GOVERNOR'S BUDGET DRAWS MIXED REACTION

By LeAnne Rogers and Sue Mason Staff Writers

At least it's not another cut that's the reaction of local officials when it comes to Gov. Rick Snyder's budget proposal.

"I took a look at it. We won't get a whole lot, but it's not another cut, so that's a positive," Westland Mayor William Wild said. "I understand the difficulty the state is facing given the current (reduced) revenue forecasts.'

As a mayor, Wild said he appreciates that funding for local government wasn't targeted for additional reductions in the budget. The governor proposes a $23.8-million increase in revenue sharing - not a large amount spread across the state. That increase would take the total allocation to $788 million. Westland had projected a 2-percent increase in revenues, Wild said, but property tax revenues are increasing 1.6 percent — the rate of inflation. "So we were a little off," he said. Wayne-Westland School Superintendent Michele Harmala found positives and negatives in the governor's budget proposal.

While she's pleased there will be no reduction in the per-pupil foundation allowance and an increase in at-risk funding, Harmala said she's frustrated that the governor continues to use School Aid Fund money for colleges and universities and continually changes the targets for best-practices money.

"I'm a little bit frustrated," Harmala said. "It's not a cut, but it's not as hopeful as it could be. They always attach strings.'

The governor has proposed $11.9 billion in K-12 appropriations, a $1.2-billion increase from fiscal year 2011. That includes $108 million to increase the foundation allowance, which equates to $75 per pupil.

Also proposed are a $100 million increase from $310 million to $410 million for at-risk funding for students, a new investment of $25 million for a third-grade reading initiative, and $30 million for districts that perform financial best practices.

"When they change standards for automakers, they have time to go to research and development; they have time to retool," she said. "We don't get that opportunity, and if we don't meet best practices, we don't get the money.'

"I'm concerned that yet again the money is tied to new standards. To get the money, you have to know what the targets are and you have to stay with those targets, but they keep changing them each year," she added.

Snyder also proposed an additional $28 million, or 2 percent, for the operations of state's 15 public universities and an additional $4.3 million or 1.4 percent for community college opera-tions. The recommendation calls for universities to limit tuition increases to 2.8 percent or less in order to receive the funding increase.

Unlike local government and schools, the state budget year doesn't blamed on businesses beginning to claim tax credits - awarded under previous administrations - as the businesses started to grow and hire more employees. The revenue shortfall is projected at $532 million in 2015-16.

"As a businessman, I'm a little surprised that the state legislators thought businesses would hold these tax credits," Wild said. "Hopefully in the future, some safeguards can be put into place in respect to the redemption of the credits so as not to put state services or jobs at risk.

"We didn't see that. We need to maintain focus on reducing the fundamental costs of the city," Hawley said. "It's wishful thinking that we will bring in a windfall."

Another concern for Hawley was the possible involvement of Nocerini in an educational campaign regarding the P.A. 345 millage to fund police and fire pensions on the May ballot.

"The time has come to do all we can to cut the spending of the city. Short-term, we have different proposals to balance the budget or Plan B (budget cuts)," he said. "Without more money, next year we will be in the $13 million range. We have got to live in that."

Council members didn't agree. Grant writing will be an important service Nocerini can provide, along with advising the city in many other ways and on specific projects, Councilman Skip Monit said.

Madonna University names first lay president

Madonna University, which has been led by the Felician Sisters since its founding some 78 years ago, announced its first lay president, Dr. Michael A. Grandillo.

Grandillo will succeed Sister Rose Marie Kujawa at the helm of the 4,200student, liberal arts university in Livonia. He will assume the office of president July 1 and an inauguration will be planned for the fall.

"I am humbled and honored to be called upon to serve and lead this exceptional university community," Grandillo said. "I understand and embrace the charism and core values of the Felician Sisters and Madonna University, I am eager to continue building on our successes to ensure Catholic higher education is accessible and affordable at Madonna.

As a consultant with the Registry for College and University Presidents, Grandillo presently serves as interim vice president at St. Mary's (Md.) College, where he leads the Foundation Board, advancement team and public outreach initiatives. Just prior to St. Mary's, he completed a similar assignment at Bethel (Ind.)

College.

Michael Talbot, Madonna University board chair and member of the Presidential Search Committee, was more than pleased with Grandillo's selection. "At this historic juncture, when the university is hiring its first lay president, Dr. Grandillo is the perfect leader to take Madonna into the future," Talbot said. "His breadth of experience across all aspects of university administration and his deep faith and respect for the Felician/Franciscan mission and tradition will serve him and the Madonna community well.'

With more than 35 years of higher education experience, Grandillo has experience in academic leadership, recruitment, enrollment management, public relations and advancement at a number of colleges and universities. During his career, he has participated in or led more than 30 strategic planning projects in higher education, community organizations and government. Grandillo's reach wasn't limited to higher education. He was elected to the Tiffin City Council four times and served a year and a half as council president. U.S. Sen. Sherrod Brown recently appointed Grandillo to his commission to mater, Ohio Northern screen candidates for federal appointments.

A lifelong Roman Catholic, Grandillo grew up in Dayton, Ohio. He and his wife Nancy raised their children, Vincent and Gina, in Tiffin, Ohio, where they also worked with, supported and enjoyed the compassion of the Sisters of St. Francis. A Heidelberg College alumna, Nancy serves as board chair of Terra Community College in Fremont, Ohio. Vincent is a graduate of Hiram College and Gina is a junior at Ohio Northern University.

Prior to his time with the Registry, Grandillo served as president and CEO of Lakeland College in Sheboygan, Wisc. He honed his presidential leadership and fundraising skills during his 17 years as vice president for development and public affairs at Tiffin University and another nine years as director of development at Heidelberg College.

His fundraising prowess resulted in five successful capital campaigns, tripling of the endowment at two institutions, and raising more than $80 million. "I am excited to be a part of fostering an enhanced philanthropic vision for Madonna," he said.

He began his career in admissions at his alma

University, where he received the 2014 Distinguished Alumni Award. During his tenure as associate dean of admissions at Heidelberg, undergraduate enrollment doubled.

With a bachelor's degree in political science from Ohio Northern University, Grandillo attended the University of Dayton to earn a master of science in education. In 2006, he completed a doctor of philosophy degree in higher education and Italian Renaissance history at the University of Toledo.

His research and scholarly interests are in the areas of philanthropic support of education, university history and public policy and enhancing the collegiate experience for students and student-athletes. He has presented at numerous conferences, shared his time and talent with a number of community service groups and, as an adjunct professor, he has enjoyed teaching political science.

"Nancy and I share the university's commitment to academic excellence and we look forward to engaging students, in the classroom, on campus and in social settings. We enjoy direct involvement in all aspects of student life and are particularly interested in helping to enhance an atmosphere of com-munity," Grandillo said.

Kujawa announced her retirement last April. During her 14-year tenure and under her steadfast leadership, retention has improved by 8 percent, the university's first doctoral program (the doctor of nursing practice) was launched and Madonna became the first independent university in Michigan to be awarded the Community Engagement Classification by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. She led more than $40 million in campus improvements, including construction of the school's first standalone building in 40 years and Livonia's first LEED Certified building at the Gold Level.

Her commitment to academics resulted in the growth of academic programs to 100 undergraduate and 35 graduate offerings and her dedication to serving others compelled her to establish the Haiti Educational Leadership Program, which graduated its first eight students in May 2014.

Webster Elementary wins nutrition rock show

Webster Elementary has won a performance of the Rock and Roll nutrition show Jump with Jill in the Milk Means More campaign, a statewide contest in support of dairy.

Michigan's dairy farmers and milk processors and the United Dairy Industry of Michigan (UDIM) sponsor the program as part of their Fuel Up to Play 60 Program.

Winning schools not only get a live performance but also receive Jump with Jill educa-tional materials including a CD of Jump with Jill music and DVDs of danceable music videos including a rap about calcium, The Bone Rap, and a Latin tune about breakfast, Get Me Goin'.

The statewide tour of Michigan elementary schools runs through mid-March and will be provided at no cost to 35 schools across Michigan.

'Not only is milk a highquality protein and nutrient source, it is one of Michigan's leading agricultural products, generating nearly 40,000 jobs," says the star of the Midwest Jump with Jill cast, Laura Brown, a registered dietitian. "It's so fun to sing about a food that is healthy for our bodies, our communities, and our environment.'

"We are dedicated to being a source of information on dairy foods and Michigan dairy farming," said Sharon Toth, CEO of United Dairy Industry of Michigan. "The Milk Means More brand captures the impact Michigan's dairy industry has throughout our state, from providing nutritious and wholesome foods, to jobs in our communities. Firm to market former Washington, Nankin Mills school sites

By Karen Smith Staff Writer

The Livonia school board has hired a consulting firm for an estimated $30,000 to market the Washington and Nankin Mills school sites.

The board voted 5-1 Monday to contract with Great Northern Consulting Group of Ann Arbor.

It also unanimously approved a limited Schools of Choice program for 50 generaleducation students for next school year after deeming this year's pilot program a success.

Both actions follow community budget forums held in January, where attendees said they'd prefer revenue enhancements over program cuts to keep the district out of deficit, according to Superintendent Randy Liepa. The district, which has a general fund budget this school year of $146.5 million, expects to have just $400,000 in fund equity by June 30.

Kim Balhorn, during audience communications, asked the board not to sell the approximate 13-acre Washington site at Hix and Ann Arbor roads in Livonia, but to keep it as open space for the community.

"There is no playground, there's no place for the kids to go to and play," she said, adding there would be little left to draw new families into the neighborhood. She said the money from the sale of the land would be a one-time thing. "What are we going to do next year?" she asked. "This is not going to solve all our problems for the future. We need to figure out something else."

Trustee Eileen Mc-Donnell, who cast the only no vote, suggested the board was putting the cart before the horse and recommended holding community meetings

Schools of Choice

The Schools of Choice program that will admit 50 general-education students next school year is projected to bring in about $400,000 to the district.

'While this is not necessarily a palatable choice to everyone in our community, I think the alternatives (program cuts) are even less so and I would ask the community to help us embrace this program," board Secretary Tammy Bonifield said.

McDonnell said she was not in favor of last year's pilot program, where 60 general-education students were admitted. However, she reconsidered her opinion after hearing from constituents and noticing how few community members who came to our students' programs is sometimes much more important than personal feelings or thoughts."

Liepa said the board could expand Schools of Choice for next school year from 50 students by another 10, 20 or 30, depending on the number of applicants it receives during the application period March 2-31.

Currently, the district is offering 20 seats in kindergarten, 10 each in first and second grade and five each in third and fourth grade. The district also offers some Schools of Choice seats in its academically-talented programs.

Information on applying for Schools of Choice is on the district's web-

May 5 ballot proposal

The board also unanimously approved a resolution supporting the May 5 ballot proposal that would, among other things, increase the state sales tax from 6 percent to 7 percent, providing additional funding for roads and an additional $300 million for schools, about $200 per student.

Michigan public schools have adversely been affected by funding shortfalls and the state's roads and bridges need to be repaired so students can arrive safely at school, the resolution reads.

"One penny on the dollar is a recognized sacrifice by citizens, but is an investment that is worth safer roads and better schools for everyone in Michigan," the resolution reads.

Suspect sought in wallet thefts at DAV store

Information is being sought to identify a woman wanted for allegedly stealing wallets and purses from shoppers at a Westland charity store.

Westland Police have released store security photos and video of the suspect.

There have been four reported thefts at the Disabled American Veterans store, 8050 N. Middlebelt. The thefts began in October 2014. Police said the store manager indicated there may have been more victims who did not make a police report.

The suspect is de-scribed as a black female in her mid 40s to 50s, with straight black hair, possibly wearing a wig. The woman may have been driving a silver or white Honda.

According to police, the suspect walks around the store until she spots a female who is shopping alone with a purse in her cart. The suspect waits until the victim is distracted and takes the victim's whole

Livonia man portrays Maxwell Smart in 'Get Smart'

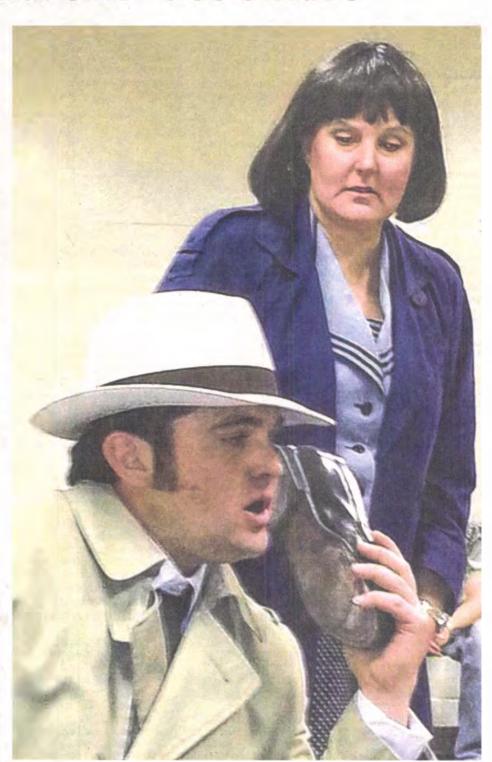

Secret Agent 86 and Agent 99 are back together to stop the sinister organization known as KAOS.

Get Smart -the much-loved secret agent spoof of the 1960s comes alive on stage at the Village Theater at Cherry Hill for two weekends, Feb. 20 through March 1.

In the title role, Christopher Glutting of Livonia portrays the oblivious and bumbling Maxwell Smart who is off on a bizarre new case in which he must stop KAOS from blowing up the Statue of Liberty.

Aided by the beautiful
Agent 99, played by Leanne Young of South Lyon, Smart proceeds from one gigantic blunder to another and yet, somehow, he always manages to save the day.

"With an abundance of gadgets from the shoe phone to the cone of silence, Get Smart had cutting-edge technology well ahead of its time," Director David Zolotarchuk of Westland said. "Perhaps we call today's devices smart phones after Maxwell

Women's comedy event to benefit Angela Hospice

If a party with 900 women, food, wine, raffles, auctions, plus a comedienne to boot sounds good to you, look no further than Angela Hospice's "Laughter Lifts You Up." This annual gathering is the non-profit's biggest event of the year and its popularity is easy to explain.

"This girls' night out is the perfect opportunity to gather up your sisters and friends while supporting a great cause," said Helen Balmforth, events coordinator for Angela Hospice. "We guarantee you a night of fun, laughter and friendship!"

The event will take place from 6-10 p.m.
Thursday, March 19, at Laurel Manor in Livonia. WWJ's Jackie Paige will emcee and featured comedienne Leanne Morgan will perform.

Nellie Abraham of Plymouth is planning to get her friends together for the event. She and others from her neighborhood have been coming every year since the event began in 2008. Last year they bought two tables of 10.

"It's a nice event for us to go to together as women," Abraham said. "I'm definitely a hospice supporter. I think it's wonderful."

Abraham says she loves getting the group together, and she enjoys all the fun aspects of the event itself. The raffle is a favorite, and she buys tickets "absolutely every time." She encourages all her friends to purchase tickets, too. "Even if you don't win, I keep telling them, it's a good cause!"

New this year, there will be a tin can raffle too, plus a silent auction. Prizes will include handbags, jewelry, SeaWorld and Disney passes, a Saugatuck bed-andbreakfast getaway, and Blue Man Group tickets with meet and greet, just to name a few. "Steppin' and Stylin' into Spring" is this year's theme, and fancy footwear is sure to make an appearance as well. Guests will even have the chance to bid on a pair of shoes owned by Emmy Award-winning actress and star of Law & Order: SVU, Mariska Hargitay.

"We have some really unique prizes," Balmforth said. "Add bidding and shopping to a night of dining, drinks and laughing with friends—it's the perfect night

SEMCOG, MDOT to conduct household travel survey

SEMCOG, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, and the Michigan Department of Transportation are kicking off a yearlong household travel survey that will provide vital information necessary to set transportation priorities for the next 20 years.

The survey, Mi Travel Counts, will be conducted by Westat, a nationally recognized research firm. Transportation agencies will use the data to better understand changes in household travel and project citizens' future travel needs.

The survey isn't new. The same type of information was last collected by MDOT and SEMCOG in 2004-2005 and updated by MDOT in 2009.

"We'll use the survey results to understand why people travel and how they plan their daily activities," Kathleen Lomako, SEMCOG executive director said. "We'll be better able to understand Michigan's travel needs, and help us identify where to invest limited transportation resources."

The survey began last week. It will continue throughout the year. Randomly selected households will receive a letter inviting household members to participate in the study by providing some demographic information and filling out a travel diary. The diary will detail household activities for 24 hours. Information can be provided online or by phone.

Some participants will be asked to take part in a small section of the study that will use global positioning systems (GPS) devices provided by Westat to collect specific route information about all the places visited over a three-day period. As with past surveys, the information provided to Mi Travel Counts will be converted to statistical data and used only for study purposes. All information will remain confidential.

"Public participation is the key to effective transportation planning," Lomako said. "These households will share information that will result in easier and safer travel, less congestion and more access and choices for every Michigan citizen. We urge all who receive an invitation letter to participate."

For more information about Mi Travel Counts, call 517-335-2956 or visit www.mitravelcounts.com. Follow Mi Travels Counts on Twitter and Facebook.

Deployment ahead for library board member

By LeAnne Rogers Staff Writer

As a member of the Westland Library Board, Mark Welch makes an ongoing contribution to the community.

Now as a member of the Air National Guard, Welch will be serving full-time on deployment as an aircraft electrician. Members of the board and library staff gathered before the last week's board meeting to provide a send-off for

"We wanted to make sure we honored Mark for his services to the country with his family here," Westland Library Board President Mark Neal said.

At the board meeting, Welch was accompanied by his with Judith and their four children: Caitlin, 16, Jesse, nearly 9, Logan, 8 and Amberlee, who turns 4 in two weeks. Caitlin attends John Glenn High School, her brothers are students at Wildwood Elementary School and Amberlee attends preschool at the William D. Ford Career Technical Center.

The family received gift cards to their favorite stores — Target and Dollar Tree - along with a gift card for each of the children to Air Time, which has indoor trampolines.

or whatever they like. "I was surprised. I was very humbled and honored that everyone here would do this for me and my family," said Welch, whose unit is based at Selfridge Air National Guard Base. Employed in IT, Welch said he isn't allowed to say where his deployment is taking him or how long he will be gone.

It's his fourth deployment. His last one was in 1997 before his oldest child was born.

Both Mark and Judith, a teacher before becoming a stay-at home mother, are Westland natives and graduated from John Glenn High School.

A staff sergeant,

Welch joined the Air Force in 1994 and served four years on active duty before returning to Westland. He subsequently joined the Air National

"I spoke with my flight chief. I'm limited what I can say. I'll be safe, I won't leave the base. I'll be fixing air-craft," Welch said. "I'll give our boys some support in the air."

His family is expecting to be able to speak with Welch at least weekly during his deployment. Due to the deployment, the Welches will be apart on their 20th wedding anniversary.

"We'll take it day by day. We'll have a calendar so the boys can see the countdown," Judith Welch said. "Each week one of the kids will be in charge of the care box things we buy and make to send off to him. We'll be fine."

Westland Deputy Mayor Thelma Kubitskey and Councilman Dewey Reeves attended the board meeting, thanking Welch for his service, representing Mayor William Wild and the city council, respectively. "Thank you for your service. God bless you and your family. Come back safe," Reeves said.

AAUW Livonia celebrates 41st Salute to Women

The American Association of University Women (AAUW) Livonia Branch recently held its 41st "Salute to Women" Luncheon, presenting Plymouth attorney Elizabeth Johnson with the 2014 Salute to Women Award.

Johnson has been active for many years at Schoolcraft College in Livonia, where she was a member of the Women's Resource Center Advisory Board. She also volunteered as an instructor of financial management for WRC clients in "From Chocolate Chips to Micro-Chips," a program that won national recognition.

Johnson is presidentelect of the Schoolcraft College Foundation. She also serves on the Executive Committee and the Strategic Planning Committee. She continues to focus on the importance of education in the lives of women. "I have always believed in the mission of the AAUW organization and am so honored to be presented with this award," she said.

At the luncheon. AAUW member Eleanor Locke shared her poem

Woman of the Year and participants enjoyed selections of music by the Livonia Youth Symphony Strings directed by Karen Danke. The luncheon was organized by Charlie Mahoney, Carol Strom, Laura Callow and Betty Coller. Livonia Branch Copresident Lynn O'Neil, along with Nancy Swanborg — retired Director of the SCC Women's Resource Center — presented Johnson with the award.

The AAUW Livonia Branch is open to anyone with an associate degree or better and meets at 7 p.m. the third Tuesday of the month at Emmanuel Lutheran Church on Seven Mile west of Gill. This year, the February meeting is at 1 p.m.

Hundreds gather to recognize best of PTSA in Livonia schools

"The world would be a better place if ...

This year's theme for the Livonia Public Schools PTSA Council's Founders Day Celebration was thought-provoking and inspiring for the 15 high school seniors who were named Outstanding Youth at the 61st annual event.

Some said the world would be a better place if it worked like a classroom - where people enter with open minds and take the time to learn from one another. Another student said the world would be a better place if everyone could have teachers like those they've been lucky to work with in Livonia Public Schools.

Founders Day is a reminder of the significant role that PTA plays in the local school, the district, the community, region, state and nation. With more than 5,000 members, Livonia Public Schools has one of the largest PTA memberships in the state. Each year, the PTSA Council, which supports the PTA units at all LPS schools, celebrates the accomplishments and partnerships that tie the large LPS school district together.

During Wednesday's event, coordinated by PTSA Council Executive Board Member Stacey Dogonski, at Schoolcraft College's VisTa Tech Center, many PTA volunteers, LPS staff members and students received honors, including:

COLLEGIATE FOOTBALL SIGNING

Baker-Williams stays committed to CMU

By Ed Wright Staff Writer

Possibly the worst possible scenario that could happen to a Division 1 college football recruit a few days before his national letter of intent signing ceremony happened to West-land John Glenn's Deshawn Baker-Williams late last month.

A day before he was scheduled to visit John Glenn to meet with Baker-Williams, Central Michigan University football coach Dan Enos announced he was leaving the school to accept an offensive coordinator position at the University of Arkansas.

Undeterred by the bizarre happenings, Baker-Williams remained loyal and signed on to play for the Chippewas beginning this fall.

"The fact that [Enos] announced he was leaving a week or two before signing day definitely made it a weird experience," the 6-foot-4 295-pound two-way lineman admitted. "It messed with a couple of the commits, but I decided to stay. I chose Central more for the school and the players than I did the head coach.'

Baker-Williams said Enos never contacted him to explain the situation and that he is scheduled to meet with new CMU coach John Bonamego in the next couple of weeks.

Maddie Jones also chipped in with two assists as the Marlins notched the gamewinner during the final period to break a 1-1 deadlock.

Caitlin Somerville was in goal for firstplace Mercy, which improved to 12-2-1 overall and 12-2-1 in Division 2 of the Michigan Metro.

Ladywood's lone goal came in the second period from Katie Hayward assisted by Jackie Kristofik and Jill Jacobs.

Goalie Michaela Warner made 31 saves as the Blazer fell to 11-4 overall and 11-4 in Division 1 of the Metro.

Livonia Franklin's wrestling team couldn't have picked a better time to get hot.

On Wednesday night, the Patriots upended Livonia Churchill, 44-33, to claim their 10th consecutive Division 1 district championship.

Livonia Franklin wrestling team stretches title streak to double digits

Franklin, which won the Observerland Wrestling Tournament less than two weeks earlier, improved to 14-6.

"We've seen Churchill several times this year, so we know their line-up very well," said Franklin head coach Dave Chio-la. "We wrestled a very close meet with them just a couple of weeks ago, beating them by three. We juggled the line-up around a bit to try and pick up some extra points. Everybody did their part.

"Johnny DiPonio bumped up to wrestle a very tough kid at 119 to save us a few points, losing 8-2. After that we got five straight wins, including Nathan Atienza bumping up to beat Zac

A few hours before her induction into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame Thursday, Livonia's Sheila Taormina turned the spotlight away from her illustrious athletic career and shined it directly on the city in which she was raised and the supportive contingent of people who guided her.

"The opportunities and facilities I was blessed with grow-

Glenn racks up victory over Wayne, moves to 10-0

By Ed Wright Staff Writer

In a showdown for first place in the KLAA Central Division girls bowling standings featuring neighborly rivals, No. 1-ranked Westland John Glenn upended Wayne Memorial, 21-9, Tuesday afternoon to improve to 10-0.

The Rockets found their groove early by winning both Baker games, 217-146 and 199-

Undaunted, the Ze-bras stormed back to win the first traditional five-on-five contest, 968-966, however, John Glenn rebounded with a 980-803 victory in the second regular game.

"I was really im-pressed by the Wayne girls in the first game," said John Glenn head coach Ralph Cabildo.

"The Wayne coaching staff has done a really nice job with the Wayne girls this season."

Emily Dietz powered the Rockets in game one with a torrid score of 240, while Olivia Cabildo (200) and Julia Huren (191) also performed well.

The Zebras were paced in the opener by Christina O'Harris's 213. Also scoring for Wayne were Shaelyn Wojewski (208), Kayla Thompson (209), Hayley Gilbert (181) and Amy Hoch, who registered a 157.

The Rockets were on fire in game two thanks to strong efforts from Cabildo (225), Ashley Kolb (215) and Huren, who rolled a 209.

Leading the Zebras in the second game were Thompson (184), Wojewski (174) and Gilbert, who contributed a 169.

Cabildo to continue striking at Siena Heights

Glenn bowler taking talents to next level

When she was just 5 years old, Olivia Cabildo would grab her bowling ball off a rack at Westland's Town & Country Lanes and walk slowly toward the foul line before unleashing a typical 5-vear-old's two-handed, between the legs deliv-

The results, however, were usually not typical for a girl her age.

"Even when she was young and just starting out, Olivia's ball seemed to find a groove and hit the pocket," remembered her mom, Kim Cabildo.

On Thursday in the Westland John Glenn High School lecture room, Olivia Cabildo signed a national letter of intent to bowl for Siena Heights University.

A four-year varsity bowler, Cabildo has been a key player in the Rock-ets' incredible success. Last year, John Glenn finished runner-up at the Division 1 state meet. This season, the Rockets are ranked No. 1 in D1 with the state tournament looming.

"When I was younger, I bowled for the fun of it," Cabildo reflected. "But when I was a freshman in high school, I started realizing that if I put more time and dedication into it, I could excel in the sport. So I started bowling more and joining more leagues.'

Cabildo's solid 170 average her freshman season swelled to close to 200 last year.

"I love high school bowling because of the interaction you get with your teammates," she said. "It's fun being part of a team and cheering each other on. We're like a family."

Cabildo said Siena Heights topped her list of schools she wanted to attend from the get-go.

'I really like coach [Charles] Cain," she said. "I feel like he'll help me improve a lot. I also got along really well with the other girls on the team when I practiced with them last year.'

Cabildo is coached at John Glenn by her parents, Ralph and Kim Cabildo.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CITY OF GARDEN CITY

The City of Garden City will hold a public hearing on the recommended sanitary sewer rehabilitation program for the purpose of receiving comments from interested parties. The hearing will be held during the regular City of Garden City Council meeting starting at 7:00pm on Monday, March 23, 2015 at City Hall in the Council Chambers located at 6000 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, Michigan. The purpose of the recommended program is to provide rehabilitation to existing sanitary sewers throughout the City identified with structural defects during the City wide sewer cleaning and television investigation that has been on-going since May 2012. Project construction would involve the rehabilitation of existing sewers utilizing trenchless technologies such as installation of cured-inplace pipe linings and sectional replacement of sewers by means of open cut excavation for those defects deemed too severe for trenchless technology to be utilized. The purpose of this program is to improve and maintain the structural integrity of the City's sanitary sewer system and reduce groundwater and rainwater infiltration and inflow into the sanitary sewer system. The proposed program will extend the useful life of the existing sewer system. The estimated cost to users for the proposed rehabilitation program would be approximately $5 million dollars.

Copies of the project plan detailing the proposed project is available for inspection beginning Friday, February 20, 2015 by the general public at the Office of the City Clerk, 6000 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, Michigan. Written comments received before the hearing record is closed on March 23, 2015 will receive responses in the final project plan. Written comments should be sent to the City of Garden City's consulting engineer, Hennessey Engineers, 13500 Reeck Road, Southgate, Michigan.

Hubbs ready for position change at next level

GC's three-year varsity QB set to play defense at Siena Heights

> By Ed Wright Staff Writer

The fact that Garden City's three-year starting quarterback Kyler Hubbs will be playing football next season in college isn't surprising.

After all, the hard-running field general piled up tons of all-purpose yards during his stellar career for the Cougars.

What makes Hubbs' nextlevel journey extraordinary is that he's set to play defense at Siena Heights University – a side of the ball he rarely saw time on during his prep gridiron experience.

On Thursday, Hubbs signed a letter of intent to play for the Saints beginning with the 2015 season. GC offensive lineman Easton Hayter signed with Olivet College (a story will appear in Thursday's Observer).

According to Garden City football coach Scott Murray, Hubbs is the first of the program's 12 college-bound players who will be making such a dramatic position switch.

Ever since I first starting playing when I was an 8-yearold for St. Raphael's, I loved hitting," said Hubbs, who didn't start playing QB until his freshman season at Garden City. "So moving over to defense is fine with me. They have me listed as an outside linebacker now, but there's a good chance I'll play strong safety, too.

An exceptional student, Hubbs' gridiron accomplishments are reflected in his year-round commitment to the sport. He trains five days a week - focusing on speed training two days and weight training the other three – at Total Sports in Wixom.

His dedication to getting faster has paid off in a 40yard-dash time that has shrunk from 4.8 seconds to 4.6. "The thing that helped me the most as far as reducing my 40 time was working a lot on my hip flexibility," he said.

Hubbs, who was joined at the signing ceremony by his mom Amy, and siblings Jacob, Jackson and Abby, said football has left a positive imprint on his life.

"I'm a better leader, I have more respect for people and I'm motivated to work harder because of football," said Hubbs, who plans on pursuing a degree in nursing.

Stevenson redeems loss to Wildcats, 61-56

By Ed Wright Staff Writer

Livonia Stevenson not only gained a bit of redemption with its 61-56 victory over Novi Friday night, it also secured a fourth-place seed in the KLAA Kensington Conference's tournament that begins next week.

Just three weeks after the Wildcats handed the Spartans a double-digit loss, Stevenson roared to a 20-6 first-quarter lead and held off a torrid fourth-quarter rally to improve to 7-9 overall and 4-6 in the KLAA's Central Division.

Stevenson will be off until Friday when it plays at Canton, which earned the No. 1 seed in the KLAA South Division.

"Tonight's win will definitely give us a boost of confidence heading into the final weeks of the season," said first-year Stevenson head coach Kareem Smartt.

The catalysts for the winners' fast start were Noah Campbell, who knocked down a pair of threes, and Jacob Dollar, who converted three lay-ups.

Campbell finished with a game-high 25 points while Dol-lar added 14. Jailen Webber also played well for the Spartans, netting eight.

Stevenson's lead was trimmed to 35-27 at the half before it regained the momentum during the third stanza, which ended with the Spartans owning a 57-38 advantage.

Novi stormed back to cut its deficit to three with 90 second left, however, Campbell drained a pair of free throws after securing an offensive rebound thanks to an alert tip by Dollar.

Thurston falls to Chargers

A barrage of momentumseizing second-half threes lifted visiting Dearborn Heights Crestwood to a 65-54 victory over Redford Thurston in a game that decided the top spot in the Western Wayne Athletic Conference's Red Division.

Both teams finished the division portion of their schedules with identical 9-1 marks. The Eagles are now 14-2 overall with their only other loss coming against state-ranked Walled Lake Western.

The Eagles' last lead - 28-26 came at the 2:15 mark of the second quarter when Erick

The Chargers then closed the first half on a 7-0 run, which was capped by Esa Abdujami's tip-in just before the buzzer to put his team ahead, 33-28.

Crestwood maintained a 41-35 lead during a low-scoring third stanza thanks in large part to long triple makes by Justin Deese and Imante Bosques.

Treys from Abdujami and Bosques ignited a 16-2 Crestwood run to open the fourth, giving the Chargers a 57-37

Sparked by a ramped-up defensive effort, Thurston closed its deficit to nine, but the Chargers canned all six of their free throws during the final two minutes to earn a share of the Red title.

Bosques led the winners with 16 points while Abdujami added 15.

D'eauntae Jackson paced the Eagles with 13 points. Marquie'l Thomas and Rickey Hudgens both scored nine for Thur-

Robbie Moyers led the Cougars with 12 points while Travis Trigg added 11.

'We didn't play offensively," said GC head coach Ron Pummill. "Annapolis played a zone, which we don't see a lot. We scored 20 points below our average, but we held them to about 22 points below what we usually give up. It was a hardfought game all the way around.

The Cougars trailed by 10 entering the fourth stanza before cutting the visitors' lead to one with just over one minute to play, however, Darias Lunix hit four free throws in the final seconds to seal the victory for Annapolis.

Warriors roll

Lutheran Westland jumped out to a 19-7 first-quarter lead and 42-14 halftime edge before securing a 75-39 Michigan Independent Athletic Conference triumph Friday night over Lutheran South.

NEWSCHIED THE STREET

The win improved the Warriors' record to 7-6 overall and 5-3 in the league. South slipped to 0-11 and 0-8, respectively.

Luke Smith had a huge night for the winners as he netted 20 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. Smith was on target from the free-throw line, knocking down 10 of 13 attempts.

Brent Croft (21 points and five assists) and Zach Burk (19 points and nine rebounds) also excelled for LW.

Luke Konkel led South with nine points.

"We had the game in our control from the very start,' said Warriors head coach Jim Hoeft. "Our guys stayed focused and got a nice team win."

Zebras subdue Chargers on 'Senior Night'

Wayne Memorial placed first in nine of 12 events Thursday night during its 116-69 victory at Livonia Churchill, which recognized its two senior captains, Dylan Fetter and Kyle Reppenhagen.

Reppenhagen had a memo-rable final home meet as he provided one of the few highlights for the hosts by winning the 100-yard breaststroke.

Other individual winners for Churchill were Kevin Taylor in the 200 individual medley and 1-meter diver Ethan Burke.

Arthur Aigeltinger (200 and 500 freestyle) and Noah Karson (50 and 100 freestyle) were double-winners for the Zebras, who touched first in all three relay events. Additional standouts for Wayne were Michael Gibson, who won the 100 butterfly while contributing to the Zebras' success in the relays; and Ethan Drouillard, who placed first in the 100 backstroke.

Among the Panthers' standouts was sophomore Taz-Don Moore, who earned a late victory over Thurston's 152-pounder Errol Franklin in the semifinal match before pinning his Hamtramck foe at 145.

Cougars triumph

Everyone on the roster played a role Tuesday night in Garden City's 44-38 victory over Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The win improved the Cougars' record to 4-11 overall and 2-7 in the Western Wayne Athletic Conference's Blue Division. The Thunderbirds slipped to 7-8 overall and respectively.

Lindsey Michalak led the Cougars with 10 points and nine rebounds. Also shining for the victors were Hannah Vera-Burgos (seven points and six rebounds), Amber Swisher (seven points), Kelli McDaniel (six points and seven rebounds), Rachel Spellman (five points and six assists) and Cassie Leleniewski, who scored four points including a lay-up just before the halftime

Also scoring for GC were Mikey Smolar (three points) and Aleea Montgomery, who tallied two points and eight rebounds.

Kennedy Rankin led Edsel with 18 points.

"This was a team victory," said GC head coach Michele Tyree. "Everyone contributed. We did a better job of playing at a controlled pace.

The Cougars led throughout, gaining an 11-8 first-quarter edge before carrying a 22-19 lead into the half. GC held on to a 30-26 lead with eight minutes to play.

GC canned 11 of 16 free-throw attempts and 14 of 42 field-goal attempts. Edsel was 2-for-8 from the line.

On Friday, the Cougars dropped a 60-47 decision at Dearborn Heights Robichaud, which won the WWAC Blue Division with a 10-0 record.

Although GC dropped to 4-12 overall and 2-8 in the Blue, Tyree was pleased with her team's effort.

COLLEGE BASEBALL PREVIEW

Madonna baseball outlook: Pitching, catching the key

By Brad Emons Staff Writer

Pitching and catching will be the great unknowns for Madonna University baseball coach Greg Haeger as he sizes up his 2015 squad, which opens its season Friday with a doubleheader against Shawnee (Ohio) State in Dayton, Tenn.

"Last year, we got hit with two storms," said Haeger, who is entering his 19th season with a 568-376-5 overall record. 'We graduated all the pitchers from the previous season, which was a huge loss. It was 85 percent of our innings. And then on top of that, we had injuries. We took a right and a left last year."

The Crusaders hope to pack more of a punch this year coming off a 29-25 season, including a 13-14 record in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Confer-

In October, the WHAC coaches picked MU fourth in the preseason poll, with defending champion Davenport University as the favor-

"We like the pitching staff and we might be better than fourth," Haeger said. "We're optimistic we can be a much better team than fourth place.

All-WHAC pitcher Travis Schuba, who went 7-2 in 20 appearances with a 1.86 earned-run average, graduated.

But junior right-handers Evan Piechota (Livonia Stevenson) and Adam Prasad (Mississauga, Ontario) emerged after Mike Kanitra (Stevenson), now a red-shirt freshman, Alec Padilla (Romeo), a now a sophomore, and Dane Staples (graduated) all missed parts of the 2014 season with injuries.

Piechota finished 5-3 with a 2.55 ERA in 70% innings, while Prasad was 4-3 with a 2.62 ERA in a team-high 72 innings. Both made honorable mention all-WHAC.

"A couple of guys stepped up for us," Haeg-er said. "Schuba just did a tremendous job in every role possible for us. Prasad and Piechota, as sophomores, pitched well for us. We really had to revamp it, though. We really have 10 new arms."

Other mound returnees include left-hander Alex DeYonker (Livonia Franklin), a sophomore, and right-hander Dylan Cooper (Sterling Heights Stevenson), the team's lone senior, plus lefty Zack Schmidtke, who is converting from the out-

Other starting pitching candidates include A.J. Susick (Auburn Hills Avondale), a sophomore red-shirt who is coming off Tommy John surgery; lefty Mitch Sykes (Livonia/Detroit Catholic Central), a red-shirt freshman; and true freshman Taylor Turner (Northville).

Also in the mound mix are true freshmen Todd Jones (Monroe St. Mary), Jack Zimmerman (Tecumseh, Ontario), Cliff

Grzelakowski Piechota

Landess (Carleton Airport) and Patrick Wierimma (Redford Union).

Bobby St. Pierre (Windsor, Ontario), a transfer from Crowder (Mo.) College, will get a crack at the closer's job, while junior Christian Holder (Dearborn Divine Child) will be a situational left-hander.

Another big question mark is who will replace all-WHAC honoree Donny Holland behind the plate.

Haeger said red-shirt freshman Matt Deneau (Amherstburg, Ontario) has the inside track for now over true freshmen Mitch Hudvagner (Cottam, Ontario) and Kohl Roberts (Napoleon).

"We've always been fortunate to have great catching here, but we don't have a catcher with an inning of college experience," Haeger said. The right side of the infield remains a strength with junior Shane Dokey (Brighton), a versatile two-time all-WHAC pick, returning at second base after hitting .291 and stealing a team-high 31

John Lauro, a 6-3, 245-pound first baseman who batted .333 with 26 RBI, also returns.

Sophomore Ryan Lambrecht (Lake Orion), who led the Crusaders in hitting with a .364 mark, has added 15 pounds to his 6-3 frame and will start at shortstop, replacing the graduated Victor Barron. Third base, meanwhile, is up in the air as freshman Cole Rize (Dexter) will be battling for the job along with Levi Larmour, a transfer from Mesa (Ariz.) CC via Oakville, Ontario.

Junior Chase Dobbie (Mississauga, Ontario) and Jacob Rogers (Sterling Heights Stevenson) will also vie for infield time.

Red-shirt sophomore Taylor Grzelakowski (Fraser) will start out in right field after hitting .287 with a team-high 36 RBI.

Zack Byron (Dexter), a junior transfer from Macomb CC will most like start in center.

The left field job is up for grabs with Ben Matigian (Livonia Churchill), red-shirt junior, returning after hitting .279. Mike Tibbits (Plymouth/Detroit CC), who started his career at Holy Cross, will also get a look there as well.

"Matigian played a lot of games for us last year as a sophomore and handled it pretty well in his first season in the field,' Haeger said. "Tibbits sat out 2014 season. He can play left and center."

Other outfield candidates include freshman Logan Brennan (South Lyon East) and sophomore Ryan Freemantle (Georgetown, Ontario).

LOCAL SCOTTISH DEERHOUND IS HEADED TO WESTMINSTER DOG SHOW

By Sharon Dargay Staff Writer

The first time Cindy Marriott saw a Scottish deerhound, she called it the "ugliest dog" she had ever seen.

Then, she got a look at "Hickory," the Scottish deer-hound and 2011 winner of the prestigious Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show.

"The woman who owns Hickory brought her to Cobo to the Detroit Kennel Club show," said Marriott, a retired Schoolcraft College professor with a Ph.D. in child clinical psychology. "At that time, I said why not? I said how do I get one of those dogs?"

The woman put Marriott in touch with a breeder. Nearly four years after buying a puppy, the Plymouth woman has her own Westminster competitor. She and Scottish deerhound, "Dag," are heading to the 139th annual show, Monday-Tuesday, Feb. 16-17, in New York.

The hounds will be among the four groups judged Monday night. Three additional groups will be judged Tuesday night, with the event culminating in Best In Show. CNBC will broadcast live from Madison Square Garden, 8-11 p.m. Monday. USA Network will air the show Tuesday night.

"This whole thing is going to be a brand new experience for me. Fortunately, my handler and his wife have been to Westminster before. They will hold my hand through the whole thing," said Marriott, referring to Don Leonard, who will show Dag in the judging ring. His wife, Kelly, will show their foxhounds and one of their sons will show a whippet.

"We're caravaning across the country to get to New York."

Dad son

Dag, with Don at the other end of his leash, must be in breed judging — Ring 5 — by 8:30 a.m. Monday. He'll compete against eight other Scottish deerhounds for the chance to win first place in breed and move on to the televised group judging at night.

But he may be up against some stiff competition.

"We're up against the No. 1 Scottish deerhound," Marriott said. "It turns out this year there are three d'Lux dogs in Westminster." d'Lux identifies the Virginia kennel where Dag, whose full name is GCh Ch Wild Turkey d'Lux Dag Hammarskjold, J.C., was born.

One of his two competitors from d'Lux is his father. They'll meet for the first time

"I emailed (his owner) and we're going to try and go to a professional photographer and take a picture of both dogs. It's going to be fun."

"I purchased a kilt for this and I purchased a Scottish tartan tie for Don. So we will be all decked out."

In the ring

Marriott met Leonard when she began taking conformation lessons with Dag.

"I was taking Dag to classes every week and taking him into the show ring. I didn't do a good job," she said. "One time the judge said 'Ma'am, the dog is supposed to be on the other side of you.' He (Dag) learned and I didn't."

She hired Leonard to show Dag, who acquired his championship title in 2013 and his grand championship in 2014.

Marriott said she tries to attend most of the shows.

Marriott had no experience as a dog owner when she acquired Dag. Although she often accompanied her oldest daughter, Elizabeth, to dog shows, she wasn't compelled to bring a dog into her two-cat home until Dag became available.

"I have no idea what it was. Either God was looking out for me or it was fate. I decided to get him. I love this dog more than anything in the world. I've been lucky that I've met people who are supportive. Don and Kelly are incredibly suppor-

Greenmead to serve luncheon fit for U.S. presidents

By Sharon Dargay Staff Writer

Guests at Greenmead's new upcoming Presidential Luncheon will get a taste of White House recipes and a look at Dolley Madison's popular soirees.

"This used to be a tea. We decided let's change it up and make it into a luncheon," said Maureen Casey, event planner for the historical village in Livonia. "The food lends itself to this. We can go through the White House cookbook and choose (recipes) from different presidents."

Greenmead staff served a presidential tea annually for the past eight years but wanted to "keep things interesting" by expanding the event, Casey said. The luncheon will run noon to 3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 21, at the Alexander Blue House at Greenmead, located Greenmead.

The luncheon will include a presentation by local historian Anna Lopez, on Dolley Madison, wife of James Madison, the fourth U.S. president. Lopez previously spoke at Greenmead about Eleanor Roosevelt.

"She is someone who does her homework. She is part guest speaker and part entertainer." Casey said she's still working out the menu for the event, but is certain the dessert will include ice cream, a nod to one of Dolley Madison's party foods foods.

"Dolley Madison was instrumental in pushing her husband forward in the political arena. She was famous for her ability to hostess events where everyone wanted to come. It was exposure for him," Casey said. "She introduced a new dessert and that was ice cream. Everyone wanted to come not only to schmooze, but to get Dolley's ice cream.

"Dolley Madison grew up as a Quaker. For her to go from a plain and basic lifestyle to being the toast of Washington was a complete and total turnaround."

Guests also will dine on reproduction place settings of presidential china amid patriotic decorations.

"To look at the dishes from president to president and see how the styles have changed — some have more of a pattern, some are plain — is really fascinating."

In addition to the Presidential Luncheon, Greenmead plans its popular Happily Ever After wedding event and Lincoln's 1865 funeral luncheon this spring.

Happily Ever After is set for 7-9:30 p.m. Thursday, March 19, and will include a guest speaker and weddingrelated displays. Fifteen vintage gowns that are new to the exhibit will be on view.

The funeral luncheon will run noon to 3 p.m. Wednesday, April 15.

Proceeds from the events are used to preserve and restore Greenmead.

Boxing champ Laila Ali takes a swing at heart disease

By Julie Yolles Social Scene Columnist

"This is a fight I don't like to lose," four-time undefeated World Boxing Champion Laila Ali told the crowd of 600-plus on National Wear Red Day, Feb. 6.

Ali was talking about heart disease — the No. 1 killer of women.

"We are in control of our health; we can change the outcome of our life through nutrition

How does a doctor proceed when his diagnosis differs from the patient's previous physician?

For example: a physician sees a new patient who recently moved from Georgia. For the last five years the patient was under treatment with Methotrexate and Enbrel for rheumatoid arthritis by his Georgia physician, and comes to the Michigan physician for continuation of that therapy. The Michigan physician takes a history expecting the patient to detail morning stiffness, hand pain and feet that feel that they are walking on stones.

Instead, the patient describes how he hurts all over, has pain that shifts from right to left shoulder, then down into the hips, knees or legs. The patient may add that he hardly sleeps and always feels fatigued and foggy.

The patient complains that his hands are swollen but on examination the physician finds no swollen joints. The patient states ne experiences pain when the physician palpates the elbows and shoulder, but there is no loss of motion.

The Michigan physician concludes that at this time the patient does not have rheumatoid arthritis but is experiencing fibromyalgia. Telling the patient that he does not have rheumatoid arthritis will likely bring on a protest. The patient will counter that the pain now is Just like it was in Georgia, and that therapy for rheumatoid arthritis gave relieve

The doctor can continue to talk with the patient to explain why the diagnosis of Fibromyalgia is correct. Or, the physician may provide the therapy that the patient wants, or the patient may leave and look for a doctor who believes the diagnosis is rheumatoid arthritis and will maintain present therapy.

However, no result is satisfactory to both patient and physician.

Go Red for Women guests were treated to a day of health screenings, panel discussions, pampering, silent auction and a heart-healthy lunch and talk by Ali. The campaign raised $800,000 which includes the national sponsorship from Macy's. Those who purchase or wear their Go Red pin will receive extra discounts at Macy's through Feb. 16.

And the American Heart Association fundraising efforts continue. A benefit gala, hosted by the World Missions Organization, Inc., is set for 7 p.m. Feb. 21, at the Summit on the Park, 46000 Summit Parkway, Canton. Event features comedian Mark Armstrong. Tickets are $125 and can be purchased via eventbrite.com. Call 313-701-5634 for more details.

Other Go Red events: » Heart Health Twitter Chat Series — follow AHA_SEMI, #GoRedMI, 3-4 p.m. Feb. 18 for news about exercise and nutrition and 3-4 p.m. Feb. 25 for a discussion on surviving heart disease and stroke.

» Go Red Zumba -Join the Arab American National Museum and American Heart Association for a free Zumba class, 6:30-8:30 p.m. Feb. 19, at the museum, 13624 Michigan Ave., Dearborn.

» Heart Strong Girls Cooking Workshop -Girl Scouts can earn a health badge by attending this workshop, 1-4 p.m. Feb. 21, at Providence Hospital in Southfield. The event will include food and fitness

Can mercury in fish lead to autoimmunity?

A new University of Michigan study suggests that exposure to mercury through seafood may pose a risk for autoimmunity to women of childbearing age.

Autoimmune disorders, which cause the body's immune system to attack healthy cells, affect nearly 50 million Americans, mostly women. Inflammatory bowel disease, lupus, Sjögren's syndrome, rheumatoid arthritis and multiple sclerosis are examples of autoimmune disorders.

"We don't have a very good sense of why people develop autoimmune disorders," said lead author Emily Somers, Ph.D., Sc.M, an associate professor in the departments of Internal Medicine in the division of Rheumatology, Environmental Health Sciences, and Obstetrics & Gynecology at the U-M Medical and Public Health Schools.

"A large number of cases are not explained by genetics, so we believe studying environmental factors will help us understand why autoimmunity happens and how we may be able to intervene to improve health outcomes. In our study, exposure to mercury stood out as the main risk factor for autoimmunity.'

Researchers analyzed data among women ages 16-49 from the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey from 1999 to 2004. Greater exposure to mercury was associated with a higher rate of autoantibodies, proteins made by a person's immune system when it fails to distinguish between healthy and potentially harmful cells.

The authors noted that seafood offers nutritional benefits, but women of reproductive age should pay attention to the kind of fish they eat. Swordfish, king mackerel and tilefish contain the highest levels of mercury. Shrimp, canned light tuna and salmon have lower levels.

"The presence of autoantibodies doesn't necessarily mean they will lead to an autoimmune disease," Somers said. "However, we know that autoantibodies are significant predictors of future autoimmune disease, and may predate the symptoms and diagnosis of an autoimmune disease by years.'

Light canned tuna is among the fish with the least amount of mercury.
