OUR VIEWS

Our endorsements

On Tuesday, voters in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools and the Westland portion of the Livonia Public Schools will go to the polls to positions on their respective boards of education.

School board trustees are elected by residents and represent their interests and those of students in overseeing the school districts.

Wayne-Westland

In the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, 10 people are campaigning for two four-year terms and the remaining year of a four-year term. We believe residents should re-elect Ed Turner and Shawna Walker to the two four-year terms and John Goci to the one-year term.

Turner is completing his 12th-year of service and continues to follow the priorities he set forth the first time he ran — students first, parents second and teachers and administrators third. He is well-versed in the district and has the experience needed to guide Wayne-Westland through these troubled times.

Walker was appointed to board last August and has proven to be a quick study. She brings diversity to the school board and is committed to doing what's best for the students and the district. We also applaud her effort to get her Michigan Association of School Boards certification in just eight months.

We endorse Goci for the one-year term. We believe he can be a link between the district and business community and he has many ideas to help raise money for the district. While he sees the one-year term as an opportunity to make a difference, we hope he will commit to a full term next year and not use the seat as a stepping stone to city government.

Livonia Public Schools

Two four-year terms will be filled in Tuesday's election in the Livonia Public Schools. In looking at the three candidates, we believe newcomers Colleen Burton and Roger Spence can offer a fresh perspective and are what's needed in these challenging times.

Both Burton and Spence aren't afraid questioning board decisions and have done so in the past. They also have creative ideas for how to solve some of the school district's problems.

They are creative in their thinking, something that can help the district navigate these difficult times. Burton has ideas to solve problems like the feeling of social isolation reported by children moving from the district's K-4 schools to its larger 5-6 buildings. Spence suggests having students brainstorm ways the district can save on energy costs as part of a class project before spending money on an outside company to do an energy audit of the district.

While we believe Burton and Spence will have a learning curve if elected to the board, we also believe it won't take long for them to get up to speed, if elected to the school board.

We also urge people to take the time to go to the polls on Tuesday, May 5. Polls will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

City launches Norwayne rehab project

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

An ambitious, new plan to spruce up the Norwayne subdivision is expected to start showing results this summer as city officials move ahead with a first-phase, rental-rehabilitation effort.

Westland will begin spending $515,000 of a larger, $2.1 million federal grant to provide matching dollars for select developers that invest in the Norwayne area, roughly bounded by Palmer, Glenwood, Wildwood and Merriman.

The first phase is expected to result in 25 to 30 rental units — either foreclosed, vacant or blighted — being fixed up and readied for low-income families, said Joanne Inglis, city housing and community development director.

"If a developer fixes up an apartment, duplex or house, we believe that will encourage other developers to work on the same street," Inglis said.

The city plans to commit the $515,000 within 18 months, and potential developers are urged to attend an informational meeting scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday, May 22, at the Dorsey Community Center, located in the heart of Norwayne.

Developers who can't make the meeting still may submit project proposals, and informational packets are available at the Dorsey Center, on Dorsey east of Venoy, or by calling (734) 595-0288, Ext. 221.

Mayor William Wild said the rental-rehabilitation program marks a continuation of other efforts to spruce up Norwayne, a long-struggling, World War II-era neighborhood hard hit by foreclosures and abandoned properties.

"It's a continuation of our plans to try to revitalize this neighborhood," he said.

The program is a winning situation for all involved, officials said. City and developers split the

Volunteers find purpose in helping others

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Closing in on her 84th birthday in June, Westland resident Eleanor Walsh has learned it's never too late to teach her daughter a thing or two.

Walsh and her 66-year-old daughter, Eleanor Addison, share more than the first seven letters of their first name. They share a love of volunteering their time at Westland's senior citizen Friendship Center, and they also help distribute food to low-income people at the city's Dorsey Community Center and the Salvation Army.

"It gets me out, and it's something I want to do," Walsh said.

Like mother, like daughter.

"I feel a lot better about myself because I really feel like I'm helping somebody," Addison said.

They were among 160 seniors who gathered Wednesday for a volunteer recognition luncheon inside the Friendship Center.

Detroit man pleads guilty to drug thefts

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Detroit man is facing more than six years in prison for brandishing a pistol and robbing a Westland pharmacy of more than 7,000 doses of prescription drugs.

Michael Henry Guerin, 53, is scheduled for a May 13 sentencing in Wayne County Circuit Court after he pleaded guilty Tuesday to armed robbery, felony firearm and three felony drug charges.

Guerin seized thousands of doses of OxyContin, Ritalin and morphine from the Rite Aid pharmacy at Ford and Wayne roads shortly after 10:30 p.m. Oct. 16, police Sgt. Steve Borisch has said. No shots were fired.

Under the terms of a plea agreement, Guerin is to receive 51 months in prison for the robbery and drug charges, plus an additional two years for the felony firearm count. His formal sentencing has been set for May 13 by Wayne County Circuit Judge Deborah Thomas.

"We're happy with the case being solved, we're happy with a conviction, and we're happy that he's going to prison," said police Lt. Dan Karrick, who is in charge of the Westland detective bureau. Moreover, Karrick commended an investigation, spearheaded by Borisch, that led to an arrest in a case that nearly went unsolved.

"It was through his tenacity that the case got solved," Karrick said. "It was a good job by him."

Guerin was charged in January, three months after the robbery occurred. Police obtained and released a suspect photo to the media and received a tip. Borisch's subsequent investigation helped lead the multi-agency Metro Street Enforcement Team to Guerin's home, where a search warrant was executed.

Police seized some of the prescription drugs, while others already had been sold, Borisch said. Guerin had been ordered in January to stand trial during a preliminary hearing in front of Westland 18th District Judge Mark McConnell, who at that time continued a $5 million cash bond that had been set earlier by now-retired Judge C. Charles Bokos.

Bokos had set a high bond, saying he considered Guerin a threat to the community because of the drugs he was accused of seizing during the Rite Aid robbery. Guerin also was considered a habitual offender.

Westland man faces trial on theft charges

BY DARRELL CLEM
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Westland man will face trial on charges he seized money from two local businesses before he was captured by police officers who accused him of fleeing from a third, vacant store.

Michael Scott Herndon, 47, is facing trial in Wayne County Circuit Court after he waived his preliminary hearing Thursday in front of Westland 18th District Judge Mark McConnell — a move that averted pretrial testimony.

Herndon is accused of robbing an ACO Hardware store, grabbing money from a Dunkin Donuts cash register and breaking into a now-closed Dollar Palace — all on the city's south side.

Herndon, charged as a fourth-degree habitual offender, remains jailed with a $1 million cash bond as he now awaits the outcome of his case in circuit court.

Westland police Sgt. Todd Adams has said that an investigation led to charges against Herndon for three incidents.

The first occurred around 7:30 p.m. April 9 at the ACO Hardware store at Wayne and Glenwood. Herndon is accused of bringing candy to the cash register, shoving a worker when the drawer was opened and taking money from the drawer. He is charged with unarmed robbery for that incident.

The second incident happened about 3 a.m. April 13 at the Dunkin Donuts on Wayne north of Palmer. Herndon is accused of a felony larceny charge amid allegations he demanding money from an employee, learned across the counter and seized money from the cash register, Adams has said.

The last incident happened around 2:10 a.m. April 20 at the former Dollar Palace on Wayne near Glenwood. A witness called police about a break-in, and Herndon is accused of being caught by officers as he was trying to climb over a brick wall behind the building, Adams said.

The most serious charge against Herndon is unarmed robbery, which carries penalties ranging up to 15 years in prison. However, he could face a lengthier sentence, if convicted, because he has been charged as a habitual offender.

Being American is 'best thing' in his life

BY JULIE BROWN
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Umid Ali remembers the day Saddam Hussein attacked his home city in Iraq. "March 16, 1998, he attacked my city," said Dearborn resident Ali, who owns the Toarmina's pizza franchise operations in Romulus and Taylor. Ali, who is married with one daughter, came to the U.S. in 1996. A Kurd from northern Iraq originally, he recently spoke to the Westland Rotary. "I am very, very happy I'm an American citizen," he said, kissing the American flag to prove his point. "That's the best thing in my life." He had material comforts in Iraq, being from a comfortable family, but is glad to be an American. "The day I came to this country I got freedom," said Ali, describing the hard work his business has demanded. He trained as a physical education teacher and taught in his homeland. Ali showed Rotarians and guests his map of Iraq, with Iran to the east and Turkey to the north. Northern Iraq residents are heavily Kurdish, he said, and mostly Muslim. "I never asked anyone what's your religion?" said Ali, who counts a Chaldean Christian among his good friends. The Sunni people in the middle of Iraq were removed from their jobs in 2003, he said, with men becoming vulnerable to terrorist offers. "You can't stay at home in case you don't have food," he said. He appreciates the U.S. role in his country. "All my life I don't forget that. Not just me, every single Iraqi. President Bush, he do right decision," he said. Ali said his city was attacked by chemicals under Saddam Hussein's orders, with 5,000 people killed and many injured.

"I see my family after one year," said Ali, who was single at the time. He's now able to call his mother in the Middle East daily. He noted Kurdish soldiers now fight side by side with U.S. troops, and added that Islam does not equate killing as part of the Koran's teachings. Ali appreciates the U.S. role in removing Saddam Hussein, saying he had nuclear and chemical weapons. Ali was invited to speak by his boss Lou Toarmina of Westland, past president of the club. "He has as much integrity, and one of the best values, family values and principles," Toarmina said. "And he's a hard worker." Toarmina told of a competitor of Ali's who removed his pizza fliers, hurting his business from Metro Airport hotels. Ali's response was "I believe in God and God will take care of things. That's a good guy," Toarmina said. "He has so much faith."

costs of fixing up rental units, the companies make money from rental revenues, and low-income families get new homes they can afford.

The project, made possible by federal Neighborhood Stabilization Program grant dollars, will include later phases of buying and demolishing buildings that can't be fixed and then redeveloping the land, Inglis said. City leaders will have to work closely with state historical officials because Norwayne, built for World War II factory workers and returning soldiers, is considered historically significant, Inglis said.

As the first phase begins, she said, developers will submit project proposals, and city employees will inspect each unit for asbestos and lead-paint removal, as well as rehabilitation requirements.

Each project will have to be approved by the Westland Rehabilitation Review Board, and every unit that benefits from the rental program will have to be rented to low-income families for at least five years. Moreover, rental rates cannot exceed the fair market rent limitations.

Wild said the city already has made some strides to spruce up Norwayne homes, and the city also has been organizing neighborhood cleanup efforts once a year to haul out debris and items that residents want to toss from their residences.

"We've already had some success stories," he said.

Motorcyclist injured in collision

A 61-year-old Westland man was airlifted to the University of Michigan Hospital after his motorcycle collided with a pickup truck Friday afternoon on Newburgh south of Joy, police said.

The motorcyclist was traveling south on Newburgh when a northbound pickup truck, driven by a 53-year-old Garden City resident, apparently turned in front of him, Westland Deputy Police Chief Mark Engstrom said.

The pickup driver was making a left turn into Fountain Park Circle Apartments when the truck and the motorcycle collided about 12:30 p.m., Engstrom said.

The investigation was continuing Friday afternoon.

Senior Resources Director Barbara Schimmel Marcum said that, in all, she has nearly 200 volunteers who help her and her employees. Some deliver meals to seniors who can't leave their homes. Others crochet blankets and clothing for premature babies in hospitals. Some clip money-saving coupons and send them to military families. Still others assist with Friendship Center social activities like monthly pancake breakfasts and card games.

"I couldn't do my job without them," Schimmel Marcum said. "As far as I'm concerned, volunteers are the backbone of the Friendship Center, the community and the entire country."

The Friendship Center offers a wide array of programs, and it houses amenities like an exercise room, a computer lab, a billiards room and a small conference room. It's a place where many seniors have gone for years to meet up with friends and make new ones.

By becoming volunteers, many seniors also have found that they share a special bond.

Students get star treatment at CD party

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Their limousine was a yellow school bus and their red carpet paper, but that didn't matter to Westland's latest "rock stars" who rubbed elbows with their fans at a CD release party at the William P. Faust Public Library early Thursday evening.

Angelo Zeigler raised his arms in the air and broke into a big smile at the sound of applause that greeted the Lincoln Elementary School students and their families who were ferried to the library to celebrate the release of a benefit CD, Animals Need Respect, featuring songs written and performed by them.

"It was kind of hard, I've never done anything like this before," said Catera Wilson, who helped write the title track, Animals Need Respect. "It made me think that I might like to be a singer some day."

The youngsters are participants in the Bright Futures Afterschool Program at Lincoln that helps students develop new skills, explore the arts and technology and improve in reading, writing and math. The program is a partnership with Eastern Michigan University and is funded through a $750,000 21st Century Community Learning Centers Grant from the Michigan Department of Education. It's available at three schools in Wayne-Westland - Adams Middle School, Jefferson Barnes Elementary and Lincoln.

Working with the Community Records Foundation in 10-week sessions, seven groups of students picked a social justice cause and wrote the words to a song. They also came up with the music, using different loops and beats, said Jesse Angelo Zeigler acts like a rock star as he walks down the red carpet to the "Animals Need Respect" CD release party at the William P. Faust Public Library.

Naomi Tevino, 10, holds one of the kittens that Friends of Michigan Animal Rescue brought to the CD release party.

Morgan, Community Records Foundation executive director.

"I'm really proud of what these kids have done," Morgan said. "When we started this foundation we wanted to connect kids with charities through music and they did it with this."

CRF has produced 250 CDs that are selling for $5 each on the its Web site, www.crfoundation.net. All of the proceeds will go to the Belleville-based Friends of Michigan Animals Rescue, a no-kill animal shelter.

The party was held after hours at the library and featured activities in different areas of the building. In one room, youngsters could hold some of the puppies and kittens that FMAR has rescued. In another area they worked on posters to promote sale of the CDs to classmates at Lincoln and make picture frames for family photos that were being taken in the Faust area.

Sara Bliss, Bright Futures sight coordinator at Lincoln, had praise for Library director's Cheryl Napsha's staff in helping with the event.

"The amazing library staff help put this together," she said. "And the students made the most rockin' CD."

Kimberly Hendrickson, worked on the CD as a fifth-grader at Lincoln. Now a sixth-grader at Adams Middle School, she admitted that it feels good to be "famous." She worked on the song, I Look Out My Window.

"It's about a girl who looks out her window and sees a boy," she said. "I played the drums in the song. We recorded it in 2008."

Her father Lee Asher hears it all the time.

"He's got it as the ring tone on his phone," said her mother Deborah Curl. "I liked it when I first heard it. He did too."

Phiniquar Holland worked on the song, Flowers and Rainbows. The group effort was kind of easy, she said.

"We had the group write different parts of the lyrics and put them together," she said. Then we had someone say the lines while we listened to music to see what it sounded like."

In the library's lobby, a table was set up where students took turns signing CDs for eager fans. The CD goes on sale tomorrow on the Community Record Foundation Web site. Morgan said there's plans to present "one of those big checks" to FMAR when the sale is over.

"It warms our hearts to see our next generation so passionate about animal welfare," said Marcy LaFramboise, vice-president and co-owner of FMAR. "We hope this is the beginning of something wonderful for both out kids and our animals."

Tutoring and the library

As the school year enters its stretch run, many students are being overwhelmed with their class assignments. As a result, many parents also become overwhelmed with trying to help their children not only get good grades but understanding the subject matter themselves. Since many parents just aren't versed in every grade-level subject matter, they may want to turn to someone who may be more familiar with the material - tutors.

The first step should always be with the student's school personnel. Teachers, principals and counselors should be able to guide parents to possible tutors familiar with the school's curriculum.

The William P. Faust Public Library of Westland can also help frustrated parents and students. The library now has two reference databases that can help with studying. Learning Express Library offers practice test and skill improvement exercises for elementary, middle and high school students as well as college prep and college-level courses.

The newest addition to the library's database collection is Live Homework Help, an online tutoring service from Tutor.com. Students from kindergarten to 12th-grade, introductory-level college courses and adult learners can get on-demand, free help from qualified tutors.

All a student needs to do is click on the Live Homework Help link and enter the grade level and subject they need help in. In just a few minutes, students are connected to a tutor in an Online Classroom for one-to-one help in math, science, social studies and English.

Students can ask for help for specific homework questions as well as help understanding subject-specific concepts. All tutors have been certified by Tutor.com and have completed specific company standards and background checks. New this summer will be a special feature for job skills, such as interviewing techniques and resume writing.

All databases can be accessed from either the library or home. All you need is a library card. If you need any assistance, call (734) 326-6123 or stop by the Reference Desk.

The library also has books for people who are looking for information on tutoring. Jeanne S. Schumm's "Reading Tutor's Handbook," Mary Kay Linge's "Reading Tutor," James Mendelsohn's "A Parent's Guide to Tutors and Tutoring" and Edward B. Fry's "How to Teach Reading for Teachers, Parents, and Tutors" are all titles you might want to check out.

The William P. Faust Public Library

of Westland is open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and noon-5 p.m. Sunday.

Highlighted Activities

Author Visit: Charles Avison at 7 p.m. May 6

Meet Charles Avison, author of "Detroit City of Champions." A Detroit-area native, he will discuss his book, a chronicle documenting Detroit sports history during the year 1935 when all three Detroit pro sports teams won their championships. Books will be available for purchase, and a book signing will follow. Sign up at the Reference Desk to reserve your seat.

District Coffee Hour: 9 a.m. May

11, Faust Area

Join State Sen. Glenn Anderson with State Rep. Richard LeBlanc for monthly district coffee hour. The library opens an hour early on these days for you to ask questions and share your concerns with your local government officials.

Fireside Chat: 6 p.m. May 11
Join State Rep. Richard LeBlanc and Wayne County Commissioner Joan Gebhardt for an informal "Fireside Chat." They invite all Westland residents to join them in the Faust Area where you can express your concerns about issues that matter most to you. They will update you with news from the state and the county.

ReferenceUSA Job Searching: 7 p.m. May 11

ReferenceUSA representative Dan Greco will explain the basics of utilizing this resource as a job searching tool. After the presentation, he will be available to answer questions about making your job search as painless as possible.

Drop-in Knitting Nights @ the library: Every Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Roth IRAs offer substantial advantages

Q: Dear Rick: I have some money sitting in a retirement account from my old job. I now have new employment and the company offers a matching 401(k) plan. Should I contribute to my employer's 401(k) plan and also roll over the other money into a Roth IRA or a regular IRA? If so, which investment company do you suggest using for the rollover? I have a wife and one child. Please help me get on the right track.

A: Congratulations on your new job. It is great that your

Money Matters

has happened over the last year or so, the 401(k) plan is still a very good investment vehicle to save for retirement.

new company offers a 401(k) plan and even better it offers a matching program. Take advantage of this opportunity. After all, the company match is like "found" money. In addition, despite what

One opportunity you should explore with regards to your 401(k) plan is a Roth option. Many 401(k) plans allow you to invest post-tax money into a Roth 401(k) plan. The advantages of a Roth are substantial. The growth in a Roth is not tax-deferred. It is tax-free. When you withdraw money from your Roth, there will be no income tax due on the money. All the income from the investment and the money invested is tax-free.

On the other hand, when you withdraw money from your traditional 401(k) plan, all money withdrawn is subject to ordinary income taxes.

In addition, the Roth 401(k) is not subject to required minimum distributions as is the traditional 401(k) plan is. The benefit of this is at age 70½ you are not required to begin taking any distributions from your Roth 401(k). In fact, you are never required to withdraw money from your Roth 401(k). Although the benefits of a Roth are substantial, there is one downside. In a traditional 401(k) you invest pre-tax money while in a Roth 401(k) you invest post-tax money. The result is you pay more short-term taxes while receiving substantial long-term tax saving.

I recommend you transfer the money in your previous employer's 401(k) plan into an IRA. There are many good investment companies including Vanguard, Charles Schwab & Co., and Fidelity Investments. These are three of the larger custodians that offer a variety of assistance and the opportunity to invest commission-free.

If you decide to use an investment adviser, make sure you use an adviser vs. a salesperson. Too many in the financial world are only concerned with selling products where they can make substantial fees, such as in variable annuities. If you use a professional investment adviser, I recommend a fee-only one who charges for their services, but has no financial incentive in the products you invest.

I believe when there are commissions, there are conflicts of interest and those can lead to sub-par investments.

As to using a Roth IRA or a traditional IRA, the first issue is whether you meet the requirements by law. In order to do a Roth conversion in 2009, your adjusted gross income for 2009 has to be less than $100,000. If you are over the $100,000 mark, you are not eligible this year. However, you should be eligible in 2010 when the tax law changes.

If your income is less than $100,000 then my general rules for conversion are as follows:

1. You must have other cash available, without touching the money being converted, to pay the income tax liability. When you convert money into a Roth IRA, you must pay taxes on the money that you are converting. This money is always subject to tax. However, by converting the money you are paying the tax ahead of time.

2. You can invest the money in the Roth IRA for at least five to seven years.

3. By converting the money it will not throw you into a higher tax bracket. If so, convert just a portion of the money. With the market so low, it is an excellent opportunity for people to consider converting into a Roth IRA. After all, you are paying taxes on a smaller amount of money. As the market recovers, which it will, all your gains will be in your Roth IRA, totally income-tax free.

In the great majority of cases I recommend taking your money with you when you leave a company. By directly transferring the money into an IRA you are not subject to changes within the company's plan and are therefore in total control of your money.

As far as I am concerned, an investor should always be in control of his or her money.

Angela Hospice honors volunteers

With more than 500 volunteers supporting its programs for patients and their families, Angela Hospice has a lot to be grateful for when it comes to the dedication of its unsung heroes.

Volunteers assist the organization in a multitude of ways, whether providing companionship for patients, completing clerical tasks, answering phones, baking cookies and pies, or any of the other duties they embrace. Volunteers make up the heart and soul of many organizations, and Angela Hospice is no exception.

"I know I speak on behalf of all of our staff and those we serve when I say how grateful I am for the volunteers who give their time and talents to Angela Hospice," said Sister Mary Giovanni, Angela Hospice president and CEO. "I am always amazed when the hours are tallied up, to realize how much they give to our mission. Some volunteers have been with us more than 20 years."

The hospice took the opportunity to say "Thank You" during National Volunteer Week. The Hawthorne Valley Country Club in Westland hosted a dinner and awards ceremony for Angela Hospice's volunteers April 21, where awards were presented to volunteers who had reached milestones for each five years or 500 hours of service. Ninety-one volunteers received pins for these achievements. Westland residents who were recognized included Joanne Harshman, 1,500 hours; Jim Keller, five years; Carol Knoblock, 1,000 hours; Jane Neu, 4,000 hours; Gena Wasko, 500 hours, and Shirley Wells, five years.

"The loving kindness, care and generosity demonstrated by our volunteers is profound," said Donna Kolodsick, volunteer and spiritual care manager for Angela Hospice. "I am truly privileged to work with this fine group of individuals."

In total, volunteers contribute 35,000 hours each year to the programs of Angela Hospice. For more information or to apply as a volunteer at Angela Hospice, visit its Web site at www.angelahospice.org, or contact Donna Kolodsick at (734) 953-6024.

SPOTLIGHT ON... YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Presented by Andrea S. Vivian, D.D.S.

BABY STEPS

Because a child's teeth begin forming under the gums even before he or she is born, pregnant women can get their children's teeth off to a healthy start by adopting a nutritious diet. A child's first tooth generally breaks through the gums at 5-6 months of age, but this can vary considerably. Some children already have a tooth when they are born, in which case the tooth may be an extra (supernumerary) one. This should prompt an examination by the dentist. Regardless of when teeth begin appearing, bear in mind that the "baby" teeth are important. Primary teeth help with chewing and speaking clearly. They also retain space for the permanent teeth, which begin erupting around 5-6 years of age.

We suggest age two is a good time for a child's first dental visit. Making our younger patients feel at ease from the moment they walk in our office is an important part of establishing a positive dental experience. Our staff is friendly and competent, and our reception area is warm and inviting. We intend to make all our patients comfortable by providing a relaxing atmosphere and the most up-to-date procedures and equipment available in the dental industry today. We invite all members of your family to 496 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Ste. 201, Plymouth. We are located one block east of Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth. Please call 734-453-9413 for an appointment.

P.S. Some children may not get their first tooth until after one year of age.

Elite dance studio

At the recent KAR Dance Competition in Walled Lake, Canton's planetdance received the most points and earned the "Top Elite Studio" award. Hundred of dancers from across the area attended the event. The studio was also awarded several overall achievements as well as Junior Miss KAR and Teen Mr. KAR. The studio has students from Canton, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City and Wayne. "I'm so very proud of each and everyone of our dancers. They have worked so hard the past couple of months and their dedication was evident to everyone this past weekend," said planetdance owner Jen Toby.

Komen for the Cure will be held 5-8 p.m. Friday, June 19, at the CrossPointe Community Church, formerly First Baptist of Wayne, 36125 Glenwood, east of Newburgh, Wayne. Minimum donation is $7 for adults and $4 children age 10 and under. The dinner includes spaghetti, salad, beverages and dessert. Breast Cancer jewelry, mugs and Wendy's discount books also will be for sale. For more information, call (734) 564-6437.

Bicycle Rally
The Wolver-Bents Recumbent Cyclists will sponsor its annual Michigan Recumbent Bicycle Rally 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, May 9, at the pool shelter of Willow Metropark, located off Exit 11 of I-275 in southwest Wayne County. For those not familiar with the bicycles, recumbents have the rider sit on a chair-like seat instead of a narrow saddle, providing a very high comfort level. The event will consist of recumbent and bicycle displays, test-rides, recumbent dealers, a noon group ride, as well as a "buying your first recumbent" talk at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. The event is free and open to all bicyclists. For more information, go online to www.wolverbents.org or call (734) 487-9058.

McCotter: Rushed process led to Chrysler bankruptcy

BY HUGH GALLAGHER
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

U.S. Rep. Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, said Friday that the process that led Chrysler to file for bankruptcy Thursday didn't give the company enough time or support to work out the details.

Chrysler was given 30 days by the Obama Administration Auto Task Force to win concessions from the United Auto Workers, arrange for a merger with Italian automaker Fiat and get bondholders to take reduced payments on their obligations.

"As they worked their way through it, there was no time left," McCotter said. "There wasn't a sufficient plan laid out for what this would look like."

McCotter and others were especially critical of hedge funds that refused the

'As they worked their way through it, there was no time left. There wasn't a sufficient plan laid out for what this would look like.'

U.S. REP. THADDEUS MCCOTTER, R-Livonia

Chrysler offer of reduced payments after the company's major bondholders had agreed.

On Thursday, McCotter released a press statement, "Our entire community's thoughts, hearts, hands and prayers go out to the Chrysler workers and retirees who now face more cruel uncertainty regarding their futures. Chrysler, the UAW and our entire community have toiled, sacrificed and suffered to comply with President Obama's Auto Task Force's demands and deadlines to avoid bankruptcy. These noble, Herculean efforts by workers, retirees and management have now been frustrated by hedge funds. The fate of Chrysler now rests in court proceedings of an unpredictable duration and ultimate determination."

McCotter said Friday that given more time, Chrysler may have been able to leverage more influence on the hedge funds.

Obama said that Thursday he expected the bankruptcy Chapter 11 reorganization to move quickly, 30 to 60 days, and make Chrysler a stronger company.

"I hope he's right, we all do," McCotter said.

He said bankruptcy proceedings are unpredictable, especially with a company as complicated as Chrysler, or General Motors, which faces its own deadline in a month.

Under the current plan, the United Auto Workers would be the majority owner of Chrysler, with Fiat as a minority owner, providing design and management expertise. McCotter said this arrangement evolved only after the Auto Task Force told Chrysler to work out an arrangement with Fiat.

"We don't know if this is how it will look. I don't know of anything existing with this structure," McCotter said.

General Motors will work to meet the goals set by the task force, McCotter said. He has expressed concern about AIG-backed bondholders profiting off a forced GM bankruptcy.

On April 1, McCotter sent a letter to Treasury Secretary Timothy Geithner "demanding" to know if any GM bondholders have credit default swaps contracts with AIG, if so who and in what amount and how much would GM's bondholders gain from their credit default swaps should GM be forced into bankruptcy.

He said he still hasn't received an answer. McCotter has been critical of both the Bush and Obama administrations for the demands placed on the auto companies in comparison to the comparatively restriction-free bailout of the bank industry.

Cards upset MU in WHAC in tournament opener

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Regular season baseball champion Madonna University finds itself behind the eight-ball after losing its Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference playoff opener Friday to upstart Concordia, 13-6, at Ilitch Ballpark.

The top-seeded and 16th-ranked Crusaders, who slipped to 35-9 overall, were scheduled to face Siena Heights (19-31) in Saturday's loser's bracket at 10 a.m. while Concordia (25-28) took on Indiana Tech (27-24) in the winner's bracket.

Nationally-ranked MU committed six errors and ace WHAC Pitcher of the Year Jeff Sonnenberg was tagged for 11 runs on 11 hits in eight innings to fall into the loser's bracket of the double-elimination tourney.

"Early on Jeff got the ball up and he didn't pitch with his best philosophy," MU coach Greg Haeger said. "Once he got out of the third inning, I thought he pitched pretty well, but we just did not field. Six errors in the field isn't going to win you a lot of games."

MU senior third baseman Aaron Hacias, a transfer from Concordia, booted the ball three times, while Ryan Morrow, Mike Gansser and Sonnenberg each had one. (Concordia also made six errors.)

Meanwhile, it was so much for pitch counts as Concordia junior left-hander Brent McNeil proved to have a bionic arm for the Cardinals, who tied for last place with Siena Heights during the WHAC regular season schedule.

The Springboro, Ohio, native threw a total of 167 pitches, including 96 for strikes, while scattering nine hits and six

CHURCHILL 5, FARMINGTON 1: Shari Zakalowski scored twice and figured in two other goals as Livonia Churchill (8-1) earned the non-league win Friday over the host Falcons (7-3-1).

Bailey Brandon and Alyssa Mira also added a goal and assist for the Chargers, who led 2-1 at intermission.

Callie Mack had the other Churchill goal, while Kayla Johnston finished with two assists.

"They (Farmington) scored first, they're a good team with two good forward and a good center-midfielder," Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit said. "We did a good job adjusting once we got down. We started clicking and I was happy with the response and effort."

"I thought Zakalowski was instrumental in four goals she ran into the box. She was unselfish, outstanding both offensively and defensively along with Brandon."

STEVENSON 3, SOUTH LYON 1: On Thursday, Goals by Krista Kane, Shannon Merritt and Ashley Welch propelled Livonia Stevenson (5-5, 4-2) to a KLA Central Division win over the Lions (2-8-2, 1-4).

Assists went to Joelle Williamson, Alex Harbowy and Dayna Stevens as the Spartans scored twice in the second half to break a 1-all halftime deadlock.

"The second half we immediately pressured and made it difficult for South Lyon to get out of their end," Stevenson coach Chris Pinta said.

CHURCHILL 9, WAYNE 1: Senior Bailey Brandon's five goals and one assist carried Livonia Churchill (7-1, 5-1) to a KLA South Division triumph Thursday at Wayne Memorial (1-9-1, 1-5).

The Chargers, who led 6-1 at halftime, also got goals from Julie Greco, Tessa Allen, Callie Mack and Nicole Marlow.

Senior Alyssa Mira contributed three assists.

Alysa Escobar tallied the Zebras' lone goal.

CANTON 8, FRANKLIN 0: In a KLA South Division game Thursday, the host Chiefs (5-1, 5-0) rolled to a mercy-rule victory over Livonia Franklin (1-8-1, 1-5).

The game ended with five minutes to play.

"We worked hard in our defending and perhaps frustrated them a bit," Franklin coach Jen Barker said. "We pressured their backs, even late in the game, but couldn't get through to get one."

KINGSWOOD 3, CLARENCEVILLE 0: Ariel Roddy had a goal and assist Thursday as Bloomfield Hills Kingswood (5-2-1) earned the Metro Conference victory over host Livonia Clarenceville (1-7-1).

Evan Hiedingsfelder and Rosalie Pembroke also scored goals for the Cranes.

LUTHERAN N'WEST 2, LUTH. WESTLAND 1: Wading in standing water from a pouring rain Thursday, host Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest (2-2) downed Lutheran High Westland (2-3-1, 2-3) in a Metro Conference encounter.

Allyson Yankee scored from Lauren Switzer for the Warriors' lone goal.

GABRIEL RICHARD 1, LADYWOOD 0: Veronica Livingstone scored at the 20-minute mark in the first half, a rebound off her own shot, to give host Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard (8-4-1, 4-3) the Catholic League inter-sectional win Wednesday over Livonia Ladywood (5-4-2, 3-4-1).

Goalkeeper Anna Zekany made five saves and recorded her third shutout in a row and her fifth overall for the Fighting Irish, who were led defensively by Caitlin Brown. Michele Ring had seven saves for the Blazers.

LIGGETT 2, CLARENCEVILLE 0: On Wednesday, visiting Livonia Clarenceville (1-6-1) fell to Metro Conference foe Grosse Pointe Woods University-Liggett.

Morgan Stinson and Mariah Passaiacqua scored for the Knights.

Meanwhile, Clarenceville goalkeeper Kristen Jolly made 22 saves.

Pats cruise to another division win

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

There's a reason why Livonia Franklin is off to such a strong start to the 2009 girls softball season.

The Patriots were once again sharp in all three phases of the game on Wednesday - hitting, pitching and defense - and it resulted in an 8-0 victory at Livonia Churchill.

Franklin is 9-2 overall and leads the KLA's South Division at 6-0, while Churchill falls to 9-4 and 4-4.

Franklin's senior Taylor twins, Brianna and Brittany, combined for a 7-for-9 showing at the plate.

Brianna, the Patriots' shortstop, went 4-for-4 with three RBI and three runs scored. Her screaming line drive over the left field fence was described as "still rolling toward Newburgh

Irwin no-hitter lifts Crusaders

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

After sailing through the first two rounds of the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference women's softball playoffs, Madonna University coach Al White didn't want Friday to end.

The Crusaders moved into the winner's bracket final of the double-elimination tournament held in Battle Creek with a 12-0 win over Davenport University after downing Siena Heights University, 10-1, earlier in the day.

MU, 49-9 overall, will face University of Michigan-Dearborn beginning at 10 a.m. Monday in Battle Creek.

COLLEGE SOFTBALL

Six teams remained as of Friday in the WHAC playoffs.

"I would love to have kept playing because they were really hitting today," said White, who guided MU to the WHAC regular season title.

In the win over Davenport, sophomore pitcher Jess Irwin (29-7) threw her fifth no-hitter of the season and sixth of her career. The Monroe native struck out nine and had her perfect game bid broken up with one-out in the fifth inning after an MU infield error.

Tedi Johnston's 3-run double sparked a 9-run Crusader uprising in the third inning.

Other offensive contributions came from Livonia Churchill's Cat Sidor (2-for-3; four RBI); Canton's Brittney Scero (2-for-4; two runs); and Kelly Lesko (2-for-2; two RBI, two runs).

The loss dropped Davenport to 31-22 overall.

The 10-1 victory over Siena Heights was suspended from Thursday because of rain in the bottom of the third inning.

MU scored four in the first and added four more in the third.

Sidor and Tara LaMilza each contributed two hits and two RBI, while Scero went 2-for-4.

Irwin allowed just two hits, fanned nine and walked four against the Saints (12-45).

WMU netter lays it all on line

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It wasn't quite the storybook season Ashley Moccia had dreamed of, but the senior captain for the Western Michigan University's women's tennis team can walk away with her head held high.

The Broncos fell one match short of earning a trip to the NCAAs when they fell 4-0 to Miami of Ohio in the finals of the Mid-American Conference Tournament held April 26 in Bowling Green, Ohio.

On Thursday, the Livonia Stevenson High grad received some consolation when she was named WMU's 2009 Most Valuable Player. She was recipient of the Amy Yeast Award, which is voted on annually by team members and presented to the player who shows the most dedication, hard work, sportsmanship and team work.

Moccia had a stellar senior campaign to lead the Broncos (21-8) to the most wins in the MAC, the fourth 20-win season in the last five seasons and the seventh in school history, along with a fifth-straight appearance in the MAC tournament championship match.

Moccia finished 27-10 in singles, a career high, including 20-6 in dual matches. She also tied her career-high in doubles wins with a 23-16 record, including 17-11 mark in duals.

"She has been one of the hardest workers and true fighters at Western Michigan," coach Betsy Kuhle said. "She has been a great ambassador for our program on-and-off the court and she is going to be difficult to replace."

Moccia's dedication to the program was on full display during the MAC Tournament, when after a grueling match against Buffalo in the semifinals, she was in the hospital until 2 a.m. but still came back to compete the next day against league champ Miami.

"My game is to stay out there, play long matches, get every ball back," Moccia said. "My opponent played the same style. I didn't feel well. My heart was racing and my pulse was up."

In the MAC finals, Moccia roared back from a 4-0 deficit at No. 3 singles

MATT HOLMES | WMU SPORTS INFORMATION

Stevenson grad Ashley Moccia finished her tennis career at Western Michigan University with 146 victories and was named the Broncos' MVP her senior year.

to win the first set, 7-5, before the match was abandoned after Miami picked up the tournament clinching point.

"It was tough," she said. "I was in the hospital (at Livonia's St. Mary Mercy) until 2 in the morning. I had trouble breathing. My heart came back normal, but at first it was out of whack. I fought my butt off. I tried to put it all out there. It was mind over matter. It was my last college match."

Moccia finished her career with 146 career victories to rank 25th all-time. She was also awarded the MAC's 2009 Leann Grimes Davidge Sportsmanship Award.

Franklin bats sting Chargers, 12-2

Livonia Franklin unloaded for 15 hits Wednesday en route to a 12-2 mercy-rule baseball victory at Livonia Churchill.

The Patriots, who improved 8-3 overall and 5-2 in the KLAAs South Division, were led by Josh Weigand, who went 3-for-4 with two runs scored, and Michael Basner, who went 3-for-5 with three runs scored.

Garrett Gumm and Tyler Barnes each added two hits for the Patriots.

Winning pitcher Mark McRobb went all six innings, allowing only four hits and three walks, while fanning six.

Losing pitcher Ben Matigian, a sophomore, went the first 5.1 innings, allowing seven earned runs. He did not allow a walk and struck out four as the Chargers fall to 6-7-1 and 4-4.

Devin Moynihan led the Chargers' hitting attack going 2-for-3 with an RBI.

SALEM 2-10, JOHN GLENN 2-2: KLAAs Central Division co-leader Salem (11-6, 7-1) took both ends of a doubleheader Friday against Westland John Glenn (8-10, 7-7).

In the opener, Dave Russell's 2-out, 2-run double by Dave Russell gave the Rocks a 2-0 win.

Winning pitcher Dave Hales went all seven innings, allowing just two hits and a walk while fanning 12.

Losing pitcher Jake Sperry also went the distance, allowing six hits and three walks while striking out five.

In the nightcap, Sam Ott went 3-for-3, while Joe Posler and Hales each added two hits in a 10-2 Salem triumph.

Recent JV call-up Corey Streck went all seven innings for the Rocks, allowing four hits and a walk while fanning six.

Spencer Doud was the losing pitcher as the Rockets made four errors.

Vince Creighton went 2-for-3 in the loss.

NORTHVILLE 12-11, FRANKLIN 2-4: KLAAs Central Division co-leader Northville (13-1, 7-1) cruised to a pair of victories Friday over visiting Livonia Franklin (8-5, 4-3).

Ryan Mullen went 3-for-3 with a pair of homers and six RBI as the Mustangs galloped to a 12-2 victory in the opener.

Winning pitcher Kevin Fisher went six innings in the mercy-rule win. He struck out four, walked one and allowed just six hits.

Mike Basner, who went five innings on the mound for the Patriots, allowed 10 earned runs to take the loss.

Tyler Barnes went 2-for-3 with an RBI.

In the nightcap, Kyle Breault led off with a homer and the Mustangs, who scored four times in the first inning, took advantage of four Franklin errors in an 11-4 triumph.

Dan Muller, who went just two-thirds of an inning before being removed with bad back, took the loss.

Basner and Garrett Gumm each had two hits for Franklin.

PLYMOUTH 8-11, STEVENSON 2-2: On Friday, the Wildcats (8-7, 4-4) went two-for-two to beat visiting Livonia Stevenson (6-8, 5-3) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Matt Skubik went 3-for-4, while Brad Lineberry added two hits as Plymouth won the opener, 8-2. Winning pitcher Cliff Buttermore allowed just two hits and struck out 13 in going all seven innings.

Mike Tuttle and Dan Sager knocked in the lone Stevenson runs.

The Wildcats pounded out 10 hits led by Skubik's 3-for-4 outing with two RBI and three runs in a 10-2 win in the nightcap.

Travis Mewton went 3-for-4 with three RBI, while Mike Nadratowski added two hits and scored three times for Plymouth.

Luke Merandi was the winning pitcher as the Spartans were limited to six hits.

Tyler Lynch went 2-for-3 and Tuttle added an RBI for Stevenson.

CANTON 4, JOHN GLENN 2: In a KLAAs South Division game Wednesday, host Canton (10-4, 5-3) survived Westland John Glenn (7-9, 1-6) despite being out-hit 8-4.

Glenn committed five errors and left 10 runners stranded.

Kevin Delapaz (5-0) pitched the first 5.1 innings to pick up the victory. He allowed seven hits, walked three and struck out seven before giving way to Andrew Tidwell, who allowed just one hit in 1.1 innings to earn the save.

Joe Galanty went 2-for-3 with an RBI, while Dan Stoney added and RBI sacrifice fly for the Chiefs, who jumped out to 4-0 lead after two innings.

Losing pitcher Jake Campbell went all six innings, allowing just four hits and a walk while fanning six.

Steve Hickson went 3-for-4 with an RBI, while Jake Sperry added two hits, including an RBI sacrifice fly for Glenn.

NORTHVILLE 10, STEVENSON 4: Bobby Thomas, Mike Deacon and Anthony Sergi each collected three hits

Wednesday as the host Mustangs (11-1, 6-1) rolled to a KLAAs Central Division victory over Livonia Stevenson (6-6, 5-2).

Thomas knocked in three runs, while Deacon and Kyle Breault each added two RBI.

Northville, the visiting team in the scorebook, led 5-4 through five innings before putting it away with two in the sixth and three more in the top of the seventh.

RBI for Stevenson. Matt Shain added two hits, while Mark Wagner and Jake Wilson each had an RBI.

Winning pitcher David Uberti went all seven innings, scattering eight hits and two walks while fanning four.

Losing pitcher Mike Tuttle went 5.2 innings, allowing seven runs and 10 hits and four walks. He fanned four.

PLYMOUTH 11, WAYNE 6: Matt Skubik went 4-for-4 with a homer and four RBI Wednesday as the host Wildcats (6-7, 3-4) downed Wayne Memorial (3-11, 1-7) in a KLAAs South encounter.

Brad Lineberry went 3-for-4, while winning pitcher Ryan Spencer allowed six hits and struck out six over six innings.

Warriors' Baglow stymies N'west

Lutheran High Westland continue its early season success by earning a 6-2 Metro Conference baseball win Wednesday at Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest.

Austin Baglow went the distance, giving up two earned runs and striking out six.

The big gun for the Warriors (5-1, 3-1) was Sam Ahlersmeyer (2-for-3), who homered, drove in five runs and scored twice.

Gage Flanery (2-for-4, run) and Micah Hausch (two runs) also contributed on offense.

"Sam had a great day for us at the plate and provided enough offense for Baglow, who really pitched well again for us," Warriors coach Kevin Wade said. "We need to get more consistent at the plate and we are going to address that in the upcoming days."

Northwest, meanwhile, falls to 2-6 overall and 1-4 in the Metro.

CRANBROOK 7, CLARENCEVILLE 0: On Wednesday, visiting Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook scored four runs in the fifth inning to beat error-prone Livonia Clarenceville (1-9, 0-4) in a Metro Conference game.

Despite the loss, the Trojans featured 2.2 innings of no-hit relief from Eric Trotter as well as hits from Ben Gehan, John James and Garet Hintzman.

Starting pitcher Damien Quarles, who took the loss, probably deserved a better fate. He allowed just two earned runs before Trotter took over in the fifth and fanned four.

"I'll miss it, but it is what is," Moccia said. "It's done and now I have all time in the world now to do whatever. It's weird being done. I'll miss team aspect, the traveling, competing and practice. I'm kind of sad about that."

"This season had its ups and downs. We had good times, not so good times. But there was happiness along the way. Miami is good team. I wouldn't take anything away from them, but I wanted to win MAC and go to NCAAs — that was the goal. It kind of hurts."

Moccia was a preferred walk-on when she arrived in Kalamazoo. She had to earn her scholarship.

"I've matured so much by doing this," Moccia said. "And with the help of our coaches, I wanted to put it all out there in the end."

Moccia's younger sister Amanda, who just completed her sophomore year with the Broncos, finished 18-15 in singles and teamed up with WMU's No. 1 player, German Kerstin Pahl, for a team-best 17-1 record in doubles.

And now it's Amanda's turn to carry the Moccia torch.

"My advice is you've just got go out and do it every day, and have fun because it goes so fast," Ashley Moccia said. "Every day it starts in practice. You have to work hard in practice every day, even if you're not feeling good. This year there wasn't one day where I didn't give a good effort. I put my heart into it."

Moccia carries a 3.56 grade-point average in Special Education and will travel abroad this fall to do a teaching internship in Heidelberg, Germany, on a U.S. military base.

"I'll teach in classroom with children who have special needs, it will be younger kids at the lower level," Moccia said. "There will be five others from Western going. It's part of school — 14 credits. I'll also do an internship in Kalamazoo, then I'll graduate next May."

Moccia said that even though her college eligibility is over, she plans to stay around the game. She can always walk out her back door of the Moccia household in Livonia to the family court to hit with her dad Victor, mother Michelle, and her two sisters, including middle schooler Aimee Rose (perhaps the next Bronco).

"This summer I'm going to teach it, hit with juniors, travel to some tournaments with them — I love the coaching aspect," Ashley said. "I might coach a high school team. It's something I might look into if I get job as teacher. Tennis is something that will stay with me the rest of my life."

Road" when it finally came to a stop.

Meanwhile, Brittany Taylor, Franklin's catcher, went 3-for-5 including a triple.

Winning pitcher Natalie Sanborn improved to 7-0 by limiting the Chargers to three hits. She struck out four and did not allow a walk in seven innings.

Sanborn also helped herself by going 2-for-4 with two RBI.

"You may not see two players like that in a career," Churchill coach Lou Kuratko said of the Taylor twins. "And she (Sanborn) is a good pitcher. She throws harder than last year."

Sanborn was 20-6 with an 1.82 earned run average a year ago, but has lowered her ERA below 1.00 in her nine starts.

"Her confidence is better," Franklin coach Linda Jimenez said of her ace. "She's learned to be more competitive and she's tougher mentally. She's more confident at challenging the hitters. She's doing a nice job."

While collecting 11 hits, Franklin also was sharp in the field. The Patriots did not commit an error.

"The defense has been really good," Jimenez said. "They're now able to make varsity plays. They're getting the advancing runners, just making more experienced plays. It's better decision making because it's a team full of experience."

The Patriots also have speed to make things happen on bases led by third baseman Nicole Emery, second baseman Chelsea Williams and of course, the Taylor twins.

"Now what we've got to do is get the bottom of the order to make contact," Jimenez said.

Franklin, meanwhile, will be tested with a pair of key upcoming home dates in the KLAAs South — Monday vs. Canton followed by double-header Wednesday with Plymouth.

"By next week we'll know how we're standing," Jimenez said.

Churchill, meanwhile, is still searching for a No. 1 pitcher.

Freshman Melissa Sidor, who took the loss against the Patriots, has divided time on the mound with another freshman, Abigail Jewell, along with sophomore left Natalie Hiser, who played first base against Franklin and went 2-for-3.

"We've rotated them equitably the first half of the season," Kurtako said. "But by next week I'll make a coaching decision on who it is as far as number one at that position."

walks in going all nine innings.

"We threw a freshman the first game," said Concordia coach Karl Kling, whose team pulled out a 10-9, 11-inning victory over Davenport University earlier in the day. "Brent's a bulldog and we knew if we were going to beat Madonna we had to come with our best guy."

McNeil, who improved to 7-3, earlier this spring threw a season-high 174 pitches against Shawnee State (Ohio).

"He battled through and was able to pound the strike zone," Kling said. "Any other pitcher would have melted. We've relied on him through the whole thing. He just threw Tuesday two innings against Central Michigan and gave up just one hit and a run."

Jeff Bultnick went 4-for-5 and scored three runs to lead Concordia, while junior shortstop Tony Pounders (Livonia Stevenson) knocked in three runs.

"Pounders has been the best defensive shortstop in the conference three years in row," Kling said. "He started out as a .220 hitter, but he's almost a .400 hitter now and he's come up with some big hits and has been a leader on the team."

Designated hitter Zach Flavin went 4-for-4 with a solo homer and two RBI for MU, which now needs four straight WHAC playoff wins to advance to the NAIA Nationals.

"We really haven't had our backs to the wall, we got off to a good start this year and things kind of came easy for us," Haeger said. "We'll find a lot about this team. We'll have to buckled down and come to win. And I think we're capable."

Patriots' sweep puts Jimenez in elite company

Livonia Franklin girls softball coach Linda Jimenez reached a milestone Friday as she notched her 400th and 401st career wins as the Patriots swept a double-header at Northville, 4-1 and 10-3.

"My coaching staff also gets much of the credit," said Jimenez, who is 401-281 since 1986. "Especially Jamie Linden, who has been an assistant for the past eight years, and Reno Taylor the past four years."

Franklin senior pitcher Natalie Sanborn (9-0) scattered six hits, did not allow a walk and struck out five in the opener to improve to 7-0 in the KLAAs South Division.

Nicole Emery went 2-for-3 with two RBI, while Jessica Emery and Mariah Barcus each added RBI singles.

Brittany and Brianna Taylor, along with Chelsea Williams, all singled and scored a run.

"Today we advanced base runners, made contact and got timely hitting and as a result scored four runs on six singles," Jimenez said.

Northville starter Samantha

KLAA SOFTBALL

Doud, who gave up seven hits, walked one and struck out eight, took the loss.

Marisol Wilson went 3-for-3.

In the second game, the Patriots racked up 15 hits to improve to 11-2 overall.

Offensive leaders included Williams (3-for-4; 2-run homer); Brianna Taylor, 3-for-4; triple; two RBI); Brittany Taylor (3-for-5); and Sanborn (double and triple).

Winning pitcher Tiffany Lamble, a freshman, allowed seven hits and fanned three and did not allow a walk in going the distance.

Sarah Rounsifer led Northville (5-5, 4-3) with three hits, including a triple, while Wilson added two hits.

Northville starter Jennifer Buckingham took the loss.

NOVI 6-4, CHURCHILL 0-3: In a Kensington Conference crossover Friday, the Wildcats (4-8, 4-4) swept a double-header from host Livonia Churchill (9-6, 4-5).

In the opener, Novi pitcher Rebecca Richter tossed a five-hit shutout to gain the victory.

Losing pitcher Abby Jewell allowed 10 hits, walked five and struck out four.

In the second game, Novi scored three times in the sixth inning to break a 3-all deadlock en route to the victory.

Winning pitcher Katie Enright limited the Chargers to six hits, while losing pitcher Natalie Hiser allowed five hits and struck out four.

Katie Stodulski collected two hits for Churchill.

SALEM 15-10, JOHN GLENN 0-0: On Friday, the visiting Rocks (10-5, 6-2) swept Westland John Glenn (0-10, 0-7) in a Kensington Conference crossover twinbill.

Mary Cox and Mary Johnson each collected three hits as Salem took the opener, 15-0, in three innings. The Rocks scored 14 times in the first inning.

Winning pitcher Briana Lee fanned five and did not allow a hit. Allie Murphy took the loss for the Rockets.

In the second game, winning pitcher Heidi Schmidt had six strikeouts and allowed four hits in five innings en route to a 10-0 Salem victory.

Cox doubled twice, while Meade and Schmidt also had two hits piece.

Brandi Holbrook was the losing pitcher.

Amanda Caudill, Emily Porter, Brandi and Brooklyn Holbrook each singled for Glenn.

Corey McKendry's life the past 13 years has pretty much revolved around Livonia Clarenceville basketball, including four years as a player and the past nine in various coaching positions.

But despite back-to-back Metro Conference titles and 33 victories over the past two seasons, McKendry opted to resign after three years at the varsity coaching helm.

Also stepping down after an eight-year run is varsity girls basketball coach Julie Patterson, for family reasons.

Neither coach could be reached for comment.

Clarenceville athletic director Kevin Murphy said Thursday night he and McKendry mutually agreed to go in a different direction, but emphasized the coach was not dismissed and he merely wants to test the waters with a Class A school.

"Corey did a good job of continuing to build the program," said Murphy, who had McKendry as his varsity assistant from 2003-04 through 2005-06. "He gave his heart-and-soul to Clarenceville basketball the last 13 years."

"I'm sure it was a tough decision to make and I thank him for everything he's given Clarenceville, he gave it a lot."

Patterson, meanwhile, stepped down for personal reasons, primarily to spend more time with her young daughter.

"Julie told me at the beginning of the year she wouldn't be coming back," Murphy said.

"... I knew that was coming. She did just a phenomenal job, the program was in shambles when she took over eight years ago."

Patterson also was instrumental in getting a JV girls program up and running.

Murphy said he is accepting applications from interested coaches for the boys and girls positions until Friday, May 8, with the hopes of filling the slots by the end of the month.

Interested applicants must send their resume, cover letter and references to Murphy via e-mail, kmurphy@clarenceville.k12.mi.us. They may also mail the information to him at 20155 Middlebelt, Livonia, MI 48152.

For more information, call Murphy at (248) 919-0217.

Laurie Ramroth of Livonia volunteers in the Earthworks Urban Garden of the Capuchin Soup Kitchen in Detroit. A few weeks ago she was transplanting broccoli to larger containers.

Volunteer to create a greener community

Volunteering always makes me feel good whether it's working with the disabled children and adults at our annual VSA arts of Michigan festival or sitting on the board of the Schoolcraft College Friday Evening Music Recital Committee.

Laurie Ramroth is no different when it comes to lending a helping hand. After returning to Livonia from Colorado last fall she began looking for opportunities. The 27-year-old likes the idea of giving back to the community. Every Wednesday and Thursday you can find her spending time in the Growing Healthy Kids and Earthworks Urban Garden programs at the Capuchin Soup Kitchen in Detroit. The children's project sprang from Earthworks which grows and harvests produce from four urban gardens.

"I started researching urban farms online and found the Earthworks Web site," said Ramroth, a graduate of Stevenson High School. "Because of growing up in Livonia I always felt like I was given a lot of opportunity that other kids don't necessarily have. I feel I'm making a positive contribution to Detroit, it's well organized and the people are pretty passionate about what they do."

Earlier in the season Ramroth cleaned out beehives. A few weeks ago she transferred seedlings like lettuce and broccoli to larger containers. Thursdays are reserved for the Growing Healthy Kids program designed for ages 5-11 who live within a two mile radius of the kitchen.

"We teach them about healthy eating and bring them closer to the land," said Ramroth. "We've been working on several projects involving the garden. We made trellises from old bike tires for peas to climb on, stepping stones for the garden out of cement and broken tiles, old bits of glass and marbles. We had an international food night and helped the kids make the food and sample it. It's been such a positive experience for me."

Ramroth is into greening the earth any way possible. She focused on alternative energy technology while earning a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering at Wayne State University. Since graduating in December 2006, she's worked with experimental fuel cells at Energy Conversion Devices in Rochester Hills and served an internship and fellowship at Rocky Mountain Institute in Colorado where she worked on the vehicle team to promote energy efficiency in cars and trucks. She's presently looking for a position in the clean tech field and would eventually like to help develop hybrid vehicles. She's also thinking about going back to school for a master's degree.

"I first got interested in gardening because my mom did it all the time when I was growing up," said Ramroth. "In Colorado I got into community supported agriculture where you receive a box of vegetables and crops from local farmers and volunteered at a local farm. It's a way to strengthen the link between community and land whether helping kids or making use of the abandoned land, and just having different people together. It's a diverse climate and the different influences you can have on people that's what's been amazing for me."

Detroit is very different when it comes to food availability. That's one of the reasons the Capuchins started the garden program now in its seventh season. It's difficult for people who come to the soup kitchen to find vegetables and fruits let alone afford the cost. Molly

Laurie Ramroth of Livonia volunteers in the Earthworks Urban Garden of the Capuchin Soup Kitchen in Detroit.

McCullagh learned firsthand about the program two years ago when she signed up for a year as a Cap Corps volunteer, which is similar to the Peace Corps and run by the Capuchins. At the end of the program she was hired as education coordinator for Earthworks where she facilitates Growing Healthy Kids and the Youth Farm Stand for teens. She has a bachelor degree in environmental studies from the University of Michigan.

"Detroit is known as a food desert. It's easy to get to a convenience store for junk food, but there are not many good food outlets in the city where they can have access to fresh produce," said McCullagh. "We train people to grow their own food. We have a mobile food market. We go to the Detroit produce terminal in southwest Detroit to pick up stuff and buy by the case load and then take it into the neighborhood every Thursday. On Earth Day we had a potluck for about 50 people to change our behaviors to reduce our impact on the environment. We ate grain salads."

McCullagh is always looking for volunteers to help with Earthworks programs and activities. For information, call (313) 579-2100, ext. 204.

"We have four garden sites in the neighborhood. One is a large site partnered with Gleaners (food bank)," said McCullagh. "We grow veggies and fruits, have a bee apiary, and compost scraps from the soup kitchen, Gleaners and businesses. We have a greenhouse production to grow transplants for people living in Detroit. We always take volunteers but also want to encourage people to get involved in their communities growing their own garden for themselves, hosting potlucks with neighbors, taking extra produce to local soup kitchens so produce is getting into people's hands. It's important not to just volunteer for an hour but to make a lasting impact by being involved with your own community and issues like hunger and poverty, to look for what we can do in our own lives and community."

Friends fight fibromyalgia together

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
O&E STAFF WRITER

Living with fibromyalgia is a vicious circle of pain and depression but Lucy Rowley and Ruthann Bruce found respite from the suffering as well as friendship by attending support group meetings. They now lead the Metro Fibromyalgia & CFS Support Group to help themselves as well as others with the disorder. On Thursday, May 7, they'll celebrate National Fibromyalgia Awareness Day with a luncheon at Merriam Road Baptist Church in Garden City.

Yes, celebrate. Everyone is invited to share their fibro survival story in recognition of the day on May 12. For too long their plight went unrecognized by the majority of the medical community. Until recently fibromyalgia patients frequently visited physician after physician in search of answers to explain their symptoms. Some still do. That's why the two women work tirelessly as a team to provide educational speakers and support at meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month at the church in addition to offering a support line by phone and e-mail.

Bruce, a Canton resident, is president of the group which today has 235 members ranging in age from their 20s to 70s. They live in communities across the area including Plymouth, Canton, Garden City, Farmington, Westland, Allen Park, Taylor, and Ida.

Rowley diagnosed herself after reading an article in 1998 then saw a rheumatologist who confirmed her suspicions. She was managing an internal medicine office at the time, but had to retire in 2000 due to the disorder.

Many fibro patients also suffer from chronic fatigue syndrome (CFS) as well as gastrointestinal diseases. Bruce and Rowley are always looking for speakers to address topics surrounding the disorder and complications. One of their meetings was featured in a new documentary, Fibromyalgia: Fitting the Pieces Together. Dr. Daniel Clauw, director of University of Michigan Chronic Pain and Fatigue Research Center, spoke to members in one of the segments included in the film presented by the non-profit educational organization H.O.P.E. Clauw is an advisory board member of the support group which regularly takes part in studies at U of M, Henry Ford Hospital and Wayne State University to further knowledge about fibromyalgia.

"I could not stand up to get out of bed and couldn't straighten up when I did," said Rowley. The 68-year old Livonia woman is secretary/treasurer of the metro area support group. "Today they know what fibro is but back then there was little information. In 2001 I called the Arthritis Foundation about finding a support group. Without a support group I think I would have given up. It keeps me going. Living with pain 24/7 makes you depressed."

The agonizing aches in 18 tender points on the body send sufferers on a journey in search of relief. Rowley went to a pain clinic for 10 months but finds the natural alternative of acupuncture helps her more. In the beginning she was taking a dozen medications but is down to two. There is still no cure and researchers still don't know the cause of fibromyalgia.

"I live with my son and daughter-in-law now," said Rowley. "It took my job, my home, my life."

Ruthann Bruce can't remember the last time she slept through the night. She's been in pain since 1999 and suffers as many patients do with fibro fog which causes memory problems. She was diagnosed by a rheumatologist in 2004 and joined the support group in 2005. A letter carrier by trade, she was forced to retire as well.

"I don't know what caused it but I had 13 surgeries: since 1995 for nerve damage in both arms from repetitive motion as a letter carrier," said Bruce, 52. "In spite of the surgeries I was still hurting so they sent me to a rheumatologist. I found myself very depressed. I didn't want to do anything because I hurt. Today I take medication to help with flare-ups and I'm active with the support group. Members need that one on one. They need help. We'd like to start a night group for people who work."

The Metro Fibromyalgia and CFS Support Group holds their 8th annual luncheon 1-3 p.m. Thursday, May 7. There is no charge. For more information, call Lucy Rowley at (734) 462-1768, Ruthann Bruce at (734) 981-2519 or visit www.metrofibrogroup.com.

The group was founded 8 years ago with a different name. There are no dues but donations are taken at meetings. We're hopefully going to get good feedback from the studies. It's going to benefit us," said Rowley. "We're getting more young people and men in the group. We tell them you don't want fibro to control you. We want to let people know we're here to help."

ANKLE PAIN AND SWELLING

The ankle joint is well put together. The full weight of the body rests on the ankle joint, and at the same time, the joint takes on the strain of standing, striding, turning, climbing, and at irregular intervals, jogging, running, dancing and walking backwards. The most common insult to the joint is an ankle sprain. Usually a person experiences a twist or fall followed by the rapid onset of pain and swelling; diagnosis is not a problem. One needs help if the swelling persists or over a period of 2-3 days pain increases. That calls for an ankle brace, and possibly x-rays of the ankle, preferably weight bearing, to establish if an ankle dislocation exists. Given the forces and torque acting on the ankle, it is surprising that osteoarthritis of the ankle is unusual. The condition is rare because forces acting on the ankle is unusual. The condition is rare because forces acting on the ankle joint are uniformly spread within the joint area. Thus, excessive pressures and shearing forces occur at a minimum or hardly at all. It takes an injury to distort the joint. However, the ankle is subject to inflammation. Rheumatoid arthritis, ankylosing spondylitis and psoriatic arthritis are the most common inflammatory conditions causing ankle pain and swelling. In these cases, the best treatment is therapy for the underlying arthritis augmented by removal of ankle fluid combined with injection of a steroid to prevent return of irritation. Recurring or continuing ankle pain/swelling requires a doctor's attention. No matter how strong the will, there is no ready way to walk or exercise with a compromised ankle joint.

Physicians urge public not to panic but take precautions

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
OSE STAFF WRITER

Don't panic. At least that's the advice of local medical professionals when it comes to swine flu.

Symptoms like coughing, fever, body aches, vomiting, and diarrhea should sound an alarm but instead of walking into the ER experts recommend the sufferer pick up the phone and call their primary care physician.

Dr. Phillip Rodgers is alert to patients who come into his office with flu-like symptoms based on Centers for Disease Control and Prevention guidelines for the H1N1 virus, but not concerned there's a threat to public health in this area. The University of Michigan Health System physician is one of several local medical professionals preparing for an outbreak of swine flu but taking a wait and see attitude. He is watching closely for patients with a temperature of 100 degrees or higher, cough or sore throat who have traveled to a community with one or more patients infected by the virus.

"I'm not worried," said Rodgers, who practices at Briarwood Family Medicine Clinic in Ann Arbor. "We've not yet seen evidence of any kind of widespread penetration in our region or the U.S. and we've learned lessons in prior pandemics in the 20th century in 1958, '68 and 1918. The CDC has done a good job of watching the situation closely. At the university level several years ago we formed a group to prepare for pandemic in the wake of SARS and avian flu. We're screening those potentially at risk by using a test for any influenza where we swab the nose and back of throat and if we suspect patients to be infected it's then sent to the state health department after the university system. We make no diagnosis. The information comes from the state."

In the meantime area hospitals are following CDC recommendations. Some ERs have already seen an increase in patients coming in concerned about symptoms similar to swine flu. Dr. Jedd Roe is trying to allay their fears.

"People get frightened when they hear about swine flu and start thinking about the fictional books they've read or a movie they've seen," said Roe, emergency medicine department chairman at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. "If we have someone that presents with symptoms due to swine flu we put a mask on them. We're taking precautions to ask appropriate questions to whether we have a possible case or not. If I had a family member come back from Mexico (where the first cases were detected) and coughing I'd encourage them to wear a mask and call their primary care physician. It's spread the same way other virus is spread through micro droplets so don't touch your mouth and nose and keep potentially infected surfaces cleaned."

Like Roe Dr. Martin Harris has seen patients concerned that they may have swine flu.

"We have people coming in saying check me," said Harris, chairman of emergency medicine at Providence Hospital in Southfield. "If anybody comes into the ER with a runny nose or respiratory issue we put a mask on them and may or may not do a flu test. If you have flu we give you Tamiflu or Relenza. Nearly everyone in the U.S. confirmed is fine. Most susceptible are infants and senior citizens or people with existing medical conditions like cancer."

In addition to wearing a mask, patients with flu-like symptoms are screened in a separate area of the ER in several area hospitals.

"We've done education with staff on exposure," said Harris. "We're concerned about people who have succumbed to respiratory arrest, have pneumonia and suffer arrest. Staff wear masks for intubation. We educate them on how to put a mask on and off. Hand washing is the single most important thing to do to prevent transmission. We're asking people to stay home and not contaminate their co-workers if they're having symptoms and sneeze into the elbow instead of hand. Everybody's doing their best to be vigilant."

Botsford Hospital staff is in contact several times a day with the CDC, Michigan Department of Community Health, and Region 2 South Medical Bio-Defense Network which assists in hospital preparedness by developing plans for a coordinated health care response to disasters in the region.

"We're preparing by assessing supplies needed, distributing hand sanitizer," said Nancy Dumas, spokeswoman for Botsford Hospital in Farmington. "We're waiting, watching and being prepared to move forward if necessary." Henry Ford Hospital has emergency preparedness plans for all hospitals in its system including the newly opened West Bloomfield location where Dr. Laura Johnson is director of infection control.

"We're activating plans, educating staff, updating information to make sure everyone knows what to do," said Johnson. "If a patient is admitted for flu-like symptoms we take precautions of wearing gowns and masks when in contact with patients. We're making sure we have enough supplies like gloves, gowns and masks but it's hard to know what we need because things are changing every day but we're not panicking. There's not a reason to panic. We just want people to be aware. Call if you have a primary care doctor for advice. If they have mild symptoms they may do okay at home."

Hygiene is one of the ways of avoiding any strain of influenza according to Sharon McMahon, infection prevention specialist at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia where the emergency management committee met Thursday. "We're not putting a mask on patients. It's not airborne. It's contact with respiratory secretions or droplets that transmits the virus," said McMahon, an R.N. working in infection control for the last 21 years. "We're not worrying about swine flu yet. We will when we start seeing some cases. I just got off the phone with Trinity (the hospital's health system) about what's happening at all the sites. If someone is having trouble getting masks or medication we can facilitate that in case someone needs help."

The public needs to take precautions as well. The same advice applies to swine flu as seasonal influenza which kills an estimated 36,000 Americans a year. McMahon is asking visitors if they're ill and don't need to be at the hospital to stay home.

"Use a tissue if you cough or sneeze then discard it," said McMahon. "Don't leave it around. We're placing hand sanitizer and tissues at each door. Hand hygiene was recognized in the late 1800s as a good tool in preventing the spread of infection. Dr. Ignaz Semmelweis was recognized as a pioneer after his death for preliminary work for hand hygiene. Today that means not just hand washing but incorporating hand sanitizer. The latest CDC recommendations promote waterless alcohol sanitizer over soap and water because it kills more germs faster and costs the same for health care workers. Every so often I like to take staff and have them place their hand in a petri dish and then let the germs grow. You can see the difference before and after hand washing. Hand hygiene save lives. It actually works."
