HOW STUDENTS CAN MEET THE CHALLENGE OF THE HEALTH CARE INDUSTRY

CLASSIFIED, SECTION C

Shuh advances

Allen "Buddy" Shuh, the connections pastor at Westland's Journey Community Church, made it past week 12 of NBC's The Biggest Loser, posting as 6-pound weight loss.

Shuh joined seven other contestants in the popular weight loss reality show in Hawaii for week 12 of the show. Still not medically cleared to compete in the challenge because of a stress fracture, Shuh again sat out the challenge, but still managed to get down to 275 pounds or 2.24 percent of his body weight, helping him avoid elimination.

The Wayne resident had started the show in January weighing 403 pounds.

Share memory of grandma

On May 3, Hometown Life Woman, a special section delivered monthly to Observer subscribers, will publish "A Salute To Women." As part of this edition, we invite readers to add your words and photos to this special edition. Tell us about a special memory you have or of your grandmother (in 50 words of less, if possible). Whether you call her bubbe, nana, nona, babcia, or just plain grandma, share your favorite memory and photograph (jpeg format attached to the e-mail). E-mail your photo and special memory to Sue Mason at smason@ hometownlife.com.

Be sure to include your first and last name and identify your grandmother with a first and last name, too. Be sure to tell us where you live. Don't forget to provide a daytime phone number where you can be reached. Then look for your photo and/or memory in the May edition of Hometown Life Woman. Deadline to submit memories and photos is Friday, April 13.

Customer Trudy Engel (left), a Westland resident, makes a purchase from Joanne Garland, also of Westland, during the Friendship Center indoor garage sale.

Knick knacks to homemade goods: Variety galore at indoor garage sale

By LeAnne Rogers Observer Staff Writer

There were knickknacks, books, records, antiques and kitchen items — all the types of things you'd expect at a garage sale — as the Friendship Center hosted a two-day sale Thursday and Friday.

"We've got odds and ends from around the house that you think other people might want," said Westland resident Trudy Engel, who was sharing a table with her friend, Shirley Montville. "People were waiting outside to get in."

The $10 fee for an eight-foot table was very reasonable, said Engel, manning a table with puzzles, purses, books, some linens and Montville's costume jewelry

 Engel had sold most of her jewelry. And Engel, at least, planned to take nothing back home.

Records, books, clothing, furniture and all sorts of household items were offered at the Friendship Center indoor garage sale.

"Whatever I don't sell I will take to the Salvation Army or the Disabled Veterans. My husband was a veteran, so I take things there," said Engel. "I'm not taking anything home."

Instead of taking unsold items home, Montville said she would take her items to a friend who will be holding a garage sale.

At her table, Dorothy Disbrow was offering a large stained glass piece of a cat keeping an eye on mouse hole, a table she had decorated and a

New W-W policies address bullying, election changes

By Sue Mason Observer Staff Writer

How Wayne-Westland deals with bullying issues and informing parents about ineffective teachers are among the policies that have been changed to accommodate new state laws.

The board approved the changes last week, following a public hearing, which drew just one comment on the new anti-bullying policy.

Katelyn Jacobi, a junior at John Glenn High School and president of the True Colors student organization, thanked the board for the new bullying policy mandated by the passage of Matt's Safe School Act.

"This has been an issue near and dear to our hearts," she said. "Many think bullying is a right of passage, but I have witnessed it and have been of victim of bullying. I know what can be said and done can be hurtful. We have been fighting for a change so school can be safe for all students."

Under the new policy, prohibits "bullying of any district students at school, regardless of the motive of the perpetrator," as well as "retaliation or false accusation against a target of bullying, a witness or another person with reliable information about an act of bullying at school."

"The district has always had a policy in place," said Deputy Superintendent Paul Salah. "The district has been extremely proactive. Any issue of

Westland library to cut staff and hours

By LeAnne Rogers Observer Staff Writer

There will be a significant cut in hours and staffing at Westland's William P. Faust Public Library due to continuing drops in property tax revenues.

That means plans under discussion about an addition.to the building are on hold as the Library Board looks ahead to a possible request for millage on the Aug. 7 primary bal-

The budget adopted by the Library Board, which still needs to be approved by the council, would reduce the number of hours the library is open from the current 69 hours per week to 40 hours..The $1.6 million budget calls for layoff of nine of the current 36 employees.

"This is mostly due to the fact that we have had a significant drop in property values," said Library Board President Mark Neal. "We looked at what we had actually spent (to date) and cut $125,000 from the budget, but there is still a shortfall. We left no stone unturned. We talked about voluntary layoffs, more part-time people and benefit reductions. Layoffs were

Library board settles dispute with 3 employees

By LeAnne Rogers Observer Staff Writer

Back wages of $110,000 will be paid to three employees of the William P. Faust Library to settle an unfair labor practice charge stemming from efforts to unionize library staff. Part of the settlement, which the Library Board was scheduled to approve at a special meeting Saturday, is that employees would have an election within 45 days to decide whether to form an American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees bargaining unit. The settlement was reached Monday during a mediation session at the Michigan Employment Relations Commission.

"We're very, very pleased and absolutelv glad it's over with. We're relieved that we don't have to wonder what the settlement will be — it could have been disastrous," said Library Board President Mark Neal. "Now we are just looking forward for the library. It was surprising that we were able to settle Monday. Everyone worked together. We're really happy about this."

For a comparison, during the 2010-11 fiscal year the Library Board received council approval to use $100,000 from their fund balance to help cover legals fees related to the ongoing MERC case. Those reserve funds weren't actually spent, however, but other budget cuts were enacted to make money available for the legal fees.

The dispute stems from 2009 when librarians Deborah Cooper and Lisa Hausman, along with maintenance worker Edward Rybski, charged that they were discharged because of protected union activity. All three returned to work for the library within recent months following Collins' hiring as director and a nearly complete turnover in Library Board members.

"The three employees will be paid differing Relations Commission. With the expenses related to the addition of the three employees, Neal said the library had an approximately $300,000 shortfall. The library is projected to have a $1.1 million fund balance to start the fiscal year July

As with most organizations, Neal said the bulk of the library operating budget - $983,000 for 2012-13 - will be spent on personnel costs. The result is staffing cuts required to pare down 🛚 library spending which also meant reduced hours the library could be open, he said.

"We couldn't lay off people at 60-plus hours (open), 55 hours or whatever. This is the only way to get here," said Neal.

The plans call for the library to be open five days a week with the closed days expected to be Sunday and Monday. The hours of operation and days would be set up to allow everyone an opportunity to use the facilities, said Library Director Sheila Collins.

"We would stagger the hours so that two days were would be open 8 or 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and noon to 9 p.m. others," said Collins. "That way there are some evening and morning hours along with one weekend day.'

That means some programs, such as the Summer Concert Series, aren't funded past the July 1 start of the fiscal year. Collins said many programs, such as the Job Seeker workshops, will be maintained.

City auditors Plante Moran are looking at . the library's revenues and projected revenues to prepare a recommendations for the Library Board on the amount of millage that would be needed to fund library operations going forward. A 5 percent revenue drop is projected for 2013-14 with flat revenues the following two years.

"As of July 1 when the budget kicks in, the budget is balanced, we hope people will support the library," said Neal. "The library is very fiscally responsible."

wooden gossip bench.

"I started doing stained glass as a hobby when at the ripe old age of 40 I went back to high school," said Disbrow, who was getting help from her sister, Kathy Knecht, who came from Keego Harbor for the sale.

Disbrow was taking photos at the sale and hawking some of her more unusual items. She' had to explain the gossip bench — it's kind of like a small end table with a seat. Back in the day before cordless phones, the hard-wired telephone sat on the table and the caller sat on the seat while talking. Most even had a little shelf to hold a telephone directory and address book.

And Disbrow also had a telephone for sale. It was an upright piano with the receiver sitting on the top. The keys served as the dial and made musical notes when dialed.

"I never saw another one like it," she said. Wayne resident Lillian Halaberda had made all of the items she was selling - jellies, jams, pickles, pickled beets, relishes and homemade breads.

er things," said Halaberda, who also sells her homemade goods at local church sales, including St. Damian in Westland. "My biggest seller is orange cranberry bread."

Kathy Mahoney was minding a sale table for her friend, Marlene Manke, who works at the Friendship Center. "She's cleaning out her closet, she inherited a house," said Mahoney, who was mostly passing out hard candies to attract customers. Her table had a small pet carrier, a Foot Fixer* foot bath and a couple of Westland resident Larry Clark was carrying some banana bread he bought from Halaberda as he walked around the garage sale.

"I ride my bicycle around the neighborhood all summer, I check out the garage sales. It's a fun thing to do when you retire. You meet new people," said Clark. "And I like coming to the Friendship Center. It's a fun place."

bullying is taken seriously and investigated completely."

According to Salah, the new policy includes all those elements to bring the district into compliance with the new law.

"We made sure we covered the bases," he told the board. While the new policy "is fine," board Vice-President John Goci said he believes "it needs more enforcement."

"The enforcement is from administrative intervention to expulsion, we have to make sure the district has the latitude to make a decision," Salah said.

The district was required to hold a public hearing on the new anti-bullying policy and send it to the Michigan Department of Education by June.

Election changes

Also changed to reflect a new state law is when the school board meets for its organizational_ meeting.

"The enforcement is from administrative intervention to expulsion, we have to make sure the district has the latitude to make a decision."

PAUL SALAH,

deputy superintendent

Wayne-Westland has held school elections every year in the spring first June and then May, and the board at its first meeting in July would elect officers. However, with a new state law requiring school elections to be held in the November general election in even numbered years, the board is shifting its organization meeting to January.

Also added to the policy was the use of the district e-mail as another way of notifying board members of special meetings.

"We post the meetings and times on our website and special meetings as well, we live in technological society, it only makes sense to include email," said Salah.

"And each board member has a district e-mail," added board President the superintendent and staff and the notification of parents that their students have a teacher rated as ineffective. According to Salah, the district has been preparing for the changes for two years and a new teacher evaluation is being rolled out this year. The new staff evaluations reflect changes in the state tenure act. In the case of notifying parents, Salah said that if a teacher has been rated as ineffective on their two most recent annual yearend evaluations, parents will be notified.

. Parents will be notified in writing by no later than July 15 prior to the start of the school year that their student would be assigned to the teacher as well as the identity of the teacher.

While the new policy was approved this month, enforcement of that policy won't take effect until July 1, 2015, Salah added.

amounts based on unemployment they received and the amount of work they did," said Neal.

The unfair labor practice also included allegations that then-Library Director Cheryl Napsha engaged in antiunion activities, including sending letters to employees' homes attempting to coerce them into voting against union representation. The letters told employees they would lose income, benefits and have negative changes in working conditions, if they unionized.

A representative for AFSCME Council 25, which mounted the organizing effort and filed the unfair labor practice charge on behalf of the employees, couldn't be reached for comment.

At a time when the library, like other entities funded largely through property taxes, has been faced with declining revenues the potential expenses of the MERC litigation was an additional burden.

As part of the 2012-13 fiscal year budget adopted by the Library Board, nine library employees will be laid off and library hours will be reduced. Although employees haven't yet voted on unionization and there is no contract in place, Neal said the layoffs would be handled following the AFSCME procedures.

"The layoffs will be strictly by seniority within job classifications - the employees have been at-will employees," said Neal. "AFSCME has bumping language, so if someone met the criteria, the educational requirements and can do the job, they could bump (into a lower classification job)."

The Library Board is looking at placing a millage request before voters on the Aug. 7 primary ballot in hopes of fully funding the library going forward.

'I do believe that the public will support us. I hope that means those laid off will be out of work for a short time," said Neal.

W-W seniors pack 'em for roundup

By Sue Mason Observer Staff Writer

Kindergarten Roundup in the Wayne-Westland .Community Schools may be Tuesday, April 3, but for Jackie Wyrybkowski, preparation began. months ago.

A secretary in the curriculum department, planning out the parent folders and ordering the T-shirts, backpacks and supplies for the annul roundup is "her baby."

"I've done it so long, I know when to start working on it. I start right after Christmas," Wyrybkowski said. "I do all the ordering.'

With a budget of $15,000, Wyrybkowski orders the backpacks and the crayons, glue sticks, books and activities to help get them ready for their first day of school and T-shirts for youngsters who participate in the roundup. Wyrybkowski made sure there were enough copies of the paperwork for folders that will be given to parents.

"My biggest fear is I'll get the year wrong on the T-shirts," she said, while pitching in to help seniors at the Dyer Center assemble the backpacks that will be delivered to the district's elementary schools. "This is the class of 2024."

Members of the seniors club at the Dyer Center volunteer to help with the backpack stuffing. A crowd of more than 20 seniors formed an assembly line at the center Thursday morning, putting eight items in the backpack before

WHAT'S NEEDED

Parents who attend the Wayne-Westland's Kindergarten Roundup 9-10 a.m. Tuesday, April 3, will need to bring a few things with them to register their child. In addition to bringing their child, who'll get to tour the school, meet the teachers and visit the classrooms, parents will need to have: Their child's original birth certificate.

• An up-to-date record of the child's immuniza-

 Proof of residency, including a driver's license, a signed lease or mortgage document and two pieces of business mail that are not more than 30 days old. Parents can find out the school their child will attend by logging on to the district's website at www.wwcsd.net and clicking on the Locate Your School icon or by calling (734) 419-2083. For parents who can't make it to the roundup, the school offices will be open 6-7 p.m. that evening. They can also contact the school to make an appointment to register at their convenience.

"quality control" did a last check and zipped them closed.

"I like volunteering, I like helping," backpacker newbie Pat Gregaine of Westland said. "I've been volunteering for a long time. The school system sponsors us and this is one way we can give back."

Close to 1,200 backpacks were filled and placed in bags to be delivered to the district's 11 elementary schools for the roundup that will be held 9-10 a.m.

Preparations began Wednesday with seniors folding folders to hold registration forms, emergency cards and information about the Champions before and after school program. The seniors also placed address labels on the district's Connections newsletter that contained information about the roundup.

"I think this makes the seniors feel worthwhile, that they have something to offer," center director Mary Browe said. "There's camaraderie and socialization for them. Some people never volunteer, but those who do volunteer feel better about themselves and the return is wonderful.

"I've never had a hard time getting volunteers, they're all wonderful,", she added.

A majority of the backpacks will be given out at the roundup, but some will be available for children who are registered for school during the summer, according to Aaron Baughman.

'We run out every year," he said. "It's fantastic that the seniors have been so supportive of what we ask them to do. You don't see a lot of districts with seniors who are so supportive and they love it.'

With a smaller than usual crowd and more than half of the volunteers new, the "quali-ty control" table found themselves falling behind checking the backpacks and zipping them closed, a problem Browe addressed by starting another table.

"Quality control is going to lose their job. They're getting backed up and you know what happens when you're working on an assembly line," Browe said.

The additional help got the backpacks done in just under two hours, although the assembly line for the folders had longer to go.

"I've been doing this for at least eight years, and this is the first time we've had a wall of bags in front of us," Ed Turn-er said. "I've been doing this every since they started.'

According to Wyrybkowski, the instruction department handled the backpacking the first few years.

"We divvied it up among instruction, but after a few years, we decided we needed help," she said.

Phil Lewis of Wayne is glad they decided to ask the seniors to help. This is his second year helping. Feeling under the weather with a hip and joint disease, he sat down to set out the bags for seniors to fill.

"I was a walker last year," he said. "I like doing this to help the club, but I like the camaraderie, too."

State House gets behind I-275 plan

By Darrell Clem Observer Staff Writer

In yet another boost to Canton's efforts to fix the I-275/Ford Road interchange, the state House voted Tuesday to support a resolution calling on the U.S. Department of Transportation to approve funding for the project.

The vote came mere days after Canton Township and the Michigan Department of Transportation submitted to federal officials an $18 million request for grant dollars to reshape the interchange — a project officials say would create nearly 300 jobs, ease traffic congestion, reduce accidents and improve a key economic corridor of western Wavne County.

"We now have support of the full Michigan Legislature," township Super-visor Phil LaJoy said.

The House vote came after state Rep. Kurt Heise, R-Plymouth, introduced a resolution already approved by the state Senate to support efforts to secure federal dollars through a program called TIGER, Transportation Investment Generating Economic Recovery. The . measure has received bipartisan support.

Local support
Meanwhile, LaJoy and other officials continue to push for a grassroots lobbying effort for the funding. They have asked local motorists fed with up Ford Road traffic congestion to go to www. tiger4canton.com to find ways they can lobby federal officials to approve the grant.

Already, the project has received support from ' Westland, Livonia, Wayne and the townships of Van Buren, Plymouth and Northville. Other entities favoring the effort include MDOT, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and retail giant · IKEA, among others.

"I don't know of anything else we could possibly do to make this happen," LaJoy said Friday.

Canton has been rejected three times for a TIGER grant, but officials are hoping the fourth time will be the charm. Municipal Services Director Tim Faas has said Canton expects to receive word of the fourth-round TIGER grant by June.

Lots of reasons

One interchange fix suggests installing two new ramps, or slips, from the southbound I-275 exit ramp at Ford to allow motorists to access Haggerty in either direction without traveling on Ford. It also calls for a northbound service drive along the east side of the interstate, from Cherry Hill to north of Ford

The TIGER application cites numerous reasons for the project, aside from traffic safety. Officials say the project would:

- Improve the flow of goods in an area strategically located between Detroit Metro and Willow Run airports, a "major distribution hub for a variety of national and international trucking and logistics companies" such as Canton-based W.F. Whelan.
- Boost industrial and commercial property val-
- Allow a quicker response by first responders to get to accident scenes along:I-275 and Ford Road.

Westland Rotary raises $14,000 with its Red Wings suite raffle

Talk about a win-win. The Westland Rotary Club now has more than $14,000 for their charitable projects and a local business gets to take nine friends to a suite at Joe Louis Arena to watch the Detroit Red Wings.

Jim Gendrun and Marty Eisenstein, co-owners of National Block in Westland, purchased two of the Red Wings raffle tickets. As it turns out, Gendrun had the winning ticket which was drawn Thursday at the weekly Rotary luncheon held at Joy Manor.

"This fund-raiser was way more successful than we ever imagined. It was the combined effort from our club members, supporting businesses, government officials, citizens, other Rotary clubs, and the publicity we received from the Westland Observer that enabled us to far surpass our $10,000 goal" said Rotary President Mary Vellardita.

Club members alone had raised $10,000 through selling the $10 raffle tickets. The suite, which also includes food and beverages, was . donated by Lou Tavormina, owner of Tavormina's Pizza, who drew the winning ticket.

There is no gimmick or quick fix that will ever make you lose weight permanently. This is the REAL THING!

I know there is a good chance you are dealing with Type II Diabetes, High Blood Pressure, High Cholesterol, Hypothyroidism, joint pain and possibly a number of other health conditions. Come spend one hour with me and I'll show you how you may be able to completely rid yourself of Type II Diabetes, and possibly throw away your blood pressure and cholesterol drugs forever. Whether you want to lose that last 10 pounds or you NEED to lose 100 lbs. or more, I can show you how to do it.

IF YOU ARE SERIOUS ABOUT LOSING WEIGHT THIS YEAR, DO NOT MISS THIS FREE ONE-HOUR SEMINAR!!!

My goal for this year is to help as many people as possible to reach their goal weight and reclaim their lives! Will you be one of them? If you are suffering with a weight problem or any of the related illnesses that go along with it, don't wait another minute. Let me help you out. Wayne High alum recognized as a Champion of Children

A Wayne Memorial High School alumnus and benefactor of the school's Champions program has been awarded the Regional Champion for Children Award by Region 9 of the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

Richard D. Helppie received the award Tuesday at the Spring Conference of the Tri-County Alliance.

The Regional Champion for Children Award is presented by each of the 10 regions in the MASA organization to individuals who have shown tremendous effort and dedication to enriching the lives of children and the community as a whole.

Helppie is being recognized for his vision, passion and generosity in facilitating the development of the Wayne Memorial's Champions Program. According to Greg Baracy, Wayne-Westland school superintendent who nominated Helppie for the award, the program has changed the building culture, inspired students and has provided hope, confidence and success for hundreds of students.

"Mr. Helppie is an alumnus of Wayne Memorial High School, a strong supporter of his community and a true philanthropist," Baracy wrote in his nomination. "He has never forgotten from whence he came and is a believer of 'paying it forward' and helping all students reach their potential and goals through an appropriate support system.'

Helppie is a very successful venture capitalist. He has founded several successful companies, including Superior Consultant Company, in which he grew the company from one person to more 1,400 employees.

"Mr. Helppie is a humble man and doesn't like a lot of fanfare," Baracy said. "However, he has a fundamental belief that there are many students in school today that were like him. He did not graduate at the top of his class, but instead took an unorthodox approach to his success because of his interest in computers and some extra encouragement from an educator in his high school days. Further, he believes that a 'one size' doesn't fit all students. Every student has an unleashed, cre-. ative and brilliant intrinsic ability to become successful.'

Under Helppie's guid- . ance, the Champions Program is enhancing the education experiences of students. In many cases the program is changing the lives of students on a daily basis. Helppie challenged the staff members at Wayne Memorial to develop a meaningful mentoring program that has centered on student success. The Champion Program bring together students and staff members who "champion" students to success. Champions are not only teachers, but secretaries, custodians, paraprofessional staff, other support staff, central office staff and the superintendent.

In order to participate in the program, students must set a goal of at least 15 percent increase in their cumulative semester grade point average or a significant increase in attendance and positive behavior. The student's mentor or "champion" encourages them and provides support over the course of the entire semester.

When students meet their goals, they receive a $200 award stipend and their name is engraved on a huge trophy. In addition, they and their families are invited to join their mentors at the champion banquet held at the end of the semester. The entire program is funded through the support of Helppie and the Helppie Family Foundation.

Helppie attends every champion banquet where students share stories about their relationships with their champions and their journeys to success. It is not uncommon to hear students tell Mr. Helppie, "without this program and my champion, I may not have graduated high school ... I may not be alive today."

Success stories include a student who raised his grade point average from a 1.0 to 3.5 over the course of one semester, a student with high absenteeism who now attends regularly and is improving his GPA, and a student who had been removed from his home because of neglect and violence but found new hope through the Champions program.

MASA is a statewide association that represents the superintendents and first-line administrators of Michigan's local and intermediate school districts. The mission of MASA is to develop leadership and unity within its membership to achieve the continuous improvement of public education in Michigan.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

Attorneys J.B. Bieske and Jennifer Alfonsi have 42 years combined experience representing only Social Security disability clients. And they personally meet with all clients and appear personally at all court hearings. Many large firms assign inexperi-enced attorneys to your case. And some of these firms are located thousands of miles away and only fly the attorney in the day of the court hearing. Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi have vast experience before local Michigan judges.

Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi can often make a winning difference at the application stage. And, if an appeal is necessary they have won several hundred cases before a court date is even Those denied can appeal on their own but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

In addition to practicing only Social Security disability law attorney Bieske has written a book for attorneys about the subject and has been interviewed on various television programs. Both attorney Bieske and Alfonsi have also been interviewed on radio programs and have given speeches to many groups.

Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi offer free phone or office consultation. If they represent you, there will be no fee charged until after the case is won. The fee is a percentage of retroactive benefits.

Covered in 'KISS': Fan retools bathroom in band's honor

By Jill Halpin Correspondent

There are legions of followers of the 1970s-era glam rock-and-roll band

And then there is Rick Hoffman.

You can call Hoffman, a longtime Canton resident, a fan, but that would be an understatement at best. He is, in his very own words, "the number one KISS fan in the world."

In fact, Hoffman is such a KISS enthusiast that he has devoted a room in his house to the band. He decorated and customized the room: a half-bath on the first floor of his home that has become a shrine to KISS lead singer Gene Simmons and his band mates. It is a sight to behold, complete with a special-order black sink, black toilet and, of course, black light.

However, the black light is not the only light in the room. The bathroom features multiple lighting options including a red light and a regular overhead light as well as customized murals and specially designed handmade plaques featuring busts of KISS band mem-

And that is only the beginning.

KISS logo

There is also the etched mirror with the distinctive KISS band logo, the "KISS Army" logo above the light switch and the clock resembling the cover from KISS' Destroyer album, not to mention Simmons's face in his classic pose — tongue out on the back of the sliding door.

Hoffman is smitten with his creation.

"The best thing about it is that it's been three years and every time I walk in there it's still just so cool," Hoffman said. "It's the best room in the house."

Rick Hoffman just might be the world's most ardent fan of KISS. The KISS-themed bathroom of his Canton home is pretty strong proof.

As the owner and operator of Artworks by Red, a custom graphic arts and signage business that provides banners and signs for many area businesses, local schools and sports teams, Hoffman is accustomed to working in creative design.

He said he was moved to refurbish his bathroom a few years ago after visiting a KISSthemed coffee shop in Myrtle Beach, S.C. Hoffman and his wife, Gail, were visiting their son, Donnie, on leave from the military, when they happened upon the KISS Coffeehouse in a popular shopping area in Myrtle Beach. Of course, he said, they were compelled to go inside and look around.

Buying power

"We left a few hours later, $200 lighter with no coffee," Hoffman said. "But we sure had a lot of KISS memorabilia.'

However, it was the memory of the coffee shop's bathroom, outfitted in KISS collectibles and souvenirs, that stayed with him after his return to Michigan. It was not long before he knew he wanted to replicate it in his own home. "It was just so cool," he said.

The KISS-themed bathroom invites you to sit down and rock out.

Gail Hoffman gave the final okay for the project.

"I knew he loved it when we were in Myrtle Beach," she said. "Once we got home, I said, 'You want to do that to our bathroom, don't you?' I told him to go ahead, you only live once."

Educated at Ypsilanti's Eastern Michigan University and Washtenaw Community College in graphic arts and design. Hoffman grew up in Livonia and graduated from Bentley High School. He has lived in the Canton area for the past 18 years.

Armed with a lifelong interest in drawing, Hoffman said it took him a few weeks to re-design the bathroom and just another two weeks to finish it.

It was his artistic background coupled with his devotion to rock and roll that led him to undertake the one-of-a-kind KISS bathroom project, he said.

"I've always had an interest in graphic arts, always been good at it," he said. "And I've always loved KISS."

Comfort level

Although it took a little while to get used to it, Gail said she is now completely comfortable with their redecorated bathroom, even if Gene Simmons's face is on the back of the door.

"Sometimes I walk in and shut the door and say, Whoa, Good Lord, Gene Simmons is right there," she said.

Even though she admits her musical tastes run more to a mellower, softer side, "I'm okay with it now. Some people are shocked that I let him do it, but once they go in and see it, they love it. It's very well done."

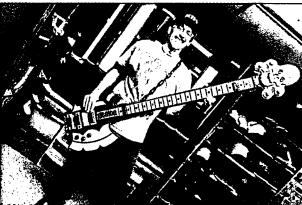

"It wouldn't have been my first choice, but if it makes him happy, I'm alright with it," she said. "If it were in our upstairs bathroom it might be another story.

Hoffman is proud his bathroom has become somewhat of a showplace.

"Everybody that has ever seen it loves it," he said.

However, there is one person to whom he would love to show the room: KISS front man Gene Simmons himself.

: "Wouldn't it just be great if Gene could see it himself?" he asked.

Rick Hoffman built a large KISS bass guitar for his son.

Daughter continues dad's legacy as volunteer for cancer patients

By Karen Smith Observer Staff Writer

Nearly two years ago, Livonia resident Jack Walsh decided it was time to act. He had been diagnosed with multiple myeloma, a form of blood cancer nine years prior, and he was so thankful he was still alive that he. wanted to do something to give hope to others fighting cancer.

That's when he heard about Road to Recovery, a volunteer-based American Cancer Society program that transports cancer patients to and from treatment. Since Walsh, 67, couldn't always drive due to the medications he was on, he recruited his daughter Shelley Megge to drive and he became the copilot and a friend to those they took to treatment.

Walsh lost his battle to cancer on Feb. 3, but Megge, also of Livonia, plans to continue his legacy as soon as she finishes recovering from knee surgery.

"It's so worth it," she said. "It's awesome; you feel amazing. People are going through so much, and everybody's so grate-

Megge, 43, plans to take along a letter written by her father to share with each passenger.

'Basically a miracle'

Megge said her father had a rare cancer. "He should have only lived six months to a year." But it wound up being 11 years. "It was basically a mira-put him in remission for five years, and then medications were able to control the cancer after it came back.

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, March 25, 2012

Megge said her father was so positive, many people didn't know he had cancer. "You never would have known when he was in pain; he just kept going.'

In November, less than two months before he died, he went to Hawaii. "He was never bed-ridden; my dad just went and

His doctor at Our Lady of Hope Cancer Center at St. Mary Mercy Hospital had asked Walsh to write a letter to encourage other cancer patients undergoing stem cell transplants. It was that same letter that he would give to cancer patients to read as he and his daughter transported them to and from cancer treatments through Road to Recov-

'Do the things you enjoy'

The letter reads, in part, "If you have cancer, I wish you the best. Don't worry too much and take one day at a time. Do the things you enjoy; it will make you feel better and take your mind off the cancer. And remember, don't sweat the small stuff."

Now Megge will share that letter with patients she transports with help from her children, Aman-ing to be a paramedic; and Julia, 8, a student at Hoover Elementary. Megge said she enjoys volunteering for Road da, 23, a student at Eastern Michigan University; Aaron, 20, who's study-to Recovery because it is so flexible. The owner and manager of a Southfield office building, Megge can go onto their web site and choose when she wants to drive patients so it fits within her schedule.

She said some trips are just 15 minutes, some are longer. Some are only one way. Volunteers can drive as much or little as they want — even just once every six months.

"You don't have to make a big commitment; it's a little commitment, and they never pressure you," she said. She said many cancer patients have their own vehicles, but they don't feel up to driving after treatment or they aren't allowed to drive because of the pain medication they're on. They also don't want to - or can't - depend on friends and family members to take them to each treatment. "If you have to go every week for six weeks, and you miss one appointment, it messes up your treatment plan," Megge

Megge said it will be different driving without her dad, who did most of the talking. "Because he could relate, I leaned on him quite a bit," she said.

But she's happy to continue driving, and involve her children the way her dad involved her, in order to continue his legacy.

"He wanted so much to give people hope," she said.

Prez post 'dream come true' for chamber chief

By Darrell Clem Observer Staff Writer

Calling it "an absolute dream come true for me," former Canton Chamber of Commerce employee Thomas Paden has been chosen as the business organization's new president. "I can barely find the words to adequately express my enthusiasm," he said. Even before he starts his new job April.9, Paden already has confirmed his first priority is working with organizers to ensure "a great success" for the chamber's premier fundraiser, a dinner and auction set for Saturday, April 28, at Livonia's Burton Manor.

Paden's determination and longtime dedication to the Canton chamber catapulted him to the top slot as the organization sought a successor to Tracey Rettig, a former president who resigned last November after less than a year on the job.

Well connected

"We're really excited," chamber board Chair Kim Scartelli said Thursday, confirming Paden's selection. "He comes to us with a lot of experience with the chamber. He's familiar with our operations, and he has a ton of connections in the community."

Scartelli said Paden has the skills and ability to help the chamber, which hopes to boost its membership and find new ways to serve Canton's business community.

"He's got so much experience, he can hit the ground working," she said. "The board felt strongly he was the right candidate to get us back on track in terms of where we need to be. He's seen as a very professional person, and he's well-liked.

'He's a person who can really continue to pull the chamber together and help us grow in the future," Scartelli said. "He's going to be a tremendous asset."

Paden had worked as the chamber's member relations staffer from 2009 to 2011 but, amid what some viewed as a tumultuous year for the organization, he left late last year to become business development coordinator for the Michigan Recreation and Park Association in Lansing.

'Wonderful' choice

Paden's return was hailed by interim President Dianne Cojei, who held the job for a decade before she retired and was replaced during Rettig's 10-month stint. Cojei said Paden has had ties beyond the chamber including Canton Township's economic development team and Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

"I think he's a wonderful choice," she said. "He's so established here. I think he comes here with a love of this community. We definitely want to move forward, and I think he's the person who can do that for Paden, 27, first became involved in the chamber a decade ago when Cojei brought him in for a coop student internship from the William D. Ford Career Technical Center in the Wayne-Westland school district.

"As a high school student," Paden said, "the chamber provided me with a priceless jumpstart on my professional development, laid the foundation for me to grow into a business professional — and for that I'm forever indebted to the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

He said his position as president "is a way for me to give back to an organization that has done so much for me and the community.'

Before Paden was hired as the chamber's member relations staffer, he was employed five years with Chrysler Corp. as a quality automotive supervisor. Cojei said she will remain as an interim chamber employee to help during Paden's transition.

Paden said he is eager to work alongside chamber members and engage them to move the organization forward.

"These are exciting times for the Canton Chamber of Commerce, with an insightful board of directors and a membership that year in and vear out shows their dedication to this organization and community," he said. "The future is very bright."

Canton incidents could be linked to serial indecent exposure acts

By Darrell Clem Observer Staff Writer

A man who exposed himself by wearing sheer panty hose to a Canton hair salon and a girls clothing store may be the same man sought for at least 14 incidents of indecent exposure as far away as Chesterfield Township, authorities say.

"This guy is a traveler," Oakland County Sheriff's Office Lt. Ray White said.

His remarks came after a man wearing panty hose exposed himself three times Monday evening — twice in Utica and once in Clinton Township, White said.

A similar incident happened Feb. 15 inside the Red Head Salon in Canton's Cherry Hill Village — five months after a man exposing himself through sheer panty hose stood outside a window of the same shop. Red Head Salon stylist Kaithlin Fettes said she believes the suspect pictured in a photo released by Oakland County authorities is the same man who entered the Canton salon in Feb-

"From the physical look of the guy, I definitely think it's the same guy," she said. "To be quite honest, I was with a co-worker when he came into the salon, and I thought he was joking."

The man asked for a Brazilian wax — similar to a Rochester Hills salon incident — and stood around before leaving. Fettes then called police.

During an incident last September, a man stood outside the Red Head Salon wearing panty hose, a winter skull cap, a jogging jacket and sneakers, witnesses told police.

One of the latest incidents occurred Monday evening at a Justice girls clothing store in Utica — just nine days after the company's Canton location reported a panty hose-wearing man walked inside that shop. All the incidents are similar. "We believe it could be the same guy, but we're not discounting that it could be a different guy," Canton Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said.

2010 stats show vehicle thefts continue to decline

The director of H.E.A.T. (Help Eliminate Auto Thefts) is happy to see the 2010 auto theft statistics released by the Automobile Theft Prevention Authority (ATPA) in its annual report.

The statistics showed a decrease in the number of vehicle thefts in Mich-

"H.E.A.T. is delighted to see a statewide decline in the number of overall vehicle thefts for the fourth consecutive year," said Terri Miller, director of H.E.A.T. "We do, however, want to make Michigan residents aware that while traditional auto theft rates are declining, auto theft-related crime is still on the rise in our communities. Thieves have simply branched out into other areas such as component theft and insurance fraud."

According to the report covering 2010:

· Auto thefts in Michigan in 2010 declined by 9.4 percent from 2009. In 2010, 26,875 yehicles were reported stolen in Michigan, compared to 29,647 in 2009.

• From 1986 (the year of ATPA's inception) to 2010, Michigan auto thefts dropped by 62.7 percent, compared to a decrease in auto thefts nationally of only 39.8 percent. In 2010, Michigan was ranked as the state with the sixth highest total motor vehicle thefts in the nation.

• In 2010, Wayne County topped the list of Michigan counties with the highest reported motor vehicle thefts at 16,444 (61.2 percent of total state thefts). Oakland and Macomb Counties accounted for 1,959 thefts (7.3 percent) and 1,956 thefts (7.3 percent), respectively.

•The 2000 Dodge Ram pickup truck topped Michigan's list of most stolen vehicles in 2010. Thieves' top color preferences for vehicles to steal were once again black, followed by white and red.

•The months with the highest auto theft figures, which remained the same in 2010, were November, December and October.

· Although the city of Detroit once again saw an overall decrease in vehicle thefts, from 13,252 in 2009 to 12,563 in 2010 (-5.2 percent), it is still the highest ranking city in Michigan for auto thefts.

 Among some of Michigan's other large cities, the highest decreases in auto theft were seen in: 1) Harper Woods -

From 348 in 2009 to 174 in 2010, a decrease of 50 percent. Sterling Heights –

From 190 in 2009 to 120 in 2010, a decrease of 36.8 percent. 3) Kalamazoo - From .

277 in 2009 to 188 in 2010, a decrease of 32.1 percent. 4) Warren - From 1,056 in 2009 to 730 in 2010, a decrease of 30.9 percent. 5) Pontiac – From 312 in 2009 to 216 in 2010, a decrease of 30.8 percent.

• Some Michigan areas that saw increases in auto theft in 2010 included Lansing, from 209 in 2009 to 252 in 2010, an increase of 20.6 percent; Kent County, from 126 in 2009 to 146 in 2010, an increase of 15.9 percent, and Battle Creek, from 139 in 2009 to 157 in 2010, an increase of 12.9 percent.

"With the continued partnership between citizens, law enforcement, the insurance industry and agencies such as H.E.A.T. and the ATPA, we expect to see rates of auto theft continue to decline," said Miller. "Through our 24/7 toll-free tip line (1-800-242-H.E.A.T.) and website (www.1800242HEAT. com), tipsters can do their part to help protect their neighborhoods by anonymously reporting auto theft-related crimes, and may be eligible for rewards up to $10,000 for their information.'

Bosch lab puts auto parts through paces

By Matt Jachman Observer Staff Writer

If you buy a car today from one of the Detroit Three automakers, chances are high that a facility in Plymouth Township helped put it together.

Robert Bosch LLC, part of a worldwide company doing business in auto parts, home appliances, health-care equipment, computer software and more, has a laboratory on Haggerty Road where its car and truck components are tested: shaken and bumped, frozen and overheated, studied under a microscope and in corrosive conditions, and measured for sound waves and electromagnetic emissions.

Part of Bosch's automotive technology group, which is based in Farmington Hills, the Bosch lab tests a range of parts, including engine cooling fans, motors for window lifts and windshield wipers, backup sensors and battery sensors and circuit boards for electronic key fobs.

About 700 people work in the lab, many of them electrical, mechanical or computer engineers, and the company is moving ahead with plans for expansion.

'Extreme testing'

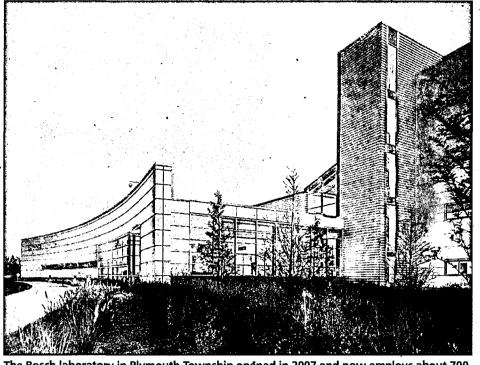

"I think most people, when they buy a car, don't realize that every component in that car has gone through extreme testing," said Simon Price, Bosch's Plymouth Township engineering manager. The testing of samples of parts, to standards set by Bosch's customers the manufacturers that would later be using the parts in their cars and trucks — are to ensure quality, safety and durability, Price said.

The lab includes an anechoic chamber --- one designed to not reflect electromagnetic emissions - for measuring the electromagnetic waves produced by various electronic components. The components must comply with federal guidelines on electromagnetism, and also must not emit waves that interfere with the operation of other electric parts in the vehicle, said Andrew Wolf, the facilities manager.

Another anechoic chamber, nonreflective of sound, is used to measure the sound produced by different moving parts. "We want only the noise coming from the component to be recorded," Price said.

Simulating road conditions

There are also chambers to give parts a "thermal shock," to take them from the temperatures in say, northern Minnesota, and then suddenly to Death Valley in the California desert, Price said. Vibration machines, one powered by electromagnetic forces and another by a more traditional hydraulic system, put parts through years of potholes and road wear to see how they hold up.

"We accelerate the testing here," Price said. "Obviously, we can't test for years."

Small parts, such as the individual components on a circuit board, are looked at with a scanning electron microscope, which can magnify many hundreds of

'This is how we can see what's going on in the component under extreme conditions,' Price said.

Bosch opened its lab in the township in 2007 and, with the rebound of the automobile industry in the past two years, has been adding personnel there after some job cuts during the recession. Last December, the company won approval for a temporary modular building, mostly for office space, designed to accommodate about 130 employees, mostly engi-

The Bosch laboratory in Plymouth Township opened in 2007 and now employs about 700 people; the company is putting up a temporary office building on the campus and considering a permanent expansion.

Temporary quarters

The modular building, at $3.5 million, a price that includes its removal, is under construction, and Bosch officials hope to move in this May. Much of it will be built off site, trucked in and put together. Bosch has pledged to township officials that the modular building will be taken down and removed by mid-2015.

Still in the works are plans for a permanent expansion, a $15 million to $20 million addition to the campus. Bosch officials are gauging market conditions and the strength of the automotive market rebound before committing to that project; if built, it would provide space for between 300 and 400 employees and be completed by late 2014, officials say.

With its growth in the township, Bosch is also planning further involvement outside the lab to put "new and deeper roots" in the community, said Kimberly Lindsey-Feagin, manager of government Bosch's lab in Plymouth Township, part of its Farmington Hills-based automotive technology group, puts a variety of the company's car and truck components, such as a window lift that might go into this car door, through extreme conditions. The lab includes a machine shop for internal use, but no auto parts are manufactured on the site.

Local involvement

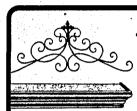

Employees contribute to local clothing drives and volunteer in elementary and middle school classrooms to show students some real-world applications of science, she said.

Last November, Bosch awarded $25,000 to the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools for a variety of sciencerelated projects. Fifteen grants of $1,000 each went to individual teachers for their spe-. cific classroom projects, and $10,000 went to the high schools at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park for the development of a freshman-level energy curriculum.

"We're looking forward to following up and seeing a lot of exciting activities the teachers have done," Lindsey-Feagin said..

The parent company, Robert Bosch GmbH. is based in Germany and has about 285,000 employees worldwide. It's North American brands include Gilmour lawn-care equipment, Skil and Dremel power tools and Purolator auto components.

"Nothing compares with the simple pleasure of a bike ride."
- President John F. Kennedy

As the weather is getting warmer more and more people are hopping on their bikes for rides around the neighborhood. Learning to ride a bike is one of the rites of passage for a child. As an adult, the reasons for riding a bike become more complex.

The five reasons why people ride bikes: economics — it's much cheaper than driving a car, environment, there's no gas emissions, it's fun to do, you can burn calories while you're riding around and for some people who can't afford a car, a bike is the way to go.

No matter what your reasons for cycling. there are still some safetv rules to follow. The first thing to do is to make sure that you are visible to other people. Wear bright or reflective clothing (especially at night) and have reflectors on your bike. Also, remember that if you're riding on the streets you need to follow the same rules as motorists. You should always be traveling in the same direction. Don't ride against traffic. Most importantly, have fun!

The William P. Faust Public Library of Westland can also help you in your bike riding pursuits. Some titles you might want to check out include Chris Carmichael's Ultimate Ride,

Commissioned advisers are beholden to someone else

By Rick Bloom Guest Columnist

Q: Dear Rick: My daughter lives out of town and has decided she needs the services of a financial adviser. I've sent her some of your columns so she would have an understanding of who to hire. l understand the difference between a fee adviser and one who works on § commissions. I've told her to avoid commissionbased financial advisers because of the conflict of interest. What confuses me is the difference between fee-only and fee-based. I'm not sure if it's just a difference in terminology or if there really is a difference. Please explain. the difference.

A: First, I do agree with you that commissioned financial advisers do have a conflict of interest. After all, their compensation comes from the products they sell. I believe that when you hire a professional, their loyalty should be to you - and only you.

The reality of the world is that whoever pays you is where your loyalty lies. With a commissioned financial adviser, his/her compensation comes directly from the products that they sell and that is. where their loyalty is.

Fee-based advisers will charge you a fee and at the same time also accept commissions. Sometimes this means that they are doubledipping. They are getting paid from both the client and the product.

What some fee-based advisers do is offset the fees they charge you with any commission they receive. Their view is that handling it that way reduces any conflict of interest. I don't agree. I believe there can, potentially, still be a conflict of interest. After all, what if the commissions are substantially more than the fee that they would charge you? In that situation you may not be paying any fee; you're just paying commissions.

A fee-only adviser receives 100 percent of his/her compensation directly from the client (I should note that my firm, Bloom Asset Management, has always been a feeonly adviser firm). Fee-only advisers do not receive any compensation from any product they may recommend to a client. In that way, there is no conflict of interest.

. I believe that when you hire a professional, whether it is a doctor, lawyer or a financial adviser, you want them to be loyal to you, and only to you. That is why for the great majority of people, I recommend a fee-only adviser.

Although the industry is changing and more advisers are becoming fee-only advisers, there are still a majority of financial advisers that work on commission. I believe that so many of those advisers are really not advisers but rather, financial salespeople.

There is nothing wrong with salespeople, however, I do believe they create a problem in the financial world. My other problem with commission salespeople is that not only does their compensation come from buying and selling products, but also many times they are compensated for doing nothing.

Many different types of investment products have what are known as trailers. Trailers pay a financial salesperson an ongoing fee for as long as the investor retains the product. In theory, the reason why they are compensated that way is so they can service the client for as long as they hold that product.

However, reality is somewhat different. In many situations, the salesperson does nothing. You are paying them high fees and getting nothing in return. What also bugs me about commissions is that in many situations clients do not know what fees they are paying. When fees are undisclosed, they are generally higher than someone should be paying.

In addition, why should someone pay fees when they're not getting anything in return? Always remember, high fees equal low returns. That is why I'm always suspicious when fees are not readily disclosed.

Sometimes it is not as easy to hire a fee-only adviser because there are not as many. As an alternative, if your daughter cannot find a fee-only adviser for her investment needs, she can consider going to a branch of Fidelity, TD Ameritrade or Schwab. They offer a variety of fee-only services. All three companies will recommend a variety of no-load (commission-free) investments. The bottom line when it comes to hiring a financial adviser is you have to feel comfortable enough to ask questions. If a financial adviser intimidates you or does not want to answer your questions, you know you're dealing with the wrong person. The most important thing is that you have trust and confidence in your financial adviser and you know that they're working for your best inter-

Good luck!

"It's hard to believe Paige and Kelly are seniors already," Shin-gledecker said. "They . have both worked extremely hard in the off season to make sure they accomplish their goal of winning the state championship. We will rely on those two to do a lot of our heavy lifting, but they are surrounded by a group of very talented players that will try and help them get it done."

The team's leading returning scorer is junior Domenique Sarnecky, who had 16 goals, 10 assists, while fellow junior DeYana Walker added six goals.

Shingledecker's biggest challenge will be replacing first-team All-Observ-er goalkeeper Madeline Reed, who posted 14 shutouts last season before moving on to Western Michigan University.

Sophomore Whitney Bauriedl was penciled in as the starter, but was injured in a preseason scrimmage. She is expected back, but junior Sara Even will hold the

Pats' Wirgau steps down after 5 years

By Brad Emons Observer Staff Writer

The search is on for a new varsity boys hockey coach at Livonia Franklin following the resignation Thursday of Scott Wirgau, who stepped down from his alma mater following a 7-17-1 season. "The decision was thought over during a long period of time," Wirgau said. "I've been thinking about this the past four months. When I took the job five years ago I really went in with a five-year business plan. For the job to be done with a certain familiarity, I think you need three years to get comfortable. And then, you do need an injection of enthusiasm.

"I think after five years the enthusiasm is gone and there needs to be a new face in there, bright and shiny, ready to do the job in a new perspective

Wins were hard to come by during Wirgau's fiveyear stretch as he posted an overall record of 26-82-8.

His two toughest seasons came in 2008-9 (0-25) and 2009-10 (2-22-1) as the Patriots struggled in the formidable Kensington Lakes Activities Association's Kensington Conference and South Division.

"I wish we as a team could have won more games," Wirgau said. "I wish that I would have been able to play. The wins and losses came with me on the bench, not on the ice. And I wish for the sake of the program, and more importantly the kids, we could have won more.

Atwood opts for UD-Mercy

First-team All-Observer boys soccer selection Zack Atwood of Livonia Stevenson has verbally committed to play in 2013 for the University of Detroit Mercy.

The junior has two goals in seven appearances as the Crew Soccer Academy Wolves under-15/16 Development Academy team is off to a 6-0-1 start this

He previously was a member of the Michigan Olympic Development Program state team and was invited to the ODP Region II camp last year.

Atwood tallied a team-high 17 goals and added 10 assists last fall at Stevenson will earning All-KLAA, All-District, All-Region and honorable mention All-State honors.

He is the first confirmed commitment to the Titans under coach Nick Deren, who is also a former player and Stevenson grad.

Sparks plays up a Storm, stops Whalers

By Tim Smith Observer Staff Writer

With one lightning-fast burst down the middle of the ice late in the second goal, Plymouth Whalers forward Alex Aleardi netted a shorthanded goal to cut Guelph's lead to 3-1 Friday in Game 1 of their OHL first round series.

That play, with 3:38 to go in the second, brought new life inside Compuware Arena, both in the stands and on the Plymouth bench.

But even though the Whalers ramped up the pressure with 21 shots in the third — and with forward J.T. Miller scoring a power-play goal — the early three-goal deficit proved too much as the Storm came away with a Wirgau, a financial advisor for Edward Jones in Canton, replaced longtime Franklin coach Terry Jobbitt prior to the 2007-08 season. Jobbitt had been the Patriots' head coach for 25 years.

Wirgau moved to Franklin after a stint in travel ranks where he simultaneously coached a Midget AA team in Garden City along with a Bantam AA squad in Dearborn.

Wirgau's son Jacob was also a member of the Patriots' team during his first three seasons as coach.

Meanwhile, the vacant position is expected to be posted within a week by the Livonia Public Schools.

"We want somebody who enjoys working with student-athletes at the high school level," Franklin athletic director Ron Hammye said. "Winning is important, but it has to be somebody who understands that it has to be done within the framework and concept of educational high school athletics."

a fire under his team to climb back from a 3-0 hole. Head down, he steamed full speed down the ice with one thing in mind.

"He (the Guelph defenseman) was skating slow and I just saw the puck kind of sitting there," Aleardi said. "I got a pretty quick pace out there and I thought why not pressure him and make him lose the puck.

"I ended up beating. him to the puck and getting the boys going on my goal, shorthanded."

Miller made it 3-2 with 16:42 to play in the third. Forward Mitchell Heard battled along the right-wing boards and passed the puck to center Andy Bathgate behind the net.

Bathgate then threaded a perfect pass to Miller near the left post for a tap-in marker.

Numerous times after that, Plymouth came close to at least sending the game into overtime.

But Sparks held his ground and Guelph's Francis Menard netted an

Guelph led 1-0 after one period despite being outshot 12-8. A loose puck bounced off a player in front of Plymouth goalie Scott Wedgewood (26 saves) right to Jason Dickinson, who swept it home for the power-play goal.

Just 1:04 into the second, the Storm doubled the lead to 2-0. Brock McGinn banked a shot from behind the net past Wedgewood.

And three minutes later, Guelph tallied another goal on the power play, this one on a long screen shot by defenseman Andrey Pedan that sailed over Wedgewood's blocker.

The Whaler's finally got it going thanks to the spectacular goal by Aleardi, a play started when forward Mitchell Heard chipped the puck out of the Plymouth zone.

. Unfortunately for the home team and its 2,265 fans, it all proved too little too late.

Parrish's 2012 outlook: "This year's team is full of seniors who understand our system of play and work well together. The team chemistry and work ethic is excellent. The loss of senior captain Erica Dye to an offseason knee injury will require other players to step and take on leadership roles. I expect this team to be able to compete in every match we play and surprise a few teams. As always, the team focus is about creating memories, team experiences, and continued development throughout the season. Expect big things from a few of the younger players who should be playmakers this year now that they have the experience and confidence. It will be a fun and exciting season."

Schafer's 2012 outlook: "We are excited for our season to start. We have several returning players in key positions starting with our goalkeeper and defense. We speed and depth on the field. Our bench has depth in all positions and speed as well. This group is hard working with a great attitude."

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE

Head coach: Amanda Moody, second year. League affiliation: Independent. year's overall record: 7-12 Notable losses to graduation: Kayla Zawol, Jenny Cruz, Mary Zhen.

Leading returnees: Ashley Murphy, Jr. MF (second-team All-Area; 13 goals, two assists); Sadie Zachos, Sr. MF (three goals, six assists); Grace King, Soph. Def.; Megan Strachan, Jr. MF-F; Rachel Kirschweng, Jr. Def.-MF; Summer Reddick, Soph. Def.

Promising newcomers: Jillian Bunker, Fr. GK-F; Sarah Curvin, Fr. F; Jordan See, Fr. MF-F; Lindsey Fosth, Fr. MF; Alessia Giammarco, Fr. Def.; Tayla Heller, Jr.Def.-MF.

Moody's 2012 outlook: "We have a lot of promising newcomers coming in as freshman with a lot of previous experience. Having young blood will benefit our team both offensively and defensively. Our firststring goalie, Brianna Tuuri-Cesarz, is out for the season due to surgery and that will be a huge hole to fill for the Trojans. With Ashley Murphy and Sadie Zachos being our center-midfielders, we should have strong, competitive games. We are a young team with a lot of talent and experience. We are going to have challenging games, but with the Trojans' potential, we should have a great season overall."

field player, but she's done a nice job in goal for us so far," Shingledecker said. "Right now Whitney is banged up, but she'll be back."

The Blazers also needed to replace starting defenders Allison Bielski and Becky Babon, both whom graduated. Another key setback occurred when senior midfielder Morgan Chops was lost for the season after suffering a knee injury during basketball season.

"The defense early on looks pretty solid," said Shingledecker, whose team opened its season Thursday with a 5-1 win at Grosse Pointe North. "We moved back (junior) Liz Danger from the middle and we we've been able to be more offensiveminded in that area than a year ago."

The Ladywood coach has beefed up his nonconference schedule playing April 21 in an tournament at Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern, a state finalist two years ago.

The Blazers also must unseat nemesis and defending Catholic League champion Bloomfield Hills Marian, which won two of three meetings last year between the teams with the other being a 3-3 tie.

· Eleventh-year coach Dave Hebestreit also returns the team's leading scorer, sophomore midfielder Kelsey Parrinello, along with senior midfielder and captain Rachel Blackney.

Also look for freshman Erin Emmanuel to add stability to the midfield.

Livonia Franklin (5-11-2), hopes to move up into the upper echelon in the KLAA South led by second-team All-Observer goalkeeper Alexis Smith, a senior, along with senior defender and captain Emily McCullen.

Westland John Glenn (5-12) will rely on youth as second-year coach Ralph Cabildo looks to replace forward Jenna Williams, who graduated, and goalkeeper Emily Hinkle, who moved out of state.

Wayne Memorial (2-16) took a hit when senior captain Erica Dye, the team's top returning player, was lost to a knee injury as third-year coach Jeff Parrish will rely on sophomores Amber Parrish and Crystl Fletcher.

KLAA Central

Novi is the two-time MHSAA Division 1 state champion and the Wildcats will once again be the favorite to repeat in the Central Division of the KLAA.

Novi, in fact, has captured five of the last seven Division 1 crowns.

Livonia Stevenson (6-10-2) returns a veteran cast and could surprise in the KLAA Central led by senior forward Dayna Stevens, who scored seven goals a year ago.

Third-year coach Chris Grodzicki will also rely on fellow second-team All-Observer selections Alexi Kliza and Olivia Kitz, a pair of junior midfielders.

MIAC Independent

Lutheran High Westland (9-6-1), under fourthyear coach Sara Schafter, returns its entire cast led by senior forward Taylor Wiemer, who was the team's top returning goal and assist leader.

Wiemer, an All-Michigan Independent Athletic Conference Blue Division pick, also earned second-team All-Observer honors.

Meanwhile, Livonia Clarenceville (7-12) will continue to play as an independent as second-year coach Amanda Moody welcomed the return of junior midfielder Ashley Murphy, who scored 13 goals a season

Murphy is doing double duty this spring. She is also member of the Trojans' track and field team.

MICHIGAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Churchill leads All-Area parade

FIRST-TEAM

Spencer Craig, Sr. G, Canton: Talk to any hockey coach and he'll list Craig as one of the best netminders in the state.

The third-year starter didn't hurt his lofty reputation in 2011-12, with a 2.33 goalsagainst average, .899 save percentage and one shutout for the KLAA South Division and Lash Cup champions.

Craig earned all-conference honors for a second consecutive season and was all-state honorable mention.

'Whenever you have Spencer in net you know you have an opportunity to win the game, coach Jeremy Majszak said. "He's just that kind of goalie that can steal games for you and put the team on his back."

Over a two-game stretch against Livonia Churchill and Novi, Craig stopped 74 of 77 shots to lead the Chiefs to a pair of victories.

During Craig's three years with Canton, he put his name in the school record book for most shutouts in a season (five) and career victories by a goalie (36).

"Spencer plans to take his game to the next level next season playing junior hockey," Majszak said.

Jim Lelekatch, Sr. Def., Liv. Churchill: The four-year varsity player and team captain earned both all-KLAA and Division 1 first-team all-state honors for the 21-7 Chargers, who reached the state quarterfinals.

In 28 games, Lelekatch had seven goals and seven assists to go along with a plus-12 rating. He took just four minutes in penalties.

Lelekatch also made Michigan High School Hockey Coaches Association academic all-state team and earned the Chargers' Hobey Baker Character award.

'Jim is a classic example of what hard work can do for your development," Churchill coach Pete Mazzoni said. "He played in every situation - his offensive really developed this year in large part to the work in put in during the offseason. Just a great captain and the definition of a student-athlete."

Nick Proben, Sr. Def., Liv. Churchill: The second-team allstater and three-year varsity player finished the year with five goals and 23 assists for 28 points with a plus-34 rating. The captain had just eight minutes in penalties. "Nick is really a forward playing defense," Mazzoni said. "He developed his defensive game and it helped his offense. He was a guy that we wanted to handle the puck for us. He is a good decision maker and makes a great first pass valuable skills need to play defense."

Jake Otto, Sr. F, Liv. Churchill: The four-year player and team captain earned MHSHCA Division 1 first-team all-state along with all-KLAA honors after racking up 48 points on 18 goals and 30 assists.

Otto posted a staggering plus-43 rating with only four minutes in penalties.

'Jake was the heart-and-soul of our team," Mazzoni said. "He played every situation for us for three years.

"Jake was a great leader and role model for us. Played his best in every game. We moved him to wing this year and his offense took off, without sacrificing his defensive responsibilities."

McGee is the first PCEP player ever voted all-state in backto-back seasons, coach Ryan Ossenmacher said.

In his three-year career with the Wildcats, McGee tallied the second-most goals in school his-

"Mark is a model for our future players to follow on how to commit to getting better and doing everything possible to attain that goal," Ossenmach-

This spring, McGee is trying out for Team Michigan, and will play in a Midwest tournament of elite high school seniors should he make the squad.

In the fall, he will likely continue playing hockey in the North American Hockey League with the intent of eventually joining a college program.

"I am confident that he will continue to excel because of his abilities and determination," Ossenmacher noted.

Beyond McGee's development as a player the past three years, he has worked to improve his grades, which the coach said he is most proud of.

Zach Gambrell, Sr. F, Plymouth: The fourth-year varsity player scored 15 goals and assisted on 13 others to lead the squad in goals and total points. Those numbers gave him school career records of 48 goals and 98 points, collected in 98 games for a point-a-game average. He was the unanimous team MVP, made the All-KLAA team and earned all-state honorable mention honors.

Following graduation, Gambrell is hopeful of playing in the NAHL with an eye on college hockey down the road.

This spring, he is trying out for a squad of elite high school seniors that will compete in a tournament in Minnesota.

"Zach's leadership will be a major void for our team to replace next season," said coach Gerry Vento about his captain. "Rarely do you find (such) a player ... who is never satisfied with his effort and always expects more of himself both at practices and games.

'He certainly left a mark not only on this team, but the program as a whole."

"His GAA for a team that had only seven wins was pretty good. His desire to compete day in and day out is something that rubbed off on his teammates."

Chris McDonald, Sr. Def., Liv. Stevenson: The senior stood out on the blue line for the Spartans and finished the year with three goals and 10 assists.

"Chris was one of our team captains and leaders both onand-off the ice," Stevenson coach David Mitchell said. "He played in all situations - on defense most often against other team's top lines and players. He also saw action on the power play in front of the other teams' net.'

McDonald also earned all-KLAA honors. He carries a 4.17 grade-point average and is a standout pitcher on the Stevenson baseball team.

"He was a beast on the ice for us this year," Mitchell said. "He logged a ton of ice and was the leader amongst our defensive corp. He was moved to defense last year, so this was basically only his second full year on the blue line and for him to do what he did was truly phenomenal."

Eric Stanis, Jr. F, North-Harrison: Stanis was the leading scorer for the Flyers, who had a 15-8-2 record while competing in the Oakland Activities Association's top division. The junior forward scored 17 goals and assisted on 19 others.

"He played with a lot of energy, and he was solid in the defensive zone, too," coach Ken Anderson said. "He had a knack for finding the net when he had his chances.

Lutz also led the team in plusminus rating with a plus 16.

"He played and excelled in all situations as a sophomore this past season," Mitchell said. "He worked extremely hard at both ends of the ice not only leading the team in scoring, but most often playing against other teams top lines." Lutz, an all-KLAA choice, also tallied the game-winning goal in a 6-4 win over Churchill.

"Dominic had a breakout year for us this year," Mitchell said. "He had a year that is pretty special for a sophomore. The future for him is extremely bright. He had an extremely productive year, while many teams keyed on him."

Mike Gambino, Sr. F, Liv. Churchill: The second-team all-stater had 36 points in 28 games with 14 goals and 41 assists to go along with an impressive plus-41 rating.

"Mike made the most of his senior year and capitalized on his opportunity," Mazzoni said of his Most Improved Player. "He has a big time shot, skates hard and was a physical presence for us.

"Mike embraced the concept of two-way hockey and presented many matchup difficulties for our opponents.'

Duggan Tear, Sr. F, Canton: A tireless grinder with a knack around the net, the three-year letter winner was a thorn in the side of KLAA goaltenders all season.

Tear scored a team-high 17 goals, drew 10 assists and was plus-12 (best on the team) as the Chiefs won their division.

For his efforts, Tear earned all-conference honors and was named the team MVP.

"Duggan really elevated his game this year," Majszak said. "After playing on the third line with a total of around seven points last year he stepped up to fill the void on offense left by graduating seniors.

When the game was tight, with time ticking away, Duggan was your guy on the ice."

Tear, who has aspirations of playing NAHL hockey later this year, could be counted on in every situation that faced the Chiefs, Majszak continued.

The winger came through on numerous occasions, "whether it was to score a goal, kill a penalty or keep the other team off the board.'

Jared VanValkenburg, Sr. F, North-Harrison: He also made a significant contribution to the North-Harrison offense. Van-Valkenburg capped his high school career with 13 goals and 17 assists for the Flyers, who earned the No. 3 seed in the OAA Red Division playoffs. He was second on the team in both . categories.

"Jared always seemed to step up in the big games for us and scored some big goals when we needed it," coach Anderson said. "He possesses a great shot. He was unselfish with the puck and got his linemates involved, too.'

COACH OF YEAR

Pete Mazzoni, Liv. Churchill: The 12th-year coach guided the Chargers to a 21-7 record and a second straight Division 1 regional title before falling to state runner-up Grosse Pointe North in the quarterfinals.

"We had a locker room full of guys who were committed to the team and did not care who got the credit," Mazzoni said. "It was a special season because many of our players have been in the program for such a long time. It was definitely a year to remember."

Mazzoni, who was also named MHSHCA Division 1 Coach of the Year, boasts a career varsity record of 233-97-41 (including two seasons at Redford Union).

"I want to make sure that our assistant coaches - Dave Higham, Jason Moul and Steve Greco - get their just due," Mazzoni said. "They are just as much deserving of this as anyone.

"Our administration is very supportive of interscholastic sports. And our support staff allows us to do the things that we want and need to do."

To your health: Ten steps to conquering heart disease

You may already know that heart disease is the No. 1 killer in America, and that factors like obesity increase your risk of developing it. But of all the shocking things you know or believe you knowabout heart disease, here's the statistic that you might find the most eye-opening: 80 percent of all heart disease is preventable. "It's important that everyone understand as much as possible about heart disease prevention, as 80 percent of heart disease can be avoided," says Dr. Martha Grogan, medical editor-in-chief of the new book Mayo Clinic Healthy Heart for Life!

Heart disease claims the lives of 600,000 Americans each year, and another 12.7 million suffer from heart attacks. One in three women are diagnosed with heart disease and 50 percent of men are at risk of heart attacks before age 65. Those statistics may make you feel like you, too, are in the cross-hairs for developing heart disease. Some lifestyle changes, however, can help you greatly reduce your risks.

In the new book, available now online and in bookstores nationwide. Mayo Clinic experts discuss risk factors for heart disease, how to recognize the symptoms, and what lifestyle steps you can take to help reduce your risk. The catchphrase "Eat 5. Move 10, Sleep 8" sums up the approach Mayo experts advocate to minimize heart disease risks. The slogan reminds you to eat five servings of fruits and vegetables each day, do at least 10 minutes of moderately intense physical exercise daily, and get at least eight hours of sleep per night.

Diet and exercise are keys to a healthy heart.

In addition, Mayo experts say, 10 simple steps can help you minimize your risk of heart disease. Here's a sampling of the steps that you'll find in the clinic's new heart. healthy book:

• Eat healthy — Adopt simple dietary changes such as eating at least five fruits and vegetables each day, switching to whole grains and lean proteins, and eating a healthy breakfast every day.

• Be active — A sedentary lifestyle is as deadly as smoking, experts say. Exercising just 10 minutes a day can deliver significant heart-health benefits. Have trouble sticking with an exercise plan? Finding something you enjoy doing, whether it's playing a sport, running, tai chi, yoga or extreme house cleaning, can help you maintain your commitment to exercising.

• Sleep well — Sleep deprivation has serious health repercussions, including increasing your risk of heart disease. Conversely, getting adequate sleep can actually have a restorative effect on the heart. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says sleep deprivation has become a national public health epidemic. Creating a bedtime routine and a relaxing sleep environment can help you get the eight hours of sleep per night that your body needs.

 Plan for emergencies — A heart emergency can happen at any time, so it's important to know the warning signs of a problem. Learn to recognize symptoms of a crisis, and act quickly to get medical help.

• Enjoy life -- A positive attitude, supportive network of family and friends. and good management of your stress not only improve your heart health, they can improve your overall enjoyment of life, as well.

In addition to offering solid advice and the 10 steps to heart health, the Mayo Clinic Healthy Heart for Life! also discusses how the heart functions, what can go wrong, tools for ongoing heart health, and tips on how to keep your whole family heart healthy.

"Following these steps can help you dramatically reduce your risk of heart disease, even though it can't be completely eliminated," Grogan says. "If you've done everything in your power to prevent heart disease or live with it as effectively as possible, then you have, indeed, conquered it."

Whimsical kitten offers a lesson in diversity

By Sharon Dargay
O&E Staff Writer

When Lonna Baum wore eyeglasses for the first time in third grade, she felt like a fish out of water.

Monty the Menace tells the story of Monty Katt, one of three kitten siblings, who can't seem to avoid mishaps at home. He becomes a menace to his sisters as he tumbles down stairs, trips over water bowls and sits on their lunch. Mother Katt suspects vision problems and takes her son to the "catometrist" for an exam. He leaves the office wearing glasses and looking "different" but is no longer a menace because of his corrected vision.

"I.want to make them understand it really doesn't make you different ... you're the same you," Baum said. She hopes Monty the Menace, which was illustrated by Livonia artist Dave Messing, will be the first in a series of children's books that increase understanding of differences. She's already planning the next story about the Katt family, which will focus on hearing.

The self-published author started toying with the idea of writing a children's book a few years ago while volunteering in a physical disabilities awareness program through the Epilepsy Foundation of Michigan.

Baum, who is married, has two grown children and two grandchildren, worked as a physical therapist at hospitals in Allen Park and Wayne and ran her own private practice in Livonia before retirement.

As a volunteer she talked about vision, hearing and movement disabilities with first and second graders.

"Because of their questions, it made me think about putting things on paper. I wanted to do something pretty universal and not make it too specific or it wouldn't appeal to a wide audience," she said, explaining why she focused on vision and eyeglasses.

She used cats instead of humans as the main characters because animals gave the story a "surreal" quality

"I love animals. I happen to have two cats," she added. "I knew if I did it with cats I could play with the story a little. It was fun."

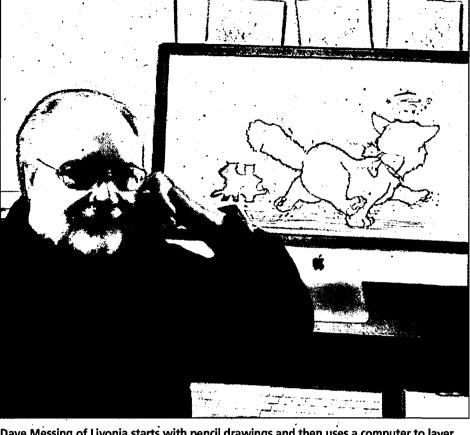

Finding an artist

Bringing Messing into the project was "funny fate," she said.

While browsing an art fair, Baum saw a children's book he had illustrated. She remembered that her daughter had taken art lessons from him years earlier.

"I didn't know he was illustrating children's books. He used to have an art store in Livonia."

Messing has illustrated several children's books in addition to working as an advertising designer, illustrator, and builder of props and miniatures for film and print. His work has been featured on television, in print, film and magazines.

Messing said special needs children have always been dear to his heart and that he often receives grateful comments from readers when he draws eyeglasses on a character or places a wheelchair in the scene.

"I always thought I'd have to do it (write a book) on my own if I didn't find someone," he said. "Then Lonna comes along with a book about vision."

Working together

They met at a Panera cafe on a regular basis to mesh words and pictures, finalize details and get the book ready for Book-

Masters, Inc., the printing firm.

"Dave Messing made the words come to life with a great sense of whimsey," Baum said.

Messing said he enjoyed working with Baum, who gave him free rein to create the images. Each began with a pencil sketch that was transferred to a computer for coloring.

"What's neat is when I read the copy for the first time I picture every page in the group right then," Messing said, explaining his illustration process. "I don't like to peruse it in front of the author. I like to take it home, sit in my studio and read it."

He said he envisions the book illustrations in order, but then "cherry picks" images as he works.

"Monty ticked all the boxes for me," Messing said. "I knew I could make it funny and I knew it was a book that was needed."

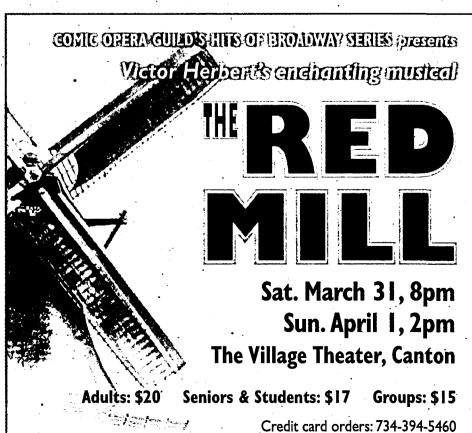

Mom's Choice Awards, an organization that evaluates products and media, including children's picture books, recently awarded Monty the Menace a "Gold Medal."

The book costs $16.95 and is available at amazon.com and barnesand-noble.com, in addition to Baum's website at montythemenace.com. Visit Messing's website at .www.coroflot.com/davemessing.

Schoolcraft College honors its Transition Center students

O&E Staff Writer

Yvonne St. Arno, 53, says she is "shocked" by how much her life has changed since enrolling at Schoolcraft College with the help of its Transition Center.

The Westland woman is studying business administration, while working a part time job in the college marketing department where she handles social media.

"I'm in a different place now. I look back and I'm amazed how my life has changed and the direction it has taken. I don't like to brag, but I'm pret-. ty proud of myself." The college is, too.

Observer & Eccentric | Sunday, March 25, 2012

St. Arno was among the students who were recognized at the Transition Center's annual Spaghetti Dinner and Wine Glow on March 20.

The Transition Center spotlights students who use the program's resources to achieve success and improvement in their personal lives.

Other honorees included Leah Esslinger of Plymouth, a liberal arts student; Kendra Sparks of Livonia; and Peter Helms of Livonia, a liberal arts student and military veteran who used the Transition Center's Veterans Services program.

The Center incorporates the services of: Women's Resource Center, Adult Student Services, Veteran's Services and New Student Orientation. Proceeds from the annual dinner benefit scholarships for students and the Transition Center at Schoolcraft College.

St. Arno credits the Transition Center for her return to school after being away from classes for more than 30 years.

"I was fresh out of a divorce after 28 years of marriage," said St. Arno, a 1977 high school graduate from Lutheran High West. Her lawyer suggested she contact the Transition Center. She was accepted into the program, and started classes after figuring out' her preferences.

"They had me take an interest exam. I wasn't sure what I wanted to do.'

During her marriage, St. Arno was a stay-at-home morn with two sons.

She said the Transition Center helped ease her way back into class. During her first year at Schoolcraft, she attended support groups that included students from a range of ages and with a variety of experiences.

"It was nice to meet with others. It's a lot different being in school when you're in your 50s than it is when you're in high school."

The following year she mentored newcomers at the Transition Center.

"My family has been a support to me. And everyone at Schoolcraft is very supportive—everyone from the people who pick up the garbage to the president."

Teens raise funds for hungry children

Joe Beauchamp and Travis Wesenberg collect donations for their team.

Teens from Newburg United Methodist Church in Livonia recently joined thousands of other youths nationwide by participating in World Vision's 30 Hour Famine.

As part of the Famine, they participated in games and lessons that taught about hunger, poverty, water-borne illnesses and the barriers that keep people from getting enough to eat. The theme for this year's 30 Hour Famine was "Overcome Hunger with Love.' By going without food, the 29 Newburg teens got a taste of what the world's poorest children and families face every day.

According to World Vision, a Christian humanitarian organization dedicated to tackling the causes of poverty and injustice, hunger and preventable diseases claim the lives of 22,000 children every day. More than 1 billion people go hungry every day.

Newburg's participants raised more than $1,500 in three hours to help end hunger and preventable disease.

dren in need around the globe. A portion of the funds raised assist families in need in the United States. Famine funds contribute to World Vision's response in areas where famine, conflict, and other crises make children vulnerable to hunger and preventable disease.

Since 1992, 30 Hour Famine has raised close to $140 million. World Vision works in nearly. 100 countries, helping approximately 100 million people every year.

close attention. The "knee pain" requires more delineation beyond being the joint between the hip and the ankle. Around the knee joint are four other structures that are potential sources of pain, and one structure that worries patients but is of little con-

The four sites that because of their proximity to the knee joint cause "knee" pain are: the patellar tendon, the pre-patellar bursa, the ansenne bursa and the fibular bursa. When a patient complains of knee pain, and the doctor, on examination, finds the knee normal, the examination will turn to looking at these other four structures.

In the evaluation of knee pain, examination forms the basis of diagnosis, as the patient experiences similar "knee pain" whether the cause of pain is from the knee or sites around it. Thus, if the physician finds the knee is normal, his examination will turn to the patellar tendon. If examination and palpation of the tendon does not elicit pain, he will go forward with the same type of assessment to pre-patellar, anserine and fibular bursars.

Usually, this systematic approach brings out the source of the knee pain. With this knowledge, the physician can undertake appropriate treatment.

The knee area that causes the patient more concern than the doctor is a Baker's Cyst. It is a bulge in the back of the knee, a result of fluid residing in that area of the knee joint. The Cyst is painless, and rarely causes a problem. However, its presence worries the patient giving the doctor the task of explaining the best treatment is to ignore it.

I have always been cautious

· about mentioning the many big names I've had the privilege of meeting along the way, but this one deserves his name in this column. He's Shawn Burr, a big fan favorite with the Detroit Red Wings from 1984-95. After telling Scotty Bowman he was too old to coach, he suddenly found himself playing in Florida for a couple of years and then he came aboard the Red Wing Alumni Hockey team.

After his first practice he sat beside me drinking a pop and started telling me about his problems with his new home in the Port Huron area. It was built on some sort of fault line and coming apart and his new appliances which were top drawer kept breaking down. He used to make fun of me when he would skate by telling me I reminded him of his new refrigerator which wasn't working. Every year Shawn

Battling cancer

Mitch Albom recently devoted his column to Shawn's serious challenge with cancer today. It started a year ago when he just about didn't make it. He went through all the treatments and the alumni was updated every week with his uplifting jokes and humorous remarks about his will to live and his love for his wife and kids. This time around he will go through the treatments to try and put the big C into remission and then will need a bone marrow transplant. Imagine, he says, "If my wife is a match I will spend the rest of my life telling myself what to do." See what I mean about his humor? Last summer at a Red Wing golf outing I had a long conversation with Shawn and he told me how lucky he was to recover but he also told me how tough it would be to survive a second go around. He looked at me and said, "Joe, I know what you've been through but I am only in my 40s. It's OK for an old guy like you to go but not fair for me. "He was absolutely right on the button.

The last few days have been spent touring retail appliance stores and getting the feel of what is new in the industry. Last year was an up year pointing to one of two things. Either the economy is improving or the appliances are breaking down prematurely or both. Retailers are feeling pangs of guilt in selling products that won't last as long as they used to. Some stated that if they tell a shopper that quality is not what it used to be, they may lose that customer to their competition. An appliance sales person wants to please you with a product that many times creates a referral or future sales. I don't think Shawn Burr would take a job today in appliance sales. He has always cared too much for his teammates and loved the hockey fans that filled his heart with pride. If he was writing this column he would come up with a question in closing. Do the tears hitting the keyboard hurt it or just discolor it with the salt content? Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8. a.m., Saturdays on WAAM 1600. You can e-mail your problems and questions on appliances to appldr@ twmi.rr.com.

A shocking - but life-saving - tip for you

By Lon Grossman Guest columnist

ow many of you have heard of, or know about Ground Fault Interrupters or Ground Fault Circuit Interrupters? (They're also referred to as GFI or

Lon Grossman

GFCI). If your home was built within the last 30 years, you more than likely have at least one in your home. Now, GFIs are similar to a circuit breaker, but more sensitive. They'll sense if someone is get-

1/40th of a second. There are three types of GFIs:

ting electrocuted and disconnect the power within

 Circuit breaker combination: Installed in the electrical service box, it protects everything on the circuit.

• Receptacle type: Replaces a regular wall receptacle and when installed, still serves as an outlet but offers the additional protection of the GFI.

• Portablė: Generally used by trades people, such as carpenters who use power tools at different job sites.

Once installed, GF's require maintenance. On each interrupter there is a test button. Each month, this button should be pushed to trip the safety device and device reset. Tripping the device cleans oxidation and corrosion on the inside, which can affect its sensitivity and ability to protect.

Basically, what I'm saving is that if you don't trip or press and reset the test buttons monthly the GFIs could become useless and not trip when they're supposed to.

In new home construction, they are required for kitchens, bathrooms, exterior and even garage receptacles.

If your home doesn't have a GFI, install at least one. If you have a swimming pool, all equipment and surrounding plugs should be protected.

If you are not handy, I promise you, any licensed electrician can easily install them for you.

Q: I have a block basement wall and the paint is crumbling off in areas near the floor leaving a white, powdery residue behind. What causes this and how can it be corrected?

A: This is caused by leaking and is called efflorescence. You may not actually see water on the floor because the seepage may be minor and evaporates. Make sure the terrain is sloped away 4 to 6 feet with at least a 1-inch slope. The patio, driveway or walks should also be slightly pitched to direct rainwater away from the house. If you have a sump pump, make sure ground water is draining into it and it is pumping the water out and away from the house.

Q: Our house burned down and was rebuilt on the same lot. Since we moved back we have blue water. We never had this problem before the house burned down, so we feel it is not the water supplied by our water company. When taking a shower or bath the walls of our showers/tubs get a blue/green film on them and although it can be scrubbed off, I find myself scrubbing the showers and tubs a few times a week. We spoke with our builder and plumber since day one and they said this happens but have never figured out the cause or the cure. Have you ever heard of this? A: I spoke to David from 4-A Plumbing and he said it sounds as if lead-free flux or leadfree solder was used and recommends to get a water test done to see if the test results show a lot of lead. I think it may be something else. Check with an electrician and have him inspect to make sure the electrical system is properly grounded 8-feet into the earth as well as all ground connections are secure and proper.

Q: My showerhead used to have good pressure but not anymore. Can it be cleaned?

A: Minerals in your water blocked openings in the shower's head. Put a rag around the head so you won't damage the chrome. Remove the shower head using a wrench. Hold the neckpiece coming out of the wall, with your hand or a channel lock. Once removed place the shower head in a jar filled with vinegar and let it soak for about two hours. Lightly poke out the spray holes with a safety pin and reinstall. Or, pour the vinegar in a small plastic bag and tape it around the shower head without removing it. Let it soak for a couple of hours.

BOWL-A-THON HELPS SEND YOUTH TO CAMP

Bowl a few games Sunday, April 29, at Westland Bowl and you'll help abused and neglected children at the Bowl-A-Thon — with check-in at 1:30 p.m. and bowling at 2 p.m. — aims to raise funds for Royal Family Kids Camp, held July 29-Aug. 3 near Fenton. Royal Family Kids, Inc. is a concentrated program of recreation, education and affirmation to aid in the process of healing the emotional scars of childhood abuse experienced by children involved in the foster care system in Wayne County.

Detroit First Church of the Nazarene in Northville and Northville Christian Assembly sponsor the camp.

Bowlers pay $20 per person for two games, shoe rental, pizza and soda. There also will be a silent auction room and door prizes. Westland Bowl is located at 5940 N. Wayne Road between Ford and Warren Roads.

Royal Family Kids, Inc. has more than 155 camps scheduled for 2012. Volunteer staff members from throughout metropolitan Detroit help provide a positive, life-changing summer camp experience for some 48 children ages 7-11. The Wayne County Department of Human Services selects the youngsters who attend camp. There is no charge for campers.

The camp budget is met through fundraisers such as the Bowl-A-Thon and from contributions made by local businesses, from grants, and from other donors who share a concern for this population of children.
