Farmers Market

The City of Westland is accepting farmers market vendor applications for the 2012 season.

Pick up an application at the Bailey Recreation Center, City Hall or visit www.cityofwestland.com.

The Westland Farmers Market is the ultimate site for farmers, growers and producers to sell their own products directly to the public. The market will take place every 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, May 29 through Oct. 23, in the parking lot of Westland City Hall at 36601 Ford Road.

For more information, call (734) 722-7620.

Special parking

Expectant mothers and senior citizens will have their own place to park at Westland City Hall.

The city has designated three parking spots on the west side of building as "reserved parking" for senior citizens and expectant mothers.

"These preferred parking spaces were created in response to repeated requests from visitors City Hall to make parking with a closer proximity to City Hall entrances for seniors citizens and expectant mothers," said Mayor William Wild.

The spaces have a sign designating them for moms-to-be and seniors.

Armed Forces Day

See and talk to re-enactors from five different wars in American history at the fifth annual Armed Forces Day Celebration 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 5, at the Westland Historic Village Park on Wayne Road between Marquette and Cherry Hill.

There will be presentations on the lives of American soldiers and a live weapons demonstration. New this year, the 5th Michigan Regimental Band, a Civil War era group, will perform.

Donations are welcome but admission is free, and refreshments will be sold on site. The Westland Historical Commission and Historical Society are hosting the event.

Westland resident Eric Kehoe wrote the songs, plays all the instruments and provides the vocals on an album he is recording at home.

One-man band releases first album

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

As a band member, Eric Kehoe played the bass guitar, but he's a one-man band in recording an album to be released this summer.

Along with the bass, the Westland resident, 25, plays guitar, piano and drums. He has also been providing the vocals for original songs he has been recording at his mother's home using Apple's Logic Pro software. Kehoe starts by recording the drums, then uses headphones as he records the other instruments and the vocals.

"When I was 13 or 14, I started doing music — it's something that I will always do," said Kehoe, who participated in choir and concert band while a student at Lutheran West High School. He cites Neil Young and the Shins as being among his musical influences.

After his 2005 graduation, Kehoe attended Grand Valley State University and while living in Grand Rapids played bass in a band called Valen Tiger.

"We go on tours around the country. They are still doing it. It was folk rock with '60s and '70s influences," said Kehoe, who received a degree in English and sociology in 2010.

Peace Corps member

Kehoe then pursued another of his goals and in June 2011 began seven months teaching English in Tanzania as a member of the Peace Corps.

Computer software is helping Eric Kehoe of Westland write, record and produce an album of original songs that will be available online.

"This has always kind of been on my list of things to do. I'm out of school and I don't have a full-time job so it seemed like a good time to do it," said Kehoe. "It was incredible. I'd recommend it to anyone who has a chance to do it. You go to help people, but you learn more than they do. It helps you see what is important in life."

Living in an African farming community two hours from the nearest other Peace Corps volunteer, Kehoe had a bit of a break from playing music.

"When I was in Africa, I had a lot of time to write and wrote most of the songs on the album while I was there. Consciously or subconsciously, that came through," said Kehoe, who works as a substitute teacher.

Using the Kickstarter nonprofit web site, Kehoe was able to raise his goal of $1,000 to pay for the professional mixing and distribution of his album, which will be released as an MP3 download.

"Now there are download cards. They are business card size and have links to the download. It's such an interesting time to be a musician," said Kehoe. "You don't need a label. This album is structured as a nonprofit."

Grad school plans

A week before the online fundraising wrapped up, Kehoe had exceeded his $1,000 goal with donations from 55 people. "Probably 60 percent are people I know, but 40 percent I don't know. It's cool," said Kehoe.

Currently staying with his mother Karen, Kehoe isn't making a career of music —

City may share chief

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

If plans go ahead for Westland and Wayne to share the services of Fire Chief Michael Reddy, it will likely be the start of a merger of the two fire departments.

What form that consolidation would take isn't yet known but the goals are to make the fire departments economically sustainable, improve services to residents and maintain staffing.

At a budget meeting Wednesday, Westland council members agreed in concept to move forward with negotiating an intergovernmental agreement to share the services of Reddy, who would retire as Westland fire chief and then serve in the dual capacity as a contractor. Current Wayne Fire Chief Mel Moore would also retire effective June 30.

Fire Chief Michael Reddy

Immediate savings of $250,000

As proposed, Wayne would pay $50,000 of the chief's $115,000 annual salary. Mayor William Wild said that there would be an immediate savings of nearly $250,000 for the two cities.

Both departments currently have firefighters whose positions are funded through federal grants which will expire in 2013 — nine in Westland and six in Wayne. Reddy would be tasked with looking at both departments and finding cost savings to avoid those layoffs.

"I've talked with Chief Reddy many times. I'm very impressed with him. He's the chief who can take this forward," said Wayne City Manager Robert English. "The long-term goal is to sustain the departments. As we go down this road with a fire authority, it will assure the stability of the fire departments and more important, improve services."

Mayor to Norwayne citizens: 'You're doing a great job'

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

A conversation with Westland Mayor William Wild was on the meeting agenda as the Norwayne Community Citizens Council met Monday.

Not on the agenda was a visit by U.S. Rep. John Conyers, D-Detroit, who popped in to chat with the group assembled at the Dorsey Center.

An invitation had been extended to Wild to attend the meeting for an update on projects tackled by the citizens council over the past two years since they were formed. Wild also took the opportunity to talk with the group about some upcoming city initiatives including the pending merger of the Westland and Wayne Parks and Recreation departments.

With the scheduled retirement of Westland Parks and Recreation Director Robert Kosowski later this year and a proposed closing of the Bailey Recreation Center when the fiscal year begins July 1, the council has agreed to move forward with the merger proposal.

"The retirement of Bob Kosowski gave us an opportunity to look at it differently. We would have 37 parks total available (if the departments merge). No other area in southeast Michigan would have that many parks," said Wild, who noted operating losses at the Bailey Center average $800,000 annually.

Community Center

Wild brought along passes for one-week free trial memberships at the Wayne Community Center. "Norwayne folks are probably the closest (geographically) to the Wayne Community Center," said Wild. "We're pretty excited about this."

Updates were provided on several topics including the need for additional groups to sign up to work a day weekly at the Norwayne Community Garden, the need for Norwayne projects in the area west of Dayton, recycling, a June 3 cleanup day planned by Ekkesia Church, Saturday events hosted by the citizens council and housing stabilization efforts.

"You're doing a great job. You should be proud," said Wild, who noted his parents lived in Norwayne when he was born.

Westland received nearly $2 million in federal Neighborhood Stabilization Program money, Wild said, with nearly all the funds spent in Norwayne. NSP is aimed at acquiring abandoned

Entries sought for Law Day essay contest

Time is running out for students in the ninth-12th-grades at John Glenn High School to submit an essay in the Westland City Attorney's 16th annual Angelo A. Plakas Law Day Essay Contest. Essays must be turned in to Michele Anderson at the high school by 3 p.m. Wednesday, April 18.

The theme of the essay competition is No Courts, No Justice, No Freedom, underscoring the importance of the courts and their role in ensuring access to justice for all Americans. America's courtrooms must be open to keep the wheels of justice turning. From seeking justice in a criminal case to enforcing a patent or copyright, from personal injuries to landlord-tenant disputes, people turn to the courts for a fair and impartial forum to reach a just result. Students must be Westland residents and enrolled in a civics/social studies class during the 2011-2012 school year. They need to submit an essay explaining why open and accessible courts are fundamental to our way of life. All entries should be typed, double-spaced, be a minimum of two, to a maximum of three, 8 1/2-by-11-inch pages. Entries also must contain the student's name, home address, city, state, telephone number, school and name of their civics/social studies teacher. The winner will receive a personalized plaque will be presented along with a $100 U.S. Savings Bond during the Westland City Council meeting on Monday, May 7.

Entries will be judged on basis of composition and originality. Each entry will be judged by three attorneys from the staff of the office of the Westland city attorney. For more information, contact Assistant City Attorney Michael M. McNamara at (248) 380-0000, Ext. 3218.

and/or blighted property for demolition or rehabilitation. In Norwayne, that often was demolition with the vacant land offered to neighbors or left as open space to help reduce the housing density.

A third NSP phase might bring $300,000 to Westland, but Wild said that program would focus on increasing homeownership.

On other topics:
•The city has awarded contracts to three firms to handle grass cutting on vacant properties over the upcoming growing season. "It took us awhile to get a handle on the grass. Last year, with one contractor, it was too big," said Wild. "With three contractors, probably one will handle Norwayne. You won't see the problems you saw last

•Constructed beginning in 1943 to house World War II workers from the Willow Run plant, Norwayne is an historic community, said Westland Community Development Director Joanne Campbell. The city is working to get a state historic marker for Norwayne — something Conyers was asked to look into since the snag has been lack of communication on the issue between state and federal officials.
•Students in the William Ford Career Technical Center visual arts class are making a 10-foot by 20-foot banner with the Norwayne Community Citizens Council logo with a B-24 bomber, which was built at Willow Run.

"Up close it is made up of separate photos," said Campbell.
•Additionally, digital arts students are producing a three-minute documentary on Norwayne and its history with an introduction by Wild.

"The students have a script and photos for the documentary. The students are very excited. The intent is to share the history and all of the good things that are happening now," said Campbell.

"The other issue Conyers was asked to look into was the lack of housing for homeless people. St. Vincent de Paul volunteer Joan Carr said that the only local shelter — the Wayne County Family Center — is generally full and doesn't provide space for single people.

"I deal with people being homeless every day. Where do you send them? They have no cars or can't afford gas if they have a car," she said. City staff reported that squatters have been a problem in Norwayne — some of them people remaining in homes from which they have been evicted.

Wayne had earlier talked with a neighboring community to the south, English said, but that didn't work out for various reasons. "The fire union said would you go north and talk to Westland — that we had more in common," he said.

Union leader 'cautiously optimistic'

Both firefighter unions had representatives at the meeting to support the plan to have Reddy serve as chief in both communities.

"I'm cautiously optimistic. I had kind of heard rumblings about a fire authority but that was the first time I heard it," Westland Firefighters Union President Mitch Tokarski said after the meeting. "I don't know what model the cities might like to use. It's hard to comment."

Councilmen Bill Johnson and Dewey Reeves both expressed concern about whether the arrangement would be legal under Act 78 civil service regulations. One requirement is that chiefs be promoted from within the department.

Act 78 doesn't apply to part-time positions, said

City Attorney James Fausone, adding that unlike Westland, the Wayne Fire Department isn't organized under Act 78. In Wayne, the chief is appointed by the city manager with council confirmation.

Initially, Reddy would answer directly to Wild and English. "That is just in the beginning. Once the departments merge, there would be a new governing body," said Reddy. "The idea is to put the departments together. It will save jobs and provide better service."

"Eventually, I will need to get a Ph.D. in sociology. I'll take some classes in Grand Rapids to get ready to apply for graduate school," said Kehoe. "That will be in a couple of years."

In the interim, he will substitute teach in the Grand Rapids area and have a band to play live

The album is expected to be ready by June. For more information, visit erickehoe.net.

Agreement would put more officers in Westland

Drivers passing through Westland always had the potential to be issued traffic tickets by Wayne County Sheriff's deputies but fines went to the county.

Under a new intergovernmental agreement, deputies can be assigned as a state-funded secondary road patrol with Westland receiving 50 percent of fines collected after state fees are deducted.

The agreement, approved by the City Council earlier this month, has the potential to impact police visibility in the city, said Westland Mayor William Wild, when the sheriff's department provides traffic enforcement patrols. The Wayne County Board of Commissioners now needs to approve the agreement.

The agreement allows the sheriff's department to assign officers from its Secondary Road Patrol Unit, which is funded by a grant from the State of Michigan's Office of Highway Safety and Planning, to operate within the city limits. The grant is funded by a surcharge placed on tickets written by officers throughout the state. The state collects the surcharge and distributes the funding to sheriff's patrols.

The residents of Westland will benefit from the implementation of these agreements, said Wild. First, there will be an increase in visible law enforcement activity by uniformed police officers on the city streets, he said.

"These enforcement efforts should have a

'These enforcement efforts should have a positive impact on traffic safety and accident reduction.'

WESTLAND MAYOR WILLIAM WILD

positive impact on traffic safety and accident reduction," he said. "Second, it is a well-established fact that police visibility serves as a deterrent to criminal activity, as potential criminal offenders perceive an increased likelihood of detection and apprehension. Last, these patrols will be provided at no cost to city taxpayers."

Wayne County Sheriff Benny Napoleon was also supportive of the new agreement. "I am excited by the prospect of being able to provide additional police assistance to the men and women of the Westland Police Department and to the citizens of the city," said Napoleon. "Whether the police are wearing blue uniforms or brown is irrelevant. People want to feel the sense of safety that is provided by police visibility."

"The City of Westland and the sheriff's office have a long-standing practice of working together on law enforcement issues; it only makes sense that we pursued this joint venture as well," Wild added. "I am also very pleased the council approved the intergovernmental agreement. This allows us to keep local enforcement dollars at the local level, in the City of Westland. This is where they are most needed."

The sheriff's office has traditionally maintained a police presence in the city. It operates its Road Patrol Station at Henry Ruff and Michigan Avenue, and it is the primary provider of police services to the Wayne County Park System that falls within the city's borders.

Prior to the passage of the intergovernmental agreement, enforcement action outside of the park system would have been initiated pursuant to state law. The fines associated with the enforcement would have been turned over to the state of Michigan and would not have been slated for further law enforcement purposes.

GARDEN CITY COP CALLS

Eyeglass frames reported stolen from SVS Vision

An SVS Vision employee reported to Garden City police that the store at 5908 Middlebelt continues to have a problem with someone stealing high-priced eyeglass frames.

She said that the store noticed April 6 that three more frames valued at a total of $600 were stolen.

The report didn't indicate the details of previous incidents.

Break-in

Garden City police are investigating whether someone known to the victims of a break-in of a home in the 6300 block of Deering could be a suspect.

The residents returned home about 6:33 p.m. April 7 to find that someone had entered the home but there were no signs of forced entry.

The parties involved said that it might be someone they know who still has a key.

Several things were slashed with a knife, including a window screen, two couches and a bed.

A fireplace brush and a kitchen knife were found in areas of the house where they typically aren't stored.

Break-in

A homeowner in the 32000 block of Rosslyn reported that he found his garage door damaged and open at 3:25 a.m. April 8.

When he went to look inside the garage, he discovered that someone had stolen his motorcycle.

Property damage

A resident in the 6600 block of Lathers reported that someone used a brick from his landscape garden to smash a window in his 2003 Chevy Express RV sometime before 9 a.m. April 8.

Fraud

A Garden City resident in the 400 block of Cardwell reported April 9 that this was the second year in a row that he was the victim of identity theft regarding his income tax return.

He said that he received a letter from the Department of Treasury that his Social Security number was used to file a return, which will cause a delay in the overall process.

Property damage

Several instances of malicious destruction of property were reported.

They included:
•A resident in the 1600 block of Harrison reported that someone used a BB gun April 9 to shatter the window of his Chevrolet Silverado that was parked in the driveway.

•The owner of a Mercury Cougar parked on the street in the 1700 block of Lathers reported April 9 that someone smashed out a window on the vehicle.

•The owner of a 1995 Jeep Cherokee found the drivers side window smashed out about 5 p.m. April 9. The vehicle was parked on the street.

•The owner of a 2001 Nissan Altima parked in the 30000 block of John Hawk reported that someone smashed his rear window April 9.

Vehicle theft

When the owner of a 2001 Chrysler Pacifica went out to his car parked in the apartment parking lot at 5851 Inkster, he found it missing.

The man who reported it to the police said that he has all the keys to the vehicle.

Retail fraud

An employee at the 7 Eleven store at 29331 Warren reported that a man stole $70 of cigarettes the clerk placed on the counter at about 11:15 p.m. April 7.

The man gave the clerk his debit card but when the clerk asked for some identification, the man ran out of the store.

When the police arrived, they learned that the debit card drawn on TCF bank had been stolen.

Theft

A woman in the 6700 block of Mansfield Drive blamed her kids for taking her $200 Kindle fire from the cocktail table in her home where she last saw the device. She wanted her "lyin', thievin' kids" charged in the matter, according to the report.

WESTLAND COP CALLS

Couple arrested for shoplifting at Sears

Shoplifting

A Westland man and a Wayne woman were arrested April 7 for shoplifting at Sears, 35000 Warren Road. Employees said they watched the man, identified as the woman's boyfriend, make a rapid selection of men's fragrances. After speaking with the woman, the man concealed a bottle of cologne in his pants pocket. The pair walked around together briefly before separating.

When the couple met up again, employees said the man selected another bottle of men's cologne which he also hid in his pants. He walked out of the store with the merchandise and was stopped by store security.

Store employees told police the woman selected three pieces of jewelry from a display, then walked out of the store with the jewelry, a pair of women's shoes and a pair of women's shorts without paying for the items. The merchandise recovered from the man was valued at $104. The items recovered from the woman were valued at $304.

Break-in

A resident in the 400 block of North John Hix told police April 6 that she had returned home just before 2:30 p.m. to find the sliding back door open and her bedroom ransacked. The sliding door had been left unlocked, she said.

Reported missing were $20 in assorted coins, a baseball cap, a six-inch blade knife and a buckstyle knife with a five-inch folding blade.

Larceny from a vehicle

On April 6, a Westland man told police that someone had stolen the catalytic converter from his 2000 Pontiac Aztek. The catalytic converter was valued at $200. The man said he carools to Wixom with a co-worker and leaves his car parked at the former Sam's Club, 35400 Central City Parkway, where the catalytic converter was stolen.

Larceny from a vehicle

A resident of the Landings Apartments, 6878 Lakeview, told police April 7 that someone had stolen the catalytic converter from her 2004 Chevrolet Cavalier. The part was valued at $100.

Break-in

On April 9, a resident of Hunters West Apartments, 6501 Yale, told police he arrived home just after 2 a.m. to find someone had stolen a 32-inch flat-screen television and Playstation 3 valued at $700. He said the front door was open and undamaged, but he remembered locking the door when he had left earlier.

Apartment blaze displaces tenant

Garden City firefighters responded to an apartment fire at 28838 Pardo at 2:30 p.m. April 9.

Fire Chief Catherine Harman and four other firefighters responded. The firefighters quickly extinguished the fire, containing it to just the apartment involved and preventing the other three units from further damage, according to Lt. Corey Chandler.

The first floor of the apartment suffered severe damage from the fire and the second floor had moderate smoke damage.

Wayne, Westland and Inkster fire departments also responded to assist.

No one was injured in the fire. The cause of the fire was accidental.

Only the tenant of the apartment involved was displaced. All other tenants were able to return to their apartments.

Garage fire

About 11 p.m. April 4, the Garden City Fire

Department responded to a garage fire in the 29000 block of Marquette. The fire was quickly extinguished by personnel, according to Capt. Derek Laperrier.

The garage sustained structural damage from the fire as well as damage to personal belongings stored in the garage.

The cause was determined as spontaneous combustion of stored materials following a household project.

City seeks to increase recycling by Norwayne residents

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

Lack of information, a large number of rental units with high turnover ... whatever the reasons, Norwayne residents aren't recycling as much as people living in other parts of Westland.

"We're getting a letter ready to put out on curbside recycling. We have 70-80 percent participation in the city," said Mayor William Wild. "There are two trash routes in Norwayne. We have 58 percent participation in Norwayne."

Wild talked about efforts to increase the recycling participation during a visit with the Norwayne Community Citizens Council, which was meeting at the Dorsy Center Monday.

"We'd like to find out why there is lower participation in the recycling. There are a lot of renters," said Wild. "Perhaps the containers are not there anymore. That will be one of the questions in the letter."

Westland residents have had curbside recycling offered for three years using wheeled carts provided mainly to single family addresses. The recycling is collected every other week on the regular trash collection day.

"We still have several hundred carts left if we can identify addresses without containers," said Wild, adding containers could be brought from the Department of Public Services to the Dorsy Center for easier distribution.

Earn gift cards, rebates

Some residents, particularly those living in duplex or quadplex buildings, may have been confused because the address on the cart didn't correspond exactly with their address, said Community Development Director Joanne Campbell. Residents can register with RecycleBank to earn gift cards, rebates and discounts through a computer chip on the recycling container.

"It's important to know that (exact address) doesn't matter. The rebates are based on the whole area," said Campbell.

Many people may not have received the information explaining the curbside recycling program, said Henry Johnson, who chairs the Norwayne Citizens Council, so they may not realize that's the intended use of the carts.

Similar carts are used for trash collection but the city trash hauler will not pick up anything placed in the recycling carts. A separate hauler handles the recycling collection.

Westland's curbside recycling program officially started in June 2009 and citywide there are currently over 23,000 recycling carts in service. Since inception, Westland residents have diverted over 23 million pounds of trash from the landfill to the recycling center. Westland has recycled 11,560 tons, which equates to 20 percent of the total waste that is picked up in the city, since the curbside recycling program began.

Westland currently saves over $64 per ton on all trash being collected; $24 from the landfill cost plus approximately $40 revenue which is generated from the recy-clered material. In the first two years of the program, the city has received over $209,000 for the material taken to the recycling center and has saved another $266,000, in landfill costs.

Original estimates had forecast the city's sanitation millage increasing in fiscal year 2011-12. Due to the success of the recycling program and some reductions in costs, the need for the increase has been pushed back to 2013-14.

Partnership lets seniors age safely in home environment

Marycrest Heights, a 60-unit luxury retirement community in Livonia, has partnered with Garden City Hospital and United Home Health Services to provide on-site physical therapy, physician and home care services.

The partnership will allow seniors to age safely in their home environment. The announcement and kick-off was part of Marycrest's St. Patrick's Day Open House Celebration on March 15.

Approximately 100 residents, families, staff, and potential residents attended the festivities, which included Irish music, food, beverages, and dancing. Jim Butler, Marycrest administrator and president, recited an Irish prayer and thanked those in attendance for their participation. Gary Ley, president and CEO of Garden City Hospital, discussed Garden City Hospital's commitment to the community, while Penny Rhein, president of United Home Health Services and Narendra Kumar, director of rehab therapies at Garden City Hospital, explained the partnership and how their services will benefit the residents of Marycrest and the community.

The celebration also included tours of the facility.

Services include on-site physical and occupational therapy, physician and home care services; including skilled nursing, personal care, housekeeping, laundry, meal preparation, grocery shopping, medication reminders and management, transportation, and errands as well as senior wellness programs.

"Our mutual mission is to provide seniors with the best living environment and quality of life possible. Garden City Hospital's and United Home Health Services' history in the community and commitment to serving seniors is a perfect fit for our Marycrest Heights residents," said Jim Reuschlein, Manager at Marycrest Heights. "We are excited about this partnership because it will really provide our residents with a full range of services right in their own home."

"We are honored to be partnered with such a wonderful organization like Marycrest Heights. Our philosophy regarding serving seniors blends so well with Marycrest's mission and vision of how senior care ought to be provided," added Rhein.

Landscaping gadgets to keep an eye on

By Jon Gunnells
Guest Columnist

Spend less time working on your yard this year and more time enjoying it by utilizing some of the latest landscaping gizmos and gadgets. From yard

Tech Savvy

cleaners to pool cleaners, there are plenty of tech gadgets that can help you spruce up your outdoor space in time for summer.

Garden Groom — This reinvention of the hedge clippers allows you to trim bushes, trees and shrubs without having to rake or pick up the trimmings. The Garden Groom is connected to a vacuum and a bagging device. It also has a concealed blade so you don't slice off your finger when you get distracted by the squirrels. The Garden Groom can be purchased for about $100 at GardenGroom.com.

Telescoping Sprinkler — This one sounds a bit cooler and more tech savvy than it really is, but a telescoping sprinkler can help you water tall plants without moving the hose every 10 minutes. The benefits of a telescoping sprinkler include adjustable height and, well, that's about it. Not the most technologically advanced item you will find in this space, but for $10 or $15 the telescoping sprinkler is much better than a watering can.

Self-watering planters — An even cooler water device that you can use indoors or outdoors, self-watering planters can help you go up to 12 weeks without watering. Water level indicators also help show users how much they need to water, so there is no over-saturating plants and flowers. You can purchase self-watering planters by visiting lechuza.us.

Amazing Rake — Like something straight out of an infomercial, the Amazing Rake allows users to rake and pick up leaves in one motion. You've likely seen contraptions like the Amazing Rake at your hardware store, but this rake is unique. Instead of trapping leaves by folding in half, the Amazing Rake pushes its two shovel-like claws together. It even has the capability of picking up one leaf — which would defeat the purpose of actually using a rake — but for $40, it better be able to pick up one of anything you want.

Pro Handle — If you want to pretend to be the most advanced landscaper on the block, you can attach the Pro Handle to your Amazing Rake and go to work. The Pro Handle attaches to common yard tools such as rakes, shovels and brooms and helps users perform yard work with less stress on their lower back muscles. The Pro Handle retails for about $15 and can be purchased from prohandle.com.

Solar Breeze Pool Skimmer — If you are lucky enough to have a pool and are going to do one thing this summer, it should be to invite me over for a swim. But if you are going to do two things this summer, it would be to buy a solar power pool skimmer that cleans 90 to 95 percent of debris from your pool. The Solar Breeze Pool Skimmer is $499; however, it can save money by lowering your pool pump run time by 50 to 66 percent.

Rubber mulch — Much like the rubber pellets in field turf, rubber mulch is made mainly from recycled rubber and tires. It is softer and therefore safer for kids than regular mulch and is available in six colors from pinnacle-rubber-mulch.com. And if you're in love with rubber mulch, you can also find rubber patio blocks from your local home improvement store.

Keeping in touch

Assurance Wireless and OmniCare Health Plan Inc. have partnered to spread awareness of Assurance Wireless, a federal Lifeline Assistance program to OmniCare's 47,000 enrollees in Michigan. This partnership with Assurance Wireless, a cell phone service that provides a wireless phone and 250 free minutes of wireless voice service monthly to eligible low-income customers, will allow OmniCare to strengthen channels of communication with its members to promote preventive health care and regular check-ups with their doctors.

OmniCare members will have unlimited access to their primary care physician's office and to the health plan via voice calls and text messaging without impacting their free minutes.

"Our members need to have access to their health care providers at all times. With this partnership, we can provide unlimited "free" calls to their primary care provider's office and to our plan," said Beverly Allen, CEO for OmniCare Health Plan. "This will eliminate one of the barriers our members experience in obtaining quality health care services."

"Phone service is essential in nearly every household in the country and even more so when you factor in the need for emergency services," said Gary Carter, manager for National Partnerships for Assurance Wireless. "This partnership will allow us to reach more Michigan residents who are eligible for our program while providing a means for OmniCare to promote better health care among its members."

OmniCare offers innovative programs for Medicaid and MI Child eligible members in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Kalamazoo, Hillsdale, Cass and St. Joseph counties. Eligible residents can apply for Assurance Wireless by calling (toll-free) 800-395-2171, or visiting www.assurance-wireless.com.

Don't be a hoarder, but some records are important

By Rick Bloom
Guest Columnist

Now that tax season is behind us, one issue that always comes up is how long should tax records be saved. In fact, it's the broader question as to how long people should save records in general. Many people tend to be pack rats and save everything. I believe that saving too many records is probably just as bad as not saving enough. After all, people

Money Matters

ple who save too many records find that if they ever need them, they can't locate them. Here are some general rules that apply to the great majority of people. When it comes to your tax return, generally, the IRS can audit you up to three years after you've filed your return. Therefore, if you filed your 2008 return April 15, 2009, that audit period is basically over. The one exception is if you understated your income by 25 percent or more, in that case the IRS can go back six years. Because of that, I generally recommend that people save their tax records — and backup documentation — for at least six years.

That doesn't mean you may not want to keep copies of the return itself. I generally tell people they should save their return, however, after a six-year period there is no reason to save the backup documentation.

There is, however, one document that should be retained for a longer period of time and that is Form 8606. This is the form used to report non-deductible IRA contributions. I recommend saving this document until you've withdrawn all the money out of the non-deductible IRA.

There are two main reasons to save backup documentation. The first is for tax purposes. The other is to prove that you made a payment on something. Therefore, the issue is how long should you save things like utility and cable TV bills and other types of recurring bills. My general rule is when you get your next statement, if it shows that there was no previous balance it means that you can destroy the previous statement. There is no reason to save utility or cable TV bills for years. It makes no sense and creates clutter.

When it comes to things like loans, save the documentation until the loan is paid off. Once the loan is paid off, save proof that the loan has been satisfied.

In regards to ATM receipts and bank deposits, save documentation until they appear on your statement. Once they're on your statement, there is no reason to save the receipts. As for bank statements, I generally recommend saving for a one-year period.

With mutual fund statements, save your current statement until the next one arrives. The statements are cumulative for many mutual funds and they show year-to-date. Therefore once you get your March statement and you check it for accuracy, you can destroy the February statement. The only statement I save long term is the year-end statement, which gives the total investment activity for the year. There is no need to save the statements once the investment is sold.

Everyone needs to keep a permanent file of important documents used throughout a lifetime. In this file should be birth certificates, estate planning documents, life insurance policies and a list of your professional advisers. This is a file that family members will need to access if something should happen to you. It's a good idea to keep a list of where all your investments are kept. This will make things easier on your family.

One last note. When I talk about destroying documents, I mean shredding them, not tearing them up and throwing them in a wastebasket. Identity theft is still a major problem in this country and there's no reason to make it easier on the crooks. If you don't have a shredder, buy one and use it.

I know people who have file cabinets full of old records. When I ask why, they can't give me a good answer. The bottom line: there is no good answer. So do some spring cleaning. Go through your records and shred what you don't need. There's an old adage that states less is more and I certainly believe that applies in this situation. Good luck!

CITY OF GARDEN CITY

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

April 16, 2012

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Garden City Council will hold a Public Hearing at the Civic Center, 6000 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, Michigan on Monday, April 16, 2012 at 6:55 p.m. regarding the proposed ordinance amending §35.10 of the Code of Ordinances.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
COUNTY OF WAYNE
CITY OF GARDEN CITY

ORDINANCE NO. _____

SECTION 35.10 SALE OF PROPERTY

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CHAPTER 35, SECTION 35.10 SALE OF PROPERTY; PROVIDING PARAMETERS FOR THE SALE OF CITY-OWNED PERSONAL PROPERTY; PROVIDING FOR A DETERMINATION BY COUNCIL THAT PROPERTY SHOULD BE SOLD BY AUCTION, INCLUDING ELECTRONIC AUCTION; PROVIDING FOR SUPERVISION OF THE SALE OF THE PROPERTY AND A REPORT TO THE CITY COUNCIL; PROVIDING FOR AN ACCOUNT TO BE SET UP IN THE CITY'S NAME FOR A SALE ON EBAY OR OTHER ELECTRONIC AUCTION AND THE COUNCIL TO DESIGNATE THE ACCOUNT TO BE CREDITED WITH THE SALE PROCEEDS; PROVIDING FOR PENALTIES; PROVIDING FOR REPEAL OR SEVERABILITY; PROVIDING FOR PUBLICATION AND EFFECTIVE DATE.

THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY HEREBY ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. The City Council of the City of Garden City hereby enacts the following as an amendment to Section 35.10, Sale of Property as follows:

§ 35.10 SALE OF PROPERTY.

Whenever any City property, real or personal, is no longer deemed needed for corporate or public purposes, the same may be offered for sale. Personal property not exceeding $1,000 in value may be sold for cash by the Treasurer or her designee upon approval of the City Manager after receiving quotations or competitive bids for the best price obtainable. Property with a value in excess of $1,000 may be sold after advertising and receiving sealed competitive bids, as provided in this chapter, and after approval of the sale has been given by the Council. However, the competitive bid provisions shall not apply to the sale of property if the sale of the property is made to another governmental unit or agency. Personal property of the City with a cash value of less than $100 may be disposed of in the manner prescribed by the City Manager. Real property of any value shall only be sold in accordance with Article V, Section 5.02 of the City Charter.

When it is determined by the Council that the sale of property by means of auction, including electronic auction (i.e. eBay), is necessary and reasonable in the exercise of the Council's fiduciary duty to obtain the best price for property to be sold, the Council may authorize such sale. If a minimum bid is advisable, the Council shall set a minimum bid that will be accepted for the property. Such auction of City property shall only occur upon the recommendation of the appropriate department head and/or the City Manager and the results of the auction shall be reported to the Council.

An account for an electronic auction shall be set up in the City's name and the department head supervising the process shall be responsible for handling all questions about the item being sold, its condition, inspection by potential purchasers, pictures of the item and delivery/pick-up.

SECTION 2. VIOLATION AND PENALTY.

Unless otherwise provided, any person, corporation, partnership or any other legal entity who violates the provisions of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisoned for not more than ninety (90) days, or both, at the discretion of the Court.

SECTION 3. SEVERABILITY.

If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance is severable, and that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not have been included in this Ordinance.

SECTION 4. REPEAL.

All Ordinance or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

SECTION 5. SAVINGS CLAUSE.

All rights and duties which have matured, penalties which have been incurred, proceedings which have begun and prosecution for violations of law occurring before the effective date of this Ordinance are not affected or abated by this Ordinance.

SECTION 6. PUBLICATION.

The Clerk for the City of Garden City shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

SECTION 7. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Ordinance, as amended, shall take full force and effect upon publication as required by law.

Tulip Time

Sarah and Pete Vistakos of Livonia spent Easter Sunday with their long lenses photographing the 120,000 tulips at Windmill Island Gardens, which are 65 percent in bloom now due to early warm temperatures. Few of Holland's 500,000 tulips will likely be in bloom for the famous Tulip Festival May 5-12. The next two weeks may be prime viewing and photographing time.

Youngsters swap marshmallows for prizes at annual drop

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

Alexis Alcala had her game plan in place when it came to the 27th annual Wayne County Parks Marshmallow Drop.

"I'm going to run as fast as I can and get some," the 11-year-old Redford resident said.

Alexis and her family — mom Ginny and sisters Celia, 7, Lilli, 5½, and Peiton, 1, along with their grandmother Tracy Kemp of Garden City and aunt Kristina VanSlyke and 10½-month-old daughter Kayla — were among thousands of people who packed the Nankin Mills area of Hines Park in the hunt for marshmallows Friday.

"This is our first year doing this," VanSlyke said. "My sister saw the sign and we're always looking do something with the kids, especially when it's free."

The adults also had plan.

"We've already told them that if we get separated go to the (lost child) tent," Alcala said.

"I'll be the watcher," Kemp added. "Mimi will be watching them, too."

Mother Nature cooperated, providing blue skies and cool weather for the Marshmallow Drop, and bringing out large crowds. Last year, 5,000 people turned out for the event. At least 3,000 were expected this year.

Eager youngsters were held back until the count of three and then turned loose to gather marshmallows. While only one was needed to get a coloring book and sketch pad, many youngsters filled baskets, their hats and pockets in their hoodies and jackets. And even though they were encouraged to throw them out, some youngsters snacked on them.

The event, which was duplicated earlier in the morning at Elizabeth Park in Trenton, was divided into three age groups — 4 and under, 5- to 7-year-olds and 8- to 12-year-olds. Every child got a prize, but those who found special colored marshmallows received an extra one — a filled Easter basket.

The estimate is that 20,000 marshmallows were dropped during the event, which was sponsored by ITC Holdings, Meijer, Wayne County Community College District, N-Zone Sports and the Michigan Regional Council of Carpenters and Millwrights.

"We can't do this without our sponsors. They make this possible, especially this year," said Wayne County Chief Executive Robert Ficano, who welcomed the crowds to the park. He also thanked the Detroit Zoological Park, which brought out some of its mascots to mingle with children during the event.

Noah Piontek was too shy to talk, but the 5-year-old Redford resident was ready to "marshmallow." He was there with his father Tim and older brothers Brendan and Joshua.

"I just saw it on the news and decided to do it," Tim Piontek said. "He has a cousin who's gone the past couple of years and said it was a lot of fun."

Shannon Eggleston and Megan McGowan of Taylor skipped the drop in Trenton to attend the one in Hines Park.

"It's easier to get three kids ready by 11 o'clock than 9 o'clock," said Eggleston, who was there with her children Kylie, 8, Travis, 5, and Taya, 17 months.

McGowan was there with her son Landon, 5.

This was Eggleston's second year attending the event; McGowan was a newbie.

"I dragged her along," Eggleston said.

The youngsters had a game. Kylie planned on being "right in the front row" when they hollered go. Her brother was thinking the same thing, although his post-drop plan was a stop at the playground.

Under the pavilion, volunteers from the Westland Civitans and Westland Youth Assistance were handing out the coloring books and sketch pads to youngsters.

"I've been doing this since 1990," said Barbara Polich, who served as a traffic director, sending strollers to their own gins Lake was in town to see her son and his family, Dennis and Jennifer Johnson of Canton. She was waiting beside Polich for her 4-year-old granddaughter Sophia to show up.

"Usually, Sophia and I go through the line while her dad and granddad wait," Johnson said. "She looks forward to this every year. This is the third year we've done it."

Within an hour of the first drop, the prizes had been given out and the crowds dispersed, except for the playscape, where youngsters took advantage of the nice weather and the chance to play.

First Step: Coping with teen dating violence

Teen dating violence can be lethal. First Step, a nonprofit organization in out-Wayne County, brings attention to pervasive teen dating violence and offers tips for communities and parents on how to recognize and end it.

Organizations and communities across the country are rising to the occasion by offering a variety of resources and tools to help teens recognize abusive patterns that may emerge in dating relationships, and take steps to prevent or stop the abuse. Also, parents can raise their awareness of teen dating abuse.

Parents may encounter a number of warning signs that their teen is in an abusive relationship, according to First Step Program Coordinator Desiree Herrick. For example, a child may have fewer friends than before meeting her dating partner, as he may isolate her from friends, outside activities and even her family.

Parents may notice emotional changes in their child, including crying and wanting to be alone. Another red flag is a partner who constantly calls or texts your teen, demanding to know who they are with and where they are. Although your teen may make excuses for this behavior, don't ignore your suspicions.

Experts believe the best approach to suspicions of violence is to avoid a power struggle with your child: Keep the lines of communication open and provide resources. Additionally, the National Network to End Domestic Violence urges parents to avoid taking a teen's cell phone or other technology away, and to instead focus on the appropriate use of these items in the context of a respectful relationship. First Step offers a 24-hour helpline (734-722-6800 or toll-free at 888-453-5900) where teens and parents can receive one-on-one phone support from a trained domestic violence advocate. Also, the National Teen Dating Abuse Helpline is a 24-hour hotline, specifically designed for teens and young adults. It is accessible by phone at (866) 331-9474, or via the Internet at loveisrespect.org.

The website provides additional resources for teens, parents, friends and family, peer advocates, government officials, law enforcement officials and the general public. For help or information, contact First Step at (734) 722-1772 or toll-free at (888) 453-5900. Visit the website at www.first-step-mi.org. For additional resources about teen dating violence, visit www.loveisnotabuse.org.

Local artists show mixed media pieces in Detroit

Four local artists will exhibit their works April 20-May 24 in the Biannual All Media Exhibition at Detroit Artists Market in Detroit.

Alan Casadei of Livonia, Barbara Dorchon of Farmington Hills, Tony Hope of Plymouth and Daniel Steadman of Redford and among more than a dozen artists with works in the juried show.

Detroit Artists Market will hold a public opening and awards reception 6-9 p.m. April 20. Visitors can meet the artists and have an opportunity to view and buy the wide array of paintings, sculptures, photography, mixed media, metal and clay on exhibit.

The Biannual All Media Exhibition is presented by one of the Midwest's oldest nonprofit galleries, located at 4719 Woodward Ave., three blocks south of the Detroit Institute of Arts, in Detroit's Cultural Center. The show is part of DAM's 80th anniversary year. Guest juror Leon Johnson, artist and educator, chose the art from 400 pieces that were submitted by 200 artists for consideration.

For more information call the gallery at (313) 832-8540 or e-mail info@detroitartistsmarket.org.

Tony Hope, a Plymouth artist, submitted this piece for the Biannual All Media Exhibition.

Livonia artist Alan Casadei will exhibit this piece April 20-May 24 in Detroit.

Final weekend

Nathan Shaw, (left) as Tybalt, and Benjamin Gresko, as Mercutio, cross swords in Schoolcraft Theatre Department's production of "Romeo and Juliet." Tickets are still available for the final performances of the show, 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday, April 13-14, in the Liberal Arts Theatre on the college's main campus, located on Haggerty between Six Mile and Seven Mile in Livonia. For tickets, call (734) 462-4596 or visit the campus book store.

Barbara Dorchon of Farmington Hills calls this piece "Installation Save the Poets." It will be on public view April 20 at the Detroit Artists Market.

Redford artist Daniel Steadman will show this work April 20-May 24 at the Biannual All Media Exhibition.

Acting course set at Trinity House Theatre

Laura Gumina, local theater instructor, director and actor, will teach a six-week acting course beginning May 1 at Trinity House Theatre, 38840 W. Six Mile, in Livonia. Classes will meet 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, excluding May 15, through June 12. Students will be directed primarily in two-person scenes. The beginning actor as well as the more experienced may join. "In a workshop setting we all start off on the same page and learn to trust, work together, and eventually constructively critique our work," Gumina wrote in an e-mail to the Observer. If the class unanimously agrees, it will present scenes to friends and family. The cost is $80 for six weeks of instruction and the optional performance. Part of cost is to the theatre for rental of space. The website for the acting class is www.meetup.com

Fresh and Fun FAMILY RECIPES

Rachael Ray's
FreshOver
Recipe Guide
offers delicious,
healthier meal options

To help families transform ordinary meals into fresher versions that the whole family will feel good about eating, Ziploc Brand has partnered with best-selling author and TV personality Rachael Ray to bring healthier food choices to tables with the Great American FreshOver Project, a fresh food makeover made easy.

Ray is an expert at creating quick meals. She aims to motivate families to swap their traditional recipes for versions that contain healthier ingredients and taste just as good.

"According to a Ziploc Fresh Eating Survey, 72 percent of Americans feel like a good parent when their family eats fresh food, but only 47 percent eat fresh foods on a daily basis. To make eating fresh easier, Ziploc and I are sharing recipes and tips on how to incorporate fresh ingredients into favorites like pizza and mac 'n cheese," Ray said. "Anyone can get started on their FreshOver Projects in their own kitchen."

Broccoli and Cauliflower Gratin Mac 'n Cheese

Yield: 6 servings
Prep Time: 20 minutes
Cook Time: 1 hour

1 small head or bundle broccoli, trimmed into florets
1 small head cauliflower or half a large head, trimmed and cut into florets
1 pound whole-wheat macaroni or penne or other short cut pasta
2 cups sour cream or reduced-fat sour cream
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
½ cup finely chopped chives
2 cloves garlic, peeled and grated or crushed into paste
A few drops hot sauce
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
2½ cups grated extra-sharp cheddar

Bring large pot of water to a boil over medium heat. Salt water and add broccoli and cauliflower florets. Boil vegetables for 5 minutes, then remove with a spider or a strainer and drain.

Add pasta to water and undercook by about 2 minutes, drain.

Meanwhile, combine sour cream in large bowl along with mustard, chives, garlic, hot sauce, salt and pepper, to taste.

Add pasta and cauliflower and ¾ of the cheese. Stir to combine, then transfer to a casserole dish or Ziploc VersaGlass container and cover with remaining cheese. Cool and chill for a make-ahead meal.

To heat and eat, put casserole on baking sheet and bake in the middle of a preheated 375°F oven until deeply golden and bubbly, about 40 to 45 minutes.

Tip: Make a double batch and freeze for a later date.

Stretch a Buck Turkey and Bean Burrito Burgers

Yield: 4 servings
Prep Time: 20 minutes
Cook Time: 16 minutes

1 cup cold leftover white or brown rice
1 pound ground turkey
1 (15-ounce) can pinto beans, rinsed and drained
Palmful chili powder
1½ teaspoons cumin, half a palmful
1½ teaspoons coriander, half a palmful
1 tablespoon grill seasoning, (recommended: Montreal Seasoning by McCormick)
1 tablespoon canola oil
1 ripe avocado
1 clove garlic, grated or finely chopped
1 lime, zested and juiced
1 jalapeño or serrano pepper, seeded and finely chopped
½ small red onion, finely chopped
½ cup sour cream
4 red leaf lettuce leaves
1 ripe tomato, sliced
4 crusty rolls, split

Combine rice, meat and beans with spices and grill seasoning. Form 4 big patties, then heat 1 tablespoon oil (a turn of the pan) in a large skillet over medium-high heat.

Cook patties 7 to 8 minutes on each side.

While burgers cook, combine avocado with garlic, lime zest and juice, jalapeño and red onion.

Mash to roughly combine, then stir in the sour cream.

Place burgers on buns with lettuce and tomato, and top with sour cream guacamole.

Tip: To keep leftovers fresh, store in reusable dishes like Ziploc Twist n' Loc Containers.

The Only Pizza You'll Ever Want Again

Yield: 4 servings
Prep Time: 15 minutes
Cook Time: 20 minutes

Crust
1 16-ounce package pizza dough, brought to room temperature
2 teaspoons extra virgin olive oil
2 tablespoons grated Parmigiano-Reggiano

Toppings
½ pound broccoli from trimmed broccoli bin in produce section, ½ head
1 tablespoon extra virgin olive oil,
1 turn of the pan
3 cloves cracked garlic
½ pound chicken breast cut for stir fry, or chicken tenders
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
1 cup part skim ricotta cheese
10 sun dried tomatoes in oil, drained and sliced
1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese, available on dairy aisle
12 to 15 leaves fresh basil, torn or stacked and thinly sliced

Preheat oven to 500°F. On 12-inch nonstick pizza pan, stretch out dough and form pizza crust. Drizzle olive oil on crust and spread it with a pastry brush over the dough to the edges.

Sprinkle crust with grated Parmigiano-Reggiano.

In a small covered saucepan, bring 2 inches water to a boil. Separate broccoli tops into florets, discarding lower stalks or reserving for soup. Salt water and add broccoli florets. Cook, covered, 3 to 5 minutes. Drain broccoli and set on cutting board. Chop broccoli florets into small pieces.

Heat a small nonstick pan over medium high to high heat. Add oil, cracked garlic and chicken. Season with salt and pepper.

Brown chicken until lightly golden all over, 3 to 5 minutes.

Chop sautéed chicken and garlic on a cutting board into small pieces.

To assemble pizza, dot crust with broccoli and chicken. Dot crust with spoonfuls of ricotta, spreading gently with the back of spoon. Add sliced sun-dried tomatoes, scattering around pizza to edges. Complete assembly with a thin layer of shredded mozzarella.

Place pizza in oven on middle rack and lower heat to 450°F.

Bake 12 minutes, until cheese is deep golden in color and crust is brown and crisp at the edges.

Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes. Top with lots of torn or shredded basil.

Cut pizza into 8 slices using pizza wheel and serve.

Tip: Put an individual serving size of chicken in Ziploc Brand Perfect Portions Bags right after purchasing and freeze in a Ziploc Brand Freezer Bag. That way you don't have to defrost more chicken than you need for a meal.
