Tears, excitement fill 1st day of school

"He's my first one," said Steve Paule, choking back a tear as he looked at son Zachary waiting to enter Hamilton Elementary School for the first time Tuesday morning. "He's not my baby anymore."

"He's really sad today, he's about to cry," said wife Andrea Paule, snapping a photograph of her husband hugging her son. The Paules were among a group of parents waiting with their youngsters for kindergarten teacher Laura Janik and fifth-grade safeties and helpers

"He's so excited," she said. "He's got all the school supplies — the paints, markers, crayons. He even has a lunch bag for his snack."

The sound of the bell was a welcomed sound for parents, students and teachers who

District, union agree to continue negotiating

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Worried parents in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools got the news they'd been hoping to hear Monday morning: School would start as scheduled Tuesday.

The message was in the form of a Robo-call, announcing that the teachers union and school district had agreed to a 30-day contract extension.

The agreement came early Sunday evening with the help of a state mediator who had been requested by the Wayne-Westland Education Association last week in hopes of hammering out a contract before a Tuesday strike deadline.

"The mediator was strategically instrumental in getting both parties to reach a contract extension," said Wayne-Westland School Superintendent Greg Baracy just hours after the agreement was reached. "We are pleased that school is starting on time, that students will be in the classroom and that teachers will be teaching."

The contract extension was in response to the latest district proposal presented to union negotiators late Saturday night. The union decided more time was needed reviewing the district's proposal before it could respond.

"We want to have the time to investigate, research and examine the district's latest proposal," said WWEA president Nancy Strachan. "It may or may not lead to a settlement, but it is significantly different enough that it will require a good deal of time before we can react."

The agreement ended a contentious week where the union blasted the school district for not bargaining in good faith and held a strike vote in which 96 percent of teachers present supported the action.

The teachers' contract expired Aug. 25.

The teachers union had gone so far as to organize picketing schedules. However, under state law, public employees, including teachers, are prohibited from striking. Those who do can face penalties ranging from fines to firing for breaking the law.

The district sent teachers a letter, stating that WWEA members who do not report for work or who report but do not perform all their duties would be "engaging in illegal conduct." Baracy also labeled the strike vote "very, very premature" and committed the district to bargaining throughout the Labor Day weekend.

Both sides did just that and with the extension, have agreed to "continue to negotiate in good faith."

'Bump in road'

Property owner waffles on sale of land for Nankin Mills Village

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

What appeared to be a road block to the a senior residential complex on Joy in the Westland's north end could be removed as soon as this week-end.

Developer Glenn Shaw Jr. plans to meet by week's end with a resident who had initially indicated he was no longer interested in selling his home, one of three along Joy that Shaw is buying for his Nankin Mills Village development.

"It's a bump in the road," said Shaw. "I hope to be able to talk to him by Saturday. I need to make sure that all three property owners know where we're going so this doesn't happen again."

Shaw was in the process of seeking a second extension of the purchase agreement when the homeowner balked at selling the property. In an Aug. 28 letter to the city council, Shaw indicated that "a critical part of this development is no longer secure" and that it was "back to the drawing boards" for the $35 million senior citizen village.

The development is proposed south and east of Sts. Helen and Constantine Church on Joy east of Newburgh and calls for 54 stand-alone homes, 20 duplex condominiums and an 147-unit, three-story apartment building with certain amenities, such as a hair salon, a theater and a restaurant.

However, Tuesday afternoon the homeowner contacted Shaw, indicating that "he wants to sell and be back in the process."

The news did not reach the council before its meeting Tuesday evening where Councilman Charles Pickering questioned whether the planned unit development rezoning should "be declared null and void" based on Shaw's letter.

"To me the PUD should not exist, the preliminary plan should not because it's part of the PUD," Pickering said. "The property owner should not be encumbered by the PUD zoning, I think the process should start again."

Planning Director Bruce Thompson told Pickering that each of the three property owners "signed the rezoning request."

"They are part and parcel to that request," he said. "If there was a second reading, the property was rezoned. If the owner no longer wants it, he will have to request that it be rezoned."

Shaw said Pickering is "wrong in his assumption," the rezoning was approved by the council as was the preliminary plan.

"We have the PUD approval, the next step is the final plan approval," he said.

Shaw has held one meeting with residents of Gray Street and is planning to hold a second one for those who missed the presentation on the new plan.

"That's the next step," Shaw said. "I'll have my architect and engineer there to discuss the plan."

Man faces charges in fatal hit-and-run

A 21-year-old Livonia resident will be arraigned Sept. 5 in Westland's 18th District Court on three felony charges stemming from a Aug. 3 fatal hit-and-run accident in Westland's north end.

According to Westland police Officer Jack McIntosh of the department's Traffic Bureau, the Livonia man faces charges of manslaughter with a motor vehicle and operating a vehicle while impaired causing death and leaving the scene of an accident causing death, a five-year felony. The first two charges carry sentences of up to 15 years in prison, the third charge carries a sentence of up to five years in prison.

The driver is accused of striking 27-year-old Gary Brown at 4:55 a.m. Aug. 3 in the eastbound lane of Joy about a half mile east of Newburgh and leaving the scene. He was apprehended about seven hours later on Joy about 800 feet from where the accident had occurred.

According to McIntosh, a newspaper delivery man had seen the victim standing on the lane marker of Joy Road, asking for a ride. When he came back a short time later, Brown wasn't there. Police believe Brown was leaving the roadway and was closer to the edge of the eastbound lane when he was struck, suffering massive blunt force trauma to his head. He was taken to St. Mary Mercy Hospital and then airlifted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti where he died on Aug. 4.

Alcohol appears to have played a role in the fatal accident. According to McIntosh, nine hours after the accident, the driver "still had some alcohol in his system."

Brown grew up in Livonia and graduated from Livonia Churchill High School in 1982. He had been staying with his father in Livonia at the time of his death. He was married and had two children — son Raymond, 4, daughter D.J., 2.

Church hosts picnic, benefit concert

The earthy, acoustic folk rock band, Nick Drake, will perform at a fund-raising concert Sunday, Sept. 14, at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Westland.

The concert at 2 p.m. will follow a 12:30 picnic at the church on Palmer west of Newburgh. A freewill offering will be accepted and all proceeds will benefit the new Camp Michi-Lu-Ca RV campground in Fairview in Oscoda County.

Food will be sold for the picnic, starting at 12:30 p.m., however, guests can bring their own food along with lawn chairs. People interested in attending should contact the church by Friday, Sept. 5, to ensure enough food is prepared for the picnic.

Nick Drake has its roots in Camp Michi-Lu-Ca. Eric Engblade and Nathan Schleicher decided to combine their musical influences together to form the band named for early 1970s singer-songwriter Nick Drake. Now four years later, they have released an all original full-length album, two small EP's and are in midst of promoting their newest full-length album recorded at River City Studios in Grand Rapids, entitled Northern Skies, which will be released in the fall of 2008.

Drake has toured throughout Michigan and played in bars, breweries, coffee houses, churches and music festivals in places such as Elizabethtown Ky., Alpena, Chicago and Cleveland. In 2007, they were selected to open for comedian Mike Birbiglia on his Comedy Central Tour at City Opera House in Traverse City.

In addition to Engblade and Schleicher, Nick Drake includes Emily Carlson on violin, Jack Johnson on winds and Paul Wozniak on percussion.

People interested in attending can call Prince of Peace Church at (734) 722-1735 or send an e-mail to pastorames@sbcglobal.net. Offsite parking will be available at Stevenson Middle School, west of the church at 38501 Palmer.

Westland resident gets help at the gas pump

Paying for the gas to visit family in Florida is going to be easier now that Mary L. Johnson of Westland has won $1,000 in free cards from TCF Bank as part of its Free Gas Giveaway Sweepstakes.

From June through August, TCF gave away $1,000 in gas cards weekly. Johnson entered the contest at the TCF branch on Warren Road in Westland.

"I only entered once, so I feel winning was kind of a fluke," said Johnson. "It couldn't have come at a better time. We had just cancelled a trip to visit family in Florida because of the high cost of gas. When I got the call from the branch manager Tim Burgess telling me I'd won, we decided to go ahead with our trip."

TCF is a Wayzata, Minnesota-based national financial holding company with $16.5 billion in total assets. The company has 454 banking offices in Minnesota, Illinois, Michigan, Colorado, Wisconsin, Indiana and

Book sale boosts brains at library

BY JULIE BROWN
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

There'll be books and more Thursday through Sunday, when the Friends of the William P. Faust Public Library of Westland hold their used book sale.

"They do a really nice service for us," Lisa Hausman, department head for children's services, said of the Friends. In addition to quality books donated from the community, librarians are able to weed the collection "and offer the material to the community in that way."

The Friends preview sale will be 2-4 p.m. today, Thursday, Sept. 4, at the library, on Central City Parkway between Warren and Ford. That's for members and those who wish to join for $10.

The public sale will be held 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Sept. 5-6, and noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 7 (Bag Day Sale).

The Friends hold such sales several times a year. There will be keyboards and other items like printers, Hausman said, along with limited furniture: "Mostly it's chairs this time."

The Friends did a lot for the children's summer reading program, she noted, and also support services for adults.

"They do a great deal of good with the money that's raised from the book sales, and we're very grateful," she said.

You can build a terrific home library for your child from the sale, she added, including older computer games and reference materials.

"We always have nice crowds on the preview day. Our Friends are great and they're very supportive," she added.

The sale will be in Community Rooms A and B. For more, call the library at (734) 326-6123.

City program helps qualified homebuyers

Prospective homebuyers in Westland can get help with their down payment, thanks to a program being offered by the Westland Housing Commission.

Funded through the Federal HOME Program, the city's Homebuyer Program offers qualified home buyers eligible to receive down payment assistance in the amount of $5,000 for a home built before 2000 and $10,000 for homes built since Jan. 1, 2000.

"At a time when communities everywhere are challenged by the national foreclosure crisis, we're pleased to provide some means to encourage the act of home ownership," Mayor William Will said.

The program forgives the $5,000 loan after the initial five-year ownership period, and for homes built since 2000 the other $5,000 would be payable upon the sale of the property. A lien will be placed on the property specifying those conditions.

Home buyers also can't refinance or sell the home during the initial five-year ownership period. If that occurs, the loan must be repaid.

In order to participate in the Homebuyer Program, the home buyer's current income limit cannot exceed $55,900 for a family of four, a guideline set by the Department of Housing and Community Development. Homes in Westland are indeed eligible provided they complete an inspection and do not exceed the HUD purchase price for the home.

Eligible participants also must participate in home buyer classes.

The Homebuyer Program does not provide refinancing assistance.

Funds are limited and interested home buyers can call Joanne Inglis in the city's Department of Community Development at (734) 595-0288 for more information.

'Clean Slate' erases fines for youths' overdue items

New classrooms, sharpened pencils and spiral notebooks ... They're all signs of a new start to the school year, and the William P. Faust Public Library of Westland is adding an extra incentive: the Clean Slate Program. Starting this week, the library will erase fines on overdue books, juvenile DVD's, videos and CDs which were accrued before Sept. 1, 2008.

All juvenile card holders who reside in Westland and are currently enrolled in grades kindergarten through high school can return those long overdue library materials without any penalty.

"Our library can be immensely beneficial to students seeking additional resources for their studies," said Westland Mayor William Wild. "We simply do not want to deny them this option, but rather encourage them to use the library."

"There are many families who have stopped using the library because they are frustrated about overdue fines and find it a hardship to pay the charges," said library Director Cheryl Napsha, Director. "We hope to change this by granting amnesty through this program."

In addition, any fines due on items which have already been returned also can qualify for the Clean Slate Program. However, fees for lost and damaged items cannot be erased and materials returned need to be in good condition.

Parents can visit the library's circulation desk and present their Westland library card to ensure that their child's library account receives proper credit. For more information, call the library at (734) 326-6123.

FIRST DAY

didn't find out until Monday that school would start as scheduled. Members of the Wayne-Westland Education Association had threatened to delay the start of school after their contract expired Aug. 25. However, the union and representatives of the school district were able to agree to a 30-day contract extension to "continue negotiating in good faith."

"I was kind of worried about that, but they called yesterday and that was good," said Andrea Paule.

"I had no idea," said Martisa Green who was there with her kindergarten, Lauren, husband Brandon and 2-year-old son Brendon.

While she didn't mean it, she encouraged her daughter to go on in by telling her, "Don't worry, I'll be standing here until noon."

While she didn't plan to be there all morning, lest the school think she was a crazy woman, Green admitted seeing her daughter off to school was hard for her and her son.

"She's been his best friend for two years," Martisa Green said, adding that "it's hard for me. Ever since she was born, it's been me and her."

Lauren is the Greens' first child to head off to school and Green knows she would hear all about her first day when she saw her at noon.

"She's going to have a good time today," she said. While Green waved through the window to her daughter one last time, Lauren and her classmates were learning about kindergarten, including the "Give Me Five" requirement, demonstrated by Janik.

Kindergartner Lauren Green follows teacher Laura Janik's instruction on what to do when she asks them to give her five to get them to be quiet.

It took a couple of tries before the youngsters had the technique down pat.

"When I say High Five, I want you to hold up your hand and put your finger on your mouth," Janik told her students. "You'll give me eyes by looking at looking at me, you'll give me your attention by putting your finger on your mouth, and your hands, feet and body won't be moving."

They also got their first taste of morning announcements, learning how to pronounce Principal April Quasarano's last name and hearing her offer a cheery

Pat Downing talks to his son Colin, 5, who decided he'd be the last kindergarten student to walk into Laura Janik's classroom Tuesday morning. Also waiting is Colin's two-year-old brother Bryce (in foreground).

"Welcome back, Hamilton stars."

"I'm very excited to get to know all of you very soon," Quasarano said.

Most parents had left by the time Quasarano had made her morning announcement except for Green, who waved to her daughter one last time through an open classroom window.

"This kind of makes me feel like a kid again," she said.

League of Women Voters vital in elections

With a major election on the horizon, political parties and their candidates are inundating us with tremendous amounts of information, through television commercials, news interviews, literature in the mail, political phone messages and even door-to-door canvassers. Not only is it exhausting and annoying, it can be confusing. As we approach the upcoming election, there is one group that we can count on to decipher this information: the League of Women Voters. On Feb. 14, 1920, just six months before the 19th amendment to the Constitution was ratified, giving women the right to vote, the League of Women Voters was formally organized in Chicago. According to their Web site, the League is a nonpartisan political organization encouraging the informed and active participation of citizens in government.

It influences public policy through education and advocacy. They never support or oppose any political party or candidate. The League of Women Voters of Northwest Wayne County represents the City of Westland. Before every primary and general election, the League sends questionnaires to all the candidates running for election in our city. They then publish the responses of all the candidates who respond. These brochures are available at the Library before each election. The information is also online at www.nwwayne.mi.lwvnet.org. After elections, the League publishes an update of They Represent You, a brochure that lists all the national, state, county and local representatives for our area. The brochure includes position, name, address, phone number, e-mail address and party affiliation, for each official, along with other helpful information. We are all looking for trustworthy election information. Keep an eye out for the League of Women Voters literature here at the library, and watch for an election display at the library in October. As usual, there will be an Election Binder at the Reference Desk, with pertinent election information taken from the local newspapers. With a well-informed public, we are more likely to elect the best candidate for the job. Please do not forget to Vote! The William P. Faust Public Library of Westland exists to serve your informational, educational and recreational needs. Visit us often at 6123 Central City Parkway, call us at (734) 326-6123, or visit our Web site at www.westland.lib.mi.us.

Crowds gather for center's 1st Summer Fun Fest

More than 1,000 people enjoyed an afternoon of food and fun at what Westland Convalescent & Rehab Center has decided is officially a new tradition.

The center's recent Summer Fun Fest attracted WCRC patients, family members, staff and residents from surrounding communities and offered activities for young and old alike.

"It is of immense value to the Westland community to have an event such as this Fun Day," said Westland Deputy Mayor Courtney Conover. "We commend the entire staff of Westland Convalescent & Rehab Center for creating such a positive, inviting setting for the entire family to enjoy."

The event included inflatable bouncers like the moonwalk and Titanic, table games with prizes and a petting farm by Zacharias Farms Traveling Petting Farm and Pony Rides in Chelsea. Guests had the opportunity to interact with a multitude of small animals, including chickens, bunnies, lambs, goats, sheep, roosters, ducks, pigs, Guinea pigs, baby chicks and even a baby pony.

There also were free rub-on tattoos for small and big kids alike, and more than 50 girls and boys swung their hips in the Hula Hoop contest. The best Hula Hooper won a $25 Target gift card.

When visitors worked up an appetite, they were treated to free hot dogs, hamburgers, chips, a drink and ice cream for dessert. Complimentary cotton candy and popcorn also were available.

A gas grill, donated by Mack Vending in Plymouth, restaurant gift cards, gas cards, a boy's bicycle and a girl's bicycle were just some of the gifts raffled off throughout the event. Many local business establishments also donated items, including Alexander the Great, Amantea's, Arbor Hospice, Buffalo Wild Wings, Imagine Theatres, Famous Dave's, Joey's Comedy Club, Macy's Lakeshore Grill,

ThreeOlBags present writer's workshop

A group of three women who have made a name for themselves as the ThreeOlBags will share information about becoming published writers during a one-day workshop later this month.

Sandra Campbell, Linda Sparkman and Sharon Hegwood, who take their moniker from travel bags, have been collaborating on travel stories since 1998 when they decided to take a chance on being published authors.

Now they're offering the tools they acquired along the way at a Beginning Writers Workshop 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 27, at the Plymouth Baptist Church, 42021 E. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

They first got together for fellowship, study God's word and pray and decided to add "learn to be travel writers" to the list. Their plan was to take short trips, write about them, include photographs and get them published, using the money they made to pay for the next trip.

Their venture was a "huge success" and its their experience that they plan to share with workshop participants.

Campbell, a Garden City resident, will lead classes focusing on the tools of the trade, which will identify and explain what tools are essential to writers of any genre, Bare Bones, where good writing begins, will look at finding niche and specialty markets.

Hegwood, also a Garden City resident, is the photographer of the trio, will deal with digital camera photography, choosing the right camera and working with photos for publication.

Sparkman, who is the editor of the ThreeOlBags will explain the who, what, where, why and how of query letters and contacting editors and publishers.

The workshop also will answer such questions as what is a clip, how to write for magazines, how much money to expect and do you need and agent.

The workshop costs $100 and includes a textbook, continental breakfast, luncheon and afternoon snack. Space is limited. A $30 non-refundable deposit is required to reserve a spot. Call (734) 644-6655 to reserve a spot. Interested budding writers can also send an e-mail to threeolbags@yahoo.com.

Letters, Web page provide your voice

Over the years, we have enjoyed — and taken seriously — the responsibility we have to be your eyes and ears in the communities we cover as your hometown newspaper.

But there's another role we play on your behalf, another thing we can be for you — particularly as the world moves farther along the information highway.

Your voice.

With the established opinion pages inside our print editions, and our interactive, user-friendly Web site (www.hometownlife.com) readers have an unprecedented opportunity to take part in the coverage of their own community.

Our "Letters to the Editor" section continues to be a leading means of expression for our readers. The section was particularly popular during the recent political primary, as it always is during an election season. The section served as a springboard for ideas, a canvas on which to paint a portrait of a candidate, and a venue for public discourse about the issues facing our community, and those we wanted to face those issues.

But the letters serve a valuable purpose in non-election times, as well. A range of topics — from taxes to budgets and zoning to public safety — are debated in these pages twice a week. At 400 words apiece, that's a lot of discussion.

But increasingly, readers are finding it more convenient and more interactive to get into discussions via our Web page (www.hometownlife.com). There are several ways to do it, and all of them are easy. You can become an Observer blogger (all you have to do is register, and the Web site walks you through the easy-as-pie instructions). There are community forums, where you can either start a discussion about anything you wish, or join an existing discussion. Or you can leave a comment about an individual story posted to the site.

Upset with your elected officials? Let us know. Want to thank a police officer or a firefighter? Drop us a line. Prefer the Internet to old-fashioned paper-and-pencil, feel free.

For years, we've been your watchdog, keeping our eyes on your community for you. Now, we've found more ways than ever to provide you with a voice of your own.

Whichever way you choose to do it, all you have to do now is make sure your voice is heard.

Court was right to reject reform ballot proposal

On Aug. 20, the Michigan Court of Appeals rejected the Reform Michigan Government Now ballot proposal.

The unanimous decision reads: "The RMGN initiative petition is overarching, of a reach and expanse never before seen by any constitutional initiative in Michigan's long history. It proposes fundamentally to redesign the very framework of the Michigan Constitution of 1963, which emerged after an historic convention and subsequent voter approval."

The RMGN advocates filed an appeal with the Michigan Supreme Court on Aug. 22. The Supreme Court has no obligation to hear the case. The proposal calls for eliminating two Supreme Court seats and proposal advocates are asking that the two junior justices not participate in the appeal.

We believe the Court of Appeals has made the correct decision in rejecting this overstuffed and partisan amendment. The proposal is designed to enhance the position of the Democratic Party within the state. It throws in many attractive parts in an effort to distort its real intent.

The removal of the two Supreme Courts justices, for instance, would create a Democratic Party-endorsed majority on the court, a reverse on the disastrous attempt by Franklin Roosevelt to increase the seats on the U.S. Supreme Court to win support for his New Deal programs.

While we oppose the ballot issue, we believe there are many items in the proposal that have merit. But as the court ruled, voters should not have to decide on so many issues buried within a single ballot issue. Rather, voters should be asked to consider the issues fully and separately.

Among the proposals within in the ballot issue are: reducing the membership of the state Senate and House, rolling back legislative compensation, reforming redistricting by appointing a bipartisan panel to set legislative districts, placing restrictions on legislators becoming lobbyists, reducing judicial salaries, toughening conflict of interest requirements, reducing the salaries of the four statewide elected officials by 25 percent, reducing the cap on the number of state government departments from 20 to 18 and more. Much more — too much more.

If proponents believe there is so much to amend in the state Constitution, perhaps it is time for a Constitutional Convention. Or, perhaps, some of these issues can be settled legislatively or through separate ballot initiatives.

But this proposal is a terrible approach to government reform.

Supports police

I would like to respond to Ms. Dana Trapper's letter directed to me on Aug. 28, 2008. I feel it's important that I clarify her comments in regards to my letter written Aug. 17, 2008.

First I'm not sure how Ms. Dana Trapper confused my comment, "I know our police force is doing the best they can and I don't fault them for doing their job," to mean I'm "knocking the officers attempting to keep the criminals under control" and I am quoting Ms. Trapper. If she would care to review my letter the criticism was directed at our "city leaders" not at the police. I have nothing but support for our police force.

Secondly, I have been actively writing our city council and our mayor with my concerns in regards to the recent crime wave in our city, and I, too, have asked that we not make tax cuts that would affect our police force and fire department. I have to mention I have received some positive response from Councilman (Bill) Johnson.

So please Ms. Trapper don't just wake up and smell the coffee, have some, too, and understand I am aware of the crime in our city and I am voicing my concerns to our city leaders.

I do agree we need to be proactive, which is why I will continue to keep a watchful eye on what goes on in my neighborhood. I'm all for bringing our city back to a safer standard which is why we have to pitch in by keeping a watchful eye in our neighborhoods and reporting any suspicious activity to the local authorities.

This is another way I support our local police force, Ms. Trapper.

Develop prevention tactics

After reading the Aug. 21 article, "City leaders angry at Romulus police over shoot-out," in the Westland Observer, I couldn't help but think that the city leaders and business owners are naïve. This shoot-out is only an issue, because it is not a regularly occurring event. I'm not saying that it would be better if this were to happen more often, but there are cities that face that trouble on a much more consistent basis. We should be grateful that this is such a rarity.

The real issue here is that we shouldn't be condemning Romulus police for what they did, but instead commending them for doing what they had to do to take these criminals off the streets. These officers didn't plan on a shoot-out and not tell Westland about it. Once they realized the sting had turned sour they did their best to apprehend the criminals.

The City of Westland shouldn't be demanding an apology from Romulus, but rather Westland should be working with Romulus, and other cities, to create prevention tactics so this doesn't happen again — in Westland or anywhere else.

Return to K-6 configuration

(The following is an open letter submitted to Livonia school board President Cynthia Markarian.)

For the past two years, the Livonia Public Schools school district has been losing students at an unprecedented rate and the cost of fuel has reached historic levels. The combination of these two occurrences has resulted in the district losing large amounts of money. The district needs to reverse the trend of declining enrollment and reduce the amount of fuel used. I would like to share with you some thoughts I have regarding these two issues and how the district could begin to turn things around.

I believe very strongly that the only way to attract new students to the district, retain the students still with us and possibly bring some of our lost students back is to return to the K-6 configuration. Clearly the district cannot "undo" the changes brought about by the Legacy Initiative, however, over the course of the next two or three school years, changes can be made to make the district more appealing to young families. The following is an outline some of these possible changes.

Move back to K-6 in phases. The first phase could begin as early as this September. Due to the unfortunate fire at Webster, those students were moved to Taylor for the remainder of the school year, which makes Taylor a logical place to start since it is already up and running. Reopen Taylor School as a K-6 elementary school beginning this fall. Hull School could be cleaned and ready to go by September as well. By moving students back to Taylor and Hull, Hoover and Kennedy schools would then have room to bring their fifth- and sixth-grade students back.

Moving those four schools back to K-6 accomplishes several goals. One, it reduces the number of students at Johnson and Riley, making for less crowded conditions at these two schools. Two, it puts Hull School, which has fallen victim to vandals, back in operation, which would be a welcome sight in the Hull neighborhood. Three, and most importantly, it reduces several bus runs, thus saving money in fuel costs.

Tyler is slated to be the new home of Webster beginning this fall, which could remain on course for this year, however, that would have to be revisited for the following year. Moving the Webster program back to Webster, makes Tyler available for the second phase in the year 2009-10. This would alleviate the crowded conditions at Coolidge, so the fifth- and sixth-grade students could return there in 2009-10 also.

Nankin Mills can remain closed and the boundaries redrawn to move students between Rosedale and Johnson. It is possible that Washington could remain closed as well. McKinley could reopen and the boundaries be redrawn to move students between McKinley, Grant, Cleveland and Hayes and close Cooper. The district still ends up with three closed buildings and bus runs are even further reduced.

I realize this plan is incomplete, as it leaves out the necessary changes at several other schools (Buchanan, Cass, Randolph, Roosevelt), but it is a place to start and time is of the essence. If an entire district can be rearranged in 2½ months' time, most certainly two buildings can be readied in 2½ weeks. By implementing the plan in phases, those details could be worked out as we move forward, but the district needs to take action now. Welcome back parties and events at the mall are all well and good, but they don't attract new students to the district. The K/6 configuration and neighborhood schools do. Please take these ideas to your colleagues on the board. Should there be a need for help from the community, I can assure you, there will be many eager volunteers.

Bear in mind that the sinking fund millage is up for renewal soon. The voters in this district may be more willing to renew the millage if they see a good-faith effort by the district to listen to them and address some of these concerns.

Thank you for your consideration.

No help for change

Joe Biden was a TV celebrity during the "high-tech lynching" of Clarence Thomas. Supreme Court hearings reached a new low when a former Thomas employee, lovely Anita Hill, testified that her boss spoke suggestively to her 10 years earlier. He also purchased sexy magazines.

Sen. Biden seemed to intimate behavior of a Supreme Court justice should be more honorable than required for a president or senator.

Justice Thomas has upheld the Constitution honorably for many years now. His decisions are without racial prejudice, but more conservative than Sen. Biden would like.

Barack Obama, possibly our first black president, chose a white politician unfair to a black Supreme Court nominee. The vice presidency will get Biden out of the Senate for a while, but not help Obama's promise of worthwhile changes.

Obama's message of national unity was life-altering one

Four years ago I sat transfixed on my sofa, not knowing that the words I was hearing would change the course of my life. It was July 27 and the Democratic National Convention was in full swing, on its way to nominating John Kerry for the presidency. Whatever misgivings I had about the party or the candidate at the time, I tuned into the coverage looking for some reason to vote.

Michael Siegrist

I found that reason from an unlikely source; a self-defined "skinny kid with a funny name" who would challenge me to get involved in more ways than I could have imagined.

"Tonight is a particular honor for me because — let's face it — my presence on this stage is pretty unlikely," Barack Obama said.

This son of a Kenyan goat herder and a mother from the heartland of America told me to ignore the pundits and politicians that divided this country into warring sides, clutched together in a freefall to the bottom. He professed a new way to view politics; one where you can disagree without being disagreeable.

As a student who worked as the director of a camping program for emotionally impaired children, I had a strong leaning to liberal politics and an even greater suspicion of partisan politics. I grew up in a conservative Catholic household with certified public accountants as parents.

I did not hate Republicans, only disagreed with them on solutions to our common problems. Sen. Obama's words were music to my ears.

In two years time I had changed my major to political science, become editor in chief of my student newspaper, managed a campaign and begun interning for a congressman. I would later invest what little spare time I had toward drafting Obama to run for president and working for him in the primary.

In 2006 I attended a rally in Detroit where Obama came to campaign for Gov. Jennifer Granholm. In a union hall, full of Democratic supporters, Sen. Obama touched on many issues and reasons to vote for Granholm; all of which I have forgotten. However, what I do remember from the evening is that it was nothing like the speech I had seen by President Bill Clinton who spoke in Taylor. Moving away from demonizing Dick DeVos and not focusing on common cheerleader-like antics, Obama chose to elevate the discussion by activating the crowd outside of partisan politics to create a stronger country for everyone.

What I also remember is the almost 10 minutes of the speech devoted to chastising the Democratic Party for past mistakes. While challenging your friends and allies is an uneasy path, it has been the journey that Sen. Obama has chosen to take.

What I also remember is the almost 10 minutes of the speech devoted to chastising the Democratic Party for past mistakes. While challenging your friends and allies is an uneasy path, it has been the journey that Sen. Obama has chosen to take.

In another speech I attended at the Detroit Economic Club — dubbed by a friend as the dumbest speech he has given — Obama challenged the domestic auto industry's failure to manufacture fuel efficient cars that are more marketable.

What I saw in Sen. Obama was an eagerness to speak hard truths and face ugly facts in order to address our past and present course so that we could all move forward.

So now, in my last year at the University of Michigan and working as a community organizer — a path also inspired by the Senator — I have returned in the wake of a national convention. I was elected a delegate last spring and traveled to Denver to cast my vote for the person I campaigned for in the primary and who inspired me to get involved not only in politics, but in my community as well.

On Thursday night of the convention I sat nine rows from the stand and watched in awe as one of my heroes made yet another convention speech. I sat transfixed yet again in wonder at how unlikely my presence was.

Michael Siegrist of Canton is a student of political science at the University of Michigan and is a community organizer. He served as a Michigan delegate at the Democratic National Convention last week in Denver.

8 facts about Nankin Mills plan

The debate on the Nankin Mills development reminds me of the movie A Few Good Men and the great line that Jack Nicholson had: "You want the truth, you can't handle the truth." I hereby encourage the research, discussion and thought about the following truths or facts.

Fact #1: A master plan is a strategy. A strategy points you in a direction, but is often altered by economic pressures, changes in demographics and social needs. This is from J. Pearce & Robinson, noted experts and authors on planning and strategies.

Fact #2: "No city needs a developer - a developer needs a city." Are you kidding me? Why are we paying an economic development director (as we should) to work full time on finding developers, offering plans and incentives and then noting a progressive and reasonable mayor and council to work with, all in order to lure them here. A council recalled for "working with a developer" or "thinking progressively" instead of curling up in a protective shell will certainly go a long way in helping lure future business to our city. NOT!

Fact #3: Closed minds and not looking forward has left Westland with a closed movie theater, empty buildings on Cowan, two large stores built in Canton instead of here, should I go on? Residents squeal and complain about businesses moving or not locating here and blame the mayor and council. When they do vote for something new and progressive, you recall them.

Fact #4: We have a problem with citizens who think they know more than investors. Well, I got news for you - you don't. Investors are the ones spending millions of dollars when it comes to locations and how they run their businesses. If they wanted your location and could strike a deal with the current owner, they would have. Showcase Cinema sure listened to a few council members and complaining citizens last year on how they should run their business, didn't they?

Fact #5: I was told by more than one council member that the infamous petitions with "300 signatures" that the council "ignored," the same petitions that Gray Street residents refer to when pointing out the council's "disregard for citizens," actually contained less than 50 signatures of Westland residents. The rest were signed by people as far away as Walled Lake and Novi.

Fact #6: If you really listen to the meeting instead of hearing what you want or looking for a conspiracy around every corner, you would realize that the "invitation only" part of the meeting with the developer was for the council members. This way they would not break the Michigan Open Meetings Act. I am sure that no one who lived on Gray Street was turned away. Residents that did not live close by should not have been invited. The meeting was for previously notified property owners, a few select city employees and the developer, just like it should have been.

Fact #7: This property was already zoned for R-1 development so all the "save the property" or "save the natural beauty" people give me a break. Have you seen how they level the entire area when they are building R-1? I also believe that the traffic will be the same or less than an R-1 development. People in this age group simply won't use Joy Road at busy school drop off times. Would you, if you had a choice? Of course, you wouldn't neither will they. Hix at Cherry Hill has the same (or more) density and traffic, so does Joy Road by Franklin High School. Both are two-lane roads and similar to this situation. This one should have even less traffic.

Fact #8: "The loss of property values" and the "3-story building is only 50 feet from houses." If you actually look at the plan, only one house is anywhere near that building. This particular house is on such a large deep lot it was actually built behind another house that fronts Gray Street. All the lots on Gray Street are more than 500 feet deep and the 3-story building will be a minimum of two football fields away from the next nearest house. Ninety percent of the residents will have a very nice residential type development beyond their very deep property lines. They also will have more green area and walking paths with this plan than they would with a strict R-1 plan. Most of the current residents will need binoculars to see what their new neighbors look like.

I encourage you to check on everything I pointed out. This debate has become an emotional issue with many of these facts conveniently passed over to make things look worse than they really are. Letters about conspiracies, due process, save the trees and "build it over there" have started. Let's stick to the facts of the development and whether or not it will be an asset to our city.

It is simple for 99 percent of Westland residents. There is no conspiracy. Nothing was done improperly. Do you want our city to grow and prosper? Do you want the city's tax burden shared with more businesses and developments or do you want to carry the tax burden all by yourselves. We can change and grow or we can stand pat and slowly wither away.

By the way, Ms. Hudson, I put my money on Mr. Poger in a debate any day.

Salvation Army seeks good people's help in tough times

BY JULIE BROWN
D&E STAFF WRITER

The Salvation Army for Eastern Michigan is seeking funds, with leaders concerned about cuts including the Denby Center for Children and Family Services in Detroit.

There's hope on the horizon. The Matilda Wilson Fund, a generous benefactor, has promised to match donations, dollar for dollar, up to $50,000. With the match, the total would be $100,000.

"We're anticipating a response because we've done things like this in the past," said John Hale, director of development for the Salvation Army for Eastern Michigan. "It absolutely is a slow time" for fund raising. He and other leaders appreciate the foresight and generosity of the late Matilda Wilson.

"We are concerned," said Rochester Hills resident Hale, citing high unemployment and foreclosures. "I think that the need is still high right now."

In a recent letter to supporters, Maj. Norman S. Marshall, divisional commander, cited steeply rising grocery prices, as well as gasoline and utility costs. Marshall noted one-third of Detroit residents already live in poverty, and "the struggle to care for our neighbors in need is getting much harder."

The Denby Center includes a maternity program for single at-risk mothers, and could be closed. Denby houses pregnant teens and their newborn babies, and prepares the young women to make a healthy transition to motherhood. In addition, its residential treatment program gives pre-adolescent girls from broken homes support to find the way to a productive future, through physical, emotional, medical and educational help.

A memo in the August letter from Capt. Katherine Clausell, who runs the Denby Center, notes many teens would otherwise terminate their pregnancies if not for help received. "Our maternity program prepares young, first-time mothers for the critical challenges of motherhood and for a self-sufficient future," Clausell wrote.

Marshall and other Salvation Army leaders have asked for a response by Oct. 3. Hale said Aug. 20 officials anticipate the Denby Center will stay open, but it's too early to gauge response to the major's August letter.

Also cited in the letter was after-school tutoring at the Wayne-Westland corps on Venoy in Westland.

Wayne-Westland corps commander Capt. Derek Rose just hired a certified teacher for the after-school tutoring. "So we're looking to start full-force Sept. 15," he said.

"It's very important," Rose agreed about late summer and fall funding. "We are scraping the bottom of the barrel financially. We are in somewhat of a deficit right now, so we are looking to increase any funding we can."

Rose, whose wife, Joanna, is also a Wayne-Westland corps commander, agreed some people think of Christmas efforts involving the Salvation Army. "It's kind of one of those things that gets set to the side," Derek Rose said. "As always we appreciate any support our community in Wayne-Westland can provide."

Checks payable to the Salvation Army may be sent to the Salvation Army, Eastern Michigan Division, 16130 Northland Drive, Southfield, MI 48075. You can also donate online at www.salmich.org, or by calling (877)SAL-MICH.

"I think we can do it as a community," Hale said of the fund-raising goal.

Mutual funds should be judged by long-term track record

As an investor, there is one reason you invest money and that is to make money. Because the goal is to make money, never forget that how an investment performs is the most critical issue. That being said, how do you evaluate performance?

Money Matters
Rick Bloom

I believe what happens in an investment, particularly a mutual fund, over a one-year period is relatively immaterial. Any investment can have a good year. If you just look at any one year, you get a distorted view.

I use the analogy of whether a college education is a good investment over a one-year period. You need to judge the benefit of a college education over a much longer period of time. The same theory applies with investments. I generally judge investments over three-, five- and 10-year time frames.

Looking at long-term track records, you have a better understanding of a fund. If you just look at three-year returns, any one year might significantly impact that fund.

In addition, I like funds that have more consistent performance vs. funds that are traditionally on roller coaster rides. Some funds will have wide fluctuations in performance. I prefer funds that have a little more consistency.

Another factor I consider is whether the mutual fund management team is invested in their fund. When the management team has money invested, it tends to be more sensitive to certain issues such as taxes and fees.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has changed the disclosure rules over the years and now requires managers to report ownership interest in a fund. Some mutual fund companies make it easy to obtain this information. They have posted it on their Web sites and they report it in their statement of additional information.

Most investors ignore the statement of additional information issued by the mutual fund company, however, that document has a wealth of information for investors including how mutual fund managers are compensated and their bonus arrangement.

Going to the well

Hot conditions can't stop Waterbury, Churchill

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

How can a guy name Waterbury ever be dehydrated? But that's how the newly crowned Livonia City cross country meet champion felt after a couple of minutes into the 5,000-meter race late Tuesday afternoon at Cass Benton Park.

Mark Waterbury, the Churchill senior, fought through blistering 90-degree heat to win the event in 17 minutes, 11 seconds, as the Chargers garnered their sixth straight city title with 21 points.

Stevenson, under new coach Jerry Young, was runner-up with 37 followed by Franklin in third with 70.

"I went out like the weather was perfect," said Waterbury, who jumped to an early lead and never looked back. "I had to keep pushing to win it. About a mile into it I told myself, 'It's too late to give up now.' I kept saying to myself, 'Don't back down.' That Tom Petty song was going through my head."

Churchill swept the first three places as sophomore Tom Windle was runner-up in 17:33 followed by Steve Zoski in 17:36. The Chargers also had two others in the top 10 — Quinn Osgood in sixth (18:04) and Mark Freyberg in ninth (18:51).

"I told them to be careful, but they trained hard last week," Churchill coach John McGreevy said. "They knew what their goals were. After last week's meet (South Lyon Invitational) there were a lot of questions. I thought Windle, Zoski and Osgood all stepped up. We felt better today than after the last meet, but we're still looking up to a lot of people in this new league (Kensington Lakes)."

The 6-foot, 160-pound Waterbury, third a year ago in the city cross country meet, had been bothered by shin splits during the spring track season which limited him to only the 1,600.

"I took a month off, all of June," said

"I gained 10 pounds while I was off, and I was a little worried, but none of it's fat."

Waterbury's time of 17:11 under scorching conditions was certainly a positive.

Stevenson's top two finishers were Shawn Howse and Joe Urso, who finished fourth and fifth, respectively, in 17:58 and 18:03. Matt Williams added a seventh in 18:33 and Andrew Longhi was 10th in 18:55.

Sophomore Austin Jones was Franklin's lone finisher in the top 10, taking eighth with a clocking of 18:41.

Sidelines

Shaw released

Because of a logjam at linebacker, former Livonia Clarenceville High standout Tim Shaw was one of 15 players released and put on unconditional waivers Saturday by the Carolina Panthers of the National Football League.

Shaw, who played defensive end, linebacker and running back at Penn State, was a fifth-round draft choice of the Panthers in 2007 and played exclusively on special teams last season where he led that unit in tackles with 14.

The 6-foot-1, 236-pound Shaw had a total of five tackles, including two solo, in the Panthers' four preseason exhibition games.

Stillman leads MU

Sophomore Austin Stillman (Livonia Franklin) carded back-to-back 75s to lead the Madonna University men's golf team to eighth-place team finish in last weekend's Lou Collins Classic at Bedford Valley Golf Club.

Stillman was 12th individually followed by Steve South (Franklin), 75-78-153; Matt Robinson (Livonia Churchill), 81-78-159; Kyle Lawrey, 75-87-162; and Brett Quitquit, 83-80-163, for a 306-311-617 total.

Host Olivet, led by medalist Brock Gleadal's 74-69-143, captured the team title with a two-day total of 588.

Football Webcast

Livonia Stevenson football fans who aren't able to make it to this Friday's game at Howell will have a chance to listen to the game live on the Internet.

The Livingston County Daily Press & Argus in Howell will be broadcasting the game via its Web site, www.livingstondaily.com, starting at 7 p.m. Friday.

Stevenson girls bump off Churchill

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The heat took its toll late Tuesday afternoon at Cass Benton Park, but when the final results were tabulated, Stevenson claimed its first Livonia Public Schools girls cross country title since 2003 by edging four-time defending champion Churchill, 34-35.

Franklin placed third with 54 points in a meet where each of the three schools had a runner bow out.

Senior Courtney Calka led the way once again for Stevenson, capturing her fourth straight LPS individual title in the 5,000-meter race with an impressive clocking of 18 minutes, 57.04 seconds.

Franklin's Megan McPherson, a sophomore, was runner-up in 19:50.96 and three Churchill girls followed — Amanda Southwell (21:24.9), Alyssa Mira (21:30.69) and Emily Clairmont (21:37.47).

Stevenson placed four others in the top 10 to pull out the victory led by junior Victoria Saferian, sixth (21:54.87); senior Karli Kuchka, eighth (22:08.22); sophomore Katie Vidler, ninth (22:12.98); and freshman Julie Capeneka, 10th (22:29.23). Franklin's Brittany Dilley took seventh in 21:55.

Churchill did not run its top returning runner, 41st-place state meet finisher Sara Kroll, who sat out the meet with an illness, and Stevenson took advantage.

"I sent my team out hard — that's what Churchill does — we wanted to be right with them," Stevenson second-year coach Nancy Gavor said. "Churchill is a very good team and they're not going to take it lightly. It was Victoria Saferian's second best time at Cass Benton. Both Kuchka and Saferian were at the state meet last year. Kuchka didn't finish. And Vidler was not even in the top seven on JV last year."

"These girls have trained hard. I'm happy. This is us, this who we are. It's a different group than last year. We wanted to beat Churchill and be city (LPS) champs. It's a real positive for them."

Franklin's Megan McPherson, who broke 20 minutes for 5,000 meters, makes her way through the course en route to a second-place finish during the LPS girls cross country meet.

Stevenson's Courtney Calka blisters the course on her way to a first-place finish, breaking 19 minutes for 5,000 meters, during the LPS girls cross country meet Tuesday at Cass Benton Park. It was Calka's fourth-straight individual title.

Prognosticating can be a hair-raising experience

The instant several Plymouth football players removed their helmets for the national anthem last Thursday night and exposed their mohawked lids, I knew the Wildcats were on the verge of a stellar performance.

In all the years I've been submerged in football — as a player, sports writer and fan — I have yet to see a team that executes the team-unity haircut play poorly.

McKinney, Connor Martin

Sure enough, Plymouth rolled 47-7 over Salem to get its season off to a hair-raising start.

Although the victory was the direct result of strong play from Matt Skubik, Connor and friends — not Fantastic Sam, Bo-Ric or Vidal Sassoon — whoever wielded the clippers on the 'Cats deserves at least a pat on the back.

After some exhausting research, I discovered the team-unity haircut ritual dates back to the late 1920s. That's when members of the Canton Bulldogs — looking for a psychological edge before a pivotal showdown against the Frankford Yellow Jackets — conspired to take the field with bowl-cut haircuts.

While not quite as intimidating as mohawks, the bowl cuts prevailed — but only by a whisker.

The trend spilled over into hockey in the 1950s, when a number of Canadian teams bonded thanks to the now-defunct (except for Barry Melrose's mullet hair-dos.

They won most of their games; unfortunately, they lost most of their girlfriends.

My up-close-and-personal experience with hair-related gridiron motivation techniques came in the fall of 1978, when I was the quarterback (junior, 5-foot-9, 160 pounds) for the Lansing Harry Hill Panthers. Before every game, members of the offensive unit would rub senior running back Aaron Hegman's incredibly large afro,

The routine only worked twice in nine games, but — trust me on this one — it wasn't the 'fro's fault.

FRIDAY'S GAMES

(ALL 7 P.M. UNLESS NOTED)

LIVONIA STEVENSON (1-0) at HOWELL (1-0): This Kensington Lakes Activities Association crossover clash probably won't provide the down-to-the-last-second thrills that last week's Stevenson-Livonia Franklin game offered, but it may come close. The Highlanders crushed Walled Lake Northern, 48-17, in Week 1, so they give the Spartans a stern test. PICKS: Wright (Howell); Emons (Stevenson); Smith (Howell).

SALEM (0-1) at WALLED LAKE NORTHERN (0-1): Both of these squads are looking for the kind of early-season triumph that could spark a sudden resurgence following sub-par 2007 campaigns (Salem finished 1-8; Northern was 0-9). After both teams gave up a total of 95 points last week, expect this one to be a barn-burner. PICKS: Wright (Salem); Emons (Northern); Smith (Salem).

WATERFORD MOTT (1-0) at WAYNE MEMORIAL (0-1): Mott's defense turned Westland John Glenn's offense to apple sauce in last week's 7-0 victory over the Rockets. Can it turn the trick again against a team in the same school district? The Zebras hope not. PICKS: Wright (Mott); Emons (Mott); Smith (Wayne).

WHITE LAKE LAKELAND (1-0) at CANTON (1-0): This is the first-ever meeting on the gridiron for the Eagles and Chiefs, both of whom are coming off impressive Week 1 wins. Teams that are facing Canton's run-oriented, ball-faking offense for the first time usually struggle, but Lakeland's offense can score, too. PICKS: Wright (Canton); Emons (Lakeland); Smith (Canton).

WALLED LAKE WESTERN (1-0) at LIVONIA FRANKLIN (0-1): These two squads know each other well after several years of squaring off against one another in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division. The Patriots are still stinging from a tough one-point loss to rival Stevenson, while the Warriors are riding a wave of momentum in the wake of their thrilling 22-21 triumph over Monroe. PICKS: Wright (Franklin); Emons (Western); Smith (Western).

WATERFORD KETTERING (1-0) at LIVONIA CHURCHILL (0-1): The Chargers' hopes of getting into the win column for the first time this season won't get any easier against a Kettering defense that yielded just seven points to Wayne last week. PICKS: Wright (Churchill); Emons (Kettering); Smith (Kettering).

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN (0-1) at PINCKNEY (0-1): The Pirates suffered a tough 21-7 setback to Northville last week, while the Rockets fell, 7-0, to Waterford Mott. With several ominous opponents on deck, both units need a "W" to propel them in the right direction. PICKS: Wright (John Glenn); Emons (John Glenn); Smith (John Glenn).

BRIGHTON (0-1) at PLYMOUTH (1-0) at PCEP junior varsity stadium: Ironically, the Bulldogs will be playing their second straight game on the PCEP campus' junior varsity field, so they may have home-field advantage — at least for a few minutes. The Wildcats took to the air last week as quarterbacks Matt Skubik and Ryan Barrera combined for five TD passes. PICKS: Wright (Plymouth); Emons (Brighton); Smith (Plymouth).

BLOOMFIELD HILLS CRAWBROOK-KINGSWOOD (0-1) at LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE (1-0): Clarenceville made a statement in last week's 53-0 trouncing of Detroit University Prep, while Cranbrook was dropping a 47-14 decision to Detroit Loyola. PICKS: Wright (C'ville); Emons (C'ville); Smith (C'ville).

GARDEN CITY (1-0) at ROMULUS (0-1): Could this be the year of the Cougar? Judging by last week's convincing win over Taylor Kennedy, the answer could be a resounding "yes." PICKS: Wright (Garden City); Emons (Garden City); Smith (Garden City).

RIVER ROUGE (0-1) at REDFORD THURSTON (0-1): The Eagles will look to get on track after getting clipped in their opener by Crosswell-Lexington. Mega Gold rival River Rouge is hoping to rebound from a demoralizing 28-point loss to Harper Woods. PICKS: Wright (Thurston); Emons (Thurston); Smith (Thurston).

WYANDOTTE ROOSEVELT (1-0) at REDFORD UNION (1-0): This game may prove to be one of the marquee matchups in the Mega White this week as both squads look to start the season unbeaten. PICKS: Wright (RU); Emons (Wyandotte); Smith (RU).

REDFORD COVENANT (1-0) at DETROIT LOYOLA (1-0) 4 p.m.: The Loyola defense better be prepared to deal with Covenant wide receiver Jamonne Chester, who's headed to Indiana to play football in 2009. PICKS: Wright (Loyola); Emons (Loyola); Smith (Covenant).

SATURDAY'S GAME

HARPER WOODS (1-0) at LUTHERAN WESTLAND (0-1), 1 p.m.: Things can only get better for the Warriors, who were drubbed by Dearborn Heights Annapolis in their 2008 debut. PICKS: Wright (Harper Woods); Emons (Harper Woods); Smith (Harper Woods).

legiate program, was able to withstand the brutal conditions and win by almost a minute.

"It was definitely a lot hotter than any race I've race I've run," said the senior standout. "And it's the first time we raced there (Cass Benton) this year. We've practiced there, but I didn't realize hot much harder it was during a race. It was hard the entire meet. It was hard to get through it."

And winning the team title proved to be a welcome bonus.

"I'm so excited because haven't beaten Churchill in four years," Calka said. "I'm glad for the other girls and I'm glad that everybody can wear that (LPS meet) patch on their (letter) jacket now. It's exciting."

It was the second straight win for Calka, who also won the South Lyon Invitational, Aug. 23, at Island Lake State Park in 19:11.

"I feel like times are still dropping, even by a little bit," she said. "I still have work on my strength. I don't feel as powerful as before. I really have to work on my form more. Track form is different than cross country form. Track — it's a lot different than cross country race."

Spartans devour Lions in KLAA division opener

BOYS SOCCER

Host Livonia Stevenson entered new territory Tuesday night, earning its first boys soccer victory in the newly formed Central Division of the Kensington Lakes Activities Association, 2-0, against previously unbeaten South Lyon.

"This was our introduction into the KLAA and we found out how different the regular season schedule is going to be this year," said Stevenson coach Lars Richters, whose team improved to 4-0-1 overall and 1-0 in the KLAA-Central. "It's a good opponent that we've never seen before, an energetic hard-working team."

Brian Klemczak scored both goals for Stevenson — one coming in the opening half off an assist from Nick Anagnostou and a second half tally from Chris Long.

"We got outstanding play in the center-midfield, especially from Klemczak and Joe D'Agostino," Richters said. Goalkeepers Conner Burton (first half) and Justin Collins (second half) combined on the shutout.

The loss drops South Lyon to 6-1 overall and 0-1 in the KLAA-Central.

CHURCHILL 8, WAYNE 0: Max Washko had a pair of goals and two assists Tuesday night, leading host Livonia Churchill (1-2, 1-0) to the KLAA-South Division triumph over visiting Wayne Memorial (0-4-1).

The game ended two minutes into the second half because of the eight-goal mercy rule.

Adam Bedell and Simon Bank each contributed a goal and assist for the Chargers, who led 7-0 at intermission.

Other Churchill goal scorers included Etienne Lussiez, Chris DeNapoli, Tyler Varney and Matt Regan.

Adrian Motta started and Christian Adams finished in goal for the Chargers.

PLYMOUTH 4, JOHN GLENN 0: In a KLAA-South Division game Tuesday, Brad Finnegan's hat trick propelled the host Wildcats (3-3, 1-0) to a win over Westland John Glenn (1-3-1, 0-1).

Sam Maccini also scored for Plymouth, which scored three times in the second half after leading 1-0.

"It was a little sloppy, but eventually we took control," Plymouth coach Jeff Neschich said. Kyle Brindza earned the shutout in goal for the Wildcats. "We had some opportunities in the first half and could not finish," Glenn first-year coach Jimmy Mortada said. "The second half we got caught pushing up too much. I thought Nelson Kenne played a beautiful game at center midfield."

CANTON 7, FRANKLIN 0: On Tuesday, the host Chiefs (3-1-3, 1-0) broke open a tight contest with six second-half goals to beat Livonia Franklin (0-5, 0-1) in a KLAA-South Division opener for both teams.

"We only led 1-0 at the half, so Franklin deserves a lot of credit for keeping it close early on," said Canton coach George Tomasso. "Tonight — especially in the second half — we had great all-around team play. This is a very selfish team and it showed tonight."

Senior midfielder Scott Zech tallied the lone first-half goal off a helper from fellow captain Kyle Breitmeyer.

Six different Chiefs scored second-half goals: Joey Krizanek, Josh Hurst, Collan Baker, Mitch Reinhart, Sherif Hassanien and Brandon Burt.

Registering second-half assists for the winners were Hassanien (two), Kyle Biega, Reinhart (two) and Zech.

Senior net-minder Nick Turnbull recorded his fourth shutout for Canton.

GREENHILLS 7, CLARENCEVILLE 1: Peter Jacobson scored four goals Tuesday to spark Ann Arbor Greenhills (3-0) to the non-conference triumph over host Livonia Clarenceville (3-1).

The Gryhons wasted little time getting on the board, scoring at the 7-second mark en route to a 3-1 halftime lead.

Garet Hintzman's unassisted goal proved to be Clarenceville's lone score.

MU ends California trip at 2-1

The Madonna University men's soccer team finished its west coast road trip with a 2-1 record after dropping its first match of the season Monday to Bellevue (Neb.), 2-1, in double-overtime in a match hosted by Point Loma Nazarene.

Casey Friend's goal in the 105th minute from Mark Heath-Preston and Tom Garrick proved to be the game-winner in a match played off the shores of the Pacific Ocean in San Diego, Calif.

Garrick's goal in the 79th minute from Trevor Eastman knotted the count at 1-1 after MU led 1-0 on Mark Pikula's goal from Doron Draai in the 11th minute.

MU goalkeeper Steve Besk made 12 saves in the loss, while counterpart Sebastian Narvaez had to make only four stops.

MEN'S COLLEGE SOCCER

Both teams are now 2-1 on the season.

In a match Saturday at Point Loma, MU rallied past MidAmerica Nazarene University (Kan.), 2-1, as newcomer Corbin Titus tallied the game-winner in the 70th minute after being set up by Draai.

MidAmerica's Jon Lemon scored on a penalty kick after being fouled inside the 18-yard line at the 9:16 mark of the first half, but MU answered four minutes later on Emilio Giorgi's goal after taking feeds from Draai and Daniel Amaya.

Besk had to make just two saves in the victory.

Much like Friday's 2-1 OT win over host Point Loma, Saturday's match became physical with five cards handed out.

Ocelot men romp

On Aug. 27, the Schoolcraft College men's soccer team stands at 1-0-1 overall following a 7-0 victory in an MCCA Eastern Conference opener at Kellogg CC.

Leading the attack with two goals and an assist each were freshman Andy Adlington and sophomore Michael Iyoha while freshman Mark Djokaj (Farmington Hills/North Farmington) scored on an assist from freshman and Livonia Churchill product Vinny Carozza. Djokaj also assisted on freshman YaYa Toure's goal.

Splitting the shutout for the Ocelots were sophomore Chris Riley, freshmen Dan Horton and Billy Irvine. They had plenty of defensive support from sophomore Hunter Robertson of Novi.

Lady Ocelots boot Jackson, 5-1

After a lackluster first half in the season opener, Schoolcraft College's women's soccer team bounced back with four second-half goals to knock off visiting Jackson Community College 5-1 in a Michigan Community College Athletic Conference match.

"The first half, we made a lot of mental errors and easily turned over the ball," said Schoolcraft head coach Deepak Shivraman. "The second half, we really changed our mindset and came out much more focused and this resulted in more possession and better scoring opportunities. We were much more composed in the second half."

Schoolcraft's lone first-half tally was scored by Stephanie Gutkowski (Livonia Stevenson), on an assist from Ally King Stevenson.

After the intermission, it was the combination of Brittany Pickett to Katie Shull (Salem) that really got the Lady Ocelots rolling. That tandem accounted for two goals, sandwiched around Dena Sana's goal (from Gutkowski). The final marker was scored with about nine minutes left, when Tara Pietila sent a pass over to Pickett who finished the job.

Shivraman cited the defense of Sally L'Esperance, Jessica Lusardi and Meghan Horgan (Livonia Franklin) for keeping the Rams' offense in check.

SC spikers go 3-3 in Owens Classic

COLLEGE VOLLEYBALL

An up-and-down weekend ended on a high note for Schoolcraft's volleyball team, which went 3-3 at the Owens Express Classic Volleyball Tournament in Toledo.

The Lady Ocelots went 2-1 on Friday, before losing extended matches Saturday to nationally ranked Vincennes and Hagerstown. But a 3-0 victory over Edison in Saturday's finale helped take the sting out of those defeats.

"This was a nice win for us," said Schoolcraft head coach Richard Lamb about the 25-17, 25-18, 25-18 win over Edison. "Last year, Edison made it to the national semifinals in Division III and it was a great way to finish the day after struggling earlier against Vincennes and Hagerstown."

"Overall, while we went 3-3 on the weekend, we did struggle. We learned a lot about where we are as a team and what we need to work on." Cutting down on unforced errors is one area Lamb will attend to during upcoming practices.

Leading the attack for Schoolcraft (7-3 overall, 4-0 in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association) against Edison were freshman outside hitter Kaitlyn Litteral (14 kills) and sophomore outside hitter Virginia Butler (Canton/Westland John Glenn) who tallied 11 kills.

Leaders in other departments included freshman setter Katie Williams (23 assists) and sophomore defensive specialist Hillary Colomina (13 digs).

Schoolcraft lost 25-23, 16-25, 13-25, 17-25 to Vincennes and 25-9, 25-23, 18-25, 19-25, 10-15 to Hagerstown, despite a combined 31 kills from Butler and 47 digs from freshman defensive specialist Jordan Kerr (Livonia Churchill).

On Friday, the Lady Ocelots opened with a 25-15, 25-23, 25-15 win over Lakeland (Ohio) and followed up with a 3-1 victory over Owens (25-11, 12-25, 25-19, 25-16).

Schoolcraft, however, lost a 3-2 match to Sinclair to finish Day 1 of the tournament (game scores were 25-18, 25-17, 23-25, 21-25, 9-15).

Top Schoolcraft performers on the first day of action included freshman setter Brittany Dentler (86 assists), Butler (33 kills) and Kerr (59 digs). Chipping in with five blocks against Sinclair was sophomore setter Sarah Button (Churchill).

Lamb said the win over 13th ranked Owens was the highlight of the weekend, with "huge strides" from freshman outside hitter Kaitlyn Litteral (13 kills, three blocks) as well as excellent performances from sophomore middle hitter Whitney Clay (24 digs, two aces) and Denter (36 assists, 14 digs).

Canton golfer chips in toward Guinness Book's fastest round

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Canton resident Jeff Marcero is headed straight for the pages of the Guinness World Records book — and he's taking his putter with him.

On July 20, Marcero was one of 40 people who chipped in to break the world record for the fastest round of golf.

And, no, the group didn't include Tiger Woods or Usain Bolt.

The record-setting contingent, which was put together by radio station WJR and Boyne Mountain Resorts, played 18 holes on the Monument at Boyne Mountain layout faster than it takes some PGA Tour pros to line up a putt: 7 minutes and 56 seconds.

The previous record of 8:47 was set in August of 2003 at Bridelwood Golf Club in Flower Mound, Tex.

Marcero and his fellow record-breakers were strategically placed on three of the Monument's holes (a par 3, par 4 and par 5), which they played six times consecutively.

The clock started each time the initial tee shot was struck. Players stationed in the fairways and around the greens ran to the resting spot of each shot and proceeded to move the ball toward the hole.

Once a golfer drained a putt, the player on the ensuing hole immediately hit a tee shot.

Among the stringent requirements put in place by Guinness were that video had to be taken of the event, the total yardage of the holes played had to exceed 6,000 yards and two elected officials — in this case, a mayor (not Kwame) and a sheriff — had to witness the occurrence.

"I was more anxious than nervous," said Marcero, who was stationed on the fringe of one of the three greens with his putter and wedge in hand. "There was no time to line up putts or anything. It was all about getting to the ball in a hurry and hitting it. I think the longest putt we made the entire round was eight feet."

Marcero, a sales executive at WJR, said the record almost didn't happen.

"The first time we tried it, we were just over nine minutes," said Marcero, "so everybody was really fired up. But the next time it took longer and the time after that it took longer still."

"It was raining the whole time, so after the third try, myself and Dan Turcott — the Boyne events director — talked about whether we should give up or keep trying. When we decided to give it one more shot, Dan got on the megaphone and delivered this awesome speech that got everybody fired up."

"When we broke the record, every shot was pure and every approach shot was tight. It's hard to explain how perfect it turned out."

WJR has coordinated the record-breaking attempts since the mid-90s, Marcero said.

"One of the things that helped this year was that the Tournament of Champions was being held at the same time up there and we recruited a lot of those golfers to participate," said Marcero. "I'm a 13 handicap and I was probably the worst golfer out there."

Marcero credited Turcott and WJR marketing director Bridgette Burns for orchestrating the successful effort — one that even Tiger and Bolt could envy.

21-day vigil puts faith in power of prayer

When Rev. Barbara Clevenger heard about the 21-day prayer vigil to uplift the economy of greater Detroit, she started making plans to include her church, Unity of Farmington Hills (formerly Church of Today West). On Sunday, Aug. 24 members joined congregations around the area in carrying out the idea of Rev. Greg Barrette, pastor of Renaissance Unity in Warren.

Clevenger believes that everyone praying together can make a difference. For 21 days participants are writing down their own prayer for Detroit 15 times a day. The vigil ends Sunday, Sept. 14, at an event in Hart Plaza.

"I've lived in the area 14 years. This area so many fabulous assets and there's a big high energy here that is confident, creative," said Clevenger. "We don't have city cooperating with county, city cooperating with suburbs. In times like these, wisdom says we all win together or lose together. There's a critical mass ready for change right now."

Clevenger says pain is a powerful motivator. People are losing their jobs and homes. She lives in Birmingham where houses are for sale up and down the street. She says everybody feels the effects of the economy. At Unity giving is down, but attendance is up because people are seeking spiritual guidance.

To help members, she's hosting Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University, a Biblically-based curriculum that teaches how to make the right financial decisions. According to Ramsey's Web site, www.daveramsey.com, more than 10,000 churches nationwide have used the program.

"Most of us change when we're uncomfortable," said Clevenger. "We sometimes feel like that victim but if you can pray affirmatively, pray to change us. When we change the situation changes. I'm not saying people can control everything but we can influence the future. There are many people all over the world who would like to have what we have here. I was in India for three weeks last September and even when things are bad here they are not all bad."

Clevenger does her part to make the world a better place by serving on the Michigan Roundtable for Diversity and Inclusion (formerly National Conference for Christians and Jews) and Interfaith Partners which was formed on Sept. 11, to create understanding among religions. She's also active with the Farmington Area Interfaith Association.

On Sunday, Sept. 21, Clevenger will be among the thousands of people welcoming A.T. Ariyaratne for a celebration of the United Nations International Day of Peace at Eastern Michigan University Convocation Center in Ypsilanti. The internationally-known leader of the Sarvodaya movement has rallied the residents of villages in Sri Lanka to build a better life for themselves.

"He teaches that don't wait for government aid or leaders, work with your neighbor right now," said Clevenger.

"He says we build the road and the road builds us. He has individuals working together to build wells, roads. When you work together you become friends. He's done this in 15,000 villages over 50 years. We need to learn how to work together. We've come to the place that it takes all of us lifting us up, doing things to help people right now."

Crusaders finish 3-1 on West Coast swing

COLLEGE VOLLEYBALL

The 10th-ranked Madonna University women's volleyball team returned home from San Diego with an 8-1 overall record after winning three of four matches in last weekend's Seaside Invitational hosted by Point Loma Nazarene (Calif.).

On Saturday, MU split a pair of top-ten clashes defeating No. 9 College of Idaho in five games, 22-25, 25-22, 25-18, 25-21, 15-2, before losing to the host Sea Lions, in four games, 20-25, 25-22, 19-25, 21-25.

MU overcame a 21-kill performance College of Idaho's Sarah Buhler, led by Lubovj Tihomirova and Whitney Fuelling's 14 kills apiece. The Crusader duo, each named to the All-Tournament team, also combined for 15 block-assists.

Mary McGinnis added 10 kills in the win, while setter Inta Grinvalds finished with a season-high 45 assist-to-kills. Brynn Kerr (Livonia Churchill/Schoolcraft College) and Grinvalds contributed 13 and 10 digs, respectively.

The loss dropped College of Idaho to 2-4 overall.

In the final match of the Seaside Invitational, three Point Loma players reached double figures in kills, led by Tabitha Henken's 19, as the Sea Lions improved to 4-0.

Setters Kyle Morel and Amanda Bevens each collected 24 assists, while Courtney Fleck had a team-best 15 digs.

Tihomirova and Megan Fricke paced the MU offense with 17 and 13 kills, respectively. Grinvalds added 43 assists and 11 digs, while Kerr recorded a team-high 14 digs.

On Friday, Tihomirova and Fuelling recorded for 24 and 19 kills, respectively, as the Crusaders improved to 7-0 with wins over Ashford (Ia.), 25-22, 25-15, 25-21, and Mount Marty (S.D.), 25-11, 25-17, 25-15.

Grinvalds also added a total of 55 assist-to-kills in the two matches, while Kerr led the defense with a total of 25 digs.

Ashford, getting 15 kills from Jenny Buelow and 10 from Aubree Rhoades, fell to 0-2 overall.

Mount Marty dropped to 1-3 overall.

Whalers remain busy during Labor Day weekend vs. Spits

For many people, Labor Day is a day of rest and relaxation - and maybe a chance to see the Detroit International Jazz Festival downtown.

The Plymouth Whalers didn't visit the festival, but they moved through the outskirts of it on the way home Monday from Windsor.

The Whalers and Windsor Spitfires traditionally start their preseason schedule with a home-and-home series. The Whalers swept this season's hard-bop with Windsor, winning 6-5 in Plymouth on Aug. 30 before nipping the Spits, 3-2, in Windsor on Labor Day.

In the latter contest in Windsor, Tyler G. Brown's power-play goal at 18:40 of the second period gave the Whalers a 3-1 lead and Plymouth withstood a late Windsor rally.

"We battled," said Plymouth head coach Greg Stefan. "The team played hard."

Patrick Lee and Vern Cooper also scored for Plymouth. Dale Mitchell and Richard Greenop replied for Windsor.

Lee got the Whalers off to an excellent start when he scored 24 seconds into the game, banking a shot from the right corner in the Windsor zone off Spitfire starting goaltender Stephen Gleeson. Myles McCauley (Sterling Heights) drew the lone assist.

Mitchell tied the game at 1-all for Windsor on the power play at 12:20 of the first period when he snapped a shot from the slot over the shoulder of Plymouth starting goaltender Matt Hackett. Cooper scored the prettiest goal of the game at 18:15 of the first to give the Whalers a 2-1 lead when he skated into the Windsor zone with speed on the right wing, got a half-stride around Spitfire defenseman Ryan Ellis and beat Gleeson with the shot. Brown drew the lone assist on the goal.

"I picked the puck up in the neutral zone and noticed that Ellis was standing still," Cooper said. "I wheeled around him and took the puck to the net. There wasn't much he could do. I was wheeling pretty fast."

Cooper is off to a good start with three goals in two pre-season games. He is eligible for the 2009 National Hockey League Entry Draft.

"It's always nice to be off to a good start, especially with this year being my draft year," Cooper said. "I just want to continue what I'm doing right now."

Windsor outshot Plymouth, 38-30. Hackett stopped 22 shots. Gleeson stopped 16-of-18 for Windsor.

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY FALL FESTIVAL

Run, play bingo, eat pancakes

BY LANA MINI
O&E STAFF WRITER

How many volunteers does it take to make 12,000 pancakes for 3,000 people in one morning?

About 120. That includes preparing the coffee and juice and cleaning the tables.

PLYMOUTH'S FALL FESTIVAL

Run, play bingo, eat pancakes and visit a beer tent in Plymouth

What: Plymouth 53rd Annual Community Fall Festival

When: Noon to 11 p.m. Friday, Sept. 5; 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 6; and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 7

Where: Downtown Plymouth - Main, Penniman, Ann Arbor Trail and Union streets

Details: www.plymouthfallfestival.com, presented by the Plymouth Rotary Club

Jim Grutza, of Canton, is a Realtor in Plymouth, who for the past 18 years has helped griddle up the pancakes for the Saturday public breakfast at the Plymouth Community Fall Festival.

He's part of the Plymouth Kiwanis, and the group's foundation hosts several events to raise money to improve the community. The pancake breakfast is a big event.

"We don't raise money to keep it in the bank, we do it for the community," Grutza said, adding that the group buys Christmas parties for Special Olympians, and sports equipment for high school athletic teams.

The Fall Festival, held this weekend, is all about tradition.

It started in 1956 as a community picnic to raise money for a children's playground on Wing Street in Plymouth. People cared, 500 people attended. The next year, another picnic for more play equipment was held - this time at the Hamilton Street Playground.

By 1960, the picnic moved to Kellogg Park and became known as a fall festival.

And today, it is still the Fall Festival. Yes, we said fall. Summer is ending, and we may as well embrace it with an old-fashioned family fun event.

Over the weekend you'll find a carnival with rides. Booths volunteered by local people will offer food such as the Salem Class of 2010's roasted almonds; the Lions Club's caramel apple chips; Canton High School Chiefs Tennis' fresh lemonade; Vietnam Veterans Plymouth-Canton Chapter 528's corn-on-the-cob and pierogi from the Polish National Alliance Dancers.

On Saturday from 7 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. is the pancake breakfast near Kellogg Park, $6. At 4 p.m. there's a pasta dinner for $9 at the park.

And there's a car show and constant live entertainment.

Notable local singers Gia Warner and Bobby Lewis are performing from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sunday at Kellogg Park, for example. On Saturday there's a pet show at 10 a.m.

There's also a craft show each day and the event closes Sunday with a Rotary Club BBQ.

Fall into Rochester's end-of-summer art fest

Donna Beaubien of Troy paints and marbles works on handmade paper. She's been a mainstay at Art & Apples fine art show.

43rd annual festival is this weekend

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
O&E STAFF WRITER

Donna Beaubien knows the ins and outs of Rochester's annual Art & Apples festival almost as well as its organizers. The Troy artist has participated since its start.

More than four decades along and the Paint Creek Center for the Arts' largest fund-raiser continues to grow into an increasingly more family-oriented art event. The festival has become a bona fide tradition, earning national praise for its juried outdoor fine art show.

Beaubien can attest to that. "I have many clients in the area and they expect to see my latest works at Art & Apples," she said. "Patrons love (the festival) because it is a family event with quality artists."

Art & Apples is the second largest art show in Michigan. Held, as always, on 30 rolling acres of Rochester Municipal Park, the festival, again sponsored by National City, has been ranked in the top 30 by Sunshine Artist magazine's 200 Best Festivals in the Country.

Please see APPLES, D4

Bob Daily of Rochester Hills has mastered the art of lathe-turned wood and creates beautifully-sculpted pieces like this vessel made of redwood. He will be featured at Art & Apples this weekend in Rochester Municipal Park.

Troy Artist Donna Beaubien fashions stunning collages out of her own handmade paper designs. See more of her work at Art & Apples Sept. 5-7 in Rochester.

ART & APPLES

IN BRIEF

LET'S GO DALLYING

DETROIT — Hipsters and urban artists call it the coolest Detroit festival of the year. It's Dally in the Alley set for Saturday, Sept. 6, from noon to midnight. If it rains, it will be held on Sunday.

This year the festival's theme is "We Ain't Young Anymore," as it celebrates its 31st year.

Artist Mark Arminski of Detroit is curating an exhibit there that will feature artists from the historic and uber hip Russell Industrial Center.

At Dally, every worker is a volunteer.

Even the musicians volunteer their artform for the sole purpose of creating something cool, pushing boundaries, and adding to the edgy, atmospheric event.

Bands worth seeing include Pathe Jassi World Music Experience. Jassi is from Senegal and plays some of the best bass guitar in the city.

Women on Wax includes great electronic music by Dj Minx, Jennifer Xerri and Diviniti.

The Dally is located between Forest and Hancock and bordered by Second and Third, near the Wayne State University area. It also boasts organic food, no corporate sponsorship, great music, political vendors (expand your mind), nonprofit vendors (get involved to change the world), performance art and a lot more.

W. Bloomfield native premieres film, assists local charity

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
O&E STAFF WRITER

Sam Logan Khaleghi spent two years of his life crafting the crime drama Love is a Thieves Game. The West Bloomfield resident will premiere his independent film next week in Farmington Hills. "I wrote it, directed it, produced it and, I did not intend to star in it, but it happened," he said during a recent interview in Birmingham.

In the film, Khaleghi portrays Lincoln, a drifter who's set out to solve the murder of a father he never knew. His quest leads him into dangerous territory when he meets and falls in love with Allie (Kristen Pickthall), a beautiful thief, and when his undercover work with a police lieutenant (Jason Waugh) leads to some unexpected clues. The film also stars Rocky Black (8 Mile, Till Death).

Khaleghi said the style of the movie was influenced by the European New Wave of the '60s and '70s. "It's very much a personal story," he said, adding that the character-driven drama doesn't follow a typical three-act structure. "Stylistically," he said, "it's like poetry."

CAUSE AND EFFECT

The red carpet premiere event, set for Sept. 12, will double as a fund-raiser for the nonprofit Furniture Bank of Oakland County. Khaleghi became acquainted with the Pontiac-based organization when Director Colette Kelly was in need of public service announcements to spread the word about their mission — to provide furniture and home goods free of charge to those in need, from the homeless to those who have lost their belongings in a house fire.

"We're happy to be a part of this," said Kelly. "We've never done anything like it before. It should be fun for everyone. It's not every day that Hollywood comes to Michigan."

Khaleghi said he was so touched by the stories he encountered while working on the PSAs for the Furniture Bank, he wanted to do more to help raise awareness about it. The organization aids more than 2,400 families in Oakland County each year. At the event patrons can sign up to learn more or to donate gently-used furniture, and have it picked up at no charge.

Sam Logan Khaleghi and Kristen Pickthall star in "Love is a Thieves Game," premiering at 7 p.m. Friday Sept. 12, at the Smith Theatre on Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus, 27055 Orchard Lake Road, in Farmington Hills.

Writer-Director-Actor Sam Logan Khaleghi of West Bloomfield shot a portion of his film "Love is a Thieves Game" on location in Germany.

Of the event, Kelly said, "it's been a good fit all around."

FINDING HIS PLACE

As far back as he could recall, Khaleghi wanted to try everything. But, he claims, he's "found his place behind the camera." He discovered filmmaking as a way to embrace a subject and make it your own. A graduate of the University of Michigan-Dearborn and West

Bloomfield High School, he is a longtime friend of actor-comedian Brandon T. Jackson. The fellow West Bloomfield High alumnus currently stars in Ben Stiller's comedy Tropic Thunder. Back in high school, Khaleghi noted, they were known for their "crazy antics."

Kevin Walsh, a video production teacher, can attest to that. He recalls having Khaleghi and

Jackson in his first class at the school. "From my first day Sam's curiosity, determination and sense of humor made him a force to be reckoned with," said Walsh. "He and Brandon worked well together over the next two years and produced some hilarious videos for themselves as well as projects for the school's annual student talent show."

Jackson still collaborates with Khaleghi. They worked together, along with Rochester Hills-bred actress Jana Kramer (Prom Night, the series Friday Night Lights) on Khaleghi's film Approaching Midnight, which is due out next year. Since making that movie, both Kramer and Jackson have appeared in number one box-office movies.

Khaleghi jokes that he's falling behind compared to his contemporaries. But Walsh said: "He's got the rare combination of sensitivity, determination and thick skin you have to have in the entertainment business. I've been very impressed over the last six years just to follow his hard work at making an in-road to Hollywood."

Khaleghi travels back and forth between West Bloomfield and Los Angeles — but he began filming in Michigan and embracing his hometown surroundings long before last April's state tax incentives began to draw large studio productions into the state.

In the middle of filming Love is a Thieves Game, Khaleghi had to put his production on hold.

He was accepted into a program at the prestigious Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London, with such notable graduates as Ewan McGregor (Star Wars) and the new "James Bond" Daniel Craig. He spent the summer of 2007 studying Shakespeare and contemporary theater — ultimately his time overseas influenced the film.

In addition to its Hamlet-like undertones, scenes in Love is a Thieves Game were shot in Cologne, Germany. But Khaleghi never lost sight of his intention, to spotlight Detroit. "The city is very rich in culture and it's colorful," he said. "It never really came up — not to do it here."

Khaleghi returned to the states just in time to sign on as a producer on the seasonal finale of the MTV show Made, which was filmed in metro Detroit and Windsor. And he auditioned and earned a scene opposite Sigourney Weaver in the upcoming Lifetime movie Prayers for Bobby, which was shot around Royal Oak earlier this summer. From here on out, he plans to continue on with filmmaking and experiment in various genres, he said.

Rochester Hills' own Bob Daily brings his wood-turning abilities to Art & Apples

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
O&E STAFF WRITER

While Bob Daily currently whittles away time working in his Rochester Hills home studio, the experienced woodturning artist traces his skills back to the Pennsylvania farm where he grew up. Daily learned the art form from his father, as they used a hand-built lathe to transform timber into walnut plates for their church. Honing his craft over the years, Daily now fashions everything from decorative platters to stunning vases out of wood.

He'll be among the 270 artists featured in this weekend's Art & Apples festival in his hometown. Perhaps the most intriguing aspect of his designs involves the way Daily incorporates the raw material's irregularities into his handmade one-of-a-kind functional and decorative works.

"As an artist, I find that it is rare to work with a material that is completely recyclable and sustainable," he said. "The irregular imperfections and inclusions found in wood are fascinating and they lend to the spontaneity of my tuning process."

Daily took a moment to share a bit more of his background and artistic experience with FILTER, prior to the festival. Here's what he had to say:

FILTER: How long have you been involved with this festival? What drew you to want to participate in it?

BD: Since moving to Rochester Hills in 1984, my family and I have attended Art & Apples every September enjoying the artwork, apple pies and the many festivities that it offers. In fact, for many years we sponsored a food booth for our daughter's Rochester Select Soccer Club team at the festival.

Upon taking early retirement from DuPont after a 38-year career, I decided to continue my woodturning full time, which offered an opportunity to participate in art shows and to display my work in galleries. During the past two years, I have been fortunate enough to have been accepted as an artist for the Art & Apples Festival, as well as several of the country's other more prestigious juried art shows. As a local resident, I consider Rochester Hills resident and Art & Apples artist Bob Daily is a self-taught wood-turner.

This black coil platter is made of cherry wood by Rochester Hills artist Bob Daily, who brings his work to Michigan's second-largest art fair this weekend.

my acceptance in this annual event an honor, as there are so many outstanding artists from all over the country participating as well.

FILTER: Tell me about your wood pieces. How many will you have at the fair?

BD: I offer both functional and decorative pieces made from reclaimed domestic hardwoods and other unique or exotic woods from around the world. I frequently try to incorporate natural inclusions as design elements. Each piece is unique and considered one-of-a-kind.

With a varied price point, I offer the following lathe-turned wood art: Bowls, bottle toppers, platters, cutting boards, vases, cheese trays, hollow vessels (and) gift items.

FILTER: Being a Rochester Hills resident, does this event have any specific meaning to you?

BD: As a Rochester Hills resident and an active volunteer throughout the greater Rochester community for the past 24 years, I have found that participating as an artist in the annual Art & Apples Festival also allows me to support the Paint Creek Center for the Arts as well. The festival weekend also offers an opportunity to reconnect each year with the residents and old friends who drop by to visit my booth.

APPLES

"With National City's returning support, we are able to focus on our overall goals of increasing both festival attendance and awareness of PCCA and the wonderful programs we offer throughout the year," said Suzanne Wiggins, executive director of Paint Creek Center for the Arts. "It is an honor to have the festival again recognized nationally, and we believe this year will be even better than the last!"

Art & Apples drew more than 110,000 patrons last year.

Karen Cuthbertson, special events and membership director for the PCCA, said expansion is the name of the game this September. And most of the additions will appeal to children and families.

Both the Kids Art Zone and Activity Zone will be expanded this year as the PCCA and Detroit Institute of Arts will offer artist demonstrations and make-and-take art projects on the grounds. The life-sized art maze has grown — and will be constructed out of fabric rather than hay this year. Children will be encouraged to match puzzle pieces with famous works of art placed throughout the maze. Also new this year, Cuthbertson said, is the addition of the Rochester Youth Soccer League. They'll be organizing activities, and hosting soccer drills and teaching skills.

The Detroit Pistons will bring along their Truck Hoop Tour filled with memorabilia and to give kids a chance to play basketball. And The Henry Ford will, for the second year, open the doors to its Ford Rouge Factory Tour so visitors can experience the assembly line life. Skate board fanatics can pay admission to try a custom-made skate ramp courtesy of South Street Skate Park, where half the proceeds benefit the PCCA.

And FANUK Robotics will join the fray with an apple-picking robot.

"Our activities have gotten bigger and better," said Cuthbertson. "We're gearing everything toward families and art enthusiasts."

Art remains at the center of the festival, and this year more than 270 artists will showcase their works in an array of media, including textiles, watercolor, wood-working, glassblowing, pottery, jewelry and more.

Beaubien's work is centered around her own hand-made paper. She fashions sheets of paper and textured paper straight from pulp and then paints it, marbles it or transforms it into a collage. "Some pieces are left as paintings," she said. The finished product is elegant, abstract and a festival mainstay.

Art & Apples will also offer three stages of entertainment — lasting from 4 p.m. Friday to 4 p.m. Sunday. The Chrysler Foundation Main Stage will host national acts, including The Red Handed, The Klezmaniacs, and Rock Bottom, local favorites like Hubbell Street Jazz and Rochester's own Paul Green School of Rock, as well as dancers from Deborah's Stage Door, area gymnasts, and performances by all three Rochester area high school bands.

And don't forget the apples. For the second year, Art & Apples will include an apple pie baking contest, set for 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 6. The winner will receive a one-of-a-kind pie dish and publicity, while bake off contestants and patrons alike will be able to purchase slices of contest pies for $2 each, and proceeds will benefit Paint Creek Center for the Arts.

End of summer means: pasta sauce – with fresh tomatoes

BY LANA MINI
O&E STAFF WRITER

The tomatoes are ripe!

Fresh, fragrant tomatoes are great when sliced and mixed in a simple salad with basil and cucumbers all grown in your garden. Top with vinegar and oil.

If you're like me, you grow so many tomatoes that you give them away. But, you can keep them to yourself by making big portions of fresh tomato sauce for spaghetti. Freeze it for winter months. Below is the tomato sauce recipe my family has used for generations. It comes from Carini, Sicily. We don't use sugar, ever.

If you didn't grow tomatoes, but now have a hankering for a bowl of spaghetti, here are some favorite restaurants with good sauce.

We couldn't include every great Italian restaurant because metro-Detroit is graced with many.

Some restaurants serve tomato-basil sauce, which is smooth. Others offer marinara, a chunkier sauce. Arrabiata is chunky with red pepper flakes and often hot banana peppers.

DUE VENTI

It just opened this month and focuses strictly on Northern Italian cuisine. The owners say they stew the sauce for hours, which is exciting. See the next issue of Filter for more details. Open for dinner only. In Clawson at 220 S. Main St. in the former Bel Cibo marketplace.

VILLA AMANTEA RESTAURANT

A very good tomato basil-sauce. And Lambrusco is available, which to some people is very pedestrian, but to a first-generation Sicilian like me, this is a good thing.

32777 Warren Road, Garden City, (734) 421-1510, www.amantea.com.

AMICI'S PIZZA

It's the first truly green restaurant in Michigan! Everything is recyclable. Try their fine sauce served over lasagne; it's hard to find a good restaurant lasagne. Amici's gives the choice of vegetarian or meat lasagne, both with fresh Roma tomatoes. (And of course that pizza is amazing.) 3249 W. 12 Mile Road, Berkley, (248) 544-4100, www.amicispizza.com.

ANDIAMO ITALIAN WEST

They have one of the best fresh minestrone soups around and at all locations you can get a spaghetti with a choice of meat, tomato, tomato basil, marinara, Arrabiata or Palamina sauce. Locations: Livonia, Rochester, Royal Oak, Novi and Bloomfield Hills. For details visit www.andiamoitalia.com/.

BACCO RESTAURANT

I love that people dress well to come here on a weekend night. The salads have interesting items like olive tapanade with arugula and fresh golden beets. Try the gnocci with zucchini. The tomato sauce is wonderfully simple: tomato and basil — the way it should be.

29410 Northwestern Hwy., Southfield, (248) 358-0344, www.baccoristorante.com.

BISTECCA ITALIAN GRILLE

The piano bar is romantic but I like it here at lunchtime for the gnocci primavera with marinara and fresh veggies. 39405 Plymouth Road, Plymouth, (734) 254-0400, www.labistecca.net.

BUCA DI BEPPO

A lot of people are against chains and franchises, but good food is good food. I love Buca di Beppo. My dad, from Sicily, loves Buca — which means "Joe's Basement." The portions are huge. The quality is great. They make a good pasta with tomato sauce. And ... if you look around you'll see my pappy's photo hanging on the Buca walls — as seen here with his sister taken decades ago. Locations at 270 North Old Woodward, Birmingham (248) 540-9483 and 38888 Six Mile Road, Livonia, (734) 462-6442, www.bucadibeppo.com/.

COMPARI'S

It has a fun patio bar, so dine outside while summer's still here. The ambiance is relaxed. The Bruschetta is great with fresh diced tomatoes, lots of garlic and olive oil. Try the old-fashioned spaghetti with marinara served with family-style salad — meaning one big bowl for the whole table. 50 S. Main, Plymouth, (734) 416-0100, www.comparisdining.com.

MARIO'S DETROIT

Not to be confused with Eastside Mario's, the Detroit location has been around since 1948. It's a fine supper club where people make dining an entire night out. There's often live entertainment. Their fettuccini is homemade along with the slow-cooked tomato-basil sauce. Locations: 4222 Second Ave., Detroit, (313) 832-1616 and 1477 John R Road, Troy, (248) 588-6000, www.mariosdetroit.com.

LARCO'S ITALIAN GRILL

There are two locations, Troy and West Bloomfield, and I visit the latter. It's fun here at Happy Hour, Mondays through Fridays from 4 to 8 p.m., where a bowl of pasta is just $7. Choices include pomodoro sauce with fresh plum tomatoes, garlic and fresh basil; marinara with fresh plum tomatoes, herbs and spices, plus many more. Locations: 6480 Orchard Lake Road, West Bloomfield, (248) 626-6969 and 645 E. Big Beaver Road, Troy, (248) 680-0066, www.larcositalian.com.

PICANO'S

I love how old-fashioned Picano's feels. I love when the musicians take a break and chit-chat with patrons about the food. I like the "pasta your way" because here they accommodate. Nine different sauces to choose from including the basilica with fresh tomato and basil sauce or the marinara with capers. 3775 Rochester Road, Troy, (248) 689-8050, www.picanos.com.

CAFE CORTINA

The family-owned business has its own garden. Here you can have a meal with fresh rapini, arugula, basil, eggplant, swiss chard, peppers and yes, tomatoes. If you must buy sauce in a jar, buy it from Cafe Cortina (you can order from the Web site). The restaurant itself is lovely with brick walls and white linen tablecloths. 30715 W. 10 Mile Road, Farmington Hills, (248) 474-3033, www.cafecortina.com.

AND MY CO-WORKERS RECOMMEND:

Rose's Restaurant: A family restaurant that is loved by locals. 201 N Canton Center Road, Canton, (734) 981-9904

Palermo's Restaurant: You can get broccoli and garlic on your pizza along with the standard toppings. But do try the potato gnocchi with marinara. 44938 Ford Road, Roman Forum (734) 981-2030; 41601 Ford Road, Canton, www.palermopizzazacanton.com

DeLuca's Restaurant: Managing Editor Joe Bauman says the pizza is "to die for." Others recommend the homemade ravioli and gnocci with portobello sauce. 27427 Warren Road, Westland, (734) 422-8900, http://www.delucas.us/.

Mamma Mia: Locals come here over and over again for years. 19385 Beech Daly Road, Redford, (313) 537-0740

MY SICILIAN TOMATO SAUCE

This recipe can be doubled if you want to serve four and give an option for a second helping. Or quadruple the recipe and freeze it.

5 tablespoons olive oil
1 large onion, chopped
4-6 cloves garlic, crushed (I use six)
2 pounds fresh tomatoes, crushed (you can chop them and squeeze with your hands, or press down on them with a spoon in a deep bowl to prevent spatters)

1 (6 ounce) can tomato paste (I prefer Contadina)

2 cans of water using the can from the tomato paste

8 leaves fresh basil leaves

1 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon fresh ground black pepper

Note:

For every pound of fresh tomatoes required, substitute one 14.5-ounce can of drained diced tomatoes. About six medium Roma (plum) tomatoes equals one pound; an average beef-steak tomato weighs 8 ounces.

Directions:

In a large saucepan over medium-high heat, saute onions for five minutes. Then add garlic and saute until onions are clear (about 10 to 15 minutes, careful not to burn garlic). Add the crushed tomatoes, water, tomato paste, garlic, salt and pepper. Let the sauce come to a boil, lower heat to LOW where there is just an occasional bubble. Add the basil. Stir occasionally until desired thickness. If you are using fresh tomatoes, you don't need to cook for more than an hour or else you will lose the fresh tomato taste. If you choose to use canned sauce, I cook it for two to three hours.

Serve over spaghetti (long) pasta noodles.

Southfield native launches national handbag line

BY WENDSY VON BUSKIRK
& E STAFF WRITER

Jennifer Loren isn't concerned with making money, as long as she can make what she loves.

The Southfield High School graduate, who now lives in Los Angeles, is the fashionista behind Gabriella Giovanni, an upscale line of handbags and belts.

Loren recently unveiled her 2008 Fall collection, which includes nine styles of clutches, hobos and satchels in luxury leathers and skins, along with four '80s-inspired belts.

"The inspiration for this collection is round edges, circular shapes, it's kind of like Xanadu meets Art Deco," said Loren, 38.

Loren grew up in Ann Arbor, but when her parents got divorced she moved with her mom to California when she was six years old.

Shuttling between her mother and father, she returned to Michigan and graduated from Southfield High School, then got a degree from the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising in L.A., followed by a bachelor's in journalism and public relations from Wayne State University in Detroit in 1993.

Her successful career in public relations and advertising has included clients like the NBA, Limited Too, Guess, Nickelodeon and MTV.

Loren even worked for a while in publishing, helping fashion professors write hooks on their curriculum which she sold to fashion schools.

Loren is now using her PR skills to promote her own company.

"It was one of those things where it was a burning desire that never went away, to design," Loren said. "PR and fashion are very much related. A lot of what makes a label a label is the PR function behind it."

Pieces from Loren's 2008 collection have appeared in InStyle magazine, as well as the LuckyBag Guide.

She sells her wares through sample sales, high-end boutiques and Web sites.

So far, Loren has manufactured everything in L.A., but recently set her sights on a factory in Costa Rica. In 2009 she hopes to introduce shoes.

Although sales in the luxury market have slowed recently, Loren wouldn't change a thing. "It's something that if I never recover all the
