Killebrew is survived by his mother Margaret, sister Sarah and son Andrew. His family described Killebrew as a loving father, brother and son, who loved to work on cars, play games with his son and loved life. A Go Fund Me page was set to help offset funeral costs. Killebrew had called police at about 10:30 a.m. Mr. Killebrew to have his mother and sister leave the home on Ash at the southeast corner with Wayne Road. Both women left and Killebrew was barricaded alone in the house, not responding to telephone calls or other efforts to communicate with him Returning several hours later, Sarah

WESTLAND NEIGHBORHOODS ARE MAYOR'S 2016 FOCUS

Beginning with a nod at some achievements, Westland Mayor William Wild used his annual State of the City address to announce some new initiatives, including a promise to focus on neighborhood improvements.

"To be a great city, you must have a clean, safe city. We're going have a clean, safe chy, we re going to kick off an initiative, neighbor-hood by neighborhood," said Wild, speaking at the Westland Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Hel-lenic Cultural Center. "We're going to clean, sweep streets, fix bad sidewalks and address blight. I think it's time to replace to amaradi think it's time to replace to emerald ash borer trees we lost a few years ago

"There are several other housing projects in the works. The Westland market is hot with brisk sales and attractive prices," Wild said.

That's not limited to residential development, he said, noting the city has seen a jump in all cate-gories of building/planning permits. Among 2015 projects, Wild noted the large investments made for renovations at the new On the Border Mexican restaurant on Warren Road and the expansion of D&B grocery wholesalers who moved into a building on Central City Park

Testing to reassure water users

A $75,000 allocation to fund water testing at about 920 Westland homes was approved by the city council Monday an effort to reassure residents that city water remains safe to drink. "There has been a lot of discussion about Flint but we have nothing like the situation in Flint. Our residents have been donating water to Flint," said Westland Mayor William Wild at a packed special council meeting with overflow seating in the lobby outside the council chambers. No high lead levels have been reported in Westland. The issue arose after a Department of Public Services employee made allegations that the city wasn't properly responding to lead water service lines, connections and lead solder.

"We should be clear — there is a little confusion. The mere fact that you have a lead service line, either the city line or homeowner's line, doesn't mean you have lead in the water," said City Attorney James Fausone, who moderat-Attorney James Fausone, who moderat-ed the water presentations at the spe-cial council meeting. also moving ahead with a resident survey to determine what type of recre-ation services are wanted and also what users would be willing to pay to support those services.

Having reviewed award-winning projects like the new city hall and the Jefferson Barns Community Vitality Cen-ter, Wild asked rhetorically how the city could top that. "If you happen to be celebrating your 50th birthday, you throw a party," Wild said. "I've assembled a team to plan events. We still have openings, especially if you have deep pockets (for sponsorships)."

Of the approximately 25,000 residential homes in the city, Wild said 11 were identified as possibly not having had the lead pipe replaced. City crews excavated and found only one pipe hadn't been replaced, he said, it subsequently was changed. Those homes were in an area where 15 houses that receive water testing every three years are located. Fausone noted the time between tests progressively got longer and the number of homes tested was reduced after vears of problems not being found. To reassure residents testing will be conducted on water from homes in Council members increased the allocation to $75.000 to accommodate other water testing requests - something Wild said had been factored in the $50,000 re-quest as testing was expected to cost $30,000. The council members also called them to be provided with the testing results which would also be posted online.

The testing and re-sults are expected to take several weeks.

Pets for Vets event at Wayne Ford Civic League

LeAnne Rogers

You've heard of winwin situations. But, according to Vic Barra, the upcoming Pets for Vets will be a win-win-winwin.

Scheduled for 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, at the Wayne-Ford Civic League, it started as a pet adoption event, league president Barra said

"We wanted to put pets with people. We were looking for ways to assist veterans with PTSD and brain inju-ries," Barra said. "And there have been changes in the laws about service animals."

So the event grew as Stiggy's Dogs, which matches rescue dogs with veterans needing a service animal, was joined by Pets for Vets, Last Day Dog Rescue. and Chained Inc. for pet adoptions. Adoptable dogs and cats will be available during the event

"All the adoption fees are waived for veterans. Any fees (paid by nonveterans or sponsors) will go to the animal groups and Stiggy's Dogs," Barra said. "The civic league is donating the space. I'll cover the coffee and doughnuts."

The cost for adopting a cat or do is $250, but Councilwoman Christine Bryant noted that smaller donations to help offset the costs would help. City Attorney James

Fausone, whose firm works with veterans, said that he supported the event and was very familiar with the efforts of Stiggy's Dogs training rescue dogs to be service animals for veterans with PTSD and other issues. The Michigan Depart-ment of Civil Rights was added to provide infor-mation for business owners and other on the law regarding service ani mals. The seminar will be held at 1 p.m. and is offered at no charge. Participants in the seminar are asked to reserve a spot with the chamber at 734-326-7222 so sufficient materials can be provided

The Oakland County Child Killer case remains unsolved

Jay Grossman Staff Writer

It began Feb. 15, 1976, with the disappearance of Mark Stebbins

The 12-year-old Ferndale boy was the first of four chil-dren kidnapped and killed by a person or persons since dubbed the Oakland County Child Killer. The murders took place over a period of 13 months and led to one of the largest police manhunts in U.S. history

Forty years later, all four cases remain unsolved.

Barry King, whose 11-yearold son Timothy was abducted in March 1977, is still searching for answers. The retired Birmingham attorney decided this month to start blogging about the murders in hopes he might flesh out new information about the crimes. He named his blog "A Fa-ther's Story-OCCK."

"I'm doing a page or two a day, so nobody has to read on forever," said King, who turns 85 next month. "I would just like some questions answered for more day double to the two who for me and I don't have much time left."

Timothy King was the youngest of four children, outgoing and friendly. The evening of March 16, 1977, he grabbed his skateboard and headed a few blocks to the corner drugstore at Maple and Woodward to buy some candy. He never came back. His older brother Christopher had just gotten his driv-er's license the day before. That night, armed with a base-ball bat, he walked the neighborhood in search of his broth-er. It was quickly determined he had been abducted, leading police to literally stop and search cars on Woodward Ave-nue in a frantic attempt to find the missing boy. Timothy's body was discovered six days later by the side of a road in Livonia, the last confirmed victim of the Oak-land County Child Killer.

Who did it?

King said he initially be-lieved "one diabolically clever person" was behind the killings, but now suspects it's pos-sible the children might have been abducted for a suspected pedophile ring. "There was a major pe dophile ring out here and Wayne County investigated it," King said. "They knew boys were being taken ... somebody was paying a lot of money for that and the guys paying a lot of money are not picking these boys up." If there is a short list of suspects, it would include Christopher Busch, Gregory Greene, Vince Gunnels, Ted Lamborgine and Arch Sloan. Each of them was tied to pe dophile rings that operated throughout southeast Michigan in the 1970s.

Getting someone to talk won't be easy. Greene died of a heart attack in prison nearly two decades ago, while Sloan and Lambrogine are serving life sentences for pedophile convictions.

Busch, the son of a former General Motors executive, was a four-time convicted pedophile who barely spent any time in jail because of his familv's influence. Roughly 18 months after the Timothy King abduction, Busch committed suicide in August 1978 at his family's home in Bloomfield winship. King actually met with Gunnels several years ago in the Kalamazoo area, but said little came of the conversation.

"He told the story he wanted to tell, but his stories have been largely inconsistent," King

Several similar homicides involving children were report-ed before and after in Michigan and Ohio, but only the four victims from Oakland County are directly tied to a possible serial killer.

Stebbins was abducted in the middle of the day. He was missing for a period of four days before his body was found in Southfield.

It wasn't until 10 months later, Dec. 22, 1976, that 12-year-old Jill Robinson was reported missing in Royal Oak. Her body was found three days later in Troy. Seven days after Robinson's body was discovered, Kristine Mihelich was reported missing Jan. 2, 1977, in Berkley. The body of the 10-year-old girl was found 19 days later in Franklin Village. Timothy King was the fourth vicini fourth victim And then, the killings stopped.

Autopsies indicated the two boys were sexually assaulted, but not the two girls. White animal hairs, presumably from a dog, were found on the victims. All four children were neatly dressed when their bodies were discovered and it appeared they had been bathed.

Three of the children were suffocated, while Robinson died from a shotgun blast. Police speculate the killer was dumping her body and might have panicked that she was still alive.

If King were to point the finger at one suspect, it would be Busch.

When police found Busch's body in 1978, they took pho-tographs of a penciled drawing pinned to his bedroom wall that depicts a screaming boy wear-ing a bedred insteat. The draw ing a hooded jacket. The drawing bears a close resemblance to Stebbins and the clothing he wore the day of his disappearance

Another photograph taken of his bedroom shows pieces of rope on a closet floor that have dark red stains. Investigators also noted the Busch family, at the time of the murders, owned a white-haired Welsh terrier. In October 2008, a task force of investigators coordinated a search of the former Busch home in Bloomfield Township to see if investigators could find any fibers or other evi-dence connected to the murders. The results of that search were never made public.

But King acknowledges others could be involved. Mito chondrial DNA evidence, for example, was later found in several vehicles that possibly connect Gunnels and Sloan with two of the victims. Lam-borgine once refused to take a lie detector test in exchange for a lighter prison sentence.

In a horrific crime that remains unsolved after 40 years, four children from Oakland County were abducted and killed over a 13-month period in 1976-77.

Searching for answers

For their part, authorities have consistently declined to comment about any specifics in the case, mainly because it's still an open investigation. That lack of communication has prompted several of the families to file lawsuits against various departments and indi-viduals in an attempt to obtain which are information. King, for example, said he was told in 2010 that Busch was no longer a suspect, but was never told why. For now, he hopes the blog will shed new light on the case. In one of his first postings, he debunks a popular theory that a blue AMC Gremlin was involved in his son's disappearance. "The King family never believed a blue Gremlin was involved," he said. "A Pontiac LeMans is associated with three of the victims and a Pontiac was also tied in with the fourth victim." Mihelich's sister was one of the first to comment on the blog, thanking King for keep-ing the investigation alive. King said he also stavs in touch with Mike Stebbins, brother of Mark Stebbins.

In addition to the blog, King started a Facebook page and a Twitter account to gain a wider audience. The Facebook page already has more than 1,100 followers

Nearly all the public comments come from people who were growing up in the area at the time of the murders. Many of Timothy's former class mates wrote messages of encouragement, hoping one day the cases will be solved.

King acknowledges the strain his children have felt over the years from losing their younger brother, as well as the bitterness that comes from knowing nobody has been punished.

Forty years have passed and he realizes it will probably take a deathbed confession to solve his son's murder. It doesn't stop him from asking more questions and searching for answers. It's all he can do as a father.

Seedlings board president grew up reading braille books

Jared Stofflett of Farmington grew up reading books from Seedlings Braille Books for Children. Now he is board president of the Livonia nonprofit he credits for helping to give him the literacy foundation be needs to support himself as a software developer for Compuware Stofflett, 30, was born blind. His mother, Lori Stofflett of Farmington Hills, learned about Seedlings from the teacher of the visually im paired assigned to Stofflett through Oakland Schools when he was 7 months old. By the time he was 4, he was already reading braille.

As an elementary student, Stofflett read an estimated 75-100 books from Seedlings. He especially liked the Goosebumps books. His mother said she liked buying Stofflett books from Seedlings because they were affordable.

Seedlings also supplied braille books to the libraries of the schools Stofflett attended so he could check out books to

"As a parent, this was impor-tant to us," Lori Stofflett said. "Seedlings provides an oppor-tunity for literacy in a sighted world" world.

Seedlings sells half of its books for an average price of $10 each and gives the other half away for free in an effort to increase literacy among children who are blind and visually impaired. It is able to do this because

Lori said she and Jared's father John, who works in in-formation technology, are very proud of their only child. ## CITY OF LIVONIA 2016 ANNUAL ACTION PLAN FIVE YEAR CONSOLDATED PLAN (2016-2021) FOR THE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT (CDBG) PROGRAM

The City of Livonia will receive an estimated $316,093 from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for the 2016-2017 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program Year (July 1, 2016 – June 30, 2017). These funds are authorized by HUD under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and 1977, as amended. Federal regulations require preparation of an Annual Action Plan and Five-Year Consolidated Plan. The purpose of the Consolidated Plan is to inventory the Housing and Community Development needs of low- and moderate-income persons in the City. The Plan sets forth priorities and lists activities to be pursued over the five year period. The Five-Year Strategic Plan has identified the following priority of housing needs: 1. Housing rehabilitation

David Veselenak Staff Write

Livonia-based AlphaUSA's involvement in helping the SS United States' fundraising efforts started with a phone call looking for Lee Iacocca. A call from the SS United States Conservancy, an organization looking to restore the famed ocean liner which had fallen into disrepair, was taken at the company when they were looking for someone to assist with restoration efforts, said AlphaUSA CAO David Lawrence.

They were rememheaded up efforts to re-store the Statue of Liber-ty," Lawrence said. "They saw this as something that was on as large of a scale and as patriotic of a scale, so one of the people working on that said he knew someone in Detroit. And that was AlphaUSA.

From that call, the company became intrigued with the ship and helped with fundraising efforts to restore it and get it back up to speed. The interest AlphaU-SA had, Lawrence said, was the technological aspects used to construct the ship during the 1950s. "The ship's an amaz-ing example of technol-ogy, engineering and really industrial superiority, built at a time when the United States was a leader of that in the world," Lawrence said. Efforts to donate to

U-M Health System project on fast track

A University of Michigan Health System plan to build a new $175 million health center in Brighton to meet a grow ing demand for health care in the area is officially on the fast track.

U-M Health System officials on Feb. 9 informed Downtown De-velopment Authority Director Matt Modrack, other city leaders and Livingston County representatives of the university's plan to begin building the 320,000-squarefoot facility this summer. The facility will be built on a universityowned 32-acre tract on the southwest corner of Challis Road and Greimel Drive, kitty-corner from the existing Brighton Health Center.

We're very excited and looking forward to their expanding the cur-rent facility to the new property," Mayor Jim Muzzin said Thursday

U-M Health System officials expect the facility to be completed by summer 2018. The U-M Board of Regents approved the facility in November.

Modrack updated council members on the project Thursday during Blue Sky, a council plan-ning meeting.

The project is expect-ed to create 150 temporary construction jobs for two years and between 350-375 permanent med-ical and administrative positions.

Two other health system facilities, the Kellogg Eye Center of Brighton on Whitmore Lake Road and the Howell Pediatric and Teen Clinic on Byron Road, will remain open.

Spaghetti fundraiser benefits Foster Closet

Brad Kadrich Staff Writer

When Michele Austin and wife Tammy Gabourie accepted their first foster child nine years ago, that child arrived with virtually nothing but the clothes on his back.

And those clothes didn't fit. So the couple decided to do something about it, and now manage the Foster Closet of Michigan, a nonprofit organization designed to provide clothing, underclothing, toys, shoes, baby equipment and other necessities to families fostering children.

ilies fostering children. The organization is funded completely by donations, of both items and money. That's what made Austin so happy to see a large turnout for Saturday's spaghetti fundraiser at First United Methodist Church in Farmington.

The money raised (figures weren't yet available) will go directly toward the group's emergency fund. Foster Closet of Michigan has 16 locations around the state.

Austin said the community support is so generous and quick, the wait to fill needs rarely goes longer than three days. The closet's Facebook page serves as a principal notification center. "I post the need on-

"I post the need online, and (items) show up," she said. "It's all done by donation ... 72 hours is about the time frame. The community is phenomenal."

Maryann Bruder of Huntington Woods brought her recently adopted daughter, Katarina, to the fundraiser. She adopted Katarina Dec. 18 after fostering her for two years. Katarina's brothers, both in foster homes with relatives, have benefitted from the Foster Closet.

Bruder, a guardian ad-litem attorney who works regularly with foster families, said the Foster Closet has also benefited her clients "tremendously."

"I love the (Foster) Closet," Bruder said. "They give a lot to children who've never had anything new. The Closet welcomes them with open arms and works with them to get them anything they need. They're a tremendous resource."

Farmington Hills Mayor Dr. Ken Massey said he identifies with the cause because he himself was an adopted child.

"I think their mission meets a need in cultivating families willing to open their doors to children," Massey said. The event featured a silent auction, food donated by Cottage Inn and desserts donated by Cake Luv.

All of it was to help fund what Bruder said was a "labor of love" for Austin.

"These kids deserve better," Austin said. "That's why we do this."

Love makes future bright, hopeful for children

We recently marked Valentine's Day, with its attendant focus on romantic love. Children, too, need love from parents and other adults who care about them. The American Academy of Pediatrics offers these tips on showing children love and we thought it was an ideal time to pass them along.

 W use plenty of positive and encouraging words with your child. Try to avoid using sarcasm or mockery and get rid of putdowns from the words you use as a parent. Children often don't understand your purpose and, if they do, these messages can create nega-tive ways of talking and connecting with each other.

» Make an extra effort to set a good example about how to connect and talk with other people at home and in public. Use words like "I'm sorry," "please" and "thank you."

 Respond promptly and lovingly to your child's physical and emotional needs. Be available to listen to your child when he/she wants to talk with you even if it's not the best time for you. Ask your child "How was when your child is angry, grouchy or in a bad mood, give him a quick hug, cuddle, pat, secret nod or other sign of affection he responds to and then consider talking with him about the event when he's feeling better.

» Use non-violent forms of discipline. Parents should start using both rewards and restrictions many years before adolescence to help establish ways to encourage strengths and address concerns during the teenage years. Allowing children of any age to constantly break important rules without being disciplined only encourages more rules to not be followed

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Amend the amendment

Senator David Knezek's amendment to Bill 447 eliminates one major issue. It equalizes the per-student funding for school districts that go through a merger process. However, in the case of Redford Union and South Redford districts, it could cost taxpayers nearly $9 million. Pas-present form would have three financial parts. The cost to equalize per-student funding would equal $1.8 million (based on a variance of $524 per student.) The cost of a $100 per-student increase in the newly formed district would equal $695,000 (based on the WRESA fall student count report.) Additional funding for start-up con-

sage of the bill in its solidation costs would equal $6.500 (based on funding requested in the Ypsilanti and Willow Run merger.) Passage of the bill with an additional amendment could save taxpayers 80 percent of the costs.

Sample additional amendment: If there is a disparity in the funding of public schools in town-ships and villages that have two districts completely within its boundaries, the districts can continue their current separate jurisdictions at the higher per-student funding rate for both districts and forfeit the additional $100 benefit available with mergers and/or consolidations. Voter approval by both districts would be required. (In the case of Redford Union and South Redford students the end result would be equalized funding, the same result without spending over $7 million.) Jim Brenner

GOP has Trump card Republicans will be having their primary in Michigan on March 8 and their best choice is Don-ald Trump, who also has the best chance to win the general election. The American electorate probably hasn't been stirred to this level since 1980 when Reagan ran for President.

Although no-one will ever replace Reagan, Trump has many of his qualities and has the same appeal as a political outsider who would bring a commonsense approach to breaking the stagnant ways and grid-lock of Washington D.C., and thus Trump has the appeal of someone who'd be a doer not a talker. For way too many years, conservatives and the religious right have supported the estab-lishment GOP, only to be taken for granted and 'left in the dust' time and time again and now it's time to try something different- a man who is actually gonna 'deliver the goods'. Whereas the status oup political community quo political community is surprised by the Trump phenomenon, the average American who actually listens to the Trump agenda recog-nizes the character backbone that Trump possesses, and to them, the choice is a no-brainer.

Trump is a conservative, is pro-life, and pos-sesses a simple Christian faith which no-one has a right to disparage. Meanwhile, Ted Cruz is some-one who would be rejected by the general public as being another Pat Buchanan,, a loser bet. The goal shouldn't be to just win the GOP nomina-tion but to win the general election as well as this is a pivotal point in American political history.

Flint water crisis: Give, but give carefully

N ot surprisingly, the Flint water crisis has brought out the best and worst of us. There are many good people who have donated money and time in order to ease the crisis in Flint. At the same time, which shouldn't surprise any-one, the lowlifes in our society are attempting to take advantage of our good nature. The Better Business Bureau of Southeast Michigan, along with the state At-torney General's Office, has issued warnings regarding Flint's water crisis.

Whenever there is a crisis, there will be people start putting up web-sites with horrific stories and pictures attempting to solicit contributions. Unfortunately, the mon-ey is not going to help the people in Flint, but di-rectly into these lowlifes' pockets

In addition to wanting to rip you off, many of these thieves are attempting to steal your sensitive financial information. It's up to you to protect yourself. In every crisis, people look to take advantage of our good nature and that is why we have to be so cautious.

There is no 100-percent way to protect your-self, but there are things you can do that will significantly reduce the chance of being ripped off. First, respond to phone solicitations. Ask them to send some information, but that's be it. Never give charge card information to someone conducting a phone solicitation. Many legitimate charities use phone solicitations, but even if the charity is legitimate, don't give to a phone solicitation.

If you receive an email, do not open any of the attachments or link directly to anything from that email. You can type its website address directly into a browser, but do not open the link pro-vided in the email.

Before giving to any charity, do your home-work to make sure it is legitimate. Even if it is legitimate, you want to ensure it is spending its money wisely. Many legitimate charities legitimate charities spend way too much money on marketing as opposed to their charitable purpose. You need to independently review a charity. Some websites that you can look at to review a charity are charitynavigator.org and give.org. Helping those in need is the American way. Americans are the most charitable people on Earth and the entire world knows that. The entire world also knows that, all too often, many Americans think with their heart first - the crooks look to exploit that.

The scam artists are coming from every cor-ner of the world and there is nothing we can do to prevent them from do to prevent them from putting up the bogus websites, sending us tear-jerking emails or calling us. We can make it difficult for them to take advantage of us and thet's comething us that's something we should all strive to accomplish. Good luck!

overcame a 44-41 deficit with four minutes left by nailing clutch free throws, playing sticky defense and running its press-break to perfection. Senior guard Dayton Davis ignited the late comeback by knocking down two free throws at the 3:20 mark to bring Churchill to within 44-43.

Following a Northville turn-over, Churchill senior guard Joan Andoni's dribble-drive split a pair of defenders with 2:48 left before he banked in a scooping right-handed layup while getting fouled. Andoni missed the ensuing free throw, but the Chargers still led, 45-44. After forcing a Northville misfire, the Chargers ran some clock before Evan Cummins worked himself open behind the Mustangs' defense and finished with a layup to put Churchill on top, 47-44, with 1:03 left. The Mustangs trimmed their deficit to 47-46 on a put-back by Nick Wilds, but Jerron Hampton — who made just 10 of his first 35 free-throw attempts this It is a free-throw attempts this season, but entered the game on a 15-of-20 run — swished two freebies with 36.1 seconds left to make it 49-46.

Northville then pulled to within 49-48 on Kevin Morrisey's two free throws.

That's when the Chargers executed the perfect pressbreak, which culminated with Hampton's half-court pass to a wide-open Myron Burnette, whose layup extended his team's lead to 51-48.

team's lead to 51-48. "That's just an old-school press-break," Churchill coach Jimmy Solak said. "The kids did a great job of getting open. The first pass went to our best free-throw shooter (Hovermale) and then we had our best athlete (Hampton) going deep. Then Myron was able to finish, even though he had just checked into the game after sitting out the entire fourth quarter. It just goes to show that we have a bunch of guys who are ready when called upon."

"We work on playing against pressure at least five or six minutes every practice," Ho-vermale said. "We were prepared for it and we handled it well Northville got a good look at a potential game-tying triple in the waning moments, but the shot clanked off the front of the rim.

Hovermale's biggest bucket (a 23-foot triple from the left wing) arguably came with 2:40 to go in the first quarter and his team trailing 15-2.

That was a big shot by Jonny, because it seemed to calm our nerves," Solak said.

The Chargers made 19-of-40 field-goal attempts and 6-of-11 free throws. Northville was 17-of-38 from the field and 7of-12 from the line.

Churchill's only first-half lead was 2-0, when Hampton finished off a mid-court steal with a high-rising layup.

The Mustangs then reeled off 15 straight points before Hovermale's trey. "We never got down on our-selves, even though we started slow," Andoni said. "Coach called a timeout (when it was 15-2) and settled us down I think we were a little nervous in the first quarter, but in the sec-ond half we started taking better shots and we played better defense."

Burk sets school record with 41 points

Ed Wright Staff Writ

On a historic night, before a ramped-up "Parents Night" crowd, Lutheran Westland's boys basketball team not only protected its house, it earned a pretty sweet wall hanging to help decorate it.

In a game played at a dizzy-ing, NSCN (No Shot Clock Necessary) pace, the Warriors ran their record to 18-0 and clinched their first Michigan Indepen-dent Athletic Conference title in decades (and the plaque that goes with it) by rallying from a 52-42 halftime deficit to topple Sterling Heights Parkway Christian, 80-72. While multiple players con-tributed to their team's fate, two stood out: Lutheran Westland's Zach Burk, who scored a school-record 41 points (on 18-for-28 shooting) and grabbed 19 rebounds; and Parkway's Micah McClain, who torched the nets for 33 points, despite having to shoot with a hand in his face most of the night.

How torrid was the game's tempo? The two teams combined for 80 shots — just in the first half, which works out to one shot every 12 seconds. And nearly half of all shots taken in the first 16 minutes were from beyond the threepoint arc.

"I couldn't be prouder of such a great group of guys, said Lutheran Westland head coach Jim Hoeft. "They battled all night to get this win. They knew what was at stake, and I could see it in their eyes that they were not going to let this opportunity pass them by "We knew as long as we could keep Parkway out of its transition game, we'd have complete control. We had to limit our turnovers and not allow them to get on the run. That's exactly what happened in the second half. We took care of the ball." Down 42-32, the Warriors stormed out of the half-time locker room and scored the first 10 points of the third quarter. "In the locker room at half-time, we talked about how this was our house and we weren't going to let them come in and take it over," said Warrior sen-ior captain Brent Croft, who finished with 12 points, six re-bounds and three assists. "We may have forced a few shots in the first half — I know I did — just because of the adrenaline, but we settled down and player our game in the second half."

Despite the Warriors' spotless record, they remained unranked in various Class C polls.

No worries, Croft assured. "We're 18-0, and that's more important than a ranking," he said, as the Warriors' gym still buzzed with excitement 10 minutes after the final horn sounded

The setting throughout the game was electric, thanks to an energetic student cheering section (which included one student dressed as a banana and another as a cow), jam-packed bleachers, with most Lutheran Westland fans decked out in head-to-toe black.

"The crowd was phenomenal tonight," Hoeft emphasized. "This is what a high school basketball home game should look and feel like. It was a great atmosphere."

The Warriors never trailed in the fourth quarter, which started with the score knotted at 56-all.

The pivotal stretch occurred three minutes in when the winners broke a 62-all deadlock with a 9-0 run, which was fueled by a Barikmo put-back, a Burk reverse layup, a triple from Croft and a put-back by Jordan Williams.

The boys swim season began to heat up in earnest Saturday as Northville continued its stranglehold on KLAA Central Division championships by scoring 746 points to out-duel host Novi for the title.

The Mustangs, who have captured every Central Divi-sion meet since the Kensington Lakes Activities Associa-tion was formed in 2008-09, turned in an impressive per-formance while tuning up for this weekend's Kensington Conference championship, which begins at noon both Saturday and Sunday at South Lyon East.

Rounding out the five schools were the Wildcats (532.5), Livonia Stevenson (322), South Lyon Unified (324) and Salem (263.5). Despite winning only three races, Northville used its depth to win comfortably against the Wildcats, who won an earlier dual meet between the two teams this season, 100-86.

had an amazing meet. Conor Hart, David Handy and Kenta Kikumori all did very well, as did a bunch of our other young kids." The 200-yard medley relay team of Kirk Maibach, Chris Geng, John Duan and James Xue took first in 1:40.58.

Maibach also added a win in the 100 butterfly (52.37), while Xue lead a one-twothree-four Mustangs sweep in the 100 breaststroke (1:01.43).

"We hope to compete well next week at the conference meet and, even though today didn't have everyone's best lineup, they still kept score and, as long as they are keeping score, I would always rather win than lose," Ben-netts said. "We accomplished that, so I'm encouraged for next week."

Novi's Ryan Katulski captured the 200 freestyle (1:45.94) and teamed with Philip Billiu, Siddhardha Kareddy and Joel Kotyk for first in the 400 freestyle relay (3:20.44). "The division meet was very successful for us," said Novi coach Brent Pohlonski, who guided the Wildcats to a 4-0 dual record in the KLAA Central. "Our number one year, our combined time drops totaled five minutes and 46 seconds.

"For all of our swimmers that do not get to compete in the conference meet, this was their shave and taper meet. Our division swimmers dropped a ton of time. Based on how great our division swimmers performed, our conference meet swimmers have a lot to look forward to next weekend."

Stevenson got individual victories from Jackson O'Dowd, 200 individual med-ley (1:59.1); Benjamin Rojew-ski, 500 freestyle (4:54.14); and Parker Wasielewski, 100 backstroke (55.83). South Lyon captured three

Here's How It Works: grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the Traditional jazz meets Americana. southern square dance and Irish mu-sic at the 7th Annual Benefit for Doc-tors Without Borders, Saturday, Feb. 27, at the Ancient Order of Hibernians Hall in Redford.

"We have a huge melting pot of music," said Mick Gavin, a Redford resident, musician and the event's organizer. "We have a lot of Irish mu sicians and singers coming as well, and step dance. We cut down on the number of bands this year so we could get in more dancers."

Doors will open at 4 p.m. at the hall, 25300 Five Mile. Admission is a dona-tion at the door. Doctors Without Borders provides emergency medical care to individuals caught in crises around the world. Performances will include:

» 5 p.m. Lac La Belle, an acoustic duo influenced by Americana, sings and plays mandolin, banjo, ukulele, organ, guitar, and accordion. » 5:45 p.m. Eddie McGlinchey, Ray Maguire, Michael Gavin, Frank Ken-nedy, Colin Paige and Mick Gavin will play Irish music for dancers from the Dance Society Band will play tunes for square dancing. » 7:30 p.m. The Detroit Pleasure Society performs traditional New Orleans jazz. » 8:30 p.m. The acoustic trio, Behind the Times, with mandolin, guitar and upright bass, plays original music influenced by bluegrass, country, jazz and popular favorites. » 9:15 p.m. Irish set dancing with Anne McCallum, the Crossroads Ceili Band and the Conor O'Neill's session group

Guest square dance caller, Becky Hill of West Virginia, will call the square dances at both the Doctors without Borders event and at the monthly Detroit Square Dance Soci-ety gathering, 5-9 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 28, at the Gaelic League, 2068 Michigan Ave., Detroit. Admission is $10 for the square dance. Gavin and many of the other musicians will perform at both events

New bands

Square dancing and both Lac La Belle and the Detroit Pleasure Society are new to the Doctors Without Borders benefit. "We've been bumping into these musicians and they've come to some of our gigs and we go to their gigs," said Gavin, who plays with Crossroads Ceili. "There seems to be this revival of folk crossing over with jazz and also crossing over into the Irish set dancing

"It really is fantastic. They are excellent musicians. I love that kind of music and have for years. We have the Detroit Pleasure Society, a traditional jazz band, playing. Their music is swingy and dancy, with all of the horns and banjo. I'm delighted to have them." For Nick Shillace, who plays banjo with the group, the Detroit Pleasure Society is a "dream come true."

"I had always wanted to play traditional jazz but didn't have the people around me doing it." said Shillace, who also performs Americana-influenced music with his wife, Jennie Knaggs, as Lac La Belle. "I was recruited by a fan of Lac La Belle who was playing in Detroit Pleasure Society at the time. We got together and there's been a core group of five the past several years. Shillace, a Detroiter and owner of describes the Detroit Pleasure Society as a tight knit band that plays tradi-tional jazz with its "own spirit." "We're traditionalists, not revival-ists. A lot of times groups try to bring back the visual esthetics and aping of the period. That doesn't necessarily give life to the music," he said. "We have two saxophones instead of clari-net and trumpet net and trumpet ... sousaphone, banjo and trombone, there's enough there that gives us a unique sound." He said the Doctors Without Bor-ders event will give the audience a rare opportunity to enjoy both dance and a variety of music, while support-ing a good cause. "There is no redundancy with the music. It is such a comprehensive musical experience."

Choral music fans will get a chance to hear two choirs for free Saturday, Feb. 27 in Ply-

Chicago, Ill., and Toronto, Ont. A travel agent, who heard the group sing in England, suggested the Italy trip. Neu-mann said the agent helped her secure a performance at SIII The group also will perform at St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

Plymouth-Canton's Educa-tional Park's (P-CEP) Festival Singers and Eastern Michigan University Choir will perform at 7:30 p.m. at Plymouth First United Methodist Church, 45201 N. Territorial. "My choir will sing a few selections and Eastern will sing a few and we'll come together at the end for a com-bined piece," said Jennifer Neumann, P-CEP teacher and choir director.

The two choirs, 100 voices in total, will sing "Exultate Deo," by Scarlatti. It's a piece the Festival Singers also will perform next month during its tour of Venice and Rome in Italy. "It is an important piece of music and to collaborate with a university choir will be a tremendous thing to hear and observe. It's very exciting," Neumann said. Brandon Johnson, director of choral activities at EMU and director of the University Choir, has been working with Neumann's students on the music. Both choirs will come together for the first time during a rehearsal at the church before the concert.

Advanced music

The 49-member Festival Singers is one of 10 afterschool choirs at Salem High School, where the P-CEP's choral program is located. Students, mostly juniors and seniors, must be enrolled in one of two specific choral classes in order to join the group. Neumann said Festival Singers is considered the most experienced of the extra-curricular choirs. "It sings the most advanced music. It is an audition group and is extremely select," she said. "This is the group that historically travels. My choir has done things with the U of M Men's Glee Club, the Wom-en's Glee Club, and we've collaborated with other high schools. We've sung with the Plymouth Oratorio Society and Measure for Measure." Over the years it has per-

A real estate industry report is positive about long-term trends in that field

Industry report sees long-term upside in commercial real estate

-Despite various global and domestic hurdles hindering economic growth, steady job gains and stable leasing demand should help keep commercial real estate activity expanding in 2016, according to the authors of an annual report published jointly by Situs Real Estate Research Corporation (RERC), Deloitte and the National Association of Realtors

According to the report, Expectations & Market Reali-ties in Real Estate 2016— Navigating through the Crosscurrents, commercial real estate activity is forecast to gradually grow this year with demand for space hold-ing steady across all commercial sectors. While commer-cial property values and price gains are expected to flatten after surpassing 2007 peaks in some major markets, inves-tors will still benefit from the strong income flows generated from new and existing leases

The fifth annual release of the joint report draws on the three organizations' respective research and expert analysis and offers an objective outlook on commercial real estate through forecasts and commentary on the current economy, capital markets and commercial real estate property markets. A researchbased assessment of the of-fice, industrial, apartment, retail and hotel property sec-tors is also provided. "Historically low interest rates, especially in treasuries, combined with commercial real estate's stable prices and value make this asset an at-tractive investment," said Ken Riggs, president of Situs RERC. "Looking into 2016, the commercial real estate mar ket should moderate, which could stabilize prices." Vacancies are expected to continue to decline slightly in 2016 for all property types, except in the apartment sector, where they are forecast to increase modestly by the end of the year as more new project completions come onto the market. Continued job growth, demand exceeding supply and limited new construction (outside of multi-family) should lead to rising rents and steady investor returns, which overall will shift away from capital appreciation as price growth levels off in many markets. Continuing on the same slow trajectory seen for many years, the U.S. economy facing headwinds from a rising dollar, financial market volatility and geopolitical concerns — is forecast to grow at a rate of 2 percent to 3 percent in 2016, which is stronger than most global economies and enough to generate around 2 million net new jobs over the next year. Deflationary pressures related to low gasoline and energy prices are expected to dimin-ish by mid-2016, in part because of robust growth in apartment rents "Supported by solid hiring in most parts of the country, the demand for ownership and rental housing will continue to increase in 2016 despite anoth er year of meager economic expansion," said Lawrence Yun, NAR chief economist. "While supply shortages will weigh on housing affordability and push home prices and rents higher, the housing sec-tor will keep the U.S. economy afloat and lead the residential anot and read the residential investment component of GDP growth by up to 10 per-cent this year." On Thursday, Feb. 4, De-loitte hosted a live webcast covering the report, including discussion on mecroeconomic discussion on macroeconomic conditions, capital market trends, the main property types and the overall outlook for 2016.

Sign issue: First Amendment generally applies to government actions

Q: With the presidential elections on the horizon, our homeowners association has been discussing political signs in yards. The documents talk about prohibiting signs in general but should we make an exception for this particular season?

A: More than likely, your documents prohibit the display of any types of signs except perhaps For Sale signs under certain circumstances. There can be the argument by some that political signs raise particular issues regarding freedom of speech. However, the freedom of speech that is con-templated by the First Amend-ment typically applies only to governmental action and not in a private community. You may not even have the authority to vary from the strict requirements of the documents, without an assessment so see your community association lawyer.

Meisner

Q: Our property manager just received a letter from an owner making accusations against the Board of Direc tors and asking over 25 ques-tions concerning the operations of the association. The board is indicating that it will be very expensive for the managing agent to respond to all these questions but we are wondering whether we have an obligation to do so.

A: There is no specific stat-ute in Michigan although other states require a condo associa-tion to substantially respond to inquiries from co-owners that are sent by certified mail or otherwise within, for example, 30 days of the association's receipt of them. However, it is good practice where there is not a requirement statutorily to respond timely, but to give a general response to the co-owner indicating that it might be best for him to narrow his questions or attend a meeting of the Board of Directors for the specific purpose of dis-cussing his issues. If in fact the co-owner appears to be someone who is harassing the asso-ciation with questions which are not made in good faith, you may wish to turn that over to the association's attorney.

Make some magic Blend mushrooms with meat for a healthier meal

Finding the right daily nutritional balance is no easy feat. Managing sugar, carbohydrate, fat and red meat intake takes serious effort and planning, but transforming your favorite recipes into more nutritious family meals may be easier than you realize. Adopting the "blenditarian" lifestyle is a simple solution to healthier eating. It involves, simply, blending mushrooms into meat to make every day dishes more healthful and delicious. Adding chopped mushrooms to ground beef at a ratio of at least 25 percent mushrooms can enhance the taste of dishes, deliver an extra serving of userstellas and homeficial nutrients, and truin total calcines and fait intake of vegetables and beneficial nutrients, and trim total calories and fat intake. Any mushroom variety will work. Creminis and portabellas lend rich, earthy flavors to any meal, while white button mushrooms offer a more delicate taste. For the more adventurous eaters, maitake and shiitake varieties bring a bold woodsy taste and meaty texture to the plate.

The key to blending is developing the perfect mushroom consistency. For example, if using ground meat for tacos or burgers, chop mushrooms to mimic the familiar crumbled texture, using a knife and cutting board, food processor or vegetable chopper. For stews, halve or quarter mushrooms, or slice them to match strips of meat in fajitas or stir-fry.
