Norwayne front and center at party

Historic housing development celebrates 75th anniversary

Sue Mason
Correspondent

The Norwayne Historic District was front and center last Thursday as people gathered to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the founding of the World War II housing development.

Organized by the Norwayne Community Citizens Council, the Homefront Celebration recognized the role the community played in the Arsenal of Democracy and the families that called it home during World War II and after.

Henry Johnson, present of the Citizens Council, thanked guests who represented America's greatest generation and who "worked so hard to protect freedom." The guests of honor were nine women, former defense workers, who wore the distinctive red and white polka dot scarves of the iconic Rosie the Riveter.

"Today's Homefront Celebration is to honor the defense worker, especially recognizing the importance of Rosie the Riveter, of which many called Norwayne home," Johnson said. "Rosie was a cultural icon who represented the women who worked in factories and shipyards during World War II. Their experiences changed the role of women forever. I am particularly humbled and undeserving to be in your presence."

Market to celebrate new look, harvest

Remodeled bakery to be unveiled; Michigan Taste Fest set for this weekend.

It's harvest time, in more ways than one, at Joe's Produce Gourmet Market in Livonia.

The specialty grocery, which started in 1945 as a farmer's roadside fruit stand, on Friday is formally unveiling its remodeled bakery, Art of Bread at Joe's, which is a few doors east of the main store in the strip mall on Seven Mile east of Farmington Road. A ribbon-cutting, with Mayor Dennis Wright and owner Joe Maiorana Jr. presiding, is planned for 10 a.m.

Indeed, the entire plaza has undergone a major face lift, with the addition of outdoor lighting, awnings, greenery and a pergola for al fresco dining just outside the bakery.

It's a natural progression for the market, the plaza's anchor, which expanded in 2007 and then added two stores nearby, Art of Bread and Joe's Meat and Seafood, in 2012.

On Saturday begins the second part of the harvest, when Joe's hosts its Michigan Taste Fest, a celebration

New voting machines coming across the region

David Veselenak
hometownlife.com

Could the days of long waits for election returns in Wayne County be coming to an end? New ballot tabulators being used across the state could help.

Communities in Michigan are all getting new voting equipment, designed to keep voting lines moving and count ballots more efficiently. Those machines will roll out this year for city elections, including in places like Westland, which will use the new machines during its Aug. 8 primary.

City Clerk Richard LeBlanc said the city is set to use more than 45 new machines for the primary, along with a few new absentee ballot scanners. He said most voters won't notice a difference when casting ballots with the new machines, but it's a big step forward for election officials.

"This is not a space-age departure from what we had. It's still a voting device," he said. "The biggest thing about this system, in my opinion, that it is a departure from the past: it has additional security features to protect the voter and protect the vote."

All communities in Michigan are expected to receive new machines before the 2018 election cycle.

Tabulators count faster

The new machines, which include tabulators used at city and township halls in addition to the ballot boxes, also have the capacity to count votes at a much faster rate, hopefully eliminating late nights of waiting for results. Livonia City Clerk Susan Nash said the two new tabulators the city is receiving can count 60 ballots a minute at their peak. The older machines counted less than five a minute.

"This should eliminate, even in your presidential election, being here until 6 a.m. in the morning," she said.

It should make a difference, Nash said, especially with absentee ballots. About 18,000 absentee ballots were cast in November's presidential election and city workers began tabulating them at about 9 a.m. that morning. That process wasn't complete until after 3 a.m. the following morning.

Livonia will use the new machines during its city election this Nov. 7, as it did not meet the number of city council candidates needed for a primary this summer.

Each county clerk decided earlier this year which system it will go with. Wayne County selected Dominion Voting as their provider, while Oakland County went with Hart Intercivic.

Fred Woodhams, spokesman for the Michigan Secretary of State, said the selection of new voting equipment has been in the works for years in Lansing.

"The equipment had been working well, but it was starting to show its age. We had the money saved from the original federal grants 10 years ago," he said. "We knew this was a big purchase and we'd be living with this equipment for the next 10 years."

He said it's not a specific goal to have results come in faster as a result of the new equipment, but getting results quicker is "certainly our hope."

And while all systems will use electronics to count ballots, the system will still contain and operate with good ol' fashioned paper.

"We still have a paper system, and that's a good thing," Woodhams said. "If ever there's a question. We can count it by hand."

and certificates of recognition for their efforts. They also watched as State Rep. Robert Kosowski and Gerald Stoll unveiled an artist rendering of a monument that the Council plans to erect to honor Rosie the Riveter.

Stoll was the winner of the design contest. He received a $100 prize and a plaque emblazoned with a rivet gun. The plaque, according to Johnson, represented the passing of the torch from the original Rosies to today's younger generation.

Stoll created the design as a student in the graphics design class at the William D. Ford Career Technical Center. The design features a smooth facade with the image of Rosie cutout so people can walk through it.

The hope is to erect it either in Wayne County's Venoy-Dorsey Park or on the grounds of the Jefferson-Barns Community Vitality Center.

Johnson recounted the history of Norwayne from its founding in 1942 to its downturn and now its renaissance fueled by the city's use of federal Neighborhood Stabilization Fund money to renovate and remove blighted housing.

"One of my visions has been to see Norwayne thrive as a strong neighborhood, providing good housing," Mayor William Wild said. "The neighborhood, church, Wayne-Ford Civic League and schools are helping to create a vibrant community of choice. You can be proud of your community."

The hour-long program included patriotic music by the Westland Senior Choral Group, presentation of colors by AMVETS Post 32 Color Guard and a brief history of World War II manufacturing by Michael Rozny.

Capping off the event was a flyover by the Yankee Air Museum's B-25 Liberator bomber and a performance by the Yankee Air Museum's Tribute Rosies.

of Michigan-grown fruits and vegetables and Michigan-produced food products.

"All the Michigan produce is just starting to come in now, so I figured we would start it now and welcome in the best of Michigan produce," Maiorana said.

The Taste Fest hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday; samples will be available throughout the store.

That Michigan produce, Maiorana said, should include sweet corn, tomatoes, squash, zucchini and green peppers as well as melons, peaches (yes, Michigan grows peaches) and possibly watermelon. Samples of produce from California and Washington, which is in its prime at this time of the summer, will also be available, Maiorana said.

The event, which Joe's typically hosts twice a summer (the second is around Labor Day), is a celebration of the market's roots as a farm stand, Maiorana said. That stand was started by Maiorana's farmer grandfather, Gaspare, and turned into a full-service market by Gaspare's son Joe Maiorana Sr. in 1967.

Joe Maiorana Jr. purchased the business from his parents 20 years ago.

Also on hand for the Taste Fest will be vendors with samples of such made-in-Michigan favorites as Better Made Potato Chips, Guernsey Ice Cream, Kowalski Sausage and Fiesta Time Tortilla Chips.

Colbeck set to join race for governor

State senator remains Trump supporter

Paul Egan
Detroit Free Press

State Sen. Patrick Colbeck, who officially kicked off his bid to become Michigan's 49th governor Saturday, was an early supporter of U.S. Sen. Ted Cruz of Texas in the 2016 Republican presidential sweepstakes.

But Colbeck, R-Canton, became an enthusiastic backer of President Donald Trump after Trump won the GOP nomination, and that enthusiasm hasn't waned. "He's doing exactly what he said he would do, and for that he should be applauded," Colbeck, who will be term-limited at the end of next year after eight years in the Senate, told the Detroit Free Press in an interview.

Any difficulties with the Trump presidency relate to pushback from "entrenched special interests in D.C." as Trump goes about "draining the swamp," Colbeck said. "I support him 100 percent."

Colbeck, 51, an aerospace engineer who graduated from Detroit Catholic Central High School before earning bachelor's and master's degrees from U-M, is known as one of Michigan's most conservative state lawmakers.

He opposed Medicaid expansion under the Affordable Care Act, the gas tax and registration fee increases that were central to the road funding deal, the state's funding of the grand bargain to ease the City of Detroit out of bankruptcy, and some of the emergency funding for Flint in the wake of its drinking water crisis.

Colbeck opposes the

A crowd estimated at more than 500 people turned out for state Sen. Patrick Colbeck's kickoff event in Belleville.

common core education standards and was highly critical of Republican Gov. Rick Snyder when Snyder recently vetoed his legislation to place the words "Choose Life" as an option on state license plates.

Snyder is also term-limited.

Colbeck, who is to make his announcement at a noon event at the Yankee Air Museum near Belleville, has done more than cast no votes. On road funding, for example, he proposed a plan he said would free up more than $1 billion without raising taxes and pushed for use of alternative road building materials he said would last longer.

Supporters Lawrence and Lucille Fritz of Livonia describe themselves as "middle-of-the-road" conservatives. They see an integrity in Colbeck they say is rare among Lansing politicians.

"He is forthcoming and honest," and will say what he thinks regardless of the consequences, said Lawrence Fritz, a retired automotive engineer.

"He doesn't necessarily agree with me on everything," but "you get what you see with him."

Fritz's wife, Lucille, added that Colbeck "listens to all sides before he makes up his mind."

Lansing public relations consultant Matt Resch said Colbeck takes many positions that are close to the hearts of the Republican base, and that's a real strength in a Republican primary.

But Colbeck, like many other gubernatorial candidates, suffers from a lack of name recognition, Resch said. He's likely too conservative to win a general election in Michigan, particularly since he will also lack significant financial resources.

Colbeck joins a list of declared Republican candidates who include obstetrician Dr. Jim Hines of Saginaw; insurance agent Joseph Derose of Williamston; Grand Rapids businessman Evan Space, and private investigator Mark McFarlin of Pinconning.

Two big names expected to join the race have yet to announce — Attorney General Bill Schuette and Lt. Gov. Brian Calley.

Colbeck said recent polling shows most Republican voters are undecided for governor.

Unlike him, Schuette and Calley are known political commodities, Colbeck said.

Voters "have seen what is on the shelf and they're not buying," he said.

Shelden Pool closed for weeks following equipment malfunction

hometownlife.com

The Shelden Pool in Livonia will be closed for several weeks as city officials work to replace a failed pump motor that failed.

Ted Davis, superintendent of parks and recreation for Livonia, said the pool's pump failed July 18 and required the pool to be closed until it could be replaced. It's expected to take a few weeks to have the part shipped to the city and crews install it.

"We won't be open back at Shelden until August at this point," Davis said. "We've been working on the pool company to bring them out and try to see what was wrong."

With the Shelden Pool, located behind the Alfred Noble Branch Library south of Plymouth Road and east of Farmington Road, closed, residents can still use the two other pools to get cool for the next few weeks. The Clements Circle Pool, at Harrison and West Chicago; and the Botsford Pool, 19444 Lathers, will both remain open as the dog days of summer approach.

Davis said the city hates to close the pool, especially in the middle of the summer, but is needed so crews can receive the new part and install it.

"It's not unusual for these things to go," he said. "It's just unfortunate that it happened in July."

City outdoor pools are open 1-6:45 p.m. Monday through Friday and noon to 6:45 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Davis said those hours will remain unchanged at those two open pools.

Despite the pool closing, Davis said patrons don't have to fear a situation that took place at

The Shelden Pool will remain closed until city crews can replace a failed motor pump.

Clements Circle a few years ago will take place: he said this repair is expected to take just a few weeks and the pool will reopen before the season ends at Shelden Pool Aug. 20.

"We don't want to shut down any of the pools during the season," he said. "It's not season-ending, it's not life threatening."

A tweet from the city's Twitter account Thursday stated the pool will reopen Aug. 5.

Small electrical fire brings fire department to Livonia home

Several Livonia Fire Department trucks could be seen Monday afternoon whizzing up Farmington Road responding to a call.

That call ended up being a small fire that began in a home in the 19300 block of Shadyside's circuit breaker box in the basement, said Senior Capt. Dave Bostater of the Livonia Fire Department.

"It started in the circuit box," he said.

He said the fire was managed pretty quickly and only caused some minor damage to the area around the circuit box in the basement. Fire crews arrived and cut the power to the home to prevent any other issues.

Bostater said no injuries were reported in the fire.

A Livonia police officer was hospitalized after receiving injuries from a Sunday accident on Interstate 96 that left a 43-year-old Hartland man dead.

Police officer hospitalized after fatal I-96 accident

hometownlife.com

A Livonia police officer remains in the hospital Monday morning after receiving injuries from a Sunday accident on Interstate 96 that left one driver dead.

Sgt. Brian Leigh of the Livonia Police Department said the accident took place at about 11:30 a.m. Sunday along westbound I-96 near Middlebelt. He said a Livonia police officer was completing a traffic stop along the shoulder when a Saturn veered right on the road and into the shoulder. The vehicle then struck the officer's police vehicle, which in turn struck the officer, injuring him.

That officer remained in the hospital early Monday morning, Leigh said. "He's in good condition," he said. "He's got some injuries, but they're non-life threatening."

The Saturn ended up rolling over, trapping the driver inside the vehicle, Leigh said. The driver of the Saturn, 43-year-old Michael Anthony Gregory from Hartland, was pronounced dead at the scene. Police initially believe Gregory may have suffered a medical issue that caused him to cross three lanes of traffic before striking the police vehicle, but the incident still remains under investigation.

The incident left westbound I-96 with lane closures throughout Sunday afternoon, with the road reopening around 6:30 p.m.

Livonia Police Chief Curtis Caid posted on the department's Facebook page late Sunday night, expressing condolences to Gregory's family and asking for prayers for first responders.

"On behalf of the Livonia Police Department, our deepest condolences to the family of the deceased. Within a couple minutes, I was at the scene of the crash and the injured officer was conscious and alert. The responding firefighters were outstanding and remained at the scene supporting our officers until nearly 6:30 p.m. at which time the scene was cleared," Caid wrote.

"Please continue to pray for and support our officers and all first responders, who are committed to serving our community."

LIVONIA POLICE BRIEFS

Wheels, tires taken

Livonia police were dispatched the morning of July 20 to a residence in the 19600 block of Farmington on the report of a larceny from auto.

A neighbor called police to report the theft of wheels and tires from a neighbor's vehicle. Police checked the vehicle's info, which revealed the owner lived nearby in the 19500 block of Farmington. Police spoke to the owner, who told them a neighbor informed them of the theft earlier that morning. He said he planned on filing a police report later that morning after he woke up. He said he last saw the vehicle intact the day before. No suspect information was available.

Retail fraud reported

Police were called July 19 to Kohl's, 29578 Seven Mile, on the report of a retail fraud suspect in custody.

An employee told police they saw the suspect on security footage near a makeup table. She placed items in her cart. She then went and picked up clothing and took it to a fitting room. After leaving the fitting room, the suspect reportedly did not have the clothing visible and it was not left in the fitting room. She reportedly tried to leave but was stopped by an employee and detained. Several items that were not paid for were recovered, police said. Police arrested the suspect, though released her on a citation at the scene.

Sunglasses, shirt stolen

A man came into the police station July 18 to report that someone stole items from his vehicle while it was parked in the 14800 block of Riverside.

The man, who was from out of state and visiting his mother, parked his vehicle in the driveway of the home. He came back to the car and found several items, including sunglasses and a shirt, missing. He said he believes the car was locked, but there was no signs of forced entry.

Man charged with 'inappropriate contact' at boys birthday party

Lisa Roose-Church
Livingston Daily

A Westland man faces up to 15 years in prison if he is convicted as charged of molesting boys at a birthday party in Livingston County.

Andrew Joseph Arnett was arraigned Monday in 53rd District Court in Howell on two counts each of second-degree criminal sexual conduct and accosting a child for immoral purposes.

Arnett, who is free on a $100,000 bond, was scheduled to return to court Wednesday for a conference. A preliminary exam, to determine if the case heads to trial, is tentatively set for Aug. 2.

Brighton police allege Arnett "had inappropriate contact" with at least four boys during a child's birthday party in January. The boys are under age 13.

Chief Rob Bradford said officers continue to investigate whether there are additional victims.

Additional information was not released due to the ongoing investigation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Supports Londeau for council

I'm supporting Mike Londeau for Westland City Council in the August primary election. Offensive and insulting literature has been circulated by mail and left in door handles, maligning Londeau for a poor choice of words in several Twitter posts five years ago, and an incident involving police more than 20 years ago.

Londeau is more than qualified to serve on city council. He knows this town; he grew up here, cares about this town. He chairs the Downtown Development Authority and is active in such city functions as Blues, Brews and Barbecue and the city's birthday celebration to name a few.

There are individuals in this city who believe that the best way to make Westland better is to tear down anyone and anything that would move Westland forward. They left an unsigned letter in my door about Londeau. It angered me. They're assuming I lack the intelligence to learn about the candidates. I have done my due diligence when it comes to Londeau. I am well aware of comments he made on Twitter. Inappropriate? Yes. Trashy? Certainly. But do such minor indiscretions make him a less qualified candidate? I don't believe so.

What also angered me was this unsigned letter warned that the contents were not suitable for young readers. If that offensive, it should have been left in a brown paper wrapper. And frankly, it contained nothing that most young readers have seen, heard or posted on their own social media.

Why no name on the letter and a paltry disclaimer that the author was not a political candidate nor an organization or any Facebook group. I guess he is ashamed about what he is doing. I am not ashamed to sign my name to this letter. As I see it, the author of the letter is a narrow-minded individual who would rather tear this city down than make it a better place like Londeau has. With claims to move Westland forward, I have seen none in the hate mongering. What does a person looking to move to Westland think when seeing such social media posts.

Of those 15 other candidates the letter mentioned, most have little or no involvement in this city. There is nothing they can point at and say they had something to do with it. Londeau can.

I am voting for Londeau, a young person on city council who actually knows how government works.

Water help is available

Our economy remains tough. My friends and neighbors are having difficulty and experiencing the pressure of a continuing tightening economy.

Water bills have suddenly started rising and so much so that they are beginning to be a problem.

While the fundamental problems causing this unexpected rise in household costs are being determined so they can be addressed — there is a choice for some of those Americans in Wayne County most hard hit by this error. WRAP is the Water Residential Assistance Program.' I know — in the Great Lakes? It's necessary right now and is not charity. Take it if you need it.

Qualifications include:
» Income at or below 150 percent of poverty threshold

» Install a new water meter or allow a new to be installed

» Provide proof of residency and income

» If renting provide proof of responsibility for water on lease

» Stay current on monthly bill payment

Benefits include:
» Assistance up to $1,000 per household per year. $25 monthly credit to help with arrears

» Home water audit for households using more than 120 percent of average use

» Home repairs up to $1,000 per household to fix minor plumbing issues leading to high usage

» Water saving kits and consumer training classes

For additional supportive WRAP-Around Services, call 313-386-9727 or visit www.wayne-metro.org/wrap.

Livonia should attract young home buyers, too

Good morning, the story on the condo development at the site of the former swim club caught my attention. My friend Brian Duggan is quoted as stating that this is going to be more of a senior complex.

OK, that's fine; develop the site and let seniors move in. My question to our council is: when are we going to address developments for young first-time home buyers and encourage developers to build the amenities that young families could afford, offer a splendid life style and thus encouraging these families to remain in Livonia, when the need a different living space.

It seems to me, this is exactly what the developers did in the 1950s and the 1960s to bring young families into Livonia.

On lawns, just cut it out

With the summer upon us, we get to renew our acquaintance with both things we like and dislike about the season. For me, one of the most egregious of the latter category would be the ritualistic tradition of grass cutting that most people obsess over almost in a religious way.

Quite honestly, I'll tell you, I don't share this obsession over a perfectly green, buzz-cut lawn. You might say heh heh, that I'm not lawn for this world! Quite frankly, I really can't understand how the concept of lawns even got started.

I imagine that when America turned away from a countrified way of farm life and adopted an urban lifestyle, that they regretted leaving behind their rural roots and planting grass sod on one's front and back yard was supposed to be poor compensation for an actual natural life. My advice is, if you want real nature, move away to untouched spots of the nation.

It seems silly to me to pretend that you're still living in the country by planting a few squares of grass on your property. I don't know why developers began planting grass around homes in the first place. They'd probably would've been better off with dirt or gravel instead. That wouldn't change the aesthetic view much and it would entail less upkeep. I've come across a few people who've come up with a creative way to remove the grass problem — simply plant trees, bushes and flowers over the entire lawn and let them absorb the grass, creating a mini nature preserve.

When it comes to blunders as regards fawning over one's lawn goes, most people don't even know that buzz-cutting the grass with a crew-cut trim actually stresses it out more during periods of heat and drought.

Most people can't afford to water their lawns (except for those who wastefully run sprinkler systems during rain-storms), so lawns turn yellow and brown. The fertilizer man is often selling you a 'watered down' product and non-fertilized lawns look just as good.

Unlike the quiet, humble yet effective reel mower, the gas powered mower sounds like a jumbo jet and the brain-dead weekend squires all seem to fire them up simultaneously like emulating lemmings. If this isn't bad enough, some people who don't know what a broom is then employ the equally noisy blower gun. Even worse are the tank-size tractor driving lawn companies which are allowed to start up their racket as early as 7 a.m. in Livonia. They also block side-walks way too much.

Calling all Rosies: Bomber plant wants the world record back

Michigan isn't bowing to California when it comes to Rosie the Riveter.

The world record for Largest Gathering of Rosie the Riveters has gone back and forth between the Yankee Air Museum at Willow Run Airport — the site of the historic bomber plant — and the Rosie the Riveter/World War II Home Front National Historic Park in Richmond, Calif.

The first world record was set by the air museum on March 29, 2014, when 779 women dressed as Rosies gathered at Willow Run. Later that year, the title was snatched away by Richmond, with 1,084 Rosies.

Willow Run reclaimed the record on Oct. 24, 2015, only to lose it to Richmond again on Aug. 13, 2016, when a whopping 2,229 Rosies showed up for the gathering.

Richmond is hoping to expand on that number on Aug. 12. But not to be outdone, Willow Run hopes to rally the largest gathering of Rosies yet on Oct. 14. The event is set for Eastern Michigan University's Convocation Center, 799 N. Hewitt Rd., Ypsilanti.

"Rosie the Riveter endures as an important figure in America because she empowers," said Kevin Walsh, executive director of Yankee Air Museum, in a written statement.

Green, Carron lead way in annual Road Runner Classic

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

Eric Green has become a fixture at area road races over the years and, Saturday night, he made Maybury State Park his own personal refuge.

The 49-year-old from Pontiac pulled away during the final two miles to earn the 8-kilometer title in the 14th annual Northville Road Runner Classic, an event which benefited the Friends of Maybury.

The third time was a charm for Green, who posted a first-place time of 31 minutes, 35 seconds while averaging 6:21 per mile on a course that featured both blacktop and trails.

"I've run this race the past three years," Green said. "Two years ago — the first time I ran it — I was third overall, top master. Last year, I was second overall and top master. This year, overall and master."

Green, cross country head coach at Lawrence Tech University and distance coach for the Pontiac Notre Dame Prep High School track team, was coming off his 15th Great Lakes Relay, a three-day, 277-mile team event the previous weekend on the North Country Trail in the Upper Peninsula, Green passed Novi's Daniel Sowa on the trails at the three-mile mark and never looked back.

"The guy I was racing today ... he had me, but as soon as I hit the woods, I hit the woods hard and it felt like I was doing the relay," Green said. "That's when I pulled ahead of him and he couldn't catch me ... even if it was slow."

The 23-year-old Sowa, a member of the NRR club that hosted the race, wound up third overall in 33:05 (6:39 per mile).

But even more impressive

USTA junior finalists

Several young Michigan tennis players fared well in the recent U.S. Tennis Association's Midwest Section Closed Junior Championships.

In doubles play, Birmingham's Jack Winkler teamed with Detroit's Kweisi Kenyatte to capture the boys 18-doubles championship. In the girls 12-doubles finals, Novi resident Emma Roeck and Ohio native Ananya Annapantula teamed to reach the championship final.

In singles, Bill Duo from Portage captured the boys 18 singles title and Ann Arbor's Karina Miller was a girls 18 singles finalist.

The 18-under and 16-under championships were held in Indianapolis. Okemos hosted the 14-under and 12-under age divisions.

THIRD TIME'S A CHARM FOR ANGELS DRAFTEE WENSON

MICHIGAN ATHLETICS

Michigan graduate and Farmington Hills resident Harrison Wenson is currently making his mark in rookie ball with the Los Angeles Angels.

Marty Budner
hometownlife.com

Harrison Wenson knows the exhilaration of being a Major League Baseball draftee. After all, prior to this year, he twice enjoyed the experience.

In 2013, just weeks after graduating from the University of Detroit-Jesuit High School, Wenson was selected in the 38th round (1,146th overall pick) of the MLB entry draft by the Detroit Tigers. Wenson next became draft-eligible last spring, after his junior year at the University of Michigan, and the Pittsburgh Pirates grabbed him in the 24th round.

Wenson declined both of those opportunities.

However, the 22-year-old Farmington Hills resident was still a wanted commodity when this year's draft rolled around.

Oddly enough, Wenson was taken in the exact same spot as last year — 24th round, 715th overall — by the Los Angeles Angels. This time, he was thrilled to accept the $3,000 signing bonus and turn pro.

"I turned down both of my other opportunities to finish my education. I have one more class (at U-M), but I was able to graduate and I got my degree," Wenson said. "So I guess the third time's the charm. I sort of knew it was coming this year,

Junior golf tourney

Forest Lake Country Club in Bloomfield Hills once again will host a junior golf tournament.

The fifth annual AJGA Junior, presented by Tom Hozler Ford, will be held Aug. 7-10 at the Bloomfield Township course. The 54-hole national event will challenge close to 100 boys and girls ages 12-19.

Last summer, Isiah Henderson from Texas carded a course-record 8-under-par 63 in the second round en route to the boys championship. California native Angela Bagasbas is the defending girls champion.

The field will include players from 16 states and three foreign countries.

Devon Deogun (Orchard Lake), Sean Niles (Northville), Imaad Qureshi (Bloomfield Hills), Jake Rodan (Royal Oak), Ben Smith (Novi), Patrick Sullivan (Grosse Pointe) and 2013 boys champion Zach Rosendale (St. Johns) are among the boys slated to compete.

Mikaela Schultz (West Bloomfield) and Jamie Laude (Ann Arbor) are among the Michigan girls expected to compete.

Michigan Senior Olympics Games

Registration is now open for the 38th annual Michigan Senior Olympics Summer Games.

The games, open to individuals 50 and over, take place Aug. 11-20 throughout Oakland and Macomb counties and more than 1,000 athletes from across the state are expected to compete. The idea is to promote healthy and active lifestyles.

Competition will be held in archery, badminton, basketball, billiards, bocce ball, bowling, cycling, dancesport, disc golf, golf, pickleball, powerlifting, 5K and 10K runs, racewalk, racquetball, shuffleboard, swimming, table tennis, tennis, track & field, triathlon, volleyball and free throw/3-point competition.

The opening ceremony is scheduled to take place 6-8 p.m., Friday, Aug. 11, at Bloomer Park in Rochester Hills.

Michigan Senior Olympics is in need of volunteers.

'BIG ANGEL, LITTLE ANGEL'

Baseball, friendship take flight for players

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com

Alan Kruck knows the drill. So does almost every man or woman who coaches Little League players.

The younger the players, chances are they won't be as focused on hitting — unless you're talking about hitting the Dairy Queen after the game.

Enter a shadowing endeavor involving his 12-under team in the Greater Canton Youth Baseball Softball Association, the Angels. Coach Kruck's players teamed with T-ball players for the inaugural Big Angel, Little Angel event. It was such a success that not only were the little guys (and two girls) not running around in circles, but the GCYBSA intends to have more teams get in on the shadowing fun.

"In T-ball, you'll have five kids running for the ball," said Kruck, a Canton resident whose son Addison is on the 12-U Angels. "My players would sit there and say, 'No, no, you have to go cover second base, don't run to the ball.' So they were explaining the aspects of the game instead of having five kids run to the ball all at once."

Michigan Rams win another MCBL title

hometownlife.com

The Michigan Rams are going to the "World Series" — the National Amateur Baseball Federation's premier event, that is.

Veteran coach Rick Berryman's squad clinched the Michigan Collegiate Baseball League title when A Green forfeited a July 20 makeup game with the Rams, who finished the regular schedule at 24-6 after losing a "meaningless" 10-0 decision to the Cubs.

Still, the Rams earned a ticket to Toledo, where the NABF World Series begins Thursday.

In the loss to the Cubs (7-23), the offense was not clicking with hits by Kevin O'Malley, Alex Nicholson and Patrick Downing accounting for the Rams' output.

Berryman said this

marks the 14th time in the past 15 seasons that the Rams — who compete in the state's top wood bat league — will be competing in a post-season national tournament.

but having my name called by an organization that's so well-respected is a dream come true."

Early results encouraging

If early results are any indication, Wenson is certainly making a big impression.

The Angels assigned Wenson to the Utah-based Orem Owlz, their short-season rookie team that plays in the eight-team Pioneer League.

Through his first 13 games, the right-handed hitting catcher was batting a lofty .354, which ranked him among the top five league leaders. In addition, Wenson has smacked five home runs, which also ranks among the league's best. He had 18 RBIs with a .729 slugging percentage.

Orem leads the Pioneer League South Division and Wenson is helping to lead the charge.

"It's been great so far. I have a really great manager and I've been able to work with some really good guys," Wenson said prior to a recent game in Montana against the Great Falls Voyagers. "I've been doing pretty well. I'm hitting the ball pretty far and it's been pretty nice."

"There's a lot of travel. Where I'm at right now is a 10-hour bus ride (from Orem)," he added. "But other than the travel, it's been really good and I'm really enjoying pro ball."

Wenson grew up playing for the highly-talented South Farmington Blues squad, whose head coach was Pat Malzone. The Blues played in national tournaments, including the Elite 24 in Orlando, Fla., and Wenson said "it was some of the most fun baseball I have ever played and I loved that experience."

Wenson went on to have an outstanding prep career at U-D Jesuit. He earned all-state honors both his junior and senior seasons and was a four-time all-district and all-region selection. Wenson posted a .500 batting average with six home runs and 30 RBIs as a senior.

Proud of the block 'M'

The honor-roll student elected to continue his career with the Wolverines, with whom he played four years.

Wenson finished with a career .235 batting average and a .422 slugging percentage with 17 home runs and 99 RBIs. He started in each of his final two seasons for the Wolverines and began attracting the attention of scouts after an outstanding junior year when he produced a .289 average and 56 RBIs to earn all-Big Ten Conference third team honors. He belted nine home runs as a senior.

Wenson in his last two years was named to the player-to-watch list for the Johnny Bench Award, awarded to the nation's best catcher, finishing as a semifinalist as a junior.

"I went to the place of my dreams," Wenson said about his time at Michigan. "I mean my dad (Paul) went there. He played with guys like Barry Larkin, Hal Morris, Casey Close, Jim Abbott. So it was great to represent the block 'M' and all the tradition that it has."

"The coaches were great and they helped me through the process. But the main thing I took from college, besides my education, was the relationships that I made and I'll continue to hold on to because, in this life, you can only go as far as the people you know. I'm pretty fortunate that I surrounded myself with great people who have a great work ethic."

"Michigan was the place for me and I wouldn't have changed my decision, even though I turned down quite a bit of money last year (to turn pro)," he added. "I wouldn't have changed my decision to go back for my senior year and have that experience with all my teammates and coaches."

U-M had a program-record 11 players, including Wenson, selected in this year's draft. That class includes Cranbrook Kingswood graduate Grant Reuss (Detroit Tigers) and Southfield-Lathrup graduate Johnny Slater (Seattle Mariners).

Wenson hopes they will all one day be colleagues at the major league level.

"I'm in a pretty good spot right now and doing pretty well," Wenson said. "I don't want to speculate too much on where they'll put me. I'm just trying to take it day by day and do the best I can."

"I've only been in pro ball for about a month, but from what I've heard and what I've seen, the Angels are a great organization," he said. "They have unbelievable management and the front office has been real good to me. I'm fortunate enough to be in it and I feel I can move my way up the ranks pretty quickly and that's all I can really ask for. I just want the opportunity."

"Big Angel" Mathew Thibodeau and "Little Angel" Brady Milligan, whose dad, Brian Milligan, coaches the T-ball squad.

"Tonight was fun," Brady wrote in an email to the Observer. "Mathew taught me the ready position. He is my oldest friend. I want to go watch his game."

The sharp focus exhibited by T-ball players, with the guidance of the 12-U Angels, was something deserving of numerous cap tips.

"Every player shadowed a player," Kruck said. "It was more for when they went out into the field to play defense, (the older kids) would explain what that position did. Say an outfielder, they would tell them they had to back up some throws."

"The T-ball kids (normally) kind of just play in the dirt, they lose interest pretty quickly. So (the older kids') job was to kind of take the pressure off parent volunteers who were always having to do that role, so the parents could actually enjoy the game for once."

Pumped up

According to coach Brian Milligan, the event "was a great experience for both teams. The little Angels had a great game of catch with the big Angels prior to the game. There was a noticeably higher level of enthusiasm during the game. We are grateful for the time the big Angels gave to our team."

Kruck, who has coached prep athletics in the Redford Union and Northville districts, said he came up with the concept having recalled how well a similar pairing worked when he was coach of the RU girls basketball team.

"I thought that would be a good idea to start trying that out with GCYBSA," Kruck explained. "We were the only team that did it. But the feedback was so positive that Wendy (Mullen, president of the association) is probably thinking of expanding it to more teams next year."

Older players also got a big kick out of the Big Angel, Little Angel event.

"They had a ball; they thought it was great," Kruck said. "They really did enjoy it, they were commenting and saying, 'Was I really that little when I played?'"

"In T-ball rules, the last kid automatically gets a home run. So when the last kid batted, my kids ran out there and had a mob scene at home plate for the last batter."

was the runner-up finish by 39-year-old Angela Carron of Canton, assistant cross country coach at Salem High School, who overhauled Sowa for the second spot overall in 32:41 (6:35 per mile).

"It was crazy hot, you could hear the wind in the trees, but didn't feel it anywhere," said Carron, who was the top overall female. "It was brutal, but the tree cover and the shade helped. I just kept telling myself the wind was in my back."

Carron, a Toledo native, played college softball at Siena Heights University before transitioning to running.

In late May, she captured the Bayshore Marathon in Traverse City with a time of 3:02:08. She also has the Boston, Glass City and Ann Arbor marathons to her credit in 2017.

Carron, who works for Gazelle Sports in Northville, has run close to 50 marathons, along with 12 ultra marathons.

She plans to do the upcoming North Country Run, a trail marathon in late August, along with the Detroit Free Press Marathon in October. She has been averaging 80- to 90-mile weeks and also has a 100-miler on her running schedule before the end of the year.

"Always training," Carron said. "I have four kids, so running keeps me sane."

5K champions

Zachary Ellsworth, 27, of Brighton and Amy Masternak, 48, of Plymouth were the overall winners of the male and female 5K divisions, respectively.

Ellsworth covered the 3.1-mile course in 22:24.

"This was the first time running this race and I actually loved the course," Ellsworth said. "It was mapped out perfectly and didn't have any trouble on the turns. Really enjoyed that."

Ellsworth averaged 7:14 per mile

"Got into running a little later in life," Ellsworth said. "I work at a gym and just kind of got into that way. I believe this is my fourth 5K and I've done a half-marathon and that's just about it. I run outside a lot and don't do a whole lot of races. I'm pretty surprised. I always set a lofty goal. It was a little bit slower than I wanted, but not too much."

Masternak, a Detroit Public Schools fifth-grade teacher who graduated from Livonia Churchill High, repeated as 5K champion with a clocking of 22:46. She is 10-year breast cancer survivor who captured the Race for the Cure women's 5K title in May.

"I think the course and conditions were absolutely perfect," Masternak said. "It was nice and warm. You didn't have to worry about your muscles being cold. Great scenery, no rain, a little cloud cover."

Masternak, like Carron, challenged the male winner for the overall lead.

"There was some guy (Ellsworth) on my back for about 2½ miles and when we hit the woods, I told him 'You better go or you will lose,' so he went and I was second," she said.

And although the humidity was high, with temperatures hovering around the upper 80s, Masternak was pleased with her time as she averaged 7:21 per mile

"It was good," she said. "Last year, I ran 26 (minutes). Last year, it was 98 degrees."

Next up for Masternak is the Badlands Trail Run Marathon on Aug. 12 in Medora, N.D.

"It will be state No. 36. I can't wait," Masternak said.

PDL SOCCER

Bucks stunned in first-round defeat, 2-0

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

It was a solemn ending Friday night to what appeared to be another promising season for the defending North American Premier Development League champion Michigan Bucks.

The Des Moines Menace proved to be more than a menace as they upset the 14-time Great Lakes Division champions in the opening round of the PDL Central Conference playoffs inside air-conditioned Ultimate Soccer Arenas in Pontiac, 2-0.

Ramone Howell split two Bucks defenders and rifled a shot from just outside the left box for the game-winning goal in the 69th minute, off an assist from Mueng Sunday.

Isaiah Madrid then out-muscled a Bucks defender on a 50/50 ball just inside the 18-yard box for the Menace's second goal in the 82nd minute, scoring unassisted to put the game away.

"There's not too much to say. It's obviously disappointing with all the effort we put in all summer," said Bucks team MVP Brad Dunwell, a Grand Rapids native. "It's a tight-knit group of guys and I really enjoyed playing with them. I wish them all the best, whether they're going back to their university or looking to find a spot with a team at the next level right away."

The Menace (8-5-2), who finished second in the PDL Heartland Division, played fellow division rival the Thunder Bay (Ontario) Chill (10-3-2) for the Central Conference crown. Thunder Bay advanced in the first conference semifinal Friday with a 2-0 win over Kitchener-Waterloo (Ontario) United, getting a pair of goals, one in each half, from midfielder Abraham Villon.

The Bucks, meanwhile, ended their season at 10-2-3.

"We played against a very good, well-organized Des Moines team," Bucks assistant coach Paul Thomas said. "I thought it was very, very evenly matched game. And it was always going to come down to one little mistake, one moment of genius to break the deadlock. And then once they went a goal up, you have to push, we have to make some subs and try to get back in the game and you leave yourself a little wide bit open. The second goal was just kind of one of those things that happens when you're taking risks to try and get back in the game. But overall, I thought was very well even. It could have gone either way, but Des Moines did well and good luck to them moving forward."

Thomas, the former Madonna University women's coach, was guiding the Bucks in place of head coach Demir Muftari.

"Just something with the family came up, so (Muftari) couldn't make it today, so I stepped in to coach the team," Thomas said. "I've been (head coach) some of the road games, some of the home games. It's a tough schedule when you coach and we had to share a lot of the workload this year."

Thomas made five substitutions during the second half to try to find a goal, but the Menace defense stood tall.

"It's a pretty mature group defensively, pretty solid group," Des Moines coach John Pacarella said. "They have a pretty good idea on how to defend leads. The problem with us this season is we haven't had a lead to defend. We've always been coming from behind. We give up one early in the first half and then the second half is better. I think the key for us defensively today was what we did early on, keeping the game 0-0. Then I think as it went on,

(the Bucks) got a little nervy and made it easier for us. But solid as a rock at the end there."

Shots on goal were even at 9-9, with the Bucks having one golden chance in each half.

Menace goalkeeper Kyle Ihn denied Jacob Bevan in the 26th minute and then made a one-handed leaping save just under the crossbar off a header by Bucks defender Danilo Markovic following a corner kick late in the second half.

"If you look at the whole game, there wasn't many chances for both sides," Thomas said. "Their back four was very good, strong, powerful, quick and their two holding center-mids screened them really well, so it was difficult to break them down and get chances. They did a good job."

Not only were the Bucks missing their head coach, but captain Tom Owens was also out of the lineup to pursue a playing opportunity in his native England. The Bucks had to go with several makeshift lineups this year.

"The players that we brought in to replace the injured players, or the players that moved on, were definitely good enough," Thomas said. "Again, it just goes down to one of those nights. It was a good game and it could have gone either way. Unfortunately, it had gone for them."

Beating the Bucks, who were seeking their fourth PDL crown in franchise history, proved to be a major hurdle cleared by the Menace.

"It was actually a very good game, two teams tried to play soccer, which was good to see," Pacarella said. "It's never easy to come into an environment like this, especially into an environment which is a little different for us. I thought they played hard. The Bucks are a very, very good team. They're difficult to beat. It just went our way today. It could have gone either way. I think anybody watching the game could see that."

For many of the Bucks players, it's back to school for the fall collegiate season.

"It's always tough to lose first round, but I look forward going to Wake (Forest) and getting into the preseason," said Dunwell, who was a starter last season for the NCAA Division I runner-up Demon Deacons. "Kind of a sad time to get it over, but no fault in the effort. I thought we put everything into it that we could, but just couldn't get the result today."

Sunshine's again brings ray of hope

hometownlife.com

In the middle of summer, it is safe to say that the sun keeps coming out.

Thanks to 13-year-old Connor Sherman and the Plymouth High School football program, so does Sunshine's Skills and Drills Football Clinic.

Connor's brainchild — which he first envisioned during a school assignment — continues to bear fruit, gain momentum in the community and provide hope for children with special needs between ages 5-17.

The fourth annual clinic is scheduled for 6-8 p.m. Friday, July 28, on the varsity football field at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

"We have 50 participants signed up this year, which is right in the ballpark of previous numbers," Plymouth assistant football coach Brian Rochon wrote in an email to the Observer. "We are thankful for the families that trust us year in and year out to provide a safe, welcoming and fun environment for their children to enjoy a care free night of football."

The vision of Connor "Sunshine" Sherman, who came up with the concept when just 10 years old, is the obvious catalyst behind the clinic's ongoing success.

But Rochon, who helps coordinate the clinic from the football standpoint, tipped his cap to many others who have helped behind the scenes beginning with the debut Sunshine's in 2014.

"The partnership between the Sherman family, the Plymouth Wildcats football program, all of our amazing sponsors and the wonderful families who enjoy the clinic every year has become an anticipated annual event," Rochon said.

Although the youngsters who participate in Sunshine's Skills and Drills Football Camp leave the facility with smiles, trophies and new-found football knowledge, Rochon emphasized that high school football players also have important takeaways.

"The Sunshine clinic offers Plymouth football players an opportunity to see the larger picture of society and realize that no matter their struggles, there are always those less fortunate," Rochon said. "The clinic has been tangible reinforcement of our program's message of selflessness, commitment and service and we have seen real life benefits in our kids."

YOUTH WRESTLING

VIOLETTA CEPAK

The South Lyon Matcats finished with a 4-4 record and 26th place in the Grand River Rumble.

Matcats hold their own in Grand River Rumble

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

The South Lyon Matcats acquitted themselves quite well, posting a 4-4 record during the National United Wrestling Association for Youth Grand River Rumble held July 16 at the Lansing Center.

The Matcats, coached by Rob Walkowiak and Justin Kimling, scored wins over teams from Idaho (twice), Illinois and Michigan to place 26th out of 40 teams in a dual format tournament that included divisions for third-grade-and-under, sixth-grade-and-under, middle school and high school.

"The fact that we were the only hometown club team in a league with so many state national contingents was truly rewarding as a test to our kids and their hard work," Matcats coach Steve Richardson said.

Jace Garcia took team MVP honors for the Matcats in his first national outing. He helped the Matcats score the points they needed to defeat a close opponent to advance to the copper round.

"One victory would not have happened if it hadn't been for the hard work of Jace," Richardson said. "Jace is new to our national lineup, having earned a spot via his performance from last season as a two-time state qualifier. The only problem was we had Jace in at the pound slot and he weighed much more. Jace took the challenge of losing the weight in the 11th hour, a very difficult journey."

THE CITY OF LIVONIA ORDAINS:

Section 1. Section 050 of Title 3, Chapter 05 of the Livonia Code of Ordinances, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

3.05.050 Consideration by city council of property disposal.

- A. Subject to any restrictions placed by law, the city council may, on its own initiative or upon recommendation by the finance director or any department head, consider the feasibility or desirability of disposing of property owned by the city which is no longer used or needed for city purposes.
- B. If the subject property is real property, the proposed disposition shall be referred to:
 - 1. The planning commission for its recommendation on whether or not the city should dispose of the subject property and its advice as to any plausible alternative uses of the property, provided that this referral may be waived by a resolution in which two-thirds (2/3) of the members of the city council concur;
 - 2. The city assessor for an appraisal of the subject property's value. In the alternative, the council may authorize the employment of an expert real estate appraiser;
 - 3. The city attorney for advice as to any legal matters regarding the disposition of the subject property.
- C. If the subject property is personal property, the council may obtain an estimate of the subject property's approximate value from the finance director or the department to which the subject property is allocated.

Section 2. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this ordinance full force and effect.

Section 3. Should any portion of this ordinance be held invalid for any reason, such holding shall not be construed as affecting the validity of any of the remaining portions of this ordinance.

Section 4. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency ordinance necessary for the protection of the public health, safety and welfare and shall take effect immediately upon publication.
