Westland may use recreation center as temporary city hall

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

With a June 30 closing proposed, the Bailey Recreation Center may be pressed into service as a temporary Westland City Hall.

At a council study session Tuesday to discuss the agreement that would merge the Westland and Wayne parks and recreation departments, Mayor William Wild offered the new proposal. It was spurred in part by a $46,000 estimate to abate asbestos in City Hall.

"Based on this, the water issues and other issues (in City Hall), perhaps we should look at moving City Hall into the Bailey Center," said Wild. "If we move into the Bailey Center with the Intergovernmental Agreement with Wayne, it gives us a chance to see what to do about City Hall."

That would slow down a proposal to build a new city hall behind the William P. Faust Library. The current City Hall has a laundry list of problems that include long-standing water issues that have resulted in a sink hole along the foundation and cracking pillars.

The Intergovernmental Agreement with Wayne would have the cities share a director and have Wayne supervise field usage in both communities. Although not spelled out in the agreement, the proposal includes closing the Bailey Center and outdoor pool with Westland residents able to use the Wayne Community Center facilities at resident rates.

"We can also see if residents accept the Wayne Community Center or if there is something that they're missing," said Wild.

Asbestos issue

The asbestos abatement is being required to resolve a Michigan Industrial Occupational Safety and Health Administration citation.

The shift to the Bailey Center would also require some work to keep the building operational.

"We know we would have to fix the boiler (at the Bailey Center) so we have heat," said Wild.

Relay for Life family affair extends to three generations, three teams

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

Raising money for the American Cancer Society at Westland's Relay for Life is a family affair for many people.

For Westland residents Beth Patton, daughter Jill Toth and granddaughter Bailey Crouson, it's three generations participating in three separate teams.

"We all started on Alyssa's Angels and then split into sister teams," said Patton, who has remained a member of the Angels.

It was through a connection with relatives of Alyssa Temple, who died of cancer more than five years ago, that Patton got involved in Relay for Life in 2007.

Patton owns Adventures in Learning day care center where Toth is director, and Bailey, 9, along with younger sister Kamryn, come each day after school. Alyssa's cousins had previously attended day care at the center.

"My husband Derek had oral cancer surgery, I had never even heard of Relay for Life," said Patton. "My former clients were involved with Relay for Life, their niece had died of cancer. They said we should come check it out."

By 2009, Patton was team captain for Alyssa's Angels — Alyssa's mother, Rhonda Temple, is event chair for the second time this year.

"Just listening to people's stories, it's so heartwarming and heart breaking," said Patton. "It's a great tribute to everyone — survivors or those who have passed." Toth decided to branch out with friends forming the Sole Sisters team.

Parent program looks at trendy drugs, paraphernalia

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

It takes the effort for parents and other adults to stay on top on substance abuse by teens — it seems like there is always a new drug available, such as K2, the synthetic marijuana.

Westland Youth Assistance is hosting a free drug education exhibit open to all adults 6:30-8:30 p.m. Thursday, May 10, at the Westland Friendship Center.

"We're hearing stories about (K2 users) being hospitalized suffering from psychosis or developing heart problems, it makes them aggressive," said Westland Youth Assistance Director Paul Motz. "We've got to educate residents and put a stop to this as soon as possible."

The program, titled Trendy Drugs and Paraphernalia, will be presented by retired police Officer Ken Krygel, a Macomb County Community College criminal justice training instructor and drug expert.

It's an adult-only program. Motz is extending an invitation to parents, guardians, health professionals — any adults who want to learn more about what drugs are currently trendy with young people.

The presentation includes a large display of drugs and drug paraphernalia. Attendees will receive free information packets regarding warning signs of drug use, including K2, which has been receiving a lot of attention recently.

Furlough day lengthens W-W's Memorial Day break

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

Students in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools will have an day off added to their Memorial Day weekend, thanks to a mild winter.

For years, the district has closed schools the Friday before the Memorial Day holiday, giving students and staff a four-day break. However, this year the break will be extended with all buildings remain closed for Tuesday, May 29, to accommodate one of two employee furlough days planned for this budget year.

The furlough days were negotiated as part of concessionary contracts with the district's eight bargaining units as well as district Superintendent Greg Baracy and his Cabinet.

Under the agreements, ratified in June and July 2011, employees agreed to two furlough days in the 2011-12 and 2012-13 school years and an additional two furlough days in the 2013-14 school year, if the district's general fund equity is less than 5 percent of expenditure.

"We negotiated with employees that if we had two act of God days when school would be closed, those would become furlough days, we didn't so we reach an agreement on other options," said Baracy.

In a letter to parents, Baracy said the this school year's furlough days preserved "$1 million for student programs."

However, due to the mild winter,

Catching a ride at the carnival

The carnival is in Westland through Sunday at Wayne and Warren roads. There are rides, midway games and food at the carnival, which is sponsored by Westland firefighters as a fundraiser for their charity fund. The firefighters carnival has been held annually since the 1990s, but missed last year when there was a problem with the carnival provider. The event usually raised $15,000-$20,000 for the charity fund which purchased a fire safety trailer, supported a smoke detector program and other local causes. The carnival will be open 4-11 p.m. weekdays, from noon to midnight Saturday and from noon to 10 p.m. Sunday.

to allow further discussion at the study session. The Wayne council had already reached a consensus to move ahead with the agreement and has slated to vote on it later this month. "I'm not against the merger of parks and recreation. I like what Bill (Wild) said about the Bailey Center. That will give us some time," said Councilman Bill Johnson.

While Councilwoman Christine Bryant was opposed to closing the Bailey Center, she said she totally agreed that the merger was needed. Bryant and Councilman Michael Kehrer both were concerned about Westland, particularly the council, continuing to have input on recreation and parks. "Our five-year recreation plan and Wayne's are both coming up," said Wild. "The rest is programming. That is figured out on an annual basis." Wayne City Manager Robert English said that there was no problem getting council input on programs annually. No Wayne gym Unlike the Bailey Center, the Wayne Community Center doesn't have a gym. The Westland Youth Athletic Association is the biggest user of the Bailey Center gym for basketball and volleyball. The council was provided with a list of 27 Wayne-Westland Schools gyms available for use. A letter from school officials regarding the gym rentals had been provided earlier. "People in the north end of the city tell they won't go to Wayne. They don't come to the Bailey Center now but would, if it was upgraded," said Bryant, who asked if the city could look into a similar agreement with Livonia. Resident Mark Rodriguez agreed that the Wayne Community Center is an excellent facility but questioned the merger. "I find it unbelievable that Wayne with a population of 18,000 would support Westland with over 80,000," he said. While school gym use is free weekdays, Rodriguez said many games are played on weekends when WYAA would be charged time and half or double time for hours worked by custodians who are required to be present. "We're not going to get any more ball fields with this," Wayne uses the fields. I don't want to drive to Wayne for home games," said Rodriguez. "People will shop and dine in Wayne when they are there for games. This will hurt Westland." Rodriguez added he hoped this would be short term and that both the community center and City Hall would be rebuilt on the same site. The council is expected to vote the merger agreement Monday.

Bailey formed her own team, Little Angels of Hope. Many of the Sole Sisters are moms of youngsters participating with Little Angels of Hope. "It's just fun. I have six kids on my team," said Bailey, whose fundraisers have included selling cookie dough, Yankee Candles and a recent bowling event. Although they have some adult help, the oldest official team member is 13. "I'm proud of Bailey, very proud, she's taken the bull by the horns. We just helped," said Toth.

Held at Jaycee Park, this year Westland's Relay for Life runs from 10 a.m. Saturday, May 12, through 10 a.m. Sunday, May 13. Teams commit to having someone walking for the full 24 hours since cancer never sleeps and many camp at their sites. "When I was on my mom's team, I'd sleep," said Bailey, a fourth-grader at Cleveland Elementary School in Livonia and the event's youngest team captain. The 2012 relay theme is holidays and each team will decorate their site for their chosen holiday. "I picked St. Patrick's Day — I figured no one else would pick that and I can do what I want with it," said Bailey, whose site will look like a miniature Irish tavern. "We're going to sell nachos." Having raised $1 million over the first 10 years of the Westland Relay for Life, the goal this year is $70,000. "People get busy, so it's easier to fundraise year-round. That way you're not so pressed at the event," said Patton.

"We try to do something every month. It really depends on everyone's schedule." There are currently 19 teams registered for the Westland Relay for Life with three additional teams making verbal commitments.

like the teachers, the district will add a day to their sick bank in lieu of pay. They're already off on Friday, May 25, as a compensatory day. Administrators will take May 25 and 29 as their furlough days as will 52-week employees like Baracy, his cabinet, secretaries, custodians and members of the Brothertinue to provide excellent learning opportunities for our community's children without making any cuts to the classroom, the district will execute an alternative furlough day. As it stands, the entire district will be shut down on Tuesday, May 29."

Moving Up: Two Garden City firefighters get promotions

By Sue Buck
Observer Staff Writer

Garden City firefighters Michael Terch and Darren Candela were promoted to engineers Tuesday with family and co-workers present.

Garden City Clerk/Treasure Allyson Bettis delivered the oath to the men which was followed by the pinning on of their badges.

Wife Shannon Terch's hands were full as she held Addison, their 2 1/2-year-old daughter, while pinning on her husband's badge.

Father Vince Candela pinned on his son's badge.

Terch has 14 years of service with the department, and Candela has nine years seniority.

"This position is critical to our department and holds a great deal of responsibility and accountability," said Garden City Fire Chief Catherine Harman.

"Engineers literally hold the lives of firefighters who are engaged in interior fire attack in their hands. Engineers are also a second set of eyes for the incident commander on the fire ground, monitoring changing fire conditions. This is done while simultaneously maintaining the water supply, pump pressure and providing additional equipment to the interior attack team."

She said that engineers are also responsible for the apparatus and equipment.

"Fire engines and aeri-als can run well over a

$1 million," Harman said. "Keeping them operational for immediate response is imperative. Each shift has an engineer. The three engineers coordinate maintenance, repairs and communicate progress to each other. They report directly to their shift commander and the apparatus officer."

Continuing education and evolutions are essential in keeping firefighters current and ready to perform tasks essential in mitigating any emergency response, she added.

"Engine operations are often a focal point of our training program," Harman said. "I am proud of them both. They have patiently waited for their promotions and I am confident they will do a great job."

Family support is very important, she said.

"The families of both Mike and Darren are here and I would like to acknowledge them for the support they provide and the sacrifices they make," Harman said. "There are many holidays, birthdays and family events Mike and Darren can't attend as a result of our schedule. Your support and understanding are needed and greatly appreciated." "I am very proud to have received this promotion, and I am happy to come to work everyday," Candela said.

He attended the ceremony with parents Vince and Nancy Candela, wife Danielle and daughter Rosa, 20 months, and his mother-in-law, Phyllis Diprima.

The promotions were on hold while contract negotiations were ongoing.

"The city manager promised that when the contract was signed, he would go through with the promotions," Harman said.

The firefighters are a 24-hour shift except for Harman. They are all firefighter paramedics, certified in confined space and four are members of special teams.

"At any given time, firefighters, lieutenants and engineers rotate out of various positions," Harman said. "Everybody is on the street."

Ohio man charged with theft of stamps

Larceny

An Ohio man was arrested April 28 on charges of stealing stamps valued at nearly $30,000 during the

WESTLAND COP CALLS

Plymouth Stamp Show held at the Hellenic Cultural Center in Westland.

Howard Carlisle, 57, of Tiffin, Ohio, is charged with three misdemeanor counts of larceny. He was ticketed and released to return for arraignment on Friday, May 11, in 18th District Court.

One dealer told police that a man was looking through his stamps when he noticed several expensive stamps were missing. Believing the Ohio man was responsible, the dealer told police he grabbed the man's folder.

Inside the folder, the dealer said he found 25 of his stamps which were valued at approximately $20,000. The dealer called security who detained the Ohio man and took him to the center office to wait for police.

The officer reported the Ohio man initially denied stealing the stamps. Two other dealers then approached the officer to report expensive stamps were missing after the Ohio man had been looking through their collections earlier.

One of those dealers identified his missing stamps as those found in the Ohio man's computer bag. Stamps belonging to the third dealer weren't found in the bag, so the officer said he asked the Ohio man where those stamps were located.

The Ohio man then told the officer other stamps were in the trunk of his vehicle. The officer located those stamps along with additional stamps missing from the other dealer.

In all, the officers recovered 11 stamps valued at $3,400 belonging to one dealer and 56 stamps valued at $6,518 that had been stolen from the third dealer.

Sexual assault

A Westland man, 20, is being held in lieu of $100,000 on charges of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, kidnapping and assault with intent to do great bodily harm after an incident involving his 16-year-old girlfriend.

The 16-year-old, also a Westland resident, was brought to the police department by her mother shortly after midnight April 26. She told police she had been beaten and sexually assaulted by the Westland man while visiting his residence at the Country Club Apartments, 34675 Stacy.

She initially told police she was visiting a friend at the apartment and had only met the man on a couple of occasions. As police investigated, it became clear that the 16-year-old had been dating the man and had been staying with the man at the apartment until recently moving back in with her mother.

The officer noted the 16-year-old had a large amount of blood on her face and in her hair along with a large cut on the side of her head and several bruises on her face.

She also had blood on her jacket, shirt and slacks, the officer said.

The 16-year-old told officers she and the man had argued about cell phone messages that indicated she had been sexually involved with others.

After punching a hole in the wall and throwing the phone, the man pushed the woman, punched her repeatedly and hit her with a dumbbell, according to versions of the altercation offered by both to police. Treated at an area hospital, police said the woman required seven staples to close the wound to her head.

During this altercation, the woman said she was also sexually assaulted after being stunned by blows to the head and being knocked to the floor.

The woman told police that she managed to break free and fled the apartment in her panties and shirt. Once the man left the apartment, she said she returned to gather her slacks and belongings.

Witnesses reported hearing the woman screaming and coming outside the apartment.

The victim didn't know the address of the apartment but identified it when taken to the area by officers. Police noted the main door to the unit was open with blood on the ground outside and just inside the apartment.

There was also a broken flat screen television visible. No one answered the door, so officers went inside to check for other injured people. The officers found more blood, including blood on a dumbbell which was confiscated.

Shouts scare off suspect breaking into garage

Stolen vehicle

The owner of a 1998 Ford Taurus discovered it missing when she returned from a trip to Germany April 30.

The woman who lives in the 28000 block of Marquette

Family members told her that they didn't use the car. The woman said that she may have left the key in the ignition or on the front seat.

When Garden City police investigated the theft, they discovered the car was impounded in Detroit after someone crashed the Taurus into a parked car. Detroit police didn't record the car as stolen.

Attempted break-in

A resident in the 32000 block of Rosslyn looked out of his kitchen window about midnight April 30 and saw an unknown man trying to get in the side door of his garage by using his shoulder to break in. The resident began to knock on the window and yell loudly, causing the man to flee.

The police officers searched the surrounding area but couldn't find him. The suspect is described as a man about 5-foot-8 and wearing a black hooded sweat shirt.

Break-in Police investigated the break-in of a garage reported about 6 a.m. April 30 in the 32000 block of Cherry Hill.

The police believed the suspect used his shoulder to force the side garage door open. Once inside, the thief stole a mountain bike valued at $150.

The police found no marks or shoe prints.

Stolen property

The police believe that someone pried open a door handle of a car parked in the parking lot of 6701 Harrison sometime before 7 p.m. April 26.

Once inside, the thief stole a stereo, CD and flat screen from the dashboard. Garden City Hospital security said that this was the second such vehicle to be tampered with in the lot. The previous car was also the same make and model and the thief stole the same items.

In an incident in another hospital lot at 6245 N. Inkster, a hospital employee reported that her factory-installed GPS unit was stolen sometime before 3:15 p.m. April 26. The police could find no evidence and there was no damage to the lock.

Car theft

A resident in the 6300 block of Helen reported that someone stole his 2001 Ford Focus sometime before April 27. He last saw the vehicle parked in his driveway. He said that a suitcase inside the car contained a turntable and mixer.

Theft

A Garden City woman reported April 27 that someone removed several items from her purse following a visit to Rockstarz, 33729 Ford, the night before.

She noticed the items were missing the next morning when she looked inside her purse. She told police that she spent several hours at the bar and used her passport to prove her age and identity at the door. She said that her coat covered her purse which was on the table near her the entire time.

She described the missing items as her passport, H & R Block refund card, a credit card and a gift card.

The owner of a vehicle parked in the parking lot in the 31000 block of Block reported that someone entered his unlocked vehicle April 28 and stole a bag of his prescription drugs. Stolen were Lorcet, Alprazolam, Lisinopril and Exchalam.

Reaching his goal

Biggest Loser's Shuh says getting health back was his prize

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

When Buddy Shuh and brother Ben walked into the Gardner White store last year, he had no idea how much his life would change. The two brothers were auditioning for NBC's The Biggest Loser. Standing behind them were a brother and sister, Jeremy and Conda Britt, from Rockford, who remarked that wouldn't it be odd if the foursome ended up on the show.

Shuh called it "statistically impossible." He should have said statistically possible because they were all chosen for season 13 of the popular weight loss reality show. And this week two of them stood on the stage as finalists for the $250,000 prize.

It wasn't Ben Shuh who asked to be voted off the first week to return home to his family in Howell. And it wasn't Buddy Shuh who walked off the show in week 16. He sat in the audience Tuesday evening for the finale. His money was on Jeremy Britt to win, and he did, losing 199 pounds to beat out his sister Conda and Kim Nielsen for the $250,000 prize.

Shuh has no regrets about leaving the show. "I never went on the show thinking I'm competing for the $250,000, my goal was to come home living healthier," said the Wayne resident. "I competed to win my health back and I won. I have my health and a lot of new friends."

Twist of fate

Surprisingly, Jeremy Britt's opportunity to compete for the prize money was at the heart of Shuh's leaving. He was eliminated the same week Shuh and contestant Mark Cornelison left, but brought back the next week to compete with other eliminated contestants in a series of challenges to determine a third finalist.

The connections pastor at Journey Community Church in Westland, Shuh posted on his Facebook page, an interview with the producer in which he "acknowledged that they should have informed us sooner what was going to transpire."

"I can't win the money, but I'm still thankful for

A pair of shorts he wore before his six months on NBC's "The Biggest Loser" almost covers Buddy Shuh, his daughters Savanna and Janna, infant son Levi, wife Shelby and son Isaac.

"Life is full of obstacles. They can shape the way that you get to your destination. They only become excuses when you let them dictate whether or not you get there, rather than how you get there."

the change in my life," said Shuh. "I'm thankful for having been on the show. I didn't quit on me, I didn't quit on my family and I didn't quit on my community."

Shuh lost 143 pounds while on the show and has continued his weight loss at home. He exercises two hours a day six days a week at three locations - Lifetime Fitness in Canton and Planet Fitness in Westland and his main place, the Wayne Recreation Center. He's puts his total weight loss at 165 pounds and said he's within 10-15 pounds of his life goal of weighing 225 pounds.

Hard to do

He admits going on the show was the hardest thing he's done in his life; his support system - his family and his church - were taken away.

"You have no contact with home, you feel isolated and trapped with 18 people you don't know," he said.

Shuh did come home twice, once in November for the birth of his son Levi and at Christmas, although to look at that show, you couldn't tell, he said. There were challenges that allowed the winner to contact their family by Skype and to make a phone call home. The last three weeks before he left, Shuh was allowed a five-minute phone call on Saturdays.

Shuh quips that "it takes a village to raise Buddy Shuh" in talking about the help his family received from friends and his church while he was gone. There was help getting the children to school, help with the housework and one young man even took the kids to McDonald's so they could play and his wife Shelby could get some rest.

As for income, Shuh received compensation from The Biggest Loser, which paid him $100 a day and his room and board at the ranch.

Shuh's life was out there for everyone to see. His biography talked about his being captain of his football and wrestling teams and being voted "most athletic" his senior year and about his weight gain after college, including the 100 pounds he gained after the death of his infant daughter.

The Biggest Loser fans shared in birth of his son

Levi last November and the family's visit to the White House when they meet First Lady Michelle Obama.

"It was an incredible moment," Shuh said of meeting the First Lady. "It got quiet when she was about to walk in. You just knew it was a special moment, especially for her to set aside the time to meet us and to meet our families."

Wedding bells

Shuh also did something else. On April 14, he performed a Biggest Loser wedding in Goudy Park in Wayne. The groom was fellow contestant Joe Messina who walked off the show the third week. The ceremony was filled with former contestants. A prayer was said by Cornelison, his son Chism sang and played the guitar, Cassandra Sturos read a message she wrote to the bride and groom, and Gail Lee did the flowers. Shuh officiated the ceremony.

In all, 12 of this season's contestants were in Wayne. They went to the Wayne rec center to work out before heading over to the park for the service. Nine of them stayed on to hear Cornelison preach at Journey Community Church the next day. Word-of-mouth tripled Sunday attendance.

"When TMZ and People magazine find out, I'll be in the news again," said Shuh.

He continues to follow the lifestyle he developed at the ranch. He rarely eats the "three whites" - flour, sugar and salt. He eats plenty of vegetables, substituting them for carbs found in food like noodles and rice.

"I do eat bread and rice and noodles," he said. "I do whole grain, and I don't eat them in as large of quantities."

The Biggest Loser also has done more than made him healthy. He has become the national spokesman for the Tears Foundation which helps parents who have lost a small child. He is working on weight-related classes at the Wayne Community Center, and is becoming a motivational speaker. With Michigan the second fattest state in America, he wants to get the word out people can get healthy, if they're willing to work at it.

After appearing on The Biggest Loser live finale Tuesday, he'll be speaking to the staff of the Joel Olsteen Ministries in Texas.

"When I went there, I went as a person who didn't have portions in control. Six months later, I could never have fathomed the help I got and the help I can give," Shuh said. "I can use what I learned in speaking engagements and help people see things differently. I can give them hope."

Glenn dance team prepares for spring recital

By Sue Mason
Observer Staff Writer

Fantastic. That's the word Makayla Hines uses to describe the John Glenn High School Dance Team.

She also uses another word — fun — when she talks about being a member of the team.

"It's a fun activity," said Hines, a freshman at Glenn. "When I became a freshman, I saw them perform and they looked great, they looked fantastic."

Hines and other team members were working with coach Carey Christian Monday to prepare for the spring recital on Friday evening. Eleven girls will perform in a show that will feature 26 solo, duet and group dances.

"It's going to be a really good show," said Christian, who has been coach since starting the team six years ago. "I have a lot who have never danced before who are getting their feet wet. I think they love it."

The team has been working on the dance program since the third week in January. Christian choreographed the dance routines, getting help from a student teacher and two team alumnae, seniors Maria Idunate and Rebecca Tanner. Also serving as assistant to the director is Chelsea Hare.

Christian brings moves to the routines that she has seen performed elsewhere. Many times the students think she's crazy when she shows them something.

"I just tell them to do it and when they do they say 'wow,'" she said. "I want to have my dancers say that 'Wow, this is cool.'"

"It's up to them now, I show them how it will be and it's up to them to execute," she added. "I feel bad, though, they practice so hard and only perform once."

Christian always names the show after the finale. This recital the team will perform to "Glad You Came" by The Wanted. The recital will include six solos and two special performance solos by Idunate and Tanner. For the first time in several years, Christian has decided to take a break and not to perform with the team.

For Christian, the show is bittersweet because it means she will lose her captains. Filling that role this year is senior Ainea Faison.

"She came as a sophomore with no dance experience, she's amazing, she's a dancer," said Christian. "She's the first captain and the first senior I've had who's not plagued by seniori-tis. She's so driven and so focused."

Christian admits that she may be more nervous than the parents who sit in the audience. They get nervous when their daughter performs, she's backstage and is nervous for all of the dancers, she said.

"I have a really good group," said Christian. "I teach them to love dance, I don't train them to dance. You can't do that in six hours a week. That takes hours and hours of dancing."

Career expo touts hundreds of new jobs

By Darrell Clem
Observer Staff Writer

Aiming to recruit hundreds of workers, national and local companies plan to converge on Canton Tuesday for a career fair hosted by the Michigan Institute of Aviation and Technology.

More than 80 firms representing the aviation, energy, automotive, technical, transportation, manufacturing and government fields, among others, are expected to attend the seventh MIAT Career Expo on the 750-student campus at 2955 S. Haggerty, north of Michigan Avenue.

"It's all different types of companies," Amy Kienast Linderman, MIAT's national director of business relations, said. "It really runs the gamut from flight attendants to engineers to mechanics to dispatchers."

Linderman estimated that 70 percent of the companies are looking to fill positions, though some educational and resource organizations also are set to attend. She said one firm, Indianapolis-based AAR Corp., a global provider of products and services to commercial aviation and government defense industries, is looking to hire as many as 600 workers.

The public is invited to attend the career expo, which is free for job-seekers, and MIAT has spread the word to its current and former students and to more than 5,000 U.S. armed forces

"Right now, certain industries are experiencing rapid shifts in staffing requirements," Hawes said. "This career expo is an efficient way for employers to meet and interview well-qualified candidates for certain positions."

Job-seekers attending the career expo are encouraged to bring copies of their resumes, dress professionally and be prepared for possible on-site interviews.

Employers from across Michigan and around the United States are set to recruit workers. According to a MIAT statement, companies in hiring mode include Duncan Aviation, General Atomics Aeronautical Systems, Columbia Helicopters, U.S. Foods, Aggreko, L&W

Engineering, DZ Atlantic, Howden North America, Ventower, England Logistics and Defense Support Services, among others.

Educational institutions are scheduled to share information about degrees and training opportunities, and a hospitality area for veterans is to include access to a variety of service organizations.

Linderman said job-seekers may simply show up for the expo without registering. For more information, call (800) 447-1310.

MIAT moved to Canton in 2010, though it has been in operation since 1969, formerly at Willow Run Airport. Its website is www.miat.edu.

Roth IRA conversion may make sense for you

By Rick Bloom
Guest Columnist

For the great majority of us, tax time has come and gone. Our 2011 tax returns have been filed and most of us won't think about taxes again until next year. And for many, that may be a mistake. Now is the time to consider a Roth IRA conversion.

Money Matters

Rick Bloom

At the end of this year, the Bush-era tax cuts are set to expire. What that means is that next year, many people will be in a higher tax bracket. Because of that, it may be a good idea to do a Roth conversion this year, when you can take advantage of the lower tax brackets. To be taxed at this year's rates, the conversion doesn't have to be done until the end of the year. However, the advantage of doing the Roth conversion now is that you will have more time for the money to grow, tax free.

Who should consider a Roth conversion? Since Roth conversions have been allowed, I use three rules to determine whether it makes sense.

- You must have the money to pay the tax on the conversion without touching the money you're converting. Remember, when you convert from a traditional IRA into a Roth IRA, the amount that you convert is subject to ordinary income taxes. If you convert $10,000 and you are in a 28 percent tax bracket you would have to pay $2,800 in taxes ($10,000 x .28). In addition, don't forget that under Michigan's new tax law, many of you may also have to pay Michigan taxes. To make converting worthwhile, you must have the money to pay in taxes, without touching the money that you are converting.

- Make sure that converting the money won't throw you into a higher tax bracket. That is why using last year's return as a guide is a great way to determine how much you can convert without putting yourself into another tax bracket.

- You must be a long-term investor. You have to be able to leave the money within the Roth IRA for at least five to seven years. If you're going to need the money within a few years, a Roth conversion just doesn't make sense.

If you meet these three requirements, then doing a Roth conversion makes sense for you. Keep in mind that if later in the year you determine that you made a mistake and you converted too much, there are ways to reverse the transaction.

When it comes to Roth conversions, many people believe that if you're over 70½, you either can't or shouldn't do a Roth conversion. That's not true. If you are over 70½, the only thing not eligible to be converted is your minimum required distribution. Other than that, you can convert as much as you like. Remember, life doesn't end at 70½.

Many may ask, what is the benefit of converting into a Roth IRA? There are many. Probably the most significant benefit is that once you convert money, it grows tax free, not tax deferred.

When money in a traditional IRA is withdrawn, it will always be subject to income tax. When you withdraw money from a Roth IRA, it is withdrawn tax free.

Another benefit is that money in a Roth IRA is not subject to required minimum distribution rules at age 70½. Therefore, money grows tax free for as long as you choose. So if you don't use your Roth IRA and it eventually goes to your beneficiaries, they also can withdraw the money tax free. That is not the case with a traditional IRA.

Who knows where tax laws will be next year? With the partisanship in Washington, it's anyone's guess. You and I can't afford to play the speculation game; we have to make decisions based upon current law.

Based on all these facts, converting money into a Roth IRA this year, is something most people should consider. Spend a few minutes to determine whether you should convert money into a Roth IRA. It may cost some money in the short run, but over the long run it may put more money in your pocket, exactly where it belongs. Good luck!

Testing the new iPad

By Jon Gunnells
Guest Columnist

Even if you watch very little TV, you've likely seen dozens of Apple commercials boasting the new retina display and capabilities of the new iPad with 4G networking speeds. Earlier this month, I tested the third-generation Apple product courtesy of Verizon Wireless which is selling the iPad 4G in stores and online.

Tech Savvy
Jon Gunnells

After spending more than a week with the new iPad, I can say, the multitude of commercials don't do the HD screen on the new iPad justice. Whether you are streaming Netflix movies, tweeting or playing online games, the screen provided a picture as good as any I have seen before.

Even more impressive was the iPad's battery life and after streaming episode after episode of TV shows there was still plenty of juice left. The iPad can surf the web or stream music for up to 10 hours on a full charge. However, the tablet takes a lot longer to charge than a cell phone — and as charging is concerned — is similar to a laptop.

With the 4G network connection provided by Verizon there was no lag either. Not once did I have to wait for streaming content to buffer or for pages to load.

The only drawbacks to the unit were small ones. Like other Apple products the new iPad does not support flash. So when I used the Domino's app to order one of those new artisan pizzas (fancy, I know), I couldn't experience the entire app because it was flash-based. (I have the same problem on my iPhone).

I found myself mostly using the iPhone for personal use because the setup is too difficult to type work documents efficiently. For those using the iPad for work I recommend buying a case with a stand so your iPad can sit upright as you type. Keyboard accessories are also available for all generations of the iPad, however, they are a bit smaller than a traditional keyboard and may take some getting used to.

A variety of iPad accessories can be purchased at ABC Warehouse.

As I used the test iPad more and more, I noticed it began replacing other electronics I already owned. For example, if I was streaming Netflix on my TV or if I was gaming it was instead of doing so on my iPhone or PS3.

Because I already have a functioning laptop and am constantly connected to my iPhone I don't know that I needed a third device to use each day. However, if I needed a new computer I could see the iPad filling that void. It is fast, functional, fun and has a nice camera, video camera capabilities, and of course being wire free doesn't hurt — especially when streaming video or using Skype.

The Apple iPad 4G features a 9.7 inch screen, retails from $499 (16GB) and can be purchased in black or white. A 32GB version can be purchased for $599 and a 64GB version can also be purchased for $699.

Each model comes with a power adapter, USB cable and limited warranty but additional warranties can be purchased through Apple Care which I highly recommend.

The unit comes in at a sleek 1.46 pounds, supports multiple languages and is bluetooth enabled.

For more information on the new iPad, visit Apple.com.

including in Farmington and Livonia, are featuring the 2012 version of their signature Hope Bracelet.

Sales of the bracelet support ACS's mission to help researchers and health care professionals save more lives and individuals celebrate more birthdays. The 2012 Hope bracelet sells for $10, while supplies last. dressbarn will contribute the entire net sales of $5 to the American Cancer Society. Added to the contribution will be the dollars raised through dressbarn's associate and community involvement in Relay For Life events - the largest global cancer-fighting fundraising movement.

In 2011, more than 300 dressbarn and sister-company maurices teams, comprised of customers, executives and associates, participated in Relay For Life events in their communities and raised in excess of $1 million through team fundraising, in-store promotions and the dressbarn Foundation donation. To date, dressbarn and maurices have given more than $8.5 million dollars to the American Cancer Society to support local and national cancer initiatives.

"It is a privilege to celebrate our ninth year of helping to support the goals of the American Cancer Society," said Jeff Gerstel, president of dressbarn. "Each year we strive to surpass the fundraising success of the previous year in both community member support and money raised through the sales of our Hope Bracelet and other activities. We look forward to a partnership with the Society that continues to prosper and grow for many years to come."

Abby Stonerook of Plymouth (right) was one of just a couple of women who volunteered to be shaved for the cause. She was also the event's top individual fundraiser. That's last year's top fundraiser, Ron Sears, doing the honors.

Hair-shaving fundraiser aims to stamp out children's cancer

By Brad Kadrich
Observer Staff Writer

Anton Furman thinks one of the saddest sights in the world is a child with cancer. That's why Furman, a Plymouth resident, was at the Claddagh Irish Pub in Livonia Sunday, taking part for the second straight year in the St. Baldrick's fundraiser to benefit childhood cancer research.

Organized by Eric Bacyinski, the Plymouth Township deputy clerk who has been involved with the foundation for four years, the fundraiser — for which volunteers raised pledges as they agreed to have their heads shaved — raised nearly $26,000. "I think it's a great cause," Furman said. "Kids with cancer ... you're not going to find anything much sadder than that. That's the biggest reason I agreed to this."

In addition to the shavees, the event included a variety of raffle items, donated by The Detroit Lions, Renewal By Anderson, The Detroit Red Wings, The Livonia Chamber of Commerce, Best Buy, A&E Jewelry of Canton, The Plymouth Whalers, Ford Motor Company, Dean Sadler Hair & Make-up Studio, Bikram Yoga of Northville, Claddagh Irish Pub, Sideways, Mary Kay, Fantastic Sams of Plymouth and Jeff Glover & Associates Realtors.

Dramatic Dimensions Entertainment of Garden City provided the music, while Fantastic Sams of Plymouth donated the hair stylists.

But the focus was on more than 30 shavees, all of whom agreed to give up varying amounts of hair for the cause.

One of them was Abdul Shukairy of Farmington Hills.

"My fraternity brother introduced me to (Bacyinski), and he talked me into it," Shukairy said. "I thought, 'What the heck? It's only hair.'"

That attitude helped the fundraiser more than double its original $10,000 goal. Bacyinski said the event, which drew more than 200 people Sunday, blew past that total quickly, and then flew past the re-established $15,000 goal. He figures to have raised some $26,000 by the time all the donations are collected.

The totals were helped by a $100 donation by the Plymouth Kiwanis - Evening Club, a fundraiser at downtown Plymouth's Dairy King, an early April fundraiser sponsored by the Plymouth Whalers and other events from The Penn Grill and Sun & Snow Sports of Plymouth.

"I've been extremely happy with the event's success," said Bacyinski, who has been in the event for four years and organized the last two. "By all accounts it was a huge success. I want everyone to know that none of this would be possible without the generosity of the many local businesses and donors who stepped up to help out."

Walkers put best foot forward for premature babies

By Julie Brown
Observer Staff Writer

Theresa Williams of Westland and her family had plans this past Saturday morning.

"We are walking for our twins," she said of Lea Marie and Hana Elizabeth, who were born and died July 22, 2004. The family, including dad Pat and kids Ashton, 11, and Liliana, 5, came to the Hines Park March of Dimes March for Babies.

"They're in heaven waiting for us," Theresa Williams said of the twins. Her family walked "to raise awareness and funds for these babies and their families."

The Williamses got emotional support as well as practical help from people they know. "We have a very close family so we kind of supported each other," she said of the twins, born at 21 weeks. "That's our goal for other babies to thrive."

Niece Ashley Effner of Livonia joined the family. She's about to earn an associate's degree in science from Schoolcraft College and proceed to Central Michigan University to enter a medical field.

The day's walkers gathered in the Nankin Mills area of Hines Park, prior to walking the six-mile loop along Hines just past Newburgh, in Westland and Livonia. Among those introduced to the cheering crowd was Rolland Walt of Farmington Hills, who's been in the walk for 39 years.

Proud tradition

He recalled his dad collecting dimes when the organization started in the administration of President Franklin D.

Walkers progress along the six-mile route to raise money and awareness for the March of Dimes Saturday, April 28, in Hines Park. March for Babies walks are held at a number of locations.

Roosevelt. Walt walks "to help babies," he said as the crowd gathered at the starting line.

Daughter Judy Perry and her husband, Benn, were also there, with her brothers and their families traveling from Chicago and Boston for the March for Babies. "The whole family's here," Perry said with a smile.

"My dad's been marching 39 years. That's who he is," she said. "He's always been a community giver." Rolland is still active at 87 with the local Commission on Aging and the Service Corps of Retired Executives.

The Hines Park march had a goal of $530,000, with some $1.5 million the goal for metro Detroit and $3 million for Michigan. Helping to reach that goal was Maria Anwar, 16, of Canton, a Canton High School junior.

"Because I like babies," said Anwar, who walked with friends. "I just like walking for babies. This is my first time." Ken and Lori Smith of Rolland Walt, 87, of Farmington Hills did his 39th March of Dimes walk Saturday, April 28, in Hines Park.

Livonia were walking for Delaney Smith, her great-niece and a "miracle" child. Delaney's parents, Warren and Michelle of Garden City, were on the team of 25-27 people.

Delaney was born at 25 weeks, her great-aunt said. She's almost 2 and healthy: "Fantastic. Sassy as ever." She agreed the March of Dimes does a great job. "I think it's a wonderful organization," Lori Smith said.

Their group walked last year in downtown Detroit. "We through we'd go for the six miles," Ken said of this year.

Work friends

Pat Snelling of South Lyon was walking with her friends from United Airlines. She's a retiree there and also walks for her niece's twins, who died after birth.

Her niece, from Tecumseh, was walking in the Sunday event in Dexter. The couple also has twin girls.

"Healthy and big and bouncy," their aunt said. She walked with friend and colleague Donna Saganeck of Plymouth Township.

Saganeck noted United Airlines has had bake sales and raffles for the March of Dimes. The local United goal's been surpassed, they added with pride.

Deadline nears in POAM drive

The Police Officers Association of Michigan announced its annual donation drive to benefit soldiers recovering at the new Walter Reed National Military Medical Center in Bethesda, Md.

Spurred by the generosity of local communities and companies like ABC Warehouse/Sony and Anchor Bay Entertainment last year, POAM is attempting to outdo their efforts this year in delivering a wide array of products to recovering soldiers.

The donation drive runs through May 4, with all items being delivered to Water Reed during National Police Week in Washington, D.C., on May 11.

"This year's visit will allow us to see the new Walter Reed Military Medical Center, which has been built on the grounds of the former Bethesda Naval Hospital," said POAM president James Tignarelli. "Even as our number of troops overseas reduces, we know the dangers they are confronted with continue to exist. Our last visit allowed us to bring a great variety of essentials and gifts to our wounded members of the armed services and I'm confident we will surpass our expectations."

The POAM is hoping to fill more than 30 recently donated Bristol Motor Speedway backpacks with items to give to the soldiers in May. Items that can be donated include the following:

- DVDs and DVD players
- Blu-Rays and Blu-Ray players
- MP3 Players (iPods, Touch and Shuffle)
- iPads
- Nintendo / PSP Portable Game players and games
- Books; Netbook, Kindle, hardcover and paperback
- Gift cards (Amazon, iTunes, CVS, Walgreens, Walmart, Target)
- Electric heated blankets

kets

- T-shirts L, XL, XXL
 - Sweat outfits L, XL, XXL
 - Boxer shorts L, XL, XXL
 - Baseball hats
 - Workout gloves
 - Headphones
 - Wireless shavers
 - Small toys (for soldiers' children visiting them in the hospital)
 - Cash or check donation (please make out to Jim Tignarelli)
- POAM encourages churches, schools, colleges, businesses, VFW halls and local municipalities to arrange mini donation drives to bolster the total collective volume of items POAM can deliver to Walter Reed.

Individual donations can be sent to or dropped off by May 5 at POAM, 27056 Joy Road in Redford or at TM Productions, 309 B S. Main, Royal Oak.

For more information, visit www.poam.net donate or call (313) 937-9000.

Chilly temps fail to cool visitors to zoo

ROYAL OAK - The bitter wind and chilly temperatures may have been good for the Arctic Ring of Life at the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak, but visitors at the Earth Day celebration recently found themselves more suited to bundling up as they visited special exhibits and enjoyed hands on children's activities.

Nevertheless, it was easy being green at the zoo, according to staff. The zoo-wide event was dedicated to celebrating wildlife and educating visitors about environmental conservation.

Visitors enjoyed earth-friendly crafts, an endangered species scavenger hunt, a 30-foot rock climbing wall, family yoga classes, animal enrichment and zookeeper talks. Live entertainment included a hands-on drumming performance and children's music.

The Detroit Zoological Society is a nonprofit organization that operates the Detroit Zoo and Belle Isle Nature Zoo. Situated on 125 acres of naturalistic habitats, the Zoo is located at the intersection of 10 Mile Road and Woodward Avenue, just off I-696, in Royal Oak. It's open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through

Relay for Life

Help participants reach fundraising goals

Nineteen teams and 248 individuals have made a commitment. They're going to relay. They're going to give up 24 hours of their time to walk so that someone somewhere will win their battle with cancer.

Westland's 11th annual Relay for Life will be held 10 a.m. Saturday, May 12, to 10 a.m. Sunday, May 13, at Jaycee Park. The goal is to raise $70,000 for the American Cancer Society. Last year, the Westland Relay for Life raised that amount and over the previous five years, the event raised nearly $500,000.

The Relay for Life is a time to remember those lost to cancer and celebrate those who have survived. It is a time for people who have shared the same experience to comfort and console one another. The money raised helps the ACS work toward a future where cancer doesn't take the lives of friends and family.

John Diamond, a British broadcaster and journalist who passed away from throat cancer in March 2001 once said, "Cancer is a word, not a sentence." The statement is indicative of what Relay for Life participants are doing. More than 3.5 million people in 5,000 communities in the United States, along with communities in 20 other countries who are walking this year to raise much-needed funds and awareness to save lives from cancer.

Throughout the spring, the teams have been holding fund-raisers and gathering donations, with it all leading up to next weekend's relay. But they don't want to walk alone. They want the community to come out and be a part of the event, and we agree.

We urge residents to stop by the park, sometime during the 24 hours. Cheer on the survivors as they walk their victory lap or pause to remember those who have lost their fight at a luminaria ceremony. Better yet, come and enjoy the food and activities the teams will be offering to continue to raise money.

Each and every one of us has been touched by cancer, whether it is a family member, relative or friend who is battling the disease, has had and is a survivor or has succumbed to it. Think about them and think about what you can do to help find a cure.

As of Monday, the teams had raised $16,289. They have a ways to go to reach $70,000. We say now is as good a time as any to get out and get involved. Learn what it's all about and help the Westland Relay for Life reach its goal.

Honor those who fight for our freedom

Saturday, the Westland Historical Society will hold its annual Armed Forces Day at the Westland Historic Village Park. It's not by chance that the commission selects a Saturday in May to hold the event. May has been designated by Congress as National Military Appreciation Month to provide a time to reflect on the history of our armed services.

The daylong event offers residents the opportunity to learn from re-enactors about life as a soldier during five American wars — the French and Indian War, the War of 1812, the Civil War and World Wars I and II. This year's celebration will focus on the 200th anniversary of the War of 1812 with special lectures and demonstrations. There also will be live historic music by the Civil War-era 5th Michigan Regiment Band.

The historical society has held Armed Forces Day for several years and attendance has increased each year. We see that as a good sign, since we believe that to know where we are going, we need to know where we have been. The wars that have been fought in our 236-year history have shaped who we are and what we believe in as Americans. Each one has strengthened our commitment to our democratic ways.

We applaud the efforts of the Westland Historical Society to bring history alive with Armed Forces Day and urge residents to stop by the Westland Historic Village Park between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday to learn more about American history.

We also encourage residents to take time this month to remember, recognize and appreciate our military personnel who have given their lives in defense of our freedoms we all enjoy today. Let's celebrate them just as we celebrate the other important entities that make up this great country.

How does the job market look for your field of study? What does the future look like for you in your field?

We asked this question of students at Schoolcraft College.

City hall in Bailey Center

Here's a thought: Since Westland is closing the Bailey Center and the city hall is going down hill, why not put city hall people into the Bailey Center instead of another vacant building which the city doesn't need or deserve, or can't afford.

Also, since the pool (outdoor) is costing so much, fill it in, and use the space for another sport. Why waste money Westland doesn't have?

I believe it's the best idea going around. We have no money. I would love a new home, but I have no money and so does the city for building a new city hall. We have too many vacant buildings as it is in Westland.

I could name a few, but why try? Just wasting money.

Nurses are special

We don't often think about nurses ... if you ask a nurse why he or she went into nursing, they will most likely tell you they wanted to help others. Year after year, nursing is rated the most trusted profession.

When you think about it, nurses enter into patients' lives when they are most vulnerable. Nurses are privileged to share in patients' personal lives, helping them do tasks they may have never needed help doing before. These moments include helping with personal hygiene; coaching a new mom during delivery or helping her breast feed her newborn; providing encouragement before going into surgery; helping a patient cope with news they weren't expecting to hear, and sometimes, to hold a patient's hand as they take their last breath. Patients can be scared, nervous, anxious, elated and sometimes devastated.

Nurses help support patients through all stages of their lives. Often, it is not a glamorous job. It takes dedication, commitment, caring, and wanting to help others. It takes a special person to be a nurse.

In recognition of National Nurse's Week, celebrated each year May 6 (National Nurse's Day) through May 12 (Florence Nightingale's birthday), I would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to all nurses, especially those at Garden City Hospital.

Right To Repair levels the competitive playing field for motoring consumers and between new car dealerships and independent repair shops by requiring that car companies provide full, fair access at a reasonable cost to all nonproprietary service information, tools and safety-related bulletins needed to repair today's high-tech motor vehicles.

When local repair shops are denied access to nonproprietary repair information from the car companies, competition is limited. All consumers benefit from competition, but those serving our country and their families at home derive particular benefit from being able to obtain affordable, effective and convenient repairs for their vehicles.

As cars become more complicated with more computer systems, the problem becomes more acute. Military personnel and their families are often stationed in remote locations far from any dealerships, relying on independent repair shops to service their vehicles. Most do not have the time to find the nearest dealership, drive all the way there and wait for their sole source of transportation to be repaired. If critical repairs go unperformed, then safety may be compromised.

The American Military Society encourages all service members, their families and all Americans to visit www.righttorepair.org to send a letter to each of their Senators and their Representatives, urging them to support this legislation.

Shocking hypocrisy

The recent flap over the "Buffett" bill again revealed the abject hypocrisy of the Republican Party. The Repubs whined that the bill, a step toward fairness in the tax code, would not eliminate the deficit although no one ever said that it would.

Point is, estimates are that the rule, affecting slightly more than 200,000 taxpayers and a minuscule number of small businesses, would generate some $4.7 billion annually, an amount categorized as a pittance by Republican politicians and pundits alike.

Does anyone recall the so-called Solyndra "nontroversy" where the staggering sum of $500 million was lost when the solar panel producer went bankrupt after obtaining a federal loan guarantee and the howling that commenced in its wake?

Republicans thought this to be such a travesty that a congressional commission was convened to investigate. According to my math, the added revenue from the Buffett bill, had it been passed, would have been nine times greater than the amount lost with Solyndra in year one. Problem is, 10 years down the road, the bill for Solyndra will still be half a billion and the benefit accrued from the Buffett bill would have totaled $47 billion.

Seems as if those really concerned with cutting the deficit rather than helping the 1 percent or scoring political points would be a little more selective in their rage, but we are talking Republican here.

Failed leadership?

During a recent appearance with conservative talk show host Laura Ingraham, Mitt Romney charged the recent scandal involving the Secret Service and Colombian prostitutes, as a failure of leadership. This seems to be a recurring theme in Romney's campaign, but this specific incident begs the question, whose failed leadership?

Is it Mark Sullivan, director of the Secret Service, who was appointed by former President Bush who failed? Romney expresses full confidence in the director.

Perhaps Romney is implying President Obama's lack of leadership caused the alleged peccadillos in Colombia. Really? The Secret Service is a calling. All agents have sworn an oath to protect any president. The Secret Service is likely the most nonpartisan agency in Washington, D.C. The Secret Service will take a bullet for any president any time. It is beyond our comprehension that Romney would conclude that the Secret Service failings are the responsibility of President Obama. Have not three Secret Service officers left the service?

Perhaps the Secret Service alleged failings are Romney's own fault? He has received Secret Service protection in recent months but only now is griping about lack of leadership. Is this not Romney's leadership failures?

Bookstock patron wins Al Kaline baseball for grandma

Sarah Flathers of Garden City won a baseball autographed by Detroit Tigers Hall of Famer Al Kaline at Bookstock held April 22-29 at Laurel Park Place mall in Livonia.

Flathers entered the raffle for her grandmother, Alice Miller of Garden City, who is a huge Tigers fan. Her grandmother has debilitating arthritis and cannot easily travel away from home.

The raffle was open to anyone who spent $25 or more at Bookstock's Bookbuster events held 3-9 p.m. Wednesday, April 25, and Thursday, April 26. During the Bookbuster events, book lovers could buy three books and get the fourth free.

Flathers was given the baseball during a presentation Sunday, the last day of Bookstock.

Bookstock is Metro Detroit's largest used book and media sale, where all proceeds benefit literacy and education projects in metropolitan Detroit. It is sponsored by the Oakland Literacy Council, Detroit Jewish News, Hour Detroit Magazine, Schostak Brothers and Company, the Jewish Community Relations Council, and a consortium of Jewish communal non-profit organizations that support education and literacy projects throughout metro Detroit.

Bookstock experienced more than a 20 percent increase in sales this year, said Beverly K. Phillips, assistant director, public relations, for the Jewish Community Relations Council.

Over the past nine years, Bookstock has generated more than $655,000 for literacy and education programs throughout Oakland County and Detroit.

Observerland teams chase Shamrocks

42nd Relays at Churchill

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

It's the 42nd renewal of the Observerland Boys Track and Field Relays, which happens to coincide with the 138th running of the Kentucky Derby.

And the question begs: Is it going to be a one-horse race again under the lights Saturday night at Livonia Churchill?

Novi Detroit Catholic Central is gunning for its fourth straight team title after running away with it a year ago when the Shamrocks scored 114 points.

Farmington (61), Canton (57) and Livonia Stevenson (52) were the next three finishers, but well off of CC's pace.

The Shamrocks remains the favorite, but could this year's field appears tougher to handicap.

"We're struggling because we lost those sprinters and distance kids from last year, plus our good miler, Jonathan Malone, is going to a graduation for his sister out west," CC coach Tony Magni said. "He won't be there and he's a 4:25 miler. He'd run four events, so we'll lose a lot of points there. Without him we're struggling to put relays together."

"I really don't know who's good in the Observerland area. What's going to help us is our field events — shot put, discus, high jump and long jump."

Even without Malone, who

MU baseball splits finale

The Madonna University baseball team wound up in third place in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference after splitting a Senior Day double-header Saturday at Ilitch Ballpark against Northwestern Ohio.

MU (34-18, 18-9) took the opener, 9-5, as Steve Pelletier went 3-for-5 with four RBI and Dan Harder 3-for-5 with two RBI. Aaron Saarela (4-5), who pitched four innings in middle relief, got the victory.

In Game Two, Cesar Loiz went 3-for-3 and Fabrian Placencia went 2-for-4 with two RBI as the Racers (31-21, 15-13) earned a 9-7 victory. Spencer Sarel paced MU with three hits, while Randall Stempek (1-2) took the loss in relief.

MU honored its five seniors included Billy Hardin III (Livonia), Garrett Reban (Plymouth), Drew Adamiec, Andy Omilian and Harder.

Pitcher Jeremy Gooding (Livonia) was also named WHAC Pitcher of the Week after notching his school-record 24th career win in a 7-0 shut-out April 21 vs. Indiana Tech.

MU opened the WHAC playoffs Wednesday at Siena Heights against Davenport.

Crusaders sweep to claim title share

The Madonna University women's softball team sent its 2012 senior class out in style Sunday.

The Crusaders, who honored Hallie Minch (Garden City) and Kiley Thornton (Ida), swept Indiana Tech at home by identical 8-0 scores to clinch a share of the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference regular season championship for the fourth time in the last five years.

MU improved to 29-12 overall and 11-3 in the WHAC to tie Davenport for the title.

Minch and Thornton were honored for their contributions and dedication to the program during a ceremony between games of the double-header at University Field.

COLLEGE SOFTBALL

In the opener, Jackie Barley belted a two-run double and Minch clubbed a three-run homer — her first of the season — in the five-inning mercy.

Minch finished with four RBI, while Erin Mayes also went 2-for-3 with two RBI.

Minch (12-9) also earned the victory on the mound, allowing just four hits, one walk and striking out seven in five innings. She was also named WHAC Player of the Week.

Sam Berrios (14-16) suffered the loss for the Warriors.

In the second game, freshman Angie Pavlanis threw a complete game, scattering four hits and striking out four and not allowing a walk in improving her season record to 15-3.

Nine different Crusaders collected hits with Kristen Drabek, Caitlyn Keuvelaar and Amber Rafko each homering during the victory.

Tiffany Vance (2-2) suffered the loss for Tech, giving up seven runs in her three innings of work. Jessica Cotton led the Warriors (24-32, 6-8) with two hits in the finale.

The Crusaders will be opening the WHAC playoffs 3 p.m. Thursday against Siena Heights University at Battle Creek's Bailey Park with a berth to the NAIA Nationals at stake in the double-elimination tourney.

Round 1: Blazers deadlock Marian

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

It appears Livonia Ladywood and Birmingham Marian will be inner twined for much of the 2012 girls soccer season.

The first out of a possible four matches

GIRLS SOCCER between the second- and third-ranked teams in Division 2 ended in a 1-1 draw Saturday night at Marian.

Ladywood stands 12-0-2 overall and 6-0-1 in the Catholic League, while Marian is 8-1-1 and 6-0-1 as well.

Ladywood's lone goal came with 9:06 left in the first half when senior Paige Brennan launched a low-grounder off a corner kick onto the awaiting foot of junior Shelby Walsh, who made no mistake.

It was Brennan's 18th assist of the year and Walsh's second goal of the season.

Marian junior Catherine Anger answered with 26:17 left in the match when she launched a laser shot off a direct free kick off a right angle from 30 yards out.

Ladywood, however, hit two crossbars during the opening half and Marian goalkeeper Makenzie Larson made two point-blank saves on Ladywood senior forward Kelly Capoccia in each half to preserve the deadlock.

MSU track athletes star

Four former Observerland standouts enjoyed a highly productive weekend for the Michigan State women's and men's track and field squads.

Sophomore Sara Kroll (Livonia Churchill) placed second in the College Women's 5,000-meter championship Thursday at the Penn Relays in Philadelphia by smashing her previous career best of 16:40.38 with a clocking of 16:16.52.

MSU senior Robyn Whalen (Livonia Franklin) captured the discus event with a throw of 44.82 meters (147 feet) Saturday at the Lyle Bennett Open hosted by Central Michigan University.

At the Hillsdale College Gina Relays on Friday, MSU junior Rachel McFarlane (Churchill) set a personal best in the 1,500 run (4:30.0) en route to a fourth-place finish.

MSU's Derik Peterman placed third at the Bennett Open in men's pole vault by clearing 16-1.25.

Texans strike oil with Glenn grad Martin

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Keshawn Martin may have to get accustomed to wearing cowboy boots or a 10-gallon hat, but the Westland John Glenn High grad hopes to become a great fit in a Houston Texans uniform.

The 5-foot-11, 188-pound receiver and kicker returned from Michigan State got the call early Saturday afternoon as the 121st pick overall during the fourth round of the NFL Draft.

Martin, an honorable mention All-Big Ten selection last season, ran a 4.45 40-yard dash and had a 39.5-inch vertical jump at the NFL Scouting Combine.

"I really can't remember, but I don't think that I talked to the Texans at all," Martin told HoustonTexans.com. "I don't think I talked to them at the Combine, and I haven't talked to them at all. It's such a sur-that. I'm just so happy, I'm lost for words right now."

The speedy Martin, a converted high school quarterback at John Glenn who caught the eye of NCAA Division I college coaches midway through his senior year, capped a highly productive four-year career at MSU with 66 catches and 776 receiving yards in 2011, including 445 yards after the catch.

"He's an outstanding player with the ball in his arms," Texans wide receivers coach Larry Kirksey told HoustonTexans.com. "We like the way that he plays the game. He has route-running skills where he can escape the line of scrimmage and elude defenders, and I like his playing strength. He's a dynamic player that we think will come in and compete and hopefully run after the catch, which has been down in the last couple of years, and improve that and make us a better football team."

Martin's versatility made him attractive to

St. Gen ace hurls 'no-no'

Evan "Bull" Bradford, a fourth-grader at Livonia's Hoover Elementary, struck out 14 of the 19 batters he faced Sunday en route to a no-hitter as the St. Genevieve boys JV II defeated rival St. Michael's, 10-0, in a Catholic Youth Organization baseball game at Rotary Park.

Bradford did not allow a ball out of the infield and threw a total of 62 pitches, including 19 first-pitch strikes. He walked five.

Bradford helped his own cause by hitting a pair of 3-run homers as St. Genevieve improved to 4-2 in the CYO.

On the season, Bradford (3-0) has pitched 14 innings with 40 strikeouts. He also catches and plays first base.

Franklin hockey hires new coach

Alum Gagnon takes reins

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Dennis Gagnon is the new man to try and turn around Livonia Franklin's fortunes in boys hockey.

The 49-year-old Gagnon, a 1981 Franklin grad and prep teammate of former Michigan State standout and former NHL player Mike Donnelly, was named the Patriots' new varsity coach last week by athletic director Ron Hammye.

"I'm honored and excited for the privilege to coach high school athletics again," said Gagnon, who spent eight years (1998-2004) as an assistant under (Franklin grad) Dan Phelps at Novi. "I'm looking forward to instilling my desire to compete, my will to win and my love of the game to my players. I can't ask to be put in a better position at this point in my life."

Gagnon replaces Scott Wirgau, who resigned following the 2011-12 season after going 7-17-1. Wirgau, also a Franklin grad, posted an overall record of 26-82-9 during his five seasons with the Patriots.

"I'm hoping we'll be competitive," said Gagnon, who coached most recently with the Junior A Michigan Ice Dogs (2007-09). "I know the program has been down for awhile and hasn't seen much success on the ice, although off the ice, the kids have done very well."

"But I'm excited to hopefully get some success on the ice. We have a good group of returning players. There's some players who haven't played high school for a few years that might be coming back to play. There's a lot of excitement in the school and amongst the kids."

"Again, I'm just honored to be a part of it. I'd like to thank coach Wirgau and coach (Ryan) Tracy for their dedication to the program. They do have some processes in place to lead to the long term success of our hockey program."

Gagnon, who owns Utility Research, Inc., in Westland, was one of four finalists Hammye interviewed for the job.

"It was his experience working with high school level kids and his passion for the game," the Franklin A.D. said. "I think having his roots at Franklin High School, he wants to see the program continue to move forward and see what he can do to help develop kids. He talked about not just being a hockey coach, but being a life coach."

Gagnon, who played under Jerry Shields at Franklin, remains an active hockey player in the adult leagues.

The new coach plans incorporate a number of different wrinkles as far as playing style with the Patriots.

"We'll be aggressive," Gagnon said. "I run a couple of different fore-checks, maybe three different sets on the power play. I like to block shots, finish checks. I like my guys to play with heart and toughness. I like them to stay out of the box and not retaliate. I got a big thing against retaliation penalties. To me that's a lack of toughness and something I don't like to see."

Pats, Churchill draw, 1-1

Livonia Franklin girls soccer coach Dean Kowalski had plenty to be pleased about despite settling for a 1-1 draw Monday night at home against rival Livonia Churchill.

The Patriots took a 1-0 lead into the final two minutes before Churchill's Kelsey Parinello tallied the equalizer off an assist from freshman Erin Emmanuel, who was a standout in the midfield the entire game for the Chargers.

Franklin had taken a 1-0 advantage with 30 minutes remaining on Jane Modes' goal from Michelle Tuyo.

"I'm happy with the effort," said Kowalski, whose team is 2-4-3 overall and 0-2-2 in the KLAA's South Division. "The last four games we've stressed being organized and playing with toughness and we finally brought it. We hope to keep it going."

Franklin goalkeeper Alexis Smith made nine saves for the Patriots, while Alexis Tzfarfarglou went all the way in goal for the Chargers (2-3-4, 2-1-2).

"They (Franklin) played hard and worked hard centrally," Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit said. "They played organized and they were aggressive winning 50-50 balls."

"We didn't show up. It was a little bit of a let-down. It was a case again of Jekyll and Hyde."

CVILLE 4, HARPER WOODS 0: Junior Ashley Murphy's hat trick carried Livonia Clarenceville (2-7-2) to a victory Tuesday over the host Pioneers (3-3-1).

Alessia Giammarco also scored a goal for the Trojans, who led 2-0 at halftime. Sadie Zachos chipped in with two assists.

Goalkeepers Rachel Kirschweg and Jillian Bunker combined on the shutout with solid defensive help from Megan Strachan and Summer Reddick.

LADYWOOD 3, REGINA 0: Livonia Ladywood (13-0-2, 7-0-1) remained tied for first place in the Catholic League's Central Division with a win Tuesday at Warren Regina (0-9-1, 0-8).

Erin Cronyn notched her 11th goal of the season in the 23rd minute from Abby Pelon and Emily Huddleston added her sixth at the 60-minute mark with Paige Brennan collecting her 19th assist. Pelon capped the scoring 11 minutes later with her third of the year from Carlee Faber.

"We have never had much luck on that field," Ladywood coach Ken Shingledecker said. "I think we have tied four years in a row at their place. So for us to come out and get three on them tonight was great." Ladywood goalkeepers Sara Even and Whitney Bauriedl combined for four saves and the shutout.

"Catherine Garber was very solid for us," Shingledecker said. "She did a nice job anchoring our back line again tonight."

Taylor Marchin made seven stops for the Saddledlites. ST. MARY CC 4, C'VILLE 1: Kala Peto's hat trick propelled Monroe St. Mary Catholic Central (4-3-2) to a victory Monday over visiting Livonia Clarenceville (1-7-2). The Kestrels, who also got a goal from Maddie LaPrad, took a 2-0 halftime lead.

Ashley Murphy's unassisted second-half goal averted the shutout for the Trojans, who welcomed back center-midfielder Brianna Terri-Cesarz after she was cleared to play following brain surgery.

Goalkeeper Rachel Kirschweg made nine saves in the setback.

ATHENS 4, STEVENSON 2: Liz Abro provided the scoring and headed home the game-winner enabling Troy Athens (4-3) to earn a non-conference win Saturday at Livonia Stevenson (5-3).

Abby Urso scored for the Spartans during the opening half, while Carlin O'Malley added a goal in the 52nd minute to put Stevenson on top, 2-1, before the Redhaws answered with three straight goals.

Harvey's slam propels Stevenson past Canton

Travis Harvey came ready to hit Tuesday when Livonia Stevenson's KLAA Kensington Conference baseball game resumed after play was suspended from Monday in the top of the third inning at Canton.

The junior took the first pitch and cleared the left field fence for a grand slam and a 5-0 lead as the Spartans went on to post an impressive 8-0 victory.

Senior right-hander Chris McDonald, facing just 23 batters, threw a two-hit shutout as he struck out nine and walked only one in seven innings of work.

Harvey went 2-for-4 with five RBI, while Mike Vomastek and Nick Lagerstrom each added two hits and an RBI as the state-ranked Spartans improved to 13-2 overall and 7-0 in the KLAA's Central Division.

Canton starter Michael

KLAA BASEBALL

Stafford was charged with four runs on two hits and two walks in 2.1 innings.

Ryan Bazner went 2-for-2 as the Chiefs dropped to 9-5 overall and 3-4 in the KLAA's South Division.

WAYNE 10, S.L. EAST 2: Zach Lankton pitched a gem for five innings Monday as visiting Wayne Memorial (9-6, 2-2) downed South Lyon East (4-5, 2-3) in a rain-abbreviated Kensington Conference crossover.

Lankton, a senior left-hander, got credit for a no-hit as he struck out seven and walked only one.

East scored its lone two runs in the second off Lankton on a Wayne throwing error followed by a sacrifice fly.

Tyler Harnos, Tyler McCurry, Jacob Lefler, Chris Briggs and Josh Lowry each collected two hits and one RBI apiece for Wayne, which scored three times in the first, one in the second and three more each in the third and fourth innings.

Andrew Weaver, who gave up 10 runs over 3.1 innings, suffered the loss for the Cougars.

In Saturday's New Boston Huron Invitational, Garden City downed the Zebras, 12-7.

GLENN 1, SOUTH LYON 0: Brandon Smeltzer threw a three-hitter over five innings Monday as host Westland John Glenn (4-10, 1-5) nipped the Lions (2-10, 2-5) in a rain-shortened game.

Smeltzer struck out four and did not allow a walk.

Glenn tallied its lone run when Daniel Ammons and Smeltzer each singled before Ammons came home on a fielders choice by Jake Fox while South Lyon was turning a double play.

NOVI 10, FRANKLIN 3: Tyler Schwanz went 4-for-5 with two RBI to pace a 17-hit attack Monday as the host Wildcats (6-6, 1-4) routed Livonia Franklin (7-5, 2-3) in a Kensington Conference crossover.

Logan Regnier also went 2-for-4 with two RBI to help support the three-hit pitching of Ryan Davis, who struck out three and walked three in the five-inning mercy.

Franklin starter Joe Barczuk, who also went five innings, took the loss.

Kevin Nisun, Barczuk and Alex DeYonker collected the lone Patriot hits.

South stings Spartans in tournament

A no-hitter – although it was the abbreviated version – highlighted Livonia Stevenson's 2-1 showing in Saturday's Grosse Pointe South Invitational baseball tournament.

The ninth-ranked Spartans, 12-2 overall, bounced back from an opening-round 7-1 loss to the host Blue Devils to beat St. Clair Shores Lake Shore, 5-2, and Warren Woods Tower, 15-0, as pitcher Jason Rakowicz struck out four and walked five in four innings.

South (11-5) got a four-hitter from Matt Temrowski to beat Stevenson in the first game. He struck out five and walked two.

Cam Gibson, headed to Michigan State and son of former Tiger and current Arizona Diamondbacks manager Kirk Gibson, had a double homer and three RBI to lead the Blue Devils.

Carmen Benedetti also went 2-for-2 with a homer and two runs as Stevenson starter Nick Lagerstrom took the loss.

Mike Vomastek went 2-for-3 and Mike Kanitra drove the Spartans' lone run.

In Stevenson's win over

Lake Shore (8-4), Josh DeYonker went 3-for-3 with two runs scored and Travis Harvey added a double, triple and three RBI.

Other top Stevenson hitters included Matt Hunt (2-for-2, two runs) and Vomastek (two RBI).

Cody Coleman, who pitched 2.2 innings of scoreless relief of starter Justin Small, got the victory.

Lake Shores' John Brown, who took the loss, went 2-for-3.

Harvey went 3-for-3 with a double and three RBI in the mercy rule win over Woods Tower (10-7).

Other top hitters for the Spartans included Alex Anderson (2-for-2, three RBI); Lagerstrom (2-for-3, RBI); Rodney Bies (2-for-3); Mike Barill and Chris McDonald (two RBI each).

CVILLE 11-0, THURSTON 1-1: On Saturday, host Livonia Clarenceville (6-6) and Redford Thurston (3-12) divided a twinbill.

Damien Sanchez pitched a five-hitter and Damien Quarles went 3-for-3 with an RBI as Clarenceville won the opener in six innings, 11-0.

Sanchez struck out nine and walked three, while Thurston starter Seth Pawloski took the loss.

Other top hitters for the Trojans included Tyler Weed (2-for-4, three RBI); Ben Gehan

(2-for-4, RBI); and Mikey Weiss (two hits).

Robert Shelton and David Dudenas each collected two hits for the Eagles, who committed nine errors.

In the nightcap, Thurston's Zach Kniffen blanked Clarenceville on six hits in an 11-0 five-inning mercy.

Kniffen struck out five and walked only two.

Zach Pawloski went 2-for-3 with a double and three RBI to paced Thurston's eight-hit attack. Kniffen also went 2-for-2 with three RBI.

Weed, the Clarenceville starter, was roughed up for eight earned runs on six hits and five walks in 2.1 innings. The Trojans committed seven errors.

Zach Devon, Tyler Howard and Evan Gregg each had two hits in a losing cause. Devon also pitched 2.2 innings of scoreless relief striking out five and allowing no hits.

CHURCHILL 6, W.L. CENTRAL 5: Livonia Churchill (9-2) scored twice in the bottom of the eighth inning Saturday to topple visiting Walled Lake Central (9-5).

Derek Jakubowski, who went 2-for-4, walked with the bases loaded to force home the tying run and Mike Rybinski (2-for-4, RBI) scored the winning run on a wild pitch.

Alex Tsakos went 3-for-4 with two runs scored and an RBI to pace Churchill's 11-hit attack.

John Szymanski, in relief of starter Blake Burnette, pitched the final 2.2 innings to pick up the victory. Szymanski allowed one earned run on four hits.

Central's Brandon Cichocki took the loss and K.J. Schultz went 2-for-2 with two runs scored for the Vikings.

Hawks soar to 11-1 softball win

The Westland Huron Valley Lutheran girls softball team continues to make waves in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

The Hawks got no-hitter from freshman pitcher Julie St. John, while twin sister Anne went 3-for-3 with three runs scored in an 11-1 Red Division victory Tuesday at Auburn Hills Oakland Christian.

Julie St. John faced just 16 batters while striking out six and walking only one as the Hawks improved to 9-4 overall and 4-0 in the MIAC Red.

Senior Meghan Kubinski and freshman Bethany Schaffer each went 2-for-4 with four RBI apiece in the five-inning mercy.

"Our bats started strong tonight and made some good contact with the ball," Huron Valley coach Eric Ruth said. "We had some errors (three) on defense that we need to clean up. However, I was pleased with some of our head-up plays on defense, especially turning two double plays."

The loss drops Oakland Christian to 2-2 in the MIAC Red.

FRANKLIN 10, NOVI 0: Mackenzie Lukas went 2-for-3 with a 2-run homer and double Monday as host Livonia Franklin (5-3, 5-2) cruised to a five-inning mercy rule victory over the Wildcats (0-5, 0-4).

Other top hitters for the Patriots, who doubled five consecutive times in the opening inning to score four runs, included Morgan Larkin (two doubles); Katelynn Devers (two RBI); Caitlin Milican (triple); Becky Giacobbi (double, run);

and Nicole Williamson (RBI single).

Winning pitcher Tiffany Lamble (5-2) allowed just two hits, struck out three and walked one in going all five innings.

Novi starter Natalie Tarrant gave up 10 runs on nine hits and three walks in five innings.

JOHN GLENN 9, DEARBORN 8: Brittany McGrath singled home Nicole Quaine with the game-winning run in the bottom of the seventh last Friday to give host Westland John Glenn (7-7) a non-conference win over the Pioneers (4-6).

Cassandra Huren went 3-for-4 with a double, while Katelyn Barker and Danielle Saunders each drove in three runs for the victorious Rockets.

Quaine also reached base five times and scored twice.

Winning pitcher Alexis Lester struck out 10 and walked only two in going the distance.

Dearborn starter Kaitlyn Krawczyk, who walked nine and struck out four, took the loss.

Blazers pull off lacrosse upset

Livonia Ladywood earned a signature girls lacrosse victory last Friday night with a 13-12 double-overtime victory over previously unbeaten Detroit Country Day in an indoor match played in Beverly Hills.

Sophomore Megan Leon's sudden victory goal with 1:46 left in the second 6-minute OT proved to be the difference as the Blazers improved to 8-3 overall.

"We were in an overtime situation against Okemos a week ago so we knew what was ahead of us," Ladywood coach Kris Sanders said. "The girls played with tremendous heart and determination as they wanted this win very badly."

"DCD is a great team and this was their first loss."

Seniors Emma Ellswood and Alyssa Daly tallied five and three goals, respectively, for the Blazers.

"With the injury to Kylie Birney last Monday, the players are learning to play together and are stepping up to fill her shoes," Sanders said. "I couldn't have scripted a better ending to the game. It definitely was exciting for all."

Country Day (7-1) got six goals from Carly Beitman and four from Shelby Gilyard.

Ladywood junior goalie Stephanie Mackley made 10 saves, while Anneke Seeger had four for the Yellowjackets.

LADYWOOD 21, REGINA 5: Senior Emma Ellswood tallied five goals Monday to lift host Livonia Ladywood (9-3, 6-0) to a Catholic League victory over winless Warren Regina.

Senior Mary Maslak added three goals and two assists for the victorious Blazers.

Goalie Stephanie Mackley, a junior, made four saves for Ladywood.

Angeline Fisher had seven saves for the Saddlelites.

The Shamrocks are 2-0 in the Catholic League's Central Division and took third only behind state powers East Kentwood and Saline in Ypsilanti April Showers meet and fourth behind the same two teams, along with Grand Blanc, at the Jackson Invitational.

"It's going to be one of those things where we'll have to rely on some young kids — freshmen and sophomore — to come through," Magni said. "We have to depend on them to get better."

Farmington, last year's runner-up, won its ninth straight city championship and place third in Friday's 15-team North Farmington Raider Relays where a mere two points separated Milford, Birmingham Brother Rice and he Falcons.

"I was surprised we got second last year, because we had a meet a couple days after that and we limited the kids to one, no more than two events," coach Charles Bridges said. "This year they won't have the same limits as they had last year."

While still a quality team, the Falcons don't have the depth they've had in recent years, Bridges added.

The throwing and distance events have been areas of strength for Farmington. It won the discus at the Raider Relays and was fourth in the shot put (after Churchill, Rice and Salem). The Falcons were second only to Royal Oak in the 6,400-meter relay.

"We do have some good throwers (led by senior Connor Ferguson)," Bridges said. "It will probably be tough to stack up against Catholic Central. It'll be nice to see how we stack up compared to the other (17) schools there. It will be a strong event for us and a good test for the boys."

Another team to watch is Canton, which is off to a 4-0 dual meet start in the KLA's South Division. The Chiefs are led by sprinter Ryan Jones.

"I think we'll do quite well," Chiefs coach Bob Richardson said. "We've got a nice, solid lineup as long as we have everybody there. I know there are some other good teams in the area."

"If Catholic Central's there we know how tough

Tony Magni's team is. And Churchill has a good, solid team, we barely beat them in our dual meet. Livonia Stevenson won the city meet for them, they're a tough team. And then there's a few other teams I'm not really sure of that are a little further away that I don't really follow. But I think we can end up in the top five somewhere."

Stevenson, meanwhile, is 4-0 in the KLA's South Division and captured last week's closely contested Livonia City Meet where only 28 points separated Churchill, Clarenceville and Franklin.

"Like I always say it always comes down to where people have depth," Stevenson coach Scott Shaw said. "I think we can compete in a few events and hopefully we'll be alright. It depends how you can spread things team-wide and score points in just about everything. We won't be able to do as much as maybe what we've done in the past, but I think we can do well in a few events."

Despite the absence of Malone, CC still enters the starting gate with a talented cast.

"Catholic Central again is the barometer for the rest of us (in the distance runs)," Bridges said. "Our distance crew is solid, but we haven't had any of those guys develop as a frontrunner. I think this will be about their toughest test. We don't have that guy who can go out and run 4:20 or something like that, but we have four or five solid guys. I think we can score some points."

"Our sprinters are getting better. Competing against Harrison, Catholic Central and a couple other teams, we'll have to see what we can do in those areas."

Field events start at 3:30 p.m. followed by the prelims for the individual 100 and 110 hurdles at 6:30 p.m. The finals are slated to start at 7 p.m.

Admission is $5 per person.

"We've had a lot of success through the years at the Observerland, and it's one of my favorite meets," Richardson said. "You get to see everybody in the local area and that's good because we don't have dual meets against a lot of those teams."

teams, and I think a little bit of it was feeling each other out," Marian coach Barry Brodsky said. "I think in the second half it opened up a little bit."

Ladywood had the edge in shots attempted, 17-13.

Larson made eight saves, while Ladywood's Sara Even had four.

"They're very good," Brodsky said of the third-ranked Blazers.

"They have a lot of good players. I thought we had some very good chances and they had some very good chances. It depends on who finishes. They finished one and we finished one."

Ladywood coach Ken Shingledecker was pleased with his team's play throughout the match.

"We did exactly what we do, which is press you for 80 minutes, but we've been finishing those chances all season long," Shingledecker said of the missed opportunities. "It just didn't happen today. It's just round one with this team (Marian). It is what it is. It's a result on the road, in the conference, against No. 2 team in the state."

The first meeting proved to be somewhat of a cat-and-mouse affair.

"I think we both bring something to the game," Shingledecker said. "I think neither team has seen something as far as what they bring to the attack. They (Marian) struggled a little bit out of the gate as far as what we brought. They're a championship team that comes back and pressed us a little bit in the second half. In the second half we looked a little tired and they (Marian) played well."

"We're probably going to see them a few times

With less than a minute left, Marian's Hanna Beck Sawyer streaked down the left side and slid what appeared to be the game-winning shot just inches wide from the right inside post.

"We kept that girl under control the entire game until 30 seconds left," Shingledecker said of Sawyer. "She's got a big-time left foot. She got in once, but I thought Sara (Even) did a great job to close it down. That was a little test for Sara. She's stepped up and done a nice job for us. Really, I thought, our whole backline played excellent today."

The Blazers' defense — made up of juniors Liz Danger and Catherine Garber, along with sophomores Lauren Wandzel and Marissa Ozog — held its own against Marian's potent attack.

"We're probably going to see them a few times

this year," Brodsky said. "It should be good game — two good teams."

The next meeting is set for 6 p.m. Tuesday, May 8, at Ladywood. And the way things are going, they could end up playing each other again Saturday, May 19, in the Catholic League finals.

"Up until this point we've been able to do that job of putting the ball in the goal, and today wasn't the day, but we just move on," Shingledecker said. "Again, we could play this team four times this year. It's just round one. We learned a lot about ourselves today. I think we've been waiting 13 games to figure out if we're the team we thought we were — and we are. Next time, we probably won't hit two or three crossbars."

State champ

Ashlinn Nightingale, a fifth-grader at Livonia's Riley Upper Elementary School, captured a pair of gold medals last weekend in the 10-and-under USA Gymnastics Michigan Trampoline and Tumbling meet hosted by the Kids Trampoline and Gymnastics Center in Grand Rapids. Nightingale garnered firsts in both double-mini and trampoline.

NFL scouts after demonstrating at MSU that he could play both the slot and wide receiver position, as well as return kicks and punts.

He ranks second in Michigan State history in punt return yards (659), eighth in kick return yards (1,100) and 10th in all-purpose yards (4,013).

He added 64 carries for 540 rushing yards (8.4 average) and scored a touchdown rushing, receiving, passing and as a punt returner and kick returner.

"I'm just a fast, quick type of receiver, also can do punt and kick returns," Martin told the Texans web site. "I feel like I got good route-running ability. When I was in college, I liked to compare myself to a Percy Harvin-type of player that could make those big plays for the team and really help the team out."

Martin will also get the chance to perform along side one of the NFL's premier receivers in Andre Johnson.

"It'll be great just playing with a guy of his caliber, just going in there and learning from him and being hopeful that one day, I'll get my chance to be the type of player that he is," Martin said.

Martin, who figured to go somewhere between the third to fifth rounds, was among six MSU players drafted including Jerel Worthy (Green Bay), Kirk Cousins (Redskins), B.J. Cunningham (Dolphins), Trenton Robinson (49ers) and Edwin Baker (Chargers).

"The first thing I feel I've got to work is just getting used to the system, playbook, everything like that, and just getting my hands, not looking up the field too early, just really concentrating and focusing on the ball," Martin said. "Then, once I get the ball in my hands, I'll feel like I'll already have the ability to play in the NFL."

Music makes Green Street a well-rounded festival

By Sharon Dargay
O&E Staff Writer

Visitors to the Green Street Fair will hear a wide range of music — from rock to reggae to folk — this weekend in downtown Plymouth.

The Verve Pipe will headline the three-day schedule, performing Saturday on the Eco-Beats stage.

"Every year the line-up is different," said Raychel Rork, one of the festival organizers. "We want to make it family friendly ... festival friendly."

Organizers work with Eco-Beats Stage sponsors 93.9 The River and 107.1 FM to find a variety of bands that also jibe with the radio stations' demographics.

Being "green" isn't necessarily a prerequisite.

"It's not that we want them to get up there and sing about recycling," Rork said. "What's important for us is that it's appropriate for the fair."

The Applesseed Collective, an Ann Arbor-based band, is a perfect fit on several levels.

"It makes a lot of sense for us. It's a great festival and it focuses on things we're interested in," said Katie Lee, a Beverly Hills native.

Supporting farmers

The band, which formed nearly two years ago, pledged the profits from the first run of its debut studio CD, Baby to Beast, to nonprofit Selma Cafe in Ann Arbor. The CD is being sold on the band's website after a "soft" release in March. It features Andrew Brown on guitar, Sophie Tulip on upright bass, Brandon Smith on violin and mandolin, Vince Russo on washboard (outfitted with bells and cymbals), and kick drum, and Lee on banjo.

The Applesseed Collective of Ann Arbor will bring its Americana folk jazz sound to the Green Street Fair in Plymouth.

The band got its start playing Friday mornings at the cafe, which is located in the home of an Ann Arbor couple dedicated to developing and supporting local food production. Proceeds from the weekly Friday breakfasts help fund the construction of hoop-houses that enable farmers to extend their growing season.

"We've always been interested in supporting the local food community," Lee said. "And it seemed like a natural fit to work with Green Street. We also just picked up an ecological festival (gig) in Ann Arbor."

Busking on tour

While touring, the band fits street performing into its schedule of festivals and concerts.

"It's a good way to connect with the community," Lee said. "We've done that on all of our tours."

The band performs mostly original songs with some cover tunes that Lee describes as "old-timey."

"It's cool to reach out to a wide range of ages in our music. Older people recognize the songs and younger people appreciate it as different from what they normally would listen to. There's nothing quite like what we do."

She calls the genre "Americana folk jazz" with country and other musical influences.

Lee performed at the Green Street Fair in the past as a solo artist. The Applesseed Collective will make its Green Street Fair debut on Sunday.

First time

That same day on the Eco-Beats stage, The Kids Who Cried Wolf, will make its first public appearance. Mat Buie hopes the Fair will be a big break for the group.

"This will be our very first gig. I hope it will get

FUN AT THE GREEN STREET FAIR

In addition to music and food, check out these other highlights of the Green Street Fair in downtown Plymouth:

- Visit a garden made of recycled materials in the heart of Kellogg Park. Visitors can contribute by constructing gardens and greenhouses out of recycled materials, such as cardboard, foam, and plastic bottles. Children and adults can create their own flowers and vegetables to "plant" in the garden.
 - Meet the birds of prey, such as falcons, hawks, owls, eagles and vultures, at the Leslie Science and Nature Center display.
 - Help construct a "Flip Your Lid Mural" and take a look at the over-sized birds scattered around the park. Students from Field Elementary School in Canton created the birds with collected plastic lids.
 - A petting farm with a miniature horse, miniature donkey, goats, sheep, a calf, alpaca, bunnies and ducks, will be set up in the park.
 - Donate gently-used clothing, shoes, toys, books and household items to IICD, a nonprofit organization. Its booth will be located on Penniman between Harvey and Main.
 - Browse dozens of vendor booths with products for the home, closet, health and beauty, backyard, and pantry. Eco art and fair trade items will be on display and nonprofit organizations, such as VegMichigan, Cass Community Social Services and Michigan Industrial Hemp Education will be on hand.
- The fair runs noon-7 p.m. Friday, May 4, 10 a.m.-7 p.m. Saturday, May 5, and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday, May 6, in downtown Plymouth.

us known," he said.

The Northville High School sophomore plays bass and sings lead for the band that also includes his cousin, Spencer Hall of Northville, on lead guitar, Kaley Ross of Plymouth on rhythm guitar and Chaiya Sirgany of Plymouth on drums. Spencer, Kaley and Chaiya are all eighth graders, Mat said.

We can't count them out because they are young," Rork noted. "A lot of amazing bands met in high school."

Mat said a mutual interest in the same kinds of music compelled the group to form their own band last year.

"Our set list for Green Street Fair is half cover and half originals. Almost everyone in the band writes music."

He describes their sound as alternative but with elements of classic rock. Black Eyed Peas, Pink Floyd, Led Zeppelin, White Stripes and Green Day are among their favorite bands. Mat said The Kids Who Cried Wolf is influenced by some of those bands, especially Black Eyed Peas.

"Our sound may be similar to those bands, but our sound is also unique to us."

Three sisters, Mallory Magno (left) and Mae Sacdalan, both of Warren, and Melissa Mosley of Livonia, have fun baking vegan cupcakes. They turned their passion for tasty vegan foods into a company, Sweet Magnolias Vegan Cupcakes.

Sample vegan cupcakes at Green Street Fair

By Sharon Dargay
O&E Staff Writer

Mae Sacdalan and her sisters, Melissa Mosley and Mallory Magno are on a mission to change the world "one sweet step at a time."

Since launching Sweet Magnolias Vegan Cupcakes, they've gained a loyal following for their made-from-scratch, organic, "cholesterol free, cruelty free and oober yummy" treats.

"We just did a show at the Suburban Collection — VegFest. We sold out of all the double chocolate. People were trying to buy our display cupcakes," said Sacdalan, who describes their most popular cupcake flavor, double chocolate as "decadent and moist."

"People can't believe it's vegan."

They'll have plenty of double chocolate, double vanilla and other flavored cupcakes on hand when they celebrate their first anniversary this weekend at the Green Street Fair in Plymouth.

Look for samples of their red velvet-flavored cupcakes on Friday, May 4, green tea and strawberry shake cupcakes on Saturday, May 5, and peanut butter banana cupcakes on Sunday, May 6. Chocolate and vanilla will be available all weekend.

They went public with their no-dairy, no-soy treats last year at the fair. It was the first time they had anyone other than work colleagues, friends or family test their vegan cupcakes.

"We kept bringing them to work. Our co-workers said 'you guys need to sell these. They taste better than regular cupcakes. Why not sign up for the Green Street Fair,'" Sacdalan recalled. "It was a hit. Ever since then we've been getting orders online."

The trio bake mostly out of Mosley's Livonia home. Mosley, the middle sister, works in purchasing at Macprofessionals in Novi, where oldest sister, Sacdalan of Warren, is employed in human resources. Magno, their younger sister, lives in Warren and works as an anesthesia aide at St. John Hospital.

Going vegan

Mosley was the first of the three to try a non-dairy, no-animal product diet. She'd offer some of her vegan lunch to Sacdalan, who began experimenting with vegan cooking and baking at home. Before long, all three sisters were not only eating a vegan diet, but baking cupcakes together as well.

"It's a lot of fun and it's nice to do something together, with the three of us. We come from a tight family," Sacdalan said, adding that their parents run a catering business.

Their father has learned to adjust his Filipino cooking to include a vegan dish or two when the family gathers together.

"We have a noodle dish that is made with chicken and different types of pork sausage. He'll substitute bean curd or tofu and vegetables."

No dairy, soy

Sacdalan suspects an increasing number of consumers, like her parents, have become familiar with the vegan diet. They understand that a vegan cupcake means it contains no animal products.

"Occasionally you get a few people who say, what's that? Are there vegetables in it? But a lot of people get it."

Their cupcakes contain no soy and no dairy ingredients. They also bake gluten-free cupcakes on request.

Visit www.sweetmagnoliascupcakes.com for ordering information. Stop by the Sweet Magnolias Vegan Cupcakes booth at Main and Penniman in downtown Plymouth.

The Green Street Fair runs noon-7 p.m. Friday, May 4; 10 a.m.-7 p.m. Saturday, May 5; and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday, May 6.

Eating vegan

ROYAL OAK — Watch the movie Forks Over Knives and sample vegan foods Thursday, May 3 at the Landmark Main Art Theatre, 118 N. Main, at 11 Mile. The food tasting runs from 6-7 p.m. and the movie and Q&A run from 7:10-9:30 p.m. Dr. Joel Kahn, a Detroit Medical Center cardiologist, MD, chef/author George Vutetakis, a woman who cured her cancer by going vegan, and raw chef/nutritionist/Heal Yourself Institute founder Andrea McNinch, will be on hand for the Q&A. The film chronicles the journeys of Dr. T. Colin Campbell, a nutritional scientist from Cornell University, and Dr. Caldwell Esselstyn, Jr., a former surgeon at the world-renowned Cleveland Clinic. Long before they met, both men conducted groundbreaking studies and their research led them to the same profound conclusion: Degenerative diseases such as heart disease, type 2 diabetes, and even several forms of cancer could almost always be prevented, and in many cases reversed, by eating a whole-food, plant-based diet. Tickets are $15 for the food tasting and movie, or $5 for the movie only. To buy tickets for the tasting, visit regenerationraw.com. Individual movie tickets are on sale at the Main Art Theatre box office and website, landmarktheatres.com/market/detroit/mainarttheatre.

Exterior upgrades go a long way in boosting home values

By Julie Brown
O&E Staff Writer

Tony Schippa, Coldwell Banker Preferred of Plymouth Realtor, agrees with a recent National Association of Realtors report.

Schippa is president of the Greater Metropolitan Association of Realtors and has 12 years in the business. The NAR report found in remodeling, exterior replacement projects have routinely rewarded homeowners with more bang for their buck.

"I believe they do pay off," Schippa said. He tells his clients to look at numbers, with the highest, the kitchen, at 76 percent.

"It does help," he said, noting even landscaping makes a difference in curb appeal.

"You get a good company that comes in, they'll take what you have and dress it up." He took down an evergreen at his family home.

"It just opened up the look of the house" in downtown Plymouth.

With warm weather this spring, his neighbors have been out sprucing up their yards. "I think a lot of people just like being outside. When one starts, it just spreads like wildfire."

Friendly feel

That's the draw of towns like Plymouth, Schippa said, with people who like to know their neighbors.

For a remodeling project, do your homework, he recommended. "They don't really go into the full depth of what it takes," on HGTV. You should shop for all materials and factor in costs.

"You always want to overbudget. I think that's a lot of stuff people don't really think of. Always best to overbudget instead of underbudget. And pick out what you're going to like."

Some people don't care for granite in a kitchen, as it's hard to maintain whereas some older traditional styles don't have those issues. Concrete can be good and durable for countertops, he said. "Make sure you pick out what you like."

Big ticket items help in resale value. "The kitchen is always the highest return," he said. "Any agent has access to that information to assist their client."

According to the NAR report, Realtors recently rated many exterior improvements as among the most valuable home investment projects as part of the 2011-12 Remodeling Cost vs. Value Report.

"This year's Remodeling Cost vs. Value Report shows the value of putting your home's best façade forward, so to speak," said National Association of Realtors President Moe Veisi in a statement. "Inexpensive exterior replacement projects are not only crucial to a home's regular upkeep, but are also expected to recoup close to 70 percent of costs. Specific exterior projects such as siding, window and door replacements are part of regular home maintenance, so many homeowners are already undertaking them. These projects also do not require expensive materials and they have the added bonus of instantly adding curb appeal."

HouseLogic.com, NAR's consumer website, includes dozens of remodeling projects, from kitchens and baths to siding replacements, which indicate the recouped value of the project based on a national average. According to the Cost vs. Value, seven of the top 10 most cost-effective projects nationally in terms of value recouped are exterior replacement projects. Realtors judged an upscale fiber-cement siding replacement as the project expected to return the most money, with an estimated 78 percent of costs recouped upon resale.

More winners

Two additional siding replacement projects were in the top 10, including foam-backed vinyl siding, expected to return 69.6 percent of costs, and upscale vinyl siding, expected to recoup 69.5 percent of costs. Three door replacements were also among the top exterior replacement projects. The steel entry door replacement is the least expensive project in the report, costing little more than $1,200 on average and expected to recoup 73 percent of costs.

The upscale garage door replacement jumped seven spots to No. 6 this year, primarily due to the average cost of the project declining more than 15 percent nationally. The upscale and midrange garage door replacement projects are expected to return more than 71 percent of costs. One window replacement project — upscale vinyl — rounded out the last exterior replacement project in the top 10, expected to recoup 69.1 percent of costs.

The 2011-12 Remodeling Cost vs. Value Report compares construction costs with resale values for 35 midrange and upscale remodeling projects comprising additions, remodels and replacements in 80 markets across the country. Data are grouped in nine U.S. regions, following the divisions established by the U.S. Census Bureau. This is the 14th consecutive year that the report, which is produced by Remodeling magazine publisher Hanley Wood, LLC, was completed in cooperation with NAR. Realtors provided their insight into local markets and buyer home preferences within those markets. Overall, Realtors estimated that homeowners would recoup an average of 57.7 percent of their investment in 35 different improvement projects, down from an average of 60 percent last year. Due to a weak economy, high unemployment in the construction industry and the increasing cost of materials, the price of remodeling projects has risen, leaving many homeowners hesitant to tackle projects or encouraging them to scale back on their plans.

Three interior remodeling projects are also considered worthwhile investments. A mid-range attic bedroom is expected to return 72.5 percent of costs upon resale; of all the projects in the report, it is the least expensive way to add a bedroom and bathroom within a home's existing footprint.

A minor kitchen remodel, expected to return 72.1 percent of costs, is fourth overall, ranking two places higher than last year. Nationally, the average cost for the project is just under $20,000 and is the least expensive way to give an existing kitchen a complete facelift. A wood deck addition, landing at number seven overall, is expected to recoup 70.1 percent of costs. Improvement projects that are expected to return the least are a sunroom addition and a home office remodel, both estimated to recoup less than 46 percent of costs.

'Good time to buy'

Plymouth's Schippa sees the local market turning around. "It's a good time to buy. We've got a shortage of inventory, especially in the Plymouth-Canton-Northville area. Interest rates are at a historic low."

If you're renting for $1,000 or more a month, it pays to buy. "You're investing in yourself rather than your landlord," Schippa said.

Results of the report are summarized on HouseLogic.com. The website includes a wide variety of ideas and projects to help homeowners maintain, enhance and improve the value of their homes. To read the full project descriptions and access national and regional project data, visit www.costvsvalue.com. "Cost vs. Value" is a registered trademark of Hanley Wood, LLC.

Review contracts, heed attorney's advice

By Robert Meisner
Guest Columnist

Q: We had a condominium management company that we think inflated the bills that we received from a contractor who turned out to be unlicensed. When we confronted the management company about the bills and the unlicensed contractor, the management company quit. What do you recommend?

A: I recommend that you consult an attorney about suing the management company and the contractor. It would appear that the management company may well have gotten kickbacks, or, at the very least, was not operating in the best interests of the association.

I would also ensure in the future that any contract be reviewed by the Board of

Robert Meisner

Directors in detail with competitive bids and that the association's attorney be completely independent of the management company.

Q: The condominium management company has told our board that they have a lawyer that we can use to handle our association affairs. Their lawyer, we now find out, happens to be the lawyer that they always push on condominium associations and we have no fee agreement with him. He merely bills us, apparently, whenever we need legal advice. He also reviewed the management contract that we have with the management company. Some of the board members are concerned about this arrangement. What do you think?

A: There is a practice among certain management companies to push attorneys on associations with whom they have a "special relationship." They tell the somewhat naïve board that they have an attorney that can assist their association, presumably, at less of a cost. In reality, the association itself should retain an attorney who is totally independent of the management company and is not financially beholden to it. The association should have a written fee agreement with the attorney and should be in a position to be assured that if there is a dispute between the association and the management company, the attorney will assist the association in any dispute including litigation. My recommendation would be to fire the management company and the attorney that, apparently, are in bed with each other.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
