Mayor makes appointments

The Westland City Council recently confirmed the reappointment of Robert Fritz and Steve Smith and the appointment of Rick Gowan to the Building Authority. All three appointments are for six-year terms. Fritz, a longtime Westland resident and former Westland building director, has served on the Building Authority since March 2007.

Smith is the city's finance director. He has also served on the Building Authority since March 2007.

Gowan is a Westland resident and city employee who currently works in the Community Development/Housing Department.

The Building Authority is a three-member board that issues bonds to pay for construction of municipal buildings.

W-W expands schools of choice to K-11 program

By Sue Mason Staff Writer

Vowing to provide all children with a quality education, the Wayne-Westland school board Monday evening voted to expand the district's schools of choice program to include grades nine-11. The board voted 6-0, with board Vice President John Goci abstaining, to change to a K-11 program with limited schools of choice for its two high schools — John Glenn in Westland and Wayne Memorial in Wayne.

Goci had hoped to have the recommendation tabled and brought before the board at a special meeting to allow for an "open discussion" with the community.

"I'd like to have more information on this before we vote," Goci said. "I'd like to know how other communities are going to feel about this. I've heard from the community and they're not happy about this. I haven't heard from anyone who is."

"All the districts around us have been marketing themselves, the competition for children has become fierce," said

School Superintendent Greg Baracy. "They're recruiting from other districts because of funding. We have to be competitive."

The district currently offers intra-county schools of choice for its K-8 program. That will grow to include ninth- through 11th-grades as of the 2013-14 school year. Enrollment will be limited at the high school level with 100 slots available at the two schools.

Good for district

Baracy said expanding schools of choice would be good for the district in that the new students would bring in needed revenue and help maintain current programs.

W-W seniors pack for Kindergarten Roundup

By Sue Mason Staff Writer

Henry Ford may have invented the assembly line, but the seniors at Wayne-Westland's Dyer Center have perfected it.

For more than 10 years, senior volunteers have gathered at the center to fill backpacks that are given out to youngsters during the district's annual Kindergarten Roundup. From unzipping and filling them with such things as crayons, glue sticks, worksheets and books to quality control, they spent the morning assembling 1,200 backpacks for the annual event. Their pay was a free lunch.

"Remember, this isn't a competition," said Dyer Center Director Mary Browe. "It's not who gets done first or who can hold how many bags."

WHAT'S NEEDED

Parents who attend the Wayne-Westland's Kindergarten Roundup, 9-10 a.m. Tuesday, March 26, will need to bring a few things with them to register their child.

In addition to bringing their child, who'll get to tour the school, meet the teachers and visit the classrooms, parents will need to have:

- Their child's original birth certificate.
- An up-to-date record of the child's immunizations.
- Proof of residency, including a driver's license, a signed lease or mortgage document and two pieces of business mail that are not more than 30 days old.

Parents can find out the school their child will attend by logging on to the district's website at www.wwcsd.net and clicking on the Locate Your School icon or by calling (734) 419-2083.

For parents who can't make it to the roundup, the school offices will be open 6-7 p.m. that evening. They can also contact the school to make an appointment to register at their convenience.

New AFSCME contract will save Westland money

By LeAnne Rogers Staff Writer

A new four-year contract with Westland municipal clerical and public works employees is expected to save the city $231,000 over the term of the agreement.

"I believe it is a very fair contract for both the city and the union," said Westland Mayor William Wild Monday after the council approved agreement with American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 1602.

Under the agreement, the 59-member bargaining unit members will receive a 3-percent pay raise the first year, a 1-percent increase in year two and pay freezes for the remaining two years. Under the expired agreement, Local 1602 had agreed to pay freezes for 2009 and 2010, with a 1-percent raise in 2011 and a 1.5-percent increase in 2012.

Employees will now contribute 5 percent of their pre-tax wages towards their pension — something mandated under the previous contract for second tier new hires. Health care will also have employee contributions as required by state law.

"These were the big things for us," said Wild. "The employees really stepped up. There are 25 less employees (in Local 1602 due to retirements) than a few years ago and they are getting the job done. We've asked them to do more with less and they've done that."

Driver won't be charged in fatal accident

By LeAnne Rogers Staff Writer

No criminal charges will be brought in the Feb. 28 accident that killed a Garden City High School senior.

"I heard back from the (Wayne County) prosecutor and no charges will be filed. There was no violation of the motor vehicle code," said Westland Police Officer David Skeans of the Traffic Bureau.

Vincent Meiers, 18, was walking in the roadway near the east curb on Middlebelt south of the bridge over Hines Park at about 8:30 p.m. when he was hit by a northbound vehicle driven by a 42-year old Livonia woman. He died two days later of his injuries.

"I notified the driver and the (Meiers) family. We couldn't find any negligence on her (the driver's) part," said Skeans. "It was a dark

"Contrary to information on several social media sites, this will not be a free for all open enrollment, we will not be taking over another district," he added. "We have empty slots that could be filled and not raise class sizes."

Rumors about Inkster High School students being sent to Wayne Memorial triggered a flood of postings on the Wayne Pride Facebook page two weeks ago, and comments resurfaced when word got out about the nine-11 schools of choice proposal.

Wayne-Westland's schools of choice program will be open to only students who live in Wayne County. They can apply up until Aug. 23, or until the openings are filled. If accepted, students must provide their own transportation.

And due to changes in the law, the district will be able to screen applicants. Students must supply an affirmation of prior discipline record which asks if there is any disciplinary issues — suspensions, expulsions and criminal charges and convictions. The information must be verified by the student's current school.

"Inkster doesn't need our help, they don't want us to come in rescue them," said board President Carol Middel. "Students come here from all over the county. I hope they come here because we offer the best education in the county. We offer opportunities that we need to keep offering. This is open to everyone, not one building in one district." "I'm for it," said Trustee Frederick Weaver. "These students who come here have a greater scrutiny than the students living in this district. We need not be afraid to allow any child to come into this district."

"We know what the real issue is," said board Treasurer Shawna Walker. "I've read the blogs that say the people who come there will have low test scores. Who says they can't thrive in this district? If you're really here for the kids, you're here for all the kids."

'Heated topic'

A large crowd of residents spoke for the proposal or for tabling it for more information. One woman told the board she had only heard about the plan two days earlier. Chris Bandy of Westland described it as "a heated topic" and said residents don't have enough information.

Parent Dianna Romas of Wayne talked about her daughter's concern about class sizes. However, John Albrecht, the district's executive director of student and legal affairs, told the audience that there are 800 fewer students in the high schools as in 2008.

"I'm all for diversity and openness, but if the class sizes continue to grow and grow, I can't see it being a benefit for anyone," Romas said.

Bishop Luke McCleendon voiced support for the change and said the resolution shouldn't be tabled.

"It's an honor to live in a school district that has such quality education," the Westland resident said. "It's wonderful to be recognized by other cities for offering a quality education and that our students want to come back here after they graduate."

Tonya Walls told the board she has tried to get her three children to get into the Wayne-Westland schools. The Westland resident, she lives one street from the district boundary in southern Westland. As a result, her children attend the Inkster schools.

"We have children who are successful, who have high tests scores," she said. "They're at Inkster High School because of dual enrollment. My son graduated with his associate's degree, my daughter graduated with her associate's degree. Now that you have dual enrollment, I want you to open up so my son can come here."

Former school board member Cindy Schofield told that from her experience schools of choice for K-eight has been a success.

"I hope you do vote and would vote for this," she said. "I hate to have to equate students with revenue, but this will allow Wayne-Westland to continue to offer a fine high school program. I fear that if you can't find funding, you'll end up gutting the programs and we will become a district no one wants to attend. I encourage you to vote tonight, that is what you were elected to do."

Following the vote, board members assured the audience that all children would be welcomed in the district.

"Every child is equal," said Trustee Sally Madison.

ROUNDUP

Roundup time

Wayne-Westland will hold its Kindergarten Roundup — Become a Learn-A-Saurus Today! — 9-10 a.m. Tuesday, March 26, at the district's 11 elementary schools. Parents and children will have an opportunity to tour the school, meet the teachers and visit the classrooms. In addition to the backpacks, youngsters will receive a free Class of 2026 T-shirt.

"They go to the classrooms and do a project and then march back to the gym," said Jackie Wrybkowski, a secretary in the instruction department. "The parents bawl their eyes out. I'll see some of them come in in the summer wearing their T-shirts because 'I'm in school.'"

Backpacks not given out of Tuesday are returned the district's administrative offices and given out to youngsters who register for kindergarten during the summer, Wrybkowski added.

Carol Wilson took a break from the assembly line to do a little reading and then went back to work.

"I don't know who wrote this book, but I read the whole thing," she said of Natasha Wing's The Night Before Kindergarten which is one of the books in the bag. "It was so cute. I read it out loud to the zippers."

room, former school board member Ed Turner was checking to make sure the backpacks had the proper number of items.

"I've been doing this since it started, I've had so much fun," he said, closing one of the bags. "Some zippers are easy and some are harder than heck."

Ross Bohmhauer of Westland was the jokester of the group, pointing out that "you've got seniors out here, packing bags for kids who can't read, who can remember their names."

And like other seniors, Bohmhauer had his eye on one of the books.

"I want one of these," he said, stuffing it in a backpack.

There also was another assembly line where 12 seniors were filling folders with papers that will be given to parents at the roundup.

"We had 10 people brainstorm as to how to do it," said Browe. "We had a crew that got everything set up on Monday."

Paul Salah, deputy superintendent for instruction, and Mary Jane Mielke, the director of professional development, stopped by to thank the seniors for their assistance.

"Thank you so much for what you're doing, you give these children a really nice welcome to Wayne-Westland," said Mielke, adding, "When you're done here, I have an office that needs organizing."

DeHart Schoof and city department heads already make the health care and pension contributions, along with new hires who also don't receive retiree health care.

The council approved the contract unanimously but Local 1602 members had ratified the agreement 28 to 20.

"They didn't give their reasons (for voting no). We're working with the city," said Local 1602 President Paul Sypniewski. "I think the mayor has been more than fair on this. He has the continuing support of 1602 members."

Wild noted the agreement, effective retroactively to Jan. 1, was reached in five months — record time for the AFSCME local.

"I want to thank AFSCME. These are tough times in negotiating contracts and we appreciate the employees stepping up," said Council President James Godbout.

The employees are looking forward to moving into the new City Hall early in 2015, Wild said, which provide better facilities for workers and improved services to the public. The city is moving ahead with plans to renovate the former Circuit City building on Warren Road to house city offices.

Charges would have been filed against the driver, if there had been some negligent actions, such as texting or some other distraction that contributed to the accident, Skeans said.

"We knew from talking to her that she hadn't been drinking. We had her do a PBT (Breathalyzer) at the scene and it was all zeroes," said Skeans, adding local high school students had been spreading false rumors that the driver had been intoxicated.

Meiers' family had recently moved to Livonia but he was finishing his senior year at Garden City High School. He was walking home from a school function at the time of the accident.

Charges stick in Verizon robbery

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

A judge refused Monday to dismiss gun charges against Canton Verizon store robbery defendant Dantez Lamar Boykin-Johnson, although his defense attorney argued he didn't carry the semiautomatic assault rifle police say was used during an incident described by witnesses as terrifying.

Moreover, 35th District Judge Ronald Lowe indicated in court he expects to issue the same ruling next week against another defendant, Eric James-Lee Wilkins, unless a more compelling argument is made to sway his opinion.

Boykin-Johnson and Wilkins are charged along with accused gunman Antonio Jerome Porter — all 18 — of a robbery police say happened around 11 a.m. Feb. 25 after a semi-automatic assault rifle was used to shoot open a sliding glass door an employee had managed to lock.

Lowe rejected a motion Monday by defense attorney Mark Brown to dismiss a felony firearm charge, which carries a mandatory two-year prison term on conviction, and a four-year felony of discharging a firearm into a building.

Lowe indicated Boykin-Johnson and Wilkins should face the same charges as Porter if, as authorities contend, they shared involvement in hatching the robbery plans.

Potential injuries

"I've got three people who set out theoretically to commit armed robbery," Lowe said in court. "Part of the plan is, who's got a firearm?"

Lowe said each defendant had numerous opportunities to walk away prior to an incident involving an AR-15 weapon that was allegedly used during the robbery. No one was injured, but Lowe said the potential was there.

"Anytime a firearm is brought to the site of a crime, it's a slam dunk that someone could get hurt or killed," Lowe said, in rejecting Brown's motion.

Lowe's decision prompted Boykin-Johnson to waive his preliminary examination, as Porter already had done, on charges of felony firearm, discharging a firearm into a building, armed robbery, breaking and entering a building with intent to commit a crime, first-degree retail fraud, receiving and concealing stolen property over $1,000 and illegal entry without the building owner's permission.

Wilkins is due back in court Monday. He missed this week's hearing because he was appearing in Wayne County Circuit Court on another case.

Still in jail

Wilkins and Porter, both of Inkster, and Boykin-Johnson of Westland could face penalties ranging up to life in prison if they are convicted as charged. They have remained jailed with a $1 million cash bond each.

In court Monday, Brown argued that Boykin-Johnson didn't aid and abet in the gun-related charges and, therefore, shouldn't stand trial on those counts.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Eric Sterbis disagreed.

"Mr. Porter's possession of the gun was not a secret or surprise to anyone," he said, adding later, "each (defendant) had knowledge of the weapon."

Sterbis argued further that Boykin-Johnson's alleged involvement in robbing the store was made easier by the presence of a gun.

"He benefitted from Mr. Porter having that firearm," Sterbis said.

Customers have said they feared for their lives when the incident occurred along Canton's main shopping district. Police have said the suspects fled in a car and then on foot, hiding inside the storm cellar of a house on Willard Drive before they were captured not far from Oakview Drive and Saltz.

Council approval lets Happy's Pizza expand

By LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

A former Westland video store will soon house an expanded Happy's Pizza and Pub.

"They are looking at something bigger and better moving across the street," said Westland Planning and Building Director Bruce Thompson. "They will renovate the building."

On Monday, the City Council approved a special land use and site plan which will allow the pizzeria to move from its current smaller facility on the east side of Wayne Road north of Avondale to the west side of the road.

Owner Frank Awdish commented that he was purchasing the 10,000-square-foot building. The building housed Jumbo Video in 6,000 square feet, which will be replaced by the restaurant.

The balance of the building houses My Lady's Florist, which Awdish said is welcome to stay as a tenant.

The special land use approval is required for any restaurant serving liquor in the CB-1, low intensity commercial business district zoning.

Thompson also noted that Awdish plans to update the building with a stone and stucco facade and Downtown Development Authority streetscape pillar and fence treatment along Wayne Road.

The council approved a site plan for renovations and a parking lot addition for Corkscrew retail shops, 37816 Ford, west of Newburgh. The Corkscrew Party Shoppe is located on the east side of the building.

The 14,322-square-foot building includes a 10,710-square-foot warehouse area at the west side of the building which would be developed into commercial retail space.

The additional parking would be developed on the west side of the building to provide access to the new commercial retail development.

A special land use was also approved for Premier Preschool Day Care Center, 2329 S. Venoy. The day care moved two doors down from its previous location in the strip center.

"The day care is actually located in a separate building and on a separate piece of property, so we needed to approve it again," said Thompson. "They are moving to a smaller space."

Educating Student Athletes ...and Parents about Concussion

Ask A Garden City Hospital Health Expert

Dr. Stan Szczecienski
Sports Medicine

Concussion has been receiving a lot of attention related to football players at the professional and collegiate levels. Unfortunately, the same can't be said for high school athletes and competitors in other sports. "Dr. Stan" Szczecienski, Medical Director of GCH's Center for Sports Medicine, has seen far-too-many cases of concussion — so much so that he's made it his mission to educate as many people as possible about the prevention, warning signs and treatment of this often avoidable injury.

Q: Our 14 year old wants to play football at his high school next season. We are worried about all the risks that come from playing contact sports, mostly head trauma. But, he says his older sister's cheerleading is as dangerous. Is that true?

A: While football is widely recognized for the quantity and types of injuries related to its participants, your son makes a valid point about cheerleading. Last year alone, the American Association of Neurological Surgeons estimates more than 10,000 concussions were suffered among cheerleaders, gymnasts and dancers.

A concussion is a disruption of the normal chemical activity in the brain and is caused by the brain being jarred. Concussions can cause sensitivity to light or sound, headaches, loss of memory, dizziness, balance problems, confusion, drowsiness, nausea, difficulty in concentration and other problems. Concussion symptoms disappear within seven to 10 days in approximately 80 percent of cases, but symptoms may remain for weeks, months and, occasionally, for years.

One of the biggest misconceptions people have concerning concussions has to do with the force needed to cause one. The reality is impact does not have to be hard — and it frequently happens in something other than contact sports. In fact, the person at the top of a cheerleader pyramid is 10 times more likely to suffer a concussion or a catastrophic injury than a football player.

When deciding on whether to allow your child to participate in a sport, it's important to remember that through proper education and training, we can begin to recognize and help prevent youth sports injuries; thus minimizing long-term effects.

To read more in-depth concussion information from Dr. Stan, go online to GCH.org to view the Spring 2013 Edition of our Healthy Generations magazine.

Also, don't forget the importance of getting involved! Dr. Stan's 2nd Annual Coaches Event is Saturday, March 23. The event, which features national experts speaking on a variety of health issues affecting today's young athletes, is FREE and we encourage all parents to attend. Tours show voters what they'll get for $195 million

By Karen Smith
Staff Writer

The contrast was stark. One classroom had a noisy HVAC system that sounded like someone had thrown a wrench into it. Half of the classroom was warm, the other cold. The window was cracked, the blinds were worn, an old computer sat on a cart, cords hanging down. Desks were positioned in rows, all facing the teacher's desk and chalkboard. An overhead projector showed a fuzzy image.

The other classroom had a quiet HVAC system that diffused the heat evenly; a tinted, energy-efficient window with an opening large enough to evacuate students in an emergency; improved lighting, a whiteboard, a wall-mounted projector, a moveable teacher's station designed to support technology and chairs and desks with wheels that can be arranged in any way the teacher wants for instruction.

Members of Livonia Public Schools' district communications team got to view both classrooms during a tour Tuesday at Stevenson High School to see what a $195 million construction bond will fund, should voters approve it May 7.

The same tour is open to the public at 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. today at Stevenson High, 33500 Six Mile. Register at www.livoniapublicschools.org/BondTours.

Some Stevenson classrooms were renovated last summer, paid for by the district's sinking fund. The furniture and technology were loaned to the district for the tour.

"Certainly you can see we're talking about critical need — not pie-in-the-sky things," Superintendent Randy Liepa told the group. "This is what we want to do in every classroom in the school district. We hope you can help us get the message out."

Besides classroom improvements, the bond would pay for mobile learning devices for students, wireless networking technology, infrastructure improvements to plumbing and electrical systems, restroom renovations, new playground equipment, new lockers, renovations to high school auditoriums, new musical instruments, safety and security upgrades and 60 new buses, among other improvements.

ry and a member of the communications team, liked what she saw. She said the improvements will make the classrooms more efficient and comfortable, "like the whiteboard and even just the windows not rattling in the breeze." She said the sink in her classroom doesn't get hot water because it's located too far from the hot water heater so she has to boil water in coffee pots when she needs it for science experiments.

Parent Jim McGowan, a member of the communications team, said he supports the bond even though his two children, a sophomore and senior, will graduate before the improvements are finished.

"I think it is completely fantastic," he said, adding he moved to Livonia 20 years ago because of the quality of the schools and he wants them to keep up with the times. "I need the school district to flourish for my city to flourish," he said. "As the school district goes, I think the city goes." Shanan Wheeler, science department chair at Franklin High School, said a yes vote on the bond is a no-brainer for the people in her neighborhood with young children and those who can afford it. Wheeler lives in the Franklin High attendance area.

But for her neighbors who are out of work or who have seen their Social Security go down and their taxes go up, "it becomes a harder sell."

The bond, if approved, will increase taxes by 2.4 mills, approximately $13 a month, or $156 a year, for someone owning a $132,000 home. The tax rate will fluctuate over the life of the 30-year bond, but is expected to average 2.0 mills.

Parent Jennifer Greve, who has a son in high school and a daughter in elementary school, said she follows trends in education as part of her job working for an educational publisher. "I feel like it's been a long time coming," she said of the proposed improvements. She said the bond would give the Livonia school district an "extra edge" and allow it to be competitive. "We need to keep up with the times," she said.

Asked what she will tell voters, Greve said: "I'm going to tell people they should come on Thursday and check it out for themselves."

W-W rocks two schools with dance party open house

By Sue Mason
Staff Writer

Wayne-Westland's Walker-Winter and Hicks Elementary schools will be rockin' when the district holds dance party open houses for families of school-aged children.

The district and Radio Disney AM 910 are presenting the Rockin' Dance Party Open Houses 6-7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 27, at Walker-Winter Elementary in Canton and on Wednesday, April 24, at Hicks Elementary in Inkster.

"They're an effort to promote the school district and reach out to the community in the Walker-Winter and Hicks area," said Paul Salah, deputy superintendent for instruction. "We want to help families understand what Wayne-Westland is all about and bring them in for a fun event."

Parents will have a chance to go on a virtual field trip, see some of the technology used in the school district, get information on its K-8 schools of choice and meet the principals from Adams and Marshall Upper Elementary schools.

Parents also can hear about Wayne-Westland's talented and gifted program, which is being piloted at Walker-Winter, Adams and Marshall for the 2013-14 school year, and its Spanish language class that will be offered to all elementary and upper elementary students next year to give students a leg up on meeting the foreign language requirement needed for graduation.

Also on hand to meet families and answer question will be representatives from the Oakwood Health Clinic, local public libraries, the district's Family Resource Center, Bright Futures after-school program, PTO and WATCH D.O.G.S., an innovative program to impact the lives of students through a committed involvement of fathers and father figures.

"It's a grassroots community outreach," said Salah. "Looking into the future, we'll see what the response is from the community. If we feel it's worthy, we may replicate it in the future."

This isn't the first time Wayne-Westland has worked with Radio Disney to promote. For the past several years, Radio Disney has hosted a successful Back to School event in partnership with Westland Shopping Center that lets the district showcase its schools and programs.

The events are open to all families with elementary-aged children. Parents must be in attendance. Walker-Winter Elementary School is at 39932 Michigan Ave., Canton. Hicks Elementary School is at 100 Helen, at Cherry Hill, Inkster.

Detroit trio linked to tool thefts from Lowe's

By LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

It's not the kind of loyalty stores are looking for but three Detroit men have been arrested for stealing more than $66,000 worth of tools from 13 Lowe's stores, including the Westland store.

Employees at the Westland store, located on Newburgh at Warren Road, recognized the suspects from prior incidents when two of the men entered the store on March 13.

"We had five cases in Westland. On this occasion, they took merchandise worth just over $6,000," said Westland Police Sgt. Randy Thivierge. "They would take high dollar power tools like Dewalt's — combo sets. Each guy would grab two or so. They would be worth $200-$500 each."

Sometimes all three men would enter the store but police said often one man waited in a running car. The other suspects would pick up the merchandise and walk out of the store, police said.

"Store loss prevention called the police department when they recognized the suspects and saw them leaving with the merchandise," said

Thivierge. "They were headed north on Newburgh, so I forwarded the information to Livonia Police."

Livonia police stopped the men's vehicle on I-96 and arrested all three suspects.

The men are facing retail fraud charges in Westland with two also being charged with being habitual offenders.

The trio are also suspects in thefts from Lowe's stores in Oakland County, Sterling Heights, Allen Park, Woodhaven and as far south as Toledo.

Police arrest drivers who are over the limit

Drunk driving

The police arrested a drunk driver about 9:30 p.m. March 16 after they observed that he was "all over the road" on Ford Road. They executed the traffic stop in the Gordon Chevrolet parking lot at 31850 Ford.

When they asked for the man's drivers license and proof of insurance, he handed them a receipt for an oil change. The officer said that the 60-year-old Detroit man almost fell out of the car when he reached into his pocket.

The man's blood alcohol level was .17 which was twice the legal limit.

The police arrested a 34-year-old Canton woman about 1:30 a.m. March 18 in the area of Ford and Wildwood.

They made the traffic stop because she was reportedly driving 50 mph in a 40 mph zone.

She admitted that she had a glass of wine and later when questioned said that she also drank a shot of alcohol, police said. She registered a .17 blood alcohol level which is twice the legal limit. She was transported to the police station and her car was impounded.

If there's such a thing as a hat trick in fund-raising, the Wayne Goodfellows got one as the beneficiary of a visit from former Detroit Red Wings Tomas Holmstrom last week.

More than 200 people turned out to meet and have all sorts of Winged Wheel memorabilia signed by Holmstrom, who earned the nickname of Homer during his career with the Red Wings.

The event was held at the Avenue Downtown Wayne. Fans paid $10 for Holmstrom's autograph with all the proceeds going to the Wayne Goodfellows. The event raised some $2,500.

Holmstrom's visit was sponsored by Henry's Service Center, Avenue Downtown Wayne, the Wayne Dispatch, AKA Sports and Sparks Towing.

St. Damian students present 'Godspell Jr.' at three parishes

By Sue Mason
Staff Writer

Parishioners at three Westland churches will be treated to performances of Godspell Jr. courtesy of students at St. Damian School.

The acting troupe will present the Stephen Schwartz musical, which is based on the Gospel of St. Matthew, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 22-24, at St. Damian, St. Theodore and Divine Savior churches. The traveling show will open with a 7 p.m. performance on Friday at St. Theodore on Wayne Road, north of Cowan, followed by a 7:30 p.m. show on Saturday at Divine Savior on Joy Road, west of Hix. The final performance will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at St. Damian on Joy Road east of Merriman.

"The kids are having a fun time learning from the parables," said Mary Melonio, music minister at St. Damian. "Once people see the show it will bring smiles to their faces."

Melonio, who has a background in music education, came up with the idea of doing a musical to get students involved and let the community know about the school. She talked to then-Principal Mary Stempian, who quickly agreed. "My daughter attended St. Mike's and she did it in eighth grade," Melonio said. "I figured what a better way to teach kids and expose the school to the area. I want to open the community's eyes to the wonderful jewel we have here."

Casting call

She did auditions in October and began rehearsals in November. Eighteen students ranging from first to ninth grade have been rehearsing for several hours on Sundays after 10 a.m. Mass.

They have learned to sing, dance, memorized lines, and learned the basics of acting along with sign language for one of the musical numbers.

A student from Webster School — Libby Rudzinski — is playing Jesus. Her brothers and sister attend St. Damian. Tony Quillen, a student at John Glenn High School and member of St. Theodore Parish, is playing John the Baptist and Judas. According to Melonio, that's how the play was written.

Melonio is getting help from Quillen's mother, Lisa Marcolina, the children's music director at St. Theodore's, and Ellie Roggenbuck of Livonia, an adult choir member at St. Damian. Marcolina is the choreographer, and Roggenbuck "has been at my side the entire time," said Melonio.

"There's a lot of dancing, and the kids have been amazing," said Melonio. "Ellie, out of the goodness of her heart, has been helping. God sent her to me. Without her, I couldn't do this. It's wonderful to see that kind of spirit, that giving of herself. It's wonderful."

Parental support

Of course, there's been plenty of parental support. All the youngsters have made it to rehearsals, thanks to the parents, who also have provided the props. The play is set in the 1960s, and the cast is providing their own costumes — tie-dyed T-shirts, jeans and a lot of fringe. The setting will be a park with a fence where Jesus is electrocuted.

The play will be presented in the community rooms at St. Theodore and Divine Savior. The St. Damian production will be in the school gymnasium. The show is open to the public. Tickets are $3 per person and $5 per family and are available at the door.

The three Westland parishes are in the process of merging into one community. Godspell Jr. is the results of these parishes uniting in song, talent and dance among the very young, Melonio said. "These children are 'The Light of the World,' the future of our communities and churches and we are so very proud of them," said Melonio.

Samsung delivers fresh camera experience

By Jon Gunnells
Guest Columnist

Many of us own phones, MP3 players, computers and other devices with built-in cameras, but have you ever seen a digital camera with Wi-Fi?

With its new line of "smart" cameras, Samsung allows picture-takers to access the Internet on the go and seamlessly share photos to social networks.

I tested a new Samsung Galaxy camera, which featured a full-touch screen and Wi-Fi courtesy of Verizon Wireless. Verizon is just one way to get wireless Internet on a smart phone — free wireless hot spots are another.

Like the Galaxy smartphones, the Galaxy camera may be the coolest camera on the market. It has a number of mind-blowing features, including voice-command so you can talk to your camera and slow-motion video shooting capabilities. Imagine taking videos of sports in slow motion and then uploading them to the Web.

Impressive specs

The Galaxy Smartphone is sleek and easy to use for beginners, but also has impressive specs like a 21x optical zoom for more advanced users. It runs on 3G or Wi-Fi, so you can share photos with groups easily. No more waiting as every person in the group takes a photo with their not-so-cool Galaxy cameras.

The Galaxy also includes a content manager, photo editing wizard and video editing wizard. And in true Samsung Galaxy fashion, the camera features a nearly five-inch ultra-clear screen. This 16-megapixel camera costs $549 and can be purchased from Verizon Wireless.

For users who want more professional shots with less of the cool digital functions, Samsung also has a line of smart cameras, including its NX100 that captures pictures in 20.3 megapixels and records photos in 1080p high-definition. For those of you keeping score at home, the NX1000 records higher-definition videos than the iPhone and takes photos with two times the amount of megapixels.

Even Samsung's cheapest smart camera model has features that will make picture taking easy. The DV150 which retails for $139, offers a front-facing LCD screen, self-portrait mode and even jump mode to help users capture the exact type of photos they love to take.

This new line of Samsung smart cameras is just another example of innovative products being developed by the South Korean-based company. While the company is still battling Apple for market share in the mobile and tablet world, there is arguably no company making a full-line of electronics better than Samsung is right now.

Digital March Madness

Important basketball games during your work day are happening this week with major college basketball conference tournaments and next week with the NCAA tournament. There are many ways to follow the action from your cubicle or office — without your boss knowing.

This year, the NCAA — in conjunction with your cable company — is making every game available for free on computers and mobile devices. Users who visit www.ncaa.com/ march madness can download an application that will stream games during the entire weekend. And if the games are blocked at work, you can stream them using your wireless connection (just be careful of high data costs).

If you don't need video, keeping up with the tournament is as easy as checking news and scores with an app. Consider using the Sporting News NCAA basketball app for scores. It is free and available for Android and iPhone devices.

Additionally, ESPN is offering a similar app called "Bracket Bound 2013." It provides scores, highlights and access to the ESPN tournament challenge. The coolest app of all might be the Buffalo Wild Wings Big Shot Challenge, where users play a game using augmented reality. Top scorers can even win a $25 Buffalo Wild Wings gift card or a trip to the 2014 Final Four. And as always, the app is free and available on Android and iPhone devices.

Physician honored

Dr. James Meza, a family medicine and geriatrics physician based in Westland, was honored with the Faculty Award for Excellence in Clinical Science Teaching recently by the Wayne State University School of Medicine. Dr. Meza, who is also an assistant professor of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences at WSU, is the first person to receive the award, which is one of four new accolades developed by the university school of medicine.

"These awards were created to recognize outstanding accomplishments by faculty in the specific areas of clinical teaching, basic science teaching, outstanding and lifelong research achievement, faculty mentoring, and support for women clinicians and scientists," said Dr. Roberta E. Sonnino, vice dean of Faculty Affairs at the WSU School of Medicine.

The award recognizes faculty who have demonstrated excellence in teaching students in the clinical or behavioral sciences over an extended period of time and who consistently serves as an effective and inspiring educator, she said. Potential honorees are nominated by their peers and are evaluated through an in-depth review of a committee of their peers.

"The awards will not necessarily be awarded every year if there is

OUR VIEWS

Winning ways Be proud of Glenn, GC female athletes

Oh, so close. That's what it was for the John Glenn High School girls basketball team who for the first time in school history made it to the Michigan High School Athletic Association's Final Four.

The team posted some awesome stats on its quest for a state championship. The team had a 24-2 record, including the KLAA South Division, Kensington Conference, KLAA Association, district and a first ever regional titles. The last time the Glenn team came remotely close was in 1972 when it won at the district level.

The Lady Rockets played their best, but could not overcome Grand Haven in the semi round.

Other girls teams have also shown they have the right stuff athletically. While not a sport sanctioned by MHSAA, pompon requires the same level of commitment, athleticism and determination shown by the Lady Rockets. And in the Garden City Public Schools, the middle school and high school pom squads came away from competition last month as state champions.

Being on top is a familiar spot for the Garden City pom squad which has reigned supreme over Class A, winning seven state championships since 2004, including four consecutive titles in 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009. It's an awesome achievement for the team which is considered a club.

We can credit the athletic opportunities these girls have in part to Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Title IX was introduced by U.S. Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana. It was meant to level the field in education. Title IX stated that "no person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

Bayh saw Title IX as "an important first step in the effort to provide for the women of America something that is rightfully theirs - an equal chance to attend the schools of their choice, to develop the skills they want, and to apply those skills with the knowledge that they will have a fair chance to secure the jobs of their choice with equal pay for equal work."

It was. And the effect it had on high school and collegiate sports,

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Westland John Glenn's Sha'Keya Graves is guarded by Courtney Springer in her drive to the basket. The Lady Rockets made their first ever trip to the MHSAA State Semi-Finals last Friday, losing to Grand Haven 55-46.

while not foreseen at the time, is astounding. The year before Title IX was enacted, there were about 310,000 girls and women in America playing high school and college sports; today, there are more than 3,373,000. In 1972, only two women's teams were offered at NCAA schools. Today, the average is 8.7 teams.

Because of Title IX, these girls can be all star athletes. They can look at their titles and know that someone thought they should have every opportunity to succeed. And they so deserve recognition for what they have done and the honor they have brought their high schools.

The Lady Rockets may not have won the championship, but they went where no other John Glenn girls basketball team has gone before. They are now among an elite group of athletes.

And the Cougars pom squad gives new meaning to the word precision. The fact that the high school team's winning ways have trickled down to the middle school speaks volumes about the role models they have become for younger girls. They want to be a part of that winning tradition.

Congratulations, ladies! Keep up the good work.

COMMUNITY VOICE

What do you think about the Postal Service proposal to eliminate Saturday mail delivery?

We asked this question at the William P. Faust Public Library in Westland.

"I've felt badly for the post office because they're operating at a deficit. I'd gladly give up Saturday service to help balance their budget."

Nan Borders
Westland

"It really doesn't matter. A lot of people depend on the post office, a lot of people depend on Saturday delivery. It's a bad idea and thousands are going to lose their jobs."

Kathy Williams
Westland

"I don't think they should. I remember as a kid getting Christmas mail twice on Sundays."

Dan Stachow
Westland

"It's sad that it's gotten to this point. If it saves jobs, I'm OK with it. If it doesn't, I think it's going to be hard. It'll be a hardship on people all the way around."

OUR VIEWS

Be an informed voter - get your questions answered

Livonia school district residents will vote May 7 on a $195 million bond proposal for districtwide improvements.

The Observer has recommended a yes vote to keep the district competitive and to preserve home values.

The bond would fund renovations to the district's buildings, which are 40-60 years old and, in many cases, have the original doors, windows, heat systems and fixtures.

It would also pay for technology upgrades, needed to help students meet the Common Core State Standards and prepare them for college and careers, as well as renovations to the three high schools' auditoriums and fine/performing arts classrooms, buses and furniture.

The cost would be approximately $19 per month or $228 per year for a resident with a home valued at $178,000, the median home price in the school district, the first year of the 30-year bond.

While we have endorsed the bond proposal, voters need to do their own due diligence. We encourage them to get their questions answered during informational meetings scheduled for tonight and in April.

An Informational Tour will be held 6-7 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. today, Thursday, March 21, at Stevenson High School, 33500 Six Mile. Voters will see, firsthand, the needs and the proposed improvements of the bond proposal during a hands-on tour of old classrooms, newer classrooms and examples of modern classrooms envisioned in the proposal.

The district will also host two Community Forums and Q&A sessions. The first is set for 7 p.m. Thursday, April 11, at Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Road, and the second is at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 17, at Churchill High School, 8900 Newburgh.

Be an informed voter. Register to attend at www.livoniapublicschools.org.

Places to go

I'm Jean Smith and me and my husband really enjoy being Nana and Papa to our three granddaughters. I sent this story to you because there are still a lot of wonderful things that families can do in our area with preschoolers and some activities are free.

Here are a few places that my granddaughters ages 1, 2 and 3 really enjoy:

- The Garden City Library. My girls enjoy picking out books for their Nana to read to them and they love playing with the puppets and puzzles. Ms. Stephanie has wonderful programs for our preschoolers — story time, crafts, a Halloween party. The first of January, we had all month to make a recycled showman. Our girls had lots of fun helping Nana and we used detergent, pretzels, a coffee can, an old dish, newspapers, jar lids, Christmas tree branches, an old nightgown and a lot of puff balls. We made the Mackenzie-Emilia-Gabriella Snowlady. She sits in the library showcase.

- The Garden City Historical Museum. Our girls made a couple of trips in October to the Garden City Museum. It was decorated with skeletons and black cats, and there was a cute contest of how many cats you counted walking through the museum. My girls also enjoyed the Halloween Extravaganza 2012 featuring the Ford Motor Chorus at Henry Ruff School for free. They also enjoyed going trick or treating in our local Kroger store, it also is for free.

- The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. Every second Monday of the month is Macy's Preschool from 10 a.m. to noon. The girls enjoy playing in the museum at the preschool Legos area and in George Carver's cabin. We are all counting down to April 15 when the village opens and Thomas the Train will visit again.

- The Heritage Park Petting Farm in Taylor. What about all their wonderful programs and free days for Mother's, Father's and Grandparents' Days.

- The Detroit Zoo. Every year, my girls go the day before Easter for Bunnyville. This is put on by Meijer's.

We all enjoy going to see Sesame Street at the Fox Theater when they have $10 per person nights. And this past summer we discovered this wonderful and free water park by the Westland Police Department.

Two other places we are looking forward to going is to Ann Arbor to the Hands-On Museum — the second floor is for preschoolers — and Museum of Natural History.

Say yes to our schools

The proposed bond for Livonia Public Schools is crucial to maintaining our schools, providing undeniably necessary access to technology and keeping our home values strong in this competitive marketplace. Our children and our community deserve this commitment to their future.

I have been a Livonia citizen for over 50 years. I was born at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia, I was the first baptism at St. Edith church, and was raised on Fitzgerald Street. I graduated from Livonia Stevenson High School. My wife is a lifelong Livonia resident as well who also graduated from Livonia Stevenson. We have been married for 25 years and are the parents of five children, all of whom attend or have attended Livonia Public Schools.

We made the conscious decision to raise our family in our home town. We are very proud of our Livonia community and its excellent education system.

As a businessman, I take the responsibility of educating young people very seriously. I feel fortunate to have received the education that I did from LPS and will focus my efforts on continuing the tradition. Our schools were once "state of the art," and while we employ a very talented group of educators, they need the tools of their trade to be as successful as possible.

I strongly encourage a yes vote on May 7.

Stevenson MS presents 'Monsters in the Closet'

By Sue Mason
Staff Writer

What do you do when you discover a monster is living in your closet?

That's the premise of the comedy, Monster in the Closet, being presented by the Stevenson Middle School Drama Club at 7 p.m. Friday, March 22, at the school on Palmer Road west of Newburgh in Westland.

"It definitely a comedy, but there's a touching moment when Emily realizes Murray isn't such a bad guy," said director Kevin Scollin.

The play is a "student-run production" with 19 cast members and a crew of 10 seventh- and eighth-graders doing everything from the acting, to the lighting, creating props and making posters. Linda Knapp, Scollin's mother-in-law, has made the costumes, while his wife, Caitlin, and father-in-law Bill have helped put the set together.

Monster in the Closet is the story of Emily, played by eighth-grader Madisyn Bobby, and her best friend Stephanie, played by eighth-grader Jacquelyn Schlicht, who try to catch the monster — Murray, played by eighth-grader Brendan Johnson — to prove there is one after seeing him sneak out of her bedroom closet to play her video games.

Work on the play began just before Thanksgiving. The cast has been rehearsing after school twice a week. According to Scollin, the school's instrumental music and drama teacher, the hardest part has been coordinating schedule. "Attendance is huge in a production like this," he said. "The students are involved in a lot of other things — sports, National Honor Society, clubs. Just getting everyone on the stage at the same time is a trick."

This is the second year students have put on a play. Last year, their production of the Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe attracted a full house and Scollin is hoping for the same this year.

The play will be presented in the school cafeteria, which poses a few challenges with an outdated lighting board and competition with the sounds from the kitchen, but Scollin doesn't want to move it to another venue like Stockmeyer Auditorium in Wayne.

"We don't want to move it because this is the Stevenson Drama Club," said Scollin. "There's something about the students owning it and owning the space. It's something special."

The play will be presented only on Friday evening although Scollin is looking at possible adding a second performance next year. Admission is free although donations will be accepted. There's also will be photographs of the cast and crew and T-shirts for sale, a concession stand and other goodies.

"Last year, we had a packed house, we hope that happens again this year," Scollin said.

Westland teen faces charges after chase

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

A 17-year-old Westland male is facing criminal charges amid accusations he led Canton Police on a 20-minute chase while his little brother, 4, was in the back seat.

The chase began just before 3 a.m. in Canton and ended here, though a police report indicated it spilled over to neighboring communities as the accused driver ignored red traffic lights, swerved across the center line and drove the wrong way on Michigan Avenue.

Canton Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said it's fortunate the incident ended peacefully without any injuries. However, he said it should serve as a reminder that fleeing drivers endanger others and invite criminal charges when they refuse to stop for police and ignore traffic signals.

"It's not much different than getting a loaded gun and standing in an intersection shooting in all directions," he said. "The only difference is the gun is a car. It's that dangerous."

According to the police report, the teen's mother said he has been struggling with "mental issues" partly due to a breakup with a girlfriend. The report indicated authorities had petitioned to have the young man referred to a hospital for evaluation.

However, he is facing a felony charge of third-degree fleeing and eluding police and a misdemeanor charge of reckless driving. He could potentially face penalties ranging up to three years in prison.

The police report indicated the teen hadn't been involved in any other crime prior to fleeing from police in a 2005 Chevrolet Classic.

The incident started near Warren and Ridge when police noticed the driver swerving on the road, already posing a threat to other motorists prior to the pursuit.

The police report said the teen led police on a winding path that ended near Michigan Avenue and Beck. He is accused of driving 50 mph through 25 mph zones and as fast as 60-70 mph in other areas, swerving around other vehicles as he fled.

The report said the suspect's 4-year-old brother was sitting in a car seat in the back seat but wasn't strapped in as he should have been. The report said the child appeared frightened but not injured.

Girls soccer teams scrambling at start

See capsule outlook of area teams on page B4.

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

If Friday's Livonia Churchill-Livonia Ladywood girls soccer game does go off as scheduled Friday afternoon in the season opener for both teams, it may have to be dubbed "The Winter Classic."

With an extended spring break and dead period just over a week away, athletic directors have been scrambling to find enough open dates for the 2013 season — even if Mother Nature isn't cooperating.

When the frozen tundra does eventually thaw, there could be some compelling stories to the 2013 campaign.

Ladywood is coming off a 21-3-2 season and a Catholic League A-B Division title, but lost its top two offensive threats in Kelly Capoccia (Grand Valley State), who scored 24 goals, and Paige

Garber

Brennan, who added 27 assists.

The rest of the team, however, remains virtually intact led by first-team All-Observer pick and Division 2 third-team All-Stater Catherine Garber, a senior defender who spearheaded a backline that allowed just 17 goals all season.

Expected to pick up the scoring slack for the Blazers are senior returnees DeYana Walker (Northern Arizona) and Dominique Sarnecky. Senior goalkeeper Sara Even (Siena Heights) also returns.

"It helps that we are returning nine starters from last year's team including our entire defense and goalkeeper," said Ladywood coach Ken Shingledecker, who guided the Blazers to a runner-up finish in Division 2 in 2001 and a district title last year. "Some of our seniors have over 70 starts in their Ladywood careers. So experience won't be an issue with this team."

MU softball blanked, 3-0

The Madonna University softball team was held scoreless for just the second time this season as the Crusaders fell Saturday to NCAA Division II foe Ohio Dominican, 3-0, at Panther Field.

Visiting MU registered four hits with sophomore designated player Caitlyn Keuveelaar accounting for two of them.

Senior outfielder Amber Rafko and junior third baseman Carlee Meek each added one as the Crusaders slipped to 10-11 overall.

Sophomore Bree Crampton (5-6) was charged with the loss as she gave up three runs on five hits over her six innings of work, striking out three.

Madonna took a 2-0 lead in the top of the second when it appeared sophomore outfielder Karleigh Creighton (North Farmington) belted a two-run homer, but the Crusaders had batted out of order and the round-tripper was taken off the board leaving the game 0-0.

Ohio Dominican (4-17-1) got on the board in the bottom of the fourth when Caitlin Jividen and Taylor Thomas hit back-to-back home runs to center field for a 2-0 lead.

The Panthers tacked on their third run in the bottom of the sixth on a homer from Kelsey Albanese for a 3-0 lead.

Keuveelaar and Rafko both singled in the seventh, but were stranded as Rachel Stanzel (2-11) worked out of the jam for the complete game shutout. She struck out three.

The Crusaders are idle until 4 p.m. Wednesday, March 27, when Albion comes to open the brand new University Field.

Matmen earn spring titles

The Backbone Wrestling Club, based out of Livonia Franklin High School, had five grapplers place fourth or better in last weekend's Triway Spring Open in Wooster, Ohio.

In the 15-19-year-old age division, Marco Lytwyn placed first at 126 pounds, while Nick Frazier was runner-up at 160.

Jeremy Castillo (220) added a third, while Nick Robertson (126) and Kenneth Steele (152) each placed fourth.

Also participating in the tournament for Backbone were 14-year-olds Ryan Tracy (160) and Jeremy Nelson (126), both of whom wrestled up in the 15-19 age group, along with Daniel Huber (185) and Adam Ross (132).

COLLEGE VOLLEYBALL

Madonna University volleyball coach Jerry Abraham has signed a pair of prep standouts to NAIA letters-of-intent, adding Romulus' Maya Davis and Fenton's Payton Maxheimer.

The duo join the defending Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference regular season and tournament champion Crusaders, who are coming off of their 11th trip to the NAIA National Championships last December.

Davis, a 5-foot-10 middle hitter who lives in Wayne, led Romulus to a Western Wayne Athletic Conference championship last fall in her third varsity season.

She earned a pair of Offensive Player of the Year awards as well as All-WWAC, All-District and All-Region honors in addition to being a nominee for an All-State.

A selection to the principal's honor roll, Davis is the niece of former NBA player John Long and the cousin of former NBA player Terry Mills.

"Maya is very athletic," Abraham said. "She is the kind of player who can come in bid for a starting position as a middle hitter and that is what we hope she will do as a freshman. "Maya has really good

Whalers eye OHL playoffs vs. Sting

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

The Plymouth Whalers are white-hot entering the Ontario Hockey League playoffs, which for them kicks off 7 p.m. Friday against Sarnia at Compuware Arena.

Sunday's 4-0 whitewashing of Windsor gave Plymouth 16 victories over the final 17 contests of the regular season and the No. 2 seed in the Western Conference (42-17-5-4, 93 points).

Sarnia opens the first round after a third-place finish in the OHL West (which the Whalers won, by the way).

The Sting posted a 35-28-1-4 record, good for 75 points.

But Plymouth coach and general manager Mike Vellucci has been around the block a few times.

He doesn't put any stock in the Whalers' torrid second half, rather focusing on the fact both teams in the playoff matchup are at zeroes.

To that end, he kept regulars Tom Wilson and Colin MacDonald home for the finale, in order to rest nagging injuries.

Both are expected to be ready for Friday night.

"Last year, we ran into injury trouble and didn't have the depth," Vellucci said. "Hopefully, this year we have the depth. ... You got to have a lot of depth, four lines that can play. Make sure everybody's healthy and rested."

The Whalers — in the OHL playoffs for the 22nd straight year — know full well they'll need to fire on all cylinders from the opening puck drop Friday to have a shot at bringing home the OHL championship for the first time since 2007.

"We got to go in there, every game is important and every shift is important," Vellucci stressed.

JLA swan song

Irish's Voran cherishes CCHA's finale

By Brad Emons
Observer Staff Writer

Livonia's Michael Voran knows all too well the significance of the 42nd and final Central Collegiate Hockey Association Championship this weekend.

"You grow up watching the CCHA, you love playing at Joe Louis Arena," said the 5-foot-11, 197-pound right winger from Notre Dame. "Any time you're there you want to be out playing. You have family and friends that are going to be coming out to watch you. And especially since it's the last one, it makes it that much more exciting."

Voran, a junior who played three seasons of high school hockey at Stevenson High, hopes he'll be able to suit up after suffering an undisclosed injury in last Friday's quarterfinal opener against Bowling Green.

"I want to be our there, let's say that," said Voran, who has four goals and seven assists in 31 games this season.

The CCHA playoffs are down to the final four with the sixth-ranked Irish (23-12-2) taking on Ohio State at 1:05 p.m. followed by the Miami of Ohio-Michigan matchup in the second game. The championship game will be Sunday at the Joe.

A win over the Buckeyes would also help cement an NCAA postseason tournament berth.

"Our main goal is to win the CCHA," Voran said. "They (Ohio State) are a good team. They play hard and they have a great coach over there. I feel like we match up well most teams in the league. That's the great thing about the CCHA. Every night you're in for a battle. Ohio State will be a great test for us and we're excited to play."

With the Big Ten starting up next year and the CCHA dissolving, Voran and his Notre Dame teammates will be playing Hockey East against the likes of such teams as Boston College, Boston University, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

But right now the focus is on the CCHA as the Irish move into the semifinals with a 5-0-2 record in their last seven games.

Grapplers earn state accolades

FIRST-TEAM
Mohamad Youssef, Jr., Plymouth (103): It was a breakthrough season for Youssef to say the least. He finished 52-5 and established himself as one of the top 103-pounders in the region by winning the Wayne County and Observerland tournaments as well as the Division 1 district and regional championships.

At the D1 regionals, he pinned Ann Arbor Pioneer's Billy Cobb-Gulley in 2:29 and then placed seventh at the D1 finals at the Palace of Auburn Hills.

With that, Youssef became the third state placer in Plymouth school history.

"Mo started the season with the goal of placing at the state meet and worked all season to achieve that goal," coach Quinn Guernsey said.

According to Guernsey, an example of Youssef's competitive fire was at the individual regionals at Canton High School where "after fighting off his back against Tyler Rogaliner of Bedford, Mo was able to finish a powerful double leg shot and secure a pin sending him to the regional final."

Michael Volyanuk, Soph., Farm. Harrison (103): Volyanuk was the Division 1 state runner-up, finishing his sophomore season with a 45-8 record. He won a district championship and was a finalist at the Observerland, OAA and regional tournaments. He was third in the Oakland County meet. Volyanuk is 65-18 in two varsity seasons.

"Obviously, being in the state final, there's only one highlight better than that, and that's winning it," coach Jim Stuef said. "By Monday of the next week, he was ready to get back to work. He wanted to get back in the weight room and prepare for next year. He wants to be a state champion. He'll put the time and effort into it and, hopefully, attain it. He showed great growth from one year to the next, and he was definitely the most improved wrestler on our team."

"He's probably the strongest kid, pound for pound, in our room. He really likes the power lifting that we do. (In action photos), he looked like a little kid last year. He looked like a stud this year; he had that cut, muscular look to him."

Kyle Gillies, Sr., Westland Glenn (112): The three-time all-star was the Division 1 runner-up after winning both the regional and district titles.

Gillies, 55-1 overall this season with a school-record 204 career wins, also won Wayne County, Observerland and the Catholic Central invitational.

Coach of Year

Bill Polk said. He is a four-year varsity letter winner who won a ton of matches for us. He was a consistent performer for us always stepping up for the big matches.

"You can't replace a wrestler like Kyle. They only come around every once in a while. I'm excited to see the path that Kyle chooses after high school and sure he will be a great success in life."

Richard DeMarois, Sr., Canton (119): The senior enjoyed another outstanding season for the Chiefs, finishing with a 47-6 record while qualifying for the D1 individual regional.

There, he earned an 8-0 major decision over Nick Robertson of Livonia Franklin.

One of DeMarois' highlights this season was at the D1 team districts at Plymouth High School. He won 9-0 against Livonia Churchill's Josh Perez and defeated Plymouth's Trey Berry with a takedown in the second period.

"Richard DeMarois is one of the finest team leaders in the history of Canton Wrestling," coach Cory Mancuso said. "He brought his teammates together as family this season. The heart and dedication he put into (the team) for the last four seasons will never be forgotten by all of his coaches and his teammates."

Next fall, DeMarois plans on wrestling at the collegiate level.

Trey Berry, Sr., Plymouth

(119): Berry capped off a stellar career for the Wildcats by making it to the D1 individual finals, where he fell just short of achieving his goal of being a state placer.

In the blood round, Berry was pinned in 3:15 by Trevor Zdebski of Novi-Detroit Catholic Central (third-place finisher) to finish the year with a record of 40-18.

Guernsey said Berry's most successful tourney of the season was the KLAAs championships, where he defeated fellow first-team All-Observer wrestler Richard DeMarois of Canton to reach the final.

Berry placed fourth at the D1 individual regionals at Canton High School to qualify for the state finals.

"Trey has competed with some of the best wrestlers in the area and this year was no exception as 119 was again a very deep and balanced weight class," Guernsey noted.

The coach added that Berry is planning on wrestling next season at Muskegon Community College.

Danny Martinez, Sr., Liv. Franklin (125): The senior finished the year with a 40-2 record before suffering a broken arm in the Observerland Invitational finals.

Martinez was champion at the Wayne County and CC invitational. He also holds the Franklin records for career wins (192) and pins (106). As a junior he took fifth in the state finals.

"Kids like Danny don't come around too often," Franklin coach Dave Chiola said. "He's an incredible wrestler, a straight A student, a super nice kid, and very humble."

"Danny has been a dominant wrestler in the state for four years and was on pace to have a phenomenal year before he broke his arm. His leadership and work ethic will be missed. His maturity level and outlook on life is that of an adult. I'm sure he will be successful in whatever he does."

Ben Griffin, Jr., Canton (125): Fighting through injury much of the season, Griffin showed time after time why he is one of the toughest wrestlers in Observerland.

At the D1 team district finals, he suffered a torn meniscus yet literally got off the mat to win 13-4 over Livonia Churchill's Jonathan Locklear.

Griffin kept battling all the way to the Palace. At individual regionals, he came in second, losing in the finals by injury default.

Then, at the state finals, he finished sixth to post a season's record of 51-7 — making it to the podium for the third time in three seasons.

"He is by far the toughest wrestler I've been had the privilege to coach," Mancuso said. "His hard work and year-round commitment has molded him into one of the greatest athletes in the history of Canton High School."

Mannie Govantes, Sr., Farmington (125): Govantes concluded his senior season with a 49-7 record and seventh-place finish in the Division 1 tournament, setting a school record for single-season victories. He also broke a 28-year-old school record for most pins in a season with 37.

Govantes, who finished with a 122-44 career record, is fourth on Farmington's all-time victory list behind Nick Towski (134), Matt Michalski (130) and Mark Churella (123). He also is the Oakland County, Lakeland, Observerland and OAA tournament champion.

"Mannie's exceptional athleticism and acrobatic moves made him a crowd favorite, keeping his fans on the edge of their seats," coach Al Beyar said. "Mannie is a great young man with a smile on his face 24/7. He has a personality that makes it easy for anyone to feel comfortable being around him.

"His dedication and love of the sport showed in the practice room and in the meets. He is a hard worker and is goal-oriented, and that will help him in achieving his life goals. His leadership, talent and work ethic will be greatly missed next year."

Zach Francis, Jr., Luth. Westland (125): The junior finished 53-3 en route to a fourth-place finish in Division 4.

He was also district champion and third at the regional. Francis also added titles at Observerland, Adrian-Madison, Franklin, Burton Bendle, Redford Union, Blissfield and Lutheran Westland.

"Zachary obviously had an amazing year," Lutheran Westland coach Joe Schmidt said. "It was nice to see all of his success on-and-off the mat this year. He is one of the hardest working kids that I've ever coached. I'm looking forward to see what he does next year."

Chase Kallil, Sr., Plymouth (130): When the season started, Kallil was enthusiastic about a return trip to the D1 state finals. But then on the first night of the season, he suffered an injury that altered how his senior year would go.

But he fought his way back to action, and came up one match short when he lost 9-5 in the blood round of D1 regionals to Sejad Al-Hussain of Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

One of the highlights for Kallil, who finished with a 11-5 record for his abbreviated season, was cruising to victory over a higher-seeded Brighton wrestler at the KLAAs tournament, Guernsey said.

"A lot of the success Chase had this year came off the mat," Guernsey noted.

"After suffering what should have been a season-ending injury opening night Chase led the team in a different way helping coach and bring along the younger, more-inexperienced wrestlers who were being asked to fill his shoes.

"... Chase's leadership will be greatly missed both on the mat and off. His current post graduation plans are undecided but he plans to keep wrestling involved in his life."

Andrew Fialka, Sr., Farm. Harrison (135): Fialka compiled a 40-10 record as a senior and ended a four-year varsity career with 111 victories. He's believed to be the first 100-win wrestler in school history. Fialka is the Observerland champion at 135; he was second in the OAA tournament and fourth in Oakland County. Fialka, who will study engineering at Michigan State, was seventh in the state at 125 last year, and he just missed qualifying at the higher weight.

"Andrew is a great leader and a hard worker," Stuef said. "He's an aggressive, physical type of wrestler. I wouldn't say he's a super technician, but he's going to get out there and punish you when he gets his opportunity. When it comes to what you call home run moves, he'll catch a guy in it and pretty much guarantee a pin out of it."

"If he had been down at 130, I think he would have been a state placer again. It was just unfortunate things went the way they did at the regional when you had the No. 1 and 2 kids in the state at the same weight from the same school. But he's ready to move on to college and do all the things he's going to be really good at. I'm very proud of his efforts."

Jon Conn, Jr., Plymouth (135): After taking some "great steps" his junior season, Guernsey is excited about Conn's chances for standing on the podium at next year's D1 finals. This time around, he fell just short of placing.

"The team is really happy to have him coming back for his senior year and look forward to achieving the goal of being all-state," said Conn, who was a team captain and KLAAs Scholar Athlete for the second year in a row.

On the mat, Conn finished with a 45-14 record, winning one of his three bouts at the finals.

"Jon had a lot of success at tournaments this year, including making the finals at the tough Wayne County and Observerland tournaments," said Guernsey, adding that another challenge came at the Novi-Detroit Catholic Central Invitational where Conn placed sixth "in possibly the toughest weight" of that tourney.

"His biggest win of the season probably came over JD Waters of Hudson, who would go on to win a state title in Division 4," Guernsey said.

Allen Parker, Sr., Wayne (140): The senior, a two-time state qualifier, took eighth in the Division 1 state

Pick your poison

The Plymouth-Sarnia matchup boils down to the Whalers' deep-and-talented roster against Sarnia scoring stalwarts led by wingers Charles Sarault (108 points, one shy Plymouth scoring champion Vince Trocheck) and sniper Reid Boucher (62 goals in 68 games).

Conversely, Plymouth features eight players who cracked the 20-goal plateau — led by Trocheck and sniper Reid Boucher (62 goals in 68 games).

Trocheck scored 24 goals for Saginaw before his January trade to the Whalers and then went off on an offensive tear (26-33-59 in just 28 games).

Matt Mistele and Garrett Meurs registered 34 and 32 goals, respectively, followed by Stefan Noesen (25), Cody Payne (24), Wilson and Ryan Hartman (23 each) and Rickard Rakell, who netted 21 despite missing a month while up with Anaheim of the NHL.

Go ahead and throw the name of forward Mitchell Heard into the mix. Heard scored 17 goals in 31 games and probably would have surpassed 30 goals had he not been with Lake Erie of the AHL for the first half of the season.

Two-way 'D'

On defense, the Whalers gave up just 202 goals while Sarnia allowed 254.

Strong, experienced blueliners such as MacDonald, Nick Malysa and Austin Levi along with newcomers Connor Carrick and Gianluca Curcuruto give the Whalers the best of both worlds — whether playing close to the vest or pushing the offensive envelope with pinching and sniping.

Vellucci's squad also has the edge in goal. Both veteran Matt Mahalak (2.86, .906 save percentage) and rookie Alex Nedeljkovic (2.28, .923) have excelled.

"Both guys have played great," Vellucci said. "Mahalak has two shut-outs in a row so he's playing well. It's a good time for both of them."

The Sting will rely on JP Anderson, who has a 3.31 goals-against average and .905 save percentage.

A key for Plymouth will be staying out of the penalty box, largely to slow down Boucher, who scored 21 goals on the power play.

As for the regular season series between the teams, Plymouth won four of the six games and lost one in a shootout. In the most recent matchups, Plymouth won 10-2 on Feb. 18 and 4-0 on Feb. 23.

"They got a great team, they got a good goalie," Vellucci said. "They got the leading goal scorer in the league in Boucher, they got a couple good lines and their defense likes to jump into the play."

"So we're going to have to be patient and just push the tempo a little bit."

Notre Dame started out the 2012 portion of the season with a 16-4 record, but hit a slump during the month of January.

"I thought the first half of the season went pretty well," Voran said. "As a team we had a lot of success. We were definitely on the roll. I came back after Christmas and actually got injured. The second half has been kind of a tough one personally dealing with injuries, but the team has battled through a little adversity that we had early in the second half. I feel like we're back to where we were when we were rolling good, so we're excited to be back at the Joe."

Voran, despite missing seven games, has firmly planted himself as a key contributor.

"Michael came back this year with a great attitude and work ethic and really established himself as one of our top two line right wingers in the early stages of the year," Notre Dame coach Jeff Jackson said. "Unfortunately he had a few injuries that have set him back a little bit. He just started to come back and got dinged up again last weekend. His energy has helped our penalty kill and he's been effective playing with some of our top players and I really like where he is headed as far as his future goes."

Coming off a sophomore season where he had five goals and five assists, Voran has taken on added responsibility this year.

"My role has increased," he said. "I've really started to do a lot more penalty killing time. I take a lot of pride in that being a P.K.'er. Also, I've been in-and-out on power plays, getting a little more ice time. I'm just happy my role has increased and also it's that our team is also doing so well."

Last year, the Irish finished 19-18-3.

"Last year, we kind of had an off season, but now all those guys are older and we have great seniors," Voran said. "We've kind of all been there. We deal with adversity maybe better than we have in the past."

"We're a pretty exciting team and play good defense. We think we have a pretty good team now."

Voran played his freshman and sophomore seasons at Stevenson, then spent his junior year with Honeybaked's AAA team before returning to high school hockey his senior year where he led the state in scoring with 33 goals and 36 assists (69 points).

He then migrated to the junior ranks, first with the Wenatchee (Wash.) Wild of the North American Hockey League, followed by a season with the Sioux Falls (S.D.) Stampede of the USHL where he proved to be a capable goal scorer with 56 and 74 points, respectively.

As a freshman at Notre Dame, Voran had his best season statistically with four goals and 15 assists (19 points) in 43 games.

Voran, however, still holds his high school hockey days in high esteem, especially after following Stevenson earning its first-ever state championship with a 5-4 win over Hartland on March 10.

"I was pretty pumped," Voran said. "Me and my buddies still haven't gotten over the losses we had over the years. It was nice to finally see them get one for our school obviously. Stevenson was a great school and they did a lot for me. I'll always be a Stevenson Spartan fan. I actually got up and watched the game. I saw it on a live feed and my parents were there and they were getting me live updates and my buddies were there. It was a pretty cool time for Livonia and Stevenson hockey. It was pretty cool being able to watch, but I wanted to come home. It just didn't work out."

Michael Voran also played high school hockey at Stevenson with his brother, Marcus, who graduated from U-M-DeARBorn and now works in Ann Arbor.

"He (Marcus) comes down quite a bit to watch me and it's cool to have the support from him, and from a guy who also played hockey," Michael said. "He knows the struggles and ups and downs, stuff like that."

A business-marketing major at Notre Dame, Voran pulled a 3.6 grade point average during the fall semester and holds a 3.3 G.P.A. overall, so he'll have something to fall back on once he graduates.

But there's a lot of unfinished business when it comes to his hockey career and beyond.

"I want to keep playing and you do it because you love it," Voran said. "In it's your blood. Whatever happens, happens. I guess I'll worry about it when the time comes. Right now our goal is to win a couple championships and hopefully the first one is this weekend."

makes some noise this spring in Division 4 as the Warriors lost only one starter.

All-Conference picks Angela Morrison, a senior goalkeeper, and Jessica Drife, a senior defender, lead the way.

Another veteran squad is Livonia Clarenceville (5-12-2), which is dropping its independent status to join the 10-team Western Wayne Athletic Conference.

The Trojans will be led by second-team All-Area selection Ashley Murphy, who scored 11 goals and added four assists last season.

She will get plenty of support from sophomore midfielder Lindsey Fosth (five goals, five assists) and sophomore goalkeeper Jillian Bunker (138 saves).

Livonia Stevenson (9-9-1), a member of the KLAAs strong Central Division, will feature a slew of new faces after losing 13 players to graduation, including first-team All-Area selection Dayna Stevens.

The Spartans, who lost 2-1 to Division 1 state semifinalist Canton in the district playoffs, could surprise in 2013 led by senior midfielders Alexi Kliza and Allie Corp, along with senior forward Carlin O'Malley.

"We should be strong through the middle of the field with a number of players who can play numerous positions," Stevenson fourth-year coach Chris Grodzicki said.

In the KLAAs South Division, both Canton and Plymouth will be the favorites once again.

Reid Friedrichs is new coach, but no stranger to Livonia Churchill soccer after spending 12 seasons as the boys coach.

The Chargers (4-10-5) will rely on senior defender Rachel Tomassi and junior forward Kelsey Parrinello, who is coming off knee surgery and committed to play at the University of Cincinnati.

"We have a lot of challenges ahead of us as we implement new styles and systems of play into a new program with new ladies and with winter still hanging around, I feel very behind," Friedrichs said. "But I like my ladies, I like our work ethic, I like my team and all I want to accomplish is to improve every day."

Livonia Franklin (6-12-4) is coming of only its second district title in school history.

The Patriots lost two of their top players to graduation including All-Observer goalkeeper Alexis Smith (Schoolcraft College).

Senior Natalie Desautel will anchor the defense.

"There are many new players on varsity this season, and it will take some time for the team to find its stride," Franklin fourth-year coach Dean Kowalski said. "If we stay focused and work hard, I feel we can be a dangerous team in the division."

Westland John Glenn (5-12-2) will try and find the right combinations in the KLAAs South.

Leading the way is junior midfielder C.C. Said, junior center-midfielder Olivia Cabel and sophomore center-mid Raven Buck.

"I'm looking forward to this year," Glenn third-year coach Ralph Cabildo said. "We have eight of our starting girls coming back from last year. Veteran senior goalie Jenna Redden will play a big part in our success this year."

The other new coach in the area is Jason Dean at Wayne Memorial (1-17), who built success at nearby Garden City.

Dean, who also took over the Wayne boys program, will get a boost from juniors Amber Parrish and Crystal Fletcher.

"We will look to play with more control and create more overall possession," said Dean, whose team was scheduled to open the season Thursday against Redford Thurston. "We are very young and inexperienced, but the group is working hard to improve on last season's results."

Livonia parish marks its 50th anniversary

Take a self-guided tour of St. Aidan Parish in Livonia by scanning the QR codes throughout the church with your smart phone and learn about the art in the house of worship.

Check out the 25-year-old time capsule that the church will open next month. Or pass through St. Aidan's holy doors and receive a partial indulgence for your sins.

All of those activities and more will mark the parish's 50th anniversary this year.

St. Aidan was formed in 1963 and services were held in a school while the parish's first church was under construction. That building served the community until the 1980s when the parish outgrew the facility. The new church, complete with bell tower, was finished in time for the parish's 25th anniversary.

A set of "holy doors" recently was added to the atrium of the church. The doors were inspired by a pilgrimage to Rome. The holy doors on the four major basilicas of Rome are opened by the Pope on designated jubilee years. Catholics from all over the world come to cross the thresholds of these doors as a sign of their desire to be free from the effects of sin and to renew their relationship with Jesus. After first celebrating the Sacrament of Reconciliation, those who walk through a holy door receive a plenary — or complete — indulgence, the removal of all punishment due for sins that have been forgiven. The Archbishop of Detroit, Allen Vigneron, has granted a partial indulgence to Catholics who walk through St. Aidan's holy doors to celebrate the parish's golden anniversary and the Catholic Church's 2013 Year of Faith.

St. Aidan's pastor, the Rev. Kevin Thomas, continues the long-standing tradition of the church's service to its community. Thomas is police chaplain for the City of Livonia. Over the years the parish also has donated clothing to the community, bought food for the needy and supported soup kitchens, held numerous blood drives and assisted those affected by national tragedies and disasters.

The church has planned several celebrations over the year to mark its anniversary. All are open to the public and include a reception on June 19, harvest festival on Aug. 25 and Mass, followed by a gala on Oct. 20.

For more information, visit the Golden Anniversary webpage at www.staidanlivonia.org or call the parish office at (734) 425-5950.

Musical brings passion, resurrection of Jesus to life

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Kelly Nieto punched up her popular Lenten musical with a new name, cast, secular stage and extended story line this year.

The Farmington Hills woman says the changes — which include a venue switch from the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament to Music Hall — will help her reach a broader audience with her dramatic telling of the Stations of the Cross, Resurrection and Pentecost. It's advice she said came straight from God. "We loved being at the Cathedral. It was an incredible two years. It was the biggest event in the history of the Cathedral — over 11,000 (attendees) each year. We sponsored 2,400 low-income children to see it at no cost. But it was difficult for people to see past the 15th row. At the same time we knew we wanted to reach out to people who would not go to a cathedral. We knew God was calling us to a broader audience."

Nieto, who is married and has five children, produced "The Living Stations of the Cross" at her parish, Our Lady of Sorrows in Farmington, for 10 years, before moving the production to the Cathedral in 2011. The presentation blended Nieto's original contemporary songs with Pope John Paul II's text of the 14 Stations, which conclude with Christ being placed in a tomb. This year, the musical drama, renamed The Cross and the Light, will begin a week-long run on Palm Sunday, March 24, at Music Hall in downtown Detroit. The title change reflects the addition of a new second act that includes scenes about the Resurrection and Pentecost.

Nieto said she was inspired to extend the story beyond the Stations of the Cross, while praying at a Good Friday service last year. The day after Easter she revised the production, making it "10 times better," than the original work.

"When we were at the Cathedral, we'd go to black between each scene. It was very presentational. Now, this is like a full-blown theatrical musical where there are character lines built from the opening number. In fact, one of the coolest things is we now have our singing soldier. His is everybody's favorite character," she said. The character evolves from a "mean and nasty" soldier to Christian convert.

"Now you have a character you can invest in. It's very different in that sense. It's a theatrical piece now, not just a presentation of information."

Somber to joyous

The first act ends with Jesus dying on the cross. The second starts with his placement in a tomb, the culmination of the Living Stations of the Cross.

"After the 14th Station, it turns bright — I mean, the music never stops. There is a stark contrast between what the cross is and what the light is. So, in terms of musical style, energy and emotion, it's very different in act two. We take you from the empty tomb all the way to Pentecost with Peter and the apostles baptizing thousands.

"And whether people will know it or not, everyone in the audience is being baptized spiritually and musically in every sense. You leave there feeling as if 'I have a call. I have to do something for the Lord.'"

Nieto said a priest reviewed the script for biblical accuracy and that it represents a Christian story without denominational overtones.

"Every line is from the Bible. We didn't take any license with the truth of the story. It is a timeless message and we will never water it down."

Volunteers needed

In addition to producing and writing the show, Nieto also serves as technical director and leads promotional efforts. She has distributed flyers and spoken at numerous Sunday worship services, but said she welcomes volunteers to assist with publicity, selling merchandise and other tasks.

ater troupe contacted her through the Internet and plans to perform the Living Stations portion of the program this year. Representatives from churches in Lansing, western Michigan, Upper Michigan, Ohio, Colorado and Mississippi will view the full show to determine their interest in purchasing rights to perform it. "That's really the goal because I can't do more than one of these a year," Nieto said.

"If a big production company came in town and saw this, that is what we're looking for our next step, that they would find investors and have an equity production. That's the next level up."

Michael Deller of Livonia will perform paper-cutting stories at the storytelling concert.

Stories come alive at concert due to skill

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Turn off your iPads, iPods, Xboxes, and eBook readers on Saturday, March 23, and head to the Livonia Public Library for some good, old-fashioned storytelling.

Three experienced storytellers will bring the magic of their performance art to children, age 4-10, at 2 p.m. in the library auditorium, 32777 Five Mile. Admission is $2 per person or $5 for families.

"Karen Czarnik will start off the program with a couple of songs to get everyone settled," said Judy Sima, who will serve as the program emcee. "We'll have Michael Diller, who was head librarian for Livonia library for a long time. He'll do paper cutting stories. He'll tell a story and when he's finished cutting paper (simultaneously) he'll open it and it will be something — almost like magic. And there's Linda Day, our former president. She's wonderful. She makes all these characters come alive. She puts her whole self and body into the story. Her stories are captivating."

Each child will receive a gift and refreshments will be served after the concert.

The storytelling concert drew 200 youngsters last year. The event is designed to celebrate

The Jewish Community Center of Metropolitan Detroit will present its 15th Annual Lenore Marwil Jewish Film Festival, beginning April 7, and will offer 30 award-winning films.

"Each year, hundreds of films have to be viewed in order to choose the very best in the largest Jewish film festival in the country," said Rachel Ruskin, film festival director. "Each one of these films is like entering another world, a once-in-a-lifetime adventure."

This state-wide festival offers events in West Bloomfield, Flint, Kalamazoo and Ann Arbor. It features movies from around the world, including Israel, England, France, Germany and the Czech Republic.

Among this year's films: Life In Stills, a documentary, tells the story of Miriam Weissenstein's The Photo House and portrays the relationship between the 96-year-old owner and her grandson, Ben Peter. Miriam's shop is slated for destruction when Ben comes into the picture. He is determined to save the building and its collection of nearly 1 million negatives that document Israel's birth, beginnings and most notable moments in history. The film runs at 8 p.m. April 15 at The Berman Center for the Performing Arts, on the Jewish Community Center campus, 66600 W. Maple, West Bloomfield. See it at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 5, at the Michigan Theater, 603 E. Liberty, in Ann Arbor.

Hava Nagila (The Movie) will explore the song that is played at weddings, sporting events and even social clubs in Moscow. How does one song become incredibly popular when so few people even understand the words? Film goes will see why artists such as Bob Dylan and Elvis have tried to make Hava Nagila their own. See it at noon, Sunday, April 7 in West Bloomfield and 8 p.m. Sunday, May 5 in Ann Arbor.

The Price of Kings takes a look into the life of the legendary and controversial Israeli leader Shimon Peres, a man who went from hawk to dove, from winning the Nobel Peace Prize to mourning the death of former Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. The film is narrated by Helena Bonham Carter. It will screen at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 16, in West Bloomfield.

In My Best Enemy, Victor Kaufmann is the son of wealthy gallery owners and living a fairly comfortable life in Vienna. He has a loving girlfriend, Lena, and a best friend named Rudi. Suddenly things take a dramatic turn when the two men learn surprising information about each other. Then roles begin to reverse in this film that is both comic and suspenseful. See it at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 17, in West Bloomfield.

The Other Son tells the story of two men who were switched at birth. "Joseph" son of a prominent Israeli officer and physician, discovers that his biological parents are Arab and live on the West Bank. The couple discovers that their child, Yassin, is an Israeli. The film screens 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 10 in West Bloomfield and 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 8, in Ann Arbor.

For a complete list of films visit www.jccdet.org. Admission to each film is $11. Encouraging news emerges on home permit front

Based on single-family new home permit data compiled by the Home Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan in its Southeastern Michigan Residential Building Activity Report, a total of 250 single-family home permits were issued in Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair and Wayne counties in January 2013.

From a year-over-year perspective, permit activity in January was nearly 84 percentage points higher than January 2012 (136). This year's January total is also the fastest to start a year since 2007. Finally, from a trailing 12-month perspective, southeastern Michigan reached a total of 3,758 permits which is 46 percent higher than January 2012 (2,569) and the highest level since September 2007 (3,849).

Michael Stoskopf, CEO of the Home Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, said, "We've off to a great start," following an improving 2012. "In January, we're off to our best start since 2007."

His organization does a monthly index for builders. "They set a new record high for their optimism index," said Stoskopf, a Williamston, Mich., resident.

"Existing home inventories are very low. That has a definite positive effect on new home construction."

He agreed that opens up job opportunities in the skilled trades, with a challenge now to find carpenters and those who do drywall and plumbing, and similar work.

"The ability to find skilled labor," Stoskopf said, looms large now, with surviving businesses also seeking that labor pool. "They're looking for talent to hire as well. That is our next big challenge."

Michael Stoskopf

He and colleagues are buoyed by the recent encouraging news.

"There were times when I would wonder if we could get back to this," said Stoskopf, adding the figures are only 45-50 percent back. "Hopefully that will continue."

Oakland County led the way with 119 single-family home permits issued. Macomb and Wayne were literally deadlocked with 68 and 63 permits, respectively. St. Clair County did not have any single-family home permits issued in January.

Looking back, this was the best January for Oakland County since 2006. For Macomb, it was the best since 2007. Wayne County was the best since 2010. Finally, since 2009, St. Clair County has issued only one permit in the month of January (2011), so this year's result is not unexpected.

While sale prices for existing homes showed significant improvement from January 2012 to January 2013, according to Realcomp, the average new home permit value across the region was mixed. Overall, comparing January 2013 to January 2012, average permit values for the four-county region improved by just over 1 percent to $217,320. This increase was the result of performance in Oakland County, where average permit values rose by 17 percent to $255,168. The average permit value in Macomb fell slightly (1.2 percent) to $225,328, while Wayne County saw a significant decrease of nearly 23 percent with average permit values in January 2013 at $136,635.

The six-month forecast shows positive permit activity but with muted performance when compared to 2012.

This report is based on an algorithm created by HBA's Stoskopf. It is issued monthly by the association including a six-month forecast and a trailing 12-month perspective.

Headquartered in West Bloomfield, Home Builders Association of SE Michigan (HBA) and Apartment Association of Michigan (AAM) are trade associations representing 500 builders, remodelers, multi-family property owners, developers and suppliers to the single family and multi-family residential construction industry. HBA is affiliated with the Home Builders Association of Michigan in Lansing and the National Association of Home Builders in Washington, D.C.

Ill. court rules on security force

By Robert Meisner
Guest Columnist

Q: I have heard about a recent case out of Illinois regarding the association's passage of various rules for the benefit of its private security force. Can you give me any details on same?

A: In a recent decision reached by the Illinois Supreme Court, it was held that an Illinois homeowners association's private security force can, pursuant to its duly passed rules, set and monitor speed limits on private association owned roads by use of both audio and visual devices and by use of a stop, detain and ticket protocol if the speeders are homeowner members who drive in excess of the posted speed limit; further, the court said that the use of oscillating amber lights on security devices is lawful. It may also be possible, although the Court did not address this, that a Homeowner's Association's third-party security services vendor is also allowed to use the same lawful methods for enforcing association speed rules. However, it seems that the court is saying that only members may be ticketed, not guests or invitees who can only be verbally warned to slow down and asked to observe the speed limits. This opens up the avenue for much more enforcement, at least in Illinois, and perhaps, in other states, of the right to enforce the road regulations although the association runs the risk of being threatened with a false imprisonment claim as was the case in Illinois. See your attorney first!

Q: The last time I was in Sedona, Ariz., there was nothing but traffic lined up which impeded my ability to consider investing in residential property. Do you have any information concerning any improvement?

A: Sedona has gone through a major traffic reconfiguration using roundabouts as opposed to stop signs and stop lights which has substantially improved the viability of traffic in the city. While my recent last visit was during the off season, it appeared that traffic was moving smoothly without any major tie-ups, and having talked to a number of the residents, it appears that traffic is much better during even the high season which is generally in the spring. I also note much of the development areas which used to be on dirt roads are now paved with a number of residential developments springing up as the economy turns for the better.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
