Career tech students show style, smarts in designing vehicle

BY SUE MASON

The showcase in the commons of the William D. Ford Career Technical Center has more bling than Tiffany's. Six trophies fill the case, proclaiming the school's success in this year's Innovative Vehicle Design competition.

Hydro Volt, the student-built retro Rat Ride vehicle — a flat black scaled-down 1940s pickup that's a fuel cell/plug-in hybrid vehicle — received first-place trophies in innovation, engineering and fabrication and Professionals' Pick, as well as second place for presentation, ambassadorship and vehicle performance.

"The students also really wanted innovation because of the uniqueness of the vehicle and they wanted fabrication because they worked so hard in building it piece by piece, but they were most pleased with the Professionals' Pick," said Sue Wilk, the IVD project coordinator. "They had to pitch it to the professionals for three days to convince them to vote for the car. They had to answer some good questions."

Two years in the making, the Hydro Volt was designed and fabricated from scratch by students in a variety of programs at the Career Technical Center. It features steer by wire, a data acquisition system, computerized driver information system and a 200W hydrogen fuel cell that recharges the batteries that power its electric motor. It has a top-end speed of 45 mph, but has been scaled back to 25 mph for safety reasons, Wilk said.

'CUTTING EDGE'

The frame and chassis of the one-seater IVD was from a student's CAD drawing, while the fiberglass body was made from a clay mold and was finished and painted by the Auto Body Shop. The HVAC class did the interior work, screwing sheet metal in the driver's compartment. Parts like an electric window motor from a Ford Windstar, the reverse switch from a go cart and the wheels and tires from a motor scooter also were used.

A 69-year-old man got his money back after he chased down a self-described homeless man who robbed him Saturday evening outside a Westland grocery store, police said.

The incident happened about 5:45 p.m. outside the Aldi store at Wayne Road and Bayview, police Sgt. David Zucchetto said, and the suspect managed to escape on a bicycle.

The victim, accompanied by his wife, told police he was walking into the store when he encountered a stranger asking for change for a $100 bill, police Sgt. Thad Nelson said.

"The citizen went inside the store, saw that he did have change, went back outside to change the $100 bill and saw that it looked bogus," Nelson said.

The suspect then shoved him down, took his money and started to run away, but the victim chased him and caught him in a nearby yard where a scuffle occurred, Nelson said.

Zucchetto confirmed that the suspect described himself as homeless and that he was briefly detained by the 69-year-old man, who was walking him toward Aldi when the suspect broke free and fled on a bike that he had left near the store.

No one was seriously injured during the incident, and the victim got his money back.

The suspect "told the victim that he was homeless and that was why he was trying to pull the scam on him," Zucchetto said.

The suspect was described as a tall, clean-shaven white male in his 20s with a medium build. He was last seen wearing layered clothing, including a dark blue or black hooded jacket or sweat shirt, and he was riding a dark-colored bike.

Anyone who has information is asked to call the Westland Police Department at (734) 721-6311 or (734) 722-9600.

Judge finds man can stand trial on murder charge

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

More than a year after he was accused of shooting and killing his deaf girlfriend as she lay in bed at the Westland home they shared, 45-year-old Timothy Catalano has been ordered to stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Catalano, also deaf, is facing trial for first-degree murder and felony firearm charges after Westland 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos ruled Friday that Catalano was competent — a decision that culminated a long dispute over whether the defendant understood court proceedings against him.

The judge's ruling came after Catalano in June was referred for a second time to the Saline-based Center for Forensic Psychiatry, which found the defendant capable to assist in his own defense.

Catalano is accused of killing his girlfriend of 24 years, Tammy Susalla, as she lay in bed around 1 a.m. Aug. 27, 2007, at the three-bedroom ranch home the couple shared on Gloria, near Merriman and Cherry Hill. Police have said Susalla wanted to end the relationship.

The couple's daughter, 19 at the time, was in the basement when authorities said the killing occurred.

Catalano's competency ruling and new preliminary hearing came Friday after Bokos halted court proceedings in June, amid conflicting concerns by defense and prosecuting attorneys over whether Catalano was actually incompetent or might be faking his confusion through interpreters.

"I want to be sure the defendant isn't playing a game," Bokos had said in June.

But the judge found Catalano competent and ordered him to stand trial on Friday after receiving the latest report from the forensic center.

If convicted, Catalano faces life in prison.

"It's pretty cutting edge, the aim is to put out safer things for the environment," said Steven Decker, a Wayne Memorial High School student who helped do a lot of soldering on the car. "We use air and hydrogen to charge the batteries. If we could do it on a larger scale, it would be better for the environment and cheaper."

Jon Fodal, an adult student from Westland, was the last member to join the student team, getting on board to design the Web pages for the project.

"It took seven days and I talked to the team twice to come up with the pages," he said, adding that he built 18 Web pages involving 2,000 lines of code. The work was done in a Cascading style that he taught himself to do.

"I found out about it too late, I wish I'd been on it from day one," he added. "The next IVD I'm going to be a part of it."

Nate Bovia, a senior at John Glenn, also was late to join the team on the suggestion of teacher Zack MacLean. He told him it would be a good opportunity to get involved.

"It was just a frame when I started," he said. "I didn't think it would get done. There were a lot of pieces laying around the classroom. It came together all at once."

According to Wilk, Angela Czarniowski, one of three lead students on the IVD project, played a big role in the project. She had a dual enrollment and was recruited for the project by the dean of the engineering department at Schoolcraft College.

"There's not one part of this car she didn't work on," said Wilk. "She even come up with the idea of a cow print for the driver's compartment, but we persuaded her not to put it on the roll bars. She was huge."

GETTING INVOLVED

Wilk has been helping with engineering projects at the center for 11 years and was involved with the Build Your Dream Car program when the center decided to switch to the IVD project.

"We wanted to get lots and lots of kids involved in producing an actual vehicle rather than a concept car," she said. "There 15 students involved in this, but it affected a lot of classes and a lot of kids because of its content."

The project is sponsored by the Convergence Education

Foundation which provides money to each participating team. William D. Ford's corporate partner was Continental Automotive Systems, but help also came from Ford Motor Co., National Instruments, Schoolcraft College and local businesses like Woolf Aircraft, Batteries Plus, Snap-On Tools, Keith's Muffler and Ovonic Hydrogen.

Students wrote the software for the data acquisition system, and National Instruments provided such things as the hardware, terminals and sensors for the speed, temperature and voltage.

The next two-year build cycle has yet to start, so the students and staff are busy retrofitting the first IVD, Thunderbolt II, with a remote-controlled gasoline engine to prove that the process can easily be taught. That's because the center is working with the foundation in writing a hybrid curriculum for middle and

Man gets probation in failed purse snatching

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Westland man who tried to rob a 71-year-old woman of her purse outside a Kmart store has been placed on probation for two years.

Gary William VanHorn, 55, has avoided jail for an incident that happened about 9:45 a.m. Friday, Sept. 26, outside the Kmart store near the southeast corner of Wayne and Cherry Hill roads, according to the Michigan Department of Corrections.

VanHorn, originally charged with assault with intent to rob, was recently sentenced in Wayne County Circuit Court after he pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of larceny from a person.

VanHorn, a 6-foot-3, 210-pound man, was accused of approaching the 71-year-old woman while she was putting shopping bags in her car. He rode up on a bicycle, but the woman braced herself and held on tightly to her purse, police Sgt. Thad Nelson has said.

VanHorn fled without the purse when a witness drove up, saw what was unfolding and started honking a car horn, Nelson said. Police officers searched the area, and with help from witnesses they found the suspect at a nearby apartment building, Nelson said.

VanHorn apparently didn't have a prior record, police said. As part of his probation sentence, VanHorn was ordered not to break any more laws, not to leave the state without permission, to receive outpatient substance abuse treatment, and to report monthly to a probation officer. He also has been ordered to pay certain fees and court costs.

If VanHorn violates his probation orders, he could be sent to jail to serve all or part of a two-year term.

CORRECTION

The story that ran in Sunday's Observer about the Wayne County Commission passing a new ordinance that will transfer some of the county's parks millage back to local communities, indicated that the four commissioners who voted against the measure were from Detroit, which is incorrect. Commissioner Joseph Palamara represents several Downriver communities, and Commissioner Ilona Varga's district includes Lincoln Park, as well as a portion of Detroit.

Judge blocks release of e-mails sent by WWEA president

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Wayne County Circuit Court judge has stopped the release of messages sent by the president of the Wayne-Westland Education Association to a west Michigan education watchdog group.

Last week, Judge Kathleen McDonald blocked the release of the e-mails to the Education Action Group which requested them through a Freedom of Information Act request filed Nov. 11 with the Wayne-Westland Community Schools. "The EAG was completely bushwhacked," said Kyle Olsen, EAG vice president of strategy. "We did not obtain legal counsel because the issue was between EAG and the school district and the district never gave any indication that it would be unable to fill the request."

Olsen also called McDonald's decision "totally unfair" and "illegal," and said it denied the group due process.

EAG had requested copies of communications WWEA President Nancy Strachan had sent using a "taxpayer-funded e-mail account." According to Olsen, the request was to determine the union's communications with the Michigan Education Association during a four-day teacher strike in October as well as the extent of union involvement in the recall effort of Wayne-Westland school board members Martha Pitsenbarger and Skip Monit. "We have no interest in Strachan's communications with teachers regarding the education of Wayne-Westland kids," he said. "We're simply trying to get to the bottom of the union's involvement in the recall effort the organizers say stems from the union's 'illegal withholding of services' related to the four-day strike."

The e-mails were set to be released last Friday, however, McDonald sided with the Michigan Education Association which filed a lawsuit against the school district last Wednesday to stop the release of the e-mails.

The MEA declined comment on the lawsuit, citing an agreement to refrain from comment engineered by administrative law Judge Doyle O'Connor of the Michigan Employee Relations Commission. The school district and the WWEA are engaged in fact-finding in an effort to hammer out a new contract.

McDonald issued a temporary restraining order last Thursday, a move Olsen called "unprecedented" in that a nongovernment plaintiff was given standing as a plaintiff in a FOIA case.

Referring to the text messaging scandal in Detroit, Olsen said the public's right to make fair judgments should outweigh the union's attempt to cover up their president's "careless use of taxpayer-funded equipment."

Olsen said that EAG is evaluating its options, adding that the nonprofit, nonpartisan group "will fight the union every step of the way" to get the information released.

Police look for suspects who beat, robbed man

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Westland man told police he was beaten with a hammer and robbed outside his house on the city's northeast side, police Lt. Dan Karrick said.

The victim told police he was smoking a cigarette on his porch when he saw two men walking from a bar toward his house, near Warren and Cavell, between midnight and 1 a.m. Dec. 2.

"He went to his vehicle to get more cigarettes, and they walked up behind him," Karrick said. "He said one of them struck him on the head with a ball pein hammer. He fell to the ground and was struck five more times," each time on the head.

The victim told police he was robbed of his money as he was losing consciousness.

After he awoke, the man called 9-1-1, and he was taken to a hospital where he was treated for his injuries. He has since been released, Karrick said.

The victim described one of his attackers as a 6-foot-1, skinny black male in his 20s, wearing a black jacket and a red hat. The man wasn't able to provide a description of the second suspect who approached him.

The incident remains under investigation. Anyone who has information about the incident is asked to call Westland police at (734) 721-6311 or (734) 722-9600.

2 Westland men arrested in deadbeat parents sweep

Two Westland men were among 43 deadbeat parents that were arrested as the result of a joint three-day operation involving the Attorney General's Child Support Division and Wayne County Sheriff Warren Evans.

The sweep targeted individuals who owed past due child support in Wayne County but failed to pay despite having the ability to do so.

Arrested in the sweep were

Springer

Murtagh

Liam Murtagh, 52, who owes more than $58,000 in back child support to one child, and Ronald Springer, 58, who owes more than $115,000 in back child support to three children.

"Every day thousands of Michigan children go without the support they deserve," Attorney General Mike Cox said. "Too often these families are forced to receive public assistance to survive. My office will continue to fight for these children and hold deadbeat parents responsible."

"The money that this initiative is helping to collect will help custodial parents make sure that their children have the most basic things they need everyday, whether it's a new winter coat, school supplies or nutritious food on the table," Evans said. "In this tough economy, every dollar matters for these struggling families."

According to Cox's office, defendant, Glenn Hayes of Novi, took off the "$800 boots" he was wearing to change into more modest tennis shoes before being taken to the Wayne County Jail. He owes more than $62,000 in back child support to one child.

Since its inception, Cox's Child Support Division has recovered more than $64 million in unpaid child support and more than 60,000 children in Michigan now receive the support they deserve. This year, the division has recovered more than $14 million has returned more than $1.3 million directly to the State of Michigan.

Preliminary exams for the defendants are scheduled throughout this week and the following week. A criminal charge is merely an accusation and the defendants are presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Preliminary exams on the charges the defendants were to be scheduled throughout this week and next week for those apprehended in the sweep.

OUR VIEWS

Rail station is good for city

Westland's selection as a train stop for a proposed commuter rail service between Detroit and Ann Arbor is good news any way you look at it. There's nothing to scoff at when you're talking about the potential for new jobs, businesses and housing in a relatively underdeveloped area of the city.

Even the fact that it hinges on funding and an agreement with Canadian National Railroad to use a stretch of its tracks from the New Center area of Detroit to near Dearborn shouldn't put a damper on the enthusiasm for the project.

The site is a logical choice. The railroad tracks run parallel to Michigan Avenue, a main east-west artery for travelers headed from Westland, Wayne and Canton to Detroit and communities in between or west to Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Merriman Road to the west is a main north-south artery to Detroit Metro Airport. Airport shuttles could help get travelers to Ann Arbor or Detroit via the Henry Ruff train station.

Granted, the funding may be a bit iffy right now, considering the state of the economy at the local, state and federal level, but where there's a will, there's a way, especially with more and more people parking their cars and turning to mass transit to get around.

The metropolitan area has never really been big on mass transit. Many years ago, people relied on street railways and buses to get around. But our love affair with the automobile has now left us with an inadequate transit system in need of improvements at a time when people are looking for alternatives to driving their cars.

You need only look to this summer when gas prices topped $4 a gallon and people were scrambling to find different modes of transportation to see that. At the time, Hayes Jones, general manager of SMART (Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation), said the bus system saw ridership explode to more than 42,000 riders per week.

Gas prices have plummeted since then and we have yet to hear what ridership is now for SMART, but it's apparent that if the service is readily available and reliable, people will use it. And let's face it, cheap gas isn't going to last forever.

We say thank you to all the people who had an active role in getting the commuter train station. It's through the efforts of Mayor William Wild and his staff, state Sen. Glenn Anderson and state Rep. Richard LeBlanc and others that the city was picked. And we're confident that they will find the perfect mix of development for the area to showcase the city and cater to the needs of travelers.

All we need now is the sound of a train whistle and a round of "All aboard."

Put that flu shot at the top of the list

It's not too late to get a flu shot.

Even though Dr. Heather Jackson reports no official cases of influenza at Beaumont Hospital it's just a matter of time before patients start coming into the ER complaining of muscle aches, fever and headaches.

Misery isn't the only price we pay for catching the flu. While lost productivity costs employers, the flu can also be deadly. Some 36,000 people die annually from influenza, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

This year, the CDC is expanding its recommendations for vaccinations from the elderly and chronically ill to children ages 6 months to 18 years. But the warning doesn't stop there. Jackson, who practices family medicine in Southfield, says parents as well as anyone who works around children should get a flu shot as well.

And remember flu season runs all the way through the beginning of April so we still have a long road ahead of us. Many people wisely rush to the doctor in October when the serum arrives, but there's still time.

It's especially important to protect ourselves from the infectious disease during the holidays. With all of the hustle and bustle of the season it's easy to push making that appointment to the bottom of the list, but if you've ever been sick with the flu it's not a wise move. It usually takes about two weeks to develop protection from this nasty bug.

Flu season runs all the way through the beginning of April so we still have a long road ahead of us. Many people wisely rush to the doctor in October when the serum arrives, but there's still time.

Country needs EFCA

There is a simple way to quickly restore the economic power of America's working families. It's time to restore workers' freedom to form unions. Our nation's working people are struggling to make ends meet these days and our middle class is disappearing. The best opportunity working people have to get ahead economically is by uniting to bargain with their employers for better wages and benefits. Recent research has shown that some 60 million U.S. workers would join a union, if they could.

But the current system for forming unions and bargaining is broken. Every day, corporations deny workers the freedom to decide for themselves whether to form unions to bargain for a better life. They routinely intimidate, harass, coerce and even fire workers who try to form unions and bargain for economic well-being.

The Employee Free Choice Act (EFCA), soon to be reintroduced in the new 111th Congress, is supported by a bipartisan coalition of legislators. President-elect Barack Obama has promised to sign EFCA when it reaches his desk.

It would level the playing field for workers and employers and help rebuild America's middle class. Enactment of this sensible legislation would restore workers' freedom to choose a union by establishing stronger penalties for violation of employee rights when workers seek to form a union and during first-contract negotiations. EFCA also provides for mediation and arbitration for first-contract disputes, thus ensuring an equitable resolution for both employer and employees.

EFCA mitigates corporate coercion and intimidation by allowing employees to form unions by signing cards authorizing union representation. This is informally known as "card check." If a majority of the employees at a work site voluntarily sign authorization cards, the employer must recognize and negotiate with the union.

The Employee Free Choice has its detractors, but they are "who's who" of those most responsible for the current economic meltdown - namely conservative politicians and their corporate benefactors. For instance, low-wage, anti-worker monoliths like Wal-Mart, which is obsessed with keeping workplaces union-free.

Additionally, we can count on right-wing hate radio (Limbaugh and his ilk) and Fox "News" to lie about EFCA as part of their ongoing assault on anything truthful. The inevitable result is a further erosion of the American middle class that unions created - the engine that drives our economy.

With great economic suffering comes great opportunity. The Employee Free Choice Act represents a tremendous opportunity to restore America's economic vitality.

what to throw it at.

The U.S. automakers don't really want free money from Washington. They want customers. Customers buy cars. The car companies hire workers to design, assemble and sell those cars.

That's their plan; sell cars to customers, pay their workers, and try to make a dollar doing it. When the customers don't buy the cars, it messes up their "model." They lay off workers and they shut down plants. Read the newspapers. It's been going on for 10 years. Downsizing.

Idea No. 1: The government (federal, state, and local) all decide to buy U.S. made vehicles (from Ford, General Motors and Chrysler). Those companies make more cars and stay in business.

Idea No. 2: The government begins to encourage Americans to hire Americans, by buying American products. It worked in financing World War II, by getting millions of Americans to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

It's "un-American" to buy foreign-made products. You can't be an active American by acting in ways detrimental to helping America.

America cannot survive without jobs. We've lost tens of millions of jobs in the last 20 years due to the North American Free Trade Agreement and the increase of global commerce, especially from China. No one has been talking about replacing them. We've lost whole industries.

Where's our plan to help American companies create manufacturing jobs? Japan has successfully used a special group of scientists, business and government leaders to plan five and 10 years out for what industries they should develop. And their government helps grow those industries.

Do you think the Japanese government has been buying Chrysler 300 cars for their employees? No way.

America is suffering because we don't have a long-term plan to employ our workers. Our wages have been driven up too high, and our companies cannot compete with foreign companies due to our high wages. Point fingers and blame someone else. This approach hasn't worked and it won't fix this problem. Leaders will, if they set their minds to it.

Idea No. 3: One quick step which we the people can do is to start buying more American-made products. By buying more American-made products, the companies that make them will need to hire more workers (Americans) to meet the higher demand. Those workers will take their wages and buy items. They will pay taxes. They also will not need welfare monies.

Speak up. Demand better. Buy American-made.

Here's your sign

After having watched the Senate "hearings" on the request by our automakers for a bridge loan, I can easily understand why the "approval" ratings for Congress have remained consistently in the low double-digit (teens) range.

I have never seen such a group of arrogant, pompous, self-aggrandizing clowns in my life. The insulting, condescending remark about cutting the executive pay to $1 a year struck a hollow note, coming from a bunch of incompetent ying-yangs charged with running our government efficiently.

The last time I checked, these wonderful folks have boosted the national debt to over $10 trillion (our citizens have to pay over $400 billion a year to service this squandering). If anyone should have their salaries cut to a buck a year ...

To borrow a phrase from the Blue Collar Comedy Tour, I hope the auto types parted with a "Here's Your Sign, guys!" on their way out the door.

■ Regarding Westland's selection as a train stop for a proposed commuter rail service between Detroit and Ann Arbor:

Before the first subdivision, apartment, or business is built in this proposed area, a LOT of thought should go into the planning. Rather than approving development plans one at a time, the city would benefit from a good design plan drawn up at one time. There needs to be a good mix of retail, residential, dining, etc. with a "walkable" plan. Make it someplace where people would want to visit even if they are not train passengers. Plan it like downtown Plymouth or Northville, where even if you have to park a ways away, there are plenty of shops to keep you interested in walking around.

When you're the employee, bankruptcy is very painful

I took advantage of time last week to get caught up on wrapping presents while my kids were in school. Usually, I'm up late Christmas Eve, wrapping presents while the pope says Mass in St. Peter's Basilica. Not so this year. It's all done, all wrapped up, and instead of the pope, my company was the presidents of the Big Three and a group of congressmen and senators who reminded me of my kids — mad because they hadn't gotten their way and taking out on the first person to come into sight.

Sue Mason

You will never hear me say I'm a financial expert, but after listening to the hearings, I'm wondering who made these lawmakers experts on running a big business. They have that responsibility with this country, but from where I stand, they've managed to put us $1 trillion in the hole and have no plan for getting us out of it.

But what I found most astounding was the expert witness who told the Senate committee that bankruptcy was the answer because the auto companies could tap into DIP loans. I'm very aware of the initials. It stands for debtor in possession. It's nasty and demoralizing, if you happen to work for a company that files for bankruptcy. I know, I worked for one during the recession of the 1980s. It wasn't a big company, but bills exceeded revenue and when things went from bad to worse, the owner filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

One day we were called to a meeting. As we stood there, the second in command explained what had happened and what the judge expected of the employees — a 10 percent cut in wages. We had a union, but we weren't given time to meet and hash it out, the decision needed to be made that very moment.

None of us wanted to lose our jobs, so we agreed. But we forgot to ask one simple question. Our contract had us receiving our annual pay increase in quarterly installments, one way we had tried to help the company. We had deferred three installments, a total of 6 percent. That wasn't factored into the 10 percent, so when all was said and done, we took a 16 percent hit.

True, you don't miss something you've never had, but when you're only making $400 a week, a 10 percent pay cut is painful ... very painful. We kept working and got paychecks, but they couldn't be released until the payroll was covered. Payday was Friday, but it was soon bumped to Monday and then Tuesday.

Beside the owner's signature were the initials DIP. When we went to cash our checks at the bank where they were drawn, the teller made a big deal about the initials, asking what that meant and then sending us to see a bank officer. It felt like every eye in the place was looking at Bankruptcy is ugly and it's even uglier when our lawmakers think it's OK. On Sunday, Barack Obama spoke about the need for accountability among the Big Three's CEOs. I hope the same is being asked at AIG, Citibank and the other financial institutions that have been bailed out by the government. They are the poster children for businesses behaving badly. They showed no scruples in suckering people in with their slick American dream schemes. I also find it amazing that these executives are being hammered for mismanagement. They've made mistakes, they been slow to respond to changes in the market. But is it worse than what the banks have done? No.

you as you made the walk to the other side of the room. The bank wouldn't cash the check until it made sure there was money in the account. Needless to say, no one wanted to be the last one to the bank.

One Christmas, the court allowed the owner to do a trade-out, so we had a potluck Christmas dinner and everyone received a turkey. When the business prepared to exit bankruptcy, we received a $100 gift, also approved by the court.

The bankruptcy went away eventually, but its effect lingered for a long time after. Disgruntled employees ended up decertifying the union and striking out on their own. They felt betrayed, but in looking back, it wasn't the union that had betrayed us, it was our employer who was looking for flexibility. A union contract didn't offer that.

Bankruptcy is ugly and it's even uglier when our lawmakers think it's OK. On Sunday, Barack Obama spoke about the need for accountability among the Big Three's CEOs. I hope the same is being asked at AIG, Citibank and the other financial institutions that have been bailed out by the government. They are the poster children for businesses behaving badly. I also find it amazing that these executives are being hammered for mismanagement. They've made mistakes, they been slow to respond to changes in the market. But is it worse than what the banks have done? No. The automakers sell cars, and at least those cars come with warranties. The mortgages the banks peddled came with nothing but grief and we're all suffering because of it.

Self-directed IRA is best option for transferring retirement money

The U.S. economy lost over 500,000 jobs last month. So far this year, over one million Americans have lost their jobs. Unfortunately, next year doesn't look much better. Even if the auto companies receive bailout money, about 90,000 Michiganders will lose their jobs.

Money Matters

Rick Bloom

Those who lose their job face a variety of issues. Not only do they have to be concerned about paying bills, but health care and retirement accounts need to be addressed. My general rule is when you leave an employer, you should take your retirement money. There are a number of reasons and factors that enter into the decision, but for the great majority of people it pays to take the money.

One issue that has come up regarding 401(k) plans is what happens if your employer files for bankruptcy protection or just goes out of business. It is important to recognize that a retirement account is not an asset of the employer. Creditors of an employer cannot go after a retirement account. Worrying that your employer's financial health could impact your retirement account is not an issue.

When you leave a company — retirement or job loss — you have a number of options for retirement accounts. Most employers will allow you to keep your money in the current retirement account. In those situations you can't add new money to the account, however, you can continue managing it with the investment options. You will continue to receive statements on a regular basis. You are still subject to the employer's rules. If the employer decides to change the investment options, you would be subject to that change. At that point, you would have the option of moving your money.

Another option, for those lucky to find a new job, is the potential to directly transfer the money from their former employer into the new plan. Although employers are not required to allow new employees to transfer existing retirement money, many employers are accommodating. To complete this transaction, have the money from the old retirement plan directly transferred into the new plan.

The third option — and the one that I recommend — is to transfer retirement money into a self-directed IRA. A self-directed IRA may be opened at companies like Schwab, Fidelity and Vanguard. There are no tax consequences and the money is totally under the individual's control. When you leave a company — retirement or job loss — you have a number of options for retirement accounts. Most employers will allow you to keep your money in the current retirement account. In those situations you can't add new money to the account, however, you can continue managing it with the investment options. You will continue to receive statements on a regular basis. You are still subject to the employer's rules. If the employer decides to change the investment options, you would be subject to that change. At that point, you would have the option of moving your money.

The different options each have pros and cons. The pros of leaving your money with your former employer are that you are familiar with their plan and it is easy because you do not have to make any changes. The downside is that employers frequently make changes to their salary deferral programs and you would be subject to those changes. In addition, your former employer may only have limited investment options that no longer fit your individual situation and you have no control over expenses.

The benefit of transferring to a new employer's plan is one consolidated portfolio. This may make it easier in managing your account. The downside is your new employer's plan may have limited investment options, it could be expensive and once again you are subject to the rules of the employer.

Directly transferring into a self-directed IRA means you are in total control of your money and can select a portfolio that best matches your situation. In addition, you can select investments with low costs and no commissions. The downside of a self-directed IRA is you fall prey to financial salespeople who are concerned with generating a commission.

Be very careful about where you transfer your retirement money. Don't let anyone pressure you or intimidate you and always find out about the costs.

Wayne can't cage Tigers In season opener

State-ranked Belleville controlled the glass Tuesday night en route to a season-opening 70-62 boys basketball triumph over visiting Wayne Memorial.

Mohamed Conde, a 6-foot-7 junior center, paced the victorious Tigers with 21 points, while senior guard Booker Stoudmire and Ricky Love added 13 apiece.

Wayne senior guard Robert Woodson paced all scorers with 25 points, while junior forward Derric Horton contributed 13. Senior guard Jimmel Bennett chipped in with 11.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Belleville led 29-28 at halftime and stretched its slim lead to 45-35 after three quarters before holding on for the win.

"The first half we were able to hang in there, but the third quarter they beat us on the boards — that was our downfall," Wayne coach Wayne Woodard said. "They got us on the backboards and hit shots. And free throws (16-of-33) hurt us."

Despite being outrebounded, Wayne pulled to within four with less than a minute remaining.

"We just couldn't get that last stop," said Woodard, whose team was 10-of-16 from the foul line.

FRANKLIN 64, KETTERING 59: Livonia Franklin used the long ball Tuesday night to garner a season-opening victory at Waterford Kettering.

The Patriots, connecting on seven 3-pointers on the night, were led by juniors Andy McCaffery and Mike Gadsby, who finished with 15 points apiece. Senior Jeff Poole added 13, while senior Connor Leidal contributed eight.

Gadsby led the way with three triples. "It was a great opener and a good high school basketball game," Franklin coach Jeremy Rheault said. "We had different guys hit some key threes, we were able to execute in transition and got some key steals."

Senior guard Kevin Truitt paced the Captains, who led 29-28 at halftime, with 12 points. Senior forward Steve Rogers added 10.

Franklin was 13-of-24 from the foul line, while Kettering went 4-for-6.

DEARBORN 52, CHURCHILL 49: With a chance to tie, Livonia Churchill came up empty three times from beyond the 3-point line during the final 34 seconds Tuesday as the host Pioneers held on for the season-opening victory.

Stevenson senior captain Mike Cruce is a standout in the 500 freestyle (4:49.33) and also took a 10th in the 2008 Division 1 state finals in the 100 butterfly (53.67).

Tons of experience Stevenson swimmers should be formidable again

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Area coaches should be envious of Livonia Stevenson's Jeff Shoemaker entering the 2008-09 boys swimming and diving season.

That's because the ninth-year coach returns a trio of first-team All-Observer performers and a quintet of second-team selections from a squad which finished 11th at last year's Division 1 state finals.

Stevenson is coming off a championship season in the now-defunct Western Lakes Activities Association. But the Spartans now find themselves in a challenging Central Division of the new KLAA Kensington Conference, which includes Northville, sixth last year in Division 1; South Lyon Unified, 14th; Salem, 25th; and Novi, 31st.

"Our overall goals include winning the KLAA (Kensington) Conference championship and placing top 10 at the state level," Shoemaker said. "We have a number of teams with similar goals that will stand in our way."

backstroke (28th overall in the prelims).

Another standout is senior Mike Cruce, who placed 10th overall in Division 1 in the 100 backstroke (53.67).

The second-team All-Area selection is joined by senior Ryan Scott, who went 22.93 in the 50 freestyle; junior Aaren Marecki, who took a seventh in the 200 freestyle at the WLAA meet; sophomore Kellen Schoff, who ranked fourth in the area in the 100 backstroke (58.06); and junior Daniel Schoff, who took seventh in the WLAA meet in the 500 freestyle (5:03.02).

All three Stevenson relay teams — the 200 medley, 200 freestyle and 400 freestyle — should also be strong with three of the four team members returning this season.

Another swimmer to watch this season is a diver — senior Travis Holt of Livonia Churchill, who took third in last year's WLAA meet.

Whether Stevenson can duplicate its third-place finish of 2006 remains to be seen, but pieces appear to be in place for a strong run.

The biggest loss to graduation was Robert Luke, who took fifth in the state in the 100 backstroke and added a seventh in the 100 butterfly. Sprint freestyler Kyle Hermann will also be missed.

But the cupboard is far from bare with the return of first-team All-Area picks including senior Joey Wingett, who took eighth in the 100 breaststroke at the state meet; senior Chris Behler, who posted an area best of 49.31 in the 100 freestyle; and junior Bryan Bielicki, a state qualifier in the 100

John Glenn grapplers start fast

Westland John Glenn's wrestling team didn't shy away from the competition Saturday as the host Rockets emerged with a team title.

Steve Wakeford (103 pounds), Anthony Pavlich (112) and Josh Austin (119) all went undefeated on the day as Glenn finished first in the 10-team dual-match format.

"It's a great way to start, but it's early and we have a lot of work to do to prepare for the end of the year," Glenn coach Bill Polk said. "Our guys performed well, but we took a few injuries wrestling so many tough matches in a row. Hopefully, we'll improve and finish even stronger than we started."

The Rockets were followed by Roseville, Clarkston, Livonia Franklin, Romeo, Wyandotte, Belleville, Walled Lake Central, Dearborn and the Rockets' 'B' team.

"I was pleased with our performance and for an opening weekend tournament, it was very tough," Polk said. "One of our goals was to beat Clarkston starting out the season because they are usually ranked (eighth in Division 1 this year), and we did. Romeo and Roseville gave us everything we could handle after we defeated Clarkston."

Spartans finish third

Livonia Stevenson launched its season Saturday by going 3-2 in the Flushing Team Duals.

The Spartans defeated Burton Bundle (50-25), Flint Beecher (57-26) and the host Raiders (50-26), while losing to eventual team champ Mount Clemens Chippewa Valley (43-30) and runner-up Lapeer East (45-27).

Mitch Gonzales went 5-0 on the day for the Spartans at 135, while teammates Josh Siebert (160) and Matt Greenman (215) each finished 4-0. Going 4-1 were Ash Alhaj (103), Raz Markosian (145) and Jake Burns (171).

"Our boys wrestled well considering this was the first time out for over half of the lineup," Stevenson coach Dan Vaughan said.

Wolfpack success

Wayne Memorial coach Steve Vasiloff hoists the team trophy after his wrestlers took home the Blissfield Invitational title. For more on the story and weekend mat results, see page B6.

28-17, and had three more power-play chances including a 5-on-3.

"Our power-play was terrible and we did not capitalize on our chances," Stevenson coach David Mitchell said. "You can't do that against a team like Rice."

Justin Shureb notched his fifth goal of the season for Stevenson in the opening period on an assist from Jake Poynter.

In the second period, R.J. Kierdorf scored his second of the year from John Strauch and Jake Wilson.

Rice goaltender Jareth Glanda stopped 26-of-28 Stevenson shots.

Richie Dunphy started in goal for the Spartans before being lifted in the second period for Danny Sager.

CHURCHILL 4, W.L. WESTERN 1: Freshman goalie Alex Estes earned his first varsity win Saturday as Livonia Churchill (1-1-1, 1-1-1) turned back host Walled Lake Western (2-5, 0-4) in a KLA

The Chargers led 1-0 after the first period on goals by Scott Hamill and Drew Sieber.

Steven Klisz added a second period goal from Kody Strong and Stefan Kubus, while Robert Louwers completed the scoring in the final period from Dan Bostick and Alex Smythe.

"We played with much more purpose and energy," said Churchill coach Pete Mazzoni, whose team was coming off an 8-0 mercy-rule loss to Northville. "Hopefully we learned a lesson from the previous game."

Kucharski's 10 goals lifts Blazers

GIRLS HOCKEY

Livonia Ladywood's Shelby Kucharski certainly knows how to put the biscuit in the basket.

The first-year senior forward had a total of 11 goals in two games as she helped the Blazers bounce back from a 7-1 season-opening loss Thursday to Grosse Pointe South to win Suburban Classic Girls High School hockey tournament held last weekend at Suburban Ice Arena in Farmington Hills.

The Blazers defeated rival Farmington Hills Mercy in Saturday's championship final, 6-5, as Kucharski notched four goals and one assist.

"We made some adjustments at the half as far as getting over screens - we got into the passing lanes," said Ladywood first-year coach Pat Cannon, whose team is 1-2 overall. "We got passionate about defense. We got on them tougher and that made them make mistakes."

Ladywood was 21-of-31 from the foul line, while Edsel Ford hit 10-of-18.

Charisse Carr scored 16 and Michelle Gaedke added 18 for the T-Birds, who fall to 1-1 overall.

Clarenceville (1-2) got seven points from junior guard Kristen Jolly and six from senior center Megan Tallman.

"Defensively, we didn't stop the drive," said Trojans' coach Julie Patterson. "We also had trouble with their size."

Red-hot Shepherd spurs Ocelots

The Schoolcraft College women's basketball team defeated visiting Kalamazoo Valley Community College, 95-62, in Saturday's championship game of the Schoolcraft Classic. The Ocelots advanced to the title tilt by ousting Lakeland (Ohio) CC, 74-54, on Friday.

The pair of victories improved the No. 7-ranked Ocelots' overall record to 8-1. Kalamazoo slipped to 6-2 while Lakeland dropped to 6-3.

Wayne grapplers rule invite, committed to win

BY BRAD EMONS

Steve Vasiloff is trying to put the Wolfpack back on the area wrestling map.

The fourth-year coach calls it a "New Era" for the Wayne Memorial matmen, who started the season Dec. 3 with dual-match wins over host Berkley (52-26) and Detroit Cesar Chavez (56-21), coupled with a first-place finish Saturday at the Blissfield Invitational.

The numbers are encouraging this season with Wayne's roster ballooning from 15 to 50 wrestlers (including 25 freshmen).

"So far things have great," Vasiloff said. "I'm not saying that we're going to be the team to beat, or that we're going to make noise in the KLAAs (Kensington Lakes Activities Association), but we have made so many steps in the right direction.

"We went from a team who has never filled a roster to a team that is three-deep in almost every weight class. We went from a team plagued with academic ineligibility to a team that has 13 wrestlers above a 3.5 GPA, and 19 above a 3.0."

Wayne took just nine wrestlers to Blissfield and came away the team title as 125-pounder Mike Wallace, a sophomore, garnered an individual first place.

Meanwhile, sophomore Darryl Ison (112), sophomore Jalen Jones (135), junior Brandon Whittenberg (152), junior Josh Mills (160) and junior Dylan Korzetki (285) earned runner-up honors. Third-places went to senior Tevin Hines (140) and Mike Gallagher (189).

Vasiloff credits the team's early success to off-season efforts, which included trips to BorderWars and AAU tournaments; participation at a six-week summer league in Milan, and 10 members attending a team camp at Eastern Michigan University.

"Some of our veterans got in 40 matches during the off-season," Vasiloff said. "We are just so excited to have a team that is so hungry and coachable. We have some really great kids."

Vasiloff said he has received great support from parents, along with Wayne athletic director Greg Ambrose and new varsity football coach Kevin Weber.

He also believes in his staff of assistant coaches, which includes Rich Donahoe and Robert Freeman.

"I attribute our new-found success to them because they give it their all, and the believe in me and my vision," Vasiloff said of his assistants. "We went from a team with coaches all fighting that were going in different directions, to a team with everyone on the same page. And most importantly, we have turned into a team that wants nothing more than to go out on the mat and win."

Kennedy's Hogan hero in victory over Trojans

Livonia Clarenceville had no answer for Taylor Kennedy's Breland Hogan.

The 6-foot-1 senior guard torched the Trojans for a game-high 34 points to lead the host Eagles to a season-opening 60-51 boys basketball victory.

Hogan had a pair of three-pointers as Kennedy took a 26-25 halftime lead and stretched it out to a 45-38 advantage after three quarters.

"They were the hungrier team, more prepared and that's probably my fault," Clarenceville coach Corey McKendry said. "Hogan was very good and there was no doubt they (Kennedy) deserved to win the game."

Senior Nathan Clark scored a team-high 19 points for the Trojans, who made 13-of-20 free throws.

Senior standout Jamie Stewart was held to 14 points, while 6-7 sophomore center Jalen Reynolds made his varsity debut with nine points and seven blocks.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Kennedy made only 12-of-25 free throws on the night.

LUTH. WESTLAND 52, ROEPER 49: On Tuesday, Sam Ahlersmeyer scored 24 points as host Lutheran High Westland overcame a sluggish first half to edge Birmingham Roeper in the season-opening contest for both squads.

Josh Kruger contributed 11 for the Warriors, while Ryan Zinser led Roeper with 15.

After trailing 25-19 at halftime, the Warriors grabbed control with a 17-9 third quarter and then held on down the stretch.

"We started to pressure the ball (in the third) and create some turnovers that resulted in some easy baskets," Lutheran Westland coach Brandon Bekins said. "I thought the kids played much better in the second half and did what was necessary to win the game."

Clarenceville goes 3-1 in own tournament

It was a solid beginning of the season for Livonia Clarenceville's varsity wrestling team on Saturday, going 3-1 at the Trojans-hosted invitational tournament.

The Trojans reeled off impressive wins over Southfield-Lathrup (60-21), Harper Woods (60-24) and Dearborn Divine Child (62-3) but Livonia Churchill turned the tables on the hosts - earning a 63-18 victory over Clarenceville.

Dearborn with 16 and 13 points, respectively.

Senior guard Scott Senczysyn led the Chargers with 13, including 3-of-7 from beyond the arc. Adam Bedell, a 6-6 junior forward, grabbed a game-high 20 rebounds and added six points, while junior guard Tony Frezzell contributed eight points and six steals.

"We had opportunities to make plays in the fourth quarter," Churchill coach Jim Solak said. "They packed it in with a zone (defense). We moved the ball well and had good looks."

The Pioneers outscored the Chargers 15-11 in the first quarter and 14-4 in the third by hitting their first four shots. Churchill, meanwhile, went a combined 0-for-8.

"We did not come out flat, we just did not hit shots," Solak said. "But we played hard."

Bloomfield Hills-based artist Howard Nordlund doesn't hide his fascination for sparkling crystals and minerals of all varieties. Instead, he incorporates them into his own works — mostly large-scale oil paintings showcasing stunning clusters of quartz, shining bits of sand, smooth pebbles and sharp stones. Since October, about 10 of his works have been on display at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, appropriately adorning walls in the Every Rock has a Story area. His exhibit, Oils and Minerals, marks a melding of art and science which Director Michael Stafford said will continue over the next year. Stafford was responsible for bringing Nordlund's work into the science institute. "I'm thrilled to be here," said Nordlund, a wide smile on his face. "I'd rather be exhibited here than in any other gallery." Coming from a professional artist with more than 40 years of experience, that's quite a statement. Nordlund's work has been shown and sold in galleries from

DSO family concert is Slatkin's top debut for some young pianists

BY SUSAN STEINMUELLER
O&E STAFF WRITER

While Leonard Slatkin's long-awaited debut as conductor of the DSO is tonight, the more anticipated concert for some area youth is Saturday.

The 11 a.m. Dec. 13 free family concert, "Civic Holidays with Leonard Slatkin," will include the DSO Civic Youth Orchestra and the five winners of the DSO Student Piano Competition. The competition was hosted by the DSO and Michigan Music Teachers, and was open to all middle school pianists in the metro area.

Slatkin will lead the concert, which features the first performances of a new set of his own arrangements of classic holiday tunes for piano and orchestra.

Beth Rhoades, 13, of Rochester Hills, one of the young winners, is thrilled to have the opportunity to perform on the Orchestra Hall stage.

"I am really honored to be chosen, because I know many people auditioned," said Rhoades, the daughter of Rick and Allison Rhoades. She is also a percussionist in her band class at West Middle School.

Her family subscribes to the DSO so she said she knows of Slatkin's top reputation in the music world.

"I am really grateful to my piano teacher," added Rhoades, referring to Gail Gebhart of Lathrup Village.

Gebhart has a second middle school student, Kara Komer of Chesterfield Township, who also won one of the coveted five spots on stage.

FIRST PERFORMANCES

Each of the piano contest winners will perform in two carols. Rhoades will play in the 12 Days of Christmas and Moonlight Carol. "The Moonlight Carol has some of the Moonlight Sonata in it," she said.

Slatkin, who has won several Grammys, was inspired by his 13-year-old son to create the arrangements a year ago. His son, who plays the piano, asked his school's music teacher if he could perform something for the annual holiday concert.

"This started me thinking about writing an arrangement that would be appropriate for his age group," said Slatkin. "If you are in middle school and play a string, wind or percussion instrument, most likely you can be in an ensemble. But when you play the piano, you are alone. There are few outlets for interaction with your fellow musicians at that point in your education."

The new series fills in the gap for keyboard students he said. "Some of the pieces are humorous and some are serious, and there are references to works and styles from the classical canon."

The 10 selections are included in Holidays for Piano and Strings, the first educational collection published by the Hal Leonard Corp. as part of the Leonard Slatkin Youth Orchestra Series. It's available at the DSO retail store.

Marni Raitt, assistant director, public relations, DSO, said that Slatkin's involvement with youth is part of the reason they are so excited to have him there.

"Education is one of his top priorities," she said. "He's doing another concert in April."

Among Slatkin's diverse achievements: He is the founder and director of the National Conducting Institute, an advanced career development program for rising conductors; he founded the Saint Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra; and he has worked with student orchestras across the U.S. and abroad.

Tickets for Civic Holidays with Leonard Slatkin are free and must be reserved at (313) 576-5111.

Tickets for the National City Young People's Concert Slatkin's All-Stars on Jan. 10, 2009, start at $10; box seats are $46. Visit www.detroitssymphony.com.

Easy cookie recipes

Correction: the flour from the sugar cookies was omitted last week and placed in the rum ball recipe. Here are the recipes again.

AUNT DEE DEE'S SUGAR COOKIES

By Dean Henry of Livonia
I have literally made thousands if not a million of these, once you make and try it you will see why. Makes about 120.

- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup oil
- 2 eggs
- 5 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon cream of tartar

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Cream sugars and butter together until fluffy, slowly pour in oil while mixing. Add eggs, vanilla, salt, soda, tartar, mix to incorporate. Scrape down bowl, add flour while mixing on low in stages. Scoop out small amount of dough — about 2 tablespoons. I use an #70 ice cream scoop to make this part of the process really easy. Place dough on cookie sheet. Once you have the dough scooped onto your trays, you will need a cookie press or flat surface such as the bottom of a jelly jar or glass. Dip the press into sanding sugar, red, green, or white, and press/flatten the dough to ¼" thickness. Bake 8-10 minutes.

151 RUM BALLS

By Dean Henry of Livonia

- 2 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 2 tablespoons cocoa powder
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt

1 cup ground nuts (I use ground pecans that I grind myself, you may want to use pecan meal)

Combine all with 2 tablespoons honey and ¼ cup 151 proof rum. You may need more than ¼ cup of rum.

Consistency is right when all holds together. Pinch off small pieces, about 1 teaspoon, shape/roll in your hand, toss in powdered sugar and set aside to ripen in covered container at least 12 hours.

I CAN'T BELIEVE IT'S A COOKIE, COOKIE

By Debbie Jones of Southfield

- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup peanut butter
- Brachs Chocolate Stars — about 18

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Mix all ingredients together. Drop with a teaspoon onto cookie sheet. Press a Brach's chocolate star into the center of each cookie. Bake 11 minutes.

MY EASY CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

By Lori Fillmore, Royal Oak

- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup maple syrup
- ½ teaspoon molasses
- 1½ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup canola oil
- ½ cup chocolate chips
- ½ cup chopped nuts (optional)

Preheat oven 350. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda. Add sugar and salt. Stir. In a separate bowl stir syrup, molasses, vanilla and canola oil.

Add wet ingredients to dry and stir. Add chocolate chips and nuts. Do not over mix. Bake 12 minutes or one minute longer for slightly crisper cookies. Cool one minute before removing from pan.

MACAROON KISSES

by Chef Kelli Lewton of Pure Food 2U

- 1 14-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk
- 2 teaspoons of vanilla extract
- 1 teaspoon of almond extract
- 2, 7-ounce packages of flake coconut (5½ cups)
- 48 solid milk chocolate stars or drops

Preheat oven to 325. Line baking sheets with parchment and spray with cooking release spray. In large bowl combine sweetened condensed milk, vanilla and almond extract. Stir in coconut. Drop by rounded teaspoons or scoop onto cookie sheet. Slightly flatten each mound. Bake for 15-17 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven and immediately press chocolate star or kiss into center. Cool. Store at room temperature or freeze.

Yields 4 dozen

MEXICAN WEDDING CAKES

By Chef Kelli Lewton of Pure Food 2U, Royal Oak

These cookies have a rich tradition of being served at weddings (hence the name) they are also a favorite served with rich Mexican hot chocolate

- Yield 15 dozen
- 2 cups toasted pecan halves
- 4 cups powdered sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 pounds butter
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 7 cups all-purpose flour

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Grind pecans and sugar until they are fine. Cream butter and sugar together until creamy. Add vanilla. Add salt and flour. Chill dough and scoop into 1-inch balls and place on lined cookie sheet 2 inches apart. Bake at 325 until edges are brown, cool and roll in powder sugar.

POPPY SEED SPIRALS

By Chef Kelli Lewton of Pure Food 2U, Royal Oak

A generous sprinkling of poppy seed gives these lemon-flavored cookies a highly distinctive, beautifully blue-hued spiral

- 1 cup butter, softened
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2½ cups all purpose flour
- 3 tablespoons poppy seed
- 1 teaspoon finely shredded lemon peel

Beat butter for 30 seconds. Add sugar, baking powder, and salt. Beat until combined, scraping sides of bowl. Beat in the egg and vanilla. Beat in as much flour as you can using the mixer. Using a wooden spoon, stir in any remaining flour.

Divide dough in half. Stir poppy seed and lemon peel into one dough half until combined. Leave remaining half plain.

On a lightly floured surface, roll each half of dough into a 9- by 6-inch rectangle. Carefully roll poppy seed rectangle around rolling pin; unroll on top of plain rectangle.

Make sure edges are aligned; press down gently with rolling pin to seal. Tightly roll up, jelly roll style, starting from a long side. Wrap in plastic wrap and chill for 4-24 hours or until very firm.

Cut dough into ¼- to ⅜-inch thick slices. Place slices about 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet

Bake at 375 for 8-10 minutes or until edges are browned. Transfer cookies to wire rack to cool.

Laguna Beach, Calif. to Hilton Head, S.C. His works grace the walls of rock stars like Richie Sambora of Bon Jovi, John Mellencamp and Neil Diamond.

SEEKING PATH

But long before Nordlund earned the title "an Artist's Artist" he was seeking his path. He began to explore his talent for drawing as a high school freshman. Though he attempted to follow in his older brother's footsteps and study business at East Commerce High School, after just one day he transferred to Cass Technical High School in Detroit and devoted his studies to the arts.

Nordlund later began working as a clay modeler for Chrysler Corp. Once a year the company would host an exhibit to showcase the creative hobbies of its employees. "I put my paintings in that and they were always snapped up," he recalled. Because his works sold so quickly, they were not available to be transferred to J.L. Hudson Co. in Detroit for display, like other pieces in the show.

As a result of the interest, Nordlund was granted five separate one-man exhibits at the esteemed department store between 1964 and 1968. "Because of J.L. Hudson, I realized I had a market for my work," he said. "I put down my modeling clay and picked up my paint brush."

USING MINERALS

His work has changed over the years — from vignettes to pointillism to the abstract pieces he creates now that incorporate his fascination of raw minerals. "One day I just put some in my painting," he said. Nordlund is inspired by the way the materials he uses catch the light. "I just love the energy they give," he said. "They are how God created them."

The results can be seen on both large canvases, and smaller sets. Nordlund prefers to stick to a neutral palette, the earthy bronzes, beiges and creams mirroring the natural materials that mingle with them on canvas. But flashes of color and bold, dark canvases are also part of the show. Some evoke the movement of an ocean, a shoreline, or even the ruddy surface of the moon.

He purchases his minerals at shows and collects found objects on his travels — everything from crushed glass to shimmery sand.

Nordlund considers the placement of these objects very carefully before affixing them to his canvas with paint and epoxy. It takes more than one month to complete and this work must be done outdoors.

Crystals can be sharp and sometimes cut his hands in the process, but the end effect is captivating. Even the artist admitted he sees something new each time he looks at one of the paintings. The public is welcome to experience these works on exhibit until Dec. 31.

Salon styles hair fashion show that's for a good cause

BY SUSAN STEINMUELLER
STAFF WRITER

When Flip hosts a hair fashion show in Detroit on Sunday, it will be about more than glamorous pony tails and fabulous Afros.

The 8 p.m. Dec. 14 event at Cliff Bells in Detroit also benefits Freedom House of Detroit, which houses and helps political refugees.

Irene Petts, owner of the Ferndale hair salon, said stylists are happy to have fun and raise money for a worthy cause.

"It's a creative outlet for us because we can do different hair styles that we don't do every day in the salon," she said of the first-time show.

"At the same time, the way things are going with the economy, it's great to mix doing something creative and doing something fun with an organization that needs help."

The idea to have their show help Freedom House came from salon client Alexa Stanard, a grant writer and volunteer there. Up to 35 political refugees live in a former convent under the auspices of the group.

"There are so many groups

Flip salon owner Irene Petts, styling the hair of Sheila Maples, is looking forward to staging a hair fashion show for Freedom House.

in need," said Petts, "but then I started thinking about the organization and what the people have been through...I had no idea it was so close to home."

RETRO, MODERN, FANTASY

"Hair Fashion Music," will feature three hairstyle segments, retro, modern and fantasy, all done by the salon's seven stylists.

There'll be entertainment by Esquire, The Haunted Beat

Band, The Hentchmen and DJ Anytime.

Clothing is being provided by Mother Fletchers and House of Chants and local designers Femilia and Wound Menswear.

Hair stylist Marci Bolen of Ferndale helped organize the show. She said that each hair stylist will do several styles for the different segments. Her styles will include a finger wave from the 30s.

"We wanted to do something where everyone could showcase their craft," she said. Bolen, who also plays in a band, is excited that the show also includes area musical talent.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Stanard, a Royal Oak resident, said the much needed money will be likely be used at Freedom House for various immediate needs, from winter clothing to medical care.

"It all makes a difference," she said. "The thing that is special about Freedom House is it is the only place in the country that offers comprehensive services, from housing, to legal services, to employment training, all of the things that someone might need if they are coming to this country to seek a refugee claim."

Stanard said an added benefit of the show is that people will become more familiar with Freedom House.

"I think it's wonderful," she said of retailers that help others during the holidays. "It really says a lot to put this type of effort in at a time when people are struggling."

Tickets at the door are $10. Doors open at 8 p.m.; entertainment starts at 9 p.m. Cliff Bells is located at 2030 Park in Detroit. For more information, visit www.flipsaloninc.com. Or call Flip at: 248-544-1400
