Lawmakers expect cuts, but how much remains the question

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

In the short term, school funding will be cut but the reductions to Wayne-Westland Schools are extreme - long term, Michigan needs to look at how education is funded.

That was generally the consensus of comments at a forum on proposed funding cuts that drew a packed crowd of residents and school employees to Wayne-Westland's Dyer Center to hear from a roster of state legisla-

A prime focus for many were proposals to eliminate the district's equity funding — $475 per pupil that Wayne-Westland has received to restore an operating millage that wasn't renewed just prior to the approval of Proposal

Under the governor's proposal, the district would be looking at a $6 million loss in equity funding as part of a total $14.5 million reduction. Another issue was the governor's proposal to shift money earmarked for K-12 funding to higher education.

State Reps. Richard LeBlanc, D-Westland, Dian Slavens, D-Canton, and Kurt Heise, R-Plymouth Township, joined state Sens. Glenn Anderson, D-Westland, Hoon-Yung Hopgood, D-Taylor, and Patrick Colbeck, R-Canton, on a panel fielding questions submitted by audience

Churches join forces for Easter drama

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Easter programs are traditions with many churches, but this year two Westland congregations are joining forces to present what they're calling a hands-on living drama to commemorate the holiday.

Warren Road Light and Life Free Methodist Church and Garden of Eden Church are presenting Journey to the Cross in which the audience moves to different stations during the program rather that sitting in an auditorium.

We do stuff every year, but this is the first time for this type of program," said the Rev. David Powless of Warren Road Light and Life. "We would do a Christmas or Easter drama. We've put them together. It's the first time we've moved from room to room."

Presented Friday and Saturday, April 15-16 and 22-23, Journey to the Cross has groups of 12-15 guests being guided to each of the stations located in various rooms of the church.

Appearing in the Easter drama are Jessica Sprunger, Jennifer Stone and Kara Powless.

The program begins with a Nativity scene complete with wise men, angels and shepherds.

"The wise men will have long capes that will be carried — there is pageantry," said Powless.

Westland joins in court consolidation study

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Westland's 18th District will be participating in a feasibility study with neighboring courts, including Garden City, Dearborn Heights and Wayne.

"I think it will be an excellent opportunity to address the potential of consolidating courts," said 18th District Court Judge Sandra Cicirelli. "All of the communities could benefit. We're not putting anything off the table, we will explore it all."

Every two years, the state court administrator studies the caseload in each court and calculates the resulting work for judges. In Westland, Cicirelli noted that the most recent caseload study showed the need for nearly three judges while Garden City's caseload warranted about a half-time judge.

One scenario might be to move 21st District Court Judge Richard Hammer from Garden City — court is held in the City Council chambers — to a spot at the Westland court to join Cicirelli and Judge Mark McConnell. Along with the judges, Westland also uses a parttime magistrate.

Legion post provides blue, gold star flags for families of military

Blue Star Flags for families of active service military personnel are being offered at no charge by American Legion Post 251.

The banners, which can be displayed in windows and doorways, are available at no charge along with Gold Star Flags which denotes a family member killed in action, said Post Commander Bill Acton.

The American Legion gives the flags to the families," said Acton, whose post accepts members from Westland, Wayne, Canton and Belleville.

Speaking at the Westland council meeting, Acton said the post, which doesn't have its own building and meets at the Harris-Kehrer VFW Post on Wayne Road at Avondale, is looking for members. The meetings are 7 p.m. the first Tuesday of each month.

Acton asked that 300 American Legion members paying dues to a holding post in Lansing transfer their memberships to Post 251.

"That brings the dues into the community where they do some good," said Acton.

The American Legion will hold its annual poppy sale at Ford and Wayne Road, Wayne and Warren roads and Wayne Road and Cherry Hill 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday-Sunday, May 19-22.

Anyone interested in obtaining a flag or membership in the post can call (734) 326-2607 or visit www.post251.com.

Lawmakers invite governor to town hall meeting

Several state lawmakers have extended an invitation to Gov. Rick Snyder to attend a town hall meeting they will be holding Thursday, April 14, in Redford.

With the debate and confusion over the governor's budget increasing, a group, which includes State Sen. Glenn Anderson, D-Westland, are holding a informational town hall 6-7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 14, at the Don S. Hubert VFW Post 345, 27345 Schoolcraft, just east of Inkster Road, Redford.

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, April 10, 2011

Anderson, whose 6th District includes Westland, Livonia, Garden City and Redford, and his colleagues will discuss how components of the Governor's proposal affect local communities and schools and offer a forum for citizens to voice their concerns and ask questions.

Residents of Redford, Westland, Livonia and Garden City are encouraged to attend.

"I understand that my role as a legislator in our representative democracy is to serve the interests of those that I represent," he said. "It is vital that I meet with the members of my community, including business leaders, teachers, parents, and employees to learn how they feel about these important issues."

Local officials have been invited to attend, so that they can offer their perspective, along with the opinions of those interested private citizens. Gov. Snyder has also been formally invited to attend the town hall meeting so that he can hear concerns from the people regarding the budget, Anderson said.

The agenda will include a non-partisan presentation of the Governor's budget proposal and local officials' assessments of its potential impact on local governments, public education, and the daily lives of the residents of Michigan. There also will be an opportunity for residents to express their concerns and priorities before a panel of local state legislators.

"These proposals represent an extreme change for our state and I feel it is incumbent upon all of us, legislators and citizens alike, to fully review them to ensure that will help to create jobs, make government more efficient, and stabilize our state's economy, without damaging our public education system, bankrupting our local governments, and jeopardizing Michigan's future," said Anderson. "That's what this town hall is about."

tax base." A compromise measure, Proposal A was designed to cap property taxes for seniors citizens who were being forced out of their longtime homes and provide some funding equity among school districts, Heise said. One of the assumptions of Proposal A was that property values would always increase, he said, drawing laughs from the crowd.

"The sales tax was supposed to help lift the boat, but it didn't. We need to relook at how we fund education in the future," he said.

Anderson and LeBlanc talked of their recent meeting with Lt. Gov. Brian Calley about Wayne-Westland funding along with a recent visit by state Rep. Chuck Moss, R-Birmingham, who chairs the House Appropriations Committee.

With the state having a deficit, Anderson questioned the wisdom of the governor's proposal for massive corporate tax cuts.

HEALTH CARE CO-PAYS

A former charter school board member, Colbeck drew some heat from the crowd after noting that Northville Schools could avoid the proposed layoff of 40 teachers, if all teachers in the district paid 20 percent of the health insurance costs.

"That's roughly what is paid in the private sector. You're looking at the revenue side. Typically, you're not looking at the expense side," said Colbeck, adding school districts or at least school services should be consolidated.

As the discussion about the need to fund schools continued, Colbeck commented that more spending doesn't equate to better education for students, again drawing some angry responses. Or as Colbeck put it — he kicked the hornet's nest.

"Michigan is in the top 10 for education funding but in the bottom 10 when it comes to performance," said Colbeck. "To equate funding to academic excellence is a red herring."

"Dollars alone don't educate children but there is no education without funding," said Anderson.

School officials encouraged those attending to complete postcards supporting the equity funding for the district, which would be delivered to Lansing.

One parent, who asked not to be named, said she didn't totally agree with Colbeck but did think the district could find ways to save money.

"I'm not in a union so I don't fully understand why they don't have to pay for part of their health care. We pay a

Adoption advocates favor moving kids from foster care

BY JULIE BROWNOBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Her words were heartfelt — and heartbreaking.
Judge Mark Slavens of the Wayne County Circuit Court heard a young woman in his courtroom who'd been in foster care from birth to age 19.
"She said she never spent a Thanksgiving with anyone who loved her, she never spent a Christmas with anyone who loved her," recalled Slavens, a Canton resident.

The young woman's mother was on crack and the father in prison. The teen graduated from a mega high school, Slavens said, with no one there to applaud.

"It really does help them a lot," he said of a permanent home, noting most young adults now leave home for good at age 26. It's unrealistic to expect them to be independent at 18 or 19, said Slavens, on the bench since April 2007 in the circuit court's juvenile division, handling delinquency and the abused/neglected division.

In 2009, more than 2,700 children were adopted through Michigan's Adoption Services Program and private adoption agencies, according to the state Department of Human Services. Adoption advocates would like to see the process of moving children from foster care into permanent homes made easier.

EASIER MOVE

"Absolutely," said Heidi Raubenolt, program manager for the Michigan Adoption Resource Exchange, a program of the nonprofit Judson Center. Raubenolt, a Westland resident, formerly worked in Judson's Redford office and is now based in Ann Arbor.

"We're always interested in finding homes for kids," she said. "There are a lot of kids that are waiting."

Raubenolt has worked in child welfare the last five years, the last year and a half for advocacy group MARE.

"We work to find adoptive families for kids who are in the foster care system," she said. That includes promotional events for families to meet children eligible for adoption.

"There's always a need for families for kids, absolutely," she said. That's especially true for older children including teens, larger sibling groups and children with special needs. According to current state DHS figures, there are 902 children in Wayne County in foster care eligible for adoption, some 3,265 statewide.

Slavens, a father of two and former Plymouth-Canton schools Board of Education president, would like to see adoption streamlined.

"I do think it's difficult for one person to handle that many cases," Slavens said of the current system involving the Michigan Children's Institute superintendent. Slavens is concerned about being sure to "ensure that the designee was qualified to do that. I think he definitely needs some help."

LOVING HOMES

Many children in the foster care system have experienced trauma, whether physical or emotional, Raubenolt said. "It just really depends on the child and their personal experiences," she said. Not all special needs children have physical handicaps.

Agreeing with MARE leaders and Slavens on the need for loving, adoptive homes are Michigan DHS Director Maura Corrigan and state Supreme Court Justice Mary Beth Kelly.

Corrigan and Kelly March 23 urged state legislators to approve bills in the House and Senate to streamline the process for children in foster care to be adopted. The passage of bills could expedite placement in qualified, permanent homes for more than 1,100 children, they testified.

Corrigan and Kelly noted the Michigan Children's Institute superintendent is the only person authorized to approve adoptions for children in foster care. Changes in the law would authorize a designee to provide written consent to adoption, guardianship, emancipation or marriage of MCI wards.

The review will be systematic and careful when determining who will be named a designee, Corrigan told the Senate Families, Seniors and Human Services Committee.

"The best place for a child is in a stable, permanent home," Corrigan said in a statement. "Joining a family should not be delayed because only one person in the entire state can authorize a child's adoption or guardianship."

ADOPTION THE GOAL

According to figures from the DHS website, of children adopted in Michigan in 2009, 46 percent were placed with a relative, 48 percent with a foster parent. A total of 82 percent of children who had siblings in foster care were adopted with at least one sibling, and 52 percent of such children with all siblings.

The state has some 5,309 kids in foster care whose parents' rights have been terminated, with adoption the goal for most.

MARE's Raubenolt declined to comment on the legislation specifics but agreed there's a great need for permanent homes for children in foster care. MARE operates the Michigan Heart Gallery in which professional photographers each year take photos of children up for adoption.

"It's an exhibit that actually travels throughout the state," she said. "It's a great way to highlight the kids and their true spirit." It's MARE's biggest event of the year.

You can learn more at www. mare.org online, which also has photos of children up for adoption. The Judson program is funded by the Michigan DHS.

Slavens said half of the homeless population comes from the foster care system. "It's really important that we get people to adopt," he said. "You always want as much as possible to find an adoptive family."

Slavens worked with Justice Kelly. He noted children often have a family member who could adopt them and provide a loving home, but the court system doesn't always recognize that. "We've got to get away from that concept. The uncle could be a banker, the aunt could be a teacher or a journalist."

He pushes DHS caseworkers in his courtroom to find the family members. "They still want the best thing for their children," Slavens said of parents who've had their rights terminated. Neighbors, teachers and coaches can sometimes adopt.

"There's a lot bigger scope out there. We've got to include that," the judge said.

Slavens had a boy, 11, in his courtroom that no one was willing to adopt. Slavens pushed the caseworker to comply with the court order and seek out alternatives, and she did so with some reluctance.

"The kid's got a big smile on his face," after having looked rejected earlier. Some 12 people had subsequently agreed to adopt him, Slavens said, and came to court to indicate their willingness.

"They just need good adoptive parents," added Slavens, who doesn't really look at the racial aspect in adoption cases.

Nationwide, more than 114,000 kids are available for adoption from U.S. foster care each year. There are 463,000 kids in U.S. foster care with an average wait for adoption of over two years. More than 29,000 reach age 18 without finding a permanent family.

Author to speak about 'Burning Rivers' for Earth Day

In honor of Earth Day, author Dr. John Hartig will speak on his new book on burning rivers at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 20, at the Livonia Civic Center Library, 32777 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

Hartig will also be at the Westland Public Library, 6123 Central City Parkway, Westland, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 19. Both seminars are open to the public.

Titled Burning Rivers:
Revival of Four UrbanIndustrial Rivers that Caught on Fire, the book explores how four rivers in the Great Lakes Basin caught on fire because of oil pollution, including the Rouge River in Detroit. Hartig will discuss how indiscriminate use and abuse of these aquatic ecosystems led to them becoming polluted, culminating with river fires. Also presented will be evidence of how today each is experiencing dramatic environmental improvement, as well as how it is being achieved.

The book was written for a lay audience. It presents insights on the environmental history, translates the science, provides practical lessons learned in river stewardship, and serves as an inspiration for people to be good stewards of rivers.

Some of the partners in the river restoration effort — including the Alliance of Rouge Communities, Friends of the Rouge and the Rouge River Advisory Council — will have representatives on hand to answer questions on how local communities and organizations are working together to improve the Rouge River Watershed.

Hartig is trained as a limnologist with 30 years of practical experience in environmental science and natural resource management. He currently serves as refuge manager for the Detroit River International Wildlife Refuge.

Earth Day is held on April 22 each year to inspire awareness and stewardship for the earth's natural environment. For more information, call the Livonia library at (734) 466-2491 or the Westland library at (734) 326-

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

Attorney J.B. Bieske can often make a winning difference at the application stage. And, if an appeal is necessary Bieske has won several hundred cases before a court date is even set.

Those denied can appeal on their own but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

Attorney Bieske has represented only Social Security Disability clients for over 27 years. That is the only type of law he practices. And, he personally meets with all clients and appears himself at all court hearings. Many large firms assign clients to young associate attorneys with much less experience; and often these firms aren't even based in Michigan.

In addition to practicing only Social Security disability law Bieske has written a book for attorneys about the subject. He also has been interviewed on various radio and television programs and has given speeches to many groups.

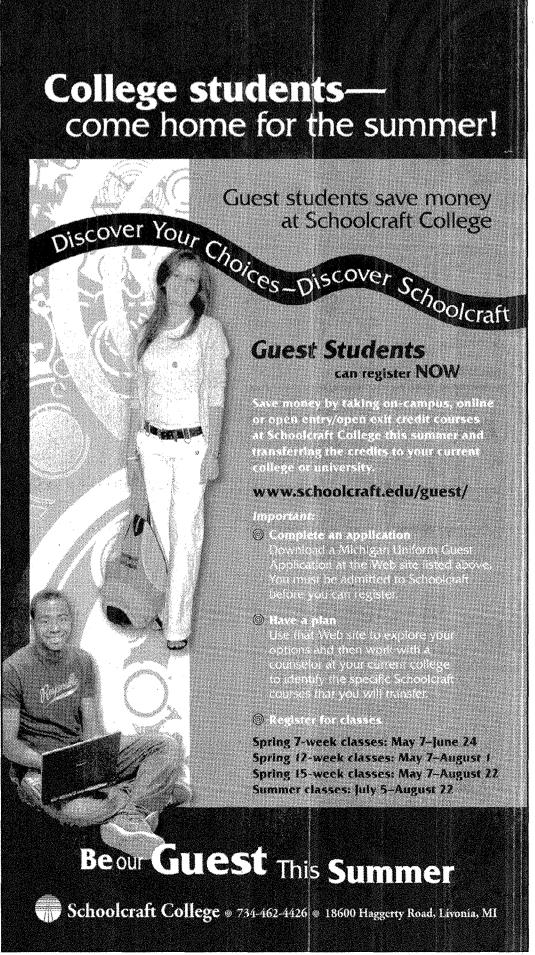

Bieske's office staff consists of paralegals and secretaries who are extremely helpful in answering questions with regard to the status of client's cases and administrative procedure. Attorney Bieske welcomes you to call him to determine if you may be eligible for these benefits. He offers a free phone or office consultation. If Bieske represents you, there will be no fee charged until after the case is won. The fee is a percentage of retroactive benefits.

In a recent radio interview attorney Bieske explained that many people are not even aware that they are eligible for Social Security Disability benefits. You may be eligible even if you have retired and are receiving a pension. If you have an illness or injury (whether or not related to your work), are under 65 and unable to work full-time you may be eligible. Social Security Disability benefits are based on your work record or your deceased spouse's work record (Widow's/ Widower's benefits).

The penny challenge is open to residents of the Taft-Galloway community. Residents can stop by the school to make a donation.

With reaching the $1,000 goal in sight, Scott now is looking for some place to cash in the change without having to pay a fee. Because of the amount of coins, the plan is not to roll them.

"I'm really proud about our students' attitude of giving in this particularly difficult time, especially with some of whom are giving may be needing themselves," said Taft-Galloway Principal Stephanie Accord. "I'm also proud of Pat. He took this on with his own initiative."

Mom, daughter set sights on royal wedding

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, April 10, 2011

It's quite a British royal family affair - this April 29 wedding between Prince William and Kate Middleton - so naturally Canton resident Christine Wofford and her 22-year-old daughter, Olivia, hope to attend.

Regardless, they're departing Easter Sunday for a oneweek stay at The Grosvenor in London, and they plan to enjoy the hoopla even if they don't get a wedding seat at Westminster Abbey.

"We're going to party, party, party - shop, eat and drink, Christine Wofford said, smiling Thursday as she and her daughter sat in their Canton living room and talked of their trip. Two large, yellow, plastic letters - "W" for William and "K" for Kate — sat propped on the couch, adorned by small U.S. flags Christine Wofford has been a longtime fan of the royal family and movies made about the British aristocracy, and her daughter shares her interests.

A return letter Christine Wofford received from St. James's Palace didn't bring any promises the pair would get into the wedding, and Olivia Wofford hasn't yet gotten a response to a letter she sent to the younger Prince Harry.

But, don't count this Wofford family out. They've managed up-close encounters with a pope, a princess, a duchess and Hollywood royalty George Clooney.

FIRST COMMUNION

When she was 7 years old,

Olivia Wofford and her mother, Christine, have had a few adventures together, including Olivia's first communion with Pope John Paul II.

Olivia Wofford received her first communion from Pope John Paul II at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome after her mother, a devout Catholic, arranged it through Detroitarea priests.

"When Olivia was born, I thought that was going to be my goal," Christine Wofford Olivia Wofford recalled being "a little overwhelmed by the crowd" as her mother snapped pictures of her with the pope. "I was kind of young to know what was really going

"I called their PR (public relations) guy to say Olivia would like to present flowers to her, and they let her do it," Christine Wofford said.

OFF TO LONDON

During the summer before Olivia Wofford started eighth grade, she and her mother traveled to London, Canterbury and Paris when the daughter's school choir from Our Lady of Good Counsel performed abroad.

Christine Wofford met Sarah Ferguson, a duchess formerly married to Prince Andrew, when she spoke in the late 1990s at a women's expo in Novi.

Just recently, mother and daughter went to Grand Rapids to see an art exhibit honoring the late Princess Diana. It included her wedding dress, other clothing and toys she had as a child.

Although Christine Wofford's return letter from St. James' Palace was noncommittal about entry to the royal wedding, "I was thrilled to get that," she said.

She also sent an e-mail to Westminster Abbey but hasn't yet gotten a reply.

Olivia Wofford, meanwhile, said she would be thrilled to get a reply to her letter to Prince Harry.

"It would be nice to meet him," she said. "Meeting anybody in the royal family would be an honor.'

At worst, mother and daughter plan to visit The London Eye, a huge Ferris wheel and tourist attraction in London, and revel in the royal wedding celebration that seems certain. to sweep London. But, even Olivia Wofford has learned not to dismiss her mother's efforts to attend the wedding.

"It wouldn't surprise me if we get in," she said.

150th anniversary of the Civil War

Tuesday, April 12, 2011 marks the 150th anniversary of the start of the Civil War; the date Union-occupied Fort Sumter was fired upon by Confederate forces. This marked the beginning of armed hostilities that would claim the lives of more than 600,000 people and become the bloodiest war on American soil. Although this date marks the beginning of war, tensions had been building in the nation.

The most recognized causes of the Civil War are the economic and social differences between the North and the South, states versus federal rights, the fight between slave and non-slave state proponents, growth of the abolition movement and the election of Abraham Lincoln.

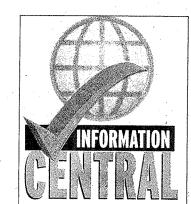

The Civil War Trust: Saving America's Civil War Battlefields is an organization that is in the forefront of the 150th anniversary activities. All proceeds will go toward the preservation of the historic battlefields.

Some websites you might want to visit for more information about the Civil War and 150th anniversary activities include www.civilwar.org and www.nps.gov. Other informative websites are www.historyplace.com/ civilwar, www.civilwar.com and www. civilwar.si.edu.

The William P. Faust Public Library of Westland has plenty of resources dealing with the Civil War. the Middle East have caused energy prices and prices at the pump to soar while, simultaneously, the U.S. stock market posted nice gains. If you try to figure it out, it just doesn't make a lot of sense. I know people that will spend hours theorizing why the market did this or did that. If you talk to 10 experts they'll give you 20 different opinions. The reality is, it is nearly impossible to figure out why the market does one thing or another over a short period of time. We don't need to waste our time trying. It is more important to focus on some of the more mundane tasks that could add real value to the overall financial picture.

One of those tasks is to review your first quarter statement to ensure it is accurate.

For those who made IRA contributions over the last three months, make sure your contributions have been properly accounted. For those who contribute to a salary deferral program such as a 403(b) or a 401(k) make sure that you have received credit for the contributions.

When I get a financial statement, whether from a mutual fund company or from a bank, I assume it is accurate. Typically it is, however, mistakes are made. We are the last line of defense to make sure that our accounts are accurate. In this electronic age, we tend to think computers are infallible and never make a mistake. That's not the case. Mistakes are made and they happen more often than you think. Therefore, review your statement for accuracy.

You don't have to be an accountant to review a statement. One sure sign that your money may be in the wrong place is if the statement is difficult to read. If they are too difficult to understand, I think it's by design, so you are intentionally confused. I prefer to deal with companies that want to keep it simple and straightforward.

When reviewing your statement, the first thing to do is make sure the ending balance of your last statement is the beginning balance of your most recent statement. In addition, make sure that you account for all new contributions. In addition, pay attention to any withdrawals. Pay particular attention to any fees you may have paid. Don't assume that just because they're charging you a fee it must be correct. If you're not sure about a fee, ask. If the fee is too high, consider moving your account elsewhere.

If you discover a mistake, immediately contact the issuer of the statement. If the problem is not immediately resolved, make sure you put your complaint in writing and keep records regarding who you speak with at the company.

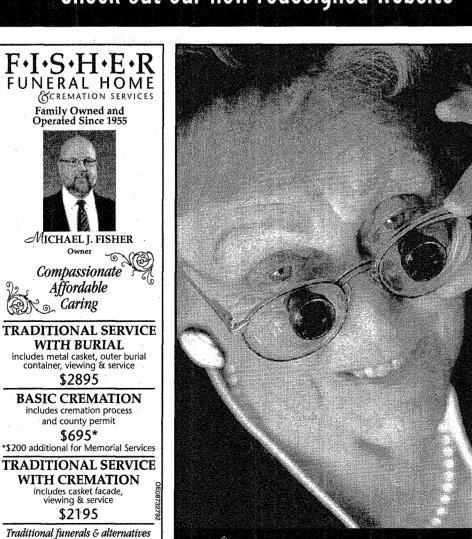

Trying to figure out what causes the stock market to move one way or another is great conversation. However, in the long run it's just talk and speculation. On the other hand, taking the time to review your statement is something that potentially keeps more money in your pocket and, after all, isn't that the goal?

Good luck!

Stevenson can't get key hit in 9-inning setback

BY BRAD EMONS
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It was an old-fashioned pitching duel Thursday as Novi-Detroit Catholic Central emerging victorious over host Livonia Stevenson, 2-0, in nine innings.

The Shamrocks managed just two hits, but scratched together a pair of runs in the top of the ninth inning to improve to 5-0 overall.

With one out, Joe Panfil and Bobby Dulzo both drew walks.

Matt Stefan, running for Panfil, advanced to third on a ball in the dirt and scored when the throw from home hit him in the foot and squirted into the outfield.

David Dulzo then delivered an infield single, his second hit of the day, to score Bobby Dulzo with CC's second Stevenson (3-1) stranded two runners in the bottom of the ninth.

"We just couldn't get what I call 'The Hit,'" Stevenson coach Rick Berryman said. "We hit one shot to their center fielder, but it got slowed up by the wind and he made a great defensive play.

play.
"We got five hits, but nobody forced the action when we had one or two runners on. We just couldn't get that hit."

Chris McDonald pitched seven strong innings for the Spartans, allowing just one hit. He walked three and struck out six.

The Shamrocks used three different pitchers with Tonner Waterstreet going the first three innings before giving way to Bob Green, who went the next three.

Domie Eute worked the next two to pick up the victory and Green reentered in the bottom of the ninth to earn the save.

Troy Bodtke went 2-for-4 to lead Stevenson's offense. Mark Wagner, J.J. Pettersson and Josh DeYonker had the other hits.

"It was a 2-hour and 20-minute, nine-inning game," Berryman said. "It was a good high school game."

Stevenson played a double-header Saturday at home against Brownstown Woodhaven before traveling Monday to face Livonia Churchill. (Game time is 4 p.m.).

Division titles from a year

The defending Public Schools of Livonia Invitational champs, however, dropped their first dual meet of the season Tuesday at home to Westland John Glenn, 79-58.

The Chargers lost four key performers to graduation including distance standout Sara Kroll (Michigan State), but the Chargers return two quality performers in the 1,600- and 3,200-meter runs in junior Bethany Pilat and sophomore Kerigan Riley (who missed the Glenn meet with an injury).

Both were members of Churchill's 3,200 relay, which placed sixth in the Division 1 state finals (9:18.98).

"We see Franklin as a top team for the South Division, city and conference championships," Churchill fourthyear coach Pat Daugherty said. "We also see Stevenson as a solid team along with Novi and Northville from

The Patriots are led by senior distance standout Megan McPherson, who placed fifth in the Division 1 state meet in the 3,200 (10:53.84).

Cameron Wasko, 100 free, N. Farmington: A repeat member of the all-area, first team, Wasko scored at the Division 2 state meet for the second year in a row. He was 11th in the butterfly and 12th in the 50 freestyle. Wasko was the OAA White Division champ in the butterfly and runner-up in the backstroke. another successful season. FIRST-TEAM RELAYS 200 medley, Stevenson (John Ferrara, Jake McNamara, Kellen Schoff, Brandon Bielicki): This quartet wound up third in the Division 1 state finals (1:36.86) after going an area best and school record time of 1:36.48 in the prelims. "Although we were not always able to put all four guys on this relay, we knew that once we were able to, we would go fast,' Shoemaker said. "This particular relay time is among the five fastest medleys ever to come out of Stevenson. Our relay time was able to make the All-American consideration time standard and is among the top 100 fastest times out of every high school in the nation. This relay came together perfectly and all four boys swam lifetime bests.'

200 freestyle, Salem (Matt Collingwood, Eric Li, Max Mills, Adam Seroka): The quartet nearly garnered all-state honors, finishing 13th at the D1 state meet with a season's best mark of 1:28.79.

Jay Jin, 200 IM, Canton: The junior has been a D1 state qualifier all three years of his high school career, and this year he swam in three events in the finals.

Jin finished 23rd in the prelims with a time of 2:03.27; his personal best time was 2:00.42.

He was part of two relay teams that finished 14th at the state meet. At the MISCA meet in February at Eastern Michigan University, Jin placed 10th in the backstroke with a time of 55.96 seconds.

Jin, who has a 4.5 grade-pointaverage, is one of the hardest workers on the team and has been named one of next season's captains. "It is impressive that he has the ability to swim at such a high level and be able to keep his school work at the same high level," Le said.

Calvin Kopitz, 50 free, N. Farmington: The junior sprinter was a Division 2 state qualifier in the 50 freestyle and swam his best time of 22.58 in the prelims. In the OAA White meet, Kopitz was second in the 50 and third in the 100 freestyle. He also anchored the winning 200 freestyle relay. He helped the Raiders score all three relays at the state

"Calvin really came on at the end of last year and start of this year, coach Harfoot said. "He picked up where he left off and kept getting better throughout the season.

"We set goals for him next year to score in two individual events (at the state meet). That's a reflection of how good a swimmer he is and how much he can still improve. He went from a good sprinter to an elite sprinter this year."

Alan Robinson, diving, Churchill: The junior captured the KLAA South Division title with a meet record 342.05 points (11 dives).

Robinson also scored a personal best 198.40 (for six dives) against Wayne Memorial. He added a 13th at the Kensington Conference and 26th at a highly competitive Division 1 regional.

"Alan had a tremendous season of meeting his personal goals," Churchill diving coach Rob Moore said. "He also made some achievements he did not expect. This was Alan's junior year, but only his second season as a diver, which makes his achievements that much more impressive. His personal goal was to improve on his best scores for both six-dive and 11-dive competitions. He also had a goal of qualifying for the regional meet. For his senior season he will be looking toward qualifying for state meet.

Ethan Christensen, 100 fly, Plymouth: The senior parlayed hard work into a great deal of success, Plymouth coach Doug Schade said.

Among Christensen's achievements was setting school records in the 100 fly, 200 medley relay and 200 free relay.

He also qualified for the D1 state meet, placing 15th in the fly with a time of 54.56 (his season's best was

Earlier during the season, Christensen took third place at the MISCA meet (55.82), first at the KLAA South meet (56.17) and fourth at the conference meet

"Ethan is determined, coachable, and a great leader," Schade said. "He's the kind of kid every coach wants to have. He made himself into a great swimmer,"

Dylan Crompton, 100 free, Thurston: A relative new-comer to the sport, Crompton has proven to be a fast learner, qualifying for the state meet in the 50 and 100 freestyle events in his first full year of competition. Crompton, a junior, is within a half second of breaking a pair of 40plus-year-old school records in the 50 and 100 free.

"Dylan had a great year in just his second year — and first full year — of competing," said Thurston head coach Tom Giummo. "He progressed throughout the season and was very coachable. Whenever the coaches would suggest something to him, he would take it all in and try to apply it in the pool. He was just a great kid to coach.

Steven Neill, 500 free, Farmington-Harrison: The sophomore is allstate in this event, having placed eighth in the Division 1 final. Neill swam his best time in the prelims (4:44.03) and broke Alec Campbell's 27-year-old Farmington High School record of 4:46. He was the OAA White runner-up in the 500 and was third in the 200 freestyle.

"Steven is the backbone of my program," coach Ross Bandy said. 'He's an outstanding trainer, both he and Grant Borregard. I can't say enough about the young man. He does everything that's asked of him.

"His work ethic is outstanding, probably at the top of any individual I've ever had at Farmington High School. He's an individual who makes me take pride in what I do as John Ferrara, 100 back, Stevenson: Only a sophomore, Ferrara placed third in the Division 1 state finals with a time of 52.46.

He also added a 13th at the state meet in the 200 IM (2:00.34). "John is an excellent talent and has only completed one half of his high school career," Shoemaker said "He just made state cut last year and was unable to score. This year he was able to score in all four events he swam at the state meet. Ferrara was also runner-up in 100 backstroke at both the conference and KLAA Central Division meets. He placed fourth in the 200 IM at the conference.

"He led off the All-American consideration medley relay and scored in the 200 IM just two events later." Shoemaker said of the state meet. "He was also a member of our 400 vard freestyle relay team, which also scored at the state meet. I am looking forward to the many more accomplishments John will receive swimming for Stevenson.'

Grant McNamara, 100 breast, Stevenson: The ninth-grader earned points at the Division 1 state meet with a 16th in the 100 breaststroke (1:01.81) after going a personal best 1:01.58 in the prelims.

"Grant was a welcome surprise for our team this year," Shoemaker said. "A state qualification time was a long ways off from Grant's accomplished times when he stepped onto the pool deck for the first time as a freshmen, and I'm sure the last thing on his mind." McNamara also placed fourth in the conference and KLAA Central Division meets in the 100 breast-

"As the season rolled on, Grant continued to work hard and his times began to drop," Shoemaker said. "Not only did he accomplish a state cut time, but he was able to score as a freshmen. He was one of only a handful of freshmen in the state to accomplish this great achievement."

McNamara also placed tied for sixth in the 500 freestyle (5:04.57) in the conference meet and was fourth in the KLAA Central Division (5:06.68).

"Grant also became increasingly good in the 500 yard freestyle," Shoemaker said. "In this event he just missed his state cut. I'm confident the next three years people will see Grant as one of the state's most accomplished swimmers.

SECOND-TEAM RELAYS 200 medley, N. Farmington (Cameron Wasko, Nick Leshok, lan Landau, Calvin Kopitz): The Raiders finished eighth in the Division 2 state meet, swimming their best time of 1:38.98 (second in the area) in the prelims.

"The medley was the strength of our relays all year," coach Harfoot said. "Cam and Nick were the constants on that relay, Cam being the best backstroker and Nick the best breaststroker.

"Calvin had a great year as a sprint freestyler and made that an easy choice. Ian won that (butterfly) spot and did a great job, having his best split by more than half a second. All four of them had their best splits on the first day at state.'

200 freestyle, Stevenson (Jake McNamara, Adam Ferrara, Brandon Bielicki, Kellen Schoff): This quartet went a season-best 1:29.16 to capture the Kensington Conference championship.

"Our program this year was not known for having numerous sprinters, which is what it takes to be successful in this event," Shoemaker said. "But these boys were able to combine together and swam a remarkable race at this year's conference meet and won the event. Unfortunately, we had to take Kellen off this relay and place him on the other two relays. This weakened the relay and we ended up 17th at the state meet just one place out of scoring this year."

400 freestyle, Stevenson (Brandon Bielicki, John Ferrara, Adam Ferrara, Kellen Schoff): This foursome placed 11th in the Division 1 state finals with a time of 3:15.75.

"Being the last event of the swim meet it is always nice to have this one swim fast," Shoemaker said. "Throughout the year we were unable to have all four boys swim this relay at once. At the state meet we were able to and we dropped time and scored. The effort of the boys, along with the entire state team, contributed to our continued success at the state level.

COACH OF THE YEAR Mike Harfoot, N. Farmington: After being named the OAA White Division Coach of the Year last month, Harfoot adds the Observerland honor to his list of 2011 accolades. He guided the Raiders to the OAA White dualmeet championship, and North Farmington followed that by winning the division meet, too. The Raiders were 14th in the Division 2 state meet with 52.5 points.

"It was a fun season, a tremendous year for the kids," Harfoot said. "They worked together from day one. They set a common goal to be league champs at the first practice and kept working hard toward that all year.

"It was a real special season for me to coach this group of kids. The amount of talent we had in the pool made it even more enjoyable, when you have kids who want to work hard and maximize their talent.'

well the first 10 minutes of each half," he said. "I liked our pressure. But we kind of got back on our heels a little bit halfway through each half and let them take it to us."

Johnson was stellar between the pipes for the hosts, stopping 13 shots.

"Nicole played very solid," Parrish said. "The first couple of goals they got were high shots with the wind dropping in on the sides. She seemed to get more confident as the game went on."

The Cougars' Shannon Melvin sandwiched a couple of goals around a net-finder produced by Bailey Terrell.

Melvin's first score unfolded 10 minutes in when she punched a shot from 20 yards out - a sand wedge for Tiger - into the back of the net.

A few minutes later, Terrell followed suit when her high, arcing effort found net.

"Bailey took it down the left side, cut in and hit a nice, high ball," Dean said.

The Cougars' success was tempered during the closing minutes of the first half when Kerstin Taylor, one of just three returners from last year's squad, suffered a leg injury during a collision with a Wayne player. She walked off with assistance and was taken to the hospital for tests.

"Kerstin is a very important player for us, so we definitely need her back," Dean said.

Taylor's replacement, Amanda Hahn, rose to the occasion, the first-year coach said.

"Amanda stepped in and did a nice job of filling the role at center back," Dean said. "Her sister, Rachel, did a nice job, too, of stopping their attack with her quickness. In the first half, the only time they got past the 50-yard line was when they hit it 30 yards in the air."

Five minutes before her second goal of the contest, Melvin nearly struck again, but her laser from 10 yards out hit the cross-bar.

Daugherty's 2011 season outlook: "Had a very successful 2010 season and now we need to forget about last year and focus on this season. We lost a relatively small senior class size wise but a large portion of our scoring. We cannot replace the likes of Sara Kroll, Megan Kelly, Taylor Byron and Tiffany Raisanen, but we can move on and develop the next set of competitive Churchill athletes. We'll have to wait and see who will step up and lead this team. The coaches are excited about the team that does return and the newcomers joining the team. The plan remains the same - work hard, work smart, and most importantly, work as a team. Our team goals have always come first and that will continue this year. We have a lot of returning athletes who can do multiple events at a high level. We have worked real hard thus far and are eagerly awaiting the competitive season.

Bjorklund's 2011 season outlook: "We lost two big point scorers to graduation in Haig and Scott. Both were locks to score in the top three or four at a big meet, and could easily score 10-to-20 points in a dual meet. We still have a lot of talent but we also have many new faces. The addition of Klein (German exchange student) is huge as she has already high jumped 5-1 and can do just about any event on the track as well as long jump. Lark tied her last season personal of 9-6 at the Huron Relays and we are expecting big things out of her in the vault. O'Brien is much improved in the hurdles and high jump, and Mueller is also looking good in the 100 hurdles, sprints, and long jump Our sprinters are young and we are trying to find the right combination of kids for relays.

Fitzgerald's 2011 season outlook: "We have a good group of girls back from last season along with some key newcomers that should contribute right away. We are still working on adding depth and improving in some of our weaker events. It's just going to be a matter of getting everyone healthy and performing well at the same time. If we do that, we will be very competitive and have a lot of fun."

James' 2011 season outlook: "I am very excited about this season. I have two veterans returning - Steen and Long - that where apart of the 400 relay that took second at regionals, just missing the qualifying time to go to 'states' by 1.5 seconds. Holland Boertie missed the school record last year by 2.8 seconds in the 300 hurdles. Bailey Hart stood out amongst all the other field events last year, and has been training harder this year. I am really excited to see how quickly the freshmen - Robbins and Williams play a role in this upcoming season. I look for them to have an immediate impact in the sprints. The girls are very excited in getting the season started, and the coaching staff is even more excited to help them reach their goals. LIVONIA LADYWOOD

(Megan) Vitale ran indoor during the off-season and she will dominate the 800 event his year. (Teresa) Wojnarowski will be a strong factor wherever we nut her. These two are half of our second-place 1,600 relay team. McClory should do will in our distance events. Pilar (Furlong) is probably our most promising freshman, a strong, fast runne who we're looking to develop in the 400.

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE · Head coach: Brady Gustafson, seventh

League affiliation: Independent Last year's finish: third (Metro Conference) fourth (Division 3 regional). Notable losses to graduation: Kamai

Leading returnees: Evangela Daniels, Sr., hurdles; Emily Jasmer, Jr., throws; Melanie Kieling, Soph., distance, Promising newcomers: Micah Willingham, Fr., hurdles-sprints; Kamaria Sanders, Fr., sprints; Kayla Daniels, Fr., sprints; Ayanna Buckley, Fr.

Gustafson's 2011 season outlook: "The Lady Trojans are very talented this year, but very young. Evangela Daniels is our only senior, and our only returning state qualifier (100 and 300 hurdles), Emily Jasmer and Melanie Kieling both placed at the regional meet last year and look to compete for a championship in their respective events. The remainder of the team is young and inexperienced, but have a lot of raw talent. The season looks optimistic as our young girls continue to improve.

LUTHERAN HIGH WESTLAND Head coach: Mike Unger, first season. League affiliation: Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

Last year's finish: first (Division 4 regional and conference). Titles won last year: Division 4 regional and

Notable losses to graduation: Emilie Freeman (second-team All-Area), Nicole Zehel

(third-team All-Area), Rachel Stork, Brittany Maynard, Becky Rockrohr Leading returnees: Alyssa Shirkey, Sr., throws; Jacqui Schwartz, Sr., hurdles-relays; Amanda Terranella, Jr., hurdles-high jump-relays Jess Rice, Jr., 800-relays; Erin Lyle, Jr., distance) Alissa Flury, Soph., hurdles-pole vault-relays; Marcella Flury, Soph., pole vault; Erin Hardin,

Soph., long jump-400-relays; Janine Erickson

Promising newcomers: Natalie Freeman, Fr., high jump-400-relays; Leah Refenes, Fr., throws

Unger's 2011 season outlook: "The team is rather small in numbers this year, but we still hope to challenge for the MIAC championship We'll just have to see where we can put our kids so that we can maximize their talents.

(Megan) Wickens." Joining the most accomplished distance runner in Franklin history is German exchange student Pia Klein, who has already broken the school record in the long (16 feet, 9 inches). Klein will also help in the hurdles and relay events. Glenn, led by first-team All-Area long jumper Aubrie Scott and a quality cast of sprinters, could be the wildcard this season.

"We were very young last season, but now we need the sophomores and juniors to step up for us this year," Glenn coach James Fitzgerald said. "Our veterans have come back strong and we will look to them to lead us throughout the season.

Wayne Memorial, another member of the KLAA South. hopes to move up the standings as Tiffany James takes over for Kevin Miller as head coach.

Sprinters Carmen Steen and Meah Long will pace the Zebras.

"I have a lot of girls that can run multiple events, which will be a plus as the season goes along," said James, a former Wayne standout.

Livonia Stevenson, a member of the KLAA Central Division, must replace 300 hurdler Becky Adamcheck, who placed fourth in last year's state meet with a time of 45.87.

"The division, conference, and regional will be tougher this year as many of the area teams are much improved," Stevenson coach Kelly Graham said. Livonia Ladywood placed fourth in last year's Division 2 state meet with 28 points primarily because of the efforts of hurdler Megan Yanik, who was a state champion in the 100 highs (14.75) and 300 lows (43.85).

Yanik, however, has graduated and taken her talents to Notre Dame.

But the Blazers do return two members of their state runner-up 4 x 3,200 relay team (4:00.98) in seniors Megan Vitale and Teresa Wojnarowski.

"I don't know if we'll do well in the Catholic League regular season because we have a small team, but we can cover all 15 events, which is something I'm excited about," Ladywood coach Alice Ahearn said. "And I think we'll see a lot of individual improvement, as well as sending at least a few people to the state finals."

Lutheran High Westland is also coming off a stellar season as well after capturing the Division 4 regional and Michigan Independent Athletic Conference titles in 2010.

Mike Unger, who has served as the Warriors' boys coach for the past 24 years, will be doing double duty this spring as he must replace state placers Nicole Zehel, who took fourth in the 1,600 (5:16.69), and Emilie Freeman, who placed sixth in the high jump (4-11).

Also doing double duty again this season with the boys and girls teams is Livonia Clarenceville coach Brady Gustafson.

The Trojans finished third last year in the Metro Conference but now compete as an independent.

Clarenceville, fourth in last year's Division 3 regional, returns hurdler Evangela Daniels, thrower Emily Jasmer and distance runner Melanie Kieling.

New festival brings authors, books, readers together

BY SHARON DARGAY O&E STAFF WRITER

Michael Williams will help dozens of self-published and self-promoted authors find an audience for their works next weekend in Livonia.

The Author Collective, an organization the native Detroiter founded two years ago, will exhibit and help authors sell books in every genre during the inaugural Michigan Spring Book Festival at Laurel Park Place.

"As a collaborative, we go into places where a single author may not have access because of the financial feasibility," Williams said. "A lot of authors struggle with these kinds of things.'

A promotional table at a major book expo might cost thousands of dollars, putting the venue out of a self-published author's reach. Annual membership in the collective is $375 and offers national exposure. The organization exhibits members' books at nationwide events and at its own book fairs in Southfield and Livonia, as well as Cleveland, Ohio, Nashville, Tenn., and in other states.

At its Michigan Spring Book Festival, Friday-Sunday, April 15-17, hundreds of books, including selfpublished works, will be for sale. Published and self-published authors will be on hand, celebrities will take turns reading out loud to youngsters and special guests will make appear-

EXPLORING WEATHER

Paul Gross of Farmington Hills, WDIV's weatherman, a forensic meteorologist and author of Extreme Michigan Weather: The Wild World of the Great Lakes State, will sign copies of his book at 1 p.m. Saturday, April 16.

Published by University of Michigan Press, the book went into its second printing two weeks after hitting store shelves last year.

"I am most proud of the fact that this is Michigan's book, and all jobs associated with the book are Michigan jobs," Gross wrote in an e-mail to the Observer. "I specifically sought out a local publisher and insisted that they have the book printed in Michigan, which they did. No, I didn't rescue Michigan's economy all by myself, but I hopefully set an example to others that they need to think local when making purchasing or manufacturing choices."

He said the book, which includes extensive historical data on local weather, has become a popular gift choice that sold out of book stores in December last year.

"It really is the perfect gift because, as much as everybody talks about the weather, this book finally gives people the chance to understand it ... as well as check out the record-setting weather on any day of the year."

SHAKESPEARE AUTHORSHIP

The Oberon Shakespeare Study Group, which meets monthly at the Farmington Hills Public Library, will share slices of an "UN-birthday Cake" with the public and will hold a panel discussion on whether the Bard, born on April 23, is the true author of Hamlet, Romeo and Juliet and other celebrated works attributed to Shakespeare.

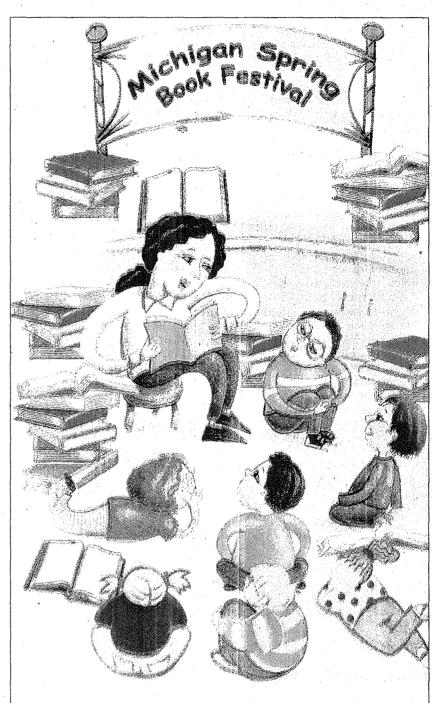

The group explores the authorship question, reads Shakespeare's works and attends performances, such as the Stratford Festival in London, Ontario.

"I loved Shakespeare before but once I got interested in its authorship, I've learned so much. It has been enriching and rewarding," said Linda Thiel, a member of the group from Howell.

She said the Michigan Spring Book Festival will help the group spread the word about Anonymous, a historical thriller directed by Roland Emmerich, that credits Edward de Vere, the Earl of Oxford, as the true author of Shakespeare's works. The film is set for release this fall.

Williams hopes the festival will inspire children to read at least two books a week. His organization will give away 1,000 books next weekend.

"We identify 50 schools in each area that we have a festival and give 20 book certificates to each school. We ask administrators to identify students who would benefit from a new book," he said. "They bring the certificate to the mall. There are no questions asked, no money involved.

We just want them to get a book." He said Detroit Edison also donatto the public.

O&E STAFF WRITER

Caitlin Burt, 23, of Canton walked into an open casting call on a lark two weeks ago and emerged as a contender in radio station WRIF's annual Rock Girl

"I had just gotten out a movie - Limitless - aboutthis guy acing all his opportunities," said Burt, who noticed the auditions at Emagine Theatre in Novi. "I said, oh, there's an opportunity. I was a walk-in. It was an interview with two people and they had me do a short reading.

Burt, who has been searching for a job and auditioning for acting roles since her graduation from Western Michigan University last year, nailed the audition and was called back - along with 29 other women - for a photo shoot.

The station posted pictures, brief bios and a short video clip of each Rock Girl hopeful on the Web and asked the public to choose their favorites. The contestant pool will narrow to 16 women on Monday, April 11 when voter results are revealed. Until then, Burt, who graduated with a bachelor's degree in communications, is campaigning for the job, which comes with an annualized $40,000 salary and a full $11,995 scholarship to Specs Howard School of Media Arts in Southfield.

"I've put it all over on Facebook. I made flyers," she said. "I've been telling friends and their friends.'

Burt holds down parttime jobs, at Zap Zone, a laser tag venue, Fox Hills Golf & Banquet Center in Plymouth and Genitti's Hole in the Wall in Northville, where she performs dinner theatre. She also acted in student films while at Western, picked up extra work in a few Independent productions and worked as a production assistant for Transformers: Dark of the Moon, which filmed in Detroit.

"Besides acting, being a spokesperson would be a dream job," said Burt, adding that the WRIF position would enable her to put her college major to good use.

She drew on her experience in marketing class when she began stumping for votes and reached out to the Observer.

Contestants in the past have done everything from painting messages on their cars to using social media. Last year a Rock Girl contender even painted rocks along an expressway.

A spokesperson for WRIF declined to comment on the contest and referred inquiries to the station's Web site.

Voting on the "Sexy 16" semi-finalists will run from April 18-May 1 and on the "Exotic 8" remaining contestants from May 2-18. Judges will determine the 2011 Rock Girl from among four finalists on May 20.

To vote for Burt or other contestants in the Rock Girl contest, visit www. wrif.com.

Study finds soy helps radiation kill lung cancer

A component in soybeans increases radiation's ability to kill lung cancer cells, according to a Wayne State University study published in the April 2011 issue of the Journal of Thoracic Oncology.

"To improve radiotherapy for lung cancer, we are studying the potential of natural non-toxic components of sovbeans, called soy isoflavones, to augment the effect of radiation against the tumor cells and at the same time protect normal lung cells against radiation injury," stated Gilda Hillman, associate professor in the Department of Radiation Oncology at Wayne State University's School of Medicine and the Karmanos Cancer Institute, who led the team of researchers.

"These natural soy isoflavones can sensitize cancer cells to the effects of radiotherapy by inhibiting the survival mechanisms that cancer cells activate to protect themselves," Hillman said. "At the same time, soy isoflavones can also act as antioxidants, which protect normal tissues against unintended damage from the radiotherapy.'

Hillman and her team demonstrated that soy isoflavones increase the effectiveness of radiation in battling cancer cells by blocking DNA repair mechanisms, which cancer cells "turn on" to survive radiation damage. Human lung cancer cells that were treated with soy isoflavones before radiation showed more DNA damage and less repair activity than cells that received only radiation.

Researchers used a formulation consisting of the three main isoflavones found in soybeans, including genistein, daidzein and glycitein.

Previous research showed that pure genistein demonstrated antitumor activity in human cell lines. Hillman's study showed that the soy mixture had an even greater antitumor effect than pure genistein. The soy mixture also is consistent with the soy isoflavone pills used in clinical studies, which have proven to be safe.

The study was supported by the American Institute for Cancer Research.

Can soybeans thwart cancer? A recent Wayne State University study found that soy makes radiation more effective in killing lung cancer cells.

Men's Health: Knowing Some Warning Signs Can Save Lives (And Relationships)

proud of the programs and protocol for the 40-bed secured memory unit specializing in dementia and Alzheimer's care. "We have a higher ratio of staff to residents," said Brossia-Hughes. "Hall monitors focus on what's going on in the hall. There's a strong emphasis on safety and quality of care and ensuring safety." To stay active residents gather for recreation and meals in the Day Room that opens to a large outdoor patio. Indoors, low lighting and a quiet environment keep stimulation to a minimum. The result is patients are less agitated and confused. Should behavioral problems arise psychologists and physicians are available for consult. "We want them to still hold on to that normality," said Brossia-Hughes. "The patio gives them a sense of freedom but in a secured environment.

They're free to explore." The highly structured recreation unit offers activities until 8 pm. Music therapy and bowling gets residents moving and encourages optimum independence. Current events and reminiscing keeps them thinking.

Residents enjoy flowers and wildlife because birdfeeders are out there.

"We have different levels geared to the disease process," said Brossia-Hughes. "One specialized program is real beneficial — walking. The Strolling Group comes out and explores the rest of the facility. The goal is to integrate everybody as much as possible. We don't want to isolate them. They come for entertainers, special parties and all kinds of fun, neat stuff. It's a very positive experience."
