Westland woman to repay money stolen from mom

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Westland woman will spend five years on probation and be required to pay restitution after being sentenced Monday for embezzling more than $350,000 from her elderly mother.

Carol Brazeika, 50, had avoided a prison sentence by entering a guilty plea to three counts of embezzlement over $100,000. Sentenced by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge David Groner Monday, Brazeika is required to make all reasonable efforts to have full-time employment and must pay $600 restitution monthly during the five years probation.

Required to pay $1,600 in restitution prior to sentencing, Brazeika owes $355,800 in restitution and the probation department will periodically require that she disclose bank records, assets and other information that can be used to determine if she is capable of paying more than the minimum amount of $600 monthly. If Brazeika's mother dies during the five-year probation period, she is required to make the restitution to her estate.

The victim was left about penniless. After a conversation with the victim's family, they decided they would rather that she work to pay back the money than be in prison," said Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Robert Spada, head of the elder abuse unit. "She was locked up on a high bond during the pendency of the case."

Originally facing 14 felony charges and up to 20 years in prison, Brazeika was charged with siphoning money from her 76-year-old mother's accounts containing retirement, pension and Social Security funds. The stolen money was unrecoverable - Spada

SADD 'graveyard' warns students about drinking and driving

BY SUE MASON OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

"I love my job," said Rediana Afesllari, pulling down a skeleton mask over her face and heading out into the halls of Wayne Memorial High School to look for new victims.

Dressed in black, Afesllari was one of four Grim Reapers who cruised the school last Friday, calling out students to join them in the graveyard as part of a day-long reminder that alcohol and driving don't mix.

'We want to get the word out," said Afesllari. "Every 33 minutes someone dies in a car crash. We want to show them that person dying. Someone in the office rings the bell to drive home the point.

"It's not for shock therapy, but to shake them up," added Marguerite Foshee, the advisor for the school's chapter of Students Against Destructive Decisions. "They don't think about their own mortality."

The school bell rang every 33 minutes, a sign that the reapers - Afesllari and fellow seniors Brittany Nichols, Kellie Spehar and Bobby Prough — were coming to collect some of the 110 students who had volunteered to be victims. They were taken from their classrooms and sent to Room 247 where they changed into black clothing and selected a story board about a drunk driving victim to wear for the remainder of the day.

As victims, they couldn't speak to anyone and at the end of the day stood in a long line in the main hallway as their classmates left school.

"I think this makes the biggest impact, but it startles them as well," said Foshee. "It's a lasting visual reminder."

This is the third year SADD has done the Grim Reaper just before spring break and the prom and graduation season. The students used the MADD website to find the names, photographs and stories of actual

Bowling for Heroes benefits Stiggy's Dogs

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

About a month ago, Westland resident Terran Frye was matched with Hershey, a Labrador mix, but the dog isn't a family

Hershey is a Psychiatric Service Dog provided through Stiggy's Dogs, an organization serving military veterans suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

Having served in the U.S. Marine Corps until 2005, Frye and Hershey will be on hand at Bowling for Heroes, along with other veterans and their PSDs, 6-10 p.m. Saturday, April 16, at the Super Bowl, 45100 Ford in Canton.

"We've not done a fundraiser in this area before," said Michelle Frye, Terran's wife. "We made the mistake of not asking people to sign up in advance. I think we have about 75 people signed up with friends and family. A lot of people have said they would try to come and we put out a lot of flyers.

There is room for about 150 bowlers for the event, which costs $25 per person, including three games of bowling, shoes, a slice of pizza and a soft drink.

Based in Northville, Stiggy's Dogs is a non-profit organization formed in honor of honor of fallen Corpsman Ben "Doc Stiggy' Castiglione. The group pairs rescued trained PSDs with returning military veterans suffering from PTSD. The group's motto is "Rescuing One to Rescue Another."

Like guide dogs for the blind, PSDs aid people with mental illnesses, from anxiety disorder, Traumatic Brian Injury and Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). The dogs are taught specific tasks ranging from reminding veterans to take their medicine, waking them up from a nightmare or alarm clock ringing, to directing them through a crowd.

For more information about the bowling fund-raiser, contact Rachel Cullen at (248) 330-9707 or fidhingflygirl@gmail. com. People interested in helping Stiggy's Dogs or a veteran interested in a dog, can send an e-mail to jennifer@stiggysdogs.

Man charged with biting off part of brother-in-law's nose

BY LEANNE ROGERS

A Westland man has been charged with assault with intent to maim his brother-in-law by biting off a portion of his nose during an altercation early Sunday morning.

John Gossett, 37, has been charged with the 10-year felony, as well as felonious assault, which has a sentence of up to four years in prison, and aggravated assault, a one-year misdemeanor.

Gossett and his wife had been visiting the Wayne home of her brother Kenneth Montrose, said Westland police Sgt. Thad Nelson, where they all had consumed alcohol. At some point, Gossett left and while driving on a suspended license, was involved in a traffic accident in Norwayne, said Nelson, but fled the scene, returning to the brother-in-law's home. "John and his wife got into a fight over the accident and he bit her on the arm. Then Kenneth stepped in to break it up," said Nelson, which resulted in the two men fighting.

Gossett Gossett then went back to the couple's home on South Hambleton where he was joined by Thomas Dzugan, 38, a homeless friend who was spending the night, Nelson said.

Montrose, his girlfriend and another woman accompanied Gossett's wife to the home to pick said much of the money was spent at area casinos.

It was also charged that using her mother's identity, Brazeika purchased a car, opened credit card accounts and obtained loans.

"It's a growing problem - the financial exploitation of elders. Those are the new victims. When it comes to exploitation, it can come from family or paid caregivers," said Spada.

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, April 14, 2011

In this case, Spada said Brazeika initially had a springing power of attorney which would have allowed her to pay bills for her mother, if she suddenly became incapacitated.

"Carol talked her mom into giving her a durable power of attorney," he said. "She said mother was ill and emptied the accounts. Her mother wasn't sick. You really need a tight power of attorney."

Brazeika's siblings noticed money missing and other irregularities in their mother's accounts, then contacted police.

"I don't know what she (the victim) could have done differently except that she trusted her daughter," said Spada.

Foshee did a similar activity as a high school student and decided to do it at Wayne Memorial. She came to the high school six years ago and said she was lucky when there was an opening for SADD.

The school office helped with the project by providing "the sound effect," and even teacher got involved, even some as victims. They also wore T-shirts and sweaters to promote the message of not drinking and driving. According to Foshee, a lot of people are touched by drunk driving like "victim" Max Merritt. In addition to wearing black clothing, Merritt also wore a black mask "to accentuate that I'm dead."

"I decided to get involved when I heard about a lot of people doing stupid things, but a lot of people don't do anything," he said, adding that "my mom was hit by a drunk driver. She survived, so did the other guy."

While some seniors will head south for spring break, Merritt is going to Ohio for three days to meet some friends and their relatives. He doesn't plan "to get

Relay for Life looks for more teams to join in annual walk

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Westland's 11th annual Relay for Life is a month away. That means there is still plenty of time to get involved in the 24-hour American Cancer Society fundraiser.

With 20 teams signed up, it's looking like the Westland Relay for Life won't meet its goal of 39 teams but organizers are hopeful the $110,000 fundraising goal will still be met. This year, the relay will be held 10 a.m. to 10 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, May 14-15, in Jaycee Park.

"It could be the economy or a lot of different things. We're trying to put out more feelers through the website, Facebook and in the Observer," said Westland Councilwoman Meriam Kadi, who is co-chairing the event. Whether we have 20 teams or 32, we'll do the best we can. It doesn't mean we can raise a much money. We're looking for sponsorships, too."

Over the first 10 years of Westland's Relay for Life, an average $100,000 was raised annually for a $1 million cumulative total.

"Some people have combined teams or a couple of people have moved their teams when they moved out of the city," said Kadi. It's the first year American Cancer Society representative Marie Matuszak has worked on the Westland relay so she can't offer any comparisons to prior years.

"We're not seeing a problem to this extent in other communities," said Matuszak, who also works on relays in Garden City and Belleville. "We're making sure the teams feel loved and know what is going on. We want to make it a simple process for Online donations are up this year but pre-event fundraising numbers are down, said Matuszak.

"It's not likely at this point that we will meet the 39-team goal, that doesn't mean we can't use the teams we have to reach the $111,000 goal," she said. "You can sign up for teams until the event — the sooner the better but teams can do post-event fundraising, too."

Teams can sign up and donations can be made at www.relayforlife.org/westlandmi.

School funding forum draws record crowd

BY KAREN SMITH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Laura Brinker was somewhat encouraged about state funding for public schools after Monday's forum attended by four state lawmakers who represent the Livonia

"I was pleased that no one was in full agreement with the governor's proposal — all want to find more money for schools," the mother of three Livonia Public Schools students said.

But Paula Nowell, an LPS teacher and the mother of three students at the district's Jackson Early Childhood Center, said she is taking a wait-and-see approach.

"I'm happy they came," she said. "But what they say here and what they vote on are two different things."

The Legislative Hour, held at Stevenson High School in Livonia, was sponsored by the LPS District Communications Team. The crowd of teachers, staff members, parents and students spilled out into the hallway from the cafeteria. "I think we have maybe double what we had last year," Supt. Randy Liepa said of attendance at the second annual

Gov. Rick Snyder has proposed cutting school funding next school year by $300 per student. That, combined with a $170 cut last school year and the state's projected increase in retirement costs averaging

WALSH ONLY REPUBLICAN

State Rep. John Walsh of Livonia was the only Republican at the forum. The House speaker pro tem said he doesn't agree with all aspects of the governor's proposed budget and will continue his efforts to reduce the $300 cut by as much as possible. However, he said, it's unrealistic to think there won't be any cut because of the state's $1.4

state departments are seeing double-digit cuts, while the proposed cut to schools is 4

Walsh, who worked last year with Livonia school officials and parents in Lansing to restore lost 20(j) money to the district, said it's "incredibly helpful" for people to let their voices be heard.

Amy Dutton, a teacher at Emerson Middle School in Livonia, said she was "pleasantly surprised at what Walsh said." However, she said it's still unclear what's going to happen. "It's scary," she said. State Sen. Glenn Anderson (D-Westland) said he will vote against the governor's proposal to use $900 million in the School Aid Fund, which has a surplus, for higher education. "I pledge to everyone sitting here that I'll oppose it fervently," he said.

State Rep. Richard LeBlanc (D-Westland) said the state's longtime financial problems won't all be fixed with the new budget starting Oct. 1. "If this year, we left the school fund alone, we would not have to have this conversation," he said, referring to the forum.

TAX POLICY PART OF PICTURE

State Rep. Phil Cavanagh (D-Redford), a member of the Tax Policy Committee, said he is a small businessman who ran for office last year because Lansing was broke and the Michigan Business Tax wasn't working. However, the freshman lawmaker said he's disheartened by the major changes the governor has proposed, including having some small businesses pay no taxes

"Businesses locate in our state first and foremost because of education, then public safety," Cavanagh said. Businesses won't want to move to Michigan or stay here even if they don't have to pay taxes if the schools are poor, he said, because they want to attract and hire educated employees. "We need to look at the whole picture," he said.

That resonated with Nikkiy Ferrell, a senior at Stevenson High School. Cavanagh may be the new guy, she said, but what he said made a lot of sense to her.

Walsh said that the $170 cut shouldn't come as a surprise to school boards or bargaining units since it was one-time stimulus money.

He said he may support using money from the School Aid Fund for community colleges and universities for one year. "It's all taxpayer dollars," he said. The School Aid Fund received money from the general fund for 15 years, he said. "I don't remember any hearings like this. It's a difficult decision, but it's gone both ways," he said.

He said the School Aid Fund grew every year until 2009. If districts suffered cuts, it was because their enrollment declined, he said. Yet the amount of money schools spend per student continues to increase, he said. Pay and benefits make up 85 percent of a district's budget. "That's going to have to be taken care of," he said.

LeBlanc, a former school board member in Westland, said he would not support allowing school boards to ask voters for millage increases. "I think these things get carried away. I don't think that's the way to go," he said, referring to how school boards used to wear down the electorate with repeated proposals until one finally passed.

There wouldn't have to be funding cuts to K-12 schools if not for the plan to use $900 million for higher education.

"It's a manufactured problem," he said. Walsh said he is studying how Proposal A can be changed to allow adjacent communities to ask for millage increases together. However, he said, he's a true supporter of Proposal A, which has provided stable funding for schools over the

Life Remodeled ready to build new home in Norwayne

BY LEANNE ROGERS

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Money has been raised, volunteers lined up and a family selected and a week of construction that will result in a new home being in Norwayne has been scheduled to begin Monday, April 25.

"We're pretty excited. We still need a lot of volunteers for beautification and hospitality – talking to people, serving food to workers," said Chris Lambert, a pastor at Ekklesia which is sponsoring the Life

Remodeled project.

Life Remodeled drew applications from 111 families seeking to become residents of the new home at 32231 Oscoda Court. A selection committee narrowed the applications down to three families.

"The pastors (of Ekklesia) chose one of the three families. All three families were qualified - it was tough," said Lambert, adding that the family selected will be announced Sunday.

The city had received a blighted abandoned home and garage on the Oscoda Court property which has been demolished and provided the lot to Life Remodeled as part of the Neighborhood Stabilization Life Remodeled has raised more than $27,000 for the project, received donated materials and has construction trade professionals donating their services during the build, Lambert said.

Students in the William D. Ford Career Technical Center have constructed exterior walls for the new home.

Like Life Remodeled, which is described as a holistic program that will provide financial planning and spiritual counseling to the selected family, there are also plans for a beautification-project on Oscoda along with a free medical and dental clinic and free activities for families and children.

"We'll do a beautification and cleanup of the whole street, offering people on Oscoda Court helps as they see fit," said Lambert.

At the conclusion of the construction project, Life

Remodeled has received permission for a party noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, May 1, at Jefferson-Barns Elementary

City honors student's Skills USA effort

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Jeff Medel didn't have much experience in carpentry before taking his first year of construction technology but that didn't stop him from placing in recent skills competition.

A junior at Westland John Glenn High School and a student at the William D. Ford Career Technical Center. Medel placed first locally and fifth in the region during the Skills USA Individual Carpentry Competition.

Students were required to interpret prints and construction drawings, then build the structure within 4.5-6 hours, depending on the scope of the work. The students were given build has no physical use in a print and pile of lumber, then worked alone to build the structure.

At a recent Westland council meeting, Medel was presented with a certificate of achievement by Mayor William Wild. Instructor Mike Koelzer noted that Medel didn't have a lot of experience but he was the only one among 48 students in the class to have perfect attendance.

"I'm not saying that that is what made the difference entirely, but he is dedicated. There was a written test with math and blueprints he had never seen before," said Koelzer. "They give them a pile of lumber and what they Judged by industry professionals to within 1/16th of an inch, Koelzer said that what the students build focuses on including as many skills as possible.

"As a junior, he can come back next year and take first place," said Koelzer.

The first-year construction technology class taken by Medel prepares students for the second year in which they will put their skills to work in the field.

"Thanks to everyone who donated so I could participate in this competition," said Medel.

Theft of game system ends in 4 arrests

Break-in

Police arrested a Westland man for breaking into an apartment in the 36000 block of Hunter early April 9. The owner told police that she had awakened to Later that day, the owner told police she had contacted the Game Stop, 7044 N. Wayne Road, and asked if anyone had been in trying to sell a Wii game system like the one stolen from her apartment. An employee reported that a man had been trying to sell a system early that morning but the store had no cash and hadn't been able to complete the purchase.

An officer visited the store which had obtained a name of a man who was found to have an expired driver's license listing an Oak Park address. Checking further, the officer found that the suspect had more recent police contacts listing an apartment in the 6600 block of Yale in Westland.

When officers went to the apartment, several people were inside, including the suspect. He told officers that he had bought the game system he was trying to sell from a man he met walking along Hunter. He later told police the game system was inside a backpack in the trunk of his girlfriend's car. The girlfriend Strong arm robbery told police she had picked the man up in her car at the apartment on Hunter and he'd placed a backpack in the trunk which she allowed officers to retrieve.

Officers noticed the smell of marijuana in the vehicle and ticketed the woman for marijuana possession after retrieving a container of numerous burnt butts.

The suspect was arrested for receiving and concealing stolen property after officers also found numerous receipts for selling games systems.

After he was arrested, the suspect told police there was no other stolen property in the apartment and consented to a search. Officers found that the man's brother, who was inside the apartment was wanted on a Westland warrant for driving with a suspended license and he was arrested.

A third man, a Detroit resident, was arrested on a felony warrant for second-degree home invasion.

An 82-year old resident of the Riverbend Apartments, 30580 Warren Road, told police April 8 that someone had broken into her apartment and stolen a jewelry box, containing 30 pairs of diamond earrings valued at $30,000. She said there was no forced entry, so she suspected an apartment complex employee who has keys was responsible.

On April 9, a Grand Rapids man told police that he was in town visiting his ailing mother who lives in the 6900 block of Yale. The man told police that he was walking back from a liquor store at Wayne Road and Hunter at about 11 p.m. When he reached the area of Yale and Hunter, he said he was suddenly struck on the side of his head by a hard object. Wearing a winter coat with the hood up, he said he didn't see who had hit him.

The man told police he fell backward and was grabbed by someone who lowered him to the ground. Stunned at first, the man said he realized three men were pulling his property out of his pockets and throwing it on the ground. The man said the suspects took his cell phone and state identification card.

Larceny from a vehicle

A resident in the 34000 block of Hiveley told police April 7 that overnight someone had stolen a loaded 9mm semiautomatic handgun in a holster from his Dodge Ram pickup truck. There was no sign of forced entry but the owner said he had locked the car the night before.

Along with the $600 gun, a GPS unit and iPad Touch valued at $500 were also stolen. The owner said he found his cell phone and other items on the ground near his home. -By LeAnne Rogers

The thief cracked the steering column and tried to pull out the ignition.

Home invasion

A resident in the 6000 block of Cardwell reported that someone unlawfully entered a home in the 5100 block of Cardwell through an unlocked bathroom window about 1 p.m. April 8.

An observer saw what looked like a blond, 16-year-old male pull a ladder over and enter the window but didn't say anything to the resident until she returned home 45 minutes

During that time many items were stolen, including 10 gold rings, 15 bracelets, 15 pairs of earrings, an iPod and a camcorder.

Home invasion

A resident in the 30000 block of Krauter reported an unlawful entry April 9. An unlocked door allowed a thief to enter and steal electronics, including a Wii game system and Wii games.

Someone stole a 2003 Chevy Trailblazer that was chained and parked in the lot at Lee's Auto Sales, 6969 Middlebelt, April 7-8. There was no license plate assigned to the vehicle.

Receiving and concealing

A 23-year-old Inkster woman was arrested at the CVS store at 27435 Ford about 7:30 a.m. April 10 when she tried to get a refund for three First Response pregnancy kits that her friend stole earlier in the day from the same store. Each kit cost about $50, according to the police report.

According to police, the friend knew that she was a drug addict and needed money to support her habit and thought that he was helping her by committing the theft.

Theft

The 83-year-old wife of an 89-year-old patient at Garden City Hospital on Inkster Road, north of Ford, said that someone took her husband's dentures after he was admitted to the hospital March 11.

On March 12, she noticed that they were missing.

He was arrested on an outstanding Detroit warrant and for obstructing the police in not giving his correct name.

He was also ticketed for being in the park after closing.

Graffiti

Someone spray painted in black the brick wall and door of Rick's Custom Cycle, 21532 Ford, sometime before 1:30 a.m. April 11.

A video surveillance camera captured the image of an unknown man who wore a blue jacket, blue T-shirt, black pants and carried a blue and silver bag.

Someone broke the passenger window of a 1996 Toyota Corolla that was parked at the Robert Lee Dance Studio, 29855 Ford, on April 10. The thief took a purse and its contents which included cash and a debit card, that were left on the front seat.

The police officer noted in his report that the owner of the purse worked as a bank manager at a Southfield bank.

Property destruction

A 23-year-old Westland woman wants to press charges against her ex-boyfriend after he broke both side mirrors and made three dents on the driver's side of her 1997 Ford

She said that she left the locked vehicle in the 5600 block of Middlebelt after her ex-boyfriend gave her and her friends a hard time. When she went back to the car, she discovered the damage.

She said he called her and asked her how she liked her car.

Michigan Industrial Shoe stays true to its innovative heritage

BY LARRY RUEHLEN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

In the heyday of manufacturing, each auto plant had its own industrial shoe store. But by 1961, those on-site stores began disappearing as corporations began looking for ways to trim costs. That's when Victor Girolami, then a sales rep for Hy-Test safety shoes, saw and seized an opportunity to create a new business that flourishes to this day - 50 years after Vic decided to hit the road.

Rather than opening a traditional shoe store, Vic packed his steel-toed shoes and boots in a shoemobile and started making the rounds at factories.

He stored shoes in the family garage until it resembled a warehouse but by 1968, his wife Gale had had enough. Get a proper warehouse. she warned. So Vic rented a 3000 square-foot warehouse on 8 Mile Road in Southfield and the business grew. More shoemobiles were added and by 1976, Michigan Industrial Shoe needed more space. The problem was solved with the purchase of a 16,000 square foot warehouse and headquarters at 25477 W. 8 Mile Road, in Redford.

"My dad sold a lot of shoes," said Mike Girolami. "At our peak, he sold 250,000 units a year. But our core customer is the manufacturing sector and Michigan has lost 500,000 of those jobs in the last 10 years.'

But Mike and his sister, Linda Girolami Petty, are following in their father's footsteps by continuing to innovate.

Michigan Industrial Shoe has a fleet of eight mobile shoe stores or 'shoemobiles' servicing Michigan, northern Indiana, and northern Ohio. Each safety shoe mobile is stocked at our main warehouse with specific styles for your work environment before we drive to you. Every 48 foot mobile shoe store carries over 80 styles and 1,200 pair of safety shoes for men and women.

DTE Energy to provide summer jobs for area young people

he offered top-notch service

If your teen is looking for a summer job, DTE Energy Foundation just might have the answer.

"Summer employment is one of the best ways to help young people prepare for their future and to start them on the road to success, said Fred Shell, president of the DTE Energy Foundation and vice president of DTE Energy. "It introduces them to the demands, expectations and rewards of the workplace - being responsible, being a good team member and being proud of a job well done."

Along those lines, the foundation has partnered with City Connect Detroit to provide 333 summer jobs for youth in Metropolitan Detroit at the second annual Youth Employment Summit, hosted by City Connect

Detroit. With the creation of job opportunities for young people serving as the primary focus of the summit, the DTE Energy Foundation grant of $500,000 is the largest private donation toward a fundraising goal of $1.2-million to $1.5-million. The gift will go to support the "Grow Detroit's Young Talent" program, run by City Connect

Entitled "Homegrown

Talent: Envisioning Detroit's Future Workforce - Are you Ready?", the summit will highlight the collaborative efforts of the DTE Energy Foundation and City Connect Detroit to identify hundreds of summer jobs for young people ages of 14-24.

Last year, City Connect Detroit launched the community campaign, "Grow Detroit's Young Talent Program," with support from The Skillman Foundation. The campaign raised more than $1 million to provide work experiences for 600 teens and young adults. "DTE Energy Foundation's generous gift will allow us to make a tremendous step forward in transforming our community by increasing job opportunities for young people," said Dr. Geneva J. Williams, City Connect Detroit's founding president and strategic executive consultant. "The creation of sustainable, high-quality jobs not only has a huge impact on our youth, but also provides a great value to employers. The summit will address strategies and tactics to accelerate youth employ-

U.S. Senator Debbie Stabenow (D-Mich.) will deliver the keynote address, "Growing Young Talent for the World of Work."

Other dignitaries include Kieth Cockrell, Michigan president and regional executive for Bank of America; and representatives of Mayor Dave Bing's office. Steve Kurmas, President of Detroit Edison and Larry Steward, Vice President of Human Resources will represent DTE Energy at the summit.

This year's summer jobs are designed to help hundreds of young people learn what it takes to be a good employee and to develop critical work skills that will be invaluable as they look forward to being a part of the Michigan workforce one day.

"Support for summer employment programs like. this is a critical element in a young person's future success," Shell said. "It speaks to the need to develop Michigan's future workforce now, as well as, promote the importance of cultivating home-grown talent at an early age."

The summer jobs program begins in July and goes for six weeks. For more information on how to participate or to provide additional job opportunities call 313.879.1476 or go to www. growdetroitsyoungtalent.org.

Calley pitches governor's message

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, April 14, 2011

Lt. Gov. Brian Calley, addressing a Canton crowd Monday afternoon, championed a new bridge to Canada, a controversial pension tax, state budgetcutting measures and less business taxes and regulations as critical to reinventing Michigan and creating jobs.

Calley didn't stray from the message Gov. Rick Snyder has pitched since he began leading an economically wounded state clamoring for jobs and a more promising future. Even though some polls have indicated Snyder's approval rating has dipped, Calley said it's imperative to stay the course rather than bow to political pressure and protests in Lansing.

"We decided to disregard the political ramifications of fixing these problems and go ahead and do it anyway," Calley told nearly 100 people during a Canton Economic Club luncheon at Summit on the Park.

"There will be protests. There's only one way to avoid protests — and that's to do nothing," he said later. "We're also not willing to govern thinking toward the next election."

Calley received a warm welcome at the Summit. After his speech, he was approached by local resident Phyllis Hampton, who told him, "I think you're on the right track."

VITAL NEEDS

Calley touted a new bridge to Canada, two miles south of the Ambassador Bridge, as vital to boosting Michigan exports. He said he is hopeful the state can seek bids next year from the private sector to design and build the estimated $950-million

"If we're going to operate the state like a business," he said, "it's time we start thinking of who our customers are."

After his speech, Calley said the bridge construction would create 10,000 jobs. Moreover, he said one in eight jobs in southeast Michigan are dependent on trade with Canada.

Calley bemoaned statistics indicating Michigan has amassed nearly $50 billion in debt, saying the state has to stop borrowing its future and trim spending. He said Snyder proposed slashing most government departments by 5 percent, though some sectors, such as higher education, fared even Calley said critical areas such as Medicaid, early childhood education and mental health services were mostly spared, though he said Michigan, despite opposition, should join other states in taxing pensions and ushering in what he called a more equitable system.

"Think opportunity for the next generation," Calley said.

By 2032, he said, retirees are expected to account for 20 percent of the population, and he said pension-taxing revenues can't be ignored.

In a compromise announced after Calley's speech, retirees who will be at least 67 come Jan. 1 would continue to be exempt from pension taxes, while people 60-66 would keep a smaller exemption but pay some taxes. Pensions would be taxable for younger retirees.

Calley also sounded a familiar theme of eliminating the Michigan Business Tax for small businesses, saying they also pay an individual income tax.

"Double-taxing the home team is a bad strategy," he said. Calley called for easing cerMel Morris and Ron Lieberman listen to Michigan Lt. Gov. Brian Calley' speech.

He also hailed an end to itempricing in places such as grocery stores, saying the measure should reduce what consumers

SHARED SACRIFICE

Calley acknowledged that some changes proposed by Snyder's administration are painful and require shared sacrifice, yet he said the goal is to boost the state's image and create jobs.

"We've had our heads down for a long time in the state of Michigan," he said.

On a personal note, Calley, 34, became Michigan's second youngest lieutenant governor. Only former Lt. Gov. John Swainson in 1959 was younger. Before his speech Monday, Calley was greeted by township officials who, hopeful of eventually snagging a larger share of state-shared revenue, schooled him on how Canton has adopted "best practices" and shared services with other communities.

Calley also saw a video filmed last year by Inside Business Report, a national show hosted by actor-politician Fred Thompson to showcase communities that have shown economic success.

Township Supervisor Phil LaJoy, who formerly served in the state House with Calley, welcomed his visit.

"I think it will be good for Canton," LaJoy said. "He has been 'Cantonized."

W-W recruits Realtors in fight for state funding

BY SUE MASON OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, April 14, 2011

Each year the Wayne-Westland Community Schools invites area Realtors to lunch to provide them with a look at the good things happening in the

According to Deputy Supt. Charlotte Sherman, talking about things like all-day kindergarten in all of the K-4 buildings, a talented and gifted program and Smart board in the K-12 classrooms would have taken at least "60-70 minutes."

However, she and Supt. Greg Baracy spent time talking to the folks who sell homes in the district about a looming state crisis that could significantly impact the district, its 12,000plus students and the six communities that are within its boundaries.

"We know good schools make good communities, but this is so important, so significant, that it will impact all school districts in the state," Sherman said of Gov. Rick Snyder's proposed school aid budget. We have a crisis in Michigan and if this funding crisis isn't resolved, these program in this district and districts around the state will be affected."

"We're all dealing with the same issues," Baracy said. "We understand the sacrifices Realtors have made, we also have been sharing in those sacrifices. But we are going to be impacted very seriously, if the governor's proposal comes to Baracy's comments came just hours before more than 450 parents, students and staff members gathered at the Dyer Senior Center to hear state lawmakers talk about the proposed school aid budget that if approved will eliminate $14.5 million in funding for Wayne-Westland.

Baracy used the luncheon, which was prepared and served by students in the culinary arts program at the William D. Ford Career Technical Center, to explain the situation to Realtors and elicit their help to preserve the district's educational program.

"Our board of education is proceeding cautiously and methodically as they analyze the governor's proposed budget and not overreacting, but I want you to know that our board has not cut one student program," he said. "Their intent is to preserve every program they can and go elsewhere to cut costs.

According to Baracy, the "most devastating" part of the governor's proposal is the elimination of $6 million in "equity funding" the district has been receiving en lieu of millage not included in its Proposal A funding formula.

"We closed six elementaries to right-size this district. We had no idea this would happen," Baracy said. "We could turn off the lights, the heat and water and barely reach $12 million. What we're telling the Legislature is that if they say education is the foundation for recovery, then they need to fund it. The money is there to fund the cuts.'

Baracy added the same legacy costs - health care and retirement — that almost put the Big Three under also are impacting school districts, but school districts have no control over the latter, which will jump to 24.46 percent of payroll, meaning almost 25 cents of every dollar spent on employee wages will go to the state to cover retirement costs.

The most telling fact Baracy presented to Realtors was that if the governor's proposal goes through, 33 of the 34 school districts in Wayne County will be in deficit at the end of the current budget year. The 34th one, Gibraltar, will join the crowd at the end of 2012-13.

"Our goal in the next eight to 10 weeks is to have enough influence to change the bill before it comes out of the Legislature," he said. "We urge you to pick up the phone and call your legislators and ask them not to cut K-12 education. We will be in deficit next year. We will file a deficit elimination plan, but it will be worse, if we can't find our way out. We don't want to talk about an emergency financial manager. We want to work this out ourselves."

Reflective of the state of the economy in Michigan, guests filled only a portion of the lecture hall in the William D. Ford Career Technical Center during Wayne-Westland's annual Realtors Luncheon.

Randy Bennett, the pastor of Westland Free Methodist Church, looks over a Legislative Tool Kit Wayne-Westland school officials included in a folder containing information about the district.

Ashley Abbott and Sam McIntosh, both members of the John Glenn JROTC program, greet guests arriving at the luncheon.

OUR VIEWS

Our choices

Griffin, Davis are best picks for W-W school board

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools is at an important crossroads, and the direction it takes will be determined by the district and its residents, the governor and state law-

If Gov. Rick Snyder has his way, the district will lose more than \$14 million in state school aid, the most of any district in the state. Tough decisions will have to be made, if that happens. But even  $i\bar{f}$  school officials are successful in hanging on to some \$6 million in Proposal A equity funding, the district's belt will have to be tightened more than a notch or two.

The school board will be a major player in decisions that will need to be made now and in the future. And with the district losing veteran board member Skip Monit, it's important that voters look closely at the six candidates who hope to win one of the two four-year terms that will be filled in the Tuesday, May 3, election.

Griffin has been on both sides of the fence when it comes to education. On the one side, he has been a teacher and a UniServ director for the Michigan Education Association. On the other side, he has been school board trustee and served as a member of the district's Citizens Bond Oversight and Building and Site Fund committees.

As we see it, Griffin has the knowledge to make good decisions. He knows what it takes to survive a crisis. As mayor of Westland, he had to make the tough choices to erase a budget deficit. We believe he is prepared to do what is necessary to save the school district. He knows it will be tough, but we believe he is up to the task.

We like that he wants the community more involved in process. According to Griffin, every stakeholder in the district needs to be a part the solution to minimize the impact of the cost-cutting measures. We also like his idea of the school board should send out a newsletter to residents, talking about the major issues. Not everyone attends school board meetings or watches the meetings on cable TV. A newsletter is one way to better educate the public about the issues facing Wayne-

Davis brings a business acumen to the mix. He has both an education and business background and through his position as a general manager for Value City Furniture, he understandings the idea of doing more with less. He has been able to maintain profitability at the Westland store for the past three years, by far the most difficult time to do business since the Great Depression.

Davis wants what's best for the community and that includes the very best schools so people will want to live here. He understands the magnitude of a loss of a $14 million in revenue and believes any cuts that are made must be done with the least amount of impact on the children. All areas of the budget must be looked at for cost savings, but the bottom line is the students.

We believe Davis has the experience to deal with the issues facing the district. As a business person, he has had to make tough decisions to maintain the viability of his store and we believe he will be able to do what's best for the Wayne-Westland school district and its students.

That said, we also urge residents to get out and vote, whether by absentee ballot or at the polls on Election Day. These six candidates have taken the time to get involved, and so should every resident in the district. Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., plenty of time to let your voice be heard.

Disappointed about views

Dear Sen. Colbeck,

I was extremely disappointed with many of your views on public education expressed at the legislative forum held at the board office/Dyer Senior

I also want to thank you for attending because I have a good idea who will help the public education system and who will not. I was extremely impressed with the comments that Sen. Hopgood made regarding finding additional funding for the public school system. In addition, Rep. LeBlanc seems to be a supporter of public education. I commend Rep. Slavens who quickly spoke up when you said "no one will care if our public schools are not meeting the needs of students when choosing a new state to live in."

While I agree throwing money at schools is not the answer, but at least decrease the cuts to the districts that are successfully running their school districts with the current budget. My husband and I are responsible for raising our two boys and making sure they have the best education possible. We are blessed with jobs, and enough money to live comfortably. We do not have additional funds to send our children to private school, and we are not happy with the charter schools in our area. The closest charter school is Gaudior Academy and the children that live on our street and attend that school are not as advanced as our boys.

One of the boys is very bright, but he told me that they have not learned how to add doubledigit numbers in second grade. My kids love yelling out math problems just to see who will get the answer first. I'm sorry to say that they win most of the time among our neighbors and their cousins who go to Detroit Public Schools.

I am impressed with the Wayne-Westland school district because most of the children I have met or know personally are academically successful Even the students who are struggling which one of my sons was last year are quickly assisted. My son received services, such as speech, free summer school, and free after-school tutoring. I am so impressed because his reading level went up from a beginning first grade level to end-of-year second grade level half way through his second-grade year. That makes me wonder why Wayne-Westland is receiving the most cuts.

After listening to you, I feel that you want the public schools to fail so that we have to send our children to charter schools. I was appalled and amazed at your comments regarding the lottery. Your idea is to cut the education budget, and you don't like piggy backing on gamblers. What do you propose? I think any funding we can get is welcomed. If you or someone else has a gambling problem then they need help. If people gamble responsibly then I would like that money to benefit K-12 public schools. I also would love to see the cigarette tax, alcohol, beer and wine tax to help meet the budget and eliminate the need for these cuts. Why don't you stop worrying so much and get creative about finding the funding we need?

The budget should not include colleges and universities. K-12 schools are more deserving of the money. If you are not successful in K-12, you can't go to college anyway. College is a privilege, not a necessity. There are many people who are very successful who have never attended college.

I graduated from college, but I still don't support the idea of lumping K-12 together with the colleges and universities. In fact, use the money that you are giving to colleges and universities to prepare high school students to become entrepreneurs and become plumbers, electricians, etc. How can we remove the colleges and universities from the equation? This needs to be done now not later. College students and parents need to get creative and be responsible for paying for college.

I am not sure how you got elected, but you need to speak and listen to your constituents. If they feel the same way you do that is great! Thank goodness I don't live in your district. Your views are scaring me to death. Good luck in your future endeavors. Also heaven help our children if there are more people who think like you do.

Don't cut K-12 funding

I am writing as a parent of students who attend the Wayne-Westland Community Schools district in response to the proposed cuts in K-12 education.

Our school district has faced cuts over the last several years in funding from the state. To deal with this decrease in revenue, the school board closed elementary schools and reconfigured the grade levels in the remaining buildings to utilize them more efficiently. They also redrew the bus routes to maximize the number of students on every bus.

Our district purchases natural gas, fuel and electricity as part of a consortium with other districts to save by "buying in bulk." The Wayne-Westland Schools has created the I-Save Program to teach students and staff the importance of saving energy and the planet, which has saved additional money in utility costs.

Many school employees have lost their jobs due to cutbacks. Building and departmental staff are working hard to keep up with the same amount of work with less people. Supply budgets have been cut; purchases have been put "on hold."

My neighborhood school has closed. My children get home later than before because of the new bus routes. Every year I watch the school district struggle with budget concerns due to the issues with state funding. In spite of all that, Wayne-Westland continues to provide a quality education for my children - a foundation for lifelong learning.

I implore you to not cut any funds to K-12 education for the future of my children, yours and the state of Michigan's. The backbone of a great society is educated people, education is an investment with an excellent return.

It's easy to criticize when it's not your budget to solve

BY BRAD KADRICH STAFF COLUMNIST

t's pretty easy for us to sit back and tell legislators how they should be solving Michigan's budget crisis or, even more locally, how Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, Canton and Plymouth Township boards and Plymouth city commissioners how to resolve their financial situations.

I've had more than one board member say to me, "How about giving it a try yourself?" To which I frequently say, "No, thanks. I'd much rather be in my position than yours."

While dealing with stories on the school budget, I had the opportunity to talk to Sheila Paton, a parent and co-chair of the Legislative Action Network, a committee she helped form to deal with legislative issues pertaining particularly to the school budget. She knows everything there is to know about what the state plans and the roadblocks Plymouth-Canton faces finan-

She told me about a tool on The Center for Michigan's website (www.thecenterformichigan.com) that puts you in the budgetary driver's seat. It lays out Gov. Rick Snyder's plans for balancing the budget and lets you make the decisions for him. You can raise taxes, cut revenue sharing, close prisons ... pretty much all the options the governor is considering. Don't agree with him? Do it yourself. Here's my word of caution: It ain't easy.

The first thing it does is ask if you support the governor's plan to cut business taxes by $1.2 billion, while admitting that plan increases the budget deficit. I didn't support it, because I'm not sure the best thing to do when you're dealing with a $1.4 billion deficit is to increase it. I was on a bit of an island here, because less than 49 percent of the people who took the test did what I did. Here's what you've got to con-

 Education: You can cut funding 15 percent to state-funded universities, which saves you $222 million but would result in tuition increases. You can also shift funding for community colleges or fund universities out of the school aid fund, but that would cost public schools dearly. I didn't do it. I adopted the first plan because, to me, the other plans put K-12 funding at risk to a greater degree than I would have been willing to do.

· General government: I supported cuts in revenue sharing. It seems like the governor's still going to get money to communities who demonstrate the ability to be creative in sharing expenses and programs. Both Plymouths and Canton Township have shown that inclination and would likely benefit from the governor's plan. I also asked for the 10-percent, across-the-board cuts from each department. Prisons and police: I supported a suggestion for prison sentencing reform, which would use various approaches to reduce prison population. I also supported the idea of prison operations reforms, including closing a prison, because if we're going to reform sentencing guidelines and get nonviolent people out of the prisons, perhaps we don't need as many beds.

• Public workforce: I supported the governor's plan for concessions from state workers.

· Welfare and health care: I don't know if I agree with cutting people off of welfare after 48 months, but there's probably a way to weed out those who abuse the system from those whose very lives depend on it.

• Tax increases: I had no trouble raising the tax on beer and wine; to me, it's the biggest no-brainer in the entire plan. I also supported extending sales tax to personal services because it lowers the sales tax to 5.5 percent overall, and I don't do all that much of the "services" thing. With my car, having car maintenance taxed higher could hurt me, but overall it falls under the "something has to be done" category, and this, to me, is the lesser of the evils.

None of it was easy, and I was playing with "pretend" money. I had no skin in the game, other than trying to understand. My decisions aren't going to impact anyone. Remember that before you blast legislators out of hand for their decisions.

Exhibit features local glass works

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, April 14, 2011

For over the past 30 years, Michigan has celebrated the rich tradition of glass as an art medium by recognizing April as Glass Month.

In honor of this designation, The Village Theater at Cherry Hill hosts an exhibition of glass works created by artists from the Furnace Design Studio and The Glass Academy of Dearborn. This exhibition of color and light captured in glass works of art runs through Saturday, April 29, in the Gallery@VT at 50400 Cherry Hill Road in Glass art enthusiasts and collectors, as well as the general public, are encouraged to explore the exhibition, which showcases the art of glass as expressed in all forms from glass objects and vessels to mixed media. Although every unique piece is made from the magical medium of glass, each retains its own personality and style. Artists at the Furnace Design Studio combine silica and heat, powdered pigments, metal dusts and added color to create pieces of exquisite beauty.

City inks contract to recycle clothing

BY LEANNE ROGERS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Clothing and textiles aren't accepted for curbside recycling, so Westland residents may be faced with a question about what to do with unwanted

An option aimed at keeping discarded clothing and shoes from being sent to the landfill could soon be available. The council has an approved an agreement with a Canton-based company, Wear It Again, to place drop boxes around the city to collect clothing, shoes and textiles for recycling.

"This contract is to expand our recycling program. We will put containers at different city buildings," said Mayor William Wild. "It's similar to what we did with paper a few years ago. The containers will be very pre-

The collection containers would be located at City Hall, the Friendship Center and fire

"If we move forward, we'll come back with more information. We are looking to the first of May," said Wild.

Under the one year agreement which can be terminated by either party with 90 days' notice, could also generate some revenue for the city -2 cents per pound for recycled clothing.

The proposal from Abdul Saleh, vice president of Wear It Again, estimates the revenue for the city at $34,000 based on 1.7 million pounds of clothing, shoes and textiles recycled over the year. That's an estimated 68 pounds recycled by 25,000 households.

Saleh also cites statistics from the Council for Textile Recycling which reports the clothing recycling industry presents 2.5 billion pounds of post-consumer textile waste from entering landfills each

Monitoring spending helps save for retirement

GUEST COLUMNIST

I recently saw a new survey that deals with retirement for the baby boomer generation.

The baby boomer generation, born between 1946 and 1964 and nearly 80 million strong, are now beginning to turn 65. The generation, which Rick Bloom changed all the rules in America, is now facing retirement and the results of the poll show there are problems on the horizon.

According to the poll, 24 percent of baby boomers say they have no retirement savings other than their home. In addition, of the individuals who have saved something for retirement, on average they have about $100,000 in savings and only one in 10 have put away the at least one-half million dollars needed for their retirement. The bottom line, the results of the survey clearly show that the baby boomer generation will face some extraordinary problems in the near future.

When you read that 44 percent of the members of the baby boomer generation have little or no faith that they will have the money necessary to retire, the question I have is why they aren't doing something now to correct the problem?

The results of this survey should not surprise many people. There have been many surveys and polls done in the past that show the same thing, that people are not saving nearly enough for their retirement. Yet they are not doing anything to correct the problem. We need to look at our situation and ask the question: What can I do to assure myself a quality of life in retirement?

Just as state and federal governments have to tighten their belts and reduce spending, you and I need to do the same thing. For the baby boomer generation, one of the best things to better improve retirement is to get expenses under control now. There is no time to delay. Look for opportunities to reduce your cost of living.

The best way to start the process is to analyze where your money is going today. It is so important to do a cash flow statement, a listing of what's coming into the family and what's going out. It is what's going out that you and I need to focus on. We may not be able to control our income but we can control our expenses.

Every family situation is different. Therefore, it's hard to tell exactly how to reduce expenses. However, there are some general themes. Too many Americans are still payon charge cards and other types of debt. Reducing debt and refinancing under low interest rates are both options to explore. It's amazing that I see people with money in the bank getting virtually no interest and, at the same time they have substantial charge card balances with 18.5 percent interest. It makes sense to use the savings to pay off the charge cards.

When people start looking at expenses they find ways of reducing their cost of living while not affecting their quality of life. However, sometimes people do have to reduce their lifestyle in order to protect their future. Whether that's keeping your car longer before you get a new one, or not going out to eat as much, the bottom line is the baby boomer generation needs to face the reality of what happens if the money runs out.

We live in the greatest country in the world. However, America is not a great place if you're old and poor. Don't delay, start getting a hold of your expenses today, and don't forget to take the money that you're saving and begin an investment program.

Good luck!

Hiser's heroics boost Chargers to a 4-0 start

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Gusting 35-to-40 mph Santa Ana-like winds played havoc with balls hit the to outfield during Monday's Livonia Churchill-Livonia Stevenson girls softball encounter. But there was one player - Churchill senior pitcher Natalie Hiser — who managed to be a calming effect amid the swirling breeze as she starred on the mound and at the plate in the Chargers' 3-2 victory over the visiting Spartans.

Hiser, a left-hander, did not allow a hit in seven innings. She struck out six and walked

But it was her lead-off triple in the fourth inning followed by a one-out single in the bottom of the sixth that led to the tying and go-ahead runs for the Chargers, who improved to 4-0 overall.

"She was in good command of her stuff today," first-year Churchill coach Steve Gentilia said of his senior ace. "First inning we had a couple of errors there and they got some runners on base, but when she had control of the moment, she took control. She's going to be our leader this year. We're going to go as Natalie goes. That's going to be our way through the league."

Stevenson (2-1) jumped out to a 1-0 leading in the top of

With one-out, Sarah Fier and Becca Zarras drew backto-back walks and clean-up hitter Ashley Avery hit a ground ball that appeared headed for a double play, only to have Fier race home after the throw was dropped at Churchill evened the count at 1-all in the third thanks to back-to-back doubles by Rachel Jason and Nikki Salloum, the latter being of the wind-blown variety.

Abby Jewell's first-inning double for the Chargers was also an adventure for the Stevenson outfield.

"I don't know if I've ever seen a day like this," Stevenson coach Rob Witherspoon said. "Their first double - it's a routine fly ball. It came back and our third basemen and shortstop could have caught the ball. We should have taken advantage of that (the wind), too, but they (Churchill) hit the ball hard."

Stevenson regained the lead in the top of the fourth without benefit of a hit.

Franklin pulls off surprise in 1-1 tie

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

As far as ties go, this one really actually felt more like a victory for the Livonia Franklin girls soccer team.

The host Patriots got a goal Monday night from sophomore Jessica Maurer with only 6:20 left to earn a 1-1 deadlock with last year's Division 1 state runner-up Plymouth. "The kids are ecstatic," said Franklin second-year coach Dean Kowalski, whose team is 1-2-1 overall and 0-0-1 in the KLAA's South Division. "Last" year we got beat by them 8-0 and 8-0, so this is the kind of game we've been looking for to turn around our program and they did the trick today.'

Alyssa Dillon's goal off a free kick with 10 minutes remaining gave the Wildcats (1-1-2, 0-0-1) a one-goal advantage.

But dual-sport athlete Chelsea Williams, who is also a senior member of the Franklin softball team, set up the game-tying goal off a free

"The new rules allow her to play two sports and the kids on the team just love her," Kowalski said:

Franklin goalkeeper Alexis Smith, a junior, made 12 saves.

The Patriots' defense was anchored by sophomore sweeper Natalie Desautel.

The other four Franklin defenders who contributed to the tie included sophomore Danielle Howard, who marked Plymouth's dangerous scoring threat McKenzie Hengesh, along with Emily McCullen, Jenna Michniewicz and Colleen Anthony.

"It was the first time McCullen played a marking back," Kowalski said. "It was a joint effort."

Meanwhile, Plymouth's All-State goalkeeper Marissa Williams made only one save.

"We only got two shots and we scored on one of them, Kowalski said.

Blazers burn foes in Ohio tourney

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF

Livonia Ladywood opened its softball season in impressive fashion Saturday by sweeping all three games in the Youngstown Boardman (Ohio) Tournament.

"It turned out very well," Ladywood coach Scott Combs said. "We saw two very good, highly-ranked teams in Ohio, both who lost in the (state) semifinals last year. We made no errors on the day."

The Blazers captured the opener 2-1 over host Boardman as junior righthander Briana Combs outdueled Ohio State signee Alex DiDomenico.

Combs went the distance, allowing just two hits and striking out 10. She also hit the game-winning homer off the left field foul pole.

In the second game, freshman Lauren Hayes got the victory and Combs picked up the save as the pair combined on a four-hitter in a 4-2 win of South Grange (Ohio).

Andrea Gietl and Jenny Rohn both doubled in the victory, while Carli SanMillan, Alyssa Kashat and Combs each knocked in a run.

Ladywood then downed Boardman in a rematch, 4-0, scoring four times in the top of the eighth inning to break a 0-0 deadlock.

Consecutive hits by Kashat, Rohn, Combs, Celeste Fidge and SanMillan, the latter whom belted a three-run double, keyed the victory.

Hayes worked the first two innings, while Combs finished the final six to post the shutout and improve her mark to 2-0.

Ladywood junior pitcher Briana Combs had two wins and a save, along with a game-winning homer, in a three-game sweep Saturday in Youngstown (Ohio) Boardman Tournament. She also tossed back-to-back shutouts in a 1-0 and 6-0 double-header sweep Tuesday at Farmington Hills Mercy.

SIDELINES

Jenkins resigns

Livonia Churchill High varsity girls basketball coach Chad Jenkins has resigned after four seasons, according to the school's athletic director Marc

The Churchill A.D. said the internal posting for the position will end this Friday.

Jenkins, a former Eastern Michigan University baseball player, posted a 30-55 overall record in his four varsity seasons, including back-to-back 10-11 seasons in 2008-09 and 2009-10.

Churchill finished 3-18 this

"It was simply a personal decision to leave," said Jenkins, who serves as a math instructor and JV baseball coach at Churchill. "I enjoyed my four years coaching and have nothing but good things to say about Churchill and the kids I had the opportunity to coach."

Calka All-Academic

Eastern Michigan University sophomore Courtney Calka (Livonia Stevenson) was named to 2010-11 Academic All-Mid-American Conference Indoor Track and Field Team.

The exercise science student carried a 4.0 grade point average and was one of five EMU track and field athletes honored.

In addition to her perfection in the classroom, Calka only finished outside of the top five in two races the entire year. She was part of the distance medley relay team which finished second at the Penn State National Invitational this year, as well as opening the season with a 3,000-meter win at Grand Valley State.

In the 3,000- and 5,000meter runs at the MAC Indoor Championships, Calka took fifth and third, respectively, in helping to secure the Lagles' first MAC Title in 11 years.

Academic All-MAC selections are for student-athletes who have excelled in athletics and academics.

To qualify, a student-athlete must have at least a 3.20 cumulative GPA and have participated in at least 50 percent of the meets for that particular sport.

Dark Angels romp

Cheryl Luther caught four passes for 110 yards and one touchdown Saturday night as the Detroit Dark Angels improved to 2-0 in the Women's Football Alliance with a 33-7 win over the Cincinnati Sizzle at Westland John Glenn's Irma Kionka Field. Luther's TD came on a 55-yard catch and run.

"We threw the ball more against the Sizzle because we just felt they didn't match up talent wise against our very athletic receivers," Dark Angels coach Darrin Wubbenhorst said.

Fullback Ramona Cox rushed for just 23 yards, but three of her carries went for TDs as the Dark Angels improved to 2-0. Linebacker Cortney Tucker paced the Dark Angels defense with 10 tackles, including one for loss, along with a tipped

The Sizzle (0-2) also turned the ball over four times with Enika Davison and Jennifer Parker-Bacchus coming up with interceptions, while Yarlen Henry and Takanta George each added a fumble recovery.

"Our offense played better," Wubbenhorst said. "Our defense only gave up seven points. The Sizzle had a very powerful running back we didn't seem to have an answer for at times, but when we needed the defense to get a stop they did."

The Dark Angels return to action 7 p.m. Saturday against the upstart Indiana Crush (0-1) at Park Tudor High School in Indianapolis.

Loss painful for Blazers Tiebreaker goes to Churchill

Chargers champs again at tennis tourney

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Twice seemed to be just as nice for the Livonia Churchill girls tennis team, which captured a four-team invitational tournament Saturday hosted by Livonia Stevenson.

Churchill and the Spartans tied with 21 points apiece, but the Chargers repeated as team champion based on head-tohead matches.

Livonia Franklin placed third with nine points, while Dearborn Edsel Ford brought up the rear with three.

The tourney also served as the "city" championship between the three Livonia Public high schools.

"It was an exciting and good way to start the season," said Churchill coach Denise Berg, whose team repeated as champion. "The points came from all different flights. Our experience and depth helped. It was a total team effort."

Churchill garnered singles titles at No. 2 (Nicole Kruse), No. 3 (Ani Cooper) and No. 4 (Mara Karagoezian) in the round-robin format.

Kruse defeated Stevenson

senior Laura Gumpper, 6-1, 6-7, 10-4, and Franklin freshman Carolyn McCullen, 7-6, 6-2, en route to the title.

"Number two (singles) was pivotal," Berg said. "She (Kruse) had two tough matches. She lost the second set tiebreaker (versus Gumpper), 7-0, that was crazy. But she came back in the superbreaker. That first set was also long and tough vs. Franklin (McCullen)."

The Chargers also the captured No. 1 (Quincy Banini and Rylie Fallu) and No. 3 (Maria Paul and Becky Snyder) doubles flights.

Stevenson, meanwhile, came away with three doubles titles and one singles crown. Freshman Aimee Moccia emerged the victor at No. 1 singles after Franklin senior Angelica Woods withdrew because of a calf injury early in the second set with the score tied at 1-all. That came after Woods rallied from a 4-3 deficit to capture the first set, Stevenson also posted perfect 3-0 records at No. 2 doubles (Taylor Tinham and Maiko Reutimann), No. 4 doubles (Melina Canzano and Laura Shureb) and No. 5 doubles (Jenny Cami and Caroline sacrifice bunt that was airmailed to center field and tossed away at third base leading to the Spartans' second run.

But Hiser got out of the inning with 9-6 double play. "There were a few errors in the field for her," Gentilia said. "But she got back on top and she didn't let it bother her. She just threw the ball and got outs when she needed outs."

In the bottom half of the fourth, Hiser ripped a triple and pinch runner Jordan Lyndsey advanced home by beating the throw at the plate on a fielder's choice. In the top of the fifth,

Stevenson's Sarah King drew a one-out walk. And when courtesy runner Kristen Suzio broke for second with Allie Koestering at-bat, the throw from the home sailed into Suzio headed for third and got the green light to break for home and score the go-ahead run, but Stevenson courtesy runner got hung up in a rundown as Bias made the tag for the second out.

"She (Suzio) hit a soft spot approaching third base and she's just couldn't get her footing," Witherspoon said. "I had her scoring as soon as I saw it in the outfield. She's one of our better base runners. I didn't notice her stumbling until she got past me. Then it was too late.'

In the bottom of the sixth, Hiser led off with a single and Bias doubled to left to bring Lyndsay (running again for Hiser) for the game-winning

"Hitting-wise today — she was clutch," Gentilia said of Hiser. "She had the triple, got things going there.

"Close games like this you know when players show up. She really showed up today. Her and Casey (Bias) — two big hits at key moments of the game. That's why they're great players and are going to do great things." Stevenson pitcher Jackie

Johnson went six innings, allowing six hits and no walks while striking out four in suffering the loss. 'We didn't hit the ball very hard," Witherspoon said. "Coming into the season I knew we were going to struggle putting the bat on the ball. But defensively, we have to play better than that.

This is only our third game. It's a good one to start out with because we've had some good games with them in the past."

Gentilia, meanwhile, was elated with the way his team held on despite making five

"Overall, I couldn't be happier with the way the girls played," the former Madonna University assistant said. "From the time they got out on the field they were ready to go today. We made a few mistakes, but good teams rebound from those mistakes and they get the job done. That's what we did today and we didn't let it affect the way we played. We just kept battling. That's what this team does. They'll fight, scratch and claw.

They're very determined to the 'Ws' this year and that's what we're going to try and do. Overall it was great team victory. From the overthrow to center field to the runner at the plate — everybody was in right position at the right

"If you make an error, we say 'So what?' Get up and do it again. Get up on the horse. That's how we're going to attack it this year."

Musician to highlight Prayer Breakfast

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Worship and music go together, and Matthew Landry is pleased to perform at the Livonia Prayer Breakfast.

Landry, a December 2010 University of Michigan graduate, is teaching elementary music in Van Buren Public Schools as a substitute while looking for a permanent post. Landry, 22, is also assistant conductor of instrumental music at Ward Presbyterian Church in Northville Township.

He will perform Beautiful Colorado by Joseph DeLuca and It Is Well With My Soul, arranged by Brent Olstad, at the May 12

"The first is obviously secular, but is a beautiful piece that highlights the instrumentalist's technique as well," said Jerry Smith, a member of the Prayer Breakfast committee who plans music for "The second is an arrangement of the gospel hymn written by Horatio Spafford when he lost his daughters in a shipwreck — a very moving story."

"I am very excited about Matt sharing his musical talent with us at the breakfast."

Smith said he sought out Landry "because of his reputation, not only as a fantastic musician, but as a strong believer whose faith is very evident in his lifestyle."

Landry is a member of The Akropolis Reed Quintet, a new take on the traditional woodwind quintet, incorporating saxophone and bass clarinet to add a new timbre to the chamber music world.

Akropolis was formed at the University of Michigan in 2009. Its goal is to commission new works and help to establish the reed quintet as a canonized part of the chamber music world.

Landry will perform as a soloist for the Prayer Breakfast. "I have three members of my quintet in China with the University of Michigan Symphony Band," he said. A similar U-M band went to the Soviet Union 50 years ago, and the current China visit is to mark that anniversary.

"We've had a lot of great work with churches in the past. Unfortunately, we're just not available. I wasn't going to tell them not to go to China." Musicians had to be U-M students to go, so graduate Landry's no longer eligible.

Landry, who lives in Ann Arbor, grew up in Livonia. He commutes to Ward Presbyterian in Northville Township.

Musician Matthew Landry, a recent University of Michigan graduate, will perform on piano Thursday, May 12, at the Livonia Prayer Breakfast.

"If I'm not conducting than I'm playing saxophone or the piano."

Landry lived in New Orleans before his family moved to Livonia. "Music's everywhere down there." At age 5-6, he started piano, and began saxophone study in eighth grade.

His parents, Scott and Marlene Landry of Livonia, "definitely fostered in me how much I love it today. I think my No. 1 supporter has always been my parents. They're the best. Never told me I couldn't do anything I wanted to."

Akropolis performs at U-M and throughout the Midwest, was a featured performer on the university's collage concert in January 2010 and 2011 and was a semifinalist at the Plowman International Chamber Music Competition in March 2010. The quintet finished in the top six of the 2010 Fischoff Chamber Music Competition.

Landry played tuba with the Plymouth Symphony for several years and has performed frequently on clarinet and saxophone with the Plymouth Symphony, Orchestra Canton and Dearborn Symphony. He can also be heard on two U-M Symphony Band records. Landry enjoys writing, reading essays, playing Chopin, running despite bad knees (he jokes about running more when he gets lost often — in Ann Arbor), and trying to emulate the Southern cooking of his parents.

The 37th annual Livonia Community Prayer Breakfast will be held 7-8:45 a.m. Thursday, May 12, in St. Mary's Cultural Center, 18100 Merriman, Livonia. The theme is "Weathering the Storms of Life," with keynote speaker Chuck Gaidica, meteorologist for WDIV Channel 4. # Livonia club encourages all members to exhibit their art

BY SHARON DARGAY O&E STAFF WRITER

Sherry Eid's first place winner in the annual Artifacts Art Club exhibit in Livonia keeps viewers guessing — Is it a painting or pencil sketch? Is it an ocean wave or stampede of horses?

Take a closer look and you'll notice it's a bit of both

"As a child I always liked to read Greek myths," said Eid, president of the art club and a Livonia resident. "I remembered there was the one about the horses coming from a wave. All of a sudden I'm seeing horses. I decided to picture them."

She sketched four horses into the ocean waves that make up the subject of the piece, and used both colored pencil and solvents to give the work a fluid appearance.

"That makes the pigment dissolve. Then you take a brush and it's almost like painting."

In addition to first place for "Metamorphoses," Eid won third place for her colored pencil drawing, "Red-Tailed Hawk". Second place went to Roberta McDonell of Livonia for "Juvy Woodstork" and Lorelei Christy of Farmington Hills, earned a fourth place for "Les Sucettes."

Merit Awards went to Jim Goodman for "Pals," Christine Pegg for "Look," Mary Kehoe for "Field of Amaryllis," and Eid for "Kuna Indian."

INDEPENDENT JUDGE

Tim Marsh, who creates nature paintings in oil, judged the 42 art works in the show, which runs this month at Livonia City Hall, 33000 Civic Center Drive.

"We have just one show a year," said Eid, who joined the club after taking art classes with Dave Messing, a former art store owner in Livonia.

Messing started Artifacts Art Club in 1986 as a way for artists of all skill levels to meet, mingle and learn together. The group meets at 7:30 p.m. the second Tuesday of the month, September-October and February-May, at the Livonia Civic Center Library, 32777 Five Mile. Meetings often include a hands-on workshop, demonstration or guest speaker. Next month, Norma Gray will show techniques in acrylic painting.

"That's the advantage of being small. You can join in," Eid said, adding that the group numbers about 25 artists.

EVERYONE EXHIBITS

"One of our members lives in Cadillac but he drives down to bring his pictures

Eye Center.

Sherry Eid used solvents on her pencil drawing, "Metamorphoses" giving it a fluid, paint-like quality.

to the show. What's nice about our group is we're a small group and we feel every member should have a chance to show their work. There's no jurying. Everyone can put their work on the wall. And what's nice is there's almost 100 percent participation."

Eid, who teaches colored pencil art at Schoolcraft College, said she is thrilled when judges select her work for a prize or honorable mention.

"It's a thrill just to get into a show. Some of them, when you consider the talent there and how many people have entered, you've just got to pat yourself on the back for even getting in. Last year at the Livonia Fine Arts exhibit I entered four pieces. They rejected three and the one that got in won a prize."

She said prize money helps pay for the entry fee.

Interested in joining Artifacts Art Club? Simply drop by a meeting. Annual dues are $20. Send checks, payable to the Artifacts Art Club, to Connie Goodman, 9622 Sarasota, Redford, MI 48239.

Rusty Frentner shows his painting, "Over the River," which won first place in the Farmington Art Foundation's spring show.

Winners in the annual Farmington Art Foundation's spring exhibit will accept their awards during a reception, Thursday, April 14 at the Costick Center, 28600 11 Mile, in Farmington Hills. Rusty Frentner won first place for his piece, "Over the River," and second place for "Pretty in Pink." Billie Swelstad took a third place award for "Flower Market" and Fran Seilkay won

The reception will start at 6 p.m. and artists will be honored at 6:30 p.m.

fourth place for "Cheryl."

"The Farmington Arts
Foundation has an annual art show each year in conjunction with the 'Art After Dark' wine tasting and party sponsored by Whole Foods," said FAF publicity chair Linda Shewbridge.
"Also, the Farmington Public Schools will have the elementary, middle school and senior high school students art work on exhibit. The Senior Group of artists who take classes at the Costick Center will also have their work on display."

Art After Dark starts at 7 p.m. Friday, April 15 at the Costick Center. Tickets are $20 in advance, and $25 at the door. They're available online at recreg.fhgov.com or can be ordered by phone at (248) 473-1848.

The event pairs a wine tasting of more than 30 varieties of wine, with the exhibit and live jazz.

Exhibit celebrates Glass Month at Village Theater

Artists from the Furnace Design Studio and The Glass Academy of Dearborn are showing their works through April 29 at the Gallery@VT, located in The Village Theater at Cherry Hill in Canton.

The exhibit celebrates Glass Month in Michigan and shows glass in many forms — from objects and vessels to its use in mixed media.

Artists at the Furnace Design Studio combine silica and heat, powdered pigments, metal dusts and added color to create pieces of exquisite beauty. The Furnace Design Studio is the collaboration of internationally-acclaimed glass artists, Chris Nordin and Michelle Plucinsky. This Dearborn-based glass studio is known for custom commission and site-specific installations for homes, commercial spaces and hospitality interiors. The artists also are known for their classic Venetian-style craftsmanship, modern flair and versatility in creating signature molten glass pieces that range in style from organic and minimalist pieces to works with elaborate detail. The Furnace Design Studio shares a 14,000 square foot working studio with The Glass Academy.

Works are on display 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Monday-Friday at the theater gallery, located at 50400 Cherry Hill, in Canton. The gallery also is open during public performances at the theater and by appointment. ### See Grammy-nominated musician in Livonia

Trumpeter Wayne Bergeron will perform at Schoolcraft College's "Up Jumped Spring" concert, 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 18, in the VisTaTech Center. The concert will also feature performances by the college's Jazz Ensemble, Jazz Improvisation Combo, and Synthesizer Ensemble. "We are thrilled to have such a talent like Mr. Bergeron come to our campus," said Riccardo Selva, director of jazz studies, the Jazz Ensemble and the Jazz Improvisation Combo. "Our students are very excited to have this opportunity to play with one of the best jazz musicians of our time."

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, April 14, 2011

Bergeron is one of the most active trumpet players in the world, busy with studio dates, international touring, jazz concerts, guest soloist appearances and clinics. In 1986, Bergeron landed the lead trumpet position with the Maynard Ferguson Band. As a sideman, Bergeron's list of CD credits reads like a who's who in contemporary jazz and pop, running the stylistic gamut from Ray Charles to Green Day, Beyoncé to Michael Buble, Josh Groban to Natalie Cole and more. Bergeron also has worked on more than 300 television and motion picture soundtracks including recent hits like South Park, Toy Story 3, and Despicable Me.

After being behind the scenes for so many years, Bergeron stepped out on his own with his first solo effort, You Call This a Living?, which earned him a Grammy nomination in 2004 and received rave reviews from fans and press worldwide. Bergeron's latest recording is Plays Well with Others.

Bergeron is also a National Artist for the Yamaha Corporation of America and is co-designer of the YTR-8335LA trumpet and YFH-8315G Flugelhorn.

In addition to the concert on April 18, he will conduct a special artist clinic at 2 p.m. with students in the college's credit and continuing education music programs.

"The clinic will take our program and our students to the next level," Selva said.

Wayne Bergeron will perform April 18 at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

The clinic will be held in the Presentation Room of the VisTaTech Center and is open to the public.

"We feel this is not only a great opportunity for the public to see a great jazz musician like Wayne Bergeron, but to also see him in action with our students," said Cheryl Hawkins, dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences. "It is going to be a great experience for everyone."

Tickets for the concert are $15 for general admission, $10 for students (with identification) and seniors, and $5 for children under 12. They're available at www.scboxoffice.com or at the Schoolcraft College Bookstore. For more information call (734) 462-4403.

f you're looking for an easy-to-eat snack food that packs in protein, or a tasty ingredient that adds fiber to your diet, consider walnuts.

Walnuts are unique among nuts because they contain the highest amount of alpha-linolenic acid (ALA), the plant-based omega-3 essential fatty acid, required by the human body. In addition to essential ALA/omega-3 fatty acids, walnuts rank high in antioxidants and offer a convenient source of protein (4 grams) and fiber (2 grams). Walnuts are also a good source of magnesium (44.79 mg/ounce) and phosphorus (98.09 mg/ounce) - both important minerals involved the body's processes and necessary for achieving optimal wellness.

It's no wonder walnuts are included on numerous "superfood" lists. They've also earned the first approved health claim by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration for a whole food.

To get more walnuts into your diet, try these fast, easy ideas from the California Walnut Board:

· In a smoothie! Cherries, skim milk, walnuts, cinnamon, Greek yogurt, brown sugar ... a cherry crumb pie without the Chicken breasts coated with Dijon mustard, then dredged with fresh breadcrumbs mixed with chopped walnuts and parsley. Sauté in a mixture of butter and oil

· Spread cream cheese on a bagel, top with walnuts that have been chopped and toasted. Sprinkle with cinnamon if desired

• Throw some in a macaroni salad.

SPINACH LASAGNA WITH WALNUT PESTO

This easy version of lasagna uses the rich taste of spinach and pesto instead of a heavy Bolognese sauce. A little olive oil for the pan

2 pounds fresh spinach, washed (or 210- ounce packages fresh baby spinach 10-ounce packages frozen, chopped spinach, defrosted)

2 pounds nonfat ricotta cheese or nonfat cottage cheese

1 cup Walnut Pesto (recipe follows) 4 large cloves garlic, minced

½ teaspoon salt

Freshly ground black pepper to taste

½ cup grated Parmesan cheese 1/2 cup minced walnuts, lightly toasted

124-ounce jar low-sugar tomato sauce (or about 23/4 cups of your favorite sauce)

16 fresh, uncooked green (spinach) lasagna noodles or, if using dried, 16 no-boil noodles

½ pound low-fat mozzarella cheese, grated

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Lightly oil a 9- by 13-inch baking pan. If using fresh spinach, chop it fine. If using frozen, chopped spinach, make sure it thoroughly defrosted and squeeze out all the excess water, Place the ricotta or cottage cheese in a large bowl. Stir in the spinach, pesto, garlic, salt, pepper, half the Parmesan, and the walnuts. Mix well. Spread half the tomato sauce in the bottom of the pan. Place a layer of uncooked noodles over the sauce. Spoon about % of the ricotta or cottage filling in dabs over the noodles (you can spread it a little, but not too much) and sprinkle with 1/2 of the grated mozzarella. Follow with another layer of sauce, then noodles, followed by another  ${}^1\!/_{\!\! 3}$  of the filling, and another  ${}^1\!/_{\!\! 3}$  of the mozzarella. Repeat one more time, and then finish up with a final layer of noodles. You will have some Parmesan left over.

If you are using fresh noodles, bake uncovered. If you are using dried noodles, cover the pan tightly with foil.

Bake for 50 minutes, uncovering the pan (if applicable) during the last 15 minutes, during which time you can sprinkle on the reserved Parmesan. (In the case of the uncovered pan, if the top of the lasagna becomes as brown as you like it before the full baking time is up, cover loosely with foil and continue baking, so it won't get too dark.) Remove from the oven and let rest for about 10 minutes before serving. Serves 8

WALNUT PESTO

3 packed cups fresh basil leaves

3 large cloves garlic ½ cup lightly toasted walnuts

½ cup extra virgin olive oil ½ cup grated Parmesan

Salt and pepper to taste

Optional: additional extra virgin olive oil (for storage)

Place the basil leaves and garlic in a food processor or blender, and

Add the walnuts, and continue to blend until the nuts are finely

Keep the machine running as you drizzle in the olive oil. When you have a smooth paste, transfer to a bowl, and stir in the Parmesan. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

If you are not going to use the pesto right away, place in a container that has a tight-fitting lid. Smooth out the top surface of the pesto, and pour on enough olive oil to cover it completely. This creates an air-proof seal that helps preserve it well. Cover tightly and store in the refrigerator.

SWEET-SOUR STIR-FRY WITH WALNUTS

Stir-fry is all about very high heat and cooking things quickly in a specific order so that it all ends up at just the right degree of doneness at the same time. First, have all of your ingredients prepped and close at hand. Second, read the recipe carefully and really get it in your head before you start. The idea is that once you start cooking, it's continuous-you should never have to stop to search for something or read about what to do next. Once the cutting is done, the actual cooking time is just a matter of

A nice, large wok and a metal wok spatula are best for stir-frying, but a large skillet and a serving spoon will work well, too. You can substitute cooked chicken breast, cut into thin strips for the tofu if you wish. Start some rice before you begin, so it's ready at the same time as the

½ cup orange juice (from 1 medium orange)

2 tablespoons cider vinegar 1 tablespoon soy sauce

1 tablespoon brown sugar or honey

1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger

2 teaspoons minced garlic (2 good-sized cloves) 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil

½ teaspoon red pepper flakes

1 tablespoon cornstarch

The Stir-Fry:

2 tablespoons canola oil

1 medium onion, cut into large (1½-inch) squares

¾ teaspoon salt

2 medium carrots, sliced on the diagonal (1/4-inch thick)

½ a medium head cauliflower, in 1-inch florets (about 3 cups) ½ a medium head broccoli, chopped (about 3 cups) About 15 mushrooms - stems trimmed, wiped clean, and

1 pound very firm tofu, cut into \(^3\)-inch cubes

2 small zucchini (one yellow, one green), chopped or diced

1 medium red bell pepper, cut into 1-inch squares

1½ cups lightly toasted walnut pieces

Green onions, thinly sliced, for garnish

Orange zest, for garnish

Combine all the glaze ingredients (except the cornstarch) in a liquid measuring cup with a spout, and whisk until blended. Place the cornstarch in a small bowl, and drizzle in about 1/2 cup of the glaze, whisking constantly until the cornstarch is dissolved. The mixture will be cloudy. Pour this solution back into the measuring cup, whisking it in. Set aside, leaving the whisk in the cup.

Have all the vegetables and the tofu cut and in bowls or containers near the stove. Place a wok or large, deep skillet over medium heat and wait about a minute. Pour in 1 tablespoon of the oil, and swirl to coat the pan (or just push the oil around with a wok spatula or serving spoon). Turn the heat to high, add the onion and 1/4 teaspoon of the salt, and stir-fry for 1 minute. Add the other tablespoon of oil, plus the carrot, cauliflower, and broccoli - and another 1/4 teaspoon of the salt. Keep the heat high and the vegetables moving, and stir-fry for approximately 2 minutes, or until the broccoli turns bright green and shiny.

Add the mushrooms and tofu or chicken and the remaining 1/4 teaspoon of salt. Keep the heat high, and continue to stir-fry for another minute, mixing all the vegetables up from the bottom of the pan. Add the zucchini and bell pepper, and cook one more minute.

Whisk the glaze to reincorporate the cornstarch (it will have settled to the bottom) then quickly pour the whole cupful into the wok or skillet. Cook and stir for just about a minute more, adding in the walnuts at the very last second. The glaze will coat everything and thicken a little. Serve immediately,

WALNUT BUTTER-RHUBARB-GOAT CHEESE CROSTINI

A blissful appetizer for an early spring party! You can make both the Walnut Butter and Rhubarb Sauce several days ahead of time. Store in the refrigerator until use. Assemble the crostini just before serving. If you can't find rhubarb you can use your favorite recipe of cranberry sauce.

1 fresh high-quality baguette (unseeded; not sourdough)

3 ounces very fresh goat cheese

Honey to taste (optional) Walnut Butter (recipe follows)

Rhubarb Sauce (recipe follows)

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Cut the baguette on the diagonal into 1/2inch slices, and spread them in a single layer on a baking tray. Bake in the center of the oven until lightly toasted. Cool just slightly

In a small bowl, mash the goat cheese until spread-ably soft, and sweeten (slightly) to taste, if desired, with a little honey.

To serve: Spread each little toast with a little goat cheese, keeping the layer even so the other toppings won't fall off. Add a little Walnut Butter, pushing it down with the back of a spoon. Top each piece with a small spoonful of Rhubarb Sauce. Arrange on an attractive platter and serve to your delighted guests. Yield: 8 to 10 appetizer servings.

WALNUT BUTTER

2 cups very fresh walnuts ¼ teaspoon salt

2 teaspoons walnut or vegetable oil Optional: A little honey and a little cinnamon

Soak walnuts overnight. Drain; discard water and then toast them, spread out in a single layer on a tray, in a toaster oven or oven at 250 degrees for about 20 minutes, or until aromatic. Don't let them get dark. Cool, then transfer to the small work bowl of a food processor and grind as far as you can before adding salt and as much oil as needed to bind it together. If you like add small touches of honey and/or cinnamon to taste. Yield: about 1 cup

RHUBARB SAUCE

2 heaping cups chopped rhubarb (fresh or frozen)

2 tablespoons agave nectar Small pinch of salt

Place the rhubarb in a medium-small saucepan, cover, and cook over medium-low heat (nothing added!) for about 10 minutes, or until "saucy." Remove from heat, and stir in agave and salt. Let cool to room temperature. Yield:

Variation: If you can't find rhubarb you can substitute the tart-sweetness of cranberries.

Storm damage?

Make sure repairs are done right and on time

Severe weather can cause damage that prompts homeowners to seek repairs in a hurry. The Better Business Bureau (BBB) advises consumers to take a deep breath and check contractors out before signing

When homeowners need repairs due to storm damage, they often consider it an emergency that must be fixed immediately," said Patrick Bennett, BBB director of Community Relations. "However, a quick decision may cause regrets. Consumers need to make sure that the contractors they hire are qualified and reliable before they sign a contract or pay any money."

The BBB recommends that consumers ask contractors for local references and check with those customers to see whether they were satisfied with the work. If possible, inspect completed projects as well. If customers are pleased with the jobs, they'll probably be proud to show off the results.

Consumers can check contractors' Reliability Reports on the BBB website, www.bbb.org. The reports give a letter grade from A+ down to F that indicates a company's performance on 16 weighted factors, including its response to any complaints. The reports also give general information, such as the company's phone number, length of time in business and owner's name.

On the Eastern Michigan and Upper Peninsula's BBB's website, easternmichigan.bbb.org, our "Request a Quote" feature can connect you with contractors that are BBB Accredited Businesses. These businesses have pledged to comply with BBB standards, such as advertising honestly, honoring promises and responding to customer complaints.

When you click on the "Request a Quote" button, you can select the type of business you are searching for and narrow your search to businesses within a specified distance from your home. (You can click on any business name to get a Reliability Report.) At that point, you may either contact the businesses directly or ask them to contact you. "Request a Quote" has a contact form that allows you to describe your project and ask contractors to contact you about it in the way you want to be contacted - by phone, e-mail, mail or fax.

The BBB has the following tips for hiring contractors:

·Be cautious of door-to-door salespeople who use high-pressure sales tactics. ·Seek at least three bids from prospective contractors based on the same specifications, materials and labor needed to complete the project. Homeowners should discuss bids in detail with each contractor and ask questions about variations in pricing. The lowest-priced contractor may not be the best.

 Consumers should ask whether the company is insured against claims covering workers' compensation, property damage and personal liability in case of accidents. Consumers should obtain the name of the insurance carrier and call to verify coverage.

•Ask whether the contractor meets licensing and bonding requirements set by the state, county or city.

 Check with local authorities to find out whether permits are needed before proceeding with the work. The contractor also should be aware of any required permits.

Ask whether the contractor will provide a lien waiver upon completion of the job. A lien waiver is a statement by the contractor that all suppliers and subcontractors have been paid for their •Read and understand the contract before signing. Get any verbal promises in writing. Include start and completion dates in the contract.

 $\bullet Remember the rule of thirds. Pay$ one-third at the start of the project, onethird when work is 50 percent completed and one-third after completion.

For more information to help you make smart, informed decisions about projects around your home, check with the BBB by going online to www.bbb.org or by calling (248) 223-9400.

Approach building ban with care

BY ROBERT MEISNER GUEST COLUMNIST

Q: I am a member of the board of a commercial medical office condominium. We are thinking about banning drug and alcohol treatment facilities from operating within any unit where the drug or alcohol treatment facility either dispenses or prescribes drugs for treatments with opiods such as methadone or Suboxone. Do you have any comments?

A: This is a very difficult question as it may involve issues concerning public policy and/or discrimination such as the ADA. More than likely there is no fair housing issue because it is not a residential condominium. While it may unsettled issue, I think there is a good argument that you can legally ban such a commercial operation, but I would well be an

try to tie the ban to some operation or interest of the other unit owners such as loitering, trash or other negative factor more common to such a treatment facility, if at all possible. You should get an opinion from legal counsel as to how you can do this so that the board is protected in the event that there is future litigation. You might also consider banning "pill mills" in the documents. You should also look into whether this activity is preempted by zoning. Also, is this a prohibited business use, when the operation is creating increased risk, i.e., an increase in insurance costs, etc. Q: Should we make our attorney or our managing agent the resident agent for purposes of service of process?

A: In this litigious world, it would be my recommendation that you have the attorney for the association be the registered agent and have his office as the registered office for the Association so that any and all legal notices including service of process and other requirements for reporting, etc. be sent to your attorney so that there is no question as to the receipt of same on behalf of the association as well as advising the board in a dispassionate way as to the consequence of any legal proceedings initiated against the association.

SENIOR LIVING

Seniors: Consider costs, choice of lifestyle in move

BY NANCY AUSTIN SENIORS REAL ESTATE SPECIALIST

How do I know if you can afford to move? What are my options?

These questions are intertwined with and also take into consideration your financial position. The majority of people will want to know what the equity is in their home. This will help determine the kind of move you make.

In almost every case, you will be downsizing. Here is a sampling of choices available.

Condo living: If you are presently in a house and merely wish to escape the outdoor maintenance, consider condo living. There are many choices within this category. It makes the most sense to purchase a one-story condo, ground floor unit. Be careful here. A one-floor condo could be on the second floor of a building. Basements, garages and carports are all considerations. Active Adult Community: This is for the totally independent person. Several floor plans are available for purchase including attached and detached condos. Described as "carefree living." the village is built on several-hundred tranquil acres, offering a club house, often elaborate, indoor and outdoor pool, entertainment facilities, nature preserve, business center to name a few. Activities abound. No medical facilities are within the "village" but are usually close by. They are for the seniors who remain very active, but desire the amenities of senior living. In southeast Michigan there are two such communities. Bridgewater in Brownstown and Grand Reserve in Grand Blanc.

Senior Retirement Living: In other parts of the country it may be referred to as a Senior Retirement Hotel, which describes the kind of building you frequently see. Some may be single story. Most of them are apartments you rent, but occasionally you may invest into the apartment. Commonalities include different levels of care including independent living, assisted living, and may include an Alzheimer's unit. The more care and assistance you need, the higher the cost. All provide even the minimum assistance such as help with medications. At least one meal a day is provided and often laundry. Most have dining rooms, activity rooms, and bus transportation. Pull cords are in every apartment for emergencies. Nurses may be on staff or on call. Ages range from 62+ with the average being in the 80s. These proliferate all over the metro Detroit area and in most areas in the country both small and large

Fun By The

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have ou nookea trom the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
