Bigger bill comes after new water meter

LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

As outdoor readers are replaced along with water meters some Westland residents are getting reconciliation bills to cover the gap from their actual water use and estimated water billings.

After her water meter and outside meter were replaced in late November, resident Becki Brand received a bill for $679. Her family's two-month water bill is usually $150-$180.

"I talked to the city multiple times. I was told it was due to two years of estimated bills," Brand said. "The last time they had an actual reading of the meter was December 2013."

A resident living near Joy and Merriman since 2008, Brand was unhappy that she had never been notified that her meter readings were being estimated.

"I don't know if we used the water or not. I had two years of estimated bills," she said. "I was never given the opportunity of an appointment (for the meter replacement). Neither my husband nor I were alerted — the nanny let them in. It was extremely unsettling."

Adjustment needed

The reconciliation bill was calculated at current water rates, Brand said, until she called the city and an adjustment to utilize 2014-2015 rates were applied for an $80 reduction.

"We had to catch them," said Brand, adding she shouldn't be responsible for charges due to the city's failure to maintain equipment and reliance on estimated bills.

When the citywide water meter/reader replacement program was implemented, the city announced that it would apply the earlier water rates — what the city calls a rollback credit — to the reconciliation bills. The city is also setting up payment plans when contacted.

"Some people are getting reconciliation bills. If we overestimated the bills, they would get a credit," Westland Finance Director Steve Smith said. "Out of 10 people, probably three of them get credits. There are three or four who don't see a big change. Three or four out of the 10 get a reconciling bill."

Failure begins

A big factor, Smith said is how long the water customers had been receiving an estimated water bill. The outside readers that allow meters to be read

IN THEIR OWN WORDS

Shocking headlines dominate the news as a murder trial unfolds. The prosecution and defense offer different versions of the same event. Sordid details and dark secrets are revealed — pain turns to sorrow and questions of what might have been. Why really happened that day? What went so terribly wrong? What if?

Reporters Aileen Wingblad and David Veselenak set out to answer those questions in a series of interviews with convicted murderers Nancy Seaman and Lakeshia Valdez.

Murderer Nancy Seaman describes torment of prison life

Aileen Wingblad
Staff Writer

"I took a life. I never said I should just walk away free. I never wanted to kill him, I was only trying to protect myself. I just wanted to get away."

Those are the words of Nancy Seaman, 11 years and a couple of months after a judge ordered her to spend the rest of her life in prison for the grisly hatchet murder of her husband Bob.

Seaman, an elementary school teacher at the time of the killing, claimed self-defense. An argument over her plans to end the marriage and move into her own condo had turned physical, she said, and she truly feared for her life the day Bob died.

Bob had threatened to kill her time and again, she said, and this time, she believed he'd do it.

The Oakland County prosecutor who tried her case didn't buy it. Neither did the jury.

Seven months after what she calls "the tragedy" in the garage of their upscale Farmington Hills home, Seaman started living out her days at the Women's Huron Valley Correctional Facility in Pittsfield Township.

Tears daily

Eleven years-plus and still, Seaman said, not a day goes by that she doesn't cry.

She cries for herself, as she continues her legal fight, knowing that her options for appeal are extremely limited — if not already exhausted.

She cries for her family — her two sons, their wives and the four grandchildren she's never met. She cries for her brother, for the friends she misses so much.

And, she said, she cries for Bob.

"The person I loved for 31 years is dead and I'm responsible," Seaman said, during a recent interview with the Observer & Eccentric. "I'm tormented — I can't even put into words what it feels like."

Seaman has yet to completely adjust to prison life.

Not your everyday gig: Visit with convicted killer

I'm sitting in the visitor center at the Women's Huron Valley Correctional Facility, waiting to meet Nancy Seaman, a convicted murderer.

This place has been her home for the last 11 years.

I'm not sure what to expect once our interview begins. I'm a bit apprehensive, of course, but curious and ready.

I've already muddled through the intake requirements — allowed only "clear pens" and my notebook, patted down by an officer, proving to her that I'm not trying to sneak anything in under my tongue, behind my ears, between my toes. The jewelry I'm wear-

GC business to host reading therapy dogs March 19

The Lucky Dog business on Middlebelt, north of Ford Road, in Garden City will host the Kids R.E.A.D. to Dogs event from noon to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 19. Kids can bring in their favorite book or choose one donated to Lucky Dog by the Garden City Public Library.

Parents need to call ahead and schedule a time for reading at 734-261-7387.

Several different breeds of trained therapy dogs will be at Lucky Dog from the local chapter of Pet-a-Pet. The dogs are trained to be still and listen while kids of any age read to them.

Dogs don't judge or make fun of young readers who may have difficulties learning, a press release notes.

It is a free event for any child who loves to read and loves dogs. All children are welcome.

Jefferson Barns receives state grant

LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

Thanks to a state grant, two new baseball fields, a basketball court and a pavilion will be constructed at the Jefferson Barns Community Vitality Center recreation complex.

The $175,000 grant comes through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. The Westland City Council recently voted to accept the grant.

State Rep. Robert Kosowski, D-Westland, received thanks for his efforts in obtaining the grant.

"I would like to thank Rep. Kosowski for his assistance in getting the DNR grant," Councilman Kevin Coleman said. "He was instrumental in obtaining the grant."

The cost is $800 per month.

"National Faith Homebuyers has managed our home buyers assistance program. They have been wonderful partners," Campbell said.

"For just under 10 years, we have administered the program for Westland and now we are moving into Westland," said Dina Harris, founder and CEO of National Faith Homebuyers. "We work to help people find a home in 34 cities. We are proud to be a new-comer to Westland."

without access to the inside meters began to fail in the summer of 2013, he said.

"We had the first readers go bad, 50-100. The new devices that were installed were still under warranty," Smith said. "Months went by and more and more of the readers went bad. The company got backlogged."

Other communities were seeing similar problems and eventually the company went out of business.

"We had 400-500 readers failing a month and the meter readers (who would replace faulty devices) couldn't keep up," said Smith. "In the winter of 2013-14, it took all our guys to plow snow."

By early winter of 2014, Smith said there wasn't meter reading resulting in estimated meters.

"We knew we needed an alternative. We had demonstrations and a Request for Proposals," he said. "We quit replacing the outside readers."

Replacement program

The city council approved a program to replace the outside readers along with inside meters — ending their useful life after 15 years or 20 years — in August 2014.

"It's a big project replacing 27,000 meters and costing $10 million. We had to bond (to fund the project). We started replacing meters then, doing the ones that had been estimated the longest," Smith said. "About 11,000 residential meters have been replaced to date, so we are about halfway done."

Along with approximately 22,000 residential meters, the city contractor has also replaced most of the 5,000 commercial and industrial replaced my meter with a smart meter, it was a horrible experience," said Orman, adding her electric bills had jumped with the new meter.

Unlike many residents, Orman said she noticed her water bill was being estimated and called the inside meter number into the city. "They were only about $19 off what was estimated. My actual last reading was two years ago," said Orman, who was concerned that the reconciliation bill would be an ongoing charge.

Water loss rate

The more accurate meters/readers are expected to help reduce the city's 10-percent water loss rate — water that is billed to the city wholesale but can't be charged to a specific account, he said. "The water did go through the meters," Smith added.

Tammara Orman, who lives near Venoy and Avondale, hasn't had the water meter and reader replaced at her home.

"I'm scared. It started off innocently enough but when DTE (Energy) replaced my meter with a smart meter, it was a horrible experience," said Orman, adding her electric bills had jumped with the new meter.

Unlike many residents, Orman said she noticed her water bill was being estimated and called the inside meter number into the city.

"They were only about $19 off what was estimated. My actual last reading was two years ago," said Orman, who was concerned that the reconciliation bill would be an ongoing charge.

Water/sewer rates will increase 2.35 percent July 1. The city had received notice from the Great Lakes Water Authority for Westland to expect a 6.5-percent wholesale rate increase, although it hasn't yet been approved by the board.

Officer receives top military rank

A Westland Police sergeant has been promoted, but not within the department.

Sgt. Timothy Horvath was recently promoted through the U.S. Air Force as a member of the 127th Air Refueling Group based out of Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

Horvath has been promoted to the rank of Chief Master Sergeant/E9, the Air Force's highest enlisted rank. Only 1 percent of enlisted military members achieve this rank.

Many members of the Westland Police Department attended Horvath's promotion ceremony Feb. 6.

Horvath will serve as the 127th Air Refueling Group's superintendent, whose mission is to fly and maintain the KC-135 aircraft that handles in-flight refueling operations. The planes reach all ends of the world and support domestic missions and the war on terror overseas.

Horvath has served the Westland Police Department for over 13 years and has been serving in the military for nearly 29 years.

Attempted break in

On March 3, a resident in the 3500 block of Mildred told police she arrived home about 4:45 p.m. and found her back privacy gate was open. She said it is always closed and locked due to the family dog.

The resident also heard the audible alarm on her home going off and found a window screen on the ground. She went inside the house but nothing appeared to be disturbed.

Security footage at the home showed a suspect pull into the driveway and enter the backyard through the gate. He tried to pry the front door open but was unable to do so due to the deadbolt lock. The footage showed the suspect attempting to enter through a window unsuccessfully before returning to the front, which triggered the alarm.

Larceny

Six semi truck tires and rims valued at $1,800 were reported stolen from Rush Trucking, 38500 Van Born, March 8. The tires were of various makes and models, and the rims were described as white.

The manager told police he was in his office about 6:30 a.m. when he heard loud banging in parking lot. When he went outside, he said he saw an older white Ford F-150 leaving the lot at a high rate of speed. He said he could see several semi truck tires in the bed of the truck.

Checking the maintenance garage, which had its door open, the manager said he saw the tires and rims were missing.

Vandalism

Police were called to Services to Enhance Potential, 35000 Van Born, March 8 about a damaged fence. An employee told police that a neighbor alerted her to the damage that had happened about a month earlier. Employees wouldn't see the fence due to a row of trees.

The fence, which surrounds a garden, had been struck by a vehicle that continued into the garden damaging the fence and several fence posts. The damage was estimated at $2,000.

Report: Too much partying lands birthday boy in jail

Aileen Wingblad

What reportedly began as a 30th birthday celebration ended with an arrest and several felony charges for a Wayne man.

James Odis Oliver caught the attention of Farmington Hills police shortly after 2 a.m. March 12 for allegedly driving well under the posted speed limit — which can be an indication of drunken driving. A LEIN check of his license plate showed a “sound alike” warrant alert for a man with a similar name and same date of birth, prompting police to pull him over.

Oliver appeared under the influence, police said, and failed field sobriety tests — including reciting part of the alphabet. Oliver, a convicted felon, reportedly told police he might have difficulty doing so because he had dropped out of school in 10th grade.

A preliminary breath test reportedly registered his blood alcohol content at 0.12%, and a vehicle search turned up crack cocaine and a handgun, police said.

Oliver reportedly admitted to having a few drinks earlier that evening while celebrating his birthday at a Detroit bar.

He was arraigned March 13 in 47th District Court on weapons charges, possession of cocaine and operating while impaired. He's due back in court March 23.

Tax time means more phony IRS calls

LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

While they're attempted throughout the year, scam IRS collection calls seem to be gearing up as the April 15 income tax deadline nears.

“The IRS will not call you to say your taxes are in arrears. The IRS will never have you meet them to give them money,” Wayne Police Lt. Ryan Strong said. “They will never call and tell you they have a warrant issued for your arrest.”

People are getting variations of these calls, he said, especially in the last couple of weeks.

“We've been able to stop most of them (from getting money). One elderly man recently called us,” Strong said. “He had the forethought to ask if it was right. He had about $1,500 to pay them. We were able to stop it.”

Many victims of scams in which people are threatened with arrest or having their bank accounts frozen are senior citizens. A common denominator is often that the person doesn't check out the caller's claims until it's too late and they've been ripped off.

“I personally have taken several calls about this. One person got $3,000 out of the bank for the (phony) IRS personnel,” Strong said. “If there is any doubt, people should call us and ask if it's right. Of course, it's not right.”

On its website, the IRS warns consumers to guard against scam phone calls from thieves intent on stealing their money or identity.

The IRS also notes that their real agents will not phone and ask taxpayers for personal information, including bank or credit card numbers.

Senior scammed trying to buy puppies online

David Veselenak
Staff Writer

One Livonia senior citizen is out hundreds of dollars after being taken advantage of by someone posing to sell puppies online.

The 70-year-old woman came into the Livonia police station after noon of March 10 to report the incident. She said her dog recently died and she was looking online to get a new dog. She said she was browsing online when she came across an ad for teacup Yorkshire puppies, the type of dog she was looking for.

She found an email address for the individual and sent a message. They traded some emails and the resident agreed to send $800 to a Bank of America account to pay for two puppies, which would be delivered to her. She later transferred the money to the account, which was associated with the name "Adams Smith."

After sending the money, the Livonia woman was told to send an additional $950 to a shipping company, uShip Pets Cargo Ltd., to cover shipping the puppies overnight. The resident then went to Kroger at 30935 Five Mile and sent the money over a wire service to another individual. She also paid $86 in fees to send the cash.

She was told the puppies would be delivered to her home by March 10, which did not happen. She tried to contact the sellers, but they were not responding to emails or phone calls. Both sellers were supposedly based in Maryland.

Police began searching online and discovered testimonials from others who shared a similar story to this woman and getting scammed out of money for the promise of puppies. Livonia police gathered documents provided by the woman as evidence.

The shipping provider, uShip, states on its website that using any form of wire service is prohibited under their policies.

"Although these services may seem safe — once you have sent the money, you cannot retract or trace the payment," the company states on its website. "Many scams occur when a Service Provider requests partial or full payment upfront."

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals also recommends those looking for a puppy not buy it online for multiple reasons. The organization recommends taking several steps, including: visiting the seller at their facility, picking up the puppy at a kennel instead of having one shipped, checking references of the seller and avoid using money order payments.

Trott, Google discuss Internet safety at middle school

Google representatives and U.S. Rep. Dave Trott paid a visit to Holmes Middle School last week to deliver the Online Safety Roadshow, an online safety assembly developed by Google for middle school students.

Two Google employees delivered the 45-minute presentation, which focuses on five tips for staying safe and being smart online. They covered topics including: thinking before you share, setting strong passwords, using settings, identifying online scams and being positive online.

Trott opened the assembly talking to students about the importance of online safety and competing in the password faceoff challenge, where students are asked to come up with the strongest possible password.

sible password.

"Learning online security tips and techniques to use the Internet safely is critical for our kids in the 21st century," Trott said. "Moms and dads in Southeast Michigan want their children to utilize the Internet in a safe, smart and effective manner. Google's Online Safety Roadshow is an excellent resource to ensure our kids have the tools and knowledge to navigate the Internet safely."

Google spokesperson Jamie Hill said the proliferation of the Internet makes safety a priority.

"With students having greater access to the Internet through cell phones and other devices, it is important that they learn to use these tools responsibly," Hill said. "The Online Safety Roadshow teaches students how to be smart and safe online through a fun and interactive assembly."

The Online Safety Roadshow is a Google program designed to educate parents and students on how to be more successful and safe online. The presentation is a 45-minute assembly that teaches middle school students how to be smart about the content they share online. It focuses on important skills — how to create a safe and memorable password, identify phishing scams, and more.

Kids of all ages are invited to participate in the Wayne County Marshmallow Drop on March 25 at Nankin Mills in Westland.

Marshmallow Drop, Easter Bunny coming

Wayne County Parks will kick off the 2016 warm weather event season at 11 a.m. Friday, March 25, with its 32nd annual Marshmallow Drop at Nankin Mills in Westland.

The event usually sees thousands of children gather at the park to await a helicopter visit from the Easter Bunny, who will drop more than 20,000 marshmallows from the sky. The children will race to pick up marshmallows, which can later be redeemed for a prize. The lucky child who finds the single-colored marshmallow will receive a special prize.

Participating children will be separated in three age categories — 4 years old and younger, 5-7 years old and 8-12 years old — to ensure each child receives a fair opportunity to find a colored marshmallow in the bunch. In 2015, nearly 5,000 children participated in the Marshmallow Drop event.

"Wayne County's Marshmallow Drop has been a cherished family tradition for 32 years," Wayne County Executive Warren Evans said. "The Marshmallow Drop kicks off a highly anticipated season of fun activities for our Parks Division and we hope that residents and visitors will join us because it really is an exciting time for the entire family to enjoy." Pre-registration is not required for this event.

For more information on these and other events, call 734-261-1990 or visit parks.waynecounty.com.

Seedlings fundraiser throws strikes

Seedlings Braille Books for Children raised a record $44,000 at its 29th annual bowling event Saturday, shattering its previous record of $36,000 set in 2015.

The Livonia nonprofit held its biggest fundraiser of the year, Bowling for Braille Books, at Plaza Lanes in Plymouth. The event set another new record with 200 bowlers participating, filling the 40-lane bowling alley to capacity.

"With the money raised Saturday and donations still coming in, Seedlings will be able to produce at least 4,400 more low-cost, high-quality braille books for children who are blind or visually impaired here in Michigan, across the United States and around the world," said Debra Bonde, Seedlings' founder and director.

People can continue to donate to the event online until June 12. Go to <http://tinyurl.com/jbtngv2>. Every $10 raised makes another braille book possible.

Bonde credits the success of the event, which also included a silent auction and raffles, to Seedlings' sponsors, donors, bowlers and other supporters. Headlining sponsors were Alpha USA; Cole, Newton & Duran, CPA's; Livonia Builders; Plymouth Lions; and Valassis.

Bonde, a Livonia resident, founded Seedlings in 1984 because braille books for children were rare and expensive, often costing more than $100 each.

With the money raised at its annual bowling event, grants and other donations, Seedlings is able to distribute high-quality braille books at an average cost of $10

"It doesn't get easier. Every single day, I wake up and cry, realizing I'm still here. Why am I still here?" she said, her voice rising as tears streamed down her face. "I can't understand the failing of the justice system. I can't understand how they can just let me die in here."

It's a life of despair. "And, yes, I'm angry. This didn't have to happen. I did all the right things, trying to (move out), getting everything in order, waiting for the right time to go," she said. "I did the right things and how it turned out is so wrong."

True love

Flash back some 40 years. Seaman, at the time Nancy Onofrio, meets Bob. He's charming – a young engineer at Ford Motor Co. who wasted no time stealing her heart. She was just 20 years old, working as a secretary for Bob's supervisor.

"I knew the moment I saw him that he was my true love," she said, smiling at the memory. "He had charisma, he was handsome, a gentleman, respectful ... it was love at first sight – he 'checked all the boxes.'"

Just one year later, they were husband and wife. She claims some "red flags" emerged prior to them taking their vows – one of Bob's co-workers had dropped a hint that the marriage wasn't a good idea and a couple of her aunts simply "didn't like him," she said. And the night before the wedding, Seaman said, she saw a side of Bob for the first time – a side that concerned her.

Bob phoned her after he'd been drinking, she said, and was extremely angry that she wouldn't come over to hang out with him and his relatives. She had things to do to get ready for the wedding, she said, but Bob simply didn't understand. He was mad. Very mad, she said.

The call left her so rattled that she didn't know what to expect the next day when she walked down the aisle; she actually questioned marrying him. But she wouldn't call it off. She couldn't. That would have been too much of a disappointment – and embarrassment – to her parents, she said.

"I couldn't do that to them," she said. As it turned out, Bob was all smiles when she met him at the altar. "It was as if that phone call never happened," Seaman said.

Making a life

Thus began their life together. There were plenty of good times, she said, and Bob's steady climb career-wise meant a healthy paycheck. They lived quite well. He was "a generous provider," she said.

Life also had its share of challenges – the kind you expect with a growing family and job stress and other demands.

And then there were the challenges Seaman said she never had anticipated with the man she loved, the one who promised he loved her back. The kind of things she mostly kept to herself.

Things like Bob's excessive control, hot temper, need to "always be right," she said. Things like kicked-in doors and kicked-in drywall, household items thrown and smashed. Shoving and hitting, black eyes, bruises, a broken bone, chipped teeth. Hard-core berating and name-calling. Infidelity.

These are the things, Seaman maintains, that she endured – off and on – for three decades. These are the things she tried her best to hide from their two sons – and the rest of the world, she said.

"In many ways, Bob was a good person. He had so many fine attributes – he was smart, funny, handsome. He had so many good qualities," she said. "Then there was this other side ..."

For years, Seaman said, she felt trapped. She was a stay-at-home mom, financially dependent. Bob doled out the money.

"Where could I go? What could I do? I had two kids, I had no job," she said. "I couldn't leave."

Yet that was to change. When she was in her 40s, Seaman earned a teaching degree and eventually landed a job at Longacre Elementary School in Farmington. Bob paid for her education, but had no respect for the profession she chose, Seaman said.

Yet to her, having her own classroom and students brought immense joy and personal satisfaction. "Teaching wasn't a job to me. It was a passion, my identity, who I was," she said.

According to Seaman, as her career blossomed, Bob's began to nosedive. The fighting intensified. She made a few feeble attempts to reach out for help, but nothing came of it.

"And Bob said, 'No one will care. No one will believe you,'" she said, sobbing. "And he was right. Look where I am now. Bob was right."

A 'mental break'

Seaman is the only one who knows what really happened at her house on that day in May 2004 – Bob's last day.

Bob's voice was taken from him, denying him the chance to defend himself, to respond to the accusations, to share his side of the story when his private life became obscenely public.

During Seaman's trial, the prosecution maintained that she had planned the murder – evidenced by her purchasing a hatchet the evening before and ambushing Bob in the garage. More than 20 hatchet and stab wounds were found on his body.

Seaman testified that she and Bob had fought that morning, that he had found out she had planned to leave him. Bob chased her into the garage and she grabbed what she could to defend herself. That happened to be a hatchet she had purchased for yard work, she said.

She remembers hitting him with it and him falling on top of her. And she kept hitting him, she said, because she still thought he would be able to hurt her, unaware that he was incapacitated – or likely killed – by the first blow. She was scared, she said.

Seaman said she was "shocked" to later learn just how many times she had hit Bob with the hatchet – and that she had stabbed him multiple times, too.

"I don't remember having a knife, I don't remember stabbing him ... and when my lawyer showed me the autopsy, I couldn't believe it," she said. "To this day, I can't believe it, but it's true. Autopsies don't lie."

Seaman claims she had a "mental break" after the killing. In a daze, she said, she went to her teaching job that morning. A couple of hours later, "something overcame" her and she felt compelled to get home. She saw Bob's body in the garage.

"I just went into some kind of shock and thought 'this can't be happening ... Bob's dead, he's not moving.' I lost my mind right then," she said.

Seaman wrapped the body in a tarp and somehow managed to put it in the back seat of her Ford Explorer. Then she bought cleaning supplies to "take care of the mess." She says she was in "make-it-all-go-away" mode, like she did after all their fights.

ABOUT THE FACILITY

The Women's Huron Valley Correctional Facility is the only prison in Michigan which houses females. It includes 13 housing units, Residential Substance Abuse Treatment, Special Alternative Incarceration, Residential Treatment Program, Acute Care, Dialectical Behavior Therapy, Infirmary and Detention.

Programming offered includes Adult Basic Education and General Education Development preparation classes, as well as pre-release and life skills instruction. Vocational training is offered in auto mechanics, building trades, business education technology, horticulture, food technology and custodial maintenance. Prisoners have access to religious programs, substance abuse treatment, psychological services, general library and law library services. Phase I programs are offered in cognitive therapy, violence prevention and social support.

Prisoners are provided on-site routine medical and dental care. Pregnant prisoners receive counseling, parenting classes and child care options. Medical emergencies are referred to local hospitals.

The facility has two perimeter security fences with electronic detection systems. Security cameras are located throughout the facility and perimeter. Vehicles with armed personnel patrol the perimeter.

VISIT

ing is accounted for; the metal detector finds nothing of consequence.

Now, I wait. Glancing around, I see that the room looks pretty much how I had imagined it to be. A uniformed guard standing watch over the goings-on. Facing rows of austere plastic chairs. A few vending machines.

From my seat, I see small groups of inmates through a window to the outside. Dressed in dark blue uniforms and bright orange caps, they stroll the prison grounds.

A couple of rows behind me, one inmate – I guess to be in her early 20s – sits with a woman who I assume is her mom. They're talking softly, smiling, sharing a couple bags of Sun Chips, drinking pop. To my left, another inmate and her visitor quietly read the Bible together.

As the minutes tick by, I stand up and check out the room a bit more closely. In a corner is a collection of well-worn board games, books, decks of cards and bins of plastic toys – the kind of stuff you might find in a day care or waiting room of a doctor's office. Diversions to pass the time, to keep the kids occupied.

But this is no doctor's office or day care. The kids who use these toys come here to see their mom, grandma, big sister, auntie or, perhaps, a close family friend.

I let that thought sink in for a moment, picturing in my mind a 6-year-old playing a game of Uno with someone who chose a serious crime over her role of mommy – and now they are both paying the price.

Deep sigh.

Family time

"Hey, you really need to sit down."

That's the guard speaking – to me.

So I do. And a few feet away, I see a family seated at a table. They look like a mom and dad a few years younger than I am, a teenaged boy and a grandma.

They are peering out that window that looks onto the yard, giddy with excitement as they see their loved one make her way toward the visitor center.

A couple of minutes later, she walks in. She's thin, has long dark hair, wears glasses. She reminds me of the typical girl you see at a high school football game or Twelve Oaks Mall or hanging out at Starbucks with her friends. She appears sweet, even.

The four rush to her and exchange hugs. The woman I've decided is the girl's grandmother looks her up and down. "You've grown so much," she says, smiling. The girl grins.

They take their places around the table and start to talk about "regular" things: books, hunting, shoveling snow, starting their own business. Also, classes the girl is taking while she's locked up. Then the woman I figure is the girl's mom makes eye contact with me. I know she sees my reporter's notebook – but still, I tell her I'm a member of the media.

She confirms it's her daughter at the table with them, just 15 years old, sentenced to 7-20 years in prison. The girl doesn't belong incarcerated with adult convicts, she says.

"We hate the state of Michigan (now). It's corrupt," she says, scowling. "We're going to move out of this state when this is all over."

I don't know the girl's crime and the mom won't tell me.

But a sentence of 7-20 years tells enough.

The mom turns back to her family.

Again, I sigh. Silently, I thank God for my blessings. Moments later, the reason for my visit enters the room. Nancy Seaman.

Ugliness, consequences

Seaman is thinner than I thought she'd be. Her gray hair is cropped short. Her face, for the most part, is unlined – which surprises me. After all, she's 63. She killed her husband in a most brutal way. And she's been in prison for more than a decade.

I had expected haggard and beaten down. I was wrong.

Inside the visitor center's tiny private room – typically reserved for attorney consultations – we sit facing each other across a small table.

Seaman seems a bit uneasy, and why not? She likely knows some probing questions are coming her way. As I find out later in the interview, Seaman isn't a fan of the media due to the way she says she was treated after the killing and during the trial. Still, she's giving me the benefit of the doubt. She says she's heard good things about me.

I tell her she looks good. Seaman shrugs and chuckles. "No, oh no," she says, shaking her head. "No, I don't."

Then her smile fades. And before I can ask her one question from the list I've prepared, Seaman starts in on her story. Unabashedly, with an underlying current of desperation, she talks and talks. She breaks down in tears, time and again.

I listen as she tries to explain why she committed murder — which she calls “the tragedy.” I listen as she tries to explain why she believes she was unjustly sentenced. And I wonder what really happened that day in the Seamans' Farmington Hills home. Her husband of 31 years, killed with a hatchet blow to the head. Several other strikes with the hatchet followed, plus he was stabbed multiple times. All these years later, Seaman maintains that she was physically and emotionally abused throughout their marriage and that she was defending herself during an argument — fearing for her own life — on the day her husband was killed. As she continues talking, I think of the two sons she's left behind, the four grandchildren she's never met. I think about her dad, who died while she's been behind bars. I think about her neighbors and friends and former colleagues at Longacre Elementary School. I think about the kids she had in her classroom. And I'm once again reminded of ugliness and rawness and abhorrent pain — and consequences. It's sitting two feet away from me. An officer sticks her head in the door. We've been at it for nearly three hours. Visiting time is over, she says. We say our goodbyes. Perhaps I'll be back, I tell Seaman. As I head out of the building and dash through the parking lot to my car, the January sky opens up and a slushy rain pelts down. Glancing back at the prison complex, I welcome the stinging cold and wetness. I drive off toward the expressway that will take me from here, that will take me home.

Of course, she didn't make it all go away. Farmington Hills police found Bob's body in her car a few days later. She told them it was an accident. On Dec. 14, 2004, the jury returned with the verdict: guilty of first-degree murder.

'One hell for another'

Seaman's crime sent her from one gated community — Ramblewood in Farmington Hills — to another, where people are kept in, not out. Some 40 miles from the neighborhood she and Bob had called home. Where they had raised their two boys. Where Bob lost his life. Where Seaman said she endured torment and suffering — which now continue, albeit in a different way. “This place is terrible. I can't believe I've survived 11 days, let alone 11 years,” Seaman said. “I traded one hell for another.” She's quick to note that the guards treat her fairly and decently. “They are very kind and sympathetic. Very professional,” she said. It's the “women here abusing each other, all the time” which is unsettling to see, she said. Seaman herself has had just one altercation with a fellow inmate, but escaped injury. “I was chased after by an older woman and called every name in the book,” she said. So she keeps to herself, for the most part. “This is a scary place. And I've always been a very, very private person. I'm not going to change that — especially in here,” Seaman said. “I've even had guards ask me how I cope so well and I've told them I'm using the same strategies I used to manage and deal with 31 years of abuse. I just shut it all out to survive.” She avoids being part of any of pseudo family with fellow inmates — common among the female prison population — including intimate physical contact. “There's lots of sexual relations in here. Everyone is paired up,” Seaman said. But not her. “They just consider me the little old lady with the gray hair — thank God,” she said, chuckling. “I'm cordial and friendly, but I don't get close. I don't forge friendships.” And that makes for an extremely lonely life, compounded by her decision to not let any family or friends visit her — ever. “They've begged and pleaded, but I don't want them to see me here,” she said, sobbing. “I want them to remember me the way I was — not behind barbed wire. I just don't want them to see this.” Her younger son, Greg, phones her regularly, she said, and she communicates via mail with her older son Jeff. “They are my reason for living; they are what keep me going. I visualize walking out of here one day and wrapping my arms around them,” she said. The two sons took opposing sides during her trial — Greg being the one who supported her. Have she and Jeff repaired their relationship? What about the brothers themselves? This is one topic Seaman refuses to discuss. “I really don't want to talk about my sons (any more),” she said. But she will say the most difficult aspect of incarceration is being separated from her family “and the lack of physical contact from anybody.” “Sometimes, I just long for a hug, for comfort. But I (won't) get that in here,” she said. Her cellmate — “bunkie” in prison-speak — is in her mid-50s, Seaman said, and has been incarcerated for nearly 30 years. She, too, killed her husband. Seaman said they get along fine, but stops short of calling it a friendship. “She gets frustrated, because I won't talk about my personal life,” she said. “But I lived my whole married life keeping my business to myself. Why would I change that in here?” “We talk about the weather, clean our room together and watch TV a lot,” she added. “I'm polite and helpful when I can be, but it's all superficial.”

Continuing to fight

While some may argue a convicted murder doesn't deserve it, Seaman has managed to find a purpose, a diversion of sorts, a reason to wake up each day. Six years ago, she landed a clerk job at the prison's law library. Five days a week, she takes on two or three shifts, each lasting up to three hours. “I love it; it's my sanity. I help with cases, show (inmates) how to find legal resources, do record-keeping and inventory,” Seaman said. “It has helped to restore my self-esteem.”

She considers it a vast improvement over her previous prison job — tutoring inmates for the GED. “I hated that,” she said. “The women were angry, embarrassed, resentful. They're resentful of (my) education.” The law library is her go-to place, every day — because when she's not on duty, she's there working on her own case. Seaman admits it can be tough to hang on to hope, but she's not ready to give up on herself and the chance that she'll be granted one more appeal — and perhaps walk out of prison someday. Her “fight for justice,” as she sees it, has zigged and zagged since her trial. First, a district judge reduced her conviction to second-degree murder, yet it was subsequently reinstated by a state appeals court. In 2010, a U.S. district court ordered that she be given a new trial or released within four months, stating Seaman's attorney failed to develop a strong enough case regarding battered spouse abuse. But that, too, was overturned, this time by a federal appeals court. An appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court went unanswered. Now, Seaman is trying to again appeal to federal court — hoping to address the state of Michigan's limits on battered spouse abuse as a defense, in and of itself. “I'm running out of chances to get back in court and the window of opportunity to appeal is getting harder and harder,” she said. “But there's no other way out. “Some days, I just feel old and tired,” she added, sighing. “It's incredible that, 11 years later, I'm still fighting for justice. It's like being on a merry-go-round that you can't get off of and you start to lose hope. But hope is all I have.” Seaman said she has yet to reconcile the fact that she committed murder. “I still feel humiliated and ashamed, in total disbelief,” she said. “Any one who knows me, knows this just wasn't me. “For 30 years of marriage, I was never confrontational, never defended myself. I had no malice in my heart, never (before) did I do anything to hurt Bob. I always took the high road, acted with dignity. I took it on the chin. That's why I'm so tormented, why I feel so brokenhearted. I went from not defending myself to doing this — and he's dead.” But she has made peace with God over taking Bob's life, she said. “Absolutely. God knows what's in my heart,” she said. “God knows I loved Bob to the end. I have no second thought to that.”

The Observer & Eccentric reached out to members of the Seaman family for comment, but received no response. awingblad@hometownlife.com 248-390-3976 Twitter: @awingblad

"It all started here, We Love You DETROIT"
~ Il Volo

Il Volo made sure their 2016 North American tour stopped in their favorite city of Detroit where they "lit" up the stage at the Fox Theater on Saturday, February 27th.

Gianluca and Antonio breaking bread together

Downtown traffic could have interfered providing stand still traffic as fans crawled their way to the theater, but nothing stopped the sold out crowd from seeing Gianluca Ginoble, Piero Barone and Ignazio Boschetto take the stage accompanied by an orchestra and a rock band to open the show with their album title single "Grande Amore". Il Volo, an Italian pop trio, delighted hundreds of screaming fans singing pop, operatic and international classic songs. The trio joined together for duets and also had solos. They dazzled the audience with their fun-loving personalities and their passion for music and Italy.

Since Il Volo's first visit to Detroit in 2010, when Antonio Rugiero advocated for these brilliant young singers to come to his city and the Detroit Opera House to do their first performance in America. They took the audience in their first concert and since have become international artists.

In their short time together they have released four albums with the newest "Grande Amore" hitting #1 on the billboard charts. They have toured with Barbara Streisand in 2012, won two Latin Grammy Awards. In 2015 they won the celebrated san Reno Music festival and represented Italy in the Eurovision Song contest in Vienna. They continue to grow as artists while remaining the same grounded young men that came to Detroit to follow their dream to bring the classic music of Italy to the world.

Piero and everyone complemented Mama Rita for the great meal

After the concert, Il Volo wanted to catch up and visit with their friend Antonio so together the Rugiero family and the Il Volo family gathered at Rugiero's restaurant and Mama Rita prepared their favorite dishes. They ate, sang, laughed, shared a wonderful meal and celebrated till 3:00 a.m. Maestro, the conductor traveling with Il Volo, proclaimed it was the best Italian food he had had since leaving Italy. With lots of hugs and love the family said their good-byes as Il Volo boarded their tour bus for the next stop in Nashville. They have 35 stops on their Northern American tour before they leave for a tour in Latin America and Europe. Bravo Il Volo!

"I have always been so proud of these boys and honored to call them my friends. It is such a joy to watch Il Volo achieve well-deserved International stardom. They remain the same fresh-faced boys that came in 2010. They are kind, thoughtful individuals that have a passion for music, family and their fans."

Record Seedlings fundraiser raises youth literacy

The folks at Seedlings Braille Books are getting used to breaking records.

At Saturday's Bowling for Braille Books event at Plaza Lanes in Plymouth Township, a record 200 bowlers registered, and Seedlings had 52 sponsors, another record. Headlining sponsors included the generosity of Alpha USA; Cole, Newton & Duran CPAs; Livonia Builders; the Plymouth Lions Club; and Valassis.

But the big number? The event raised a record $44,000. That should make Seedlings officials, including new board president Jared Stofflett, very happy people.

It continues a level of success that's truly impressive. Seedlings, founded in 1984, serves blind and visually impaired children across Michigan, the United States and 75 countries. Their mission is laudable: Increasing the opportunity for literacy by providing low-cost braille books for children.

And they're pretty good at it, too. Seedlings had a record-breaking year in 2015, distributing 26,862 braille books and articles. Want a better statistic than that? Nearly half of those were provided free of charge.

That's a more impressive statistic when you consider only 5 percent of children's literature is transcribed into braille. That means that for every 95 books a sighted child has, a blind or visually impaired child may have only one.

The success doesn't have to end there. If you didn't get a chance to bowl but still want to help, Seedlings will be taking contributions online (<http://tinyurl.com/jbtngv2>) through June 12.

The Seedlings Bowling for Books fundraiser Saturday drew more than 200 bowlers and raised some $44,000.

If you're wondering if you can make a difference you should know: Every $10 raised makes another braille book. You can make a difference in the lives of children.

Just like Seedlings is doing.

Women's history: Progress underway, work still to do

Women have made great strides in recent decades in the workplace, higher education and even politics, as evidenced by former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton seeking the U.S. presidency.

March is the time, with Women's History Month, to recognize those achievements and the hard work and sacrifice it took to get there. Michigan houses a historical gem in the Michigan Women's Historical Center & Hall of Fame in Lansing.

A current exhibit gives parents of sons and daughters an opportunity to see "Great Girls in Michigan History." It will continue through February 2017 and features nine girls from different eras, with different dreams, from across the state of Michigan who all accomplished something amazing before the age of 20.

It was not always easy for these girls, the www.michiganwomenshalloffame.org website notes; most had significant obstacles to overcome to reach their goals. Visitors will leave knowing what qualities Great Girls possess and inspired to reach their own dreams. The exhibit's appropriate for visitors of all ages.

Remaining Great Girls of Michigan Family Saturdays include:

» March 19, 1:30 p.m. - Storyteller Karrie Korch - An hour of special stories of Michigan's great women and girls throughout history.

» March 26 - History Detectives - You are a Great Girl! Hunt for hidden objects and facts in the museum with this fun and inspiring activity.

It's great for children to learn how inspiring women reached their goals, and the girlhoods that led them there. The women's suffrage movement in the U.S. may seem to be ancient history, yet it was only in the 1920 presidential race that women began to vote nationwide, less than 100 years ago.

To have come to the point where a woman is on the national political stage shows progress and also reminds us of women who've yet to reach pay parity in the workforce. We need to create opportunities for all those girls and women to reach goals of education, workforce equality and a fair say in their futures.

Don't overlook the Michigan Women's Historical Center & Hall of Fame in seeking answers, including for teachers looking to incorporate women's history into classroom lessons. Our state hosts fascinating stories of women in history, such as abolitionist Sojourner Truth, who also advocated for women's suffrage, and sharing their stories makes life better for us all.

Got a school paper to write for Women's History Month? The website is a good place to start with biographies of Truth and other Hall of Fame inductees, such as First Lady Betty Ford, who brought awareness to issues of substance abuse and breast cancer while in the White House.

Women's History Month is a good reminder of how far we've come - and that boys and men benefit as well when women have a public voice in the issues of the day.

CITY OF GARDEN CITY
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
March 21, 2016

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Garden City Council will hold a Public Hearing at the Civic Center, 6000 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, Michigan on Monday, March 21, 2016 at 7:00 pm. regarding the proposed ordinance amendment below.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WAYNE
CITY OF GARDEN CITY
ORDINANCE # _____

VACANT PROPERTY REGISTRATION AND MAINTENANCE ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY BY ADDING A NEW SECTION WHICH NEW SECTION SHALL BE DESIGNATED AS THE VACANT PROPERTY REGISTRATION AND MAINTENANCE ORDINANCE, SECTION _____ OF CHAPTER _____ OF TITLE _____ OF SAID CODE; PROVIDING FOR PURPOSE; PROVIDING FOR THE DEFINITION OF TERMS; PROVIDING FOR SCOPE; PROVIDING FOR EVIDENCE OF VACANT PROPERTY; PROVIDING FOR REGISTRATION OF VACANT PROPERTY; PROVIDING FOR OWNER'S REGISTRATION FORM CONTENT; PROVIDING FOR REGISTRATION FEE; PROVIDING FOR REQUIREMENT TO KEEP INFORMATION CURRENT; PROVIDING FOR MAINTENANCE AND INSPECTION; PROVIDING FOR SECURITY REQUIREMENTS; PROVIDING FOR MONITORING PROPERTY FEE; PROVIDING FOR OPEN PROPERTY AND SECURING FEE; PROVIDING FOR EXEMPTIONS; PROVIDING FOR UNPAID FEES AND ASSESSMENT; PROVIDING FOR CRIMINAL PENALTIES; PROVIDING FOR REPEAL OR SEVERABILITY; PROVIDING FOR PUBLICATION AND EFFECTIVE DATE.

THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY ORDAINS:

SECTION I. PURPOSE.

The purpose of this ordinance is to help protect the health, safety and welfare of the citizens by preventing blight, protecting property values and neighborhood integrity, avoiding the creation and maintenance of nuisances and ensuring the safe and sanitary maintenance of dwellings, commercial and industrial buildings. Due to economic conditions, mortgage foreclosures, and increased bankruptcies, many homes and buildings have become vacant and unsupervised. This has caused properties to become attractive nuisances for minors and criminal activity. Vacant properties have a negative impact on surrounding properties and neighborhoods. Potential buyers are deterred by the presence of nearby vacant abandoned buildings. There is an increased instance of unsecured or open doors and windows, broken water pipes, flooded basements, theft of metals and other materials, overgrowth of grass, weeds, shrubs, and bushes, illegal dumping, and rat and vermin activity at vacant structures. Such neglect devalues properties and causes deterioration in neighborhoods and industrial and commercial areas. The City also needs to be able to contact owners for utility shutoff, fire safety and police reasons.

SECTION II. DEFINITIONS.

Certificate of Occupancy. As defined under the State of Michigan Construction Code Act, PA 230 of 1972, as amended.

Harborage. A shelter, harbor.

Owner. One who has the right to possess, use, and convey something, i.e. the owner, occupant or successor to title by foreclosure, sheriff's sale or by court order.

Rodent. Any of an order (Rodentia) of relatively gnawing mammals (as a mouse, a squirrel or a beaver) that have in the upper jaw a single pair of incisors with a chisel-shaped edge; also: a small mammal (as a rabbit or a shrew).

Vacant property. A lot, building, or structure that is not legally or currently occupied. Vacant property does not mean property that is temporarily unoccupied while the residents are away on vacation, personal matters or business, or is not intended by the owner to be left vacant.

SECTION III. SCOPE.

The provisions of this ordinance shall apply to all existing residential, commercial and industrial structures and all vacant land.

SECTION IV. EVIDENCE OF VACANT PROPERTY.

Evidence of vacancy shall include any condition that on its own, or combined with other conditions present, would lead a reasonable person to believe that the property is vacant. Such conditions include, but are not limited to: overgrown and/or dead vegetation; accumulation of newspapers, circulars, flyers and/or mail; past due utility notices and/or disconnected utilities; accumulation of trash, junk and/or debris; boarded up windows; abandoned vehicles, auto parts or materials; the absence of or continually drawn window coverings such as curtains, blinds and/or shutters; the absence of furnishings and/or personal items consistent with habitation or occupancy; statements by neighbors, passersby, delivery agents or utility agents, including Department of Public Service and/or Police/Fire Department employees, that the property is vacant.

SECTION V. REGISTRY OF VACANT PROPERTIES.

There is hereby created in the City Building Department office a registry of vacant properties.

SECTION VI. VACANT PROPERTIES TO BE REGISTERED.

Owners of real property are required to register all vacant properties within thirty (30) days of the vacancy. Structures that are vacant at the time of the enactment of this ordinance must register within 30 days.

SECTION VII. OWNER'S REGISTRATION FORM: CONTENT.

Owners who are required to register their properties pursuant to this ordinance shall submit a completed Vacant Property Registration Form, as provided by the City Building Department, containing the following information:

- (A) The name of the owner of the property.
- (B) A mailing address where mail may be sent that will be acknowledged as received by the owner. If certified mail/return receipt requested is sent to the address and the mail is returned marked "refused" or "unclaimed", or if ordinary mail sent to the address is returned for whatever reason, then the occurrence shall be prima facie proof that the owner has failed to comply with this requirement.
- (C) The name of an individual responsible for the care and control of the property. Such individual may be the owner, if the owner is an individual, or may be someone other than the owner with whom he/she has contracted.
- (D) A current address, phone number, fax, and email address (if fax and email addresses are available) where communications may be sent that will be acknowledged as received by the owner or individual responsible for the care and control of the property. If certified mail/return receipt requested is sent to the address and the mail is returned marked "refused" or "unclaimed", or if ordinary mail sent to the address is returned for whatever reason, then the occurrence shall be prima facie proof that the owner has failed to comply with this requirement.

SECTION VIII. REGISTRATION FEE.

The registration fee shall be set by resolution of the City Council to offset the cost of processing the form. In addition, in the case where the owner has failed to register, there shall be assessed the added cost of the City's expense in having to determine ownership, which may include, but is not limited to a title search.

SECTION IX. REQUIREMENT TO KEEP INFORMATION CURRENT.

If at any time the information contained in the registration form is no longer valid, the property owner shall within ten (10) days file a new registration form containing current information. There shall be no fee to update the current owner's information.

SECTION X. MAINTENANCE AND SECURITY REQUIREMENTS.

(A) Properties subject to this ordinance shall be kept free of weeds, grass more than eight (8) inches high, vegetation growth between sidewalk and/or driveway flaps or from cracks in the pavement, dry brush, dead vegetation, trash, junk, debris, building materials, rodent harborage, any accumulation of newspapers, circulars, flyers, notices, except those required by federal, state or local law, discarded items including, but not limited to, furniture, clothing, large and small appliances, printed material, signage, containers, equipment, construction materials, or any illegal outside storage of vehicles. Property subject to this ordinance must comply with the minimum security fencing, barrier and maintenance requirements of the Michigan Building, Construction, and Property Maintenance Codes.

(B) The property shall be maintained free of graffiti, tagging or similar markings by removal or painting over with an exterior grade paint that matches the color of the exterior structure.

(C) Properties subject to this ordinance shall be landscaped and properly maintained. Landscaping includes, but is not limited to, grass, ground covers, bushes, shrubs, hedges or similar plantings, decorative rock or bark designed and maintained in an appropriate manner. Landscaping does not include weeds, gravel, broken concrete, asphalt, decomposed materials, plastic sheeting, indoor-outdoor carpet, or any similar material. Maintenance includes, but is not limited to, regular watering, irrigation, cutting, pruning and mowing of landscaping and removal of all trimmings.

(D) Pools, spas, and other water features shall be kept in working order or winterized to ensure that the water remains clear and free of pollutants and debris, or drained and kept dry and free of debris, and must comply with the minimum security fencing, barrier and maintenance requirements of the Michigan Building, Construction, and Property Maintenance Codes.

(E) Properties subject to this ordinance shall be maintained in a secure manner so as not to be accessible to unauthorized persons. Secure manner includes, but is not limited to, the closure and locking of windows, doors (walk-through, sliding and garage), gates and any other opening of such size that it may allow a child to access the interior of the property and/or structure(s). Broken windows and doors must be repaired or replaced within fourteen (14) days. Boarding up of windows and doors is prohibited.

SECTION XI. MONITORING OF PROPERTY: FEE.

Upon violation of this ordinance by the owner, the Building Department is hereby authorized to monitor the condition of any property required to be registered under this ordinance. A monthly monitoring fee as set by resolution of the City Council may be assessed against the property/owner to offset the costs incurred by the City in responding to telephone calls, complaints, inquiries, site visits, owner contacts, and the monitoring of the site.

SECTION XII. OPEN PROPERTY; SECURING FEE.

Property subject to this ordinance that is left open and/or accessible shall be subject to entry by the City in order to ensure that the property has not become an attractive nuisance and to ensure that the property is locked and/or secured. The owner of property subject to this ordinance which property is found open or unsecured shall be responsible for a securing fee as set by the City Council to offset the cost incurred by the City in contacting the owner or management company to secure the property, or if the owner and/or management company cannot be contacted or does not secure the property within a reasonable time - not to exceed twenty-four (24) hours, the cost incurred by the City in securing the property.

SECTION XIII. EXEMPTION; PROPERTY DAMAGED BY NATURAL OR MAN-MADE DISASTER; REPAIR REQUIREMENTS.

(A) A property which has been partially or completely destroyed by natural or man-made disaster is exempt from the strict requirements of this ordinance.

(B) For purposes of this section, natural or man-made disaster shall mean fire, lightning, hurricane, tornado, toxic substances or high winds, destruction by bomb, gas explosion, vehicle collision, fumes, act of war, riot, civil disturbance, or infestation by insects, rodents or disease bearing agents.

(C) Properties that have been damaged or destroyed by natural or man-made disaster shall be registered with the City within five (5) business days of the disaster and an application for a permit to start reconstruction, construction or demolition of the damaged property shall be made by the owner within ninety (90) days of the disaster. Failure to comply with this subsection shall remove the exemption provided herein and subject the property to the requirements of this ordinance.

(D) At all times, property that has been damaged or destroyed by a natural or man-made disaster shall be secured, maintained and monitored as lawfully required and/or authorized by the City Building Official and Code Enforcement Officer under any federal, state, county and/or city laws, rules or regulations, including if applicable, this Vacant Property Registration and Maintenance Ordinance.

SECTION XIV. UNPAID FEES; ASSESSMENT.

All fees hereunder that remain unpaid after fourteen (14) days written notice to the owner/management company shall be assessed against the property as a lien and included on the tax roll.

SECTION XV. CRIMINAL PENALTIES; CIVIL INFRACTION.

(A) Except as otherwise provided, a violation of this ordinance shall be a misdemeanor and a strict liability offense regardless of intent. Any person, firm and/or corporation that violates any portion of this ordinance shall be subject to prosecution and penalty under the General Provisions of the City Code. Registration of property under this ordinance is in addition to, and not in lieu of, the requirements of Public Act 167 of 1917, as amended, which allows for demolition of vacant structures, or nuisance abatement by the City.

(B) Failure to file the required registration form, or failure to maintain the registration form containing current information shall be a civil infraction and subject to a $100 fine. Each day that a registration form is not on file and each day that an owner and/or owner's agent fails to maintain current information in a registration form shall be considered a separate offense.

(C) Failure to make required repairs, or a second offense of any other requirement herein, shall be a misdemeanor subject to prosecution and penalties under the General Provisions of the City Code.

SECTION XVI. SEVERABILITY.

If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance. It is hereby declared to the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance is severable, and that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not have been included in this Ordinance.

SECTION XVII. REPEAL.

All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

SECTION XVIII. SAVINGS CLAUSE.

All rights and duties which have matured, penalties which have been incurred, proceedings which have begun and prosecution for violations of law occurring before the effective date of this Ordinance are not affected or abated by this Ordinance.

SECTION XIX. PUBLICATION.

The Clerk for the City of Garden City shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.

SECTION XX. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Ordinance, as amended, shall take full force and effect upon publication as required by law.

Income tax refund fraud a $21 billion problem

It's tax time, which means that the fraudsters and lowlifes are out in force.

One type of tax fraud that has soared over the last few years is tax refund fraud. This is where someone uses your Social Security number and birthday to file a bogus tax return seeking a refund. Two years ago, the Internal Revenue Service estimated this type of fraud cost taxpayers about $6.5 billion. This tax season, the IRS is estimating it will cost taxpayers more than $21 billion. Basically, all you need is name, date of birth and Social Security number. This is why protecting sensitive information is so important. Unfortunately, the IRS doesn't have the means to stop tax fraud and most of us won't find out we are subject to one until we hear from the IRS that our tax return has been rejected.

If you find you've been subject to tax refund fraud either because the IRS would not accept your tax return or you received a notice from the IRS about a suspicious tax filing, there are some things that you should do. The first is to notify the IRS. The IRS has an identity protection unit that you should immediately notify. Its toll-free number is 800-908-4490. After you have notified the IRS, you should obtain Form 14039, Identity Theft Affidavit, from www.irs.gov and complete the form. This form should then be mailed in to the IRS, along with your tax return. You should know that even if your tax return was fraudulently paid to another individual, the IRS will still honor your return and you will get your refund, although it may take a while.

If someone has filed a fraudulent tax return on your behalf, you need to do more than just contact the IRS. I also recommend that you file a police report with your local police department and a complaint with the Federal Trade Commission. Its website is www.ftc.gov.

It is also important that you contact the three main credit bureaus, Equifax, Experian and TransUnion. You should notify them that you have been a victim of identity theft and they should put a fraud alert on your account. In addition, it's not a bad idea to pull your credit report from the three agencies. One thing that you sometimes see is these thieves will apply for credit in your name. By pulling out a credit report and putting a fraud alert, you can do your best to minimize any harm to you.

I guess I will analogize to when I was a kid. I grew up in Oak Park and our door, particularly during the day, was unlocked. In fact, I think most of the houses on the block weren't locked. Today, I think the first thing most of us do when we come home is make sure the doors are locked. Times have changed and we have to change with it. My recommendation for all of us is to make sure that we regularly change our passwords and to never let our guard down.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

1,000 books

Families are invited to join the 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten program at the Livonia Public Library. It's a nationwide challenge that encourages parents and caregivers to regularly read aloud to their children. By reading just one book a night, families can reach the 1,000-book goal in three years and provide their children essential early literacy skills.

The 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten program is available to all families with children between the ages of birth and 5 years old. Registration is open. For more information, call the library at 734-466-2493 or visit its website at www.livoniapubliclibrary.org. This program is free of charge.

Video game group

The Westland Public Library is hosting a video game competition for adults at 2 p.m. Saturday, March 19. Players will compete for prizes while playing Call of Duty: Black Ops III on PlayStation 4. Players can also play games just for fun like Mortal Kombat XL. Free pizza, snacks and pop for all players.

The group plays once a month on a Saturday at 2 p.m. at the library. Upcoming dates are: March 19, April 23, and May 14.

Adults 18 years and older are invited to attend and must show a valid driver's license or state ID at the door. For more information, call the Reference desk at 734-326-6123 or visit westland.lib.mi.us/node/8607.

Spring craft show

The Franklin Athletic Boosters spring craft show is set for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 19, at Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Road in Livonia.

Media includes paintings, sculpture, pottery, jewelry, textiles, photography, glass, stained glass, leather, graphics, woodcarving and acceptable crafts. Vendors are also welcome (one vendor per business). Antique/treasure vendors will also be accepted, focusing on vintage items and supplies.

For an application or more information, contact Marge Gault at 734-674-5054 or gault.marge@gmail.com

Colbeck hours

State Sen. Patrick Colbeck, R-Canton, and District Manager Penny Crider will hold monthly office hours for March in Livonia on Friday, March 18, from 11 a.m. until noon. The office hours will be held at the Livonia Civic Park Senior Center and will be open to the public.

Colbeck will be on hand to answer questions and respond to concerns any residents of his district may have. No appointment is necessary.

Colbeck represents the 7th Senate District, which encompasses the cities of Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Wayne, as well as the townships of Canton, Northville and Plymouth.

For more information or to contact Colbeck, visit www.SenatorPatrickColbeck.com or call 517-373-5713.

Historical society meets

At 2 p.m. Monday, March 21, The Livonia Historical Society will present Old Stores a Downtown Detroit, a PowerPoint program by Mike Hauser who has served as guest curator for exhibits at the Detroit Historical Museum and co-authored five books including 20th Century Retailing in Downtown Detroit.

The meeting is at the Friend's Meeting House next to the General Store at Greenmead, Livonia's Historical Park. Park in front on the south side of the road. Enter Greenmead off Newburgh just south of Eight Mile Road.

Public welcome. No charge. For more information, call 734-416-3848.

Dr. Seuss selfie

The Redford Township District Library will host a Dr. Seuss Selfie Contest during the month of March.

Kids can take a picture of themselves with something that represents the world of Dr. Seuss — perhaps a stuffed animal, a T-shirt they own, a drawing they did — and have the picture on display in the library for the month of March.

The most creative entry will receive a prize chosen especially for them. For more information, contact the youth/teen services department at the library at 313-531-5960, ext. 117.

Maltese Bingo

The Maltese American Benevolent Society Inc., presents Shamrock Bingo at 6:30 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays at 33111 Plymouth Road in Livonia.

The MABSI is donating 50 percent of its proceeds from its fundraising bingo nights to help www.flintkids.org throughout March.

For more information, call 248-557-2000.

Maple sugaring

The Nankin Mills Interpretive Center hosts Maple Sugaring at Cass Benton Park in Northville 10 a.m. or noon, Saturday, March 19.

The center will share the history of maple sugaring and take a short hike into the woods for a tree-tapping demonstration. Enjoy pancakes with the "real thing" afterward. The Park is located off of Northville Road, north of Six Mile Road. Meet at the picnic shelter. The program is outdoors and the trails can be muddy, so dress accordingly. All ages welcome, but the trail in the woods is not stroller friendly.

Pre-registration required for all programs (except Native Day), at the Park Office, 33175 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland, 48185.

Redford symphony treats audience to 'Sounds of Ireland' performance

It was like the audience had actually gathered in Ireland. The Redford Civic Symphony Orchestra celebrated everything Irish on Sunday with a free concert at Covenant Community Church. The symphony's 90-minute performance, The Sounds of Ireland, featured a wide variety of traditional and contemporary music, along with a few show tunes. "We try to play a number of older tunes that everyone will recognize," conductor Christopher Sutton said before the show. The orchestra is in its 60th season in Redford. A group of up to about 65 musicians practice each week at the township's community center in preparation for quarterly concerts. Each orchestra season starts in the fall, with other shows falling near Christmas, spring and a June finale. Sutton is in his first season as conductor of the orchestra. A music teacher in Pinckney, the Redford resident has performed at venues throughout the United States and Canada. He said he enjoys working with his hometown orchestra. "Working with this group, there's a huge amount of people who have kept playing since starting off in school," Sutton said. "It's a good mix of experienced musicians and a few have only been playing for a few years that are trying to get their creative sides out."

CLASS A REGIONAL BASKETBALL

Chargers push No. 1 Cubs hard for a half

U of D Jesuit a bear to deal with down stretch

Ed Wright
Staff Writer

For the first 16 minutes of Monday night's Class A regional semifinal game at Detroit Western International, Livonia Churchill played dribble-for-dribble, highlight-for-highlight and heartbeat-for-heartbeat with University of Detroit Jesuit, the No. 1-ranked boys basketball team in the state.

But the Cubs played with the tenacity of the ticked-off bear in the "The Revenant" during the second half and pulled away with a 74-49 victory.

Playing without three suspended players, including one starter, the Chargers trailed the highly-regarded Cubs, 30-26, at halftime before the Cassius Winston-led juggernaut, whose starting line-up included a pair of 6-foot-8 front-court standouts, reeled off a 17-2 run to start the third quarter to put the outcome under wraps.

The season-ending setback capped the Chargers' spectacular season at 15-8. UD Jesuit improved to 24-0 and advanced to Wednesday's regional final against defending state champion Western, which pummeled Dearborn Fordson, 68-31, in the night's second semifinal.

Just 20 minutes before Monday's game was supposed to tip off, it was moved from Detroit Cass Tech to Western due to a lead in the ceiling of the Technicians gymnasium.

"Even though, man for man, we gave up inches and weight to them at every position, our Stevenson's Connor Jakacki hit the ice to block a first-period shot by Romeo's Logan Jenuwine.

HEART-BREAKER: ROMEO EDGES SPARTANS, 6-4

Ed Wright

Momentum is such a temperamental and powerful intangible.

One moment Saturday morning inside the USA Hockey Arena in Plymouth Township, "Big Mo" was sitting in the raise-the-roof-loud Livonia Stevenson hockey team's student cheering section, wearing a sky-blue Spartan hoodie and going absolutely crazy after Stevenson scored its third goal in five minutes to build a 4-2 second-period lead in the MHSAA Division 2 state final contest.

A few minutes later, it was wearing a blood-red Romeo hockey sweater throughout a game-ending four-goal scoring explosion that fueled the Bulldogs' 6-4 victory in their first appearance in a hockey state championship game.

Powered by a five-point game from Nolan Jenuwine, who proved beyond a doubt that he is the real deal, the Bulldogs capitalized on a critical five-minute major penalty called on Stevenson for head-butting with the score deadlocked at 4-all and 12:12 left on the third-period clock.

Eighty seconds into the power-play opportunity, Jenuwine tipped home a shot by Logan Canfield to give Romeo the lead for good, 5-4.

With Stevenson goalie Cullen Barber pulled for an extra attacker, Romeo's Steven Morris slid in a 150-foot empty-net goal with 29 seconds left to ice the win.

The Bulldogs' performance gave the northern Macomb County high school its third state title in five months (Romeo also captured the Division 1 football crown and Class A volleyball title).

The heart-breaking setback capped Stevenson's second-consecutive D2 state runner-up season.

"That's what you get when you play high-powered hockey like both these teams play," said Stevenson head coach David Mitchell, referring to the back-and-forth action. "Losing the 4-2 lead, you could

MADONNA SPORTS ROUNDUP

Three Crusaders earn academic accolades

A trio of Madonna University basketball student-athletes have been honored for their hard work in the classroom.

Crusader women's basketball players Justice Dean and Kelsey Gerhardt, both juniors, and Austin Johnson, a member of the MU men's team, were selected as three of 253 student-athletes in the NAIA to be named Daktronics Scholar-Athletes, the national office announced Monday.

In order to be nominated by

an institution's head coach or sports information director, a student-athlete must maintain a minimum grade-point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale and must have achieved a junior academic status.

Dean and Gerhardt are both first-time recipients of the coveted academic award.

Dean, a business major from Garden City, appeared in 27 of the Crusaders' 28 games this season, earning a start in 24 contests. She averaged nearly seven points per game while corraling 105 rebounds and knocking down 56 three-pointers.

Dean

Gerhardt, a criminal justice major from Flushing, played in every MU game this season, ending the 2015-16 campaign as one of five Crusaders registering 28 games played. Gerhardt earned a starting nod on four occasions while averaging four points per game.

The Crusaders ended the 2015-16 campaign at 17-11 (16-6 WHAC) after making the program's second consecutive trip to the WHAC semifinals. Johnson a junior business major from Spring Lake, was tabbed as a member of the national list for his commitment to the classroom since arriving on Madonna's campus three years ago.

As part of a young team, Johnson was the lone Crusader men's player to take home the award this season.

Johnson and the Crusaders closed the 2015-16 season with a 17-14 record (14-8 WHAC) and a trip to the WHAC quarterfinals.

MHSAA STATE GYMNASTICS MEET

Livonia gymnasts excel on the big stage

Blue's Rhoad earns D2 all-around championship

Ed Wright
Staff Writer

Led by Bri Rhoad's all-around gold rush, several Livonia gymnasts capped their season at Saturday's MHSAA state meet with glowing performances.

Rhoad, who is a student at Livonia Stevenson and competes for Livonia Blue, won the Division 2 all-around championship by scoring a pressure-packed 36.525 points.

Blue's Jess Weak tied for fifth in the all-around standings with 35.30 points while Livonia Red's Marissa McVey, who is a senior at Livonia Churchill, placed 15th with a score of 34.350.

Winning an individual state title in gymnastics requires sustained brilliance, which is what Rhoad delivered on Saturday.

Her best finish was a runner-up showing on the floor-exercise category with a score of 9.225. She also placed third on the uneven parallel bars (8.925), fifth on the balance beam (9.20) and eighth on the vault (9.175), earning all-state honors in each event (the top 10 placers earn all-state medals).

TOM BEAUDOIN

Livonia Blue's Bri Rhoad, pictured during a meet earlier this season, won the Division 2 all-around title at Saturday's state meet.

Livonia Red's Mackenzie Borrmann tied for 10th in Division 2 on the vault on Saturday.

Weak was the D2 individual state champion on the uneven bars, earning a score of 9.025. Blue's Emily Chatterjee also earned all-state recognition on the bars, placing 10th with a score of 8.575.

Weak tied for fourth on the vault with a 9.20.

Red's McVey, Mackenzie Borrmann and Mikaela are all all-staters on the vault after they all tied for 10th with a score of 9.10. Red's Megan Waters barely missed the cut, scoring a 9.1 to finish in a tie for 18th.

Chatterjee was sixth on the beam with a 9.125 and 10th on the floor (9.0) to earn all-state honors in those events as well.

Julia Hattley also qualified for the state meet with top-10 finishes in the regional competition earlier this month.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIONAL BASKETBALL

Vikings end Novi's run in regional

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Walled Lake Central unveiled its own version of Wile E. Coyote in a Class A boys basketball regional semifinal game Monday at West Bloomfield.

Novi chased speedy and savvy point guard Walter Kelser around the court, but the senior proved to be as elusive as the Road Runner.

Kelser scored a game-high 33 points, leading the Vikings to a 72-61 win and a spot in the regional championship game against North Farmington.

The 5-foot-10 Kelser proved to be a handful for the Wildcats, who had their seven-game winning streak snapped, coming off the heels of a 51-39 upset win over Northville (21-1) in the district final Friday at Salem.

Kelser, who missed five games with an ankle injury before coming back for the final regular-season game, appears to be completely healthy again, and it showed as he made 10 of 21 shots from the floor, including three triples. He also was 10-of-13 shooting free throws.

"I'm feeling way better," Kelser said. "I was working hard; that's it. I wanted to get to the basket, draw some fouls and get the big men in trouble, because they have a lot of size."

Central (20-4) jumped out to a 17-8 lead in the first quarter as Kelser nailed a 3-point-er before Novi scored the next nine points. Sophomore Traveon Maddox sank a twisty banker from 40 feet out as the buzzer sounded to pull the Wildcats even at 17-17.

Central made another run in the second quarter, outscoring the Wildcats, 20-11, as Rami Romaya's putback at the halftime horn gave the Vikings a nine-point cushion, 37-28.

"We shot way too many threes," Novi coach Brandon Sinawi said. "We talked about that at the half. It was one of those games where (Central) made one and our kids would get hyped up."

"I think they felt they had to knock one down to please the crowd. But it's a young team, and the core is still really young. That was the biggest thing, the 3-point shooting. It was ill-timed and, even though we hit a couple, it's not our calling card."

During the second quarter, Central went on an 11-0 run as Novi went scoreless for 5:04 before Maddox's basket broke the drought with 2:56 left in the half.

"We wanted to get out and run tonight," Central coach Chuck Spolsky said. "They were big, so we thought if we get a board, get them to take a quick shot and push the ball, we thought we'd have an advantage in the open court and we did."

With 4:13 left in the third quarter, a basket by Runako Ziegler pushed Central's lead to 50-32. The Vikings took a 55-41 advantage into the final quarter and never let Wildcats get closer than eight the rest of the way.

"After the week we went through last week, we knew that we were going to be missing a little bit of energy, a little bit of fight, in the beginning of the game," Sinawi said. "After that first quarter, we didn't score until almost three minutes left. But hey, that's the team we've got. We had two seniors that really stepped up last week and again tonight. We got a lot of young kids coming back and it's a good learning experience for them."

Kelser, meanwhile, helped secure the win by scoring 18 of his 33 during the second half.

"We knew he was going to be a match-up problem with our young guards," Sinawi said. "Trendon (Hankerson) picking up two quick fouls in that first quarter made us go zone and we didn't want to go zone that early. But at the same time (Kelser) is a special player. He did a great job getting to the basket. He finishes really strong, he's crafty and he gave us some fits tonight, no question."

Kelser was not only a scorer, but also a distributor as Ziegler and senior forward Anton Lucaj contributed 13 and 10 points, respectively, while senior center Malik Abiola added eight.

"We were just trying to get them to play our style of play," Kelser said. "They like to go big and we like to go small. We wanted to go small against their bigs and make them adjust to us."

Senior forward Naji Ozeir led the Wildcats in scoring with 16 points, while Maddox added 14. Senior forward Jay Durate chipped in seven and played another strong game inside.

Novi shot 50 percent from the floor (23-of-46) with a total of nine triples, but committed 17 turnovers.

Central connected on 41.9 percent from the floor (26-of-62), but turned it over only five times.

"You can't run when they're making (shots) and they made a lot of threes, so when they were making shots, we were having trouble executing on the offensive end because they play good defense," Spolsky said of Novi. "They really chipped the paint up. That was the game plan. If we could force them into some quick shots and play some good perimeter defense, we could get out and run with them a little bit."

Following a 7-9 start, missing the KLA playoff and going without senior point guard Kam Hankerson for 12 games after the Wisconsin-Green Bay signee suffered a knee injury in late January, Novi rebounded to finish 14-10 overall.

"That's been our calling card the last eight games; our team just doesn't quit," Sinawi said. "We missed some timely shots, and (Central) made some timely shots. We didn't make enough plays in the end. But the kids didn't give up."

HIGH SCHOOL REGIONAL BASKETBALL

North Farmington marches past Hartland

Dan O'Meara
Staff Writer

North Farmington continued its tournament march in March with a 33-point victory in boys basketball Monday in the Class A regional at West Bloomfield.

The Raiders breezed into the championship game at 7 p.m. Wednesday with a thoroughly one-sided defeat of Hartland, 63-30.

North (21-2) made its first four shot attempts and was off and running to a quick 10-0 lead that just got larger from there.

The Raiders made seven of their first 10 field-goal tries and were ahead by 11 at the end of the first quarter, 18-7.

"We really feed off our defensive energy," North coach Todd Negoshian said. "Because we're so good offensively, people think we feed off our offense, but it's all about how hard we play defensively. The stops we had early were key."

Hartland showed some fight and made a short-lived rally early in the second quarter with seven unanswered points that cut the North lead to six, 20-14.

That was all for the Eagles, however. The Raiders, led by senior guard Billy Thomas, scored the last 21 points of the first half for a commanding lead.

"We just wanted to set the tone on the defensive end and let the defense create into offense," Thomas said. "We sped them up; they didn't want to play at a fast pace. We played at our speed and they couldn't play at ours."

Thomas, who scored a game-high 25 points, netted 19 in the first half, including all of his five 3-pointers. He put an exclamation point on North's big finish with back-to-back threes to end the half.

JOHN HEIDER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

North Farmington senior Darryl Dunlap cuts between a pair of Hartland defenders on a drive to the basket.

"They couldn't keep up with us," Thomas said. "We just wanted to play our game. We didn't want to come out lackadaisically and let them stay with us."

Senior forward Alex Darden, who had a pair of slam dunks, scored 10 of his 12 points before halftime. He also led the Raiders with nine rebounds.

Junior Amauri Hardy chipped in nine points; seniors Darryl Dunlap and Jacob Joubert added seven and four, respectively.

Darden, Dunlap and senior Sasoun Tcholakian also made one triple basket each as the Raiders went 8-of-20 behind the arc.

Consecutive mid-court steals and layups by Thomas upped the North lead to 47-14 early in the third quarter.

The Raiders extended it to 55-24 at the end. North's starters didn't play in the fourth quarter.

Thomas also had six steals, three rebounds and two assists in less than three quarters of play. Joubert led the team with seven assists.

"It was one my better nights," Thomas said. "I think I should have been playing like this all year."

"Our goal is to win the state championship. Amauri, Jacob, Alex and I are the leaders of the team. We need to be playing our best right now."

Hartland senior Paul Konlan scored eight points, senior Mitchell Brown and junior Jason Gigliotti six apiece and senior Miles McDonald five.

The Raiders shot 53 percent overall, making 25-of-47 field goals. The Eagles were 4-of-13 shooting the three and 12-of-42 from the floor overall for less than 29 percent.

"I thought our guys did a tremendous job of finding (Thomas), kicking it and knowing where he was at all times," Negoshian said. "We're a very unselfish group. They care about winning."

"They knew Billy was hot tonight. Our guys just kept getting him the ball and Billy kept answering the bell when they called his number."

But he reiterated it all started with North's good work at the defensive end of the floor.

"(Konlan) can shoot it; he's big and strong," Negoshian said. "When we were able to stop him from doing what he does, I thought it really gave us some momentum."

North will play Walled Lake Central in the regional final Wednesday. The Vikings (20-3) defeated Novi in the other semifinal game Monday, 72-61.

It will be the second straight regional final for the Raiders, who were runners-up last year to the eventual state finalist and this year's top-ranked team, undefeated Detroit Jesu- (24-0).

"Walled Lake Central has three really good guards and some underrated big kids," Negoshian said. "We're going to be in the sweet sixteen, so you know we're going to have a war. I'm just happy for our guys. We're back to where we were last year."

guys didn't back down," said Churchill head coach Jimmy Solak. "Our guys were running around like crazy, attacking when we needed to and laying off when it wasn't there. I'm extremely proud of them."

Churchill promoted junior-varsity players to fill in for the missing varsity players.

"We were focused on the guys we had available, not the ones we didn't," said Solak.

"When I walked into the locker-room at the half, our guys were already in there talking about how they were going to attack them in the second half. We threw three different defenses at them in the second half, but they found ways to score. My hat's off to them."

The Churchill senior-guard trio of Jon Hovermale, Joan Andoni and Dayton Davis went out in a blaze of near-glory, attacking the Cubs with a fearless aggressiveness.

Andoni outscored Winston, 8-6, in the first half on the way to a team-high 15 points. Hovermale closed his four-year varsity career with 12 points and relentless hustle at both ends of the court.

While Davis scored just five points (he only shot four times, making two), he was the catalyst of the Chargers' zone-press breaker, facing down menacing traps with a contagious calm.

Churchill junior sky-walker Jerron Hampton made his presence felt in the game's opening minute when he nearly slammed home a put-back on a fast-break.

Senior forward Rashad Whitfield took advantage of his rare start by hanging tough with the Cubs' twin sky-scrappers — Ike Eke and Greg Eboigbodin — despite giving up at least five inches to both. Whitfield finished with seven points, six rebounds and two steals.

Winston, who is headed to Michigan State University this summer, hit four consecutive triples in the second half and closed with 20 points. Eboigbodin scored 14 while guards Elijah Collins and Scott Nelson tallied 12 points a piece.

"We didn't match (Churchill's) intensity in the first half," said Jesuit head coach Pat Donnelly. "We knew they had some shooters, but we weren't closing out on them like we needed to. Jimmy did a great job getting them. Those kids can play."

The Cubs capitalized on their height advantage early, jumping to a 12-2 lead. Four of the points came on alley-oop dunks off back-door cuts.

Undaunted, Churchill stormed back to knot the game at 14-all thanks to back-to-back treys from Andoni and Hovermale and an old-fashioned three-point play by Hovermale.

Jesuit looked like it may open things up in the second quarter, stretching its advantage to 30-22 when Collins followed up a missed free throw with a put-back.

However, Andoni knocked down a rainbow three from downtown with three seconds left in the half to bring the Chargers to within four.

The Cubs owned the third quarter, 24-10, before finishing the Chargers off with a 20-point final stanza.

RUNNER-UP

say we took our foot off the case, but I think it was more a case of a great Romeo team getting pucks to the net, getting some bounces and making plays.

"When you put the puck on the stick of their scorers during key situations, they find a way to finish."

The exciting encounter was Stevenson senior captain Ben Kowalske's final game.

Kowalske, who played on three Spartan teams that advanced to the finals (including the 2013 state-championship squad), was eloquent in defeat.

"Whenever an opponent scores a goal like they did when we were up 4-2, sure, a little doubt is going to creep into your mind," said Kowalske. "You can feel it, but you try to ignore it and play through it. But Romeo is a great team that knows how to capitalize on mistakes."

The Bulldogs bit first, scoring 7:07 into the game when Brett Lanski punched in the rebound of a Jenuwine shot.

Stevenson knotted the game at 1-1 almost four minutes later when Joe Alcantara scored a goal that Kowalske and Shane Leonard assisted.

Romeo regained a 2-1 edge 6:18 into the second period when Jenuwine netted the first of his two lamp-lighters.

Nineteen seconds later, Stevenson's Nick Beers ignited a three-goals-in-five-minutes surge when he controlled a pass from Kevin Stefanick off the face-off, motored up the middle of the ice and fired the puck past Nolan Kare.

Goals from Leonard (from

Stevenson's Alex Siroky fires a shot through a seam in the Romeo defense Saturday morning.

ED WRIGHT

Adam Olson and Alcantara) and Nate Sudek (from Alex Walkuski and Sam Judd) ramped the Spartans' lead to 4-2, forcing second-year Romeo head coach Nick Badder to call a time-out.

"Stevenson had all the momentum and we were back on our heels, and you could feel it," recounted Badder. "Once the guys calmed down and realized we just had to play shift by shift and pick up our fore-checking, we kind of took over a little bit."

"We usually play our best when we're uncomfortable and they were uncomfortable most of the game today."

Romeo evened the slate at 4-4 after two periods with goals from Lanski (14:26) and Kaczor (15:31), setting the stage for the frenzied final period.

Playing for the first time on the biggest stage in Michigan high school hockey, the Bulldogs admitted they were a little nervous at the get-go, but their comfort level grew as the game wore on.

"Coming in to today, I believed that if our football team could beat a Cass Tech team that had 20 Division 1 players on it, then we could beat a great Stevenson team," said Romeo's Nick Blankenburg. "This is an incredible feeling and something I know I'll never forget the rest of my life."

Mitchell got choked up when describing how special this team — and the Stevenson program in general — is to him.

"I told the team in the locker-room after the game that thank-you is not nearly a strong enough word," Mitchell said. "These kids are more than just hockey players; they're incredible young men who volunteer in the community, excel in class (the team's grade-point average is 3.4) and make their school and their families proud."

"Sometimes, unfairly, we're judged by our team's record and how many championships we win, but these kids are much more than that."

Novi Detroit Catholic Central got an early jump on daylight saving time by springing forward early Saturday night for its 13th MHSAA boys hockey state championship in school history.

And the Shamrocks did it in clockwork fashion with a 3-0 victory over Brighton in the Division 1 final before 2,214 fans at USA Hockey Arena in Plymouth.

It was the third state title in a row for CC and the first for rookie coach Brandon Kaleniecki, a 2000 CC grad who won two MHSAA state crowns himself as a player.

"To win this one is certainly a different feeling," said Kaleniecki, who guided CC to a 24-7 record. "You're filled with so much pride and with the amount of effort that the players give ... it's very fulfilling as a coach, because you get to watch them, experience those same type of things you did when you were a player. You feel so much pride and you're so happy for them because they got it done."

CC applied heavy pressure in the Bulldogs' zone during the first period, but Brighton junior goalie Logan Neaton was up to the task, turning away all 15 shots.

Brighton's best scoring chance came on a CC power play, as Jake Crespi found himself all alone on a breakaway and was taken down by CC defenseman Alex Kreutzer on a short-handed effort. He was awarded a penalty shot, but CC 6-foot-4 senior goaltender Alec Calvaruso stood his ground and stopped Crespi's attempt headed toward the five-hole.

Calvaruso had not faced a penalty shot all season and didn't remember what exactly happened when Crespi took the shot. It was all a blur.

"You just got to keep the team in it and do what you've got to do, keep it going," Calvaruso said.

Despite being in a scoreless deadlock after one period, Kaleniecki was confident his team was in a good position.

"We were pleased with our first period, outside the penalty shot, where we had a minor breakdown on the power play," Kaleniecki said. "Then Alec bailed us out on a great save on that. And that could have been a huge turning point, but it kept it 0-0. We felt like we had the better chances, because we had a lot of possession in their zone and, eventually, we were going to break through. That's kind of been our M.O. all playoffs."

"Not every game we've been able to score in the first five minutes and it's taken a while, but we keep preaching, 'Keep doing what you're doing,' because in the first period, I thought we were a pretty good team."

Brighton went 0-of-2 on the power play in that first period, while CC was 0-of-1.

The Shamrocks finally broke through at 7:56 of the second period, on Glynn Robitaille's rebound goal after Nick Macari carried the puck through on the left wing. J.P. Lafferty also drew an assist to make it 1-0.

"Coach Kaleniecki always tells me I need to drive the net more often and I need to shoot more often," Macari said. "I just kind of listened to what he said and I drove to the net and it worked. It ended up on my player's stick and it went in the net."

Macari then busted down the left wing again and went top-shelf to beat Neaton to make it 2-0 at 14:22 of the second. Brian Galvin and Lafferty drew assists.

And just 1:44 into the third period, Cody Borke's tip-in goal off a shot from just inside the blue line from Austin Roell gave the Shamrocks a 3-0 cushion.

The Bulldogs, who were outshot 29-15, couldn't get the puck past Calvaruso, who survived a six-on-three disadvantage during the final two minutes after two of his teammates were sent to the box.

And there was nothing better than the senior goalie posting a shutout in the state final.

"They made it easy for me," Calvaruso said. "I saw everything and they didn't get many shots. They played the way they knew how. It means a lot. I didn't play the last two (state finals), so it means everything."

CC played a strong game defensively en route to winning the title. During its six-game tourney run, the Shamrocks had three shutouts and gave up only four goals.

"We just had to limit their odd-man chances," Kaleniecki said. "You make sure your third forward is high and make them play in the defensive zone, because if they do get possession at that point, it's a long way to go. The best way to stop the best offensive player or players is make them play in the 'D' zone, because even if they get possession, it's a long way to go."

Brighton, meanwhile, went 0-of-5 on the power play and it always seemed the Shamrocks were an hour ahead.

"From the beginning, I don't think we got totally into our game, because Catholic Central didn't want us to," said Brighton coach Paul Moggoch, whose team finished 22-9. "I think they played a great game on both sides of the puck, offensively and defensively. We just didn't find a rhythm and didn't find a way to get to them. I think if we had scored on that penalty shot, we might have had a little bit of a chance, but they outshot us, outplayed us."

For the Shamrocks, it was a culmination of another stellar state championship run.

"It's really hard to explain. I'm on top of the world right now," said Macari, a captain who had a goal and assist. "I've been on the team for three years and we're fortunate to win all three years. We just got better and better each year. Knowing I went out on top as a senior ... nothing better."

Kaleniecki is the third different CC coach to claim a state title in the last three years. Doug Itami was the coach in 2014 and Danny Veri did it as an interim coach in 2015.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIONAL BASKETBALL

Northville reels in Marlins for crown

Mustangs capture first regional championship in school history

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Like the Lewis and Clark expedition, the Northville girls basketball team is discovering new territory as it traverses through the Class A state tournament.

The Mustangs saddled up once again March 10 at Novi and rode to a regional championship – the first in school history – with a convincing 46-29 win over Farmington Hills Mercy.

Northville (21-3) made its first quarterfinal appearance ever Tuesday at Southfield against Warren Cousino (20-4).

The long-armed Mustangs, despite 25 turnovers on the night, turned in a masterful defensive performance, holding Mercy scoreless with a 15-0 second-quarter run and limiting the Marlins to 21-percent shooting from the floor (8-of-39).

"We knew Mercy was going to be really good after watching them beat Howell and we didn't play well on Tuesday," Northville coach Todd Gudith said, referring to a 35-28 win on March 9 over Milford.

"The girls kind of knew we were kind of down in that game, so we knew we had to give it our best effort tonight. I thought we probably played our best game of the year."

Northville's two junior 6-footers, Jessica Moorman and Brook Adams, led the way with 14 and 11 points, respectively. Sophomore guard Roan Haines Northville senior forward Lindsay Rathsburg is all smiles holding the school's first-ever Class A regional tournament trophy.

and senior forward Lindsey Rathsburg added six apiece, sophomore point guard Kendall Dillon five.

"It's a great feeling, knowing this is my senior year and we made it this far," Rathsburg said. "We thought it was going to be a lot closer, but it was nice to know it wasn't at the end."

Although Northville trailed 10-6 after one quarter, the Mustangs quickly changed the course of the game in the second quarter as Mercy went 0-of-8 from the floor and trailed 21-10 at halftime.

"Pretty much the whole first quarter, I thought we were pretty patient; we hit some shots and defended well," Mercy coach Gary Morris said. "Then came the second quarter and it's just the way things work."

"We started missing shots; we started forcing shots, which weren't good shots, which led to scoring opportunities for them. That second quarter couldn't get over soon enough for us, so we could go in and talk about some adjustments."

The Marlins, however, came out in a trapping, full-court press and quickly cut the lead to 23-21 with 4:37 left in the third after senior guard Zora Pullen converted an old-fashioned three-point play.

But Haines answered for Northville with a basket 12 seconds later and Northville closed the quarter with a 12-3 run to maintain its 11-point advantage going into the fourth, 35-24.

There were a few anxious moments during Mercy's third-quarter spurt, so Gudith burned a couple of timeouts to help his team refocus.

"Even though we had the lead at the half, we told the kids, 'Look, they're going to make a run; you got to be ready for it' and, sure enough, they came out of the gate in the second half and took it to us," Gudith said. "But our girls weathered the storm. Our goal was to 'Let's bring it even in the third quarter' and I thought we did that."

Gudith also employed more players to help break Mercy's press.

"I thought we struggled with the two players we had," he said. "Mercy was bringing everybody. They were throwing everything at us. Bringing four players up helped. A couple of timeouts settled them down and calmed their nerves."

By the fourth quarter, Mercy went stone cold again from the field (0-of-10). Northville gradually stretched its lead to 18 points as Moorman scored eight of her 14.

"A lot of our struggles on the offensive end led to easy shots for them," Morris said. "But give a lot of credit to Northville. It's the first time they've been on this stage, so to speak, and their kids responded well."

While the Mustangs shot an impressive 60 percent from the floor (15-of-25) to go with 15-of-23 foul shooting, the turnovers were a concern.

"I know we had a lot and a lot of that is because of Mercy's defense," Gudith said. "A lot of that was nerves. We had some open looks, had open players, but we just overshot them with passes. If we connect on a couple of those, maybe it's not so much of a game in the third quarter."

Junior guard Jackie Bauer paced the Marlins with 14 points. Pullen added seven, but there was little offensive production from the remaining cast.

"This is not a typical Mercy team," Gudith said. "Usually, they have a couple of post kids. They spread the floor a lot and they're just good shooters. We saw them hit a bunch of triples the other night, so we knew we had to force them to take tough shots. And when they drove inside, they saw our length."

Time to build: Home Expo in Canton offers ideas, expertise

John Sarnecky of Canton owns Canton Construction with his wife, Marissa.

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

John and Marissa Sarnecky own Canton Construction, among some 70 vendors at the Canton Home Improvement Expo March 5-6.

"Last year was outstanding for us," Canton resident John Sarnecky said of the Expo. "We've been here from Day One," some 15 years ago. "They've expanded to just about every nook and cranny."

Indeed, the Summit on the Park was busy with vendors and people seeking home improvement ideas. Sarnecky said when the economy slowed people backed off on upgrades, and that's gotten a lot better.

"Additions," he said. "A lot of exterior work. The more important items they were holding off on I think they're addressing now."

He noted the auto industry's bonuses and profit sharing help Canton Construction's business. Rental inspections started by Canton building officials have been a factor he's seen as well.

"That had an impact on us as well as the community, keeping things up to par," Sarnecky said. "They're up to snuff now."

Nearby at Mans Lumber and Millwork was Jim Trudeau, installation sales manager for the firm dating back to 1900. Mans has locations in Canton and Trenton.

"Decks are really big and also kitchen remodels," said Riverview resident Trudeau. "We're seeing a really big jump in window replacement. People are really going up the next level. They really seem to want to improve their homes."

Trudeau agreed March is ideal to start such projects. He was helped that Saturday by colleague Dottie Kelly of Canton, facilitator for sales support.

Trudeau noted the Expo helps boost awareness of their Canton site at the Michigan Avenue-Beck Road area. "We get a lot of response," he said.

His own home isn't neglected either. "My wife makes sure I keep it up," Tru-

Canton policewoman has tips on vacation home security

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Canton police Officer Patty Esselink was happy to answer questions about home safety when you're away on vacation. She and other Public Safety personnel, police and fire, were staffing the booth at the Canton Home Improvement Expo March 5-6.

"The biggest thing is letting your neighbors know you're going to be away, a trusted neighbor," said Esselink. Other key tips she offered are:

- » Maintain snow removal in winter;
- » Make sure grass is mowed in warm weather;
- » Make arrangements for your mail and newspapers, so they don't pile up and advertise you're away.

Letting a family member or trusted neighbor know your travel plans allows him or her to check and see if, for example, a garage door is open, she said.

"Then the neighbor can call us, or a family member" if something's not right, Esselink said. "Encourage them to call the police. We will come out and check the situation."

Lighting indoors and outside can also help make your home more secure.

deau said of their home, which has recently had two bedrooms remodeled with new doors, molding and flooring.

Visiting the Expo on March 5 from Madison, Wis., was Vanessa Mattsson-Boze, with sons Eli Mattsson-Boze, 4, and brother Soren, 3. Vanessa's husband and her parents came to the Expo, as the family was visiting in Canton.

"It's been large," she said. "We didn't really expect it to be this many vendors. The kids have had fun."

Vanessa Mattsson-Boze traveled with sons Eli, 4, and Soren, 3, from Madison, Wis., and stopped by the Expo while visiting family here. The boys liked the Home Depot building projects for kids and meeting Canton police officers.

Easement case could be thorny, based on Kentucky court ruling

Q: Our developer has retained an easement access through our condominium to another project but we are thinking about amending our documents to eliminate that easement. What do you think the chances are of that being successful?

A: That is a tough task to accomplish particularly based upon a Kentucky Court of Appeals decision which stated that easements and restrictive covenants are entirely different and are not an interchangeable concept of property law. The court indicated that a covenant only restricts the use of property, while an easement confers the right to enter the property upon which the easement is held. In your case, the owner of the property burdened by an easement (i.e. the association) even with the vote of the members does not have the authority to alter or terminate the easement without the easement holders consent. Thus the easement cannot be extinguished without the developer's consent. Therefore, you may have a problem getting that easement extinguished. Majestic Oaks Home Owners Association, Inc. v. Majestic Oaks Farms, Inc., No. 2014-CA-000492-MR (Ky. Ct. App. Nov. 20, 2015)

Q: We are in a football college town and we want our association to eliminate renting a unit to a student enrolled in a two- or four-year college, institution or university. I understand that it could be argued that this type of provision is a restriction discriminating against a class of persons. What do you think?

A: Based upon a recent decision out of South Carolina, the Supreme Court of that state upheld a restriction prohibiting rentals to college students. The court basically stated that college students are not of a class of citizens normally suspect for discrimination. They aren't faced with a long history of discrimination, are not a distinct minority and have not been classified according to an imputable trait acquired at birth. The court in that case found that the leasing restriction to be rationally related to protecting the safety, comfort, and investment of owners. The restriction minimized the risk of creating a dormitory like atmosphere by barring those who have a tendency to engage in disruptive conduct. The court basically said that state and federal housing laws prohibit discrimination in housing sales or rentals based on a persons of race, color, religion, sex, family status or national origin and that under both state and federal law, familial status refers to persons under the age of 18 who live with a parent or guardian. In that case since the restriction did not involve any of those criteria, the court found no housing violation. It is important to understand the full context of that case as it relates to your possible situation.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Canton author to attend Plymouth Author Fair

Brian Webster (left) and his son, Christopher, who was a teen at the time, using skateboarding to battle frustrations with dyslexia. Christopher now is 31.

Latest novel is based on son's teenage struggle with dyslexia

Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Some writers draw inspiration from a muse. Author Brian Webster credits dyslexia for his original ideas.

The Canton man says the disorder is "a gift" that helps him create stories and then translate them into screenplays that he has written over several years. Some have won awards. Some are under consideration by a production company. Almost all have been adapted into books with the help of collaborators.

"I'm not a great writer but I'm a very visual person," said Webster, explaining his ability to overcome his dyslexia and visualize a story. "If I have a story in my head, I can see it played out on the screen."

Dyslexia not only inspires his stories, it's the subject of his latest book, "Monkey Flip," a young adult novel based on his son, Christopher, who also struggled with dyslexia when he was a teen.

Webster will sign copies of his new book, which was co-authored by freelance writer Kathy Garrett, at the Plymouth Author Fair, 1-3 p.m. Saturday, March 19, at the library, 222 S. Main, Plymouth. Books. Twenty authors will be on hand to meet readers and sign their books, which will be available for purchase. Friends of the Library will serve refreshments.

Mastering a flip

"Monkey Flip" tells the story of a dyslexic teen who is misunderstood at school and bullied. He takes out his frustrations in competitive skateboarding, which shores up his self-esteem and helps him to overcome his disability. The title refers both to the tendency of some dyslexic readers to transpose or flip letters. It's also the name of a skateboard move that Webster's son, Christopher, learned to master.

"I drew a lot on the things he went through," said Webster, who wrote the story first as a screenplay. "My son was not like everyone else. He needed more time to take tests. He was a smart kid. The difficult part was getting teachers to be aware of techniques of teaching my son. The problem, too, was me trying to help him. It was like two people trying to dance and they both have left feet."

PLYMOUTH AUTHOR FAIR

Teen and youth fiction

In addition to Brian Webster, other teen and youth fiction writers will include S.J. Lomas, author of "Dream Girl," and Jennifer Weiser, author of "The Touched."

Children's books

Kris Yankee, author of "Every Day Is A Character Day," Toya Wilson, author of "The Old Lady in the Shoe," Whitney Pytlowany, author of "Say Please, Amanda Louise," and Timothy Dziobak, author of "Red Boy Tours Michigan."

Adult fiction

James P. Katus with "The Secret Past of a Perfect Woman," LeAnn Mathis with "A Timely Romance," and Cheryl Vatcher-Martin with "The Purple Flower: Dreaming of a Time Machine."

Adult non-fiction

Exie Susanne-Smith, "When the Dead Come Calling," Will Swartz, "A Walk Across Michigan Shore-to-Shore Riding and Hiking Trail," Robert Omilian, "No Fear No Doubt No Regret: Investing in Life's Challenges Like a Warrior," Donovan M. Neal, "The Third Heaven: The Birth of God," John Lankford, "The Answer is Leadership, What is the Question?" Kurt Kazanowski, "A Son's Journey: Taking Care of Mom and Dad," Robert M. Haig, "Ten Little Police Chiefs: A Detroit Police Story," R.J. Fox, "Love & Vodka: My Surreal Adventures in the Ukraine," Karen Dybis, "Better Made in Michigan: The Salty Story of Detroit's Best Chip," and Helga Henn, "Can You Read Me Now?"

"He's 31 now. Instead of flipping letters, he flips houses for a living."

Promoting work

Webster, a retired Detroit Public Schools science teacher, managed to get "Monkey Flip," both the book and screenplay, into the hands of film producer Mary Jane Skalski when he saw her speak at the Detroit Film Theater a few weeks ago.

"I constantly keep my eyes open for opportunities," he said. "I may not see a way, but God will show me a way. That is my personal faith."

He won second place in a screenplay contest and was awarded a trip to a script festival in Los Angeles, Calif. While there he gave scripts and his three children's books, to a representative from a production company.

She liked the holiday-related and family stories and asked for revisions. He is re-writing two of the scripts and hopes to find out this week if his work has a chance for production.

Webster writes while in the basement of the home he shares with his wife, Cathy, who also is a retired teacher. Motivational posters and slogans at his desk urge him to "never give up" and reassure that "all dreams come true."

"My thing is, if it's something in your heart and you're passionate about it, no matter what it is, never stop believing in yourself," he said. "If you get a 1,000 'noes' and one 'yes,' it's all worth it, because you finally got a 'yes.'"

SASS UP MEALS

LIVONIA COMPANY INTRODUCES FLAVOR SAUCE

Mike and Judy Campbell of Livonia make a sauce you can drizzle on eggs, bananas, salad and even ice cream.

You can mix it with tuna patties, slather it on ribs, spread it on a pizza crust.

It can bake with beans, marinade tempeh, stir-fry with veggies.

In fact, the Campbells say their Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce is so versatile, there are virtually no limits to "sassing up" food.

"Here's breakfast, lunch, dinner, sides, salad and desserts," said Mike Campbell, who makes and bottles the sauce at a licensed facility in Redford. "This is not Open Pit. It's not Sweet Baby Ray's. We are not just a barbecue sauce. We feel like we're the new table sauce."

"We are the only flavor sauce, but we're on the condiment shelf next to the barbecue sauces and things like that."

Sweet Sass Foods produces the sauce in five flavors. Straight Up — the original flavor — Hickory Kick and Chipotle Craze are sold at Kroger stores in Michigan and Columbus, Ohio. Other flavors are Habanero Flare and Garlic Fix. The product also is available at Busch's, Plum Market, Westborn Market, Zerbo's, Better Health Market and Holiday Market.

Evolving sauce

Sweet Sass production has come a long way since Mike Campbell, who worked for Faygo Beverages, Inc. in the 1980s and 90s, first began experimenting with sauces.

"I put a couple of sauces together. I was a single father at the time and my son was young. We created the original Straight Up sauce. It was one of the things he enjoyed when he came over," he said. "We didn't go to market with it. We didn't even name it at that time. It was our thing."

Mike Campbell began to share the sauce with family members and liberally used it with food at a graduation party for his son in 2005. Rave reviews encouraged him to begin researching the process needed to produce and market the sauce.

"One thing led to another. We changed the recipe because we had to take out certain things," said Judy Campbell. "We were taking butter and fat out."

"And boy, did I have a lot of sugar in it," Mike Campbell added. "We took a lot of it out. We said, let's try to streamline it to a good calorie count. That was a big learning process."

Into stores

By 2009 they tested the sauce at a local restaurant and, enlisting the help of Mike's son, Dan, and Judy's sons, Justin and Jason, began promoting the product at public events, such as Art in the Park in Plymouth and the Women's International Show in Novi.

Two years later, they got a call from Kroger. "Originally they told us you're going to be in 24 stores and then the order came and it was for 87," Mike Campbell recalled. "It was exciting. We had to deliver to 87 stores in three days."

By 2013, the Campbells removed high-fructose corn syrup from the recipe and it was non-GMO verified.

"We have a clean ingredient label. Non-GMO, gluten-free and no high fructose," Mike Campbell said. "The first ingredient we use is apple juice concentrate. That is what gives it the nice sweetness. We've got a little organic honey in there and cinnamon."

The couple sells their sauces at the Maker Faire at The Henry Ford and at the Greenfield Village farmers market, in addition to supermarkets. Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce costs $4.99 at Kroger stores.

The newest twist in their product's evolution is a digital code on the bottle. Smartphone users scan the code and find several recipes for the sauce.

Sweet Sass can be mixed with food, such as the tuna patties in the foreground, or drizzled on dishes, like the salad in the background.

MAYO-FREE TUNA SANDWICH

Prep time: 10-15 minutes
Cook time: 5-10 minutes
Servings: 4-6

3 cans (5.5-6 ounces in water) of tuna
2 eggs beaten
Chopped onion to taste
Chopped green pepper to taste
½ cup gluten-free bread crumbs or gluten-free instant oatmeal
2 tablespoons Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce - Straight Up
Gluten-free hamburger bun, bread, English muffins or waffle
Lettuce
1 tablespoon olive oil
6 slices muenster cheese

Drain tuna and add to a bowl with egg, onion, green pepper, bread crumbs, and Sweet Sass - Straight Up. Mix well. Transfer mixture to a medium-sized cooking pan, coated with olive oil. Cook over medium heat for 5-10 minutes, stirring every minute or so. Add tuna to a bun layered with a slice of muenster cheese. Press down firmly. Top with lettuce and drizzle with some Sweet Sass - Straight Up or Flavor Sauce of choice.

FRIED BANANAS

2 bananas
1 cup coconut oil
2 eggs
1 cup gluten-free flour, such as coconut flour
2 tablespoons cinnamon
Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce - Straight Up for drizzling

In a medium-sized bowl combine coconut flour and cinnamon. In a separate bowl, add eggs and stir. Cut bananas into ¼-½-inch pieces. Place in egg bowl and mix. In a medium-sized pot, heat coconut oil over medium-high temperature. Take the bananas out of the eggs and mix into the flour bowl a few at a time. Place them into the heated coconut oil and cook for 2-5 minutes or until golden brown. Take them out of the oil and leave them on a plate to cool. Drizzle with Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce - Straight Up.

CHIPOTLE SCRAMBLE

Prep time: 10 minutes
Cook time: 30 minutes
Servings: 4-5

5 red potatoes
1 green bell pepper
½ yellow onion
4 eggs
1 tablespoon chili powder
½ tablespoon garlic powder
½ teaspoon coconut oil
4 tablespoons Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce - Chipotle

Boil potatoes in a large pot of water for 20 minutes or until tender. While potatoes are boiling, cut bell pepper and onion into long strips. Saute over medium heat in a cooking pan coated with coconut oil. Add chili powder, garlic powder and Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce. Mix and continue to saute. In a separate pan, scramble four eggs. Add scrambled eggs to the veggies pan. Saute for 2 more minutes. Serve.

SOUTHWESTERN SALAD

Prep time: 5-10 minutes

1-2 cups of mixed greens
½ cup cooked corn
½ cup cooked black beans
1 cup shredded chicken
¼ cup sliced onions
¼ cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce - Chipotle Craze used as dressing

Combine all ingredients in a bowl. Sass it up with Cipotle Craze and enjoy.

HICKORY KICK CHICKEN PIZZA

Prep time: 10 minutes
Bake time: 20 minutes

½ bottle of Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce - Hickory Kick
Pre-made gluten-free pizza crust
½ cup chopped red onion
Chicken (as much as you want)
1 cup of shredded Vermont cheddar
Cilantro for taste

Spread Sweet Sass Flavor Sauce over pizza crust. Garnish with toppings. Bake according to the packaged pizza crust instructions.
