Westland firefighters have announced a food drive to benefit the Westland-based Salvation Army, which has faced a growing need amid an economic recession.

Firefighters are asking donors to drop off non-perishable food items 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, April 19, at Fire Station No. 1, next to Westland City Hall on Ford Road between Newburgh and Wayne.

"State law requires every county to hold an equalization meeting on the second Tuesday of April each year to determine the equalized value of the county," Chairman Boike said.

48-year-old Garden City man arraigned Friday

> BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Garden City man was arraigned Friday on charges of robbing a 38-year-old woman while she was operating a bottle return machine inside the Westland Kroger store at Merriman and Cherry Hill.

Nathan Lamarr Fisher, 48, has been charged with unarmed robbery and being a fourth-degree habitual offender for an incident that happened shortly before 10 p.m.

The woman was using the bottle return machine when a man walked up behind her, grabbed her arm, bent it downward, seized her purse and fled the store, according to Westland police.

Police issued a bulletin for area officers to remain on alert, and Westland police Sgt. Jeff Trzybinski said the suspect was spotted walking on Ford Road about 5 a.m. by a Garden City officer. Fisher was also wanted on drug

Westland officers went to Garden City to pick up the suspect, who was described as a prison parolee who has prior convictions for drug-related cases and breaking and enter-

According to authorities, Fisher at first gave Garden City police a fake name but later told them who he was.

Fisher was arraigned Friday in Westland 18th District Court, and Magistrate David Wiacek ordered him jailed with a $50,000 cash bond.

A not-guilty plea was entered for the defendant, who has been scheduled for a April 23 preliminary hearing that will determine whether he should stand trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

If convicted, he could face penalties ranging up to life in prison.

Two men face hearing for allegedly stealing grease

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Grease is the word.

It's more than a musical and a movie, however. Stealing it is a crime.

Two defendants face a May 5 pretrial hearing in Westland 18th District Court following allegations they stole used kitchen grease from a container outside Olympic Coney Island on Wayne Road before getting caught in the act at nearby Ashley's, a bar and grill near the city's shopping mall.

A driver who legitimately picks up grease for a company that recycles it noticed it missing at Olympic before he drove up Wayne Road and called police to report a possible theft in progress at Ashley's, police Sgt. Steve Borisch said.

The driver used his vehicle to block the suspects in until police arrived around 2 a.m. Tuesday.

"He blocked them in and police came and arrested them," Borisch said.

The detective said restaurant grease can have uses ranging from pet food to biofuels, and he said it can be stolen and sold illegally to unscrupulous buyers. He said it recently has sold for 16 cents a

Christopher Kind, 52, of Sumpter Township and Richard Tallent, 44, of Van Buren Township are charged in the Westland case with one count of larceny, one count of attempted larceny and trespassing.

The charges are misdemeanors. If convicted, the men could face penalties ranging up to 90 days in jail and $500 fines.

Westland 18th District Magistrate David Wiacek said the two men were released after posting 10 percent of a $5,000 bond. They are due back in court on May 5.

Graham students put words into action

BY SUE MASON OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It wasn't Halloween, but Lily Posuniak didn't care. The 6-year-old put on her flower costume and paraded around the halls of P.D. Graham Elementary School to give fellow students a visual definition of the word spring.

Her costume? A flower, but she also wore gardening gloves and had a poster filled with lady bugs and more blooms to get her message across.

"It's her old Halloween costume, but we went to Michael's and bought the other things," said her mother, Cheryl.

McCotter: Michigan hasn't 'bottomed out'

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Congressman Thaddeus McCotter couldn't be too optimistic, noting that the 15member auto task force was in Detroit.

'They are now here trying to get more cuts," said McCotter in speaking before the Westland Rotary on Thursday. "In Michigan, we have not bottomed out."

Those comments came in response to a question from Margaret Harlow, who owns a family tire busiņess.

"Have we bottomed out? Have we turned a corner?" she asked.

Financial planner Antoinette Martin asked about bankruptcies and foreclosures, as well as enforcement of usury laws. McCotter, a Republican, said debt needs to be cut so consumers aren't in over their heads: "Once they have that outstanding debt, they then sell it off. We understand this is a huge problem and it's going to intensify."

McCotter said he wrote a letter to Treasury Secretary Timothy Geithner and Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke.

You're now paying 100 percent on the dollar to insure those bonds," he said of the AIG payout. There's an incentive to allow General Motors to go bankrupt, he added.

"I've yet to receive an answer," McCotter said of his letter.

Kim Shunkwiler, a local chiropractor, said he was honored to serve in Vietnam.

"This thing's being gutted," said Shunkwiler, holding up a copy of the U.S. Constitution.

McCotter agreed the chaos in financial markets has led to turbulent times. He said the Wall Street bailout came "without any real control and certainly any sense of justice.'

"The U.S. bailout has to end," the congressman said during his visit to the Wayne-Westland Salvation Army. If credit markets are freed up, much will improve.

"It's undermining your confidence in your subservient government," he told Shunkwiler.

"They turned the tax code into a penal code," McCotter added of the AIG bonuses. He said both the Republican and Democratic parties are diverse: "Where the twain meet, we try to get things done.

McCotter discredited an-Internet posting that President Barack Obama plans to shut the Web down.

"That would be to curtail free speech and that would be against the Constitution," he said.

McCotter's concerned about Michigan's future saying that 'everything we've grown up with will be gone.'

He said Mississippi has had success in encouraging university students to do research and development, and set up businesses after graduation. Massachusetts has done similar work, McCotter said.

As for national health care coverage, "I don't think nationalization is the answer, but I also don't think the status quo is the answer," he said.

In introducing the congressman, Shunkwiler noted his frequent presence in the news these days, as well as his recent comparison to fellow musician James Taylor.

"Any more you turn on the news and there is Congressman McCotter being interviewed," Shunkwiler said.

As stated before, I have 12 years of experience here in Wayne-Westland. I have attended many of the classes that the Michigan Association of School Boards has put on for new, as well as older board members, to help us understand how to meet and overcome the problems facing us today as well as in the future.

3. What do you see as the issues facing the school district at this time?

There are many issues that face us nowadays. The first is a lack of funding. How can we educate students for a global society, if we don't have the funds needed to do it? The

Neal: Work to ensure stable school district

1. Why are you seeking a position on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education?

I have been fully engaged in community service in the Wayne-Westland area for more than 32 years. I see my participation on the school board as an opportunity to continue serving my community by ensuring the stability of our school system. Not only is our future dependent upon the education of our youth, but the strength and prosperity of our community today depends on a quality education system.

2. What qualities or skills do you believe you would bring to the board, if elected?

I am a professional curriculum developer and training consultant for Eureka Educators and adjunct professor at Jackson Community College and Madonna University. I have been involved in organized labor for 40 years. As the chief of the Westland Fire Department, I managed the department budget, personnel and services provided. 3. What do you see as the issues facing the school district at this time?

The most immediate concern is revenue. The governor proposes to help balance the state budget by eliminating $7 million for Wayne-Westland. This will cause the district to enter deficit spending and severely affect the school system and our children.

Our district is losing more than 300 students each year. It causes two major problems - the loss of revenue and an imbalance between school population and school capacity. 4. How would you address those issues?

I support a coalition of parents, teachers, administrators and the Michigan Education Association to lobby to maintain the Wayne-Westland language in the state budget. I would also support the hiring of a legislative advisor to ensure the safety of our revenue. I propose we do more to advertise the quality education and services our school system provides.

5. Are you seeking the endorsement of organizations or individuals in your bid for a seat on the board? If so, who?

I have the endorsement of Mayor William Wild, City Clerk Eileen DeHart, several Wayne-Westland school board members, and more, but most importantly, I'm seeking the endorsement of the citizens in our district who care about quality education.

6. What do you want voters to know about you?

This is the first time I've been in an election. I offer the knowledge and ability to work with the district's administration, the great people who work in our schools and the families to preserve the quality of education in the Wayne-Westland school district.

Asset allocation strategy helps reduce risk

Q: Dear Rick: I recently heard you speak at the Livonia Library about investing and I am confused about asset allocation. Is it the same as diversification?

financial advisers use. Asset allocation divides assets into many different classes. Diversification spreads risk within an asset

In understanding asset allocation it is important to recognize that there are many different classes. Asset classes are subcategories of investments. For example, some of the asset classes that I use in portfolios I manage are U.S. Large Cap, growth, value and blend; U.S. Small Cap, growth, value and blend: Foreign Large Cap, growth, value and blend; and, both foreign and domestic energy and real estate.

These asset classes are equity classes - stocks. In addition, there are many asset classes within the fixedincome or bond area such as U.S. Treasury, intermediate and short-term investment grade corporate bonds, short and intermediate term foreign bonds, inflation protected bonds and GNMAs. The strategy of asset allocation is to spread money into many different classes to reduce the overall risk to the portfolio without hurting returns.

Diversification is spreading investments within asset classes. For example, if you want to invest in an emerging market, diversification means investing in many companies and in many different emerging markets as opposed to investing in one company or even in one emerging market.

I believe, for the great majority of individuals, following an asset allocation strategy that is diversified will protect an investor. That does not mean that those individuals who follow an asset allocation strategy did not lose money last year because they did. However, generally they lost less because they followed this

In reviewing individual studies on investments, all the studies reach the same conclusion – it is more important to have the right overall allocation than picking the right investment. In other words, having the right allocation will ultimately make an investor successful.

In following an asset allocation strategy, the key is to have the right allocation in each of the different asset classes. The first thing investors need to do is to decide the allocation between equities and fixed income. I recommend to start with a 60/40 split (60 percent stocks, 40 percent bonds) and then make adjustments.

For investors with longterm goals, a 70/30 split is recommended. For those with short-term goals, a 50/50 split.

The key is to base your allocation upon your goals and objectives. Once you have determined the allocation between stocks and bonds, then you need to allocate within the different asset

I do not have an equal allocation between asset classes. I generally have more allocated in large cap U.S. funds vs. emerging markets. The risk tolerance level of an investor is one of the guiding principles in this allocation. A more aggressive investor will have a larger percent in an emerging market than a conservative investor. However, no matter what type of an investor, I still want to have something in the emerging market area, it's the percent that changes.

Diversification is also important. You can't invest in one investment within an asset class, you must have many. This is why I like mutual funds. When you invest in a mutual fund you can have a hundred different investments within an asset class. Investing in just one or two investments within an asset class assumes too much risk.

In reviewing individual studies on investments, all the studies reach the same conclusion — it is more important to have the right overall allocation than picking the right investment. In other words, having the right allocation will ultimately make an investor successful. Unfortunately, most investors spend the majority of their time picking the right investments vs. determining the right allocations

One last note, to make an asset allocation strategy work, you must occasionally rebalance your portfolio. After all, different asset classes will perform differently over time. It is important to rebalance your portfolio to make sure that you put vour portfolio back into the proper allocation. By following this strategy you are actually selling your winners and buying your losers. That is exactly what an investor should do. We all want to sell high and buy low.

It is important to recognize that as your goals and objectives change, so should your overall asset allocation. As an investor begins to need income from their portfolio, the allocation should change to contain more in fixed-income investments and less in equities. It is your goals and objectives that dictate your overall allocation, not what is happening with the market.

An investment strategy is key. The successful investor is one who has a proper game plan based on his/her individual situation.

March Madness: Broncos best Cougars in annual matchup

When it comes to March Madness, the Broncos rule!

Not the Denver Broncos, but the Burger Broncos who teams have proven they own the basketball court.

From the first of many games to the final annual meeting with the Varsity squad from Garden City High School, the teams representing the Burger School for Students with Autism showed their stuff.

Burger Bronco Basketball involves more than 100 players, five different teams, six coaches, three referees. an announcer, all-in-one DJ & photographer, as well as the cheerleading squad and the coach. Burger basketball also is successful because of a group effort by many volunteers.

The Broncos first game was March 18 when Burger East took on Burger West in a rivalry similar to Michigan versus Michigan State. Both teams played their best, but in the end it was a tie. Eric Hein of Westland played a fierce game and scored 14 points for the Burger West team.

"The game was kind of awesome because we had a good team," he said.

Team member Nick Bair of Canton showed up to each practice ready to play. He told his teacher that being on the basketball team was fun.

The Burger East team was led by an excellent coaching staff, which included Natalie O'Brien, Dennis Allison and Kellyanne Smith. Bill Kay acted as the team manager. The young men and ladies on this team played their best under the leadership of team captains, Dylan Kanalos of Woodhaven and Darnell Rogers of Detroit.

Later that same day, the Blue and Gold game was played. The Blue and Gold team members are made up of the younger Burger students. The teams practiced together and then played each other in one final game. Blue versus Gold battled it out and in the end the game was also a tie. Bret Hodorek of Dearborn scored four baskets in a row.

I made one shot, that was really awesome," said Bradley Zigulis of Westland.

The final game, played on March 20, when the Burger Bronco Varsity team took on the Garden City High School

Cougars. The Varsity players knew it would be a tough game, but the players were dedicated in practice and were motivated to win, especially with new uniforms donated by the Burger ASA, according to Coach Mary Jimenez.

It turned out to be the highest scoring game of the season. The final score, Burger Broncos 147, Garden City Cougars 113.

After the game, the Cougar players placed medals on all of the Burger West basketball team players. When the medal was placed around Shane Delaney's neck, he said, "This feels like I just won the championship!"

The Burger Broncos also offered a thank you to John Fleming & Associates, the Garden City Kiwanis, Vietnam Veterans of Plymouth-Canton and the Garden City Masonic Lodge for donating the medals for the players.

The Garden City High School cheerleaders cheered alongside the Burger cheerleaders. Coach Diane Pitt led the Burger cheerleaders who range in age from 6-23 years of age in a half time show.

According to Pitt, the Burger cheerleaders old "worked very hard to learn new cheers and a dance routine" and were excited to cheer with the high school girls.

"Having the chance to participate on a cheerleading squad is very exciting for the young ladies at Burger School," said Pitt who also thanked the Burger ASA for donating new items to the cheer uniforms.

Players are already looking forward to the next year's game, and according to organizers, nothing beats the look on a child's face as the ball makes it into the hoop or someone makes a steal or a rebound.

Serving as referees were Debbie Bradley, John Fleming and Jeremy Taylor while Mary Mirabitur and Kathy Dawson donated and served lunch to about 200 people, including all the Burger players, Burger cheerleaders, coaches, Cougar players and high school cheer-

Eagle Scout project brings Easter to Salvation Army

BY JULIE BROWN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

At age 14, Jacob Bartos of Westland's pretty young to be carrying out his Eagle Scout project. That's just what the Guardian Lutheran School eighth-grader was doing Saturday, April 4, at the Wayne-Westland Salvation Army.

"I used to go here to the summer day camp," Bartos said. "I got the idea because there are a lot of people going through hard times. I wanted to help them

The Eagle Scout's a member of Troop 1147 of Christ Episcopal Church in Dearborn, where his school's also located. Bartos, son of Dawn Bartos, assembled 100 Easter baskets for his Eagle project which were distributed April 4 at the Salvation Army's Easter lunch for the neighborhood.

It took him about six weeks to assemble the baskets. His troop of about 50 boys helped, with adult volunteers from the Scouts also pitching in for the party.

Bartos sent businesses letters to seek money for his project. Wal-Mart of Canton was a big help, along with Harlow Tire, SignArama, Jack Demmer Ford, North Brothers Ford and Northside Hardware.

"It taught him the whole planning process, too," Dawn Bartos said of her son. "It doesn't just happen." He got the actual baskets through church and school. "I'm very proud of him," his mom said. "It definitely showed Jacob Bartos, 14, of Westland collected Easter baskets for the Wayne-Westland Salvation Army for his Eagle Scout project. An Easter party was held for local families April 4 at the Salvation Army corps.

me that he could be a hard worker." Jacob learned "to be helpful as much as you can and to be a leader not a follower." He hopes to attend college for a career in video game designing. Bartos also did a bottle and can drive in his neighborhood, with neighbors pitching in for the cost of party food. Bartos plans to stay active in Boy Scouts, help others with their Eagle projects and continue on merit badges.

"It's a great asset to our community, especially in these financial times," said Capt. Joanna Rose, corps commander for the Salvation Army with husband Derek. She appreciated the opportunity for fellowship, the colorful Easter baskets, and games in the gym.

Children were served in two shifts, 100 children who each got a basket with about 70 adults. "Jacob and his mom have been absolutely wonderful," Rose said.

The Salvation Army has a youth character building program similar to Scouting; Rose said she welcomes the Scouts and others interested in working together.

"Anybody who has a heart to reach out in this area is welcome," she said, adding Jacob worked hard.

"I'm used to it being run by an adult," she added. "It's been a heart-warming thing to see him get involved in."

Very bunny: Youngsters start Easter with Marshmallow Drop

Thousands of marshmallows fell from the sky Friday morning much to the delight of hundreds of youngsters gathered in the Nankin Mills area of Hines Park.

Wayne County Parks, with held its annual Marshmallow Drop, an Easter tradition dating back 25 years. Sponsored by ITC Holdings, Fox 2 and WNIC with help by the Westland Civitans, youngsters and their parents and grandparents waited for the familiar sound of the helicopter that dropped the marshmallows setting off a scramble to collect them.

While the drop isn't competitive and youngsters only needed on of the sweets to receive a prize, youngsters scooped up as many as they could.

Some lucky youngsters won a special prize after picking up a marshmallow with 90 printed on them. Those marshmallows were

Setting a record

Everyone strives to be the best at something. They want to be faster, stronger, and bigger and they want everyone to know about it.

One of the most popular books at the William P. Faust Public Library of Westland is "The Guinness Book of World Records," which is chock full of interesting tidbits and amazing human and animal feats.

While trying to solve an argument regarding which was the fastest game bird in Europe, Sir Hugh Beaver, the managing director of the Guinness Brewery, realized that the answer could not be confirmed in any reference books. Thinking that other bar bets could not be proven with a single reference, he decided to commission what would become "The Guinness Book of Records." In 1955, the first edition was printed and became a surprise hit in both the United Kingdom and the United States. Records can now only be determined by a written application to Guinness to break the record. Record attempts can also be submitted at www.guinnessworldrecords.com.

Although the Guinness World Records books no longer accept eating and drinking records, some of the most popular records involve food. In 2006, more than 30,000 spectators attended the annual Nathan's International July Fourth Hot Dog Eating Contest and 1.5 million households watched it live on ESPN. The current world record for most hot dogs with buns eaten in 10 minutes is 59 by Joey Chestnut in the 2008 contest.

Two Web sites you might want to check out, if you want to take your taste buds and stomach to the limit, are for competitive eating - www. ifoce.com and www.majorleagueeating.com.

If you have the urge to be a record-setter, then the Web site or you is Universal Record Database (http:// urdb.org). As seen on "CBS Sunday Morning," this site's goal is to be "the definitive site for human achievement." Records, such as the most pieces of tape taped to the face at one time (35) and most burps in one minute (67), are recorded. The William P. Faust Public Library of Westland is open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and noon- 5 p.m. Sunday.

ORAL INDICATIONS

Many people are not aware of the many ways in which oral health is linked with overall health. For instance, according to a survey recently conducted by the Academy of General Dentistry, nearly 60% of those surveyed did not know that a painful jaw is one warning sign that may indicate an impending heart attack. Thus, a visit to the dentist may be a patient's first sign of an impending dangerous heart event. In fact, research indicates that over 90% of systemic diseases have oral symptoms. With this in mind, careful dental examinations of patients with a history of heart disease (or other conditions) for signs of oral pain, infection, or inflammation is crucial to overall health

Acknowledging the inherent connection between oral health and a patient's overall health, your dentist will use many techniques to diagnose, treat, restore, and promote total patient well-being. We offer this column in the hopes of educating the general public about the benefits of oral health. Two Jakes

Rockets' tandem fuels 6-4 victory

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It was a rerun of the 1990 movie The Two Jakes on Thursday as host Westland John Glenn earned a 6-4 KLAA South Division baseball win over rival Wayne Memorial.

Jack Nicholson's role was played by senior right-hander Jake Campbell, who was the winning PREP BASEBALL pitcher.

Campbell went the first five innings before Jake Sperry (originally played by Harvey Keitel), took over and got the save.

Campbell scattered nine hits, struck out eight and walked two while allowing three runs.

Sperry allowed one run, one hit and fanned two, but also went 2-for-3 at the plate with an RBI as the Rockets evened their overall record at 3-3 and now stand 1-2 in the division.

Glenn scored four times in the opening inning thanks to an RBI single by Campbell and a 2-run double by Derrick Vince Creighton also delivered an RBI double in the bottom of the second as Glenn jumped out to a 6-2 lead.

Wayne's Jake White made it The Three Jakes as he paced the Zebras' 10-hit attack going 3-for-3 with an RBI. Shane Wilson added two hits and an 'RBI, while Zeb Hancock went 2-for-4.

Losing pitcher Jon Bryant went all six innings for the Zebras, who slipped to 1-5 overall and 0-3 in the KLAA South. He allowed seven hits, walked only one and struck out

FRANKLIN 9, DEARBORN 5: Steve Wells doubled twice and scored a pair of runs, while Nate Robinson went 2-for-3 with a double and two RBI Thursday as host Livonia Franklin (5-2) posted the non-league win over the Pioneers.

Patriot pitchers Garrett Gumm (three innings) and Mark McRobb (four innings) combined on a fourhitter. They teamed up for 10 strikeouts and walked six.

CANTON 13, CHURCHILL 6: Dan Stoney went 3-for-5 to spark a 14-hit attack Wednesday as the Chiefs (2-1, 2-1) rallied to beat host Livonia Churchill (4-2-1, 2-1) in a KLAA South Division game.

Cody Blakita and starting pitcher Kevin Delapaz also added two hits apiece for Canton, which rallied for five runs in the sixth and four in the top of the seventh to overcome a 5-4

After playing to a scoreless draw the opening half, Livonia Stevenson began to find the range and rolled to a 5-0 KLAA Central Division girls soccer win Thursday at home over Salem.

Stevenson is now 3-3 overall and 2-0 in the Central, while Salem falls to 2-1-1 and

"After struggling to get behind their back line, which was pretty organized in the first half, we played with some more urgency in the second half," Stevenson coach Chris Pinta said.

Five minutes into the second half. Renee Boudreau won a tackle at the top corner of Salem's box and dumped a pass inside to Shannon Merritt, who buried Stevenson's first goal while fending off a Salem defender.

Only a minute later, freshman Kelly Vellucci won a tackle about 25 yards away from goal and slotted a perfect pass which caught a breaking Kayla Kimble in stride for the finish to make

In the 49th minute, Boudreau juked a couple of Rock defenders in the box before locating Vellucci around the penalty mark. The ninth-grader then settled the ball before tucking it past Salem's keeper.

The fourth Spartan goal during the 13-minute span came when Krista Kane finished a header off a Merritt Salem then threatened on a couple of different occasions, including one dangerous shot coming out the midfield area where goalkeeper Michelle Krawczyk made a nice diving save.

Stevenson's final goal came when Molly McConnell broke down the right flank past a Salem defender and whipped the ball into the box, ending up on the foot of Vellucci, who poked the ball to the far post. Salem's keeper made the initial save but couldn't hold on as the ball bounced, hitting the post and rolling across the line.

KLAA girls soccer churchill 8, wayne 0:

On Thursday, Bailey Brandon recorded two goals and an assist to lead host Livonia Churchill (2-1, 1-1) to the KLAA South Division triumph over Wayne Memorial (1-4, 1-1).

The Chargers led 6-0 at halftime and ended the game on an eightgoal mercy with 29 minutes remaining.

Other Churchill offensive production came from Alyssa Mira (two goals); Hannah Otto (goal and assist); goalkeeper Stefanie Turner (goal, assist); Darcy DeRoo and Kayla Munroe (goal each). The Chargers led Megan Bauman finished the game in goal for the Chargers.

Ashley Struppa went all the way in net for the Zebras.

PLYMOUTH 8, FRANKLIN 0: Livonia Franklin (0-5, 0-1) is still in search of its first win following a mercy-rule setback Wednesday against the host Wildcats (3-0, 1-0). Plymouth jumped out to a 3-0 halftime lead. "We started strong and kept the game close early on," Franklin coach Jen Barker said. "We had a few breakdowns and they took advantage of that to get two quick ones heading in to the half.

We were organized early and then lost that to where the score was 7-0 with 23 (minutes) to play.

Despite the loss, Franklin freshman goalkeeper Lexi Smith made several key saves, but Plymouth put in the final goal with six minutes to play to end it.

"We are feeling the strain of a couple of players nursing injuries," Barker said, "As a group we're having to fill in gaps by having players play out of position. It was a game full of adjusting that we just didn't do quick enough. "The last 15 minutes of the game we finally felt the urgency we should have all game, we were organizing better and playing good soccer. We were playing as a team and attacking as a team. It was too little, too late, though."

Barker singled out senior Brooke Killeen and junior Erin Roulier as strong players in the backline for the Patriots.

"They stepped in nicely to fill the holes left by injury," the Franklin coach said.

He collected his second straight Metro MVP award for his efforts and was named to Bankhoops. com's Class B All-State first-team.

An indication of Stewart's value to the Trojans came in the titleclinching victory over Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook-Kingswood when he tallied 31 points including several key buckets down the stretch.

"Jamie had an outstanding year for us," said Clarenceville coach Corey McKendry. "He produced despite having a huge bull's-eye on his back every night. He really rounded his game out this year by filling up the stat columns, instead of just being a scorer."

ROBERT WOODSON, SR. PG, WAYNE: The 6-1 senior guard averaged 15 points, five assists and 2.5 steals a game.

The All-KLAA South Division selection was a three-year starter and a two-year captain. "Robert is a leader on the court and in the classroom," Wayne coach Wayne Woodard said. "He has a 3.5 grade point average. He

"He is one of the three best players to wear an RU uniform in my tenure," said head coach Brett Steele. "Without him on the floor, our team could not succeed. He was our leading scorer and was the focal point of every opponent's defensive game plan.'

"Austin had a great year and has improved in every aspect of his game over the three years he started for us," Glenn coach Dan Young said. "We have won 43 games in that span and he was a big part of it. This season has was asked to score more and had the second best single season scoring mark only behind Darin Armstrong (1980)."

BOBBY NAUBERT, JR. G, LIV. STEVENSON: The junior guard averaged 17 points and 5.5 assists per game for the Class

"He is the ultimate team player and knows exactly what it takes to be a winner. He's all about basketball and improving his game. His heart and determination became contagious toward the end of the year as he guided us to a district champion-

GREG MORGAN, SR. G. RED. THURSTON:

The 6-0 shooting guard was a sparkplug for Thurston's Mega Blue co-champs, averaging 14.5 points, 4.4 rebounds and hit 53 percent of his three-point shots. Morgan, the team co-captain, earned All-Mega Blue first-team honors and received Thurston's Sportsmanship Award.

"Greg is a great shooter who has hit some huge shots for us over his career," said Eagles' head coach Brian Bates. "Greg is a very unselfish player. ... He has done great things for our program during his time here and we are going to miss him greatly."

"Even though he was a sophomore, Dietrich was our best player this year," said Canton coach Dan Colligan. "I think he was one of the top point guards in the KLAA. He shot 55 percent from the field. "Adam's not a thick kid, but he's such a hard worker and good athlete," Churchill coach Jim Solak said. "He is able to play much bigger than he is and handle guys that were much stronger physically. He was a dominant force around the basket, which allowed just to do a lot of different things offensively and defensively. What's more impressive to me is his preparation. He's always made sure he was clear on the strengths and weaknesses of our opponents. It's no surprise that he has a 3.8 GPA. Throw in his soccer skill and he could easily be one of the best true student-athletes ever to come Leidal had season highs of 16 rebounds vs. Wayne and 25 points against Howell.

"Connor is fearless around the rim and very creative is how he gets his scores." Franklin coach Jeremy Rheault said. "He's always active on both ends of the court, a relentless rebounds. He plays much bigger than his 6-4 size. He has solid perimeter skills, which allows him to handle the ball and pressure. He was our hardest worker who never took a

JUSTIN MOSS, SOPH. C, PLYMOUTH: The 6-7 sophomore was a force in the paint for the Wildcats, averaging 14.0 per games and 8.2 rebounds. He also collected a team-high 27 blocked shots and 17 steals.

"Justin had some exceptional games this year," said Plymouth coach Tom Van Wagoner. "His top games included a 22-point effort at Walled Lake Central and a 23-point, 18-rebound game against Livonia Churchill. With a lot of hard work and consistent effort, the future is bright for Justin."

MARCUS JONES, SR. G-F, RED. THURSTON: Jones, a 6-1 small forward, was in the mix almost constantly to help the Eagles to another winning season. The co-captain averaged 16.8 points but also contributed across-theboard (2.5 assists, 4.4 rebounds, 2.3 steals). He earned team MVP honors as well as selection to the All-Mega Blue first team.

"He had the ability to score by either a drive or jump shot, which made him a really hard player to guard." Bates noted. "He could not only score points from anywhere, but he was a great rebounder and defender. Marcus helped make us a better team and we are going to miss him very much."

Home run derby: MU earns split

A total of six homers on the day was only good enough to get Madonna University a split during Wednesday's baseball double-header against host Indiana Tech in Fort Wavne.

The one-goal decision left both teams with 1-1 overall records. More importantly, Canton arose to the head of the class in the newly formed Kensington Lakes Activities Association South Division.

"Both teams played a great game," Canton coach George Tomasso said. "I was disappointed after we came up short (3-2) against Novi in our opener, but we made some minor adjustments and they worked tonight against a very good Churchill team.

"In the first half, I felt we didn't attack the end lines much. We only had one or two corners. In the second half, we focused more on attacking the end lines, which created more corners and goal-scoring opportunities.

"I credit the entire team for the win tonight. All 18 girls that were here played, and they all did a great job. It was a total team effort."

Junior goalkeeper Samantha McPartlin registered the shutout for the Chiefs, turning away seven Charger shots.

We controlled the first half absolutely," said Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit, who was missing two starters because they had already left for spring break. "Bailey (Brandon) got free and had a couple shots on goal that their keeper had trouble with. I thought we controlled first 50 minutes, but got then we got fatigued."

The Chiefs fired 12 shots at Turner and one found the net.

"They (Canton) ran the same corner that we ran against (Livonia) Stevenson where they get six or seven in box," Hebestreit said. "(Stefanie) Turner couldn't get through the mess, and a couple of our people stabbed at it and couldn't get it. But it's a goal and it still counts.

Dave Hales led Salem's 13-hit attack going 3-for-4 with two RBI. Heath Parling added two hits.

Losing pitcher Dan Muller allowed nine runs, but only two were earned in 4.2 innings. He struck out five and walked one as the Patriots committed five errors.

The fence was constructed in roughly in two days and it was done old-fashioned way.

"We used manual post hole diggers - mixing concrete, using shovels and wheelbarrows," Shaw said. "We were dead tired and hurting by the end of the day, but there was a great sense of good will and joy. To be able to see the fence go up and see your work finished was cool."

Chisholm spurs Pats in Fellows Creek Cup

Individual stroke medalist Jordan Chisholm fired an 18-hole round of 78 Thursday as Livonia Franklin captured the Fellows Creek Cup Invitational in Canton.

The Patriots scored a team-best 15.5 points, while tournament host Garden City was runner-up with 13.75 followed by Westland John Glenn and Wayne Memorial with 9.5 and 9.25, respectively.

Tied with 83 strokes each in fourth were Garden City senior Ronald Pummill and Wayne's Jacob Smith. Another Cougars senior, Nick Walker, finished next with 85 for the day.

The Ryder Cup-style event also included a best ball, alternate shot and scramble

In the best ball category, the Cougars took home the medal with juniors Jared Cusmano and Matt Wilson combining for a 79, nipping the 80 turned in by Franklin's tandem of John Holmes and Doug Nagy.

The other scrambles teams also performed fairly well.

Lee's team was comprised of Krista Snow, Justin Snow, Tim Bishop and Mark Konopatski.

"This win was very special to me, by winning while bowling with my two kids," he said. "That feeling is very easy to relate to for those of us who have raised our own children, while giving them the opportunity to excel at bowling and be able to enjoy the sport for many years to come."

Livonia Symphony Orchestra concert brings back romance

O&E STAFF WRITER

The Livonia Symphony Orchestra plans to go out with a bang Saturday, April 18. More than a year ago Jack Van Assche and the rest of the music committee decided they'd like to spotlight the Romantic period that started in the late 1830s and ran through the early 1900s. The members usually start planning the season by brainstorming concert themes and then select the music. All 10 of the committee, which includes orchestra members, conductor Volodymyr Shesiuk and non musicians, then vote to finalize the program.

"We wanted to end with something really special, a program that will be interesting for the audience and keep musicians challenged at the same time while working with budget constraints too," said Van Assche, LSO music committee member. "The use of auxiliary instruments like extra winds, harp, piano add to the cost of the music as does the size of the orchestra."

The April 18, concert requires a grand piano for guest artist Anna Sorokhtei who performs Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No.

"We wanted to pick some of the best stuff written during that period like Rossini's La Cenerentola Overture," said Van Assche of Livonia. "Rossini was famous for his crescendo where the music gets louder and louder. It's a delightful little piece not performed very often and based on the Cinderella tale. The Prokofiev is an early work in the St. Petersburg conservatory, 1911 or 1912. He started in the conservatory at age 13 so he was 20 when he wrote this piece. For the third piece we chose Brahms' Number 4 symphony,

Van Assche has been with the committee 12 years because he loves music. His extensive collection of 500 classical CDs allows members to hear any of the pieces under consideration. He played French horn in the high school band but admits he "can't even get a sound out of it anymore"

"We used to go down to hear the Detroit concert band and symphony on Belle Isle every time they played," said Van Assche, a CPA for Barazsu & Cross in Bloomfield Hills. "My mother was a real music fanatic. I started collecting LPs in high school from Bach to the Beach Boys. I have a broad musical background so if we're going to play a serious selection, we want to have a few lighter pieces to keep the audience interested and for the orchestra to reach for the highest rung."

Van Assche is especially excited about next season. The tentative dates are subject to approval by Clarenceville High School where the LSO concerts are held. The programs start at 4 p.m. Saturdays. Oct, 17 is a pops concert with classical music familiar to ear. Wait a Minute Don't Tell Me features music from TV shows, movies and the circus. The Dec. 5,

Sounds of the Season holiday program sees the return of Bunny Sanford's dancers in Nutcracker selections. Jan. 23, 2010 brings Livonia native Anthony Bonamici home from Russia for Schumann's piano concerto, March 6, LSO concertmaster Anton Shelepov plays Brahms violin concerto. April 17 concludes the season with Brahms German Requiem and the Madonna University Chorale, but first the 2008-2009 season ends with romantic music followed by the annual spring garden party fundraiser 11:30 a.m. Saturday, May 9 at Laurel Manor. The sit down lunch, silent floral auction and entertainment by LSO musicians costs $30. Call Rose Kachnowski at (734) 591-0266

Volodymyr Shesiuk is especially looking forward to performing the Prokofiev concerto on April 18, with his daughter, Anna Sorokhtei of Rochester Hills. Like Prokofiev, Shesiuk was born in Ukraine. He and his family moved to the U.S. in "This is very special because I will finish my 15th year with LSO," said Shesiuk of Garden City. "Prokofiev when young they called him infant terrible. Critics wrote about him that he had huge hands and said with these he can cut wood. Anna is opposite. She has smaller hands and plays this unusual double octave difficult for pianists.

"Anna started playing piano at 7 years old and was accepted to special music school for gifted kids. She started playing with Lviv symphony orchestra in third grade at 9 years old. To play with your own daughter is not easy job because you're a father. She'll always be independent. She tells me, I'm a musician not your daughter on

On a roll

Friends share love of strudel

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN O&E STAFF WRITER

The last time Marilyn Alimpich had "real" strudel was before her grandmother died in 1977. Through the years, her mother and the rest of the family tried making the pastry without much success. It takes a certain knack to stretch the dough thinly enough over a tabletop without making holes. The entire strudel is then rolled up using the momentum of a tablecloth after spreading the surface with cheese, apple, cabbage, or a filling of the baker's choice.

Several ethnic groups in Europe enjoy the tasty delight as Alimpich found out when she mentioned the family's strudel-making attempts to her manicurist, Suzana Pallaska, at Gerald's Salon in Northville. Before long, Alimpich was organizing a daylong project to learn the skill from Pallaska, who brought her expertise from Macedonia in southeastern Europe 10 years ago. Last month, Pallaska, a Westland resident, shared her secrets during a baking extravaganza that included Alimpich's parents, Muriel and Nick Alimpich of Redford, friend Sandy Kline of Plymouth and her mother, Sonia Phillips. Alimpich's mother is of Croatian descent. Their family made strudel year-

"My grandmothers, who came from Europe, made strudel and I mentioned it to my friend Sandy whose grandmother used to make it and would she like to make it sometime," said Alimpich of Plymouth. "I also mentioned it to Suzana and asked if she would help us along. She's of Albanian descent but grew up in Macedonia. Her foods are similar to the way we cook but Suzana had a different way of doing this so several of us of various Slavic ethnicities got together to practice making strudel. My family made huge batches. Suzana had us break the big ball into smaller balls."

Alimpich's family would try stretching the large dough ball over the table as her grandmother did. With Pallaska's method, they ended up making and then splitting about eight or nine strudel with a variety of fillings between themselves.

"She had one of those old metal tables and would hang the dough over the sides," said Alimpich. "It was always covered in an old sheet or tablecloth so you're picking up the cloth and the dough just sort of rolls."

STRUDEL-SAVVY

Muriel remembers her mother making as many as seven batches of strudel in one morning. She tells the story of her mother, Mary Medunic, then age 14, coming over on a German ship three weeks before World War I started. She was from Yugoslavia, a Croatian province under Austrian rule.

"She was an expert at it," said Muriel Alimpich, 86. "She could stretch it all the way down past the table, no holes ever. She had gotten it down that well. She made cottage cheese and apple strudel. My husband loves hubbard squash so she would make that. She also used to make cherries and walnuts. Nobody like the sauteed cabbage but me. I loved cabbage. I miss the strudel so maybe one day I'll buckle down and make some."

Pallaska remembers her mom making it as well when she was a

"It's our food. I make those all the time for my kids," said Pallaska. "Strudel can be made as a sweet with apples, but if we want main food like a meal we make with spinach; cabbage; cheese, eggs and yogurt, whatever you want, leeks, onions and mushrooms, and tomatoes. Everybody makes it over there all the time."

SLAVIC TRADITIONS

Sandy Kline wanted to learn the skill of making strudel so the tradition doesn't die. Her father is Macedonian, her mother Sonia Phillips, Ukrainian. The Republic of Macedonia declared its independence from Yugoslavia in 1991 as did Croatia.

"Macedonians don't call it strudel but Zelnick," said Kline, who met Marilyn Alimpich through Plymouth Business & Professional Women. "Marilyn and I have been friends for years and have Slavic backgrounds and talk about different foods of our ethnicities. There are so many similarities between different countries. My grandmother, baba, used to come to our house and make it from scratch. It's like phyllo dough and you put whatever fillings you want. Macedonians use more savory fillings, cottage cheese. My favorite is cabbage, cheese and leeks. Greeks call it spanikopita and fill it with spinach and cheese. It's all kind of similar because we're all in that area," Kline was making the dough-filled creations last Friday with her mother and sister-in-law, Robin Phillips, who has a culinary arts degree from Schoolcraft College. The zelnick would be a special Easter treat for the family.

"Every holiday my godparents would bring zelnick," said Kline. "My family's really excited somebody's going to carry on the tradition because everyone else is too old to make it or gone."

BASIC STRUDEL RECIPE

Suzana Pallaska bakes by 'feel," not a written recipe. This is not an exact science. She brought the recipe with her to Michigan from Macedonia 10 years ago.

MACEDONIAN STRUDEL

Yields: About 8-9 rolls

Approximately 4 pounds King Arthur flour 2 whole eggs

2 teaspoons salt

2 tablespoons vinegar (they used cider, could be white)

1 cup warm water % pound butter plus ½ cup canola or olive oil, warmed together cornstarch Fillings: cottage cheese, grated

apple, cherry, grated yellow squash, sautéed cabbage, spinach, anything

Cover table with clean cloth on which to stretch and roll dough.

Mix together in a bowl, or on board or table, flour, eggs, salt, vinegar, ½ cup water at first, then add another ½ cup water as the dough firms up while you're mixing it. Mix using a spoon and as it gets firmer, by hand. Once firm, knead the dough until dimples disappear. Since this quantity makes a lot of strudel, divide the dough into several small balls then pat with cornstarch before flattening them into approximately 8-inch rounds (using a rolling pin). Stack two to three of the flat sheets together, spreading a warmed mix of butter and oil on top of each. This keeps the dough from drying too fast.

Stretch each set of flattened dough separately until very thin. Dab small quantities of filling across about 1/3 to 1/2 of the dough. Pick up one end of the tablecloth and use it to roll the strudel over the filling until you have a single roll. Place onto a lightly greased baking pan (you may have to "snake" it around the inside of the pan) and spread more butter-oil mixture on top. Bake at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes. Cut, eat and andy Mezza is a guardian angel. No, she doesn't hover around human beings. The Westland woman takes animals no one else wants and finds them forever homes. She's been doing it for 10 years, but it's not always easy. Mezza sometimes reaches a breaking point. That's why she's grateful to Mark Blondy who's organizing a fund-raiser for no kill shelters like hers Saturday, April 25, at Bentley's Restaurant in West

Bloomfield. Mezza started caring for strays with other groups, but eventually went on her own to found Guardian Angel Animal Rescue. Over the years, she's taken in cats, dogs, snakes, birds, and hamsters. A week ago Saturday, she was on her way to PetSmart in Commerce for an adoption event. Mezza is there every Saturday from 1-4 p.m. During the summer, she holds dog washes every other Sunday at Specialty Pet Supplies medication or socialization," in Plymouth to raise money. By day, she works in advertising at Kroger, but her free time is devoted to the animals. She is one of the many guardian angels helping homeless animals through several rescue groups in the area.

"There are a lot of groups that call themselves no kill and aren't," said Mezza. "I was caring for a colony of feral cats behind a fast food restaurant in Canton. There were probably 100. I spent almost five years trapping them, taming them and adopting them out to good

Foster homes are Mezza's first choice for rescued animals, but when none are available the overfill of dogs and cats are kept at a kennel in Flint. Currently the group has about four dog foster homes and six cat fosters. Mezza estimates she has about 20 dogs and 50 cats ready to go to good homes.

"Because we're a no kill we have a lot of hard-to-adopt animals, some have seizures. We keep them if they can live a good quality life and all they need is said Mezza. "We just placed a hard-to-adopt dog last week. He was 7 years old and left outside his whole life from a puppy. He's very needy. We found an older woman who saw him and fell in love with him and he follows her around everywhere."

The barking in the background doesn't seem to bother Mezza as she drives a car full of dogs to PetSmart in Commerce. Another carload is coming from the kennel in Flint. The nonprofit consists of about 25 volunteers including cat coordinator Donna Johnson of Canton.

"There's probably more sadness than good stuff because of the stuff you see," said Mezza. "Sometimes I say I can't do that anymore but then you look at their cute faces."

Mark Blondy has a soft spot for furry faces just like Mezza. Rescue groups were his first thought when coming up with the idea for Pets & Bets, a project for his Self Expression and Leadership class at Landmark Education development and training company in Livonia. The event features an afternoon of family fun with a pet fashion contest and adoptable animals, and an evening for grown-ups with a Casino, Texas Hold 'em Tournament and dinner.

"I have a close friend who's rescued dogs before my very eyes and gave me a taste of what it's like," said Blondy, who grew up with dogs and currently lives with one. "Pets & Bets (the fundraiser) allows me to be involved with what I have a passion for and I'm practicing the skills I've learned in class. The casino portion goes to Sandy's group. The other rescue groups will get the money from what's left of ticket sales, an auction, antique appraisals, a light-hearted tarot card reader. The site lists all the different vendors and rescue groups that will have ferrets, birds, dogs and cats for adoption. They're all donating time and services and making it happen. It's one person's dream but starts with us sharing with one another for this noble effort for these animals. We're getting the word out about these groups and we can make a difference for the rescue groups and the animals in need of a home.

Somebody out there can really make difference.

THE TIMING OF SHOULDER INJECTIONS

People at every age have experienced an unexpected misstep on a stair with the need to suddenly grip a railing to stop. When the person is young or an adult, the arm that grabs the railing may hurt for a day or so, but the aching leaves and the incident is

Not so with the elderly. A slip and near fall down a stairs or any type of accident leading to a sudden force on an outstretched arm, can lead to a rotator cuff tear. Continuing pain in the shoulder and loss of the ability to raise the arm or put on a coat or shirt will lead to studies that reveal the presence of a rotator cuff tear

At times, physical therapy strengthens the shoulder sufficiently so that motion returns to allow usual use and pain declines to the point of being intermittent and tolerable. If not, then surgical repair of the tear is in order. However, in the elderly problems such as chronic lung disease, advanced heart disease, kidney insufficiency, or residual weakness from cancer chemotherapy, preclude operation.

The doctor then turns to the one therapy that remains: shoulder joint steroid injection. Furthermore, the doctor does not place rigid limits on this therapy such as limiting it to two or three times a year. He is dealing with an individual who cannot undergo surgical repair, but who needs use of the injured shoulder to maintain self care. What guides the timing of shoulder injection is not conformity to custom or obedience to an arbitrary rule, but how long a benefit the injection gives.

VegFest promotes the benefits of a plant-based diet

O&E STAFF WRITER

Dr. Joel Kahn brings up plant-based diets to most, if not all, of his patients at the Michigan Heart Group in Troy. Over the last 20 years he's seen an increase in the number of younger people seeking treatment for cardiovascular disease and it troubles him as a cardiologist.

That's why he's looking forward to speaking about the topic at VegFest, a plant-based tastefest and expo Sunday, April 26, at Ferndale High School. The event is presented by VegMichigan, a nonprofit organization promoting the health, environmental and ethical benefits of a plant-based diet. Kahıı quit eating meat 25 years ago and went vegan (no dairy products) for the last 10.

"I'm now seeing a lot of patients in their 40s who are not necessarily smokers or diabetics. I'm concerned about the trend of people gaining weight and exercising less," said Kahn, medical director of cardiac rehabilitation at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. "I'll be speaking about the most common disease of heart attacks and strokes caused by clogging of arteries, disease that's preventable and that it's better to prevent than reverse it. Diet and lifestyle is a major component."

Kahn believes a plant-based diet is safe for everyone.

"Plants provide every nutrient even if you're an exerciser," said Kahn, a West Bloomfield resident who does a combination of swimming, yoga and exercise on machines 30 to 60 minutes a day. "Diabetics can safely use vegan diets. It's probably the healthiest diet choice. I think the key is to read. The VegFest is a great place to get started. Most doctors get little training in nutrition and it's usually funded by the milk and dairy industry. Soybean farmers don't have the funds to provide curriculum. I want to stress for people to come and learn, that they read and be willing to make small changes one day a week, breakfast as a vegetarian, try not to eat meat and fish for a week, take baby steps."

Like Kahn, pediatrician Mary Sue Sylwestrzak suggests a vegan diet for patients, especially for certain medical problems. She'll talk about the benefits as well as safety at VegFest. An M.D., Sylwestrzak has been providing traditional and integrative care for infants, children and adolescents for 16 years and is nearing completion of a degree as a Naturopathic Medical Doctor. She practices at Watch Me Grow Pediatrics in West Bloomfield.

"I definitely recommend a vegan diet if they're interested or if they have allergies and would do better off without dairy products," said Sylwestrzak of Beverly Hills. "The benefits of a vegan diet for children is eliminating saturated fats, cholesterol, a totally animal based product. Fat content is lower. There's a lower risk of diabetes, heart disease, obesity. All of those problems are increasing."

Sylwestrzak referred to a recent Ohio State-Temple University study as proof that even young children are overweight. The research showed one in five 4-year-olds are

"I personally have seen more and more older kids with Type 2 diabetes taking medication in the last 5 or 6 years and an increase especially in overweight children due to the standard American diet of too much fast food, processed food, not enough fruits and vegetables, not enough activity. Like any diet it should be well thought out and planned, take into account requirements for B-12, vitamin D and calcium. If you make a good attempt to have a variety of foods every day you're probably going to be good."

The irony, she said, is pediatricians routinely tell parents to feed their child nothing but fruits, vegetables and grains for the first nine months.

"They're basically vegan," said Sylwestrzak. "There are benefits for kids of all ages, but different things you have to keep in mind whether infant or adolescent. At VegFest I'm part of the ask the experts panel, an open forum, and a group of us will answer questions on anything related to a plant-based Harry Pianko went vegetarian 10 years ago and quit eating dairy products five years ago. As president of VegMichigan, he's looking forward to sharing information about healthy food choices at VegFest (formerly The Great American Meatout). Pianko learned about vegetarian food from a college friend born in India. He quit eating meat after learning about the health benefits, cruelty perpetrated on the animals during factory farming and the resulting pollution and damage to the environment. Before long he noticed the physical changes, which included an increase in energy and loss of weight. The 31year-old Birmingham resident hasn't taken a sick day as vice president of finance and business operations for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society's Michigan chapter since 2000.

"It's a big vegetarian festival. We bring in speakers, local and national, to tell the benefits of a plant-based diet," said Pianko. "I'm especially excited about our keynote speaker John Salley who went vegetarian with the Pistons and is now vegan and going to share his story. There are people who want to quit eating meat but want to know where to get information. We have 13 or 14 restaurants confirmed like Q'doba and Inn Season who give out samples. For those who ask 'but how do I cook it,' we also have food demonstrations cooking everything from quinoa (a grain) to a smoothie. We're looking forward to educating people who normally don't know about the benefits of a plant-based diet. We'd like to encourage people even if you're a meat eater or just curious to check out VegFest and VegMichigan. We hope to get more meat eaters than vegetarians to show people how great it is."
