Mayor takes his 'gathering' to Tattan Park

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Nearly 1,000 people showed up the last time Westland Mayor William Wild invited residents to a local park for an old-fashioned barbecue, children's activities and a chance to learn about important city

The late-August gathering in Corrado Park exceeded expectations and forced city leaders to scramble to try and buy enough hot dogs to feed an enthusiastic crowd.

"We were pleasantly surprised by the overwhelming presence of nearby residents who came out to take part in our first gathering," Wild said.

With residents clearly embracing the concept, Wild has announced that the second in a series of outdoor gatherings has been scheduled for 5:30-7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 23 - this time at Tattan Park on Carlson south of Ford, not far from Westland City Hall.

Deputy Mayor Courtney Conover has issued a statement indicating that Tattan Park "will be transformed into a bustling landscape with plenty of games and activities for children, including safety demonstrations by the Westland police and fire departments, inflatable bouncers and much more.

The gathering, which is free, is intended to draw together residents and city leaders in a relaxed, informal setting.

The Tattan Park site will allow officials to reveal the area where a new, 25,000square-foot play structure - dubbed Play Planet because of its outer-space theme - is expected to be built in late October with help from community volunteers. In fact, those who want to help may sign up during the gathering.

The get-together also will give residents a chance to hear more about the city's hopes for starting to remediate the east end of nearby Central City Park with soccer fields and other amenities.

sign up for the Wild administration's Mission Green effort, aimed at making the city more environmentally friendly though a wide array of initiatives. With the earlier Corrado Park gathering in mind, Wild said, "we aim to create the same inviting atmosphere at Tattan Park - an evening the entire family will enjoy."

Richard Ward of Westland fills his Saturn with gas at the Mobil station at the corner of Ford and Wayne Road where gas sold for $3.54 per gallon as part of a Co-Op Services Credit Union gas give-away.

Drivers line up for gas 'giveaway'

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Retired toolmaker Richard Ward, 83, was first in line at one gas pump when the Mobil station at Ford and Wayne dropped its prices by 25 cents Thursday morning, selling a gallon of regular for $3.549.

"I appreciate it," Ward, a World War II veteran and Westland resident, said just before he put $31.01 in the tank of his 2002 Saturn.

"Five dollars seemed like a lot of money when I was saving for my retirement. Now I can't hardly buy a gallon of gas with it." Ward conceded he has had to cut back on his spending as prices have shot up for everything from gas to groceries, and he said he has "election dilemma" about whether Democratic presidential candidate Barack Obama or Republican John McCain would be best suited to fix the Customers could buy up to 30

"It gives me some hope," he

Ward and other motorists quickly lined up Thursday morning as the Mobil station, starting at 11 a.m., teamed up with the Livonia-based Co-op Services Credit Union to slash gas prices for the first 4,000 gallons sold.

The credit union shelled out $1,000 to cover Thursday's gas discounts - one of six "gas giveaway" events in southeast Michigan communities the financial institution serves.

"We just want to give something back to the community," Co-op Services Credit Union marketing coordinator Bryan Feldpausch said

Doo-Dahs get ready for baseball rematch

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It's time for revenge with baseball bats.

Relax. It's not nearly as threatening as it sounds. Nobody's gonna get hurt. Well, maybe someone's pride.

A fledgling Westland baseball team called the Zipa-Dee-Doo-Dahs will have a rematch this year against Greenfield Village's historic Lah-de-Dahs.

Forget Westland's crushing 24-8 loss last year during a baseball game using 1867 rules outlined by Henry Chadwick in Haney's Baseball Book of Reference.

For the record, that means no spitting, no gloves, only underhand pitching and courteous players who "abstain from profanity and its twin and vile brother, obscenity."

Dang it! It's all in fun, though, as the two teams face off at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28, in Jaycee Park at Hunter and Wildwood for a game that's free to the public. "We're going to try and win this year," Westland Parks and Recreation Director

Robert Kosowski said. Then, suddenly, he seemed a little cockier. "We're going to even the series this year."

Late in the week, the Lahde-Dahs couldn't be reached for comment. A woman who answered the telephone at Greenfield Village said no one from the team would be in until Monday.

Likely story. Were they hiding from the Westland media? Or even worse, spending their time wisely practicing for another oldfashioned whipping against the hometown team?

Other than Kosowski, the local team is expected to include Mayor William Wild, Police Chief James Ridener and Fire Chief Michael Reddy, among others.

Ultimately, the winner of the game will be the Westland Historic Village Park. All money raised from the game, including a $50-per-player fee and concessions, will benefit the historic village on Wayne Road south of Marquette. It's open for public tours 1-4 p.m. Saturdays. Call (734) 326-1110.

After Westland's team lost last year, Mayor Wild had declared that a rematch this year would "give us a chance to practice a little bit."

With last year's 24-8 score, let's hope they practiced a lot.

Woman charged in late-night home invasions

BY TIFFANY L. PARKS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Becky Sue Malmsten, 49, of Westland has been charged in connection with approximately 10 late-night home invasions in Police believe that a person has been driving through township neighborhoods after dark looking for homes with open garage doors. Once such a bome was discovered, Canton Sgt. Rick Pomorski said the thief would pull into the residence's driveway, enter the garage and then enter the home.

Pomorski said there has been no indication that the thief was ever confronted by a homeowner.

Members of the Western Wayne Community Response Team arrested Malmsten early Wednesday morning in the Westland area and she was arraigned Thursday in 35th District Court on charges of home invasion, a 20-year felony and larceny from a building, a 4-year felony. Malmsten is also facing a charge of being a habitual fourth offender, which is punishable by up to life in prison.

In 1992, Malmsten was released from prison after she pleaded guilty to possessing more than 25 grams of cocaine and receiving stolen property. In January 2007, Malmsten's probation from a larceny charge ended. In February 2008, the Westland woman wrapped up another probation period stemming from a larceny charge.

In the latest string of robberies, Malmsten was identified after a vehicle she was driving was captured on gas station surveillance films. Malmsten's bond was set at $25,000 cash and her preliminary examination is scheduled for Friday in 35th District Court.

Garden City band aims to win FOX Rocks contest

BY SUE MASON OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

For Bob Couch, being the opening act for Lynyrd Skynyrd at the DTE Energy Music Theater Sept. 21 would be a dream come true.

And it could happen if his band, AYNTELLYN (pronounced Ain't Tellin), gets the votes to win the FOX Rocks contest.

"It would mean the world to me," said the Westland resident. "My pop would be looking down on me, he'd be given me two thumbs up.

"We'd love to play DTE," added bandmate Gary Modlinski of Garden City, better known as Mod. "Bill has inspired us, he's made us go the extra mile."

The band includes Couch, the lead guitarist, Modlinski, who plays bass, rhythm and lead guitarist Ara Kach of Wyandotte, drummer Gary Ball of Garden City and lead singer Dino Johnson of Dearborn. The band is one of four finalists in the contest being sponsored by FOX 2. DTE Energy Music Theater

PICK THE WINNER

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, September 14, 2008

You can see portions of today's live performances by AYNTELLYN, GBMI, The Pony Express and Helicon - online at www.mvF0XDetroit.com beginning Monday, Sept. 15.

The online voting starts Monday and runs through 11:59 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18. Voting will be limited to one vote per e-mail address per hour. Voting must be manual. No bots or other automated voting is

The grand prize winner will share the stage with Lynyrd Skynyrd on Sunday, Sept. 21 at the DTE Energy Music Theater. That band also will perform live on FOX 2 News Weekend and receive 20 tickets to the concert.

You can also get more information about AYNTELLYN on their Web site at www.myspace.

and the Metro Music Expo. The grand prize winner will be the opening act for Lynyrd Skynyrd at the DTE theater.

Some 80 bands submitted a photo and original song for the contest and an online vote narrowed the field to the four finalists - AYNTELLYN, GBMI, The Pony Express and Helicon. Those four bands are performing live 15-20minute sets, beginning at noon today (Sept. 14), at the Metro Music Expo at the Rock Financial Showplace in Novi. AYNTELLYN will take to the stage at 1:15 p.m.

One song by each band will be videotaped and put on the FOX 2 Web site where people will have from Monday, Sept. 15, through Thursday, Sept. 18, to vote for their favorite band.

The band is leaving nothing to chance and is sticking with its signature song, AYNTELLYN, with words by Modlinski with music by Couch, for the video.

"If it ain't broke, no reason to fix it," said Modlinski about sticking with the song. "It's the one we used for the CD and it worked."

This is the first time the contest. Modlinski submit the photograph of the band and CD just two days before the Aug. 14 deadline.

"It was like what the heck, let's enter, and if it works out, we'll be playing for Lynyrd Skynyrd," said Modlinski. "That's what we started with. We love to play that stuff."

In fact, Couch and Modlinski describe the band's music as rock'n'roll with a southern rock influence, a sort of "Aerosmith meets Lynyrd Skynyrd."

"I was learning Lynyrd Skynyrd's music when their plane went down in 1977," said Couch. "It broke my heart." The band wants to win the contest for Couch who has been diagnosed with level 4 glioblastoma. He is now undergoing radiation and chemotherapy after doctors removed a cancerous tumor the size of a tennis ball from his brain last month.

"I'm writing better than ever and playing better than ever and I've only been out of the hospital a month," Couch said with a laugh. "The doctor band has entered a FOX Rocks thinks I'm a miracle because

Members of AYNTELLYN include lead guitarist Bill Couch of Westland, bass player Gary Modlinski of Garden City, rhythm and lead guitarist Ara Kach of Wyandotte, drummer Gary Ball of Garden City and lead singer Dino Johnson of Dearborn.

I wanted to leave the hospital the day after surgery, but I couldn't because I had these tubes hanging out of my head."

Even though he is battling cancer, Couch says he and his band mates are ready to "walk out on the stage, do the job and walk off." He's hoping it's good enough to make his dream come true.

"I saw a shooting star the other night and when you see one, you're suppose to make a wish," he said. "I did."

Modlinski believes the contest and the chance to open up for Lynyrd Skynyrd has helped his friend, it has given him something to look forward to.

" I don't know how long he has to live, but this has helped," he said. "And winning would be absolutely huge.'

Police catch robbery suspect in Dearborn

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A man suspected of robbing a bank branch on Westland's southeast side was in custody Friday in Dearborn following a similar incident in that city, police said.

The suspect was captured after a white male wearing a hoodie and sunglasses robbed the Best Bank branch inside the Kroger store near the northeast corner of Michigan Avenue and Merriman Road, police Lt. Dan Karrick said.

The incident happened shortly before 3:30 p.m. Thursday, and the man was captured several hours later following a similar incident inside a Kroger store in Dearborn, Karrick said.

A man went inside the Westland store, handed a note to a bank teller and ordered her to "put all the money in a bag," Karrick said. "He insinuated he had a weapon," the lieutenant said. "The teller gave him the money, and he ran out the door."

No shots were fired and no one was injured. The man escaped with an undisclosed amount of money, but Karrick said it was believed most of the cash was retrieved.

The suspect fled the Westland scene on foot and was sought for several hours before authorities captured him in Dearborn.

The suspect was likely facing charges of bank robbery in Westland.

Cafe brings Mideast flavor to mall

Feras Ghader, 33, has owned the Mrs. Fields cookie franchise in Westland Shopping Center for four years.

"Everybody asks for new food," said Ghader, who has opened his Mid East Cafe in the mall at Wayne and Warren roads late last year. "I know everybody loves Middle Eastern food."

The Dearborn Heights resident was enjoying some tasty fare on a recent Friday night at his Mid East Cafe, which is in a short hallway near Subway, in the mall area by Macy's. In the Muslim observance of Ramadan, it is customary to fast until sundown, so Ghader was having his evening meal.

"I'm Lebanese," he said. "We have great food."

He pointed to the menu's hommous, tabbouli salad, shish kebab, chicken shawarma and other favorites. The current slow economy has affected business at the eatery, but he gets a lot of repeat business

Center Medical Weight Loss is the first national network of physicians to bring trained medical expertise to the field of weight loss. Founded in 2002 by Dr. Michael S. Kaplan, a specialist in bariatric medicine, the center offers patients a long-term weight-loss approach managed with the full support of certified medical professionals.

According to Dr. Kaplan, "Treating people with weight problems isn't simply a matter of telling them to eat less and exercise more," he says. His research found that a central factor is addiction - to food - and an unhealthy pattern of eating. His primary approach, therefore, is to break food addictions and help patients reach a safe and healthy target weight quickly. Most importantly, the center's program teaches patients how to maintain their weight loss permanently.

"Unlike many consumer weight-loss programs whose staff requires no medical knowledge or training, The Center for Medical Weight Loss' physicians are certified professionals, notes Dr. Kaplan. "They fully understand the complex factors that are related to weight gain such as individual psychology and

Cox issues warning on auction rate securities

Attorney General Mike Cox recently issued a warning for Michigan investors who have purchased an investment product known as Auction Rate Securities (ARS) and are unable to fully access their funds. Cox began investigating ARS investments in May 2008 after receiving complaints from consumers.

"Investors need to have confidence in our financial system, and that includes providing promised liquidity to consumers who purchased Auction Rate Securities," said Cox. "I am committed to protecting Michigan citizens from losing their hard-earned money. Today's announcement serves as an alert to Michigan citizens who may have invested in Auction Rate Securities to contact the Office of Financial and Insurance Regulation if they believe their investment was misrepresented to them." The sales practices related to ARS securities are currently the focus of a multistate task force that includes Michigan. The investigation into ARS practices is continuing and has already yielded numerous nationwide settlements with broker-dealers, including: Merrill Lynch; Morgan Stanley; UBS; JP Morgan Chase; Citigroup; and,

Wachovia Securities. Cox urges any investors who have purchased ARS securities from any source to contact the Office of Financial and Insurance Regulation (OFIR) to register their complaint. OFIR, by statute, is the securities regulator for the State of Michigan, and is working in conjunction with the Attorney General's office on resolving this issue. OFIR will share all complaints with the Attorney General's office, and forward complaints-to the North American Securities Administration Association (NASAA). OFIR may be contacted by calling michigan.gov/ofir.

(877) 999-6442 or visiting www.

Earlier this year, the ARS market experienced numerous failures and collapsed. The market failure prevented investors who had purchased ARS securities from accessing their funds. Since the ARS failures, the Attorney General's office has received numerous complaints from investors. In many cases, investors have complained that they were misled about the nature of ARS securities, and not provided with relevant information. In particular, many investors report that they were informed that ARS securities were a liquid "money market" type investment that was suitable for such things as short-term cash reserves. These investors often purchased ARS securities with short-term cash funds, which then could not be accessed.

Body shop on wheels

Business fixes auto dings, dents, scratches at your home or work

BY KURT KUBAN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

At one time or another most drivers have gotten into a little fender bender, backed into a fence post or had something else occur that did body damage to their automobile. Getting the ding, dent or scratch repaired can sometimes be an inconvenience, because the car must be dropped off at a body shop and can sometimes take days to get back.

There is an alternative. Collision on Wheels brings the body shop to you. The company can fix dents, scratches and make minor collision repairs right in your own driveway.

"Instead of having your car in a body shop for four or five days, we'll come out and be done in 3-4 hours," said Jeff Olle, a former Canton resident, who is a regional operations director with the company. "We do football-size dents or smaller, and we can fix 2-3 panels of a car at one time."

The company also replaces mirrors, fenders, and headlights, but they don't do any repairs on hoods or roofs.

Louis Mancina and John Maio founded the Warrenbased company in 1987. Since then it has grown dramatically and there are now 45 franchise locations spread throughout 29 states, including one that services western Wayne County, including Canton, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Westland, and is managed by Rob White. He can be contacted at (866) 402-DENT.

According to Olle, another advantage of using Collision on Wheels is that they can also come to your business, and do the repair work while you work.

"That's so they don't have

Jeff Olle, a 1988 Salem High graduate and former Canton resident, is regional operations director for Collision on Wheels.

Lennie Rutkowski, who grew up in Garden City, works on the bumper of a Saturn under one of the inflatable garages that Collision on Wheels takes on the road.

to take a day off work – the boss appreciates that," said Olle, who is a 1988 Salem High graduate. "We're not necessarily cheaper than a body shop. But our biggest advantage is time, no doubt about it. And you don't need to get a rental car."

Olle says poor weather or paint over spray are never problems because the company brings out an inflatable garage and does all the work under its protective surroundings.

According to Lenny Rutkowski, a technical manager, the company also specializes in doing work on lease vehicles that need to be turned in, and might have the kind of blemishes that the car companies will charge for.

"We know what the lease companies are looking for – what you can get away with, what you can't get away with," said Rutkowski, who grew up in Garden City and formerly owned Lenny's Body Shop in Redford for 23 years.

All work performed by Collision on Wheels has a lifetime warranty. For more information about the company, visit www.collisiononwheels. com or call (866) 402-DENT.

Greenpeace: Where green living started

On Sept. 15, 1971, 12 Canadian members of the newly formed organization Greenpeace set sail in an effort to stop the U.S. from setting off a nuclear bomb on a small island in the Pacific Ocean near the Arctic Circle by anchoring their boat in the testing zone.

The bitter cold and dwindling food supplies forced them to turn back, but thanks to the daily reports sent to newspapers and radio stations, by the time they returned home (unsuccessfully, they thought) public sympathy had enabled money to be collected for a better boat and 400 people had volunteered to be crew members.

The new boat was still 700 miles away from the test site when the U.S. detonated the bomb, but the public outcry was so huge that within three months the island was abandoned as a testing site and turned into a bird sanctuary. Now, more than 30 years later, Greenpeace has offices in more than 30 countries.

To find out more about one of the leading environmental protection agencies, read "The Greenpeace Story" by Michael Brown and John May. Younger readers may want to look at "Greenpeace" by Paul Brown. More information can also be found online at www.greenpeace.org.

For people looking to do more than read about Greenpeace and the environment, there are tons of books that can be found at the library. Among the newest additions are "Living like Ed" by Ed Begley Jr., "Endangered Earth" published by Scientific American, "True Green @ Work: 100 Ways you Can Make the Environment Your Business" and "Green Chic: Saving the Earth in Style."

Please come by the library for any of the books listed above or to see some of the other ones we have to offer. You might be surprised how easy it is to make a difference.

OCC conference focuses on AD/HD

The ninth annual Michael Golds Memorial Conference on Attention Deficit/ Hyperactivity Disorder (AD/ HD) is scheduled for Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Hills, from 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Friday, Sept. 26.

Keynote speaker will be Yvonne Pennington, Ph.D., speaking on "Raising Amazing Kids to Adulthood Even if One Has AD/HD". Her son Ty Pennington is the star of ABC's hit show "Extreme Makeover Home Edition".

The conference is designed for physicians, therapists, educators, social workers, students, adults with AD/HD and their family members.

Pennington will conduct a session entitled Unveiling the Underlying Issues of AD/HD and What to Do About Them.

The annual OCC event honors the memory of the late Michael Golds who struggled with AD/HD. He was academically successful for the first time upon enrolling at age 30 at Oakland Community College. Golds graduated with honors from Eastern Michigan University and was in his second year of graduate school in Florida when he died in a tragic accident.

His parents, Barbara and the late Jack Golds of West

Unicycle builder stands 'em tall

BY ALEX LUNDBERG OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Sem Abrahams was in his native Suriname reading a comic strip in which the main character couldn't afford a whole bicycle and bought a unicycle.

Abrahams never forgot that comic strip.

One day a few years later, he purchased one on a family trip to the Netherlands and taught himself how to ride.

"Afterward, my father decided to try building a taller one from a bicycle," Abrahams said. "A friend of ours noticed and said the record in the Guinness Book of World Records was 20 feet.

That was 1975 and Abrahams and his father agreed they could beat that record, so they started building one 25 feet tall. They were set to call the people at Guinness when they got a newer copy of the book and found out they were off the mark by more than 10 feet. It was back to the drawing board to create a 45-foot tall unicycle in 1976. In 2004, they decided to go for a record that would be extremely hard to beat.

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, September 14, 2008

That year, they rented the Pontiac Silverdome and Abrahams rode his 114.8-foot tall unicycle far enough Jan. 29, 2004, to prove he had it under control - 28 feet. The aluminum cycle was lashed together with steel wires for structural strength.

It's hard to say how much the cycle cost; the raw materials were somewhere in the $20,000 range, but the engineering work was done for free. The entire cost was underwritten by the crane company that made the guidewire system they used for safety.

Since that Silverdome appearance, the cycle sits in pieces in the Abrahamses' garage.

Although it sits dismantled, Sem Abrahams of Livonia holds the wheel that was used in the 114.8-foot unicycle he rode in 2004, setting the world record for tallest unicycle ever ridden.

"There's talk in Suriname about bringing it there for a public event," Abrahams said. There's also some talk about recreating the stunt in the Netherlands."

Dozens of bikes of all kinds also are inside the garage, including 1800s-era boneshakers to a monocycle - a onewheeled motorcycle where the driver sits within the wheel.

Sem, along with his wife, Teresa, started Semcycle out of their home. The business was started 25 years ago when it became easier to build unicycles to Sem's exacting specifications rather than try to purchase them from retailers. They're stronger, and rugged enough to use for mountain biking, Abrahams said.

But while tall unicycles thrill the people who compile world records, the big project at the Abrahams household is Cirque Amongus, the couple's educational enrichment busipeople," Teresa said. "We do everything from birthday parties to corporate functions.'

The couple will go to a school (or corporate retreat) for a whole day to teach circus skills like unicycle, juggling, magic, tight wire, stilts, etc. Participants learn a skill, practice it, and then participate in a circus at the end of the day complete with face painting and carnival music.

Quaker Growth Fund has more freedom than most

Rick Bloom

Q: Dear Rick: Have you ever heard of a fund called the Quaker Growth Fund? What do you think about it?

A: The Quaker Strategic

Growth Fund is known as a go anywhere fund. The portfolio manager has lots of flexibility in where he/she can invest

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, September 14, 2008

Most funds have a specific mandate as to how money must be invested. For example, a small company fund must invest within small companies.

The Quaker Strategic Growth Fund allows the portfolio manager to invest in any type of company. In addition, the portfolio manager can invest as much or as little as he/she wants in any sector of the economy, thus the funds management team tends to invest heavily in a few sectors. This fund is not as diversified as other funds because it is invested in fewer sectors than the typical fund and it holds a very limited number of stocks within its portfolio. The portfolio management team can also keep a substantial amount of money in cash. At the end of June, the portfolio had more than 20 percent cash in the portfolio.

The fund has had a very solid track record for the last 10 years. Because the fund has substantial turnover in its portfolio, I recommend purchasing it within an IRA portfolio. The reason is when a fund has substantial turnover there tends to be greater tax consequences. I should also note that the fund does have a 5.5 percent commission and has high management fees. However, even taking the fees into consideration, the fund has had very solid perfor-

Because of the way the fund is managed and the fact that it is not diversified, I recommend it for someone who wants to be moderately aggressive to aggressive and for a small portion of a port-

Q: Dear Rick: I have a revocable trust which names my three children as beneficiaries. All my assets are in my trust except for checking and savings accounts which are co-owned with my children. If one of my children gets divorced, can the exspouse sue for any of these assets?

A: The money in your revocable trust — at this point — is not at risk. Your children are the beneficiaries of the trust and have no ownership interest. Therefore, if one of your children gets divorced, their spouse would have no claim on the assets in your trust.

It is a different issue when it comes to the money in your checking and savings account. The money in your checking and saving account is in your name and in the name of your children. Therefore, if one of your children does get divorced, it is possible a portion of the money would be at

Although your argument would be you reported all the tax consequences on the money and your children's names were on the account for convenience purposes only, it is possible they could go after some of the money. It would be unusual, but not beyond the realm of possibil-

I recommend if you keep a substantial amount of money in your savings account, retitle the account into the name of your trust. By doing this, you would eliminate any possibility the money would be subject to any sort of divorce proceedings.

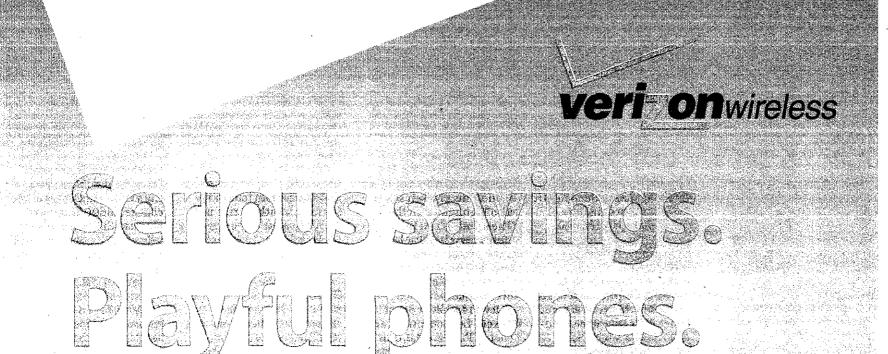

In addition, give your children the right, pursuant to a power of attorney, to access the checking account, but not as co-owners. There is a difference between being a coowner and being an additional signatory.

Q: Dear Rick: I read with interest your article in the Aug. 31 Observer & Eccentric regarding inheriting an IRA. If my IRA is all tax-deferred," will my heirs have to pay the deferred taxes when inheriting this money?

A: Yes, unless the money is a Roth IRA. When anyone inherits a traditional IRA, the money is subject to income taxes. You do not necessarily have to pay the taxes in one lump sum, as there are different methods a beneficiary could use to spread the tax out over a number of years. However, that money is subject to income taxes. The one exception is a Roth IRA. When you inherit a Roth IRA, there is no income tax.

OUR VIEWS

Have take-charge approach to numbers in local economy

The numbers should be of no surprise to anyone. Office and commercial vacancy rates in southeast Michigan are high and, in some cases, are expected to grow.

Even in Troy, where local officials dispute figures released by companies that track such things, the numbers are substantial. The office vacancy rate is 18.76 percent.

"That's huge," said Brian Murphy, Troy's assistant manager for economic development.

Also facing the impact of a tough economy is Livonia, where office vacancy rates are slated at 20-22 percent.

The impact of problems in the auto industry is hitting hard in both towns. Industrial vacancies are at a rate of 11.81 percent in Troy and 10 percent in Livonia.

They aren't alone. Southfield is reporting an overall vacancy rate of 18 percent and Farmington Hills a rate of 14.32 percent. But if you think it's just bigger cities made up of offices and industrial complexes that are having problems, you'd be wrong. The Rochester Downtown Development Authority is reporting an office vacancy rate of 11 percent and a retail rate of 8 percent. Even in Birmingham, the impact of the economy is being felt. The vacancy rate is reported currently at 5 percent, and expected to grow to 7-8 percent.

While that news, culled from different sources, appears to be a lot of doom and gloom, there is a hopeful story that goes beyond what the numbers seem to imply.

"A lot of vacancies are going up in key communities," said Dennis Toffolo, a deputy Oakland County executive. "But at the same time, we're finding a lot of investors are coming into the county and buying buildings."

Toffolo has some numbers of his own. He heads the county's Emerging Sectors program, which targets business in such areas as information technology, health care and alternative energy.

"We've had more activity in the last three months than in the past two years," he said. But his numbers also show that the highest vacancy rates are found in the small office building market.

There are some lessons to be learned in all of this. First, numbers are important, but they don't tell the whole story.

Second, if you build it, they — investors and industries — will come. That means some small office buildings and small industrial shops may have to be redeveloped.

Perhaps the most important lesson of all is that, if we want to improve the economy in Michigan, we'll have to do more than just look at numbers.

Culinary Extravaganza features area's best foods foods.

ince I've switched from editing Feature sections to the news sections of the Livonia and Redford Observer at the Observer ਈ Eccentric Newspapers, it's been an adjustment for me in getting used to new deadlines and new staff. It isn't a drastic one, because I worked in news for almost 15 years before going to Features.

One of

of working in the Features sections was covering the Culinary Extravaganza at Schoolcraft

College in Livonia. And now that I'm editing the news section for that community, I'd like to take the liberty to expand on that event. Now in its 17th year, its proceeds help support scholarships for Schoolcraft students. This year it is scheduled from 2-5 p.m. Sept. 28 at the VisTaTech Center.

The event represents a

Who's Who of the school's culinary graduates, some of the best chefs in metro Detroit.

Year after year Schoolcraft's culinary graduates return to "give something back" to the college to support scholarships. The graduates range from Steve Allen of Steve & Rocky's of Novi to Randy Emert of Great Oaks Country Club in Rochester. Chef Brian Polcyn, chef/owner of Five Lakes Grill in Milford and the recently opened Forest Grill in Birmingham and coauthor of Charcuterie, The Craft of Salting, Smoking and Curing, a James Beardnominated book, often presents some of that charcuterie namely his chicken sausage, also highlighted in the book. Then there's The Farm Restaurant in Port Austin, owned by certified master chef Jeff Gabriel, a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America, who along with

Kelli Lewton, owner and chef at Pure Food 2 U in Royal Oak and food instructor, is another graduate of the Cooking School in Royal Oak is led by Stacy Sloan, another graduate. Joe's Gourmet Catering & Events, an expanded operation at Joe's Produce in Livonia, has hired several Schoolcraft graduates in producing upscale carryout dinners, desserts and other

All of these restaurants, bakeries, catering services and carryouts will be presenting food at the extravaganza.

There are other fine restaurants at the event, too. Bacco Ristorante in Sonthfield will feature its fine Italian cooking, and LaBistecca Italian Grille in Livonia often serves its tremendous Piedmontese beef tenderloin (one of my favorites) with its rich peppery flavor at this event. Matt Prentice's No. VI Chop House in Novi and Zingerman's Bakehouse in Ann Arbor also are part of the star-studded lineup.

Polcyn teaches at Schoolcraft. Of course, American Harvest at Schoolcraft College, the restaurant where culinary students sharpen their knives and skills, will program. Holiday Catering & feature its usual lineup of fine pastries and entrees under the guidance of instructors like Shawn Loving, Marcus Haight, Joe Decker and Dan Hugelier.

Schoolcraft is a culinary cornerstone of the community and it is reflected in this star-studded lineup of food samplings. Where else can you go to sample these great culinary delicacies from restaurants and pastry shops? Beverages, including wines and beer, will be served (you must be 21 to attend.) It's a great event to taste great foods, and the money goes to a wonderful cause.

The 17th annual Culinary Extravaganza is scheduled from 2-5 p.m. Sept. 28 at the VisTaTech Center at the college, 18600 Haggerty, between Six Mile and Seven Mile roads. Tickets are $50. For more information, call (734) 462-4518 or visit www. schoolcraft.edu/foundation.

Trojans whack Harper Woods in Metro showdown

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Livonia Clarenceville passed its first real litmus test in the Metro Conference football race Friday, breaking away from a 14all first-quarter deadlock to beat host Harper Woods in a battle of unbeatens, 30-14.

Clarenceville, led by Levonte' Brooks' 164 yards rushing and three touchdowns, improves to 3-0 overall and 2-0 in the Metro. "It was a huge win for us," said Clarenceville coach Ryan Irish, whose team had 305 total yards. "The big thing coming off of last season is that we'd play a great half, but couldn't finish off the game. Tonight we kept coming and reacting, and did not flinch. We've come a long way in that category."

Brooks scored on a 6-yard TD run in the opening quarter, but Harper Woods' Terrance Hartfield counter with a 47-yard scoring run.

Quarterback Darryl Whitaker put the Trojans up 14-7 with a 1-yard TD run, but Hartfield returned the ensuing kick-off 60 yards for a score to make it 14-all.

"I was holding my breath every time he (Hartfield) touched the ball," Irish said.

In the second quarter, Clarenceville took control as Brooks scored on a 40-yard run and added a 43-yard TD with 36 seconds left in the half after Harper Woods was called for roughing the passer.

Clarenceville also made a key stop on fourth-and-4 at their own 15 during the second quar-

After a scoreless third period, Clarenceville fumbled at the Harper Woods 1, but came up with a two-point safety thanks to Anthony Page's sack.

Senior linebacker Jeremy Gainer led the Clarenceville defense with nine tackles, while Ben Watts added five, along with an interception in the final Branson Williams had a game-high 18 tackles for Harper Woods, now 2-1 overall and 1-1 in the Metro.

Clarenceville goes for four in a row Friday at home in a Metro Conference clash against Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest. Game time is 7 p.m.

"The next three weeks are going to be crucial," said, Irish, whose team is coming off a 1-8 season.

Rockets orbit past Churchill

Langford leads 26-0 win

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER SPORTS WRITER

After two weeks of frustration, Westland John Glenn got its offense untracked and gave new coach Tim Hardin his first win Friday night with a convincing 26-0 triumph over host Livonia Churchill.

The Rockets dominated from start-to-finish in the Kensington Lakes Activities Association-South Division opener by rolling up 411 yards rushing - led by Jeremy Langford's 183 yards on 26 carries.

The performance was a far cry from Glenn's season-opening losses to Waterford Mott and Pinckney where the Rockets could muster only a mere six points.

"It was not only the blocking, we did a lot of things better," Hardin said. "We're still a very, very young team, but things are starting to click. It's a brand new coach and it's taken awhile to where we need to go."

There were only a total of five series in the opening half - three by Glenn and two by

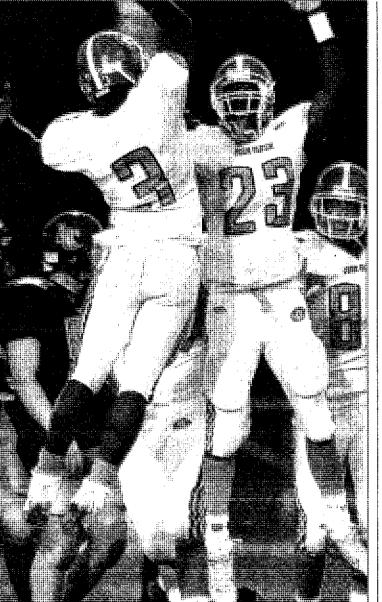

The Rockets took the ball from their own 20 and march to the Glenn 24, only to be stopped by a pair of costly penalties. Glenn's Kyle Merritt thwarted Churchill's first

Patriot 'picks' sparks 44-24 rout of Zebras

Livonia Franklin's high-powered offense continued its early-season assault with a 44-24 football win Friday night at Wayne Memorial in the Kensington Lakes Activities Association South Division opener for both teams.

The Patriots, now 2-1 overall and 1-0 in the KLAA-South, bolted to a 35-3 halftime lead and took advantage of four Wayne turnovers to keep the Zebras winless.

Franklin led 28-0 after one quarter with Chris VanTuyl scoring on a 13-yard run; Connor Leidal's 98-yard interception return; quarterback Mark McRobb's 22-yard run (followed by Mike Baumgardner's two-point run); and McRobb's 80-yard pass to Baumgardner (followed by Mike Gadsby two-point run). In the second quarter, Robert Ringe's 65-yard interception return and subsequent extra point made it 35-0 before Wayne's Jesse Dorow booted a 27-yard field goal. (He was also 3-for-3 on extra points.)

"Defensively those were two interception returns were big for us," said Franklin coach Chris Kelbert, whose team is averaging 41 points per game. "We did what we wanted to do, which was shuffle guys and keep guys

In the third quarter, Baumgardner scored on a 5-yard touchdown run and the Patriots got a two-point safety after a snap from center on Wayne punt attempt sailed out of the end zone.

Wayne scored three times to close out the game – quarterback Nick Mills on a 3-yard run; Richard Haley on a 36-yard option pitch; and Ashton Smith on a 2-yard run (following his own 79-yard run).

Wayne actually outgained the Patriots in total offense, 354-325. Haley had 101 yards on 17 carries. The Zebras connected on 7-of-19 passes for 118 yards. McRobb was 4-of-6 passing for 124 yards. Baumgardner had all four catches and rushed for 104 yards to lead

Rocks crushed by Stevenson, 40-7

Livonia Stevenson hounced back from last week's loss to Howell with a convincing 40-7 football win Friday night at home over Salem.

It was the South Division opener for both teams in the Kensington Lakes Activities Association.

Stevenson, which led 27-0 at halftime, rushed for 308 of its 404 total yards led by junior Austin White, who finished with 174 on 13 carries. The 6-foot, 187pound White scored on touchdown runs of 11, 46 and 5 yards - all coming in the first half.

Wade Stahl, also a senior, added 62 yards on eight carries including a 4-yard TD run with 8:51 left in the first quarter and a 10-yard TD run with 3:40 remaining in the third period after Salem scored its lone TD when Heath Parling hit senior wide receiver Shawn Lyons on a 38-yard scoring pass.

Junior Johnny Pauley, who added 63 yards on five attempts, ended the scoring with 2:50 left in the game on a 2-yard TD run. Stevenson quarterback Jacob Gudeman was 7-of-8 passing for 96 yards, while Salem's duo of Parling and Jake Peterson were a combined 8-of-14

The Rocks, now 0-3 overall and 0-1 in the KLAA-South, had 214 total yards with Enrique Pardo rushing nine times for a team-high 81 yards. Defensively, Stevenson (2-1, 1-0) was led by senior safety Wyatt Stahl. Neither team committed a turnover.

The Chargers then downed a punt at the Glenn 1 and the Rockets marched 98 yards in 15 plays, only to be denied on fourth down when quarterback Jerome Scales spiked the ball intentionally with only one second left.

"It was not the quarterback's fault, it was my fault." Hardin said. "We were out of timeouts and we needed to call two plays in the huddle after our last timeout."

Glenn's 6-0 halftime lead mushroomed to 26-0 as the Rockets took total command.

Scales, the 5-foot-11, 201-pound senior transfer, scooted 61 yards for a TD with 7:35 to go in the third quarter and Langford opened the fourth quarter with an 8-yard TD run to cap a 10-play, 64-yard drive.

A 1-yard plunge by fullback Harry Bello with only 2:46 remaining in the game completed the Glenn scoring as Anthony Reakoff converted his second straight extra point.

Our goal going in was to use a double-tight (end) formation," Hardin said. "We felt that if we could control the ball and keep the ball out of their hands - especially No. 8 (Matt Kowalis), No. 4 (Jeff Ricketts) and No. 7 (Grant Morgan) - that we had a chance. And it was apparent on our first drive that we were able to do it, and we stuck with it the rest of the game."

In addition to Langford's big night, Scales added 115 yards on nine carries and hit 5-of-6 passes for 31 yards. Kamal Ayler contributed 90 yards on 10 carries before leaving the game in the third quarter an injury.

"It was his ankle, but he said his calf cramped up, too," Hardin said of Ayler. "He's steadily getting better and Langford ran the best he's run. They're getting better with each week. Both ran well and we'll stick with both.

"And Scales has really done a good job the last two games keeping his poise, staying calm and not cracking under pressure. The rest of the offense feeds off of him."

Not only did Glenn have a wide margin in time of possession, but also won the battle of the chains with 21 first downs to Churchill's 12.

The Rockets' defense held Churchill to 209 total yards, but only 34 coming on the ground in 28 attempts.

Hamtramck scored on its second drive of the opening quarter, going 63 yards capped by quarterback Arron Caudill's 2-yard TD run followed by Andrew Caudill's two-point conversion run for an 8-0 Cosmos lead.

Lutheran Westland ironically scored on the last play of the half after Kemp recovered a fumble. He scored on a 4-yard TD. Hamtramck, winless since Oct. 14, 2005, falls to 0-3 and

"We played well after that first drive," said Lutheran

Westland coach Paul Guse', whose Warriors held Hamtramck to minus-6 yards in the second half and only 102 total for the game. "Hamtramck came in well-prepared and they hit. It was a bit of a wake-up call because it's a team you expect to beat and it was hard to get going."

The Warriors led in total offense (247-102) and first downs (12-5). Each team lost a fumble.

Defensively, Sam Ahlersmeyer led the Warriors with five tackles. Freshman Collin McBride and Sean Rowe added four each, while tackle Craig Kowalski had three

Angela Hospice offers grief support for youth

Grief is complicated at any age, but for children and teens it can be especially difficult. That is why Angela Hospice developed its Children & Teen Grief Support Groups which begin Thursday, Sept. 25.

Sally Loughrin and her fellow social work staff will facilitate 8-week sessions for children and teens who have recently lost a loved one. Groups for grades 1-2, 3-5, 6-8, and 9-12 will meet 5:30-7 p.m. each Thursday through Nov. 13.

"Children and teens experience feelings of grief similar to those of adults after a loved one dies, but their reactions are quite different depending on their developmental ages," said Loughrin, an Angela Hospice social worker with over 25 years of experience in counseling grieving chil-

Loughrin said that young people may not have the words or the understanding to express their feelings. They may show their grief behaviorally if they lack adequate coping skills.

"Children and teens often feel alone in their grief," said Loughrin, "so participating in grief support groups provides an avenue for them to be with others who have had similar losses."

Using various play therapy techniques such as games, books and storytelling, the social workers at Angela Hospice help children and teens learn to understand and cope with the complicated feelings that accompany the death of a loved one.

"We will do a lot in the group to help children learn to express the uncomfortable feelings of grief in healthy ways," said Loughrin.

While the children and teens are in their group sessions, parents and guardians are invited to attend their own group that will focus on developing strategies to help their grieving children and teens.

All meetings take place at Angela Hospice Care Center, 14100 Newburgh Rd., Livonia. Dinner will be served each week at 5:30 p.m., prior to the group sessions. All groups are free, but registration is required due to limited space. To sign up, call Loughrin at (734) 464-2683.

For more information about Angela Hospice and a complete list of support groups, visit www.angelahospice.org.

Symposium offers inspiration for breast cancer patients

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN O & E STAFF WRITER

When Anne Thompson learned she had breast cancer in March 2006, she decided to keep the devastating diagnosis secret so as not to distract from the news she was reporting. Later, she realized her experiences could help others fighting the disease. On Sept. 20, she returns to the Detroit area to speak at the Celebrating Survivorship symposium presented by the education and support group at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. Thompson is one of three women sharing their stories at the Royal Park Hotel in Rochester Hills. The former Farmington Hills resident was an award-winning reporter for WDIV-TV in Detroit from 1986 until leaving to become a national correspondent for NBC News in 1997. Today she is chief environmental affairs correspondent for NBC Nightly News with Brian Williams, Today on MSNBC, and online at www.msnbc.com

The diagnosis came as a surprise to the then 48year-old Thompson as she has no history of breast cancer in her family, never smoked and leads a fairly healthy lifestyle. Her ob/gyn discovered the Stage III cancer during a routine annual exam. Thompson went through 16 weeks of chemotherapy to reduce the size of the tumor then underwent a lumpectomy followed by six weeks of radiation. In July she returned to the oncologist for an all clear to spend two weeks in the Amazon as part of her job. She believes strongly if stories on cancer lead the news every day, more would be done to find a cure.

"It helped reading and hearing survivor stories because I needed a lot of strength. You go through some very dark times, Every time somebody told me a story I learned something," said Thompson. "We have made so many advances in cancer treatment it's easy to think our work is done, but 1.500 people die a day from cancer. The fight isn't over, We can't declare victory. There's nothing more frightening, at least for me, than having an illness that you can't do anything about. We need to keep funding research so my niece doesn't have to go through what I went through."

Thompson kept working during her treatment. Every two weeks she received chemotherapy on Thursday then went back to reporting the following

"I needed to feel normal," said Thompson. "I tried to turn my job into a cancer-free zone. My bosses at NBC were wonderful when I said I'd like to keep working through this. The only time it became difficult was when I lost my eyelashes. It used to take me an hour to put them on."

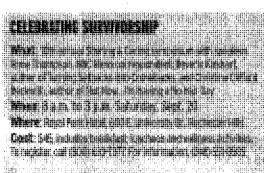

Thompson hasn't lost her sense of humor. In fact it was laughter that kept her going thanks to friend and former co-worker Bernie Smilovitz, WDIV-TV sportscaster. During the Celebrating Survivorship symposium, Smilovitz will introduce Thompson to the audience. Thompson comes back to Michigan every year to participate in Smilovitz's celebrity golf tournament for Gleaners Community Food Bank.

"I've been friends with his family for 20 years," said Thompson, who now lives in Manhattan. "It was Bernie's job to make sure he would make me laugh. He called me every day."

Christine Clifford Beckwith believes in the power of humor so much she travels around the country as a motivational speaker. Beckwith is a 14-year survivor of breast cancer. She has written six award-winning books including "Not Now...I'm Having a No Hair Day." Beckwith was senior vice president of an international marketing firm when diagnosed with Stage III breast cancer at age 40.

She underwent surgery, then 10 months of chemotherapy and 33 days of radiation. She'll be sharing the humorous side of her experience. Her Cancer Club (cancerclub.com) is designed to provide humorous and helpful products for people with cancer including a prayer list and suggestions for brightening the day of a friend or loved one with out 50 cartoons of things that had been said or done to me about cancer that were offheat in a whim sical way. I had never drawn before, went back to bed and thought what was that. I had truly entered the Twilight Zone," said Beckwith, who searched for books humor-

ously dealing with cancer but found only one by Erma Bombeck. "I thought maybe I was on to something. I started journaling my cancer experience through cartoons. Six months later I had enough to make a book. Since that day I focused my entire life on helping other cancer patients see the forest through the trees."

Dawn Kramer hopes to attract everyone — not just breast cancer survivors — to the symposium. In addition to the speakers who include Beverly Kirkhart, author of "Turning Setbacks into Comebacks," Kramer planned the luncheon and wellness activities such as a walk along Paint Creek Trail, tai chi, Reiki, and meditation. Kramer is program coordinator of Sharing & Caring, which provides monthly speakers and a support group for breast cancer survivors.

"It's inspirational and messages of hope," said Kramer, whose mother died of breast cancer. Kramer, who lives in Bloomfield Hills, is vigilant about receiving clinical breast exams twice a year. "This year's symposium is not focusing on breast cancer as a disease but on leading a long and fulfilling life after a breast cancer diagnosis. It's not just for breast cancer survivors. Their message of hope and inspiration is for all."

Beckwith's cancer was so aggressive she was basically told to get her affairs in order, Instead she made a bargain with God to live to see her 8- and 10-year-old sons graduate from high school. The youngest earns his college degree in May.

Today she's working on two more books and hoping to see her four step children graduate from high school. The youngest is 10.

"My cancer has been a true gift to me. I've been doing some creative things that I never knew I had inside of me," said Beckwith, who lives in Minneapolis, Minn. "My advice to cancer patients is to look at the long term, not short term. Their treatments are probably going to take between six months and a year, some indefinitely. Because of that you should try to look at the things that make you laugh and search them out. If it's watching funny movies, rent some funny movies. Let family and friends know it's okay to bring laughter into vour life. But my main message is research all possibilities, new drugs, methods of surgery. Take control of your own health. Don't ever be afraid to ask people for help."

Telling tales

2-day festival celebrates storytelling

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN O & E STAFF WRITER

Antonio Sacre likes to joke about growing up in a Cuban and Irish-American household. He'll tell audiences about the experience during the Detroit Story League's Festival Friday-Saturday, Sept. 19-20, at the Livonia Civic Center Library, Sacre and Lynette Ford, an African-American storyteller headline the event that includes day-long workshops and performances for children and adults.

Sacre travels from Los Angeles for the storytelling festival, Ford from Ohio. Sacre's father originally emigrated from Cuba in 1960. He's looking forward to introducing "his lovely and quirky family."

"Food is important," said Sacre, 39. "Cubans have a really big meal that happens at 1 in the afternoon and as kids we're not allowed to leave the table until the oldest person leaves. My great aunt in her late 80s chewed her food 50 times and we'd watch her for hours, but it was good because we would hear things about what it was like in

Tales would be told as well. One of his grandmother's favorites was the story of the barking mouse which Sacre turned into a children's book. Sacre spoke Spanish fluently as a kid but quit after he was teased. He went back to being bilingual in his teens.

"The story, The Barking Mouse, is about a cat who comes to eat the mice and mother mouse barks and scares the cat away. The moral is it pays to speak another language," said Sacre who went to graduate school for theater performance at Northwestern University in Chicago where he learned about storytelling.

Today Sacre writes one-man plays and performs them around the country when he isn't storytelling. He's told stories in 45 of the

"I found out storytelling encompassed a lot of what I was, my two cultures, and I like to be silly for kids," said Sacre. "I'm excited about Detroit Story League. I know Lyn very well, She's an incredible teller. We're so different and I can't wait to see what she will tell. I'm going to take the workshop."

Ford is doing the 90-minute session on tables that have crossed cultures and can be used as teaching tales to develop character in young listeners. She is a fourth-generation storyteller. Her Home-Fried Tales can be traced back to her father who was a terrible cook but a wonderful storyteller. Ford began storytelling as a preschool teacher.

"My grandfather on my mother's side told a lot of tall tales, His father, my great grandfather and great aunts in the family told so I just kind of absorbed it. Dad could tell wonderful scary stories and kind of twist folk tales such as The Three Bears, Red Riding Hood," said Ford who by the end of the year will travel to 25 states to tell stories. "They'll have a good time. It will encourage them to remember the stories of their childhood and share more stories in their family. I'm the oldest and would tell scary stories to my vounger sister to get her out of my hair. She wouldn't let me get my homework done,"

With tellers like Sacre and Ford, Louise Lieberman is guaranteeing everyone will have a good time at the Detroit Story League Storytelling Festival. The Farmington Hills

Pet sitters hit 10 years of going to the dogs

BY BRAD KADRICH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Ten years ago, Roberta Chapman (she was Cubbin, then) was working as a veterinary technician, an animal lover who got this crazy idea when some of her clients couldn't find a place for their pets to stay when they had to

Ten years later, Chapman and her husband, John (they married last year at the Michigan Renaissance Festival) preside over a pet sitting business, Comfy Creatures, that has expanded to more than 200 clients, six "sitters" and a half-dozen communities.

"We went from doing everything ourselves to six sitters pretty quick," Roberta said. "It just sort of exploded."

Operating Comfy Creatures out of their Livonia home (they just moved from Wayne), the Chapmans offer a variety of services to their clients, ranging from taking them for a walk and a "potty" break during the day to repeated daily visits if a client is out of town on vacation or for work.

There are also some ancillary services; for instance, sitters will water plants, bring in the mail and take out the trash. The company will stay overnight if a client wishes, and the

John and Roberta Chapman have two dogs of their own at home, Gypsy and Mouse.

Chapmans just started offering to board pets at their Livonia home.

Comfy Creatures offers its services in Westland, Plymouth, Canton, Livonia, Northville and Farmington (the latter two are fairly new additions).

And the whole thing stems from Roberta's love of animals.

"Growing up, I wasn't allowed to have dogs or cats ... between my sister and I we had pretty much every caged animal imaginable," Roberta said. "When I was a kid, I'd go to neighbors and ask, 'Can I walk your dog?' When I got my own place, I could finally have animals." Now she and John have a houseful of their own, including a chihuahua (Mouse), a shepherd-husky mix (Gypsy) and three cats: Ceric, Symphony and Mystic. That doesn't count the hundreds of pets they call "extended family."

"They're always happy," John said of the pets. "They give you unconditional love. You really have to be pet-crazy and passionate about it.'

While it may seem like a small-town service, pet sitting is actually pretty big business. According to Pet Sitters International, it's a $72 million industry. PSI has some 8,000 member businesses. The vast majority of pet sitters (98 percent) work for independently owned compa-

woman is just beginning to tell stories so she's excited about the workshop with Corinne Stavish of Southfield on Getting Starting,

"We try to get new tellers every year so people in the area can see a variety," said Lieberman, festival cochair with Winifred Madsen. "Both are well-thought of and acknowledged tellers.'

A group of people from the Detroit Story League usually goes to the national conference in Jonesboro, Tenn. every year to scout out the best of up and coming storytellers, said Madsen who joined the league in 1990. She grew up listening to stories of her mother, grandmother and father. Madsen did a lot of reading and telling stories to children during her 30 years as a librarian for Detroit

Public Schools.

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, September 14, 2008

"We often get the big stars before they get expensive. We do have wonderful tellers every year," said Madsen, 80. "I believe in storytelling. It's live, spontaneous, the opposite of our plastic world, There's a kind of current that goes between audience and teller, as a teller you get to enjoy the response. People learn a lot through narrative."

Madsen tells stories in schools, nursing homes, private residences, and churches. On Saturday, she shares an old Chinese folk tale during the brown bag lunch between workshops. "I enjoy a good story and enjoy choosing stories for an audience," said Madsen. "There are just certain stories that speak to you when you read them.

e, since one problem causes a strain that sets up the onset of another one. These combinations are often present in cases of joint pain. The most common combination of ills occurs between the back and the knee. The knee becomes arthritic causing a change and strain in gait. In turn, the flexed back position that the arthritic knee necessitates, brings on back strain. Eventually that strain causes back ache or sciatica. If you develop this combination of pain, you may come to the doctor because of back ache. Do not be concerned because he is focusing on how you walk and move you knees. His examination is a reflection of an evaluation of the knee-back relationship A variant occurs when the problem originates in the back, but knee pain dominates What happens is that the main problem is the back condition, spinal stenosis. The body correctly has you walk in a forward-flexed position, a posture that relieves strain on the spinal nerves affected by the back stenosis. However, such posture places strain on the knees. If one or both knees are worn, the added stress on the knee changes a tolerable torque into an intolerable one. In this instance, your doctor may do more of a neurological examination then a joint evaluation.

The doctor decides how to structure the examination based on the history of your pain and how it radiates

Important Safety Considerations of Restylane®

Restylane® restores volume and fullness to the skin to correct moderate to severe facial wrinkles and folds, such as the lines from your nose to the corners of your mouth (nasolabial folds). After your treatment, you might have some swelling, redness, pain, bruising, and tenderness. This will normally last less than seven days. Although rare, red or swollen small bumps may occur. If you have had facial cold sores before, an injection can cause another outbreak. In rare circumstances, the doctor may inject into a blood vessel, which can damage the skin. To avoid bruising and bleeding, you should not use Restylane if you have recently used drugs that thin your blood or prevent clotting. If you are pregnant, breastfeeding, or under 18, you should not use Restylane.

Restylane should not be used by people with previous bad allergies, particularly to certain microorganisms known as gram positive bacteria, or by people with previous bad allergies to drugs that have required in-hospital treatment. Restylane should not be injected anywhere except the skin or just under the skin.

The use of Restylane at the site of skin sores, pimples, rashes, hives, cysts, or infection should be postponed until healing is complete. Use of Restylane in these instances could delay healing or make your skin problems worse.

Restylane® is available only through a licensed practitioner. For complete product and safety information visit www.RestvlaneUSA.com.

26, at Madonna University with "Blood and Oil." The thought provoking film series is now in its third year in Kresge Auditorium on the campus at Schoolcraft and Levan in Livonia, Discussions will be led by a local facilitator after each movie. A $5 donation per event is appreciated. "Blood and Oil" shows how concerns about oil have fueled war for at least 60 years and calls for radical rethinking of U.S. energy policy. According to one reviewer, the hour-long documentary is a clear, dispassionate, riveting history of American and Middle Eastern oil. Informative. not polemic or political, the film gives a historical perspective as to why the U.S. is in Iraq.

On Oct. 3 "Election Day" takes viewers on a journey around the country as the drama of election day 2004 unfolds. Shown are the good and the bad of voting in America. Dearborn is one of the featured locations.

"On the Line" on Oct. 10 gives an inside look at the people behind one of the largest nonviolent movements in America today: the movement to close the School of the Americas/ WHINSEC, a U.S. Army school that trains Latin-American soldiers. The 55-minute documentary features Martin Sheen and Susan Sarandon. On Oct. 17, "Tim Wise: On White Privilege" tackles whether there really is a level playing field for blacks and whites. Concepts that white people don't think of that confront blacks throughout their lives are discussed in this fast paced video of author/lecturer Tim Wise. He is among the most prominent anti-racist writers and activists in the U.S., and author of two books: "White Like Me: Reflections on Race from a Privileged Son, and "Affirmative Action: Racial Preference in Black and White." Madonna University is located

Odor in new Bosch dishwashers testament to poor quality

n the year 1907, Mr. Frederick Louis Maytag invented the first wooden tub washer called the Pastime. The tub was made of the Doctor

Joe Gagnon

Back then, Frederick Maytag was quoted as saying, "In all business, there is a factor which cannot be compensated for in dollars and cents or computed by any measure. It has no relation or connection with the mercenary and is represented only by the Nancy: "I have a Bosch, stainless spirit of love which the true craftsman steel interior dishwasher purchased holds for his job and the things he is trying to accomplish."

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, September 14, 2008

Mr. Maytag was not the only corporate head that thought this way back in 1907 and the following years. There were many, and this country enjoyed the quality products they deserved for their hard earned dollars.

In today's world we have seemed to have done a flip-flop.

This lack of quality that many consumers experience is filling up all sorts of Web sites, and the manufacturers don't like seeing their names under any form of unsatisfactory complaint. It doesn't take a genius to figure out how to stop these complaints. Simply stop the problems.

Here is an e-mail sent to me from in 2004. We are empty nesters, so it takes a few days to fill up the dishwasher to run a full load. We run it more often because the odor the dishwasher emits is awful! We have had this problem since we purchased it. I have had the company out three times to check it and no one seems to find a problem. I have called the manufacturer with no results. I have run products through a cycle, which helps the smell for just a few days more. The food catcher never has anything in it because we rinse all dishes before placing them in the dishwasher. HELP! I can't stand the smell any

After reading this e-mail I asked my darling wife Valorie what she thinks of our 2-year-old Bosch stainless steel tub dishwasher. She said, "I love how quiet it is when it operates but I can't stand the smell in it. I have to make sure I turn it on each day sometimes just a rinse cycle - or else there is an odor that is putrid. I also think it takes too long for a regular cycle and I can't put in as many dishes as I could in my old Kitchen Aid."

So you see folks, we have basically the same complaint as Nancy does. And then I went to the computer and found that we are not alone with this odor problem. What is going on here? Maybe someone can tell me how he or she solved this problem. They have tablets for sale now that you can put into your washing machine to take care of odor problems.

This means that they now produce washing machines which have a builtin odor problem with no cure except to give it a pill. This quality story becomes more amazing every year doesn't it?

Mr. Fred Maytag would be astonished that I spent $1,000 for a dishwasher — and that wasn't even the most expensive model. I might have been better off finding an old wooden tub wringer washer, and never having a complaint about the quality of manufactured products made today. Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8 a.m. Saturdays on WAAM 1600. His phone number is (734) 971-1600 Ext. 28. Do you have a question about an appliance or have a problem with one? E-mail it to kabramcz@hometownlife.com and it will be forwarded to Joe Gagnon.

countries in Africa, people with their families. It's kind of hard to imagine what they went through. Their world is so different from what any of us experience," said Raines, vice president of programs for the Erb Family Foundation in Birmingham and former executive director of The Jewish Fund."

Raines believes there is a connection between the Jewish community and Freedom House and that's why she became personally

'The theme never again for the dinner parallels similarities of what the Jewish people suffered under the Holocaust and what people are currently suffering today in different parts of the world. As a Jewish person the plight of these people appeals to my sense of justice," said Raines who serves on the honorary dinner committee. "The distant relatives on my father's side there's almost nobody left, That's what happened to Jewish families, whole families that were gone. Out of 8 million Jews 6 million died. There were people who came who were turned away by our country and that's unacceptable."

Pegg Roberts is working on behalf of the residents of Freedom House to provide opportunities for a new life. The stories she hears nearly every day send chills through Americans used to the freedoms of this country. People from Rwanda, Uganda, Zimbabwe, the Democratic Republic of the Congo have left their families behind in search of asylum. Others like the two nuns from Uganda fled religious persecution, Freedom House is the only organization in the country that provides housing, legal aid, education, language training, and job placement for people seeking asylum.

"One family we had was a mother with two sons, 7 and 11, She was from Congo where they're taking the male children and forcing them in the army so she fled, She left behind her husband and her daughters. She got asylum and is in the process of sending for them," said Roberts, Freedom House executive director. "Another woman from Uganda whose husband has been politically active in opposition of the current government they broke into her home, beat her husband beyond recognition and raped her and took her to jail for three days and raped and beat her, A friend helped smuggle her out of the country and she landed in New York. A cab driver gave her $150 and told her to get to Freedom House. Each story is more incred-

Roberts could go on and on about the refugee from Uganda whose father was from one tribe, his mother from another so he was safe from neither. Originally there were 21 in his family, Now he and his son are the only ones left, Annually Freedom House provides services for over 300 people with similar stories. Last year three doctors from Uganda and Congo were accepted into medical schools and have gotten scholarships so they can begin to practice medicine here. Another man is in divinity school to become a minister and wants to share his story with people on a dif-

"You cannot even walk by Freedom House without it grabbing you and changing you forever, their courage, intelligence, compassion, They just touch your life in ways you've never been touched before," said Roberts of Royal Oak. "Many have a number of children left behind. Applying for asylum is extremely difficult and can take anywhere from six months to two years. In the meantime your family is in danger or in hiding in their home country, You have to take blood testing and DNA to prove your children are your children, Often that impacts our residents. I'm so moved by this African culture, If you see a child whose parents were murdered you pick this child up and that child is yours from that day forward. We're hoping people will become sensitized to what we do to these families, I always believe in America doing the right things, We're founded on the freedom of religion, political, racial/tribal, sexual orientation. In Africa gay people are murdered. The theme, never again, draws light to the fact it happens every single day. We're going to be seeing more Iraqis as time goes on."

Michael George is already seeing an influx of refugees from the war-torn country of Iraq. As chairman of the Chaldean Federation of America in Farmington Hills, he is leading the resettlement effort. George is expecting more than 10,000 Iraqis to settle throughout the U.S. this year.

"Freedom House is working with us to help the refugees from Iraq for resettlement purposes in the metro area," said George. Freedom House handles detainees and asylees, We assist in resettlement of refugees. We work together because we have a common cause. These people that are here originally came as students or came on vacation and didn't want to go back, They don't have any rights here, Freedom House feeds people, clothes them like we do. Refugees come ignorant of their rights, making a living and have no problem finding a home. Asylees try to find a permanent residence because they're illegal aliens. There's no one else to do that work. What would these people do without Freedom House?"

do, whether it's to find a completely different career, take a vacation or start a business. You may fall victim to survivor's guilt. HOT INDUSTRIES

What are your alternatives? You won't be able to restore your workplace to its original personality because of the loss of some people who contributed to it. You can't help thinking that it might be worth looking outside for a new company. No harm done, particularly if you've been where you are for a long time. It's helpful to stay attuned to the market within your industry and without.

If you feel trapped by cuts industry-wide, think about other industries that aren't contracting. Health care and education are two. Laurence Shatkin, senior product developer at JIST Publishing in Indianapolis and author, with his company's editors, of the in-depth "150 Best Recession-Proof Jobs" (JIST Works, forthcoming, November, 2008, $16.95), also points you to "high tech, provided your job target is not something that is easily off-shored.

future recessions," he adds, "although right now the competition for jobs (especially in government) is going to be intense because of people out of work in the private sector."

Take a close, hard look at these three current possibilities. over the last ten years to where resistance to applicants may be low: health care, education and high tech. Do any of them appeal? If not today, take another gut check tomorrow. If you get to a "yes," prepare to job hunt.

'RECONNECTING'

You might discover that you have a million work-related (and personal) reasons to stay put. Industries with least resistance might seem dull. You'd prefer to take your chances on a company in an industry you love rather than conduct a full-fledged job search in other industries where you could transfer your skills. Don't come to this decision lightly.

Phoenix psychologist Andrew Shatte, co-managing director of Adaptiv Learning Systems L.P., headquartered in King of Prussia, Pa., a training organization specializing in change management during downsizing, maintains that accurate thinking is the lifeblood of resilience. "We hear a lot about survivor's guilt," he explains, "but little of the sadness, anxiety, frustration, anger and even shame and embarrassment that survivors feel, which gets in the way of their rebounding. Guilt really isn't the predominant emotion.

You see anxiety and frustration because of the workload." Adaptiv's training addresses thinking styles causing such "Government and utilities are also good bets for riding out emotions as loss and anxiety to help nurture feelings of composure and self-control. Next, it brings to the surface the "large-scale belief systems which are often broken by the events of downsizing," he says. This step promotes problemsolving and the courage to embrace opportunities that evolve at work. The third and final step is countering the distance most people feel after a downsizing by reconnecting with the company. Shatte states that, to facilitate reconnecting, think

-- "why you joined the company;

-- "the good reasons you stayed; and -- "whether you're focusing on the negative rather than positive.' He mentions that your existential crisis will fall away "if you believe that you're giving back in some fashion, such as by providing a service to your organization, community or country or by mentoring the next generation."

John Baker, founder and president of Ready Thinking L.L.C., in Eden Prairie, Minn., also a change management consulting firm, notes, "Learning why the company needed to take such drastic steps as reducing its employee base -such as freeing up capital for other business lines, reducing expenses or re-allocating resources -- allows individuals to begin to move away from the paralyzing emotions of being a victim and being out of control. Then (they can) aim at helping the organization move to these aspirations. By doing this, survivors become a part of an exciting story of reinvention and renewal.

Of course, for some people, the loss of colleagues only indicates that the survivors could be next.
