College asks voters for smaller tax renewal

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Voters who live in the Wayne County Community College District will decide a 1.25-mill property tax proposal when they cast ballots in the Nov. 4 election.

The tax, if approved, will be for 10 years starting in 2011. It would replace a slightly larger 1.5-mill tax that expires at the end of 2010.

The tax would cost $125 a year for a homeowner who has a dent, five-campus district that $200,000 house with a taxable value of $100,000. Voters across the college district, including those in the Wayne-Westland school district, most of Redford and a small portion of Canton, will decide the proposal.

The tax plan comes one year after WCCCD voters rejected a 1.5-mill, 10-year proposal.

George Swan, WCCCD's vice chancellor for operations, said the tax amounts to 40 percent of the budget for a 72,000-stuis growing and earning a solid reputation due to educational and facility improvements.

'We want to make sure we have the opportunity to plan for our operations," he said. "We want to be wise stewards of public dollars."

The tax revenues also would help a district that Swan said has kept tuition affordable for its students, who are mostly part time. Community colleges also fill a void when the economy takes a downturn and people need to keep costs down while they beef up their education, he said.

However, the tax proposal has opposition from critics like 18th District state Rep. Richard LeBlanc, D-Westland, who is against any measure that he said amounts to a millage renewal years in advance.

LeBlanc has introduced a bill

"I strenuously object to it," he that would prohibit any tax proposal from being placed before voters unless it is within 18 months of expiring. He actually favored wording for 12 months, but he said he tried to reach a compromise. Regardless, LeBlanc said his bill hasn't been taken up by the state House Committee on Intergovernmental, Urban and Regional Affairs, even though he introduced it last November. "I can't get a hearing on it," he said.

LeBlanc acknowledged that

WCCCD has been improving, but he said he is philosophically opposed to tax proposals coming years in advance. "It's not them specifically," he

Swan said he hopes WCCCD voters will remember that the 1.25-mill tax measure would simply continue where the 1.5mill tax drops off.

"This is not an increase," he

By default: Lack of quorum opens door for recall

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A recall campaign will move ahead after organizers received approval Monday to circulate petitions against Mayor William Wild and Westland City Council members James Godbout, Michael Kehrer, Bill Johnson and Dewey Reeves.

A third try for recall language proved the charm as organizers Donna DeWitt and Rosemarie Rembisz appeared before the Wayne County Elections Commission in Detroit.

"We're ecstatic," DeWitt said. The petition language, which seeks to recall the five city leaders for rezoning property for a $35 million senior housing development on Joy east of Newburgh, won approval by default when only one of three elections commissioners, Wayne County Chief Probate Judge Milton Mack, attended Monday's meeting.

County Clerk Cathy Garrett and Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz didn't show up --- a move Godbout criticized after he and other city leaders hired attorneys to argue against the recall language.

"Because the commission doesn't do their job, we get penalized for it," Godbout said. That was the most disappointing thing."

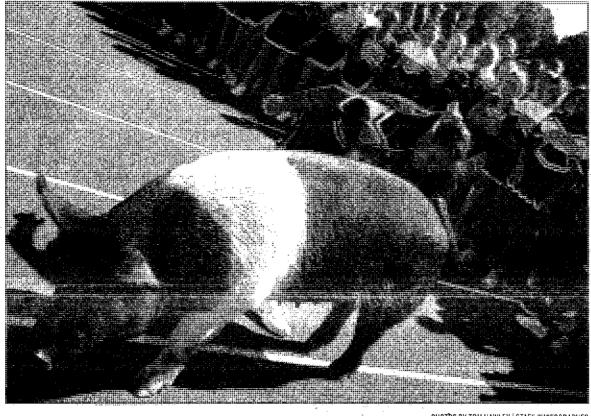

Wild called the latest development "obviously disappointing" and said, "I really feel that our administration has done a real good job of bringing the community back together. I think if anything would undo some of that hard work, it's unfortunate."

Wild held out hope that most residents will realize positive strides city leaders have made and not support a recall.

"We're not going to quit moving the city forward," he said. Godbout defended a council majority's decision in June to rezone property and approve developer Glenn Shaw Jr.'s proposal for a three-story senior apartment building, duplexstyle condominiums and singlefamily homes. Neighboring res-

Interest in election spurs increase in voter registration

'BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WR!TER

Westland is witnessing a large increase in newly registered voters, partly due to an uptick in young people who plan to cast ballots for the first time, City Clerk Eileen DeHart said.

Local interest appears to mirror a nationwide increase in voters who want to participate in a presidential election season that has been historic on several fronts, from Democrat Barack Obama's selection as the first African-American nominee by a major political party to Sarah Palin's pick as the Republican Party's first female vice presidential candidate.

'We have been getting scores of new registrations almost every day," DeHart said. "It's a wonderful thing. I think that America and Westland in particular have finally woken up. We are getting a large number of young voters registering.

In this day and age, in this economy, more people know how important their voice in government is," DeHart said.

For potential voters who don't want to miss out, Monday, Oct. 6, looms as the deadline to register for those who will be at least 18 years old by Election Day. DeHart urged those who want to register to visit the city clerk's office, located on the first floor of Westland City Hall on Ford between Newburgh and Wayne, or any Secretary of State branch.

DeHart also said voter registration forms may be received by calling the clerk's office at (734) 467-3187 or (734) 467-3188, or by going online to www.Michigan.gov/sos.

If voter-registration trends continue, DeHart estimated that the number of new Westland voters could climb by 2,000 or more. surpassing the 62,000 mark.

DeHart also urged voters not to forget to request absentee ballots if they believe for any reason that they might not make it to the polls on Nov. 4. She said those requests already have increased substantially over previous elections.

Garden City Clerk Allyson Bettis has noticed similar activity in that neighboring community, including some Garden City High School students who will be voting for the first time. She said foot traffic also has increased at City

"We're getting five times the normal amount of new voter registration and absentee ballot requests." Bettis said.

Clerks noted that people who register must show a valid photo identification, such as a Michigan driver's license or governmentissued photo identification.

idents blasted the development, saying it will create congestion and reduce property values in an area long defined by larger residential lots.

"It's the straw that broke the camel's back," DeWitt said, alleging that city leaders weren't listening to residents and their concerns. Westland City Clerk Eileen DeHart has said recall leaders will have to collect signatures a recall measure placed on a city ballot. DeWitt and Rembisz hope to garner support from volunteers, and they will have a 90-day window to complete their petition drive.

"We plan on turning it in before the Christmas holiday," DeWitt said.

Godbout said the recall effort will detract from positive gains the city has made despite tough economic times.

"This just takes away from our concentration on continuing to improve things," he said.

Feisty senior foils theft of her purse

BY DARRELL CLEM * OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A 71-year-old woman fought off a suspect who was captured after trying to rob her outside the Kmart store at Wayne and Cherry Hill roads, police said.

The incident happened around 9:45 a.m. last Friday after the alert victim left the store and was putting bags in her car, police Sgt. Thad Nelson said.

The woman braced herself and positioned her purse to protect it when she saw a man riding toward her on a bicycle, Nelson said.

"He rolled up and grabbed her purse, but she held onto it and struggled with him," the detective said. "She began to defend herself, and another person pulled up in a car and started honking their horn."

The suspect fled on the bike, and Officers Norm Brooks and Mark Cholak and Lt. Michael Matich scoured the area and from witnesses, Nelson said. Brooks located the defendant when one witness steered police to an apartment on nearby South Parent after learning that police were looking for a man riding a bike that had distinctive features, including no seat, the detective

W-WEA says no to extension, district puts offer on Web site

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The Wayne-Westland school board has taken an unprecedented step of publishing on the school district Web site a contract offer presented to Wayne-Westland Education Association negotiators this week after the union turned down a request for a second 30-day extension.

"Based on yesterday's negotiations, which were very disheartening, the board of education had no other alternative than to release to the public and teachers what has been discussed the past several weeks," Superintendent Greg Baracy said. "It was obvious to the board and the board's negotiating team that the union leaders are not interested in negotiating in a fair and equitable manner to resolve the issue of health care."

The teachers' contract expired Aug. 25, and was extended 30 days following a flurry of negotiations Labor Day weekend. The extension expired Tuesday.

Teachers are continuing to work without a contract and negotiations are scheduled for today (Oct. 2) and Friday. According to Baracy, while the district is trying to schedule meetings for next week, the union has not committed to more talks.

The board of education wants a contract for the kids, for the community and for the teachers, they have opened up the checkbook, but they can't open it any further," Baracy

Union leaders have expressed frustration with the course of the talks. Evelyn Baran, MEA UniServ director for the WWEA unit, said the district has not bargained in good faith. She maintains that the district proposals "are illegal" in that they prevent the union from negotiating an insurance carrier and coverage and that a wage formula offered in the third and fourth years of the proposal would eliminate the union's right to negotiate wages.

The two sides have been at odds over class sizes, wages and health care, but Baran said health care is "the biggest stumbling block at present."

"The proposals are regressive," she said. "It's very frustrating. It's very hard to understand why we can't have the health insurance we want when it's less expensive than what the district is offering."

Baran said she isn't surprised by the posting on the district's Web site, adding that contrary to statements that they would not negotiate in public, the district has been doing just that. The latest contract update has angered union members, and a meeting had been scheduled with the membership on Wednesday. She added that the union is appreciative of the community support.

"Parents have been absolutely terrific," she said.

Baracy, however, said it was the union leadership's not providing counter proposals in writing or verbally to the offer that prompted the release of the proposal.

What is even more apparent from the calls we are getting from teachers is that the union did not share this information with its members," he said. "We feel an obligation to tell the community and teachers what we offered."

McConnell ready to become district judge

After a 13-year stint pros-

Assistant City Attorney Mark McConnell will become the court's next judge. "I'm excited, nervous, and it all hasn't sunk in yet. I really go between the three," he said.

McConnell became the lone candidate to seek a sixyear term to replace Judge C. Charles Bokos, who was blocked by state law from seeking another term because he reached the age of 70 prior to the Nov. 4 election.

With no opposition on the ballot, McConnell didn't have to mount an aggressive campaign for the $138,272-a-year job, not a bad place in life for a married father of two who celebrated his 40th birthday in August.

McConnell has received widespread praise from Bokos, holdover 18th District Judge Sandra Ference Cicirelli and longtime City Attorney Angelo Plakas all of whom McConnell said have influenced him and helped McConnell has worked for the city attorney's office since 1995, drafting ordinances and legal opinions, prosecuting cases and negotiating plea agreements. He has handled felony, misdemeanor and civil cases.

McConnell has pledged to work with Cicirelli to ensure that Westland remains "one of the best courts in Michigan."

Girl Scouts launch new council

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, October 2, 2008

Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan fund development and comhas named Janet Barker, former CEO of Girl Scouts of the Glowing Embers Council, Kalamazoo, as the chief executive officer of the newly realigned organization, which combines five Girl Scouts Councils into one, high-capacity council.

Barker was selected following a national search. She began her new position on July 1, in preparation for Tuesday's launch of the Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan, serving 30,000 girls and adult volunteers in 33 Michigan counties.

Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan is a merger of Girl Scouts of Glowing Embers Council, Girl Scouts of the Huron Valley Council, Girl Scouts - Irish Hills Council, Girl Scouts of Michigan Capital Council and Girl Scouts of Mitten Bay Council.

The new council spans the state from southwest to northeast and serves girls in 33 counties - Allegan, Arenac, Barry, Bay, Branch, Calhoun, Clare, Clinton, Eaton, Gladwin, Gratiot, Hillsdale, Huron, Ingham, Iosco, Isabella, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lenawee, Livingston, Midland, Ogemaw, Roscommon, Saginaw, Shiawassee, St. Joseph, Tuscola, Van Buren and Washtenaw Counties and parts of Berrien, Monroe, Oakland and Wayne Counties. The new council will have the potential to serve 25 percent of the state's population of girls ages 5-17. Barker brings a wealth of leadership experience and expertise to her new post. Most recently, as CEO of the Girl Scouts of Glowing Embers Council, she was responsible for the overall vision, direction, munity development of the Girl Scout program in six counties in southwest Michigan. Her previous experience includes leadership roles within Michigan State University Extension Service and 4-H USDA, in the areas of innovative learning, strategic organization development, academic coaching, international youth development and leadership programming. Excited about her role in the new organization, Barker anticipates working with girls, volunteers, the board of directors, donors and staff. She is committed to advancing the Girl Scout Movement and promoting the Girl Scout mission of building girls of courage, confidence and character who make the world a better place.

"It is so important to help girls be successful and build a brilliant future for themselves and others," said Barker. "In Girl Scouts, when a girl leads, she discovers who she is and what she believes. She learns to take pride in her talents and innate gifts. Before you know it, she is taking on challenges and developing astounding critical thinking skills. Ultimately, she feels empowered to make a difference in the world."

The current facilities in Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo, Jackson, Lansing and Saginaw will remain open as regional centers. A regional center will be added in Marshall. In addition, girls will explore outdoor and yearround program opportunities at 11 sties, including the Barbara Osterman Cabin, Alma; Camp Crawford, Milan; Camp Deere Trails, Harrison; Camp Linden, Linden; Camp Merrie Woode, Plainwell; Camp Oak Hills, Harrison; Camp O' the Hills, Brooklyn; Camp Wacousta, Wacousta; Camp Woodlands, Alpena; the Jane Harris Cabin, Mount Pleasant, and The Hut, West Branch.

Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan will be governed by a 22-member volunteer Board of Directors, with representation from each of the five merging councils.

"This is an exciting time for Girl Scouts," said Gail Scott, CEO of Girl Scouts of the Huron Valley Council. "With a new, larger council to serve them and new programming from Girl Scouts of the USA, our girls have so many more opportunities to explore, while still upholding the values of the Girl Scout Promise and Law."

"By consolidating councils, we will be able to be fully staffed and to do the work of a strong, forward-thinking council," said Kerry Allen, CEO of Girl Scouts of Mitten Bay Council. "We hope to build membership by serving girls more effectively. We will focus on national destination offerings that give older girls a chance for travel and adventure."

"Ms. Barker's success at the Girl Scouts of Glowing Embers Council sets the tone for the future of Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan," added Cynthia McCants, acting CEO of Girl Scouts of Michigan Capital Council. "Girls, volunteers and staff will all benefit from Ms. Barker's leadership."

Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan invites girls everywhere to become Girl Scouts! To learn more about Girl Scouts Heart of Michigan, to join Girl Scouts, or to donate, visit the Web site at www.gshom.org.

Getting closer

They lost again, but they narrowed the gap. The city of Westland's baseball team, dubbed the Zip-a-Dee-Do-Dahs, went down in defeat Sunday to Greenfield Village's historic Lah-de-Dahs. The 11-5 score wasn't as bad as last year's 24-8 loss, however. Again, the real winner was the Westland Historic Village Park, which received more than $1,000 from the fund-raiser at Jaycee Park. Three of Westland's players (from left) are Police Chief James Ridener, Councilman 8ill Johnson and Mayor William Wild. To their right is the more decorated Greenfield Village team.

Family gets help in battle with cancer

The excitement of being new parents comes with a challenge for Kristy and Jason Spence. The Garden City couple also are taking on a battle with metastasized melanoma skin cancer with the help of family and friends who are staging two fund-raisers this

The first event will be a bowling fund-raiser at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 12, at Vision Lanes on Ford in Westland. The second event is a day of styling Sunday, Oct. 19, at the BoRics Salon at 5916 Middlebelt at Ford in Garden City. The scissors will start clipping at 4 p.m., and the shop will offer haircuts for $10, with a shampoo $11 and facial waxings at $5 per area. No perms or colors will be done to let the stylist take care of as many people as possible. There also will be door prizes, raffles and a bake

And organizers also are selling melanoma awareness bracelets for $5 each. All money raised will go to the Spence family to help cover medical costs and loss of mcome.

In addition to the fund-raisers, a fund in the name of Kristy and Collin Spence has been set up at Fifth Third Bank. Donations which can be made at any Fifth Third office

According to organizers, Kristy Spence, 29, was first diagnosed with melanoma when she had a cancerous mole removed in March 2007. Since it was determined it had not spread to her lymph nodes, no further treatment was need.

However, when she was 30 weeks pregnant, she developed a lump under her arm that become increasingly painful. A biopsy showed that the melanoma had returned and had spread to her lymph nodes, and on Aug. 25, the mass was removed. That's when it was discovered that it had spread to her lungs and other organs.

Following the surgery, her baby began showing signs of distress and was delivered by emergency surgery on Aug. 28. While all tests appear normal, the infant was hospitalized for several weeks because of his premature birth.

Jason Spence has taken an unpaid family leave to care for his son and wife who is now undergoing chemotherapy.

Patience is the key to weathering current financial crisis

s you listen to the discussion, commentary and the babble surrounding the current crisis in the financial markets, it is difficult to know who to believe. It's hard to know who is being honest, who is trying to spin us, or who has their own agenda.

Money Matters

Rick Bloom

The reality is it will take years to determine what really happened and whether the measures taken were proper. Like most issues, we will have more than one viewpoint of the situation. The issue, however, is not what commentators and pundits may say, but rather what you and I should be doing.

It is important to remember that a crisis should not be the only time to review a portfolio. You can't put your portfolio in automatic pilot and forget about it. We live in a dynamic world and we must change with the times. Portfolios are something that, like a yard, requires regular maintenance.

STAY CALM

For investors who have maintained diversified portfolios and who have established a portfolio based upon an asset allocation strategy, my advice is do nothing. Most asset allocation strategies do take into consideration that down markets occur and they can be painful. However, the strategy of staying diversified and spreading risk into different asset classes protects an investor in difficult markets.

For the investor who does not have an overall strategy and whose portfolio is a hodge-podge as opposed to a coordinated game plan, take advantage of the present market conditions to restructure. Your portfolio needs to be based upon a strategy that matches your goal. Randomly picking mutual funds or stocks is a bad way to handle a port-

Then there's the investor whose view is, "I'm tired of the losses. I'm just going to liquidate all my investments and put the money in cash." This strategy offers shortterm comfort but inevitably will cause long-term pain. Investing in items such as CDs, money markets and government bonds are important investments for a portfolio. However, just like 100 percent of your money should not be in stocks, 100 percent of your money should not be in fixed

The reason people liquidate their portfolios to move into cash, is they think the portfolio will be risk-free. It would be nice if some of these investments were risk-free, but they are not. Risk is more than your money going up and down in value, it is also not keeping up with the increased cost of living and taxes. Those selling out of the market today may get some short-term satisfaction, however, they are assuming a substantial risk that their money will not keep pace with the increased cost of living.

NO ONE ANSWER

There is no one answer how investors should handle the present crisis. The key to handling any type of financial crisis is to look at your individual situation and use that as your

There is, however, one thing that applies to everyone, patience. When people rush, they generally make the wrong financial decision. We all need to take a step back and let some of the dust settle. Sometimes the best course of action is to do nothing.

Although every crisis has its own personality, a common thread is fear. Investors who let fear dominate their investment decisions ultimately fail to achieve the returns they desire. If you must make a move during these volatile times, be careful and thoughtful and make sure you don't let your short-term comfort cost you long-term security.

Gebhardt is best for 12th District

On Tuesday, Nov. 4, voters in the Wayne County Commission's 12th District will have to decide who will best represent their

Two candidates — Democrat Joan Gebhardt and Republican Thomas Thompson — are vying for the right to represent the district served by former Commissioner Kay Beard. The longest serving commissioner, Beard had a strong working knowledge of the county as a whole, but we believe the person who replaces her needs an even stronger understanding of the district.

Thompson has some novel ideas like agreeing to a 20 percent pay cut and putting county employees on a four-day work week, but we believe the candidate who knows the district best is Joan Gebhardt. As the district staffer for state House Speaker Andy Dillon, D-Redford, and representative to Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, Gebhardt is well-versed in what's happening in the district, the region and the state.

We like the creativity she has shown in proposing a one-stop place where Wayne County residents who are losing jobs and homes can find a wide array of services. We also like her commitment to work with the county and local officials to resolve the lead contamination in Westland's Central City Park. And we are impressed that she's in tune with issues involving the county and the City of Detroit like the expansion of Cobo Hall.

We believe she has the political savvy to be an effective representative of the district on the county commission. That said, we urge voters to vote for Joan Gebhardt in the November general election. She is the candidate best suited to represent the Wayne County Commission's 12th District.

Meetings: More than 1-time, 1-issue thing

The Wayne-Westland Education Association believes the school board is violating the Open Meetings Act by not moving its meetings to a larger location to accommodate people who want to attend. In a threatened lawsuit, the union contends that the board is acting in bad faith by continuing to hold its meetings in the board room at the district's administrative office

The lawsuit talks about allowing "the participation of the public" in the meeting, which we welcome. However, we wonder where the public was for the board's other regular meetings this year as well as the special meeting just two weeks ago when they selected a new school board member?

The public's interest in participating seems to spike when they have a bone to pick with the district. But most times, interest in what the school board does is slim at best. The board conducts the business of the district before a handful of people, most of them administrators.

We don't believe the board has acted in bad faith as the union contends. The board must be able to maintain order and conduct its business in a professional manner. If moving the meeting to a larger venue will allow more people to participate, we say fine, but check your picket signs and attitudes at the door.

And when this contract is finally settled, we hope the people the union is fighting so hard to get into the meeting room now continue to attend. The school board would surely like to see every seat filled for every meeting. Participation should be more than a one-time, one-issue thing.

New energy package is a good first step

Two weeks ago, the Michigan Legislature passed a compromise energy package that won the support of Michigan environmental groups and the state's two largest energy companies, Consumers Energy and DTE Energy.

It is not perfect legislation and has raised objections. Energy brokers are concerned about returning the big energy companies to a regulated monopoly, with 90 percent of the state's energy consumers. They argue that energy choice hasn't been given a fair trial. Others complain that the energy companies can make rate changes without prior approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission. Some argue that Michigan should be moving more aggressively on alternative energy.

And no one is happy that residential energy bills will be going up. The new legislation shifts some of the burden from industrial and commercial enterprises to residential customers, who have been subsidized by business customers.

But rates would have gone up anyway. The legislation moves Michigan into a better competitive position with other states and finally makes an effort to set a renewable portfolio standard (RPS) and create an energy-efficiency program.

Consumers and DTE wanted customer stability so they could seek loans to build new power plants to replace dated, inefficient plants, coal and nuclear. Environmentalists wanted the RPS and efficiency programs to make the state less dependent on coal-fueled electrical power plants.

Under this legislation, they all get something.

Developer's dream not ours

Mr. (Glenn) Shaw, the developer of the Nankin Mills Village, held another meeting on Sept. 24, inviting residents of Gray that were not invited to the August meeting. He went over some changes he thought were substantial (the three-story, many hundred feet long building is still there along with more than 50 single family homes).

He said that he has a dream to provide upper-scale housing for active seniors. He hopes his dream is a good one and that we residents will like it, too. What Mr. Shaw ignores is that we residents are living our dream NOW. The 100 or so residents that surround his project are happy where they live, NOW. He wants 100 or so residents to give up their dream, so that one businessman can have his dream.

What's more, the Westland city administration and council let one man be more important than 100 Westland city residents. How many of you want to give up your dream so a stranger can have his? How many of you want Westland city government to consider one, outside businessman over many residents?

The contrast between Democrat Joan Gebhardt and Republican Thomas Thompson could not have been sharper. Gebhardt, currently a Schoolcraft College trustee, was wellinformed, articulate and compassionate. She clearly understands the challenges faced by Wayne County. She also has a vision for Wayne County's

When the questions turned to rising foreclosures in the county, Gebhardt expressed a deep understanding of the problem and the real impact on families, neighborhoods and the county.

She has a plan to address the problem — one-stop centers to provide assistance to homeowners and a neighborhood blight-watch program to keep vacant homes from impacting the value of surrounding homes.

A lifelong Wayne County resident and 35-year homeowner in Westland and Livonia, Gebhardt focuses on the future. She will work hard to bring new businesses and good jobs here so all of our children and grandchildren can achieve their dreams right here.

Joan Gebhardt has the experience and vision we need in a Wayne County commissioner.

> Nan Melke Westland

Gebhardt is best choice

I am pleased and proud to support Joan Gebhardt for Wayne County commissioner for the 12th District. Following her career as teacher and principal, and now serving as her homework.

Schoolcraft College trustee, Joan obviously knows the importance of doing

In the recent League of Women Voters Forum at Livonia City Hall, she demonstrated that she has a firm grasp of the issues and that she recognizes and understands the economic and quality of life challenges facing Wayne County and all of southeast Michigán.

Joan shares the concerns of our families, including the many families that may be facing home foreclosure. In these difficult financial times, she knows how important it is to maintain our infrastructure, to improve our county roads, to embrace new technologies, and to attract good jobs to our area.

Last but certainly not least, Joan promises to work long and hard to assure that our citizens receive full value for each and every dollar spent.

I urge voters in the 12th District to support Joan Gebhardt for Wayne County commissioner on Nov. 4. Joan will put her energy, enthusiasm and experience to work for you.

Westland Vote for Thompson

I would like to encourage voters to consider voting for Thomas E. Thompson. I have known Tom for more 30 years and know he would make an excellent candidate for Wayne County commissioner, 12th

Tom can be trusted to do what he says he will do and has a servant's heart to serve the people of Wayne County. Tom is well-organized and over the last eight years has planned and directed our Empty Nesters Camp in the U.P. for 45-60 people each September. Everyone has appreciated his directional skills and planning to care for the needs of each person. You can place your confidence in Tom Thompson and I would encourage you to vote for him in our next election.

These teachers give us nothing but the truth and they always stay back after school to help students with any problems they have. Teachers are sitting here taking pay cuts while our board members are getting raises. It is so hard having to deal with 40 students in a class you parents and board members don't even know. Us students are smart enough here to realize what is going on and maybe we should be picketing with the teachers so us students and teachers get the respect that we deserve. We'll see what the district does when they have 15,000 plus students and teachers coming down on them.

Would you rather teach your child to not stand up for what you believe in, which includes a classroom with a reasonable amount of children. How is that setting a bad example? It shouldn't be confusing at all if the teachers/parents handle it appropri-

I can say I want to answer my students questions in a fair and honest manner — I ALWAYS tell my students that I understand the district's point of view - they must balance the budget, however, I must fight for what I believe is right!

I do not "coach" my students to go home and tell their parents anything - I tell them the truth. (Which they see every day in crowded classrooms!)

QUOTABLE

"The irony here is that people who have been complaining that we are nothing but a rubber stamp for the president are now complaining that we won't rubber stamp this proposal."

- U.S. Rep. Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, about the Bush administration's $700 billion Wall Street bailout plan

Stem cell Proposal 2 would advance medicine, grow economy

mbryonic stem cell research has the power to bring hope to the sick in Michigan where there has been none, and healing to people in horrible suffering.

It holds the promise of new treatments and cures for a long list of devastating diseases: cancer, heart disease, diabetes, stroke, Alzheimer's, ALS, Parkinson's disease, spinalcord injuries, to name just a few.

It offers physicians a gateway into a new understanding of basic human biology and a fantastic array of new techniques to bring better health care to their patients.

And it can provide a major economic stimulus to Michigan's lagging economy. A conservative estimate says that it would add 8,000 new jobs and $490 million to payrolls throughout the state.

Yet Michigan physicians who want to use this powerful new tool face serious jail time simply for wanting to help their patients.

That's what Proposal 2 on the Nov. 4 Michigan ballot wants to change. It will finally unshackle our best doctors and our best scientists to pursue the most promising opportunities for advancing the cause of medicine.

Proposal 2 would allow Michigan physicians and scientists the freedom to pursue cures through embryonic stem cell research, just like doctors in 45 other states.

Who could possibly be against bringing new hope and healing into the world?

The answer is simple: People who want to impose their own narrow values on others, who have decided their lack of compassion and understanding should stand in the way of suffering patients finding comfort and care.

We have already seen that the opponents of Proposal 2 will not let the truth stand in their way. It's science against cynicism. They have lots of money; they have created a small cottage industry of deception - a dissembling line. And they will use it shamelessly to distort the truth and buy votes.

Let's start with their lies: Taxes: Proposal 2 does not ask for one penny of tax dollars. In fact, by providing economic stimulus, it will save each one of us in Michigan money.

Cloning: Proposal 2 specifically outlaws it. Unregulated science: Embryonic stem cell research is already strictly regulated at the federal level. Proposal 2 adds another layer of ethical safeguards. Embryos can only come from fertility clinics, when they can no longer be used for reproduction and when the donors offer their consent.

Embryos for sale: Proposal 2 specifically for as long as you own your home!

embryos languishing in fertility clinics that would be otherwise discarded. By law, there can be no payment.

Forget the hype: the science of embryonic stems cells is very simple. Fertility clinics create embryos in test tubes, far more than can ever be implanted in female donors. Remaining, unneeded embryos are frozen for storage. Eventually they are tossed out. Embryos are tiny things, the size of the period at the end of this sentence. They contain 150 or so cells, including the embryonic stem cells. They could not survive on their own. But their stem cells have immense power and immense potential to save lives, because of their innate ability to produce every other type of cell in the human body.

Think of the opportunities that affords medical scientists. They can take embryonic stem cells and use them to grow endless amounts of tissne in a test tube, which can be put to work repairing or replacing damaged and dead cells in their patients. For instance, medical scientists could grow spinal tissue that can help the injured walk again. Or they could grow pancreatic cells as a source of insulin so that a child with Type 1 diabetes no longer has to endure injections every day.

Physicians can also model diseases - that is, they can develop cells that have a certain disease, such as cancer or diabetes — and then test countless possible medications to identify ones that are effective treatments or cures, in far shorter time than the methods they have now. That speeds up the time for getting lifesaving treatments to desperately ill people.

So the question comes down to this: Whom do you believe? Doctors and scientists who are desperately trying to save lives and who pray every night to have the power to create cures for their patients? Or people who care more for their own narrow beliefs than the very real pain of sick or injured people? Do we want cures or scares?

No wonder embryonic stem cell research has wide support across this nation. Recent surveys show that 68 percent of Americans support it. Embryonic stem cell research has the backing of the American Medical Association and the National Health Council. And it has the bipartisan blessing of both presidential candidates, Sens. John McCain and Barack Obama.

But now, more than ever, it needs your support, too.

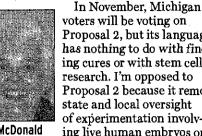

As you enter the voting booth Nov. 4, please vote YES on Proposal 2. It's a vote for hope and healing and cures.

Dr. John "Joe" Schwarz is a medical doctor and a former Republican U.S. congressman and Michigan legislator. He is associated with CureMichigan which is promoting the ballot proposal.

Proposal 2 would allow unregulated experimentation

s a person living with metastatic cancer, I would love as much as anyone to find cures and new treatments for diseases and illnesses. However, Proposal 2 will not provide the answers promised by backers.

Instead, Proposal 2 goes too far because it is deceptive and is being presented with emotional and dishonest appeals.

voters will be voting on Proposal 2, but its language has nothing to do with finding cures or with stem cell research. I'm opposed to Proposal 2 because it removes state and local oversight of experimentation involving live human embryos or embryonic stem cells.

I urge voters to read the fine print of Proposal 2, and not merely rely on the packaged description of the amendment offered by its proponents.

This proposed constitutional amendment provides that no state or local law may prevent, restrict, obstruct, discourage or provide disincentives to any embryonic stem cell research. In other words, no laws would apply to embryonic stem cell research.

I would like to clarify a few misconceptions on Proposal 2. First, embryonic stem cell research is not illegal in Michigan. Forty scientists are currently conducting human embryonic research at the University of Michigan alone.

Second, this constitutional amendment does not ban human cloning.

And third, those of us who are opposed to this proposal are not opposed to all science related to stem cell research.

Human embryonic stem cell research is already legal in Michigan. Research has been conducted on human embryonic stem cells for years, primarily at the University of Michigan Center for Human Embryo Stem Cell Research, one of the largest research centers in the country. Proposal 2 would allow unregulated and unrestricted research, not only on stem cells, but also on human Proposal 2 does not place a human cloning ban into the Michigan Constitution. It does state that nothing shall be interpreted to "alter" the statute that is currently on the books that bans human cloning. However, if Michigan law changes to allow human cloning, the proposed amendment would then allow cloning, and there are two bills that would allow human cloning pending in the Michigan Legislature right now.

The proposed amendment is very deceptive and gives the impression that it addresses human cloning without doing so in any way.

There is nothing in the proposal that protects Michigan's existing statutory ban on human Supporters of Proposal 2 told the Detroit Free Press that the ban on human cloning could be revisited once the general public becomes more familiar with the science.

Quite obviously, their intent is to pursue eliminating Michigan's ban on human cloning. Finally, MI-CAUSE supports science, but with reasonable restrictions and regulations.

Inserting language in the state Constitution that allows for unrestricted and unregulated scientific experimentation is bad policy and creates a horrible slippery slope that is next to impossible to reverse or control.

If Proposal 2 is passed, state law would not be able to regulate matters of commerce, patient safety, record keeping, donor and recipient privacy and other unforeseen issues. If a business were involved in stem cell experimentation that utilized hazardous viruses or animal DNA, the state would be prevented from overseeing it.

Certainly, any industry that does business in our state should be subject to laws and requirements that state and local governments and the people of our state feel are necessary. Industry centered around human embryonic research should be treated no differently.

In fact, the nature of the industry demands that the most stringent and exacting laws and regulations be in place as they are in other

Regardless of how pure the motives of its practitioners, regulations and restrictions do have a place in science and research. Unfortunately, Proposal 2 fails to include regulations and restrictions to prohibit human embryo experimentation.

Science involving adult stem cells and induced pluripotent stem cells continues to make great strides and can produce discoveries that make our lives healthier and more productive. Personally, new discoveries that may help anyone who has cancer or another disease or illness would be wonderful, but I do not believe Proposal 2 is the avenue we should take to find new treatments and cures.

Likewise, the people of Michigan should not be fooled by claims that unregulated and unrestricted experimentation can bring us closer to cures. We're too smart to believe this is possible or that this is how science should

Lady Ocelots boot Cincinnati State, 4-0

BY TIM SMITH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Cool, crisp passes on an autumn day worked to perfection Saturday as Schoolcraft College blanked visiting Cincinnati State, 4-0, in an NJCAA-Region 12 women's soccer match.

The Lady Ocelots opened the scoring with less than five minutes to play in the first half as sophomore forward Samantha Harrington buried a 25yard blast from the left side of the pitch past Cincinnati State goalkeeper Jessica Brandstetter.

Schoolcraft then controlled the second half, with goals by freshman midfielders Stephanie Gutkowski (Livonia Stevenson), Katie Shull (Canton) and Jacqueline Patterson.

Freshman goalkeeper and Salem product Kristen Dondzilla chalked up the shutout for the Lady Ocelots.

"I thought our midfield worked extremely well and made quick, short passes," said Schoolcraft head coach Deepak Shivraman. "And our defenders were tough to beat.

"We bring that culture every day (to practice) and today was one of those days where that came in handy.'

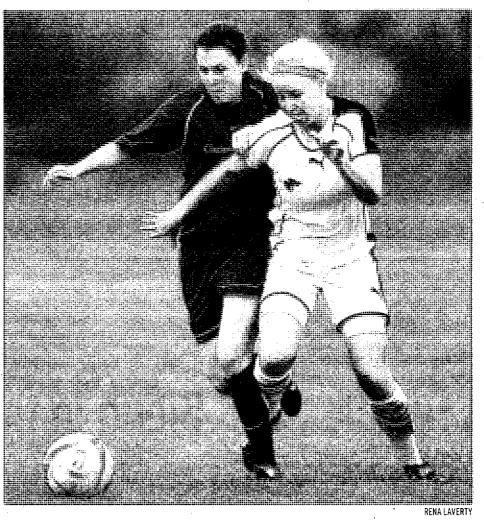

Shivraman said it helped that his team was more rested than Cincinnati State, which played on Friday and then had to travel to Livonia. But the Surge hung around for most of the first half.

"Cincinnati has been a power house in the past, they're well coached," Shivraman said. "But that early goal (by Harrington) kind of gave us some breathing room. ... That kind of put everybody at ease and then we were able to kick in our game. Before that, we played a little bit sloppy."

Gutkowski, cited along with freshman Tara Pietila and sophomore Ally King (Livonia Stevenson) by the coach for their consistency in the centermidfield, made it 2-0 early in the second half when she dribbled through defenders and knocked the ball past

Despite being outplayed during the second half and hanging on for dear life, Madonna University managed a 2-1 win Saturday at Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference (7-1-0, 5-0), while the Saints dropped to 3-3-2, 2-2.

"We were pretty tired, you could tell," Madonna head coach Tino Scicluna said. "We had a couple tough days of practice, plus we had

But that's when the Saints turned up the jets and started winning more 50/50s and gaining a territorial edge. Crunch time for Madonna officially began when Siena's Joel Parrish chipped in a shot less than 26 minutes left to play.

Four minutes after Parrish scored, Besk had a close call as a bouncing shot went over his head with nothing but a gaping goal staring at the Siena player. But Besk quickly corralled the ball in time.

Siena's Lindon Ivezic was awarded a penalty kick with 12:30 remaining, but his high shot drifted over the crossbar. A string of near-misses around the Madonna goal continued as the clock slowly ticked down.

"Toward the end of the game, the guys just didn't even have the energy" to possess the ball, Scicluna said. "When you're up a goal, the way to end out games is just by draining the other team by moving the ball quickly.

"But we didn't have the energy to keep the ball. We went most of the second half without it."

Scicluna, however, said it was still nice to get the victory: "When you play poorly and you still win, you know you've got something going for you."

Despite the shaky win, Scicluna said his team is where it wants to be as far as the WHAC standings are concerned. Now the key is to not take any conference opponents lightly.

"I think we're starting to create some separation between us and all the other teams in the conference," he said. "We've just got to keep doing what we're doing. ... Any team in this conference can catch us on any day. So we've got to ith the final third of the 2008 high school football season approaching approaching, some teams are struggling to get out of their own end of the gridiron.

Still others are stuck between the two 40-yard lines and the remaining teams are crashing into the "red zone," the 20-yard territory that ends at pay dirt.

And there is a correlation between where teams are — figuratively speaking — on the football field to their quest to garner the six victories necessary to automatically qualify for the '08 state playoffs.

Where on the "field" is your team? Breaking it down, it's never as clear cut as all that. But let's give it a go:

■ No chance, folks: To those teams with less than two victories so far, meaning Livonia Churchill, Wayne Memorial, Salem, Redford Union and Garden City, it's already time to play for pride because the postseason probably isn't going to happen.

Only by running the table will those teams have any crack at the districts. And that would require the Michigan High School Athletic Association needing to flesh out to the mandated number of 256 playoff teams should there not be that many winning the six games.

So get to five victories and then let the chips fall where they may.

But, of course, the last team to make the field last year was Livonia Franklin at 5-4 and the Patriots ended up winning two rounds in the Division 1 state playoffs before losing to state runner-up and crosstown rival Livonia Stevenson, 10-7, in the region final.

■ Stuck in the middle with you: The final four weeks figure to push some on-thebubble teams one way or the other.

Warriors cruise to HVL crown

The state-ranked Lutheran High Westland girls volleyball squad won all six matches and didn't lose a game en route to the Westland Huron Valley Lutheran Tournament title.

The Warriors defeated Plymouth Christian Academy in the finals, 25-16, 25-15, after defeating Grosse Pointe Woods University-Liggett in the semifinals, 25-6, 25-6, and Taylor Baptist Park in the quarterfinals, 25-11, 25-14.

In pool play, the Warriors upended Baptist Park (25-13, 25-19), Livonia Clarenceville (25-14, 25-8) and PCA (25-16,

"Overall we had a great day," said Lutheran Westland coach Kevin Wade, whose team improved to 22-4-3 overall. " We played very well at times, especially after we had to adjust our lineup due to losing an outside hitter to injury in the first match of the day. It was a good day of volleyball for us. We have some little things to work on but they will only make us better."

Senior middle hitter Becca Refenes led the Warriors with a team-high of 46 kills to go along with seven solo blocks and 30 digs.

Other kills leaders included Katey Ramthun (31), Allyson Yankee (23) and Rachel Stork

Yankee and Emilie Freeman also had seven solo blocks each, while Storck contributed Assist-to-kill leaders included Lauren Gieschen (76) and Cathy Haller (30). Ramthun, a senior, had a team-best 41 digs followed by Refenes and Abi Giechen with 30 each; Lauren Gieschen, 25; and Nicole Zehel, 17. Abi Gieschen also served a team-high 41 points, while Lauren Gieschen served 16 aces for the Warriors, ranked No. 3 in Class D.

The host Hawks went 2-1-1 but lost the opening round of pool play to Clarenceville.

Leah Miller and Samantha Barber tallied 19 and 10 kills, respectively while Kayla Stockdale registered 37 assists.

Huron Valley wins in 4

With offensive balance and plenty of contributors Tuesday, host Huron Valley Lutheran defeated Canton Agape Christian 3-1 in a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference-Red Division

Hawks' co-coach Kris Ruth said seven players tallied at least one kill, with sophomore middle hitter Leah Miller (9 kills) and senior middle hitter Samantha Barber (7 kills) leading in that department. Senior setter Kayla Stockdale tallied 20 assists.

"We had a lot of contributions from a lot of different hitters," said Ruth said, whose team improves to 7-6-2 overall and 4-1 in the MIAC-Red. "... It's good to have more players involved.

Agape falls to 0-4 in the MIAC-Red.

Clarenceville swept

Adding insult to injury Tuesday - literally - as Macomb Lutheran North earned a 3-0 Metro Conference triumph over host Livonia Clarenceville.

The Trojans lost 23-25, 12-25, 14-25,, but were without senior middle hitter Marlene Azar, who sprained an ankle at Saturday's Huron Valley Lutheran Invitational where Clarenceville placed third out of eight squads.

"We were pretty much lacking defense tonight," said Trojans' head coach Wendy Merschman. "And Lutheran North outplayed us. And not having Azar available at such an important position on the floor also didn't help."

Despite the defeat, several players had good outings for Clarenceville (5-10-2) including junior outside hitter Kat Hall (6 kills, 9 defensive digs), junior setter Katie Blacker (9 digs, 17 assists) and senior middle hitter Laisha Patterson (4 kills, 5 blocks).

Churchill brings home Bedford Tourney title

Livonia Churchill has moved up to fifth in the Class A state girls volleyball rankings after winning Saturday's Temperance Bedford Invitational.

The Chargers, now 20-3 overall, defeated stateranked Dearborn Divine Child in the championship final, 25-12, 25-20, after eliminating Walled Lake Northern in the semifinals, 25-22, 25-14, and Ann Arbor Pioneer in the quarterfinals, 25-21, 25-20.

Churchill's only loss of the day came against Pioneer in pool play, 19-25, 25-27.

The Chargers also defeated Fenton (25-22, 25-12), Monroe (25-23, 20-25, 15-10) and Fraser (25-12, 18-25, 15-10).

Senior libero Lindsey Graciak had a total of 104 digs on the day and served at 90 percent (with six aces) to pace the Chargers.

Other contributions came from Kristen Nalecz (70 kills, four blocks), Cierra Yetts (35 kills, six blocks) and Katie Matz (43 assists, 43 digs, 18 kills).

The Chargers offset Glenn's 6foot semior middle hitter Brittany Holbrook, who finished with 10 kills and one block.

Sophomore middle hitter Chelsea Williams and senior outside hitter Ashly Butkowski each had eight kills Tuesday as Livonia Franklin swept visiting Wayne Memorial in three close games, 25-23, 25-22, 25-22.

Junior setter Liz Hollaway also had 18 assist-to-kills and six aces serves, while freshman Nicole Williamson paced the defense with eight digs. Franklin is now 6-10 overall

Herout's 2 goals lifts Churchill to KLAA-South title

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Livonia Churchill has booked its spot in the first-ever Kensington Conference boys soccer championship match. The Chargers, unbeaten in their last 12 games, clinch the KLAA-South Division title outright Tuesday with a 4-1 win at Plymouth.

Churchill, 11-2-1 overall and 9-0 in the KLAA-South, will travel Monday, Oct. 6 to play either KLAA-Central Division champ, either Livonia Stevenson or Salem, for the conference crown. (Game time is 7 p.m.).

Jakub Herout, an exchange student from the Czech Republic, had a pair of goals for the victorious Chargers, who bolted out to a 4-1 halftime lead over the Wildcats (6-8-1, 3-5-2).

Chris DeNapoli and Matt Regan also tallied goals for the Chargers. Assists went to Etienne Lussiez (on a crafty flick to Regan just two minutes into the match) along with Erik Bird, Simon Bank and Ben Merritt (on a cross to Herout).

Plymouth's Vinh Nguyen scored for the Wildcats midway through the first half to make it 1-all.

We played terribly the first half and only had six good scoring opportunities and scored four," Churchill coach Reid Friedrichs said. "The second half ironically we played well, but did not finish.

"I was very happy with Adrian's play, he had a good spring in his second and his second goal was one of the better ones I've seen." Stevenson coach Lars Richters said.

Brian Klemczak scored what proved to be the game-winner in the first half off an assist from Fylonenko. Nick Anagnostou also drew an assist.

Goalkeeper Conner Burton, who notched the shutout, helped protect a 2-0 halftime lead.

"Much of the second half was played in our end even though they (Novi) didn't have a tremendous amount of scoring opportunities," Richters said.

Canton's offensive line stars in 49-21 triumph over Wayne

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Sometimes the best remedy for a crushing defeat is a night filled with crushing blocks.

That was the case Friday night for Canton's football team, which rebounded from last week's stinging overtime loss to Westland John Glenn with a resounding 49-21 rout of Wayne Memorial.

Canton, which led 42-0 late in the third quarter, improved to 4-1 overall and 2-1 in the Kensington Lakes Activities Association's South Division.

The Zebras slipped to 0-5 and 0-3, respectively.

The Chiefs travel Friday to Livonia Franklin for a pivotal showdown with the Patriots. who are 3-0 in the division.

The Chiefs led 14-0 5:16 into the game thanks to two Daniels scoring runs - one from four yards out; the other from 20.

The Zebras nearly dented their deficit late in the first quarter when they strung together an impressive nineplay drive that took them to the Chief 13. However, they came up empty when Jesse Dorow's 30-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right.

Four plays later, Payter juked a pair of linebackers before racing 49 yards to paydirt to make it 21-0. Canton then closed the firsthalf scoring with a perfectly executed 48-yard TD pass from Delapaz to Davion Stackhouse.

The most dazzling play of the night unfolded just seconds into the third quarter when Canton's Arron Boudreaux bolted 90 yards with the second-half kickoff. Delapaz hit Ron Gaudi with the ensuing two-point conversion pass to pad the Chiefs' lead to 35-0.

Payter upped the Chiefs' advantage to 42-0 with 3:02 left in the third with an electrifying 91-yard run.

The Zebras recorded the game's next two touchdowns, the first coming on Richard Haley's 2-yard run, but Zach Guy extended Canton's lead to 49-15 with 1:42 left.

Haley was the Zebras' star, rushing for 118 yards on 21 attempts.

"Richard's one of our leaders, one of our captains," said Weber. "We told him this week that we were going to lean on him by giving him the football a lot. He stepped up and ran very hard."

Wayne back-up quarterback Nick Mills capped the scoring with a 9-yard keeper.

Youngster delivers first 300 game reams really do come true sometimes.

That was just how it went last Saturday for 15-yearold Bryan Anderson as he delivered his first 300 game in league play at Woodland

His parents, Sue and Duane Anderson were equally excited as they are both avid bowlers.

They got Bryan started at age four in bumper bowling and now he competes in the Woodland Rangers Juniors league on Saturdays.

He is U.S. Bowling Congress league certified and will receive the appropriate award.

Bryan credits the youth coaches, Charles Cain and Kurt Suokaf, for helping him with the fundamentals of the game.

"I was a little nervous in the tenth frame," Anderson said.

hit. His previous high mark was 279 and he averaged 165 last year in league play and the average is climbing higher yet. The 10th-grader from Franklin High is a well-rounded young man, carrying a 3.5 grade-point average and is a member of the school soccer

His first love is bowling and he has even put in an application to serve on the Metro Detroit USBC Youth Committee.

Manoogian Mansion in Detroit has a bowling alley?

I did not know that until all of the Detroit mayoral fallout took place recently and the fate of the building was up for discussion.

I wonder now if Mr. Kilpatrick and family were availing themselves of that facility. Wouldn't it be nice to have a lane or two in your basement?

■ Welcome back, Ray Buchalter.

His job required him to relocate to Minnesota last year, but now he is back here and his old spot on the team was still open, so he fit right back in with the Sunday Morning Goodtimers at Country Lanes in Farmington Hills.

The league also observed a minute of silent reverence for the recently deceased former member and league officer. Mort Silverman, who passed away in August.

■ Thanks to Dr. Michael Lubetsky at Henry Ford Medical in West Bloomfield. He is a rheumatology specialist and gave me a prescription that resulted in immediate relief form a very painful middle finger on my bowling hand. The pain is gone completely but now I no longer have any excuse if I bowl badly.

■ Taylor Lanes will again be the venue this year for the popular Pro Bowlers Tour. The event will be Nov. 9-16 and will incorporate the pro-am portion, which always attracts a plenty of bowlers.

Entry forms will be available at bowling centers throughout the area and look for more details in upcoming Ten Pin Alley columns.

Those interested should call Taylor Lanes (734) 946-9092.

Al Harrison is a resident of Southfield, and a member of the Detroit Bowling Hall of Fame and the Bowling Writers Association of America. He can be reached by e-mail , at: tenpinalley710@yahoo.com.

Three-win squads Redford Thurston and Redford Covenant fall into that category, since they would need 3-1 finishes to automatically qualify. And teams with two wins so far — Westland John Glenn and Lutheran Westland - are just one defeat away from being thrown for a loss back into "no chance" territory.

Full speed ahead: The playoff goal line is within sight for on-the-move Canton, Livonia Stevenson, Plymouth and Livonia Clarenceville. Despite tough opponents on each of their schedules, these four-win teams only need to finish 2-3 and they're in.

In these cases, the red zone means green zone because it's go time.

It's also getting to be the stretch drive for the Observer sports editors, who are separated by just six games in the Grid Picks standings following Week 5.

Leading the pack with a 9-2 mark was Plymouth-Canton Sports Editor Ed Wright, who remains in first place with a 45-13 record. Tied for second both last week and for the season are Livonia-Westland Sports Editor Brad Emons and myself (8-3; 39-19).

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, October 2, 2008

Unlike the teams, we prognosticators don't need to adhere to any formula to determine who goes to the playoffs or not. First of all, we don't have a Grid Picks Bowl or anything like that and, secondly, we just pick 'em and hope for the best.

Now, let's take a closer look at this weekend's slate of high school games:

FRIDAY'S GAMES (ALL 7 P.M. STARTS UNLESS NOTED) LIV. CHURCHILL (1-4, 0-3) AT WAYNE (0-5, 0-3): These two Kensington Valley Activities Association South opponents have had a rough time in 2008, and each will look to bounce back from one-sided defeats. It will be good news either for the Chargers or Zebras. PICKS: Wright (Wayne); Smith

(Churchill); Emons (Churchill). CANTON (4-1, 2-1) AT LIV. FRANKLIN (4-1, 3-0): This KVAA-South contest very well could be the best of the week. The first-place Patriots have tallied 184 points so far, while the Chiefs also are an offensive machine, with 155 points in the bank. Whichever defense comes up with more timely plays probably will decide this one.

PICKS: Wright (Canton); Smith (Franklin): Emons (Canton). WESTLAND GLENN (2-3, 2-1) AT PLYMOUTH (4-1, 2-1): In a clash of KVAA-South rivals, Glenn is looking to rebound from a tough loss to Franklin, while the Wildcats rolled over Churchill, These evenly matched teams have scored and allowed virtually the same number of points within division games.

PICKS: Wright (Plymouth); Smith (Plymouth); Emons (John Glenn).

NOVI (4-1, 3-0) AT LIV. STEVENSON (4-1, 3-0): Both of these teams are tied for first place in the KVAA-Central standings, and that bodes well for another compelling clash. Novi has scored 113 points (just one more than Stevenson) in Central tilts and allowed 54, while the Spartans have been a bit stingier on defense (giving up just 29 points). PICKS: Wright (Novi); Smith (Stevenson); Emons (Stevenson) NORTHVILLE (3-2, 2-1) AT SALEM (1-4, 1-2): The Mustangs are stinging from a 21-7 loss to Stevenson and that means the Rocks could pay the price. But Salem is better than its record indicates and likely has extra confidence following a blowout victory last week.

PICKS: Wright (Salem); Smith (Northville); Emons (Northville).

LIV. CLARENCEVILLE (4-1, 3-1) AT LUTH. WESTLAND (2-3, 2-2), 7:30 p.m.: Both of these Metro Conference opponents are feeling good after Week 5 victories. But the Warriors' defense figures to be severely tested by the high-octane Trojans, who romped 42-10 over Macomb Lutheran North on Friday, Lutheran Westland has won this matchup two of the past three years.

PICKS: Wright (C'ville); Smith (C'ville); Emons (C'ville).

D.H. CRESTWOOD (2-3, 2-1) AT RED. THURSTON (3-2, 3-0): The Mega Gold-leading Eagles are sky high following Friday's lastminute upset at Dearborn Heights Annapolis, but the Chargers can score plenty of points as their 48-8 trouncing of winless Ecorse indicates.

PICKS: Wright (Thurston); Smith (Thurston); Emons (Thurston).

DBN. EDSEL FORD (4-1, 3-1) AT GARDEN CITY (1-4, 0-4): These Mega Blue opponents are headed in opposite directions, although the Cougars will try to have a strong showing at their homecoming game. PICKS: Wright (Edsel Ford); Smith (Edsel Ford); Emons (Edsel Ford).

REDFORD UNION (1-4, 0-3) AT TRENTON (3-2, 21): This year has been nothing but a frustrating journey - literally - for the Panthers, who can't seem to take advantage of opportunities when they get them. Last week, RU rushed for more than 400 yards, but managed only 24 points at Gibraltar Carlson. Its fourth consecutive road game is at Trenton, where the Mega White rival Trojans have outscored division teams 83-44.

PICKS: Wright (Trenton); Smith (Trenton); Emons (Trenton).

SATURĐAY'S GAME RED. COVENANT (3-2, 2-1) AT OLD REDFORD (2-2, 2-1), 1 P.M.: The visiting Spartans enter a pivotal game. They changed quarterbacks for the second half of Friday's loss to Southfield Christian and their top running back missed much of that contest with an ankle sprain. But Covenant still has plenty of offensive weapons to choose from, having tallied 179 points so far.

PICKS: Wright (Covenant); Smith (Covenant); Emons (Covenant).

Travis Walters discusses some of the surprising elements of Meadow Brook's opening play, the chiller 'Murder By Poe,' while showing a model of the set.

Meadow Brook's varied new season set to begin

MURDER BY POE What: The characters of Edgar Allen Poe converge in a new tale of terror by Jeffrey Hatcher, directed by Travis Walter When: Show runs between Oct. 8 and Nov. 3. Where: Meadow Brook Theatre. on the campus of Oakland University at Squirrel and Walton roads, Rochester Hills. Tickets: $30-$39. at www. ticketmaster.com or call the box office at (248) 377-3300

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA

Beginning next week, Livonia native and actress Kelly Komlen will don the thick petticoats of The Woman in White, the lead character in Meadow Brook Theatre's chilling season opener, Murder By Poe. The show, a period piece that links the characters of author Edgar Allan Poe's stories with his own life, drew Komlen's interest from the start. It is set in the 1840s and filled with intrigue.

"At the beginning of the play we meet the Woman in White when she is lost in the woods," said Komlen. "She happens upon a house." But rather than the shelter she sought, she is swept into an unraveling mystery and encounters ghostly beings and some of Poe's famous characters - who all seem to be part of the house itself.

Komlen said she was familiar with the playwright, Jeffrey Hatcher, but this work was new to her prior to the audition. "When I first read it, it seemed very easy and straightforward," she said.

The complexities began to show during rehearsals over the past few months. Since the audience will experience this story in much the same way as her character does, some of the most crucial scenes require Komlen to "stand still and be present," which she said is much more difficult than it might sound. "I'm really excited about it," she said.

That goes double for Director Travis Walter, who also serves as artistic administrator for the Meadow Brook Theater itself.

Sara Catheryn Wolf is among the cast members in 'Murder By Poe.'

Patrick O'Connor Cronin, of Bloomfield Township, appears in 'Murder By Poe.'

An Oakland University graduate, he's worked for the theatre since 2002 and was recently promoted to his position. He handles everything from actor contracts to group sales and promotion. Last winter while he and fellow board members began sifting through musicals, plays, comedies and dramas to choose a suitable set for the 2008-09 season, his passion for this particular show was noted and he was asked to direct it..

The play delves into classic haunting stories like The Fall of the House of Usher, The Black Cat, The Tell-Tale Heart and characters like his Detective C.

We have people from ages 31 to 95," Castrodale said. "And if you're over 90, get in for free."

Don't know how to dance? Don't worry. There are 90-minute lessons available that night too.

Or, on the third Monday of every month, the Livonia Civic Center Library hosts free movie night in its auditorium. October 20 is the award-winning film Ben X, in Belgian with English subtitles.

"Our movie nights are growing in popularity every month," said Carol Guerriero, Livonia's video librarian.

Don't you just need a break from the chaos?

Turn thoughts of bailout into hay bales at the Farmington Hills annual Hay Day in Heritage Park from 5-8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 7. Bryan Farmer of Farmington's Recreation Division expects up to 4,000 people to come for a giant marshmallow roast in the area's largest campfire.

And there's a hayride, fall treats like cider and apples, and a paint-a-pumpkin party.

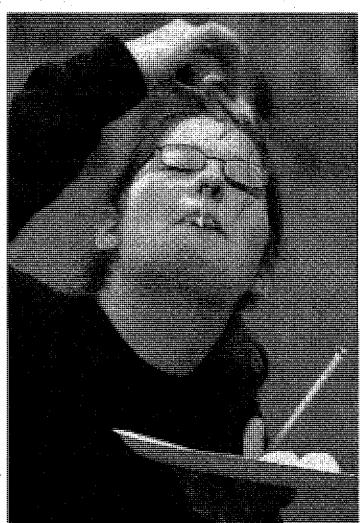

"It's very much an old-fashioned kind of day," Farmer said. "It's perfect to enjoy the fall color change."

Families can also get inside looks at a fire engine, create crafts, walk the trails and make s'mores.

In the past nine years, 18,000 people have attended the event.

It's located at Heritage Park between 10 and 11 mile roads. Attendance is free and includes the rides and marshmallows but there are fees for hot dogs, apples, s'mores and pumpkins.

Local band Murrow's Boys focuses on social issues

STAFF WRITER

The setting: Outside it's a paved area with tables and chairs surrounded by bright pumpkins and colorful mums.

Inside, there are fresh flowers, tangerine and blue walls, wireless Internet, sofas, cozy tables and chairs and the scent of coffee in the air.

The sound: This Saturday, on the intimate stage of the friendly, independently-owned Plymouth Coffee Bean is well-composed, well-honed music by a trio of seasoned, local musicians named Murrow's Boys.

The band performs a listenable blend of catchy folk, blues, rock and intelligent yet grooving Americana.

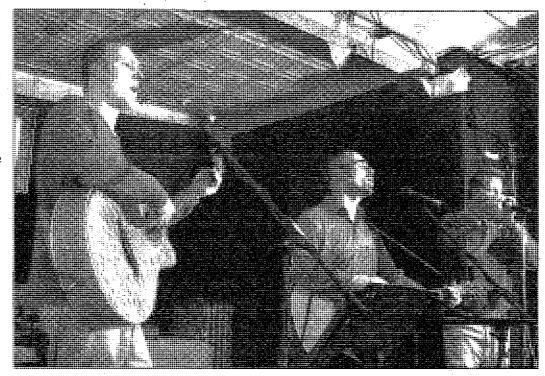

Livonia resident James Murphy plays guitar and bass.

Ken Marten of Hamtramck helps set the mood with his bluesy harmonica and occasional percussion. Brother Greg Marten plays guitar, bass and mandolin. (Greg Marten and Murphy both sing). Murrow's Boys call themselves observers and Ken Marten is the perfect example. He's both a journalist and co-songwriter. Their music focuses on social commentary, topics you don't always expect to hear in music.

While many bands of their genre focus on subjects like love and romance, Murrow's Boys sing about the ups-and-downs of casinos in their hometown, for example. The song Friday Hero is about the aging guy who can't let go of his school years when he was the Friday night football star. The song TV Land is about the phony perfection created in 1950s sitcoms, where broken homes and marriages were never shown.

"That song talks about how those images effect the American psyche," Ken Marten

Murrow's Boys write songs that aren't preachy or high-brow.

They welcome newcomers to their CD release party at the Coffee Bean. Admission all the musicians have played music for is free but their new, self-titled 14-track CD will be for sale.

THEIR HISTORY

The trio, all with strong musical backgrounds, are equals in the music-making process of Murrow's Boys.

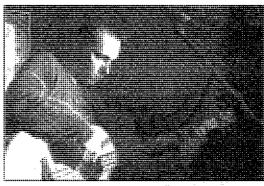

"Lyrics are usually written by just one of us, but all three contribute to creating the music that surrounds and enhances the story," Murphy said. "We enjoy the creative process which is fairly unique with ideas coming from three different angles."

The band formed two years ago, but decades.

'Ken and I have been making music together on and off for more than 20 years, going back to our high school rock band days," brother Greg Marten said. "We know each other's musical signature real well, and we were fortunate to find James, who fit right in with us."

Murrow's Boys is not a band expecting to make it big in the music world. They all have careers by day. Yet that doesn't mean Trinity House is where music lovers gather; and that's why musicians love it.

"The audience knows why they are there," Brandt said. "They have come to listen to everything you are laying down - from the music, to the stories about the music — to share the inside jokes that your bandmates pass quietly between each other.

"Slowly over the length of a set, you and your partners (the audience) develop a intuitive bond that strengthens as the evening continues. It's always supportive, leaving both you and the audience transformed. And when they leave they thank you. How cool it that?"

Patrick O'Connor Cronin, an actor hailing from Bloomfield Township, finds himself returning to the Rochester Hills stage in this show. He first appeared at Meadow Brook last year as the young Scrooge in the annual production of A Christmas Carol.

Like many of his castmates he'll take on multiple roles in Murder By Poe, from a police officer to a tortured man. He said audiences can expect to experience a story within a story, a play with multiple layers. He's worked with most of his castmates on previous projects. "We are just having a great time," he said during a Sept. 24 rehearsal.

Sara Catheryn Wolf can attest to that. The St. Clair Shoresbased actress portrays four different characters in Murder By Poe and for her it's a chance to bring to the stage the stories crafted by an author she reveres. "I became interested in Poe at the age of 12 when my father gave me a book and told me to read The Tell-Tale Heart," said Wolf. She found the stories fascinating and frightening and looks forward to bringing their element of surprise to the Komlen, a Dearborn Heights resident, commended her fellow cast members. "They're scaring me, which is what they're supposed to be doing," she said. "It's a testament to their talent. They're helping me. They're drawing me in. It's a great cast."

Audiences should brace for the unexpected. The set may appear simple, but this is the sort of play where things are not always what they seem.

Cronin called the set itself "a puzzle box." And Wolf noted that a comprehensive knowledge of Poe's works won't be necessary for audience members. "I think people are going to be surprised," said Wolf. She said those familiar with Poe's writing will have an appreciation for it and those not as familiar will "still find it excit-

"There are no pre-requisites," she said. "It's not necessary for anyone to read up on it."

To augment the experience, Meadow Brook Theatre will trace Poe's personal history and feature synopses of his works on public display along the theater's entrance. It's just a touch of something extra that Walter hopes will enhance the entire experience. "We always say the audience is the final character," he said.

Meadow Brook's season line-up

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA OSE STAFF WRITER

Meadow Brook Theatre is poised for a break-out year. With a season filled with premieres, marquee names like Joanna Cassidy and returning stars like Cindy Williams, the independent theater on Oakland University's campus is ready to fill its seats.

"We are Michigan's largest producing professional theater," said Travis Walter, artistic administrator. He admits Meadow Brook has long held a reputation as Rochester Hills' "best-kept secret," but said, "We don't want it to be a secret any

Since 1966 the local stage has welcomed the likes of Robert "Freddy Krueger" Englund, William Hurt and Curtis Armstrong. For the 2008-2009 season, its fresh roster ranges from farcical comedies to serious dramas, Christmas traditions past and present and a spook in time for Halloween. It all begins this month with Murder By Poe, a 90-minute mystery ride directed by Walter himself (see related story). An Oakland University graduate and Sterling Heights resident, Walter has worked for Meadow Brook for the past 6 years. His recent promotion to finds him in a varied role. He has worked his way up from an intern to group sales and beyond, always valuing the experience. "Who doesn't dream of having a theater and running one?" he said. "If you are an actor, that's what you dream."

Walter was putting the finishing touches on Murder By Poe when FILTER visited Sept. 24. He was delicately balancing his full time work for the theater with his directing duties for the opening show. Still his energy seemed contagious. "This season is so exciting," said Walter. "Our audiences have never seen shows like these before. We've got something for everyone."

The rest of Meadow Brook Theatre's season is as follows:

A Christmas Carol: Though it's not included in the season ticket package, Charles Dickens' classic, adapted and directed by Charles Nolte, runs Nov. 28-Dec. 21. In this the 27th year, Joe Reed will portray everyone's favorite Bah humbug, Ebenezer Scrooge.

Beyond the Rainbow: The Michigan premiere of William Randall Beard's tale about the life and rise of Judy Garland, runs Jan. 7-Feb. 1. Listen for songs pulled straight from her much-touted 1961 Carnegie Hall performance, like The Trolley Song, Stormy Weather and, Over the Rainbow.

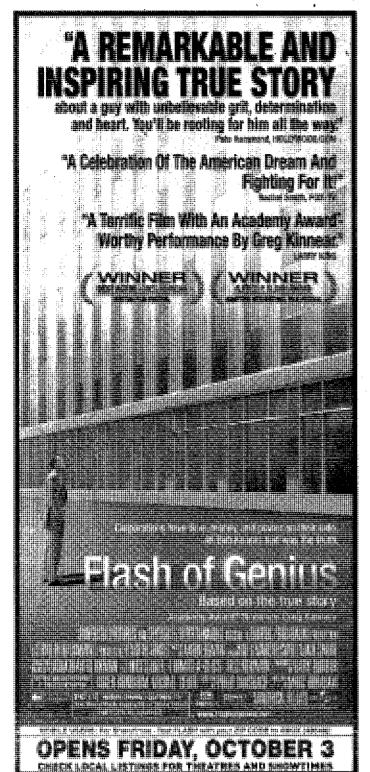

Kong's Night Out: Actress Cindy Williams drops the habit but returns after a successful run last season in Nunsense. This story, a farce written and directed by Jack Neary, finds theater producer Myron Siegel in a pinch as his show Foxy Felicia is failing due to the popularity of his arch enemy, Carl Denham's, secret Ape-traction. Characters are borrowed from the film classic King Kong. The show also stars Eddie Mekka (Carmine Ragusa of Laverne & Shirley fame), Kady Zadora Riklis (daughter of Pia Zadora) and Christo Savalas (son of Telly Savalas). This show runs Feb. 11-March 8.

The Trip to Bountiful: This Horton Foote drama marks the return of Meadow Brook Theatre veteran, Mary Benson, and actress Joanna Cassidy, known for memorable roles in Boston Legal and Six Feet Under.

By Jeeves: With music by Andrew Lloyd Webber and book and lyrics by Alan Ayckbourn, this final season package show deals with mistaken identity, forbidden love and more, as it follows a day in the life of Bertie Wooster and his servant and stars David Edwards who played this role on Broadway. It runs April 22 through May 17.

Nunsense 2: The Second Coming: Call it a bonus. Creator Dan Goggin, a Michigan native, brings back his popular series about the Little Sisters of Hoboken. The show runs May 27-June 14 and stars Marcia Wallace of The Bob Newhart Show. Single tickets and subscriptions are now on sale for the season. Subscriptions range from $104 to $166, and allow ticketholders priority seating, and a 20 percent discount on additional tickets, as well as pre-sale tickets for A Christmas Carol and Nunsense 2: The Second Coming. Call (248) 377-3300 or visit www.mbtheatre.com.

New Commerce restaurant and bar worth the trip

0&E STAFF WRITER

At Uptown Grille in Commerce Township, all-American food gets "a healthy twist."

According to co-owner Joseph Hibbert, locally-grown, organic produce and meats are a priority at the new dining hot spot.

"The meat is all natural, no hormones, no antibiotics. All the fish is wild as opposed to farm raised. We use a lot of Michigan produce while it's available," Hibbert said. "All the sauces and dressings, the pizza dough, everything is made from scratch. Great Harvest Bread Company, they make all the bread for us and deliver it every day."

Hibbert grew up in Canada, and has worked in restaurants all his life, holding positions, from dishwasher to general manager. About five years ago he moved to Canton, where he met his business partner, Ryan Adams, of Farmington Hills.

Adams, whose parents own Zerbo's Health Foods in Livonia, was raised in a nutrition-conscious household and, like Hibbert, always dreamed of opening a healthy, upscale restaurant.

Hibbert and Adams found a location in the former Elephant Bar, and spared no expense converting it to the Uptown Grille.

Whether you're looking for a good meal or a great time, the 14,000-square-foot establishment can deliver. One half is devoted to the restaurant, where lunch and dinner are served with a gourmet flair. The other half is a bar complete with 16 plasma screen televisions, a stage and dance floor.

"We wanted a pretty casual family atmosphere in the restaurant, which is why we have a separate bar, to fulfill as many needs as possible for our clientele," said Hibbert.

The menu offers appetizers like Crab Stuffed Mushrooms, Calamari Steaks, Riblets and Roasted Red Pepper Hummus. Entrees include a variety of salads and a wide selection of Italian dishes, with meat and vegetarian lasagna drawing rave reviews. Steaks include Uptown's

The Politics of Fashion

Plymouth exhibit highlights first lady fashion

BY WENSDY VON BUSKIRK OSE STAFF WRITER

As election season heats up, citizens are talking about more than hot-button issues. From Sarah Palin's eyeglasses and Michelle Obama's distaste for pantyhose, to Cindy McCain's colorful skirt suits and Hillary Clinton's haircuts, people are discussing the politics of fashion.

According to an exhibit currently on display at the Plymouth Historical Museum, the fascination is nothing new.

"Inaugural Gowns of the First Ladies," open through Nov. 5, shows society has always been interested in what White House women were wearing.

From Martha Washington to Laura Bush, all of history's first ladies are represented in the exhibit. Displays feature a vast collection of first lady dolls, along with photographs and short histories of each first lady's life and style.

Highlighting the exhibit are 15 replicas of inaugural gowns on mannequins. The gowns were recreated in 1971, when Joan Deer of Birmingham launched the project as a fundraiser for the Republican Party.

Deer enlisted the help of late Frankenmuth designers Don Nagel and David Zeese, who visited the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

This Jacqueline Kennedy doll is one of many featured at the exhibit "Inaugural Gowns of the First Ladies."

to view the authentic first lady gowns displayed there. Based on their sketches and extensive research into fabrics, Margaret Reminding of Birmingham and Juan Horrax of Detroit then sewed the garments.

After the exhibit toured the nation, the GOP put the dresses up for auction. The Deers acquired many of them, which they donated to Museum.

The PHM rents the collection every four years to coincide with presidential elections.

The garments date back to a ribbon brocade dress of the kind Washington might have worn had there been an inauguration ceremony for her husband, George, to the wool coat dress Rosalynn Carter famously purchased 'off the rack.'

In between are two yellow dresses with matching coats that reflect the change from bustles and ball gowns to slimmer silhouettes. One, made from 15 yards of fabric embroidered with 1,500 flowers, was worn by Dolley Madison in 1809.

The other, a sleek designer set trimmed with brown sable, was donned by Lady Bird Johnson

The evolution of style offers insight into the changing role of the first lady.

According to PHM's Executive Director Elizabeth Kelley Kerstens, the duties of first lady started out as strictly social.

"It was a hostess job, essentially. They would set up dinners and entertain guests to the White House," she said.

"Today, they've become advocates, like Laura Bush, who was a librarian, promoting literacy. They pick a cause to stand behind so they have something meaningful to add."
