New AFSCME pact will limit new layoffs

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It's expected that up to 25 members of Westland's largest employee bargaining unit will leave under an early retirement option during the next two fiscal years.

Whether enough people will leave to avoid the 15 layoffs from American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, included in the proposed 2010-11 budget, isn't clear yet.

"There will probably be 13-15 people leaving this year by July 1 (when the fiscal year begins) and 10 the following year," said Larry Roman, AFSCME Local 1602 president. "I haven't been given a number — only what I read in the newspaper. We've asked that same question."

As people retire from the top of the seniority list, Mayor William Wild said the reduction through layoff from the bottom of the list will be reduced.

"We assume that the layoffs will be reduced, if there are retirements but that remains to be seen," said Roman, who will be among those retiring soon.

After working more than a year without a contract, AFSCME members recently ratified a four-year agreement and a letter of understanding that give employees an opportunity to purchase up to five years of credited service to achieve 25 years for retirement. That early retirement program also has been approved by other city unions.

9-1-1: Fire teams use homes for training

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It looked like a natural disaster had selectively struck a couple of homes in the Norwayne section of Westland Tuesday.

The homes were sliding off their foundation and collapsing, but the damage was manmade to simulate the affects of a tornado. Members of the Urban Search and Rescue teams from Western Wayne County, Oakland County and Macomb County joined forces to hone their skills.

The training began when Westland Deputy Fire Chief Bruce Tenniswood called 9-1-1 to report a tornado had damaged the homes. Westland firefighters responded, assessed the situation, then called in the USAR teams, which typically consist of two firefighters from each local fire department.

"We've never pulled everyone all together at the same location for a drill. It's kind of ground-breaking," said Tenniswood. "The USAR teams respond to disasters, natural or man-made. We do rescues from trenches that collapse. That's what the team is all about."

Along with working with the USAR teams, Tenniswood worked with Westland Community Development Director Joanne Inglis and Building Director Roger Shifflett to get homes that could be used in training. A total of five homes located on Newaygo at Dorsey and Dayton and Grand Traverse had been abandoned or foreclosed. The city had acquired the homes which were slated for demolition.

"This program is getting rid of homes that the city owns, we can do what we want with them," said Tenniswood. "Roger (Shifflett) schedules the demolitions. He dictated and coordinated the demolition schedules. I'm very appreciative. We wouldn't have been able to pull this off in other communities."

The previous day, team leaders from the USAR teams prepared the houses with donated furniture and rescue dummies, complete with injury information. Some of the houses will have structurally sound tunnels built so a live victim can crawl under the wreckage. Second-floor structures were cut

W-W seeks renewal of nonhomestead tax

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Not since early days of Proposal A have voters in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools seen a tax request on the ballot. But come May 4, they will be asked to renew an 18-mill non-homestead tax levy.

The tax, approved for 15 years in 1996, is levied on commercial, industrial and some personal property and generates $19.5 million in revenue for the district. School officials, however, are concerned voters will mistake the request as a new tax on their homes.

"What we're finding is a lot of people don't remember Proposal A, a lot of our parents were in high school when it passed," said Superintendent Greg Baracy. "They don't realize that this is not a tax increase, it's not a new tax and it's not a tax on their residences."

The millage is set to expire on June 30, 2011. The request is to continue the tax levy for an additional 15 years. Its approval will cost homeowners nothing. The tax is levied on owners of business and commercial and some personal properties like apartment and rental units and some vacant property and represents a substantial portion of the district's general operating fund budget.

If voters were to turn down the request, the district would lose an estimated $1,500 per student in funding that cannot be replaced. According to an informational question-and-answer piece on the Wayne-Westland Web site — www.wwcsd.net — the district "would be forced to make very drastic reductions in programs or services to offset the loss."

Network pilots autism, ADD/ADHD programs

BY LEANNE ROGERS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

When Neil Carrick talks about a new pilot program offering programs for children with autism, Asperger's syndrome or attention deficit disorder, he finds one aspect hard to get across to parents.

"I have to keep saying 'It's free to you,'" said Carrick. "That's hard for people to understand when they've spent $20,000 on treatment."

Each child who qualifies will receive upwards of $2,500-$5,000 in services for free through the Michigan Indigo Children and Families Network, founded by Carrick.

"I raised the money to pay for this through fund-raisers. The provider is going out of their way to do this for next to nothing," said

Carrick. "That's why we're able to provide the services for free. The parents don't believe me."

Eligible families can apply for the programs which will incorporate neurofeedback, a form of biofeedback for the brain that has been used in a variety of ways for more than 30 years, but still considered an alternative therapy. There will also be play attention and applied behavior analyses using a form of integrated play, socialization programs and other activities.

Two programs are dedicated to children affected by autism and Asperger's syndrome in two different age groups, 3-12 years old and 13-19 years old. The other pilot program will be directed at children affected by ADD/ADHD. Details of eligibility and the applications process are available online at www.wix.com/indigochildren/pilot.

"We expect a couple of hundred applications. Autism isn't covered by insurance," said Carrick, a Westland resident who founded the Indigo Network in December. "Three hundred people joined our Facebook on the first day."

The treatment will be provided by Donald Madger of The Brain Training Center.

"These are the first of these kinds of programs for children in Michigan. Using these 'integrated' services for children is our first step to help families with direct services for their children affected by autism, Asperger's and ADD/ADHD," said Carrick. Neurofeedback sessions alone typically cost $100 or more per session, Carrick said, with 20-30

If 25 AFSCME workers, whose members include Department of Public Services staff, city clerical employees and parks and recreation staff, take the retirement option the city could save as much as $2 million annually. This would be in addition to 10 AFSCME workers who were laid off in February.

With 93 members currently, Local 1602 members agreed to pay freezes for 2009 and 2010, with a 1 percent raise to take effect in 2011 and a 1.5 percent raise in 2012.

Other changes include a switch to less expensive PPO-1 health insurance for current employees with new hires receiving PPO-2 health coverage. Longevity pay and uniform allowances will be eliminated.

New hires will participate in a defined contribution plan for which the city will pay 10 percent of the employee's base pay and the employee will contribute 5 percent of his/her salary toward retirement. New hires will have no retiree health care benefits.

The city recently reached contract extensions with three police and firefighter unions that included similar concessions, including a two-year pay freeze, elimination of longevity pay, benefit changes for new hires, expanded pay scales and the elimination of two command positions in

Supervisors agree to 2-year pay freeze

Westland supervisory personnel have reached a tentative agreement with the city, including a pay freeze for the next two years.

Like other city employee groups, UAW Local 174, which represents 14 supervisory staff, has agreed to pay freezes for the next two years with 2 percent raises negotiated for 2012 and 2013. Other concessions reached with supervisors include the elimination of longevity pay and a uniform allowance.

In addition, a change in health insurance for current employees and new hires was fully negotiated, putting all new hires, regardless of union, on the same cost-effective health care plan. As with American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees members, new hires will be placed into a defined contribution pension program and they will not receive any retiree health insurance.

"I would like to express my gratitude to these employees who recognize the financial situation facing the city of Westland is not a 'manufactured problem' to quote one of the union's bargaining committee members," Mayor William Wild said. "These employees work alongside the city's executive staff and they realize our financial challenges will not subside anytime soon."

The agreement also calls for the early out retirement opportunity that may result in the retirements of as many as five supervisors. The contract will likely be presented to the council at its May 3 meeting, following ratification by union members.

realize we are dealing with declining property values and a corresponding decline in tax and other revenues," said Wild. "The economic pressures being faced by Westland residents and businesses are being experienced at City Hall."

The district is barred from publicly campaigning for the tax renewal, so Baracy has been meeting with PTA groups to provide information about the request.

Westland Department of Public Services workers used their equipment to push on the structures and make the homes unstable.

USAR team members began assessing the damage and locating trapped victims. Firefighters set to work building supports to keep walls in the houses from collapsing further outward which would also take the floors. Canines were used to help locate the victims. Rescue teams were assigned to stabilize work areas, search the building, locate victims, treat their injuries and safely remove them from the buildings.

Midwest Medflight from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor did a fly-over and landed at a nearby school as part of the training.

Getting the training program organized was a big project for Tenniswood, who retires on Friday. Along with the benefits of the training itself, Tenniswood noted the city was able to provide homes that were already slated for demolition. Contractors will complete the demolition and cleanup following the training.

"I can't manage a loss of $19.5 million," said Baracy. "We're already trying to cut that out of the budget over two years. I can't even hypothetically say what we would do. We're closing five school buildings and that only saves $5 million."

In addition to school closings, school officials are seeking concessions from employees to help get the district through the next two years without major owners," he said. "It will not increase their tax bill, but if it doesn't pass, it will be more devastating to our schools than the last few years."

Voters also will fill one four-year term on the school board in the May 4 election. Incumbent John Goci of Westland is seeking his first four-year term on the board. Goci was elected to fill the remaining year of term held by former school board member Frederick Weaver.

He's being challenged by Karen Wilkie of Wayne.

Chelsie Jackson (on right), shown performing in Sharon Garber's "Shades of Glass" at the 2010 WMU Winter Gala Dance Concert, is collecting gently-used and new ballet wear to donate to a dance school in northern Iraq.

Dance student collects items for Iraqi institute

A Westland woman is on a mission to collect gently-used and new ballet wear to be donated to a dance school in northern Iraq.

Chelsie Jackson, a Western Michigan University senior majoring in dance, is gathering the donations for the new Institute of Dance in the city of Suleimaniya in the Kurdish region of northern Iraq. Her project is designed to support the unification of heritages and religions in the Kurdish region through ballet.

The Institute of Dance in Suleimaniya is currently operating solely on donations.

The daughter of Phillip Jackson and Tracy Randolph, Jackson has donation boxes for gently-used or new ballet-wear in seven Kalamazoo area dance schools until May 7. All of the donations will be hand-delivered to the school through American Voices, a non-profit organization through the U.S. Embassy that gives developing countries and countries at war opportunities to further themselves through the arts.

So far Jackson has collected dance attire valued at $3,577 and $235 in monetary donations, which go toward shipping the items, ballet barres, a piano and resident teachers for the Institute of Dance in Suleimaniya.

In addition to collecting attire and funds, Chelsie is working with WMU associate professor of dance Sharon Garber to form a beginning ballet curriculum for the institute.

Jackson's inspiration for collecting donations for the Institute of Dance in Suleimaniya came from a ballet history research paper that she did on Middle Eastern ballerinas. This project is her Senior Capstone Project which is required for her to earn a bachelor of arts in dance.

People wanting to donate to the Institute of Dance in Suleimaniya through Jackson's project can contact the WMU Department of Dance at (269) 387-5830.

Wings win, Wings lose: Park is biggest winner in hockey game

The Wild Wings may have come up a little short on the final score against the Red Wings Alumni but no one was unhappy with the outcome of the recent benefit hockey.

The event raised just over $20,000 to benefit the remediation of Central City Park. The remediation plan includes a soccer complex, concession stand, picnic shelters, a walking path, outdoor restrooms and much more.

No matter which "wings" you were rooting for, red or wild, fun was had by all. Although the Westland Wild fell short, with a final score of 10 to 7, the main goal of fund-raising was reached, said Mayor William Wild.

"Central City Park is very important to this community and the support we received went above and beyond our expectations," Wild said. "I would like to thank the 800-plus residents, dignitaries, vendors and city employees who attended this very special event."

The event was held at Mike Modano Arena. In addition to ticket sales and raffles, sponsorships were also offered as part of the fund-raising efforts.

"I would also like to send a special thank you to the sponsors, the Red Wing Alumni and the members of my team, the Westland Wild Wings, for their support of our All American City and for helping make this event possible," Wild said.

Jeff Reed makes a save for the Wild Wings during the benefit game.

Jacquese Marcum sang the National Anthem to kick off the benefit hockey game between the Westland Wild Wings and the Red Wing Alumni.

GARDEN CITY disorderly and for possessing narcotics paraphernalia at about 9 a.m. April 8, police said. Police found what looked like a small beer can inside the car that had a misleading label which read "Heineken," police said. The can unscrewed to reveal some marijuana flakes, police said.

Police arrested a man for possessing narcotic paraphernalia and for having a failure to appear warrant out of 18th District Court in Westland, police said.

Police were called to the Kroger parking lot on Middlebelt Road, north of Ford, at about 11:30 a.m. April 8. A man had been asking for money and was reported as disorderly, police said. Police found two syringes and a broken crack pipe in his front pants pocket, police said.

Sister Mary Ann Smith is principal of Ladywood High School.

Ladywood celebrates 60th anniversary

BY DIANE GALE ANDREASSI
CORRESPONDENT

A plaque on the wall calls Ladywood, "Best High School in Livonia for 2010," a designation given by readers of community booster Bill Joyner's weekly e-mail bulletin "Friday Musings."

The recognition comes as the school celebrates its 60th anniversary marking a time to reflect about accomplishments and look toward the future.

The school is nestled in a serene setting on wooded property, which prompted the Felician Sisters to dedicate it to Our Lady of the Woods.

Frank Turk, Ladywood administrative associate, recounts a conversation he had with a college admissions officer considering two girls for one spot. The caller asked what sets Ladywood students apart. Illustrating the strong work ethic, he said, if someone needed a piano moved, other girls might take the bench, but the Ladywood girl would go for the piano leg to help carry the heaviest load.

100 PERCENT ATTEND COLLEGE

"We're proud of the accomplishments of so many of our graduates," explained Sister Mary Ann Smith, principal and school president. "We now have 100 percent of our seniors going to college."

Ladywood started with 45 students in ninth and 10th grades in 1950. The following year there were 117 students and the directors knew they would need to expand the building, which became a regular occurrence over the years.

Currently there are 88 freshman, 112 sophomores, 90 juniors and 96 seniors. There is also a scholarship fund to help lower-income students pay tuition.

Ninety-four percent of students are Catholic and they live as far as Pinckney, Howell, Detroit, White Lake and Belleville.

The school was at its largest enrollment in 1964 when there were more than 500 students.

"We're facing the fruits of the economic conditions of Michigan," according to Sister Mary Serra Szalaszewicz, assistant principal. "Parents have lost their jobs and a number of students had to move out of state for parents to find jobs."

Also, current population trends show there are more boys than girls at the freshman age level, Turk noted.

"Through the years we've always tried to stay one step ahead of what is happening and that's why we do the great job that we do to prepare the students for college," explained Sister Mary Ann, who is a 1966 Ladywood graduate and former Ladywood teacher. "If you raise that goal high enough, the girls will reach it."

Every girl is part of an advisory group that focuses on personal development.

TEACHING OF MORALS, VALUES

"There's a strong teaching of morals and values," Sister Mary Ann said. "We're teaching intellectually, psychologically, spiritually and athletically — developing the whole person. It's a rigorous curriculum. But, there's a family-like atmosphere. The classes aren't so large that they don't get to know each other. That draws many kids who would get lost in a large population."

Also, each day begins and ends with prayer and Mass is available daily.

Students are also invited to take courses online through the Michigan Virtual University as enrichment for Ladywood courses and for college credit.

In addition to academics, the all-girl college preparatory school also exposes students to art programs as well as musical and theatrical performances and outside science and math fairs, Sister Serra said.

Ladywood students are also encouraged to do community service work, according to Sister Bernadette Marie Jimkoski, Ladywood business manager.

"We have taught them that service is a part of who we are," Sister Mary Ann said. "So, a vast majority go well beyond the minimum."

Ladywood supports a lengthy list of organizations throughout the region and country from the Salvation Army to hospitals and centers helping abused children. A recent drive for Haiti collected $3,500 — donated from each class treasury.

ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY

Ladywood is recognized as an "Outstanding American High School," which can be directly attributed to the devotion and core values of the Felician Sisters, according to an online description of the school. Ladywood was also recently recognized as a Michigan Evergreen School for extensive recycling and environmentally friendly efforts.

In addition to these accomplishments, current students and alumna point to different aspects of the school when describing what made their Ladywood experience good.

Shea McParlane, a Ladywood senior, said the school taught her to be responsible and hard-working.

"I can speak for myself, come up with ideas and I'm ready for whatever life will bring me," according to the 18-year-old Livonia woman, who wants a career in medicine.

Veronica Fradette, a 18-year-old Livonia resident and senior, said the school prepared her for college.

"It's also broadened my experiences," Fradette said. "When I came to Ladywood, I was in my shell."

Andrea Anastos, a 15-year-old Farmington resident and Ladywood freshman, said the school was a "good fit for me. I like the athletics and all my sisters (three) went here, too. There's a good group of girls and the staff is really nice."

Gabrielle Houska, a 14-year-old Plymouth resident and Ladywood freshman, said when she visited the school last year she liked the girls she met and enjoyed the welcoming atmosphere. "I wanted a good education that would prepare me well for college. And I really liked the classes they were offering."

Mary Jo Durivage, a 1967 Ladywood graduate, grew up in Livonia and lives in Dearborn. She was one of 11 children, nine of whom were girls.

"You don't have the distractions of the boys, and it gives you a chance to excel," Durivage said. "All the teachers knew you and could help you with school work."

She currently works as a librarian at the Department of Medical Affairs in Detroit.

"It did give me a solid education, and I felt good about myself and the nuns helped that," she added. "It's wonderful, and I'm very proud that I went there."

AAUW meeting focuses on RESULTS

RESULTS, a nonprofit, grass-roots citizens' lobby working to create the political will to end hunger and the worst aspects of poverty, will be the topic of the Livonia Branch of the American Association of University Women's monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 20.

The public is invited to learn more about RESULTS, its achievements and its goals at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, 34567 Seven Mile Road, west of Gill.

Guest speaker is Yvonne Wyborny, who will talk about the "power to end poverty" campaign RESULTS has been focusing on for the past 25 years. Wyborny has volunteered with a local RESULTS group for years trying to raise awareness of ways to improve the conditions of the world's poorest people. Her presentation will emphasize education and micro financing, which is providing poor women loans to start small businesses. These goals align with the AAUW mission of promoting equity for all women and girls, lifelong education and positive societal change.

Guard against fear, greed in investment decisions

I recently met with a client who last year decided he no longer could deal with the ups and downs of the stock market. He decided to bail out and invest in CDs. His view was that the economy was not going to get better in the near future so he wanted out until things got better. His CDs have recently matured and his question is what now?

Money Matters

Rick Bloom

There are a lot of people in a similar situation. Therefore, I thought I would highlight some of the issues that I discussed with my client.

First of all, I told him he shouldn't be kicking himself like he is. One of the worst things that an investor can do is to focus on shoulda, woulda, coulda. It is important to learn from the past, but don't dwell on it. In addition, when investors focus on the past they tend to make mistakes moving forward.

Investors who miss out on an opportunity in the past will tend to get overly aggressive to make up for a missed opportunity. This is a mistake. Whether a good market or bad, investors should stay in their comfort level at all times. I told my client to focus on what his goals for his money are and the timeframe he has to achieve them.

I also explained that it is a mistake to use the general economy as a gauge for the stock market. Many factors influence the gyrations of the stock market. The general state of the U.S. economy is just one of them. After all, many of the companies that are listed on our stock exchange are American companies in name only. Many receive substantial revenue outside of the United States. Therefore, they are not as dependant upon the U.S. economy as they once were. Furthermore, it is important to recognize that in the short-term it is very difficult to predict the direction of the stock market. That is why I always tell investors that it is a fool's game to predict how the stock market is going to perform over one quarter or even a year. The stock market is a long-term investment and unless your goals are long term, you shouldn't be in the stock market.

After a discussion with the client, he realized that his goals were long term and, thus, a portion of his money should be invested in the stock market.

The next question is do you take the money that should be in the stock market and jump immediately back in or do you spread the money out over time? Obviously, this is one of the most difficult questions to answer. The market has had an incredible run and it would not be unusual for the market to have a sell-off. At the same time, with an improving economy the market could continue to grow

My recommendation to this client was to dollar-cost average back into the market. If he jumped back in and the market had a sell off he may panic again, leading him to once again sell low and buy high. That is the exact opposite of what a successful investor should do.

I wish I could predict the direction of the market. I can't and neither can anyone else. But what I do know is that fear and greed are the two emotions that investors always need to guard against.

Before jumping back into the market, make sure your goals and objectives are what dictate your investment choices in the market, not the idea of making short-term gains.

Whenever the market is doing well there is a sense of excitement and people want to be part of it. This is something that investors have to avoid. The stock market is not a game and it is not something to take lightly.

Don't underestimate the risk of investing in the stock market but don't fear it. Rather, the key is to learn to work with it. Recognize the adage, it's not timing the stock market, it's time in the stock market that will lead to success. Good luck!

Let Earth Day inspire changes in your behavior

Thursday, April 22, will mark the 40th year that people in Westland, in Michigan, in the United States and around the world observe Earth Day. What started as a grassroots activity has evolved into a global event, the significance of which is even more important today than the day it was conceived.

We must credit the late Gaylord Nelson, a Democratic senator from Wisconsin, as the principal founder of Earth Day. According to Nelson, the idea evolved over a period of seven years, starting in 1962, when he successfully pitched the idea of a national conservation tour to then-President John F. Kennedy.

The president did a five-day, 11-state conservation tour in September 1963. "For many reasons the tour did not succeed in putting the issue onto the national political agenda. However, it was the germ of the idea that ultimately flowered into Earth Day," Nelson wrote in his article, How the First Earth Day Came About.

Nelson borrowed a tactic from anti-Vietnam protestors of organizing a huge grassroots protest over what was happening to the environment. In September 1969, he announced that there would be a nationwide grassroots demonstration on behalf of the environment in the spring of 1970 and invited everyone to participate. The response, he recalled, "was electric."

invited everyone to participate. The response, he recalled, "was electric."

On Sunday, Nov. 30, 1969, The New York Times reported that "rising concern about the environmental crisis is sweeping the nation's campuses with an intensity that may be on its way to eclipsing student discontent over the war in Vietnam." According to Nelson, the first Earth Day worked because of the spontaneous response at the grassroots level. The remarkable thing about that Earth Day was "it organized itself."

Forty years later, the environment is very much in the forefront as the global community tries to reach a legally binding agreement on how to reduce greenhouse gasses and slow climate change. According to the Union of Concerned Scientists, if global warming emissions continue to rise unabated, we will see growing costs related to climate change — damages to our coasts, health, energy and water resources and agriculture.

These scientists maintain that making the choice to dramatically lower our emissions at least 80 percent from 2005 levels by 2050 will help avoid some of the worst consequences of climate change.

We know climate change is happening, whether it's an early spring, a late fall or a mild winter. What has yet to be agreed to by the scientific community is why. Is it manmade or a fact of nature?

But the point is change is happening and we all need to pitch in to help slow the progression. In the 1960s, we celebrated Neil Armstrong leaving his footprint on the moon. Now we must worry about the footprint we are leaving on earth. Earth Day shouldn't be one day a year, it needs to be every day.

If you aren't doing anything to eliminate your carbon footprint, let Earth Day 2010 be your inspiration. Westland has its Mission: Green, a community-wide effort to reduce the city's carbon footprint. It's a good starting point for change, collectively and individually.

If you're doing something, look and see if there's even more you can do. Every little bit helps, and if scientists are right, we can't put off until tomorrow what we need to do today.

Proud to be a Rocket

Having been part of the John Glenn football program for many, many years, I want to say how proud I am of this program. I played for Glenn, both my sons played for Glenn also. All three of us had the honor of playing for Chuck Gordon. What an honor.

I also don't want to leave out the OTHER coach, Lloyd Carr. I played for him also.

But what I want to write about is how proud I am of what coach Tim Hardin has done since he became head coach. As all the coaches have done and stressed, the classroom is top priority at this school, and now Tim has a program where the seniors go out for community service. They go to the elementary schools and they read to the kids.

I am so proud to be part of the John Glenn football team, although I am only on the sidelines — and occasionally go onto the field to get shots. It just goes to show that football is NOT just a bunch of guys going out and knocking heads. They are led by a great bunch of coaches, almost all of them are Rockets. Once a Rocket always a Rocket! I have always dreamed of coaching for Glenn. I admire all of them that were former players and are now coaching a great program.

I have been around for many years and proud of my time. Most of the time I feel like I belong out there. The players and coaches are great. When they win, we all win. When they don't, we all don't.

But I just want to say what the football program is doing by reading to the elementary students only shows what a class act our team truly is. What a wonderful thing they are doing, and the kids love it, not just the little kids, but the players, too.

I am truly honored to be part of this program, proud to be a Rocket for life. I hope that this continues because it is fantastic. To Tim Hardin, the John Glenn football players, the boosters: what a wonderful thing we are doing. Go, Rockets. Keep up the great work. It's not to much longer before you take the field again and display the true sportsmanship that John Glenn has always had on and off the field.

Incorrect grammar?

Throughout a current article online, the word "realtors" is printed with a capital R, which is grammatically incorrect for that context. Realtor is a profession like any other, not a proper noun. Why is it being capitalized?

People have enough trouble learning proper English and grammar as it is, and a newspaper shouldn't be contributing to the confusion. If realtors have somehow arranged to have their profession capitalized in newspapers, I would like to know how that was possible.

The war on cancer

There is a new movie out called Letters to God. It is about a boy dying of cancer and his letters to God.

I have read movie "critics" are panning the movie, saying it is too "preachy."

Maybe the boy's death would have been more cinematically interesting to the "critic," if the doomed child had addressed the letters to Richard Nixon rather than God. President Richard Nixon signed the National Cancer Act on Dec. 23, 1971.

If the boy had written the letters to Nixon about his campaign against cancer then the director could have juxtaposed his pain and suffering under the disease to those with the father who could have obsessed about the fact that he could not explain to the boy that President Nixon was dead, let alone trying to explain to himself why his son was going to die before him. And if that weren't enough, then the director could have had a falling out between father and son as the son insisted that it IS unprecedented that President Obama declared war on cancer even though President Nixon (still dead) had done so nearly 40 years ago.

The National Cancer Institute receives $4.1 billion dollars — the defense budget is normally in excess of $1 trillion — that's .41 percent — less than .5 percent is spent on the cancer "war."

Letters to God may be addressed "To God," your local, or federal government will NOT deliver them.

Keep church/state separate

Recently some of us became quite aware of two names we probably didn't really know, Bart Stupak and Randy Neugebauer. One voted against the health/insurance reform and the other threatened to do so. Both purportedly acted in "the best interest" of unborn children, and perhaps in their own "best political/financial interests."

If it is true that the new bill will result in 32 million people having access to health care, then, some fourth-grade level math might be of interest. If we can assume that 1/4 of these people are women of childbearing capability (roughly eight million) and they avail themselves of this capability, then that could result in roughly eight million unborn children on the way. The difference, if all is true, the mothers of these unborn will have access to doctors along with prenatal care. The mothers will have access to maternity wards in place of emergency rooms or whatever. The children, after birth will have access to neonatal care, and later access to pediatric care. Again, if all is true, these newborn children will have access to their parent's insurance until age 26.

I don't speak for anyone else, but, I slept a lot better last night knowing that these young lives were not dependent upon the loving care of Stupak and Neugebauer. This morning, I have to wonder if Stupak and Neugebauer, are a price we pay when we attempt to have our religious values implemented/supported by legislation. It appears to me that our forefathers knew what they were doing when they insisted that we keep our church and our government separate.

Here's a sample of what our online readers are saying:

• Funding for education

I agree that the state should fund our schools properly, and create mechanisms that insure payments even during slow economic times. Education is certainly a top priority. The reason such guaranteed funding does not get overwhelming support are the arguments on how money is spent by locals, including salaries and benefits.

I do not dispute the challenges of being a teacher/administrator, but the low compensation argument does not hold water. Teacher interests always quote beginning pay and detractors always quote maximum pay. The answer in today's market is that the compensation is very good.

The item out of whack the most is benefit costs. Twenty years ago they were 25 percent of the total compensation, 10 years ago 50 percent, now they equal an entry level salary. A $65K salary (mid level) means $50K in benefits. So an "average" employee cost $115K per year (with many costing much more).

Most people think these costs are at or exceed acceptable levels, thus the delays on funding decisions.

Be prepared when bad weather strikes

BY LARRY RUEHLEN
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Richard Pullman doesn't understand why anyone would ignore a severe weather warning.

"It only takes a person getting caught in the wrong place at the wrong time once during a significant storm to see how serious it can be," said Pullman, warning coordinator meteorologist for the National Weather Service in White Lake. "If you hear a siren, it means something is going on and you need to get more information."

Pullman's job gets a bit more hectic this week which is Michigan's Severe Weather Awareness Week.

The science of predicting the weather is more accurate than ever thanks to high-tech radar that is capable of tracking storms neighborhood by neighborhood, but some people don't take warnings seriously.

"People respond to tornado warnings," said Pullman. "But some don't treat severe thunderstorm warnings the same way."

And that complacency can prove deadly.

According to the National Weather Service, thunderstorms are responsible for at least 125 deaths since 1970 in Michigan, while tornadoes have killed only 23 over the same time period.

"It only takes a 60 mph wind to knock over a tree, and Michigan has lots of trees," he said.

Michigan experienced the highest severe weather season of the modern era last year with 161 severe weather events. To put that into perspective, in June 2008 alone, there were 415 distinct severe weather events in Michigan.

All told, despite the lull in severe weather activity, significant flooding resulted in nearly $77 million in damages and severe thunderstorms were responsible for one death and approximately $150 million in damages.

SEVERE WEATHER SAFETY TIPS

Preparing for a tornado/thunderstorm:

- Plan ahead. Be sure everyone in your household knows where to go and what to do in case of a tornado warning.
- Know the safest location for shelter in your home, workplace and school. Load bearing walls near the center of the basement or lowest level generally provide the greatest protection.
- Know the location of designated shelter areas in local public facilities, such as schools, shopping centers and other public buildings.
- Have emergency supplies on hand, including a battery-operated radio, flashlight and a supply of fresh batteries, first-aid kit, water and cell phone.
- Make an inventory of household furnishings and other possessions. Supplement it with photographs of each room. Keep in a safe place.
- What to do when a thunderstorm approaches your area:
 - Seek safe shelter when you first hear thunder; see dark threatening clouds developing overhead or lightning.
 - Count the seconds between the time you see lightning and hear the thunder. You should already be in a safe location if that time is less than 30 seconds. Stay inside until 30 minutes after you last hear thunder. Lightning can strike more than 10 miles away from any rainfall!
 - When you hear thunder, run to the nearest large building or a fully enclosed vehicle (soft-topped convertibles are not safe). You are not safe anywhere outside.
 - If you are boating or swimming, get to land and shelter immediately.
 - Telephone lines and metal pipes can conduct electricity. Unplug appliances not necessary for receiving weather information. Use plug-in telephones only in an emergency.

What to do when a tornado warning is issued for your area:

- Quickly move to shelter in the basement or lowest floor of a permanent structure.
 - In homes and small buildings go to the basement and get under something sturdy. If no basement is available, go to an interior part of the home on the lowest level. A good rule of thumb is to put as many walls between you and the tornado as possible.
 - In schools, hospitals and public places move to designated shelter areas. Interior hallways on the lowest floors are generally best.
 - Stay away from windows, doors and outside walls. Broken glass and wind blown projectiles cause more injuries and deaths than collapsed buildings. Protect your head with a pillow, blanket or mattress.
 - Mobile homes and vehicles offer virtually no shelter. Leave them and go to the nearest shelter. Highway overpasses do not offer shelter.
 - If there is no shelter nearby, the best alternative is to find a low spot away from trees, fences and poles, but not in a place subject to flooding. Shield your head with your arms.
 - If you are boating or swimming, get to land and shelter immediately.
- After a tornado/thunderstorm:
- Inspect your property and motor vehicles for damage. Write down the date and list damages for insurance purposes. Check for electrical problems and gas leaks and report them to the utility company at once.

WARNING SYSTEM

The NWS issues alerts on everything from frost-freeze advisories to dangerous marine conditions, but Redford residents should primarily focus on alerts tornado and thunderstorm warnings this time of year. There isn't a national or state standard on when warning sirens are sounded as it is left up to local municipalities. In Redford, sirens sound only for severe weather warnings.

This is a breakdown of each alert:

Tornado Watch: Tornadoes are possible in your area. Remain alert for approaching storms. Know what counties are in the watch area by listening to NOAA Weather Radio or your local radio/television outlets.

Tornado Warning: A tornado has been sighted or indicated by weather radar.

Severe Thunderstorm Warning: when severe weather has been reported by spotters or indicated by radar.

Severe Thunderstorm Watch: Tells you when and where severe thunderstorms are likely to occur. Watch the sky and stay tuned to know when warnings are issued.

CONSTANT CONTACT

Pullman said tuning in to local radio or TV stations is the easiest way to keep apprised of potential danger from approaching storms, but another important step should be taken.

"Every family should have a weather radio," he said. "They are just as important as a fire alarm."

For $30 to $50, a special programmable NOAA Weather Radio is available at most electronics stores that will sound off if danger is imminent, waking up people who may not hear an approaching storm before it is too late.

Just 12 percent of families own such a radio in the U.S., said Pullman, with most of those in hi danger areas like the Plains and only an estimated 5 percent of Michigan families take advantage of the warning service.

Westland resident Linda Trygg (center) will perform as Aunt Eller in the Spotlight Players production of Rodgers Hammerstein's Oklahoma!.

Players present 'Oklahoma!'

A love story set in a western territory, the musical Oklahoma! is being presented by the Spotlight Players at the Village Theater in Canton April 23 to May 2.

Oklahoma! is an American classic, telling the love story of both Curly and Laurey as well as the love of the country that was the Oklahoma territory around 1900. It is full of memorable, familiar songs, well drawn characters and featuring a 'Dream Ballet.'

"I have long held a passion for this show having directed and choreographed it several times - to see it produced on the fabulous Village Theater stage with the amazing talent it contains will prove to be a grand close to another grand Spotlight Players season," said Barbara Bloom, director and choreographer.

The production features a cast of local actors including Roy Sexton as Curly; Lauren London as Laurey; Linda Trygg as Aunt Eller; Jesse Brandel as Will Parker; Cathy Skutch as Ado Annie; Robert Doyle as Ali Hakim; Drex Morton as Ike Skidmore and Mike Cuba as Andrew Carnes.

Oklahoma! is based on Lynn Riggs' 1931 play, Green Grow the Lilacs. It is the first musical written by now-legendary duo Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II. The original Broadway production opened in 1943 and ran for 2,212 performances winning awards. A special Pulitzer Prize was awarded to Rodgers and Hammerstein II for "Oklahoma!" in 1944.

Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday, April 23 and April 30; 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturdays, April 24 and May 1; and 2 p.m. Sundays, April 25 and May 2.

Solid opener

Garden City shakes off rust, stops Churchill, 4-2

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Garden City coach Barry Patterson didn't quite know what to expect in Tuesday's girls softball season opener at Livonia Churchill.

"We practiced three days over the break, so I was hoping to get ready," Patterson said. "We hadn't had a scrimmage. We had one that got canceled and couldn't pick up another one. We didn't have any games before break and a lot of teams played, so I was really apprehensive of what we'd look like coming out."

The Cougars looked just fine, earning a 4-2 victory over the Chargers as sophomore pitcher

Kelsey Susalla scattered six hits, struck out six and did not allow a walk in seven innings.

"Fortunately today we didn't have to make a lot of plays," Patterson said. "Most of the plays were pretty routine, but we also muffed a couple. There's room for improvement, but I was pleased with what I've seen with such a young group."

Churchill, off to a 2-0 season start, jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first on a double by Nikki Salloum and an RBI single from Natalie Hiser.

The Cougars answered with a two-out rally in the top of the third thanks to consecutive singles by Sam Zalewski, Susalla and Ashley Lynn.

Lynn singled home Zalewski, while Susalla scored on a wild pitch by Churchill sophomore starter Abby Jewell.

Garden City scored two more times in the fifth to take a 4-1 lead on another two-out rally.

Zalewski, the ninth hitter, singled. Susalla reached base on an infield error and Lynn walked to load the bases.

Hillarie Werda then came through with a 2-run single.

"As long as I've been playing this game and been around it, it's always the way the ball bounces," Churchill coach Lou Kuratko said. "We got a bad-hop base hit there and then

K-riffic Spartan hurler fans 18 in win

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

To say Jeff Sorenson was dominating on the mound Monday would be a gross understatement.

The 6-foot, 200-pound senior left-hander struck out career-high 18 batters

as Livonia Stevenson

opened its 2010 baseball season with a come-from-behind 3-2 win over visiting Livonia Churchill.

Freshman Mike Vomastek's first varsity hit, a 2-out bloop single to right field, scored Matt Shain with the game-winning run in the bottom of the seventh for Stevenson. (Shain's double ignited the rally.)

Sorenson, meanwhile, kept Churchill off the board through the first five innings before allowing a pair of runs in the top of the sixth.

Rob Matigian had an RBI single (scoring Stephen Foster) and Joe Williams followed with an RBI double for the Chargers.

The Spartans, however, got two back in the bottom half of the inning on an RBI double by Brendon Hayes along with an RBI from Troy Bodke.

Sorenson then retired the Chargers in the top of the seventh.

"Jeff had very good command of all his pitches tonight," Stevenson coach Rick Berryman said. "He threw 19 first pitch strikes to the 26 batters he faced and mixed all he pitches very well. Besides throwing hard throughout the game, he had great command of his curveball and change-up. He stayed focused after giving up

WHAC hails Flavin

Madonna University senior Zach Flavin was honored as Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference Player of the Week in baseball.

Flavin hit .381 with three homers, a double and 12 RBI as the Crusaders went 6-1 overall and 6-0 in the WHAC.

The Novi grad leads the Crusaders with 35 RBI and is tied for the team lead in homers with six.

The award was the first of Flavin's career and the third for an MU player this season.

MU, 26-6 overall and ranked No. 18 in the latest NAIA Coaches Poll, returns to WHAC play 1 p.m. Friday in Ann Arbor against Concordia University.

Irwin reaps honor

For the second straight time and the 11th in her career, Madonna University junior pitcher Jess Irwin (Monroe) has been named Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference Player of the Week in softball.

Irwin helped the Crusaders to a 4-0 week by going 2-0 herself with a 1.00 earned run average in 14 innings of work.

She tossed the eighth no-hitter of her career against Aquinas on Saturday, striking out 16 while allowing just two Saints to reach base via walks.

Against Cornerstone on April 9, Irwin fanned 14 while allowing just two hits and two earned runs.

Irwin is 12-2 with a 2.13 ERA in 98 innings of work this season. She has struck out 147 hitters and the opponents are hitting just .158 off of her.

Moccia wins 100th

Western Michigan University junior Amanda Moccia (Livonia Stevenson) teamed up with partner April Kerr for a doubles triumph and earn her 100th career victory in the Broncos' 5-2 women's tennis victory Saturday over host University of Toledo.

Moccia is 15-13 this season in doubles and 13-18 in singles.

It was the fourth straight win for the 12-9 Broncos, who are 4-1 in the Mid-American Conference.

Dark Angels lose

The Detroit Dark Angels, a new franchise in the Women's Football Alliance, got off to a rough start Saturday falling to the West Michigan Mayhem, 52-0, at Westland John Glenn High School.

Telly Robinson rushed for 45 yards and had four catches for 80 yards with a touchdown to lead the Mayhem's offensive attack.

Quarterback Nicole Beier was 11-of-30 for 136 yards and two TDs, while Lisa Ludtke and Samantha Anthony each returned interceptions for TDs.

The Dark Angels are off until Saturday, April 24, at the Toledo Reign.

Crusaders' Irwin gets 8th No-No

Junior Jess Irwin threw the eighth no-hitter of her career Saturday to highlight Madonna University's sweep of host PREP SOFTBALL Aquinas College in a double-header played at Grand Rapids Northview High School.

With the two wins, the No. 21 Crusaders improved to 21-6 overall and 5-1 in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference.

Irwin struck out 16 and allowed just two runners to reach base — both via the walk — to improve to 12-2 on the year as MU captured the opener, 3-0.

After allowing a two-out walk in the first, the Monroe native set down 18 of the next 19 hitters she faced.

Cat Sidor (Livonia Churchill) and Kelly Lesko each collected two hits in the win. Ashley Shay (Garden City/Dearborn Divine Child) and Lesko each contributed an RBI.

In the nightcap, sophomore pitcher Hallie Minch (Garden City) tossed a two-hit, complete game shut-out in a 6-0 win over the Saints.

Minch (9-4) struck out five and allowed just one walk.

Shay knocked in two runs, while Brittney Scero (Canton), Sidor and Minch added one RBI apiece.

Aquinas falls to 16-11 overall an 4-2 in the WHAC.

Illinois State University gymnast and Livonia native Erica Schick, shown here dismounting from the balance beam, was 13th in the all-around at the NCAA South Regional last weekend in Columbia, Mo.

Illinois State University's Erica Schick realizes what a fine line there is every time she competes as a gymnast.

The junior from Livonia Stevenson High closed out her 2010 season Saturday at the NCAA South Central Regional hosted by the University of Missouri with a respectable 13th place finish in the all-around.

It was her third straight regional appearance in the all-around and she posted her best score ever with a 38.700. She finished in a four-way tie for 12th on the balance beam (9.775).

Erica Schick

Among her other marks were a 9.750 on the uneven bars, a 9.625 on floor exercise and a 9.55 on vault.

"I'm sad because the season went so fast, but I'm also excited for the successful season it was," said Schick, who was third in the all-around at the Midwest Independent Conference meet, including a second place on floor. "If I did my normal floor and vault (routine) it would have been better, but it's something to work on for next year. My floor and vault are my two strong events, but on the bars and beam I had solid routines."

Schick placed ninth at the regional in the all-around as a freshman and 18th as a sophomore.

She cited progress in her most recent regional outing.

All-Area girls bowlers create buzz on lanes

FIRST-TEAM
Alysson Kassab, Sr., Westland Glenn: The four-year varsity starter and team captain paced the Rockets to MHSAA Division 1 team quarterfinals and a third-place finish at the regional.

Kassab, the Rockets' MVP, was also a state singles qualifier for the second straight year finishing 20th in the qualifying block with a six-game total of 1,086.

She was regional runner-up and individual champion of the KLAAs Kensington Conference and Plymouth-Salem-Canton Tournament.

Kassab went 23-6 in match games and earned All-KLAA and second-team All-State honors in Division 1.

"Alysson set all new school records with a 192 average, 266 high game and 466 series," Glenn coach Jim Bowles said. "She also helped us break a number of team records including high Baker game (220), Baker series (409), and average."

Samantha Maxwell, Soph., Farm-Harrison: Maxwell is a two-time state qualifier who led her team to a Division 1 qualifying berth and a second-place finish in the OAA. As the anchor bowler, Maxwell had a season average of 182.14, and she was fifth in her regional with a 199.8 averaged. She had a high game of 236 and was All-OAA first team with a 190 average. Maxwell was voted team MVP by her teammates.

"She's one of the most competitive young ladies I've had the chance to coach," coach Dennis Hermani said. "She had a fantastic season for us. She anchored us as a junior; it was a role she asked to have. When we bowled Clarkston, she

HONORABLE MENTION
 Salem: Kristin Peltz; John Glenn: Khiry Sparks; Mercy: Jasmine Wehr; Canton: Charlotte Zimmer; N. Farmington: Emily Mesner, Carolyn Wooden; Farmington-Harrison: Wendy Miller, Melissa King.

Stephani O'Harris, Jr., Wayne: The junior placed fourth at the Division 1 regional with a 1,079 six-game set and placed 41st overall in the state singles qualifying block.

During the regular season, O'Harris averaged 170.43 in 28 games with a high of 234. She was third in individual match points in the KLAAs Central with 19.

"Stephani always started for us in the few tournaments we had," Wayne coach Traci Skye said. "She was very good team player, always supportive of teammates, both in match and tournament play. She got better as year went along and always had a good attitude. She's an all-around great player. We're glad to have her on team and glad to have her back next year with her talent and experience."

Natalie Brown, Sr., Westland Glenn: The senior and two-year varsity starter was a Division 1 state qualifier finishing 37th in the qualifying block after a fifth place at the regional.

Brown took a sixth in singles with a high game of 258 at the Wayne County Invitational and added a seventh at the Ladywood Holiday Tournament. She also placed 12th in the Clarenceville Open Doubles event.

Brown averaged 166 overall and had a high two-game series of 441. She also helped Glenn to team records with a 220 Baker game and a 409 two-game Baker set.

"Natalie had a breakout senior season," Bowles said. "She was second on the team in average, game and series. Natalie let her bowling do the talking, finishing in the top ten in individual score in over half the tournaments this season."

Karla Ziemba, Sr., Farm.-Harrison: Ziemba won the Oakland County championship by shooting a 656 series for a 218.6 average. She carried a season average of 180.15. She had a high game of 268 and a high series of 471 for a 235.5 average. A four-year varsity regular, Ziemba also was instrumental in Farmington-Harrison qualifying for the state team tournament.

"She really learned how to battle adversity well this year," coach Hermani said. "She followed up what was probably her worst day versus Lake Orion by a couple days later winning the Oakland County championship. That tells you a lot about her resiliency and toughness."

"Karla averaged 134 against Lake Orion and averaged 219 two days later to win the county tournament. She can bounce back; she's tough. She just goes back to her old self."

Bridget Moricz, Soph., Liv. Clarenceville: The sophomore was runner-up in the Division 3 singles regional with an six-game set 1,153 as the Trojans also qualified with a third place in the team regional.

Moricz placed 21st in the state singles qualifying block with a 1,076 total including a high game of 214. She averaged 184.4 during the season.

In the Clarenceville Open Doubles Tournament, Moricz posted a high series with a 715 on games of 243-215-257 en route to a runner-up finish with teammate Amber Cummins.

Against Salem, Moricz posted a season-best high series of 496 on games of 262 and 234.

"Being a sophomore, and with potential she's displayed over the past two years, I would not surprise me that she'd be a state singles champ over the next two years," Clarenceville coach Phil Horowitz said. "She practices a lot and takes the game seriously. She tries to make corrections when you're helping her out and that's a reason why she is excellent."

COACH OF THE YEAR

Dennis Hermani, Farmington-Harrison: Under the direction of Hermani, the girls team qualified for the first time for the state team tournament, and it was the runner-up in the Oakland Activities Association and the Oakland County tournament. Farmington-Harrison beat OAA champion Royal Oak, 21-9, but two close losses early in the season prevented it from winning back-to-back titles.

"It's always nice to be recognized as an individual," Hermani said, but he added it's all the people behind the scene who support the team and bowlers who deserve the real credit.

"I would not be in this position without our assistant coach, Mike Clarahana, and the folks at Country Lanes and the pro shop there with Aleta Sill and Michelle Mullen who work with me and our kids, increasing their skill set."

"The majority of the credit goes to the kids and assistant coach and ladies at the pro shop. I pretty much get to sign the score sheet at the end of the day. I get to enjoy the finished product."

Salem puts boot to Churchill

Freshman Gina Goble scored a pair of second-half goals Tuesday to give host Salem a 3-0 girls soccer win over Livonia Churchill.

Kaitlyn Klusek also scored for the Rocks, who improved to 3-0 overall. The loss drops Churchill to 0-2 overall.

"They're a good team with fast girls who stroke the ball with authority," Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit said of Salem. "We played with them, but we had a couple of breakdowns and they capitalized on it."

"Fatigue became a factor. They wore us down. Their fitness proved to be better than us."

Kaylie Secord started in goal for the Chargers before giving way to Kelly Twigg in the final 20 minutes.

Jamie Hunley got the shut-out in goal for Salem.

Junior defender Megan McDonald, playing in her first game after sitting out with an injury, stood out for the Chargers along with junior midfielder Kelsey Rothermel. LADYWOOD 1, DIVINE CHILD 1: In the Catholic League Central Division opener for both teams, Livonia Ladywood (1-1, 0-0-1) and host Dearborn Divine Child (1-0-2, 0-0-1) battled to a draw.

Ladywood led 1-0 at intermission on Kelly Capocchia's goal from Paige Brennan in the 33rd minute.

The Falcons' Becca Smith tied it in the 46th minute.

Goalkeepers Maddie Reed (Ladywood) and Jessica Shymanski (Divine Child) each made five saves.

"We looked a bit sluggish due to the long (Easter) break," Ladywood coach Ken Shingledecker said. "Divine Child was well organized and well coached. We just need to continue to work hard in practice and I'm confident our team will be a factor at the end of the season."

LUTH. N'WEST 3, LUTH. WESTLAND 1: On Tuesday, goals by Mary-Catherine Goodard, Cayla Van Gordon and Haylee Luedtke carried host Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest to a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference win over Lutheran High Westland (0-1, 0-1).

Sarah Frusti scored the Warriors' lone goal off an assist from Miranda Kasprowicz.

Patriots' Day

Franklin track & field teams sweep Relays titles

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It was Patriot Games, and then some on Saturday for the host Livonia Franklin boys and girls track teams.

The only thing missing was Harrison Ford and Tom Brady.

The Franklin girls captured eight of 15 relay events to earn the team title with 121 points. Livonia Stevenson was runner-up in the six-school field with 96. See complete relay results.

"With the meet being over spring break, we were happy that teams still wanted to come and compete," Franklin girls coach Dave Bjorklund said. "Most teams were in the same boat with members out of town, but I think the meet was a great experience for all the teams and athletes."

Jen Mueller figured in three firsts for Franklin, while Megan McPherson, Kathryn Chinavare, Emily Quint and Amanda Borio were on two winning relay teams apiece.

"As a team we competed well, and our distance runners and field events really came through for us," Bjorklund said. "We have a lot of new kids, and the meet was a great chance to see what some of them can do."

The Franklin boys were even more impressive, taking 12 of 15 relay events, including all five field events, en route to a team-high 137 points. Redford Union was runner-up with 100.

"I'm very pleased with the team's effort," Franklin boys coach Pat Koelzer said. "We had less teams and we were all short a few athletes because of spring break. I asked the boys to give their best no matter who they faced and they did. It was nice to get some of our less experienced runners involved, and I think we found some depth in our sprinting and jumping areas."

Junior Jay Woolfork was on the winning shot put, discus, high jump and 4 x 100-meter relay teams for Franklin.

"I'm especially proud of Jay, who not only did his usual throwing events, but also excelled in the high jump and 400 relay," Koelzer said.

Blazers' cage coach Cannon steps down

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Pat Cannon's two-year stint as varsity girls basketball at Livonia Ladywood has come to an end.

The 55-year-old Cannon, citing work commitments with Motor Trend and Automobile magazines, stepped down as the Blazers coach prior the Easter break.

"The business climate is tough and being a head coach takes a lot of work," Cannon said Monday after returning from a vacation in Europe.

"Right now I need to take care of my business at work. I need to see where I'm going, take time off (from coaching) and see what happens."

Cannon finished with a 23-22 record in two seasons with the Blazers. He got the Ladywood job after spending one season at Livonia Stevenson where he finished 4-17 in 2007-08.

Prior to becoming a varsity coach, Cannon served as an assistant at Ladywood for 10 years under Andrea Gorski, who won 10 district crowns in 11 years. (Gorski is now the head women's basketball coach at Concordia University.)

"We had some challenges, but we got better this year going to the Catholic League and (Class A) district finals," Cannon said. "I'm not displeased at all the last two years. Would we have liked to have been better? Absolutely."

Ladywood athletic director Sal Malek said he is taking applications for the job.

"I told him (Cannon) to make a decision that's best for you," Malek said. "I'm going to open it up to everybody. That's how I found Andrea (Gorski)."

Whoever gets the varsity position could be inheriting a promising future.

The Blazers' JV team, coached by Anthony Coratti, Amber and Linda Willoughby, finished 20-0 overall.

"They did a spectacular job with that group," Cannon said.

Cannon becomes the second area varsity girls basketball coach to step down following the season joining Livonia Franklin's Dave McCall, who resigned after going 60-15 in three seasons (including the 2009 Class A state finals) with the Patriots.

Freshman keys Chargers' win

Freshman Nikki Salloum came through with a clutch 2-run single in the top of the seventh to give Livonia Churchill a 3-2 girls softball victory Monday at Livonia Stevenson.

Churchill winning pitcher Natalie Hiser allowed just three hits and only one walk in seven innings to pick up the KLAAs Kensington Conference crossover victory.

Hiser and Missy Sidor combined for four of Churchill's seven hits off Stevenson pitcher Jacqueline Johnson, who suffered the loss.

GIRLS SOFTBALL

Stevenson, which took a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the sixth inning, was led by Shelby Wilson's hit and run.

Churchill, which defeated Novi, 9-4, in its season opener on March 30, improved to 2-0 overall. It was the Spartans' season opener.

FRANKLIN 4, S. LYON EAST 2: Chelsea Williams and Mariah Barcus each went 3-for-4 Monday as Livonia Franklin (3-0) earned the Kensington Conference crossover win over host South Lyon East (0-1).

The Patriots broke a 2-all deadlock in the seventh inning as Audrey Geraghty got things started with a walk. She moved on second on Nicole Emery's bunt.

Williams then scored pinch runner Keely Wilson with her second triples of the game and scored herself on a Barcus RBI single (her second RBI of the game).

Amanda Nixon added two hits for the Patriots.

Winning pitcher Tiffany Lambie, a sophomore, improved to 2-0 by scattering eight hits. She fanned eight and did not allow a walk.

Olivia Nelson, the East starter, gave up 10 hits, walked one and fanned three in seven innings.

after we get through the first month of the season, along with tryouts, and these first few games. And the way the schedule goes we play almost every day. The kids take over the program and we watch mostly. We'll give them all the chances to see how they do."

Meanwhile, the Cougars are far from their state Class A championship form of 2008, but the future appears to be promising.

"We're very young — nine sophomores, four juniors and only one senior," Patterson said. "We have a lot to learn. Four or five are veteran players who were on varsity a year ago. All the other ones up probably have a whole lot to learn. It's going to a long first half of the season for us. But maybe at the end we'll be competitive with the top teams."

Warriors can't capitalize, fall 3-1

Lutheran High Westland left too many ducks on the pond in Tuesday's 3-1 Michigan Independent Athletic Conference baseball setback to visiting Grosse Pointe Woods University-Liggett in a battle of highly regarded Division 4 teams.

"We definitely let one slip away today," said Lutheran Westland coach Kevin Wade, whose team is 1-1 overall and 0-1 in the MIAC's Blue Division. "We stranded eight runners in the first three innings. If we score even just a couple runs more in those first few innings, it definitely changes the complexion of the game."

Losing pitcher Austin Baglow worked six innings, allowing five hits and a walk while fanning four. Reliever Gage Flanery allowed a double and walk in the seventh as the Knights rallied for two runs to break a 1-all deadlock.

Nick Andrezejewski went

2-for-3 with a double. Kent Krzyske added an RBI single and a walk.

"We played O.K. defensively, so I wasn't disappointed there," Wade said. "We just need to get our bats going and we'll be O.K. That will be our focus the rest of this week for sure."

HURON VALLEY 7, PCA 0: Junior Andy Barber pitched a two-hit shutout Tuesday as host Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (2-0, 1-0) downed Plymouth Christian Academy (0-2, 0-1) in a MIAC Red Division matchup.

Barber struck out five and did not allow a walk in going the distance. Shawn Schaffer went 2-for-2 with a walk and RBI for the victorious Hawks. Alex Harris also had two hits and reached base on a walk.

Josh Johnson had two hits for PCA, while starter David Baum took the loss.

EDSEL FORD 3, RU 1: Ryan Gilbert's 2-run homer in the first inning proved to be the difference Tuesday as host Dearborn Edsel Ford (6-1) stopped Redford Union (0-2) in a Western Wayne Athletic Conference crossover.

Senior right-hander Jacob Blatche went all seven innings for the Panthers, allowing six hits and only two walks.

Blatche also went 2-for-4 at the plate. RU, which stranded 12 runners, tallied its lone run in the fifth when Anthony Stader singled home Steven Gazley.

"Jacob pitched real well, his command was good and he kept them off balance," RU coach Dennis Rogowski said.

CHURCHILL 11, GARDEN CITY 8: Christian Leathley had a pair of doubles and knocked in three runs Tuesday as host Livonia Churchill (2-1) outslugged the Cougars (1-3) in a non-league encounter.

Churchill out-hit Garden City, 12-8, as Stephen Foster went 2-for-2 with three runs and Drew Loudon went 2-for-3. Leathley also scored twice.

Losing pitcher Nate McHugh, who went the first 2.1 innings, collected two hits along with teammate Zach Vera-Burgos.

Trey Jardine was the winning pitcher in relief. In two innings he allowed two runs on four hits and four walks.

misplayed a ball, and in tight games that always makes the difference.

"That's probably the best hitting team we'll play all year. They hit the ball really well. We're lucky we got them early in the year before they get warmed up."

Churchill threatened to get back in the game in the sixth with consecutive singles by Taylor Kerr, Salloum and Missy Sidor to load the bases.

But the Chargers could only squeeze out one run as Hiser made the second out on an RBI sacrifice fly before Susalla recorded a strikeout to end the inning.

In the bottom of the seventh, Churchill got a 2-out single from Rachel Jason, but Susalla fanned the next batter to secure the victory.

"She (Susalla) did a great job," Patterson said. "That's been really big for us over the years. They got to hit to get on. Six, seven walks will kill you all the time. Quite honestly that was the difference in the game. They (Churchill) walked a few and had a couple of passed balls. Then we delivered on a couple of hits. Without any help it makes it real tough. That's kind of our philosophy to make them get three hits to get a run."

Jewell gave up seven hits, walked two and struck out four in taking the loss. She is currently one of three pitchers auditioning in the Chargers' rotation which also includes Hiser and Sidor.

"Like last year — they're all in the mix and we got to get them work early in the season to see who gets people out," Kuratko said. "We're real happy with that. We've worked hard. I told the coaches our work is over

"Overall I was excited and happy," Schick said. "I performed the way my coach wanted. It was a lot of work this year, but it was worth it at the end. It was my best (all-around) score. It shows improvement the last two years. I've upgraded my skills and have gotten better over the years."

Illinois State coach Bob Conkling was also encouraged by Schick's performance.

"Erica did well in all four events," he said. "The floor exercise and vault weren't her best events of the night, but there were no major mistakes. When she got to bars and balance beam in the final rotations, she just hit both events extremely well."

Conkling is glad he offered a scholarship to Schick, who competed as a youth for the Sports Club of Novi where she was a Level 9 national floor champion in 2004 and two-time Level 10 regional qualifier.

"It's been light years, we had five scholarships at the time and she was the last we gave out," Conkling said. "She came in better than we ever thought and she's improved every single year."

"Close to the end it was us and North Carolina (State) going for the same two girls. I'm glad we took Erica because it worked out well for us."

"This year she did a fantastic job. She's been all-around for us in every single meet but one. She struggled a bit on beam, but she took one meet off and got back on track."

Conkling appreciates everything Schick, who has become the Redbirds' leaders, has brought to the program. "She's outgoing and we haven't been disappointed," the ISU coach said. "She's not your typical gymnast. She's 5-8. She was a tough cookie when we first got her, but she's definitely a team player now. I can't say enough good things about her. She gets good grades. She's a nursing student in a very difficult program and she gets good grades. I'd take 10 of her."

Schick takes her studies as seriously as she does her gymnastics.

"It's one of the hardest programs at school," she said. "It's a lot of work, but it's really rewarding because everything you're learning you can put to use at the clinical site."

Schick has adapted quickly to her surroundings and hasn't regretted her decision to become a Redbird.

"When I came to visit it was a big school with a small community atmosphere," Schick said. "We had good team chemistry and there was room to grow with the team."

"Bloomington is a growing city. Lots of cornfields around, but it has all the things you need in a city and it's a family atmosphere."

Although the season is over, Schick is already setting her sights on next season. Illinois State finished runner-up in this year's Midwest Independent Conference meet as a team.

She hopes to be razor-sharp for her final season of eligibility.

"It's still five days per week," she said. "We lift weights and we go three days in the gym a week. It's never ending, but we all get along as a team and have fun."

"Every year we've gotten better and better. My senior year I want to make it our best year and make regionals as a team."

the two unearned runs in the sixth and came back and shut Churchill down in the seventh."

Churchill starter Troy Bogenschutz went the first 5.1 innings, allowing one earned run on four hits and two walks. He struck out three before giving way to Matigian, who worked the final 1.1 innings and was charged with the loss.

Matigian and Williams each finished with two hits for the Chargers, who fall to 1-1 overall and 0-1 in the KLAAs South Division.

But the story was Sorenson, who proved to be sharp throughout the game.

"He (Sorenson) was as good as I've seen," Churchill coach Ron Targosz said. "He was mixing his pitches well and he did a good job.

"He kept us off balance and we did not get many good swings."

FRANKLIN 20, S. LYON EAST 14: Livonia Franklin (3-0, 1-0) overcame a 9-0 first-inning deficit Monday to earn the Kensington Conference crossover win at South Lyon East (3-1, 0-1).

After scoring twice in the second inning and six more runs in the third to close the deficit to 9-8, the Patriots put it away with eight in the top of the fifth.

Joe Trudell paced a 16-hit Franklin attack going 2-for-6 with four RBI. Adam Michael went 2-for-4 with two RBI, while Brent Marzion went 2-for-2 with three walks and an RBI.

Anthony Crechiolo, Justin Dean and Dan Muller added two hits apiece.

Nick Hopson, who worked 4.2 innings in relief, got the victory. He allowed three runs on five hits and two walks while fanning three.

Lead-off batter Nolan Nunez went 4-for-4, including a pair of doubles and four runs scored for the Cougars.

NORTHVILLE 7, JOHN GLENN 1: Brett MacDonald and Dan Mills each clubbed 2-run homers Monday as the host Mustangs (1-0, 1-0) downed Westland John Glenn (0-4, 0-1) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Winning pitcher Colin Gerish allowed one earned run on four hits and a walk in five innings. The Northville starter fanned eight.

Andrew Benyo went 2-for-3 and scored a run for the Rockets in the fourth inning after losing pitcher Rob Schurig drew a walk with the bases loaded.

Schurig allowed all seven runs on six hits and three walks in five innings. He fanned two before giving way to reliever Colin Lapinski, who pitched two scoreless innings and struck out two.

NOVI 7, WAYNE 4: Mike Grandowicz homered and Daniel Ross had a double and two RBI, but it wasn't enough Monday as Wayne Memorial (0-1, 0-1) fell to the host Wildcats (1-0, 1-0) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Kevin Zak's bases-clearing double in the bottom of the sixth broke a 4-4 deadlock and propelled Novi to the victory.

Bombs away: MU wins 4-game set

Saturday was moving day for the Madonna University baseball team as the Crusaders cleared the fences 10 times.

Sunday, meanwhile, the pitchers stole the limelight as the Crusaders swept a four-game weekend series against host Davenport University at East Kentwood High School.

MU, ranked 18th nationally in last week's NAIA Coaches Poll, improves to 26-6 overall and 6-2 in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference.

Ted Toune and Zach Flavin each clubbed their sixth homers of the year as MU captured Sunday's opener, 6-4.

Flavin went 2-for-3 with three RBI, while Spencer Sarel and Toune each knocked in a run.

MU starter Robert Fraser (Westland John Glenn) threw 3.2 scoreless innings, but was lifted in the fourth inning after throwing 79 pitches.

Kyle Bolton (4-0) came on for the victory, allowing two earned runs on five hits over the final 3.1 innings.

The two combined for seven strikeouts.

In the nightcap, Tom Hansen (2-1) scattered seven hits over six scoreless innings as the Crusaders downed Davenport, 3-0.

Reliever Sam Haldane got the save with a scoreless seventh inning.

Matt Kay (Canton) had two of MU's six hits, while Toune, Brad Lineberry (Plymouth) and Tarik Khasawneh (Canton) each drove in a run.

On Saturday, the bats were cooking as MU took both ends of the twinbill against the Panthers, 7-2 and 17-5 (six-inning mercy rule).

Flavin went a combined 4-for-7 on the day with a pair of home runs in the opener and six RBI.

Sarel collected a total of six hits in the twinbill, including a homer while driving in four.

Billy Hardin III (Livonia/Novi-Detroit Catholic Central) also homered twice, while Jeff Bultinck, Dan Harder, Shawn Little (Canton) and Kay added one round-tripper apiece.

Jeremy Gooding (Livonia/Dearborn Divine Child) went five innings in the opener, striking out three while allowing three hits to improve to 5-0 on the year.

Kyle Bolton came in to close the last two innings and did not allow a base runner.

Eastern Michigan University transfer John Ballarin (Westland/CC) threw a complete game in the nightcap to improve to 3-1 on the year. He scattered nine hits and one walk while fanning eight in six innings.

Davenport falls to 12-18 overall and 3-5 in the WHAC.

Extended hours

Today's the day and if you haven't done anything with your income tax returns, you're in luck. Liberty Tax Service Off office in Garden City is staying open until midnight today, April 15, offering free advice and a few additional perks.

Liberty Tax encourages unemployed and financially challenged taxpayers who owe this year and are worried about their ability to pay to examine enhanced options offered by the IRS. The IRS has expanded the offer-in-compromise program that allows a settlement of the taxpayer's tax liability for less than the full amount owed based on the individual's current financial situation, income and future earning potential.

"The IRS has pledged to work with struggling taxpayers who make the effort to try and pay their taxes," said Ron Pettiford, of Liberty Tax Service. It's always advisable to pay what you can, and file on time or request an extension. An extension of time to file a tax return still does not constitute an extension of time to pay any tax liability. Penalties and interest accrue from April 15, if the tax liability has not been paid."

The IRS will grant an automatic six-month filing extension to taxpayers who file a timely extension request. Taxpayers don't need to provide a reason for their request. Individual taxpayers need to file Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, by April 15 to be granted a filing extension until Oct. 15.

Taxpayers can request permission to make monthly installment payments by filing an installment agreement form with their tax return or those who aren't currently on an IRS installment plan, complete Form 9465, Installment Agreement Request, and attach it to the return. To limit penalty and interest charges, the taxpayer should pay as much of the tax due as possible when sending in their return.

For more information, contact Liberty Tax Service's Garden City office at (734) 425-4620, or stop by the office at 29540 Ford, just west of Middlebelt at the K-Mart entrance.

Livonia Civic Chorus sings Motown and more at April, May concerts

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

Get ready for a little rock and roll with soul at Livonia Civic Chorus' upcoming concerts.

"We've got (Bob Seger's) Old Time Rock & Roll, Bill Haley — Shake, Rattle and Roll — there's I Heard it through the Grapevine, Ain't No Mountain High Enough and the ladies are doing an Aretha Franklin medley," said Gary Prevo of Livonia, a member since October 2009. "It's fun and everyone is familiar with the songs."

Fans of the 55-member chorus will hear a preview of its May 8-9 show, "Smitten with the Mitten," this weekend when it guest performs at the annual Industry Sings, a free concert at Thurston High School in Redford. The May concert includes songs that were written or performed by Michigan natives, as well as tunes about the state. The chorus will sing a few selections at this weekend's show, which also will include the DTE Singers, Ford Motor Company Chorus, Gentleman Songsters and American Liberty Pop Singers. All of the groups will come together in the second half of Industry Sings on Sunday to perform five songs as one group.

Donna Gleason, a Farmington Hills resident and director of the Livonia Civic Chorus, will lead the mass choir in singing God Bless America at Industry Sings.

"For Industry Sings we're doing three songs from our show (in May) and we do five numbers as a mass choir," Gleason said. "This is our first time at Industry Sings. It's kind of exciting and we're looking forward to it."

She said the five-choir show is good publicity for the Livonia Civic Chorus, which stages two major performances during its September-May season.

"We're always trying to make people aware that we exist and having an audience like that will help us."

Combining choreography,

Jim Hovey, (left) Mark Gleason, Kurt Meyer, and Mark Greenleaf belt out a Phil Collins song, 'Trashin' the Camp,' at the Livonia Civic Chorus' spring concert last year.

video and upbeat, popular music into its shows makes the group memorable, as well. Gleason, former music director at Redford Baptist Church, works as an accompanist at Western High School in Walled Lake, where video often is used as a backdrop for music performances.

Although she won't prepare a video for the Industry Sings performance, Gleason will match images to music for a portion of Smitten by the Mitten next month.

MICHIGAN, MOTOWN

"We try to be unique. We just started in the last couple of years using video. In this upcoming (May) show there will be quite a bit of video to go along with the singing. The opening number is a fairly obscure piece written by a member of the staff at Interlochen. As we're singing the song we'll show scenes of Michigan," Gleason said. "Our goal is to be entertaining. We want to be a good chorus and I bring in clinicians to help improve the choir, but we try to do programs the audience will enjoy."

The first half of the Smitten show will focus on the state and its products. The second half is all about Motown. Gleason has added choreography to the mix and requires singers to memorize the material, removing the folders, papers and music stands that might form a barrier between them and the audience.

Her biggest challenge is making sure chorus members watch and follow her lead while singing the familiar Motown tunes.

"In one of the Motown songs, you can keep repeating a section. I never do it the same way twice and it guarantees they watch me."

Several thousand baseball fans may get a chance to watch Gleason and her group perform this summer, too. Prevo, contacted the Detroit Tigers, hoping the group might sing the National Anthem at Comerica Park. He sent in a tape recording and is in the process of firming up a date in early August.

Proceeds from the Friends of the Penn's spring dinner and auction last year paid for a new marquee at the theater. Proceeds this year will buy new doors.

Hit the Hawaiian 'beach' and help the Penn

BY SHARON DARGAY

Carrie and Warren Phillips go to the movies three days a week, but rarely see any of the films.

Carrie is too busy scooping popcorn and Warren is too preoccupied with running the projector to pay much notice to the big screen.

But the Plymouth couple wouldn't have it any other way. "We love it," says Carrie, who knows most regular customers by name and can recite their popcorn, soda and candy order before they do. "We feel lucky to be a part of this."

"And I have a confession to make. I've always loved film and doesn't come along often," Warren added. "These multiplexes are automated. But our system here, it's still a dual projector and you have to operate it. You have to be alert and switch it over."

The Phillips are among 153 volunteers who help the Friends of the Penn, a seven-member board led by Ellen Elliott, keep the 68-year-old Penn open and showing films. The Friends organized in 2005, two years after the theatre was shuttered. The group reopened it a year later when a local businessman recruited supporters to form Penn Theatre Realty, LLC. The company bought the building and leased it to the Friends for $1 a year.

FRIENDLY ENVIRONMENT

"We're not just a movie theater," said Elliott, a Plymouth resident who saw films at the Penn while growing up. "You're greeted like we've known you forever. A lot of the elderly people we know by name. That's something you don't get in other places, personalized service. It's a safe environment. Parents can drop off their kids and can walk to get dinner."

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra has made the theater its home for concerts. Its upcoming show, "Hurray for Hollywood" show is set for 8 p.m., Friday, April 16 at the Penn.

"We've had weddings, private film showings for birthdays," Elliott said.

Ticket sales — at $3 per person — for Thursday night classic movies and weekend first-run films, pay for operational expenses at the volunteer-staffed theater. Annual spring dinner-auction proceeds fund major renovations.

"We've replaced the boiler, the roof. Our biggest renovation was the new marquee we did last year," Elliott noted. "This year we plan to replace the front doors — they are really old — and update or restore the murals on the side of the building."

Friends of the Penn encourages supporters to "shake off that winter chill" at this year's fund-raiser, Blue Hawaii Beach Party, slated for April 30 at The Meeting House Grand Ballroom in downtown Plymouth.

"We've had lots of different fun themes. Last year it was a movie mobster theme. We had a Saturday Night Fever theme one year," Elliott said. "It's a fun time."

Beach party visitors are encouraged to wear cocktail or luau attire, such as Hawaiian shirts, sarongs and sandals for the evening of dinner, hors d'oeuvres and dancing. The auction will include jewelry, a big screen television, golf packages, restaurant gift certificates and other items donated by local businesses.

"These fund-raisers are so important," said Carrie, who is on the auction committee with her husband. "It's a nice event," and Friends of the Penn's only fund-raising event each year.

"And it's a little closer than going to Hawaii," Warren added.

Canton community theater performs spring musical

Canton's newest community theater troupe, Dynamic Stage Productions, will turn back the clock to the 1980s with its production of Fame The Musical, April 22-25 at Riverside Arts Center, 76 N. Huron in Ypsilanti.

Set in a New York performing arts school, Fame The Musical follows the students through the highs and lows, the romances and sheer hard work as they search for the success that will make them 'live for ever.'

The cast includes Canton residents Jen Schinker, Briana Bradley, Keshia Oliver, Christine Coreless, Nick Rapson, Mollee Chowen, Redi Shorter, in addition to featured dancers, Kasidy Shepler, Jordyn Shepler, and Stefanie Shepler, all from Livonia.

"I started the group as Canton Premiere Players in 2007. It was a small theatre program run out of a dance studio. When the dance studio closed, we became Dynamic Stage Productions in 2009," said Jami Krause, executive director.

"This has been our first full season. We did Dear Edwina as a children's musical in August followed by The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee in November and Cheaper by the Dozen in February. Fame is our full scale musical for the 2009-2010 season."

The troupe will present Bare: A Pop Opera this summer, along with Pinkalicious, a musical aimed at young audiences.

"We are technically based out of Canton. We rehearse at the Cherry Hill United Church in the Cherry Hill Village but we do typically do most of our shows at the historic Riverside Arts Center in Ypsilanti down in Depot Town. One of the things that we aim to provide with DSP is a welcoming, comfortable environment for all those involved, while at the same time maintaining a professional atmosphere."

Fame is directed by Kyle M Farr with musical direction by Kyle Phillips and choreography by Craig Nichols. Fame is assisted directed by Jake Zinke.

Tickets are $15 and are available online at www.dynamicstageproductions.com or at the door. Performances start at 8 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, with a matinee at 2 p.m. Sunday.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

The tragedy is that less than half of those persons who are denied benefits file an appeal. Thus, many thousands of people who deserve benefits never receive them.

Those denied can appeal on their own, but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

Attorney J.B. Bieske has represented only Social Security Disability clients for over 20 years. That is the only type of law he practices. And, he personally meets with all clients and appears himself at all court hearings. Many large firms assign clients to young associate attorneys with much less experience.

In addition to practicing only Social Security Disability law Bieske has written a book for attorneys about the subject. He also has been interviewed on various radio and television programs and has given speeches to many groups.

Bieske's office staff consists of paralegals and secretaries who are also highly experienced in assisting him with Social Security Disability cases. And they are extremely helpful in answering questions with regard to the status of clients' cases and administrative procedure.

Attorney Bieske welcomes you to call him to determine if you may be eligible for these benefits. He offers free phone or office consultations. If Bieske represents you, there will be no fee charged until after the case is won. The fee is a percentage of retroactive benefits.

In a recent radio interview attorney Bieske explained that many people are not even aware that they are eligible for Social Security Disability benefits. These are not the same as Workers' Compensation benefits. It is possible to receive both benefits at the same time. If you have an illness or injury (whether or not related to your work), are under 65 and unable to work full-time you may be eligible. Social Security Disability benefits are based on your work record or your deceased spouse's work record (Widow's/Widower's benefits).

Bieske represents clients from all over the state of Michigan. Call him at 1-800-331-3530 for a FREE consultation if you have been denied. Or if you are thinking of possibly applying for Social Security benefits call him for FREE advice.

Giving: Women-only prom raises money for families in need

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

Betsy Crapps wore her 1988 pink prom dress to Mass Sunday. She turned a few heads, but many parishioners at St. Thomas a' Becket Catholic Church in Canton know the formal wear signals the approach of Mom Prom, an annual "ladies night out" and charity fund-raiser that is expected to draw at least 150 women — most in their tackiest bridesmaid and prom gowns — to the church gymnasium Friday, April 23.

"I always wear a prom dress while selling tickets," said Crapps, who staffed a ticket booth between Masses at the church last weekend. "More and more parishioners are going to the prom. It's so much fun. Fr. Pat (Casey) thinks it's the funniest thing ever. But then, he's a guy."

No guys are allowed to attend the upcoming night of dancing, games and female camaraderie that will raise funds for two parish families struggling with the cost of caring for their disabled children.

"The husbands stay home with the kids," she said. "This is just for us to have fun. Although Fr. Matthew (C. George) says he's going to sneak in one day."

GIVING BACK

The church's MOMS group has raised money for St. Vincent de Paul, First Step, breast cancer research and the Wayne County Family Shelter since it began sponsoring the event in 2006. Crapps, a Canton resident who works part time in religious education at St. Thomas a' Becket, founded Mom Prom.

She donned the puffy sleeve gown — first worn at the Pittsford Mendon High School 1988 prom in upstate New York — for an Academy Awards party a few years ago. That evolved into a friends night out in their gowns.

"I said, why not have a mom prom. Twelve of us dressed up and went to dinner at Bucca di Beppo and then went dancing. Everyone met at my house so we could take prom photos."

It was so much fun, Crapps sought the use of St. Thomas a' Becket's gym for an even bigger prom that would also raise funds for good causes.

NATIONAL MOVEMENT

"My biggest goal is to have other moms groups across the country do their own mom prom," Crapps said. "I'd love for women to come and see what we do and then start their own."

Women dance the night away at Mom Prom, a charity fund-raiser and 'ladies night out.'

Betsy Crapps (right) and her sister, Katie Long pose for a prom photo with a John Wayne cardboard cutout at St. Thomas a' Becket Catholic Church, in Canton.

She advised a group in Seattle, Wash., this year and has assisted mom prom organizers in Illinois and Indiana. The Canton Mom Prom Web site, www.themomprom.org also offers tips on staging a Mom Prom.

DJ Diana Korte of Silver Sounds keeps the music going at the Canton prom, a BYOB affair that offers a potluck selection of desserts, as well as games and a raffle. Every participant may choose a "prom date" from among three cardboard cutouts — John Wayne, Burt Reynolds and James Dean — to pose for photos.

TACKIEST DRESS

The last woman standing in a dice roll game of chance accepts the prom queen crown and a bouquet of flowers. This year she'll also get a pair of earrings from Showcase of Elegance, in Canton.

The "best accessory" award honors the most creatively-decorated wine or beer cooler.

"The biggest prize of the night is for the tackiest dress," Crapps noted. Last year's winner wore an old prom dress, "zipped up as much as possible — pretty much just to her waist" with a T-shirt underneath. "It was a 1980s peach pink with frillies, with the whole back exposed."

Crapps wears her prom dress with tennis shoes every year, but said tacky attire isn't required. Some participants dress up and some dress down.

"Not everyone wants to dress up. Some women wear jeans. Don't stress about dressing up. Come and have a good time. It all goes to a good cause."

The Mom Prom is open to all women, both parishioners and nonmembers, moms and nonmoms. It runs from 8-11 p.m., April 23, at the church, 555 S. Lilley, Canton. Tickets are $20 and available in advance at the church or at the door. Raffle tickets are $1 each. (734) 981-1333

Health expo offers cooking demonstration

BY SHARON DARGAY
OGE STAFF WRITER

Judy Swancutt is "pushing" fruits and vegetables.

A dietitian for St. Mary Mercy Hospital, in Livonia, Swancutt will join Kevin Green, Embassy Suites executive chef, in a presentation about children and healthy eating, 1:50-2:20 p.m., and 2:40-3:10 p.m., Saturday, April 24, during "Healthy Families Expo," presented by St. Mary Mercy at Embassy Suites, in Livonia.

The expo offers an afternoon of demonstrations, fun activities and information to help families live a healthier lifestyle. Sessions are free, but registration is required.

Swancutt and Green will collaborate on the "Easy, Healthy, Fun and Kid-Friendly Foods" presentation.

"I've talked to the chef and he's going to put together a menu," said Swancutt, who will serve as a "support person," at the presentation. "Whatever angle he takes, let's push fruits and vegetables and get rid of pop."

"We do a lot of diabetes education here. When I first learned about diabetes 15 to 20 years ago, 'type 2' was someone over age 40. Now we are seeing 12-year-olds with type 2."

Individuals with type 1 diabetes are unable to produce insulin. Those with type 2 are "insulin resistant." They need more insulin than the body is willing to produce, Swancutt said. She described type 2 diabetes as the result of lifestyle choices.

"It's a genetic disease but you don't have to get at 12," she said, adding that a 40-year-old with type 2 diabetes may not begin to experience complications from the disease until they are 60. A 12-year-old already showing signs of diabetes may see those complications emerge at age 32.

"Thirty two isn't old. That is what scares me the most," Swancutt said. "We need to push those vegetables."

She suggests introducing vegetables to children when they are young "and keep presenting it." Don't force it, but find different ways to present healthful foods. Encourage exercise and emphasize whole fruits, rather than juice or packaged fruit bars.

Other health expo events include:

- Children's health and fitness with Peter Nielsen, a motivational health expert
 - Learning how to take your heart rate
 - Bone and muscle injury prevention
 - Keeping kids drug-free
 - Skin health and sun safety
 - What shoes are the best fit for you.
 - Prescription drug "take back" program will allow participants to safely dispose of expired for unused prescription drugs.
- Register for the cooking demonstration and other speaker sessions online at www.stmarymercy.org.

Good for the waistline, good for the wallet

Now, more than ever, people are looking for tasty ways to trim their waists, and their budgets. Staying within both a caloric and financial budget is as easy as updating your menu with a new centerpiece — pork.

Pork is extremely versatile, packs a protein punch and pairs well with almost any flavor. Plus, six of the most common cuts of pork are 16 percent leaner and contain 27 percent less saturated fat than they did 19 years ago.

Maximize your budget and put pork to the test tonight. Plan to prepare the Mustard-Herb Crusted Pork Loin roast for dinner and use the leftovers for a sandwich the next day.

The Mustard-Herb Crusted Pork Loin Roast has only 150 calories and 4 grams of fat. This pork loin roast is trimmed of external fat and it could help you do the same. It also has an amazing 20 grams of protein and nutrients including phosphorus, zinc and potassium, which are all key to keeping the body fit and healthy.

MUSTARD-HERB CRUSTED PORK LOIN ROAST

Prep Time: 10 minutes
Cook Time: 60 minutes
Serves 4 with leftovers for sandwiches

- 1 cup panko
 - 1 1/2 pounds pork top loin roast, trimmed of external fat
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
 - 1 egg yolk beaten
 - 2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
 - 1/2 teaspoons fresh thyme, chopped
- Heat oven to 350°F. Place panko on large dinner plate; set aside. Pat surface of pork dry with paper towels; sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Combine egg yolk, mustard and thyme in pie plate. Roll pork roast in mustard mixture, spreading mixture evenly on surface. Then roll mustard-coated roast in panko, patting panko on roast to evenly cover.

Place roast on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast, uncovered, in heated oven for 1 hour or until an instant-read thermometer inserted near center reads 155°F.

Loosely cover pork with foil. Let rest for five minutes. Transfer pork roast to carving board; Cut half of the pork roast into 1/2-inch-thick slices to serve. Cool remaining piece of roast at room temperature for up to one hour. Loosely cover and refrigerate for sandwiches.

Serving Suggestions:
Cook once and eat twice — serve half of this savory pork roast with steamed mixed baby vegetables and a wild rice pilaf for the first meal, and use the leftover roast for sandwiches as a second meal.
