SUV plows into new microbrewery

Accident damages business, open just four months

Matt Jachman

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Launching a new business is fraught with challenges, but having a vehicle smash into it usually isn't one of them.

Yet that's what happened early March 22, when a man from Cambridge, Ohio, smacked a Dodge Voyager sport-utility vehicle into SuperNatural Brewing & Spirits at Plymouth and Ann Arbor roads in Livonia.

No one was in the building and police said the driver was uninjured, but the crash took out a wall and some shrubbery, disrupted parking blocks, damaged a fence and spilled bins of spent grain. "Made a heck of a mess," said Ernie Pacsai, one of the owners.

SuperNatural, a microbrewery and restaurant, has been open for about four months. The crash didn't affect the kitchen or the brewing equipment inside, Pacsai said.

"It hasn't impacted our operations," Pacsai said — and, yes, he said impacted. "We're open and everything's going well."

Sgt. Brian Leigh of the Livonia Police Department's traffic bureau said the crash occurred about 2:45 a.m. March

The Voyager was eastbound on Plymouth when the driver failed to negotiate the turns where Plymouth and Ann Arbor roads intersect. The vehicle left the road and went onto the SuperNatural property, striking the building, Leigh said.

The driver, 32, stayed at the scene, Leigh said, and the accident remains

Take a look inside new Amazon fulfillment center

Livonia Mayor Dennis Wright remembers when he first heard of the Amazon facility looking to locate to the city during the early part of his term.

"We were so excited, but we had to keep it a secret," he said. "We couldn't talk about it, we couldn't even ask Alexa about it."

"But this was such great news for Livonia."

That secret then blossomed into a 1 million-square-foot fulfillment center for the Seattle-based e-commerce giant, the first of its kind in Michigan. Wright, along with other state, county and business leaders, celebrated the facility Friday morning during a grand opening event and tour of the building at 39000 Amrhein.

The company opened the facility for tours for local officials and members of the media. The building was much more jam-packed with goods than during the last media tour, which took place in July while the facility was under construction. It opened in September and shipped its first product in October.

Gov. Rick Snyder, who was in attendance for the event, said Amazon's arrival in Michigan is part of what he's called "Michigan's comeback." It's gotten to a point though, Snyder said, where that term just doesn't fit any-

Livonia, Redford to host one Relay For Life

David Veselenak

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Relay For Life has long been a staple, but separately, in Livonia and Redford Township. This year, those two events will become one.

This is the first year Relay For Life will be one event for both Redford and Livonia. The merger comes after the American Cancer Society decided to combine some smaller events across the region to better improve the event experience.

With the merger, co-chair Erin Phipps said she's excited at the prospect of bringing the two communities together to raise money for cancer research.

"If we combine the two cities together, we can have one great big large event," the Farmington Hills resident said. "You do get the different people coming in. You can hit a much larger target audience."

The event is scheduled to take place beginning at noon Saturday, June 23, at Claude Allison Park, 18250 Beech Daly, in Redford. Those interested in signing up a team or as an individual can do so at the American Cancer Society's website.

Chris Rettich, a community development manager for the ACS assisting with the Redford/Livonia Relay For Life, said the organization has looked under investigation. Police are awaiting results of blood tests, he said.

Pacsai said the Voyager slid along a west-facing wall of the building, smashed through a cinder-block supporting wall that's set at a right angle to the west wall, struck the fence and spilled the bins of grain, leftovers from the brewing process, that are set out for an area farmer who uses it as livestock feed.

"We're really happy that nobody was hurt," he said.

"He hit it good," Pacsai added. "I mean, there were chunks of concrete in the parking lot behind our parking lot."

Insurance will pay for repairs, which Pacsai said are "going to be five figures-plus, for sure." Pacsai said he's not yet certain of how insurance coverage, between SuperNatural's policy and the driver's, will be ironed out.

Pacsai said SuperNatural is also consulting with an architect on options for altering the property to better protect the building from errant vehicles and for protecting the people who might be in those vehicles.

"That's our No. 1 focus — make sure nobody gets hurt," he said.

SuperNatural is in the former Herc's Roast Beef & Spirits building (more recently, and for a shorter time, it housed Midtown Grill & Bar) and the building has been struck by a vehicle at least two other times since 1990, Pacsai said.

at ways to combat declining fundraising over the last few years and determined merging some smaller events together was a positive step.

Other events, including some around Waterford and Grosse Pointe/Roseville/St. Clair Shores, have also merged in recent years. Combining both Redford and Livonia, Rettich said, made sense to them.

"The teams that have come back this year, it's been real positive," Rettich said. "For us, it was more ideal to merge events than close events."

He said the event is expected to alternate locations each year, with 2019 taking place in Livonia. Team meetings continue to take place, alternating between sites in Redford and Livonia.

Phipps said several events will take place during the relay, which runs until 8 a.m. the next morning. Those include Knockerball, Zumba and pilates, as well as inviting a parkour studio in Farmington Hills to the event. A softball game between first responders in the two communities is also planned.

"We want to keep everyone busy," she said. "We want to make sure there's activities for people of all ages."

"We're going to stop that terminology, because we're back," he said. "We should be proud of that. Let's just talk about how we can get to the next level."

Snyder presented the facility's general manager, Shawn Westlund of South Lyon, with plaques from the Michigan Economic Development Corp. and from the Legislature, along with state Rep. Laura Cox, R-Livonia, and state Sen. Patrick Colbeck, R-Canton, commending the center.

Of course, plaques weren't the only items the state and local community granted for the facility. The announcement that Amazon would come to Livonia came in December 2016, after it was revealed the company received a $7.5 million grant from the MEDC to aid in recruitment efforts for the center. In addition, the city of Livonia granted the company an industrial facilities exemption certificate for the center last summer, providing an exemption from ad valorem real and/or personal property taxes on the property.

There are currently more than 1,000 full-time employees at the center, which ships goods bought online.

Wayne County Executive Warren Evans, a self-proclaimed "Amazon freak," said having the facility close by will satisfy his spending habits much more.

But he also said the work put in by other leaders to secure the facility for Livonia and Wayne County came as a result of working together with officials from the state, county and city.

"These things don't happen unless you have partnerships and partnerships aren't partisan," Evans said. "It's because (Snyder) has decided to put the state first and we've decided to follow as best we can.

Amazon donates $10K to middle school

hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK —
MICHIGAN

The grand opening of Amazon's new fulfillment center wasn't the only highlight for the leadership of Frost Middle School in Livonia.

Administrators and students from the school at 14041 Stark attended the event Friday at the 1 million-square-foot facility and were treated to a great surprise: the Seattle-based e-commerce giant announced it would give the school $10,000 for its Makerspace program.

"It's gone a lot further than we thought," Principal Tony Abbate said. "It's an area of our library that we have everything from robots to graphic design to engineering projects."

The space allows for activities such as 3-D printing and other technology to help educate students.

"Right now, we have programmable robots the kids work with," said Shanan Walker, Frost's assistant principal.

The award was given during the grand opening of the building, complete with a robot on hand to mark the occasion. Gov. Rick Snyder spoke about the grant award, complementing the robot the school brought and saying those students represent what the future will look like.

"We've got great opportunities in the future for them to continue the success," he said. "It's wonderful to see these students here today and the people who help educate them and how they're working together on the next generation. Because science, technology, engineering and math is our future."

School representatives brought several students to tour the facility, along with the local, county and state dignitaries that came to the grand opening last week.

Seventh-grader Michael Fabian said he's looking forward to the improvements to school's Makerspace area the money will help fund. He also came to the Amazon fulfillment center Friday and marveled at the operations and its technology inside.

"It's amazing," he said. "Everything has a place, everyone has all been so nice. It's well-coordinated."

Time's running out to file 2014 tax return

Money Matters
Rick Bloom
USA TODAY NETWORK —
MICHIGAN

The IRS announced last week that unclaimed federal income tax refunds for 2014 totaled $1.1 billion. What that means is that there are hundreds of thousands of taxpayers who did not file their 2014 tax return and are owed over $1 billion by the federal government. According to the IRS, the average potential refund is nearly $900. For those taxpayers who did not file their 2014 tax return, if you don't do something soon, you will lose that refund.

In order to claim a refund for 2014, your tax return must be filed by April 17. If you are one of the estimated 34,100 people in Michigan who did not file your 2014 tax return, you don't have much time. The deadline is rapidly approaching and there are no extensions. Under federal law, taxpayers are allowed a three-year window for claiming a tax refund. If you don't file a tax return, that refund becomes property of the U.S. Treasury. One thing I can assure you is the money looks better in your pocket than it does the U.S. Treasury's.

It is also important to remember that, particularly for low- and moderate-income taxpayers, if they don't file their 2014 tax return, they are potentially losing more than just their tax refunds. Many of those individuals may be eligible for the earned income tax credit which, once again, they would lose if they don't file their return. The earned income tax credit was established to help individuals and families whose income was below a certain threshold.

The credit can be worth as much as $6,000. For those who would be eligible for the earned income tax credit, if you don't file your 2014 tax return, you will lose that credit as well.

Many who did not file their 2014 tax return are under the mistaken belief that the penalties they will owe will offset any tax refund; that is not the case. The IRS does not assess penalties for filing a late tax return if you're entitled to a refund. Penalties are only assessed if money is owed. If you haven't filed your 2014 tax return and you are entitled to a refund, there is no downside in filing the return.

One caveat you should be aware of — is if you do file your 2014 tax return, it is possible that your refund check can be held by the IRS. The IRS can hold your refund check if you did not file your 2015 and 2016 tax return or if you owe money to the IRS. Furthermore, the IRS is allowed to withhold money to offset unpaid child support or past due federal debts, such as student loans. Even if that is the case, where it withholds some of your refund, you are still in a better position by filing your 2014 return than not.

There is only about a month before it will become too late to file your 2014 tax return. If you haven't done so, and particularly if you're entitled to a refund, you want to make sure you get that return done as soon as possible.

Good luck!

Problem gambling can take a huge toll

Our Mental Health
L.J. McCulloch
USA TODAY NETWORK —
MICHIGAN

The Bible says that when Christ was crucified on Calvary, "The soldiers cast lots for his garments." This may well be one of the earliest recorded references to gambling.

In 1929, Sigmund Freud documented what is considered to be the first account of a case of pathological gambling in his study of the writer Dostoevsky, author of "Crime and Punishment." Freud wrote, "(Dostoevsky) always remained at the gambling tables until he had lost everything and was completely ruined." Freud insisted that the main thing was the gambling itself and that greed for money had nothing to do with it.

In 1980, the American Psychiatric Association defined gambling as a disorder of impulse control characterized by persistent, maladaptive gambling behavior. In recent times, the latest revision of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American Psychiatric Association characterizes a gambling disorder as a non-substance related disorder that entails persistent and recurrent gambling behaviors that lead to clinically significant impairment or distress as indicated by, in part, needs to gamble with increasing amounts of money in order to achieve the desired excitement, failed attempts to cut back or stop gambling altogether and reliance on others to provide money to relieve desperate financial situations caused by gambling and often gambling.

A few years ago, I met a prominent researcher, Durand Jacobs, who coined the term, "a general theory of addictions." He saw addictive behavior, of any type, as not only a problem in and of itself, but a symptom of a greater and deeper problem. The task and treatment of problem gambling is to simultaneously address the needs to modify the behavior as well as pursue and resolve, as feasible, the underlying conflicts, often unconscious, within a person. These conflicts often turn out to be early life traumas. It has been said, "You can't treat addictions without treating the trauma that begets the addictions."

In the mid-1990s, the Michigan Council on Problem Gambling formed and began training professional counselors in Michigan and elsewhere as a response to the influx of the new industry of gambling that came to our state. There are now more professionally trained problem gambling therapists and centers than ever before.

The website of the Michigan Associated of Problem Gambling is easily found on Google. This resource is valuable in many ways. It provides a 24/7 problem gambler helpline (800-522-4700), which can be used by anyone looking for help/treatment with a gambling problem. The website contains a useful tool called, Gambler's Anonymous, 20 Questions. This is a relatively simple, "yes/no" quiz, by which one can screen himself/herself with the resultant characterization as having a harmless, gambling recreational hobby vs. a problem with abusive gambling vs. a gambling addiction. There is also a listing of problem gambling treatment providers accessed through the website and assistance is available in coordinating an initial evaluation and recommendation for a treatment plan. This also leads to links for local Gamblers Anonymous 12-Step group treatment modeled after other addiction recovery programs.

So if you are one of many caught up in the world of gambling and identify with many of the symptoms in the GA 20 Question screener, you can know that help is available and nearby. For more information, go to <http://www.michapg.com/> or call 800-522-4700.

John Glenn's Martin MSU-bound

Rockets' ace ready for senior season

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

Westland John Glenn baseball coach Lawrence Scheffer never hesitated from day one when he penciled the name Brian Martin into his starting lineup. The Michigan State signee, a pitcher-outfielder, excelled as a ninth-grader and enters his senior season with high expectations after the Rockets suffered through a 5-18 season his junior year. "Last year was tough. We were dealing with some injuries and we were a young team," Martin said. "But everyone is older now, a little more mature, and knows what it takes to win at the varsity level. Obviously, me and some other players have some varsity experience, so it was all just a learning experience last year."

Martin would be the first to admit he took too much upon his shoulders in 2017.

"I knew we were young and a lot of the team's success mounted on me, so I wanted to give my best out there, but I was pressing, for sure," he said.

The team captain has accomplished a lot in his three varsity seasons with the Rockets.

Martin hit .400 with three homers and 25 RBIs his junior year after batting .420 with 40 RBIs and three homers as

SHOT DOWN

Novi can't shoot straight in semifinal loss to West Ottawa

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

All the excitement of March Madness ended Friday in March sadness for Novi in the MHSAA Class A boys basketball state semifinals in East Lansing.

Before a crowd of 10,030 at Michigan State's Breslin Center, the Wildcats' tourney magic finally ran out in what only could be called a frustrating shooting performance in 53-50 loss to Holland West Ottawa.

The Panthers (25-2) held Novi to 34.5-percent shooting from the field, including 8-of-28 from the 3-point line, to advance to the state championship game against defending Class A champ Clarkston, which advanced with a convincing 73-49 win over Warren De La Salle behind Mr. Basketball Foster Loyer's 42 points.

Novi (17-9) had its chances, but was unable to duplicate its clutch late-game performances turned in during tourney wins in the district (against Canton), the regional (against previously unbeaten Ann Arbor Skyline) and the quarterfinal (against Belleville).

CC's Stinebiser nice catch for Duke

Coach Dan Michaels will tell you catcher Matt Stinebiser is the straw who will stir the drink this season for the Novi Detroit Catholic Central baseball team.

"If he goes, we'll go," Michaels said of the Duke University signee.

The 6-foot-1, 180-pound senior will bat in the third hole or clean-up spot this season after hitting .384 a year ago with 28 RBIs.

"He had good numbers last year," Michaels said. "But this year, I'm expecting him to drive the ball a little more, some more extra-base hits, more home runs, turn on a few pitches here and there. But he's going to be our catalyst. I don't want to put pressure on him, but we need him

BOYS LACROSSE

Juggernaut teams picking up speed

P-CEP squads hoping to break into elite status

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Every fan of high school boys lacrosse in metro Detroit knows about the sustained excellence of programs such as Birmingham Brother Rice and Novi Detroit Catholic Central.

But maybe, just maybe, another lacrosse juggernaut is forming at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

The 2018 varsity boys lacrosse season is getting into the swing in late March and Canton and Plymouth are serious about building on memorable 2017 showings and giving the vaunted Warriors and Shamrocks something to think about in the Division 1 postseason.

"We accomplished a lot of great things last year," Plymouth coach Ray Miller said. "But as a program, we feel there is unfinished business to take care of this year."

The Wildcats enjoyed their best season in a decade of existence, rolling to 13 wins and a heartbreaking 8-7 loss to the campus rival Chiefs in a D-1 regional final.

In turn, Canton then lost to Brother Rice in a lopsided quarterfinal match-up that shows that — despite last year's success — there is another level to get to in order to really take a grab at some serious postseason hardware.

Canton coach Josh Simmons is banking on continued strong performances from senior captains Nick Polydoros (midfielder, committed to Division I Cleveland State), Connor Flanigan (midfielder, co-offensive MVP) and Diego Marzejon (defense), along with senior Chase Meredith (attack).

"Nick was last year's team MVP and is one of the best players in the state," Simmons said. "Connor Flanigan looks to continue his dominance on face-offs, as well keeping the offense running smoothly."

Plymouth senior midfielder Mitchell Bates will look to help his team continue last season's success, when it reached the Division 1 regional final.

Also on the Canton attack will be sophomore Zachary Sweet, Jake Kendall and Paul Schmidt.

"Sweet scored a lot of big goals last year and I did not expect him to become the force that he is so soon," Simmons said. "I expect to see him continue to improve from last year. Chase Meredith made a transition from midfield to attack late last year and I think he found his home at his new position."

Midfielders Jack Cervantes and Alex Yoder are promising all-around talents, while the Canton defense will shut teams down thanks to Marzejon and sophomore goaltender Sam Bowling.

Balanced 'Cats

As for the Wildcats, there is talent "spread out at every position this season and, as a coaching staff, we feel we are much deeper than last year," Miller said. "On top of that, our chemistry has been excellent so far."

Plymouth captains are senior Charlie Shaver (defense) and juniors Blake Nowicki (goalie), Carson Miller (midfield) and Ian Gozdzor (midfield).

Teams in the KLAA will need to find a way to slow down the attack of senior Bryan Twinney, junior Per Benson and sophomores Gavin Roach, Harrison Albano, Brendan Allen and Ethan Rottell.

A strong midfield is spearheaded by seniors Jake Roach, Mitchell Bates and Logan Goebel and juniors Miller, Gozdzor, Jeff Koviak, Nathan Stoneburg and Griffin Connell. Added to the mix are sophomores Sam Peterson and Mike Mathias and freshman David Brace.

Racking up goals against the Wildcats won't be a piece of cake, not with a lineup featuring seniors Shaver, Jacob Marciak and Adam Kolcon, juniors Josh Montroy and Logan Stacey and sophomores Grant Caswell and Tyler Schewe.

Guarding the net will be Nowicki and sophomore Cam Bump.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Clutch shooter Maddox earns weekly honor

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Novi's Traveon Maddox Jr. has proven this boys basketball season he has ice in his veins.

The 6-foot-5 senior guard, who was voted hometownlife.com Prep Athlete of the Week, made the game-winning shot with only 2.8 seconds left March 16 to give the Wildcats their first Class A regional title to beat previously unbeaten Ann Arbor Skyline, 61-59, at Salem.

And he did it again March 20 with a buzzer-beater in the state quarterfinal at the University of Detroit's Calihan Hall to knock off Belleville, 75-73, as Novi earned its first trip in school history to the state semifinals.

"He's a special player," Novi coach Brandon Sinawi said following Maddox's clutch performance in the quarterfinal.

Maddox, who was also a three-year standout wide receiver for the Novi varsity football team, is headed to play basketball next year at Oakland University.

This season he's averaging 19.5 points, 4.7 rebounds and 3.0 assists per game. He's shooting 48 percent from the field, including 33 percent from 3-point range, and is a 75-percent free-throw shooter.

"My favorite player is Kobe (Bryant) and I try to pattern my game after Kobe," Maddox said of the retired Lakers great. "So I watched so much of Kobe Bryant ... I've seen he plays inside and outside. He can go to the basket whenever he wants to. He can shoot the jump shot whenever he wants to. His pull-up game is nearly unstoppable. And that's one thing I really, really worked on in the off-season, was my pull-up game, attack the basket a lot stronger and finish over people."

Maddox credits his family and fellow Novi senior classmate Xavier Martin for putting him in the position where he is today.

"I have a sister, but he's my best friend. I call him my brother," Maddox said. "Outside of basketball, he keeps me level-headed and supports me through everything. I really appreciate him for that."

sophomore, while also posting a 0.96 ERA on the mound.

He is a three-time all-district and two-time all-region and all-state player who is rated the No. 4 pitcher in Michigan by Perfect Game, as well as the No. 14 player overall in the state by Prep Baseball Report.

"He's had very good career with the bat at John Glenn," Scheffer said. "Last year, his numbers were kind of down a little bit, but we had a down year. There's a reason he made all-state as a sophomore. He put up a lot of good numbers, hit the ball with power in the gaps, made some clutch hits when we needed them. He's a dream come true as a coach, to coach somebody like this for four years. This doesn't happen every day."

The right-hander throws a fastball in the upper 80s (mph) and uses an array of off-speed pitches, including change-up, curve ball and slider, to help throw off batters.

During his freshman and sophomore years, he worked closely with Glenn assistant coach Aaron Scheffer, a former pro pitcher who played with the Seattle Mariners and Lawrence's younger brother.

"(Aaron) was big on developing my change-up and I think that's probably why where it is now," Martin said. "He doesn't coach too much now, but when I see him, I definitely talk pitching and mechanics, for sure. He's got the background. He and I jive pretty well. We have a lot of same views."

Martin stands 6-feet-2 and has bulked up to 200 pounds his senior season.

"He's put on 20 pounds of strength and, muscle-wise, he's been going to Barwis (Training Methods) in Canton and I think he gets that it's his last hurrah," Scheffer said. "He brings a lot of good tools to the mound. He throws four good pitches for strikes. And since he's been a freshman, he's done a tremendous job, pitching on the mound and with the bat."

Martin began playing baseball at age

"At Michigan State, the coaches there made me feel like a family."

Brian Martin
MSU recruit from John Glenn

5 and fell in love with it right away. His older brother Brandon played for Glenn and his dad Butch has coached baseball for 20 years.

Martin also bowled competitively and lettered as a freshman for the Rockets varsity team.

"I'm not bowling currently, but still bowl for fun sometimes," Martin said. "I think it helped strengthen my shoulder a lot. And I did it during the off-season, so it provides a workout for me. That was a big passion, but baseball is my true joy."

Martin had interest from Michigan, Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan, but Michigan State ultimately won out in the end.

"At Michigan State, the coaches there made me feel like a family," said Martin, who carries a 4.0 grade-point average and plans to study forensic psychology. "Coach (Jake) Boss was really inviting and he had a lot of confidence in my skill set, so I thought it was the best place to go and succeed."

Martin's normal outfield position is right field, but he can also play left and center, in addition to pitching.

"(MSU) told me that I could attempt a two-way," Martin said. "It looks right now that I'm going to get the chance to do that, so I'm pretty excited about that."

Martin played summer travel baseball with the Chi Cream at the recommendation by a Chicago Cubs area scout.

"Brian was the first commitment in the 2018 class and, since that commitment, he has shown us that his bat could be a real weapon," MSU assistant coach Graham Sikes said in a November press release. "We have seen him succeed on the mound, but have seen him hit a number of home runs as well. I'm not sure if he will eventually be a better hitter or pitcher, but whichever one it is, I think will be really good."

The Rockets return seven players from last year's varsity roster, led by junior pitcher-outfielder Chad Stevens, who has strong college interest.

Promising newcomers include junior shortstop Corey Pinard and junior pitcher-infielder Connor Chapman.

"I don't want to allude to too much, but big things are probably going to come this year," Martin said.

And with Martin leading the way, Scheffer likes what he sees from his senior captain.

"He's got a great personality, likes to kid around with the other guys," he said. "He's real upbeat, a nice young man with good manners, just an all-around good kid to be around with."

Novi

morrow and it's tough," Novi coach Brandon Sinawi said. "Sometimes during the course of the season, you don't play a great game and, unfortunately, for us it was today. You've got to give (West Ottawa) credit. They played the way they wanted to. They had us playing their style. It's not what we wanted to do. We hung with them, we played tough, it's just unfortunate we didn't get some shots to fall for us."

Senior center Tariq Woody, who finished with 14 points and 16 rebounds, gave Novi a 43-42 lead on an inside basket with 4:15 remaining, but West Ottawa's Drew Pedersen answered with a 3-pointer and the Panthers would never relinquish their 45-43 lead down the stretch by hitting 6-of-7 free throws during the final 1:02.

Novi, down 51-48 after Nik Williams drained a 3-pointer from the wing, had one final chance to knot the game after Xavier Wade missed the front-end of a one-and-one with 26.7 seconds left.

The Wildcats misfired on a shot from the perimeter, but got the ball back only to turn it over on the ensuing in-bounds play with 11.3 seconds remaining.

The play was designed to give senior guard Traveon Maddox Jr. (13 points), the hero with buzzer-beater shots against Belleville and Skyline, a 3-point attempt.

"We had a play called from the baseline out of bounds," Sinawi said. "Woody got it in, we got it to the corner. Kind of a scramble play and I thought there was contact on both Tariq, as well as Nik Williams on the floor somehow. (The officials) called both players out of bounds. (The official) pointed at Tariq and pointed at Nik and pointed at their direction, which I didn't agree with, obviously."

Tyler Bosma, who had 13 points along with Wade, sealed the victory with a pair of free throws with only 9.4 seconds remaining to make it two-possession game, 53-48.

"The funny thing is, it's kind of been like our last three games, making free throws down the stretch, getting key defensive stops, kids rebounding, kids getting their hands on loose balls. Drew (Pedersen) blocked a shot, Liam (Cavanaugh) blocked a shot ... it's been our M.O. last three or four games," West Ottawa coach Steve Windemuller said.

Novi outrebounded the Panthers, 39-28, but couldn't overcome its shooting woes as the Wildcats' top three scorers — Maddox, Trenderon Hankerson (seven points) and Giovanni Miles (eight points) — went a combined 10-of-38 from the floor.

"If it was Tuesday, they probably would have gone in, but today it's Friday and, unfortunately, we just couldn't hit the shots," Sinawi said. "I'm looking at 20-of-58 and 6-of-28 from three, and you're not going to win many games against teams that good defensively. We had open looks but, unfortunately, they didn't go."

West Ottawa kept the Wildcats off-balance by constantly switching its defense.

"They were 1-3-1 (zone), they were 3-2 (zone), they were 2-3 (zone), they were man," Sinawi said. "They did a good job, that was their game plan and it worked. We had different shots, we had different looks ... the kids weren't comfortable at all."

Here are some other takeaways:

STRONG DEFENSE

The Panthers got a total of four blocks, including a big block down the stretch by the 6-4 Pederson (12 points) on the 6-5 Maddox.

"People don't think we're that athletic, but these guys get after it," Windemuller said. "They have long arms and that was the key, defensively. We played three or four different defenses. We went back to man and that was the key in our regional final game, switching back to man. This afternoon, we switched back to man, too. We didn't give them as many open looks, but (Williams) finally makes a three, but other than that, I thought we did a tremendous job on their shooters and Maddox. We've done that all year."

SLOW START

Novi fell behind at the outset, 12-5, but pulled ahead 17-14 after one quarter and led 26-24 at halftime.

The Wildcats went 7-of-15 from the field in the opening quarter, but only 13-of-43 over the final 24 minutes.

Maddox, an Oakland University signee, gave kudos to the opposing team's defense.

"I was just missing shots that I normally make," he said. "My pull-up jumper wasn't falling tonight. I was guarding (Tyler Bosma), nice kid, lefty who could get to the basket well. He was about my height or a little taller. Having somebody to guard as tall as me makes it a little bit tough."

TAKE A BOW

It was the best tournament run in school history for the Wildcats, who started the season 1-5.

Things turned around after the 6-9 Woody, a transfer from Plymouth, and Hankerson, the 6-4 senior point guard who was out with a broken foot, both returned in January.

"It wasn't our best game, unfortunately, on this stage, but it does not take away what this team was able to accomplish," Sinawi said. "It doesn't take away the togetherness this team had, the relationships these players have created, the excitement we've had for our school and community. To get this far for the first time in our school history is a special thing. I'm never going to forget this team and they gave me an opportunity to coach where I always wanted to coach since I started 15 years ago."

FAN SUPPORT

There was a strong turnout at Breslin by the Novi community, which sold more than 600 student tickets.

"I think it's great and it's something special ... because it's the first time we've ever done it," Hankerson said. "I just think this is all a process, regardless how we ended the season. We didn't want it to end this way, but getting this far is really special."

Added Sinawi: "It's a tough one. Emotions are high, but like told the players, 'It's never how you react to adversity, it's how you respond to it.' And these kids are going to respond the right way."

Stinebiser

to lead."

In 128 plate appearances during his junior year, Stinebiser struck out just 13 times.

"I've been working on my power a lot this off-season, trying to hit the ball in the air a little bit more, a little more power," he said. "I'm, obviously, working on catching drills, blocking, receiving ... all the things I've done every off-season, but specifically working on the power train and trying to hit the ball in the air with more power this year."

Stinebiser's father Frederick played baseball growing up, but wrestled in college in Pittsburgh. His younger brother Josh also plays, as did uncles and cousins, but never at the next level.

Stinebiser, who hails from Northville, also played football growing up for Our Lady of Victory and the Northville Stallions. He was a quarterback and defensive end as a ninth-grader at CC, but decided baseball was his ticket.

"I loved football, but at the end of my freshman year, I thought the time in the fall was too valuable if I wanted to play college baseball and go up to the next level," Stinebiser said. "And I ended up stopping my freshman year."

Stinebiser got connected during the summer with the A. Green travel baseball program and his game took off.

"A. Green did a lot for me," Stinebiser said. "We had the chance to play all over the country, get a lot of exposure to coaches at the next level. I started talking to coach (Josh) Jordan my sophomore year. I talked to coach Michaels for a little bit. He's a great guy and did he a great job selling me on Duke. Amazing school, the program has made huge strides and they're playing really good baseball right now. And, obviously, the campus and the conference they play in are both great. So it evolved over a year and it ended my junior year."

Stinebiser, who also had interest from Big Ten schools Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State, along with Miami (Ohio), ended up signing a national letter of intent last November with the Blue Devils.

And he was sold on his initial visit to the Durham, N.C., school.

"The campus is unbelievable. It's the most beautiful campus in the world," Stinebiser said. "The weather is nice, the people are nice and, obviously, the baseball facilities are the best in country."

Stinebiser, who carries a 4.2 grade-point average at CC, plans to study finance and economics at Duke.

"Aside from baseball, if you're going to get into Duke, you have to be a top-notch student, first and foremost," Michaels said. "That's the greatest thing about him going to Duke. Matt is not only a top-notch player, but he's a top-notch kid. Great student, just a great teammate and a great kid. 'Yes, coach, no coach' — does everything you ask him to do. And I think that's probably one of the reasons why he's getting a chance to play at Duke, not only because of his ability, but he's also a darn good kid."

Matt Stinebiser

Brother Rice in the Catholic League playoffs, is coming off a 17-20-1 season. The Shamrocks were knocked out in the district final by eventual Division I state runner-up Northville.

The Shamrocks, who defeated Madison Heights Bishop Foley in Saturday's season opener, 7-1, return senior shortstop-pitcher Cody Kanclerz (Hillsdale College) and senior pitcher Johnny Lobbia, along with senior outfielders Zach Peurach and Jack Falinski.

Junior outfielder Joe Hardenbergh is also getting Division I interest.

"We expect to win a lot of ballgames this year," Stinebiser said. "We have a lot of talent, we have a lot of guys that have been in some big games. We've got really good senior leadership this year and a lot of young guys ready to make their mark. (We) had some good teams in the past and a lot of guys back, but we really have high expectations for this group, specifically."

Stinebiser will also take a regular turn on the mound.

"I'll pitch a little bit this year," he said. "I'd would say pitching is a strength this year, with guys like Johnny (Lobbia) and Cody (Kanclerz) coming back who pitched a lot of big innings for us the last few years. And then guys like Thomas Sylvester and Blake Salmon ... both of those are good, young guys coming to our pitching staff."

Arm strength comes effortlessly for Stinebiser, according to his coach. He can also play the corner infield positions, first and third.

"If he actually just concentrated on pitcher, he could be a darn good pitcher, too, and get some looks," Michaels said. "He's very easy, too, in the way he throws. He can throw it up there low 80s (mph) without really much effort. Very strong arm."

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
