2 killed in Wayne train-truck collision

Police continue to investigate incident

LeAnne Rogers
hometownlife.com

The names of a man and woman killed Wednesday night in a vehicle-train crash in Wayne haven't yet been released pending notification of their families.

The pair were identified as both Romulus residents, ages 57 and 58.

Police are continuing to investigate the fatal crash, which happened about 10:40 p.m. on Venoy, just south of Michigan Avenue. Reports are that the northbound pickup truck went around barrier arms that were down as a train approached.

The vehicle was struck by an Amtrak train coming from Chicago to Pontiac. There were no injuries reported among the 90 passengers on the train, which was delayed several hours following the collision.

The roadway at the railroad tracks was closed until the early morning hours Thursday as Wayne Police and Michigan State Police investigated the accident.

A 12-year-old Westland boy, Raymond Patton, was struck by and killed by an Amtrak train at the Venoy-Michigan Avenue crossing in 2014. He and a friend were reported to have tried to beat the train on foot, but the friend changed his mind and didn't go onto the tracks.

In May, Robert Turner, 37, was also a hit and killed by a train while crossing the tracks — in this case on Merriman, south of Michigan Avenue.

Westland credit union CEO charged with stealing $2M

Money allegedly used to buy car, motor home

Susan Tompor
Detroit Free Press

A former president and CEO of the Veterans Health Administration Credit Union in Westland is accused of stealing more than $2 million from the financial institution — money that was allegedly used to buy a motor home and a Mercedes-Benz.

The credit union was made insolvent and closed as a result of the alleged embezzlement, following a joint investigation with the state Department of Insurance and Financial Services and the Michigan Office of the Attorney General.

Fuataina Afutiti, 50, was arraigned Thursday in 36th District Court in Detroit. She was released on $10,000 personal recognizance bond. Her next court appearance is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. next Thursday.

Afutiti, who lives in Westland, was charged with one count of receiving proceeds from a continuing criminal enterprise and one count of embezzlement from a credit union.

Jeffrey Collins, the attorney representing Afutiti, said his client recognizes that these are very serious allegations and she has been cooperating with the investigation.

Regulators charged that the embezzlement took place between 2012 and 2016.

"For a person to take advantage of Michigan veterans, many of whom are disabled and on fixed incomes, to use the money to live a life of excess is despicable," Michigan Attorney General Bill Schuette said in a news release.

Regulators said a routine audit in February uncovered the cash shortfalls and irregularities at the credit union when Afutiti was the president and CEO.

After an investigation, regulators charged that Afutiti leased or bought six vehicles, including a 2013 Mercedes-Benz and a $100,000 motor home. The money also allegedly was used to pay for the credit union's president and CEO's personal vacations.

Charities win through blues, brews, barbecue event

LeAnne Rogers

In what has become an annual tradition, it was big check night at the Westland City Council meeting as charities received their earnings from Blues, Brews and Barbecue.

Local nonprofits who provide volunteer labor to the two-day event earn a share of the proceeds from the event — $20,000 this year.

"It was an incredible success and a major part of our 50th anniversary," Westland Mayor William Wild said. "We had an estimated 15,000 attend over two days — people from all over the region."

Proceeds from the nonprofits were down a bit this year — the sixth year for Blues, Brews and Barbecue — due in part to a change in how vendors were paid and the addition of fireworks. Overall, the event has raised over $150,000 charity since its inception.

Collecting their checks were Westland Civitans, $2,000; Westland Goodfellows, $2,500; Westland Area Jaycees, $2,750; the Westland Grange, $1,000; Westland Rotary Club, $1,250; Westland Lions, $750; Westland Historical Commission, $750; and Warm Hearts, $500. In addition, $8,000 went to the Westland Chamber of Commerce, which co-sponsors and runs the event.

"I want to thank the city and all of the nonprofits. I love to go to meetings and brag to other chambers about this event," Westland Chamber of Commerce CEO Brookellen Swope said. "This really wouldn't be possible without all of you."

Volunteers from the nonprofits served in a variety of roles from greeters, grounds crew, checking identification and staffing the information booth.

"The festival was wonderful: Seeing that many people having a good time, setting their blankets and chairs up to hear the music and see the fireworks; children running all over the place," said

Commerce or art. That may be the choice when it comes to the future use of the long-closed former Hawthorne Valley banquet center/golf course in Westland.

The city acquired the property on the east of Merriman just north of Warren Road after it went into tax foreclosure in 2014. The business had closed and gone into bankruptcy at the end of 2010.

Carol Sharp of Warm Hearts. "My husband and I worked the complaint/where-should-I-be booth."

The strangest complaint, Sharp said, was from a man who was unhappy that memorabilia from Westland's 50th anniversary as a city wasn't on display at the event, held in Central City Park. The memorabilia display is at Westland City Hall.

"I want to thank all of our volunteers, the participating restaurants, our sponsors and the performers for another remarkable event," said Wild. "Everything was bigger and better than ever this year in honor of the city's 50th anniversary and it really took all hands on deck to pull off this incredible summer event."

The event has evolved over the years, being held on a weekend earlier in the summer, expanding the number of vendors and adding a Kansas City Barbecue Association judged amateur competition hosted by the Westland Area Jaycees. Wild had commented that he hoped the fireworks, added for the 50th anniversary, would become an annual part of the event.

Along with being able to sample food from some of Michigan's best barbecue vendors, music was also emphasized with blues legends such as Lil' Ed and the Blues Imperials and Thornetta Davis. Closing the festival again was Westland's own country music star and American Idol finalist Josh Gracin.

When students return to school following Labor Day, that usually means the H2O Zone sprayground in Westland closes for the year.

This year, the sprayground in Tattan Park will remain open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends in September, weather permitting, and there will be free admission. "Because of the expected warm weather, it will be open for the rest of the month. There will be customer appreciation days and the H2O Zone will be free," Westland Mayor William Wild said. There will be a skeleton crew of park rangers working during the September weekend openings. The concession stand will be closed until next summer, but the bathrooms will remain accessible to the public on days that the splash pad is open. Tattan Park is on Carlson at Ford.

something has changed," Westland Mayor William Wild said. "If not, then the recommendation will be back on the agenda."

Don Wakefield, who initiated the arts center proposal, said city officials received what he calls a general business plan for developing an art center at the Hawthorne Valley property.

"Normally, the mayor and council would guide the whole thing," Wakefield said. "The mayor is not really leading on this. We provided seven pages of information on how something gets put together. Generally, you secure the property first, then fund-raise."

The city received other inquiries and proposals for Hawthorne Valley, including one from a church. Wild and other city officials questioned the financial backing for the arts center and asked for a business plan.

The arts center proposal has financial backing from some local business people, Wakefield said.

"Generally, if a it is a community project like a library it is for the community. We're part of the community," said Wakefield, when asked if the arts supporters are looking to buy the property or effectively seeking that it be donated by the city. "It doesn't make sense to sell us the property — the community is the owner of the property. It seems an unusual way of looking at it."

The arts center proposal calls for art classes for children and adults, a sculpture garden and a variety of other uses. Wakefield said it is an opportunity to attract people to the city and also provide needed beautification.

"It's the only property in Westland that we are interested in," Wakefield said. "The river goes through it. I've been canvassing the golf course neighbors and 100 percent would rather see an arts center than turning it into a storage facility."

Preliminary plans for the storage facility call for a three-story brick building with windows and all storage contained inside the building.

Shortly after Hawthorne Valley closed, the property was offered for sale at $1.5 million. The property was described as a golf country club with a large banquet/bar area, lower-level restaurant, dinner theater room and pro shop. Constructed in 1947, the structure housing the banquet facility is 24,126 square feet.

The property has turned into a nuisance as city officials regularly had to secure the building from vandals. There are have also been fires that damaged the main building and destroyed additional buildings located further back from Merriman.

Dearborn police arrest home-invasion suspect

hometownlife.com

Police in Dearborn say they have identified and arrested a man accused of committing home invasions and sexual assaults in several communities in western Wayne County.

Dearborn police posted on Facebook on Thursday that a suspect being looked for by them as well as the Livonia Police Department for potential home invasions had been arrested and charges were expected in the coming days. The suspect's image was released in August as a 'person of interest' by police after it was captured by a home security camera at a Livonia home in early August.

Police believe the man is suspected of several crimes across as many as eight communities, which include Dearborn and Redford Township.

"The arrest of this suspect will hopefully provide closure to our victims and it is important to note that all members of this Task Force have expended an enormous amount of resources and energy into this investigation," said Dearborn Police Chief Ronald Haddad in a statement posted on Facebook. "This collaborative effort along with citizen cooperation has resulted in a very dangerous predator being taken off the streets."

Police say the suspect is thought to have committed home invasions and sexual assaults as early as 2011. Police continue to investigate and determine if the suspect is linked to other similar crimes in nearby communities.

Dearborn police said they expected to hold a press conference Friday releasing more information. A message was left with Dearborn police Thursday afternoon seeking more information.

On Thursday, Sept. 15, and on the first of every month thereafter, Scheel said, interest of 1 percent will be added to any unpaid summer tax bills. Summer and winter tax bills are payable to the Livonia treasurer until Feb. 28.

Residents and business owners have until Friday, Aug. 19, to apply to have their summer taxes automatically withdrawn from their bank account.

Tax deferrals

Residents meeting certain qualifications have until Wednesday, Sept. 14, to file the necessary paperwork with the treasurer's office to defer payment of their summer tax bill. Tax deferrals are granted to the principal residence homeowner who is totally and permanently disabled, blind, paraplegic, quadriplegic, eligible serviceperson, eligible

'Lord of the Rings' actor Sean Astin stops by Livonia

hometownlife.com

Actor Sean Astin knows a thing or two about long journeys. Wednesday, he made a stop in Livonia on a several-day journey to campaign for the Democratic presidential nominee.

Astin, known for his role as Samwise Gamgee in the "Lord of the Rings" film series, spoke to Hillary Clinton campaign supporters Wednesday afternoon in Livonia. It was one of many stops for him across the area, which included stops at the University of Michigan, Eastern Michigan University and Wayne State University.

"You have every right as an American citizen to do this activity," he said. "Every now and then, you'll get someone on the phone that's, like, 'Hi.'"

"My dad taught me that every human interaction was sacred and the point I want to make is you never know ... how they're going to interpret what you say."

The talk happened before several dozen supporters in the newly opened coordinated campaign office for Clinton and Bloomfield Hills Democrat Dr. Anil Kumar, who is running against U.S. Rep. Dave Trott, R-Birmingham. Democrats opened the first-of-its-kind office in Livonia, a city that typically votes Republican in presidential elections, last week along Plymouth Road.

Astin was welcomed with one supporter asking him, "Where's your hairy feet?", a reference to his role as a hobbit in the Peter Jackson film trilogy.

"If I had a nickel for every time a good-looking guy asked me that question," he joked back.

Astin said he's been on quite the journey the past few days, meeting volunteers all across the country supporting Clinton in her race with Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump.

He said in an interview with the Observer & Eccentric that the campaign has targeted some areas, especially ones that have voted Republican in the past, that may be looking to the left side of the aisle for this presidential election.

"The Hillary campaign understands this is an election like no other and it's worth it to the campaign to invest time, money, resources in areas where Republicans might be willing to consider voting for her," he said.

Work as team

Canton resident Ammara Ansari, an organizer, snagged a photo with Astin after his talk and before he left to go to another campaign event in Ferndale.

She said it was an exciting time to meet Astin and holds the "Lord of the Rings" films in high regard.

"Lord of the Rings' was just amazing," she said.

Astin, who also starred in films such as "Goonies" and "Rudy," said his time campaigning for Clinton stretches back decades and includes supporting her in 2008 during the presidential primary. He told volunteers, who were making campaign phone calls, to work together as a team and to remember the support they have.

"I have campaigned with Hillary Clinton since 1992. I'm an original," he said. "You are backed up. There are tens of thousands of people just like you all over this country, over 400 offices and outposts all across the country in union who's making these calls. You're on a big, big team and you need to know that."

State Sen. Pat Colbeck will host a health care town hall Wednesday in Northville.

Sen. Colbeck hosting town hall on health care

'Proven solutions' will be shared

State Sen. Patrick Colbeck, R-Canton, will host a public health care town hall event in Northville to share what he calls "proven free-market health care solutions" to improving Michigan's medical landscape.

The town hall takes place Wednesday, Sept. 14, from 7-9 p.m. (doors open at 6:30 p.m.) at Northville Township Hall, 44405 Six Mile Road in Northville.

"There is a group of elected officials, physicians and insurance experts who are passionately seeking to improve health care while lowering costs," Colbeck said. "This town hall presents a prime opportunity to meet them and explore innovative health care options that benefit employers, physicians and patients."

The town hall will feature an overview of the health care options available to Michigan residents; information on direct primary care services; information on coverage solutions for non-primary care services like hospitalization and examples of actual plans implemented by employers.

"We can take advantage of free-market loopholes within the Affordable Care Act (aka Obamacare), such as direct primary care services and self-funded insurance plans to restore control of health care decisions back to patients and doctors," Colbeck said. "It is time to make Michigan the center of a free-market revolution in health care that will yield increases in health care quality and cost-saving benefits."

For more information on this town hall event or upcoming town halls, visit the Health Care Town Halls section at www.SenatorPatrickColbeck.com or contact Colbeck's office at 517-373-7350 or senpcolbeck@senate.michigan.gov

Cemetery walk returns to Newburg

Learn about local historical figures

hometownlife.com

History will come alive this month at one of Livonia's historical cemeteries.

The annual cemetery walk is set for 2 p.m. Sept. 18 at Newburg Cemetery, 36000 Ann Arbor Trail.

And yes, that's "Newburg" without an "H." It was a mistake, said historic preservation committee member Kathy Johnson-Bartshe, made many years ago.

"I think just through somebody making a map, they dropped the 'H,'" she said.

The walk rotates between four of Livonia's historical cemeteries each fall, with the last one at Newburg taking place in 2012.

This year's walk will include information on a Revolutionary War veteran, a War of 1812 veteran and a family that had several Civil War sharpshooters in them.

Also buried at the

of Livonia's pioneers, discussion on gravestone imagery and what it means will also take place.

Tickets for the event are $10 in advance at $15 the day of the event. They can be obtained by calling 248-477-7375, emailing greenmead@ci.livonia.mi.us or by stopping at Greenmead Historical Park, 20501 Newburgh, between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday-Friday.

The proceeds for the event will go toward maintenance and repair of gravestones across the city's cemeteries that have been damaged through vandalism or weathering, Johnson-Bartshe said.

Parking for the event will take place at Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, as there is no parking at the cemetery. A shuttle service will transport attendees to the cemetery.

cemetery is a name many Livonians may recognize as the namesake of several area schools.

Many members of the Perrin family call the cemetery their final resting place. That family is the namesake of Perrinville, a community along

Ann Arbor Trail near present-day Westland that also had its name bestowed on the area elementary school.

"That little community was quite large at the time," Johnson-Bartshe said.

Fine Arts Gallery features Brewer art

The Livonia Arts Commission presents the work of artist Peggy N. Brewer for the month of September in the Fine Arts Gallery, on the second floor of the Livonia Civic Center Library.

The exhibit has been aptly titled "Personality Parade." Brewer is exhibiting 40 portraits, drawn in charcoal, charcoal and pastel, and pastel. Her portraits are all created from live models in one sitting.

"I don't seek a simple likeness, but instead wait until the mask begins to fall and then I capitalize upon what I see and feel," Brewer said. "As models tire their thoughts become distracted and expressions seep into their eyes and posture — hints of worry, fear, anger, whatever. I give myself permission to follow these hints like breadcrumbs into the soul of the sitter, as I interpret it at the moment. Oscar Wilde said, 'Every portrait that is painted with feeling is a portrait of the artist, not of the sitter.' And I indulge myself completely."

Viewers have compared her work to that of

Livonia turns teal for ovarian cancer

Brad Kadrich
hometownlife.com

The American Cancer Society estimates more than 22,000 women will receive a new diagnosis of ovarian cancer in the United States this year, and about 14,000 will die from it.

Teresa Oldham of Livonia wants to change those numbers.

An ovarian cancer survivor herself, Oldham and more than a dozen other survivors, caregivers, family and friends turned out last weekend to "Turn the Town Teal," hanging teal ribbons around Livonia to raise awareness of the disease.

"The statistics for this lethal gynecological cancer are horrific," Oldham said. "It is very critical that there is more awareness of ovarian cancer and its symptoms. If detection is done in the earlier stages we will have a better survival rate."

Oldham started exhibiting symptoms and was diagnosed in February 2013. Not knowing the symptoms of ovarian cancer, she said, she "just thought the symptoms were something normal for women my age." Her doctor recognized the symptoms and had testing done.

A week later, she had surgery to remove the tumor. After completion of six months of chemo, she went on a maintenance chemo clinical trial. For the last 16 months, she's been on several different chemo regimens.

"At this time, my disease is stable, so I am taking a chemo break and enjoying life," she said.

She joined the group to turn Livonia teal, the third year the event has taken place in Livonia. It's part of a national campaign to promote awareness of ovarian cancer. Margaret Kaponek started the Livonia campaign in 2014.

last year. She and her sister are both carriers of the BRCA 1 gene, making them a higher risk for breast and ovarian cancer. Oldham said carriers have a 50/50 chance of passing it down.

Two of Oldham's four children have tested positive. She hopes events like Turn the Town Teal will get people asking the question,

"What are those ribbons about?" and raise awareness of the disease.

"We all want an early detection for this disease so the next generation doesn't need to suffer like I have," Oldham said.

LIVONIA POLICE BRIEFS

Hard drive stolen

Police were called Thursday afternoon to Walmart, 29574 Seven Mile, on a retail fraud report.

Employees said they saw a suspect select an external hard drive from the electronics department and conceal it in his backpack before trying to leave without paying.

He was stopped by a store employee before he was able to leave and was detained until police arrived and arrested him.

ID theft reported

A resident who lives in the 35800 block of Veri came into the police station Wednesday afternoon to report her identity had been stolen.

She said she received a text message from a co-worker in Southfield, talking about her employment status. She was told temporary unemployment paperwork had been filed in her name, even though she had not filed for unemployment.

Masonry saw stolen

Livonia police were dispatched Wednesday morning to a residence in the 29600 block of Greenland on the report of a theft of a tool from a truck.

The owner said he last saw the missing masonry saw the night before on the passenger seat of the truck. He said the driver door was locked, but the passenger-side door was locked. When he came out that morning, he noticed the saw was missing. No damage was done to the vehicle or any of the other vehicles parked at the residence. No suspect information was available.

Choose beneficiaries wisely when estate planning

Q: I have an unusual situation that I hope you can help me with. A couple of months ago, my aunt was in a car accident and was critically injured. Since the accident, my aunt has remained unconscious and her doctors have told us that she only has a few more months to live. She has a trust, of which I am the successor trustee. Since the accident, I've taken over her finances. Her primary beneficiary is her older sister and that is where the problem comes in. Her older sister is on a variety of government programs and she would lose those benefits if she inherited the money. The problem is the inheritance is not that large and, in a short period of time, she would have to reapply for those benefits and, at that point in time, who knows? My question to you is, are there any ideas that you have? You should know that if the older sister does not get the money, it goes to her children.

A: I am very sorry about your aunt's accident and I wish her a very peaceful journey. In reviewing your situation, I do have a solution that may work, but it depends upon your aunt's older sister.

Under our laws, a beneficiary can disclaim their interest. What that means is that a beneficiary is voluntarily giving up their rights to inherit something. When someone disclaims their interest, whether it is as a beneficiary of an insurance policy or as a beneficiary of a trust, they're considered to have predeceased the person who named them as beneficiary. As a result of the disclaimer, the secondary beneficiaries would move up a notch and would become the primary beneficiary. In the situation at hand, if the older sister disclaims her interest, her children, who are the secondary beneficiaries, would then be the primary beneficiaries. If this happens, since the sister would not have received anything, there should be no impact on any of her subsidies and should not affect any government benefit she is receiving. As I mentioned earlier, it is dependent upon two things: the older sister's legal competence and her approval.

In order for someone to disclaim their interest, they must have the legal capacity to do so. If the older sister is of a clear mind and understands her situation, then the presumption is that she is legally competent and can make an informed decision to execute the disclaimer. If she is not legally competent, then she does not have the legal capacity to execute the disclaimer. If that is the situation, you may have to have someone else execute the disclaimer for her.

In disclaiming one's right of a beneficiary, it is important that the disclaimer is put in writing and properly executed. My recommendation is to have an attorney who is familiar with estates prepare the disclaimer. A competent and experienced attorney will make sure that the I's are dotted and the T's are crossed.

Disclaimers are not that unusual and are used in many different situations. The case at hand is one scenario where disclaimers are effective, but there are many different cases where dis-claimers make sense. It is important to remember that when someone disclaims an interest, they don't get to choose who the next beneficiary is. Whoever the secondary beneficiary is would be next in line. That is why it's always important when you do any sort of estate planning, such as naming beneficiaries on a 401(k) or life insurance policy, to name a primary and secondary beneficiary. In addition, our situations change over time and that is why, every so often, you need to review your beneficiary designations to make sure they reflect what you want.

Redford Police reunite dog, owner

Scott R Daniel
hometownlife.com

Redford Police officers quickly reunited a woman and dog Sept. 5.

Officers were dispatched to the CVS drug store at Seven Mile Road and Beech Daly at about 3:45 p.m. on reports that a dog wandered into the store. Officers detained the dog and a customer agreed to take it until the owner was found.

Police then posted a picture of the dog on Facebook. A woman responded an hour later, saying the dog was hers. They were reunited about 5 p.m., according to a Facebook post.

Woman stalked

A 48-year-old Redford woman told Redford Police she had been the victim of stalking by her ex-boyfriend Sept. 6.

She said the man has harassed her since their break up in June. According to reports, he has damaged her faucet and thrown garbage in her yard on several occasions. She also told police he has driven by her home and waved a gun.

Police are investigating her claims.

Obstruction

Redford Police arrested a man who appeared to be under the influence after receiving a report he scared someone at a home in the 9900 block of Sioux Street on Sept. 4.

Officers were dispatched to the home shortly before midnight and spoke with the reporting person. She told police an unidentified man knocked on the door several times at about 11 p.m.

Moments later, the man approached officers' scout car and began yelling at them. Officers ordered the man to walk toward them and speak with them. He complied, but mumbled and spoke unintelligibly.

Officers noticed a strong odor of intoxicants coming from the man, who then walked away. Officers ordered him to stop, but he wouldn't, reports said. Officers eventually took the man to the ground and arrested him for obstruction.

After identifying him, officers found outstanding warrants for his arrest out of Detroit and Redford.

Shoplifter arrested

Police arrested an alleged shoplifter from a Telegraph Road Kroger store at about 6:30 p.m. Sept. 4.

Reports said a man entered the supermarket with several plastic bags full of returnable cans. He received cash for the cans and then began walking around Kroger and placing items in the bags. Reports said he then walked past cash registers and was confronted by a Kroger loss prevention associate.

Reports noted that the suspect had been banned from all Kroger stores for stealing from their Dearborn location. Redford officers arrested.

Car fire

Two men escaped a burning car on westbound I-96 near Inkster Road on Sept. 3.

Reports said the vehicle was in the center lane of the freeway when the engine stalled and then caught fire. The driver was able to get the vehicle to the right shoulder and then dial 911.

Redford firefighters responded quickly and were able to douse the flames. Police reports said neither man was injured in the incident.

Canton hosts Veterans Summit

Joanne Maliszewski
hometownlife.com

The seventh annual Veterans Summit, hosted Sept. 20 by the Canton Community Foundation, will be a half-day program of information and updates on the Veterans Administration, health services and financial planning.

"We will have exclusive panel discussions," said Beth Meade, foundation donor relations managing director.

Though in past years the summit has been a day-long event, this year it will be shortened to 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. But plans include providing updated information for veterans at least once a quarter. "Our hope is that the Summit will kick off these programs," Meade said.

The summit will be at the new Westland City Hall, 36300 Wayne Road, and is free to veterans and their families.

The event begins with introductions from Jim Fausone of Legal Help for Veterans, plus opening remarks by Meade.

The agenda includes:

- » VA Update by retired Brig. Gen. Carol Ann Fausone and Shannon Asperger on the Choice Program and care in the community.

- » Business and financial planning featuring Greg Stachura, Jann Deane of Schoolcraft, Brian Geer of Mannik & Smith and Thrivent Financial with Ken McMullen.

- » Community Health Resources: Growth Works - Patrick Stropes, Give An Hour by Jamie Turner, Chiropractic Care by Dr. Thea Lewis Conway.

- » Disability Update with Kristina L. Derro and veteran service officers

Canton woman raises awareness about pain

'1 in 3 Americans lives in chronic pain'

Joanne Maliszewski
hometownlife.com

Suzanne Stewart of Canton lives in pain — all of the time. And she knows plenty of others who share a similar lifestyle.

"It's up there with cancer, childbirth and amputation of a finger without anesthesia," said Stewart who suffers from an autoimmune disease and other issues.

As an ambassador for the U.S. Pain Foundation, Stewart — who attended an educational retreat in August — has a host of events and displays this month in Canton to spread awareness of living in chronic pain. The U.S. Pain Foundation serves as advocates for pain management through a variety of methods, including medicines.

Stewart's life of pain began following an auto accident in 2002, which led to eight surgeries. She has since had a pacemaker installed, has had a stroke and heart attack all by her current 54 years of age. "One in three Americans lives in chronic pain," Stewart said.

As a result of the auto accident, Stewart suffered nerve damage — a cause of much of her continuing pain. At times she is in a wheelchair, other times she uses a walker or a cane. She suffers continual swelling on her left side and has lesions from one of the autoimmune diseases.

As society fights

against some types of prescriptions, Stewart wants the public to know that those medicines are necessary for her and others with chronic pain. She also wants the public to know that while no one can see her chronic pain, it's there and it is very real. Offering an example, Stewart said she has a handicapped permit for her car. But she has had people gawk at her and question her because she does not look ill or handicapped. "They don't see it, but I can feel it," Stewart said.

That has led to her making fliers and signs that say, "People with pain matter," because she urges others to avoid judging those who live as she has to. "Don't judge what you cannot see," she added.

As part of increasing awareness and understanding, the U.S. Pain Foundation has kicked off a project asking those with chronic pain to send in their stories. "It's really more of creating an understanding," Stewart said.

Locally and for starters, Stewart has a display in the Canton Public Library through Sept. 16. It's a display of facts and information about chronic pain and awareness, as well as information about the U.S. Pain Foundation and additional data about RSD/CRPS, the autoimmune diseases from which she suffers.

On Tuesday, Sept. 13, she will attend the Canton Township Board of Trustees' meeting to accept a proclamation designating September as "Pain Awareness Month."

Other activities will include:

- » Wal-Mart in Canton, store No. 3476 on Ford Road: 1-3 p.m., spreading awareness of chronic pain with items from the U.S. Pain Foundation.

- » Monday, Sept. 12 from 10 a.m. to noon, Stewart will have a booth for "Senior Day" at the Canton Summit. She will hand out items to increase awareness, as well as offering 400 bags of information and items for seniors.

Stewart also plans to fundraise for the pain foundation and head to Washington, D.C., to meet with officials of individual states to raise awareness and to make changes for people living in pain, she said.

Ask Dr. Stewart

Dr. James Stewart is a general dentist in Livonia, MI. Today he discusses teens and cavities.

TEENS AND CAVITIES

Dear Dr. Stewart: Why is my teenager getting all these cavities?

Dr. Stewart: Great question! This is something that I see often in my dental practice. A recent study may provide some answers. As we know, many teens have a shifted sleep-cycle where they are more alert in the evening and tired in the morning. The study found that these teens tended to have a higher cavity risk (almost four times higher than the neutral or early morning sleep cycle teen groups). This was thought to be because this group of teens neglected "to brush their teeth before falling asleep." Also, this group were "more likely to wake up later and skip breakfast" resulting in "increased snacking throughout the day." Together, these two factors can spell disaster for teeth. So, when educating our teens about their oral health it is important to understand that many of them have a different sleep cycle, which is normal for their age but can lead to bad habits.

Say 'da' to Russian festival in Ann Arbor

Play chess, pet chickens, hear music

Sharon Dargay
hometownlife.com

Pet a chicken, eat a blini and play a little chess, all while listening to the sounds of authentic Russian folk music at the fourth annual Ann Arbor Russian Festival.

The event, which runs from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17, and 1-7 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18, at St. Vladimir Orthodox Church, 9900 Jackson Road, Dexter, celebrates Russian food, entertainment, shopping and culture.

New to the festival are Rustavi, a Georgian dance ensemble, and Konevets, a quartet from St. Petersburg that performs chamber music and folk songs.

"These people are from Russia and they are bringing their culture to us," said Zena Ealovega, festival publicity chair. "They travel all the way from Russia." Returning performers include Moscow Nights, a Russian folk music trio, and Anastasia Klimzo, a folklorist and church choir director, who will sing and dance Russian folklore.

Chess boards will be set out both festival days for impromptu play and a teacher will be on hand to offer a few pointers. Ealovega said the activity attracts players of all ages and skill levels.

Another popular children's activity, the Chicken Petting Farm Zoo, gives youngsters and their parents a chance to lead a goat on a leash and touch and hold chickens and ducks, both festival days.

"They had a lot of fun last year chasing the ducks," said Daryl Aschliman, a 25-year member of St. Vladimir Or-Aschliman, who lives in Wasuseon, Ohio, brings his granddaughters' 4-H Club animals to the festival's Kids Corner, where children and their parents can mingle in an enclosure with the fowl.

"The chickens are easy to hold because they are a smaller breed. The ducks, you have to grab by both feet and cradle in your arms," he said.

He'll bring nine ducks this year, along with chickens, and said he'll likely allow older youngsters to lead goats into an adjacent hay field.

"We had a lot of people last year. There were a lot of kids. There were a lot of adults, too," he said. "We're in the Kid's Corner at the festival. They have a bounce house and games and the petting area. It's something for the kids to do."

A playground, coloring, crafts, caricatures and a puppet show round out the children's activities.

Visitors can listen to Russian bell ringing at the opening ceremony, tour St. Vladimir church, have their hair braided and taste infused vodka.

Borsch, piroszki made with potato and mushroom or cabbage, mar-kovnei salad made with carrots and garlic, pork and feef pelmeni, pork and chicken shashlik and blini are among the traditional Russian foods available at the festival's main kitchen, which will be open each day until closing. A Russian tea room will serve authentic Russian treats, including seven-layer Napoleon Russian cake.

defense, the Spartans extinguished the Rocks, 2-0, to improve to 3-1-1. The match was the division opener for both teams. Salem slipped to 2-4 overall. "We struck early then stayed really organized defensively," said Shingledecker, whose high school soccer coaching career has included stings with the Lutheran Westland, Livonia Ladywood and Livonia Stevenson girls teams, as well as the Spartans' boys program. "We never allowed Salem to get in behind us. I was proud of our work rate from start to finish.

"This was a fantastic way to get win 200. I wouldn't have drawn it up any other way." Shingledecker's 16-year coaching record is now 200-90-50. He is 47-21-5 with the Stevenson boys team.

Stevenson struck first just 45 seconds in when Schultz lased in a penalty kick after Rea was fouled in the 18-yard box.

Rea made it 2-0 in the seventh minute when he tapped in a rebound off a Joe Nicolas shot for his fourth goal of the season.

Senior captain Drew Padgen made four saves in the Spartans' second shutout of the campaign.

Stevenson Youth Night

The Livonia Stevenson football program will hold Youth Night during its Sept. 16 home game against South Lyon, which kicks off at 7 p.m.

All local youth football team members, cheerleaders and coaches are invited to attend the game. The youth athletes will form a tunnel for the Stevenson football team as they enter the field prior to the game.

Youth athletes are encouraged to arrive by 6:20 p.m. and enter at the front west gate with their coach.

Those wearing a jersey with their coach will be admitted into the game free. There will be a game manager on the track by the scoreboard to assist with lineup for the tunnel.

During the game, youth players will sit in the home bleachers with their coach or stand behind the fence line.

Cross country make-up date

The make-up date for the Livonia City Cross Country Meet will be Friday, Oct. 14, at Cass Benton Park in Northville.

The boys race will start at 4:30 p.m. and the girls will start at 5 p.m.

Wednesday's regularly scheduled city meet was postponed due to an unseasonably hot heat index.

GC soccer special night

The Garden City boys soccer team's game against visiting Redford Thurston at 7 p.m. Sept. 26 will help raise funds for the Lyman Foundation, which assists students at Garden City's Burger School for autistic children.

All of the gate receipts raised for the game will be donated to the Lyman Foundation.

Also, Burger students will make a tunnel for the Cougars soccer players as they enter the field prior to the game.

MU soccer still perfect

Madonna University soccer goal-keepers Marcel Schmid and Jeff Wielczopolski combined for the Crusaders' third shutout of the season Thursday to help the hosts beat Robert Morris (Ill.) 4-0.

The decision improved MU's record to 4-0 while Robert Morris dropped to 0-4.

Schmid (Stuttgart, Germany/Johann Freidrich-von-Cotta-Schule) and Wielczopolski (Windsor, Ontario/Holy Names Catholic) have now combined for two of the three Crusader shutouts this season.

Pats have returning players to spare

Franklin loaded with experience

Ed Wright
hometownlife.com

Much like a good stock, the Livonia Franklin tennis team has a high return rate this season.

The Patriots' roster includes 13 players who saw varsity action in 2015 — and the returners have all shown improvements in their skill sets, head coach Rick Clack said.

"Last year we just missed states by one point playing Division 1," Clack said. "This year we are D-2 but we were placed in the Birmingham region, and that will be very tough to get through.

"Obviously, being in the powerhouse KLAA will really test our team's play and I hope it will elevate the team by regional time to make a strong showing. Our singles and upper doubles have very good experience and that will help in match play this year.

"Most of the team is made up of seniors and they are determined to make the effort to have memorable year in 2016. They are a real pleasure to coach."

In the early going, the Patriots played well in a tournament hosted by Dearborn, even though they were short three players.

"We also had nice early-season wins over good North Farmington and South Lyon East teams and we will be starting KLAA matches after Labor Day in the South Division.

"The play there will also be really demanding with Plymouth, Canton and Churchill in the division. Our

EAGLES SCOOP AND SCORE

Late defensive touchdown lifts Thurston over GC

Ed Wright
hometownlife.com

As a 5-foot-10, 230-pound defensive tackle, Xavier Coleman-Patillo understands he's not going to get too many chances to score touchdowns, especially game-winning six-pointers.

So when the opportunity does present itself to the Redford Thurston sophomore — like it did Friday night against Garden City — he's going to make it count.

With the Eagles trailing the host Cougars, 23-21, and 8:33 left in the fourth quarter, Thurston defensive tackle Waverly Williams stripped Garden City backup quarterback Emad Rehman of the ball at the GC 5-yard line.

The on-the-spot Coleman-Patillo scooped up the pigskin at the 2 and rumbled in for what turned out to be the decisive points in the Eagles' 29-23 triumph.

"I saw our tackle hit their quarterback, I saw the ball pop out and I raced to it before their guy could get it," Coleman-Patillo said. "I wanted to make a touchdown for my family over there (pointing to the Thurston sideline)."

Coleman-Patillo admitted he had no intention of pouncing on the ball.

"Oh no, I was going to take it in," he said, smiling. "I'm proud of our whole team. We played like dogs. We always have each other's backs, no matter what."

The game's off-the-charts excitement level was subdued a few minutes before Coleman-Patillo's scoop-and-

Cougars earn first win of season

Czarnik scores 3 goals in 7-0 rout

hometownlife.com

After grinding through a grueling early-season schedule, Garden City's boys soccer team finally crushed the goose egg that's been resting under its win column in emphatic fashion Wednesday night against visiting Taylor Truman.

Powered by sophomore Kyle Czarnik's hat trick, the Cougars stamped the Eagles, 7-0, to improve to 1-6.

"It was a pretty dominant performance overall," GC head coach Jeff Szyplala said. "We've played a lot of really good teams early on, so we've been on the counter attack a lot. It was nice to be able to run some set plays in our offensive half."

"Although we played well, I was a little disappointed in our effort after our first goal. We have to keep the effort consistent the entire 80 minutes."

Czarnik, who helped spearhead a 17-shot attack (compared to just one shot on goal for Truman), gave the Cougars the lead for good, 1-0, eight minutes in when he settled a looping free kick from Austin Pena, then turned toward the goal and hammered a shot past the Eagles keeper.

In the game's 30th minute, Czarnik ripped home a penalty kick after Jacob Sadowski was fouled in the 18-yard box.

The Cougars made it 3-0 with 4:46 left in the first half when Tommy Fisher deflected the ball just inside the right post.

Czarnik's third goal came midway through the second stanza when he lasered in a PK in the wake of teammate Jared Shea getting pulled down in the box.

Sadowski extended the cushion to 5-0 at the 18:48 mark when he went coast-to-coast with the ball before finishing with a flourish.

A Truman own-goal made it 6-0 before Francisco Gonzalez capped the scoring with a goal assisted by Austin Lang.

Ian Tesarz earned the shutout in goal for the Cougars, who received strong play from Brandon Gonzales, Pena, Hunter Childress and Mitchel Falk, Szyplala noted.

HIGH SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL PREVIEW

New coach impressed early by Patriots

Ed Wright
hometownlife.com

Livonia Franklin's volleyball team has an appetite to learn and a thirst to win.

That's the early impression the Patriots have made on first-year head varsity coach Kelsey Poston, who had at least a notion of her new team's talent and intangibles level after coaching the school's freshmen squad last season.

"I have really been impressed by how anxious the girls are to learn," Poston said. "It helps, too, that a lot of them are used to playing the style I teach."

"In our first tournament of the season, we played better than my expectations. I was a little disappointed in our second tournament, but we did have one very good set against a good team that showed the girls what they're capable of."

Poston said she feels fortunate to have a strong trio of captains to help her guide a relatively young roster.

Following a vote of the team's players, Bella Facione, Hannah Nordstrom and Hunter Tarsin will share the captaincy roles.

"I let the girls vote for captains because I think it's important to find out who they think their best leaders are," Poston said. "The three girls they selected have been awesome so far."

Hannah Nordstrom will be an all-around mainstay for Franklin's volleyball team this fall.

A junior libero, Facione rarely left the court for the Patriots in her sophomore season.

"I moved Bella's positioning on the court this season and she has responded really well," Poston said. "She's a great captain because she's one of our most vocal players. She knows how to get the girls fired up, whether we just got a point or not."

Nordstrom is arguably the team's best front-row player. A 5-foot-11 junior, she will be a "huge part" of the Patriots' offense this fall, Poston said.

"We want the ball to go to Hannah as much as possible when she's in the front row," Poston said. "She's probably our tallest and most-experienced front row player. Hannah isn't as vocal as Bella, but she's a great lead-by-example captain."

The respect the Patriots have for senior and tri-captain Hunter Tarsin is reflected in the support she received in the captaincy voting.

"The other girls really look up to Hunter," Poston said. "She's a very calm player, who doesn't let things get to her. She can play outside for us and the back row, so she's versatile."

Among the other players who Poston will be counting on heavily are junior all-rounder Paige Brothers, junior Sydney Strasser, sophomore Joanie Evans and senior Carol Lalonde.

"Paige is a huge part of our team," Poston said. "Given the right opportunity, she can really shine, and she's an outstanding server."

"This is Joanie's first year on varsity, but she has great skills at the defensive specialist position. She has the kind of advanced technique that takes a lot of time to teach. She's a club player, and you can tell by watching her play."

"Sydney is an opposite middle with a big block. She takes direction really well."

"And Carol has a lot of heart. Every point she's out there, she plays as hard as she can and she gets touches on balls I don't think she can get to."

"Overall, I'm very excited about this team. We're right where I expected us to be at this point."

Livonia Churchill's volleyball team made a loud statement Thursday night in its KLAA South Division opener against visiting Westland John Glenn.

Fueled by strong performances from Annie Yost, Samantha Zonca and Brianna Fulton, among others, the Chargers rolled to a 25-9, 25-10, 25-14 triumph.

Churchill is now 7-4 overall.

Yost was tough in the middle, notching 11 kills and two blocks. Zonca added eight kills while Brianna Fulton distributed 26 assists.

"Colleen McGowan, Madi Marabatur, Sarah Dunn and Annabelle Dunn all had good all-around performances," Churchill head coach Mark Grenier added.

Stevenson dropped a 25-22, 25-18, 25-23 decision to visiting South Lyon East Thursday night.

Audrey Lackey led the Spartans with four kills while Abby Cormier collected 10 digs.

The Spartans slipped to 1-4 overall and 0-1 in the KLAA Central Division.

Conley nets three goals in Patriots' win over Wayne

Matt Conley notched a hat trick during Thursday afternoon's game against host Wayne Memorial.

Conley scored three goals and assisted on another in the Patriots' convincing 5-1 triumph over the Zebras.

For the first time this season, Franklin scored first when Conley finished an outstanding ball delivered from Julian Medrano in the 12th minute.

Two minutes later, the Zebras took advantage of a poor Patriots clearing pass to knot the game at 1-1.

Franklin bounced back quickly, regaining a 2-1 lead in the 33rd minute, when Tyler Piper pumped in the rebound off a Conley shot.

Four minutes before the half, Medrano made it 3-1 thanks to an assist from Trevor Hayes.

Conley struck again six minutes into the second half for his second of three goals when he finished off a slick feed from Josh Wilson.

Conley sealed the deal with his hat-trick goal, which was assisted by Drew Barterian.

Scott Beebe was the Patriots goalkeeper in the first half before giving way to Zack Robinson for the final 40 minutes.

Franklin is now 2-2-1 overall and 1-1 in the South Division, according to KLAAsports.com. Wayne is 1-3 overall and 0-2, respectively.

Chargers rally to knock off Highlanders

Ed Wright
hometownlife.com

Livonia Churchill rallied from a 21-13 third-quarter deficit Friday night to post a dramatic 25-21 victory over host Howell.

The victory improved the Chargers' record to 2-1.

Howell's Ryan Brennan ran for 231 yards on 25 carries to lead the Highlanders.

Churchill's statistics were not available as of Friday night's print-edition deadline.

Stevenson upended by Northern

Livonia Stevenson's perfect season was derailed, at least temporarily, Friday night by high-scoring Walled Lake Northern, which defeated the visiting Spartans, 49-20, in Stevenson's final non-divisional game for a while.

Northern senior running back Miller Carlock was a beast for the winners, rushing for 153 yards and five touchdowns.

The bulk of Carlock's yards came on a trap play, which Northern runs to perfection out of its veer offense.

Trailing 7-0 early, Stevenson knotted the game at 7-7 on a 20-yard touchdown pass from senior quarterback Chris Tanderys to junior running back Parker Graham.

The second quarter did not go as planned for Stevenson, which trailed 34-14 at the half.

The Spartans' second touchdown of the first half came on a 5-yard scoring pass from Tanderys to senior receiver Ian Knoph.

Stevenson's final score of the night was a 31-yard TD pass from Tanderys to Dalen Cobb.

Stevenson falls to Walled Lake Northern; RU improves to 3-0 with win over Robichaud Tanderys completed 12-of-21 passes for 201 yards and three touchdowns. He also led the Spartans in rushing with seven carries for 33 yards.

Devin Dunn intercepted a Northern pass to account for the Spartans' lone forced turnover.

Stevenson returns to action Friday night when it hosts South Lyon on "Youth Night."

Panthers claw Robichaud

Redford Union scored on its first play from scrimmage Friday night — a 98-yard coast-to-coast sprint by Isaac Grant — to set the stage for an impressive 38-12 victory over host Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

The victory improved the Panthers' record to 3-0 for the first time since 2005.

"With Isaac scoring on that trap on the first play, it kind of set the tone for the rest of the night," RU head coach Miles Tomasaitis said. "We still haven't played our best game yet. We're making too many mental errors."

"We played better than we did last week, though. The penalties and other costly things aren't acceptable, though."

Grant had his usual robust statistical game, piling up 165 yards on 17 carries.

Grant formed a dynamic duo with Thorton Cain, who racked up 143 yards and three touchdowns on 10 carries.

RU's Marquise Hathaway tacked on 36 yards and a touchdown.

RU outgained Robichaud, 295-110.

Quarterback Carl Ware completed 1-of-3 passes for 15 yards.

Grant led the winners with four tackles. Eric McCarter had two tackles, one for loss.

Robichaud's Javonte Melchior had 103 yards on six carries to lead the Bulldogs.

Canton wins first

Canton went back to the drawing board after back-to-back losses to start the high school football season.

That mythological drawing board might have proved to be of some value Friday night as the Chiefs took down host Hartland, 35-21.

"(We) just went back to the drawing board and said we're going to get better at what we do," Canton head coach Tim Baechler said. "We needed this bad. This was huge."

Julian Thornton scored the two touchdowns that pushed Canton (1-2) ahead for good. He extended Canton's lead from 21-14 to 35-14 on rushing touchdowns of 21 and 48 yards, respectively.

"We just came out with the focus that we need to win this game and play this game like it was the playoffs. We wanted to pick up some momentum. When you practice hard, good things happen," Thornton said.

Thornton led the Chiefs in rushing with 111 yards on just nine carries.

Following Thornton's second touchdown of the night with 8:27 remaining in the fourth quarter, Hartland answered on a 28-yard touchdown pass from Brad Ekonen to Hunter Delaney.

The Eagles then forced a Canton punt and marched 81 yards, from their own 4-yard line to the Canton 15, in only 90 seconds. However, Ekonen's pass to the end zone that appeared to be caught in-bounds for a touchdown, was ruled incomplete.

Hartland was then issued a team unsportsmanlike conduct penalty that took it back to third-and-25 from the 30-yard line. Canton got two stops and the victory.

In the first two games of the season, Canton held a halftime lead before allowing its opponent success offensively in the second half. Against Hartland, the Canton offense managed the clock and allowed the Eagles only four possessions and the Chiefs got stops on three out of the four.

"It was just being tough, playing like Canton, getting 4 or 5 yards at a time," Thornton said.

Canton came out and stopped Hartland on its first two possessions of the third quarter. Those two stops paved the way for Thornton's two touchdowns to give Canton a three-touchdown lead with just over eight minutes left.

Consecutive stops were a point of emphasis during the week of practice leading up to the game, according to line-backer Noah Brown.

Tigers take match win from Trojans

Thurston bouncing back from slow start to season

Belleville swept Livonia Clarenceville in a Western Wayne Athletic Conference volleyball match Thursday, 25-13, 25-14, 25-8.

"Belleville made the most of our mistakes and was the better team tonight," Clarenceville coach Wendy Merschman said. "The Trojans had some good efforts and are getting better with every game played."

Sophomore Maddison Jaber was 7-of-7 serving with two aces for the Trojans (0-7-1). Junior Londen Green also was solid on defense with four digs. Both are outside hitter who play all-around.

Junior middle Linda Hodzic had two kills and two blocks. Senior Josie VanDyke and sophomore Cassidy Galvin each added two kills and junior setter Erica Bertera led the team with five assists.

"We have a lot of work to do, but we know where to start," Merschman said. "We gave them too many free balls and we struggled on serve receive. I'm confident the girls will pull together and be a much different team with hard work."

The other team members are senior defensive specialists Alyssa Ortiz and Katelyn Denny, junior libero Desarae Hartfiel, junior defender Mia Daniels and sophomore outsiders Michelle Marzolo and Audrey Owens.

Thurston up and down

Redford Thurston's volleyball team has had its ups and downs during the early weeks of its schedule.

The Eagles opened the campaign by going 0-2-1 in the Melvindale tournament before upending Ferndale University and Taylor Prep, both by 3-0 scores.

On Thursday, Thurston dropped a 3-0 decision to Dearborn in a WWAC cross-over encounter. Jordan Cook led the Eagles with seven kills, six blocks and two assists. Kentia Fearn and Megan Abela had two kills a piece.

Ronay Peguies played well, netting three kills and eight assists while Jayla Lucas contributed six assists and four digs.

Trojans get up to speed after slow start

Dan O'Meara
hometownlife.com

After a rough start to a new soccer season, the Livonia Clarenceville boys are getting it turned around and achieving the kind of results they expected.

The Trojans opened with a pair of disappointing defeats, losing by one goal each to Plymouth Christian Academy and Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard.

But they rebounded from those losses to have a better second week in which they beat visiting Romulus Summit Academy, 9-1, and host Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest, 1-0.

"Although I think we should be 4-0, I'm proud of our progress and I feel like the kids are starting to come together as a unit," Clarenceville coach Trevor Johnson said.

With 12 minutes remaining Wednesday, senior Armin Andelija connected with senior Gerardo Arzate on a give-and-go play for the only goal of the game against Lutheran Northwest.

Seniors Dante Marzolo, Joe Sanchez and Alex Immonen and sophomore Jesus Gonzalez played great games defensively, according to Johnson, and senior goalie Jon Murphy earned his first shutout of the year.

Marzolo led the Trojans with two goals and two assists in the mercy-rule win over Summit Academy.

Arzate added two goals; sophomore Nick Snage, Andelija, junior Brett Habkirk, senior Kam MacIver and Immonen added one goal apiece.

Sanchez assisted on two goals. Andelija, Habkirk and senior Seth Krazel had one assist each. Junior keeper Zach Elagamy earned the victory in net.

Clarenceville, which finished 11-10-1 overall last year and won its first district championship, entered this season with an experienced team and high expectations.

Murphy is a veteran keeper and three-year starter. He backstopped every victory last year and had eight shutouts to earn an all-state honorable mention.

The Trojans are strong in the midfield with the return of Andelija, Arzate and senior Jayson Fitzpatrick. They're three-year starters and all-state honorable mentions, too.

Andelija led the team in goals scored with 13. Arzate and Fitzpatrick scored six goals and had three assists apiece. Andelija added two assists.

Marzolo returns to the sweeper position and will lead the defense. He also figured in the scoring with four goals and two assists.

Clarenceville's 12 seniors include Kevin Murphy, John McNamara and Jose Saravia. Murphy and McNamara are new players; Krazel and Saravia were on the JV team.

Sanchez, MacIver and Immonen were regulars in the lineup last year. Johnson looks for Habkirk, Snage, Gonzalez, junior Nick Siml and sophomore Jacob Weiss to make key contributions.

Johnson, who begins his 10th season as head coach, looks for the Trojans to compete in the Western Wayne Athletic Conference and to do well in the district again.

"It's a very exciting year for the players, as many have played together on varsity the past three years," he said. "Considering the immense amount of talent in the WWAC, it would be a stretch to say we expect to win the conference.

"We're one of the smallest schools, but we'll be extremely competitive this year and every team in our conference is going to get a battle.

"Our schedule is difficult, but that's the way we want it. We want the gauntlet, so we are battle-tested by the time we get to the postseason."

Johnson hopes to see the Trojans hang a second banner in the gym — maybe even a third or fourth — and solidify themselves as the best soccer team in school history.

"My expectation is that my guys leave it all on the field," Johnson said. "I guarantee no team is going to want to see us on its schedule. These kids are talented and tenacious and they embrace the grind!"

score when Cougars starting quarterback Kyle Becker suffered what appeared to be a serious hip injury that required him to be carried off the field on a stretcher and into the back of an ambulance.

The injury came at the tail end of a marvelous 20-yard run by Becker, who zig-zagged with the ball to the Thurston 19-yard line.

Prior to the injury, Becker piled up 64 yards rushing and 77 passing yards.

"I hope the kid is OK and is back soon, he's a great player," Thurston head coach Bob Snell said. "We knew once he went down that Garden City would be extremely pumped up to win the game for him. So our kids' energy had to go up, too. I was proud of the way they dug in and kept battling."

GC was looking for its first victory against Thurston since 1984 — and it appeared as if the Cougars would secure it after racing to an early 13-0 lead.

The Cougars jumped ahead 7-0 on its first possession, when John Giangrande rammed into the end zone from 1 yard out, capping a five-play, 90-yard drive. Alex Sherlock tacked on the extra point.

The big play of the drive was a 57-yard pass completion from Becker to Logan McGraw.

GC actually lined up in punt formation twice on its next possession — a 14-play drive that was capped by Eian Castonguay's 1-yard TD run.

After Thurston held the Cougars to a three-and-out, GC ran a fake punt, with Becker ultimately running 5 yards for a first down.

Three plays later, facing a fourth-and-15, the Cougars did punt, but the fumbled return was pounced on by the Cougars at the Thurston 15. Two minutes later, Castonguay scored, but Sherlock's extra point was blocked.

The Eagles drove to the GC 20 midway through the second quarter, but the drive was halted when Jay Castonguay stripped Thurston QB Zack Crofford of the ball, which was recovered by GC's Jacob Briscoe.

Thurston cut its deficit to 13-7 with 2:28 left in the first half on a 58-yard TD pass from Crofford to Nathan Hayes. Sherlock added a 26-yard field goal on the last play of the half to make it 16-7.

A 16-yard TD connection from Crofford to Darryis King (and Jaylen Burch's ensuing extra point) brought Thurston to within 16-14.

The Eagles snatched their first lead of the night, 21-16, on Demetrius Dowd's 3-yard TD run with 4:41 remaining in the third quarter.

Five plays after Becker was driven off the field in the ambulance, the inspired Cougars regained the lead, 23-21, on a 19-yard TD run by Eian Castonguay on a third-and-seven play.

That ultimately set the stage for the Eagles' big defensive tackles' late-game heroics.

"We did a great job of shooting ourselves in the foot in the first half, but we stressed to the guys at halftime that it was still a tight game," Snell said. "Garden City was executing well and their defense is hard to run against."

"We had to be resilient in the second half and we were. After committing three turnovers in the first half, we played a clean second half."

Outlook is bright for high- and low-wage jobs

BY MATT TARPEY
 CAREERBUILDER

Over the next five years, the U.S. economy is projected to add more than 7 million jobs — a 5 percent increase. While that may sound like healthy growth, a new study from CareerBuilder and Emsi shows that some wage levels are faring better than others. According to the study, middle-wage occupations aren't growing at the same pace as high- and low-wage jobs.

For the purpose of the study, CareerBuilder and Emsi used the National Employment Law Project's definitions: Low-wage jobs pay $13.83 per hour or less; middle-wage jobs earn $13.84 to $21.13 per hour; and high-wage occupations make $21.14 per hour or more.

While both high- and low-wage occupations are projected to grow by 5 percent from 2016 to 2021, middle-wage jobs are estimated to grow only by 3 percent. Middle-wage positions make up 34 percent of the total occupations tracked by Emsi, yet they account for 61 percent of the occupations expected to lose jobs over the next five years.

Whether you're currently working or seeking a job, being informed about trends affecting your industry can help you prepare for any challenges or opportunities that arise as a result. To that end, here is a breakdown of how each wage level is expected to perform over the next five years, along with examples of occupations that fall within each category. (All data provided by Emsi.)

HIGH-WAGE JOBS

Of the 387 analyzed occupations earning $21.14 or more per hour, 90 percent are projected to see growth in the next five years, indicating opportunities in a wide variety of well-paying jobs. Growing high-wage occupations are expected to add 8,628 new jobs on average.

The fastest-growing high-wage occupations include:

- ▶ Software developers for applications (12 percent)
- ▶ Computer systems analysts (12 percent)
- ▶ Market research analysts and marketing specialists (11 percent)
- ▶ Management analysts (9 percent)
- ▶ Registered nurses (9 percent)

LOW-WAGE JOBS

While 77 percent of low-wage occupations are projected to add jobs in the coming five years, that growth will be much more dramatic than the increases seen in high-wage occupations. Low-wage positions that are growing will add 28,636 new jobs on average in the next five years — the largest per-occupation growth by a wide margin.

The fastest-growing low-wage occupations include:

- ▶ Home health aides (19 percent)
- ▶ Restaurant cooks (9 percent)
- ▶ Nursing assistants (9 percent)
- ▶ Security guards (6 percent)
- ▶ Janitors and cleaners (6 percent)

MIDDLE-WAGE JOBS

As demonstrated by the lag in their expected growth rate, middle-wage occupations aren't quite keeping up with their high- and low-wage counterparts. Just 61 percent of occupations making between $13.84 and $21.13 per hour are expected to add jobs in the next five years. Those growing middle-wage occupations are projected to add 11,655 new jobs on average during that time.

The fastest-growing middle-wage occupations include:

- ▶ Medical assistants (11 percent)
- ▶ Customer-service representatives (6 percent)
- ▶ Maintenance and repair workers (5 percent)
- ▶ Heavy and tractor-trailer truck drivers (4 percent)
- ▶ Office clerks (4 percent)

While many middle-wage occupations may be behind, there is still noted growth across all the wage levels, leading to plenty of new opportunities.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

NISSAN RENEWS AND ELEVATES 'HEISMAN HOUSE' CAMPAIGN TO BOOST ITS 'YEAR OF THE TRUCK' AS IT LAUNCHES NEW TITAN

By Dale Buss

Nissan is entering the sixth year of its Heisman House marketing campaign in partnership with ESPN, and by now their joint effort to highlight ex-jocks and college football in the service of selling cars and sports broadcasts has created a very interesting and effective parallel universe to NCAA gridiron play itself.

The brand was able to trace nearly 3 percent of its sales in the United States last year directly to the Heisman House campaign. Six years ago, this new marketing platform began a second phase of Nissan's existing relationship with college football and the Heisman Foundation that awards the trophy each year to the best player in the game.

That means roughly 40,000 of Nissan Division's 1.35 million vehicle sales in 2015 occurred directly because of consumers' reactions to the fictional exploits of a coterie of real sports legends in their made-up "domicile."

"That's a lot of cars," Jeremy Tucker, vice president of marketing communications and media for Nissan North America, told me. "And we have 77 percent unaided recall of Nissan as the Heisman Trophy sponsor. You don't get that overnight."

This year, Nissan and ESPN are adding new layers to this cornucopia of football nostalgia and fan geekdom by bringing into the fictional fraternity Derrick Henry, the Alabama running back who won last year's Heisman Trophy and who now is a member of the Tennessee Titans in the pro game; former Florida quarterback Danny Wuerffel; and another former Florida cornerback, much better known than Wuerffel: Tim Tebow.

Eight Nissan vehicles are being featured prominently throughout the campaign, including the Rogue, Titan and Armada, which are part of the brand's "Year of the Truck" focus. Nissan is in the midst of launching a new version of its full-size Titan pickup, for example, to better compete in a booming market segment.

"Football completely overindexes with the truck segment," Tucker said, "and the No. 1 job of Titan is to break through." Ads for the overhauled model "will be massively played" on broadcasts of college football and the NFL he said -- and Heisman House will be there as well to support the launch.

Overall, the campaign that launched on September 1 will star 14 Heisman Trophy winners in a series of TV spots airing on ESPN throughout the season. It includes four 45-second spots and five 15-second ads.

In typical fashion, this year's hijinks ensue in a 90-second video, titled "Welcome to the House," in which newbie Henry flies his drone through the mansion catching the other Heisman winners in unguarded moments.

And these "unguarded" moments include deep clues as to why the Heisman House platform has been so successful for Nissan: because it makes viewers believe they're part of a (wink! wink!) club of fellow college-football aficionados who understand the game and its practitioners on a whole "nother level above the average fan."

Nissan hopes its all-new 2017 Titan challenges for a bigger share of pickup sales.

"We've found with college-football fans that it's about insider access, and cultural moments -- 'Did you see that?' or 'Did you know that?'" Tucker said. "It also reinforces the ESPN brand and the experience that people go to them for on game day when they watch ESPN."

"Easter eggs" embedded in the first ad illustrate how Nissan creates these sorts of priceless connections with fans. One of them shows former

Boston College and pro quarterback Doug Flutie dancing with his actual partner from Dancing with the Stars; another depicts former Ohio State and Titans running back Eddie George practicing a Shakespeare scene, because close followers might know that he actually has had a role in Chicago on Broadway.

Also part of the campaign are an online platform where fans can cast their votes for the next Heisman Trophy winner and a social-media effort, as well as other traditional advertising.

And a Nissan Heisman House Tour features a simulated Heisman House that will travel to various college campuses around the U.S. leading up to the College Football Playoff National Championship in January. It intersects with ESPN's Game Day broadcasts, of course, which also are conducted live from campuses.

Former Heisman winners want to get in on the action every year because they understand its relevance to the game that provided their doorway to fame.

"Every year in the middle of the summer, they want in," Tucker said. "My phone rings off the hook. And that's the secret sauce. These guys have fun doing it... It's not advertising that can be skipped over. It's shareable and snackable and relevant to the fan."
