High voter turnout expected Tuesday

LeAnne Rogers
hometownlife.com

When it comes to predicting voter turnout, municipal clerks are good at making an educated guess. This year, that seems to be in the 60-70 percent range with lines expected at the polls drawn by the presidential election.

"I couldn't have gotten closer than my last prediction — I was within 12 votes," said Westland City Clerk Richard LeBlanc, who expects a 67-percent turnout for the election. Westland has about 60,500 registered voters and has seen a jump in the number of voters who are on the permanent absentee voting list. After receiving permission from the state, LeBlanc did an outreach to voters over 60 asking if they wanted to be added to the permanent absentee voter list.

"Literally, 50 percent said yes. A lot of those people would have been voting absentee ballot anyway but they weren't on the permanent list," LeBlanc said. "That will change the character of the election. Absentee ballot return rates always exceeds 90 percent." Since LeBlanc became city clerk in January, the number of voters on the permanent absentee list has gone from about 4,600 to approximately 9,700. "The outreach was a phenomenal success. We did it at a minimum cost — we sent out a postcard," he said.

LeBlanc

Likely thanks to comments from Republican presidential candidate Donald Trump, LeBlanc said his office has a few requests from absentee voters to return their ballots for a do-over. "We've had a small handful of requests but the state is telling us other communities have had more requests. It was always a right and privilege but it really wasn't advertised."

Wayne City Clerk Matthew Miller expects a turnout in the 60-70 percent range. "I'm always high — I'm an optimist," said Miller, about his turnout projection. "We'll handle 7,800 voters in absentees and six precincts. That's 1,000 voters per precinct. People need to prepare to stand in line. We'll make it as easy as possible and move them through as expeditiously as possible."

There have been 1,731 absentee ballots returned in Wayne. "That's very high for a regular election, but not that high for a presidential election," Miller said.

REDFORD'S GRACE LUTHERAN CHURCH CELEBRATES 75 YEARS

David Veselenak

Grace Lutheran Church's location may still be the same as it was in 1941, but you wouldn't recognize the surrounding area from what it was at the beginning of World War II.

"At that time, Redford was really a farming community. Beech Road was gravel," said the Rev. Dr. Victor Halboth, an assistant pastor at the church who has been there for about 60 years. "And there were nothing but farms as you went from Beech Road to downtown Farmington."

Since September 1941, the church, at 25630 Grand River, east of Beech Daly in Redford Township, has remained a towering presence on the north side of the township. This weekend, it'll come together to celebrate 75 years in Redford with a celebration after Sunday services. It's believed to be Redford's first Lutheran church.

The church, which has roughly 1,000 members strung across Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Livingston counties, has built several structures on the property since its founding, including the sanctuary, which was completed in 1959.

Two worship services will take place Sunday, at 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m., with a catered luncheon afterward. The special speaker at both services will be the Rev. Dr. Dale Meyer, president of Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo.

For much of that time, the Halboth family has been at the helm of leading the parish: three generations have led the church since Victor Halboth's father came to Grace Lutheran in 1946.

"My grandfather came in 1946," said the Rev. Timothy Halboth, senior pastor at Grace Lutheran and Victor Halboth's son. "He was a chaplain in World War II."

Stability is key

While both Halboth's have been at Grace Lutheran for decades, there is still room for some new faces. The Rev. Zachary Marklevitz, who recently graduated from seminary, was called to the church about four months ago.

Being new to the parish, he noticed right away the church was a steady place to be.

Inspire Theatre stages 'Doublewide'

When faced with a problem, a wise person would attempt to find a reasonable solution. But not the residents of Tugalo, Texas, the location of Inspire Theatre's latest offering.

Directed by guest director Mike Cuba, "Doublewide, TX," takes a trip to the craziest li'l trailer park in all of Texas. Threatened with annexation, the residents mount an all-out attempt to stop the city manager and his cohorts from absorbing their tiny community into the tax-grubbing metropolis of Tugalo. Included in their strategy are plans for seduction, secession and a womanless beauty pageant. If not crazy enough, the antics take a strange turn when deceit and deception are discovered.

Written by the team of Jessie Jones, Nicholas Hope and Jamie Wooten, collectively known as JONES HOPE WOOTEN, these three enjoy the reputation of being some of the most popular and widely produced playwrights in the United States. They specialize in writing laugh-out-loud comedies. Because of their commitment to and support of local theaters across the nation, they've built a following with legions of loyal fans and have been dubbed "America's Playwrights."

This is Cuba's fourth time directing a Jones Hope Wooten play. Borrowed from his duties as technical director at Barefoot Productions in Plymouth, Cuba insists that this cast is making his chore a delight.

"They bring a level of talent and experience to the production that makes my job a breeze," added Cuba. "This play is a celebration of family, friendship, freedom," he said.

Producer Len Fisher thinks the cast might be having too much fun, but he is thrilled to have Cuba join the production team and hopes he will return regularly.

The cast hails from Westland and the surrounding communities of Canton, Novi, Dearborn, Livonia and Garden City. One cast member, Sharla Fasko, evens drives home to Ohio every night. Doublewide cast

Area Toys for Tots begins prep for season

hometownlife.com

With Halloween in the rear view mirror, that means Christmas isn't that far off. And with the season of giving starting, area Toys for Tots coordinators are ramping up their efforts.

The program has coordinators all across the region, and wants those in the local community to know who to contact if they're looking to donate or are in need of some assistance this holiday season.

Kim Felske, a regional coordinator with Toys for Tots, said the group wants to inform residents of who their area coordinator is to help assist them in making sure donations, collections and other information are going to the right person.

"We don't want people missed, (that) is our biggest concern," the Brownstown Township resident said. "We'd like the toys collected in their communities to stay in their communities."

Coordinators for certain parts of the area have changed. For those in Livonia, Wayne and Westland, residents and business owners can contact Naki Adams at 734-258-2083 or via email at nakiit4t@gmail.com. For those in Redford Township and Garden City, the point person is Phil Smith, who can be reached at 313-720-2754 or at psmithtoysfortots@gmail.com. For those living in Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Birmingham, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Novi, South Lyon or Milford, the contact person is Rebecca Yarbrough, who can be reached at 248-331-7433 or t4trebecca@aol.com.

These coordinators can be contacted if a family is in need of assistance this holiday season, if someone is looking to donate items or if a business wants to set up a donation box.

More information can be found at trenton-mi.toysfortots.org, novi-mi.toysfortots.org or detroit-mi.toysfortots.org

Felske said the organization still sees need all across the region. Some areas tend to be higher for donations than others, though she said the need across Metro Detroit hasn't gone down.

"What we haven't seen is the need going up. But that could be for many different reasons," she said. "We haven't seen a drop in need for many, many years."

Voters will be able to utilize a combination of older and new voting booths that allow people to be seated when completing their ballot.

"I predict my usual 100-percent turnout. I'm still hoping. Typically, we will have a 65-percent turnout in a presidential election," Garden City Clerk Allyson Bettis said. "I definitely want people to look at the sample ballot either online or in our office."

This election has a two-sided ballot with the biggest draw likely the presidential election.

There are no city elections this year but Wayne is moving city elections to even years to coincide with presidential and gubernatorial elections.

In Westland and Garden City, former State Sen. Glenn Anderson, D-Westland, is unopposed for a two-year term as Wayne County commissioner after being appointed to fill the year remaining on LeBlanc's term. Similarly, Al Haidous, D-Wayne, is unopposed in seeking a second term on the commission.

Seeking a third term in the state House 16th District, State Rep. Robert Kosowski, D-Westland, is facing Republican Matthew Morrow.

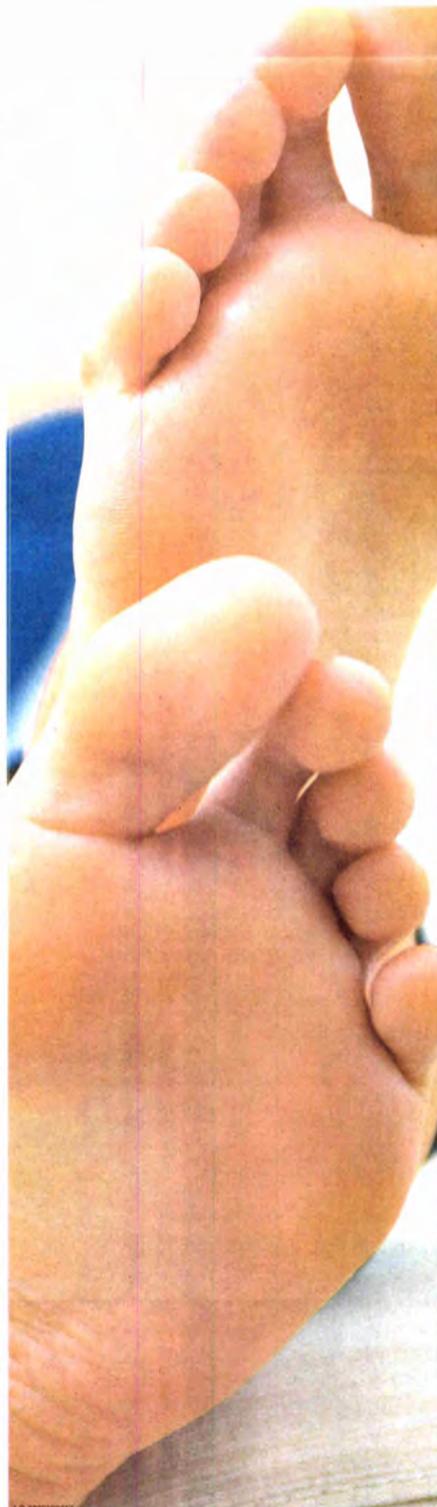

Westland and Garden City residents in the 11th State House District will vote twice — to fill a partial term replacing the late Julie Plawecki and secondly, to fill a two-year term. Lauren Plawecki is the Democratic candidate to fill the balance of her mother's term ending Jan. 1. Jewell Jones of Inkster is the Democratic candidate for the full term. Republican Robert Pope is running for both terms.

Wayne County voters are being asked to approve a Regional Education Enhancement millage to be distributed to local school districts by the Wayne County Regional Education Services Agency. The proposal asks approval of 2 mills to be levied for six years and generate approximately $80 million annually. That means a tax of $2 per $1,000 of taxable value.

Along with voters in Macomb, Oakland and Washtenaw counties, Wayne County voters are being asked to approve a regional transit authority including a 1.2-mill levy for 20 years. Aimed at funding a regional mass transit system, the proposal would cost $1.20 per $1,000 of taxable value.

CHURCH

"It's unique in the sense that there's already this stability within the church," the assistant pastor said. "A lot of my peers that receive their call would go into situations less stable."

That stability comes from parishioners desiring to remain at the church, who tend to remain with the church even after leaving the immediate Redford area. Timothy Halboth said one such example is a family who attended the church, moved to southern Ohio and eventually came back to the area, but lived in western Oakland County.

"They live in Milford, but they came back here," he said. "And I just confirmed their one daughter just last year." Timothy Halboth said the style of worship and approach to the Gospel is another reason the church has been successful over the years.

"We remain true to the word of God and are very traditional and conservative," he said. "And I think that's a big thing here, too."

Victor Halboth said being in Redford has been a blessing for the congregation. Many members are involved in activities across the township and the church is looking forward to many more years in the Redford community.

"You can have the beautiful church, but if you don't have the people, you don't have a church," he said. "And we have a lot of very active laypeople."

Get your holiday on with Garden City's Santaland Parade

The 2016 Downtown Garden City Santaland Parade is a month away, and this year's parade is shaping up to be one of the best ever, according to organizers.

The 2016 parade is set for 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 26, and begins at Garden City High School, travels south on Middlebelt, turns east on Ford Road and ends up at the Downtown Development Authority events area, just south of Kroger where the DDA will host a post-parade event. (Pending the progress of the construction of the high school parking lot, modifications may have to be made to how the parade is staged.)

The theme for this year's parade is "It's a Gingerbread Thing."

The Grand Marshal for this year's parade is Garden City native Nolan Finley, the editorial page editor for "The Detroit News." Finley has been the editorial page editor of the Detroit News since 2000. He joined "The Detroit News" staff as a copy boy in 1976 while he was still a student at Wayne State University. Finley navigated the positions of reporter, deputy managing editor, business editor, city editor and opinion leader to eventually become the editorial page editor.

Finley graduated from Garden City East High School in 1973 and spent much of his childhood in Garden City. He was inducted in the Michigan Journalism Hall of Fame in 2012.

Nolan is co-host of MI-Week which airs at on Detroit Public Television.

Returning are favorites like the Great Lakes Garrison of the 501st Legion, known as the world's most definitive Star Wars costuming club, Stan the Fireman, the Royal Arch Masons, the American Legion Riders, the GCHS Cougar Cheerleaders and the high school and middle school pompon squads, the Redford Lawnmower Brigade and the Harmony Acres Arabian Horses.

SHELBY MANN

About 11 pallets were donated to the Lumbee Tribe in North Carolina earlier this fall at Ward Church in Northville Township.

Drive for hurricane victims a success

hometownlife.com

The level of generosity of those who donated at Ward Church last month to support those affected by Hurricane Matthew blew away Shelby Mann's expectations.

The Livonia resident, along with other family members, helped organize a drive to benefit members of the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina last month. After the weekend drive, almost 11 full pallets were collected and shipped to help the tribe recover from the hurricane, which left the community decimated.

"We got a lot of water, a lot of baby clothes, a lot of canned goods and dry food, too," said Mann, who has family who live in Lumberton. "It was pretty amazing."

Over the span of three days in late October, the drive collected a wide array of items at Ward Church, 40000 W. Six Mile, in Northville Township. The donations were packed into a truck and delivered to the community Oct. 25.

Mann said the truck driver who delivered the goods from Michigan to North Carolina called after it arrived and said he was welcomed with open arms.

"He had called my dad and said it was probably one of the biggest donations collectively at the same time they've gotten," she said. "(He) had called and said, 'These are, like, the friendliest people you've ever met."

Clean water remains the biggest need for the community, which was affected after flooding took place from a nearby river during the storm. Mann said they were able to go to Costco and purchase several cases of water to ship down.

"I think we had at least two or three pallets of that," Mann said.

It's something that's still needed, as a boil water advisory was recently put back into place in the community.

The tribe is still accepting donations for relief efforts. To donate, go to lumbee.tribe.com.

Dive into history and uncover some Great Lakes treasure

hometownlife.com

Dan Harrison believes that as a people, we are always pushing the envelope.

As a maritime archaeologist, anthropologist, reference librarian and marine diver, he studies history found under water, shipwrecks and other semi-buried treasures that are a testimony to pushing too far.

"A shipwreck is a moment in time, when something went wrong," said Harrison, a Farmington Hills resident. "Every shipwreck is a failure of some kind — sometimes just a failure to know what the weather is like or where you're going or the failure of a ship to last forever. They get old, they leak and looking at failure gives me a sense of what humans are trying to do. We're always reaching and trying and pushing the envelope. Shipwrecks mark places where we pushed too far. It gives perspective on what we can do from examining our failures."

Harrison will share the results of three Great Lakes diving projects during "Under Your Keel: Researching the Great Lakes," at 7 p.m. Nov. 15, at the Novi Library, 45255 W. 10 Mile Road. The free program, in which Harrison uses a series of slides for visual effect, is part of the Kaleidoscope series presented by the Friends of the Novi Library.

The program has three segments to it, with Harrison diving first into his involvement with researching a 250-year-old cannon found in the Detroit River five years ago by police. The cannon, which originated in Great Britain, is the sixth cannon found in the Detroit River and offers a key perspective to the city's colonial past, Harrison noted, and the critical importance of Detroit to the French, British, Canadians and Native Americans.

"That is the job of archaeology, to look at the things we left behind, lost, broke and threw away and get them to tell their story," he said.

Harrison has dived in the ocean and loves the Caribbean for its wealth of marine life, including sharks and barracudas, but is quick to point out the advantage that the Great Lakes has over salt water — fresh water is much better at preserving what is left under the surface. A wealth of wreck, which remains a mystery as the name of the ship is unknown. Discovering its identity is a guessing game and part of the job of researchers is to sift through records matching wrecks without names to names without wrecks. Through old newspapers and insurance claims, Harrison may find a vessel that wrecked in an approximate location, but three or four others may have as well.

According to the Great Lakes Shipwreck Historical Society, there are roughly 6,000 shipwrecks in the Great Lakes, only 10 percent of which have been found.

Harrison has dived between 20-30 of these wrecks, most very well-known, some as a recreational diver.

"They are all wonderful, all so unique," he said. "Every wreck has a story to tell, each is a chapter in our history. If you take away a chapter, you lose the thread. The more information I can provide, the better sense we will have of our intimate connection in Michigan with our water. We are lake people and the more we appreciate the lakes, the more we can do to protect them. In turn, they will protect us."

For more information on "Under Your Keel: Researching the Great Lakes," go to www.novilibrary.org.

archaeological treasure exists in the Great Lakes, as well as other bodies of water in Michigan, that is in remarkably good shape.

In the second segment of his presentation, Harrison, currently working on his doctoral dissertation about the St. Clair River, will show and tell about shipwrecks found in the St. Clair Flats. This unique environment is what Harrison and his fellow research divers call "a wreck trap" and where he has studied 35 shipwrecks, with several to be displayed on slides.

"There are three dozen shipwrecks still there, some well-preserved, and we study them to try and tell the story of the 19th century, when Michigan was really booming with the building of big cities and the industrial revolution coming to the Great Lakes," he said.

During the final part of "Under Your Keel," Harrison will take the audience along with him on a dive via video of a Lake St. Clair ship-

Marching bands compete in Great Lakes Invitational

Diane Hanson
Correspondent

Autumn colors and smells delighted the senses Saturday, Oct. 29, but it was the unseasonably warm weather that added to the enjoyment of the hundreds that filled the Canton High School bleachers to watch 10 area bands take the gridiron with outstanding performances of music, marching, color and choreography.

The show opened with a performance by the Junior Color Guard, composed of sixth-, seventh- and eighth-graders from the Plymouth-Canton middle schools.

The bands, hosted by the Plymouth-Canton marching band — which played in a judged exhibition — and the P-C Boosters, performed their approximately 10-minute shows, developed over the season, to an appreciative crowd.

All four flights were represented — flights are determined by school enrollment, not by band size — with Flight I composed of the largest schools.

The Michigan Competing Band Association State Finals will be held Saturday, Nov. 5, at Ford Field.

Great Lakes Invitational scores included:

Flight I: L'Anse Creuse, 93.2, first with Caption Awards for Outstanding Music and Outstanding General Effect; Novi, 92.825, second with a Caption Award for Outstanding Visual Performance; Clarkston, 90.9, third; Plymouth Canton, 95.425, Judged Exhibition.

Flight II: South Lyon, 90.525, first with Caption Awards for Outstanding Music, Visual and General Effect; Livonia Franklin, 87.3, second, Wyandotte Roosevelt, 87.175, third.

Flight III: South Lyon

The Livonia Franklin High School marching band put on a great show at the Great Lakes Invitational. The 63-member band, under the direction of Kristi Jasin, earned a Flight II second-place trophy with a score of 87.3 for its performance of "The Potion."

The Junior Guard, composed of students from the Plymouth-Canton middle schools, opened the Great Lakes Invitational.

East, 88.075, first with Caption Awards for Outstanding Music, Visual and General Effect; Hazel Park, 85.55, second.

Flight IV: Ferndale, 90.175, first with Caption Awards for Outstanding Music, Visual and General Effect.

The 176-member Plymouth-Canton Educational Park marching band, directed by G. Jonathan Thomann and Clayton Wachholz, performed its challenging and innovative program "Tangled In Greed" on its hometown field.

LETTERS TO THE WAYNE COUNTY EDITOR

Rev. Skimins retires after 22 years

On Sept. 3, 2000, Rev. Skimins delivered a sermon titled, "Being an Authentic Christian," at the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth. I still have a hard copy of that sermon. For the past 22 years, Dr. James Skimins has exemplified what it means to be an "Authentic Christian."

In the message that morning, Dr. Skimins expressed the idea that it is a pity that we don't preach more often from the Book of James because it is aimed at the 21st century. The Book of James talks about doing the work of God by trying to live honestly and faithfully.

To quote Jim Skimins, "Oftentimes, in life, we can look at the disconnect between what's in our head and what we do and we wonder how to reconnect it together."

The Book of James begins to point us in a direction of how we can become authentic in our Christian living. Not perfect — but authentic.

We live in extraordinary times and are surrounded by major shifts in technology and our economy. The sheer rapidity of change, and the uncertainty that it brings, is real.

Rev. Skimins has repeatedly offered sermons based on a verse from 2nd Timothy: "For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Sunday, Nov. 6, is the last scheduled worship service for Rev. Skimins, and it is quite appropriate, for this Scotsman, that it is St. Andrews Sunday. Our community has been very blessed with the moral example of Rev. Skimins for the last 22 years. Jim Skimins has lived by the words of John Wesley, "Do all the good you can, by all the means you can, in all the ways you can, in all the places you can, at all the times you can, to all the people you can, for as long as ever you can."

Thank you, Jim. You did a great job!

Support Wayne RESA tax

Dear parents of Plymouth-Canton schools, I would like to thank you. So many of you have put in a tremendous effort to seeing the Wayne RESA Enhancement Millage pass. From putting up lawn signs, to organizing others to get lawn signs, or making posts about it, you have shown your support. Please know how appreciative all of the Plymouth-Canton teachers are to see our community rally behind this cause. The following letter is to those of you who are undecided or planning to vote no for the millage.

My name is Luke Haddad and I am a social studies teacher at Discovery Middle School. I have taught in our district for five years both at Discovery and Starkweather Academy. I am also a proud graduate of Salem High School, and went to Field, Miller, East and then Salem, respectively. My 16-month-old daughter, in a short few years, will be gracing the halls of Hohen as a Hornet.

I love our schools and I love this community. That is why I am asking you to vote yes for the millage. I know the reasons you are not. No one likes an increase in taxes and not every dollar you put in will go back to Plymouth-Canton schools. I understand, and if there was a different way, I'd be all for it. Unfortunately, there isn't.

There are two indisputable facts:

1. Plymouth-Canton Schools is underfunded. We currently get $7,511 per pupil (tied for the lowest in the state of Michigan) when the Michigan Education Finance Study found that for a school to be just adequately funded, they need $8,667 per pupil. We are short by $1,100. With a population of 17,500 students, we are $19.25 million per year behind where we need to be according to the finance study.

2. This is the only way Plymouth-Canton Schools can improve their per pupil allowance under Proposal A which passed in 1994. During that time, we were given 12 months to pass a millage to increase our funding but it was shot down at the time — twice. We are now paying for that decision. Ironically enough, in 1994, I was a second-grader at Field Elementary in Mrs. Bradley's portable, we could have really used the funding to be in a real classroom.

I hope that one day Proposal A is repealed, or at least reformed, which would allow for local millages to take place. I hope that one day Plymouth-Canton Schools has local control of funding, the way it should be. That is why next week, I will be voting a pro-public education ballot across the board. However, in the meantime, the immediate thing as a community that we can do is vote yes on this millage. Vote yes on Plymouth-Canton Schools. If there was anything in life to invest in, it is our future.

On behalf of Plymouth-Canton teachers,
Luke Haddad

Pobur supports voting reforms

Democracy works best when all citizens have a say in the policies that govern us. Young people, however, often have busy schedules that leave them unsure of where they are going to be on election day. In an increasingly hectic world, Michigan's current election laws don't accommodate the busy lifestyles of students and workers. Unlike other states, Michigan doesn't have no-reason absentee voting or early voting, both of which would make voting much more accessible.

Of the candidates for Michigan's 20th House District, Colleen Pobur supports these reasonable reforms to our voting system. These reforms are state-level policies, and we need a representative in Lansing who will lobby for them. Our representatives should be in the business of making voting easier, not harder.

Pray and vote

I had the pleasure of attending Franklin Graham's Decision America Rally in Lansing on the steps of our Capitol on Oct. 4. It was a truly great and epic event. (Please view <https://decisionamericatour.com/a-time-for-decision/>). Billy and Franklin Graham implore us all to do our civic and heavenly duty. The choice is yours.

Please pray and ask yourself what God would ask you to do. I think the choice is clear. There is one party that supports life and religious freedom. The other party does not. This is not about two personalities, but rather what policies will accompany the winner of the election. Franklin Graham tells us, "Check their stance on pivotal moral issues and vote for those who best reflect Biblical values."

He also reminds us that the next president likely will have a huge impact on the Supreme Court as three of eight current justices are 77 years old or older.
Franklin Graham

quotes Samuel Adams, one of the original signers of the Declaration of Independence, when he said "Let each citizen remember, at the moment he is offering his vote, that he is not making a present or a compliment to please an individual — or at least that he ought not so to do, but he is executing one of the most solemn trusts in human society, for which he is accountable to God and his Country."

Franklin tells us that "This is the most important election of our lifetime!"

I agree. I humbly ask you to do two things: pray and vote.

Bring productive change

The Van Buren school board campaign is about voting for new people who want to bring about productive change. We are four concerned residents of the township, who are each running for a position on the school board. We met when we entered into the race and decided immediately that we shared similar core beliefs and knew we could do great things together for the students, administration and our community.

We have a vision to engage, educate and empower every student to succeed and become a contributing member of society; allow teachers the freedom to apply their own creativity within the appropriate structural boundaries to enable them to teach our students; and ensure the district maintains the highest standards and strives for the highest level of achievement through sound policy and fiscal responsibility;

A good school system is the most important contributing factor to any community. We are prepared to represent our community and make the type of changes needed to ensure we have the best to offer our students and our teachers. We would be honored to serve on this board and ask you to vote for productive change by voting for Victor De Libera, Susan K. Featheringill, Darlene Loyer Gerick and Simone Pinter.

Susan K. Featheringill

RESA tax unfair

The RESA tax increase is unfair to Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district taxpayers. A total of $10,500,000 would be collected from P-CCS taxpayers and put into the pool to be re-distributed to Wayne County school districts. When re-distributed, $6,700,000 would come back to P-CCS and $3,800,000 would be re-distributed to the other 32 districts in Wayne County.

The $6.7 million to P-CCS is 64 percent of the total. This adds to the already disproportionate amount P-CCS taxpayers already pay to the state versus what the district receives back from the state.

P-CCS district taxpayers send $30-plus million in school property taxes and approximately $61 million in sales tax for a total of approximately $91 million to the state and we get back from the state $71 million in per-pupil foundation aid or approximately $20 million less than we pay. The RESA tax increase compounds the problem of the taxpayers paying more than we receive. The solution should be to fix the way the tax dollars are distributed, not just increase taxes.

Music makes singer forget about her pain

Sharon Dargay
hometownlife.com

Jennifer Kincer is "very picky" about the singers she mentors. When she met Ali McManus five years ago, Kincer didn't think twice about coaching the 19-year-old Bloomfield Hills woman.

"I think it's one of those things where I saw something special in her. There has to be a balance of passion, talent, kindness and a willingness to serve the community. She seemed to encompass all of those things," Kincer said.

"Ali is always willing to perform as much as she can. She has drive and passion. Her voice is unique. It has a unique tone and timbre. Her songwriting is genuine, real, and from the heart."

That McManus can sing at all is something of a miracle.

The spunky Oakland University freshman sings and breathes with 30 percent lung capacity. The voice work helps strengthen her lung muscles, although McManus occasionally runs out of air on long notes and lengthy warm-ups.

When McManus was 13, her spine bent to a curvature of 146 degrees, crushing her lungs and stomach. The severe case of scoliosis diminished her long-term lung function and hindered her ability to eat at the time.

"When you start getting scoliosis, you need to act on it when it's at 15 degrees. But with mine, my bones are weak, so they (doctors) were always like, we can't touch her," McManus explained. "I lost 20 pounds in a month because I could only eat a clementine a day. I had no neck whatsoever and my shoulder blade was to my hip. The main problem was within a year I would have stopped breathing."

Ali McManus tones her guitar in her dorm.

JUNFU HAN | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Health challenges

The daughter of Julie and Mark McManus of Bloomfield Hills, McManus had a rough start in life, being born premature with a 50-50 chance of survival. During her childhood she had 10 surgeries, including a neck surgery that required her to wear a halo vest afterward, and hip surgery that led to a body cast for 67 days at age 9.

At 13, with lung capacity at 19 percent, McManus had no choice but to undergo spinal fusion surgery that would insert steel rods into her back and neck to fuse and straighten her spine. The 12-hour surgery took place at Shriner's Hospital in St. Louis, Mo., where McManus had previously been seen for her fragile bones and scoliosis. The spinal fusion operation, and the halo traction that followed, meant McManus would live at the hospital for nine months.

"I made the best of it... but I was being pulled up by my head with 40 pounds 24/7," she said, describing the traction. "My back isn't perfect but it is amazing compared to what it was. I grew seven inches in those nine months. I got a neck, which I love. It's short but I can wear scarves now and necklaces."

She entertained other patients at the hospital and earned the title "Patient Ambassador." As a child, McManus had discovered music helped take her mind off her pain. She learned to play piano, sang in the school choir, penned songs at age 11 and took up the guitar two years ago. The instrument was challenging because she can't bend her neck to watch her fingers play chords.

"I had to mentally picture my hands on the strings," she said. "If Stevie Wonder can play blind, I can play guitar."

She took that same confident attitude with her to a singer-songwriter camp at Interlochen two years ago. The experience proved to herself and others that she could live on her own. She graduated from Bloomfield Hills High School in June and began taking communications, writing and a music class at OU this fall.

100 shows

McManus zips around campus in her wheelchair, which she considers temporary. She's waiting for technology to improve and assurances that her bones won't shatter if she undergoes needed hip surgery. Off-campus she stays busy with live performances and studio work. She has recorded two of four songs for an EP that she hopes to release next year.

"Her first recital for me was at the Royal Park Hotel, (in Rochester), Kincer said." Since then she has done about 100 performances."

McManus sang at Arts, Beats, and Eats this year, and shared the stage a few years ago with Chad Smith of the Red Hot Chili Peppers. Her most meaningful shows are for patients at Children's Hospital of Michigan and at Children's Miracle Network events.

"I sing and speak about how important it is for music therapy to be in a patient's life. Music healed me and it really did save my life. Music is how I stayed sane and positive. Music is my three minutes of no pain."

McManus will participate in the For Kids Radiothon! Thursday, Nov. 17, which will be broadcast live from Beaumont Children's Hospital on 96.3 WDVV. Visit her website at alimcmanus.com.

Life is golden for retriever who 'works' at Liblang Law Firm

hometownlife.com

Bart Liblang has his own Facebook page, a cushy bed at work and a pretty sweet job.

He's the official greeter at Liblang Law Firm in downtown Birmingham. When the elevator doors open to the second floor at 346 Park, the 10-year-old golden retriever welcomes clients with a wag of his tail, a broad grin and occasionally a favorite toy.

"He's such a people-oriented dog," said owner Dani Liblang, who took him to the Sportsman's Dog Training Club as a puppy. "I took him all the way through Canine Good Citizen (class), so he knows how to behave in an office. He's a pretty good boy. But also, I'm fortunate enough to work with a bunch of dog lovers. He has it made. Everybody pitches in if I'm out for the day, if he needs to go out, if he needs more water.

"I have a client that bakes homemade treats for him and sends him his own tin of treats every Christmas," she added. "The Fed Ex people bring him treats. The postal lady brings him treats. He has a pretty good life here."

Liblang created a dog-friendly environment when she moved into the Park Street building in 2008. She established her practice in 1982, a year after graduating from the University of Detroit Law School, and specializes in consumer law, with an emphasis on lemon law and auto fraud. Bart has been the office greeter since he was 2. She took Bart's predecessor, Jillian, who also was a golden retriever, to work with her on weekends and after business hours when the firm was located in an office building.

Office therapist

"I think bringing a dog to work is really wonderful. I know I enjoy it and he really loves it," she said. "Since the law is such a stressful business, I think he does add a dimension of calmness. He's definitely our resident therapist and stress reliever. And for clients, we also do personal injury and I've had some catastrophically-injured clients. When they come in for depositions or even when they have to tell their story and have to relive the story enough to tell it to us, it's very traumatic.

"I think one of the things Bart does is he seems to know when people need comfort and I've actually seen him rest his head gently or sit gently by someone's wheelchair and comfort them. And I've seen people be able to really relax and feel stronger when dealing with depositions. Because that is tough when you have the opposing side grilling you, but then you have a nice big dog there."

She has taken Bart to visit at Munson Medical Center in Traverse City and hopes to have him certified as a therapy dog. She also took Jillian to visit patients at a hospital in Grand Rapids.

Liblang has been an animal lover since she was a youngster. She grew up in Waterford with her parents and three siblings and rescued "everything," including orphaned bunnies, squirrels and even birds that had fallen from their nests.

"We went from one extreme to another. We had a great Dane for a little while and we had a little Yorkshire terrier," she said. "But I've always gravitated toward big dogs, like Bart."

When she and her husband Eric, who's also an attorney, moved from a condo into a house in Birmingham, the couple brought Jillian into their new home.

"She was the prettiest golden I'd ever seen," Liblang said. "Just the best dog. I was heartbroken when I lost her. She lived to be 16."

She was so heartbroken that her staff pitched in and bought her Bart for Christmas. Now she's considering dog adoption. She noted that October is National Dog Adoption Month and encourages dog lovers to adopt pets, foster dogs, volunteer at shelters and donate to rescues.

"I'm trying to talk my husband into adopting another dog to keep Bart company," she said. "One of the reasons I like golden retrievers — but I love all dogs — is they are so good as therapy dogs. And their temperament is perfectly suited to be an office dog. But there are many other breeds that are just as well-suited. And there are many (mixed breed) dogs that are very well-suited and have great personalities."

In the meantime, Bart has most of the office canine amenities to himself, although office manager Eileen Wheeler brings her dog Willow to the office nearly every day, too. Willow mostly stays in Wheeler's office, which is outfitted with a dog bed, a crate and other canine items.

"Bart likes Willow. Willow is pretty standoffish to Bart," Liblang said, with a laugh.

His territory

His food and water bowls are kept on the floor in the office kitchen. His toy box and bed are in Liblang's office, near her desk, which is decorated with his photos and a sign, "Live, Laugh, Bark." In the winter, Bart likes to stretch out in front of the fireplace in the room.

Liblang has been tapped a few times to work on cases involving dogs, even though it's not her specialty.

"I'm such a dog person that probably everyone who meets me hears about dogs. I'm sure that's how I got the calls in the first place," she said. "I do think the law should recognize that most pets aren't just property, that they are members of people's families and, that when bad things happen to pets, that can be devastating to the family."

Recognizing that some clients may be afraid of dogs or may be allergic to fur, she posted a sign inside the elevator at her office, advising them to call before they walk into her office suite.

She can think of only one time Bart exhibited "bad dog" behavior at work. He swiped a sandwich from a court reporter's purse during a deposition. When he was caught, the sandwich was still in one piece, but an office staffer photographed him wearing a "dog shaming" sign and posted it on Facebook.

"We had actually been hoping he had stolen it from the defense counsel because we like the court reporter," she said. "The court reporter liked him so much that she actually wanted to trade treats with him. He's a good dog."

Fallen Muslim Marine recruit to be honored

The Michigan Muslim Community Council will be honoring the sacrifice of U.S. Marine recruit Raheel Siddiqui at the 30th annual Michigan Muslim Unity Banquet at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at Burton Manor in Livonia.

His parents emigrated from Pakistan more than 25 years ago and he grew up in Taylor. He was valedictorian at Truman High School and went on to study at the University of Michigan-Dearborn, working part time at Home Depot. He dreamed of serving his country and, despite his mother's fears, he enlisted in the Marines. He spent a year preparing for his enlistment in the Marines by learning swimming, long distance running and getting himself in good physical shape. He started basic training for the U.S. Marines in March 2016 at Parris Island, S.C.

Unfortunately, within two weeks of starting his training, Siddiqui was killed after falling from a third-floor stairwell. The circumstances of the death are under investigation, but 20 Marine officials currently face disciplinary measures directly due to the tragic death. U.S. Rep. Debbie Dingell, D-Dearborn, has played a critical role in ensuring justice will be done. Siddiqui is survived by his parents and sister.

"Raheel Siddiqui and his family made the ultimate sacrifice for their country and we are proud to call him an amazing Michigan Muslim. They are an example of how immigrants and new Americans embrace their country and make America great," executive director Imam Mohamed Almasmari said.

The 30th annual banquet brings together the diverse Michigan Muslim community and its friends to celebrate the achievements and success throughout the year.

Pantry gets help feeding families

A Canton-based food pantry that feeds hundreds of families across western Wayne County is getting a boost as it heads toward the Thanksgiving holiday.

Open Door Ministry, which feeds about 430 struggling families every week, has been chosen for a food drive by Bayloff Stamped Products, a Belleville-based auto parts stamping plant, and Texas Roadhouse restaurant in Westland.

Adrienne Erwine, Bayloff administrative assistant, said it's important for those who have jobs and food to help those who don't.

"We recognize that we are very blessed," Erwine said. "We have jobs. We don't have to worry about providing for our families. We also have the capability to give back to our community."

City, Belleville and others as far west as Ypsilanti and as far east as Inkster.

The latest food drive occurs 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 19, at Texas Roadhouse on Ford Road, east of Newburgh, in Westland. Erwine said items such as cereal, canned goods and "anything that has a long shelf life" may be dropped off at the restaurant. Donors who give five or more items will be entered into a drawing for two main floor, general admission tickets to country singer Kip Moore's concert Dec. 8 at

The Fillmore in Detroit. Everyone who donates will get a $5 coupon for Texas Roadhouse.

Steve Darr, Open Door Ministry director, said the organization depends on the help of the community. He said businesses, scouting organizations, school groups and many others pitch in.

"It just blesses my heart to see all these organizations come out to help us or donate money," he said. "We do depend very much on all the donations we get."

Open Door has distributed about 900,000 pounds of food so far this year, compared to 1.1 million pounds for all of last year. It gets much of its food from Forgotten Harvest and Gleaners Community Food Bank, but it also relies on help from local groups.

Open Door is in its 14th year. During that time, it has touched the lives of 6,500 families and more than 20,000 people within its service area.

Rash of catalytic converter thefts reported in Livonia

hometownlife.com

Livonia police are warning residents to be on the lookout after several vehicles had their catalytic converters stolen this past week.

At least four reports of stolen catalytic converters were made with police Thursday. Two occurred in the 28600 block of Buckingham.

Police were patrolling the neighborhood in that area Thursday morning on a possibility of stolen catalytic converters. An officer spoke to a resident in the area who was out and asked if he could check his vehicle to see if anything had been stolen.

When the officer checked, he reportedly found the catalytic converter stolen out of the vehicle, which was parked on the south side of the street.

Later that evening, a resident who lives in the same block came into the police station to report his catalytic converter stolen off of his vehicle. He said he parked his vehicle outside of his home the night before. When he came out the next morning, he discovered the catalytic converter missing.

Another incident was reported Thursday afternoon, this time in the 14800 block of Arcola. A resident came into the police station to report her catalytic converter stolen sometime overnight. She said she went to start her car that morning and then discovered it was missing. She said her mother heard a loud noise around midnight the night before, but didn't see anything when she looked out the window.

One last theft was reported to police Thursday morning that took place in the 30000 block of Grandon. The resident there shared a similar story to the others: after starting her car that morning, she thought she had problems with her muffler. She took it right to a repair shop and they informed her her catalytic converter had been taken.

She said she believed it may have been taken sometime between 11:10 p.m. the night before and 6 a.m. that morning, as that's when her sensor light on the garage had been unscrewed and disabled. She said the light was working properly around 11 p.m. the night before.

No suspect information in any of these cases was available. Anyone with information is encouraged to contact Livonia police at 734-466-2470.

PREP VOLLEYBALL

Churchill can't be doused in district

Brad Emmons
hometownlife.com

A school fire alarm accidentally went off in the middle of the third set during Thursday's Class A volleyball district final at Livonia Stevenson, causing a five-minute delay.

But no need for an evacuation or practice drill as Livonia Churchill had already caused smoke inhalation for the host Spartans after taking the first two sets while leading 14-7 in the third before going on to post a convincing 25-10, 25-17, 25-11 victory.

The alarm went off at 7 p.m., exactly one hour into the match.

"The fire drill was kind of an interesting deal," said Churchill coach Mark Grenier, whose team improved to 33-13-2. "What I thought could have been a little bit of a momentum switch

Bedford's triple-option QB sinks Patriots

Brad Emmons
hometownlife.com

Taking a page out of the U.S. Naval Academy's famous triple-option attack, Temperance Bedford used Joey Wiemer as its main torpedo.

The 6-foot-4, 200-pound senior quarterback cruised through and around Livonia Franklin's defense all night long, accounting for 306 yards total offense Friday as the host Kicking Mules captured the MHSAA Division 2 district title with a 39-22 victory.

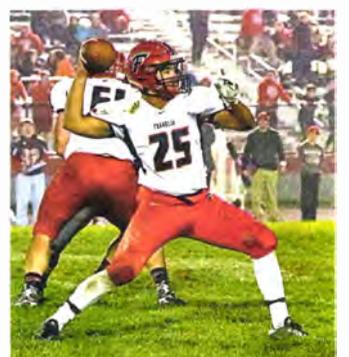

"That's normal, he's a freak of nature, he just plays hard," Bedford coach Jeff Wood said of his senior QB. "He read the option better than he has all year. He pitched the ball on the option, which created bigger plays because (Franklin) widened the outside (line) backers, which gave him the lane. We ran four different option plays tonight and he was just like the conductor of the orchestra. He just did a great job."

The Patriots, who made a run all the way to the Division 2 state semifinals last year, ended their season with a 7-4 record.

And Wiemer, who rushed for 203 yards on 32 carries while going 4-of-4 passing for another 103 yards, was the one most instrumental in Franklin's second-round exit.

"The kid (Wiemer) is a phenomenal player and they had that offense down pretty well," Franklin coach Chris Kelbert said. "When you try to do something, they know how to attack you. With the quarterback as good as he is, that makes things very difficult. The hard part was their in-game switches and stuff that they would counteract what we were doing. It's hard to prepare for a kid who doesn't get tackled unless you've got

Rough second half dooms Panthers in district final

Mike Rosenbaum
Correspondent

Redford Union, a team that few predicted would make this year's state playoffs - let alone earn a tournament victory - had realistic hopes of pulling off another surprise Friday against Dearborn Divine Child. A series of plays late in the third quarter and early in the fourth ended those dreams, as the host Falcons broke through for a 31-7 victory in a Division 3 district final.

The Panthers trailed just 17-7 midway through the third quarter, when the momentum seemed to briefly turn their way. Divine Child had reached the Redford 36, but on third-and-10, Blake Hartsfield burst through and sacked Falcons quarterback Theo Day for a 7-yard loss. Then, after taking possession at the 24 following a punt, Thorton Cain swept left for what appeared to be a 45-yard gain. But the play was called back for a holding penalty, leading to a three-and-out and an RU punt.

The game then took a nasty turn on the punt return, when the Panthers' Talil Groves absorbed a big hit. Although the officials ruled it legal, several Panthers took exception to the block, which was behind the play. Quarterback Carl Ware charged at the Divine Child bench, followed by some teammates. Order was quickly restored, but after a flurry of personal foul and unsportsmanlike penalties were sorted out, the Falcons had possession at the RU 40, having gained an extra 15-yard penalty. Even worse, Ware had been ejected from the contest.

Panthers coach Miles Tomasaitis said he "didn't totally agree" with all the officials' rulings on the play, but noted

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Rice wins regional; Seaholm places second

Marty Budner

Brother Rice and Seaholm dominated the Division 1 boys cross country regional Oct. 29 at Metro Beach Metropark.

The Warriors and Maples both had three runners among the top 10 in the 138-person, 20-team field to finish first and second overall.

Brother Rice won the regional title — its first since 2009 — with 48 points. Seaholm was just 14 points back, with 62 points. Grosse Pointe North was a distant third with 130 points, followed by Royal Oak (155), Fraser (171) and Bloomfield Hills (183) to round out the top six.

The top three teams are now headed to the state championship meet, scheduled for Saturday at the MIS Speedway in Brooklyn. Action in the four divisions begins at 10 a.m., with the Division 1 boys race set for 2 p.m.

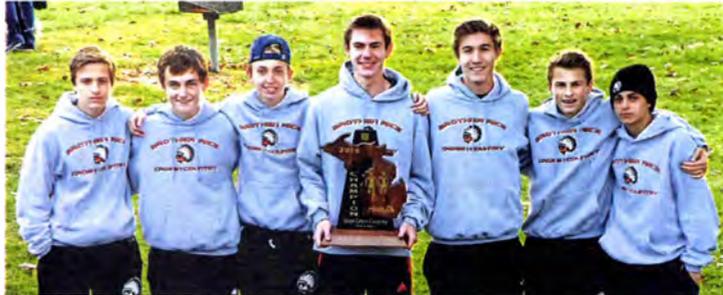

"It was a great accomplishment for us," Brother Rice veteran head coach Bob Stark said about winning his first regional in seven years. "We ran very well, probably the best team effort we've had all year."

"I know Birmingham Seaholm is a strong team and well-coached and we were glad to get first place ahead of them," he added. "I think we have a talented group of runners."

The Warriors were led by junior Mike Tremonti, who placed fifth overall in a time of 16:13. Sophomores Alec Miracle placed seventh in 16:16 and Kevan O'Brien took 10th in 16:21.

Rice's other scoring runners were junior Grant Davey, 12th in 16:25, and senior Kyle Chisholm, 14th in 16:36.

Sophomore Jacob Hannawa (36th in 17:05) and sophomore Cole Gellatly (67th in 17:47.50) also raced for Brother Rice.

Seaholm runner-up again

Seaholm, with four runners returning from last year's squad that also finished as regional runner-up, earned its second straight state-qualifying berth.

Seniors Luke Wallace and Ben Williams were second and third overall, respectively, while sophomore George Nummer took fourth.

"We finished second because we have great leaders in our top two runners, Luke Wallace and Ben Williams," said Seaholm head coach Dave Hamway, whose team has now advanced to the state meet in three of the past four years. "These boys have done a great job staying focused, running well and guiding this team throughout the season."

Wallace, who earlier this season set a school record with a time of 15:38.3 in winning the Benzie Central Invitational, was second overall in 15:46. Williams was right behind at 16:04 and Nummer was fourth in 16:11.0 to set a new personal-best time by 28 seconds.

"George ran a smart tactical race and moved up nicely through the front pack to finish fourth," Hamway said.

Seaholm's two other scorers were sophomore Jacob Sayers, 21st in 16:52.0, and senior David Seago, 32nd in 17:01.0. Juniors Calum Walton (55th in 17:30) and Basheer Mossallam (60th in 17:41) were the other Maples participants.

The Maples placed 10th overall at last year's Division 1 state meet. Hamway hopes for another top 10 finish this year.

"I think we have a solid front three that can run with any of the top teams in the state," Hamway said. "So if our fourth and fifth runners, Jake Sayers and David Seago, have a quality race at the state meet, we'll finish well."

Bloomfield Hills was led by senior

Finnley MacKillop, who placed 20th with a time of 16:51. The other Black Hawks scorers were Damian Jankowski (27th), Ben Kaufman (35th), Noah Kellman (49th) and Jacob King (52).

Birmingham Groves senior Alexander Ross was eighth overall in 16:19 and qualified for the state meet.

DIVISION 2: Detroit Country Day and Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Kingswood finished in the lower end of the field at the regional Oct. 29 at Metro Beach Metropark.

The top three state qualifying squads were Pontiac Notre Dame Prep (65), Linden (78) and Lake Fenton (88). Detroit Country Day was 10th with 290 points and Cranbrook Kingswood 12th with 373.

DCD's top two runners were seniors Rahul Khambete (45th in 19:00.40) and Revanth Manam (52nd in 19:22.50). CK's top two runners were junior Tristan Sirls (65th in 20:38.40) and senior Qingyi Wang (71st in 21:45.10).

really didn't turn out. We came of that and ended up scoring on their serve receive ball. Not like the (Cleveland) Indians (weather delay in the World Series)."

Churchill, which gave Grenier his 12th district crown, moves into the regional semifinals beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, at Garden City, where they will face the winner of the Detroit Renaissance district.

Churchill had beaten Stevenson (8-24-8) earlier this season in an invitational, but wasn't about to take the Spartans lightly in the rematch.

"We knew it was going to be a good match and everything," said Churchill senior outside hitter Samantha Zonca, who finished with a team-best 11 kills. "We saw them at the Northville tournament and we had a good match there, so we knew it was going to be a good match tonight."

Stevenson, however, was on its heels defensively for most of the night as the Chargers got contributions all across the board, led by senior setter Megan Gendjar, who finished with 33 assist-to-kills.

Also providing offense was senior Anne Yost (eight kills, four aces, two solo blocks), freshman Sarah Dunn (seven kills) and sophomore Summer Clark (six kills), a recent call-up from the JV squad.

"Whenever you play your crosstown rival, it's always a great match and Stevenson was a wonderful opponent," Grenier said. "We played great as a team. Everybody contributes and that's really what we do. And what we do well is everybody does their share and it doesn't matter who gets it done."

On the defensive end, senior libero and Madonna University commit Alysa Facione led the way with 19 digs. Senior Madison Mirabuter and freshman Jessica Maladecki added 10 and seven, respectively.

And like many of Grenier's past teams, the Chargers like to hang their hat on defense.

"His famous saying is, 'ferocious defense,'" Zonca said. "He loves the defense. If we're getting the balls up off the floor and we're always on the floor,

The Churchill volleyball team won the Class A district title Thursday with a three-set win at Stevenson.

he's happy."

Stevenson opened district play Oct. 31 with a five-set win over Livonia Franklin before eliminating Redford Thurston in Wednesday's semifinal, 25-10, 25-10, 25-7 as senior Beth Scuphalm led the way with 10 kills.

Junior Julia Bice served eight of Stevenson's 13 aces, while senior Lexi Jenkins had a team-high 23 kills.

But the Spartans struggled on the offensive end against the Chargers in the final.

"He's got some big, strong girls across the front line and we were trying to run in a certain type of defense and we got a lot of balls up, but not where we needed them to be," Stevenson first-year coach Julian Wargo said. "I got to take my hat off to Mark's team."

Junior Claire Beaudoin was Stevenson's top attacker against the Chargers with six kills, while juniors Mallory Vensko, Audrey Lackey and Emilie Wassermann, along with senior Mallory Vensko, each added three. Setter Emily Ehrheart finished with 12 assist-to-kills.

Jenkins finished with a team-best eight digs, while Lackey added six.

Throughout the season, Stevenson was a work in progress under Wargo, who has also been head coach at Westland John Glenn, West Bloomfield and Dearborn Divine Child.

"First of all, they're a great bunch of kids," Wargo said. "I had five fantastic seniors who showed me a lot of leadership and a lot of acceptance. For a lot of these kids, I'm their fourth coach in four years. And just to be embraced by the team they way they did and the parents ... and we really worked hard and we improved from the beginning."

"I tried to borrow a lot of Jim Harbaugh and I know it sounds like a cliché, but 'better today than yesterday, better tomorrow than today.' We worked a lot on composure and confidence. And I don't think we lost our composure today. I'm very proud of the girls in terms of that. We really battled hard today."

Churchill disposed of John Glenn in the other district semifinal Wednesday, 25-9, 25-15, 25-15, led by Annabelle Dunn (12 kills), Gendjar (30 assists, seven digs), Facione (19 digs) and Yost (10 kills, three blocks).

The Chargers hope to catch fire again and make another deep run in the state tournament.

"You got to compete, you've got to play well, but I like our chances," Grenier said. "We were a final four team last year and this primarily represents the same team minus one kid. They have a little moxie and, if a little luck goes our way, we'll be successful."

The Chargers lost only one senior starter, all-stater Rayna Yetts, off last year's Class A semifinal team that took Romeo to five sets.

"Our team has this chemistry, honestly, that can't be broken," Zonca said. "That's the thing that has kept us going. Rayna was a great player, but we have all these players that have stepped up this year."

Moss retires content after NHL career

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

After playing 12 professional seasons, including nine in the National Hockey League, Dave Moss quietly turned in his retirement papers to the NHL last month.

"I wasn't good enough to hold a press conference," joked the 34-year-old Moss, who played 501 NHL games that included six seasons with the Calgary Flames and his final three with the Arizona Coyotes.

Moss

The Livonia native and Detroit Catholic Central High grad now is transitioning into a new life outside of hockey as he embarks on a sales training position with Dell Technologies.

Now residing in South Lyon with his wife Erinn, a former "Survivor: Tocantins" contestant, along with two infant sons — Hank, 15 months, and Owen, 3 weeks old — Moss leaves the game feeling content.

When word trickled out that Moss was calling it quits, he received a ton of emails and calls from his friends and past coaches.

Moving forward

"All those people and I said, 'God, that's what I'm going to miss,'" said Moss, who scored a total of 78 goals while adding 100 assists during his NHL career. "The relationships that you build from the sport of hockey, you're not going to have anymore going forward. And that's the thing that I'm going to miss."

The 6-foot-2, 210-pound forward suffered his fair share of injuries during his nine-year NHL career. He missed time due shoulder, head, leg and ankle issues.

"It's noticeable," Moss said. "You don't think about it too much until you get older. I'll be 35 in a month. I think now I notice it more. When I'm playing with my kids, I'll be rolling around the floor, I'll get up and my knees will lock up and my ankle that I had surgery on ... it takes me a while to get going."

After graduating from CC, Moss played junior for the Cedar Rapids RoughRiders of the USHL before signing with the University of Michigan, where he racked up 93 points, including 36 goals, in four seasons (2001-05).

In the 2001 NHL Entry Draft, Moss was selected in the seventh round (222nd overall) by the Flames before being assigned to play for the Omaha Ak-Sar-Ben Knights of the American Hockey League, where he led all rookies during the 2005-06 season with 21 goals and 27 assists.

NHL arrival

On Dec. 19, 2006, the Flames called up Moss from Omaha to make his NHL debut in L.A.

And until the day he dies, Moss will cherish his first NHL game more than any other. It still remains as his signature moment as he made his debut in a 5-3 victory against the Kings.

"In the NHL, I never made it far in the playoffs, but I would say the one thing that sticks out in my mind was the first game that I played," Moss said. "It was always a dream of mine to play in the NHL. When I got called up, I scored in my first game. I just remember thinking after the game, 'This is awesome.' I thought maybe that was the only game I'd ever play, who knows? But I'll always be able to have this puck and show my kids one day and say, 'Hey, I actually played a game in the NHL.' Now that I look back, it's like, 'Wow.' At the time, it was super fast. I just feel so humbled and lucky to have a career that was over 500 games."

In 2008-09, Moss enjoyed his most productive offensive season with 20 goals and 19 assists as the Flames made the playoffs for the third straight year. But during his time in Calgary, the Flames never got past the first round.

After becoming a free agent and signing with Phoenix in 2012-13, Moss went on to play three more seasons with the Coyotes.

Playing for U.S.

During his stint in Phoenix, Moss also represented Team USA in the World Hockey Championships in both 2010 and 2013, as he had five goals and five assists in 16 total games. In the 2013 Worlds, Moss won a bronze medal with the U.S. and played the against the host Germans at Veltins-Arena, which at the time set a new world attendance record of 77,803.

Not resigned after the 2014-15 season, Moss looked for a two-way NHL contract entering 2015-16, trying to latch on with another NHL club and seeking a two-way deal with Nashville before getting a tryout with the Milwaukee Admirals of the AHL.

But a deal never was reached and Moss landed in Europe last November with EHC Biel of Swiss National League A.

"My wife and my son came with me, it was awesome," Moss said. "We had a great time. It was a good experience. The country, first of all, is beautiful. And the people treated us so well. We got to see Europe, travel around, Germany, Italy and traveled all over Switzerland."

And the level hockey proved to satisfy Moss as well.

European style

"It's the No. 1 league in Switzerland," he said. "I'd say probably go NHL, KHL and then Swiss League. The hockey is really good and you get really good players in that league. It's different. You play in an Olympic ice and there's really not much physicality to it, but it was a good experience for me. In terms of lifestyle, I don't think it gets any better. There was very little pressure, a limited schedule; they play 50 games. It's not as demanding and Switzerland is a small country. There was literally not one overnight trip, bus the day of the game, an hour or two, and then come home. For a family life, it was great."

Once the Swiss season ended in April, Moss returned home and thought he might return to Europe for another season.

"It was so good that we considered going back there," said Moss, who graduated from U-M with a degree in sports management. "I told the team and I said, 'Hey, if you can re-sign me, I'll come back in a heartbeat.' We talked for a while and they ended up deciding to go with another import with a young Finnish kid. You can only have four imports on a team, so the jobs are tough. After that, I kind of gave myself until June to find another job in Switzerland, but the way things kind of work over there they wait a long time to sign guys. My wife was pregnant with my second kid, so I needed to know fairly soon. By that time, I made the decision, 'You know what? I don't want to move my wife and family with two young kids now,' so I just said, 'Hey, it's time.'"

Time had come

The decision was final and there was no looking back. It was time for Moss to retire.

"I think it's just the people, the relationships," Moss said. "There's a lot of things when you retire that you don't miss. When I said I was retiring, my wife said, 'How do you feel about this?' And I said, 'It's not that bad.'"

"I'm not going to miss my body getting beat up every single day, all those things, but you miss going to the rink every day from what I thought was the greatest job ever and I was lucky enough to do it as long as I did."

Moss plans to continue to dip in toe in the hockey waters as a volunteer assistant coach at his alma mater Catholic Central, serving under his former University of Michigan teammate Brandon Kaleniecki.

"I can still skate," Moss said. "I can push pucks around the ice at CC."

Meanwhile, Moss has numerous hockey memories throughout his career.

He played for his state championship high school hockey team and in two NCAA Frozen Fours. He also played in the famous Cold War outdoor game between Michigan and MSU (before what was then a world-record crowd of 74,544), along with three outdoor NHL classics and three NHL playoff series.

that Ware's ejection "was actually valid. One of our kids didn't behave like he was supposed to."

The Falcons took advantage of the situation quickly.

First, they capped a five-play drive with a 5-yard touchdown pass from Day to Scott Combs. Following the kickoff, Tavian Groves-Knox, who replaced the ejected Ware at quarterback, fumbled a snap and Divine Child recovered at the Redford 16. Three plays later, on the first snap of the fourth quarter, Day hit Combs from 14 yards out to give the Falcons their final margin.

Another fumbled snap on Redford's next series was again recovered by Divine Child, allowing the Falcons to run most of the remaining time off the clock and seal their victory.

Redford Union finished the season 7-4, while Divine Child improved to 9-2.

Divine Child dominated most of the first quarter, opening with an 11-play, 65-yard drive that reached the Panthers' 3-yard line. Redford did gain a red zone stop, forcing the Falcons to settle for a 20-yard field goal. But after a Panthers three-and-out, Divine Child drove 51 yards in five plays, capped by a 12-yard TD pass from Day to Liam

Soraghan.

Redford Union then suffered a second three-and-out, but on the first play of Divine Child's ensuing possession, Panther defenders knocked the ball loose and Isaac Grant recovered the fumble at the Redford 49. The Panthers then followed with a 51-yard drive that featured a pair of fourth-down conversions — a 17-yard sweep by Cain on fourth-and-four and an 8-yard carry by Grant on fourth-and-three. Grant's run set up Marquise Hathaway's 1-yard TD plunge, trimming the margin to 10-7.

On Divine Child's next possession, Trevontea Owens knocked the ball away from a scrambling Day and Hathaway recovered at the Falcons' 36. However, on fourth-and-five play the 31, the Panthers lost their fourth-down magic, as Divine Child recovered a fumbled pitch-out. The Falcons then marched 63 yards on eight plays, ending the drive with Day's 13-yard touchdown pass to Combs, just one minute before halftime.

Redford Union gained 183 rushing yards, led by Cain, who ran 11 times for 136 yards. Divine Child did most of its damage through the air, as Day completed 14-of-21 passes for 229 yards and four TDs.

Overall, however, Tomasaitis called Redford's season — which included the school's first football state playoff victory, at Warren Fitzgerald last week — "a great year for our kids. I think we were picked to finish last in our league; we finished third in our league. Nobody had us going to the playoffs, nobody had us winning the district. For a half, we were playing with a team that's eventual district champions."

As for 2017, Tomasaitis noted that while his current team had "a lot of seniors ... we've also got a lot of underclassmen coming back. Isaac Grant's coming back next year, Thornton Cain's coming back, a couple big parts of our offense. ... We have some high hopes and high expectations for next year."

three or four guys on him."

The Patriots struggled defensively during the first half as Wiemer rushed for 105 yards and was 3-of-3 passing for 91 yards.

His 33-yard pass to David Jeffers made it 7-0 with 4:51 left in the first quarter to cap a 93-yard, 10-play drive.

But Franklin senior QB Jacob Clark, who had 330 of the Patriots' 385 total yards, responded with a 75-yard keeper just 19 seconds later to knot the count at 7-7.

After Franklin made a big fourth-and-three stop at its own 40, the Patriots turned the ball over when Jordan Cooker recovered a fumble at the Mules' 26.

Running a reverse play, Wiemer pitched it to split end David Jeffers, who then hit Gabe Caris wide open for a 70-yard pass to set up a 12-yard TD run by Joey Oehlers with 10:18 remaining in the second quarter. But the Mules missed the extra point to keep it at 13-7. Bedford then went up two scores with 4:18 left in the first half, marching 64 yards on seven plays while getting helped by a pass interference call. Wiemer carried it in from 9 yards out to make it 20-7 (following Wes Dossie's extra point).

The quick-strike Patriots, however, answered on Clark's 82-yard TD pass to Jake Giacobbi just 19 seconds later. On the extra point, a high snap from center forced Giacobbi, the kicker, to scramble as he ran into the end zone for a two-pointer, cutting the deficit to 20-15.

But the Mules, getting a 26-yard pass from Wiemer to Caris, followed by a 19-yard run where he broke away from several Franklin tacklers, then a 32-yard pass to Brady Nowak, went up back up 27-15 at the half when Wiemer scored on a 1-yard keeper with only 48.9 seconds left.

And it was all Wiemer in the second half as well.

The Mules took their first possession of the third quarter and marched 74 yards on eight plays, capped by Wiemer's 25-yard TD keeper to make it 33-15 following the PAT.

Franklin came back on Clark's 33-yard TD pass to Giacobbi with 2:28 left in the third to cut the deficit to 33-21.

But Bedford put it away with a 17-play, 80-yard drive when — who else? — Wiemer carried it in from the 1 with 5:33 remaining.

The key play to keep the drive going occurred when Mules lined up for a punt for the first time all night, only to have Wiemer run a fake and gain 9 yards for a first down on fourth-and-three late in the third quarter.

"It's just a fake roll-out punt," Wiemer said. "They kind of let the edge go, so we just run it."

Meanwhile, Kelbert took the blame for Bedford getting the critical fourth down.

"That was poor coaching," he said. "We didn't execute there, so that's on us."

Bedford (9-2) racked up 510 yards total offense and ran 61 plays to Franklin's 37.

"Our O-line was tremendous," Wiemer said. "I was getting hit 10 yards downfield and Joey (Oehlers) was getting hit 10 yards downfield. They were definitely giving us the big push up front."

Bedford's defense also limited Franklin's top ball carrier, senior Nyassinu

Crowell, to just 38 yards on eight carries.

"We knew that they would overload, try and take away our 'buck,'" Kelbert said. "We came in with our read option play and they were giving Clark, so we were taking it. And that's just something that just developed that way. But their game plan was probably to take away (Crowell)."

With as many as eight players going both ways on offense and defense, Franklin's 23-member senior class will be sorely missed.

"Franklin football was in a dark place two years ago and what they've done that last two years and getting us back into the playoffs and having these two playoff runs ... I thank them," Kelbert said. "It got us back to being successful again."

Meanwhile, Bedford advances to the regional final next weekend against the winner between Detroit King (8-2) and Oak Park (7-3).

"We played so great as a team," Wiemer said. "We love each other so much, this is unbelievable. We're so happy and we're going to celebrate tonight."

Identify signs that you should quit your job

BY MARY LORENZ
 CAREERBUILDER

Everyone has days when they wish they could walk out of their job, never to see or speak to their boss or co-workers again. It's normal to have days when you feel frustrated, angry or tired of dealing with the daily grind — after all, no job is perfect. But how do you know when enough is enough?

"You know your job is no longer working for you when the difficult days outnumber the good," says Alyssa Krane, chief talent strategist for Toronto-based Powerhouse Talent Inc. It's not worth constantly feeling dissatisfied, stressed or undervalued, she says. Below are some more indications it may be time to leave your job once and for all.

1. You're not advancing. "A major indicator that it's time to quit your job is if you're not growing professionally," says Maddie Stough, a team lead at LaSalle Network, a national staffing and recruiting firm. Perhaps you were passed over for a promotion with no guidance on what's needed to advance. Maybe you don't feel challenged anymore. Or perhaps you feel as if you're not fully using your skills. If you feel bored or pigeonholed, it may be time to move on.

2. You dread going into work. "It's time to quit when you wake up dreading the day," says Elene Cafasso, founder and president of Enterpace Inc. Executive Coaching. If you feel depressed on Sunday night thinking about the week ahead, your boss or co-workers are abusive, or your health is suffering, these are red flags that you need to leave, she says. "Life is too short to spend the bulk of it miserable."

3. You've lost all ability to care. It's definitely time to quit when you "go to work feeling like a zombie," says Gregory Golinski, a human resources coordinator for Hotel Carmel in California. "If things aren't great in your office but you have arguments with colleagues and managers, at least it proves that you still care," he says. It's when you don't have the energy to complain or try to fix your situation that you need to start looking for a new job.

4. Your boss doesn't support you. If you've talked to your boss about why you are unhappy and have asked for more challenging assignments or guidance on how to advance, but he or she is not responsive, it's probably time to move on.

5. Your goals don't align with your employer's. "If you find yourself being steered away from the career path you wish to pursue, it is definitely time to start looking for a position which will allow you to follow your own career objectives," says Lee Fisher, chief of human resources for Roman Blinds Direct, an interior-goods company based in the United Kingdom. Otherwise, the longer you stay in the job, the further you will get from where you want to be, Fisher says.

Before you make the decision that it is indeed time to quit, make sure you have exhausted all your other options first. Start by talking to your boss. "Often times, employees aren't communicating to their boss that they either want to grow in their role or that they are unhappy," Stough says. "Their managers may be more understanding and willing to help than the employee thinks."

Alternatively, you can contact the human resources department to see if there is another position available in a different department or team to which you could transfer.

It may also help to find someone else who has gone through a similar experience and seek his or her advice on what to do, Stough says. That person might be able to provide additional insight that could help you in your current job or save you more heartache and frustration at your next one.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
