Safety talk

Wayne County Sheriff Bennie Napoleon will offer seniors tips on staying safe when he visits the Westland senior Friendship Center at 11 a.m. Wednesday, May 26.

The program is hosted by Wayne County Commissioner Joan Gebhardt, D-Livonia, who has been presenting the talks in the her 12th District communities - Westland, Inkster and southern Livonia.

"I'm concerned about seniors being safe on the Internet and with their banking," said Gebhardt. "So many have been duped into giving out their personal information. And with local police departments having to downsize, the sheriff's department will have to help, and I want seniors to know who the sheriff is."

The program will include a barbecue lunch of hamburgers and Italian sausage. Reservations are needed and must be made by Tuesday, May 25, made by calling Gebhardt's office at (313) 224-0907.

Dinner time

The monthly spaghetti dinner at the Dyer Senior Center in Westland will be 4-7 p.m. Friday, May 28. Enjoy spaghetti, salad and dessert, as well as entertainment, for just $6.

The center also has pinocle and euchre games at 1 p.m. Wednesdays and pinocle is played at 1 p.m. Fridays.

The Dyer Center is at 36745 Marquette, east of Newburgh, in Westland. For more information, call (734) 419-2020.

Yard sale

One man's trash is another man's treasure, and that's what the Westland Historical Commission is calling its annual yard sale.

You'll find bargains galore at the sale set for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 5, at the Westland Historical Village Park, 857 N. Wayne Road, between Cherry Hill and Marquette.

Proceeds will benefit the park which houses the city's historical museum, Rowe House and Octagon House. For more information, call (734) 522-3918 or (734) 728-1232.

Farmers market added to Westland

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Westland is joining neighboring communities in bringing farmers to town.

The Parks and Recreation Department and Westland Shopping Center have teamed to host a farmers market in the mall's parking lot on 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, June 15 through Oct. 26.

"We're very excited about this," said Carol Rutz, Westland Shopping Center general manager. "The mall and the city have been working hard together to promote Westland as a destination for shopping and dining and created this new event."

The market will be located in the parking lot between Ashley's Bar and Grill and Kohl's along Wayne Road. A high visibility area, Kosowski expects the market to draw in plenty of foot traffic for some one-stop shopping.

"This is something Mayor (William) Wild has wanted to do since he was elected," said Bob Kosowski, parks and recreation director. "But with the park closed, we wanted to put it in a high traffic area. The mall is a perfect fit." Kosowski has been working on the market since the first of the year and has been getting help from Pam Attard, owner of the Styling Boutique, who will serve as the market master. They've attended seminars through the Michigan Farmers Market Association and have done online research to prepare for Westland's venture into a weekly market.

Applications also have been mailed out to 300 farmers and the city is already starting to get responses, Kosowski said.

"We're taking calls every day," said

Seniors learn virtues of healthy lifestyle

Barbara Schimmel Marcum sounded like a game show host as she peppered her audience with food questions like how Swiss cheese gets its holes. The prize for the person with the right answer was the product.

It was Marcum's way of kicking off Westland's annual observance of National Senior Health and Fitness Day, an event that provided information from A to Z about "improving and increasing the quality" of their lives.

"We've invited vendors like housing and rehab so when they're in the position to need to know, they'll know," said Marcum, Senior Resources director for Westland. "Life can change on a dime and this is information needed to make decisions."

The Wayne County Health Department was on hand to administer the shingles vaccine and pneumonia shots for $10 each as well as H1N1 and tetanus shots for free.

"The shingles vaccine is expensive and they're giving it out for $10, that's a bargain," Schimmel said. "People don't realize that people over age 50 can get shingles and it can be very painful."

Seniors also received information on everything from cataracts to home health care, had their blood pressure and glucose levels checked by paramedics from the Westland Fire Department and chatted with local, state and federal officials.

"A lot are concerned about what's happening with the Department of Human Services and health related issues," said state Rep. Richard LeBlanc, D-Westland. "They want to know what direction we're going. Unfortunately, we have declining revenues, so cuts will be made."

LeBlanc talked to seniors, but also made sure they loaded up on pens, notepads, toothbrushes, hand sanitizer and Band-Aids donated by Johnson and Johnson, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, Michigan Health and Hospital Association, Michigan Pharmaceutical Association, Delta Dental, Michigan

State Medical Society and Takeda Pharmaceuticals. He also had state maps and the hot-off-the-presses Michigan Travel Ideas proving popular with seniors.

Help wanted: Summer Festival needs volunteers

The 40th annual Westland Summer Festival is looking for volunteers and offering sponsorship opportunities.

This year, the festival will begin Wednesday, June 30, and continue through Sunday, July 4, when it will wrap up with a fireworks display. Each day there will be a carnival, food booths, games and activities and live entertainment.

Sponsorships for the festival range from $250 for a two-foot by three-foot sign on display throughout the festival to $3,000 to help underwrite the approximately 30-minute fireworks display which costs about $36,000.

The annual Miss Westland Summer Festival Pageant and Scholarship Program will be held 6 p.m. Saturday, June 26, at the Friendship Center, 1119 N. Newburgh. Single female Westland residents 16-22 years old will be judged based on an essay along with the application, poise, personality and general appearance. There will be no talent or swimsuit competition.

The pageant winner will receive a minimum $1,200 scholarship, crown, sash, trophy and other prizes. The first and second runners-up will receive a minimum $800 and $500 scholarships, respectively. There will be a maximum 20 contestants.

For information about sponsorships and volunteer opportunities at the festival contact:

W-W gets elementaries ready for new use

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools plans to spend $2.6 million to ready its lower and upper elementary buildings for the start of school in the fall. On tap will be parking lot repairs and expansions and bus loops for the K-4 buildings, as well as playground equipment at it two grade 5-6 buildings.

According to Doug Underwood of McCarthy & Smith Inc., bids for the projects came in $300,000 under budget, a reflection of the state's tough economic times.

"We had 130 bids for the projects, the highest it's ever been," Underwood told the school board. "We put these out for bid and got great results."

Some $2.3 million in sinking fund money will be used to expand parking lots and add bus loops at eight K-4 schools — Edison, Elliott, Hamilton, Hicks, P.D. Graham, Schweitzer, Hoover and Taft-Galloway — and the two upper elementaries (Marshall and Adams) to transition from schools built for walkers to students brought in by bus.

In the case of Schweitzer, the bus turnover will be on the Glenwood side of the school. However, the district has an alternative plan to put in a temporary loop in case a combined project by the cities of Wayne and Westland to resurface Glenwood isn't completed in time for school, Underwood said.

"They're going out for bids and everything is a go, but the one thing we can't say is whether the bus turnaround will be done in time," he said.

According to Supt. Greg Baracy, improvements at Schweitzer have been on hold for sometime.

"We knew Wayne was going to do the road work with Westland and it sped up with the federal money," he said. The playground equipment will cost almost $260,000 and will come out of the district's building and site fund.

"The playground equipment goes to building and site because it's not an item the sinking fund can pay for," Deputy Supt. Gary Martin said. "We budgeted $500,000 for each and it came in around $300,000 or $175,000 per plan."

Kosowski. "I hope we get a lot of farmers."

According to Rutz, about 25 areas, each slightly larger than a parking space, have been set aside for the market.

Kosowski had a goal of having 20 stalls on opening day, but now expects up to double that amount will be filled because farmers will tend to use four or more stalls to show off their produce.

Registration for the full season is $400, however, vendors can sign up for a single day for $30. Discounts will be for additional space with the purchase of a space at regular price.

The applications are available of the parks are recreation department page of the city's website, have been out for three weeks, and they will be screened so that the market provides a variety of fresh foods.

In the planning stages is special music on different Tuesdays throughout the season as well as having chefs come in to do cooking demonstrations, not to mention kids' activities.

Kosowski is confident Westland has found a perfect niche with a Tuesday Market. It's the one day of the week there isn't such a market in the area. That and the locale are pluses.

"People will be able to get all their produce in one place and then got to the mall to shop," he said. "We're shooting for it to be big because of its visibility."

"I'm excited about this, I think it's going to go well," he said.

"We don't know what to expect to start, but we do expect it to grow," added Rutz.

People interested in being a vendor at the Westland Farmers Market can find the application online at www.cityofwestland.com. For more information about the applications, guidelines, or fees and permits, call Kosowski at (734) 722-7620.

council that put an emphasis on senior resources and for Barb Marcum putting an emphasis on living a good senior lifestyle," LeBlanc said. "I think it's fortunate, I think it's fantastic that we have it in our town."

Margaret Clos was happy she came to event, especially when she found the Tootsie Rolls on Wayne County Commissioner Joan Gebhardt's table. It's the 98-year-old Westland resident's favorite candy, so much so that she's been called Tootsie for most of her life.

"I know when they started, I was 2 or 3," said Clos. "I liked them so well my family started calling me Tootsie. My husband used to take me out on dates and one time he asked if he could call me Tootsie. I told him why not, everyone else does."

Laura Gring of United Home Health Services was providing Julie Sommers with information about benefits for veterans and their spouses who need financial assistance with in-home care, to pay for assisted living or a nursing home.

"I'm trying to tell as many people as possible," said Gring. "It's a neat thing that people don't know about and that they're eligible, even if the spouse is deceased."

Michael Barry was talking to seniors about sleep apnea, showing off the latest in masks used to treat the problem.

"I tell people it's better to error on the side of safety," said Barry, who works at Oakwood Hospital's Sleep Disorders Center at the Willow Creek Plaza in Canton. "Not everyone has sleep apnea, but we check for so many different things."

"I eat Indian style, a light meal at night and I walk," the Westland resident said.

Marcum aims to keep the event upbeat and end it on a healthy note of lunch — this year's menu included Maurice and oriental chicken salads.

"We try to make the event educational, recreational and social," said Marcum. "People really crave information and it's not necessarily available."

GC alum recounts living with disability in new book

A former Garden City resident will be back in town this week to tell his story of perseverance in conquering his disability.

Author John Quinn will speak to students at several schools and do book signings around the area before capping off his visit by delivering the commencement address at Garden City High School on June 10.

The first time that Quinn tried to enter the Navy, he failed the duck walk. So he took a year and trained his body, first to squat, then to walk while squatting. The painful training paid off. Despite having been born with cerebral palsy — a fact unknown to the Navy — Quinn became a sailor.

For the next 20 years, Quinn deceived the Navy through a colossal, painful and, at times, humorous cover-up of his CP symptoms. During his stint, he served as a battleship sailor on board the USS Iowa and many others, served with the Navy SEALs and retired with the rank of senior chief petty officer at age 40.

Quinn has told his story in his memoir, Someone Like Me: An Unlikely Story of Challenge and Triumph over Cerebral Palsy, released by History Publishing in April.

He will speak to students at Henry Ruff Elementary and Garden City Middle School, as well as Pioneer Middle School in Plymouth, and at St. Damian's at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 27.

He also will do book signings 3-6 p.m. Saturday, May 29, at Albert's on the Alley, 5651 Middlebelt, noon-2 p.m. Saturday, June 5, Villa Bakery, Author John Quinn, a 1980 graduate of Garden City East High School, was able to keep secret that he had cerebral palsy while serving in the U.S. Navy for 20 years.

6237 Middlebelt, in Garden City, and 7-8 p.m. Thursday, June 10, at the Canton Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center, south of Cherry Hill.

Quinn graduated from Garden City East High School in 1980. Two years later, he joined the U.S. Navy. Throughout his distinguished 20-year career, he sailed around the world on carriers, battleships and destroyers, and received numerous military decorations, including Navy Commendation Medals, Joint Service Achievement Medal, and four Navy Achievement Medals. He retired in 2002 and now lives in Tucson, Arizona.

Quinn's parents knew by the time their son was three-years-old that he had cerebral palsy. They never shared that information with anyone but the doctors who diagnosed him. During his school years, John spent months in physical therapy with "The Administer of Pain," faced acute isolation and loneliness as a teen; played on the wrestling team in both junior and senior high school only to lose every match, and later tried to look and act normal for two decades as he sailed around the world.

Every day of his life, he has had — and continues to have — this conversation with himself: "Brain, this is John. We are going to walk now, so take your left foot and pick it up off the ground. Move it forward, OK? Now the right foot."

Dr. Ed Hurvitz, a rehabilitation physician from the University of Michigan describes Quinn's book as a "must" read for "every young person who ever looked at a goal and thought it was just out of reach."

"Perhaps he or she should look again," he said. "As a rehabilitation physician, my goal has always been to open doors and increase opportunities for young people with disabilities, however, I see that I have not advised my patients to push the horizon enough. Thanks to John Quinn, I now know that given determination, bravery and desire, much more is possible for my patients than I could imagine before. This book is a must for every physician, therapist and other caregiver that treats individuals with cerebral palsy or any other disability."

For more about John Quinn, visit his website at www.john-quinn.com. Someone Like Me: An Unlikely Story of Challenge and Triumph Over Cerebral Palsy costs $18.95 and is available at Borders, Barnes and Noble and Amazon.

Academics + athletics = Glenn wrestlers

BY SUE MASON
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Members of the John Glenn High School wrestling team were front and center when the Wayne-Westland school board recently recognized the matmen for a great showing in the state finals and their outstanding academics.

Glenn athletic director Brian Swinehart praised coach Bill Polk for taking the team "to another level" and in molding sports and academics together. The team had an 8.5 grade point average and has been recognized by the Michigan Wrestling Association as an Academic All-Star Team for 2009-10.

"The kids will tell you he's relentless about their grades," said Swinehart.

The team made it to the state finals last year and repeated this year with Anthony Pavlich, a three-time placer, bringing home the first individual state wrestling championship in the last 17 years at Glenn.

"Last year was truly amazing to make state, now that we're there it's hard to stay there," said Polk. "Most of these kids started at Marshall and Stevenson with our junior high program. They're home-grown."

Among team members recognized by Polk were:

• Dustin Gajowiak, a two-time heavy weight who is the most successful heavy weight wrestler in John Glenn history. He finished in fourth place at the state finals.

• Zach Redden, a senior and state wrestling qualifier. He also is an Academic All-State athlete who also happens to be a soccer and wrestling superstar, according to Polk.

• Josh Austin, the second member of the team that achieved individual Academic All-State. He placed fifth in the state finals.

• Mike Johnson, a senior who "made huge strides this past year" and became a state qualifier in the finals, Polk said.

• Travis Mann, who was the first freshman in John Glenn's history to qualify for the state finals.

"I could really get used to this," said Polk. "It's been my pleasure to be involved in this program, with these kids and with this school district. This has been the biggest senior class that has truly been my pleasure to coach."

"This is a tremendous accomplishment to make it to states for two years and we expect a third year," added Swinehart.

School board members added their praise.

"We're very proud of you," said Trustee William Gabriel. "And to be a student athlete is a win-win for you and something for the community to be proud of. It's something no one can take from you."

"Congratulations on an impressive year and the academics, they don't always go together," said board President Skip Monit.

"I know it was a huge commitment and to keep up your academics, it will serve you well in college," added Trustee Carol Middel.

Rachel Ditmore, a sixth-grade student at Adams Middle School, shows off her winning entry in a contest to draw a picture the Westland Police Department's new dog Ty.

Student's drawing wins police contest

A drawing by Rachel Ditmore has been chosen as the winning entry in a contest to picture the Westland Police Department's new dog Ty.

Rachel, 11, is a sixth-grade student at Adams Middle School. Her colored picture was a portrait of canine Officer Grant Allen and Ty with a quote, "We depend on you. We're in good hands and paws."

When asked what inspired her to draw the picture Rachel said, "The police department does so much for us that I wanted to help them out. I never thought I would win, but was really excited when I found out."

The contest was open to all Westland residents age 12 and younger. Rachel's winning entry was selected by Allen and other members of the police department. The drawing will be framed and displayed in the police department lobby.

As the drawing contest winner, Rachel and her family joined officers Matt Bobby, Grant Allen and Deputy Chief Dan Karrick for a photo opportunity with Ty and a tour of the police department.

A one-year old Belgian Malinois, from Von der haus Gill German Shepherds Inc., Ty has begun his training with Allen as a full service-dog picking up where his predecessor, Drago, left off.

"On behalf of the City of Westland and the Westland Police Department, I would like to congratulate Rachel on her recognition. I have to agree with her that our city is in good hands and good paws," said Mayor William Wild.

While some newer pieces of playground equipment will be moved to the two schools from the six schools that are closing, the equipment being purchased is designed specifically for fifth- and sixth-graders.

Martin told the school board that the facilities and site committee spent hours going through sinking fund projects and prioritizing them "so that students will have a safe environment to come back to in the fall."

"This was really on a fast track and it's gone very well," he added.

Trustee William Gabriel pointed out that because the district is closing schools, it was able to role over sinking fund money and do additional projects.

"Money out of the sinking fund can only be used for capital improvements. By rolling over that money, we're able to expand the number of parking lots and loops we put in at the schools," he said.

However, Trustees Carol Middel and John Goci said the district needs to be cautious about the improvements being done and about what is spent out of the building and site fund.

Middel was the lone no vote in approving the bid awards. Work on the projects will begin June 21.

Expo offers facts, fun for area seniors

Nearly 1,000 people visited the 60-plus exhibitors and classes at last week's Senior Expo co-sponsored by the Observer & Eccentric/Hometown Newspapers and Schoolcraft College.

The VisiLaTech Center at Schoolcraft was packed early in the day with seniors eager to hear about new advances, techniques, information and services to make their lives easier.

Expo exhibitors included dentists, hearing aid providers, senior housing representatives and investment planners, among others. Classes focused on strength training, Medicare, eye health, dental health and home safety.

The crowd enjoyed free coffee courtesy of Solid Grounds Coffee House in Northville and orange juice and cinnamon melts provided by the McDonald's Corp.

"There's a lot of good information here, and you can always find something of interest to you," said one expo goer.

Save the Date: A fall Senior Health & Living Expo is planned for Friday, Oct. 15, at Oakland Community College, Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Hills. The focus is on health and living. Look for new classes, exhibits, demonstrations, health screenings, entertainment, free refreshments and door prizes. For exhibit and/or vendor information, call Choya Jordan at (313) 222-2414 or by e-mail at cbjordan@hometownlife.com.

The New Look on the Supreme Court?

If Elena Kagan isn't a name you recognize just yet, there is a good chance it will be soon. The country's Solicitor General is President Barack Obama's second nominee to the Supreme Court, in as many years. With the April 9 announcement by Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens of his retirement at the end of this term, there is no more speculating as to who will be nominated for this lifelong judicial appointment. So, could there be a better time than now to brush up on some American history?

As the highest judicial body in the United States, the Supreme Court leads the judicial branch of the U.S. federal government. Although many of us may be able to name the nine justices who make up today's Supreme Court, the court has not always been populated by nine justices.

The Judiciary Act of 1789, fixed the number of justices at just six. During the following 80 years the number of justices steadily increased to seven, nine and 10 and then fell back to nine and finally eight. The Circuit Judges Act of 1869 set the number back to nine, where it remains today - despite the workings of President Franklin Roosevelt. The court is made up of the Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices.

When referring to the history of the Supreme Court it is frequently described in terms of the chief justice who presided over it at that time. Since its inception 17 chief justices have had that privilege beginning with Chief Justice, from John Jay to our country's 17th Chief Justice, John Roberts.

Who then can become a Supreme Court Justice? Anyone nominated by the president and approved by the Senate can sit on the highest court in the land, although to date all justices have at least one thing in common - they have all been lawyers.

To learn more about the composition of the Supreme Court and in its role in the workings of our government why not pick up Joan Biskupic's "The Supreme Court at Work" or "The Supreme Court and the Powers of the American Government," Ellen Greenberg's "The Supreme Court Explained" or Jeffrey Toobin's "The Nine: Inside the Secret World of the Supreme Court?" For those of you interested in President Roosevelt's particular interest in the Supreme Court then read, Jeff Shesol's "Supreme Power: Franklin Roosevelt vs. the Supreme Court," just hot off the press.

What better way to find out about the inner workings of the Supreme Court than to gain an understanding of the life of the justices? Many biographies are available to help you do just that including James Newton's "Justice for All: Earl Warren and the Nation He Made," Linda Greenhouse's "Becoming Justice Blackmun: Harry Blackmun's Supreme Court Journey" and R. Kent Newmyer's "John Marshall and the Heroic Age of the Supreme Court," to name a few.

For those of you eager to get an overview of all the justices then editor Clare Cushman's, "The Supreme Court Justices: Illustrated Biographies," "Biographical Encyclopedia of the Supreme Court: the Lives and Legal Philosophies of the Justices" and Jeffrey, Rosen's "The Supreme Court: the Personalities and Rivalries that Defined America," should do the trick.

Exploring the cases ruled by the Supreme Court provides an understanding not only our country's past but our present and even a hint into our future. Maureen Harrison's "Freedom of Speech Decisions of the United States Supreme Court" and Kelly S. Janousek's "United States Supreme Court Decisions, 1778-1996: an Index to Excerpts, Reprints and Discussions" can help you get started.

No matter what's happening in our country, it's always the right time to learn more about our government, so stop by the library to find the answers to your questions. Call (734) 326-6123 or stop by the library seven days a week or check out our website at westlandlibrary.org 24/7 or Facebook. And remember you can always follow us on Twitter.

Friday Night Movie Madness: "It's Complicated," 7 p.m. May 28

Stop by the library every Friday evening in May for a screening of a new movie. This week's movie is "It's Complicated." When brought together at a family event, two ex's find themselves oddly attracted to each other after 10 years of divorce. Although the couple thinks that this affair will stay in a different state, it brings itself back to their own city and disrupts their personal lives. While the couple still maintains other romances, they cannot help but to continue with their affair. Rated R. No registration is required. This is an after-hours program. Library doors open at 6:30 p.m.

Information Central was compiled by reference librarian Marilyn Kwik. The William P. Faust Public Library is at 6123 Central City Parkway, Westland. For more information, call (734) 326-6123 or go online to westlandlibrary.org.

GARDEN CLIPPINGS

At the market

On Wednesday, May 26, the Garden City Farmers Market will celebrate Nurses Week with Garden City Hospital. Stop in at the market and visit the hospital's booth.

And remember, now is the time to plant your flowers. Many varieties available including potted plants, hanging baskets, perennials and annuals as well as herbs.

It's also the fourth Wednesday of the month, time for the Farmers' Market basket drawing.

The market is open 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the northeast corner of Ford and Middlebelt in the Garden City Town Center plaza.

Garage sale

Looking for some cheap entertainment and/or a way to get rid of your extra quality materials (junk)?

Join Garden City Public Schools as it hosts a Community Garage Sale 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, May 29 in the high school parking lot. Single- or double-wide parking spots will be available for rent. We have a limited number of tables for rent. If you cannot spend the entire day at the sale or would like to take a shopping break, organizers will provide "space sitters" for you. High school students who need community volunteer hours, will sit in your space and sell your items for the prices marked (they will not negotiate).

Set-up starts at 7 am. Food booths will be available.

The cost is $25 for a single lot, $40 for a double lot. Each additional lot is $10. Tables are available at $5 each.

Money raised from the space rentals will be used to purchase ceiling tiles for our schools.

Spaces will be assigned on a first-come first served basis. The map of the parking spots is available at Central Office and is also available on the district's website at www.gardencityschools.com. Call Dorothy at (734) 762-6311 to reserve space. Reservations should be made on or before May 24.

11th District GOP sponsor Lincoln/Reagan Day Dinner

The Wayne 11th Congressional District Republican Committee will have Dr. Gary Wolfram, economic and public policies professor at Hillsdale College, as the keynote speaker at its Lincoln/Reagan Day Dinner Thursday, May 27.

The dinner will be held at Summit On The Park, 46000 Summit Parkway, Canton, and will serve as a fund-raiser for Republican candidates as well as provide for networking with elected officials, community activists and precinct delegates is the Wayne 11th Congressional District.

"The Republican candidates that have stepped forward to run for elected office offer real change, from lowering taxes, to reforming government, to fostering more investment and jobs growth in our State. That's real change Michigan needs today," said Carl Berry, chairman of the Wayne 11th CDRC.

The doors open at 5:30 p.m. for a Meet the Candidates session and the program begins at 7 p.m. Tickets are $50 per person and a table of eight is $350. For ticket, e-mail info@wayne11th.com.

Wolfram is the William E. Simon Professor of Economics and Public Policy and Director of Economics at Hillsdale College, and President of Hillsdale Policy Group, a consulting firm specializing in taxation and policy analysis.

He is a member and former chairman of the Board of Trustees of Lake Superior State University, served as a member of Michigan's State Board of Education from 1993 to 1999, was chairman of the Headlee Amendment Blue Ribbon Commission and has been a member of the Michigan Enterprise Zone Authority, the Michigan Strategic Fund Board and the Michigan State Housing Development Authority Board.

Wolfram's public policy experience includes serving as U.S. Rep. Nick Smith's Chief of Staff, Michigan's Deputy State Treasurer for Taxation and Economic Policy under former Gov. John Engler, and Senior Economist to the Republican Senate in Michigan.

Joining him at the podium will be featured speaker Paul Kersey, director of labor policy for the Mackinac Center for Public Policy in Midland.

Kersey became director of labor policy at the Mackinac Center for Public Policy in September 2007, having served as the center's senior labor policy analyst since December 2006. As director, Kersey leads the center's Labor Policy Initiative and researches labor and employment issues.

After practicing law in Livonia for several years, Kersey served on the staff of the U.S. House of Representatives Government Reform and Oversight Committee. He then spent three years at the National Right to Work Committee as director of state legislation. In that role, he analyzed and responded to labor legislation in all 50 states.

According to Berry, the goal of the 11th CDRC is to deliver the message of Republican candidates through grassroots efforts and modern technology.

"We can't only rely on those that have large financial resources for our support," said Carl Berry, chairman of the Wayne 11th CDRC. "We need to focus our efforts and message on the average citizen. Our message also needs to be very relevant to all demographics."

The committee offers community outreach in the district through various channels, such as online social networking on Facebook, the Wayne 11th CDRC website, recruiting, training and engaging over more than 800 precinct delegates, and hosting "awareness" forums throughout the district to inform people about the issues and to mobilize support.

The Wayne 11th Congressional District Republican Committee covers the communities of Belleville, Canton township, Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Redford Township, Van Buren Township, Wayne and Westland. Its focus is primarily on the state and local election efforts.

Ammons HR keys Glenn victory; Stevenson sets season win mark

Derrick Ammons, hit by a pitch his first two times up to the plate, belted a tape measure 3-run homer in the fourth inning Wednesday to lift host Westland John Glenn to an 8-4 KLAAs Kensington Conference baseball crossover win over South Lyon East.

Colton Lipinski went 2-for-3 and scored three runs, while Andrew McGrath added two hits, two RBI and scored twice as Glenn improved to 3-18 overall.

Winning pitcher Spencer Dowd went the first six innings, scattering 10 hits and two walks. He struck out six before giving way to McGrath in the seventh.

Peter Radakovic had two hits for the Cougars (6-17), while Ryan Ferguson added an RBI double.

Steve Kopeck, the East starter, suffered the loss.

STEVENSON 10, N. FARMINGTON 0: Livonia Stevenson (24-4) recorded its school-record 24th win Thursday with a five-inning mercy rule victory over visiting North Farmington (12-14).

The Spartans, ranked No. 4 in the latest Division 1 statewide coaches poll, got a solo homer from Dan Lopez and two hits apiece from Matt Shain, who also had three RBI, and Mark Wagner.

Jeff Sorenson and Mike Vomastek also knocked in runs for the Spartans, who jumped out to an 8-0 lead after two innings before adding two more in the fifth.

Winning pitcher Chris McDonald, a sophomore, gave up just three hits and two walks while fanning four in five innings.

WAYNE 20, SALEM 11: Homers by Shane Wilson and James Nutt propelled Wayne Memorial (7-14) to a Kensington Conference crossover triumph Wednesday over the visiting Rocks (10-13).

Dominik Corredino collected three of the Zebras' 13 hits. Winning pitcher Zach Lloyd went the first 5.1 innings to pick up the win.

Salem, which defeated the Zebras on Monday, 10-0, trailed 11-4 before rallying for seven runs in the top of the sixth to tie it.

But Wayne scored nine times in the bottom half of the inning to post the win.

FRANKLIN 8, SOUTH LYON 2: On Wednesday, Steven Wells went 4-for-4 with a pair of doubles and three runs scored as host Livonia Franklin (11-15) downed the Lions (11-15) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Dan Muller also went 3-for-4 with four RBI as Franklin jumped out to a 7-0 advantage after two innings.

Winning pitcher Joel Trudell went all seven innings allowing just two hits and a pair of walks. Both runs were unearned. The sophomore struck out three.

Ryan Finneran took the loss as South Lyon pitchers gave up a total of 13 hits.

PLYMOUTH 7, STEVENSON 5: Matt Priebe's 3-run homer in the bottom of the sixth proved to be the difference Wednesday as the host Wildcats (13-11) ambushed KLAAs Central Division co-champion Livonia Stevenson (23-5).

Mike Nadratowski also went 3-for-3 and scored three runs, while Phil Emminger contributed two hits and an RBI for Plymouth.

Jackson Burdette, who pitched the final 2.2 innings in relief, got the victory. He gave up one run on three hits and four walks.

Losing pitcher Nick Anderson, who also pitched in relief, allowed three runs on three hits in 1.1 innings as the Spartans' six-game winning streak came to an end.

Tyler Lynch went 3-for-4 with two RBI, while Matt Shain added two RBI for the Spartans, who left the bases loaded in the second, fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

Patriots go deep

The Livonia Franklin baseball team recently staged a home run derby fundraiser and donated half of the proceeds on May 7 to Area 23 Special Olympics. Terry Jobbitt (middle) of Area 23 Special Olympic Games Committee Coordinator was presented the check of $1,635 by Franklin varsity coach Matt Fournier (right) and his players. A total of $3,270 was raised as players, coaches and family members sold sponsorships for $10 apiece with each homer going to the cause. Prizes were also donated for event which included gift cards and Tiger tickets.

A NOTICE TO ALL FELLOW CITIZENS: WE'RE LENDING.

THE WHEELS OF COMMERCE ARE SLOWLY ROLLING FORWARD. As a good bank, we're out there helping them pick up speed. In other words, we're lending. We're lending because that's what a bank is supposed to do. In fact, it's the whole idea behind banking. When a business pays back a loan, we can invest in another business. We're lending because businesses can quickly turn into ever more successful enterprises and we believe in facilitating that growth. We're lending because lending makes businesses stronger, and the communities we live in stronger. (And we live here, too.) That's why we're lending. Upset special

Spartans stop No. 2-ranked Northville in rain, 2-1

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It was the perfect storm Friday night for the Livonia Stevenson girls soccer team. The Spartans turned in one of their top efforts of the season by upending visiting Northville, the state's No. 2-ranked team in Division 1, by a 2-1 count. Sophomore Emily Chrzasz tallied the game-winning goal on a cannon shot from 18 yards out with 25 minutes remaining. The game, which was delayed at the start because of thunderstorms in the area, was eventually called by game officials with nine minutes remaining. Northville, the KLAAs Central champion, suffered its first defeat and falls to 13-1-2 overall and 8-1-1 in the division. Stevenson improves to 8-4-3 and 5-4-1. "It was a great win for our program," Stevenson first-year coach Chris Grodzicki said. "It gives us confidence going into the (KLAAs) conference and state (district) playoffs. It's the best we've played in awhile." Northville scored first at the 4-minute mark of the opening half, but Stevenson senior Renee Boudreau answered a minute later on an unassisted effort after stealing a

KLAAs SOCCER

Northville clearance in the back. Stevenson goalkeeper Michelle Krawczyk made six saves, while senior Kayla Kimble spearheaded the defense from her stopper position. "It's the best Kayla has played since the Troy Athens game," Grodzicki said. Stevenson moves into third place in the KLAAs Central and travels Monday to face Livonia Churchill in a Kensington Conference crossover. The Spartans, ironically, will open Division 1 district play against Northville. STEVENSON 6, S.L. EAST 0: Amanda Jenaway's hat trick carried Livonia Stevenson (7-4-3, 4-4-1) to a KLAAs Central Division triumph Thursday at South Lyon East (3-10-2, 0-8-1). Renee Boudreau added a goal and assist for the Spartans, who led 3-0 at halftime. Kassity Truxell and Molly McConnell also added goals. Goalkeeper Caitie Marchione went all 80 minutes, making a pair of saves, to record the shutout. CHURCHILL 5, JOHN GLENN 0: A stingy defense propelled Livonia Churchill (7-7-1, 6-3-1) to a KLAAs South Division victory Thursday at Westland John Glenn (4-10-2, 2-6-2). Sarah Bauman scored a pair of goals for the Chargers, who led 4-0 at halftime. Nicole Marlow added a penalty kick, while Kayla Szado and Stephanie Panaretos also tallied goals. Assists went Rachel Blackney and Melissa Roe. Churchill goalkeepers Kaylie Secord (first half) and Chelsea Manasian (second half) combined on the shutout and weren't required to make a save. "We dominated the action and were able to play in different systems so it was a good game as we look to close out the season," Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit said. "This young team is continuing to improve as we gear up for a postseason run." FRANKLIN 2, WAYNE 2: On Thursday, Makenzie Meyers scored with only 25 seconds remaining off a corner kick from Lauren Zentz to give Livonia Franklin (0-15-2, 0-8-2) a KLAAs South Division tie at Wayne Memorial (3-11-1, 1-8-1). Meyers scored twice in the second half with the other assist coming from Natalie Desautel. Aimee Papineau scored both goals for the Zebras, also coming during the final 40 minutes of action.

Remember the Titans

Stevenson falls to Plymouth, 3-1

Lauren Smith pitched a complete-game 4-hitter and Elaine Gerou went 2-for-3 with a run scored Wednesday as host Plymouth downed Livonia Stevenson in a Kensington Conference girls softball crossover, 3-1. Smith struck out seven and allowed just one walk as the Wildcats improved to 17-4 overall. Losing pitcher Jacqueline Johnson gave up seven hits, struck out three and did not allow a walk in going six innings. Shelby Wilson led Stevenson (20-11) with two hits, including a double and stolen base. SALEM 6, FRANKLIN 0: Briana Lee tossed a 2-hitter Wednesday as the visiting Rocks scored six times in the sixth inning to beat Livonia Franklin (18-14) in a Kensington Conference crossover. Salem broke open the scoreless game with five singles, a double and a homer in the top of the sixth to hand sophomore Tiffany Lamble (12-12) the setback.

Lamble allowed nine hits and struck out six. Lee, a junior, struck out six and did not allow a walk in seven innings. NORTHVILLE 2, CHURCHILL 1: On Wednesday, Meredith Williams' 2-run triple in the fifth inning rallied the visiting Mustangs (7-11) to the Kensington Conference crossover triumph over Livonia Churchill (17-12). Northville collected nine hits off Churchill starter Natalie Hiser, who suffered the loss. Hiser, meanwhile, collected two of Churchill's six hits.

Blazers reach league final with OT goal, 2-1

Livonia Ladywood's late season push continued Thursday with a dramatic 2-1 overtime victory at Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard in the semifinals of the Catholic League girls soccer tournament. Ladywood's Paige Brennan dribbled down the middle of the field and found herself in a one-on-one situation with Gabriel Richard goalkeeper Anna Zekany, who made the initial save before the sophomore midfielder banged home the game-winning rebound. "I believe that is Paige's fourth or fifth game-winning goal this year," Ladywood coach Ken Shingledecker said. "I couldn't be any prouder of my senior captains - Sydney DeLosh, Shea McParlane, and Rachel Maceri - and how they have kept this team organized and motivated." The Blazers, who improved to 9-3-4 overall with the victory, earned a spot in Saturday's Catholic League championship game at home against Birmingham Marian, which is ranked No. 2 in Division 2. Ladywood led 1-0 at halftime on when Dominique Sarnecky collected an errant kick by the Richard goalkeeper and scored in the 33rd minute. The Fighting Irish, ranked No. 6 in Division 3, evened the count at 1-1 on when Natalia Collins scored off a volley on a cross. Ladywood keeper Maddie

GIRLS SOCCER

Reed made six saves, while Zekany had five. "Maddie Reed was fantastic," Shingledecker said. "She wasn't tested too much early, but she was forced to make multiple saves for us in the last 20 minutes of regulation." CLARENCEVILLE 9, HARPER WOODS 1: On Wednesday, hat tricks by Teresa Parent and Kristen Jolly propelled host Livonia Clarenceville (5-7-1) to a Metro Conference victory over the Pioneers. Ashley Murphy also scored twice for the victorious Trojans, while Britney Olds also added a goal in the mercy rule win. Goalkeepers Katelyn Quirk and Megan Strachan combined for the shutout.

MIAC leaders Warriors, HVL roll

Lutheran High Westland continued to maintain a firm grip on first place in the Blue Division of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference with an 11-0 mercy-rule win in five innings Friday at home over Sterling Heights Parkway Christian. Winning pitcher Jake Andrezejewski went all five innings, allowing just three hits and one walk. He struck out four as the Warriors improved to 15-4 overall and 10-1 in the division. Andrezejewski also helped his own cause going 2-for-2 at the plate with a pair of RBI and two runs scored. Gage Flanery and Tony Cipolla each contributed three hits, while Marc Rosin went 2-for-3 with two RBI. The loss drops Parkway to 5-12 and 2-8. HURON VALLEY 23, FRANKLIN ROAD 8: A 22-hit attack highlighted by Mark St. John's 4-for-4 effort Thursday powered host Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (14-1, 11-0), the MIAC Red Division leader, to a five-inning mercy rule win over visiting Novi Franklin Road Christian (5-4 MIAC Red). St. Johnson had a homer, two doubles and four RBI. Shawn Schaffer went 4-for-6 with five RBI, while Shane Bunde was 3-for-5 with three RBI. Winning pitcher Andy Barber scattered nine and five walks while striking out 10. Vince Montoro went 3-for-3 with two RBI, while Shaun Nelson was 2-for-3 with two RBI for the Warriors. Starter Seth Rayburn suffered the loss. LUTH. WESTLAND 3, LUTH. N'WEST 1: Marc Rosin's 2-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning powered Red Division leader Lutheran High Westland (14-4, 9-1) to a MIAC Blue Division win over visiting Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest (13-8, 7-4). Rosin's homer came with two outs as the Warriors broke a 1-1 deadlock. The Warriors scored their other run in the third on a double by winning pitcher Gage Flanery followed by a two-out single from Taurrek Fikes. Flanery went six innings, allowing one runs on four hits and four walks. He struck out two. Josh Andrezejewski and Flanery combined for four of the Warriors' seven total hits. Reliever Austin Baglow came on in the seventh to pick up the save. Losing pitcher Eric Mischley went six innings, allowing one walk and fanning three. He also went 2-for-3. CLARENCEVILLE 9, HAZEL PARK 8: In a see-saw non-conference game on Wednesday, Livonia Clarenceville (13-14) emerged the victor over the host Vikings thanks to late RBI hits by Jimmy Moody and Eric Trotter. Winning pitcher Ben Gehan went the first five innings, allowing four earned runs. Reliever Damien Quarles allowed one unearned run over the final two innings to pick up the save. Clarenceville led 2-0 after one inning as Quarles led off with a double and Trotter followed with a walk. Both scored on an aggressive base running on a Gehan groundout. Trotter then added a 2-run double in the left field corner to give the Trojans a 4-3 lead in the top of the third.

Spring puck champs

On April 16-18, the Michigan Bucks spring hockey team captured the Midget AA Division of Detroit Action Tournament Series at the Wayne Civic and Westland Modano arenas with wins over the Bloomfield Gamblers, Westland Warriors and Belle Tire. Members of the Bucks include: Brendan Hay, Garrett Duffany, Christian Wood, John Mandryk, Travis Gosselein, Kyle Wrathell, Eric Peters, Josh York, Patrick Coliton, Mark Brandstatter, Doug Perchall, Adam Kleven, Jimmy Labby, Sean Winkelseth, Jason Blacha, Gerry Kroft and Andrew Palushaj. The coaching staff includes George Wrathell, Pat York and John Winkelseth.

The Monarchs will take on Friday's other semifinal winner between Farmington Hills Mercy and Warren Regina.

Mercy captured the Central Division title with a 10-2 record following a split last Sunday of a doubleheader with Blazers, who wound up in second place at 8-4.

Ladywood won the first game, 3-2, to pull within a game of first before dropping the nightcap, 3-1, as the Marlins took the division title outright and clinched the top seed for the Catholic League playoffs.

In Tuesday's quarterfinal, Ladywood ousted visiting Pontiac Notre Dame Prep in a five-inning mercy, 11-1, as Carl SanMillan collected three of the Blazers' 13 total hits.

Combs threw a no-hitter and struck out six to earn the win. Last Saturday, Ladywood captured the Charlotte Tournament with victories over Hastings (4-0 in the finals), Fowlerville (15-1) and Mason (6-0).

Combs earned victories on the mound in both the opener and final, but her amount of starts has to be monitored because of her injuries. As a freshman, Briana Combs pitched the Blazers all the way to the Division 2 state finals before losing to Niles in the championship, 3-0.

"They did an MRI and she tore ligaments on both sides — she can't run or bat," Scott Combs said. "She felt them both pop and she laid on the ground for 15 minutes. We've put on a brace and she'll sit out every second or third game. The doctor said she can hurt it anymore. Then we'll take care of it after we're done with the season."

Motor City Youth Theatre revving up for show, summer camps

BY SHARON DARGAY
O&E STAFF WRITER

As a child, Nancy Florkowski aspired to become an actor. At 61, the Redford woman and founder of Motor City Youth Theatre, still recalls the experience that crushed her dreams.

"I had a music teacher in junior high who made us audition. I was too shy to do it. I was really little and there were older girls standing there with make-up and ratted hair. I was so scared I couldn't sing. I never performed until after college.

"I feel like I was denied an opportunity because of that music teacher," Florkowski said. "She deflated my balloon. I don't want any kid to be denied this opportunity."

For 20 years her youth theater has remained true to its mission of helping "all children" improve their speaking, dance, music, artistic and life skills.

"We don't turn anyone away. That's what makes us different from most groups."

Florkowski said the troupe has included special needs children and young actors from a variety of skill levels and ages.

The theatre grew out of Florkowski's master's degree project at Eastern Michigan University. The former special education and middle school drama teacher also holds a an education specialist degree in special education. Offering summer programs in conjunction with Redford Schools, the Redford Youth Theatre — Motor City Youth Theatre's original name — drew students from throughout the district. As the troupe grew and expanded its offerings, "kids came out of the woodwork" from communities throughout southeastern Michigan. The theater changed its name to Tinderbox Productions and finally, Motor City Youth Theatre, as it moved from Redford to Detroit to its own build-

The cast of 'Seussical Jr.' at Motor City Youth Theatre in Livonia.

MOTOR CITY YOUTH THEATRE

Spring show: "Seussical Jr.," 7:30 p.m., May 28-29, June 4-5 and 2 p.m. May 30, June 6. All seats are $12. The Grantland Street Playhouse is located at 27555 Grantland, Livonia. (313) 535-8962

Theatre Day Camp: Musical Theatre and Motown Workshop runs 9 a.m.-noon, Monday-Friday, July 5-30. No audition is necessary and the program is open to age 8-18. Students learn Broadway and Motown songs and dances and perform on July 30. Campers also will get a chance to sing at the Redford Arts Festival, July 24-25. Cost is $250 for students with family memberships; $300 for new students. The afternoon session costs $275 for those with family memberships and $300 for new students. It will focus on Shakespeare from 1-4 p.m., Monday-Friday, July 5-30. Students will perform "A Midsummer Night's Dream" Aug. 6-8. Auditions for lead roles are 7 p.m., Monday, May 24. Students should prepare a minute-long sonnet or monologue from a Shakespeare play. To download a registration form visit www.mcyt.org.

ing in Livonia six years ago.

TRI-COUNTY CAST

"In this (upcoming) production of Seussical Jr., we don't have one Redford kid," Florkowski noted. But the show, which begins a two-week-end run May 28, brings cast members together from Livonia, Westland, Canton, Farmington Hills, Novi, Northville, Clinton Township, Royal Oak, Beverly Hills, Lathrup Village, Clinton Township, Dearborn Heights and Brownstown Township.

Florkowski's son, Jody, a former teacher at Berkley High School who's active at Stagecrafters in Royal Oak, is directing the production. Her husband, Fred, who co-founded the theater and designs sets, teaches scenic design at Wayne State University where he serves as technical director for the Bonstelle Theatre. Their daughter, Jenny, works in New York as an actor and has toured nationally in musicals, including Cats and White Christmas.

"Our whole family is in it. Once it (theater) gets into your blood you can't get it out of your system," she said.

SHAKESPEARE AND MOIRE

She expanded Motor City Youth Theatre's programming by adding an annual Shakespeare production that maintains most of the original language ("I've always been a purist with Shakespeare") and last year started Broadway Kids, which teaches musical theatre.

"We do a lot of community outreach," she noted. "Yesterday we were at Starfish (Family) Services. The kids sang for toddlers. I think the community service makes it more of a community organization, not just 'we're divas and we're going to be in a play.' They enjoy helping others."

It may not be long before the group finds itself in a new venue. The existing theater is for sale and the Florkowskis are looking for a new site.

"We've outgrown this building," Florkowski explained, adding that larger quarters would be "so wonderful."

"We could build the stage the way we wanted."

Golf to help greyhounds, walk with Humane Society

Michigan Retired Greyhounds as Pets (REGAP) will present its 11th Annual Golf to Save Greyhounds on Saturday, June 5, at Tanglewood Golf Course in South Lyon.

The event helps Regap rescue greyhounds, provide them with medical care and place them into safe and loving homes.

The greyhounds rescued by Regap might otherwise be destroyed after running at various racetracks that operate in 11 states. Tracks have closed in the last year in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Wisconsin, meaning more greyhounds need help more than ever.

Regap's quest to stop the industry from killing thousands of dogs a year will continue until every track closes and every greyhound has a chance at life off the track.

Individual tickets to the golf outing are $125; foursomes pay $400. Admission includes a cart, contests and prizes, gifts, lunch, beverages, raffle tickets, door prizes and dinner.

The day will begin with continental breakfast at 8 a.m. and a "Putt for Pups" contest. The Spring Scramble tee off is at 10 a.m.

Rescued greyhounds, and their humans will be on hand at appointed holes, greeting golfers and reminding them why they are there having so much fun.

After the golf game, Spring Scramble prizes will be awarded, sponsors honored and a buffet dinner will be served. A raffle will include such prizes as an exclusive Boyne get-away, golf at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, spa experiences and more.

Regap also is accepting tax-deductible Major ($350) and Happy Tail Tee ($100) sponsors for the event, as well as prizes for the raffle. For sponsorship details and golf forms visit www.rescuedgreyhounds.org or write to RegapGolf@yahoo.com or call (248) 921-4041 to register and charge by phone.

Tanglewood Golf Course is located at 53503 10 Mile.

WALK AT A MANSION

Hundreds of animal lovers will take a scenic stroll to benefit the Michigan Humane Society (MHS) from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., Sunday, June 6, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House in Grosse Pointe Shores. The 22nd annual Mutt

Mike Birch of Plymouth is ready to golf and help rescued greyhounds.

March will offer several walking routes and refreshments will be provided for both individuals and dogs. All walkers turning in $100 or more the day of the walk will receive an official Mutt March T-shirt and each canine participant will receive a bandana.

Last year's event drew more than 500 walkers and raised more than $50,000. Proceeds benefit the Michigan Humane Society, which protects, rescues, and cares for more than 100,000 animals each year.

Pre-registration is not required, but individual walkers and teams can set up personalized Web pages and collect donations online at www.michiganhumane.org/muttmarch.

Those walking with a canine companion must bring his or her current vaccination records. Dogs must be on leashes at all times.

The Edsel & Eleanor Ford House is located at 1100 Lake Shore Road between Eight Mile (Vernier) and Nine Mile in Grosse Pointe Shores. For more information or to register, call (866) MHUMANE or visit www.michiganhumane.org/MuttMarch.

MHS is based in Bingham Farms and operates adoption centers in Detroit, Westland and Rochester Hills.

Ready for adoption

Hello, my name is Chelsey. I just arrived in Michigan from a Greyhound racetrack in Florida. I am loving life at my foster home, playing with toys and running just for fun. Everyone says I'm a beautiful girl, with my fawn-colored coat and my big brown eyes. I would love to meet you if you are interested in adding a loving companion in your life. I would love to have my very own "Forever Home" and someone to love me. Please call Greyheart Greyhound Rescue and Adoption at (866) 438-4739 and you must visit our website and check out another lovely picture of me, www.greyheart.org.

'BOWLING FOR RHINOS' SET FOR JUNE 12

The Detroit chapter of the American Association of Zookeepers (AAZK) is inviting bowlers to help save rhinoceroses "one pin at a time" at the 21st annual "Bowling for Rhinos." The bowl-athon for the conservation of endangered rhinos will be held 7 p.m. Saturday, June 12, at Fairlanes Bowl in Madison Heights.

Bowlers may register individually or form a team of four to five for the event, which features bowling, a silent auction and 50/50 raffle. The registration fee is $10 and includes shoe rental, two games, pizza and soft drinks. Bowlers are asked to collect sponsor money of a minimum $15 for adults and $10 for children. All donations are tax deductible. Participants who raise over $50 will receive a "Bowling for Rhinos" T-shirt.

Registration forms and fees should be received by June 5 as space is limited. Anyone who is unable to attend the event but would like to support rhino conservation can visit www.aazk-detroit.org to make a donation.

Fairlanes Bowl is located at 29600 Stevenson Highway at 13 Mile Road in Madison Heights. Further information on "Bowling for Rhinos" is available by calling (248) 541-5717, Ext. 3000, or e-mailing aazk@detroitzoo.org.

Each year, over 40 AAZK chapters throughout the United States participate in "Bowling for Rhinos," raising over $200,000 annually since 1990. The Detroit Zoo chapter alone has raised over $145,000 to date.

One hundred percent of the proceeds directly benefit three rhino conservation projects in Africa and Asia.

The Detroit Zoological Society is a nonprofit organization that operates the Detroit Zoo and Belle Isle Nature Zoo. The Detroit Zoo is located at the intersection of 10 Mile and Woodward Avenue, just off I-696, in Royal Oak.

Arthritis Today

JOSEPH J. WEISS, M.D. RHEUMATOLOGY
18829 Farmington Road
Livonia, Michigan 48152
Phone: (248) 478-7860

DECEPTION IN ARTHRITIS

The usual way that arthritis presents is as a swollen knee or painful shoulder. But not always.

In certain instances a person with arthritis will not note any joint pain for years, but over that time will experience episodes of diarrhea and stomach cramps. These intestinal difficulties seem to have an answer: eating spoiled food or tasting something that "disagreed with you."

One day the person awakes with ankle pain and swelling. The explanation of an injury doesn't make sense because no such episode occurred. Over the next week the ankle pain increases and the swelling remains. A doctor's appointment follows.

He takes a history including the past bowel problems and examines all the joints with attention to the ankle. He aspirates any fluid in the ankle joint for laboratory analysis; he may take an x-ray of the ankle.

With all the information in hand, he may then inform the patient that he or she has the arthritis of bowel disease, that is, the ankle arthritis is part of a larger problem and treatment requires a medicine for the bowel disease and another medicine for the arthritis.

A similar scenario can occur in people who have psoriasis but are unaware that the patches of dry skin on their arms or legs are psoriatic lesions. Knee or hand joint swells and then the patient learns that the diagnosis is psoriatic arthritis.

Each episode of arthritis deserves evaluation. Tracking the cause may lead to a message that the body never meant to convey.

The bell tower at Rosedale Garden Presbyterian Church was under renovation for several months.

CRAFTERS NEEDED

St. John's Episcopal Church in Westland is looking for crafters and vendors who want to participate in the church's craft sale on Saturday, Oct. 9. For more information, call St. John's at (734) 721-5023.

BELLS WORKING AGAIN

If you live near Rosedale Garden Presbyterian Church in Livonia, you may have noticed scaffolding at the bell tower and silence the past few months.

According to Bill Dunphy, a member, the church's 46-year-old bell tower "was constructed poorly, allowing water to seep in and damage a significant portion of its brick façade causing joint and mortar deterioration and separation of the limestone from the tower." The bells fell out of their fixtures and the cross on the tower began to lean.

It took four months to complete construction work, which involved more than 5,000 damaged bricks. Dunphy said a metal support frame was installed inside the tower "because the original back-up wall had been improperly constructed."

"If you look up near the top of the tower you will notice that it is slightly larger than the lower part. That serves two purposes — a transition in the brick color, and more room for the new interior metal framework."

The bells are ringing again after the 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Sunday services, funerals, and weddings. Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, located at 9601 Hubbard, offers a full music program with four handbell choirs and an adult vocal choir, as well. A staff of 20 individuals coordinates music, outreach, adult Bible study, Vacation Bible School and youth group. For more information call (734) 422-0494, or visit www.rosedalegardens.org.

AAUW lauds Livonia's Callow

The Livonia chapter of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) and one of its members, received awards at the organization's annual state convention held earlier this month at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

The Livonia branch earned the "Mission Matters" award for promoting AAUW's mission of advancing equity for women and girls through advocacy, education and research.

Laura Carter Callow, a Livonia resident, earned the prestigious Martha Griffiths Award. During the 1970s and 1980s Callow worked for the ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment on both the state and national levels. Helen Milliken, wife of former Michigan governor William Milliken, referred to her as the "Susan B. Anthony of Michigan."

In 1972, because of discriminatory credit policies, Callow helped found the Northwest Wayne County chapter of the National Organization for Women. She spoke favor of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) at numerous conferences, meetings, and high school and college classes, including the University of Michigan Law School and School of Social Work.

In 1975, Callow was sent as a delegate to the League of Women Voters for a new coalition entitled W.O.M.E.N., which brought together women's rights organizations. She was elected as secretary. The organizations and others joined Michigan ERAmerica which concentrated its efforts on ratification of ERA. She served ERAmerica as co-chair throughout the extensions granted those states which had not ratified the Amendment.

Callow served on the Women's Advisory Committee of Schoolcraft Community College from 1970-2009 and received an honorary degree in 2007. She also served on the Livonia Human Relations Commission from 1989-2005 and was named to its honor roll in 2007.

In 1980, Callow received the Alice Paul Award from the Metropolitan Detroit Area chapters of NOW and was appointed as a delegate to the Regional White House Conference of Families. She received the Salute to Women Award from the AAUW Livonia branch in 1978 and the Liz Kummer Award from AAUW of Michigan in 2004. She served as president of the Livonia branch of AAUW from 2007-2008 and currently is its Public Policy Chair.

Members of the American Association of University Women gathered at Schoolcraft College this month for their state convention. Several members who posed for a photograph are: Kathy Shaw, (left, standing) Battle Creek and Marshall branches and immediate past president of the Michigan AAUW; Eleanor "Coco" Siewert, Birmingham branch and a member of the Michigan AAUW board; Polly Pan, Ann Arbor branch and Michigan AAUW vice president of finance; Pat Fosdick, Battle Creek branch; Carolyn Blackmore-Bell, Dearborn branch; Josie Burke, Wyandotte-Downriver branch; Jennie Lombard, Ann Arbor branch and vice president of membership for the Michigan AAUW; Beth Haynes, Wyandotte-Downriver branch; Sharon Belobraidich, Plymouth-Canton branch and a Michigan AAUW board member; Deb Ensign, Battle Creek branch and a Michigan AAUW board member; Gloria Conn, Wyandotte-Downriver and Ann Arbor branches; Janet Watkins, Detroit and Ann Arbor branches and a Michigan AAUW board member; Mickey Edell, Plymouth-Canton branch and a Michigan AAUW board member; Pam Hoffman, (seated left) Birmingham branch; Betty Chenoweth, Midland branch and a Michigan AAUW board member; Sally Doty, Birmingham branch and president of the Michigan AAUW; Delores "Doree" Miller, Wyandotte-Downriver and Ann Arbor branches; Barbara Bonsignore, Rochester and Detroit branches and a Michigan AAUW board member, and Charlotte Mahrt, Birmingham branch.

'Overcome' words inspire

Publicist hopes personal story will help others with lupus

BY WENDY VON BUSKIRK
CORRESPONDENT

When Mida Giragosian breezes into a business meeting, you'd never guess she may have just come from dialysis. Polished and pulled together, she's positive and full of energy as she helps her clients grow their businesses through expert publicity campaigns. Only her closest friends know she has achieved her success as co-owner of Lapidis Publicity Giragosian despite 23 years of health challenges including lupus, kidney failure and quadruple bypass heart surgery.

Mida Giragosian

Now, during National Lupus Awareness Month, Giragosian is sharing her story in the hope it will help others facing challenges of their own.

The Royal Oak resident penned a chapter in the new book You Will Overcome: 52 Entrepreneurial Stories to Guide You in any Economy by Minesh Baxi (Minesh Baxi and Associates LLC, The Busy Manager Series, $19.95, March, 2010).

In it, she discloses her lifelong battle with lupus, a chronic disease that causes the immune system to attack the body's own cells and tissues.

Giragosian contracted lupus at age 21, and the debilitating condition caused such despair it broke up her young marriage and even drove her to attempt suicide.

She credits friends and family, especially older sister Anne Kersten, with saving her life.

"When I was first diagnosed, I was in deep depression. Every day my sister called me every 30 minutes, while she was at work or wherever, just to see if I was okay. I would just cry. Every weekend she'd take me away to Chicago or Florida or somewhere," Giragosian said. "My friends would pick me up and take me around the block just to get me out and to see things besides darkness."

A NEW JOB

When Giragosian was 28, her lupus finally went into remission and life began looking brighter, especially when her older sister, Annie, got her a job at Lapidis Publicity in Royal Oak.

"They put me in front of a fax machine and they said, 'here, push these numbers,'" Giragosian said. "I faxed all day. I stapled. That's about all I could do, but I loved it. I was having so much fun because I wasn't thinking about my health."

Giragosian excelled at work and began training under Lisa Lapidis-Sawicki, eventually becoming her partner and best friend, and one of the best "pitch people" in the business.

Her body grew strong enough for a kidney transplant, and her brother proved a perfect match. He donated his kidney in 2001, and after 12 years on dialysis, Giragosian was able to enjoy a "normal" life.

She moved to an apartment in Royal Oak and relished being on her own for the first time at age 38.

Yet recovery proved short-lived. In 2006, two days before Christmas, Giragosian suffered a heart attack and was faced with a devastating choice.

Doctors urged her to agree to a heart catheterization, even though there was a 90 percent chance the dye used in the procedure would cause her new kidney to fail.

"It took me a half an hour with six doctors hovering over me to make that decision. Finally I signed away my kidney just like that. It was hard for the doctors, too. Just like that my kidney was gone," she said. "I knew what was facing me. I wasn't even thinking of the quadruple bypass, which was like being hit by a car. I could only think of going back to dialysis."

INNER STRENGTH

Lapidis-Sawicki said Giragosian is an inspiration. "All of us other mortals complain about little things that are not life threatening, and here is Mida conquering serious health challenges and limitations every day. Things that we take for granted like drinking water whenever we want to, walking 30 yards, having the extra 15 hours per week that it takes her to go to and sit in dialysis, not to mention being poked with needles each time.... Does she complain ever? Never," Lapidis-Sawicki said. "I am humbled every single day by the inner strength, positive attitude, love for life and love for others that she experiences every day, amidst her health challenges. No matter what she never gives up."

Minesh Baxi, a Troy-based motivational speaker and author, said Giragosian was perfect for You Will Overcome.

"She's one of those positive people who's out there, a go-getter," Baxi said. "Being in the hospital for months at a time, most people would give up, take the victim point of view, but that's not what she's about."

Baxi said all the real-life stories in his latest book are meant to motivate people.

"The message I want people to get is that despite physical, emotional or other challenges you have, you can overcome," Baxi said.

Giragosian is among 52 diverse entrepreneurs who contributed chapters. Baxi also included real-life success stories of businesspeople like Oprah Winfrey.

You can purchase the book, or download Giragosian's chapter alone for $2, at www.youwillovercomethebook.com.

"I wanted to make my chapter affordable for those who have lupus or heart disease or kidney disease," Giragosian said. "I hope they see the value in it."

Giragosian will donate some of the proceeds to her favorite charities. The rest, she said, will go toward her six-figure medical bills.

"My goal is to have one million downloads. That's my personal goal," she said.
