional seats that will be filled in 2008. Republicans like Joe Knollenberg in Oakland County and Thaddeus McCotter in Wayne County could be vulnerable, if voters associate them with the increasingly unpopular policies of President George W. Bush.

The Knollenberg race is building rapidly. Who eventually wins could depend on which candidates' supporters do the best job of getting out the vote. Will you be among them?

The early impact of voters is even more keenly felt at the county level. For instance, in Wayne County, the countywide races are conducted in strongly-held Democratic territory. So even though the races are partisan, the real contests will be in the August primaries on the Democratic side of the ballot.

Clearly while it's important to vote, it's also important to get involved early on and stay interested in the political process.

Be a bell ringer

"Thanks for the chance to be a bell ringer for the Salvation Army."

That's been the overwhelming response we've received from excited first-time volunteers for our Red Kettle Campaign.

The Salvation Army will again be busy from Nov. 16 through Dec. 24, ringing bells at more than 300 retail locations in the metro Detroit area. You can help us by logging on to www.ringbell.org for Wayne-Westland and signing up to be a volunteer bell ringer. You can register to ring for just two hours, and in that time collect enough money to provide meals to more than 50 needy children. All kettle locations and time slots that are available to volunteer for are listed at www.ringbell.org for Wayne-Westland.

This is a fantastic way for companies to give back to the community, for students to get involved in community service and for parents and grandparents to show their children the importance of helping those less fortunate. Take a few minutes to check out www.ringbell.org for Wayne-Westland and find the kettle site that is closest to you. Each shift is only two hours long and every volunteer makes a difference. Come be a part of the "Changing Face" of the Red Kettle Campaign and help us meet our goal of 50,000 volunteer bell ringers.

Remember, two hours can change a life.

Election fraud?

I am both amused and trying to figure the logic behind the process of requiring a photo ID when voting in person. Since anywhere from 10 to 20 persons automatically receive absentee voter ballots by mail and return the marked ballots to City Hall by mail, why isn't some sort of ID required of those voters? Anyone can sign the ballot application and then sign the outside envelope when the ballot is returned.

Anyway, terrorists have more ambitious plans than to mess up our election system. Besides, our politicians in Washington have done a good enough job of that already.

Fresh point of view

Congratulations to O&E and all of the young reporters who contributed to the new Student Voices feature! I especially enjoyed the article about the Quo Vadis, written by Tyler Vosgerchian. It brought back memories from my childhood growing up in the metro Detroit area, seeing that unique building. It is also interesting to hear its history. Now that new attention has been given to the Quo Vadis, the fact that the architect is world renowned for designing the World Trade Center, perhaps an investor will restore the building before it is too late.

Let's all encourage our young reporters. What a fresh point of view to walk past a place that we adults have seen so often that we tend to forget it's there, and ask what, where, when, why, and who and deliver a quality story. That's what journalism is all about!

Bishop deserved better

Thanks to Kurt Kuban for a great editorial ("Too many make immigrants scapegoats for nation's ills," Nov. 8). I was at St. Thomas a' Becket when Bishop Daniel Flores spoke and was dismayed at the response of the audience. I thought he eloquently described the dilemma — conflicting rights of countries to secure their borders, and the right of man to move for the purpose of feeding their family. This is a complex issue, not easily reduced to right and wrong.

I spend summers in Traverse City where the farmers have been unable to hire enough help to pick their crops. The migrant workers are vital to the U.S. agricultural industry, and the recent tightening of our borders has led to a serious reduction in the workforce. The farmers advertised for farm help with large posters and an 800 phone number. The last time I heard, they hadn't received a single call — so much for Mexicans stealing jobs.

I am hoping that the people that night were not parishioners nor Catholic. I wanted to tell them if they are so interested in keeping Mexicans and Central Americans out of the U.S., they should consider sponsoring a child through Christian Foundation for Children and Aging (CFCA). These people do not want to leave their countries. It is a hardship born out of desperation.

Maureen Anthony

Column was off the mark

According to Kurt Kuban's column on illegal immigration, Bishop Daniel Flores was treated rather impolitely after positing that Americans should treat illegal aliens with respect and dignity. With that unrealistic premise, it's no wonder the bishop incurred his audience's wrath. Respect is earned, not given. And making a mockery of this country's immigration laws is not exactly the best way to earn respect from Americans.

In his column, Kuban attempts to play the great humanitarian, performing a little verbal tap dance, with each step geared to obscure the illegality aspect. But illegality is at the heart of this issue. It's not fear of job loss. If that were the case, Americans would decry every single immigrant who steps foot on these shores. It's not racism. No one is bad mouthing Hispanics who are here legally.

Does Kuban think that Americans wouldn't be just as furious if it were millions of Norwegians flooding our country while giving the finger to our laws? Indeed, it's illegality that produces animosity toward the trespassers, with the tangential consequences merely adding fuel to the anger.

The most egregious part of Kuban's smoke screen rhetoric was comparing his immigrant ancestors to the trespassers. The analogy was not only an insult to his people, but to everyone who immigrates to this country while playing by the rules.

Promotes prejudice

At a time when racial profiling is a societal anomaly and against the law, it's incredulous that a respected member of the fourth estate would print a miscreant's description saying, "he was described as Arabic, etc.," under the police briefs. Tragically, it's that kind of prejudice labeling that promotes discrimination, suspicion and divides people into partisan groups.

Regardless of skin color and tone, dress, language inflections, proximity of the describer to the individual being described, police officers are trained not to profile no matter their prejudices. Law breakers come in all sizes, shapes, colors — and white — and ethnic backgrounds. No particular ethnic group or color is more predisposed to criminal activity than any others. Prejudice — a belief without basis — is learned. It's not inborn, not in the DNA.

Wrong way

Parks and fisheries are government assets that should be encouraged. Tourism is a profitable industry essential to Michigan. School and road expenses require better auditing. Teachers unions run education and children do not get much bang for their buck. Educator pay and benefits are among the nation's best, but reading, writing and arithmetic results are shameful.

Politicians suffer from inbreeding: They talk mostly to each other. Maple Road suffers "roundabout" panacea. MDOT statistics may claim they reduce accidents, but many drivers fearfully avoid them. These expensive replacements for stop lights would not survive a vote by the drivers or taxpayers.

If Michigan shuts down, common sense might return. It happens when all other options fail.

Our fundamental purposes are to enhance the lives of our readers, nurture the hometowns we serve and contribute to the business success of our customers.

Michigan, workforce are at a crossroads

Michigan and its workforce are at a crossroads. The globalization and evolution of our industries is changing the talents and skills companies demand to maintain and grow successful businesses. Michigan's challenge and duty today is to help provide that workforce.

It is not optional. It is a transformational change that we must embrace as a state if we hope to keep our lifeblood ... our workforce in Michigan. Our people are talented. They are gifted. They are innovative and they are mobile. If they cannot find jobs in Michigan they will leave. That, in turn, could cause companies to rethink their commitment to Michigan because they cannot fill the positions they need.

We need to take action now. More than 300,000 people have lost their jobs in our state since 2000 and our rate of unemployment is among the highest in the nation. The individuals need and want to work, yet many need additional education and training to be able to meet employer needs.

In 2010, a short three years from now, 70 percent of the fastest growing jobs in our state will require a post-secondary degree. Today only 29 percent of our residents age 25 and over have attained an associate's or higher degree. We have time to train this workforce but it is limited time. We need to take bold actions now. The economic future of Michigan and our residents depends on it.

Earlier this summer, Gov. Jennifer Granholm introduced the No Worker Left Behind initiative. No Worker Left Behind is a free tuition program that helps unemployed or underemployed workers get the training they need for new jobs and to help employers find qualified workers. To qualify, an individual must be unemployed, have received a layoff notice or be employed but with a family income of less than $40,000.

By combining state and federal dollars already used for worker training programs, No Worker Left Behind can offer free tuition of up to $5,000 a year for education and training for high-demand jobs in emerging industries such as health care. About 100,000 qualified individuals are expected to take advantage of this program and pursue a degree or occupational certificate at any Michigan community college, university or other approved training program. So far $37 million in 2007 federal grants designed to pay for worker retraining has been used as part of this program. No Worker Left Behind initiative represents Michigan's future. The program will educate the kind of workforce that current and future businesses demand, which will increase investment in Michigan and enhance our economic development. We must build a sustainable program that continuously develops a workforce that meets the needs of businesses and instills a desire for lifelong learning in our residents.

In the face of Michigan's economic challenges, we need to make investments in our workforce that help us regain and create jobs that pay good wages, support a vibrant middle class, and forge a strong tax base in our state. Failing to do so would mean more poverty, more job loss, and putting ourselves among the states racing to the bottom. No Worker Left Behind is our chance to stay competitive in the changing global economy.

In the face of Michigan's economic challenges, we need to make investments in our workforce that help us regain and create jobs that pay good wages, support a vibrant middle class, and forge a strong tax base in our state. Failing to do so would mean more poverty, more job loss, and putting ourselves among the states racing to the bottom. No Worker Left Behind is our chance to stay competitive in the changing global economy. We owe it to our families, our communities, and our businesses to give our workforce the skills it needs to compete.

Judge nixes Dem/GOP plan reminiscent of Orwell

What would you say if the Michigan Legislature passed and Gov. Jennifer Granholm signed into law a measure that:

■ Authorized the state to pay up to $10 million to hold Republican and Democratic primary elections in January.

■ Ordered the Michigan Secretary of State to use this primary to develop — again, at public expense — a list of voters' party preferences, including names and addresses.

■ Require this list to be kept secret — except that the taxpayers would turn it over for free only to the chairs of the Democratic and Republican parties for use in "supporting political party activities."

■ Further, provided that any other use of these records — political, commercial, journalistic, academic, historical or scientific — by anyone else other than the two major political parties is a criminal violation of the law, subject to a $1,000 fine and up to 93 days in jail?

Naturally — after got your breath back — you'd say this was a plot right out of George Orwell's famous and terrifying novel, 1984, which described political tyranny and the ultimate destruction of democracy. Then you'd ask — or hopefully, scream — "Who in their right mind would ever imagine such a thing?"

Surprise — all that really happened ... and this year!

Turns out (and I'm not making this up) this was exactly what was dreamed up by Mark Brewer, chair of the Michigan Democratic Party, and Saulius "Saul" Anuzis, his GOP counterpart. Sen. Michelle McManus, R-Traveler City, introduced the deal July 6.

Her bill was speedily passed by both houses of the Legislature (yes, the same folks that take a year to balance the budget) and signed into law by the governor.

You might fairly call that "politburo politics." And it was concocted by Michigan's hyper-partisan political parties in order to hold primary elections in January 2008 to pick their respective nominees for president. It's a perfect example of the kind of unthinking partisan arrogance that's been going on in Lansing over the last several tumultuous and embarrassing months.

The result has, once again, ignored — or, frankly, shafted — the interests of 10 million Michigan citizens, and instead attempted to sacrifice them to the partisan agendas of both political parties.

This time, however, they didn't quite get away with it. Fortunately, a group of citizens sued. They were led by Mark Grebner, a very competent East Lansing political consultant who uses public records to compile and sell detailed voter lists.

The plaintiffs argued that the law meant publicly-funded resources would be given away for free exclusively to the political parties for their private use and profit. That, they argued, was a violation of the Michigan Constitution.

Last Wednesday, Ingham County Circuit Judge William Collette agreed, striking down the law because it made publicly-gathered voter lists the secret and exclusive possession of both political parties. Collette ruled there was "clear injury" to the public and that turning over the voter lists to the parties was unconstitutional.

Nor was this unthinking partisan arrogance confined to drafting and passing the offending law. Eric Doster, a lawyer for the state Republican Party, argued in open court that primary elections are essentially private events, even if paid for by public money.

Presidential primary voter records are "not the state of Michigan's property. This is the party's property. These are our members," Doster said. Right. You get it. Public voter records are the party's property. Our voters, our votes, our members, our elections.

Certainly not the people's.

Somewhere, Orwell's Big Brother is smiling.

No doubt Judge Collette's decision will be appealed, maybe all the way to the Michigan Supreme Court. GOP chair Anuzis called the ruling a "hiccup" and said he didn't think it would affect the primary.

But at least he talked to the press. Repeated calls to Democratic chair Brewer and Sen. McManus were unanswered.

All that was a perfect demonstration of how much contempt the major parties have for the general public in contempt.

Though you may not immediately realize it, there's an issue at stake here that means a lot to ordinary folks: Suppose you see yourself as a determinedly independent crossover voter, sometimes voting for the Democrat, sometimes for the Republican. Under the new law, you'd be labeled as one or the other depending on which primary you voted in. Your vote would be accessible only to the political parties, who could then target or ignore you at their leisure — without you being able to do anything about it.

Or suppose you want to run for the Legislature, but you're independent-minded, not always in lock-step with your party. If you want to reach the voters, the voter lists are a very useful tool.

But under the law just struck down, you'd never get to use them if the parties decided you were too much of a troublemaker.

If you are concerned about losing your rights, or if you care about the impact of belligerent and self-absorbed political partisanship on Lansing's ability to lead Michigan out of the mess we're in, I'd urge you to watch this case closely.

And maybe raise holy hell.

PREP FOOTBALL

Their numbers — 85, 45, 59, 50, 8, 13, 73, 83, 46 — never get called in a game.

Attach some of the names like Mark Marchelleta, Tommy Jenkins, Kenny Foisy, James Bowlby, Osama al-Hakimi, Bryan Wilkie, Tommy Strobl, Keith Reid and Ben Beaman, and it's a sure bet they've never been mentioned in the newspaper either.

But for the Stevenson coaching staff, the scout team this season has proven to be a valuable commodity in the Spartans' 12-0 football run. And they're one of the reasons why Stevenson is only a victory away from the Division 1 state championship game Nov. 24 at Detroit's Ford Field.

"We see a lot of different offenses — the spread, Wing-T, I-formation, option — it doesn't take long for them to call out the formations in the huddle," Stevenson head coach Tim Gabel said. "We really do have good scout players. They just kill themselves for the team." Gabel's assistant, Matt Fielder, preps the scout team defense each and every week.

"He'll use stunts, blitzes, throw everything but the kitchen sink at us," Gabel said. "And the kids revel in it. The kids really understand their roles and they've done a great job. It really frustrates the offense. They take their job seriously in practice."

Gabel, meanwhile, runs the scout team offense and admits: "It's become an exceedingly frustrating job."

And this week the scout team will pose as state semifinal opponent is Troy (9-2), which Gabel admits will be another challenging task.

The Colts, coming off an impressive 34-0 win last Friday over previously unbeaten Warren Cousino, features a three-headed monster in the backfield.

Quarterback Branko Hamilton, a 6-foot, 180-pound senior, has thrown for 1,243 yards and run for 976.

He is joined by 5-9, 195-pound senior Brandon Pardun, who has rushed for a team-best 1,136. Also in the mix is 5-8, 160-pound senior Nick Gallina, who has caught 35 passes for 549 yards and rushed for another 1,045 yards.

"Anyone of those guys can hurt you in a hurry," Gabel said. "They're three very good players. They're slashing, fast and twisting players, always moving forward."

"Our scout team will have to simulate it to the best of their ability."

Gabel said the Colts are a cross between Stevenson's regular season opponents Walled

Chargers' Abron is Miss Volleyball

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

The Churchill library appeared to be an appropriate venue to announce the latest Miss Volleyball.

That's because one could certainly write a book on Kyndra Abron's rapid ascent from a curious novice player to the state's premier hitting talent.

Maybe it was only appropriate that the 6-foot-2 Abron was a bit tongue-tied after accepting the award from Jenni Thunberg, president and chair of the Michigan Interscholastic Volleyball Coaches Association.

"I'd like to thank all my teammates, friends, family, coaches — this is special to me," said Abron, who edged out

Champs dethroned

Milford ousts Churchill in regional semifinal

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Livonia Churchill ran into a hot team Saturday in its bid to defend its Class A girls volleyball title and the result was an unexpected and quick exit.

The Chargers' season ended abruptly Saturday in regional semifinals at Novi as upstart Milford, runner-up in the Kensington Valley Conference, pulled out a victory in five games, 13-25, 25-21, 27-25, 24-26, 15-13.

Churchill ends its 2007 fall campaign with an overall record of 45-3-3.

KVC champion Novi (37-3-3) went on to beat Milford (37-6-3) in four games for the regional crown and advanced Tuesday night in its quarterfinal matchup beating Wyandotte in four games.

Against Churchill, Milford started slowly and had no answers for the Chargers' newly named Miss Volleyball Kyndra Abron, who had a total of 37 kills and four blocks.

"The first game — things were going so well — we got lucky bounces and we got some calls, so I guess it could only go down from there," Churchill coach Mark Grenier said.

Milford got some momentum going in the second and third games as Churchill struggled with both serve-receive and passing.

Senior middle hitter Sarah Gordon recorded eight of her 16 kills in the second game, while 6-foot-4 Kaitlyn Schultz, headed to Central Michigan University, added eight of her team-high 22 kills in the third game.

"When you don't have ball control, you can't do the things you want to do," Grenier said. "In the second and third games we broke down and Milford took advantage. Their game plan right away was to keep the ball away from Graciak and (Jordan) Kerr."

The Chargers, however, rallied to win Game 4 thanks to a key block by Jessica Stroud to break a 24-all deadlock.

But in the fifth and deciding game, Milford took command and held off a late Churchill run to pull out the victory.

"They forced us to do other things," Grenier said. "We had opportunities and chances over and over again, but did not finish. And that's the story of the day."

Graciak, a junior, finished with a team-high 36 digs, while junior setter Kayla Johnston added nine digs and 61 assist-to-kills. Junior outside hitter Kristen Nalecz finished with 14 kills and nine digs.

"We saw them at a tourney and we scouted them," Milford coach Jim Marszalek said of the Chargers. "And we felt if we passed well and served the ball away from No. 1 (Shannon Warner) and No. 2 (Lindsey Graciak), we could go after some other players and take our medicine. We wanted to get them out of their system and our girls played great."

Pontiac Notre Dame Prep's Molly Coldren in the final point tally, 173-142. "This team was special to me and I'd like to thank the teams in prior years. I really feel honored and ..."

Many others can finish the sentence for Abron, who took up the sport of volleyball as a mere curiosity and was cut from her Riley Middle School team before she even arrived at Churchill as a raw ninth-grader.

Four years later, Abron racked up 2,020 total kills, including 800 this season (6.4 per game with a .560 hitting percentage), not to mention a phenomenal effort in last spring's Class A state championship run.

Churchill coach Mark Grenier, who helped polish the proverbial diamond in the rough, predicts even greater things for Abron as she embarks on her next destination — Michigan State.

"Her ceiling is so high, she's not come close to seeing what the finished product will be," Grenier said. "She's really grown and matured over the years. She's driven to be a leader and improve her game. This year she was a different player because of her past experiences. She's been pretty dominant, but this year we moved her from the middle more to the outside where she could see the ball more. It was a big transition, but she became more of a consistent player. She hit at a different tempo with the ball and played more of a complete game."

Abron recorded 37 kills in her final high school match, a five-game setback to Milford in the regional semifinals at Novi.

Churchill won't be defending its state title.

"I'm not thinking about it, I've accepted hit because I played as good as I can and gave it my all," Abron said. "I played my best game and I can't beat myself up. Usually when I lose, I'm upset. But I can't be upset because I did all I could have done."

Later that evening Abron shuttled up to Michigan State to watch the Spartans take on top-ranked Penn State. She's already scouting out her future competition.

"She has our TV programmed to the Big Ten Network," said Abron's mother, Cassandra. "She loves playing against great competition and the Big Ten is arguably one of the best in the nation. She's really excited to play them. She wants to watch her new opponents and she has to see how they play."

Grenier saw an unpolished gem in his summer camp when Abron came aboard as a freshman. He immediately placed her on the JV team and let her learn the hard way — by playing, practicing and drilling daily.

When the 2005 state tournament came around, Grenier elevated the freshman to the varsity. And in the regional, Grenier needed somebody to go up and block 6-5 All-Stater Lauren Paolini of Saline, now a junior standout for the nationally-ranked Texas Longhorns.

"Coach 'G' (Grenier) thought I could stop her," Abron recalls. "She (Paolini) was so big. When I looked at her I was amazed. I did not know what to do. I was not ready to do that because I had only been playing a few months. I could not stop her or get a touch. I tried laughing it off. It was an eye opener."

Abron didn't let the regional setback affect her. She got right back into the gym.

"We spent a lot of time in the early days, I don't know the count, just hours and hours," Grenier said. "We hit against the wall, worked on transition. But the thing is that she always showed up. She never said 'no.' She was always willing to put the time in."

Although both Cassandra and James Abron knew little about the club volleyball scene, they embraced it and provided the funding.

"My parents have been extremely supportive," Kyndra Abron said. "They had to drive me around, but they knew this is what love to do and it was important to me. They figured I had the talent and wanted me to pursue it."

Added Cassandra: "Mr. (Marc) Hage (Churchill's athletic director) would say 'one in 10,000' are going to get a full-ride scholarship, but I guess she (Kyndra) was going to be one of those ones. It's been worth the time and the effort for one. Most kids would have the remote in their hands or play video games, but she was always gone at 7 in the morning and wouldn't come home until 9 or 10 at night, whether it was track or volleyball. I never heard complaints."

Kyndra, an accomplished high jumper, along with being a state-ranked shot put and discus thrower, is unsure whether she'll return to Churchill's track team next spring.

She will definitely play for Madonna University assistant coach Ed Tolentino on the M Juniors team out of Ann Arbor beginning in November.

"Track is hard for me to do," Abron said. "Doing the club travel might be easier this year. Right now I'm not sure."

Abron might have planted a seed in the MIVCA voters' eyes last March with her dominant performance against top-ranked East Kentwood (21 kills) in the semifinals and North Branch (35 kills, the MHSAA's second all-time) in the finals.

And before the East Kentwood match even started, the Western Michigan University Arena crowd buzzed over Abron's hitting exhibition during the warm-ups.

"I don't want to stand in front of that, and I was a defensive player," said Thunberg of Abron's monstrous attacks. "I knew she was the front-runner after watching her last year and I saw her at a tournament again this year. I think they picked the right Miss Volleyball."

Hillsdale Academy survives stiff 5-game test by Warriors

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Before the afternoon was done Saturday, Lutheran High Westland coach Kevin Wade was thinking about the future and next volleyball season.

After losing a five-game match with Hillsdale Academy in a Class D regional final at Lutheran High, Wade surveyed the prospects for another tournament run in 2008.

"We only lose three players, and we had a great jayvee," he said. "There's no reason we can't be even better next year. We have to get over the hump. We lost in four last year in the regional final (to Oakland Christian), and this year we lost in five."

"A lot of girls have been in the regional final, and we hope the experience helps us in the future."

In a battle between state-ranked powers, the No. 6 Warriors went the distance with No. 2 Hillsdale Academy before losing in five, 25-17, 18-25, 25-17, 22-25, 15-8.

Lutheran High (28-5-5) caught a break and didn't have to play a semifinal match after No. 1-rated Adrian Lenawee Christian was forced to withdraw from the tournament for using an ineligible player in the district.

The Warriors watched as the Colts (40-8-5) defeated Plymouth Christian Academy in a preliminary match Saturday, 28-26, 25-13, 21-25, 25-15.

"If we had played Lenawee and Hillsdale, we would've had to expend a lot of energy, and it would have been a difficult thing," Wade said. "It helped us to go straight to the final. It was a gift we got. It was unfortunate what happened, but we knew we could compete with them.

"The big talk was Lenawee didn't get to play Hillsdale. Now that they saw what we're capable of, hopefully, they didn't leave here disappointed. We played the No. 2 team in the state tough."

Six-foot middle hitter Clara Leutheuser, who led the Colts with 29 kills in the championship match, was a dominating presence in the first game.

After a timeout, the Warriors closed to 20-17 with four straight points, but the Colts won the serve with a Leutheuser kill and scored five unanswered points.

In the second game, Leutheuser wasn't involved as much in the action, and Lutheran High junior middle Becca Refenes began to assert herself as the Warriors showed some fight.

"We haven't see a big middle like that all year," Wade said. "We didn't know anything about them. We had to adjust to what (Leutheuser) could do. Once we did that, we were okay. As much as you try to simulate that in practice, you can't do that."

Hillsdale gained the lead early in the third game and held it, but Lutheran High battled back in the fourth and closest game.

Wade used a timeout with the Colts leading, 22-20, and halted their momentum. The Warriors won it with a Hillsdale error and four serves by Julie Jongsma — the final point being a kill by Refenes.

"We could have folded and cashed it in, being down two games to one, but we came back and got to the deciding game," Wade said.

"It was two great teams going at it. (The Colts) made the plays when they needed them; they definitely earned it. We have nothing to hang our heads about."

The fifth game was close early, but Lutheran High missed two straight serves. With a 9-8 lead, Leutheuser and the Colts finished strong, scoring the final six points despite two timeouts by the Warriors.

"We had some letdowns here and there," Hillsdale coach Matt Miller said. "All in all, the girls played tough and did what they needed to do to get the victory."

"We've played better, but this (Lutheran High) team was tough, scrappy on defense. The kids adjusted well to the team they were playing and found a way to win."

"In Game 4, we gave away a lot of points on our errors. It wasn't that we got outplayed. If we got rid of the errors on our side of the net, I thought we would be fine in Game 5."

"It comes down to who can make less errors," Wade said. "In the games we lost, we made more errors than they did. When two teams are real even like that, it comes down to who makes the fewer mistakes."

BY THE NUMBERS: Lutheran High's Becca Refenes had 15 kills in the final, seven solo blocks and 31 touches to keep the ball in play. Junior Chelsea Kyles had nine kills, one solo and six touches; junior Allyson Yankee had eight kills; junior Katy Ramthun had seven kills, one solo and 12 touches; senior Myrian Storck had two solos and 10 touches; senior Julie Jongsma had 16 assists and junior Lauren Gieschen 14. Yankee had 24 digs, Refenes 22, Ranthum 15, Storck 13 and junior Abi Gieschen 10. Jongsma and Ranthum served three aces apiece.

Blazers grounded at Airport

Livonia Ladywood's volleyball team traveled Saturday to Carleton Airport and never got off the runway in its Class B regional semifinal.

The Blazers suffered Jet-lag as Airport won in three games, 25-15, 25-23, 25-4.

Only the second game was close as Ladywood bowed out with a 17-17-5 overall record. The Jets' Kathy Stewart, a sophomore outside hitter, notched back-to-back kills to break a 23-all deadlock.

It was the second straight year Airport had ousted Ladywood in the regional.

Airport, a state semifinalist a year ago, went on to defeat 10th-ranked Dearborn Divine Child for the regional championship, 27-25, 23-25, 25-17, 25-21.

Jessica Nagy was the Jets' top hitter on the day, while Alcia Hooten paced the defense. Setter Nicole Olson also stood out.

On Tuesday, the Jets (50-7) defeated host Richland Gull Lake in the quarterfinals in five games, 26-24, 22-25, 25-19, 26-28, 15-6, and will face Holland Christian (43-7) in 7:15 p.m. Friday state semifinal at Battle Creek's Kellogg Center.

Madonna brings home WHAC volleyball crown

Behind 26 kills from All-American Lubovj Tihomirova and a team .324 hitting percentage, the Madonna University women's volleyball team downed Cornerstone, 30-18, 30-27, 30-22, to win the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference title in a match played at Henry Ford Community College.

With the victory, MU earns the right to host the NAIA Region VIII Tournament Friday and Saturday in the Activities Center. The Crusaders (31-10) will be the top-seeded WHAC team in the six-team field on its newly refurbished floor. At 10 a.m. Saturday, they play Friday's first-round match between Indiana Tech and Taylor (Ind.) with No. 2 seed Indiana Wesleyan taking on Friday's Cornerstone-Bethel (Ind.) winner. The championship match is slated for 5 p.m. Saturday at MU.

Tihomirova led the Crusaders with her 26 kills and was joined in double figures by Whitney Fuelling and Mary McGinnis, who had 14 and 13, respectively. Setter Inta Grinvalds handed out 54 assists while Jacqui Gatt (Livonia Churchill) posted 25 digs.

Holly Cousins and Rebecca Baker had 12 kills each for Cornerstone (38-5).

Prior to the match, the WHAC awards were handed out and MU took home a truck-load of hardware as Fuelling, Gatt, Grinvalds and Tihomirova were all named to the first-team, while McGinnis and Stephanie Parslow were selected honorable mention.

Tihomirova and Gatt took home the big awards — Player of the Year and Libero of the Year, respectively. Meanwhile, Parslow was also selected as the Crusaders' representative on the WHAC Champion of Characters team as the student-athlete who best represents the NAIA's five core values.

Gatt, Fuelling, Szymanski and Tihomirova were named to the WHAC's All-Academic Team as well.

The Mavericks were also able to overcome Abron's towering presence in the front row.

"We wanted to get as many touches against her as we could, but she's so good because she still hit over us and around us — just amazing," Marszalek said of the 6-2 Michigan State recruit.

Milford came into the match ranked No. 8, while Churchill was No. 5.

"The last month and a half we found a lineup that jelled on both ends, offensively and defensively," Marszalek said. "And it's all because of serve reception. We were around 68 percent most of the season, but the last month we're up to around 80 percent."

Lake Western and Brighton. "Scheme-wise, they're a lot like Western, only they don't want to throw it as much," Gabel said. "But they can keep you honest. They also run a lot of shotgun spread like Brighton."

Defensively, the Colts run a 5-2 (alignment) according to Gabel.

"They move around a lot and pursue relentlessly," he said. "They worked Cousino's offense over. Troy is very good, very impressive."

As far as the status Saturday of starting center Ricky Bell (6-0, 248), who suffered a knee injury in last Friday's 10-7 Region 4 win over rival Livonia Franklin, Gabel said the senior captain was scheduled to be re-evaluated on Tuesday. If Bell is not cleared to play, he'll be replaced by 6-foot, 175-pound junior Kyle Hobbins. "It might be an MCL sprain, we'll hold out hope for Ricky's sake that he can play," Gabel said. "But we have confidence in Kyle. He'll be just fine."

Presale semifinal tickets

Game time for Saturday's Stevenson-Troy semifinal is 1 p.m. at Southfield-Lathrup, which is located at 19301 W. 12 Mile, Lathrup Village.

The winner will play either Macomb Dakota (12-0) or Novi-Detroit Catholic Central (10-2) for the state championship, 1 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 24, at Detroit's Ford Field.

Stevenson has been allotted 1,500 pre-sale state semifinal tickets, according to Spartans' athletic director Lori Hyman, which will be sold during all three lunch periods from 10:30 a.m. to noon Thursday and Friday. The Lathrup ticket booths will be open at 11 a.m. Ticket prices are $6, along with a $2 parking fee.

The success enjoyed by last year's Livonia Churchill boys hockey team may be a tough act to follow.

The Chargers went 23-3-2 overall, were ranked No. 1 and captured the Western Lakes Activities Association crown, only to be derailed in the Division 1 state quarterfinals by Grosse Pointe North, 3-2.

Three first-team All-Staters graduated including defenseman Phil Wendecker, now playing for Traverse City of the North American Hockey League; goaltender Scott Lewan, who plays for Capital District of the EJHL; and defenseman Jason Proctor.

Yet, Chargers' eighth-year coach Mazzoni continues to reload and this year should be no different with the return of seniors Nathan Milam, Keith Yackley and Garrett Miencier, who form one of the state's most potent production lines.

"I'm really excited about the young kids we brought in this year," Mazzoni said. "Obviously, losing three big defensemen is huge, but I like the kids that we have on the blue line. We also graduate a three-year starter in goal - so we'll be playing someone without high school experience."

"We're quicker, smarter and more physical than last year. I think we'll score more goals than we did last year. This group of seniors wants to continue the tradition of Churchill hockey."

Livonia Stevenson, 17-7-2 a year ago and a member of the WLAAs Lakes Division, could make things interesting in the WLAAs as Dave Mitchell, Mazzoni's former assistant at Churchill, takes over for the departed Mike Humitz.

The Spartans lost first-team All-Area forward Marcus Voran, who scored 29 goals and added 17 assists, but his replacement will be younger brother Michael Voran, a senior who played as a freshman and sophomore for the Spartans before opting to play travel hockey last year.

Another new talented player is Windsor Spitfires' seventh-round draft pick Ryan Baraton, a senior forward. Senior goaltender Pat McHugh also played four years in the Compuware program.

"With so many new faces throughout the whole program, it may make take us awhile out of gate," Mitchell said. "One of our goals to get better every day. There's no doubt that we have some players that have been successful at high school and other levels. We have potential to be good, but how good? That remains to be seen. It's a long road and journey. We want to have a purpose in everything we do."

Livonia Franklin (3-21), certainly took its lumps during Terry Jobbitt's 25th and final season as the Patriots' head coach.

Jobbitt's replacement Franklin grad Scott Wirgau, who returns 16 of 18 players, including third-team All-Observer goaltender Austin Mesler, who missed two weeks of practice because of his commitment to the Patriots' football team. Senior defenseman Jordan Short and junior defense Ron Perian also just returned following the 12-game grid campaign.

"We have a lot of maturity on the team," Wirgau said. "Honestly, we're real confident we'll do well this year. We took the off-season to focus on fundamentals like strength training and flexibility. We're looking at taking the accomplishments presented, as opportunities for us."

While Franklin returns a veteran squad, Livonia Ladywood (17-3-1) was probably the hardest hit by graduation losses and defections following a run to the semifinals of the Michigan Metro High School Girls Hockey League playoffs.

Gone to Utica College (N.Y.), along with her 40 goals and 18 assists, is Miss Hockey Laura Szwed. Second-team All-Observer pick Prenella Semma, who added 35 goals and six assists in just 17 games, also opted to play travel hockey her junior year with Honeybaked.

The Blazers, however, will put a strong front line out on the ice with the return of seniors Heather Sartorius, Abby Kienbaum and Ashley Ballarin. Goaltender Michelle Wyniemko and defenseman Maria Rotondo are also back for another season.

"We have a good group of returning players," Ladywood coach Bruce Peck said. "We're teaching them and they're getting better each day. It will be interesting. We're work in progress."

All four teams will be in action this weekend with Churchill and Stevenson competing in the Metro Invitational beginning Friday and Saturday at the Novi Ice Arena. Also on Friday, Franklin plays host to non-conference foe Pinckney at Edgar Arena.

Ladywood, meanwhile, opens its season 6 p.m. Saturday at home against Northville at the Arctic Pond in Plymouth.

We can still put a line on the ice at one time that will match up with anybody in the league, but the rest is inexperienced. We'll have go with two lines and four defensemen. (Michelle) Wyniemko is looking good in goal. She's playing well in practice and we'll rely on her. (Heather) Sartorius is a player who can do it all."

Poor foul shooting costs MU dearly

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

BY TIM SMITH
STAFF WRITER

The first game played on the brand new basketball floor at Madonna University's athletics center didn't exactly go the way Crusaders men's head coach Chuck Henry envisioned.

Madonna players Tuesday night had trouble reacquainting themselves with the new surface, particularly the bucket at the Rochester College end, and suffered an 81-80 overtime setback on a double put-back high-glasser by 6-foot-8 center Andrew Clark.

The Crusaders (1-3) had practiced just one time on the floor prior to the non-conference contest, but Henry said that was no excuse for missing 11-of-24 free-throw tries in the second half and OT - not to mention going just 3-for-14 from behind the three-point arc over the last 25 minutes.

"We had just gotten back from a trip to California where we shot 12-of-30 (free throws) in a game," Henry said. "We thought it was one of those things. But here in our own gym we shot under 60 percent (18-of-31, .581). That's a killer."

Henry added that although Rochester played his team tough, "you have to be smart when you have a lead, and protect the ball."

Also troubling was a handful of careless-looking field-goal attempts, which never came close.

"We executed poorly on offense and resorted to poor shot selection," Henry continued. "They (Warriors) took advantage."

Madonna did lead virtually all night, building a 36-29 halftime margin thanks to nine points each from senior point guard Charlie Henry (Plymouth Agape Christian) and senior forward and Canton product D. J. Bridges (12 points, 10 rebounds).

That lead grew to double digits early in the second half, but MU turned the ball over three times in a row and the Warriors (4-1) took advantage as junior guard and Birmingham Brother Rice alum John Djurovski (15 points) buried back-to-back treys to cut the Crusaders advantage to 47-43 with about 15 minutes remaining.

MU senior guard Keith Hearn (Livonia Stevenson) helped build the lead back up to 59-53 with a triple from the right wing with 8:20 to go, but Rochester would not wilt.

The Warriors sliced the gap to 63-62 with 4:15 on the clock thanks to a three-ball from beyond the arc from senior guard Tyler Leipprandt, who made four of 10 trey attempts and finished with 20 points.

Leipprandt struck again with a triple to tie the game at 65-65 with just under three minutes left, but junior guard Cedric Sims (Wayne Memorial) drove through the paint to score a layup and 6-8 freshman center Geoff Gaylor rejected consecutive shots around the Madonna basket to keep the Crusaders on top.

Madonna went up 69-65 on two free throws by Sims (21 points, five assists), and had an opportunity to put the game out of reach when senior guard Jon Battle (12 points) stepped up to the free-throw line. But Battle missed both shots and Djurovski connected with yet another trey to make it 69-68 with 33 seconds to go in regulation.

Battle couldn't hit the target on two more foul shots and junior guard Robert Frago (13 points) evened the score (69-all) when he split two free throws with 4.7 seconds remaining.

Bridges tried to win at the horn with a desperation shot from his own end of the court, but it clanked off the rim.

In overtime, Rochester did not trail until Madonna freshman forward Ryan Waidmann (Canton) calmly drained two free throws to give the Crusaders a brief 79-77 lead with 1:28 left.

It was 79-79 in the final minute, when Waidmann wrestled a rebound away from a Rochester player under the MU basket to give the home team another chance to go ahead for good. Charlie Henry (18 points) split two free throws at the other end, putting the Crusaders up 80-79. Despite defensive hustle by Sims, who knocked the ball out of bounds near mid-court, the Crusaders could not defend Clark's ultimate winning shot from short range.

Henry said the fact his team has been practicing for several weeks off-campus while the spiffy-looking new floor was installed was no excuse for Tuesday's showing. "But it will be nice to get into a practice groove here on our floor."

He did tout the play of Sims and freshmen Gaylor (four points, six boards, three blocks) and Waidmann (four points, three boards).

"We're really happy with the development of those two freshmen," Henry said. "They are our two biggest players at 6-8 and 6-7 and we really needed them. And Cedric had 21 points, five assists and came up with a couple steals. He and the two freshmen probably played the best for us."

Crusaders split out West

On Saturday, a 29-point performance by Jon Battle helped Madonna University nip-host San Diego Christian, 74-72.

Battle, a transfer from Indiana Tech, hit 12-of-20 from the field as the Crusaders won their first game in three attempts. Augmenting his offense were D. J. Bridges (20 points) and Charlie Henry (15 points).

MU held off San Diego Christian (2-2), despite a 25-point, 19-rebound outing by Bayo Arigbon.

That victory helped take the sting out of Friday's lackluster 98-70 defeat to host Point Loma Nazarene (3-0), a game where Madonna made good on just 40 percent (12-30) of free-throw attempts.

Battle, named WHAC Player of the Week, led all scorers with 23 points, while Henry and Bridges contributed 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Lady Ocelots rout Alpena in conference opener, 87-41

BY TIM SMITH
STAFF WRITER

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

For a game played at the Lumberjack Dome, it was fitting that Schoolcraft College's offensive power brought down host Alpena, 87-41 in Saturday's MCCA-East women's basketball opener for both teams.

Starting with a 41-13 edge in the first half, the visiting Lady Ocelots had a grip on the game from the opening tip. To further illustrate their superiority in the contest, they out-rebounded the Lumberjacks by a 61-32 margin and forced 37 turnovers.

Four Schoolcraft players scored 10 or more points as the Lady Ocelots improved to 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the conference.

Leading the way with 15 points and eight rebounds was sophomore forward Janelle Harris, while sophomore forward Antoinette Brown tallied 14 points.

Also in double figures were freshman center Shannon Collins (12 points) and freshman forward and Plymouth Salem alum Taylor Langham (10 points, six rebounds).

Other Schoolcraft contributors included sophomore forward Erica Ott (eight points, seven rebounds), sophomore guard Heidi Warzinsky (six points, seven assists), sophomore guard and Wayne Memorial product LaDwan Jones (five points, three assists, three steals) and freshman forward Japera English (five points, eight boards). For Alpena (0-2, 0-1), Jacquelyn Burzynski scored nine points with Deb Sjoquist and Lauren Smith each registering eight.

Crusaders drop pair

The Madonna University women's basketball team wasn't signing "My Old Kentucky Home" after losing twice last weekend in the Campbellsville (Ky.) University Tournament.

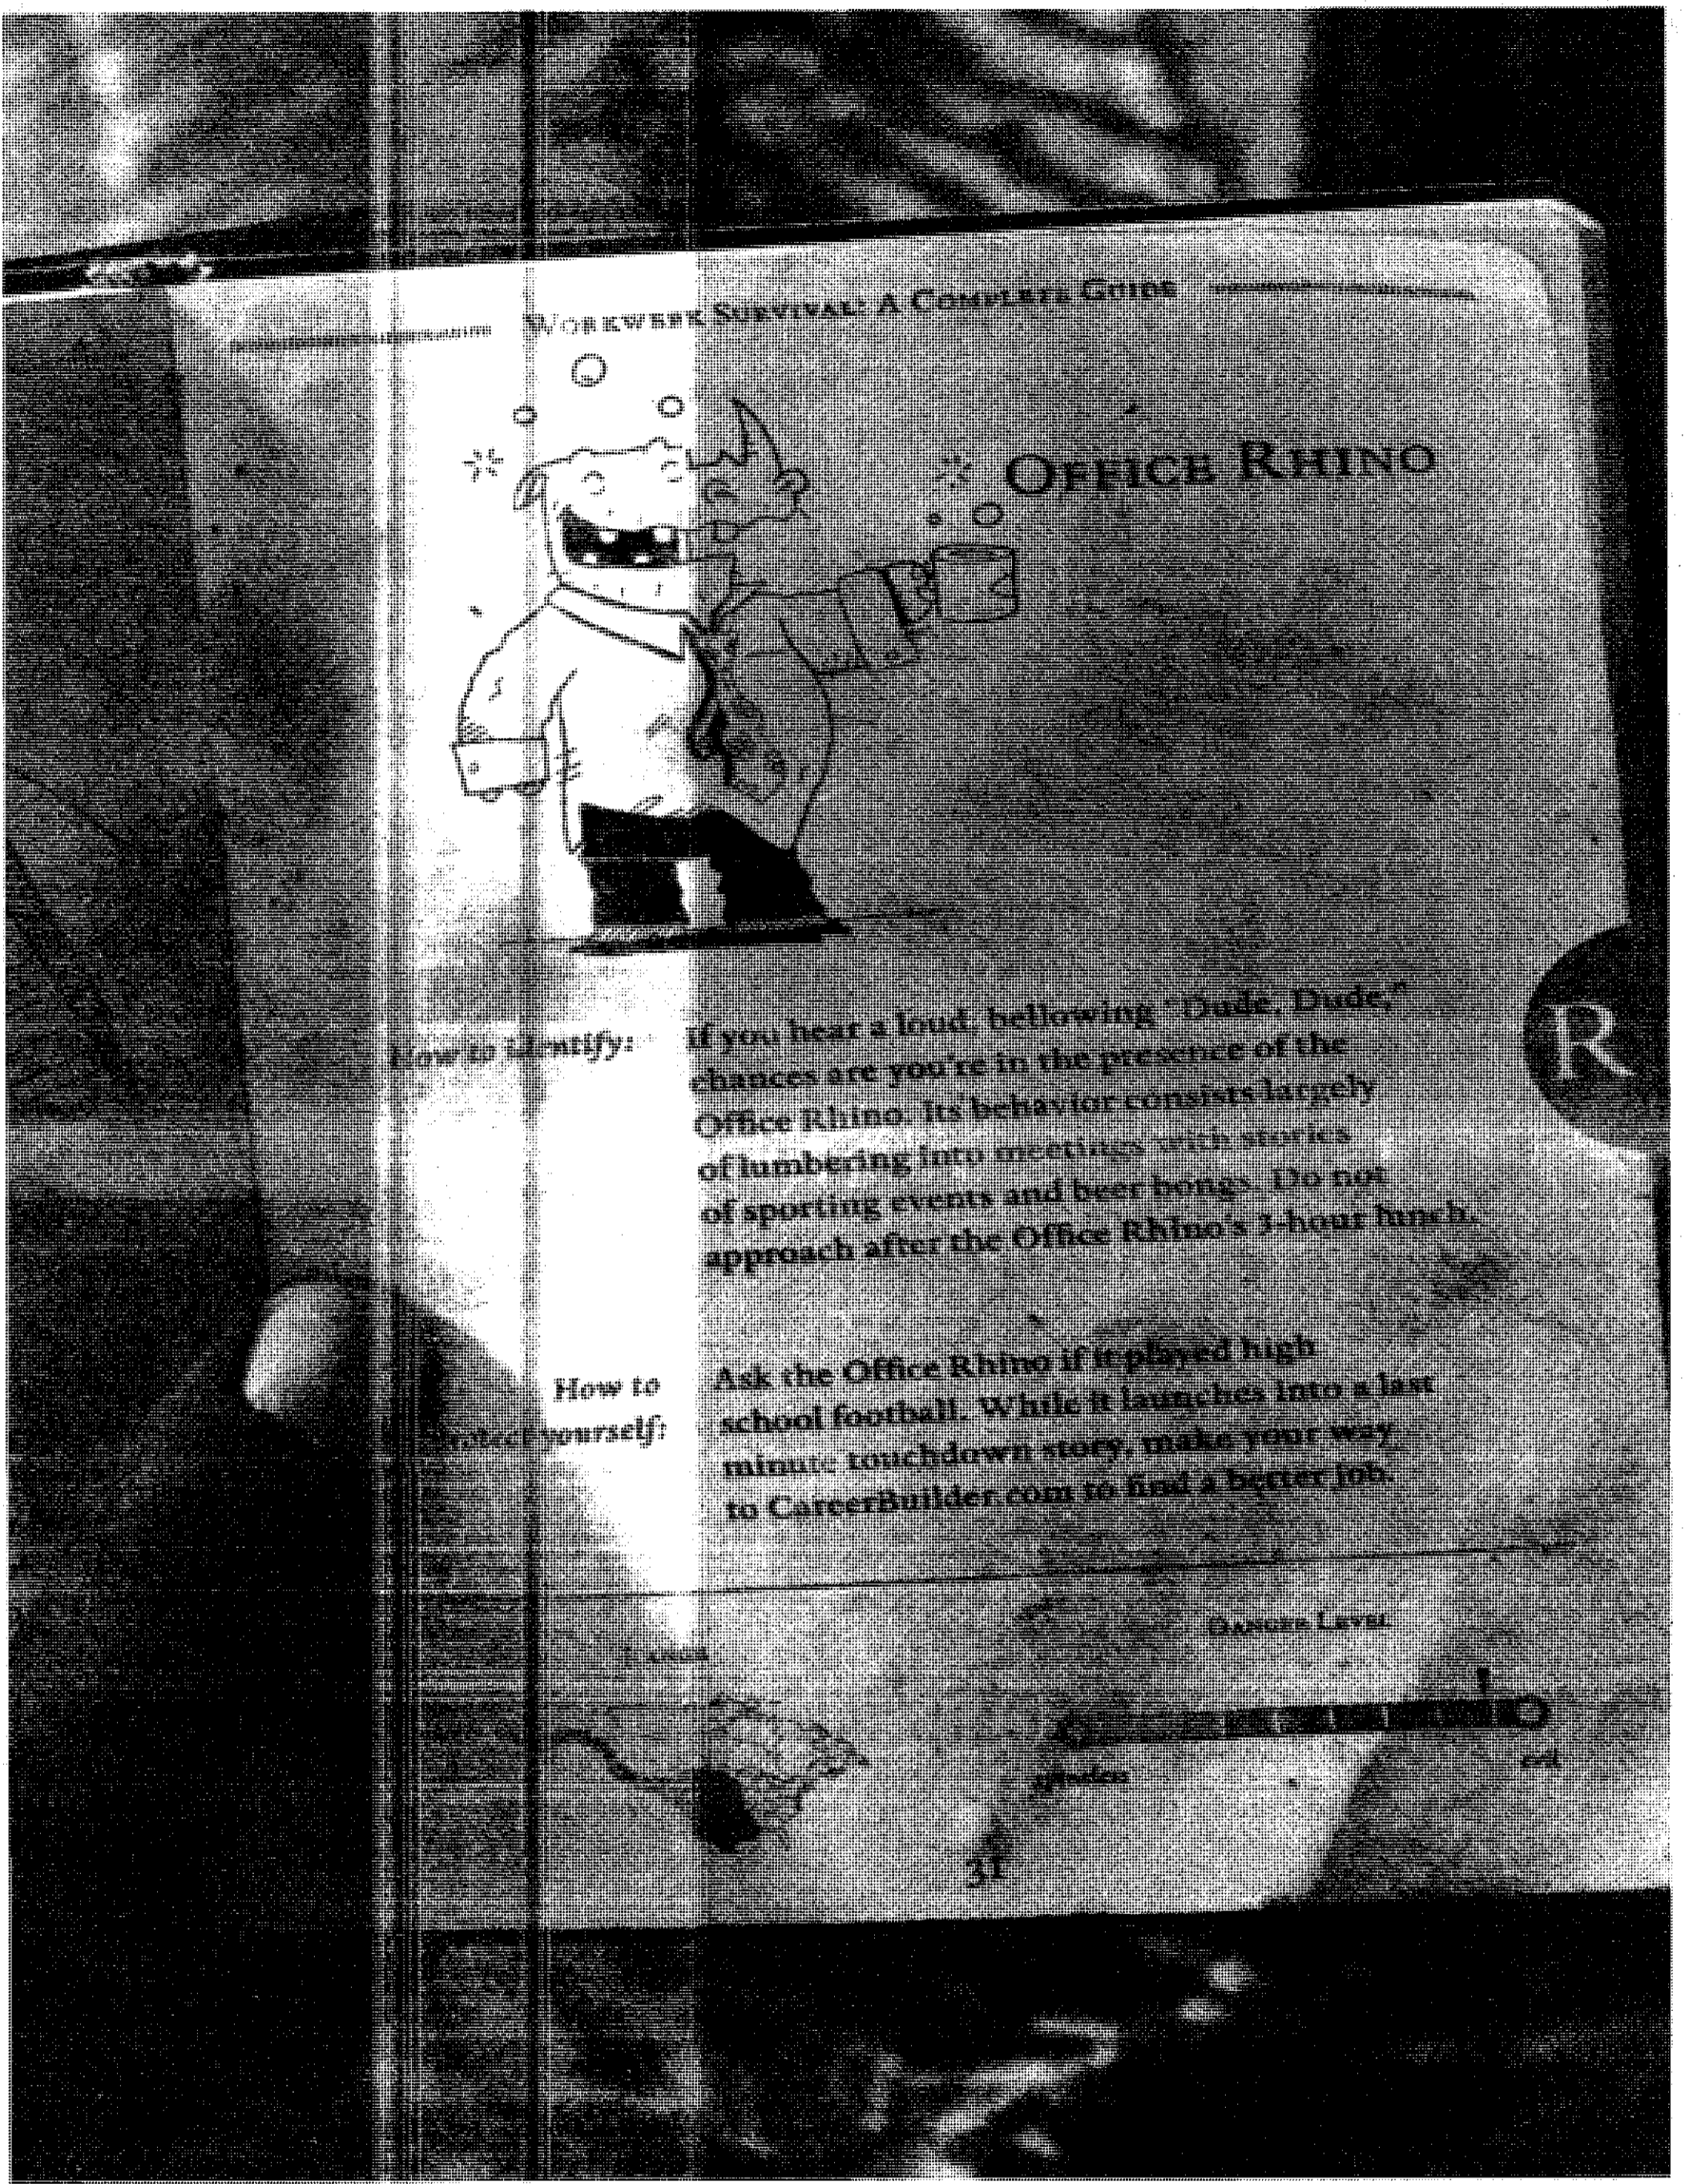

On Friday, Terran Duncan scored 17 points and Beonka Weems came off the bench to score 10 as Lindsey Wilson (Ky.) College improved to 2-1 overall by downing the Crusaders, 78-68.

Caryn Inman scored 17 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for MU (1-1), which trailed 41-21 at halftime.

Christie Carrico added 12 points and four assists. Cali Crawford also netted 10 points and dished out six assists. Alyssa Guerin (Salem) also scored 10.

On Saturday, Courtney Dannis and Wendi Messer each tallied 13 points to lead the host Fighting Tigers (2-0) doubled up on the Crusaders (1-2) by an 81-41 count.

Warner averaged 36.5 per nine and 73.8 per 18 during her senior year and was medalist in all 10 dual matches and four of six tournaments.

The Michigan State signee also broke the women's course scoring record in the WLAA Tournament at Pheasant Run in Canton with a 67. Warner also won the regional for the third straight year.

She was also a member of Churchill's 2007 (spring) Class A state champion volleyball team.

ERICA MAZUR, SR., LIV. LADYWOOD: The senior captain was medalist in each of her dual meets, averaging 41 per nine.

Mazur also captured the Catholic League Tournament with an 87 and finished fourth in the Division 2 Regional at Pontiac Country Club with a 92. She went on to place 22nd in the state finals at MSU's Forest Akers (West Course) with a 93-96-189.

"Erica has worked very hard the past four years being named most improved on the team last two years to becoming the leader of this team," Ladywood coach Kellianne Nagy said. "I'm really proud of her and the fact that her hard work and dedication paid off this year. It shows what determination can do."

LEXI MCFARLANE, JR., LIV. CHURCHILL: The junior earned All-WLAA honors by shooting an 84 and helped the Chargers qualify for the state tourney by scoring 97 at the regional.

She averaged 47 per nine and 95 for 18. McFarlane also earned All-Division honors for the second year in a row. "She emerged this year through hard work as one of the league's top players," Churchill coach Gary Harper said.

PAIGE SCARPACE, SR., LIV. FRANKLIN: The senior averaged 43 per nine with a low of 35. She was medalist in eight of 11 WLAA dual matches and earned All-Division honors with a 96.

Scarpace just missed qualifying for the Division 1 state finals with an 87, good enough for eighth place at the Giant Oaks Regional.

"Paige is a talented player who could compete with anyone," Franklin coach Brian McCalister said. "She has made our program better and will be tough to replace."

AMANDA DOBOS, SR., LIV. CHURCHILL: A four-year letter winner, Dobos finished her career with a nine-hole scoring average of 49 and an 18-hole average of 97. Her score counted in every match this season for the Chargers.

Dobos also earned All-Division honors for the second straight season with a 99 and capped off her career with a personal-best 93 at the state finals held at The Meadows in Allendale.

CHELSEA OSBURN, JR., CANTON: The junior made All-Division in the Western Lakes by firing a 91 and added a 98 at the regional, good enough for 23rd overall. Osburn's stroke average was 47.0 and was a five-time medalist in dual meets.

"Chelsea has a great work ethic;

she practices very hard and it shows in her game," said Canton coach Dan Riggs. "She has a lot of potential to have an outstanding senior season."

SECOND TEAM

ADRIENNE JONES, SOPH., RED. THURSTON: The sophomore was the Mega Conference's White Division medalist at Riverview Highlands and led the Eagles with a nine-hole average of 48.1.

She placed 22nd at the Division 2 Regional at Pontiac Country Club. "Adrienne is always competitive and always works very hard on her game," said Thurston coach Brian Gulick.

HEIDI IRVINE, SOPH., WESTLAND GLENN: The sophomore averaged 48.1 per nine to lead the Rockets and was medalist three times.

At the regional, Irvine fired a 97, good enough for 18th place. She led Glenn at the WLAA Tourney with a 103.

"Heidi was helpful in Glenn winning six of its matches," coach Steve Pilon said. "Next year she will step up and be one of the co-captains for the Lady Rockets. Remember her name because she is only going to get better."

VAL DIMILIA, SOPH., LIV. LADYWOOD: The sophomore averaged 52 per nine and finished in the top four in five of seven matches to become the Blazers' No. 2 player.

"Val played JV last year and was our surprise right out of the gate this year," Nagy said. "Val has only played golf for a couple of years. She's a hockey player who picked up golf. We have been very pleased with Val's progress and look for her to be one of our leaders next year."

KARA GREGORY, JR., CANTON: The junior carded a 94 at the Western Lakes Tournament to earn All-Division accolades and followed up with a 105 at the Giant Oaks Regional (30th overall). Gregory's stroke average was 48.0 and she was the medalist in two dual meets.

"Kara is very powerful off the team; she was our longest hitter," said Riggs. "She received our 'Coach's Award' at our banquet. The award goes to the player we feel is the most reliable. She's like a second coach out there."

DANIELLE LESNIAK, SR., LIV. CHURCHILL: The senior had another solid year for the Chargers as she averaged 51 per nine and 106 for 18.

A consistent scorer the past two seasons, Lesniak helped the Chargers reach the state finals with a round of 103 at the Giant Oak Regional hosted by Temperance Bedford.

BERLYNN BEAVER, JR., WAYNE: The junior averaged 50 per nine with her best match coming against Walled Lake Western when she fired a 44, including a pair of birdies.

The Wayne MVP led her team with the low score in each match. "She is looking forward to her senior year and improving her golf score even more," Wayne coach Kathy Stella said.

COACH OF THE YEAR

GARY HARPER, LIV. CHURCHILL: The fifth-year coach guided the Chargers to an 11-0 record in the Western Lakes Activities Association and a co-championship with Northville after a runner-up finish in the conference tourney.

The Chargers also finished in the top 10 in all four regular season tournaments they entered.

Churchill also earned its first trip to the state finals since 2002 by finishing third at the Giant Oaks Regional hosted by Temperance Bedford. The Chargers wound up 12th overall in Division 1.

Harper is a graduate of Northville High School with an undergraduate degree at Central Michigan University with a Masters from Wayne State. He teaches business education at Churchill.

"I was very proud of the effort and results of this season," Harper said. "We accomplished all of our team goals that we set at the beginning of the year. Our team was made up of a great collection of young ladies and we had a lot of fun this year."
